Eisenhower, Taft Tiff Over Foreign Aid Appropriations

POLITICS TODAY

By The Associated Press

Nevada Democrats and Republicans meet, in separate two-day conventions at Tonopah, to name 10-vote and 12-vote delegations, respectively, to presidential-nominating conventions.

Senator Taft in Connecticut at Yale University Corporation meeting.

Senator Kerr at New York (ABC-TV 7 p.m. EST).

For Eisenhower—Paul Hoffman at Hot Springs, Va.; Representative Prouty (Vt) at Bluefield, Senator Lodge (Mass) at Fairmont and Representative Bakewell (Mo) at Welch in West Virginia; Senator Carlson (Kan) in Oregon at Portland and Medford.

Senator Russell at Washington (CBS-TV 9:30 p.m. EST).

Harold Stassen at Portland, Ore.

Republicans had foreign aid as a clearcut issue in their presidential campaign today while Democrats wondered anew if civil rights would split their party again.

The top contenders for Republican nomination—Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower—were at sharp odds over the amount needed to finance assistance abroad.

Eisenhower, in a cable from Paris to Sen. Tom Connally of Texas, said a one-billion-dollar cut already proposed in Congress would hurt. Any deeper slice off the $7,900,000,000 asked by President Truman would endanger the nation's security, he said.

Taft promptly replied that even a slash of two billions would not imperil the program or U.S. security. After telling this to reporters, Taft said in a Hartford, Conn., speech: "I don't think the American people ought to run the world or would be good at it if they tried."

• • •

CONNALLY, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, had asked Eisenhower's views. He released their message exchange yesterday after Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, who seeks the Democratic nomination as president, cabled Eisenhower. Russell wanted to know if the general thought $6,900,000,000 approved by Connally's committee would cover the cost of European defense.

President Truman told his news conference yesterday he has not budged in support of the civil rights plank adopted four years ago by the Democratic party. The resultant southern revolt then cost Truman 39 electorial votes in the 1948 presidential race.

Key southern lawmakers, in view of Truman's pat stand, disagreed as to whether civil rights differences can be patched up. Sens. Burnet Maybank of South Carolina and Walter George of Georgia said they expected a compromise and a united party by general election time. Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia, however, said he sees little difference between the 1948 and 1952 situations.

Russell, in a press club speech, sharply denounced proposals for a compulsory Fair Employment Practices commission (FEPC), core of the dispute. FEPC would ban job discrimination against Negroes and other minorities.

Truman also told reporters he reserves his right as an American citizen to say who he would like as the next president. He declined, however, to express a choice at this time.

Reds Hold General in Unknown Place; Investigation Ordered

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet said tonight he will use force if necessary "at an early date" to free Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd from red war prisoners who seized him on Koje island two days ago.

At the same time, the U.S. Eighth Army announced that Dodd no longer was the commander of the unruly prison off the southeast tip of Korea. Van Fleet also ordered an investigation of the incident.

Whether Dodd might be returned to his command after release was not made clear by Van Fleet. He said Dodd henceforth was talking to the reds as an individual, not as camp commander.

The camp was placed under the command of Brig. Gen. Charles F. Colson "with full authority and command to handle the situation," Van Fleet added.

Van Fleet declared he never would give in to the reds' "unreasonable" demands for special privileges in return for the release of Dodd.

One thing that may be staying the hand of prison authorities now is that they do not know in what tent or building Dodd is being held.

While Dodd has sent out written messages and has talked by telephone, authorities have been unable to trace the telephone line. It runs from an undisclosed spot. The reds set up the phone links themselves.

Van Fleet said other compounds on the sprawling island were quiet. About 80,000 red prisoners are being held there.

He emphasized that the Eighth Army had taken "sufficient action to make available all means necessary" to free Dodd, but did not amplify his statement.

Army Jet Plane Crashes Near San Juan Capistrano

Crash of a military jet plane in the hills near San Juan Hot Springs this morning cremated the pilot, who has not yet been identified. Origin of the plane itself was also uncertain, but it was believed to be either from El Toro Marine base or Los Alamitos Naval Air station.

The plane plummeted to earth at a point approximately eight miles northeast of San Juan Capistrano, according to early reports, which placed the wreckage just within the boundaries of the Cleveland National Forest, about a mile from the old Hot Springs on Ortega highway.

Explosion of the craft after it crashed started a fire that gutted the plane, burned the body of the pilot, and spread over four acres of grass and brush in the area.

• • •

STATE FORESTRY crews from San Juan Capistrano were summoned to combat the fire, after it was reported to Orange headquarters of the state forestry division shortly after 11 a.m.

El Toro Marine base authorities did not immediately have information of the downed plane and have not yet determined whether it was based there.

Efforts by fire fighters to extricate the body of the pilot from the plane have so far been defeated because the heated metal of the craft prevented handling.

Laguna Beach Youth Killed In Auto Wreck

James D. Traynor, 20, Laguna Beach youth, was instantly killed at 2:40 a.m. today when his neck was broken in the crash of an automobile driven by his companion, Marvin A. McKeehan, also of Laguna Beach.

McKeehan lost control of his car at a point on Laguna Canyon highway about a mile and a half from the city of Laguna Beach. The car crashed against a tree beside the highway. McKeehan is still unconscious and reported near death at the county hospital.

Two other passengers in the car, Eugene P. Wilputz, Laguna Beach, and Dale L. Campbell, of the USS Shelton at San Diego, received minor injuries.

The body of Traynor was removed to the Minter mortuary in Laguna Beach, where an inquest is pending, the coroner's office announced.

Northern County Flood Control Must Await Carbon Canyon Dam, Warner Tells Mayors of County

Needed flood control in the area of Anaheim and its environs must wait upon the construction of Carbon Canyon dam by the federal government, and there is no federal money available for the project, the Orange county League of Cities executive board was told last evening by Chairman Willis Warner of the county supervisors.

Warner said that the government's "seizure" of the county program for building dams in 1936 left local flood control projects dependent upon federal action because the local projects tie into the dam construction program.

For example, said Warner, the supervisors are unlikely to approve the Loftus diverson channel, the pilot channel, and other works for flood control along Carbon Creek, until the $3,000,000 Carbon Canyon dam is built. The flood works in the valley could not successfully handle storm runoff unless the waters were checked by a dam, Warner said.

Once the county undertakes to channel flood water, it becomes responsible for the water and liable for any damage it might do, Warner added.

MAYOR CHARLES Pearson of Anaheim remarked that flood control engineers have not been cooperative with the cities. Anaheim, said Mayor Pearson, would be ready to go along with any feasible plan, but county engineers will not tell city officials where the flood water will be brought in, so that the city could conduct it through its own territory.

Warner said that a study of the North county flood problem has been approved by the board, but it does depend on the Carbon dam construction, which would be the fourth in a series of eight dams proposed by the army engineers. Prado, Fullerton and Brea dams were built before World War II halted operations. The Korean "police action" still blocks the program, said Warner.

He disclosed that the flood control district has $1,443,400 with $876,000 as a cash balance subject to project expenditures. The rest is bond money, earmarked for maintenance and other allocated expenses.

The supervisors, Warner noted, already have approved projects that will cost $4,210,000, and have received requests for other projects that would cost an additional $2,040,000. "Which project to approve?" asked Warner.

