Mystery Surrounds Cause for Suicide Near Here

PLANT MANAGER TAKES OWN LIFE WITH REVOLVER LATE YESTERDAY

Dog Leads Woman To Body Of W. D. Dross in Tomato Patch—Inquest Held This Afternoon.

Mystery today surrounds the reason for the suicide of W. D. Dross, 40 years old, who shot himself in the head at Irvine about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Dross, who has been manager of the Irvine warehouse for the last twelve years, had apparently no reason to end his life. He had been complaining of severe headaches for several weeks, however, it is said, and a temporary derangement was thought possible.

An inquest was to be held at the Smith and Tuthill Funeral Chapel late this afternoon, Coroner C. D. Brown was called to the scene yesterday afternoon and found no witnesses to the suicide although it was said to have occurred in a tomato patch out in the open about 150 feet from the house.

Dross had been living with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spencer in a house across the boulevard from the warehouse and directly across from the school building.

Finds Note In House

The fact that something might possibly be wrong was first noticed by Mrs. Spencer, who had gone over to the warehouse with her husband a short time before, when she returned alone to the house. She noticed parts of the uniform of the lodge of which Mr. Dross had been a member laying on the bed carefully folded. She found a note on the clothes.

A small dog, which belonged to the family, and which had always been particularly attached to Mr. Dross, was barking on the porch. Following the dog, Mrs. Spencer was quickly led to the place in the tomato patch where Mr. Dross had chosen to end his life.

The body was laying on the ground and the man's right hand held a .38 revolver which he had borrowed from Mr. Spencer. There was a bullet wound in his right temple. Mrs. Spencer called her husband at once and the coroner was called to the scene.

BOY INJURED WHEN HIT BY AUTO HERE

Gail Vary, 6-year-old son of Edward Vary, was slightly injured late yesterday afternoon when he was hit by an automobile driven by B. H. Holdsworth of the Dutton garage. The accident occurred on Adele street while a Ford Car purchased by D. A. Singleton was being delivered by the garage employe. The boy's wounds consist of slight bruises and cuts.

ELKS COMPLETE PLANS FOR NEW YEAR'S BALL

Anaheim Elks last night completed arrangements for the New Year's Eve ball to be held in the new club house Saturday night. Reports of the various committees in charge of the plans for the dance and entertainment were heard at the regular meeting of the local lodge.

Reports that the flood waters had reached the new club building and flooded the basement were found to be untrue last night when members of the lodge inspected the building. The water did not reach the curb which surrounds the property, it is said.

CITY COUNCIL TO LET PAVING CONTRACTS IN TWO WEEKS

The contract for paving eight blocks on Chartress street and the three alleys for which bids were asked at the same time will probably be let at the next meeting of the city council, January 12, city officials said today.

Five proposals are now before the council for the completion of this work, but they have not been thoroughly examined as yet. The lowest bid was was made by George R. Curtis of Los Angeles, who proposes to lay the street pavement, five inches of concrete and two inches of asphalt, at 26 cents a square foot and to pave the alleys with six inches of concrete at 25 cents a square foot.

This Hobo Had Too Many Pairs of Trousers--Jail

Eleven hoboes were rounded up by the shotgun squad of the Santa Ana police force in their nightly wanderings last night. The itinerants were haled before City Recorder Heathman this morning and all were released with admonitions to leave the city, with one exception of one man, C. Parsons, who was found to have more pairs of trousers than a man in his position might have without suspicion.

He was given thirty days in the county jail on a vagrancy charge to give the officers time to investigate his source of supply for the masculine articles of apparel.

Paul V. Allen, local representative of the Automobile Club of Southern California, has returned from San Diego where he went to spend the week end. He says he had an enforced vacation, due to the high water. The coast road to San Diego is still closed and he returned via Escondido and Oceanside.

BURCH SAYS INSANITY PLEA OF LAWYERS IS "BUNK"

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 20.—It's the bunk!"

In these words Arthur C. Burch, accused of the murder of John Belton Kennedy, today expressed his opinion of the attempt being made by defense alienists to prove him insane.

While these astute experts in mental disorders lead the jury through mazes of observations and conclusions on what they think is going on inside the brain of the little man accused of one of the most spectacular crimes in years, the defendant himself sits and snickers.

Whether Burch is insane or not, he has a well developed sense of humor—a sense sometimes lacking, apparently, in the learned witnesses now testifying.

He is quick to see the joke in many of the questions and answers, and his laughter usually leads the courtroom.

The battle of alienists was to continue today. The defense did not conclude with its technical witnesses yesterday as expected, and court opened today with a full witness list.

Wanted To Kill Men But Takes Own Life

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—David de Martin, 29, claims he came to Los Angeles in 1913 "to kill two men who had wronged him." Yesterday he got tired of loking for them, stuffed the cracks of his room at 226 East Third street with paper and turned on the gas. Patrolman Hubell of Central Station got into the room in time to take de Martin, still conscious, to the psiycopathic ward of the County Hospital. He will live.

$26,000 LOVE THEFT IS WOMAN'S CHARGE

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—Did she give him $26,000, her worldly possession, for his affection?

If so, was it embezzlement on his part?

These two questions must be decided today by Justice of the Peace J. Walter Hanby when Mrs. Ida Newman, widow, of Venice, tells her story of how Ralph Canole, married, of Culver City, received this amount, according to her contention, while it is alleged, he was courting her.

They met when he was 22; she was 34. She had $26,000—he nothing. Did he take advantage of her love?

Deputy District Attorney James P. Costello, prosecuting the charge, thinks he did.

At present she is penniless, with four children.

According to testimony to be introduced by Deputy District Attorney Costello, the defendant represented that he was going to buy big automobiles and run a profit sharing stage line. She was to benefit by the enterprise, but he failed, it appears, and then married another.

Woman Demands $50,000 For Husband's Lost Love

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—Heart balm of $50,000 is asked for by Mattie B. Shafer, for the alleged alienation of her husband, George A. Shafer, a telephone lineman. The suit, filed yesterday in superior court, was directed against Mrs. Norah Dawson, a widow.

Mrs. Dawson made love to Shafer last June, according to the complaint, and by offers of money and otherwise, sought to entice Shafer from his wife. The defendant has continued to harbor and hold his love until the present time, the complaint recited, which was filed by Attorneys McKenna & McKenna. The Shafers have been married about a year.

WOMAN'S STORY MAY SOLVE MYSTERY OF MAN'S DEATH

Information given by a woman of Huntington Beach to the sheriff late this afternoon may clear up the mystery of the shooting which Tuesday resulted in the death of Wilfred E. Tarpey of Los Angeles, according to reports from Santa Ana. This woman, whose name is being withheld by the police, telephoned Sheriff Jackson this morning and said she was willing to tell "the whole story." With her husband she came to Santa Ana this afternoon and a conference between the sheriff and the woman's husband began behind closed doors.

The woman, whose nervous condition is near the breaking point, sat weeping in the adjoining room while the man told her story.

According to information received here the man told the sheriff that on the night of November 1, the date the shooting is alleged to have occurred, a strange man came to his home while his wife was alone and sought admission at the front door. Being unable to gain entrance there, he walked to the window of his wife's bedroom and threatened to set fire to the house unless she admitted him.

The frightened woman took a large calibre revolver from a table drawer and shot at the man. The bullet passed through the window but was deflected by a small metal clasp and it was not known whether or not the man had been hit. He ran from the home, the woman told her husband, and did not return. No report of the shooting had been made to the police.

Since Harpey's death resulted from a bullet wound made by a large calibre revolver bullet, the police are working on the theory that Tarpey is the man who sought admission to the Huntington Beach home and was shot at by this woman.

G. Garber and William Backman in which a temporary restraining order is sought to close the operations at the brick yard operated by the defendants, were dismissed and the defense took the stand.

As it was impossible to complete the hearing yesterday the case was continued until January 6. Noxious fumes and smoke alleged to have come from the kilns during the burning of brick in process of manufacture is the reason given for the desired restraining order.

