Thieves Get $500 in Watches and Gems at Jewel Box

DIAMOND RINGS STOLEN FROM STORE WINDOW THIS MORNING

Deputy Sheriff Secures Finger Prints And Other Clues — Anaheim Police Investigate Robbery.

Approximately $500 worth of jewelry was stolen from the window of the Jewel Box, 223 West Center street, early this morning by a thief who broke the plate glass with a brick after partly cutting it with a diamond or glass-cutting device. The loot consisted of four gold wrist watches valued at $200, one diamond ring worth $125, a $35 brouch, four Elgin watches, one a radium dial wrist watch, all valued at $85. Other jewelry in the window valued at $1,000 could not be reached by the thief.

The robbery was discovered by Miss Mary Chapman, an employe of the Kitje Cafeteria, as she was on her way to work about 6 o'clock. H. C. Brown, one of the proprietors of the cafeteria, had passed the jewelry store nearly an hour earlier and since he did not discover the robbery it is thought that it must have occurred between 5:30 and 6 o'clock.

Girl Discovers Robberty

Miss Chapman reported the theft to Mr. Brown who called the police and notified Arthur Cohen, proprietor of the jewelry store. Policemen Choate and Steadman arrived immediately and began an investigation. The police also advance the theory that the theft was committed about 6 o'clock and say that this hour was selected because the shifts in the force are made at that time.

Herman J. Zabel, finger-print expert of the sheriff's office came to Anaheim early today and secured finger prints and other clues which may lead to the apprehension of the robber shortly. Pawn shops and second-hand stores in Orange County and Los Angeles have been given a description of the stolen articles and notified to be on the lookout for the thief.

No Insurance on Stock

The loss is not covered by insurance. Mr. Cohen said this morning that application for insurance had been made and the policy mailed to Lloyds of London but had not been returned by the company.

The robbery occurred on the "first birthday" of the store under the management of Mr. Cohen. One year ago today he bought the store and stock from Theodore Roberts. This anniversary and the coming holidays had caused Mr. Cohen to redecorate the window yesterday and to display so much high-class merchandise in one window. Other jewelry in the window which could not be reached by the robber consisted of watches and pearls.

CLARK WILL ASK NEW TRIAL OF DAMAGE SUIT, REPORT

Notice of intention to move for a new trial in the case of C. G. Strock against Dr. J. I. Clark, both of Santa Ana, which has had a lengthy history in the superior court, was filed today by Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus, attorneys for the defendant, who lost the decision Monday in the trial before Judge Rex B. Goodcell.

The jury in the trial Monday awarded judgment of $100 to Dr. Strock. This was the second trial of the case, the first decision, handed down by Judge Z. B. West for the defendant, having been disqualified because of a claim of the attorneys for the plaintiff that the judge was a member of the Orange County Automobile Club of which the defendant was also a member, and therefore was financially interested in the case.

The case was taken to the superior court on an appeal from a decision rendered by Justice J. B. Cox in which he awarded $124 damages to the plaintiff.

The new trial is asked on the grounds of insufficient evidence that the verdict was against the law and that an error in law occurring at the trial and excepted to by the party making the application had been made.

Constable Injured, But Prisoner Unscratched

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 1.—Is the fist harder than the head?

Constable R. W. Witherspoon of Downey says he isn't an authority on that question but he can show some evidence that it isn't.

Besides the prisoner Witherspoon arrived with a badly smashed hand including a broken finger which he said was caused by hitting Gillingham on the head when he tried to escape.

TWO BOYS TELL THEIR STORY OF WOMAN'S DEATH AT BEACH TOWN

Preliminary Hearing of Youths on Murder Charge Begins In Santa Ana Court Today.

One stoic and motionless, the other nervous and eager, Robert Rosser and Charles Handy, charged with the murder of Mrs. May M. Ricketts of Long Beach at Anaheim Landing November 1, were given their preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace J. B. Cox today.

Following the waiving of the rights to a trial in the juvenile court by Judge R. Y. Williams, due to the magnitude of the case, the lads were taken up in the justice court in the regular form of procedure for their hearing.

They are being held in the county jail without bail, to answer to the superior court on the murder charge. An attorney to be appointed by the court will soon start to work upon the case for the offense of the youths.

Rosser, the stoic, who has admitted the shooting, confessing that he held the gun, showed a trace of passionate temper at the hearing this morning.

Woman's Companion Testifies

G. W. Wolfe of Long Beach was on the stand. Wolfe was the companion of Mrs. Rickett on the beach at the time of the shooting. He had told of the circumstances of the crime, relating how he and the woman companion were walking on the beach near the water when Rosser and Handy suddenly appeared before them and demanded their money. According to Wolfe, Rosser stuck the gun in his face and told him to put up his hands or he would blow his brains out.

Mr. Wolfe also told how Rosser had turned to Mrs. Rickett and demanded her money as well, and, when she hesitated, had deliberately shot her.

Youth Questions Witness

When the prosecution, represented by Deputy District Attorney C. N. Motley, had finished with the witness, Rosser asked Mr. Wolfe if he had seen him shoot Mrs. Rickett without a struggle as he had said in his version of the shooting.

The witness replied vehemently that he had.

"It's a lie," said Rosser with a show of repressed passion.

He was rebuked by Judge Cox and warned against further outbreaks of a similiar nature. Handy had nothing to say.

Burton E. Whittington, city marshal of Seal Beach, was the next witness and told of the taking of the boys from an automobile, to the driver of which they are said to have confided their secret and the wish that they be turned over to the authorities.

He told the story of finding the body on the beach, as told by the boys, and later of finding the gun in the tules near the scene of the shooting. Mr. Whittington said that he found no money on the boys, but discovered a few bullets amounting to about $7, pushed down into the holster of the pistol.

