DAILY GREETING TO OUR READERS

Here is the great last certainty. Be sure of God. With simple, loving worship, by continual obedience, by purifying yourself even as He is pure, creep close to Him, keep close to Him. Be sure of God, and nothing can overthrow or drown you.—Phillips Brooks.

CROP RETURNS TOTAL IS MORE THAN 1922

The American farmer's plight is not so good—in spots. But, on the whole, it is better than last year. Which is to say that the cash value of this year's crops is estimated as being worth more than $872,000,000 more than last year's yield. There was an increased acreage of about 600,000. This year's crops are of the estimated value of more than $8,300,000,000.

Much is heard about wheat, and the sorry status of the farms because of the low price of wheat. But there are three farm crops more valuable than wheat. Corn is king of all crops, in value—running to more than $2,200,000,000. Cotton comes second, and hay third—each of them well in excess of a billion dollars in value.

The need of diversification of crops becomes more and more apparent to those who study the farm situation carefully. It is the farmer's rational hope against untoward economic conditions. It would assure him a balanced yield and consequently a balanced income. Farmers are turning to this solution of their problems with studious attention. The next few years will witness great changes in this respect, without doubt.

This country should array itself upon the side of world peace and should make its influence felt, effectively, in the promotion of unity, justice and fair dealing among nations.

Manifestation of good will and the spirit of generous giving should not be confined to the Christmas season alone. This spirit is needed every day in the year.

CONGRESS MEETS: HAS BIG OPPORTUNITY

The 68th Congress has convened, in regular session. Since Congress last met, grim tragedy removed Mr. Harding from the presidency and Mr. Coolidge became his constitutional successor. The country is on the threshold of a national political campaign. Questions of taxation, soldier bonus, relief for farmers, and other issues, in the domestic field, are pressing. Foreign relations affords another vexing source of complication, requiring statesmanly skill for wise formulas.

No Congress, in time of peace, has been faced with greater problems or with more glowing opportunities for giving the country much useful service. It remains to be demonstrated how this Congress will use the great chances which lie before it.

Politics unquestionably will figure prominently in the proceedings of this Congress. This is inevitable. It is to be hoped, however, that this indulgence in political maneuvering may be minimized, and that much helpful, broad, statesmanly action may come from this session.

The American farmer is in sorry plight, in some respects. But his lot is not so hopeless as some persons make to appear. Judicious self-help will save many of his problems.

There is a Santa Claus just as truly as there is a spirit to give good gifts and to make others happy. For Santa Claus is but the embodiment of this spirit.

FRATERNAL BODIES ARE OF GREAT USE

The standard, established fraternal organizations of the country are of great usefulness to the community. They inspire good citizenship. They are a strong incentive to patriotic endeavor. They inculcate the best principles in public and private life. Their influence is exerted potently for the best in government and for the clearest and purest in community life.

Membership in these worthy organizations is composed of representative citizens of the different localities. The country owes a great deal to its acceptable secret orders, whose proceedings are not marked or veiled by masks. They are growing in membership and in influence. They are appreciated in the communities in which they flourish. They command the respect of citizens in general. Their generous philanthropies are brightening features of community life.

The native of Blankville pointed with pride to two doddering ancients hobbling down the village street and informed an out-of-town visitor:
"Them fellers is the Linker twins—ninety-nine years old." The visitor was duly impressed, and so appear interested asked to what the twins attributed their long life.
"Well," was the response, "Jake declares it's because of his chowin' and smokin' day in an' day out, fer nigh onto a hundred year; an' Obadiah avows he has his health, because he never touched the filthy weed."
He had just arrived at one of those resorts where boiled men go to be boiled out and renovated, generally. Presuming his neighbor on the sanitarium veranda to be a fellow patient, he opened a conversation.
"And is the air here," he began, "as good for the health as they say?"
"Is it!" exclaimed the other.

