

COLONY QUIPS

Heard a little repartee between a newly arrived French girl and an aunt of her's who had lived in America for some years. The aunt asked what her first impressions were of America and how things had been in France. The girl replied that first the Germans had 'liberated' them and they had to hell Hitler. Then the Russians had 'liberated' them and they had to hell Stalin. She added her own sentiments were to hell with all of them. Upon what she thought of America: 'It is wonderful. I have put in for my citizenship papers and have my first ones. Next I will get my second papers and then I will be ready for unemployment insurance. It's just a gag.

California's Democrats for Truman are viewing with alarm the Fresno gathering for 'Bob' Kenny's faction of Wallace Democrats who are fighting reaction. That last word should probably be spelled with a capital. To counter this heresy the Truman Democratic Committee has been formed in Los Angeles. Bill Rogers, Jr., last fall's candidate for U. S. Senator who recently broke with State Chairman James Roosevelt over foreign policy, Frederick Dockweiler, L. A. attorney and member of the State Democratic Central Committee and Frank Scriven, L. A. insurance broker and state commander of AMVETS are the three co-chairmen of this new Truman committee.

It looks to us as if the Democratic party in California is getting ready for a good old rough and tumble. That is the way they always seem to like the going. Both factions are urging the ideals of Jefferson and Jackson and a continuation of the policies of Wilson and Roosevelt. Seems to us that there is a program broad enough for almost anyone—even a lot of Republicans. Much too early now to know what will happen next year, but this is sure: if Kenny's group promotes a third party deal with Wallace the candidate then California will go for the Republican candidate the easy way and with no work demanded from the GOP high command.

With an orange market that was going the only way it could go, up, the natural thing for the juice fruit to do was take the same route. So that fruit is now bringing $25 a ton and has forced the canners to withdraw their quotes and refigure. The canners thought that the early $20 figure would hold and naturally they do not like the increase. The fact remains, however, that if the grower does not get more for his juice fruit than it costs to pick and handle it then the best thing for the grower is to plow it back under or dump it in the river. Just because the canning industry as a whole has not done a good enough selling job is no reason for the grower to allow juice that has returned him nothing to appear on the market in competition with his fresh fruit. The canners have done a splendid job in putting a good grade of canned juice on the market. Many people, and a lot who should know, have said that the California juice is much superior to the Florida. If this is only partly true then the selling job has been pitiful.

Bet that Candidate Harry Truman will be a whole lot more sympathetic with tax reduction in 1948 than President Harry Truman was in 1947. Will even make that 2 to 1.

Max Royer paid a call here the other day to give us the information that the MOD is now putting some of their oranges in bags and having very good success. Max is in the Field Service Department of the MOD and his many friends believe he is a credit to that fine old marketing organization. He should know his way around in the orange business having been in it and his father before him, for more years than Max will care to admit.

Police Find 3 Licenses On Teen-Age Driver

Three police officers responded to a report from the Teen Age Canteen Sunday night that a young man was there from Corona offering to fight all comers. To prove the report correct, the youth promptly offered to fight the policemen. At the station where he was taken after being subdued, officers found among his effects three automobile operator's licenses made out in three different names. Investigation disclosed he was 15 years old. The name on one of the driver's licenses was his true name. City Judge John Shea ruled the juvenile court should decide what to do with the boy.

Elks' Prize Songsters To Greet Lewis

A feature added this week to the program for the public reception to be given Tuesday evening at Anaheim City Park to L. A. (Fay) Lewis, newly elected Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks, is a group of songs by the Santa Ana Elks double quartet which won first honors at the recent Elks national convention in Portland, Ore. It was announced by Ross Lee Laird, chairman of the committee in charge of the affair.

Already on the program were brief addresses by Mayor Charles Pearson of Anaheim, Mayor Verne Wilkinson of Fullerton, Judge Franklin G. West, Willard Smith, chairman of the county board of supervisors; Rev. A. J. Casebeer, representing the Anaheim Ministerial association; Michael Shannon of Los Angeles, former Grand Exalted Ruler, and Councilman Oscar Heying, a long-time friend of the new Grand Exalted Ruler.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis will be met at the Orange county line on U. S. Highway 101 by a reception committee and a motorcycle escort. At the park they will be met by an American Legion color guard and escorted to the stage of the Greek theatre to music by the Elks Band.

Howser Asks Rehearing In Tidelands Case

California's fight to retain 3000 square miles of tidelands was continued when Attorney General Fred N. Howser filed a petition for a rehearing which attacks the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court.

Asking either that the court's opinion be reversed or the case set for further argument, the petition declares: "If this decision should stand, no one today could foretell the extent to which future Federal administrations may go in asserting the right to expropriate private property and property rights on the vague concept of 'national power.'"

The petition recites that the tidelands case was submitted to and decided by the Supreme Court without the examination of factual, historic and legal data by a trial court, with the result that at least six established principles of law were overlooked.

- The "overlooked" principles set forth in the petition are: 1. Constitutional grants to the national government do not carry with them a yielding of property rights. 2. Prior rejection by the court of the contention that federal ownership of the beds of tidelands waters was essential to full control over external affairs. 3. The rule that territory can only be annexed or acquired by congressional action. 4. The rule that the original states and not the federal government own the marginal belt along their coasts. 5. The principle that a rule of property law on the faith of which innumerable titles have vested should not be rejected. 6. The decision has deprived California of its sovereignty and relegated it to a position of a private individual.

