SHIP FROM L. A. BURNED AT SEA; SAVE CREW OF 25

LOS ANGELES, March 3—The motorship Babinda of the Admiral line, en route from Los Angeles harbor to San Francisco, burned at sea off Santa Cruz, Cal., early today.

Indications this morning were that ship and cargo were a total loss, according to the Admiral line offices.

Captain Maland and his crew of 24 abandoned the vessel and were picked up by the steamer Celilo at 4:30 a. m. The crew will be taken to San Francisco.

The Celilo is standing by the burned hulk of the Babinda, radio reports said.

Address to the owners in San Francisco failed to reveal the cause of fire or to give details.

The fire was discovered at approximately 3 a. m. today and apparently spread rapidly. Calls for help were immediately sent out and were answered by the Celilo which was in the vicinity.

Captain and crew fought the flames steadily until shortly before 4:30 a. m. when the fire had made such progress that the men were driven from the decks which had become hot enough to burn their feet.

At 4:30 they put off in small boats and were picked up by the Celilo, without loss of life or injury.

At 8:28 a. m. the last advices were that the Celilo with the Babinda's crew still abroad was standing by awaiting an opportunity to determine whether or not the hulk of the Babinda could be towed into port. Indications, according to the company's offices in San Francisco were that neither ship nor cargo could be salvaged.

The Babinda was a vessel of 3000 tons and carried general cargo in the coast wise trade.

A portion of her cargo was for Portland, Ore., to which port she was to have proceeded from San Francisco.

The Babinda was built during the World War and was one of a fleet of wooden motorships. She was rated as one of the homliest crafts afloat but was considered efficient. Her value was placed today at $200,000.

ARREST DISTILLER AND SEIZE LIQUOR

CONFISCATE 100 GALLONS OF MASH IN RAID HERE

CALIF. CITRUS SHIPMENTS INCREASE

Movement for Week Climbs to 1528 Cars, 464 Over Last Week

Weekly Citrus Review

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—The market on California navel oranges, both at auction and private sale has been lower the past week, particularly on sizes 126s and larger. Shipments for the past week climbed to 1528 cars, an increase of 464 cars over the previous week. A heavier supply of navels in all markets is directly responsible for lowering prices.

With the large size problem comes the necessity for again revising the crop estimate. Latest figures now being compiled promise another 10 per cent increase in navel production. Estimates as to the number of carloads of naevls left for shipment range between 10,000 and 11,000. That would mean 5000 cars per months of March and April, after which Valencia shipping will open up in full force.

Florida orange shipments the past seven days totaled 1000 cars. It will be well along toward the end of March before Florida shipments will be materially reduced. Florida Valencia oranges are now selling in eastern markets.

The two most important competitive factors in the California navel deal are apples and Florida oranges.

Apple values are more stable than at any time during the past three months. Holdings are somewhat heavier than a year ago. An unusually large proportion of the holdings show full maturity. To what extent the apple situation will continue to influence the navel market is problematical. The larger holdings of apples and the heavy proportion of fully matured fruit are weak spots in the situation. The result might be a continuance of the low level of prices which would have considerable bearing on the orange market.

Full and general bloom of orange trees will be under way during March. The bloom last year came largely in May. A general bloom in March is rare. An early bloom will make it possible for the oranges to attain a good size before the usual June hot spell.

Sales in California quotations are unchanged. Size 80s, $$1.90 per box; 100s, $2.40; 126s, $2.90; 150s, $3.15; smaller sizes, $3.40. Cash California quotations are as follow: Standard sizes, 10 per cent 100s and 20 per cent 126s, balance smaller, $2.85 to $3.00 per box for fancy fruit. Choice fruit, $2.60 to $2.75 per box. Straight cars of 126s and larger are quoted as follows, according to size: 80s, $1.85; 100s, $2.35, 126s, $2.60.

At the present time weather conditions are such as to encourage a large orange consumption. In other lines general activity continues. The trend of values is upward. Iron and steel, cotton, the building trades, etc., are all active. Factories and mills are operating on full time with full forces. There is practically no unemployment. The influenza epidemic throughout the country is responsible for an unusually active demand for lemons.

FRENCH MOVING ON FIFTY-MILE FRONT; SEIZE LARGE CITIES

FRENCH MILITARY HEADQUARTERS, MAYENCE, March. 3.—French troops advanced today along a 50-mile front in Rhenish Bavaria, Baden and Hesse, occupying additional German cities of great strategic importance.

French troops entered the great inland port and railway city of Mannheim at 6 o'clock. There were about 500 French infantry and cavalry supported with machine gun platoons, tanks and armored cars.

By 9 o'clock the city had been almost completely taken over. Up to that hour there had been no hostile incidents. Mannheim is 40 miles south of Mayence.