WHO'S WHO

IN THE DAYS NEWS

SEN. IRVINE L. LENROOT
Complete divorcement of the League of Nations from any control whatever over the world court is provided for in a set of reservations which senator Irvine L. Lenroot of Wisconsin has introduced in the senate. By many political observers this is accepted as the administration plan of ratiating the world court. Lenroot insists that the plan is his own but it is believed the White House knew of his plans before the reservations were introduced and that there will be no opposition to the list.
Lenroot has been an interesting and influential figure in national politics almost since the day in 1912 when he stepped to the platform in the national convention and delivered a thrilling speech in behalf of Theodore Roosevelt.
He entered congress the first time for the Sixty-first session as a representative and served five terms. Then, on April 2, 1918, he was elected to the senate to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Hastings. He was re-elected in 1920.
During his career he has been a leading advocate of laws for the conservation of natural resources and has favored government supervision of railroads. He fought against the anti-strike clause in the Cummins railroad bill when that bill was before the congress. As his part in the war tax legislation he put through an amendment that increased the surtaxes on large incomes 25 per cent more than that originally proposed by the Democratic leaders.
He was born in Superior, Wis., January 31, 1863, and started life as a court reporter.

"Well, now, when I came here I had no strength at all. I couldn't possibly have walked across this porch. I had hardly a hair on my head, and as for weight, you could have weighed me on the letter scales in the office!"
"Gee!" Have you been here long?"
"Some time. You see, I'm the proprietor's son, and I was born here."

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

What Editors Are Saying

BOY NEEDS HOME CARE—Kansas City Star
The daily accounts of young men and boys arrested on charges of robbery, hold-ups or other crimes are in large part a reminder of parental negligence and the virtual breakdown of the home. Apparently, the first duty of fathers and mothers would be constant attention to the welfare of their children; but that this important matter is given secondary place in hundreds of cases is the testimony of juvenile court judges, reformatory officials and students of social problems. The simple requirement of the case was pointed out by Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver in a recent statement. Judge Lindsey said:
"What a boy needs is a father's firm and guiding hand, as well as a mother's love, and this need in the boy's life is mostly around the ages of 12 to 18, beginning at about 12, for psychological as well as moral and physical reasons. We could reduce delinquency and the work of the juvenile courts by at least one-half if we could get fathers to remember that."

THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

MARCELETTE
She had written a letter. It was a love letter. Perhaps the best she had ever written. To whom would she send it? She was a flirt—Mabel Steinbrunge.

A SAD TALE
She came to me from sunny France. She was at first a trifle wild. The blood within her veins was blue. (The French are SUCH coquet-tes, you know.) For she had sprung from ancestry Este among the "Fair-voies." But I tamed her, and when we went out She was the talk of every show.

When first I saw her graceful form My heart forgot all other guests. I strove to win her with sweet words, And frolic, childlike, on the lawn; She vowed to heed my mild be-levs. One time she coyly kissed my cheek Then vanished like a star at dawn.

Her raven hair was black (of course) And her bronze eyes were (I fancy) bright; I hardly braced when she would get Upon my lap when I sat down: Ah, it is sad! I even fear My eyes with tears are filling up. One day she took quite ill and then They came and shot my French bull pup!—Frank Walsh.

When they really do get to knocking out child labor, we trust they will banish some of it from the halls of Congress.

CONCORDIA CLUB HAS XMAS FROLIC FOR LITTLE ONES

A capacity house greeted the entertainers at the Concordia club last evening when they had their annual Christmas party for the kiddies.

A splendid program was given before Santa Claus made his appearance. The Concordia orchestra opened the program and graciously responded with success.

The "Snowflake" dance, executed by several talented young people was very enjoyable. Miss Fredwig Lange was the solo dancer and received much praise for her interpretations. Mrs. Arden's dancers were Gertrude Otto, Gertrude Oelke, Hildegard Lange, Katherine Treck, Laura Schroeder and Louise Zankel. Mr. J. H. Braun played the piano. The players wore white costumes and looked very pretty.

Tableaux depicting scenes of the first Christmas were given by various members, including the scenes "The Children Coming" and "The Three Wise Men." Otto Hammel sang during these decorations of the sweetest story.

The interesting hour for the kiddies arrived after the tableaux and the children formed a line and marched to the platform where Santa was handing out the gifts. Everybody was well remembered, receiving candy and refreshments later.

Mr. Hammel played the role of the jolly old saint.

Dancing occupied the remainder of the hour and music was furnished by Stillwell's orchestra.

