Now and Then

By The Editor

SENSATIONAL SUSIE; SCRAMBLED THOUGHTS.

It is said that Hearst buys the services of the best writers he can secure. It is probably true that he buys the services of the best writers he can secure, but there are many brilliant writers who will not write as Hearst desires.

A newspaper's editorial writer is a man of common clay, the same as other people. He is very apt to have a hobby, the same as other people, and unless he is independently wealthy he is going to write as ordered.

In the Los Angeles Examiner today we read a brain leak entitled "Where Next War Will Be" and the writer of the editorial gives the cue that it will be waged in the waters and coasts and islands of the Pacific ocean.

We wonder why Mr. Harding hasn't sent for that editor and offered him a job in the cabinet. The writer is apparently a man who knows everything from Jericho to Hoboken and it is a shame to have such a man of such a great abundance of knowledge so far removed from the nation's headquarters. It is wicked to withhold knowledge of forthcoming wars from the government.

The Hearst papers are Sensational Susies. The intimation that there will be a war with Japan is tommyrot. At the head of the editorial page in the Examiner this morning appears a text from Proverbs, 3:6 which says, "In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and he shall direct thy paths." We wonder if the editorial writer ever reads these texts. He would probably attempt to pick them to pieces if he did. Newspapers that are forever harping on possibility of war are adding fuel to the fires. When a man sees a heap of trash that is likely to cause a fire and loss of property does not touch a match to it or does he try to remove the possibility of fire? So it is with wars. If this brilliant writer on the Examiner honestly believes there is to be a war in the Pacific, why does he refuse to go about working a plan to avert war, rather than irritating and agitating and attempting to explode his idea into a real war that means the destruction of thousands of human lives?

THE PAROLE BOARD; ABOLISH IT.

The parole board of the state of California is not an effective means to dish out justice. A criminal with a record of burglaries was released by the state parole board and Saturday, he killed an officer in Los Angeles. The man was sentenced to eight years in prison and given parole after three or four years of his sentence had been served, notwithstanding the fact the man had a very bad record.

A burglar is as likely to commit murder as he is to sleep, if anyone interferes with his safety. If cornered, a burglar, especially one who is armed (and they all go about their business armed) is going to shoot and is therefore a menace to organized society.

In nearly all states, a habitual criminal is kept in confinement until his sentence expires. There may be a good reason why the state parole board released the man who killed the Los Angeles officer, but we are unable to think of anything that justifies the board's action.

The trial judge in criminal courts is in a position to know the cases brought before him, and if he believes a man is a menace to society, he sentences the prisoner to a term adequate to protect society against such criminals. We believe the parole board is honest, but in some instances such as the criminal now in question, we believe the board was absolutely wrong in granting parole to a habitual criminal.

Not long ago, Los Angeles detectives complained that it was useless for them to arrest criminals and cause their conviction because of the leniency of the parole board. The death of one of the detectives is proof that the board erred.

Today marks the beginning of summer. Straw hats, ice cream suits and thoughts of mountains and seashores are epidemic.

Palm Beach is a winter resort, yet the appearance of Palm Beach suits always announce that "summer has come."

COMMITTEES WILL MEET FRIDAY

Forty-Five Business and Professional Men at Luncheon Friday

DISCUSS CAMPAIGN

To guide the destiny of the campaign to increase the usefulness of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce during the next three years, a committee of forty-five has been appointed to work with Chairman A. B. McCord for the next three weeks. Endeavor was made to appoint a thoroughly representative committee with men from each line of business and profession.

The first meeting of this committee will be held at luncheon next Friday noon in the I. O. O. F. building. At this the first important steps of the campaign will be taken.

The personnel of this committee is as follows:

Sam Kraemer, Theo. Roberts, Fritz Yungbuth, J. J. Schneider, Geo. Dunton, Paul Taggart, Wm. Falkenstein, O. H. Renner, Oscar Heying, F. C. Eisenhauer, Barney Hartfield, F. N. Gibbs, W. D. Grafton, A. Graham, H. N. White, J. T. Lyon, Harry D. Riley, J. E. Stroup, H. A. Johnston, M. D., R. C. Berger, Wm. Jackson, Leonard Evans, E. B. Camp, C. B. Berger, N. Theodore, G. W. Sandilands, Wm. M. Schureman, E. J. Horsley, R. W. Ernest, P. H. Houck, Wm. Stark, D. Jessurun, C. L. Head, Herman Stern, J. E. Reuther, Joe Carroll, Wm. Wagner, G. M. Simpson, C. F. Grim, George Prince, H. H. Benjamin, Vic La Mont, A. W. Reeves, Wm. T. Wallop, Geo. M. Ross.

