Defense Lawyers OK Questioning Of McCracken

Defense attorneys George Chula and James Manro, today stated they would not object to "proper questioning" of Henry Ford McCracken by Los Angeles police in connection with the 1946 abduction and slaying of Rochelle Chuskofer.

"We will give our fullest cooperation to the Los Angeles Police department," they said. "We have no objection to proper questioning of McCracken in connection with the Chuskofer case, but we see no reason why such questioning could not be done here in the Orange County jail."

Capt. Gordon Bowers of the LAPD conferred with Sheriff James Musick yesterday and said he will seek authority to remove McCracken to Los Angeles for questioning following sentencing of the convicted murderer and sex offender tomorrow.

How long tomorrow's court session will last is not known, since it is expected that the court will have to dispose of several motions by the defense attorneys following the sentencing.

Solons Say Morale Low at El Toro; Marine Battlefield Morale 'High'

Local Marines Gripe About Food, Lighting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators today reported "wide spread dissatisfaction" with the food at the El Toro, Calif. Marine Corps air station.

And Marines at Camp Pendleton, Calif., have to go to the latrines if they want to do any reading at night.

Correction of these unsatisfactory conditions was recommended by a Senate Armed Services committee headed by Senator Johnson (D-Tex).

The food situation at El Toro was better than when committee investigators visited the station in August, they said. But the improvement was attributed to a special effort to please the Marine Corps inspector general on a recent inspection.

"Many enlisted men expressed the fear that now that 'the heat was off' the meals would soon deteriorate to the low standards prevailing before the inspectors' visit," the committee reported.

Urging "all steps necessary to preclude a reversion to the substandard conditions," the committee said much of the kitchen equipment was "antiquated, inefficient, and that food was constantly in need of repair."

Food Spoiled, Wasted

A food service officer in charge of one of the dining halls told investigators that food had often been spoiled and wasted because of the poor condition of the Versed on a wide variety of world affairs, Dr. Baker always proved popular on the yearly Anaheim forum, according to W. Ralph Focht, night school principal. His open question period following his address is regarded as particularly illuminating.

The forum will begin at 7:30 p.m. There is no admission charge and all residents of Orange county are cordially invited to attend.

NEWS IN BRIEF

WASHINGTON—A proposal that the army be allowed to offer a premium price as a means of getting essential supplies of beef was being discussed in government circles today.

The proposal found considerable support at the Agriculture Department where there has been a reluctance to join the Office of Price Stabilization on some other proposals which some OPS officials saw would not only get supplies for the military but help to enforce price ceilings.

WASHINGTON—Secretary of State Acheson and most of an 81 member American delegation leave today for the United Nations general assembly session opening in Paris Nov. 6.

NEW YORK—Almost all milk supplies were cut off from 12,000,000 consumers in the three-state metropolitan area today by a strike of 15,000 drivers and dairy plant workers.

Hope for settlement rested largely on the imminent probability of an Office of Price Stabilization order raising retail milk prices. This might place the employers in a position to satisfy the strikers' pay demands.

NEW YORK—Former President Herbert Hoover says the burden of re-armament is straining the nation's economy. The answer to the problem, he said last night, is to reduce government spending and balance the budget as nearly as possible. He said the country must re-arm, however, because "the communist menace will be with us as far ahead as any man can see."

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The State Board of Social Welfare will be asked at its meeting here today to investigate the God's Orphanage school at Anaheim where two officials were arrested on charges of brutality of students.

Thomas Douglas, Orange county welfare director, said yesterday he will ask the board to determine whether there has been a violation of state licensing regulations. He said the school has been operating without a license on the grounds it is a "religious" institution.

Mrs. Julia E. Ward, 46, school manager and her secretary, Mrs. Carolyn Minger, 25, are scheduled for preliminary hearings today in Anaheim Justice Court on charges of injuring three small boys during punishment.

Heavy British Vote has Both Sides Suspecting Heavy Socialist Turnout

LONDON (AP)—Voting ended in the British general election at 9 o'clock tonight (1 p.m. PST) with indications mounting that the total ballot would exceed even the record vote cast last year.

Some political analysts thought it had exceeded 30,000,000, or about 85 per cent of the registered electorate.

Labor party leaders were jubilant over the heavy vote, saying "a record vote always means a Labor victory."

The Conservatives, led by Winston Churchill, went into the election heavily favored to win.