Church and Club News

REVIVAL MEETING AT TABERNACLE

Evangelist Clayton C. Root, who has made an enviable record for himself in the field of evangelism, with his famous musicians, Mr. Root is wonderful in teaching the scriptures and can quote the same by the yard, and make it apply with great force to modern conditions. His course in scriptures better than many college courses may be obtained by giving close attention to these meetings from night to night.

"Mr. Root says there will be no personal work allowed in his audience. He believes that every auditor can think for himself, and he invites all to come and hear what he has to say. He assures those that meet courteous treatment. Some evangelists get results, or think they do, from sending personal workers to the audience but the Christian church grows with Mr. Root that this method is not advisable and welcomes both Mr. Root and his message. He is simply presenting the message and leaving it to the intelligence of his audience as to their action thereon."

M. B. Simmons is a wonderful soloist and choir leader. To hear him is to want to hear him again. His wife is a wonderful pianist, and accompanies her husband in all his efforts. Mr. Myers, the pastor, is glad to announce another great "cabinets" meeting, and believes that Anaheim is due for a great awakening within the next few months. All lovers of righteousness as well as others are invited, but especially lovers of right doing.

"Cooked Their Goose"

A happy company of relatives gathered about the dinner table at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hughes, South Palm-st., Christmas day, to do justice to the delicious roast goose which rendered the table and was surrounded by all the traditional fixin'.

Of course the prettily trimmed table and decorated tree received attention first and the many gifts which it bore caused exclamations of delight from everyone.

Covers were placed at dinner for Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hughes and Mrs. E. J. Hughes and son, Paul, Seal Beach; Miss Katie Mulvihill, Lawrence, Kansas, a sister of Mrs. E. J. Hughes; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bruce, Gerald and the twin daughters, Thelma and Velma, of White; Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hughes and Joseph and Elizabeth, Mrs. Mae Mahan, Allen and Margaret, and Mrs. Ida Hughes, mother of the stalwart son.

Music and visiting filled the afternoon most happily and the end of a perfect day found all loath to break up the family party.

FLORIDA BEACHES YIELD RARE BOOZE

As the gay Yuletide season approaches, the number of persons appearing on the beach grows. It is not only the "beachcombers" and here with "beachcombers" and "beachcombers" increases—and there's a reason.

Early one morning recently, bathers rubbed their eyes in amazement as they stumbled over floating cases of "low" wine. A few days later a carter, deserting his work on a beach front, pulled from the surf a package containing four crates of Gordon gin. At about the same time, a contractor, digging near the beach, unearthed two dozen bottles of German lager beer.

Hundreds of persons have been poisoned throughout the country this year from drinking bad liquor, but not one has suffered any ill effects in this vicinity. For every bottle thus far unearthed has been found to contain the "real" wine, and usually bears the customs seal of foreign nations. At least, this has been the general observation of those interested.

There are no bootleggers in the vicinity of Daytona, Daytona Beach, and Seaboard. Why? It is apparently not worth it. As the law is not enforced, it is not worth it. As the law is not enforced, it is not worth it.

The Kaiser may leave Holland. Once before he demonstrated that he didn't have enough to let well enough alone.

The strange part of it is that neither of them is a native-born American. They are the sons of a foreigner and a native-born American.

BURNING EYESHADE CAUSES VET'S DEATH

NAPA, Dec. 28.—A collied veteran, afflicted by a burning eyeshade, died a few hours later. The victim, Alfred J. Thomas, 67, was a veteran of the Spanish-American war. He was wearing a pair of eyeshades which were too tight and caused him to suffocate.

STRONG WIRE MADE OF ROCK SALT

MOSCOW, Dec. 28.—A manufacturer of wire stronger than steel has been accomplished by the use of rock salt by Professor Joffe of the Petrograd Academy of Sciences. The discovery of Professor Joffe's discovery of wire made from rock salt came after a series of extraordinary experiments in the malleability of metals by structural chemistry. Rock salt, the crystals of which normally break to decay at a pressure of one and one-tenth pounds on 1.67th of an inch, yielded at a low pressure of 200 pounds.

Professor Joffe discovered that by submitting the rock salt to high pressure before the electric current was applied, it was not destroyed by the electric current. This was achieved by the use of a special apparatus which allowed the rock salt to be compressed to a pressure of 200 pounds before the electric current was applied.

