MOSCOW — The Soviet Union admitted today its agents searched three U.S. military attaches and a British colleague in a Siberian hotel raid. Transfer Patients To New Wing

It was "Operation Transfer" for more than 100 patients at the old St. Joseph Hospital in Orange today.

Assisted by members of the Orange and Santa Ana fire departments, the patients were moved from their old quarters to the new St. Joseph and Adjoining Children's Hospital.

Both new facilities were dedicated last month.

The old St. Joseph's will be used as an infirmary and living quarters for the Sisters of St. Joseph.

The California Highway Patrol identified the victim as Earl N. Wenske, 301 W. West St., who died of a skull fracture.

He was dead on arrival at Orange County General Hospital, the Coroner's Office reported. Wenske was still secured by his seat belt in his overturned car when officers arrived at the accident scene on Katella Ave. and Douglas St.

According to reports, the victim's vehicle had overturned after colliding with another driven by James L. Pirtle, 41, 207 E. Woodstock Ave., Orange, the CHP said.

Four Schools Struck By Weekend Vandals

Police today launched an intensive investigation into what was termed by one school official as the biggest wave of school vandalism ever to hit Orange. Four schools fell victim to the vandals during a 48-hour period which ended yesterday morning.

Besides the four schools in the Orange Unified School District that were struck during the weekend, Chapman College reported a darkroom burglary yesterday in which a camera and film were taken.

Burglaries were reported at Jordan and Esplanade while extensive damage was caused to facilities at the other schools. Funds Missing Picked as the targets by the vandals were Peralla Junior High School, Portola Junior High School, Esplanade Elementary at Jordan, approximately $72 in student insurance money and PTA membership funds was taken.

In addition, the burglars made off with about $7 from a soft drink vending machine.

At Esplanade, a typewriter and checks and cash totaling $50 disappeared.

Extensive damage was caused to rooms at Peralla Junior High. There, vandals broke and scattered bird, egg and flour over floors, walls and ceilings. Similar vandalism occurred at the other schools, police said.

"For years, Orange has been relatively free of such damage," said one school official, "we thought we had a good type of youngster here — but no, we wonder."

Not Sure Of Number Police said they were still not sure if all the incidents were the work of one group.

"The police found several good fingerprints," one school official said.

He termed the acts as "extensive vandalism."

In some of the schools, empty soft drink bottles were broken and glass was strewn on the floors.

It was the second such report of school vandalism in Orange within the last few weeks.

Late last month, Yuba Junior High School was entered during a weekend and similar acts were reported.

The planners held that the project, designed for the southwest corner of Katella Avenue and State College Boulevard, was too indefinite and appeared incompatible with surrounding industrial zoning.

Miller Speaker In County

Republican vice presidential candidate William E. Miller will be the featured speaker at "Operation Elephant" Day, October 17, at Knott's Berry Farm, Buena Park.

NBC Drops Bomb In "Court" Series

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — NBC-TV Monday night tumbled three new half-hour situation comedies in the disguise of a so-called 90-minute series, "90 Bristol Court." The idea is that the shows are linked by a common setting, a Southern California apartment court. If you can think of anything more sordid than three situation comedies in a row, you are a born program packager.

The opening half-hour is entitled "Karen," and is about a teen-ager who is old enough to drive and date, who looks like a sure bet for a beauty queen title, and gives the impression of having once read the forward of a book, maybe. Locally, at least, the opener was spiced by being preceded by a commercial playing the movie "A House Is Not a Home." After that, everything was downhill.

Miller's campaign speech will be the main feature of the 2 to 4 p.m. program. More than 25,000 Orange Countyans are expected to attend the event which is sponsored by the Orange County Republican Central Committee.

CONGRESSMAN MILLER VEEP HAPPY TO SPEAK

The premiere concerned how the young lady picked up the wrong blind date from Italy at Los Angeles Airport. As the famous Bobo Lewis, a fine, professional comedienne, does her best to get in some tart lines. Other than that, strictly Hicksville.

The second series is entitled "Harris Against The World," and stars another highly accomplished performer, Jack Kingman, as a soft-hearted movie studio employee who has problems fighting the "system" and is not exactly an overbearing husband or father. Kingman, you may remember, won last season's best-acting Emmy for his performance in an episode of "The Defenders" as a lawyer who could not get work because of past political affiliations.

$700,000 Malpractice Suit Award Set Aside

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — A $700,000 jury award in a malpractice suit has been set aside and a new trial ordered by Superior Court Judge James CM Tookler.

Judge Tookler took the action Friday on grounds of misconduct by the plaintiff's counsel and insufficient evidence against one of the defendants. The judge presided at the trial Aug. 12 with what was believed to have been the largest award ever granted in the state to a single plaintiff in a personal injury case.