They continued to express confidence in the outcome but said the heavy vote this morning was predominantly Socialist.

From various polling points, election officials reported voting was more than 20 per cent higher today than during a similar period in the 1950 election. A Labor government leader said it was the highest he had seen "in 40 years."

The size of the popular vote is significant.

The Labor government retained power last year by a scant six seats. Party spokesmen said Socialists had been over-confident.

As a result, thousands of Laborites failed to ballot.

It was Winston Churchill's second great effort in less than two years to overthrow the Socialist government.

The vast underlying issue presented to the voters today was whether a labor government, with a policy of socialistic controls over business and industry, should continue this system.

The polls closed at 8 p.m. (11 p.m. PST) and, unlike American elections, no partial figures on the voting are announced.

In the 1950 election, the Conservatives' final surge, which came close to overthrowing the Socialists, did not appear until the final 12 hours of the announcement of district results.

New York Paper Sponsors Ike As GOP Nominee

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Herald Tribune is supporting Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the Republican nomination for president in 1952.

Mrs. Ogden Reid, president of the newspaper, made the announcement last night in a speech at the Herald Tribune forum after the meeting it was over.

Simultaneously, front-page editorials endorsing the general appeared in Paris and New York.

Editors of the newspaper, which classifies itself politically as independent-Republican.

Eisenhower, the paper said, "is the man" for the Republican party.

A former New England publisher says Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told him he would run for president "if it were a matter of duty."

Leonard V. Funder, who was active in the short-lived Eisenhower boom of 1948, wrote in Collier's magazine that Eisenhower would accept either a Republican or Democratic draft "if it is clearly an expression of the American people's wishes."

Funder said the general told him: "You have always and everywhere that I do not want political office, that I have done my best to avoid it; but that I would have to accept it if it were a matter of duty. I have never placed myself above my country's commands."

Supervisors Hold Out for Court Plan Tryout

Orange county supervisors Tuesday preferred "to let matters rest" as they are "in regard to a request by a committee of the Orange county Justices and Constables" to reorganize the justice court reorganization plan to permit more than the two municipal courts and three justice courts now scheduled to be set up Jan. 1, 1952.

The supervisors said they preferred not to move until the new court plan has been given a tryout.

The Santa Ana-Orange and Anaheim-Fullerton municipal court districts and the Newport Beach, Huntington Beach-San Beach and Laguna Beach-Santa Clemente justice-court districts will replace the present 13 city and 11 township courts under the reorganization plan which was recommended by the state's judicial council.

Warner told the committee that County Counsel Joel Ogle ruled that supervisors "at any time" can establish additional justice courts, even taking away some of the territory of municipal court districts as long as they leave the required 40,000 population in the district. They cannot, however, set up an additional unit of a municipal court except by action of the state legislature.

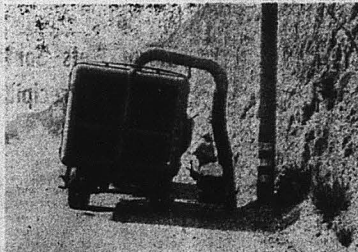

Sanitation Board To Meet Monday

Board members of Sanitation Districts 1 (Santa Ana), 2 (Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton), 3 (West Fullerton, La Habra, Buena Park and Garden Grove) and 11 (Huntington Beach) will meet in an informal session Monday night at the Sanitation District office in Santa Ana in an effort to reach agreement on one of two proposed sanitation plans.

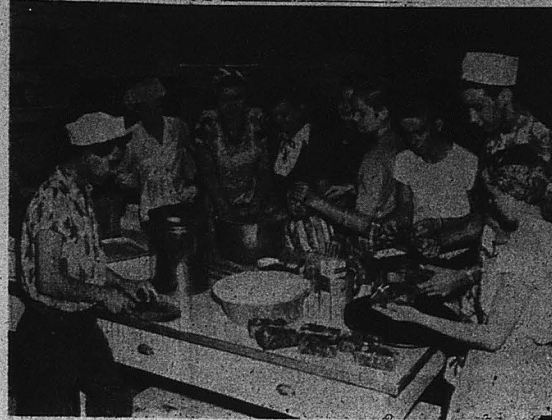

Braden Finch, chairman of the joint meeting, said "Neither attorneys or engineers will attend this session Monday. We're going to discuss matters of policy, not engineering or legal features of the deadlock."