French troops took over the Rhine harbor at Karlsruhe during the afternoon. Karlsruhe is an important railway and industrial city 25 miles south of Mannheim.

The fresh occupation of Germans territory effectually cuts main ilne railway communication between Berlin, Baden and Wuerttemberg.

All the railroad lines in the newly occupied zones were taken over by the French and wherever along the Rhine river were seized. German railroad employes at Darmstadt quit work in protest against French occupation of the stations.

Advices from Darmstadt early in the afternoon said that the population had become restive and that food stores and banks had been raided by frightened persons who sought to lay up surplus stores of provisions and money.

MAN WINS BATTLE AFTER 200 YEARS

ST. LOUIS, March 3—A battle of 200 years' standing between nature and man (if that has been ended—and man has won).

Barges may now go to St. Paul from New Orleans and return, carrying freight from the region surrounding the Minnesota capitol for transportation of Mexico's standing without the longstanding menace of floods.

Nature is personified by the Mississippi River, charging and gurgling in its eagerness to leap the hurdle of levees and flow forth to lay waste the surrounding country and sweep away homes and crops.

Man is personified by the government engineers and others who have been improving the levee system. They think that after 200 years of fighting the river at last has been subdued.

"River improvements are now in condition to prevent the destructive effects of floods in all but the most extreme high water," says a report of the Mississippi river commission.

Correct this sentence: "You and Dad go to the movies alone," said little Bobby, "and I'll stay and finish my arithmetic."

FRANK KEENAN AS HIMSELF IN MOVIE

As Luke Taylor, the millionaire lumber king in Reginald Barker's new picture, coming tomorrow to the California theater, Frank Keenan, veteran actor and screen favoriate, creates one of the greatest characters of his career on the screen. Cast to play the part of a crabbed old individual who has more money than he can possibly spend, but who aches for activity and the life of a logging camp, as he had known it in his youth, Keenan brings to the role all the force and versatility at his command, according to those who have seen the picture.

Photoplay critics in the newspapers have commented upon the way in which he invests the part of the sour old man with a depth of feeling and understanding which inspires the admiration and sympathy of the audience, in spite of the forbidding manner of the character. Keenan lives the part of old man Taylor in this Metro version of the famous novel, "Timber," by Harold Titus.

They ascribe Keenan's success in this role to the fact that the character of Luke Taylor is in many instances much like his own, although Keenan has none of the crabbedness of old Taylor in the picture.

Both Keenan and the character he enacts in "Hearts Aflame" are men well along past middle age, both wealthy, both eager to fill up their day with something worth while, rather than spending it in the idleness of old age. Keenan's participation in "Hearts Aflame" is said to be more than interesting because of this similarity existing between himself and the man whose life he lives throughout the picture, as well as because it marks his return to the screen after a number of years of retirement from active work.

Included upon this same program, the California theater is offering the opening chapter of that splendid twelve-part drama, "Around the World in Eighteen Days." Here is a smash action-picture, and there are more thrills and adventure packed in this great film than probably any picture seen in this city for some time past.

Each chapter of this picture will be shown each succeeding Sunday, afternoon and evening only.

Jose and Griffith, a nifty vaudeville act, fill be an outstanding feature on this program. Other dandy features will also be seen while Marguerite Eves will be heard upon the big Wurlitzer.

EXTEND GAS MAINS 35 MILES IN 1912

Announcing that extensions aggregating 35 miles in Orange county had been made the past year, Supt. J. C. Hayden of the local division of the So. Co. Gas Co. said today that 1923 would witness an even larger total. The concern is completing a line from Fullerton to the Bastanchury ranch, about 4500 feet long.

The company now is preparing to lay a 10-inch pipe all the way from its plant in Placentia thru Olinda and the Carbon Canyon to Chino, where it will connect with the main line running thru Pomona toward San Bernardino.

The extensive new construction is due most of it to the opening up of numerous sub-divisions in the county, Hayden said. That is, most of the new lines have been only for a few hundred to a few thousand feet long and connect up with lines already within corporate limits.

VAWTER MEETINGS WILL CLOSE SUNDAY

Plans are to make Sunday the biggest day in the history of the Anaheim Christian church. The contest between the Reds and the Greens will close. A picture of the school will be taken at 9:45 and the aim is to have all the members, plus many others in this picture. Another pleasing feature will occur in the morning has not been publicly announced.

Sunday evening Evangelist Vawter will preach what is considered one of his finest sermons. The subject will be, "Why I Love the Old Boo."

Just one hour of services tonight was the announcement.

One of the pleasing features of last night's service was the singing of two numbers by the ladies quartet of the South Park Christian Church of Los Angeles.

The theme of the evening was "A Package of Old Love Letters." The evangelist began by imagining a couple recently married in Anaheim and the groom deciding he would go to Kansas City because of his particular occupation. He told his bride that he would prepare a beautiful home on the boulevard for her and in leaving consoled her by saying: "I go to prepare a place for you and if I go I will come again and receive you unto myself that where I am you may be also."