REALTORS POSTPONE SESSION TO ATTEND MASS MEETING HERE

GOVERNOR SMALL MUST FACE CHARGES OF EMBEZZLEMENT

WAUKEGAN, Ill., Dec. 29.—Governor Len Small must stand trial on charges of embezzlement of state funds and conspiracy on January 9, Judge Claire Edwards, circuit court judge, ruled today.

The court's decision, in which some counts in indictments against Small and Verne Curtis, Grant Park banker and co-defendant, were thrown out of court, followed weeks or argument by Small's attorneys asking that all indictments be quashed.

It is alleged that Small, while serving as the treasurer of Illinois, embezzled interest on state funds that should have been turned into the state treasury.

GIRLS WOULD OUST MOTHER AS KEEPER OF FATHER'S ESTATE

Mrs. Bertha Thompson, administratrix of the estate of her husband, Ernest Thompson, has disappeared without making an accounting of the funds of the estate, according to reports made to county officials in Santa Ana this afternoon. The funds, it is said, are $140.56 short and W. H. Swoap, legal adviser for two daughters of Mrs. Thompson who live in Placentia, has filed a petition in the Los Angeles Superior Court asking that Mrs. Thompson be removed as administratrix of the estate.

These two daughters, Blanche and Leta, received a letter from their mother several days ago. The letter was mailed at Duncan, Okla., and said that she had left her home and would not return. It is thought that the mother is now in Sterling City, Cal., with two other daughters.

HUNDRED MEN BUILD LEVEE AT BREAK IN RIVER BANK NEAR HERE

Plan For Permanent Protection From Floods Will Be Discussed at Big Mass Meeting Tonight.

No more flood-water is coming into Anaheim from the Santa Ana River break, according to a statement issued by Secretary Malcolm Fraser of the Chamber of Commerce at noon today.

Temporary protective measures energetically taken by the Chamber of Commerce, the Santa Fe Railroad, the city of Anaheim and a big corps of ranchers have succeeded in checking the flood waters and the imminence of threatened damage to property is removed. But more help is needed and all who desire to engage in this work are requested to report to Secretary Fraser of the Chamber of Commerce Friday morning as early as possible.

Mass Meeting Tonight

An important mass meeting will be held at the Grand Theater at 8 o'clock tonight for the purpose of chrystallizing public opinion and formulating some feasible and constructive plan of permanent flood protection.

As the situation is of most vital interest to all, to the rancher and land owner, as well as those who have the community welfare at heart, it is the special wish of the committee that everyone who possibly can will attend this meeting at the Grand Theater. Especially is it desired to have present those who might have objections to steps being taken looking toward a permanent safeguarding against future flood troubles. The committee is de-

CONSUMER COMPLAINT BRINGS NEW WATER RATES HERE

Upon complaint of consumers, the Railroad Commission has declared a water company operated to W. S. B. Lawrie and the Union Trust Company of San Diego and supplying sub-divisions of the city of Anaheim a public utility and ordered that repairs be made to the system in order to give adequate service. The Commission suggested that the installation of meters will remove practically all causes for complaint and will result in greatly improved service, once the system is put into condition. A basic flat rate of $1.50 for dwelling and monthly meter rates of $1.50 for the first 500 cubic feet were established. Quantity rates of 25 cents 100 cubic feet from 500 to 1,000 cubic feet and 15 cents a 100 cubic feet for all over 1,000 cubic feet were provided.

Perjury Case Against Boys Who Sought to Wed Young Girl, Dismissed by Judge

That the case of true love never runs smoothly was aptly illustrated in Justice of the Peace J. B. Cox's court yesterday afternoon.

Benjamin Serrato, Mexican youth from El Modena, and Ramona Martinez, also of El Modena, were the principals. Serrato was charged with perjury in connection with his efforts to secure a marriage license to marry Miss Martinez.

The charge against Serrato was dropped when it was found that he had no knowledge of the facts in the case regarding the girl's age, that he gave in securing the marriage license other than what she had told him.

When Mrs. Aleadia Jenkins, guardian of Miss Martinez took the stand and testified that her ward was ten years of age when she first came to live with her and had lived at the Jenkins home for seevn years, Serratos hopes appeared blighted. Mrs. Jenkins did not approve of Serrato's attentions to her ward.

The girl had different views, and after a few brief questions in which she admitted telling Serrato that she was 18 and it was proved that he had no other knowledge as to her age, it was seen that the intent in the case was lacking.

On the motion of deputy-district attorney Roland Thompson the case was dismissed. The girl admitted on the stand that she is only 16 years of age but stated that she had told Serrato she was 18 because she wanted to marry him.

More than fifty Mexicans were in the Justice court to hear the proceedings. At the close of the hearing, Serrato was admonished by Justice Cox to keep away from the girl and wait two years until she becomes of age before he tries to marry her. He was also advised to take the marriage license back to the county clerk and receive his license fee back.

Four First Degree Murder Cases Here During Year

There were 109 cases handled by the district attorney's office during the last year, according to figures compiled by Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozley.

Of these cases, four were for murder in the first degree. In all four of these cases confessions were secured and the necessity and expense of a trial was obviated.

The four who pleaded guilty to the first degree murder charges were Juan Garcia and Julian Castro, who admitted the shooting of John Khoury, Syrian storekeeper at Delhi, September 11, and Robert Rosser, 15, and Charles Handy, 16, who admitted shooting Mrs. Anna May Ricketts of Long Beach at Anaheim Landing, November 1, with robbery as a motive.

What was considered the biggest case of the year was the trial of Mrs. Mary M. Campbell for the shooting of her husband, Jess V. Campbell. A verdict of manslaughter was returned by the jury, which was in the nature of a compromise verdict, it was stated.

Convictions on charges of passing bank checks with intent to defraud numbered sixteen. Fifteen convictions on charges of driving an automobile while intoxicated were secured. Other charges on which convictions were secured included three on statutory offenses, twelve on burglary, two on assault with a deadly weapon and one assault with intent to commit robbery.

Besides these convictions in cases tried there were but three acquittals. Irvin Sleroke was acquitted on a manslaughter charge in which he was alleged to have caused the death of a Japanese woman by the manner in which he handled his car at a crossing.

Mike Callahan was acquitted on a charge of passing a bank check with intent to defraud and William Reich was acquitted on a statutory charge.

Of the charges filed there were very few dismissals, most cases coming up for regular trial or ending in a confession by the defendant.

District Attorney A. P. Nelson and his deputies consider this a highly successful year and are well pleased with the outcome of their efforts.

So the People May Know

The flood menace frowns upon Anaheim and northern Orange County. Immediate constructive protective measures must be carried to completion. There must be no shifting of responsibility—passing the buck—there must be well organized, co-operative community action. Words, opinions, protracted discussion of future plans are worse than useless now. There must be constructive action at once to build temporary protection—protection to prevent the possibilities of serious disaster in the event of the recurrence of heavy rains and we may just as well expect them to come particularly in the next six weeks.

The only excuse for TEMPORARY MEASURES is the seriousness of the threat. There is no excuse to be offered why this threat had not been removed before. Much dependence was placed on WHAT PRIVATE INDIVIDUALS WERE GOING TO DO—WHEN THEY GOT TO IT! What unmitigated folly!

This is not a situation to be left to a few private individuals who were taking their time—scheming to make the most money out of their private enterprise!

This is a public matter! It belongs to the department of public welfare! The lives and property of a whole community must not be placed in jeopardy! The community itself must wake up—must be conscious of its full responsibility in this matter and assume that responsibility! There must be action and that action must be immediately!

The Chamber of Commerce and the city of Anaheim as well as the citizens whose property lays under the shadow of the flood menace are doing all they can and every assistance MUST BE GIVEN TO ESTABLISH THESE TEMPORARY PROTECTIVE MEASURES.

Moreover, there must be commenced at once an earnest, honest, unselfish campaign to provide PERMANENT FLOOD PROTECTION. There is no excuse for delay. Delay is positively criminal.

The future of Anaheim and the outlying districts depend upon the impounding of these flood waters,now holding a serious threat to the whole Anaheim district, and which are finally wasted in the sea.

