Northrop Executive Named Manager Of 1952 Anaheim Community Chest

Robert E. Root, assistant to the manager of the Anaheim Northrop Aircraft, Inc., plant, was named general campaign manager of the Anaheim Community Chest last night at the board meeting in the director's room of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce.

Ray Reafsnyder presided and presented Gene Steck, by-laws chairman, who read proposed revisions in the by-laws, preparatory to making a request to incorporate the organization.

Joe Catanich of Laguna Beach, executive-secretary of the Orange County Federation of Community Chests in Santa Ana, an incorporated group, spoke on details necessary to incorporate and the advantages of executive committees. Reafsnyder and Mrs. R. W. Marvin agreed to attend the Federated board meeting next Tuesday night at the Santa Ana YMCA.

In the future, allocations to agencies will be made quarterly as follows: Visiting Nurse Association for May, June and July will be $231 with a new allocation in August; Boy Scouts, $1114; Girl Scouts, $380; Catholic Welfare, $937.50 and Children's hospital had already received $500 on their yearly budget. The Salvation Army had not turned in their report, according to the secretary, Mrs. Marvin, so no allocation was made. It was determined previously that the agencies had a large enough balance on hand to carry them before placing their allocations on a quarterly basis.

The next meeting of the board will be June 3 at the Chamber of Commerce.

Mode-O-Day Exec To Address CC Retail Division

Retail division of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce will hear a talk on "The Golden Rule in Business" by Monte Cass, Mode-O-Day executive and merchandiser, when its regular business meeting is held at breakfast tomorrow at 7:30 a.m. in the Dorothy and Wade Dinner house, 1418 E. Center st. Jack Ballard will introduce the speaker.

Included in the agenda are talks by Walter Swanberger on Straw Hat Week, May 12 to 17; by Oscar Solter on graduation and vacation promotions; by E. C. West on Memorial Day observance, May 30; by Vera Auest on the Hospitality Tea program; by Charlie McCallum on the progress of Talent Time in Anaheim; and by John Williams on the advertising program.

Reservations must be made to attend the breakfast, according to Swanberger's division chairman. They may be made by calling 7235.

MAYOR'S COAT STOLEN

Mayor Charles Pearson of Anaheim is searching for his coat. He looked city hall over thououghly for the missing garment yesterday, but with no luck. So, he reported to Anaheim Police department that it must have been stolen from his car as it sat in front of his home, 725 N. Clementine.

In the pocket of the cost was the mayor's wallet containing the usual assortment of license, identification cards, credit cards, etc.

Local Woman Ends Life By Hanging

Believed to have been despondent due to a recent nervous breakdown, Florence Lillian Kays, 44, ended her life late yesterday by hanging herself from a rafter in the garage at her home, 1025 W. Sycamore st., Anaheim. She left no note.

Her son, James Emerson Tucker, 22, a merchant seaman, found her body hanging in the garage on his return from Seaman's Hall in San Pedro and cut her down with a kitchen bread knife. Then he summoned police.

She was pronounced dead by Deputy Coroner Frank Hanson.

Tucker told police that Mrs. Kays, also known as Susan L. Kays, had been under treatment by a Santa Ana psychiatrist for a nervous breakdown. He said she had on numerous occasions said she was tired of living and wondered why she wasn't dead. Coroner Earl R. Abbey said there would be no inquest.

Mrs. Kays was the wife of Palmer J. Kays, third mate on the Mormacgulf, a ship of the McCormick steamship line, due in today at San Francisco.

Mrs. Kays was proprietress of Susan's Dress shop, formerly located at 166 W. Center st. She had lived in Anaheim three years.

The remains were removed to Backs, Campbell and Kaulbars mortuary. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Irvine Ranch to Host July, 1953, Boy Scout Jamboree

Orange county's huge Irvine Ranch will be the tenting grounds for 50,000 Boy Scouts when the third National Scout Jamboree is held, July 10-16, 1953, it has been announced by Scout leaders.

Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, chief Scout executive, accepted the offer of the ranch last night at a dinner in Los Angeles attended by Myford Irvine, president of the Irvine Ranch Corp., Scout leaders Frank Woenecraft, Washington, D.C.; Henry B. Grandon, Los Angeles; and other Southern California leaders.

The 3000-acre tent city will overlook the Pacific ocean from the bluffs above Corona Del Mar. Ray H. Bryan, national Scout executive who has engineered all three U.S. Jamborees, said this will be the "largest gathering of free youth in the world."

Other national Scout gatherings were the 1937 Washington, D.C. Jamboree attended by 27,000 and the 1950 Valley Forge, Penna., meeting of 47,500 Scouts.

Dr. Schuck, here from New York headquarters, said that 80 per cent of the Scouts will arrive at the camp on 105 special trains. At least one boy from each troop and one explorer Scout from each unit in the United States will attend the Jamboree, he said.

Invitations will be sent to 55 countries.

Two Anaheim Future Farmers Given Coveted State Farmer Degrees

Last night at a state award banquet held at Veteran's Memorial Auditorium in San Luis Obispo the coveted State Farm Degree was conferred upon Robert Van Dyke and Carroll Coykendall, both AUHS seniors and prominent in Future Farmer work in this area.

To become a State Farmer one must:

1. Have at least earned $250 from his supervised farming programs in agriculture;
2. Pass a parliamentary procedure test on Robert's Rules of Order;
4. Be enrolled in his third or fourth year of a high school vocational agriculture class;
5. Be outstanding in leadership, community service, scholarship, and projects as is certified in the 12 page questionnaire applicents make out;
6. Pass an oral test by the regional supervisor of agriculture education;
8. Receive a majority vote of the delegates to the state FFA convention.

Not more than 1 per cent of the state membership can receive this degree. Robert and Carroll are among the 12 who received the degree from Southern California.

Attending the banquet from Anaheim were Mrs. Jesse Coykendall, Carroll's mother, two of Carroll's aunts from Los Angeles, delegates from AUHS FFA, Larry Fischbeck, and Rodger DeMille, Regional Sentinel Stanley Spicer, State Future Homemakers President Ada Stanley and Mrs. Walker, local home making instructor.

The Anaheim Future Farmer Chapter received the Master Chapter Award at the award banquet. To receive this award the local chapter had to pass a rigid inspection as set up by the State FFA convention which includes 20 points, including some co-operative activity, a program of work initiated during the first week of school, and many other high standards. Ten schools in Southern California's 62 high schools teaching vocational agriculture have received this award.

The State FFA convention being held at California State Polytechnic College in San Luis Obispo closed at noon today with the election and installation of the state FFA officers.

Quiet Title Sought to Irvine Land

Suit to quiet title to Newport Beach property transferred by the late James Irvine, of the Irvine ranch, to his wife, the late Mrs. Katharine White Irvine, following their marriage in 1931, was filed today in Superior court at Santa Ana by Mrs. Kathryn L. Wheeler daughter of Mrs. Irvine, who since acquired the property.

Apparently a friendly action, the suit named Myford Irvine, son of James Irvine and present head of the ranch company, and his co-executor and executrix, Robert H. Gerdes and E. M. Price, as defendants. The complaint did not indicate that they were making any claim to the property, which is located at Second and Avocado streets, Newport Beach.

James Irvine, according to the complaint on file, entered an agreement Jan. 27, 1931, with Mrs. White, who was about to become his wife, by which he deeded to her certain residence property in San Francisco.

Following their marriage, they made a supplemental agreement in 1942, by which the Newport Beach property was substituted for the San Francisco property.

Mrs. Wheeler purchased the property from her mother's estate, when Mrs. Irvine's will was probated in Contra Costa county, following her death in 1950.

Brea Officials Scrap Over Water Works Bonds

City Treasurer Claire R. Bowers of Brea has refused to sign the $140,000 bonds recently voted in Brea for improvements to the city water works, and today the City of Brea brought suit in Superior court at Santa Ana for a writ of mandate, to compel her to sign.

The treasurer based her refusal on constitutional grounds. In a written statement to the city council she said the bonds would be invalid and in violation of Sec. 18, Article 11, of the state constitution.

The city's petition for a writ of mandate, filed through City Attorney Harold McCabe, recites that there are at present water works bonds outstanding in the amount of $37,250, remaining from bond issues totaling $135,000 voted in 1920, 1921 and 1931.

The city, which has belonged to the Metropolitan Water district since 1947, being part of the Coastal Municipal Water district, has never elected to pay the MWD tax, the complaint states. MWD outstanding bonds are said to be an obligation upon all members.

The bond issue now in question, $140,000 in revenue bonds, were approved by Brea voters last Nov. 6 by a vote of 507 to 93. The bonds were intended to finance additions, extensions and improvements to the present water system, the petition states.

WSB Head Testifies Before Labor Committee on Steel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nathan P. Feinsinger, chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB), carried the government's case in the steel wage-price row to capitol hill today in the wake of stinging criticism by former Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson.

Feinsinger was summoned before the House Labor committee in a board investigation of WSB policy, especially as it has been applied in the steel case.

The board's recommendation of a 26-cents-an-hour wage increase "package" touched off a history-making wrangle in the steel case which led to President Truman's seizure of the steel mills.

That action is now before the Supreme court, with arguments scheduled to begin Monday. Pending a final decision, the steel mills are operating under government control.

• • •

IN PHILADELPHIA today, the situation comes under discussion at a closed meeting of the executive board of the CIO Steelworkers union, headed by President Philip Murray.

Actions of the policy-making group usually are kept secret until ratified by convention or the Union's 170-man wage-policy committee. Today's session is a prelude to the steelworkers' convention—about 300 delegates from 2200 locals in the United States and Canada—opening next Wednesday in Philadelphia.

• • •

FEINSINGER TOLD Congress a rash of serious strikes and industrial "chaos" may result if Congress strips the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) of power to recommend settlements in labor disputes.

Only yesterday Charles E. Wilson, former mobilization chief who resigned in protest against administration handling of the steel labor case, had suggested to the group that the wage board's power should be trimmed down.

Wilson asserted that the WSB went far beyond stabilization policy in its recommendations for a wage rise for steel workers.

Feinsinger said the board's recommendations were fair and were consistent with wage increases negotiated voluntarily in other industries.

US Defense Heads Say Peace Offer Is Fair and Final

WASHINGTON (AP) — United States officials described as "fair" and as "final" today the package proposal for an armistice made to the communists in Korea.

Deputy Secretary of Defense William C. Foster called it final, saying it has the approval of the United Nations Allies and that there will be no further concessions.

But in talking to reporters, Foster said this firm stand is not an "ultimatum."

While the United States considers the offer final, Foster said, it is "perfectly willing" to discuss with the reds the details.