Handy Was Onlooker

Handy is said to have been a passive onlooker while Rosser did all of the work of the hold-up, including the shooting. This was corroborated by Wolfe in his testimony.

Deputy Sheriff Roy Ballard, who investigated the affair from the local office, was put on the stand and told of receiving the boys and the gun from the custody of the Seal Beach marshal.

EDISON RECITAL HERE ACCLAIMED SUCCESS BY AUDIENCE

The audience which last night at the High School listened to the joint recital of Miss Helen Clark and Joseph Phillips, given in comparison with the re-creation of the New Edison, was not only charmed with the work of the soloists but marveled at the perfection of the reproduction of the voices and of the piano.

Miss Clark sang the opening numbers. Beside her was the New Edison. At certain places in her song she stopped singing and the New Edison went on with the song. During a part of the time the stage was darkened so it was impossible to see the motion of her lips. Persons in the audience frankly admitted that at such time it was impossible to tell when the human voice ceased and again took up the song.

Mr. Phillips then sang several numbers, followed by solo selections by Mr. George. Miss Clark and Mr. Phillips also sang duets. In every instance the reproduction was so perfect that the hearers were baffled in discovering when the change was made. The reproduction of the piano was considered by many to be most remarkably perfect.

Those who were privileged to listen to this unique and most enjoyable recitals heartily acclaimed it a rare musical treat and a demonstration of the New Edison which truly supported the contention that it is "the phonograph with a soul."

County Shrine Club to Be Santa Claus to Unhappy Children

Plans for the distribution of Christmas cheer among needy families of Orange County are being started by members of the Orange County Shrine Club. More than 350 letters to various nobles of the order living in Orange County asking assistance and co-operation of all with the relief committee of the order are expected to produce widespread results.

One feature of the affair will be an evening of dancing and cards at St. Ann's Inn. The proceeds from this evening of pleasure are to go to the Christmas fund.

Copy of Letter

A copy of the general letter sent out to nobles throughout the county, showing the methods used and nature of the work being accomplished, by the order, follows:

"The cardinal virtues of our fraternity are Faith, Hope and Charity—Faith in our country, Hope in a future life beyond and Charity toward all mankind. Though our little county down by the 'Sunset Sea' is rich and prosperous, yet there are sure to be some little 'kiddies' who have never known a 'real' Christmas, and again there may be in our midst some grown ups who are less fortunate than you and I and to them we want to extend that same Christmas cheer and a helping hand.

"Therefore, it behooves the Nobility in this beautiful clime where sunshine is ever present and shadow rarely falls to use our utmost endeavors to bring cheer and gladness unto the less fortunate firesides and homes. This is the first Christmas charity effort on the part of Orange County Shrine Club, so let us play the part of a big Santa Claus and cause a ray of sunshine and hope to enter their hearts and homes, and it should be a pleasure to have the opportunity to be permitted to assume this responsibility, for the profits most who serves best.'

"To provide funds for this purpose, and to give each and every one of you a deserving good time also, we have planned an entertainment, cards, dancing and other festivities, at St. Ann's Inn on Thursday evening, December 8 at 8:30 o'clock. We are enclosing four tickets, and you will please send your check for $4 to Harry L. Hanson, secretary, Santa Ana. Please do it now, that all arrangements may be perfected by the entertainment comittee.

"Respond Promptly"

"Do not return the tickets—they will not bring Christmas cheer—but keep them for your family or sell them to your friends. Your president, at the suggestion of many of our Nobles, inquired of Motley H. Flint, chairman of A! Malaikah Shrine Christmas Charity, Los Angeles, if it would be agreeable for our Nobles to handle a portion of their Shrine contributions by our Shrine club and he replied, 'Certainly there could be no possible objection to such a plan and further I will be glad to co-operate with you at any and all times,) which is a true Masonic spirit, so please respond prompti, as you have always done, before.

"Without pomp and display the sixteen Nobles comprising the relief committee of the club will extend this aid to such deserving families throughout the county as may be suggested by the Nobility. You will please consider yourself appointed a committee of one to thoroughly canvass your own neighborhood for those deserving ones whom you would like to extend the holiday cheer in this way and report to Noble R. L. Bixby, Santa Ana, who will be our Santa Claus in fact."

J. E. Stone, Brea city marshal, is being held in the county jail in lieu of $2000 bail set by Justice J. B. Cox when the police officer was arraigned this morning on a charge of accepting a bribe.

The complaint on which Stone is held was sworn to by J. M. Chavez of Brea, who says that he gave the bribe to Stone. The bribe amounted to $100 and was to purchase immunity for the bootlegging activities of Chavez, according to that individual.

Circumstances of the case have not been divulged by the principals in the affair.

BLUEBEARD OF GAMBAIS MUST DIE FOR SLAYING TEN OF HIS WIVES

VERSAILLES, Dec. 1.—A broken and pale Henri Landru—his defiant and adamant spirit crushed by the verdict of the jury which decided he must die for the murder of ten of his 285 sweethearts—faced the guillotine today.

"I am not guilty of murder," he declared frantically, as the court passed its sentence of death in accordance with the French legal code.

The "Bluebeard of Gambais" who has fought the prosecution with his fiery wit and defied them to convict him, stood with twitching fingers and wasn't face, nervously clutching at the side of a table he leaned against while the jurors read the verdict. When they were finished he was asked the usual question:

"Henri Landru, have you anything to say?"

His head fell on his chest and he glared wildly at the floor. His voice was weak when he answrede: was weak when he answered:

Whep a widow gets the idea in her head that she can't live without another man, she hasn't much to live for.

Questions and Answers About Your Automobile

Question: In a water-cooled engine, what is the trouble when the engine is overheated and the radiator remains cold?

Answer: This indicates a stoppage in the water connections between the engine and radiator or a broken pump. The pump shaft is usually made in two pieces held together by a pin so that if the pump is obstructed, that pin will shear off, thus preventing the blades of the pump from being damaged. Failure of the pump may be due to this pin having sheared off. If the water circulating system appears to be all right, the trouble may be caused by the fan belt slipping.