Attorney James Roccardi of San Jose, was charged with misconduct by Judge Tookler, who also criticized him and his lack of asserting there was "a conspiracy on the part of the defendants and their counsel" in the case.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Letola of Norman, Okla., who formerly lived in nearby National City, originally sought $1 million on behalf of their son, Raymond, 2.

The couple claimed that three doctors and the Chula Vista Community Hospital were negligent in their treatment of the boy after he suffered a head injury in an automobile accident in January of 1962.

The suit alleged that the defendants failed to diagnose a brain injury and as a result the youngster's legs were amputated needlessly. The action also contended that the boy is blind and deaf as a result of the defendants' negligence and that he will be crippled physically and mentally for the rest of his life.

A jury of six men and six women awarded the Letolas $650,000 damages from Dr. Herbert Drew, a podiatrist, and Dr. Manuel Barba, a neurosurgeon, for the child's brain damage. Dr. Drew and Dr. Roland G. Brown, a vascular specialist, were ordered to pay $250,000 for the amputations.

The jury ruled in favor of the hospital and assessed no damages. Judge Tookler said he believed there was insufficient evidence to support a judgment against Dr. Brown who, he said, was not called into the case until after the condition of the boy's legs were irreversible.

Teen-Ager Grabs Important Part

who had previously been a successful "advertising man," with absolutely no theatrical experience, walked into Melodyland Theatre one day last week and within a half hour had grabbed off the important role of Betty Grable's young son in "The Big Sister Show."

What makes the event even more remarkable is the fact

Colter Dupont of Anaheim, then Colter, is only three years old, and his career as an ad-man had been confined to handling bid handoffs for which he would receive $50.00 a week. The slim, hairless, blonde youngster decided suddenly to go on the stage and walked into the theatre cold, then announced to an audience that he wanted to be an actor, and insisted on seeing the casting director!

Now It's Cranston CEC Chairman - - For Pierre!

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—State Controller Angelo Cranston has been named chairman of the California Executive Committee for the campaign of Sen. Pierre Salinger, D-Calif.

Salinger, who defeated Cranston in the California primary on the Democratic ticket, said he was "proud to have Angelo Cranston working with me in the campaign."

"His record as state controller has earned him a national reputation as an executive of the highest caliber," said the Salinger announcement, released Tuesday.

During the primary campaign Salinger and Cranston fought bitter battles. As a result of remarks which Salinger made regarding campaign contributions from Cranston set aside appointments, a $2 million libel suit was filed by the state controller.

POOLS PRISON BREAK
PONTOISE, France (UPI)—Three members of a notorious holiday gang tried and failed Monday to break out four other gang members break out of Pontoise Prison, police said.

Two of the men were captured, but the third escaped. The plot was foiled when a neighbor of the prison heard cannons from the yard of the court house about 3 a.m. and alerted police.

First St. Joseph Hospital Baby is Bouncing—Boy

It's a bouncin' baby boy! What's more, the six pound seven ounce bundle of joy didn't have that price tag attached which usually dims the gleam in the glad daddy's eyes. Larry Jackson, the baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Jackson of 1490 Madelark Place, Orange, was born at 1:30 p.m. Monday, just four hours after the new St. Joseph hospital opened its doors.

The new St. Joseph and Children's Hospital officials announced the opening day birth and said the entire hospital bill is on the house.

Patients, equipment and records started rolling into the new St. Joseph facility at 9:30 a.m. yesterday.

The new St. Joseph Hospital, on La Veta Ave., east of Main Street in Orange, will have a staff of about 700 and a payroll of nearly $4 million annually, hospital officials said.

The Children's Hospital, on the same site, has 65 beds and a staff of approximately 250 physician and surgeons. It cost $3 million and will serve children from infancy to 17 years of age.

Suggests New Conservation Youth Camp

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — De Witt Nelson, director of conservation, suggested today that the state set up a second youth conservation camp, this one in Northern California.

Testifying at a hearing by the senate fact finding committee on Sept. 9, Nelson said he had obtained from any Republican headquarters in Orange County or at Knott's Berry Farm in Buena Park.

Heart Seizure In Italy Fatal To Dr. Ellmore

Dr. Lewis F. Ellmore, Sr., who touched off a highly publicized battle with the Orange County Board of Supervisors over service-connected disability compensation, has died in Venice, Italy.

The Tuscan physician, former medical director at Orange County General Hospital, was returning to his home in Tustin after serving a year with the State Department in South Viet Nam, when he suffered a fatal heart seizure last week.

Funeral services were still pending. Dr. Ellmore had served as medical director at OCH from 1956 to 1963 when he resigned and asked for full retirement benefits because of "job connected disabilities."

Shortly before his resignation, the 59-year-old physician, had suffered a mild heart attack. His long battle with the county evidently ended last May when the County Employees Association granted Dr. Ellmore $414 per month retirement pay for life after he waived further hearings on a two-year disability claim for $99,000.