District Leaders H. M. Adams and Chas. Eygabroad are out scouting for men who will assist them in their part of the work.

While talking of the campaign Mr. Eygabroad had this to say:

"Let us all work together in this campaign to provide an organization that will be truly representative of all interests. I am proud to be affiliated with any project that has for its purpose the promotion of the best interests of Anaheim and the adjacent territory. Put me down as in favor of it."

Mr. Adams also gave his stamp of approval in these words:

"In many ways, I believe that Anaheim now faces a most important period in its development. Just as there is keen competition between progressive business firms, so there is competition between up-to-date cities. In the long run it will be that city which is best equipped that will be the winner. The best equipment any city can have in this line is a well organized, efficient and aggressive commercial organization such as the Chamber of Commerce, which is on the job all the time."

Department of Commerce Asks Army and Navy Planes Make Searches

VESSELS ABANDONED

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Efforts to solve the mystery of the "vanishing ships" today were centered on efforts to find the sea marauders who are believed to have boarded the schooner Carroll A. Deering, made prisoners of her crew. Airplanes may be called upon to solve the mystery of the "vanished fleet."

Officials of the department of commerce today were considering asking the army or navy for planes to patrol the little frequented stretches of coast near Cape Hatteras for some trace of the merchant vessels which have mysteriously vanished there.

Meanwhile coast vessels were slipping in and out of coves and inlets near the cape in hope of picking up some clew—a bit of wreckage or a note which might have been left by some of the crews of the vanished vessels.

If pirates raided the ships and murdered or captured the crews, as some officials believe, they must have left some trace along the shore. The disappearances extend over several months and a raiding vessel would have to have some base for operations along the shore.

A list of twenty vessels which have disappeared in the last few months was made up at the commerce department today.

Five of the vessels or possibly six were near Cape Hatteras when they went down. While the number of vessels which have vanished is not unusual, the fact that no trace has been found of them and that so many were last heard from near the same spot is very unusual. If they had been blown up, run aground or even capsized some bit of freckage would have floated ashore to explain their fate.

The sand-stranded schooner Carroll A. Deering, which beached on Hatteras with sails full set, was gone over again by government investigators.

'We might as well have searched a painted ship upon a painted ocean for sight of the vanished crew," said one of the investigators in his report.

The mystery ship is filled with sand. Sea gulls are using the beams that support the great ship clock as a roosting place, as reported. Not an ounce, not a bit of driftwood from the other vessels which have joined the phantom squadron of the deep was discovered.

These ships are the bark Albyn that sailed out of the Norfolk capes into oblivion; the Spanish steamer Yue, that wirelessed for help while ninth of Cape Hatteras and when nearby vessels rushed to the location given they found nothing but ocean, the American steamer Hewitt that vanished off the cape about the time the Deering drifted crewless to shore, and the William O'Brien, which disappeared north of the cape.

On the theory that if any of the men are still alive they will return to their old haunts, detectives have looked up every address given in the ships' articles of two of the missing vessels.

SUIT TO SET ASIDE TITLE IS SETTLED

The civil suit of Beebe versus Heffern was decided in favor of the defendant, the Heffern Oil Company late yesterday afternoon by Superior Judge R. Y. Williams.

The plaintiff, Bird W. Beebe, a realtor of Anaheim, brought action to quit title to land near Placentia that had been leased by the defendant for the purpose of drilling for oil.

Beebe claimed that they had failed to live up to the terms of the lease, in that no drilling operations had ever been started. A derrick was erected on the property, which Heffern termed a "toy," and asked the court that his title to the land be cleared of the lease.

In deciding the suit in favor of the defendant, the judge expressed the opinion that the defendants acted in good faith, and attempted to fulfill the contract.

TEXAS COAST IN GRIP OF HURRICANE RISING TIDES, WITH WIND 75 MILES PER HOUR THREATEN GREAT DAMAGE

HOUSTON, Tex., June 22.—Raging winds and sheets of rain swept the Texas gulf coast today, tearing trees from their roots and doing extensive property damage.