Foster was asked what the alternatives would be if the communists rejected the proposals.

He replied that a "number of alternatives are available," but that "the course of events would affect which ones would be used."

He was asked if a naval blockade of the China coast was one alternative. Foster answered that "naval blockades of course, have been discussed."

Decision Held Up by Striking Oil Unions

DENVER (AP)—A union coalition directing a nation-wide strike of about 90,000 oil workers delayed its decision today on whether to resume work pending a meeting with the Wage Stabilization board next Tuesday.

Effects of the strike, which already has cut commercial and private flying, brought out coal locomotives in place of oil-burning diesels and dried up filling station pumps in scattered areas, spread to Alaska. Military flying there was drastically curtailed today.

The coordinating committee of the 22 unions which called the strike April 30 for higher wages has agreed to attend the Washington conference.

However, O. A. Knight, president of the Oil Workers International Union (CIO), largest in the coalition, said in Denver he regretted the WSB's action at this time. Knight said it threatens several negotations he termed promising.

• • •

Knight also disclosed that striking oil workers and the Defense department have agreed on procedures to keep essential petroleum products flowing to the Armed Services.

All Army, Navy and Air Force requests for release of essential oil products from strikebound plants must be sent to the department. It will screen them and then relay those it approves to Knight's headquarters in Denver.

"I will then relay these requests to the local or locals involved and the oil products will be released to the government," Knight said in a statement.

"We made it clear when the nation-wide oil strike began that we were not striking against the public and certainly not striking against our Armed Forces."

Taft, Kefauver Take Leads After Ohio Primary Vote

By The Associated Press

Ohio voters pushed Senators Robert Taft and Estes Kefauver into the lead today in the primary skirmishing for delegates to the Republican and Democratic national conventions.

Tennessee's Kefauver had to be content, however, with an even split in the two big primary contests yesterday. His unbroken string of victories was snapped in Florida, where the south's favorite son, Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, won a close popularity test.

Taft scored a clean sweep in his home state, adding 56 delegates to his total and moving ahead of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower in the see-saw struggle for Republican convention delegates.

Bucking the Democratic organization in Ohio, Kefauver won 24 delegate races and was ahead in four others, giving him a possible final vote of 28, better than half the state's 54-vote delegation.

The Tennessean entered only a partial slate against a favorite son candidate, former Sen. Robert Bulkley, who defeated Kefauver in only four direct contests. The Bulkley slate picked up 22 delegates in uncontested districts.

The Ohio victory moved Kefauver into first place among Democratic candidates ahead of W. Averell Harriman, Mutual Security administrator, who had been the front runner in delegate strength, according to an Associated Press survey of delegates pledged, instructed, favorable, willing to state a first ballot preference, or conceded by candidated.

Today's tally gave Kefauver 100½ and Harriman 93½.

• • •

EISENHOWER, who was not entered in Ohio, was leading Taft, 284-281, according to the AP poll, before the Ohio returns. Taft's campaign leaders claim more delegates. They said he now has 404 delegates to 280 for the general.

Florida delegates were not chosen yesterday. Another primary is set in that state for May 27, with both Russell and Kefauver expected to put on another campaign.

Russell gained most of his strength in the farm areas while Kefauver ran strongly in the cities. The Georgia Senator moved ahead shortly after midnight and continued to widen his margin, which was running about 25,000 votes ahead of Kefauver.

Gen. Mark Clark Reports in Tokyo For Far East Duty

TOKYO (AP)—Gen. Mark W. Clark arrived today to take over Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's posts as United Nations and U.S. commander in the Far East.

Ridgway will leave Monday to succeed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as NATO commander in Europe.

Clark said he would "do everything in my power to bring about an honorable armistice in Korea."

Only two hours earlier, Ridgway announced the communists had rejected the U.N. command's "final compromise" on a Korean armistice agreement.

Thus Clark steps into the gravest crisis of the ten months truce negotiations.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U.S. batle casualties in Korea reached 108,172 today, an increase of 207 since last week.

LAS VEGAS, Nev.—ATOMIC DAYLIGHT—The pre-dawn sky to the northwest of Las Vegas is lighted vividly by the explosion of an atomic bomb at the Atomic Energy Commission's proving grounds at Yucca Flat, Nevada, some 75 miles from the city. This picture, made in downtown Las Vegas, looks toward the Yucca Flat area. This blast, the 18th in the continental United States, was the first pre-dawn explosion since February, 1951.—(Associated Press Wirephoto)

Eighteenth Atomic Blast in US Released at Yucca Flats Test Area

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — An atomic blast, touched off from a tower at the Yucca Flat test area, brilliantly lighted up the pre-dawn sky today.

Scores of persons from hotel rooftops and lawns saw the white light flash across the cloudy sky and then dim to a ruddy hue.

Buildings in this resort city, 75 miles from the test area, became plainly visible for a moment as though from "white sunlight."

The flash, occurring at 5:15 a.m. Pacific Daylight Time (7:15 a.m. Eastern Standard Time), appeared as a "quick blink" in Los Angeles, 250 miles away.

An atomic cloud became visible above the mountains between here and Yucca Flat, but it disappeared quickly.

There were no apparent effects from the blast here. No shock was felt and there was no sound.

Eleven residents of Groom mine, 20 miles northeast of the firing area, were moved out last night. They won't return until radiation monitoring crews report the mine area safe.

Atomic Energy commission aides had warned residents of St. George, Utah, 125 miles north of here, and of Caliente, Nev., 185 miles northeast, to be prepared for a shock from the A-blast.

AEC scientists expected to make vital comparisons between this test and the first five held at the Nevada site in early 1951. All of those shots were in the dark. Since then all explosions have come at dawn or later.

Dr. Alvin C. Graves, test director, says a darkness explosion is easier to record photographically. This is important from the standpoint of scientific measurements.

TRAFFIC INJURY

Earl Claude Jacobs, US Navy man from South Murray, Utah, is in Anaheim Community hospital today with a head injury incurred when he drove his motorcycle into the plate glass window of Walberg's dress shop at 181 W. Center st., Anaheim, at 12:39 a.m. today.

Red Cross Workers Thanked for Flood Drive Efforts

Joe R. Thompson, chairman of Anaheim chapter of the Red Cross today publicly thanked members of Anaheim organizations who pushed the local drive for relief funds for Midwest flood victims. His message follows:

"The Anaheim chapter of the Red Cross thanks Co-chairmen Mrs. Lucille Wilson and Miss Frieda Janss for co-ordinating in an efficient manner the Flood Relief Fund Drive last Friday and Saturday in Anaheim.

"The presidents of the several organizations, including Junior Ebell, Altrusa, Business and Professional Women, Assistance League, Dorcas Society of Zion Lutheran, and the Colonial Coeds of Anaheim High school, are asked to thank their members and all individuals solicited by them who participated in this program of 'people helping people' in the name of Red Cross.

"In spite of the splendid effort by the workers and the generosity of our citizens, the goal was not reached. Any individuals or firms wishing to help our own fund drive and flood relief fund may send in their check to local Red Cross headquarters in City Hall, Anaheim."

Real Gold and P & L Teams Put Away Big Softball Upsets

Two surprising results were recorded in last night's Industrial League softball play, when Real Gold upset the favored Kwikset nine, 6-5, in a wire to wire thriller. The big surprise of the evening was when P & L Transmission, a team badly beaten last week by Kwikset, sprang their invisible weapon and took Chicksan in the second game at La Palma park, 5 to 0.

In the first game, it was Ralph Anderson, Real Gold catcher, who stole the lime light as he collected three for three to score twice and drive in two runs. Ralph Kisner, third sacker, also collected two singles. Ray Mallonee, first baseman, hit a homer in the second inning.

Kwikset picked its runs on Boozel's single, followed by Garcia's triple in the fifth. In the sixth, Melchum walked, Noggles singled and both scored on an error. Five straight walks produced two more runs, as Sims, right fielder, popped up to pitcher to end the inning with bases loaded

The P & L boys took a third inning lead over Chicksan 3-0 and were never headed. Singles by Aguirre, Allen and Hulett plus walks to Pearson and Salazar produced the runs. Successive singles by Legg and Salazar, helped on by a third base error tallied the other runs.

Tonight the City League goes into action again. Los Alamitos Merchants will meet Stanton Merchants in the 7 o'clock event and Davies Bakery will defend their honor against Koopman's Furniture at the 8:30 game in the City Park.

Oh Yes—The Stars Also Will Play Ball Tonight; Los Angeles Wins, Padres Lose

The Hollywood Stars, who've been singing those box office blues since the start of the Pacific Coast league season, borrow a page tonight from the book of Bill Veeck, bossman of the St. Louis Browns.

Brother Veeck has achieved more than modest success by pulling just about every circus stunt that might possibly lure a human being to a turnstile—including midget players, fireworks, orchids and beer and breakfast in the bleachers.

Everyone who comes to the Stars' ball park gets a gift tonight. There'll be an orchid for each of the first 1000 women. The first 500 men get straw hats, MacArthur corncob pipes, cigarettes and a package of cereal. Even the kiddies get treated—to whistles baloons, and candy.

Special gifts include a TV set, gas range, washing machine, diamond ring, round trip for two to Las Vegas, Nev., a Pullman bag, an electric broiler, two 20-pound hams and 500 25-pound bags of groceries.

In addition, the Stars will play the San Francisco Seals in a baseball game.

* * * *

"LAST NIGHT Hollywood moved into second place, 2½ games behind San Diego, by downing the Seals 9-3. Bonus baby Paul Pettit ran into only occasional trouble in pitching his second win. It was the first time he's gone the route. Hollywood bombarded three Seal hurlers for 14 safeties.

Three runs in the first two innings, including a homer by Lavigne, gave Los Angeles a 3-2 win over Oakland. The Oaks made their points in the ninth on a walk, a triple by Lloyd Christopher, an error and flyout.

At San Diego the Sacramento Solons pounded two pitchers for 12 hits and a 7-2 victory. Glenn Elliott held the Padres to six hits in posting his third win. San Diego's Jack Graham slammed his fifth home run in the fifth.

Portland trounced Seattle 8-2 with a mighty six-run splurge in the eighth inning. Don Egger, whose sizzling line drive had earlier sent Seattle Manager Bill Sweeney to the hospital with an injured arm, sparked the uprising with a grand slam homer.

Angels Expecting Chuck Connors to Return to Action

As Skipper Stan Hack leads his club into Oakland for seven games this week, Angel hopes are high for a much stronger lineup than Hack has been able to field in the last three weeks.