This is how Jesus comforted his little group of disciples before he left them. The groom left and was gone four weeks, writing a letter each day but the day he left making a total of 27 letters. He told her about the new home and asked her to do certain things for him. At the end of the month he returned and found his letters all tied up with ribbon lying on the library table.

"At first he is pleased but after examining them finds that only two or three have been opened. No speech the bride could make would convince the husband that she loved him. Then he said: 'I see that you opened this letter. I made several requests; did you do what I asked?' She said: "No, I did not think they were important. I thought they were nonessentials. I intended to read your other letters but was too busy; I had to entertain, and was entertained; had to go to the movies; then I had to go auto riding and then there were several card-parties. I was so busy."

"When Jesus went away," said Evangelist Vawter, "he left 27 letters and if we do not read them we show de do not love him.

The evangelist read some extracts from those love letters, putting them in the language of today and then asking the people to quote the verse found in the Bible. Jesus said: "Do what I have told you to do. These are his words: "If you love me keep my commandments," and "If you want anything ask for it," and "Don't fail to attend me," in these words, "Forsake not the assembling of yourself together."

At the close there was one convert who was baptized immediately.

Kid Louie, of Placentia beat Billy Murray of New York via the decision route.

The big surprise was the win of "Honolulu Johnny," Nandes of local fame over Jake Poole of Covina. Nandes scored a K. Nandes is showing improvement in every start.

MABEE AGREES TO MEET MAT CHAMPION

Roy Mabee, Anaheim's wrestling rancher, today announced he would accept the challenge of Johnny Meyers, world middleweight champ for four years. Within the next few days he will try to get together with the titleholder and his manager, now in Los Angeles, upon a date for the match which will be staged here. Mabee would like to have the match around the 15th of the month.

Meyers is wonderfully fast and original and his appearance here will undoubtedly be greeted by the largest gathering of mat followers in the history of the game locally.

Mabee is working hard for his match with Tag Tageson at Riverside and should be in fine shape for Meyers.

MANY CALLED FOR BRITTON TRIAL MON.

Officer Vernon Barnhill of Santa Ana, H. C. Foss of Placentia, Zella Vaughn and her parents and George Annin, all of Fullerton, were subpoenaed in a paper filed today with the county clerk to appear when the second jury trial of Roy Britton of Fullerton opens Monday in Superior Court. The Vaughn girl, a 15-year-old former high school student, went to Florida, following an alleged affair with Britton, who is charged with a serious felony involving a maximum of 50 years in state's prison.

BEWARE OF 'RAZZO,' WARNS DIVORCEE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—Wives were warned today to beware of husbands who drink "razzo." Mrs. Betty Hudson gave the warning in securing a divorce from Frank C. She charged that he drink "razzo," which, she said, is a drink composed of 98 per cent alcohol, and that its effects were entirely in keeping with its name. The Hudsons were married in 1919 in Alexandria, Va.

VOL. XVVI—NO. 168 Anaheim, California, Saturday, March, 3, 1923 TWENTY-SIXTH YEAR

THRONGS TO JAM PARKS THIS YEAR

It's no joke, this "seeing America first" business, according to messages now being received at the Auto Club of So. Calif. from various National Parks of America.

Park superintendents are getting all "het up" about the number of auto owners who are going to pour into such big play grounds as the Yellowstone, Glacier, Sequoia, Grant and Yosemite National Reserves right after the thaw sets in. One Park superintendent, Albright of Yellowstone, says that he expects 125,000 people there this year. This would be 25,000 more than visited Yellowstone last year.

"It is not unusual, says the Auto Club for hundreds of motorists in this part of the state to begin planning their summer trip as early as March, and the club touring bureau is preparing a whole lot of first hand information on road conditions leading to the National Parks thruout America. It has been found that in order to complete a successful trip of some distance, the motorist should begin to lay his plans at least a month or two before he starts out in order to avoid startling omissions in his commissary or bad breaks in his itinerary.

One thing about the big flow of auto travel to the National parks this year will be the probable effect it will have on the improvement of roads within the park boundaries. A lot of auto owners returning from trips to the National play grounds last year made the statement that the routes leading to the gates of the parks were in splendid shape, but that the roads inside the big reserves were not.

Franklin Deliveries In Volume Shortly

The Franklin factory now is on a producing schedule of 55 cars per day and the only thing that is delaying shipments of cars is that the railroad on whose siding the factory is, the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, has an embargo in favor of coal.

So declares E. B. Miller, factory representative, who was in town yesterday calling on the Bob White Co., Franklin and Nash distributors. Sixty per cent of the output from Feb. 15 to April 15 will be closed cars, Miller is touring Southern California for his company.