Question: What is the proper clearance between the valve stem and the valve tappets when the valves have been replaced after grinding?

Answer: The proper clearance varies with different engines, but usually ranges between four-thousandths and eight-thousandths of an inch. The clearance should be checked, of course, with the valve closed and the tappet all the way down, a sheet of paper of a card being used to test the clearance.

Question: A discharged battery can be made to operate the starter in a relatively short time by these new battery dopes. It will be strong for a few days, and then lose strength very quickly. Please explain how these solutions work.

Answer: Some of the so-called battery "rejuvenators" do renew the ability of a battery to start the engine in a short time. However, most of them operate by removing the outer layer of lead sulphate from the discharged plate and exposing a fresh surface of active compounds. The material which is taken off is forever lost and naturally the life of the battery is greatly shortened. In recharging a battery with a current of electricity, the way that is recommended by practically all battery manufacturers, this lead sulphate is reconverted to active material and is retained for further work. Avoid battery renewers if you want to get the longest possible life from your battery.

Question: How can a person fill the vacuum feed tank on a car when it has failed to refill?

Answer: Some cars have a vacuum pump on the dash for this purpose. When a pump is not provided, close the throttle, choke the carburetor and turn the engine over a few revolutions with the starter. If this does not fill the tank, sediment or dirt may have lodged on the air inlet and prevent it from closing.

AWAY BACK in.
"THEM GOOD old days."
THE STORY goes.
THAT AN elderly female.
WHO WAS violently.
OPPOSED TO the hootch.
ENTERED A street-car.
IN WHICH there sat.
A MAN evidently ossified.
SHE CALLED the conductor.
AND CRIED indignantly.
"DO YOU allow.
DRUNKARDS IN this car?"
AND HE replied.
"JUST MOVE over, ma'am.
NEXT TO that other one.
AND NOBODY.
WILL EVER notice you."
NOW I suppose.
THERE ARE cigarettes.
THAT KINDA get.
LOST IN the shuffle.
AND NOBODY gives 'em.
ANY SPECIAL notice.
BUT NOT my brand.
NO, SIR.
FOR TASTE and aroma.
YOU CAN'T beat 'em.
AND THEY'RE mild—yes.
AND YOU'LL never.
MISTAKE THEM.
BECAUSE THE "Satisfy-blend."
CAN'T BE copied.

LET'S make this perfectly clear. Chesterfield cigarettes "Satisfy," because they contain exceptionally fine Turkish tobaccos, blended with Burley and other high-grade Domestic tobaccos. They're like no other cigarettes, because that blend can't be copied. Chesterfields do what no others can—and no cigarette could do more Behind your telephone service is the "plant"—a complicated mechanical equipment of poles, cables, wires, switchboards, instruments, etc., carefully adjusted and absolutely dependent on perfect construction and maintenance.

The "plant" is constantly subject to accident and outside interference. Storms, fires, the carelessness of workmen, the pranks of children, concealed defects of material—all play their part.

The telephone company maintains a skilled force whose sole duty is to quickly restore service interrupted from any cause. Your lines are constantly watched and tested.

In the case of trouble we are generally the first to know it, but a notification to our Complaint Department when there is anything wrong will be appreciated.

Colorado and Texas led the lists of new posts chartered by the American Legion during the week ended November 18, according to national headquarters. Eleven posts gained during the week raised the total to 10,672. Other states to add posts were Kansas, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Oregon and Pennsylvania.

More applications for membership in Kansas City American Legion posts have been received since the national convention than in the preceding twelve months. The increase in the number of Legionnaries in Kansas City as a result of the convention has been estimated at twenty-five hundred.

More than 3,000 unemployed ex-service men of Chicago will eat Cristmas dinner on "Lightnin" this year. With Fred Stone acting as stage manager and the veteran Frank Bacon as his assistant, the American Legion of Chicago is preparing the theatrical benefit.

To advertise an American Legion rummage sale for unemployed soldiers, Mrs. Harry H. Hewlitt, wife of a prominent physician of Seattle, donned Charlie Chaplin raiment and paraded the streets with a sandwich board. Clothing from the rummage sale counters comprised her attire.

The town of McMinnville, Ore., wanted to add a pulmotor to its fire-fighting equipment. When the American Legion post of the town learned that the department had been compelled to give itself as security to raise money for the apparatus, they turned over half their Armistice day show proceeds for the purchase.

The United States army has been so reduced in number that when the American Legion requested a firing squad from Rora aviation field, California, the commanding officer had to haul down a balloon to get the number of men required. The shortage of personnel is so acute that men must be taken off duty to fill such requests.

The American Legion has begun a nation wide canvass to determine who was the last soldier killed in action. The French government will erect a monument to the last to fall. A Legion post at New Haven, Conn., has put forward the name of Thomas J. Walpole, Jr., killed on the morning of Armistice day in an outpost engagement.

B. C. Bougher, specialist on truck and field crops, has arranged with the college of agriculture to have planted this fall in Los Angeles county a number of resistant varieties of wheat and barley. Several barleys which are resistant to barley scald are to be planted in the Inglewood-Redondo district. A number of promising wheats have been selected for planting in the Antelope valley.

After hearing some men talk you are surprised at the small hats they wear.

Harmony Is Necessary to Success of River Project, Writes Swing

The Herald today received a letter from Congressman Phil D. Swing emphasizing the importance of the coming irrigation and power conference to be held at Riverside and San Diego. The development of the Colorado River will compare favorably with the Panama Canal in importance and in the amount of benefits, according to Representative Swing. Delegates from the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce will represent this city at the conference which will be attended by representatives from nearly every city and state in the west.