The gale, whose maximum velocity was 75 miles an hour, swept northwestward from the mouth of the Rio Grande.

The howling storm, bringing with it a rapidly rising tide, was first reported from Brownsville after radio messages from the sea warned gulf coast inhabitants of danger.

The tide swept the Padre and Brazos islands, off shore, and hundreds of vacationists fled to the mainland for safety.

Flood warnings were given to people who live in the lowlands of Galveston, where the U. S. weather service reported a six foot rise in the tide.

The city is nine feet above the low level and no extra precaution were taken within the sea wall proper. Water, however, is flowing in sheets drenched the island city.

Many ships off the gulf coast were at the mercy of the battering winds, it was feared.

A sixty mile gale, with tide rising rapidly was sweeping Corpus Christi, according to word here.

Wind of a maximum of 75 mile velocity was reported from Point Isabel. Life-saving crews on Padre and Brazos Island took refuge on shore.

The storm was coming from the northeast. Radios from sea declared high winds were sweeping landward.

Spray was breaking over the sea wall at Galveston, according to late reports reaching here.

Weather observers said they did not expect further rise in the tide at Galveston and declared the sea wall, 15 feet high running along the gulf side of Galveston Island, would check any danger.

GALVESTON, Tex., June 22.—Galveston is not in danger of a flood A. R. Scott, government weather observer advised inhabitants here today.

Fears of many, who thought the rising tide, caused by a heavy gale would again destroy Galveston, were put at rest by the announcement.

Scott stated that if the tide continued to rise some of the streets of the lowlands may be flooded from several wers, but that there was no danger to the island city proper.

The oil tanker William M. Doherty was at the mercy of a heavy gale today. An SOS from Captain Locke was picked up at the radio station here. The appeal said:

'Blowing easterly gale. High sea running east. Have lost propeller 9 miles east of Galveston. Drifting westward. Heavy winds at sea. Need help at once."

The ship is a 10,000 ton vessel and belonged to the Mexican Petroleum Corporation.

CHAFFEE STORES ON PICNIC THURSDAY STORES CLOSED

The H. G. Chaffee Company is formulating plans for their annual picnic at Brookside Park tomorrow, which will register a happy epoch in the lives of the 600 employes and families.

Mindful of the truth that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" the H. G. Chaffee Company closes shop one day in the year for the best kind of a picnic that can result from such time and thought as is spent by the executive in laying plans for this employes' playday.

This year consideration was given to San Bernardino, Pomono and Redondo as possible locations for the 1921 picnic, thinking that the employes might enjoy the novelty of new grounds. The longer consideration was given to any one of these places, the surer the committee became that Brookside alone, with its wonderful picnic advantages, could produce the good time the company covets for its boys and girls on this annual picnic day. A conference with H. G. Chafee, president, relative to holding the picnic on new grounds this year made it clear to the committee that he wanted them to go exactly where they wanted to, but as a last word he said "I'll bet next year you'll be back at Brookside."

The doors of the Chaffee stores and markets, as well as all other departments, located in sixty Southern California communities, will be closed for the day and the employes with their families and picnic baskets from the most distant points, Hemet, San Bernardino, Santa Ana, Anaheim and other locations, will leave at an early morning hour in order to arrive at Brookside by 9 o'clock a. m., to join in on the very beginning of things.

Baseball and aquatics are scheduled for the morning with dinner coming from 12 to 1:30 under the pergola.

At 1:30 a grand march, headed by Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Chaffee and preceded by the Elks' Band will lead across the green to the grand stand where will follow the events of the field meet, spiced with music.

With Brookside as the place, with plans as arranged by thoughtful committees and with Southern California's ideal "picnicy" weather, just a little better time than ever before is being anticipated at this year's annual.

The Chaffee firm hopes that a close of business for this picnic day will not too greatly inconvenice patrons and that they will co-operate with the company in making possible this employes' holiday by anticipating their needs a day in advance and doing their Thursday's shopping the day previous.

MAY HAVE GIVEN A RIDE TO SLAYER OF DETECTIVE

A report that a Mexican, carrying a gun and answering in some degree the description of "Phil" Alguin, who killed Detective Sergeant John J. Fitzgerald in Los Angeles last Saturday night, was seen in Orange county, it is believed.