St. Michael's To Celebrate 79th Birthday

St. Michael's Episcopal church will celebrate its 79th anniversary this weekend with special services Sunday and a circus-theme birthday party Monday night.

Speaker at both the Sunday school meeting at 9:30 a.m. and the morning service at 11 a.m. Sunday will be the Rt. Rev. Robert B. Gooden, retired suffragan bishop of the diocese. During the worship service the Rev. Gooden will confirm a class of 12 adults.

The junior choir will sing the anthem "Praise the Lord" by Bliss, and Mrs. Bert Beard will sing "Hold Thou My Hand." Following the 11 a.m. service a reception for the bishop and the confirmands will be held in the parish hall.

At 7:30 p.m., Monday, each organization will present a short circus act to carry out the circus theme of the birthday party. Party coordinators will be Mr. and Mrs. Verne Stanton, and Mr. Stanton will serve as master of ceremonies.

Bill Collyer Awarded Expert Rifleman's Medal

WASHINGTON — The Expert Rifleman Medal, second highest award in junior shooting, has gone to Bill Collyer, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert W. Collyer, 727 S. Dickel, the National Rifle Association announced here today.

In one year of shooting, young Collyer has risen through 13 lower rankings to achieve the expert rifleman rating. With one more award, he will be classified as a distinguished rifleman, along with other top junior shooters of the nation.

A tenth grade student at the Anaheim Union High school, young Collyer is instructed by Mr. William D. Hicks.

Anahi Sophs To Drive in Road-Day-O

Bobbie Joan Downs and Dick Jepson, Anaheim high school sophomores will represent Anaheim Union high school in the annual Road-Day-O to be held on May 17 in Santa Ana.

Announcement of their selection was made yesterday morning during a regular assembly held at the school. Members of the school's driving classes conducted by William Hicks, the two young drivers will compete with representatives of similar school classes throughout Orange county. Sponsored in the safe driving among teen-agers by the county office of education, the unique event subjects boy and girl drivers to driving hazards ranging from flat tires to road obstacles.

Pittsburgh, Calif., Oil Workers Threaten Strike Spread to State

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Spread of the nation-wide oil industry strike to California was threatened today by a warning that CIO oil workers consider themselves free to strike Shell Chemical Co.'s Pittsburgh plant any time after 1 a.m. (PDT) tomorrow.

California so far has been unaffected by the walkout, involving wage demands. Union officials requested their members to remain at work because the state's refineries play a key role in the Korean war effort.

Shell Chemical employs 250 of the state's approximately 25,000 oil workers.

DENVER (AP)—Scarcity of high-octane aviation gasoline today ranked as the most serious effect of the nine-day-old nationwide oil strike.

There seemed little chance for immediate settlement. A possibility the strike may be extended was voiced in Denver by O. A. Night, president of the Oil Workers International Union (CIO).

The major hope seems to be a meeting May 13 between the Wage Stabilization Board and representatives of 22 striking AFL, CIO and independent unions and management of major oil refineries and pipelines.

The pinch on aviation fuel has been widely felt. Air France announced flights will be cut by 50 per cent unless the quota for trans-Atlantic carriers is increased. The line has 20 flights weekly. Trans-Canada Air Lines reduced schedules of about 40 daily flights between Canada and New York, Boston, Cleveland, Chicago and Seattle.

A 30 per cent slash in aviation gasoline has been ordered by the government. The Air Force has reduced training flight hours. Military and commercial lines report shortages are affecting operations overseas and in the territories.

A report from Ottawa said Canada may curb the use of aviation gasoline in some parts of the Commonwealth.

Delivery of aviation gasoline to re-sellers or consumers with a three-day supply on hand was forbidden by the government. The order was effective at 3:01 a.m., EST, today.

Soap Box Derby Hopefuls Warned To Start Racers

Derby Day is just around the corner.

Now is the time to begin construction of entries in the big annual Soap Box Derby. Co-sponsored each year by Cone Brothers Chevrolet, the Anaheim Optimist club, and the Anaheim Gazette. The Derby races are held in mid-August each year on the official race track located in Arroyo Seco park in Los Angeles.

Headed up this year by Bob Kelsey of Cone Bros. Chev., arrangements require boys from 11 to 15 interested in constructing the midget racers to contact immediately one of the sponsoring agencies. Full details of official specifications and dimensions are now available.

Last year nearly 30 boys orginally embarked on construction of the free-wheeling racing cars and close to 20 actually competed in races. Joel Habener, two time city champion and runner-up among the hundreds of boys from the Los Angeles area last year, headed up Anaheim's delegation.

Boys interested in building one of the midget racers over summer vacation months and competing in races should get official information and entry forms immediately from Cone Brothers.

Commies Await New Instructions In Truce Tieup

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Deadlocked Korean truce negotiators met for only ten minutes today. A U.N. command spokesman said the reds probably awaited new instructions from higher up.

The 10 month old negotiations are stalled over the issue of prisoner exchange, the only major block in the path of an armistice.

After today's brief session, Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, Allied spokesman, said he did not think the communists have had an opportunity to "get new instructions." He called attention to recent statements by top officials in the U. S., Britain and Canada supporting the uncompromising U.N. command stand that no prisoners will be forced to return to red rule against their will.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il again demanded unconditional return of red prisoners in Allied hands and rejected the U.N. proposal to return only those who would go voluntarily.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief U.N. delegate, replied:

"The firmness and finality of the United Nations command position should be unmistakably clear to you by this time. I have nothing else to say."

They agreed to meet again tomorrow in Panmunjom at 11 a.m. (9 p.m. Friday EST).

Reno Gets Sharp Earthquake Shock

RENO, Nev. (AP) — A sharp earthquake jolted Reno just after 8:30 a.m. today.

There was no report of damage in the city.

The quake had a rolling motion and was accompanied by a low rumble.

Prof. Vincent Gienella, University of Nevada seismologist, said the shock knocked the needle off the recording tape on his seismograph and he was unable to estimate the epicenter of the quake, or to record its intensity.

The jolt was not felt at Verdi, 13 miles west of Reno, where a heavy quake damaged buildings in December, 1948.

In Pasadena, Dr. Charles F. Richter, seismologist at California Institute of Technology, said the shock was sufficiently strong to cause some damage—such as toppled chimneys—at its center.

New U.S. Atomic Artillery Piece Is Described

NEW YORK (AP)—An atomic gun developed by the U. S. Army was described last night as an accurate and devastating weapon, providing field commanders with "finger-tip" fire power—and heralding a new era in the waging of war.

The description of this country's first atomic artillery weapon —a gun that can "hit its target under any weather conditions and give ground troops the kind of devastating close ground support never before available in warfare" —came from Army Secretary Frank Pace.

Pace said the new weapon "is essentially an artillery piece—but with immeasurably greater power than any artillery hitherto known."

"Such atomic weapons," he added, eventually will bring "significant changes" in the Army's traditional mission of closing with and destroying an enemy.

Pace's claims for the weapon came in a speech before a meeting of the National Wool Manufacturers association.

The weapon has been tested by the Army with non-atomic ammunition but official specifications of the gun remained a secret until last night.

It Was Just a White Cat, But It's Owners Mourn

Be Kind to Animals Week evidently didn't mean much to some Anaheim youngster.