More Cars Than Ever Before Now In State

Automobile registrations reached an all time high, announced Edgar E. Lampton, when on May 31 of this year 3,458,738 motor vehicles had been registered. With the year still young, there are 8,641 more vehicles registered in California than for any previous year.

Council Denies Two Requests For Variances

The city council continued at its meeting Tuesday night to take a stiffer attitude than the city planning commission to granting variances from zoning restrictions.

The application of Walter R. Ward for a variance for a service station at the corner of Placentia avenue and the Anaheim-Olive road which had been approved by the planning commission was denied by the council. An application of Roy J. Rowe for a variance to enable him to conduct a photo supply business at 702 South Palm, approved by the planning commission, also was denied.

The ordinance making it illegal to consume intoxicants on any public street, sidewalk, alley, park, public or private parking lot or within 200 feet of any dance hall, was passed. Also enacted was an ordinance prohibiting parking between 3 a. m. and 6 a. m. on any public street in the Anaheim business district bounded by Broadway, Helena, Cypress and Olive streets.

In a resolution adopted by the council acknowledgment was made of receipt of a petition for annexation of a tract approximately 25 acres, largely uninhabited, bounded by Lincoln and Manchester boulevards and Laora streets. The petition was signed by 24 property owners.

The Long Beach Veterans Community Band, acknowledged the council's invitation to give a free concert in Anaheim City Park, and announced it would be here after the afternoon of August 10. The band consisting of 38 players, is giving a series of free concerts at various southern California parks.

A communication from D. P. Ahern, of Long Beach, chairman of the Junior Legion baseball tournament, reminded the city council of the fine time everyone had at last year's tournament held in La Palma park and indicated they would be glad to receive an invitation to use the park for this year's event from August 4 to August 22, exclusive of August 12, 13 and 14 when the Anaheim Valencias will be using the park.

The AMVETS who are organizing an Anaheim post advised the council that they need a meeting place and suggested the council chamber as a suitable place temporarily. The matter was referred to the Chamber of Commerce with a suggestion that it assist the veterans in finding a hall in which to meet.

A petition from Anaheim clothes cleaners that the council increase license fees for out of town operators was referred to the city attorney.

Mayor Charles Pearson proclaimed August 1 as Army Air Forces Day. And the council passed a motion congratulating Councilman Oscar Heying on his selection as Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler for California South District B.P.O.E.

NEW TUSTIN EDITORS

The Tustin News announced last week it has new editors and publishers. They are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Young, formerly practicing in Ohio. They also have, according to owner Frank H. Fowler, an option to buy the establishment.

Espee Strike Booms Business Here for U.P.

A strike of its locomotive engineers tied up the Southern Pacific for only six hours and 45 minutes, beginning at 6 p. m. Monday. But the effects of the strike were visible in Anaheim railway yards from early Monday until yesterday.

When it became virtually certain the strike would be called, all Orange county citrus packing plants depending exclusively on the Southern Pacific railway for transportation ordered cars spotted for them in the Anaheim yards of the Union Pacific company. The packed fruit was trucked from the packing plants to the yards here. Besides the Anaheim houses located on the Southern Pacific line, Anaheim facilities have been used extensively by Tustin and Villa Park plants. The result was an increase of an average of 15 cars a day for three days in the Union Pacific company's business out of here.

All of the diverted business went to the Union Pacific because both that railway and the Southern Pacific use Pacific Fruit Express refrigerator cars. Santa Fe business here was unaffected, since it uses its own Refrigerator Dispatch cars.

GOP Women To Meet Tomorrow At Elks Club

Reservations had begun this week to reach Mrs. Eva Boyd, Anaheim, for the luncheon which will be a feature of the convention of the Orange County Council of Republican Women scheduled to be held at the Elks club tomorrow (Friday).

Scheduled are an election of officers to serve for the coming two years and addresses by all members of the Orange county delegation to the state Legislature. ## Second Case Of Typhus Found At Yorba Linda

Upon reporting to a Los Angeles physician for general checkup, Marcus Yorba, of Yorba Linda was discovered to have a touch of typhus fever. It has not been a serious case, according to the case history and was over the peak at the time of reporting.

This is the second case of typhus discovered in Yorba Linda in the past six months, and has the Orange county health department increasing its efforts to catch and check rats in the neighborhood; as typhus is one of the diseases carried by fleas from infected rats.

Dr. Edward Lee Russell, county health officer, says there is no definite indication that the rats which have been responsible for the two cases have been in Yorba Linda. His men have trapped several rats, however, and sent them to the state laboratory for analysis. As this takes about two months no reports have yet been received. The rats must be caught alive in order for an analysis to be made.

Anaheim's picture of the week is on display in the window of the Bettsold studio. It is a group photograph of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Heinz and their 15 children—seven sons and eight daughters. The photograph was taken to celebrate the first reunion of the family since four Heinz sons and three sons-in-law went away to fight World War II.

Youth Killed In 'Hot Rod' Crash Here

The life of a Buena Park youth was snuffed out at an early hour Wednesday when an automobile in which he was a passenger went out of control as it was rounding the La Palma street turn of Los Angeles street, crashed into a building and turned over.

The dead youth was Eugene M. Giltry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto H. Giltry of Buena Park. Driver of the car in which he was riding was Ralph E. King, 22, of Fullerton. He suffered only minor injuries. Police reports described the car as a Ford "hot rod." Police said the pair were traveling northward on 101 Highway from a cafe at 101-Manchester boulevard junction. King told them, they said, that he did not know exactly how fast his car was traveling as it approached the turn, but estimated its speed at 80 miles an hour. Instead of following the pavement around the turn, the car, the report said, struck the pavement, tore a section out of the yet unoccupied Red Rock Cola building and turned upside down. Giltry was dead when the officers arrived at the scene of the crash. King was taken to Anaheim hospital but released shortly afterward.

