ROAD FINANCING
CENTRE OF STAGE

SACRAMENTO, March 30.—Highway financing held the center of the stage today as the Senate adjourned the ninth week of its session. Only three weeks remain in the entire session and practically none of the major issues has yet been brought to a vote.

It is up to the state highway commission to make the highway financing bill. The senate has requested a budget of its program for the fiscal year 1926, and until this has been delivered, the opposing factions can do little but wait. Senator Arthur H. Breed's measure proposing a one cent increase in the gasoline tax is still before the Senate committee on revenue and taxation with separate bills for the damage caused by the automobile and the bill for the present time. The committee has not yet reported back to the upper house at the present time. The committee has not yet reported back to the upper house at the present time.

HEALTH RECORD GOOD IN SOUTHLAND

Southern California is noted for its healthfulness. It always will be. Climatic conditions conspire to make this a health promoting locality. Many have come here for health; many are coming for this purpose. This Southland has taken many a case of a person broken down in health and has restored that person to health.

This section is not bidding for the sick and ailing. Particularly it does not encourage the coming of indigent sick, because their plight here may become extremely embarrassing all around. In some instances, indigents are sent into this state from their home localities, apparently for the purpose of having them become public charges here. This, of course, is unfair to California.

But this sunny climate has been and is the Mecca for great numbers of persons in indifferent health. It always will be Nature's sanatorium, thanks to its mild climate and pure air. And another thing: This climate conduces to good health because it promotes cheerfulness and outdoor exercise and diversion. There is no season of the year here closed to outside pastimes. This inclines those living here and those who visit here to be out much in the genial sunshine. The psychic as well as the physical effects of this are decidedly wholesome and promotive of sound health of mind and body.

Coleen Coolidge has a mind and a will of his own.

PEACE MOVEMENT GRIPS CENTRAL AMERICA

Where is the best example of peace-promotion being given in the region where it least was expected. It is in Central America. A few years ago that was the most hellacious area on the face of the globe. There were revolutions and international conflicts without number. But all that has changed. The five republics of Central America are in process of ratifying treaties providing for disarmament, arbitration of all disputes, appointment of commissions of investigation and a general treaty of peace and amity, providing for non-recognition of revolutionary governments. All the five republics constituting what has been known as the "Balkans of America" are expected to ratify these treaties soon. Costa Rica already has ratified.

This is distinctly encouraging. It betokens the dawning of a new era in these sister republics. It shows that the trend all over this Western Hemisphere is toward peace, security and orderly government. That these Latin republics should take upon themselves the solemn vows to observe peaceful processes in settling disputes among them and in discounting unwarranted revolutions is distinctly to their credit. They are setting an example before the world that is worthy of emulation by countries of the Eastern Hemisphere.

HEALTH AND DIET ADVICE

By Dr. Frank McCoy
Author of "THE FAST WAY TO HEALTH"

FRUITS (Continued)
The following tables and comments should be helpful to you, if studied carefully and impressed upon your memory.
ACID FRUITS: Apples, Apricots, Peaches, Nectarines, Pears, Grapes, Oranges, Grapefruit, Lemons, Plums, Loquats, Cherries, Berries, Pineapple, Tomatoes and Melons.
APPLES in the raw state are a delicious fruit, rich, however, in better taken by itself and never combined with starchy food. There is a considerable amount of carbohydrate material in the apple, and the combination in itself, with its own acids, tends to produce fermentation easily, so that frequently it cannot be used by people in whom the condition of fermentation sets up readily. If apples are used in place of a meal, they may be combined with one or two ounces of milk.
FRESH APRICOTS can only be obtained in certain parts of the country, and are an excellent fruit for use in a fruit diet. They should be taken alone, or with such starchy food as nuts, cheese or milk. If they are eaten in this way, the skins may be eaten, if well washed.
PEACHES: Summer complaint, which is so common among children, occurs mostly during the peach season, and is almost specific cause seems to be the mixture of peaches with starchy food. If the child is given peaches between meals, when it is much is still full of starchy food, it will have just as bad an effect as if the two had been eaten together. It is surprising how few cases of colic occur when the cause cannot be laid directly to this combination.