Susan, 8, and Debbie, 5, daughters of the Rev. John K. Saville of St. Michael's Episcopal church, are mourning the loss of a one-year-old, short-haired white cat which, last Sunday, dragged itself home to 726 N. Zeyn st. with a shattered rear leg. A veterinarian later found three air rifle pellets in the leg and groin of the cat, disposing of any theory that the deed had been done accidentally.

Anaheim police have been notified of the incident and the Rev. Saville said any information regarding it would be appreciated.

Anaheim Soldier Lands at SF

Cpl. Phillip J. Yorba Jr., Rt. 3, 21062 Highway 18, Anaheim, was among the returning 3654 American combat veterans from the Korean war who docked in San Francisco today.

The liner carried, in addition, 129 other Army men, 24 Air Force personnel, 50 military dependents and one civilian employee of the Army.

The combat veterans, after processing at Camp Stoneman, across the bay from San Francisco, should be on the way to their homes by Sunday.

Hunts Foods and 'Cyclones' Win Softball Games Last Night

During last night's City League softball double header at City park, Hunt Foods took the Anaheim Merchants in a tight 1-0 game. Ed Farr, Hunt's chucker, limited the Merchants to two hits while getting seven strikouts.

The hustling Fullerton-Anaheim Cyclones, a new team entry replacing Northrop, who withdrew from the league, whitwashed Koopman's Furniture 7-0 in the first game of the evening. Paul Salazar, chucker for Cyclones pitched the shutout, allowing one hit and 13 strikeouts. First baseman Joe Espara carried the big stick for the hustling Cyclones as he hit four for four and scored three of the runs. "Slugging" Joe Juarez collected four walks to score twice.

The Cyclones, as you will remember are the team known last year as Joe's Service.

Farr, of Hunt's pitching staff collected a one hitter shutout, when they defeated Anaheim Merchants last night in the second game at City park.

Hunt's scored its winning run in the top half of the sixth inning as Tony Piantoni doubled and scored on Jack Pickering's single. The Merchants threatened in the first inning as Frank Perez tripled with two outs, but when long ball hitter Bob Thompson, cleanup man came to bat, apparently Farr had Bob's range as he struck him out to retire the side.

Giles Tells Dodgers Lay off Rough Stuff

NEW YORK (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers have been warned by President Warren Giles of the National league to stop their jockeying from the bench, it was learned today.

The warning, in a letter to Manager Charlie Dressen, was read to the Brooklyn players in Cincinnati Wednesday following the banishment of pitcher Chris Van Cuyk from the bench by Umpire Frank Dascoli on Tuesday night.

The source said Giles wrote Dressen he heard vile language from the Brooklyn bench himself and that Jackie Robinson was the worst offender.

After the letter was read, Robinson is said to have told Giles he never used profane language. Dressen also denied that his star second baseman had used any vile language.

Dressen had no comment other than to defend Robinson.

Anahi Netmen Meet Powerful San Bernardino

Anaheim High school's Sunset league leading tennis team will meet San Bernardino High netters on the local courts in a first round CIF playoff, next Monday beginning at 1:00.

San Bernardino will bring to Anaheim an imposing record of 81 victories out of 90 matches played in their league competition — where the teams are on a par with Sunset league members.

This is the fourth straight year the Colonists have competed in the CIF playoffs. Last year the team lost in the first round to a powerful La Jolla squad. The previous year, Anaheim knocked off four teams in the playoff before losing to Santa Monica in the finals.

This Guy Says Indians Will Take AL Flag

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The baseball race is not yet a month old, and a forcaster should not become panicky any more than a manager should, but we already have a strong feeling that some alterations are necessary in what was presented here as the four-star, exclusive and certain order of finish in the American league.

Don't become nervous. If you risked a beer on the Cleveland Indians to win the flag, take it easy. Youre in. They have what it takes, even with such a man as Larry Doby out with injuries. It is below that point that he original list appears to be slightly out of kilter, and we would like to offer an explanation.

In the first place, they have been trading players all over the joint since the season opened. If this were not sufficient to alter he picture, several clubs, especially the Boston Red Sox, are employing athletes who were kept carefully hidden during the spring. They're good, too. And in the third place, quite a few players are not performing up to the standard expected of them. These are things which could not have been foreseen.

Take, first, the two swaps which have given Washington a brand-new young outfield of Jim Busby, Jackie Jensen and Archie Wilson, and a potential winning pitcher in Frank (Spec) Shea, whose longlame arm appears to have mended. No manager can get more out of a club than Bucky Harris. Lets jump the Senators up two notches to fifth place, just on a hunch.

• • •

THAT MAKES it necessary to drop the cooled-off St. Louis Browns down to sixth and the Chicago White Sox to seventh, and well tell you why. The Browns, to stay there, had to get hitting from Jim Rivera, their fabled rookie, and nearly loss-proof pitching from Ned Garver. Manager Rogers Hornsby had been forced to bench Rivera, which must have hurt, and Garver hasn't been doing too well.

But Rivera showed signs of snapping out of his slump yesterday when he homered in the ninth to beat the Athletics.

Dumping the White Sox, who finished fourth last season, all the way down to the edge of the abyss might seem drastic, but there's simply no other place to lodge Paul Richards' erratic crew while the Athletics have squatters' rights in the basement. Everyone around the western training camps knew a month ago the Sox could not sustain their pace of a year ago.

For the time being, and at least until another revised forecast seems advisable, we'll leave the Yankees in the runner-up spot. You can't turn your back on a champ just because he gets knocked down a few times. Two things are ailing the erstwhile Bombers at this stage—they aren't hitting with men on the bases, a painful complaint, and Vic Raschi, the wheelhorse of their pitching staff, hasn't been able to finish any of five starts.

What to do with the Red Sox presents something of a problem. It is contrary to every baseball law for a club to come up with many sterling rookies. It was underhanded, furthermore, for manager Lou Boudreou not to have listed these juvenile wonders on his official roster. However, it's done now and it seems expedient to shove the Bobbysox up a peg into third place.

Let's see, that leaves Detroit without a home and only the fourth spot open. Obviously an awkward situation. The Tigers are eighth at the moment. Some of them are said to be out of rumor with their manager, Red Rolfe. Put them fourth, but remind me to feel their pulse again in about a month.

TV Cuts Into Football Gate

NEW YORK (AP)—Controlled television of college football will again be possible this fall under the National Collegiate Athletic Association program now being drafted.

It probably will be on a broader basis than 1951 although the survey made by the NCAA television committee through the National Opinion Research Center showed that television does definite damage to college football attendance.

"This year's television will be spread among more colleges," said Bob Hall, Yale athletic director and chairman of the TV committee. "The colleges acted with the full knowledge they are hurting themselves."

Hall, who declared that college football supports the vast recreational and physical education programs of American schools, pointed to the elaborate TV survey based on last season which said:

"Colleges competing with televised football in 1951 reported a loss of one and a half million ticket sales compared to their 'expected' attendance based on the pre-television levels of 1947-48. In contrast, colleges with no TV competition boosted 1951 paid attendance by 318,000 over their 'expected' 1947-48 average.

IN RELATIVE terms this means a loss of over 15 per cent for the colleges competing against TV, compared to a gain of more than six per cent for the colleges without such competition—A "TV differential" of 21 per cent."