Besides his parents, young Giltry is survived by two brothers, Kenneth R. and Dale, and a sister, Mrs. Maxine Morgan, all of Buena Park.

Sales Promotion Plan Considered By Retailers

The retail merchants division of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce had under consideration today a plan for stimulating retail business somewhat similar to the device of giving to purchasers of merchandise stamps redeemable in merchandise. Under the plan proposed to the Anaheim merchants, however, the stamps, instead of being redeemable in merchandise, would be good for money in the bank.

The plan was presented at a meeting at the Mother Colony House by Larry Lillie and Wade Crosby of Van Nuys.

The plan provides for the purchase by merchants from a designated bank specially designed stamps with a face value of one cent each, along with a quantity of "pass books." The pass books are given by the merchant to customers and for each dollar spent at the store the customer receives stamps in a number not yet determined. With his pass book filled with stamps the customer may then go to the participating bank and open a savings account in the amount represented by the face value of his stamps.

Lillie and Crosby told the retailers the scheme was inaugurated by them in Van Nuys and had just begun to work beautifully when war interfered.

All Alpha Beta Market Employees At Picnic Today

It won't do any good to go to an Alpha Beta market between 12:30 p. m. today and the usual opening time tomorrow. At 12:30 p. m. today the key turns in the lock to the front door and all hands from all departments of all Alpha Beta markets take off for Irvine Park for the annual Alpha Beta picnic.

Festivities at the park are scheduled to begin at 2:30 p. m. On the program are baseball games, horse shoe pitching contests, boating, bicycling, horseback riding, races and various special sports. The dinner will be served at 6 p. m. by Tony and Duffy of Santa Ana who have been serving Alpha Beta picnic dinners for the past several years. After dinner service pins will be awarded to employees who have been with the company for five, ten, 15, 20 and 25 years. A new feature will be the awarding of prizes to winners of various store contests.

Corona Del Mar Home Invaded By Star Fragment

People who keep track of such things say there is no record of any human ever having been killed or injured by a falling meteor. The same authorities say the closest call anyone has ever had in this country was the family owning a cow shed, one corner of which was struck by a fragment of star stuff.

But if a strange piece of mineral found in a Corona del Mar home turns out to be what it appears now to be, the statistics will have to be revised. Whatever the fragment may be, it sailed into the home of E. A. Streng in the coast town through a second story window on the north side of the house, cut through a thick plywood closet door and apparently spun around inside the closet several times as a number of glasses that were in the closet were broken.

The owners were absent at the time, and though their return they at first thought someone had fired a bullet through the window. But observation disclosed the hole through the window was higher than the hole in the closet door, indicating the missile came from the sky. Later the fragment of mineral was found in the closet. It weighed little more than an ounce and has been sent to the California Institute of Technology for analysis.

Native Sons Prepare For Anniversary

Mother Colony Parlor 281 members of the Native Sons of the Golden West will play a prominent part in the gigantic four-day celebration in Long Beach of California's ninety-seventh Admission Day anniversary, September 6 to 9, Henry Plou, president of the northern Orange county parlor, announced today.

A great four-hour parade on Admission Day will climax the event, which is expected to attract visitors from all parts of the state. Native Son delegates will be present from as far distant as Idaho.

General chairman of the celebration committee is Gary G. Lynes of Long Beach. Vice-chairman is Mrs. Guy Barton. The Blue and White Drum Corps of Santa Francisco will be featured, as will the bands from the host city. Final plans for the Mother Colony representatives' participation in the affair will be formulated during the August 5 meeting, at which time Walter H. Odemar of Los Angeles, grand president of the NSGW, will be the guest of honor in KC hall on East Center street.

He tipped the scales at 6 pounds and eight ounces.

Valencias Continue This Week Modest Joy Ride Begun Last Week

The orange market which took a turn for the better last week continued to climb this week. For the week ending July 19, the average for all sizes and all grades in interstate sales was $2.39, f.o.b. packing house, compared to an average of around $2.23 for the preceding week. As an indication of the rate at which prices were advancing, the average a week ago Monday was $2.24 a box, f.o.b. Last Friday it had risen to $2.63 and Monday's average was $3.03.

Fancy 288s, the predominant size this year, averaged $3.76 delivered on Monday's auctions, compared to $2.85 for the preceding Monday. On Tuesday the average for the same size and quality had risen to $4.05, delivered. The auction market responds more quickly to conditions than private sale prices, but quotations have been advanced to what is described as "a satisfactory level."

C. of C. To Go After More Industries

An intensified drive to bring additional industries to Anaheim will be launched at a meeting of the industrial committee of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce called by Chairman Robert J. Rossberg for Monday noon at La Palma cafe.

A prime objective of the committee is to bring a wider diversity of industries to the community. Meantime the chamber's executive committee was expected to decide this weekend whether to accept the invitation of the Southern California Industrial Exposition to make a display of Anaheim products at the exposition which will be held from August 16 to 26 at Pan Pacific auditorium, Los Angeles.

Anaheim Woman Hurt Friday In Illinois Crash

Mrs. Vera A. Newton, manager of the Rose-Marie apartments, 309 West Center street, was one of 33 persons injured Friday night in a four-way collision in Sycamore, Illinois, involving a bus, an auto transport trailer, a grocery truck and an automobile. She was a passenger on the bus. A telegram was received Saturday by Mrs. Edward Binet, owner of the local apartment, saying she was hospitalized but not seriously injured.