This water is imperatively needed for irrigation purposes: impounding it in reservoirs is the logical and most profitable thing to do. There is no alternative bearing the features of common sense and wisdom. THE WORK MUST BE DONE!

Finally, not only will the building of a dam to impound the flood waters now wasted be profitable for irrigation purposes, but the dam itself, built properly, will be broad enough at the top to enable its use as a traffic way and thus built it will constitute one of the most beautiful and inspiring scenic highways in the state of California.

NEWS FROM THE OIL FIELDS

Amalgamated Brings In Good Well at Huntington Beach

The Amalgamated Oil Company's Huntington No. 6 completed at 3670 is one of the field's best wells for the week. The Amalgamated Oil Company spent an extra ten thousand dollars this week on this well and brought it in absolutely clean. The oil is running 26 gravity, and the production is between 350 and 400 barrels. The 6 inch was landed in Huntington No. 6 at 3659. Huntington No. 7 is rigged up and ready to spud in. Denison No. 1, is at 1590 in sandy shale. Pierce No. 1 spudded in and made 600 feet. Fowler No. 2 continues to be the A. Co.'s big well, producing 600 daily.

At Johnson No. 1 the Argonaut Oil Company set 2580 feet of 10 and cemented. The bottom of the hole is 2587. Turley No. 2 set 8 inch at 3253 and is ready to drill out and go ahead.

The Bell of Montebello is drilling out the cement again and getting ready to make a water test at 2360. The bottom of the hole is given at 2500 feet.

Ready for Production

Weather conditions did not permit the bringing in of Edens Syndicate No. 1 last week. The water is shut off and all that remains to be done is the installation of the necessary connections and swab the well in. A 300 barrel well is the prediction of this one.

The Eddystone Oil Company failed to get a shut off on the deep test well Huff No. 1 at 4361 and recemented. Ashton No. 1 fell off on production and is now deepening at 3700 feet. Ashton No. 3 is waiting on a water test at 3746. Davenport No. 2 is drilling into the oil sand at 2655. Davenport No. 3 spudded in and made 800 feet.

At 4200 the General Petroleum Community No. 1 is drilling in a hard shell. With the exceptions of a few soft spots the shell formation has been running now for over 100 feet.

The Gypsy Syndicate's No. 3 secured an O. K. on the water job at 22332 and is now drilling on into the oil sand. No. 2 continues to make its 200 barrels and No. 1 holds steadily at 220.

Huntington Central Starts

Work has been resumed on Huntington Central No. 2. The cement was drilled out at 3651 and it appears as though the water is shut off. Huntington Central No. 1 produced a little better than 5000 barrels of oil for its stockholders last month.

Huntington Owners No. 1 cleared out and is in good production again and is making about 145 barrels.

Drilling on the Huntington Union No. 1 is at 4075 feet and the formation is carrying just enough gas and oil colors to make the drilling interesting.

Machris Brothers No. 2 is at 3200 feet drilling in sandy shale. The record made on No. 1 was good considering the difficulties encountered. No. 2, however, is drilling in exceedingly fast time.

Miller Syndicate Recements

The Miller Syndicate failed to get a complete shut off last week on the wtaer at 3736 and recemented. This well is showing up good and is expected to create a real sensation when it goes on production.

The Royal Oil Company (E. J. Miley) got a 500 barrel well at No. 2. Drilled to 2752 feet and the ten inch set at 2569 No. 2 bids fair to become a long life producer. No. 1, the discovery well of the east side of the field, came back at 600 barrels. No. 3 is now drilling a well and shows 1100 feet of hole.

Preparations are being made to abandon Miley-Keck No. 6. Drilled to 2600 complicated pipe trouble developed, making it advantageous to abandon the well and start a new one. No. 1 is rigging up to go back in with the rotary at 2590. No. 7 cemented at 3600 secured a water shut off and is drilling at 3668. No. 8 set the 8 inch at 3108.

O'Donnell No. 1 came in prematurely at 3740 last week, was mudded off to allow a producing string to be put in. On account of the weather and road conditions no work has been done on the well this week. Indications all point to a good well here.

Pacific Will Skid Rig

The Pacific Oil and Gas Company by loosing a joint of 8 inch in the hole at 2685 has been compelled to abandon the well. Preparations are being made to skid the rig and start a new hole.

The Petroleum Midway was the heaviest locator of new wells at Huntington Beach last week. The Petroleum Midway located three new wells as follows: Snyder No. 1, Clark No. 1 and Pearce No. 1. Columbia 1-1 sshot off the pipe at 3145 and is trying for circulation. Columbia 3-2 shows 1500 feet in hard sand. Elliot No. 1 is washing out at 2936 and is about ready to set the oil string. Vollmer-Meyer No. 1 at 3450 is pulling the 8 inch. No. 2 is fishing at 2936, and No. 3 is building rig. Smythe No. 2 at 3200 is in sandy shale.

The Republic Petroleum continues its efforts to shut the water off at No. 2 and get a producing well. The well has shown considerable oil and all that seems to stand in the way of a good well is the water. No. 3 completed rigging up and made 900 feet of hole.

The Rhoades Oil Company has a nice production now from two wells, and will have a third on production in a few days. No. 1 reset the 10 inch at 2263 and is ready to test out again. No. 2 produces 200 barrels with ease and No. 3 (Eden) is making 145 barrels on the air lift. No. 4, formerly the Success Oil Company's No. 1 will be started drilling soon.

Sandburg Changes Name

There is no more Sandberg Petroleum Company at Long Beach. "Tux" Edens and a Pasadena man by the name of Tracy have taken over the Sandberg holdings and the new company is to be known as the E. and T. Oil Company. Do not confuse this with the A. & T. Oil Company, now about to be taken over by the Globe Petroleum Company.

The Rio Bravo Oil Company spudded in and made some hole at Rio Bravo No. 1, formerly the Guarantee No. 1. No. 2 at 2360 continues on production of 125 barrels a day. No. 3 (Success) set the 10 inch at 2285 and started to drill out and test for water. Huntington Beach operations of the Rio Bravo is under the efficient management of Rob McKeon.

E-3, formerly Bolsa Chica No. 1, is now on production—a 100 barrel well. Completed at 2695 the well started off at 200 but quickly declined to 100 barrels. Efforts are being made to loosen the 8 inch at A-5 and wash out the well. A-5 made a water test and is reaming down to resume with the pipe at 2790. A-9 failed to shut off water at 2535 and was recemented. A-13 is drilling by lost drill pipe at 3090. A-14 got out of pipe trouble at 3023 and is now drilling at 3100. No. 16 put in 6 inch drill pipe and is going ahead at 2200. A-17 is drilling in sandy shale at 2500. B-2, the record high gravity well of the field, is producing 525 barrels of 28.2 oil. B-5 stands cemented at 2195. B-6 at 2356. B-7 at 2500 is fishing. B-8 is building rig. B-9 is up and the lumber is on the ground for B-10. D-1 at 2864 stands cemented. D-3 shows 3100, drilling. E-1 is drilling at 3125, and E-4 is testing for water at 2286. E-5 is a rig. Bolsa No. 2 stands cemented at 2571. Bolsa No. 4, a late producer, is doing 650 barrels. Bolsa No. 5 is drilling at 2450, and No. 6 is a rig. Farnsworth No. 1 is down 2450. Pacific No. 1 is drilling at 2350, and Jones No. 1 is drilling at 2900. Jones No. 3 at 1900 is in shale. Drilling on Buff No. 2 is now at 2400. Thompson No. 1, deepening, shows 2300 feet in brown sandy shale.

The State Consolidated will be making new hole before the end of the week. Redrilling is now at 3265, the bottom of the hole being at 3306. Indications are good now for a nice producer.

Courtney Gets Nice Well

L. W. Courtney, field manager for the Sun Oil Company of California, presented his company with a 480 barrel Christmas present. The new well, Sun No. 3, was redrilled and deepened to 2863 feet. The production is running 21 gravity and is the biggest well the Sun Oil Company has yet brought in at Huntington Beach. Courtney was given a free hand and certainly showed the management what he could do. Sun No. 4 also continues to make a nice production of 175 barrels daily.