The letter from Congressman Swing is as follows:

"May I take a minute of your time to emphasize the importance of the coming irrigation and power conferences to be held at Riverside the 8th, 9th and 10th and at San Diego December 12? These meetings have the opportunity to do much good towards starting work on the development of the lower Colorado River from which development will flow a wonderful prosperity for all the southwest. I have been working on this proposal for a number of years and am greatly interested in seeing the undertaking successfully begun. I am convinced that when this project is completed it will compare favorably with the Panama Canal in importance and in the amount of benefits resulting therefrom to the American people.

"The present is a critical time for this great undertaking. Harmony is absolutely necessary. The united effort of the southwest is needed, if we are to succeed. It is a big enterprise and should be looked at in a big, broad way. Factional strife must be eliminated. Local jealousies and personal feeling should be submerged for the good of all. There will be benefits enough for all, once the work is done.

"I consider the development of the Colorado River the most important domestic matter before the people today, and I am, therefore, arranging my plans to attend these meetings. I hope you will not only follow the proceedings closely and give them the publicity they deserve,but that you will also use your influence to see that the delegates from your community realize the importance of reaching an agreement to work together for the common good."

The unusually dry season has retarded agriculture. The rainfall has thus far registered only a few thousandths of an inch, when a normal fall would be a full inch. Plowing is delayed. Grain sown has not yet sprouted and much nitrifying and fertilizing material will be rendered useless owing to lack of water, according to W. E. Bonnett of the United States weather bureau.

Some superstitious wives, when their husbands go forth to play poker on their night out, stick a pin in the lapel of their coats to bring them luck. A split of the winnings, if the pin helps, is the reward.

Even your worst enemy probably has no idea how mean you could be if you wanted to.

Foley's Friendly Fancies

A LIFT ON THE ROAD

GAS W FOLEY.

I remember one time when a bit of a boy, I had tramped through the woods all the day,
With a chum of my youth; we were fishing perhaps,
or gathering nuts—I can't say;
We dreamed as boys do of the future, and sang, and we whistled up many a tune,
And the day with its gladness slipped by ere we knew, from the morning to late afternoon;
We were barefoot and tired, with the dusk coming fast, and the dusty highroad was so long,
As we tramped the way home and the ache in our legs
stilled the earlier whistle and song;
Then a big old farm-wagon came lumbering by, on its way into town with a load,
And a kind-hearted man called us two to climb up,
and he gave us a lift on the road.

I can see that old wagon that rumbled along, and the harness, each buckle and strap,
And the big, plodding horses, and hear the man's voice from the seat calling cluck and giddap;
I remember as clearly the ache in my leg, and my feet that were dusty and sore,
And the boyish delight when we crawled on the load, and the horses went plodding once more.
The years, they are forty between then and now, but I've never forgotten the way
The driver pulled up and called down to two boys who were plodding on homeward that day;
He waited till we were both up and secure in our seats on the top of the load,
And then said giddap and the horses moved on as he gave us a lift on the road.

Those plodding old horses, long since have they drawn their last load, and the bones of them dust;
And the rumbling farm-wagon, its box and its wheels and the tongue of it ashes and rust.
And the chum of those old days is grown up and gone, nor whither I know or can find,
And gone too perhaps, on a last journey long, the driver whose greeting was kind
As he called to two boys on the dusty highroad; but memory cherishes yet
The day and the deed and the ride and the road, nor ever the boy shall forget;
And I wish he might know that the heart of a boy still remembers the call from the load,
After forty long years, and the ache in his legs, and the lift on the dusty highroad.

Big Audience at the High School Auditorium Hears Helen Clark and Joseph Phillips in EDISON Tone-Test

In a test of direct comparison, made yesterday at The High School Auditorium, before a large audience, the New Edison scored a complete and convincing triumph.

Helen Clark, the famous contralto, sang in direct comparison with the RE-CREATION of her voice by the New Edison. To every ear, there was no difference between her living voice and her RE-CREATED voice.

This is the most drastic phonograph test known. No other phonograph has ever sustained it. No other phonograph has even attempted it.

The New Edison's marvelous performance of yesterday vindicates everything that has been said or claimed for its perfect realism.

Helen Clark stood on the stage next to a shapely Chippendale cabinet. She began to sing. Her golden notes soared over the auditorium, bringing all under its magic spell.

Halfway through her song she suddenly stopped singing. The New Edison, at her side, took up her song,—and continued it alone.

Singer and phonograph thus alternated, throughout the song.

The only way the audience could be sure which was singing, was by watching Miss Clark's lips,—so exactly like the living voice was the RE-CREATED voice.

Joseph Phillips made the same test of comparison with the RE-CREATIONS of his baritone selections. Again the same result—there was no difference between the RE-CREATED voice and the living voice.

Proof was piled upon proof! Evidence was massed on evidence! The end of the concert found the audience absolutely and completely convinced, through its own personal experience, that there is no difference between an artist's living performance and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison,—that listening to the New Edison is, in literal truth, the same as listening to the living artists.

Bandits Force Victim To Indorse $200 in Checks

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 1.—Payment on four travelers' checks for $50 each was ordered stopped when Edward B. Dahl of Klamath Falls, Ore., reported to the police that bandits had held him up near Eighth and Broadway yesterday noon and forced him at the point of a gun to indorse the checks so they could easily cash them. Dahl told the police that he alighted from a Southern Pacific train at Arcade depot and was approached by an affable stranger. The unknown man told Dahl hotel accommodations were scarce and offered to take the visitor to an uptown house. At Eighth and Main streets an elderly man joined them, walked two blocks and shoved a gun against Dahl's side.