First, it is hoped that big Chuck Connors, the slugging first baseman, who has been on the hospital roster since April 13, will be able to resume action. Connors made one pinch hitting appearance last week and aggravated the left shoulder injury but it is thought that additional treatment he received since then has been sufficient.

Left handed hitting outfielder Ron Northey, recently purchased outright from the Chicago Cubs, will join the team in Oakland.

In event Connors is playing, Max West can return to the outfield and with West, Connors and Northey, Hack can field three portside slege guns to aim for the short rightfield fence in the Oakland park.

PALO ALTO (AP) — Stanford University's athletic program will lose money in the 1952-1953 year, Athletic Director Al Masters figures.

Colonists Drop Heartbreaker To Fullerton Baseballers, 2-0

It was a short and bitter story for the Anaheim Colonist baseball team as they dropped their third league game of the season to the Fullerton Indians in a game at La Palma park, 2-0.

Off to a shaky start, the Colonists played good ball in every inning but the top of the first when two fielding bobbles yielded up the two runs for the invaders, enough to win the encounter. With the ball game only seconds old and two men on base Lupe Gonzales scooped up a bounding grounder and chucked to where first sacker Carl Hatfield had just been to permit the first Fullerton run to score. A moment later, on what should have been the out that retired the side, short stop Gayle Herbel bobbled a grounder hit at him, and the second run scored. The Fullerton runs were scored by two boys familiar to football sports fans of the area—Pennington and Hudson.

* * *

THE REMAINDER of the game went scoreless for both sides as Colonist pitcher Val Wiethorn allowed only a four hit total for the game. Anaheim batters, although unable to adequately group their hitting, clouted out six hits with Gayle Herbel, regular big stickman of the club, leading with two for three trips to bat. Gonzales, Steinborn, Herrera and Ramella also each collected a hit.

Coach Clare Van Horebeke's JV squad, meanwhile, knocked off the Fullerton JV squad by a 3-0 count.

Anaheim Divotmen Defeat Orange High

Anaheim high school golf team won a match from Orange High school golfers yesterday on the Willowick fairways, 30-0.

High man for Coach Dick Glover's young divotmen was Gary Claussen who fired a 76. Monday the same squad dropped both halves of a triangular CIF league duel on the same green; losing to Whittier by a 30-6 count and to Long Beach Poly, 32-4. They hold a four win, six loss record in league competition for the season.

Herman Wehmeier, pitcher for the Cincinnati Reds, was once a star football player for Cincinnati Western Hills High School.

Florida's tennis team is composed of six Floridians, one Kentuckian and a freshman from Illinois.

Entebbe is the capital of the British Uganda protectorate.

Cookmen Beat Fullerton, Set For CIF Play

Bill Cook's Anaheim high tennis squad won the right to represent the Sunset League in CIF playoff matches yesterday afternoon as they pounded Fullerton racketmen 8-1 on the local courts.

Their first round opposition who they'll meet this coming Saturday, will not be announced until later today. The Anaheim netmen were awarded the right to represent the league in playoffs on the basis of their three win, no loss record this season. They have yet to meet teams from Orange and Newport to clinch another league championship, however.

CIF tennis playoffs, done in similar fashion last year, are treated in this manner to enable completion of playoffs before school lets out. Last year's Cook's team won both the loop title and league representative in CIF playoffs, but bowed out in the first early CIF match with La Jolla.

* * *

YESTERDAY, perhaps fired up by the prospect of being CIF representative for the league should they win, the Colonist netmen decisively beat the Indians; the varsity dropping only the fifth singles match and the JV squad taking a clean sweep of all nine of their matches.

Jim Hirsch, 19-year-old second baseman for the University of Florida baseball team, is the only freshman in the starting lineup.

The first foals of the world champion 2-year old pacer, Knight Dream, will appear on the harness racing turf this year.

The University of Alabama's varsity tennis coach, C. De La Menardiere, is a former flying hero with the French Air Force.

In 63 years of football competition, the Notre Dame gridders have won 399 games, lost 83 and tied 32.

Al Clayes to Swim in CIF Finals Friday

By again smashing his own school record for the 50 yard free style, Al Clayes was the only member of the three-man Anaheim high swimming team to qualify in the CIF southern section swimming semi-finals held yesterday afternoon in the Long Beach Jordan pool. Finals will be held this Friday in the same pool.

Clayes, swimming against the 12 top swimmers in his event in prep Southland circles placed fifth in 25 flat, two-tenths over the old school mark. Class Cee swimmer Tony Zava, swimming in the 50 yard free style, trailed home unplaced after completely missing his turn. He was caught in 26.3 by Coach Bill Hunstock, a respectable mark in normal league competition, nevertheless.

Bobby Kinoshita, junior swimmer, moved up from Bee ranks only several weeks ago and who three times shattered his own record marks, also went unplaced in the 100 yard breast stroke. The event was won in a surprising 1.9. Kinoshita's best effort to season has been 1.15.

Top Vaulters Will Appear In Coliseum

In the history of track and field, there have been only four athletes to top 15-feet in the pole vault. Three of them are competing actively now, and for the first time they will be brought together at the 12th Annual Los Angeles Coliseum relays, Friday night, May 16.

Announcement was made by Chairman William C. Ackerman, who said that Don Laz and the Rev. Bob Richards, both formerly of the University of Illinois; Don Cooper, formerly of Nebraska, are the sky-reaching bamboo artists who will be swinging over that 15-foot ceiling.

Richards has the best mark of the trio, 15-feet 7-inches, but Don Laz is consistent over 15 feet, and Cooper, after winning the event at San Diego a week ago, then unofficially cleared 15-feet 1½ inches.

The pole vault field also includes such 14-feet-plus vaulters as Jack Rowan, formerly of U.S.C. now wearing the Los Angeles Athletic Club colors, and Bobby Smith, the Marine who attended San Diego State.

Highlighting the U.S. Olympic committee's campaign to raise its 1952 budget of $850,000 will be the nation-wide observance of "Olympic Week," May 18 to 25. President Truman has been asked to issue a proclamation urging all citizens to support the Olympic team in order to insure the United States will be fully and adequately represented in the XV Olympic games.

Afternoon Nuptials at St. Boniface Unite Audrey Kruse-John Jagdfeld

Varying shades of pink, used to decorate the altar of St. Boniface church, were matched by the gowns worn in the pretty afternoon service which united Miss Audrey Joan Kruse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Kruse of S. Los Angeles st. and John Jagdfeld of Brillion, Wis.

The Rev. Michael Casey officiated at the double ring nuptials, witnessed by 150 guests.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a blush pink gown with a full skirt of nylon tulle and molded bodice of satin and lace. A high stand-up collar detailed the neckline. A tiara of orange blossoms worn by her grandmother and her mother at their marriages, held her veil and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis with a white orchid.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Charles Heaverin, wore a pale pink gown of nylon and chantilly lace in ballerina length with a bouquet of purple stock.

Bridesmaid was Mrs. Kenneth Hatter who wore a pink ballerina gown in a deeper shade and carried purple stock.

Nelson Breiederle was best man and ushers were William Kruse, brother of the bride and Clayton Maliory.

A basket of rose petals was carried by Cheryl Lee Stubblefield of Fullerton who was flower girl. Her dress was identical to the bride's.

Soloist, Mrs. Ethel Hempshall, was accompanied by Mrs. A. E. Faust, in the selections, "Oh God of Loveliness," "Oh Love Divine," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Reception followed at Capilla de San Antonio, also decorated to carry out the pink motif. Assisting were Mrs. Edward Heinze, Mrs. Arnold Howard Jr., and Mrs. Ray Allen.

The bride's mother wore a dress of aqua silk with accessories in pink and a corsage of tiny pink rosebuds. The bridegroom's parents, residents of Wisconsin, were unable to attend.

For a honeymoon in Mexico the new Mrs. Jagdfeld chose a marine blue gabardine suit and ping accessories. She is a graduate of Anaheim High school and Fullerton Junior college. Her husband attended schools in Wisconsin. Their new address is 212 Susanne st.

Local Resident Birthday Party

Joe Huss of 825 N. Sabina st., was honored at a party on his 61st birthday Sunday given by his son, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Huss of Yorba Linda. Sharing honors was his nephew, Airman 2c Duke Chalupe, of Sargent, Neb., who is stationed at Travis 9ir Force Base, Sacramento, who was 22 on Monday.

The 24 relatives at dinner were Mrs. Joe Huss and Mrs. Veva Gorman of Anaheim, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Huss and Wayne, Jerry and the twins, Dale and Dean of Hanson Manor; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Huss and their duaghter, Rita, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huss and Debbie Kay, Barbara and Bobby of Long Beach and the Alfred Huss son and daughter, Jimmy Harding and Kathy.

All kindergarten mothers of pupils in Savanna school will be honored at tea Friday, May 9. The morning tea will be at 10:45 to 11:30 and the afternoon tea from 2:05 to 2:50. Mrs. Mabel Heitman, teacher, will receive the mothers.

Prospective Sorority Girls Honored at Tea

The beautiful ranch home of Mrs. Robert Tulin on Rodeo rd., Fullerton, was the setting Sunday afternoon for a tea sponsored by Northern Orange County Pan-Hellenic league with all graduates of north county high schools and Fullerton Junior college as honored guests.

Mrs. Charles Peterson, president, was ably assisted by Mrs. Lila Phetaplace, chairman of the tea.

Guests were served from a table set with a lace cloth, silver, flowers and lighted tapers.

In the patio was a fashion display from Mrs. Bowne's shop in Fullerton. Fashions suitable for a collegienne wardrobe were modeled. Every girl interested in joining a sorority at the college of her choice was asked to fill out an application for use during rush week.

Something Special For Mother's Day Gift

PARIS (AP)—Fashions in a sweet and innocent mood for the coming summer are launched by Maggy Rouff in her current mid-season collection.

Some are hardly more sophisticated than a housewife's ruffled apron.

Demure checked frocks with small waists and flaring skirts take starched white Peter Pan collars and cuffs. Prints have flounced hems or ruffles of openwork embroidery at the hem, and the simplest of linen dresses are simply trimmed with lines of wool stitching or bands of embroidered braid.

Pleated corset effects—starting just above the bustline and continuing to mid-hip line—make still another appearance. Slim, tubular summer coats with short puffed sleeves are made of paisly-printed pique.

Rouff, like many another Parisian designer this season, likes the princess line. This silhouette is tight in the bodice, waist and hips, flaring out in the skirt.

Easier Housewife Life Noted by Can Economists

Mother's Day note for Californians: Mom has it a lot easier in the kitchen than did her mother.