He had based the larger claim on the contention that his earlier heart attack was caused by the physical and mental demands of his job with OCH. Dr. Ellmore is survived by his widow, Dorothy, a daughter and a son.

'Great Step' Seen in New Phone Device

Orange County telephone users, within the next few years, will be able to reach a pre-selected group of frequently called numbers by dialing only two digits.

This prediction was made by Bob Smith, Jr., Pacific Telephone's division traffic manager, while unveiling plans for the introduction of Electronic Switching Systems (ESS) — which is scheduled for the county "within a few years."

The new system, according to Smith, will also enable the telephone user to switch incoming calls automatically to other numbers if he leaves his home or office.

"It's one of the greatest steps in communications since the introduction of the dial telephone," Smith explained. "ESS is so fast it can handle a million calls a second."

He said ESS will place calls faster and easier than the electro-mechanical equipment now in use. It's a transistorized computer specialized for switching calls, rather than computing.

Smith was talking about change, and how the telephone industry makes changes to pave the way for progress.

"We frequently must discard old ways of doing things and introduce new and better methods," he pointed out. "For example, the old '11' and '114' service codes will be changed next month in Orange County." He said the new codes—"411" for information and "61" for repair service—will be inaugurated coincident with delivery of the new telephone directory November 1.

The change will be made for two reasons. First, it's a step in ultimately making these numbers uniform for all customers throughout the United States. Second, it will permit the future introduction of innovations using the numeral "one." For example, eliminating the possibility of dialing errors. The service change "frees" that digit for these developments.

The great majority of telephone users make an easy adjustment to their dialing habits when a service change is introduced," Smith reported.

140 Area Grades Fill Positions in School Districts

School districts in Orange County, for the first time in the area's history, are looking to a local institution of higher education as a major source of help in meeting new teacher requirements.

Evidence of this trend is borne out in statistics just released by Max W. Burke, placement director, California State College at Fullerton, on the employment of students who finished their teacher education at the College in 1964.

Of 140 students who completed their training and began professional careers this year, 96 graduates, or 68 per cent of the total, filled jobs in the immediate vicinity when hired by 20 Orange County school districts. Typical of these was Thomas E. Moore, new speech and drama teacher, this fall at Troy High School in Fullerton. Moving from student status into a career, Moore started teaching under the watchful eyes of Dr. Webb Wilson, Troy principal, and Dr. Kenneth Doane, chairman of the Division of Education at Cal-State Fullerton.

According to Dr. Doane, more than one of 49 new teachers who obtained credentials in the secondary level of the other 100 secured elementary credentials. An additional 28 trained and credentialled student teachers this year have decided to postpone teaching for family or other reasons.

Accounting for the remaining graduates who started teaching this year, Burke reported that 34 are teaching in 18 Los Angeles County school districts, Fresno, El Dorado, and Santa Clara County districts are also represented in the hirings, and one is employed by a school district in Arizona.

"All this year's student teachers who wanted to teach have contracts," Burke said. "This speaks well for the high professional level of their training and the careful screening processes which are employed by the College in the selection of those who are deemed qualified for the training."

lation systems now on most newer model cars were outlined here today by Donald A. Jensen, Executive Officer of the State Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board.

"The things to watch for," Jensen said, "are fumes coming out of the engine when the car is idling (lift the hood to check), oil on top of the engine, rough idle, excessive stalling in traffic, and engine hesitation."

"If any of these are present, ask your mechanic or service station man to check the crankcase ventilation system valve and tubes," Jensen said. "This can be done in a moment or two and is unnecessary expense over engine performance."

He said all that may be needed is to clean or replace the valve. Cost for this work averages about $2.50.

Approved crankcase devices have been on all new cars registered in California, starting with the 1961 model. Many used cars are also equipped, but the bulk of the used car population will come under the mandatory installation phase of the law next year.

Jensen said that starting in 1965 every car with a crankcase device, and registered in a metropolitan county will require an annual inspection at an official station.

He pointed out that the device is like any other part of the car needing periodic servicing. "If the system is checked regularly, it will assure the car owner of a better operating engine, and eliminate smog-forming 'blowby' gases," Jensen said. "Fuel saving may also be an added benefit."

500 Teachers Strike For Higher Salaries

PAWTUCKET, R.I. (UPI) — About half of this city's 500 public school teachers went on strike today in support of demands for a salary increase.

The striking teachers were members of the Pawtucket Teachers Alliance. They voted to walk out after a meeting before school hours.

Schools were shut down after one-hour of classes. About 250 teachers reported for work. There are approximately 11,500 elementary and high school students in the city.

Lady Bird Swinging South To Seek Votes For Lyndon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson sets out Tuesday on a political and sentimental whistlestop journey through the South to seek votes for her husband.

The Democrats are counting on her to help swing most of the South behind the Johnson-Humphrey ticket on the 1,683-mile, 49-stop train trip through eight states.