In a following card, which arrived here Monday, she told Mrs. Binet that she sustained a badly bruised nose, two black eyes and a broken pair of glasses in the crash. After further examination by a specialist, Mrs. Newton expected to continue her journey to Buffalo, New York, with her brother, M. R. Hamilton, of that city who came to meet her in Sycamore. She left Anaheim Tuesday of last week, for a month's vacation. Most of the other persons injured in the collision were released from hospitalization, she stated in her message.

Predict Fame For Woman VA Patient-Painter

A 62-year old woman war veteran, handicapped from arthritis to the extent that she can use only two fingers of her left hand this week was "discovered" by several California art authorities who hail her as one of the greatest primitive painters of our time. She is Miss Irene Reid, now a patient at Birmingham Veterans Administration hospital, Van Nuys, where her oil paintings this week are causing a stir in the art world amid predictions and promises that her work will become famous. Miss Reid has been painting for only five years and never took an art lesson in her life. Normally right handed, she learned to paint with her left.

May Gas Tax In Small Gain

California's gasoline taxes, increased during the closing days of the last legislative session, to 4 1/2 cents per gallon, effective July 1, produced net revenues of $6,399,288 in May when the tax rate was still 3 cents on each gallon. This marked a gain of $231,545, or 3.75 per cent over the same month of 1946 when the corresponding tax yield was $6,167,743.

CLEMENT ATTLEE, the head of Britain's Labor government, recently expressed concern over the attitude of some self-described liberals who seem willing to limit and perhaps abrogate individual liberties if that will help them attain their economic and ideological ends. Mr. Attlee intimated that left-wingers of this stripe can be found in the ranks of his Labor Party, and warned that every precaution must be taken to protect basic freedoms in a time of great economic and social change.

The Prime Minister is to be congratulated on this courageous stand. But what he did not say is that the creation of super-government, such as England is on the verge of adopting, which dominates every phase of a nation's life, inevitably paves the way for the destruction of liberty and oppression of the people. The British Labor government is itself a case in point. No one believes that Mr. Attlee or his immediate staff seek to break down the freedoms which Britons earned through bloody centuries. They are sincere believers in the rights of the individual. But the principles upon which the Labor government's main policies are built are a direct threat to those rights and freedoms. The enormous powers which the government has taken for itself, if exerted by officials with a totalitarian mentality, could be used to destroy representative government, freedom of press and speech—all free enterprise and result in the creation of dictatorship.

Men pass, but principles remain. The Russian revolution was fought in the name of liberty, and the works of Lenin, the leader, constantly affirm the need for freedom. But other men came to power, and every concept of freedom was perverted and violated. The rallying cry of Hitler, it should be remembered, was liberty and democracy. Its practical result was the concentration camp.

The only safeguard a free people can have is a government of limited powers, which is never permitted to dominate the economic life of the nation. Once government decides who shall work and who shall not, once it controls all the purse strings, once it becomes a mass employer, the end of individual freedom is in sight. Most of Europe is now a miserable example of that fact.

IN THE LONG RUN, the constant labor problems that have been interrupting production in the coal industry may be solved by coal consumers, industrial and domestic.

It may be possible for the miners' union to jack up coal wages—which represent the bulk of the cost of producing coal—to any level they desire. But it will not be possible for the union or anyone else to force consumers to buy coal at artificially high prices if some other fuel can be substituted at a saving.

Coal must be marketed in growing competition with other fuels, such as oil, gas, and in time, atomic power. These competitive fuels have already made inroads into markets which were once held exclusively by the coal industry. How coal will fare in maintaining its competitive position in the future will depend primarily on its cost to the user.

Before the recent wage negotiations began, the coal miners had the highest earning power of any comparable industry. They have achieved many other costly benefits, such as the welfare fund. Employment—when the industry hasn't been shut down by strikes or extended "holidays"—has held to very high levels. Now the miners have won still another substantial wage advance—which will undoubtedly be reflected in the market price of coal. It remains to be seen whether the union will work to increase the productivity of mine labor, will honestly cooperate with the operators to maintain peace within the industry, and will do what else it can to save coal's markets and so protect the jobs of its members.

CAMPAIGN WARM UP
GOVERNOR DEWEY'S JAUNT to Sapulpa, Oklahoma, for the apparent purpose of visiting his wife's parents is more generally looked upon in political circles as a preliminary in his campaign to win the GOP presidential nomination for a second time.

The fact that the Governor set aside plenty of time to visit with Republican leaders strengthens this view. Dewey is well aware of the reports that a movement is afoot to block his nomination at Philadelphia. Hence, he appears to be visiting the hinterlands with the hope of breaking the blockade before it gains too much strength.

Worker Killed In First Hour On 'Big Inch'

Within an hour after he had gone to work on the "Big Inch" pipeline carrying natural gas from Texas to the southland, John James Hubbert, 20, suffered injuries which cost him his life last Friday.

Hubbert, who had just arrived from his native Mississippi, had gone to work for H. C. Price's construction outfit laying the pipeline.

He and F. W. Quay were working with a tractor near Brea, moving a heavy pipe when a cable attached to the pipeline broke and snapped like a giant whip against Hubbert. Felled to the ground, Hubbert was rushed to Fullerton General hospital in an unconscious condition, and died without regaining consciousness.