In fact, says the home economics department of American Can Company, the 3,000,000 California homemakers now spend 2,190,000,000 fewer hours a year on kitchen chores than did their mothers in the 1920's—that's about 730 hours apiece! Tests show that it now takes the averdge housewife only two hours to prepare three meals a day compared with four hours a quarter century ago.

Largely responsible for this relief from kitchen burdens is the increased use of canned foods, say the cooking experts at the canmaking concern. A single six-ounce can of frozen concentrated orange juice, for example, saves over eight minutes in squeezing time. Among other important time savers are canned baby foods, soups, meats and fruit salad, as well as the perennial fruits and vegetables.

Melvin S. Huss of Hanson Manor flew to Oakland on business for the Essex Wire Company and returned Thursday night.

By JOAN S. WHITE

"Darling, you are wonderful—you deserve the very best," coos the Continental in romantic European accents, and women all over America sit entranced before their television sets despite the fact that in most of these homes there also sits an American husband behind an evening paper.

What is the reason for the Continental's phenomenal success? He fills a gap left by the man she married—the man who is a dependable husband, a good father—and of whom she thinks the world—but who fails to take time out now and then to make her feel cherished and adored.

Her children, too, are prone to accept her daily small sacrifices and loving care as a matter of course. Is it any wonder that she is tempted to click on the TV set for a compliment or two and a bit of out and out admiration?

• • •

HER BIG DAY—Dad, next Sunday is Mother's Day, the one day set aside each year to give mother her due. If you are competing with the Continental at your house (or even if you aren't), how about getting in a huddle with the kids to plan ways and means of showing mother she is really appreciated?

If you have been letting her do the church going for the family, get slicked up this Sunday and go with her. How about that ride she has been wanting to take, the folks she has longed to visit, or the show she has been hinting to see?

Give her a vacation from the kitchen stove by taking her out to dinner, or planning a picnic—with you and the kids doing the work this time.

A special gift is tangible evidence of your affection after you've made with a compliment or two. Can't think of a thing she needs? Well, chances are, she has already bought the things she really needs but would be bowled over with an unexpected luxury that is never included in the household budget.

• • •

PAMPER THE DARLING — Pamper the darling with flowers and perfume. Fred's House of Flowers make exquisite corsages to your order and can supply beautiful cut flowers as well. You will find a good selection of perfumes at McCoy's drug store, along with sweet scented bath oil and dusting powder. A tricky atomizer or a musical powder box is always very welcome.

Penney's is featuring specal values in gift items for Mother's Day. A tour of the departments from ladies ready-to-wear to handbags, costume jewelry, gaily colored scarves, jewelry and lingerie will reveal many a just right gift.

You will want to see the luxury lines at S.Q.R.—the lovely nylon underthings, the smart TV lounging robes, gossamer sheer hosiery to name a few—and rest assured that any item purchased at S.Q.R. is in perfect taste.

If it is glamour you go for, dad, give mother a gift of a new hair do at Maxine's Salon. A new hair style and a good permanent is sure to give her a new lease on life.

You will find glamour gifts, too, at Cotler's—beach wear, sports apparel and evening-out finery. If she is the outdoor type, or a sports enthusiast, try Clarise Sportswear for slacks, sweaters and other types of playclothes.

And whether mother enjoys fun in the sun, spectator sports, home entertaining, or really "dressy" occasions, she will love the suitable accessories at Ballards, at Walburg's and at Moon's Gift Shop—a perky blouse, a colorful summer coat, or a unique piece of costume jewelry.

• • •

HAS SHE HINTED?—When surrounded by a doting family "who never know what to get," mother sometimes becomes adroit at dropping hints now and then. Perhaps she has mentioned something she needs for the house. Mitchell's selection of crystal and china have caught the eye of countless Anaheim home-makers. Likewise, the matching pictures in maple frames at Smith-Reafsnyder, floor and table lamps from Aaron Schultz, and the latest in reclining chairs at Garey's Home of Fine Furniture.

The "House of Lights" has an unusual collection of lamps, separate shades, lighting fixtures and a complete line of small electrical appliances such as mixers, toasters, coffee makers and waffle irons.

For the lady who sews, the Anaheim Textile store carries many a gadget to make her work easier and more enjoyable. Perhaps a dress length of fabric would be easier to select for mother than a dress ready made.

Perhaps mother rides a hobby that will provide a clue to the most welcome gift. Is she an enthusiastic gardener? Botts Nursery can provide tools and plants. Will she be using the outdoor barbecue this summer? Weber Book Store have several interesting how-to-do-it books that will help. Try the Weber Book Store also for stationery, desk sets, address books, lovely ceramic vases and candy dishes, and starter sets of dinnerware and crystal.

• • •

EVENING HOURS—With Mother's Day such a short time away, Anaheim stores are well stocked with an excellent selection of merchandise chosen with Anaheim mothers in mind. We suggest you shop as early as possible and to keep in mind the Friday evening store hours if it is difficult for you to shop during the day.

Magnolia P-TA Has Installation

Mrs. Lawrence C. Martin, past president, presented newly elected officers of Magnolia P-TA for installation by Mrs. Frank J. Cushing, Jr., 1951 president, Tuesday afternoon in the school auditorium.

Mrs. Cushing pinned a blue corsage of Dutch lilies tied in gold on Mrs. Homer Kirk who is president for the second year. Receiving cream colored lilies with blue ribbons were Mrs. Roy Fierce, vice-president; Mrs. Lenzi Allred, recording secretary; Mrs. Kenneth Spaulding, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Cleo Mossman, re-elected treasurer; Mrs. Phillip Bradley, re-elected historian; Mrs. Walter Hutchens, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Jack Parsons, auditor.

The president presented her board and committee chairman each with a book, illustrated in color, telling of their duties.

Mrs. Conan W. Gray of Anaheim, sixth vice-president of the Fourth District P-TA was a special guest speaker.

Mrs. Marguerite Micelli, first grade teacher, gave the invocation followed by a flag salute of the Brownies No. 56 under Mrs. Rosa E. Sutherland.

Mrs. James Allen presented a musical program. Mrs. Fierce and her daughter, Gayle, played a piano duet, "Argonaise," and encored with "The Swan."

Mrs. Donna Flynn, soprano and first grade teacher, sang a group of numbers, "Indian Dawn," "On Dry Those Tears," "When Twilight Comes" and "I Love a Lassie," with Mrs. Edmund R. Cook playing a violin obligato accompanied by Mrs. Serol Smith.

Mrs. Mattie Lou Maxwell, principal, explained by request the meaning of the petitions being circulated to be sent the state to raise the teachers salaries. It is hoped to get the request on the voting ballots in the fall which would make the Magnolia teachers minimum $3800 per year. Magnolia now receives $108 from the state and would like an increase of $25 to make a total of $133.

Mrs. Martin was named head of the annual school picnic committee for June 10 at Irvine park, assisted by Mrs. Lawrence Dunnett, Mrs. Verner Neher, Mrs. John F. O'Hearn, Mrs. Kirk and Mrs. E. Cook, publicity chairman. A car caravan has been arranged to leave the school at 9 a.m., with rides available for those who do not have transportation. The mother and daughter softball game will start at one o'clock and the fathers and sons at 2 p.m.

The organization gave a tether ball to the students. Room count was taken by the first grade.

Mrs. Kirk showed yellow ribbon won for membership at the Fourth District meeting and the seals for the sale of magazines.

Mrs. Micelli invited parents with problems concerning their children to attend the meeting next Tuesday night in the first grade room when R. G. Heckleman, psychologist for the Orange county schools, will speak and answer questions.

It was voted to give $20 to Magnolia school No. 2 toward refreshments for the annual seventh and eighth grade outing.

Mrs. Aleene Wiley presented a fashion show with 16 local models from two to seven years of age showing the latest in sun attire, school and party dresses.

Tea hostesses were Mrs. Rex Nierson, Mrs. Lane Fechter, Mrs. Neher and Mrs. Spaulding. The table was centered with a glass cake tray, the stem of which was used to hold the ribbons leading to dolls in pastel colored hand crocheted ensembles, forming a May Pole with dancers with floral arrangements of sweet peas and roses. The stage was decorated with large bouquet of snapdragons. Mrs. Richard S. Yates was floral chairman.

Fund Raising Benefit Set

The annual carnival and fund raising event of the Centralia P-TA will start at 4 p.m., May 9. Each classroom has charge of a booth or project of their own, led by their teacher, according to Glen H. Dysinger, principal.

The 1st grade will have a fish pond; 2nd, a puppet show; 3rd, novelties; 4th, candy and ice cream; 5th, hot dogs; 6th, pop corn; 7th, ring the sucker; 8th, peep show.

Orange juice chairman is Mrs. C. L. Wicker and needlework and aprons, Mrs. Dwight Jahr. Mrs. Michael Border and Mrs. Charles N. Brock are in charge of tickets.

Mrs. Raymond A. Dillon is dinner chairman. A complete meal will be served in the 4th grade room from 5:30 to 7 o'clock, parents 75c and children 50c.

A motion picture show will conclude the evening program.

June Wedding Plans Told

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Duncan, 110 Melrose st., have announced the engagement and coming marriage of their daughter, Mary Jo, to Donald Purkerson of Coburg, Ore. The marriage has been set for June 14, at the White Temple Methodist church.

Miss Duncan is a senior at Anaheim Union high and Purkerson is a Sergeant in the U. S. Marine Corps at Del Mar.

Slapstick Baton Is Wielded To Create Music for Laughing

By TOM E. DANSON

HOLLYWOOD—Creating music for laughing is a serious business with Irving Miller, music director for the CBS "Meet Millie" and "Bob Hawk" shows. He is a specialist with the slapstick baton, and any listener spotting his derisive, rowdy brazen music-sounds knows that he is in for a typically-Miller introduction to a comedy show.

Funny, how one never realizes the different specialized segments that all make up a good listenable radio show, and, all must work together. In Miller's particular segment, after having delivered an audience "fit for laughing," does he rest? Indeed, no! His work has just begun.

For example, on the Bob Hawk of short comedy cues which he directs ad lib to go with the payoff laughs on Hawk's jokes. He has worked out many sound effects by instrumentation. His men can play a bulldozer or a cow; a train or a crowded hotel lobby, and can simulate such moods as laughter and sorrow. He has a song for just about every state in the union.

I was curious to know how he reproduces a bulldozer sound. The answer is by drums and trumpet. The electric guitar can run the gamut of human emotions, according to Miller.

This maestro of slapstick also possesses the knack of getting concert orchestra volume and overlapping sound from small combinations of eight or nine men. This ability is no laughing matter in these days of meager music budgets for both TV and radio.