The plans in question are: 1, the original long-range sewerage plan devised by Vinton W. Bacon, engineer after whom the plan has been named; and 2, a modified plan by the engineering firms of Harrison Wolley, Santa Ana, and Headman, Ferguson and Grotto, Phoenix, Ariz.

District 11 is currently holding out against the other six sanitation districts for the modified plan for sewerage disposal. Monday night's session will seek to find means for solving the impasse brought about by Huntington Beach's refusal to budge against the majority pressure.

Operation Fruit Cake at White Temple Church Assumes Vast Proportions

By JOAN S. WHITE
"Operation fruitcake," a bake-off that has reached gigantic proportions, is well underway in Anaheim this week as indicated by the heady aroma of sugar and spice that emanates from the kitchen of White Temple Methodist church.

The cooks are members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, boys and girls of high school and junior high school age, who have set out to make five hundred one pound fruit cakes. The bake-off is part of a project to raise money to furnish Wesley Hall, a social hall used by all age groups of the church.

Little did I suspect, until Rev. Frank Butterworth, Minister of White Temple, came to call one afternoon, that I should be elbow-deep in holiday fruit cake batter at Halloween time, but the kids needed help in planning the operation and wanted an early start. They had an old, old, tried and true recipe suggestively used by other churches, and had taken orders for some four hundred pounds of cake. As word of the project spread around, orders poured in, and we had to call a halt at the five hundred mark.

To illustrate the scope of the operation, the recipe calls for 20 different ingredients, mostly fruits and nuts, to be mixed 24 pounds at a time.

"Flour the fruit," the recipe reads, "and mix ingredients together in something the size of a baby's bathtub."

Undaunted by the directions, the enterprising young folks rounded up the ingredients and utensils, and began operations last Monday evening.

with B-29 bombers making what appeared to be a conventional bomb run.

About 1000 troops, including units from Camp Roberts, Calif., Fort Lewis, Wash., and the 11th Airborne division from Camp Campbell, Ky., were believed to have been in forward positions for the TNT type blasts.

NEW YORK—A brief but spirited scuffle erupted on New York's strike-battered waterfront today when some 100 Longshoremen fought through the strikers' picket lines.

The fight, led by a supporter of President Joe Ryan of the AFL International Longshoremen's association, broke through and around a picket line of 550 men at a Hudson river pier where the liner Corvina had just docked.

Fights broke out. There was a flurry of shouting, yelling and cursing. No one was seriously hurt, police said.

The invaders reached the dock, but then turned around and left without unloading the 300 tons of general cargo from the British liner. The pickets, who are rebelling against a recently negotiated contract, watched sullenly as the group retreated.

MINNISAP, Korea—The United Nations today proposed a give-and-take compromise to set up a buffer zone across the war-torn peninsula.

The U.N. proposal called for the Allies to yield about 200 square miles of North Korea in the east, and for the Reds to give up a similar area in the west.

There was the immediate indication of a communist reaction. The Reds previously demanded a buffer zone along Parallel 28, old political boundary between north and south, Korea.

After the proposal, accompanied by detailed maps, was made to the committee, the subcommittee adjourned until 11 a.m. Friday.

Deadly Mixture Kills 32 While Effects Spread

ATLANTA (AP)—A deadly moonshine mixture of wood alcohol and water has killed 32 persons in Georgia and its effects have spread to a neighboring state.

Two residents at nearby Winder, Ga., died at the city hospital there in the week was hospitalized last night, Police Chief G. L. Banks said, and a third was in critical condition.

And police at Nashville, Tenn., said a man who left Atlanta early in the week was hospitalized in critical condition with symptoms of liquor poisoning.

Thirty persons, 26 of them negro, died here after drinking the poisonous brew.

Police were searching for a white ex-convict charged with bringing the stuff into Atlanta and for an unnamed white moonshiner accused of mixing the deadly brew. Detective Superintendent Glynn Burris, 22, also has an assignment near home in California. His next station is the Naval Ordnance Test Station at Inyokern.

Burris has been in the Marine Corps four years, the last nine months in Korea. He was wounded in the arm last June.

Burris looks upon the tour as an important mission—to show the people of the United States how the United Nations works as a team.

At Camp Pendleton, the committee said, the pyramidal tents which house five to six men each are "fine" for providing essential shelter from the elements and a place to sleep, but many of them have no lights.