The recent cementing job done by the United Security Syndicate at 3325 failed to hold, and the well is being recemented.

With the deepening of Copeland No. 5 the Union has five wells drilling at Huntington. Copeland No. 1 at 3145 is in hard shale. Copeland No. 2 at 3250 is in hard shale. Copeland No. 3 at 3000 shows brown shale and sand. Hill Community at 2000 is bailing for a test on the 12 1-2. Brooks No. 1 shows 2100 and shale and boulders. Copeland Nos. 3 and 5 aggregate 600 barrels.

EDENS WILL DEVELOP LONG BEACH WELLS FOR COMPANY

R. W. Edens, pioneer developer of the Huntington Beach field, has taken a contract to drill the wells for the Cal-Mex Petroleum and Refining Company. The first well will be drilled on the north side of the field on the 9-acre lease located between California and Anderson streets. Actual work is scheduled to start as soon as the weather and road conditions will allow it.

Due to some confusion with the Cal-Mex Oil and Refining Company the California-Mexican Petroleum Syndicate will change its name and will be known henceforth as the Henderson Oil Syndicate. H. C. Henderson, president of the company, is to be honored by having the Syndicate named after him, Henderson No. 2, over on the north side of the field, spudded in and is now drilling. No. 1 continues to produce 450 a day.

Crest Has Pipe Trouble

The Crest Oil Company's No. 1 is in a rather serious condition. Two strings of pipe have partially telescoped, and the well will no be in production condition for some little time. It will be necessary to pull the 8 inch and do a lot of sweating and cleaning out. Crest Consolidated shows 2100 feet in sandy shale.

The J. J. Doyle well, opposite the Oceanic's No. 1, will henceforth be known as the Doyle-Clune. Jack McKeon has spudded in and drilling is under way.

At 2400 feet the General Petroleum is running the core drill and getting some excellent oil showing sand samples. Drilling will proably be discontinued soon and the water string set. Bixby No. 1 set the 8 inch at 3275, where some minor showings were noticed.

Jergins at 3225 Feet

Drilling in the oil sand and looking exceedingly good at 3225 Jergins No. 1 looks like the next producer on Signal Hill. Jergins No. 1 was formerly known as the National Crude. Jergins is an associate of W. R. Ramsey and intends to figure in California development.

The Oceanic is drilling out the cement today at 3316 and will be ready for the Mining Bureau's O. K. tomorrow. Indications look good for a shutoff.

The Petroleum Midway's Ellis No. 1 at 2800 feet is drilling in a sandy shale that is carrying oil in quantity. The well at this point looks exceptionally good. MacDavid No. 1 shows 1000 feet in the conglomerate. Griswold No. 1 is rigging up and Rosenfield No. 1 is a rig.

Standard Oil Recovers

The Standard will not have to move the rig at Alamitos No. 1 and start another well. The bad fishing job at 2800 feet has been overcome and drilling is now going ahead at 2975. Bixby No. 2 is rigged up and ready to start drilling. Lomita No. 1 shows 1800 feet, L. B. T. & S. No. 1 is still at 2600, and Sylvester No. 1 has been cemented at 2500. Fishing for 4 inch still continues on the Torrance well at 4485.

The Shell Company cleaned out Alamitos No. 1, the discovery well, at 2865 feet, put the rods and tubing back, and the production went from 200 to 600 barrels. Alamitos No. 2 at 2385 is taking core barrel samples and checking up on the formation. Alamitos No. 3 shows 2307 feet of hole. Alamitos No. 4 is 2400 in sandy shale. Babb-Tucker and Goddard stand cemented. Cherry Hill No. 1 is rigging up. Horsch No. 1 deepening is at 2785 and is sand. Hutton No. 1 shows 1800 in brown shale. Jones No. 1 is rigging up. Operations at Maryin No. 1 have been suspended temporarily. Nesa No. 1 at 2775 is drilling on iron. Pickler is cleaning out at 2465. Stakemiller at 3035 is showing quite a lot of gas and may be the next well to blow out. Wilbur No. 1 is making about 8 million feet of gas. About 40 barrels of 22 gravity oil is being separated by the gas trap at the Wilbur, Patton-Wilson No. 1 is at 2700 in the hard sand.

Sandberg Petroleum at 3100

Drilling in the oil sand at 3100 the Sandberg Petroleum Company's No. 1 looks like a nice well. Co-operative No. 1 continues to produce at about 100 barrels. It is the intention to deepen this well soon.

For the fourth time the Signal Hill Syndicate has cemented for a water shutoff and this time it looks like something has been accomplished. The re-cementing was done at 3246, the bottom of the hole is 3384.

Jack McKeon has started rigging up on the Themescal's No. 1, and will be drilling before the end of the week. Themescal No. 1 is located near the Petroleum Midway's Ellis and looks like a sure winner.

United Has Good Outlook

The United Oil Company has things going nicely on top of the hill, Denni No. 1 at 3735 is in the oil sand and looks like a "million." Denni No. 2 had no difficulty in getting a shutoff at 2914 and is ready to drill into oil sand. Jones No. 1 set 465 feet of 15 1-2.

Union Getting Ready

The Union Oil Company has Hart No. 1 rigged up and will probably start drilling before the end of the week.

The San Martenas Oil Company's Booth No. 1 made a wonderful showing last week by coming back on production at 2000 barrels. The well was allowed to produce one day only, when the water broke in on it and shut off the oil flow. Cleaning out for re-cementing is now under way. Freeman No. 2 pumps about 130 barrels of fluid. Of this amount half is water. More work is contemplated on this well soon.

At 3100 the Walker Western Oil Company's No. 1 is not showing any oil indications. Drilling is now under way with cable tools.

Seal Beach Building Halted by Heavy Rain

The Seal Beach Oil Company started to build a rig for its No. 1 late last week. Rain stoped the construction work.

B. and M. Will Start Drilling Belmont Well

The B. & M. Oil Company started the actual rigging up and the setting of boilers early last week, and things are rounding up for an early date to start drilling.

If it were literally true that whisky fills our jails, lots of men would break into them.

Fashions for Americans

THE Spanish shawl has been one of the popular evening wraps of the present season, usually showing a border of embroidery all around the edge, heading the fringe. Sometimes, in fact, the shawls have been embroidered over practically the entire surface.

The sketch shown features an evening wrap of the shawl type, but ornamented rather unusually with a gorgeous appliqued and embroidered butterfly. This shawl is a handsome black crepe affair with deep silk fringe, and the butterfly is of cloth of gold embroidered in bronze, green and other shades with metal thread and beads.

The ingenious woman may use each season's style offerings merely as suggestions for her own guidance, and develop all sorts of original and lovely things for herself at a fraction of the cost if they are purchased ready to wear. And one interesting feature to making one's own clothes or having them made at home is that it is so easily possible to combine parts of different frocks advantageously.

A Georgeous Butterfly Trims This Shawl Evening Wrap.

One clever girl has a rose-colored velvet frock, sleeveless and low in the neck, which she wears over a black chiffon one featuring elbow sleeves and a little yoke for afternoon, and over a cloth of silver slip with a silver girdle for evening. Even the plain satin slip that serves as the foundation for a lace or spangled robe may do double duty.

The evening wrap illustrated might be made at home at comparatively trifling expense, and if bought in the shop its price would be rather staggering to the average would-be purchaser.

A lovely evening wrap recently seen, featured as an early spring fancy, was of old rose taffeta embroidered all over in self color silk floss in a sort of scroll design. It was lined with self-colored chiffon finished with ruche edges and trimmed all around with self-fringed ruffles of the rose taffeta. The wrap had a deep yoke, and the fabric opened panel fashion over each arm. That is, the back was a panel panel, the ruffles extending about every edge. It was most effective and charming, and each front also a separate strip or

The Sketch Offers a Suggestion for an Evening or Dinner Gown.