Irving is one of very few musicians who can sit down at the piano and rattle off 2030 popular tunes from memory. He can "vamp until ready" for hours. He learned these in the years he served as pianist for such great society and theater favorites as Emil Coleman and Meyer Davis. He also was featured pianist in New York's Ritz-Carlton, and the Embassy Super club, and other distinguished dine-and-dance spots.

But with Irving, it's now always, just music for laughing!

Local Optimists To View Soap Box Derby Pictures

Colored moving pictures of last year's Soap Box Derby will be shown to Anaheim Optimists tomorrow at 7 p.m. in Mother's Kitchen when the regular meeting of the club is held. Hursel Snyder, 1951 local chairman of the derby, will be at the projector.

Snyder will introduce the 1952 derby chairman, Bob Kelsey, who is assistant parts manager at Cone Bros., Chevrolet agency. For several years Cone Bros., the Optimist club and the Anaheim Gazette have co-sponsored the derby locally.

President-elect Al Garey is due to report on the Rudy Bros. circus which the Optimists will sponsor in AUHS auditorium May 10.

AWOL—Lieut. Clarence B. Wigley (above), 23, of Wichita Falls, Tex., AWOL from Travis Air Force Base, Fairfield, Calif., since last January, has been making his temporary home in the belfry of the Seventh Day Adventist's church in Vacaljo, Calif. Police picked him up on suspicion of loitering about the premises. The pastor, Rev. J. J. Dollinger, said he had been hearing strange noises "like somebody walking," from the belfry for months.—(Associated Press photo)

Belfry Tenant Discharged from U.S. Air Force

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Lt. Clarence B. Wigley, Jr., a B-29 pilot who lived in a church belfry several weeks, has been issued an Air Force discharge "under conditions other than honorable."

The Air Force said yesterday he was permitted to resign in lieu of a court martial on desertion charges. He was paroled to his father, Clarence B. Wigley, Sr., Wichita Falls, Tex.

The ex-flier, arrested last week, said he was the "phantom" of the Vallejo, Calif., Seventh-Day Adventist church belfry, who unlocked doors and removed food and dishes.

Wigley's discharge is a type without the penalty of a dishonorable separation, both without the privileges of an honorable one.

Juvenile Held For Shooting, Stabbing Child

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Fourteen-year-old John Sarver II was lodged in the children's detention home here today in the fatal shooting and stabbing of a 13-year-old companion.

District Attorney Huette F. Dowling said charges would be filed tomorrow. He did not specify what they would contain.

Sarver was taken into custody yesterday, Dowling said, after he admitted "accidentally" shooting Kenneth Teacher, Jr., and then disemboweling him with a machete.

Dowling said Sarver told him he became "sacred" after the shooting Monday night and plunged the big knife into Teacher's abdomen to disguise the bullet wound from a .22 calibre rifle.

The death took place on the northeast outskirts of Harrisburg less than two miles from where the boys lived.

Coroner Thomas J. Fritchey said an autopsy showed that 19 inches of intestine was cut from Teacher's abdomen and "pulled out by hand." Death could have been caused, he said, either by the bullet or stab wound.

Methodist Conference Closes with Leave-Taking Shot at Smoking

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Quadrennial General conference of the Methodist church closed a legislation-packed 14-day session last night with a parting shot at smoking.

In the final, fast-moving session, the conference voted to continue the no smoking pledge required of ministerial candidates. It voted against giving full ministerial rights to women, set forth the church's view on war and peace, made a change in the church's social creed, and set up a new board to study social and economic relations.

Church spokesmen said the conference made more major changes in church organization than any since the first conference of the United Methodist churches in 1939. It also handled a record number of legislative petitions.

From a survey commission report on overhauling church structure, the conference chose the least controversial parts and ordered them enacted. It agreed to redraw the organization of the 40,000 local churches, making an expanded official board the administrative authority in each.

The 720 delegates from some 25 countries passed resolutions calling for elimination of racial discrimination and censuring the unofficial Methodist Federation for Social action, which many churchmen labeled leftwing. They agreed that Negro churches might join white jurisdictions of all parties consented. They decided unordained pastors could administer the sacraments only if they were studying for ordination.

To run church agencies until the Quadrennial conference of 1956, delegates voted a record general budget of 11 million dollars for each of the next four years.

Some of the most heated debates came in the final hours. Urging the conference to throw out the no smoking pledge, the Rev. Dr. John M. Versteeg of Athens, Ohio, demanded:

"Did you ever hear of a man coming home and beating his wife and children because he had too much smoke inside him?"

The Rev. Dr. Cyrus Albertson of Seattle voiced the opinion of opponents when he said:

"It's not so much tobacco use as the impression ministerial candidates will get that somehow the Methodist church has pulled down its standards."

Socialists Ahead In British Vote

LONDON (AP)—British Socialists have scored strong gains in the opening phase of small town and rural council elections that last through Saturday.

Conservative headquarters conceded they were losing ground in this test of political sentiment among 20 million voters, just as they did in last month's county council elections when Laborites scored a landslide in London and made big gains in other large centers.

The Socialists narrowly lost control of the national government last October, after six years in power. They contend the local elections show the Tories already have lost the country's confidence and should submit to a new national election.

There is no official centralized reporting of returns in this week's elections, but reports gathered by both the major political parties showed a strong trent to the Laborites.

The Laborites claimed a net gain of 90 seats. The Conservatives said the Socialists, of 1204 seats decide, had won a net of only 68. The Conservatives admitted net losses of 49 seats they held and recorded 19 more losses among independents who usually side with the Conservatives. A total of 8612 seats are being filled.

Large Water Tank Built at Northrop

Construction of a new 350,000 gallon steel water tank has been completed at Northrop Aircraft's Anaheim division, company officials have announced.

The tank is 30 feet high and has a diameter of 45 feet. It will use four electric and gas-driven pumps to supply the factory with water under 65 pounds pressure in emergencies.

Although almost entirely fireproof, the Northrop-Anaheim building is equipped with a completely automatic sprinkler system. The new water reservoir assures an adequate supply of water for the system at all times.

Fire control instruments for the U.S. Army Ordnance Corps are currently being produced in quantity at the Northrop-Anaheim division.

Stowaway Trip Lands Gals, GIs In Hot Water

GUAM (AP)—Two guys in Guam and two gals in California were 6000 miles apart today, but up to their ears in trouble.

A court martial here convicted Staff Sgt. Dewey H. Meeks and Airman Robert I. Quick of helping two adventure seeking girls stow away on an Air Force B-29 at Sacramento, Calif., last month for an unauthored junket to this Pacific island.

Both were sentenced to six months at hard labor at one-third pay. Then Meeks will be given a bad conduct discharge.

In Sacramento the girls, Jeri McDaniel and Maxine Allen, stepped off a plane from Guam into the hands of the law. They were charged with illegally entering and hiding in a U.S. plane with the intention of traveling.

They also were fired from their jobs as shipping clerks at McClellan Air Force base. They face possible maximum sentences of one year in jail or a $1000 fine.

San Diego Brass To Visit County Employees' D-Day

Interest in other counties attracted by the Orange county employees project "Know Your County Government" was disclosed from two more yesterday, including the announcement that supervisors of San Diego county will attend "D-Day," May 17, when employees stage their public demonstration of county government.

The local organization also received a communication from County Executive Charles W. Deterding, Jr., of Sacramento county, commending the Orange county project.

Deterding referred particularly to local plans for educational features, arranged for the benefit of school children, Sacramento county, said Deterding, has practiced conducting school children through the courthouse, each department explaining its activities to the students. Court sessions are visited and during short recesses, the judges explain the type of case being heard.

"Your project seems to go much further than the one here, and in the near future we intend to copy your excellent public relations project," said Deterding.

The "Know Your County Government" project, originated by Orange county employees in 1947, has since become a major project of the state League of County Employees. The 30 counties represented in the league compete annually for a trophy offered three years ago by two Orange county employees, Ernest Wooster and Arthur Anderson.

Orange County High School Seniors To Visit Santa Ana College Campus

Seniors from six Orange county high schools will visit the Santa Ana campus on Wednesday, May 7.

When the high school students arrive on the campus at 9 a.m. they will be served orange juice and doughnuts, followed by an official welcome by Dr. Daniel C. McNaughton, director of the college.

After the welcome Dr. McNaughton will introduce the heads of the English, social science, and music departments who will give short talks on the courses and educational opportunities offered within their respective fields.

Following these talks, high school students will be divided into groups, according to their major interest, for a tour of the campus and for the opportunity to talk to faculty members teaching in the student's interested field.

The tours will include the agriculture, art, business education, drama, engineering, English, homemaking, social science, physical education, foreign service, and journalism departments. The guests will be escorted through the Don campus by members of the Knights and Las Doncellas, honorary service clubs of the college.

High school students visiting the campus will come from Anaheim, Garden Grove, Laguna Beach, Orange, Tustin and San Juan Capistrano.

Word was received from Sacramento today that Carl Lambert Rau, 135 W. Broadway, Anaheim, has been issued a real estate salesman's license.

Rau has joined the sales force of the Bonded Homes, Inc., development, according to J. W. Stephen, director of sales of the $5,000,000 housing project. A local man, Rau was employed in the past as service manager of the Bevins Pontiac agency in Anaheim.

Church Asks Site Within 100 Yards Of Public Bar

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The state board of equalization had a new type of request recently, when a letter was received from a church seeking permission to establish itself within a hundred yards of a public bar.

Usually, the board's mail contains protests from churches, arguing that bars are seeking to establish themselves too close to a church.

The unusual request, however, was to make certain that establishment of the church would not interfere with the operation of a bar in a nearby bowling alley, apparently owned by the same landlord who didn't want to lease to the church if the religious organization planned a protest.

The minister was informed that the Board of Equalization has no jurisdiction over the location of churches, it already has enough trouble over the location of bars.

Location of the church and bar is at Alida ave. and Northwood dr., in Brentwood Village, South San Francisco, and the church assured the board the arrangement was only temporary.

Long Beach Band To Give Concert At Lutheran Rally

It was announced today by John Hauser of Long Beach, chairman of the Music committee, that the Long Beach Municipal band will play a concert at the Lutheran Hour Rally, Veteran's Memorial stadium, on Sunday, May 11, beginning at 2:30 p.m. The musicians are under the direction of Eugene La Barre.

"The committees are working hard to make this rally the most successful ever held in this area. The stadium has ample free parking space and there is no admission to this rally," Hauser said.

Dr. Lawrence Acker, of Omaha, Nebr., and a former resident of San Diego, will deliver the address. His topic will be "Go Forward," a timely topic in today's world chaos according to Hauser.

Everyone is invited to hear this message.