A Mr. McDonald of this city picked up a Mexican in his car at Brea early yesterday. The Mexican was short, dressed in a drak striped suit and striped shirt, and carrying a revolver.

On seeing that McDonald was turning into Fullerton, at the intersection of the two roads leading to Los Angeles, the Mexican said "let me out here," climbed out of the car and hurried away.

Mr. McDonald went on to his home and read the account of Fitzgerald's murder. It is believed that the Mexican riding with Mr. McDonald might possibly have been the one wanted in Los Angeles.

Foreign Trade Will Put Nation Back on Normal Basis Again

HAIGHT ALSO TALKS

That we must look to foreign trade for the restoration of normal economic conditions, was substance of an interesting talk by V. H. Rossetti, vice-president and cashier of the Farmers and Merchants National Bank of Los Angeles before the Rotary Club luncheon this noon, where about seventy members and guests assembled.

"To assist in this important work," said Mr. Rossetti, "Congress has passed the Edge bill authorizing the formation of a Foreign Trade Finance Corporation with a capital of $100,000,000. The debentures of this corporation will be offered to the public and it is of the utmost importance that all of us assist in promoting the objects of this corporation.

"To realize the necessity of developing foreign trade, I need only to call to your attention the fact that we consume only 65 per cent of what we produce. The other 35 per cent must be disposed of on foreign markets or the plants producing that percentage must cease production. You can imagine the effect on our industrial and economic life with more than a third of our production cut off.

'We must also learn the value of economy. Daily I see great wastes. Men ride to and from their work in autos at a cost of $1.50 a day or more when far more cheaper forms of transportation are available. We should eliminate waste so far as possible in order to compete in foreign markets."

S. C. Height, of the American City Bureau, also spoke a few words along the lines of community development. "Trade is increased mainly," he said, "by increasing the wants of the consumer of the satisfaction of those wants. Often you hear a want expressed in the community. Directly, it is done. But it is done through some kind of an organization of public sentiment. That community progresses fastest which is in a position to realize quickest and most efficiently upon its wants and needs.

"I do not need to ask for the assistance of the Rotary Club in this movement. Wherever we have been we have always found Rotarians willing to give fullest support to all matters for community advancement."

Plans and specifications for the proposed new jail for Orange county were laid before the supervisors today by John Parkinson, Los Angeles architect.

The new jail will be much larger than the one now in use. It will be constructed where the sheriffs office now stands, directly across the street from the site of the present jail.

AGED COUPLE LOST NAME OF TOWN IN WHICH BOY LIVES

Where is Jack Ryles? That is the question the sheriff offices of San Bernardino and Orange counties is trying to determine, in order to clear up one of the saddest cases that has ever come to their attention.

The aged parents of the boy drove to California from Fort Worth, Tex., in an old ramshackle wagon pulled by three mules. Both parents are past 75 years. Now that they are here they cannot remember the town in which the boy said he was living.

Their son came to California several months ago with a mule driver from Fort Worth. He has been working and sending his aged parents money orders regularly.

All of the boy's letters have been lost, and the aged couple are unable to remember the name of the town, but think it was Tuscan, or some similar name.

The officers here called up Tustin, but no one of that name is known there. It is thought that the boy may be in Tuscon, Ariz. Any information that can be given regarding the whereabouts of Jack Pyles is requested. The aged couple are in great distress.

K. O. Snoll of Los Angeles will meet Jess Reed of Los Angeles at 155 pounds and Kid Kansas of Anaheim will meet Kid Moon of Los Angeles, at 150 pounds.

Other preliminaries will be between Young Volmer of Orange and Kid Leo of Los Angeles at 120 pounds and Young Eckbart of Huntington Beach and Kid Holmes of Los Angeles, at 130 pounds.

No wrestling bouts have been arranged for this week, according to Louis Nelson, manager of the exhibitions.

BLACKEYE BEANS TO BE POOL HOPED

A meeting of growers of blackeye beans is to be held next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the purpose of considering steps for the organization of a blackeye bean pool.

This meeting is to be held at the Santa Ana city hall, and blackeye growers from all over the county are being urged to attend.

"For the past three seasons," said W. C. Jerome, bean grower, "a major portion of the blackeyes of the county have been marketed in a pool, and we have had success in getting out from some rather trying situations.