Be fair to your customers. Reach them all through advertisements in the Anaheim Gazette.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle T. Jackson and their daughter, Joan, and son, John, of 540 South Clementine street, returned home Sunday night after a three-week vacation in Vancouver and Victoria, British Columbia. They remarked upon the old-world beauty of Victoria. Also enjoyed was a trip to the Grand Cooley Dam in north-east Washington and a visit to Bonneville Dam on the Columbia River, 40 miles from Portland, Oregon. Because of the heat, Sacramento was visited last Friday evening. The four arrived in San Francisco Saturday where they found the temperature less and returned to Anaheim refreshed and enthusiastic. They began their vacation on July 1.

AUGUST 3, 1872
The largest land sale ever effected in this county was made about a month ago, according to the records made at the county clerk's office. The property disposed of embraces the whole of Catalina Island, opposite San Pedro Bay. The consideration for which James Lick, of Santa Clara, has agreed to convey this island, is $1,250,000, the largest sum ever paid for any piece of property with in this county. Gen. John G. Downey, Don Juan Forster and Max Strobel are the purchasers. The island is now used for grazing, affording a fine pasture for thousands of sheep. The prospective value of the land consists of its undeveloped mineral deposits, among which are numerous veins of argentiferous galena of great richness. It also contains some of the most valuable deposits of copper on this coast. All these mineral deposits will sooner or later be worked, enriching the adventurers and benefitting the entire country.

Average weekly earnings in Los Angeles manufacturing industries were up during May, according to the monthly statistical summary just published by the Merchants and Manufacturers Association.

Los Angeles' weekly earnings in manufacturing were 12 percent above the nation's average in the same month.

At the same time, the association's report, based on its L.A. monthly strike figures, noted that 1,063,633 man days were lost in strikes from January to June, 1947. Lost production time for this period comes within 23 percent of the total time lost in 1946 as reported by the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. Employees who left their jobs during the first half of 1947 lost wages amounting to $11,717,000.

The Consumers Price Index in the Los Angeles area was up 17 percent from May, 1946 to May, 1947. During the same period the national index rose 18 percent.

Manufacturing employment for May, although lower than April of this year, showed a substantial gain over May, 1946. Industrial employees numbered 236,000 in May 1947; 227,800 in May, 1946. But, the association added, claims for unemployment insurance in the week ending June 26 reached 141,754—highest weekly average recorded in 1947.

Contribute To Visiting Nurse Association Fund

Giving financial support to the Visiting Nurse Association of Orange County to aid the organization in meeting its budget until January 1, 1948, was the Anaheim Chapter of the American Red Cross. The chapter's board of directors voted $250 per month until January for the VNA. Many other county groups interested in health and welfare have made contributions also.

Director boards of the Northern and Southern county Red Cross chapters voted the same amount. The Orange chapter will contribute $150 per month. The donations were made for the salary and expenses of nurses in the chapters' respective areas.

In line with the policy of the Tuberculosis and Health Association to support other health activities related to the control of the dread disease and the improvement of the general health of the public, a check for $500 from the association was presented by Frank Henderson, executive secretary, to Mrs. M. N. Thompson, VNA treasurer, at the monthly meeting of the VNA held recently in the temporary office in the Southern Orange county Red Cross chapter's headquarters, 1104 West Eighth street, Santa Ana.

To aid the VNA in its expansion program of extended service in the home, on an hourly basis, to help meet the hospital and nurse shortage, the Assistance league, in support of its cancer program contributed $250 a month; Business and Professional Women's club of Santa Ana, $60; the B. and P. W. of Fullerton, $15 toward purchase of bags and supplies for nurses and the California State Nursing Association, District 16, contributed $50 toward general expenses. Individual contributions have been received also.

During the business meeting last week, conducted by Mrs. Logan W. Wheatley, chairman, the fee to the family for service was set at $2.00 for the first hour, and $1.00 for a fraction thereafter, which is in accord with National Visiting Nursing Association rates, and the charge made by other cities. An adjustment of cost can be made, however, for families with low incomes, it was decided.

"The service is available to anyone needing bedside care or medication by a graduate nurse under doctor's direction. Your local Red Cross will give anyone interested additional information or take requests for nursing care," Mrs. Wheatley stated.

Members of the board of directors present included Mrs. Afton Reinert, secretary; Dr. Mildred Wehrly, Dr. F. L. Mayes, George Kellough, Frank Henderson, Emory Morris, Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd A. Burrows, Miss Agnes Bell, Thelma Patton and Mrs. Laura R. Warren.

Krause Grand In Yorba Linda Nuptial Scene

Spacious loveliness of the family ranch home garden, 75 Prospect avenue, Yorba Linda, was the setting for the quiet nuptials of Mrs. Harriet Krause Arellano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Krause, and Robert Stanley Seares, 428 East Green street, Pasadena, son of Mrs. Mary E. Seares of Downers Grove, Illinois, Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the Rev. James Purkess of Norwalk, pastor of the Congregational church of that city, officiating.

Yellow gladioli were arranged with summer flowers in great bouquets against the garden background. The service was read from a manual used by the bride's grandfather, the late Frederick C. Krause of Fullerton, in 1895 when he was serving as pastor of the Congregational ministry there.

The bride chose a turquoise suit for the occasion. Sentimental accents were found in her room's mother, which she wore. She carried a dainty muff of panache and maiden hair fern. Her father gave her in marriage.

The bride's only attendant was her little five-year-old daughter, Bianca, attired in a frock of pink organdy. A flower wreath graced her hair and she carried a colonial bouquet.