The Kaiser may leave Holland. Once before he demonstrated that he didn't have enough to let well enough alone.

CURRENT SPORTING EVENTS

FIRPO WILL NOT BE GIVEN FIGHT

By DAVIS J. WALSH (I.N.S. Sports Editor) NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—If it weren't for the fact that the boys are all set to gather the loose money Dempsey and Firpo left in New York last time, it might not be bad business to feel Tom Gibbons some of that Firpo dust just to see what would happen.

Personally, we believe that Gibbons would make the fur-bearing citizen look even worse than he actually is. Thomas himself declared that he would stop the snore were he given the opportunity. He will stop.

The boys are fully aware that the snore must be preserved, as is, until the harvest moon shines brightly on another Dempsey enterprise, probably on or before May 4 next. They are waiting at a two million dollar gate this time, and that is entirely too many dollars to trifle with.

Firpo has one more big fight coming to him and it must be with Dempsey because the project is one of those form-fitting and need-to-be-hello.

Allowing the snore to frolic with Gibbons, Harry Wills or any of those rough players would be nothing less than ruinous. Therefore it shan't be done.

It is pleasing to note, however, that Gibbons at last has decided to capitalize the fact that he is the only man this side of the river to stay the limit with Dempsey since the latter's victory over him. Everything was against Gibbons at Shelby, yet he hurt Dempsey on several occasions and proved that he is uncommonly fast, smart and game and tough.

We happen to be one of the innocents who think that the Shelby fight was on the absolute plum level. We also think Gibbons can do it again.

He is stepping out in the general direction of another chance in meeting Fred Fulton. Gibbons should cut funny Fred in two inside three rounds. The latter, never game, is now as slow as a day-laborer's saw.

After Freddie is picked up tenderly and borne away, Gibbons intends to come to New York to see what can be done about the situation. He cannot hope to interfere with the Dempsey-Firpo business, which is in the bag, but can find plenty of other business here, provided Jack Renault, Gene Tunney, Mike McElree, and other worthless care to accommodate.

The talk of matching McTigue and Carpenter for the light-heavy weight championship of the world and then bringing on Tunney to meet that winner, Gibbons, is a light heavyweight could "take" the three of them in one week, and it might not be long before he joined the merry throng at that. The title in question fell of Carpenter into the hands of Dempsey and a small fortune.

SARGUM SPROUTINGS

All the baseball fans remember Curly McLean, who for two or three years was a member of the Chicago Cubs. Curly, once caught for Hap Hoosier's Vernon Tiger, but his connections with the Globe Grain Co. took him out of professional ball.

His connection with the local Elks was mostly as utility player and coach. His smiling "good nature" made him a favorite with the fans. When he was called on to play he gave his all and was a big aid to the Elks, Champions.

If reports are true Mac has taken about two weeks' leave. Over two years ago after a game Mac was taken ill and it required several months to put him on his feet. He did not attempt to play ball again for months but his health apparently was perfect and his love for the game was as strong as ever.

Just before the close of the season his old trouble came back on him. He went north with the team to participate in the State Oil Co. Championship. His return here was again kept from his duties as manager of the southern branch of the Globe Grain Co. for several weeks.

He again took up his duties about two weeks ago. For a few days everything appeared to be going to fall. However, he was the only man this side of the river to stay the limit with Dempsey since the latter's victory over him.

It is pleasing to note, however, that Gibbons at last has decided to capitalize the fact that he is the only man this side of the river to stay the limit with Dempsey since the latter's victory over him.

FIND NO TRACE OF OWNER OF CLOTHES

Only the waves crashing against the cliffs two miles south of Estabon pilotes can hit the clothes hanging on the line. The clothes belong to J. C. Conroy, known as the "lunatic" in this isolated section.

A diary found near the cliffs showed that the clothes were put there by a man named Conroy, formerly lived in Venice, where authorities proved that Conroy had left that city a month ago for "parts unknown."

The garments showed no evidence of having been in water. Letters in the coat pockets showed he had paid his bill.

The diary indicated that Conroy was an upright man, wrote with a good hand, and had education. The clothes were found on a beach and no man had ever come into his life.