"There is more reason this year than there was last year for the organization of a strong pool. The larger the proportion of the crop that is signed up, the better will be the results for all concerned.

"This year there is to be a big crop of blackeyes. The acreage in this county is a good deal bigger than it was last year. By pooling the crop grown here we can go a long way toward stabilizing the market. If we do not pool, it is certain that the market on blackeyes will be demoralized."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE BOARD'S MEMBER HERE

Of special interest to members of Christian Science and those who are interested in Science is the announcement that next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Grand Theatre, Mrs. Blanche K. Corby, member of the board of lectureship of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, will deliver an address on Christian Science.

Mrs. Corby is a very interesting speaker and those who are familiar with the teachings of the church will find her talk very enlightening, especially to those seeking more light in the matter of right living and right thinking.

The public is invited to this meeting which is being held under the auspices of the First Church of Christ, Anaheim.

The Santa Monica-Bakersfield Oil company, of Los Angeles, is preparing to operate in this county, in the Trabuco canyon district, according to a communication from Charles H. Stewart-Wade, secretary of the company.

The radical doesn't tell us when an employer is most wicked; when he profits by the labor of wage slaves, or when he closes down and won't give them jobs.

After all, the mails are safe enough if you don't register it.

SHERIFF IS OPPOSED TO PAROLE OF CRIMINALS

Sheriff Jackson, who was in Anaheim this morning on business in connection with the case of Phillip Alguin, the Mexican who shot and killed a Los Angeles detective Saturday night, expressed great dissatisfaction with the parole law which allows criminals their freedom after a term wholly inadequate.

"I am not opposed to granting parole to white men who are first offenders and who in a moment of weakness commit crime," said the sheriff, "but I am most emphatically opposed to granting parole to these Mexicans who live a life of crime as in the instance of Alguin."

Sheriff Jackson expressed the belief that criminals should be treated as criminals and not as law abiding citizens, especially when a criminal has a record of crimes for which he has served prison terms.

It is Sheriff Jackson's belief that Alguin is making for the Mexican border and he is aiding in every possible way to prevent the man's escape through Orange county. The sheriff is now working on a clue furnished by the Los Angeles officers who believe Alguin may be in this county hiding at a place where he is known to have friends.

Boy Scouts Meet

FRANK SACKETT, Editor.

The Boy Scouts of Troop One Anaheim held their weekly meeting last night at the Fremont School building.

The meeting was in charge of Scout Bill Reed and his assistant, Granville Waters, and many interesting things took place during the evening.

Scout Jack Mattis, Jim Fitzgibbons and Billy Utter gave a very good demonstration in First-Aid. And Scouts John Shay, Earl Dahlman and Frank Sackett gave short talks on the betterment of the troop.

Scout Executive Elmer Heidt was present and nine scouts passed their second class test. Those passing the test were Scouts Elmer Clabough, Frank Sackett, William Seitz, Granville Waters, Bill Reed, Jack Mattis, Billy Utter, Jim Fitzgibbons and Harold Mann. These second class scouts are going on a three day hike in the very near future. A Troop orchestra is being organized and we will have every instrument from a drum to a saxaphone. Mr. Lewis, the man who has charge of the scout equipment in Anaheim was present and being on our troop committee he was asked to make a speech and won great applause from the scouts.

THREE MEN HELD ON SUSPICION DRIVING WHILE INTOXICATED

Earl Bybee, Harry Williams and L. E. Webster, all of Ontario were arrested at Orange Tuesday by Constable Holt on suspicion of transporting liquor and of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

The three men were in a truck on which had been loaded the fixtures of a restaurant which Bybee was intending to open in Huntington Beach. A five gallon jug of wine, which the trio had in the truck became broken, according to Constable Holt, and its contents were scattered in the street.

A fourth member of the party is said to have driven off with the truck before the arrest was made. It is thought that he went on to Huntington Beach.

EASTERNERS COME MAKE ANAHEIM HOME

Dr. and Mrs. Shipman and Master William, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clairmont of Worcester, Mass., arrived Sunday afternoon at the Valencia and are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Hamilton, of North Palm St. and Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton of the Valencia Hotel.

They made the trip in six weeks stopping in several places to visit. They came by way of Salt Lake, Arrowhead Trail, and Barstow on the Lincoln Highway. The only trouble they had with their cars was one puncture. Roads are very good they say and a wonderful trip was enjoyed. They expect to make their home in Anaheim.