The proportion of closed Franklin naturally is high, Miller pointed out, because all but one model of the Franklin is closed. There are two sedans, a two-door and a four-door, a demi-sedan, coupe and sport brougham. The latter is a brand new model and will not be out in volume until April.

CASINGS AND TUBES UP 12 PER CENT BY APRIL 1

Another jump of 12 1-2 per cent on standard makes of tires will be put into effect between March 15 and April 1, according to F. S. Dunlap, who received word to that effect today. A jump of 10 per cent on repair materials is announced at once. The advance on casings will make an aggregate higher price of 25 per cent since the first of the year.

AUTO CHIEFS LAUD CERTIFIED MARKET

Two men well known in the motor car industry, F. E. Moskovics, general manager of the Nordyke-Marmon company, and C. A. Musselman of the Auto Trades Journal made a special trip to Orange county recently to confer with the automobile dealers about the methods they are using in the operation of the new public markets for selling and buying used cars.

They had heard about the plan before they reached the coast, and as they anticipate the widespread adoption of it as soon as other communities learn of the benefits derived, they desired to be in a position to pass out first hand information relative to its operation.

At the meeting with the dealers Musselman stated that 13 per cent of the population of the United States were directly concerned in the motor car business. They were either employed in producing materials, accessories, or manufacturing the finished cars, or engaged in the distribution and repair service of them. This gives some idea of the importance of the motor car trade to the public, he claimed. He also said that whatever stabilized the motor

DAYTON THOROBRED GOES 31,000 MILES

C. J. Nenno, formerly Nenno & Rock, is displaying a Dayton thoroughbred tire which has seen service on 31,252 miles and still is a respectable looking piece of wheelwear. The tire came off a car belonging to D. D. Catterin of the Santa Company, formerly Weinstock-Nichols Co., of Los Angeles. It is a 33 by 4 and was used on a Dodge car.

Nenno has taken on the Harvey spring, which is absolutely guaranteed against breaking or sagging. If the spring does either it is replaced entire, free of charge. Owners who have had to pay sizable bills for new leaves in their springs are invited to look at these springs.

Replacements are made by Nenno on practically all the popular makes of car and truck, the spring being made especially for individual cars. Nenno has the exclusive distribution in and about Anaheim and can make a price as low as any in the metropolis.

EDDY TO TAKE UP TOP, BODY BUILDING

Beginning Tuesday next, Eddy's Auto Paint and Top Shop will be equipped to turn out anything from a broken bow in a top frame to a complete sedan or town car body, Eddy announces. The proprietor is installing wood working and metal work of any kind. He has secured the services of Carl Yeager as superintendent of this department. Yeager has had years of experience in such work. He formerly was connected with the Gould Top Co. of San Francisco and until he signed with Eddy was with the Earl C. Anthony Co. in Los Angeles.

Eddy has been unusually fortunate in his men. Charles Ahlstrom and Forrest Wright in the trimming department are former foreman in the trimming department of the Packard company. The fact that 800 jobs were turned out in the first year of business just closed Eddy attributes to the excellent mechanics in his force.

Work this week include sliding glass tops on Studebaker specials, delivered to Harry D. Riley of Anaheim and to C. M. Dunn of Santa Ana.

"PROLONGERS OF TIRE LIFE"

(By the Mysterious Cowboy)

THEY are known as the Nu-Way Tire Co., and they append the appelation to the name of their house—"Prolongers of Tire Life." And both are true, they do things in a new way, in a most efficient manner and their workmanship has proven, again and again, that they actually given a longer life to the automobile tire.

For the tire, it is the home of the fountain of youth, no matter how senile, how bent and aged the Nu-Way system will give renewed life and continued usefulness.

Is it any wonder that this concern should be so expert and offer such a panacea for the ills of run down tires. As it is lend greater claim to their competency, we find the name of Dunlap connected with this establishment, Mr. F. E. Dunlap—a name familiar to the tire world from its earliest beginning—is one of the partners and Mr. Charlie Flannery is the other who does his part in the Nu-Way treatment. Both are highly skilled in their profession and at the fine shop at 227 S. Los Angeles st., the auto owner with a lot of tires or of tire repair will find their service and their system of much use to his auto and of great satisfaction to himself.

Look about you, any place in the city or the country, for business activity or into every day life or social doings, and after having so observed it will be noticed at once that the automobile is the first and last impression of almost every thing and action. It is every place and it seems to be almost paramount in every function of business or in every move toward pleasure or general usefulness. Without it our whole civilization would collapse as the greater part of our daily life is dependent upon it. That being the case the automobile must be given the shoes, so to speak, to get about and thus to fulfill its indispensable place in our lives. This means that tires must be mended, retreaded, vulcanized and looked after, just as we would protect our shoes from deterioration. It means, further, that the auto must be supplied with new shoes—with new and competent tires. To do these things is the mission of the Nu-Way Tire Co., and they have the system and organization to measure up the job. Their latest process for re-rubbering is most efficacious, inexpensive and appreciated. They are the cobblers to the auto and their stocks and service offer a service which the wise autoist cannot afford to overlook. They are exclusive agents for such great tires as Firestone, Oldfield and Norwalk. They sell the best tubes and they deal in tire accessories. They are doing a big business and they deserve it.