MRS. Average Woman has completed her street wardrobe for the winter season by now, except for a few little odds and ends that may be added when January bargain sales take the limelight, but evening clothes are being bought, made, or altered right along, and the accompanying sketch may come as a suggestion to some one who has an evening or dinner gown to plan.

Scarlet and black constitute one of the last minute color combinations, according to Paris style bulletins, and the combinations of black and white also continues to be very much approved. Either of these color blendings might be featured in the dress sketched, which may be of black velvet, crepe meteor, or other popular material. The very narrowest of braids outlines neck and armholes, and sections of passementerie are set girdle fashion across the hips, fringe ends falling below the hem of the skirt. These ornamental affairs might be made in any one of a number of ways. Beads in white or color might be used to embroider the girdle sections with strands of beads making the fringe, or the whole thing might be formed of narrow silk or metal braid matching that used to trim the waist.

The advance guard of Paris fashions for spring has arrived in this country, and it is interesting to note that the straight silhouette is being continued, with a decided tendency to feature a tight hip line, even though it is slightly draped. The draping is close reefed, and as a matter of fact, slimness of hip is emphasized on many of the smart tailored frocks by a draping at the waist line, both back and front, which by making the waist seem a trifle larger than normal makes the hips seem a trifle slimmer than they really are.

WORKERS STOP ANAHEIM FLOOD WATERS TODAY

sirous of securing the views representing the sentiment of the majority, toward this question.

Railroad Employes Help

The Santa Fe Railroad Company came to the rescue of the Anaheim district early this morning with a special construction train and 110 workmen, all equipped with lunch and shovels. To meet them, the secretary of the local chamber of commerce and Mr. Clausen brought down from Los Angeles Road Inspector Purdy, who arrived at the Santa Fe depot at 7:30 o'clock and immediately took charge.

A. Bayliss, in charge of the local arrangements, and Mayor William Stark had a sufficient number of sacks at a point on the river near the break which has been sending flood waters into Anaheim, to give the men a good start, also cable, rope, and other necessary tackle. These were left on the ground, in charge of a watchman last night. The roads leading into the point of attack have been marked, so that all persons with sacks and other voluntary supplies can find the place.

Sandbags Form Bank

Mr. Purdy, after consulting with the local men, stated that he thought a temporary stoppage of the flood could be secured by throwing across the channel thousands of sandbags and reinforcing this work at a point several hundred yards north with three strands of steel cable, interwined with trees, so that the channel can be diverted. Both jobs will go along at the same time and Mr. Purdy estimates that eighteen working hours will finish it, making the banks of the river safe throughout the present winter season.

The following have furnished sacks free:

P. C. Curtis, Charles Eygabroad, J. H. Brunsworth, J. S. Swingle, Bert Kuebler, Doc Stall, Mr. Weatherly, Boston Bakery, Edgar J. Hartung and Messrs. Hartman, Cordes and Swingle.

Thanks of the chamber are also due LeRoy Berger and Turton & Lumsdon, Maxwell garage, for the generous loan of automobiles during this crisis. William Schumacher, supervisor of this district, secured county trucks for the transport of the men and others who have served in a like manner are the Anaheim Orange and Lemon Association, Anaheim Citrus Fruit Association, Anaheim Sugar Factory, A. Bayliss, and the city of Anaheim are furnishing teams but several more are required as the ground is so soft leading to the place where the work is being done that auto trucks are useless.

College Girls Would Wed and Have Children---Doctor

Dr. Elizabeth B. Thelberg of Vassar college says the college girl of today is a marrying girl. Dr. Thelberg, who is a resident physician at Vassar as holder of a double chair as professor of physiology and hygiene, has supervised the health and education of thousands of girls during the last thirty-five years.

Many letters from the alumnae come to Dr. Thelberg, asking a decision on married life, or, in the case of more recent graduates, on prospective married life.

"There are few things more fallacious," Dr. Thelberg declared "that present statistics published about college women and the children they bear. One reason is that such statistics are confused by counting recent graduating classes by those of years ago. The college women of earlier days were older when they began their studies and were usually set apart as a class of women who did not intend to marry but were preparing for specific careers.

"The college girl of today is a marrying girl. She marries as naturally and in just as large numbers as other girls in her class and station. She has as many children as her non-college friends and is much more likely to bring those she bears to maturity by reason of her college training. Our lowered birth rate today is a general economic condition not in any way due to college women."

500 New Books Received at County Free Library

More than 500 new books have been added to the county free library during the last week. This will be good news to the hosts of readers who now have access to a public library through the twenty-three distributing centers throughout the county.

Miss M. E. Livingston, librarian, and her assistant, Miss Arline Davis, are hard at work preparing the books for distribution and it is expected that they will be available for use after the first of the year.

700 Juvenile Books

Many of the books now being prepared for distribution have been secured at the request of readers. There are 100 juvenile books in the new ones received and of this number, 40 are from the list of best juvenile works of 1920.

This list is compiled by librarians each year and represents the best and most popular juvenile books. There are a large number of children among the borrowers of books from the county library and this increase in exclusively juvenile books of the highest type will be readily welcomed.

Fiction Has Big Demand

Another feature of interest to the reading public is the fact that 400 of the new books are fiction of the type for which there is the greatest call in public libraries. These books are of the sort that is always in demand.

Many of these books have been ordered on requests from borrowers. In order that the wishes of readers may become generally known and competently handled by Miss Livingston, blanks headed, "The Book I Want to Read" are available at all distributing centers. The name of the book, author and subject, the name of the person making the request and the date made as well as the branch of the library from which the card was written are contained on the blank.

Requests Filled Immediately

Whenever possible the books suggested on these blanks are secured by the librarian. This is not possible in every case, however, and depends to a great extent on the nature of the book.

In many cases requests for new fiction books and other popular stories not now on the list have been anticipated and the books are ready for distribution among borrowers shortly after the requests come in. This is expected to be the case with a large number of the books on the list of 400 which are to be available for borrowers after the first of next week.

Many and varied are the requests that have been received, covering a wide field of fiction and non-fiction books of al types. Everything from scientific works to popular fiction works of a former day are included in the books that readers throughout the county are seeking to secure through the county free library.

Contrasts in Requests

A brief list showing contrasts in request received includes "Anna Karenina," by Lyof N. Tolstoi; "Anne of Green Gables," by L. M. Montgomery; "To Let," by John Galsworthy; "Conrad in Quest of Youth," by Leonard Merrick; "Lorna Doone," by R. D. Blackmore; "Where the Strange Trails Go Down," by E. Alexander Powell; "The Hoosier Schoolmaster," by Edward Eggleston; "The Measurement of Intelligence Covering the Binet Simmons Methods of Judging the Human Intelligence," by Professor L. M. Terman.

The books mentioned are taken at random from a long list and show the variety of reading desired by those in the country districts who are served by the county free library. Many of these would be denied the privileges of these books were it not for the efficient work of this organization which, according to Miss Livingston, is offering to people of the country districts library privileges which they have not previously been afforded.

An old rustic toddling along a country lane came upon a friend digging. "Well, George," he essayed at last, "be you digging a hole out?"

George looked up.

"No," he answered, "I be just digging the dirt out and leaving the hole."

COUNTY FARM WORKERS NAMED ON STATE COMMITTEES

Members of the agricultural extension service of the state college of agriculture, who are working in Orange County, are to spend the week of January 3 to 9 at Berkeley in a state wide conference of all extension division workers. Farm advisors, assistants and all field extension men will take part in the annual meeting.

The Orange County workers will be present at the meeting. They are Farm Advisor H. E. Wahlberg and his assistant, Floyd Scott. Mr. Wahlberg has been spending the Christmas holidays with his parents in San Francisco and will go from there to Berkeley for the conference next week. Mr. Scott plans to leave at the last of this week for the meeting.

A new plan for the extension division work has been worked out by Director Crocheron. By this plan more detailed work can be taken up by the workers because of the fact that committees will investigate and discuss after which recommendations concerning the best course of action will be made. Better results from the ideas expressed in committees are expected to follow the adoption of this system.