WHOS WHO IN THE DAYS NEWS

DR. WALTER SIMONS
Germany's president ad interim, Dr. Walter Simons, has taken an active part in the political life of his country for many years and up to the time of his appointment as foreign minister in 1920, held many legislative and judicial appointments. His present post is head of the Leipzig central court, and office corresponding to that of William II. As foreign minister he took a leading part in the conference which led to the signing of the treaty of Versailles. He participated in the Spa conference in 1920 and was head of the German delegation to the London Conference of March 1921. Following the stimulus of the alliance of the cabinet office and later became the German legal adviser on the Upper Silesian boundary question.
Serving under the Centrist Chancellor Fehrenbach, he soon became the leading spirit in the new cabinet formed after the Red uprising in the Ruhr, in May, 1920.
As foreign minister he sat with the German delegates at the peace conference with allied representatives at Spa from July 10 to 16, 1920. When under threat of expulsion from the Ruhr district the Germans agreed to disarmament and reduction of the army to 100,000 men by Oct. 31, 1920.
In March 1921, he created a cabinet consisting of Gerdieny and the allied countries by addressing an appeal to President Harding to act as mediator in the reparations question. The delivery of the note was timed so that in the event Harding did not accept it, it would bring the United States into the reparations controversy before May 1, the date set by France to move her military forces into the Ruhr and other industrial regions of Germany.
The communication of Dr. Simons caused a tremendous outburst of feeling in Germany, and in some places almost precipitated a clash between different political factions.
Copying the actions of American politicians, Dr. Simons took a swing around America, visiting practically every important center in the republic before he went to the London conference as head of the German delegation.
If returned from the cabinet in May, 1921, following the allied ultimatum on reparations, he later became the German legal adviser on the Upper Silesian boundary question, and was appointed president of the supreme court in 1922.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

What Editors Are Saying
GEOGRAPHY THAT CONFUSES—Froese, Republican
Geography is an elastic science, so free and easy that some folks never learn the rudiments of it. We have never learned the most of us that Brooklyn is New York. Some of us visit the notion that either San Pedro or the Owens Valley or the Yosemite classification might be. Perhaps it is only in California who will be shocked by this kind of blather. "This week's Collier's," who will be shocked by this kind of blather. "This week's Collier's," who will be shocked by this kind of blather. MAKE LEGISLATIVE INQUIRY THROUGH—San Diego Union
The only comment that seems to apply particularly to the state assembly investigating committee's report on the best district who participated in the affair. This comment may be inquired by the legislators mentioned in connection with the affair, and it may be sent to the legislature at large—indeed, we hope it is—but the fact remains that this comment is obvious, appropriate to the appearance, and will be generally made. The assembly will have a chance to examine the report in detail, inasmuch as the open, and perhaps will be able to clear up this wrongful impression of the affair—if, that is, the impression is really wrongful.
On the face of it, the report simply whitewashes the legislators named, and pins the blame upon the testimony implicating the legislators has apparently been rejected, and the testimony implicating the chief clerk and the sergeant at arms has been accepted.
It is up to the assembly today to disprove this interpretation—and to do so by bringing the charges and facts out into the open, showing clearly which assertions are trustworthy and which are not, and why—or to still further in the process of covering up, and thus to increase and to some extent justify popular distrust of legislators and legislative methods.
Press dispatches predict a "warm fight" over the committee findings. The result will be interesting and of considerable importance.

Public officials all over the country face a situation that is the natural outgrowth of legislative assemblies unwilling in the past to participate in national affairs within the last year. Because that would practically be impossible, but is done now, it is a situation which makes the public willing to believe the worst. The public eagerly for scandal—an eagerness tempered by cynicism, rather than intensified by any general indignation—has not strikingly demonstrated in national affairs within the last year. This attitude is not intelligent perhaps, but it exists; and it offers a certain public interest that may in time be intelligently directed to the general good. The fact that it exists, however, does impose upon the public officials an absolute need for avoiding not only evil but the appearance of evil.

It is because it presents the appearance of evil—because it "looks funny"—because it has all the earmarks of a "whitewash" that this committee report requires a thorough and public investigation.
The health clause in the herb doctor case may have manufactured his allegations out of whole cloth; the legislators named may be entirely truthful, and the employes may be deserving of censure, and it ought to be clear to every one that the committee's report is not complete.

DINNER STORIES

He was running a small hardware store in a newly developed district, and the wholesale dealer found him backward in payment of his accounts. They sent him a letter after letter, all of them polite, but each more threatening than the last. Finally they sent their representative down to give him a sporting chance.
"Now," said the caller, "you must have a settlement. Why haven't you sent us anything? Are things going badly?"
"No, everything's going fine. You needn't worry. My bankers will maintain me all right."
"Then, why haven't you paid up?"
"Well, you see, those threatening letters of yours were so well gotten up that I've been copying them and sending them out to some customers of mine who won't pay up and I've collected nearly one hundred dollars. It was only holding back because I felt sure there must be a final letter, and I wanted to not the serious complete."
The caller looked at him for a moment and then said: "I'm sorry, but I must be going. I'll be back in a few days with another letter." The caller left.

POEMS THAT LIVE

I FURTHER SEND ME BACK
MY HEART
I prize and me back my heart.
Since I cannot have them,
For if from yours you will not
Why, then, should you have mine?
Yet now I think out, let it lie;
For find it were in vain;
For I should be blind in doing so.
Would steal it back again.
Why should two hearts in one
—bravest lie,
And you no longer together?
O Love! what is thy sympathy,
If thus our hearts thou sever?
But love is such a mystery,
I cannot find it out;
For when I think it best,
I then am in most doubt.
I then farewell care, and farewell
—sure,
I will no longer pine;
For I'll believe I have her heart,
As much as she has mine.