"If a man wishes to read a book, he must do so in the latrines where lights remain on for several hours after dark," the report said.

"This situation need not exist and should be corrected immediately.

The Marines living in these tents are undertaking a vigorous training and many will be sent directly into the front lines in Korea. Admittedly, these men must become accustomed and hardened to the conditions which will be encountered in Korea. But the subcommittee sees no necessity of depriving them even of the small convenience of electricity."

Informal investigation

At El Toro, Col. P. K. Smith, chief of staff to Maj. Gen. William T. Walker, commanding general of the Marine Pacific fleet air arm, said:

"We have already launched an informal investigation of the situation and expect to open formal hearings as soon as the subcommittee's report from Washington is delivered here. Until we get all the facts, we will have no official statement to make about the matter."

He added that the report is expected momentarily.

Camp Pendleton's commander, Maj. Gen. Oliver P. Smith, said he has not seen a copy of the report, but:

"The Marine Corps is studying the report with a view of taking corrective action where indicated."

Study Report

The report recommended that:

1. The number of able-bodied men in "chair corps" positions at the six bases be reduced through elimination of "Waver," women Marines and limited-service personnel. Enough able-bodied men are assigned to overhead functions at the six bases to make up a combat division, the report said.

2. "Restricting" the right of personnel to correspond with members of Congress be restricted.

3. "Banned men be given" fair and private hearings for their grievances without fear of reprisal.

4. Oversteering of a number of departments at the bases be eliminated.

5. The Marine Corps meet a "separate need" of its men by supplying them full information on its policy toward reservists and on the international problems facing the U. S. and the significance of the Korean war.

6. Tent housing at Camp Pendleton be improved by installation of electric lights and that open showers at the camp be better protected.

7. The Marine Corps at once clear up the situation at Pendleton under which some reservists receiving disability pensions are recalled to service have not been paid for almost a year. They cannot be paid because they refused to waive their pensions. The pensions are paid by the Veterans

An entry received today from Al Malinak Shrine Temple "Million Dollar Band" brings to 22 the number of bands entered in the spectacular Halloween Parade.

The El Monte Boys Band, El Monte, California, under the direction of Antonio Benavides, is being brought here by Orange County Beneficencia, Mexican. The same organization is also sponsoring Our Lady of the Alps Boys Band, Los Angeles, Mr. Benavides, Director.

and buyout for this year.

The million traffic deaths in the nation since autos became a menace will be recorded soon. What does this mean to you and me? Actually most of us have become so calloused to death we pay little or no regard to the tragedy of the highways.

Accidents don't happen! They're caused! Most of them could easily have been avoided.

RECORD—This will be a record year for highway fatalities. Last year 89 died on the highway. In 1949, 84 deaths were attributed to motor vehicles.

County Coroner Earl Abbey keeps the statistics. His annual report to the county supervisors in January will make interesting reading.

But it will have a sobering effect on the automobile business—some of whom will become statisticians before the ink is dry on his report.

to motor vehicles.

Warren DeWitt, a 24-year-old March Field soldier, from Anaheim, was the first Anaheimer to die. He was killed east of Riverside, Jan. 2, while returning to camp.

DANGER—Death lurks at every cross road. Don't take chances. He means business. Accidental death can be avoided.

HUNDRETH—Walter Saxson, 55-year-old Buena Park pedestrian, was killed instantly as he dashed across the heavy-traveled Mainhighway Blvd. He was the 100th victim of Orange county traffic.

to motor vehicles.

It is an empty "honor" that befalls the Buena Park cannery worker. He didn't think about that when he darted in front of the cars to get to the island in the middle of the death-dealing street.

Think twice before you cross a street!

Don't take any chances—the chance you take may be your

to motor vehicles.

SIGNALS—City Clerk Charlie Griffin should let down and write a letter to the County Board of Supervisors requesting no urging signals for Orange Harbor and Harvard.

Supervisor Ralph McFadden, who represents this district, should do his level best to see that his colleagues approve the installation.

The Fullerton City Council already has instructed Fullerton's City Clerk, Carrie Adams, to urge the supervisors to install signals at the cross road. The state has conducted a survey showing that such signals are a vital necessity.

With the Northrop plant beginning production in the near future, Orange Harbor—which already is a truck highway—will become even more dangerous.

Let's do something about it. Let's not pay for the signals with human lives.

NITECAPSULE—The trouble with most women drivers is that they were taught by men.