MAGICIAN TO PERFORM AT HIGH SCHOOL MONDAY

(Contributed by High School Students)

Burndell Ford, noted electrical experimenter, will give a performance for high school students Monday morning at 9:45 o'clock at the regular weekly assembly. Mr. Ford gave his program at the Chautauqua last year. He does not claim to be a magician but his performance is scientific and he explains how every trick is done. The apparatus used in the performance is of his own design and construction. The demonstration will include high frequent currents, with which Mr. Ford can light a candle from the end of his nose and weld two pieces of iron together by the current through his body. He will also show how ships may be controlled by wireless and an original experiment with the Ouija board. Mr. Ford's explanations are plain and entertaining. The entrance charge will be ten cents for students and twenty-five cents for outsiders.

Will Hold Bazaar

The annual Christmas bazaar of the high school will be held December 16 in the afternoon and evening. The entertainment feature will be a vaudeville performance at 3:30 and 8:30 o'clock. It will include several clever acts by high school talent provided by the dramatic classes. Every department of the school is putting forth its best efforts to make the affair a success. Articles from the mechanic, domestic science, art, history and English classes will be on sale.

'Half Baked' Mashers To Be Suppressed at Beach

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 1.—Promiscuous endeavor to become acquainted with persons of the opposite sex along the ocean front walk in Santa Monica is to be discouraged, if necessary by lodgment in the city jail, according to orders issued yesterday by Capt. C. E. Webb of the Santa Monica police. Many complaints, he said, had reached his office of "many half-baked mashers" attempting to force their attention on tourists as well as residents, and he promises that it will come to an end if fines and jail sentences can accomplish it.

NEWS FROM THE OIL FIELDS

LONG BEACH

Drilling stopped on the California Mexican Petroleum Syndicate at 3100 and preparations are now under way to bring the well in. The 8 inch was set at 2821 and from this point to 3160 feet the well has shown oil continuously. The actual coming in of this well will be delayed four or five days awaiting the arrival of screen pipe. Judging from the way this well has been showing up there is every reason to believe it will make a 700 barrel well. The Cal-Mex has staked a location for well No. 2. The second well will be drilled on the Lekis property west of the Shell's Horsch No. 1.

The General Petroleum drilling on the Bixby property is now down 3700 feet. The formation is hard sand, no showings as yet.

E. J. Miley, contrary to last week's report, has not drilled the cement out at Xemino No. 1. Pipe was set at 3815 and the well is to stand for a while yet. W. M. Keck has not done anything at the E. L. B. O. well and will probably not resume drilling for some little time. Both wells are in unproven territory and will await developments.

The Petroleum Midway has closed a deal for the North property, a strip of ground running along the south line of the San Martenas Booth lease. The coming in of the Booth well makes the North lease look like one of the choice properties in the field.

At 2680 the Petroleum Midway got a showing of oil in the Ellis well and stopped drilling to set pipe. Brown No. 1 is a rig, and McDavid No. 1 is rigging up.

Ramsey, Municipal No. 1, started off with a spurt flow of about 1000 barrels. Judging from the way the well acted it will duplicate the Shell Company's discovery well and make a 400 barrel pumper. Effort will be made to make the well flow. The gas pressure does not seem to be sufficient to maintain the oil column and keep a continuous flow. The oil is testing out close to 22 gravity.

San Martenas, Booth No. 1, a week ago was the sensation of the Long Beach field, flowing steadily at 1500 barrels. Today the big well is not producing a barrel. Water broke in around the 8 inch at 3561. The pipe has gone bad at 3541, the assumption being that it has collapsed. The pipe will be swedged out and the well recemented. Regardless of the fact that the big well went to water the San Martenas Oil Company has the consolation of the fact that the oil is there.

Drilling at 2850 feet the Standard Oil Company's Alamitos No. 2 is now showing anything that looks like oil yet. Lomits No 1 shows a 1000 feet, Sylvester No. 1 at 2500 is drilling nicely. L. B. T. and Savings No. 1 shows 2200 feet drilled. The rig for the deep test Bixby well is down and in a few days all marks of the 5540 test well will be gone.

Barring the mishap of having the 8 inch pipe part the Shell's Company's Alamitos No. 3 would have been on production this week. This well has been showing up exceptionally strong and something startling is expected when it does come in. 3496 feet is the bottom and the formation is oil sand. Alamitos No. 2 set 8 inch at 3025. No. 4 Alamitos is rigging up. Babb-Tucker No. 1 set 8 inch at 2550. Goddard No. 1 at 2600 struck a light showing of oil. Jones No. 1 set 10 inch at 2956. Hutton No. 1 is drilling at 1700 in hard sand. Martin No. 1 is rebuilding the rig. Nesa No. 1 continues drilling on iron at 2777. Pickler No. 1 is ripping the 8 inch at 2400. Wilbur No. 1 is putting in 10 inch at 2400.

At both the United Denni Noland No. 2 a place is being sought to set pipe. Denni No. 1 at 2600 is in brown shale and probably will not go much deeper. Denni No. 2 is in the same formation at 2955 and will be setting pipe soon.

HUNTINGTON BEACH

Three new wells on separate properties is what the Amalgamated Oil Company is doing at Huntington Beach. Huntington No. 7 is about ready to spud in. Dennison No. 1 and Pearce No. 1 are both rig building. Fowler No. 3, drilling at 2450, is in sandy shale. Huntington No. 6 at 3427, stands cemented.

The Argonaut Oil Company's Wilson No. 1 is now one of Huntington Beach's big wells. For several days this well drilled to 2717, has been running around 1000 barrels. A settled production running from 6 to 8 hundred can be expected now. Johnson No. 1 at 985 is drilling in surface formation. Turley No. 2 is coming along nicely with the drilling. Hole is now being made at 2100.

The Argonaut Oil Company is the first company in the Huntington Beach field to equip a well with an electric pumping outfit. Turley No. 1 is now pumping with electric motor. The outfit is the last thing in electrical equipment and is put out by the Westinghouse Electric. C. O. Wheat of Brea put in the motor and did the electrical work.