Last year's college TV program presented an elaborate pattern each week. On some Saturdays a single game was televised across the country. On others a game from one section would be televised only in another section.

Hal Gregg Goes After Fifth Straight Tonight Against LA; Rickey Sees Bell

Righthander Hal Gregg, who's developed a marked stinginess with base hits, tries tonight to extend his goose egg string at the expense of Los Angeles in a Pacific Coast league twin bill at Oakland.

The 200-pound flinger didn't give Portland a run in two games last week. He turned in a no-hit, no-run victory in seven innings and later blanked the Beavers again on only three hits.

A native of Anaheim, Gregg broke into baseball in 1941 with Santa Barbara and after five years moved into the majors for a seven-season tour. Last year he was out with a sore arm, but hooked up with Oakland this spring. To date he has won four without a loss.

Last night the Oaks moved back into second place with an 8-7 victory over the Angels. San Diego held a four-game lead by beating Sacramento 3-2, while San Francisco downed Hollywood 8-2. Rain caused postponement of the Portland-Seattle contest.

The Angels and Hollywood are only a half game behind the Oaks.

LEFTY AL OLSEN kept San Diego well ahead of the pack as he spun a neat three-hitter for the Padres. Johnny Ostrowski's homer with one on was the only scoring blow for Sacramento.

Although taking an early 5-1 lead, the Oaks had to scramble to win after they fell one run behind in the eighth. Then Eddie Lake and Jay Ragni walked and Pete Milne singled in the tying run. Ralph Hamner took the mound to replace starter Cal McLish. But Hank Schanz tapped a perfect squeeze bunt to bring in the winning run.

Branch Rickey, the bosaman of the Pittsburgh Pirates, came to Hollywood to look over the Stars. The National league club owns a piece of the PCL club. But he didn't see much as San Francisco hustled and hammered to victory.

The Seals garnered 12 hits to only six for the Stars, held in check by lefty Al Lien. The game might have been closer had not Hollywoods starting pitcher, Harry Fisher, pulled a muscle in his pitching arm. He left with the score 3-2. Lee Anthony and Royce Lint worked in relief. Bob Thurman hit a home run for the winners in the seventh—his fifth.

At a press conference following the game, Rickey said he would talk to Gus Bell today and decide if the outfielder will return to the Pirate fold. Since being sent to Hollywood on a 24-hour recall basis, Bell has been hitting over the .300 mark. But with his boss in the stands he went hitless and was caught off first on a pick-off play.

Six Colonists Entered in CIF Track Events

Anaheims Larry Kirchman and Orange's Landon Carter apparently will not compete directly against each other in the 440 during the CIF Southern Section Track and Field semi-finals tomorrow afternoon at Chaffey high school, Coach Sam Keith revealed today.

The one-lap specialists, rated one-two in Southland prep circles in 440 competition, have both been awarded the inside lane in two separate 440 heats. Thus, they both will be running against "time." The eighth event on a program of track events that begins at 1:30, the 440 will nevertheless be a highlight of the day's meet.

One of two semi-final meets, one at Carpenteria and the other at Chaffey, the contest will select the top five high school athletes in each event. These winners will meet at nearby Huntington Beach high school next Saturday for the CIF finals. Survivors of this meet will move on to the State finals in the Coliseum a week later.

• • •

FIVE ANAMEIM high school track men, in addition to Kirchman, will represent the Colonists in the meet tomorrow. Qualified in preliminaries held last Saturday at San Diego state, the team, excepting Kirchman, has only slight hopes of surviving into finals, however, having placed no higher than third in preliminaries.

Aaron Peralta, still nursing his bad football leg, will run in the varsity 100 yard dash and if his weakened leg muscle holds up might surprise dopesters.

Little Mickey Gouyd, class Cee 660 man, also is expected to show up fairly well in his event.

Bill Walker, class Bee sprint man, is the only Colonist who will see double duty tomorrow. Walker will run in both the class Bee 220 and 100 yard dash. Qualifying in third place in both events, he draws the outside lane in each.

Dick Reed, varsity miler, will find tough competition tomorrow in his specialty, drawing the same heat as his regular conqueror, Ed Denbow of Orange.

Ira Webber, gutty 880 man, will run the two lapper for the Colonists.

The program of events, beginning at 1:30, finds Walker's 100 the fourth event, Peralta's 100 the fifth; Reed's mile the seventh; Kirchmann's 440 the eighth, Walker's 220 the 13th; Gouyd's 660 the 15th and Webbers' 880 the 17th.

Home-Makers' Forum

By JOAN S. WHITE
Gazette Home Economist

The strawberry season is much too short, don't you agree? Baskets filled to overflowing with the luscius sun ripened berries temptingly displayed in our markets are as sure a sign of spring as the robins were back home, but they pass their prime all too soon.

Freshly picked strawberries are such a good source of vitamin C that they may safely be substituted for citrus fruits and juices at breakfast time. Their wonderful flavor and bright color give zest to any meal and are especially popular at party refreshment time.

• • •

STRAWBERRY SALAD—One of the quickest molded salads to make that we know of gets its start with a package of strawberry gelatin. Dissolve the gelatin in hot water according to the directions on the package and pour into a layer cake tin. Add one cupful of washed and hulled berries and chill until firm. The strawberries will float in the warm gelatin, of course, but the shallow cake pan serves to surround each berry with just the right amount of gelatin. Very pretty too.

Lime gelatin can be the basis of an attractive fruit plate as well. Cut up fresh grapefruit or canned pineapple in this with fresh strawberries and stir in cottage cheese or not, as you wish.

• • •

GLAZED STRAWBERRIES — Some of the best French style pastries are the easiest to make and glazed strawberries is one of them. Do you ever remember sampling a heavenly strawberry tart filled with whole strawberries in a shining transparent sauce? To duplicate that dessert, crush three cups of hulled strawberries and put through a coarse sieve. To the resulting juice, add one-third cup of sugar, one tablespoon of lemon juice, one tablespoon of cornstarch and perhaps a dash of red food coloring.

Cook and stir these ingredients until thick and transparent, and beware of scorching. Set aside to cool. Meanwhile fill six medium size tarts with about three cups of sweetened strawberries. When the sauce has cooled to luke warm, pour over the fruit. Top with whipped cream. This amount is also sufficient for a nine inch pie shell.

And speaking of pie, strawberries make the best chiffon pie we know of. If you are as rushed as we seem to be most of the time, make it the lazy way using a graham cracker crust and a package of strawberry gelatin.

STRAWBERRY CHIFFON PIE 1

1½ cups sliced strawberries
½ cup sugar
1 package strawberry gelatin
1 cup hot water
2 eggs
¼ teaspoon salt

Sprinkle ¼ cup of sugar over the berries and let stand while you assemble other ingredients. Take ¼ cup of the resulting strawberry juice and mix with slightly beaten egg yolks. Cook until thickened. Dissolve gelatin in hot water and fold into the egg mixture. Chill until thick and add the strawberries. Make a meringue mixture with the egg whites and remaining sugar. When the mixture stands in peaks, fold in the strawberry gelatin. Pour into the pie shell and chill until firm. Garnish with whipped cream, whole berries and fresh green mint leaves.