Mrs. Johnson will travel through Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana. Democrats are hopeful of capturing all except Alabama and Mississippi, and aren't completely writing off those two states.

The First Lady's trip will be by the traditional pattern of the whistlestop campaign. The 17-car train will pull into each stop for a 15-minute blowing horn and the song "Hello Lyndon" blaring from its loudspeakers.

Fifteen Southern belts, wearing "LBJ" embroidered shirts, will step out on the rear platform of the hospitality car. As hostesses, they will pass out souvenirs including pennants, balloons, lapel pins, straw hats and salt-water taffy with "choose Lyndon" wrappers.

"About the train will be 100,000 matchbooks, 80,000 balloons and 80,000 pennants to help spread the word on behalf of the Democratic ticket.

"Mrs. Johnson is proud to be a Southerner and wanted especially to make this trip," said her press secretary, Elizabeth Carpenter.

"She doesn't just want to go to the glistering cities, but to the places by-passed these days by the superhighways and air lines.

Art Works Presented

Beautiful works of art have been presented recently by Friends of the Orange Public Library to the library shelves for the enjoyment of the public.

"Porcelain" by Hugh Tait, is an absorbing summary of a delicate art which combines authoritative comments on the history and techniques of porcelain ceramics with 33 beautiful color illustrations, many of them never before published.

"Rembrandt" etchings and drawings by Prof. V. Stiech, is a useful and informative book on the greatest of all graphic artists, according to Mrs. Ethel Swanger, head librarian.

The author has a fascinating collection of excellent plates with an introduction which will be enjoyed by both art students and the general reader, Mrs. Swanger said.

Space Lab Didn't Make Proper Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — A space laboratory designed to help develop methods of protecting space travelers from radiation hazards failed to achieve a proper orbit, scientists said Sunday.

The federal space agency said the Explorer spacecraft it had launched on what appeared to be a normal flight Saturday night was almost two thirds short of its far-reaching goal.

Instead of swinging 161,000 miles away from earth every six days as planned, the 166-pound satellite was traveling only 39,400 miles away from looping back around the globe every day and a half.

Democratic Party's Farm Program Unveiled

As the 1964 political campaign warms up, the Democratic party is gradually being unveiled. President Johnson has designated his vice-presidential running mate, Senator Hubert H. Humphrey, as the party spokesman in farm debates with GOP presidential candidate Senator Barry Goldwater.

Senator Humphrey has already indicated his theme for the campaign. It is to call for a bipartisan, "blue-ribbon" commission to take a new look at the farm problem and find new answers. With this theme he will avoid the task of defending the mistakes in his party's program.

This distasteful job has been allotted to Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman. But even he doesn't plan to get best over the head with his government stipend - management programs. In a recent Chicago press conference the Secretary stated that Midwestern farmers indicated in the 1962 wheat referendum that they did not want mandatory programs, so he is now giving them "voluntary" programs.

Senator Humphrey, however, is not talking about "voluntary" or "mandatory" programs. In addition to establishing a "blue-ribbon" commission, he is going all-out for direct payment programs with definite limits that the government will spend in each commodity. The total would be divided among the producers of each commodity.

In a speech delivered on the Senate floor August 18, Senator Humphrey in addition to proposing a commission to study agriculture said, "Might it not be desirable for the Congress to determine the maximum amount to be appropriated for agriculture, and just how it should be spent? I do not feel that the spending of Treasury funds entirely on the basis of a man's past history meets in the fullest sense the social and economic requirements of our age. Determining how much can be released in Illinois as 'The Man Who Didn't Know How to Love.' His 'Harrow' film will be released in Italy as 'The Girl Who Really Knows How to Love'."

Envelopes Worth $1 Million Is Good News For Goldwater

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI)—Sen. Barry M. Goldwater got some good news—from Chicago, of all places—as he whistled through Illinois late last week.

The good news came in envelopes—$1 million worth of them.

The Chicago Better Government Assn., with an investigative assist from a newspaper, revealed that Theodore J. Isaacs, the campaign manager for Democratic Gov. Otto Kerner, had been attorney for a concern called the Cook Envelope and Lithographing Co.

The hit was that Cook had sold more than $1 million worth of envelopes to the state under the Kerner Administration. And Isaacs, while serving as Kerner's chief of staff, had been in charge of the state's revenue for three years, got $12,000 in fees from Cook.

Isaacs has denied any wrongdoing. Kerner, who has been boasting of a scandal-free administration during his reelection campaign, backed him up.

The Isaacs case couldn't, to all appearances, help Kerner, and it could do nothing to help Charles H. Percy, the one-time Illinois business man who is racing Kerner neck and neck.

Percy has been accused of being kickbacker towards Goldwater. What helps Percy is likely to help Goldwater, however. And the Republican presidential nominee needs all the help he can get in Illinois, a state he acknowledges he has to win to get to the White House.