Messrs. Krohn and Suttle, superintendent and heavy stockholder respectively of the Ridge Oil Company of Richfield have located at Huntington Beach and will drill two wells at once. The company will be known as the Krohn-Suttle Oil Company. The new company is being financed by selling production prospective. One per cent of the production sells for 1500 dollars. A lease has been secured on two properties, one south of the Unity Oil Company and the other east of the Blue Shale.

The Eddystone Oil Company's Huff No. 1 now drilling at 4400 feet, is in hard sand and not showing up anything extra. Ashton No. 3, at 3800 is in sandy shale, showing oil and gas. Davenport No. 1 slipped down to 260 barrels, sanded up and quit flowing yesterday. Davenport No. 2 is drilling at 2600 feet. The rig is up for Davenport No. 3.

At 3895 the General Petroleum's Community No. 1 is in hard shell, and for fifty feet or more the formation carried a rather encouraging oil showing. It is understood that the recent showing was the best the well has ever made. Enough of an oil showing was uncovered to show as froth and foam on the "ditch."

HUNTINGTON BEACH

The Gypsy Oil Syndicate now has two producing wells and has to be reckoned as one of the producing companies of the field. Gypsy No. 2 at 2515 came in yesterday a 200 barrel well. The No. 2 well was cemented five times before getting a shutoff. The last cementing the fluid was put in under a pressure of 1250 pounds and job made good.

The Huntington Midway Crude has secured the necessary financial backing and is going ahead with the work. The well was redrilled and cleaned out allowing a string of 10 to cement at 2208. The well will stand cemented until December 1st.

Hurst No. 2, sometimes known as Lomas No. 2 spudded in and shows 400 feet of hole. Hurst No. 1 is now making about 150 barrels.

The Jameson Oil Company's No. 1 was O. Ked by the water commission yesterday and now drilling is being resumed at 2255. The Jamison Company is fortunate in getting a water shutoff the first attempt.

The Malls Oil and Trust Company spudded in on the old Anchor well yesterday and drilling is now at 1100 feet. Malls Syndicate No. 1 is scheduled to go ahead with cable tools at 2600. Malls-Aldahl is held up with a fishing job at 2591.

With No. 1 producing 400 barrels and the outlook good for more production Machris Bros. No. 2 spudded in.

Last week it was stated that the Miller Syndicate would set the 8 inch at 3680. The pipe was carried on to 3732 and there cemented. A very good showing at 3732 practically assures an oil well. Miller Syndicate No. 2 spudded in and is being rigged up for the rotary.

The Miley-Keck Oil Company has dissolved and henceforth the properties of these two companies will be handled separately. Keck No. 1 is drilling ahead at 2235. No. 2 is a small producer making about 35 barrels. No. 3 is a rig. No. 4, the big well hangs around 450 barrels. No. 5 is a rig. No. 6 drilled to 2600 lost the hole and is skidding the rig. No. 7 is standing cemented at 2600 where a good showing of oil was struck. No. 8 was cemented at 3016 where some good showings were logged.

The Peerless Petroleum Company had the water shut off at 2850 and ready to go on into the oil sand ran into more water ten feet from the shutoff. The drilling will now continue until an oil sand is picked up.

The Petroleum Midway is having considerable difficulty in getting Smythe No. 1 under way on production. Drilled to 3620 continuous swabbing has failed to make the well flow steadily. Flowing by heads the well is not making a very good showing. Towers No 1 at 3625 is still being held up with sand trouble. Drilling on Smythe No. 2 is now at 1875 in hard sand. Barnes No. 1 is a new well with the lumber on the ground. At Vollmer-Meyer No. 2 drilling is down 2450 feet. Elliott No. 1 set the 8 inch at 2805. Pearce No. 1 has been located.

Republic Petroleum No. 2 is on production. Drilled to 3015 feet the well went on a production late last week. On account of sanding up and pumping off drilling water no exact figure on the output is yet available. It is thought that this well will make a 250 barrel producer. The rig is up and rigging up work is under way for Republic No. 3.

Rhoades Oil Company No. 1 (Climax) is not on production as yet. The oil string is to be pulled out and the 10 inch recemented. At No. 2 a steady production of 100 barrels daily is being realized. (Edca) No. 3 is making about 200 barrels.

At 4254 feet where a string of 8 inch was set the Standard's B-2 is showing up nicely and makes the outlook for a lot of property lying between the discovery well and the water front very favorable. Huntington A-5 is to be deepened from 2970, A-7 at 2790 is testing water. A-9 at 2868 met with pipe trouble and is swedging. A-12 continues to produce close to 1000 barrels daily. A-13 at 3154 is fishing. 16 and 17 are standing cemented. No. 17 is drilling out to test water at 2012. B-4 at 2843 is making about 450 barrels. Drilling on B-6 is at 1800. No. 6 is testing out at 2325. B-7 is down 1885, B-8 and B-9 are building rig. Huntington C-1 is being deepened from 2370. D-1 at 2664 is standing cemented. D-2 is a location and C-3 is building rig and rigging up. E-1 stands cemented at 2520. E-2 at 2341 is doing about 200 barrels. E-3 with the ri repaired is ready to go ahead, E-4 shows 2345 feet, and 5 is located. Bolsa No. 3 continues to produce as a small well at 2571. No. 5 Bolsa spudded in and shows 1000 feet. Jones No. 2 at 2960 is fishing. Jones No. 3 is building rig. Surf No. 2 at 1937 stands cemented. Thompson No. 1 at 2925 did not come up to expectations and is deepening. At Torrance No. 1, the 4 inch is being pulled at 4485 and the well deepened. Farnsworth No 1 is drilling at 2400 and Pacific No. 1 at 1895.

One of the ugliest fishes found in Atlantic coast waters is known as the sea devil, fishing frog, goose fish and bellows fish. It is nearly all mouth and stomach and its diet is fishes smaller than itself.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or side, headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. —Advertisement.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease. —Advertisement.