Serving as best man was William Harper of Pasadena. Nuptial selections during the ceremony, witnessed only by immediate family relatives and very close friends, were interpreted by Mrs. Florence Newkirk of Fullerton.

Assisting with the reception, immediately following the ceremony, were Mrs. Frederick Krause, II, of Fullerton, and Mrs. Edson Seares of Redondo.

Following a short honeymoon, the couple will reside at 171 East Los Flores, Altadena.

The bride, well known in this vicinity, is a graduate of the University of Arizona where she was a member of the Delta Gamma sorority and took graduate work at the University of Southern California.

Speaker Tells Rotary Club About Australia

A prediction that when California attains a population of 20 million "in the not distant future" Australia will absorb this country's excess population, was made at the Monday luncheon of the Anaheim Rotary club. The prophet was Guy L. McHenry, an American who retired last year after serving many years as vice president of the Australia International Harvester company.

In the island continent which is slightly larger than continental United States there are only eight million inhabitants, the speaker said. The people are remarkably like American Yankees. Yanks and Australians take to each other. Almost anything that will grow in the United States will grow also in Australia, and some things that grow there won't grow here. It produces all the way from a little to a great deal of all the minerals produced in the United States, and there vast sparsely populated areas await development.

VA Hospital Staffs Strive to Keep Patients Busy and Happy

"If we can keep them happy and their minds occupied, we can cure them better and faster."
Examples of the truth of this old saying are found in the three Veterans Administration hospitals in the Los Angeles area: the VA Center, Sawtelle; Birmingham VA Hospital, Van Nuys, and the San Fernando VA Hospital. There was a time, not so long ago, when hospitalization meant long hours of "just waiting to get well." Nothing to do but wait and think—and thinking was not good when a fellow is worried about his physical condition, his job, his family and his future. Once in a while there was an occasional visitor; less frequently a home talent show, and on special days organizations might bring moments of cheer along with old books and older magazines, but for the most part, he just lay there, waiting and thinking.
Things are different today in VA hospitals.
Medical attention comes first and there is a vast improvement there, too; but after admission physical examinations a veteran patient is assigned to a ward and a bed. The bed is equipped with radio headset and he may listen to music or the hair-raising episodes of his favorite radio serial while the nurse takes his temperature.
Within 24 hours after he is assigned a bed a man with a "clip board" or a VA contact representative, brings a complete VA contact service to his bedside. He checks with him regarding entitlement, changes, and eligibility under federal law benefits. More than 2,000 applications for federal benefits are completed each month by contact representatives in the three local VA hospitals in the Los Angeles regional area. There are more chaplains in opposition to any and all attempts which might be made to subject such measure to referendum, or to render it inoperative."

By similar expression, the club indicated its gratification for the enactment by the California Legislature of this highway financing measure which, it declares "contains sound basic provisions for an expanded highway program for the development of state highways, county roads, and city streets, including the construction of metropolitan expressways."

Little Damage Done in County By Quick Decline

On the basis of a survey now nearing completion, D. W. Tubbs, county agricultural commissioner, said this week that "quick decline" appeared to be responsible for the loss of fewer trees in Orange county than either gummosis, scaly bark or gophers.
Enough trees have died apparently of quick decline, in the northeastern part of the county to justify, in the opinion of authorities, a quarantine which prohibits removal of nursery trees from that district.
But positive identification of quick decline as the cause of death of an orange tree—so far none has been found in lemons—is no instantaneous affair. The declining tree has to be found braver in the dead so that live buds may be taken from it. These are sent to the University of California where the buds are propagated. After a year the University may be able to say whether the tree was dying of quick decline.
Final arrangements have been completed for one of the most spectacular "first nights" in the history of the "Pageant of the Masters" when one of California's foremost community sponsored attractions opens its twelfth season this Saturday evening, July 26, in Irvine Bowl.
Lloyd D. Mitchell, general manager, widely known in southern California as former club manager of the Ramona, Pageant, Hemet, the Pilgrimage Play, Hollywood and the Pasadena Music Festival, who recently joined the staff of the Laguna Festival following his release from active service with the Army Air Forces, pointed out that nightly presentations of the "Pageant of the Masters" famous paintings and sculptures portrayed by Laguna citizens, will feature many new masterpieces this year.

ALL-YEAR CLUB FINDS MUCH TO DO AND SEE IN AUGUST

Fishing, boating, swimming, and water skiing contests, topped by Newport-Balboa's "Tournament of Lights," bring a host of interesting things for southern Californians and their tourist visitors to see and do in August, according to the monthly roundup by the All-Year Club.
Events and spectacles range from seashore to mountains. The community travel promotion organization, which is information headquarters for the southland's thousands of tourist visitors, provides data on these and numerous other interesting events at its non-profit Community Visitors' Bureau, 517 W. 6th street, downtown Los Angeles.
Fishermen can test their skill in the Yellowtail Fishing Derby at San Diego all month and compete in the derby finals August 30, if they are among the 300 with the biggest catches. Or they can drop their lines from Manhattan Beach municipal pier during the Manhattan Beach Fishing Derby, Aug. 1 to Sept. 1.
Two swimming contests are scheduled. Nationally known swimmers will race through the waters of mile-high Lake Arrowhead. At La Jolla, they will cut through the swelling surf from Scripps pier to La Jolla cove, Aug. 24.
Youngsters living in the area of Newport-Balboa harbor, many of whom learned to sail a boat before mastering the business of keeping a bicycle upright, stage their annual "Flight of the Snowbirds," August 3.
Newport-Balboa on August 16 holds the brilliant Tournament of Lights, six-mile parade of brightly lighted floats built on barges, yachts, and cruisers.
Outdoor operas, symphonies and theater parties are scheduled in Griffith Park Greek Theater, San Gabriel Mission Bowl, Hollywood Bowl, San Diego's Wegeforth Bowl and the Padua Hills Theater. The Pilgrimage Play continues in Pilgrimage Bowl.