SHIPMENTS CITRUS FRUITS EXCEEDS PAST TWO YEARS

Orange shipments from California for the citrus year starting November 1, 1920, at this time are in excess of the record to this date in 1918, 1919 and 1920, and lemon shipments are less those of 1920 by nearly half, 123 carloads less than in 1919 and nearly double those of 1918, according to figures announced today by George Shattuck, manager of the Golden West Citrus association at Tustin.

According to the figures given out by him, orange shipments for this season to date total 34,741 cars, as against 14,100 to this date in 1918, 29,947 in 1919 and 27,891 in 1920 The shipments include navels and valencias, the atter going into market about May 1.

The number of carloads of lemons shipped this year to date does not compare so favorably with records for 1920 and 1919, but the market situation is better so far as competition with foreign grown lemons is concerned.

Where the California shippers today face competition of only 58,000 boxes of foreign lemons, this date in 1919 there were 202,400 boxes of forboxes in 1919, 237,850 boxes in 1918, 1182,400 boxes in 1917, 147,900 boxes in 1916 and 241700 boxes in 1915.

Shipments of lemons from California to date total 7076 cars while the total to this date in 1920 was 1507, in 1919 it was 7189 and in 1918 it was 3888 cars.

Prices on lemons for the past few weeks have been very satisfactory and will make it possible for the growers to receive an average return that will encourage them in the industry.

Hundreds of boxes of lemons were dumped in creek beds during the early part of the fruit year, when there was no demand for the fruit and it could not be sold at any price.

REHEARING GRANTED IN RATE MATTER BY COMMISSION

Rehearing of the petition of citrus growers of California for lower freight rates was scheduled before the interstate commerce commission in the near future, the hearing probably to be heard in Los Angeles. The date will be announced later.

The commission has ordered the case of the growers reopened, which will give them another opportunity to present facts showing that the general inc rease in rates is unjust. The growers maintain that the rate is arbitrary and against the interests of shippers of perishable commodities.

A conference of fruit men with railway managers arranged for July 1 is believed to have had its influence in the decision of the commission to reopen the case. A former petition for a rehearing recently was denied by the commission. It is understood that the conference will be held regardless of the action of the national rate adjusting body.

G. Harold Powell, general manager of the California Fruit Growers' exchange, following the receipt of notice that the rate case had been reopened, stated that shippers desire to test before the commission the reasonableness of the present rates on the merit of the rates themselves, rather than accept any reduction the railroads may voluntarily offer.

The directors of the citrus league recently refused to accept a reduced rate offered by the railroads on condition that the shippers boycott water transportation. The cut offered was the equivalent of 10 per cent of $1.92, the present rate on oranges and the same per cent of $1.66½, the present rate on lemons, with minimum carloads on oranges of 36,000 pounds and 34,000 pounds on lemons. The present water rates are 80 cents on oranges and 72 cents on lemons.

AFTERNOON OUT CLUB GUESTS YESTERDAY

Mrs. C. E. Chamberlain was hostess yesterday to the Afternoon Out Club at her home southwest of Anaheim. The regular business meeting was followed by current events and a social hour.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Freeman, H. H. Crone, W. C. Brumagim, Ida Dutton, J. K. Brown, J. C. Idor, John Kelley, J. O. Reed.

The club will odjourn for vacation through July-August and September, meeting again in October.

The Baptist church of Garden Grove was the scene of a beautiful wedding last night when Miss Helen Headstrom became the bride of Vernon Farquhar of Hollywood. The church was decorated with potted plants, ferns and with garden flowers.

Just before the hour at the wedding Miss Hilda Widsberg of Redlands, accompanied by Miss Ruth Violett, sang "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" and "O Promise Me." Following this Miss Violett played the Lohengrin wedding march, and Rev. George Francis of the Orange Baptist church entered, while from the rear of the church and in either aisle entered the ushers and bridesmaids, Messrs. L. Burr Belvin of San Diego, George Headstrom, brother of the bride, Curtis Sawyer of Los Angeles.