STRAWBERRY CHIFFON PIE 2

1½ cups strawberries
¾ cup sugar
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
½ cup boiling water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup heavy cream
2 egg whites
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon almond extract

Combine sugar with strawberries and let stand for 30 minutes. Soak the gelatin in cold water and dissolve in boiling water. Flavor with lemon juice. Add gelatin to the berry mixture and chill until thick. Fold in whipped cream and the egg whites which have been beaten with the salt until stiff. Add almond extract and spoon into a nine inch pie shell.

• • •

STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE—There are two schools of thought about this all-American dessert; some like it made with sweet cake while others prefer the old fashioned way with rich biscuit dough. Packaged mixes come in handy here as do the little Mary Ann sponge cakes that can be purchased ready made at your grocers.

We like to cut our shortcake biscuits into wedge shapes before baking as they somehow seem to hold more strawberries. Serve hot and well buttered with sweetened berries which have been crushed a little—not too much crushing, mind you, and be generous with the whipped cream.

If your budget allows more berries than whipped cream, remember both evaporated milk and the powdered skim milk do whip and make satisfactory substitutes for the genuine article.

WATERED-DOWN FEROCITY — Janet Leigh is evidently on good terms with Fearless Fagan, 410-pound movie lion, as she gives him a drink between takes of film in Hollywood.

Lincoln School Open House Called Successful

More than 400 parents and friends attended the Open House program of Lincoln school last week. The operetta "Hansel and Gretel" was presented very successfully in the new cafetorium building.

Norman Montague appeared as Hansel and Penny Dinkler portrayed Gretel. Other members of the cast were—Mother, Nancy Wilson; Father, Gregg Parker; sandman, Bobby Wilson; witch, Jean Brown; white ladies of the fog, Willetta Smith, Cathie Morris, and Bonnie Berryman; cookie children were Bonnie Berryman, Charles Osborn, Spencer Leaker, Cathie Morris and Willetta Smith.

Hansel and Gretel was performed by the combined fifth and sixth grades directed by Mrs. Cecilia Barnes and Mr. Wilfred Edelbrock. Musical background was by the third and fourth grades directed by Mrs. Helen Todd and Miss Adele Howard. The very attractive stage settings were executed by Mrs. Geraldine Moody.

Mr. P. E. Doane, principal of Lincoln school, welcomed the guests and drew their attention to the display of books used in elementary school studies. Great numbers of parents studied these textbooks with interest in light of the recent controversy concerning some Anaheim textbooks.

Orange County's "Weight" at Sacramento

Perhaps you, as a citizen, never thought about that, or knew there was such a thing. But there is.

It is what every County, or its citizens, must have in order to get what they want from state government. Legislative weight is compounded of experience, prestige, know how and 'know who."

It is not gained in a day, or a year—or a term.

Sam L. Collins has it. He has been Speaker of the Legislature for 12 successive sessions. He is a member of the State Board of Public Works, the Board of Regents, University of California; vice-chairman of the Joint Interim Committee on Highways, and member of Joint Interim Committee on Agriculture.

That's why practical men are advising you to—

Elect

Sam L. Collins
State Senator

Response to Town Meeting Requires Larger Hall

Enthusiastic response to the first Anaheim town meeting, May 15 at 7:30 p.m., has resulted in a change of meeting place from the YMCA building to the Elks auditorium, according to Jean Morris, president of the Anaheim Republican Women's club, sponsors of the affair.

Impartial and non-partisan, the meeting will be open to the entire community, Mrs. Morris added.

Candidates on all sides of the ticket for state Senator will appear, including John Murdy and Sam Collins. Four Assembly candidates scheduled to speak are LeRoy Lyons Jr., Frank Rospaw, Richard White and Glenn McCloud.

Due to the vital interest shown in the race for the Justice Court Lloyd Verry and John Shea, seeking the position, have also been asked to appear.

Each candidate will make a prepared speech and will follow his address with an open question and answer discussion period.

Guests will be seated informally at tables where coffee and cookies will be served, according to Hildred Ferrell and Mrs. Gerald Endicott ,refreshment chairmen.

Chain Bank Gives $7,547,354 in Workers Benefits

A report just made to employees of Bank of America on last year's operation of the Bankamerican Family Estate profit-sharing plan shows that $7,547,354 was devoted to immediate employee benefits and to a program to build an estate for employees and dependents. To eligible participants this gross benefit was equal to approximately two months salary.

Of the full 1951 amount, $4,408,266 was applied to immediate benefits to every fulltime Bank of America employee in the continental United States who had served four months or more in that year. Such benefits paid for by the bank included group life insurance, dependent life insurance, hospital and surgical insurance, retirement annuity insurance and sickness benefits.

The remainder was used to purchase 120,889 shares of common stock of the bank, distributed to the accounts of employees with five or more years service.

President L. M. Giannini said it is hoped the plan will assure the financial security of those who make a career with the bank. Retirement income from the Family Estate plan is in addition to payments received from the bank's regular retirement annuity plan adopted in 1935.

A total of 1,324,314 shares in Bank of America has been purchased for the benefit of participating employees since 1938 under the Family Estate plan and predecessor profit-sharing plan, it was revealed.

Out of Town Buyers Purchase Bonded Homes

Residents of a number of cities besides Anaheim are represented among buyers of dwellings in Bonded Homes' first Anaheim development, it was disclosed today in a tabulation released by C. Fred Smith, president of the building firm.

The initial Bonded Homes community is going up on N. East St. at Adele St., just north of Center St. in Anaheim. The homes, with three bedrooms or two bedrooms and den, and 1½ baths, are priced at $12,500.

While most of the buyers have come from Anaheim, the geographic points of origin also include Los Angeles, Santa Ana, Long Beach, Balboa, Fullerton, Downey, Whittier, Compton and Inglewood. One buyer listed Northridge, in San Fernando Valley, as his present home.

Occupationally, a majority of the buyers are junior executives, most of them from the Anaheim division of Northrop.

The houses, being built by Bonded Homes, Inc., are available on down payment of $2700 plus impounds, and on monthly terms of $59.52 for principal and interest, on FHA terms. Other terms prevail for qualified veterans.

another nice thing about an all-electric kitchen... it stays cool

Starting right about this time of year, that old problem of hot, stuffy kitchens and uncomfortable cooks is coming up to occupy the center of the stage. Except, of course, in those happy homes with all-electric kitchens.

Electricity does the cooking with a fast, intense heat that concentrates on the cooking—there's none left over for the kitchen or the cook. Even on the hottest days, and with piping hot meals in preparation, the kitchen stays cool and comfortable.

You'll like an all-electric kitchen, too. And if you install it in planned stages, you can complete it with no strain at all on your budget. See your electric dealer.

His Highness . . .

No one deserves a special day of honor more than mother does. She deserves all the nice things said about her, all the nice things given her. But she deserves much more.

She deserves tenderness and consideration from her family the rest of the year too. She deserves not to be taken for granted. Or taken for little more than a housekeeper.

We feel that, however fitting the Mother's Day remembrances may be, the more important thing is that it not be an occasion when the family tries to make up in 24 hours what it has failed to do in the preceding 364 days.

Mothers are human beings—a fact which seems to escape some individuals. They are not so constituted that they can endlessly serve the needs and the whims of their families on a round-the-clock basis without feeling the need of occasional rest and recreation. By this we don't mean that mothers generally are treated like so much slave labor, but that home is unusual in which her services are fairly evaluated and properly appreciated.

