Hydraulic Engineering the oldest and best art.

The experience of civilization teach as many lessons that go unheeded until some great disaster occurs. It is not until a disaster has occurred that men's minds become so much occupied with the prevention of such a catastrophe.

The lesson that civilization has learned is that the prevention of such a catastrophe is not until a disaster has occurred that men's minds become so much occupied with the prevention of such a catastrophe.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

Overwhelming Majority for the Bonds.

The Olive Mill Burned to the Ground.

Saturday's election was almost unanimous in favor of issuing $200,000 for the new irrigation district. The vote polled was low...

There were thus 265 votes cast in the district and a majority of 247 given for the bonds.

The Board of Directors of the new district met in regular session on Tuesday, president Messrs. Zevyn, Ryan, Wade, Hunter and Greenley.

The Board of Directors of the new district met in regular session on Tuesday, president Messrs. Zevyn, Ryan, Wade, Hunter and Greenley.

Attorney Shinn rendered an opinion as to the manner of levying an assessment for payment of interest on the bonds of the district.

No bonds have been sold as yet and the time for making the levy having arrived, there is a question as to whether the levy should be fixed at once, or whether it may be done later.

The Board of Directors of the new district met in regular session on Tuesday, president Messrs. Zevyn, Ryan, Wade, Hunter and Greenley.

DIAMONDS TO FIRE.

The Olive Mill Burned by an Incendiary.

The Olive Milling Company's flour mill and warehouse at Olive Hills were totally destroyed by a fire which began at about half past twelve on Sunday night.

At 9 o'clock on Sunday evening the watchman employed to guard the mill and both warehouse, and in the customary rounds of the building and found everything all right.

The fire was raging about the northeast corner of the building, which the water pipes and pumps were situated, completely enveloping the latter, and cutting off all power of extinguishing the flames.

From L. Schorn, President of the company, it is learned that the fire is undoubtedly of incendiary origin. There had been no light in the mill since early on Saturday morning.

A meeting of stockholders was immediately called and it is probable the building will be rebuilt.

Ann. J. M. Griffith of Los Angeles, H. K. Small, B. O. Belmont, F. H. Meats and others. Among the rest is the Hon. Carlos Delmon of Columbus, Ohio, Secretary of the Interior.

Henna Park Factories.

Mr. Whitaker is to be congratulated upon his successful negotiations in locating the henna oil and coffee factory located at Buena Park.