Farm advisors and assistants as well as extension service field men have been divided among the committees for which they are best suited. Wahlberg has been placed on the committee on deciduous fruits and wines. Scott is to be a member of the dairy and swine committee. Both men are considered especially well fitted to serve on these committees.

The following are the committees to which the various workers will be assigned according to their qualifications in that particular subject: Soil improvement, field crops, deciduous fruits and vines, citrus and semi-tropical fruits, dairy and swine, beef cattle, sheep, poultry and bees and the committee on home economics.

HARD CASH

Old Abner McSwat says that money ain't what
Some people may think—but it helps quite a lot.

He says he is quite sure he could learn to endure
Bein' rich even though he has learned to be poor.

He says good friends are best when it comes to the test,
But a little hard cash ain't so awful a pest.

Old Abner McSwat says good cheer helps a lot,
But a nice bank account ain't disgraceful, it's not.

He says money don't touch all your troubles, not much,
But it's good for a cane if it ain't for a crutch.

And he don't believe in greed for a lot, no indeed,
But a little is handy to use when you need.

Old Abner McSwat, he says money may not
Talk as loud as they say, but it whispers a lot.

And he says he'll agree some rich folks you may see
Are unhappy as sin, but they don't have to be.

He says some thrifty folk may not find life a joke
But to find joy in life you don't have to be broke.

Old Abner McSwat says if money may not
Cure all ills flesh is heir to, it helps quite a lot!

California THEATRE ANAHEIM

BIG THEATRICAL BILL COMING TO ANAHEIM FRIDAY NIGHT

Anaheim is to be favored with one of the greatest theatrical programs ever presented in this city, according to Managers Ingram and Swope, who handle the reins at the California Theater. In a statement today, they emphasized the fact that the show coming to that theater tomorrow is what might be termed a regular "whiz."

Two distinct features, either of which would head any program of features in a great metropolitan house will be the outstanding features. One, of these, Buster Keaton in "The Boat," is positively one of the funniest pictures ever seen here.

The comedy is a scream from the start to finish, and the audience is kept in a continual uproar throughout. Buster Keaton, if he never does another thing, can readily claim lasting fame with this screen classic.

That great feature "Serenade" will also be featured. The theme of this story is powerful, and the cast is exceptional. From the time the curtain goes up on this picture until the final fade-out, the spectators are entranced by the drama supreme.

With the several other added attractions which Managers Ingram and Swope have arranged on this bill, the patrons will be offered something worth while.

Khabarovsk Taken By 'White' Russian Army

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Military forces of the "White" Russian government of Vladivostok have taken Khabarovsk, according to dispatches received at the state department today. The so-called "White" soldiers, who are at grips with the forces of the Chita government, were estimated to number not more than 3000, and military experts profess the belief that they will be unable to maintain an extended line of communication such as the capture of Khabarovsk would necessitate.

MENACE OF BIG MONEY IN ATHLETICS WILL BE DISCUSSED

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Menace of "big money" in intercollegiate sports will be pointed out today at the annual meeting of the National Collegiate Athletic association.

Some of the athletic heads gathered here for the session, including Dr. C. L. Meylan of Columbia and Dr. Edgar Fauver of Wesleyan have gone so far as to predict a scrapping of inter-collegiate competition if the commercial evil is not overcome. They point out that the lure of the immense gate receipts and the necessity for funds to keep up an elaborate athletic system will result in attempts to get winning teams at any price and by any method.

Practically all the delegates, including representatives of nearly every big university in the country, agree that something should be done to curb proselyting but they do not regard the menace as being acute.

It was pointed out that the evil hardly could be legislated away but that they can be corrected by strict individual policies at each university against anything that does not measure up to high class ethics of sport.

H. Stubbs, Tacoma hotel proprietor, on a warrant charging white slavery. The woman, only recently returned from Knoxville, found her husband's love had changed. She was beaten by her husband and the "other woman," when they tried to force her to enter a life of shame, she told the officers, according to Starwich. The warrant charging white slavery was sworn to before the Tacoma prosecutor.

Goes to See Officer Is Nabbed as Robber

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—It was a trivial matter that Warren Galbraith, 46, wanted to see Detective Sergeant Wallis about yesterday, so he went to the detective headquarters and inquired for the officer.

"Why, you're the man we want for some Hollywood burglaries!" exclaimed Detective Sergeants Wood and Murphy in unison.

They forthwith locked up Galbraith on suspicion of burglary after making sure, they said, that he answered fully the description of the suspect who had robbed a number of homes of more than $5000 worth of jewelry, furs and clothing.

Sport Bets Allowed By Alabama Court Ruling

MOBILE, Ala., Dec. 29.—An act of the legislature of Alabama of 1919 prohibiting the making of a wager on a horse race or other form of sport was held unconstitutional here late yesterday in the lower commercial court. Notice of appeal was given by state attorneys. The decision grew out of a test case brought by H. G. Murnan, president of the Mobile Business Men's Racing Association, which believes the court action assures a ten to fifteen days' race meeting here in the spring.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

News of Long Ago

(From Anaheim Gazette)

From Gazette of Dec. 21, 1886.

Count Bozenta and Madame Modjeska were guests of Mrs. Langenberger over Christmas. They took their departure Saturday for the north after an enjoyable visit of several days. The Madame's health has been restored sufficiently to permit of her reappearance upon the stage, and she will begin the winter season in San Francisco the coming month. The opening play has not yet been definitely determined upon, but the count informs us that it will probably be "Magda."

Prof. Crowther, leader of the Fullerton band, was in town Tuesday afternoon and gave out the information that the indications were good for a big crowd at the fifth annual masquerade ball to be given by the band at Chadbourne's hall in Fullerton this evening. The boys deserve and will doubtless have a big crowd to dance the old year out and the new year in with them.

Ray Julian of Long Beach, brother of Will Julian of this city, came over on his wheel on Sunday to spend the day. Ray is an expert bicyclist and makes the run from Long Beach hither, a distance of eighteen miles, in an hour and a half.

Drs. Ball and Dryer of Santa Ana were over on Tuesday morning to consult with Dr. Perdono.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Groat entertained a number of friends informally at a card party at their home on Tuesday evening.

Agent Claybaugh of the Santa Fe informs us that a change in his company's train schedule is looked for to go into effect about Jan. 6. One and possibly two new trains will be put on.

Wesley Aimes and A. Pierroti, two of the substantial citizens of Placentia, were in town yesterday and informed us the masquerade ball to be given by the Fullerton band in Chadbourne's hall this evening will be the event of the season.

Marshal Steadman is lamenting the loss of his fountain pen, which some one feloniously inclined abstracted from his office in the city hall. He is undecided whether to regard the orange growers who recently held a session in the hall as the guilty parties or to look with suspicion upon the city clerk.

One of the most enjoyable of the Christmas entertainments was given by Mr. and Mrs. P. Weisel at their beautiful home on last Friday evening. In one of the parlors a large Christmas tree shone forth in splendor. In the adjoining parlor a small stage was erected which was used by the young ladies to present a number of beautiful tableaux. Refreshments were served in bounteous style. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. P. Weisel and children, Mr. and Mrs. Huch, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Larsen, Mr. and Mrs. W. Mickle, Mrs. Hiltscher and sons and Prof. and Mrs. Reiser.

Deputy Sheriff Jack Landell was over from Santa Ana on Monday afternoon serving subpoenas in a suit concerning a Riverside paper.

Seventy-seven hundredths of an inch of rain fell during Monday's storm, according to Mr. Dickel's gauge, bringing up the total for the season to 5.33 inches. The season opens out very favorably on all sides.

The ball given by the Native Sons and Daughters at the opera house on last Friday evening was a most enjoyable society event. Fifty couples attended, Schoneman & Blanchard furnished the music, and the light fantastic was tripped to the witching hours of the morning.

The exercises of St. Catherine's by the pupils of the academy and orphans on Saturday last were largely attended, and a very interesting program was rendered.

Miss A. Davila, a charming society belle of Yorba, was married in Los Angeles on Sunday to Mr. Velasco, of Tucson, A. A. The groom's father is the editor of the El Frontedizo, of Tucson. The newly wedded couple will reside in that city.