Set of Kellys Per Day Walter's Record

R. T. Easton, well known dairyman this week bought another complete set of four Kelly Springfield Cord-skid tires from S. R. Walter of the Anaheim Vulcanizing Works. The tires were for his new Ford truck. Last week Easton purchased a set of four Kellys for his car.

This week's purchase was the third of a complete set during as many days, says Walter. The tires were put on just in time to cope with the slippery pavements after Thursday afternoon's rainfall.

Kelly tubes went with the tires, also, says Walter.

TOURIST BOOSTS BRUNSWICK TIRE

J. H. Zirkle of Topeka, Kansas, drove into the city recently on Brunswick cords which had carried him all the way here, to say nothing about Oregon and Northern California, without a mishap. The tires still look like 10,000 miles, says Daniels & Williams, local distributors. Zirkle bought an extra 34 by 4 tire of the firm. He is now on his way home.

Clyde Williams points to the fact that trucks are more and more using Brunswick tires as evidence of their stability. It is a well known fact that the heavier the load, the more easily a tire goes to pieces if driven even at normal speed; to say nothing about the legal speed limit.

Brunswicks are holding up everywhere. The demand for the Brunswick in Northern Orange County is mounting steadily.

KIWANIS HEAD USES WILLARD FOUR YEARS

After using his Willard threaded rubber battery for four years and four months, A. B. McCord, cashier of the Anaheim National Bank and president of the Kiwanis club has purchased another Willard of A. Bevillard of the Anaheim Ignition Depot.

McCord is only one or two dozen or more local men who have been using the Willard for several years without the instrument rebuilt.

YUCCA PICKERS, BEWARE, BEWARE!

There is a lot of trouble in store for motorists who pick Yucca blossoms this year, according to a warning just issued by the Auto Club of So. Calif.

According to Los Angeles County Forestry Department officials, the Yuccas are just coming into bloom on the hills of the southern part of the state and will be more wonderful the authorities are going to be more strict in arresting motorists who pick them.

Every auto party which is found by Forestry officials in Los Angeles county carrying a Yucca bloom in the car will be arrested without question at once, according to S. J. Flintham of the Forestray department. Other counties in the southern part of the state are at this time considering ordinances making the picking of Yucca blooms a misdemeanor.

In Los Angeles county there is a law prohibiting the cutting of Yucca stalks in the hills. It is pointed out that the huge Yucca blooms when picked wilt and fade within a very short space of time and are useless for decorative purposes. This fact has not deterred motorists, however, from picking the flowers in the past, but now the long arm of the law is going to reach out and do a little deterring on its own account, says the Auto club.

LINCOLN PARTS ARE ALWAYS AVAILABLE

Lincoln parts have been standardized so as to make possible the same service at all Ford dealers', garages as that given to Fords, George Dunton, Ford, Fordson and Lincoln distributor says, in expalining the policy in regard to the Lincoln. At the same time, greater accuracy, of course, is maintained in construction of the Lincoln than in that of the cheaper motor vehicles.

Pointing to another feature of Lincoln service, Dunton displayed a copy of the Lincoln, a periodical issued every month or two and distributed free to all automobile fans interested. Gotten up in the finest cameo stock paper with plenty of illustrations, this is one of the finest productions of the printer's art seen on dealers' tables hereabouts in a long while, and contains much timely matter.

IS NEW ASS'N FIGHTING A.T.A.?

The Orange County Motor Car Dealers' Association, which is operating the two used car markets at Santa Ana and here and plans to open one at Fullerton, seeks to become a general organization and replace the Orange County division of the State Auto Trade Association. This was learned on reliable authority this week.

Furthermore, Earl Matthews, former head of the county division of the state organization, has been elected president of a new association, the Orange County Batterymen's Association, which apparently has taken over the functions of the batterymen's craft of the division.

"Why should Orange County help pay a dues salary to Bob Martland in Oakland?" asked the prominent dealer who furnished the information. "What we want is a local association."

The fact that George Dunton who is still Ford, Fordson and Lincoln distributor here and this week took over Knox & Stout, the Santa Ana Ford, Fordson and Lincoln agency, is president of the division is said to be a factor. Dunton, perhaps the most prominent dealer in the county, has kept out of the new association and its certified market. Another factor has been the resignation of Secretary Herbert Davis of the division, who has been merely acting in recent weeks until his successor could be chosen.