There are 35 electoral votes at stake in Illinois, and to all indications, they're up for grabs.

The late President Kennedy took the Prairie State in 1960, but by less than 9,000 votes—votes which Republicans charged Mayor Richard J. Daley's machine stole in Chicago.

The state has one Republican senator and one Democratic senator. It has 24 congressmen—12 Democrats and 12 Republicans. It has, in Chicago, probably the most powerful big city machine in the country. The machine delivers for the Democrats. Outside of Chicago are some of the most rock-ribbed Republican territories in the nation.

According to the book, the outcome of Illinois elections depends on how many Chicago votes the Democrats can match against a downstate Republican ballot. But the book may be getting a little dog-eared.

This year, party strategists believe, the Illinois election may be decided right around Chicago—in the string of suburban "country towns" which ring the city in an arc stretching from the Wisconsin line to Indiana.

The country towns are traditionally Republican and Percy has shown sizable strength there. The suburbanites have also shown indications that this may be a banner year for ballot splitting in Illinois. This would probably mean trouble for Goldwater.

Voice of the People

Dear Sir, The road to a complete Socialist America is becoming shorter every day. The President of these United States has chosen as his running mate, one Hubert Humphrey, a man who for the past several years has been one of ADA's 13 vice chairmen, and who at the present time has in his employ two ADA stalwarts preparing his speeches. One of these speech writers is Arthur Schlesinger Jr., who in 1947 declared, "There seems no inherent obstacle to the gradual advance of socialism in the United States through a series of New Deals."

President Johnson, in speaking of his running mate has stated, "I feel strengthened knowing that he is at my side at all times in the great work of your country and mine." Hubert Humphrey is the "best man in America" to fill my shoes as President of the United States.

Norman Thomas, six time Socialist candidate, stated just this spring, "Humphrey is the type of Democrat I like, and one who would be a Socialist if he got to England." Big Labor attitude and philosophy Humphrey remarked on Jan. 9, 1957, likewise states that Humphrey is "labor's first bid for the Presidency of the United States". Of his own left leaning thing, it is not because I am a "socialist" I am sorry for any liberal, but it is because I am not more liberal than I am."

In line with ADA's proposals to the Democratic convention this year, Sen. Humphrey called for a "reexamination of our China policy, repeal of the United States Reservation," so the United States would be compelled to abide by decisions handed down by the World Court, (which includes judgements from Communist nations), and expanded trade relations. When Khrushchev, our sworn and avowed enemy pleaded to the United Nations for disarmament without controls, Humphrey said, "Premier Khrushchev's speech was the speech our President should have made."

May God save this wonderful America, this nation built upon the principals of Freedom and Liberty, from the stretch of men like this who would destroy her. America is far too worthy, far too deserving to be turned over to the recklessness of men like Hubert Humphrey. Vote Socialist—Vote Socialism—Vote out of office in November. Vote decent and graft out of our Government before it is too late.

Free Enterprise

Free enterprise is at work among the teen-agers of Orange County. More than 80 business firms from Orange County based firms have begun training positions as advisors to 17 local Junior Achievement companies and the 350 youngsters who have enrolled in the Junior Achievement program will get the benefit of their counsel while they are learning how the free enterprise system operates.

Each adviser is learning the organization and operation of a JA company which he will transmit to the youngsters who will serve as company officers and workers, manufacturing and selling a product at a profit.

The Junior Achievement program is open to young adults from 15 to 19 years of age. They own and operate their own miniature corporations.

Each miniature company is composed of 15 teen agers assisted by three adult advisers — experts in the field of production, business and sales.

The teen-agers first decide on the type of company they wish to operate. They raise money to finance these companies by selling stock at 50 cents a share.

A place of operations is provided by business men, but each teen age company pays a nominal sum for rent, capital deposit etc. The company also pays its members wages and commission.

In the process of running their own companies, teen-age members learn to keep various production records, mail sales campaigns, design advertising and prepare financial statements.

From October till May of each year the youngsters go through every step of owning and operating their own business.

It is unfortunate that there are only accommodations for 350 youngsters a year in this splendid program.

Second Language

At the beginning of the 1965 school year the elementary schools of California will be required to teach a foreign language in the 6th, 7th and 8th grades.

We have waited far too long for this instruction in our public school system, which is expected to prepare people socially and economically for a place in the community.

A knowledge of languages is vital-ly important in this modern world. If we are to understand our international neighbors, live with them, do business with them and pursue a course of peace with them, we must be able to communicate with them.

The very best time to learn a second language, experts say, is when a person is young. Then they are able to read, write and speak more readily than adults whose minds are already cluttered with other things, and whose tongues are often unyielding to speaking new languages.

In most European households and in many in Latin America children are taught a second language—usually English—while they are very young.

But, we can't expect other people in the world to learn our language while we make no effort to learn their language. Understanding is a two way street.