The ushers were followed by the groomsman, Harold Wright of Hollywood, and the bridegroom. Down the other aisle came Miss Grace Davis, gowned in a dainty frock of orchid organdie trimmed in organdie flowers with hat to match. She carried a spray of flowers of orchid shade, designed in garden hat shape. Miss Alice Farquhar, sister of the bridegroom, entered next, dressed in frock of yellow organdie trimmed with organdie flowers and wearing a hat of same shade. Miss Grace Headstrom, sister of the bride, was the third maid and she was daintily dressed in a pink organdie frock with hat and flowers to match. She was followed by Miss Jennie Headstrom, elder sister of the bride, as maid of honor. She was exquisitely gowned in a creation of blue radium lace over dainty satin and carried a sheaf of deep pink roses and ferns.

Preceding the bride entered little Miss Lucylle Griggs, as flower girl. She looked strickingly pretty in her frock of nile green organdie and carried a basket of flowers which she scattered before the bride.

Following the bridal party came Miss Headstrom in a gown of white crepe meteor satin designed with Dutchess lace and pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and brides roses tied with large bows of tulle and dainty knotted white ribbon. Her veil was of Dutchess lace design and hung to the hem of her dress. It was caught to her hair with orange blossoms with a coronet

Headstrom, who gave her away. The single ring ceremony was used, during which the strains of the wedding march were softly played.

The bridal party left the church to the Mendlashohn march, after which an informal reception was held at the vestibule. After congratulations were received the bridal party was given a formal reception at the home of the bride on the Garden Grove road.

The rooms at the home were decorated with baskets of larkspurs and coreopsus. A short program of music was enjoyed.

Mrs. Farquhar then cut the large wedding cake. Just before going to her room to prepare for traveling, Mrs. Farquhar gave her brides' bouquet to her sister, Miss Jennie Headstrom, as a token of love.

Following the reception the bride and groom left for a short honeymoon. They will return the after part of the week and be at home to their friends at St. Andrews Place, Hollywood.

The traveling suit of Mrs. Farquhar was of blue. Her gloves, shoes and hat were of pearl gray.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Headstrom and is well known among the younger set. She attended the local high school and was always popular. She was recently a student of Redlands university.

Mr. Farquhar is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Farquhar of Hollywood and is engaged in a tire business in that city.

An educational system isn't worth a great deal if it teaches boys to get a living and doesn't teach them how to live.

If Japan studies the immigrants who are coming over now, it's no wonder she can't understand why her people are kept out.

WHY DOES SHE LOOK SO OLD?

This question has been asked about many a woman under thirty, who has married and taken upon herself the cares of a house and young children. When a woman is suffering from female weakness, bearing down pains, head and back ache and nervous irritation, it is well nigh impossible to attend to her duties and retain the charm and freshness of youth. Must she then struggle on toward the inevitable nervous breakdown or premature old age?

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved many women from such a fate. Thousands of grateful letters from such women testify to the merits of this wonderful root and herb medicine for female ills.—Adv.

GAMBLING GOES ON DAILY AT CAPITOL MANY HAVE SYSTEM

WASHINGTON, Jupe 22.—Expectant eyes turned towards a big blackboard, a throng filled Pennsylvania avenue, overflowing across the street car tracks, impeding automobile traffic, refusing to heed the admonitions of three policemen. All eyes focused upon the blackboard, where presently a youth with a piece of chalk inscribed three names followed by cabalistic numbers.

A buzz of conversation swept the crowd. There was a mingling of satisfaction and grumbling, with plenty of curses under the breath. Shrill voices of women were heard, and their presence was further marked by the gayest dresses and hats.

It was the regular afternoon gathering of a few of the race bettors of the national capital. Inside the newspaper office operators were ceaselessly answering the query "Who won?" and the inevitable sequel, "What did it pay?"

Washington is gambling mad. No city in the country, so the knowing professional gamblers say, has a worse case of betting fever. Government employes by the thousands wager every afternoon a sum that in the aggregate looks like an item from an appropriation bill before congress. There are bookmakers or their agents in all the government buildings. When George Carter took office recently as Public Printer, he found horse race gambling among employes of the Government Printing office so widespread that he was forced to suspend some employes and to threaten general dismissal to stop it. Women as well as men were "plunging," and according to Carter's investigation, devoting more time to a study of "form charts" and "dope sheets" on the horses than to their duties.