WHO WILL GET PAIGE, JEWETT?

"Paige" and "Jewett" this week were painted out of the front and sides of Hubbell & Wimmer's big shop at North Los Angeles and East Clypress st., and "Cleveland" and "Chandler" will take their place. The trade is wondering who will take in the two former cars.

The firm is meeting with considerable success in marketing both of the new cars. The Chandler contains the new Pike's Peak motor, named from the fact that it was built especially to conquer this, one of the worst climbs in America.

Pressure Lubrication of Bearings

The center main bearings of the Buick Valve-in-Head engine are lubricated by oil under a constant pressure from a gear pump, insuring a film of oil at all times between the bearing surfaces. The pump also forces a volume of oil directly into the crank cases at each connecting rod pocket making certain perfect lubrication of these bearings also.

UNEMPLOYMENT MENACE MAY BE EASED

The next Congress will be asked to proceed constructive to alleviate the suffering and hardship usually attendant upon periods of business and industrial dullness and consequent unemployment. A group of members of Congress believes that the federal government should take the initiative in formulating a program of extensive public works, to be launched whenever unemployment conditions become acute and distressing.

The conference on unemployment, which President Harding summoned several months ago, urged that national, state and municipal governments seek to expand public works during periods of industrial depression. The movement which is under way in Congress would forestall hardships by having ways and means devised for instituting public works promptly when the cyclical periods of depression set in.

This is wise and praiseworthy. It would be a godsend to men who depend upon their daily labor for their livelihood. And the general effect would be stabilizing and materially beneficial to the country. To have large numbers of men steadily employed and have the proceeds of payrolls put into general circulation as well as the money spent public works, would go emfwyg cm for structural material is used in public works, would go far toward ameliorating depressed economic conditions and toward restoring normal prosperity.

RURAL CREDITS MEASURE IN PROSPECT

One of the outstanding achievements of the Sixty-seventh Congress, it is indicated, will be the consummating of legislation for extending credit facilities for the benefit of the agricultural interests of the country. This week should see a comprehensive measure agreed upon and adopted by House and Senate, ready for the President approval.

Given credit accommodation commensurate with the importance of the industry, agriculture should expand and flourish. With expanded credit, farmers will be enabled to plant larger crops and buy the machinery and implements for planting and harvesting. And by the same token the husbandmen will be ba enabled to draw upon credits to market their crops, or to tide them ove rwhile they hold their produce for marketing.

This should foster agriculture quite helpfully. And with prosperity among the farmers, the whole country would catch the reflex of it.

California loses an eminent citizen in the death of Hon. George C. Perkins, former Governor and former United States Senator. Mr. Perkins was of sturdy New England stock. His career here was long and notable.

EUROPE RESORTING TO HELP FOR ITSELF

Word occasionally trickles through the maze of rumors and reports of a less assuring character, that Europe is turning its attention more and more to healing itself, in its economic stress. This is the very best word that could come from that distressed quarter of the world. The government and people of the United States should encourage this tendency, whenever and wherever in Europe it manifests itself.

The United States can not afford to shoulder the financial burdens of Europe. Nor can this country reasonably be expected to lift Europe's economic structure out of its Slough of Despond. This country could, should and would help generously. But Europe must assume the burden, as the main, and the initiative should come from that part of the world.

The first step toward real economic recovery in Europe would be to abandon militarism and to set the face of Europe toward permanent and just peace. This would give an impetus to economic effort that nothing else could or would.

There is nothing to indicate what Colonel Roosevelt is doing in the spiritit world. But it is fair to assume that it is no mollycoddle task.

The process of Americanizing should begin at home. There are native-born Americans, of startling numbers, who are not American at heart.

If he has occasion to look for Cabinet timber, President Harding might remember that California is the home of the "big trees"—a fine place to select timber.

Before demanding plans and specifications and a clear title for a heavenly mansion, one should be sure that one has so lived as to deserve entrance and a title here.

The farmer is to have more credit. Now, for more credit for the consumer! This long-suffering class should have its "bloc" and its sturdy champions.

A scientist claims to have invented a process for bottling sunshine for heat. But a good many are known to seek bottled "moonshine" to warm them when it's cold and to cool them when it's warm.

Many a thoroughly moral, upright citizen is a negative quantity in citizenship, because of lack of public spirit. It is the duty—not should be deemed the privilege—of every man and woman, no matter how humble or modest, to do something and to be something in the community besides being a mere resident. There are many ways in which men and women can help on the growth and development of the community.

BASEBALL WEATHER ONLY NEEDED FOR BIG CROWD SUNDAY

With good weather on tap tomorrow, the biggest crowd of fans that ever witnessed a baseball game in Orange co is expected for the So. Cal. semi-pro championship when Anaheim Merchants, the money-grabber in the Double-A Winter League, clash with the great Standard Oil aggregation of Huntington Beach, titleholders in the Triple A league, after a grueling three-game series with Sawtelle.