Associated Chambers Move to Support North-South Bypass Road

Gen. Stanley E. Ridderhof presided at the board meeting of the Associated Chambers of Orange county when they met in the Carbon C. Tubbs plant at 10842 S. Western ave., with the Stanton Chamber of Commerce as hosts.

An informal supper was served to 80 guests. Mrs. Harold F. Lewis, secretary; Mrs. Julian P. Black, director, and Mrs. Moreland W. Shuman, director's wife, assisted President and Mrs. Dubbs in serving the buffet.

Howard Irwin, Justin Kennedy, Walter Schmidt, John Boyd and Ralph P. Maskey were elected as a nominating committee to select the candidates for president, vice-president, treasurer and five members of the finance committee and report to the board meeting June 2 at the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

The old board accepted a proposal from the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce, presented by Vern Maple, to search out another major highway route running north and south through Northern Orange county to ease the traffic load on Hwy. 101, which runs through the heart of Fullerton. A route was proposed that would include Placentia ave. and then onto Associated rd. to connect with Imperial Hwy. and Brea Canyon rd.

Progress in eliminating Tin Can beach and the creation of a state beach in the strip between Huntington Beach and Sunset Beach was reported by Ralph Maskey, chairman of the coast affairs committee.

Maskey also reported that funds might be available for an aquatic park in the Upper Newport bay region from the Harbor commission and the State Park commission.

Willis F. Miller of Santa Ana was reappointed on the agricultural committee and the nomination of Glen Harris of La Habra, and Mrs. Mary Topper of Newport Beach to serve on the same committee was heard.

Do They REALLY Control?

★ Following is a quotation from an ad of Robert A. Geier in the Santa Ana Register of April 29, 1952:

"Robert A. (Bob) Geier, local advertising man and public relations consultant, has been tied up for the past two months in his position as campaign manager for James Utt, who is a candidate for Congress. After June 3, when Utt will be elected, Geier will be free to devote full time to the pursuit of his . . ." etc., etc.

Those who advise Mr. Geier are taking too much for granted. They may CLAIM to rule the politics of Orange County and the 28th District or that huge campaign funds elect, but recent trends prove that the day of the independent voter has returned.

Be careful with that talk . . .

Yesterday, one of the fine ladies in Anaheim who reads the newspapers thoughtfully and carefully—and understands what she is reading—came into our office to report that so-and-so is spreading the word around town that the Gazette is a "communist" paper.

As Jerry Lewis would say: "WOW! THAT'S A HOT ONE."

However, we found out that the person who would defame our good name is a representative of the ever so small uninformed minority in Anaheim which does not read the Gazette regularly.

Seriously, however, it all points up one of the real difficulties of delving into troublesome and controversial issues and trying to make sense out of them in the best interests of the community.

There is a fringe of folks, who, if they don't agree with you—or haven't fully acquainted themselves with the honest facts—call YOU a communist, fascist, or some other darn thing. If they call you a communist, that is calculated to make people hate you—just because you didn't agree with their pat ideas.

Much more of that stuff—no differences of opinions—and the bet-makers will be out of business for sure.

* * *

WELL, THERE'S ONE way to refute the accusation that the Anaheim Gazette is a branch of the communist Daily Worker and a tool of Stalin. And that is NOT to stand on our constitutional rights—or whatever those Hollywood reds stand on.

We think communism is the bunk, a horrible fraud. We are convinced Stalin is the arch-criminal No. 1 in the universe.

We believe that if more people would take the time to study the sordid and criminal history and aspirations of communism they would be a little less prone to call decent folks communists.

We believe in the American way. We think the free-enterprise system the best economic system ever devised. We believe democracy is the finest political system ever created. We believe in the dignity of the individual, and we dislike to see "vested interests," or anybody else, push folks around—in fact, we might even stick up for our schools and school teachers.

At the Gazette, we have good Republicans of long-standing, and a highly independent Democrat, formulating the policy of this paper. You might say correctly we are independent Republicans right along with the majority of Anaheimers.

And, we might even go so far as to say that we don't care much what you call us, if you've honestly read our paper. But, for heaven's sake . . .

Please don't stop talking about us. If you do we really will have something to worry about.

In fact, we believe that all the foregoing is the reason why the Gazette now has more readers than it ever had, has more true friends than it ever had, and has more satisfied advertisers than it ever had.

IN THE DAYS OF LONG AGO

The sheep men who had depended upon the Stearns Ranchos for feed for their stock this summer are not pleased with the news that the ranchos have been leased.

Nicholas Bersets who has been engaged in tobacco growing near Anaheim takes his departure this morning for Sierra county. He will return in a few months.

Mr. James Huntington brought to town yesterday an orange tree of St. Michael's variety which was loaded with blossoms. The tree is only one year old from the bed and is about three feet high.

Don Chico Forster was up from Santa Margarita yesterday. He has started a band of eight hundred horses for Utah. The band was at the San Joaquin ranch yesterday.

The grasshoppers are very numerous on the Los Alamitos. What little green grass remains is rapidly being devoured by the scourge.

Mrs. F. M. Brown arrived home last night from San Francisco whither she has been to purchase a new stock of millinery.

The committee appointed by the Town Trustees to examine the survey of the town made by Mr. Hansen were busy yesterday with the gentleman examining the lines. We understand the present survey corresponds with that made when the town was originally laid out. We learn from one of the committee that the map will probably be received by the Board of Trustees.

Another fine assortment of job type was received by the Gazette office last night.

Frank Pallas has presented Joseph Helmsen with a Filipino walking stick, having inside it a two-foot assegar. The cane is an inoffensive looking instrument, but on being seized by the party of the second part, is drawn by the holder of it dexterously toward the south-southwest when a two foot blade is unsheathed, sharpened to a point with. This he runs the other fellow through the liver and sends for the coroner. The landlord, however, is afeared of going out with it, lest he be arrested for carrying concealed weapons.

The municipal election was probably the quietest ever held in the history of the city. Only 258 votes were cast, whereas it was expected the total vote would go to nearly 300. At noon 150 votes were cast. Voting during the afternoon was not at all brisk. Fletcher, Rust and Berdrow were elected city trustees. Merritt defeated McKinley for city clerk. H. Cohen was reelected city treasurer. The fight for marshal resulted in the election of N. F. Steadman. The surprise of the day was the small vote cast for Harrison Kuebler for his office. Out of the total vote of the city he polled only six votes. Out of the first one hundred counted he received only one. The total vote was as follows: For city trustee, Louis Fletcher 148; C. O. Rust 137; W. Berdrow 136; For city clerk, C. B. Merritt 210; C. G. McKinley 33; city marshal, Steadman 1155; Brummoth 89; Kuebler 6. The election board was composed of H. Gade and Geo. Bond. Inspectors: A. Rimpau and J. S. Howard. Judges: Joe Hatfield and F. Spencer. Clerks: Ralph Hunter and Max Boege, ballot clerks.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Now that the steel mills are running again, some administration leaders are canvassing means of winding up the entire mess by giving the steel industry a moderate price increase in order to take care of a wage increase.

Several cabinet members privately have long favored such a plan, especially Secretary of Defense Lovett. John Steelman, the acting defense mobilizer, once also definitely favored a $5-a-ton price increase for steel, as did Charles E. Wilson.

However, each move in this direction has run up against the quiet, adamant opposition of an ex-governor from Georgia, Price Administrator Ellis Arnall.

And Arnall flatly refuses to budge.

At one White House meeting held just before the presidency seized the steel industry, various cabinet members were urging a moderate price increase in steel prices as a sop to the industry.

"You can increase 'em all right," drawled Arnall good-naturedly. "You can increase 'em if you want to wreck the country."

Arnall wasn't mad a bit. He even sounded as if he was half kidding. But those who knew him realized that he was deadly serious, especially when he added:

"You can increase 'em all right, But you'll have to get yourselves a new price administrator."

Steel Profits

The quiet threat of Arnall's resignation was enough to stop further discussion. Furthermore, he was backed up by his immediate superior, Roger Putnam, a manufacturer from Springfield, Mass., who knows what it's like to make a profit and meet a payroll.

Arnall also produced figures showing that the steel industry could pay the package wage increase recommended by the Wage Stabilization Board and yet reduce its profits only 12 cents a ton under the high profit base from 1946 to 1948—after taxes. Arnall likewise showed that the steel industry, after paying the wage increase, and after paying taxes, would have a profit of only 60 cents a ton less than its record-breaking profits during the year 1951 when steel dividends soared to an all-time high as a result of the Korean war.

He argued that the steel industry should not make money at the expense of the Korean war. He also pointed out that these profits were after taxes.

The steel industry has not challenged Arnall's figures.

Steel Merry-Go-Round

When news of the court of appeals decision first reached the White House, Justice Department officials wanted to get out an injunction against the steelworkers, forcing them to go back to work. Solicitor General Philip Perlman and Holmes Baldridge, assistant attorney general, both agreed that the workers were striking against the government. . . Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, however, opposed. He warned that the appeals court decision favoring the government was by too slender a margin to get out an injunction. . . . Justice Department officials then proposed that labor be offered an immediate wage increase. This Secretary Sawyer also opposed. "We ought not to buy 'em back," he claimed. . . As a result, Truman issued his midnight appeal to Phil Murray—which worked. . . The president has asked Acting Attorney General Perlman to submit a full report on how the Taft-Hartley act could be used—if necessary. Originally Truman was leery about using his "inherent" powers to seize the steel mills. . . Charlie Murphy, White House counsel, at one time advised the president to make a strong speech to a joint session of Congress, urging legislation empowering him to take over any vital industry threatened with a shutdown during an emergency. Truman finally rejected this idea, figuring the Dixiecrat coalition would block it.

army is gone. The breakup of the vast American fighting machine began that night of victory seven years ago in Europe.

The army came home, disbanded, and built more homes and families and had more children than any army in history.

"What did you do in the last war, daddy?" asks a small son of one of these combat veterans.

And today—seven years later—daddy looks at the puzzling picture in Europe, scratches his head, and wonders himself.

"Well, I whipped Hitler," he finally ventures.

"Who's Hitler," demands his small son.

ALL THE MAKINGS OF A LIVELY PARTY

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Seven years ago this week the guns ceased fire in Europe, and a way of life they never wanted ended for millions of Americans.

It was the way of war.

The news had been expected along the front for days, the linkup of the American and Russian forces along the Elbe river had made a German surrender only a formality.

But when word of the final surrender did come down it raced through the battle lines like a surf of joy.

Yet in the hour of victory there was a strange lack of wild elation among the combat troops. They had fought too long and too hard for this moment, and they were overtired.

And in most soldiers' hearts there was this worrry:

"Hitler is down, but Hirohito is still to go. Will we have to go to Japan now?"