There's the case of a young man who not so long ago was a secretary to somebody of importance. He was thinking about getting married, he said, so he saved his money. It amounted to $3,000 when he started betting, with visions of a big pile of easy money. He's a taxicab driver today, and he isn't thinking about anything much except getting three meals and a bed.

There's a telegraph operator with a good job, who follows a regular routine, saving religiously until he has $300, then spending it all on the ponies. When it's gone he starts in to save another $300. He has a "system."

A young woman who came here as a war worker and lost her position with the signing of the armistice is reputed among her friends to have won $12,000 on the races since then. She expects to lose it all some of these days.

"Then," she said, 'I'm going back to Minnesota, where the only horses I'll know anything about will be the kind you hitch to a plow or a wagon."

CITY BUREAU PLAN EXPLAINED BY MAN OF CAMPAIGN

"A Chamber of Commerce is not organized when its campaign for members is completed," said Campaign Manager Ben. H. Schoboe of the American City Bureau this morning. 'In fact, its organization has barely commenced. It has then entered upon one of the most critical phases of its existence. Skilled guidance is never more vital to its success.

"The American City Bureau meets this situation by personally directing development of the organization during the three weeks following the campaign and by making return visits and acting in an advisory capacity during the next three years. Just as a man would not think of building a house for occupancy during one single year, so the citizens here should not think of building such an important structure as a chamber of commerce for just a year. It often requires a number of years to accomplish certain important results and unless the organization is maintained until those results are accomplished, the preliminary work and time spent thereon is lost.

"This is economic waste which is a serious loss to the community. It should not be endured. It is not only a loss to the community at large, but it is also a loss to each individual of the community.

"Sometimes the question is asked, does it pay? The only convincing reply to that question comes from the men who have had experience in this line. Samuel Leask of Santa Cruz says, "I consider it one of the best investments I have made during the year." H. B. Stoddard, a Merced banker, says, 'An organization which works in a dozen different ways to make the town more attractive is a good business investment.' And these quotations could be duplicated ad infinitum.

"If it were not true that these organizations actually paid dividends, they would not have continued in existence for so long and would not be supported more or less successfully in 2500 towns and cities throughout the United States today. Somewhere along the line some man could have demonstrated their uselessness and then there would have been an end to this kind of organization.

"Since it pays other communities to have strong organizations, it may fairly be presumed that Anaheim, also, could largely benefit by maintaining one. And obviously, the stronger the organiation is, the more it can do for the good of the community and the citizens living therein. And since the benefit accrues to all the citizens, it should be supported by all the people, both men and women.

Judging by the spirit I have seen exhibited in Anaheim since I arrived last Monday, I look for this campaign to be an extraordinary success. I am convinced that the people of Anaheim will rally around their community organization 100 per cent."

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Announcement

Mr. Edsel B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor Company, gives out the following statement:

"Another reduction has been made in the list price of all types of Ford cars and the Ford truck to take effect immediately. The list prices, f. o. b. Detroit, are now as follows:

Touring Car, Less Starter and Demountable Rims	$415.00
Runabout, Less Starter and Demountable Rims	$370.00
Coupe	$695.00
Sedan	$760.00
Chassis, Less Starter and Demountable Rims	$345.00
Truck-Chassis, Less Starter and Demountable Rims	$495.00
Tractor	$625.00

"The big reductions last fall were made in anticipation of low material costs which we are now getting the benefit of, and this fact together with increased manufacturing efficiency and the unprecedented demand for Ford cars, particularly during the past three months permitting maximum production, have made another price reduction possible immediately.

"Ford business for April and May, 1921, was greater by 56,633 cars and trucks than for the same two months in 1920; in fact, the demand has been even greater than the supply, so that our output has been limited, not by unfilled orders but by manufacturing facilities.

"During May we produced 101,424 Ford cars and trucks for sale in the United States alone —the biggest month in the history of our company—and our factories and assembly plants are now working on a 4000 car daily schedule for June.

"The Fordson tractor is still being sold at less than the cost to produce, on account of the recent big price reductions, and it is impossible, therefore, to make any further cut in the price of the tractor."

Can you afford to go without a car any longer when Fords are selling at these new low prices? There is no reason now why you should delay purchasing a Ford car, Ford truck, or Fordson tractor.

We will gladly advise you concerning the delivery of a Fordson tractor or the particular type of car in which you are interested. Just 'phone us or drop us a card.