Manager Billy Knott is making every effort to plug up the hole at second where Doty Bush's scampering feet and enveloping mitts will be missing.

Disappointed in his inability to get hold of Johnny Butler, Manager Knott today was making efforts to get Cunningham, a whiz from that fast circuit, the Western League, which produces such stars as Jimmy McDowell, who only got five hits out of five times up, three of them homers, in the last game here.

All the rest of Anaheim lineup will be on the job with Captain Buster Callan behind the bat, Hughes on the slab, Manage at first, Johnny Pendleton at short, McDowell at third, Glenn Callan, Vic Ruedy and Ray Bush in the field.

Manager Knott has received a copy of the Pasadena Elks Bulletin containing the following:

The Elks Baseball team who have been playing a good brand of ball during the whiter season in the "A.A." league rounded up with Anaheim Elks for first place. Whenever these two teams are entered in a league the result seems almost a foregone conclusion.

Time and time again these ball teams have met in the finals but with disastrous results for 672, as they sure have the jinx on us.

In the play-off at Anaheim last month we were defeated in the usual way. No use for an alibi, brothers. That Anaheim bunch have a gang of good ball players that are hard to beat. We are going to tangle up with them again in the Elks League this summer, and some day in some way we are going to trim those birds.

BUILDERS EXCHANGE MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Orange co Branch of Builders Exchange will be held at Elks club, Anaheim, at 8:30 p. m. Monday.

WHITTIER MIDGETS TRIM INGLEWOOD

Whittier High's highly tuned 120-pound quintet yesterday defeated the Inglewood High lightweights in a semi-final game for the Southern California lightweight championship on the U. S. C. pavilion floor, 14 to 8.

The Quakers had the edge of the playing on the Chicken Hawks throughout the contest.

FULLERTON WINNER IN PLAY OFF TILT

Fullerton High's powerful basketball quintet defeated the Sweetwater Union five of National City, 34 to 8, in Southern California basketball championship play-off game at Fullerton yesterday. The local team meets Chino in the semi-finals for the Southern California title next Friday.

Although the Sweetwater Union players tried hard, they were completely outclassed by the Fullerton five. Lineups:

USED TIRES GOOD FOR SPARE USE

The Reliable Tire Company has a supply of various makes of used tires on hand which are excellent for spares. Barring the accident of driving over tacks, glass, etc., these tires are good for from three to four thousand miles, most of them.

The Reliable takes in tires on exchange for Para Bells and Apex, or in fact anything on hand. They want you to come back and make a fair price to have you do so.

CLEAN SWEEPS IN CITY PIN LEAGUE

Clean sweeps were the rule in last night's City League game, Bill's Cafe cashing the Keen Hat Store on an off night, now three easy games and the Silver Moon Cafe took the same from O'Donnell's Hotel Coffee shop. "Stormy" Gordon had his worst night of the season.

Capt. Karam, shooting his new ball, rolled three 200 scores and hung up a new mark for the "aces," totaling 632. O'Donnell shot a nice series for his team, while Larrison shot the best for Bill's Cafe.

Sunday night the biggest bowling event of the present series will take place on the local alleys when ten of Anaheim's best shooters take the drives in a ten-game match for a purse of $100. The alleys have been refinished and new balls will be used.

The following are expected to start: Gordon Karam, Elker, Hansen, Heffron, McGaugh, Varner, O'Donnell, Koehler and Gordella.

Geo. Flesner won the prize offered for high score by the Keen Hat Store and Karam one for high series.

UNFOLD SECRET OF AGES IN NEW ROLE

Do you know "How Women Love?"

Well, if you don't (and it's likely enough that you don't, even, if you think you do), go to the United Theater tomorrow and see Betty Blythe in her latest starring vehicle, it may help you, because it's called "How Women Love."

Adam, Solomon, Antony, Henry VIII and other famous men in history had a great deal of trouble and worse than trouble, trying to find the answer to this difficult question of woman's affection. Adam lost Paradise, Solomon lost his wits, Antony his life, and Henry VIII—well, his reputation, without solving the great secret. Now, however, the truth may be known.

Why not? We live in wonderful times. In an age which can talk across space, fly in the air, and go down under the sea, it is just possible that we may begin to understand woman—how, why, and when they love, and how, when and why they fool us. Certainly it would take a wonderful age to discover all that! But here it is, and here is "How Women Love."

Santa Barbara May Adopt Used Car Plan

James E. Appleby, president of the Orange County Motor Car Dealers' Association and Durant, Star and Peerless distributor, got a wire yesterday morning at about 8:30 that the dealers in Santa Barbara wanted him to come down last night and explain to them the operation of the Orange County Certified Motor Car Market. He agreed on the spot and at once arranged to take his family and motor down.