It is no criticism of the courage of these troops to say that most of them had no enthusiasm for a long journey to the Far East and more fighting there. They felt that Europe had been their war and they had won it. They had lost many friends along the march from Normandy to the Elbe. All they wanted was to go back home and pick up the life they had left—to be again as they had been before.

It was this feeling—the doubt as to whether they would be ticketed to the U.S.A. or Japan—that accounted for the little general jubilation over the end of the European war.

* * *

SOME SOLDIERS wiped their eyes at the news. Some fired their carbines into the air—and immediately got bawled out for wasting ammo. Some went absent without leave. Some dug out hidden bottles of French brandy and got roaring tight. Some went off and sat by themselves.

But most of the men just gathered in small groups and talked it over—and there really wasn't much to say.

I remember that night. . . the sweetness of search slept on in safety. . . tracer bullets lofting lightly up through the darkness as someone growled "there's another trigger happy fool celebrating" . . . cigarette butts glowing and dying like fireflies in the lips of men stretched flat on their backs and staring up at the sky and thinking long, long thoughts of those away.

Already this mighty army, its task done, was beginning to disintegrate. The men no longer were thinking of the common goal ahead—a river to be crossed, a ridge mass to be stormed and taken. They were being pulled apart by the tugs of peace, the possibility of going back to their own private lives.

Raoul Walsh Tells Why the Men Are Easier to Direct

By BOB THOMAS

The radio-TV column regularly appearing on this page will be found on Page 4, alongside the program listings.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Raoul Walsh, who is celebrating 40 years in the movie industry, admitted today that he woul drather direct actors than actresses.

Walsh has long been known as a "man's director." He has piloted such rugged stars as Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., Errol Flynn, James Cagney, Alan Ladd and Gregory Peck. It's no mere accident that he has specialized in male subjects, he disclosed.

"Women are too much trouble," he said. "They arrive on the set in the morning and they're concerned about some dress they're supposed to wear. By the time you hash the whole thing out, it's 11 o'clock. If I only had men to worry about, I could have had a half-dozen scenes in the camera by then.

"Actors are ready to start acting the moment you call them. But not actresses. When they are called, a whole crew of people begins working on them. Between scenes, the girls are always running to a mirror to see if every hair is still in place."

Walsh is not entirely antifemale. He gave Rita Hayworth her biggest boost to fame in "Strawberry Blonde." But he is more known for finding and developing male stars. He took a stunt man named Duke Morrison, renamed him John Wayne and starred him in "The Big Trail."

The director's latest discovery is a tall, good-looking lad named Rock Hudson. He played a bit in Walsh's "Fighter Squadron" in 1948. Now Rock is enacting the leading role in the director's "Gun Hand."

"I like to take these young kids and bring them along," Walsh explained. "It's kinda like an inventor toying with a new invention."

* * *

PERHAPS HIS interest in new talent stems from his own early days in films. He started in 1912 as a cowboy for the Pathe Brothers, who were then shooting in New Jersey. One day he got a call to report to biograph and there he alligned with the great D. W. Griffith. First as an actor and then as a director. The apprenticeship under Griffith was rugged but worthwile.

"The old man used to tell me he wanted 50 cowboys for the next day," Walsh recalled. "So I had to hurry around to the bars and hotels and line up enough men. I sent them out to location that night, so they'd be ready to shoot the next morning. There was never a worry about hotels, because the cowboys slept in the corrals. They charged $5 a day, including their horses."

It's no accident that Walsh's films are distinguished by their amount of action; his training in the silent films accounts for that.

"Most movie scripts today are overwritten," he remarked. "I go through them and cut out the dialogue wherever I can. That may be why my pictures are so popular in foreign countries. I've just heard from Japan, where some of my pictures have been playing. They've even started a 'Raoul Walsh fan club' over there."

He added that some of the magic went out of films when they started to talk.

"I can remember when the movies were just catching on,' he said. "The fan mail for the stars was tremendous. When the stars signed contracts, they insisted on three or four girls to do nothing but take care of answering the mail. But when sound came in, the volume of mail dropped tremendously. The players still get letters, but nothing like the volume of the old days."

Counting one-and two-reelers, Walsh calculated he has directed more movies than onyone in the business. He has never been away from pictures for more than three months at a time. I asked if he had any favorite films.

"Nope," he replied. "Some of them are lousy and some are good. I make 'em and forget 'em."

It would be most inappropriate for this department this week to overlook the golden anniversary of our favorite humanitarian institution, Goodwill Industries.

The whole county is celebrating, and no wonder. The mayors of all the cities issued proclamations designating the week as Goodwill Industries Week. You see automobiles carrying signs on their bumpers advertising the event, and the newspapers are devoting space to it.

The Goodwill store and plant in Santa Ana will conduct open house to the public Thursday and Friday afternoons and evenings. It would interest anyone to take a look at the sheltered workshops where some 75 or more handicapped men and women earn their livelihood and hold the line of self respect behind this bulwark against forced charity.

The Goodwill slogan, as you may know, is "Not charity but chance." They also sometimes say, "A hand up, not a handout."

Charity is truly the greatest of virtues, but in this modern world self support is preferred by all except chiselers.

You taxpayers, too, would admire these sheltered workshops where discards are turned into time cards, and household castoffs are made to look like new. These workshops saved you some $93,000 last year, in welfare costs.

Prominent Orange county society and club women will be flitting about the Goodwill headquarters during the open house reception. They rallied to participate in a first rate fashion show as a feature of open house.

Goodwill Industries was born in Boston in 1902. It was established in Orange county in 1924. Initiated by the depression following World War I, much of its history in this county has been compiled in fighting through depressions. During the big one of the thirties, it helped the hungry as well as the handicapped, and still does so today, for that matter, when the need arises. But it nearly always helps with work and wages, rather than charity.

* * *

DURING THE thirties, Goodwill Industries was hard put to find work for the needy. It even operated a wood yard, where 20 to 30 men were paid $2 a day to cut wood. This entailed a constant search of the highways and byways for trees to cut down.

Recognizing the good work, the Committee of Fifty that had been formed in Santa Ana to help relieve the economic pinch, turned its cash, some $750, over to Goodwill Industries for wages in its wood yard.

Goodwill Industries also rustled day-old bread from a wholesale bakery and 40 to 50 gallons of skim milk daily from a creamery, to distribute to the hungry. From the fish marts at the beach, it wangled swordfish for the same purpose.

All that, naturally, built a lot of good will. Another thing that is still building good will is the fact that Goodwill Industries of Orange County doesn't ask a thing of the public except the things the public no longer wants. It gets not a cent of Community Chest funds. Moreover, it uses all the household castoffs it gets to provide work locally, instead of shipping them elsewhere.

In 1924, Goodwill Industries had three employees and a payroll of $65 per week. Now, as mentioned, it provides work for 75, and has a payroll of $2100 a week.

Long may it wave.

VIGNETTE—A couple of Anaheimers opened the 1952 fishing season by hiking up Holy Jim canyon last Saturday morning. It was pitch dark in the early predawn. They stumbled over the unfamiliar terrain, but they were determined.

"Hey, Bud, where ya going?" a voice came out of the night.

"Fishin'," the startled Anaheimer replied as he made out the features of the game warden—a lad with whom he attended Anahi more years ago than he likes to remember.

They talked for a while and then the fishermen moved on.

While they were busily engaged in pulling in a record catch of trout, the game warden came up and asked: "How ya doin', Bud?"

"Aw right!" was the reply. "Whatcha doin' way up here?"

"Checking fishing licenses."

"D'ya mean to say y'have t'have a license to fish?" the Anaheimer asked.

The perplexed game warden gulped. "Yeah, you're s'posed t'have a license."

The Anaheimers kept right on fishing. The game warden was really perplexed. He'd hate to spoil his schoolday chum's outing by citing him for fishing without a license. He was glum.

Just as "the big one" grabbed the hook, the Anaheimers handed the game warden their license, but he never did get to scrutinize it as the big fish snapped the line and sent the fisherman sprawling in the pool.

PETS—The Old Gazetteer isn't in a column-writing mood today, folks. Y'see he had to bury his dog. That's one of the saddest duties a fellow has to perform. In his "Eulogy on the Dog," Senator George Graham Vest wrote: "The one, absolute, unselfish friend that man can have in this selfish world, the one that never deserts him, the one that never proves ungrateful or treacherous, is his dog. . . . Our dog, Pinky (Our Own Sandstorm Brucie, his pedigree read) was an aristocrat of dogdom, a blue blood whose forebears were champions of the United States and Texas. He undoubtedly was the best of his breed—cocker spaniel—in the county, but you'd never have guessed it. He was true blue—loyal, faithful and kind. It's really rough when you have to part with such a pet.

NITECAPSULE — Jousenel said: "The more one comes to know men, the more one comes to admire the dog.

AP Survey Predicts Ike Backers To Be Disappointed in Far West

By MORRIS LANDSBERG

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Backers of General Dwight D. Eisenhower are bidding to overtake Senator Robert A. Taft's command over Republican delegates in the far west.

But an 11-state Associated Press survey indicated today that the Ohio Senator is likely to come out of western contests for 218 delegates with a slight edge—or no worse than a draw.

Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee stacks up as the leading presidential contender in the Democratic scramble for 198 delegates in the states between the Rockies and the Pacific. However, the general inclination is toward uninstructed delegations.

Taft jumped into the Republican lead in the west with victories in the first four states to select their GOP presidential slates. The count from Arizona, Colorado, Idaho and Utah: Taft, 40; Eisenhower, 18.

Eisenhower is heavily favored to double his western total by snapping up Oregon's 18 delegates. Taft is not a candidate in that state's primary, a week from Friday, and there is as yet no open move for an official write-in campaign in his behalf.

Owen Clark, chairman of the Washington State committee for Eisenhower, predicts that "at least 16 of Washington's 24 delegates will be favorable to Ike." Taft leaders decline any definite prediction in advance of the state convention at Spokane, May 23-24.

Eisenhower boosters in Nevada say claim to eight of the 12 delegates to be named at a state convention Saturday. Taft people call this over-enthusiastic at best. The neutral view: The two candidates will share the slate.

Montana, with eight votes, looks like Taft country. Wyoming (12 votes) leans toward an uninstructed but pro-Taft delegation. A split is indicated in New Mexico (14 votes).

California is pretty certain to cast its 70 votes for third-term Governor Earl Warren on the first ballot at the Chicago convention. He is opposed by a GOP faction campaigning on an anyone-but-Warren ticket for the state's June 3 primary. Neither of the front-running candidates are entered here.