YOUR Sunkist REPORTER
WATCHING THE REEFERS EN ROUTE
The railroads do a remarkable job of caring for produce in transit.
But they hauled 331,000 cars of produce from California and Arizona last year! You can expect them to keep a special eye on your cars in particular.
That's why the Exchange maintains its own inspection service.
Your reporter has told in previous columns how Exchange cars are carefully inspected at destination. This time we're talking about the intermediate step—a careful check of cars en route.
This is done at El Paso—which catches all cars of Exchange fruit on the S.P.—at Belen, New Mexico, which catches all those on the Santa Fe—and, during the northern shipping season at Ogden, Utah, which catches all fruit on the U.P. lines.
Then there are two more inspection points farther out—Kansas City, Missouri; and Blue Island, Illinois—big freight gateways.
By inspecting every "fruit block" or string of refrigerator cars containing Exchange fruit at these five points, the Exchange inspectors are able to keep an eye on cars shipped East out of every Sunkist packing house.
They send in a written report on each car inspected, giving the car number, shipping point, shipper, date and hour of arrival, ice in the bunkers, position of the ventilators and of the ice plugs.
They tell if ice was added and the state of the car when it left, and by what road and at what date and hour. A damage claim based on one of these on-spot reports is never contested!
No fuss is made about this inspection business, but it's a real service. And the point is—no other citrus marketing organization does anything of the kind. It's another of the hundred and one advantages of large scale cooperation which the Exchange alone provides.
Next report two weeks from today.

3 Seal Beach City Officials Are Recalled

Voters at Seal Beach last Thursday recalled Mayor Jaekel and Councilmen James P. Butler and Mrs. Jessie Reed, and voted for a special election to fill the vacancies.

A proposition to permit the appointment of councilmen to any vacancies which might result from the special recall election received only 175 votes.

There were 578 votes cast for the special election, which City Clerk John Mulvaney said could not be called until the canvass of ballots cast at the recall election is completed.

There are a total of 38 absent voter ballots to be counted. Conceivably, the count of the absentees could change some of the semi-official results.

There were 451 votes cast for Mayor Jaekel's recall, and 436 against, so his position might be changed by the absentee-vote count.

Councilman Butler, however, was ousted by vote of 466 to 416, and Mrs. Reed lost her post by vote of 463 to 426.

Councilmen who retained their seats were Frank L. Shufelt and Lew Webster. The vote for Shufelt 463 against recall and 421 for his recall. Vote for Webster was for 473, and 402 for his recall.

Changes Sought In Rules On Lemon Shipments

In typically obscure officialese, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced a hearing to be held in Phoenix and Los Angeles on a proposal by the Arizona Orange-Lemon Growers association for changes in the handling of Arizona and California desert lemons under the provisions of the marketing agreement and order.

In effect the proposal would change the present limitation of shipments of lemons grown in Arizona and the desert areas of California. The present agreement and order imposes like limitations on all lemons grown in all of California and Arizona.

The Phoenix hearing is to be held August 4 and the Los Angeles hearing is set for August 7.

Quarter Races To Be Held At Vessels Ranch

Quarter Horse breeders, of whom there are several in Orange county, will have an opportunity to display the speed of their horses Sunday, August 3, when a program of six races will be held at the Vessels ranch at Los Alamitos. In addition to horses from this area entries are expected from San Francisco, King City and San Diego.

Quarter racing was a pioneer and frontier sport as long ago as Colonial days. Then it went into a long eclipse from which it began to emerge only within the past few years, though Quarter Horse blood lines over a century old are recognized by breeders' associations. Breeders in the county include Frank Vessels, Wagner & Robinson of Placentia and the Irvine ranch company.

While the Quarter Horse won fame as a racer, racing is only an incident in his life. He is bred mainly for work on the range.

There have been weekly quarter races at Corona for some time but the meet at the Vessels ranch will be the first in this county.

Sunkist Oranges Now Also Sold In Mesh Bags

Sunkist oranges also are now being sold in mesh bags. One of southern California's biggest chain markets last weekend featured in its advertising an eight pound bag of oranges for 33 cents.

A. H. Kirchmann, manager of the Northern Orange County Citrus Exchange said no Exchange affiliate is bagging oranges but that the market chain was making the experiment with packaging oranges itself, bagging the fruit in its own establishment.

SANTA ANA ELKS QUARTET NATIONAL WINNER

The Santa Ana Elks Lodge double quartet won first place in the quartet class during country-wide competition at the national convention in Portland, Oregon, Wednesday of last week. Los Angeles Lodge No. 99 won the sweepstakes and Class A awards in glee club competition. The 70-piece band from the same lodge won both of these awards in the band division.

A marriage license was issued to Patricia Naomi Stocking of Anaheim and Theodore E. Switzer of Beverly Hills last Saturday at Santa Ana court house.

Applaud Holloway In Holiday Stage Play in Tustin

Being acclaimed for his versatile interpretation of the lead role in "Three Men On A Horse," fourth play of a nine-week season of "Holiday Stage," professional summer stock company, is Stirling Holloway, popular star of stage and screen. The production began Monday night at 8:30 and will be presented at the same time tonight through Saturday including the 2:30 o'clock Saturday matinee in Tustin high school auditorium on 101 highway.