If on Mother's Day the family will consider the many things mother does for them every day the occasion will have real meaning and lasting value.

Why not the year around . . . ?

There is no question that money has much to do with social position. Take hamburger, for instance (that is, when the butcher isn't looking). This writer, who has yet to grow a long white beard, can remember the days when it could be had for 15 cents a pound or less.

At that figure it had little prestige and was ignored by the upper crust—those who could pay 25 or 30 a pound for meat. It had many adherents, but these were not the social leaders.

Today that's all changed.

Anybody who can buy hamburger is automatically listed in "Who's Who." He is a man of means, a bon vivant. Friends vie for an invitation to his table.

So, just as the mighty have fallen, so also, have the lowly risen. And it is all summed up very well in this brief gem (author unknown): "1942: We were broke, so we lived on hamburger for a week. 1952: We lived on hamburger for a week, so we were broke."

IN THE DAYS OF LONG AGO

From the Files of Anaheim Gazette

When the grape brandy bill was passed it was hoped that a bonded warehouse would be established in Anaheim. But, as will be seen by the regulations we published yesterday, the number of warehouses is limited to seven, only one of which is to be established in this county. Of course, that puts a stopper on Anaheim's expectations, for the warehouse will undoubtedly be located at the county seat (which at that time was Los Angeles—Ed).

The Herald calls attention to the disparity in representation in the Legislature between Los Angeles and Santa Clara counties. There is more striking disparity still. Sacramento, which does not begin to have as large a voting population as Los Angeles county, has two senators and five assemblymen to our one senator and two assemblymen, or, seven to three.

Messrs. F. and J. Backs are improving their property on Los Angeles st. They will renovate the old adobe building throughout.

F. A. Korn will attend the session of the Grand Lodge of I.O.O.F. as delegate from Orpheus Lodge and Mr. Richard Heimann will represent Anaheim Lodge.

The shock of an earthquake was plainly felt at Anaheim and Santa Ana about four o'clock yesterday morning.

Col. R. S. Baker was among the arrivals by train last evening.

The "Orizaba" started out at San Diego during Tuesdays' blow, and was compelled to seek shelter in False Bay, where she lay at anchor for twelve hours. The sea was very high in the offing and washed clear over the decks of the "Orizaba."

A fire in Los Angeles yesterday morning destroyed a frame building on Main street belonging to Governor Downey and the Cardwell estate. The Hellman block was also damaged to the extent of $800.

At the meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution held Friday afternoon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. C. Deming, early history of the west was the topic discussed. Several interesting papers were read and stories related of the old times who crossed the wide waste that separated civilization in the east from the gold coast. Mrs. Ella Coons read a diary kept by her mother. Mrs. Tarver, relating the history of her trip across the plains in 1869. Mrs. Tarver was accompanied by her small daughter, Miss Charlie Tarver, now Mrs. Victor Montgomery of Santa Ana. The ladies were in the party of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Porter of Orangethorpe avenue. Mr. Porter had just wedded a Texas belle, and this was their honeymoon tour. Mr. Porter drove ahead of him a herd of 3000 beef cattle. He had many exciting adventures with Apaches and white cattle thieves. In Arizona his herd went two days without water and when they smelled the water of the Colorado river 40 miles distant, the herd was off on a wild stampede. Mr. Porter and his cowboys following them. Many of the cattle were drowned in the river. The river was crossed and the herd was driven to the Westminster section of what is now Orange county. It was then Los Angeles county. Mr. and Mrs. Porter and his party came to Anaheim. He bought a ranch on Orangethorpe avenue which he still owns. Mrs. Tarver located on a ranch at West Anaheim. Here she met and was wed to Dr. J. S. Gardiner, one daughter was born to them. She is Mrs. Coons. Miss Tarver was wed to Judge Victor Montgomery. Other speakers were Judge Pleasants, who crossed in 1894. Mrs. Grimshaw, whose father Daniel Kraemer crossed by caravan, Mrs. Victor Montgomery of Santa Ana, William McPherson of Orange and several others.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — General Eisenhower has decided not to follow the precedent of Wendell Willkie toward the oil barons of Texas, including fabulously wealthy Roy Cullen.

When Willkie toured Texas during his 1940 presidential campaign, he was warned in advance to be especially nice to Cullen. The big oilman, Willkie was advised, was good for heavy campaign contributions.

However, Willkie, either forgetting or ignoring this advice, shook hands with Cullen rather casually when he got to Dallas, did not single him out for special attention. Later, when told that he had slighted the big oilman, Willkie observed:

"You know, the good Lord put this oil in the ground, then someone comes along who hasn't been a success at doing anything else, and takes it out of the ground.

"The minute he does that," observed Willkie, "he considers himself an expert on everything from politics to petticoats."

Ike Reverses Willkie

Friends of politically green Ike Eisenhower are seeing to it that he doesn't make the same faux pas. That's why the hands of Texas oilmen Roy Cullen and Sid Richardson are seen in the letter Ike has written to Jack Porter of Houston putting himself on record in favor of the oilmen in regard to tidelands oil.

The fact that Eisenhower, after refusing to take a position on any other domestic question, after letting it be known he would make almost no speeches before the Chicago convention in July, finally takes a position on tidelands oil, is no accident.

It was arranged first by Sid Richardson, who took a special trip to Paris for the purpose. Second, it was calculated to win the support of Roy Cullen. For Jack Porter, to whom Ike wrote the letter, long has been Cullen's Henchman and political messenger. Cullen has sent Porter to Washington from time to time to keep an eye on the 27½ per cent oil-depletion tax allowance which sets oilmen apart from others so favorably when it comes to figuring out their income taxes.

Porter also dumped $5000 into the Joe McCarthy campaign to defeat Senator Tydings in Maryland, who was a strong supporter of Ike's. Five thousand dollars is a lot of money for a Texan to send all the way to Maryland, and a lot of people are wondering why; and whether some of it might have come from Cullen.

Porter also is close to ex-speaker Joe Martin, a potent backer of General MacArthur, and no friend of Eisenhowers'. Porter even tells friends that he had $50,000 available from Cullen to help Martin during the 1948 convention in case of a deadlock and a chance to nominate Joe.

These are some of the things that Eisenhower undoubtedly didn't know when he wrote the tidelands "Dear Jack" letter to Jack Porter.

"A Little Knowledge"

Eisenhower did know, however, something about the battle between two Texas politicians—Porter and Henry Zweifel—to become Republican national committeemen. For, in the fall of 1950, he remarked to GOP friends that if Porter were made GOP national committeeman from Texas, he, Ike, would get the Texas delegation in 1952. Ike even said that he was going to talk to Helen Reed, publisher of the New York Herald Tribune and a potent force in GOP politics, about speaking to Guy Gabrielson in order to help get Porter the job.

In the end, Porter was defeated. Zweifel got the committee post.

Undoubtedly it was to strengthen Porter's hand in Texas that the "Dear Jack" letter, taking a position on tidelands oil, was sent him. However, that letter is being scrutinized by politicians from coast to coast, as an indication of how the general will handle local leaders if and when he finally takes off the uniform.

Judging from the "Dear Jack" letter, their conclusion is that a little political knowledge is a dangerous thing.

Josephine Baker, in Hollywood, Turns Down Some Cinema Offers

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Josephine Baker, playing her first night club run in Hollywood, is accepting the applause of the movie crowd but refusing their film offers.