FORDSON TRACTOR SALES ON JUMP
 Spring business is opening up more prominently and the outlook is for rapidly increasing activity according to sales reports that the Ford Motor company has just given out here.
 In the sale of Ford cars and trucks these show that daily demands retail deliveries have more than doubled since early in January. The largest increase came during the latter part of February, reflecting the upward trend of business, which is now under way, and the optimistic outlook for March.
 Another interesting feature is shown in the sales of Fordson tractors which have made a rapid gain, particularly through the agricultural sector, indicating that the farmer is coming to realize again as a business factor. Daily sales of Fordson are at the present time four times as great as they were early in the year.
 Retail sales of the company during February, favorable to those in Canada and British possessions served by the Ford Motor company of Canada, Ltd., totaled 12,421 Ford cars and trucks and 7131 Fordson tractors. Of these, 5214 Fordson tractors and 12,421 Ford cars and trucks and 7131 Fordson tractors. Reports also indicate improving conditions in the high priced car field. Lincoln cars, a new Ford retail deliveries as compared with 428 for the same time a year ago.

Your Cross Word Puzzle

HOW TO SOLVE THE CROSS WORD PUZZLE
 The way to solve the Cross Word Puzzle is to fill in the white squares of the diagram with the words which agree with the accompanying definitions. The definitions are numbered in correspondence with the numbers on the diagram.
 Any word defined in the text under "Horizontal" will begin at its number shown on the diagram, and will extend all the way across to the first black space to the right of that number. That is, the word must begin in the square that contains its identifying number and extend as far as the white squares continue uninteruptedly.
 Any word defined under "Vertical" will also begin in the white space that contains its number, but will extend downward as far as the white squares remain uninteruptedly.

Iowa Memorial on Whittier Campus

The 300,000 and more Iowans in Southern California are reacting with great interest to the announcement of a plan to build here in Southern California, the adoptive home of so many Iowans, a beautiful building that will serve as a memorial to Iowa ideals and traditions and commemorate the fame of her great men and women. The proposed building, which is being sponsored primarily by the Iowa A.S.A. of Whittier, will be erected on the campus of Whittier College. It is to consist of a five-story building, which will be a fine memorial to the friends and friends of Iowa memorial library, a "hall of fame" where the pictures and records of prominent Iowans may be placed and a suite of rooms where eminent Iowans may be entertained.
 The city of Whittier is taking steps to acquire 60 acres adjoining the college campus for a recreation park. This park will be developed in conjunction with the future athletic stadium of the college. Several thousand people can be handled with ease in the proposed campus site in the proposed park.

Fabrication Questions

Answered by ASSOCIATED OIL COMPANY'S Staff of Automotive Engineers

Question: What causes gumming of valves and how can it be prevented?
Answer: There are several contributing causes of this trouble, some being mechanical, and in some cases the nature of the lubricating oil may have some effect. The usual type of L or T head poppet valve is lubricated either from direct splash from the crankcase or by means of oil from valves which arise from the crankcase. The valve-chamber valves, particularly the exhaust valves, operate at very high temperatures in the main condition in connection with carbon deposits exist here as in the combustion chamber. An important difference is due to the fact that there is no flame to ignite and burn it leaving through a narrow passage.
Question: How often should front bearings be repacked?
Answer: A good practice is to remove the front wheels and repack the bearings with grease with bearings, and they repack with soft soap grease approximately every two thousand miles.

GOVERNOR VETOES DORRIS MEASURE

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 29.—Gov. Richardson today sent word to the legislature that he had vetoed Assembly Bill No. 248, introduced by Assemblywoman Grace A. Dorris, of Bakersfield, relating to fines imposed in cases of liquor control.

Those interested in the enforcement of the prohibition law claim that this bill would hamper the efficiency of the inferior courts in dealing with the liquor traffic, the Governor said.

Gov. Dorris' measure provided that all bills sent to him in lieu of a veto should be returned to the legislature with the veto message and a copy of the bill.

Legislation relating to the salaries of judges and justices of the peace was approved as was a measure intended to increase the salary of the probation officers in San Diego.

The legislature was slow in coming down to work today, little of importance being done during the morning session of the two houses.

A measure amending the law regarding the weight of horses to be used in the state was approved by the legislature today.

TURF FANS WANT RACE RUN AGAIN

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Mar. 29.—While Mrs. Victor Vivadassi's race from the arch-rival racing of the Cofroth Handicap here Sunday, George Wingfield's General, winner of the San Diego Derby, was the favorite to win the race.

The owners of these three horses will wish to see the race run again, and a quarter race, decided in a driving rain, but three of the best handicap horses in America, Mrs. Payne Whitney's Cherry Pie, J. B. Humphrey's Little Chief, and T. J. Miller's Opsey, did not go to the post, the first because of track conditions and the latter two as a result of injuries.

The race was worth $56,416 to the public, and the purse was $100,000. The race was the most exciting in the history of the track, and the best that has ever been run here.