Gaining particular attention as the start of the hilarious Army show, "Hey Rookie," Holloway has appeared in numerous stage productions and musical comedies. He is well known as a director of various shows and directed several light operas of the Los Angeles Civic Light Opera Association last year.

Avena Marshie, motion picture and musical comedy actress, is playing the feminine lead Miss Marshie who plays the second feminine lead in Bob Hope's newest picture, "Where There's a Will, There's a Way." She was featured in "New Moon" and "East Wind" in last years season in Griffith Park Greek theater.

The dynamic Broadway star, Oliver Cliff, making his third appearance in "Holiday Stage" productions, is prominently cast in "Three Men on a Horse" as are June Shafer, Bill Pullen, Robert Rockwell and Don Quinn.

Play director is Harold Turney assisted by E. Alvin Warren. Fifth presentation of "Holiday Stage" will be the premier showing of "Time 'n' Nod," a new play by Muriel Roi Bolton, beginning Monday and continuing through August 2. James Ellison and Rhonda Fleming, screen personalities, will be co-stars.

Ex-G.I.'s Lift Efficiency At March Air Field

March Field's Army Air Base came up in operational efficiency in June when over 140 southern California ex-G.I.'s enlisted there, according to Glenn O. Barcus, commanding general 12th Air Force.

Pointing out that only former servicemen from the Army, Navy, Marines, or Coast Guard can enlist at March Field, the general said the limitations were necessary because veterans alone have the know-how to keep the field on a "ready to go" basis.

WASHINGTON

As Seen By CONGRESSMAN JOHN PHILLIPS

The Congress is now entering the last two weeks of the session. Few, if any, more bills will come out of the committees. The calendar will grow longer and longer, and the sessions will begin earlier in the mornings and later in the evenings, and the members of Congress will become more and more strained, and will wish increasingly for the end. This time the poorly drawn, and sometimes dangerously drawn bills slip through; this is the time bills die on the vine that should become laws. Fortunately for this session, it is not really the end, only the intermission. All bills and actions rest, when we adjourn, until we meet again in July, for the second session.

With this in mind, perhaps the readers of this letter, and the one next week, will accept some of the odds and ends from the little brown folder on my typewriter table. Here are a few:

The Indiana Assembly, last January, sent the Congress a message, from which I quote . . . Indiana needs no guardian and intends to have none . . . we have decided that there is no such thing as "federal" aid . . . we know that there is no wealth to tax that is not already within the boundaries of the 48 States . . . we have grown up . . . we petition Indiana's congressmen to fetch our county court houses and city halls back from Pennsylvania avenue. We want government to come home . . . we call upon the legislatures of our sister states to join with us.

I use to remark that is heartening. I'm afraid California didn't get the message. With a surplus of over 450 millions, and with the federal government owing $257,257,391,869 (please note that the national debt has started down hill in the last six months) our home state has petitioned Congress for money help for schools, school lunches, roads, all sorts of agricultural, aid, and aid on so many other items I couldn't list them in this letter.

NOTICE TO VETERANS OF W. W. II

Don't let your National Service Life Insurance lapse. You'll be sorry someday. These are good policies, at low rates. Many men in W. W. I let the insurance lapse and have regretted it. The time within which application for reinstatement may be made, without physical examination, has been extended to August. Two monthly premiums will reinstate a policy.

The Army was planning to put up a flagpole in Hawaii for $3500, another in Puerto Rico for $5000, and a pole in Alaska for $7000. All three were the same type pole. It must be more expensive to dig a hole in Alaska. I comment this to the worried people who write to say we must not cut the appropriations for the Army or the Navy—because of critical world conditions.

Well, here's something to take your mind off the international situation: The Department of Agriculture interrupted its energetic propaganda campaign, (trying to get the money put back in its budget) to sell some surplus supplies. It sold 641,491 pounds of ICE CREAM MIX to a buyer in Oakland, California. To whom, do you suppose? TO THE BEST FERTILIZER COMPANY, at 1459 Third street. I don't want my Bay District friends to say I didn't warn them.

Social Security Payments Top Billion and Half

Total payments under the Old-age and Survivors Insurance system of the Social Security Act recently passed the one billion and a half dollar mark according to J. G. Bretherton, manager of the Long Beach office of the Social Security Administration.

Checks amounting to over $37,000,000 go out each month to more than 1,750,000 persons eligible to receive payments under the Social Security program.

At the end of 1946 there were in California, 131,499 persons receiving monthly checks totaling $2,977,680. In addition, during 1946, there were 17,336 lump-sum death benefits paid amounting to $3,030,346.

In the area served by the Long Beach field, which consists of Los Angeles county south of Rosecrans avenue and all of Orange county, there were at the first of July 1947, 13,178 persons receiving monthly checks amounting to $301,637.

The largest single group were wage-earners who had attained age 65 and retired from employment covered by the law. This group of 6,465 persons received $165,048 each month. There were 2,039 wives of retired workers who had also attained age 65 and who were entitled to monthly checks equal to one-half of what their husband received, which amounted to a monthly total of $26,709.

Southland Leads In Regular Army Enlistments

General Mark W. Clark's Headquarters at Presidio, San Francisco has announced that southern California led the rest of the Sixth Army in Regular Army enlistments during June.

A total of 2262 men joined the Army from the eight western states covered by the Sixth Army, the report revealed, and southern Californians made up 774 of the Army total. San Francisco and the northern half of California captured second place with a total of 568 enlistments.