Al Smith was in town yesterday and informed us that a ten-pound baby boy arrived at his home on the 19th. This makes two boys that Al has and their pa thinks they are a first rate pair to draw to.

From Gazette of Dec. 30, 1871

The officers elect of Anaheim lodge, No. 207, F. and A. M., were duly installed with appropriate ceremonies on Wednesday evening last, being the anniversary of the birth of St. John the Evangelist. The evening was appropriately terminated by a supper at the Planters' hotel, to which the members of the lodge were invited by Theo. Reiser, the new W. M.

The house offered to let by Mr. Arnold, is in Fairview, one of the most pleasant locations around Anaheim, and on the new road leading to Wilmington and the Landing.

A New Year's ball for the benefit of Silver school district is to be given at Silver district school house on Monday, January 1. Our citizens will find this a very opportune occasion to pay a friendly visit to our neighbors of Los Nietos. We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation.

Douglas Gunn, Esq., the able editor of the San Diego Union, passed through town on Saturday last on his way home. Mr. G. was an officer of the city gurads of San Francisco when we had the honor of training as a high private, in that company. We have shouldered arms and drank champagne under the same flag and feel for our brother of the Union a strong bond of fraternal fellowship that binds all editors together.

We have had plenty of rain at last and everybody is happy. The rainfall at Anaheim now measures 5 5-8 inches this season. At Mr. Olden's ranch the fall was not so large, the difference being caused, it is supposed, by the trees at Anaheim.

The common council met in regular session at 3 p. m., Dec. 26, with Messrs. Champlin, Boege, Davis, Bittner and President Zeyn present. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved. A communication from the mayor was received returning ordinance No. 20 without his signature. The veto of the mayor was unanimously sustained. On motion of Mr. Champlin, the city attorney was instructed to draw up another ordinance, removing therefrom the objection raised by his honor, the mayor. Mr. Gardner delivered to the common council the law books ordered and on motion they were accepted. The finance committee reported with their approval the following bills, which were ordered paid: Heinmann and George, $60.43; P. Davis & Bros., $2.50; R. Melrose, $100; P. A. Clerk, $3.50; A. Kohler, $3. President Zeyn reported the buckets and hooks and ladders ready to be delivered over to the fire company, and on motion, he was instructed to do so and take his receipt for same. A petition was received from citizens and taxpayers of Anaheim, requesting the common council to order an election for the purpose of ascertaining the will of the people to donate or not to the Anaheim Railway Company bonds to the amount of $15,000, payable in twenty years, bearing 7 per cent interest per annum, and to be issued when the road is completed. After a lengthy discussion, on motion of Mr. Champlin, the city attorney was requested to draw up and present at the next meeting, an act in compliance with said petition, but with some modifications to be submitted to the legislature. On motion, the former petition of the railway company was laid on the table. The council then adjourned to Monday, Jan. 8, 1872. Theodore Rimpau, clerk.

Christmas passed merrily and was most heartily enjoyed by all. All were happy at receiving the rain, and so pleasant a holiday has not been seen for years at Anaheim. Want of space precludes any extended notice of the various festivities.

Mr. Gustave Davis, of the old established house of Philip Davis and Bro., has returned from an extended tour through northern California and Nevada. He reports plenty of snow in that country.

A flowing well of water has just been struck on Mr. McChesney's place in Westminister at a depth of only 75 feet. It was obtained in three days' boring.

One of the happiest results of the rain is that many of our friends, engaged in sheep raising who had been obliged to leave, to seek other pastures for their flocks, are now returning and will abide with us again. We have had the pleasure of a visit from Mr. C. R. Rawson, who has just arrived from San Joaquin county.

"Who's conquered the air?" retorted one of his hearers.

"We have," replied the airman, blandly.

"Oh, have you?" replied the other. "Well, jump out of a window six floors high and see who's boss."

Living vs. Existing

YOU can exist if you have food and water and sleep and clothes to wear, but if you are actually to LIVE you need a HOME—a really comfortable, cheerful home, with an atmosphere that creates a love of the beautiful, the real, the good, with a vision of ideals held firm and realized—of beauty utilized—of comfort, taste and personality expressed! All that means you must have a furnished home of your own. If you have anything else it is just a "boarding house."

MONKEY GLANDS

Naturally there was a purpose behind the advertising given the grafting of monkey or goat glands upon human tissue. The claims made in behalf of the process were manifestly absurd. The monkey is not a hardy creature. It dies under moderate hardship. Yet a gland from a monkey was to cause longevity, the return of youth, and set the old bones of humanity capering with the agility of a skeleton on a string.

Naturally men, even desirous of defying the laws of nature, hesitated to make ridiculous display of themselves. The chaps who, to the accompaniment of banners and brass bands, submitted to the operation, doubtless profitted, but financially rather than physically.

When interest had been aroused, there followed an announcement that the rejuvenating glands could be obtained in the form of pellet or potion. Thus the old man balanced precariously on the edge of life, might take his saving dosage in private, and come prancing back to juvenility, tossing aside his cruth and planning for the future as though there need be no end to the human span.

Well, everybody is aware that one is born every minute.

A GIFT TO THE WORLD

President Harding says that the conference is making the "greatest contribution to peace and good will that has ever marked the Christmas time in all the Christian era."

This sweeping statement may not be too sweeping nor too strong. Peace is the greatest boon the world could ask. With peace prevailing throughout the world, the fear of war removed, there would be the dawn of so brilliant a prosperity that the human mind hardly may conceive of the splendors of that day.

To bring about peace is the one purpose of the conference. This is being done by adjusting disputes, making concessions, arriving at a basis of justice as the rule of national conduct.

The folly of war is plain enough to a world still mourning the brave who died in battle. A great burden of debt rests upon the nations. This debt is the reminder of war, that greatest and most malign of human follies.

There is reason to believe that the conference will create a vast area of peace. Such an area might spread to embrace the people of all races. Even if nothing should be accomplished just at this time, but an amicable understanding among a group of the most powerful nations, that in itself would justify the high praise uttered by the President.

THE REDS LOSE

Two alien reds, notorious agitators, turned aside from their usual activities to commit robbery and murder. This occured in Massachusetts. After necessary preliminaries the pair was sentenced to death, as seemed, and still seems, quite fitting. They sought a new trial. This has been denied. Probably the comonwealth feels that the two have caused more expense already than they are worth.

Meanwhile this simple case centering about a pair of red assassins had become a world affair. Moscow heard of it and demanded their release. There were explosions of bombs in various diplomatic quarters indicating the displeasure of the communists, the bolshevists and the whole mess of "ists" engaged in promoting disturbance.

Somewhat to the surprise of these persons perhaps, the judge, in setting forth reasons why no new trial should be granted, did not mention the fact that such demand had emanated from Moscow, and been re-echoed in a dozen places taking orders from that center of violence and insanity.

The reds lose again. They always will lose in the long run; because law and order still prevail.

Emma Goldman and her Berkman seem to be having a hard time. Just now they are in German territory, under orders to get out as quickly as possible. Even their beloved Russia fails to beckon for them. Emma knows now that the United States is not as bad as painted by her in the dear, dead days for which she had grown pretty homesick.

Vanderbilt and Rockefeller have been ordered off certain railroad boards. Their presence there seems to be in conflict with the law. It may seem a radical view, and yet it is a fact that the law that applies to Smith and Jones is meant also to apply to the gentlemen mentioned.

Men with cheerful dispositions are more inclined to borrow money than trouble.

Between Ourselves

By Della M. Stewart

It's very foolish to be a mudbank. We're made for something far better. Every passing footprint, every chance contact quickly leaves its mark in mud. We all know people who are much the same.

A careless word, a thoughtless opinion, and they are at once impressed. A chance suggestion can change the whole trend of their thought. They seem to have no settled convictions, no concrete beliefs. Thought-life with them is merely—mud—vague of shape and image, ready for instant change.

Of course there's such a thing as being too strong minded, or so cocksure and unyielding to outward influences that we're obstinate. But that's the extreme opposite.