In Southern California where we have almost daily association with Mexicans, it is fitting and proper that we should understand and be able to use Spanish—and the place to start learning is in the schools.

It might be a good idea for parents to plan learning with their children. Languages can be learned in some adult schools, from private tutors or from inexpensive "self-taught" language books.

Let's all start learning a second language.

Ganglion Can Be A Small Cyst

Dear Dr. Molner: What are ganglions? I understand they occur after a wrist injury. Do they also occur in the fingers? How can they be prevented and what is the treatment? How do they differ from lipomas?—P. R.

A ganglion in this sense (the name word is also used for a certain part of a nerve called) is a small cyst, a defect in the sheath of a tendon. The most usual location is on the back of the hand, but they can occur elsewhere.

An injury is thought to be the main factor in causing a ganglion but there are theories that other conditions may be involved. There is no known means of prevention.

Treatment of a ganglion is usually for cosmetic purposes—the lump spurs the appearance of the hand. Or the possessor thinks it does. Less often a ganglion may be painful and is treated ed or removed for that reason. Since the ganglion is a cyst (a sac or cavity filled with fluid) aspiration (removal of the fluid through a hollow needle) is one treatment. Sometimes an injury breaks the cyst open and lets it drain. But these cysts can recur, and the most certain method of removal is surgical removal.

A ganglion is a fluid-filled sac. A lipoma is a fatty tumor or growth beneath the skin.

Dear Dr. Molner: Does the dolonoxone have anything to do with shingles? Please send me your booklet, "The Facts About Shingles." I enclose the required 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.—A. E. S.

There's no connection. "Dol" is a painful inflammation of sensitive nerves of the face; shingles is a virus infection of a nerve trunk. Both are painful.

Contract Bridge

COMMON SENSE IN BRIDGE. The most interesting hand is those in which there is no need to make a weak or difficult play. You simply look ahead and use the most uncommon.

When this hand was played, South won the first trick in dummy with the king of clubs and drew two rounds of trumps with the ace and king. When the trumps failed to break South led his other club and held his breath.

Fortunately enough, West had to follow suit. Declarer won in dummy with the ace of clubs and ruffed a club. He next cashed the ace of hearts, ruffed a heart in dummy, ruffed another low club, and ruffed his last low heart with dummy's last trump.

But now dummy was reduced to three diamonds and a good club. Declarer couldn't cash the club because West still had a trump. And if declarer led a club, dummy would have to give a diamond trick to West.

It was not a distinguished performance, and the only thing to be said for it is that West enjoyed it immensely.

One Trick Ahead. South's trouble was that he got one trick ahead of himself. After winning the second club trick with dummy's ace South must not immediately ruff a club. Instead, South takes the ace of hearts and ruffs a heart. Then he ruffs a low club. He ruffs his other low heart with dummy's last trump and turns to his hand by ruffing another low club.

This sets up dummy's last club and puts South in his own hand—where he wants to be. He draws the last trump, discarding a diamond from dummy and cashes the king of hearts. Then dummy wins the last two tricks with the ace of diamonds and the good club.

State Notables Visit Job's Daughters, Orange-Tustin Bethels Share Honors

Personality Plus

By LOUISE METEER

How nice to be a millionaire! You could follow your favorite seasons around the world. Working people have to leave home, bidding Illinois crisp and rising winds, and fall, all its glorious color, valiantly to remember that soon fall moves into winter's icy grip.

This is the ideal time for vacation travel, and for me, at least, there could have been no better place to seek rest, a new viewpoint and happy horizons than in the mid-western countryside near Chicago.

Contrary to what I have been told people are not the same, everywhere, at all I discovered a particularly fine kind. They call them neighbors. They call cheerfully from across the way, know each other's names, borrow sugar, and salt and ginger, exchange baby sitting services, and indulge in something called "The Coffee."

"The Coffee" is quite unrelated to the Kaffee Klatch of the Women's Editor world. Kaffee Klatch's have purpose: to raise money, get people elected, or to make plans for important coming events. The Coffee is unperfected by this kind of nonsense. It is held for no other reason than to get together for an hour of feminine conversation, to honor a visiting guest, or just to make an excuse to sit down for a few moments during a hectic day of home-making.

If you have a house guest in Illinois like so not the neighbors will come calling to meet her, and some may even go to great lengths to honor her, and you, with a dinner party so sumptuous that you give up on calorie counts.

There are hardly any fences in these new areas of Illinois countryside. Homes look like California houses, but are built of stouter stuff. They are scattered like colorful daisies in a field, over green lawns, each house accorded a full quarter acre, innocent of fences. There are ponds where little boys may fish, and everyone may skate in winter.

Perhaps you've seen pictures of streams and rivers polluted with chemicals and piled high with detritus suds. Pictures are impressive: the real thing is sickening.