The controversial Negro entertainer is reported mulling an offer to film her life story. But she has turned down many other film opportunities. The reason: She was wanted merely for specialty numbers in musicals.

"I don't like to use the term egotistically," she remarked, "but in France I was a star in movies. I played the leading role in many pictures. One of my partners was Gabin—Jean Gabin. I do hot intend to do specialties in pictures here.

"I don't want the same thing to happen to me as happened to Lena Horne. She was limited to doing musical numbers. And the numbers were cut out of the pictures when the pictures played in the South. I think Lena Horne should be starred, and I think some day she will be.

"I have a very good feeling about Hollywood. I think it is growing up. I think the time is coming when the movie industry will be making films starring colored artists.

"Hollywood should do this. After all, it is the motion picture capital of the world. It should take the lead in understanding between the races. Besides, it would be good business. Think of the audience of colored people throughout the world—500 or 600 million! I think the studios would more than make up whatever loss they might suffer in the South. And I think the day is coming when the South will go for such pictures, too."

• • •

IN RECENT YEARS, there have been only two all-Negro pictures made by major studios. In 1942, MGM made "Cabin in the Sky" with Ethel Waters and Rochester. In 1943, 20th-Fox put out "Stormy Weather," a musical starring Lena Horne and Bill Robinson.

"But I don't argue that pictures should have all-colored casts," Miss Baker continued. "I merely say that when a story calls for somebody colored, it should be played by a colored person.

"In Hollywood, when the Queen of Sheba is portrayed, she is shown as a blue-eyed blonde. Now the Queen of Sheba was certainly not blue-eyed and she was no blonde. Also, Cleopatra is shown as light-skinned and blue-eyed. Even though the custom then was to paint the face white, Cleopatra was dark-skinned and she couldn't have had blue eyes."

Miss Baker has just returned from a night club engagement in Mexico City. After her run here, she goes to San Francisco and then takes off for a two-months' appearance in Brazil. In October, she plans to open her own club, Chez Josephine Baker, in New York. Then she'll go home for Christmas with her French husband, musician Joseph Boullion.

"I've got to keep moving," said the entertainer. "That's the way I am, and that's how I've always been. When I stay in one place too long, I get restless.

"Of course, this has been very hard on my husband. The Frenchmen do not have the same view of marriage that Americans have. The women in France are supposed to stay home; the men know that they are free, but the women aren't. My husband has been very understanding indeed."

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—An Irish cop on his Dublin beat wears his night stick as some other gentlemen would a cane. Not only is it ornamental, but he'd also feel undressed without one.

In front of the Gresham hotel on busy O'Connell st., on a Saturday night a policeman stood. He looked al lof his six feet, 175 pounds as he watched many of his countrymen who had come to window-hop on Dublin's main street, or to chat awhile with the gentlefolk who sometime pass the time in the one or more public taverns.

He appeared to have a moment to himself and so it came to pass that the patrolman on his beat heard himself asked the following question:

"How often, Mr. Officer, do you find it necessary to use that nightstick? On unruly ones, I mean."

Mr. Officer thought and thought again and then he ventured the reply: "Very seldom."

Pursued as to the last time he used the truncheon, the policeman searched his memory and finally recalled:

"Six, or it may have been eight years ago."

The occasion was some sort of political demonstration. The people themselves rarely get out of hand, it appears, because the Irish apparently are quiet, law-abiding who don't go in for rowdy activities, even on Saturday nights.

• • •

THE YOUNG patrolman — he said he could not give his name—had been on the force 10 years. He had two uncles who had been on a police force in America—New York, of all places. One of them, Mike, came here during the war. "I think he's retired now; I lost track of him, but I heard he was wounded in some skirmish in New York."

OBLONG VIEWS

(From an Egg-shaped Head)

By WALDO HUNTER

THERE IS NO sport that will humble a man and bring him to heel so quickly as golf. Lady, if your husband is addicted to the game, do not fret at his long absences. Be serene in the knowledge that his ego is being tamed even as you can not tame it. You may look like a Lana Turner and be as subtle as a Cleopatra, but for knocking the ego out of a man, you ain't got the knack of that little white golf ball.

The game looks so innocent, so easy, and so silly. You take a golf club, and you hit the ball, aim-it at a little cup in the ground.

You may be 545 yards away from that little cup, or you may be a foot away from it, but the principle of the game is the same: get the ball into the cup in the least number of strokes.

The only trouble is that—in the split second which it takes you to bring the club head down into contact with the ball—there are apparently 976 things you can do wrong.

Golf is a peculiar game. The man who shoots regularly in the "low 70's" may step up to the tee, arch his spine one 6,000th of an inch too much and knock the ball only 150 feet, while a duffer who is glad to post a score of 105 may take a swipe at the same ball and swat it 230 yards.

The golfer is the most chronic complainer, the one most ready to grasp at an alibi, the biggest bluffer, and without doubt the most flagrant liar in the field of sports today or any other day. (And fishermen and poker players are gladly included).

Most golfers tell a lie the minute they take off on a round. You can go around the course with most any week-end hacker, and he will say at the start:

"I just come out here for the fresh air and exercise. The score means nothing to me."

A few holes later you come to believe that he may also be desirous of correcting some rare dietary deficiency too, as you observe him chewing the shank off his putter after missing a two-footer.

When a man plays golf, he is entirely on his own. It is not a "team" game. When he turns in a sorry exhibition on the golf course he knows, in his heart, that only he is to blame. But you should hear his excuses for a bad shot. He will blame the wind, the sun, the grass, the humidity or the aridity, his golf clubs, the ball . . . that d——— ball!

After the ball is once in play, it must not be touched again by any other means than the club, but you should see those guys out there at Willowick, for instance, furtively push the ball up a little higher on the grass for a good "lie." This should be counted as another stroke, but shucks, we aren't even considering the score, just a little fresh air and exercise.

Whenever a golfer tells you he shoots "about 80" you can add 10 and make it 90 without in any way belittling him. If he claims to shoot "about 90", make it 100.

Anaheim has some 200 golfers in its midst, including some of our highest-placed citizens. Dick Gay, down at the Bank of America is "gone" on the game. Not too long ago he tasted sweetly of the cup of triumph by knocking off a "hole in one" on No. 13 at Willowick. Our own Judge John Shea is another inveterate pursuer of the sport. I wouldn't go so far as to say that golf has any bearing on a man's daily occupation, but just the same I wouldn't want to be up before Judge Shea on a traffic count after he had spent a day in the sand traps.

The fact that we have 200 golfers among our population is serious enough, but it probably could be worse. They could be addicted to heroin instead.

Martha Holmes' Success Story Is Now in the Making

By TOM E. DANSON

HOLLYWOOD — Here is the type of story I like to write about: a success story in the making. It begins conventionally enough, with a young gal, a singer, who lives in the Hollywood Studio Club—former home of a lot of our stars. She is being auditioned by NBC's topflight director, Carmen Dragon, whose "Railroad Hour" and "Standard Hour," among others, you've heard. And if she's lucky, this is the break millions are looking for—well anyway, here's the story.

The girl is Martha Ann Holmes. She is a lyric soprano with euough talent to become one of Lotte Lehmann's select pupils. She came here from Wichita Falls, Tex., about six months ago and took up residence in the Studio Club.