Thus, even reckoning the predictions of Eisenhower partisans and dividing New Mexico's 14 votes equally, Taft stands to wind up with 79 delegates; Eisenhower, 67, and Warren, 70. Two of Arizona's delegates are uncommitted. The big obvious question, of course, is which way will California turn if Warren doesn't have a chance.

There are western primaries only in Oregon and California. State conventions, besides Washington's and Nevada's, remain in Wyoming, next Monday; Montana, May 20; and New Mexico, May 31.

The situation is less clear on the Democratic side.

The AP survey establishes Kefauver as the probable winner of Oregon's 12 delegates. Two other entries, Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and Governor Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, have said they are not candidates.

The Tennessee Senator rates a fair chance to snare his largest single slate of 68 votes in California's primary. He is being challenged by state Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown as the nominal candidates of the stranded Truman forces.

In Utah, State Chairman Grant MacFarline believes the 12 delegates up for election Saturday will go for Senator Robert Kerr of Oklahoma. Nevada Democrats, who pick 10 delegates the same day, have heard their leaders endorse Senator Richard Russell of Georgia.

Arizona and Idaho, with 12 votes apiece, already have named uncommitted Democratic delegates.

State conventions in Wyoming next Monday (10 votes); Washington, May 17 (22 votes); Montana, May 20 (12 votes); and Colorado, June 27 (16 votes), are expected to send uninstructed groups to Chicago. Democrats are undecided in New Mexico, where 12 delegates will be selected sometime next month.

Glen McCloud Says

What qualifies a man to hold public office?

The answer to this question is based upon several factors. Perhaps the paramount reason is the desire on the part of an individual to be of public service to his community. Very few public offices in this country pay well — in many cases little more than enough to support the office-holder's family. The desire to serve must be the ambition of the years rather than an over-night idea or the suggestion of a friend.

Experience qualifies a man to hold office, though is not always the major factor. More times than not, those who are of the people, serve their people best.

The desire to devote one's life-time toward government qualifies a man for the title of "politician." This term, sadly overworked in derogatory manner, is defined by Webster as "one versed or experienced in the science of government."

All public servants honestly serving their constituents, deserve the full support of the electorate!

SAN RAFAEL, Calif.—PALS FOR LIFE—Mrs. Melba King, Eskimo woman from Seattle, embraces her new guide dog, Miss Jypsey, a 16-month-old German shepherd, at the Training School of Guide Dogs for the Blind after a workout here yesterday. Mrs. King, blind since birth, became a tragic figure when The Associated Press transmitted a Wirephoto showing her kneeling beside her dying guide dog, Gypsy, run down by an auto in Seattle. The Eskimo's trip and training here is being financed by Seattle residents. The dog was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Mario Stanghellini of Daly City, Calif.—(Associated Press Wirephoto)

Truman Proposes Stumping Campaign Against Misguided Opponents at 68

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman, approaching his 68th birthday, today contemplated a future of whistle stop campaigning against those he accused of playing right down Stalin's alley.

His targets, he says, will be the appropriations-cutters and lobbyists who have fought him since he first laid down his 21-point program of foreign and domestic legislation in September of 1945. He placed special emphasis on budget cutters he said were "about to ruin the national defense program."

The president put the "real estate lobby" high on his list of targets in a sample "whistle stop" speech last night to a cheering dinner crowd of members of the National Housing conference at the Hotel Statler.

In a "give 'em hell' speech reminiscent of his 1948 election campaign, Truman displayed a vigor that seemed to belie the fact that he will turn 68 tomorrow.

"There have been certain things happening in this country that have been right down the alley Mr. Stalin wants us to go," he declared. "Now let's stop it. Let's get our senses back and stop it."

He called the "real estate lobby" a stubborn and selfish lot and added that "some of them are making their living fighting housing."

He spoke after Senators Douglas (D-Ill) and Tobey (R-NH) promised to fight for defeat of a house appropriations bill provision cutting Truman's program for 75,000 low-rent housing units to 50000 in the fiscal year starting July 1.

A Capella Choir Entertains Local Kiwanis Club

In observance of National Music Week, the Anaheim Union High School a capella choir under the direction of Sheldon Disrud, choral director, entertained the members of the Kiwanis club at their regular Tuesday noon luncheon. Dr. Homer Nelson was program chairman for the day and introduced the choir.

Walter Babcock of Ontario and Frank Bunch of Los Angeles were introduced as visiting Kiwanians. Ken Hauck, plant superintendent of the Anaheim plant of the Dixie Cup Co., was introduced as a new Kiwanian.

Next Tuesday the club will have as guest speaker, Deputy Sheriff Russ Campbell who will show a short film and give a talk on "Narcotics."

President A. J. Schutte announced that plans are being formulated for a "go to church day." Members of the club and their families will attend a local church in a body on Sunday, May 25.

Chickenpox and Measles Top List

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The measles and chickenpox were the two high communicable diseases in California last week, the state department of public health announced today.

The department had 2956 cases of measles reported and 2423 cases of chickenpox.

Polio cases had dwindled to 12 during the week, according to the report.

Candidate Offers To Debate UN Membership Issue

A full-dress debate on the merits of U.S. membership in the United Nations may be in the making, it was disclosed today with the release for publication of a letter from Frank M. Linnell, candidate for Congress from the 28th district, to James B. Utt, opposition candidate.

Giving it as his opinion that "the foreign policy of the United States is one of the most important issues confronting the voters today," Linnell offered to debate the subject "Shall the United States Remain a Member of the United Nations" with Utt any time, any place, provided it isn't later than May 15. He also offered to debate it as often as Utt wishes.

Both men have placed themselves on record, Utt as opposed to United States membership in the U.N., Linnell in favor of it.

Scientist Sees New Industrial Era With Aid of Precision Electronics

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The electronic brain soon may come to the aid of the human brain—and touch off a new industrial revolution—a convention of financial experts was told here.

The first industrial revolution came when machines replaced muscles, Dr. Simon Ramo, vice-president of Hughes Aircraft Co., said yesterday at the convention of the National Federation of Financial Analysts Societies.

The second will come when precision electronics, or "synthetic intelligence," comes to the aid of the overburdened human brain, he said.

The video industry leader predicted that television may elect the next president of the United States.

And a three-man panel on "stock market outlook" came to a fairly general agreement that the bottom is not going to drop out of the stock market in the forseeable future.

"We are developing synthetic brains which will do things that the human brain can do and some things it cannot do," Dr. Ramo said.

Such machines are costly and complicated, "very stupid in general, compared with the total intelligence of the human brain," but capable of "superior decisions" in the field for which they are designed, he said.

"Television can be an unparalleled blessing to the voter," President H. L. Hoffman of the Hoffman Radio Corp., told the analysts.

"The phonies, the stuffed shirts, the liars and the crooks will have to look the cameras straight in the eye and talk fast . . . if after so stringent a test the political hacks survive, we have only ourselves to blame," he asserted.

"While it seems wise to be cautious, there is no occasion to run to the storm cellar," Dean William F. Edwards of the Brigham Young University school of Commerce, said during the stock market discussion.

Harry D. Comer, of the New York firm of Paine Weber, Jackson and Curtis, saw no basis for expecting a substantial upswing in securities. But the market is on pretty solid ground, he added.

The convention, on the West Coast for the first time, concluded its San Francisco sessions last night. A final day of meetings is scheduled for Friday at Los Angeles.

Poultry, Rabbit Raisers to Meet

Orange county poultrymen will meet May 6 at 7:30 p.m. at the Farm Bureau with Chairman Elmer Humphrey. Merle Soden will discuss refrigeration and cooling of poultry rooms.

A departmental meeting for rabbit raisers will be held May 7, starting with a potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m. The program will be at 8 p.m., with Mrs. Enid Densel, secretary of a specialty club, demonstrating products made from rabbit furs. Lee Bowen is program chairman.

OLIVE NOTES

The training course for Cub Scout Den Mothers which has been held for the past two months with Den Mothers of Pack No. 53 serving as hostesses to Den Mothers of Pack 54 (Center st.) and Pack 144 (Cambridge st.) was concluded this month with a May breakfast. During these sessions the mothers have had the opportunity to talk over their problems and enjoy guest artists in leather work, copped tooling, corsage-making, with real flowers, pioneer work and lashings, ceramics, textile painting, tin-can craft, outdoor cooling and water colors. There have been seven Den Mothers this year in Pack 53, which is sponsored by the Orange Elks lodge.

Dens I, IV and V met Saturday morning at the Olive Civic Center for their weekly meeting and enjoyed making and viewing scrapbooks.

A beautiful may basket was made by the group and later won by Brace Hartwell for guessing the correctly marked page in a large book. A treat of iced chocolate milk was served to all the boys and their guests. Leaders and mothers present were Mmes. Brace Hartwell, Kenneth W. Taber, Celesta Behnemann, Harold Leichtfuss, and C. R. Pefley.

Pack 53 will participate in the May Festival activities in Orange on Saturday, May 10. The monthly pack meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, May 13, at 6:30, in Orange City park. Each family is asked to bring a basket lunch and all parents, their families and friends are urged to be present as this will be the last meeting of the charter year, ending May 31. There will be a Court of Awards and special awards.

St. Pius V Church Honors Patron Saint May 5

May 5 was the feast day of Saint Pius V, patron saint of the Catholic church of the same name in Buena Park.

A special meeting was held in the parish hall, headed by the pastor, Rev. Frederick Kass, where plans were made for the annual festival in honor of Our Blessed Mother, May 24 and 25. The cattlemen committee will be in charge of the roast beef dinner on Sunday, May 25, from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m., and dances on both evenings.

The Altar Society and men's organizations are sponsoring the many booths.

The morning of May 25, after the 8:30 a.m. mass, the May Queen procession will take place. At 10 a.m. the elected May Queen will be presented.

Contestants to be Lady of Fatima May Queen are Dolly Ormonde, 9 years old, from Buena Park; Mary Fagundes, 9, Artesia; Margaret Bettencourt, 10, Norwalk; Pamela Faulkner, 10, Stanton. Four prizes are to be awarded to ticket purchasers who vote for the queen, one of which is an 800-pound steer.

Cypress Soldier Gets Discharge

Sgt. First Class William Coburn, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Coburn of 8612 La Salle st., Cypress, arrived in the United States April 13 and was discharged at Camp Stoneman April 19, one of the first California National Guardsmen to be returned from the battlefront of Korea. He is being entertained by his family this week.

The sergeant is a graduate of Anaheim Union High school and Fullerton J.C., where he will work as a carpenter.

Demo Registration Still Ahead of GOP

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Final registration figures for the June 3 primary election, announced today, show the Democrats still well in front in Los Angeles county but with Republicans making significant gains in the last two years.