Can you imagine driving 49 miles on quiet country roads, winding narrowly beneath trees that touch overhead?

In Illinois signs that say "49 Mile Speed Limit", oddly enough to a Californian, it means just and Illinoisans are well aware of it.

Don't get the idea that all growth is in California and the far west. It is everywhere. Hundreds of new houses, schools bulging at the seams, new villages arising overnight, great industries moving in, all attest to the fact that it's the country that is growing.

Everyone wants to know about California. You cringe in answering some of the questions. What's Snog like? Is it real? Is the election going to go on your state? Do you have crooked law enforcement?

And, inevitably, "Where do you live in California? Orange? Where's that? Orange County? Never heard of it. Is it near Los Angeles?"

Then faces light as you capitulate to the only identification they understand.

"Live and work near Disney land."

Ross Electric Forms New Soccer Team Will Play Doubleheaders With Big Team

By JIM GROTH
Sports Editor

The Ross Electric Soccer Team of Orange has announced plans for the formation of still another soccer club in the city.

The new team will start play within the next few weeks.

"It will operate more or less as a B team for us," said Bob Florin, general manager of the established Ross club.

The new team, to be called Ross Electric number two, will play in the western division of the Pacific Coast Soccer League which the original team, started just a few weeks ago, will play in the northern division.

"Most of our games will be Florin," with the new team playing as double headers," said Florin, "and a new team is almost a necessity." Florin explained.

But now, with the formation of the new squad, Florin is more than ever interested in new players.

"I'd like to get anyone who is

The team was at its best last Sunday as it blasted through the first annual Orange Invitational Tournament without having an opponent score a goal.

"We've been getting so many calls from players who want to join up, that a new team is almost a necessity," Florin explained.

But now, with the formation of the new squad, Florin is more than ever interested in new players.

"I'd like to get anyone who is interested in playing soccer," he said. Anyone interested can get in touch with Florin at 539-5377.

"The new team should be ready to start by a week from Sunday, which means it will have to miss the first week of league play," Florin said.

"But this won't hamper the club much because it will be able to make up the game."

Florin is enthusiastic over the reception given the team by the City of Orange.

In appreciation, he presented a trophy to Parks and Recreation Director John Oprean.

"We've received nothing but the best of cooperation from the Parks and Recreation Department," Florin said. "And this was just our way of showing our appreciation."

And The Royal Boot! Royal Welcome For Yogi

By STEVE SNIDER
UPI Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The St. Louis Cardinals and a number of dazed fans prepared today to give their native son Yogi Berra and his New York Yankees a royal welcome — followed by a royal boot.

Berra, who left the Hill country of this city nearly 20 years ago to make his fortune with the Yankees, is expected to get a good-natured reception when he flies in with the American League champions about noon.

After the formalities, however, Yogi will be wished nothing but luck in the World Series starting Wednesday — including the sidelining of regular shortstop Tony Kubek and, of course, some improvement in the condition of Cardinal third baseman Ken Boyer's ailing left leg.

Although the loss of Kubek might upset the smooth functioning Yankee infield to some degree, the Cardinals face a more serious loss should Boyer be hobbled by his leg injury.

National League's point out that Boyer has been shading far to his left to compensate for shortstop Dick Groat's "penalty play" and that a seriously ailing Boyer could mean a gaping hole in the left side of the St. Louis infield.

In addition, the Cardinals' attack would be seriously hurt without the bat of 35-year-old Ken Boyer, who led the majors with 119 runs batted in this season and spiced his .295 batting average with 24 home runs.

Referee Picks Cassius X

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

TOKYO (UPI)—Cassius Clay will whip Sonny Liston even easier than he did before, according to a United States Olympic referee who called the fight on the first night.

Bob Surkin, a pipe smoking 57-year-old retired Army major who has refereed 29 bouts and here to officiate in the Olympics, doesn't seem to have any doubts about the result.

"There isn't the slightest doubt in my mind Clay will beat Liston next month even easier than he did the first time," says Surkin, who worked nine of Clay's bouts before he turned professional.

Liston is older.

"I base my belief on two points," he explained. "First, Liston has gotten older and he is not going to improve at this stage of the game."

"And secondly, if for any reason Clay had any doubts before their first fight, which I don't believe he did, he now knows Liston can be handled like anyone else."

Surkin probably is more qualified to talk about Clay's background than anyone else in the fight game today.

Cassius befriended him more than six years ago when the more he came to know Surkin, the more he confided in him.

"I remember Clay running in the 1960 Olympics which I worked," he recalled. "He told Patterson straight up and down, 'Don't get too used to that crooked referee I'll be wearing it soon.'"

Surkin is confident.

"Patterson just laughed but I knew Clay wasn't kidding. He was supremely confident long before he won the Olympic light-heavyweight title in 1960."