Know about the Studio Club? Well, an incredible number of Hollywood careers begin — and end —there. Entirely respectable and well supervised, it is a girls' hotel for kids who come here and wait for that ONE GOOD BREAK. Or, where they wait until they give up, pack up, and go back to that little town somewhere, broken-hearted.

Although Martha Ann had sung with some rather large and respected musical organizations in Texas, Oklahoma, and Colorado, she ran smack into Hollywood's courteous disinterest right away. Nevertheless, she filled her life with plenty of hard work and waiting.

Then one day her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne J. Holmes came visiting. It was up to Martha Ann to show them Hollywood and all the glamor spots people read about. Also, her mother wanted to see an old radio friend, Walter O'Keefe, to whom she had listened during many a morning's housework.

Martha Ann obliged and they attended the broadcast. Then, when the quizmaster toured the audience looking for contestants, Walter asked the young singer the old question, "What lo you do, dear?"

When she said she sang, she was invited on stage, and became a rare exception to the show's format of straight talking and quizzing, and her rendition of "My Hero" won warm applause from the audience. She also won the $40 for answering her questions. Her parents went home and that, apparently, was that.

It was several months later that she was called by NBC. Somebody had heard her voice on the "Double or Nothing" tapes, and wanted her for an audition.

The "somebody" was Carmen Dragon, who, after the audition was impressed but, of course, noncommittal. It may all lead to nothing, but the important thing is that Martha Ann got a chance to show what she's got. The wheels are rolling, and you have no idea of how few even get that chance.

NO GASOLINE PROBLEM HERE—While people in certain sections of the country are concerned over the oil strike, these two mules fill up at a Memphis, Tenn., gas station. Johnnie Smith gives his mules water after a busy day in the hot sun. There are many defineries in the mid-South area not affected by the strike and oil men say due to storage facilities in this area the strike will not be felt here for several weeks. —(Associated Press photo)

Zion Lutheran Begins Greek Theater Services

Classed as an outstanding musical group in the Southland, the Lutheran Laymen's League chorus of Los Angeles will sing in the Greek theater of Anaheim City park Sunday night. The outdoor vesper services are set for 6 p.m., with the chorus to present a pre-service concert.

The chorus is composed of 25 male voices and is directed by Herman Meyerhoff, principal of Trinity Lutheran School in Los Angeles. Numbers to be included in the services are "Beautiful Savior," and "When All Thy Mercies I Survey." Mrs. Evelyn Bamann is accompanist.

Delivering the sermon will be the Rev. Armand Mueller, pastor of First Lutheran church in Van Nuys and president of the Southern California District of the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod. Rev. Mueller served as vicar of St. Johns church in Orange for a year, graduated from Concordia Theological Seminary in St. Louis, Mo., in 1932. He has been district president since 1948.

Sermon topic is "Who Lives at Your House?" The outdoor vespers are sponsored by Zion Lutheran church, with the theme of the four-Sunday series to be "Answers to Timely Questions." The public is invited.

Church Notes

Stanton Community

Rev. Charles A. White, pastor of Stanton Community church, announces the 25rd annual national convention of the Independent Fundamental Churches in America will be held in the South Los Angeles Community Church May 17 with Dr. David Schmidt as host pastor.

This is the first time that the convention has been held west of the Mississippi river. Anyone who is willing to open their home to a visiting pastor please contact Rev. White.

The Bible School is at 9:30 a.m. with Max Moolick as superintendent. Morning worship on Sunday is at 11 o'clock when Rev. White will use as his sermon "Discipleship." Dick Yater will lead the congregational singing, accompanied by Mrs. Jean Wettstein on the piano. The youth meetings will be at the high school at 6:30 p.m. and the C.Y.F. at 9:00.

Mrs. Mary Cook asks that anyone desiring to become a member of the Stanton Community church choir contact her for a tryout.

Wesley Methodist

The Rev. William McKinley Walker will preach on the theme "The Best Brother—Yours" at the Sunday morning service in Wesley Methodist church. Musical numbers, under the direction of Miss Margaret Elliott will include the Vienese anthem, "Mother Love Abideth." and a duet, "Mother," to be sung by Miss Elliott and John Albright.

Bethel Baptist

Happy homes are needed throughout the nation in order to give children the security that they should have in this day, Rev. Berthold Jackstelt of Bethel Baptist church will speak on "Building A Happy Home," Sunday morning at the 10:45 service. Mother will be honored throughout the day at the services of the church.

In the evening at the 7:30 service, a gospel team of United States Marines will bring the special music and tell how they are being kept by the hand of God. They will represent the C.S.O. of Santa Ana.

First Baptist Bible Conference Concludes Sunday

Dr. V. C. Kelford, nationally known Bible teacher concludes his conference on Bible Prophecy this Sunday at the First Baptist church, Broadway at Citron. He has dealt with such subjects as "The Second Coming of Christ," "The Great Tribulation," "Palestine and the Jew," and "The Antichrist."

At the 11:00 a.m. service Dr. Kelford will speak on the subject "When God Removes the Curse." Man and the whole universe has been under a curse on account of the initial sin of Adam and Eve. There is coming a day when this curse will be removed and perfection will once again come into God's creation.

At 7:30 p.m. the subject will be "The Blood Remembers What the Mind Never Knew." This will deal with the tremendous subject of God's atonement for man's sin.

Dr. Kelford employs a large chart describing God's working with man through time. This visualizes the whole of the Scriptures and makes it much more understandable.

Visitors are cordially invited. A complete nursery is maintained for the small children and babies.

WATCH SMUGGLING

SINGAPORE (AP)—Watch dealers have issued a warning that smuggling of good quality watches into the colony will follow the cut in imports to 25 per cent of present volume.

The Singapore and Malayan governments ordered the cut to conserve dollars and other hard currencies now being expended on watch imports.

Christian Science

The understanding of spiritual existence, exemplified in the life of Christ Jesus, redeems man from sin and its effects, disease and death, points out the Lesson-Sermon on "Adam and Fallen Man" in all Christian Science churches Sunday.

Paul's declaration to the Corinthians (I Cor. 15:22) will be the Golden Text: "As in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive."

In a Bible citation from Luke (4:34, 35) a man with a spirit of an unclean devil cried out, "Saying, Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? . . . And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the devil had thrown him in the midst, he came out of him, and hurt him not."

Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "Christ, Truth, was demonstrated through Jesus to prove the power of Spirit over the flesh,—to show that Truth is made manifest by its effects upon the human mind and body, healing sickness and destroying sin" (p. 316).

Wesley Methodist

A platform demonstration of the chemical and physiological effects of narcotics and of alcohol will be presented at the seven o'clock Sunday night service at White Temple Methodist church by Mr. Bergen Birdsall who is well known in the schools of Orange county for his popular assembly programs on this timely subject.

It is his sincere conviction that much of our problem of dope-addiction and marijuana sales among teen-agers and much of our alcoholism could be eliminated if the public knew the scientific facts and reactions of these drugs. High school students have been fascinated by his demonstration methods in assemblies in schools throughout Southern California. The Sunday night program will be an exact reproduction of his school assembly program.

At the 10:50 a.m. service, Rev. Frank E. Butterworth will present a Mother's Day sermon on the theme, "A Magnificat for Moderns."