BEING DRAGGED INTO WAR

"Another war is coming . . It will not drag in this country, however, if our government keeps the last election in mind."

It is pity to have to touch so often on the subject of war. Just at this time the topic is not to be avoided. The world is full of discussion of it, happily devoted mostly to absolute condemnation. Nations conceive their duty to be not proficiency in fighting, and in truculency of mental attitude, but in devising methods of a just and pervasive peace.

The quotation above is an excerpt from a series of comments. It is a foolish assertion primarily. The appended opinion that the memory of the last election would keep this country from being dragged in, reaches close to the depths of puerility. If another world war were to eventuate, nothing could keep this country from being dragged in. Neither prayer, nor politics, nor cowardice, nor principle could keep it out. It would be drawn in despite the repugnance the thought would stir.

In the article from which the excerpt was taken, from the pen of a proponent of the German cause in the late conflict, runs the intimation that the United States had no business in that affair. As though the whole globe, with the exception of the American area could become a battlefield, and all America hold aloof unalarmed and unconcerned! Because of the count of votes at a past eelction, at that!

The trouble with writers who look forward to a war to rage on two continents and the seven seas without in any manner being the concern of America, is that they neglect to think.

But even if they thought, each according to his capacity, and still clung to their opinions, the theory that it is the duty of this country to keep away from all activities designed to encourage universal peace, still must lack defense.

SOME OTHER MAN

In applying for a divorce a plaintiff stated that her husband "was not the man she thought he was."

How the error occurred, in what manner a substitute was tossed into the martial bark, did not appear from her statement. The course of the court has not been related. Probably the fact of having intended to marry one man, and having discovered later that she had married another, would be regarded as fair grounds for irritation.

Very likely this was not a case of mistaken identity as the complaint seems to specify. Love, although habitually blind, usually is observant enough to be aware of the person upon whom it bestows favors.

However, it is not strange that a wife should awaken to the truth that she said "I will," not exactly to a strange individual, but to one she was not acquainted with. Many marriages that come into court for dissolution have been entered into between parties who knew of each other only that which could be learned by casual contact, compressed within a few hours. Each during that brief term naturally had been on best behavior.

When a man, happening to see a pretty girl at the next table at lunch, inquires who she is, and conducts a rapid wooing that leads to wedding before the dinner hour of the same day, of course both are taking chances. It is not surprising that he should turn out to be another man than the ideal, or even that she, as an element of the domestic establishment, turn out to lack perfection.

Japan has a new titular ruler and there is reason to expect many voluntary changes of policy. The ruler who has just retired didn't rule except theoretically, and in this respect the one following him is likely to be different. He is a modern, not a conservative, and knows something of the world.

It was unkind for a Korean to ask the Japanese delegates right out in meeting, what they expected to do with his country. For their reply to please him was impossible, and so they sidestepped, and this didn't seem to please him either.

Governor Small of Illinois has attacked the indictments against him. Devoid of all the niceties of legal phrase, the reply amounts to charging the framers of the indictments with telling whoppers.

United States troops are on the way home from Germany. Along with them are a number of wives and babies. Chances are that the offspring of loyal American soldiers and thrifty German girls will be pretty good Americans.

Between Ourselves

By Della M. Stewart

It seems to be quite the fashion to say "damn." It rolls off feminine lips with great fluency, especially in our novels. One deduces that writers must number among their woman acquaintances those who are addicted to profanity, even if our own narrower circles do not contain them.

But there's one great trouble with swear words. When one does not need them they are so superfluous—and vulgar. And when one does feel the need of strong speech, they are so inadequate to express what we would. And the vulgarity is the same.

Doesn't it seem a trifle small to lay the weight of our petulance or disappointment on some poor little word and send it as a scapegoat out into the world to rend, perchance, with its horns? And don't we brand ourselves with impatience and lack of self control when we thus catapult the scapegoat from our inner consciousness?

If one were inclined to idle musings, like the statisticians, one could compute the force wasted in these superfluous "damns." If of the reservoir confining variety, how many millions of gallons would they hold in reserve? How many thousands of farm lands could be irrigated by their crystal contents and, in consequence, how many dollars' worth of foodstuffs saved for humanity? How many times could the earth be encircled by their letters laid end to end? How many kilowatts of force be released toward doing the work of the world, were they transformed into usable strength?

Why be profane? There are so many other more desirable and satisfactory ways of "letting off steam."

San Joaquin Valley Fruit Growers plan to extend the scope of their activities. The directorate will be increased from seven to eleven, the new members to represent the independent packers, fresh fruit men, citrus growers and dairymen. The present body includes the raisin, peach and fig industries and the producers of the valley at large. The new wage scale has also been adopted by the association: Ranch labor, $1.75 and $2 and board; $3 and $3.50 without board. Married help $70 to $90 with cottage.

"Both ob dese gents," said the witness, Mandy Thomas, rather impressed with the importance of being in court, "was standin' at the corner conversin' with each other pretty hot an' pointed like." "Relate the conversation," said the prosecutor.

"Ah don't remember it, sah." said Mandy thoughtfully, "'cept dat dey was callin' each other what they is."

And what a lot more happiness there would be in this world if love would only remain blind after marriage!

CHATTERER IS PUT IN PRISON

Who ever does a deed that's wrong
Will surely find some day
That for that naughty act of his
He'll surely have to pay.

THAT was the way with Chatterer the Red Squirrel. Of course he had no business to steal corn from Farmer Brown's corncrib. To be sure he felt that he had just as much right to that corn as Farmer Brown had. You see the little people of the Green Meadows and the Green Forest feel that everything that grows belongs to them if they want it and are smart enough to get it before some one else does. But it is just there that Chatterer went wrong. Farmer Brown had harvested that corn and stored it in his corncrib and so, of course, no one else had any right to it. Right down deep in his heart Chatterer knew this. If he hadn't known it he wouldn't have been so sly in taking what he wanted. He knew all the time that he was stealing, but he tried to make himself believe that it was all right. So he had kept on stealing and stealing until at last he was caught in a trap, and now he had got to pay for his wrongdoing.