"Two years before that, he personally told me that he was going to be the world heavyweight champion no matter what. He was thinking so far ahead that he said, 'the only thing that can prevent me from becoming the champion is not getting a fight that I can't win. I guarantee you I'll get it. I need a gimmick to get that shot and I'll find one."

Clay, of course, did find one with his ingenious combination and although it made him All-American pain in the neck, it also helped make him world champion whether the World Boxing Association recognizes the fact or not.

Hole In One

NEW YORK (Special)—A hole-in-one hit recently by an Orange golfer, Eugene Van Hook, may earn him a trip to Scotland for two and $1,500.

Mr. Van Hook, of 1901 W. La Veta Ave., scored his ace at the Marine Memorial Golf Course to enter the Old Smuggler Scotch Hole-in-One Sweepstakes, a national Golf competition.

The Highland-bound golfer will be announced in January.

Such was the case with the Los Angeles Chargers and the Los Angeles Jets.

But things are different in the City of Orange.

"I'm amazed at the support we've been getting from our City and the public." "I can hardly believe the attendance we've gotten at the games."

"This is great. I've never seen crowds like this at our games."

These are a few of the random comments by the players and managerial staff of the Ross Electric Soccer Club at Sunday's first annual Orange Invitational Soccer Tournament.

The city has been good to Ross Electric. Usually the games in the Pacific Coast Soccer League draw a few select relatives and friends of the players.

But not so in Orange. "We've had three and four hundred people at our games, and I think the attendance will go up," said Bob Florin, general manager of the team.

In turn, Ross Electric has been good to Orange. As yet, the team hasn't been beaten. And it's played some of the best teams around.

In its first game, Ross broke a Costa Mesa 7-game winning streak. It has also beaten last year's league champion and Sunday swept through the Orange tournament against the elite of the PCSL.

This spirit and cooperation between the City, the citizens and the team has spread to the Division Pacific Coast Champs Cal Poly (Pomona) for the Trophy.

In the first of January Chapman is slated to go north for a three-game set with San Francisco State, Jan. 1, and Alameda State, Jan. 2, then after a day's rest, Sacramento State, Jan. 4.

Fresh to Play 21

One day before the Varsity takes to the hardwood the Panthers venture to Pasadena College, Dec. 1, for the opening contest of their 1964-65 Schedule.

Featured in their slate are the Fullerton J.C. To my, L.A. State, Cal Poly Pomona, San Diego State, and Univ. of Southern California.

Heading this year's edition of the Fullerton J.C. Tournament was Don Livingston. Don headed the Panther Varsity last year taking over for Don Perkins when he was forced to the sidelines.

Olympic Coaches Sure Of Strongest Track Team

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

TOKYO (UPI) — The track and field events are the meat and potatoes of any Olympics Games, and U.S. track coaches were buoyantly confident today that the United States will be represented by the strongest team it ever has sent to any Olympics.

As in other Olympics in recent years, the United States' stiffest competition is expected to come from the Russians, and still fresh in everyone's memory is the trouncing the Americans handed the Soviet Union in their last dual meet in California last July.

At the time, the Russian coaching staff emphasized that October was the time to reach peak condition, not July, and warned: "We'll be much better in Tokyo."

"They had better slow improvement," said U.S. Coach Bob Giegiack Monday. "Because we are much better."

Giegiack dismisses the notion that his team reached top form too soon and could be victims of a letdown in the Olympics.

"They assume that we were as good as we possibly could be in our dual meet," said the Yale trackman. "We believe there's always room for progress."

One of the main reasons for the almost giddy optimism that prevails in the American camp is the strong contingent of distance runners that will be leading the mark for Uncle Sam.

U.S. prospects also look bright in the swimming competition.

Bob Kipnuth, the long-time coach of powerful Yale University swimmers who lead several U.S. teams into the Olympics, predicted Monday that the United States would win seven of the 10 gold medals in swimming events.

Panther Basketball Slate Announced

Chapman College will play a 25-game basketball slate featuring seven home contests it was announced today by first-year coach Roy Stevens.

The Panthers will open play on December 3, at the University of Redlands participating in the "TV" Club Tourney, then venture to Colorado for a game with Colorado State University, perennial Sky-Line Conference powerhouse.

December 15 will first Chapman in its first home contest at the Claremont Stags arrive in town.

In addition to the Redlands Tourney the Panthers will again participate in the Kris Kringle Classic sponsored by Cal-State Fullerton and the Capter Tourney at Cal Poly (Pomona). It was in Pomona last year that the Panthers highlighted the season by defeating the College Division Pacific Coast Champs Cal Poly (Pomona) for the Trophy.

In the first of January Chapman is slated to go north for a three-game set with San Francisco State, Jan. 1, and Alameda State, Jan. 2, then after a day's rest, Sacramento State, Jan. 4.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Louis Hatter of the Baltimore Sun has been named chief scorer of the World Series by baseball Commissioner Ford C. Frick.