Every one who has worked much with others knows that the despair of the leader is the man or woman who is not to be depended on; the one who starts out with vim and enthusiasm but when opposition is met with just as quickly drops away, or goes over to the other side.

There's another variety of mudbank individual, also. There's the one who can immediately pass from sunshine to cloudiness if adverse criticism comes. Who is so highly supersensitive that the slightest sign of disapproval causes instant hurt. One such persons can keep a whole family in hot water.

The comfortable person to live with or to associate with is the person with a good stiff backbone; the one not oversensitive to praise or blame, the one not too easily influenced by the moods of others.

Are we mudbanks, or firmer of mould?

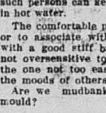
The battalion was in camp. Tents had been pitched and all made shipshape.



The cooks had lit their fires. The sergeant - major made his rounds.

"Tripe and onyuns for supper," he said. "Get the tripe ready."

One of the cooks looked up in surprise. "But where's the troipe, sir?" he asked.

"Hanging up on that tent pole," was the reply.

"Lor'," said the cook, "an' I just been wiping me 'ands on it! Thort it was a dirty towel!"

A number of young women were having lessons in fencing from a professional instructor.

"Now, mademoiselle," said the teacher to one girl to whom he had been trying to impart the first principles of fencing, "how would you use your foil if an opponent feinted?" After due deliberation, the girl replied.

"I think I'd just tickle her with the point of it to see whether she was faking."

Mrs. Beame was admiring Mrs Deare's baby.

"Oh, what a darling!"

"Da-da! Goo-goo! Ho-o! Da!" replied the baby.

"The dear!" exclaimed Mrs. Beame. "He's trying so hard to talk!"

"Yes; he talks that way all day, but he doesn't say anything," ventured, Bobbie, the five-year-old brother of the baby.

"The baby is so much like his father," Mrs. Deare commented apropos of nothing, of course.

A small boy, aged four, had just communicated the fact to his uncle that he had started on his school career. "Indeed," said his uncle, "why, you must be the youngest there." "Oh, no," answered the youngster in a very lofty manner, "there's another gentleman who comes in a perambulator."

Little Stories for Bedtime

MRS. GROUSE GETS INTO TROUBLE

MRS. GROUSE is one of the little people of the Green Forest who always mind their own business. She never interferes with other people, and so she is very much respected and very much liked by her neighbors. But Mrs. Grouse has her troubles. Oh, my, yes. Most of us do. In the summer she has to watch out for her large family, and a large family always means a great deal of worry. In the fall men with dreadful guns are forever hunting for her, and she has to be always on the watch to keep out of their way. In the winter food is sometimes scarce and she has to go hungry. And summer and winter she had always to watch out for Reddy and Granny Fox, Mr. Goshawk, and Hooty the Owl. All of them are very fond of grouse for dinner. The coming of Old Man Coyote to the Green Forest had added to her troubles.

But Mrs. Grouse is very smart, and none of them ever had got more than before he can reach her, and whirr away into the trees.

For two or three days Mrs. Grouse had had hard work to get enough to eat. She had even had to leave the Green Forest, which she very much dislikes to do, and go over to the Old Orchard for some apple buds. She was thinking about this and wondering if she would have to do it the next day. It was getting dark in the Green Forest and she was preparing to go to bed, as usual, under the snow, when she noticed that it looked very much as if there would be more snow. Indeed, a few flakes were drifting down through the trees.

"Well," thought Mrs. Grouse, "I will be all the safer if it does snow. It will fill up the hole I make." With that she plunged headfirst into the snow and soon was comfortable and warm and fast asleep.

The snow sifted down through the trees and filled up the hole she had made, just as she had thought it would. But after a while the snow turned to a fine rain. Then along came rough Brother North Wind and Jack Frost and froze the wet snow into a hard crust. But Mrs. Grouse didn't know anything about this. She was sleeping warm and comfortable down underneath and dreaming of a great feast of the things she likes best. The crust froze harder and harder. Mrs. Grouse was in trouble, very great trouble, but she didn't know anything about it, and she wouldn't until morning.

Next Story—Mrs. Grouse Wakes Up.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

PLAYFELLOW'S RACE.

(The testimony in the case of this full brother of Man o' War was that he was a "cribber" or "windsucker" and that the volume of air he absorbed before a race interfered with his success in his only starts last June.)

"Playfellow is a bet today!"
(The word went round the track.)
"The other hosses running. . . . Say!
They couldn't beat a hack!"
I heard the tip from many lips
And hastened to the race;
And, though I seldom fall for tips,
I played him "straight and place."

II.

I never saw a finer horse
To look at, 'pon my word;
And as he pranced upon the course
Folks murmured: "He's a bird!"
"He'll run so fast," one tout exclaimed,
"He'll hide from all those plugs;
"He's got the whole darn bunch outgamed;
They're just a bunch of mugs."

III.

The barrier went shooting up;
"They're off!" arose the cry;
Playfellow, like a scooting pup,
Flashed by my dazzled eye.
And when he hit the furlong pole
He still was running well . . .
But suddenly (farewell bank roll!)
THAT HORSE BEGAN TO SWELL!

IV.

I noticed he was bulging out
Directly in the middle;
Until his figure looked about
As grotesque as a fiddle.
And when he reached the furlong pole
The fact was most compelling
That though it may seem very droll,
Playfellow still was swelling!

V.

His flanks swelled out on either side;
He swelled from stern to bow, sir,
Until his breadth was twice as wide
As any cornfed sow, sir.
And with each stride he swelled some more
Until his size was double;
I then knew I had fallen for
A thing less horse than bubble!

VI.

Three furlongs! . . . . he was swelling more!
Four furlongs! . . . . Oh, damnation!
Playfellow showed amazing skill
At chronic self-inflation!
He now was like a big balloon
Of most tremendous girth, sir.
And presently that day in June
He rose right off the earth, sir!

VII.

I called myself an awful simp
As skyward he kept floating;
He now looked like an army blimp
And still he kept on boating.
The jockey, startled, set to work
To reach the wire soonest
(For he was never known to shirk
As jockey or balloonist.)

VIII.

But, ah, he made a fatal move
In whipping at this juncture
The whip it cut a vicious groove—
In other words a puncture!
The stretch was his . . . . the racers tore
On t'ward the wire, goaded . . .
BOOM! . . . BLAM! . . . A most unearthly roar—
PLAYFELLOW HAD EXPLODED!

L'ENVOI

The moral of this tale CRUEL—
No race horse wins a treasure
Who "cribs" and disregards the rule:
"INFLATE TO TEN POUNDS PRESSURE!"

PAPER NOW USED FOR MAKING PILING

They are making piles of paper in California. On a long wooden cylinder a long roll of tarred paper with glued edges is wound and covered with cord. Over this another band of paper, much narrower, is wound diagonally like the bandage on a wounded arm. The cylinder is revolved while it is bound with more cord, hot glue being applied continuously. After three layers of paper have been put in place, the wooden cylinder is removed and the paper cylinder is reenforced with a coarse mesh.

A mixture of cement and sand is squirted all over the cylinder with a force of two and one-half kilograms to the square centimeter, and several cylinders are joined end to end with the same cement so as to make a pile sixty feet long and from 18 to 30 inches in diameter. A square steel head is fitted over the top to receive the blocks of the piledriver. Each pile weighs about six tons. Engineers say these paper piles are stronger than those that are solid and they are not attacked by any known insects or marine worms.

Two friends reached the railroad station very late one night or, rather, early one morning—only to find that one of them had missed his last train home.

The other, who lived in Evanston, was more fortunate, and insisted upon taking his companion along with him.

"You mustn't mind a walk, old chap," he said, as they left the station. "My house is a good mile away."

"Lead on!" said his friend, and they footed it together.

It was a pouring wet night, and they did the first three-quarters of the way in silence.

Suddenly the host halted.

"What's up, old chap?" asked his companion in weary surprise.

"Up?" retorted the other. "It's all up! I forgot—I moved to Oak Park yesterday!"