Chatterer was very miserable, so miserable and frightened that he could do nothing but sit huddled up in a little shivery ball. He hadn't the least doubt in the world that this was his very last day and that Farmer Brown's boy would turn him over to cruel Black Pussy for her breakfast. Farmer Brown's boy had left him in the trap in the house and had gone out. For a long time Chatterer could hear pounding out in the woodshed and Farmer Brown's boy whistling as he pounded. Chatterer wondered how he could whistle and seem so happy when he meant to do such a dreadful thing as to give him to Black Pussy. After what seemed a very long time, ages and ages, Farmer Brown's boy came back. He had with him a queer looking box.

"There," said he, "is a new home for you, you little red imp! I guess it will keep you out of trouble for a while."

He slid back a little door in the top of the box. Then he put on a stout glove and opening a little door in the trap he put in his big hand and closed it around Chatterer. Poor little Chatterer! He was sure now that this was the end, and that he was to be given to Black Pussy, who was looking on with hungry yellow eyes. He struggled and did his best to bite, but the thick glove gave his sharp little teeth no chance to hurt the hand that held him. Even in his terror he noticed that that big hand tried to be gentle and squeezed him no tighter than was necessary. Then he was lifted out of the trap and dropped through the little doorway in the top of the queer box and the door was fastened. Nothing terrible had happened after all.

At first Chatterer just sulked in one corner. He still felt sure that something terrible was going to happen. Farmer Brown's boy took the box out into the shed and put it where the sun shone into it. For a little while he stayed watching, but Chatterer still sulked and sulked. By and by he went away, taking Black Pussy with him, and Chatterer was alone.

When he was quite sure that no one was about Chatterer began to wonder what sort of a place he was in and if there wasn't some way to get out. He found that one side and the top were of fine stout wire through which he could look out, and that the other sides and bottom were of wood covered with wire, so that there was no chance for his sharp teeth to gnaw a way out. In one corner was a stout piece of an apple tree, with two little stubby branches to sit on, and half way up a little round hole. Very cautiously Chatterer peeped inside the hole. Inside was a splendid hollow. On the floor of the box was a little heap of shavings and bits of rag. And there was a little pile of yellow corn. How Chatterer did hate the sight of that corn! You see, it was corn that had got him into all this trouble. At least that is the way Chatterer felt about it. When he had examined everything he knew that there was no way out. Chatterer was in a prison, though that is not what Farmer Brown's boy called it. He said it was a cage.

Next Story: Chatterer Decides to Live.

A circus acrobat was about to be declared legally dead in Elizabeth, N. J., when he arrived at his sister's home there. He said the reason he had not written in eight years was that he had nothing special to tell her.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

WHAT DISARMAMENT MAY DO TO THE NATIONAL AIRS

"The Star-Spangled Banner."

On the shore dimly seen through the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in deep silence repeses,
You can see all the soldiers quite soundly asleep,
For they've nothing to fight with, inspection discloses,
Not a sound can be heard save the terrible snores
Which an army gives vent to when through with all wars.
O, the Star-Spangled Banner, O, long may it wave
O'er the land where no weapons are sold to the brave.

And where is that band who so vauntingly swore
That the havoc of war and the battle's confusion
Would bother us? . . . Say, don't they know that the door
Has been closed upon war as a bum institution?
Don't they know that no nation possesses a gun—
That the war cry of all now is "Don't we have fun?"—
That the Star-Spangled Banner now peacefully waves
O'er the land of the "Yanks" and the home of the "Braves"?

Oh, thus be it ever, as freemen we stand,
With nothing to fear but the high cost of living.
Oh, this is the life, boys, so peaceful and grand,
Let us play Put and Take, with less taking than giving,
And this be our motto: "No Fighting Today!"
Let us go to the park, there to gambol and play.
And the Star-Spangled Banner forever shall wave
Where "No Shooting" signs hang o'er the homes of the brave.

"Marching Through Georgia"

Bring the good old bugle, boys, we'll start another song—
We have to sing because we brought na'armaments along;
Our singing, well, it's punishment enough for any throng
As we go marching through Georgia.

Hurrah! Hurrah! We bring the jubilee!
Hurrah! Hurrah! We're on a vocal spree!
We'll fight the foe with music from Atlanta to the sea
As we go warbling through Georgia.

British National Anthem

God save our gracious king,
Sweet, kind, and everything,
Jolly old thing.
Isn't it glorious—
No fights to worry us?
There's now no fight or fuss
Saving a king.

Have a Smile

"Is the boss in?" asked the visitor.

The office boy, with his chair tilted back and his legs stretched out on desk made no reply.

"I asked if the boss was in," said the visitor.

The office boy glanced at him, but remained silent. "Didn't you hear me?" snapped the visitor.

"Of course, I heard you," answered the boy, scornfully.

"Then why the dickens didn't you tell me if the boss's in?"

"Now I ask you," retorted the boy, as he recrossed his legs on the desk, "does it look like it?"

The wife of the vicar of a fashionable London suburb tells the story of a new parlor maid who was a great success. One day, however, she went out wearing clothes very much "above her station, and got into a motor car which was waiting near the vicarage gate.

When she returned the vicar's wife, more in sorrow than in anger, suggested that domestic servants who dressed fashionably and drove off in motor cars were hardly suitable for the ecclesiastical atmosphere.

Then the girl confessed. "Oh," she said, "don't be alarmed. The man with the motor car is my father. He made a lot of money during the war, and now we live in a large house. But we didn't know quite how things were done by well-bred people, and so I took this job to find out."

Nothing is well that doesn't end well.