The association hopes shortly to increase the number of dealers who will drop the handling of used cars, as soon as their supply is exhausted, and turn over this business to the market. The dealer merely can recommend the market to the prospect.

75 P. C. OF ESSEX CARS CLOSED MODELS

That there is strength as well as beauty in the Essex Coach top was proved recently when five young ladies, weighing an average of 110 pounds each, posed for a picture while enjoying the scenery from the elevated position afforded by one of these cars.

The framework of the coach is constructed of the finest selected hard wood, and braced so as to give maximum support with minimum weight. Metal panels are of 20 gauge automobile body steel, stamped from one piece.

A notable feature of the coach is the absence of "rumble" that is so annoying in many types of closed cars. This is entirely eliminated by the Essex factory engineers in the scientific design and constructed of the body.

Popular demand for a closed car at a moderate price has resulted in a volume of production for 1923 that has been previously unequalled. Seventy-five per cent of the entire Essex factory production is being devoted to closed cars.

GLARING HEADLIGHT QUESTION UP AGAIN

Commenting on the plan proposed in Los Angeles to enforce the law against glaring headlights West Bros. says it "seems to be the only way". The plan was suggested by Captain Cannon, head of the 18 men in the motorcycle squad, and by it the offender is hanged a filled-in order directing him to have his headlights adjusted in three days or be sought with a bench warrant and prosecuted.

"When the actual expense is considered it is cheaper by far to keep one's lights in focus than to 'take chances' as many motorists have been doing in the past," continues the firm.

"West Bros. have one of the largest and best testing stations in the state and will tell you in advance the cost of putting your lights in shape. The charge for focusing only is 75c. If repairs are necessary you will be told in advance. West Bros. are an official headlight adjusting station and will issue a certificate stating that your lights are O. K.

"Their Los Angeles street entrance is just north of Public Library on South Los Angeles street."

RADIO FANS ARE MULTIPLYING HERE

Interest in radio is spreading in Anaheim, Frank J. Devilliard, who points to the sale of sets of these men as evidence: J. P. O'Brien, J. M. McDuell, O. M. Skinner, W. S. Monsell and Charles Carroll. Kennedy sets; James E. Appleby and L. R. Wilson of Wilson & Bever, DeForest sets.

Devilliard has a lot of prospects interested in wireless.

The latest stunt is to install a set in a graphophone, which doesn't prevent the playing of records and saves the cost of a magnavox, which adds materially to the aggregate. Put into a handsome phonograph, the attractions of a wireless performance are greater than ever.

Free Norwalk Tube With Every Casing

Continuing his offer of a free Norwalk tube with every Norwalk casing, F. E. Dunlap of the Nu-Way Tire company is arousing a lot of interest in the products of this, perhaps the oldest rubber company of consequence in the country. Dunlap will permit a Norwalk tire owner to exchange his used tires on new ones, or he will sell used tires, re-treaded if necessary, outright.

The Norwalk, Dunlap points out, is one of the very few tubes on the market made of pure rubber, and the casing also is practically pure rubber. The Norwalk originated the cord tire, and made the first Silvertown cord a name famous from coast to coast and gulf to Canada.

Dunlap, who foresaw the price advance on tires, tubes and repair materials long before it came, warns the public that present prices may not hold good much longer, if cotton and rubber continues to go up.

car industry in any of its various departments would react to the benefit of the public.

"The used car market," said Musselman, "has been in a more or less demoralized condition. Design, production and merchandising new cars have progressed in a wonderful manner, but the used car department has been neglected and often abused. It is not natural for a man who deals exclusively in used cars to take advantage of the necessity for cash to buy his used car at one-half its value and then with a quick coat of paint resell it above its value. On both sides the public are the loser.

"The plan adopted by our Orange County Market protected both the buyer and seller of used cars and will stabilize values on a commodity of widespread use. This will tend to create more confidence in the industry and to that extent the motor car dealers themselves will profit.

"We believe that your plan will be universally used in the near future, for it solves a very vexatious problem for the public and also for you men as motor car merchants."

LIQUOR FIGHT LOOMS

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Prospects of a lively liquor fight throughout the next session of congress was seen today in the announcement of Senator Edge, Republican, of New Jersey, that he will introduce a 3 per cent beer bill.

62 Cars Have U. S. L. Standard Equipment

Sixty-two makes of motor car now use the USL battery as standard equipment, George Ennis of the Automotive Electric Company declares. Ennis is exclusive distributor in Anaheim and vicinity. These cars include the Chalmers and Maxwell, Star, Flat, Overland, Willys Knight, Earl, Columbia, Dort, Stephens, Durant, Princeton and Stephenson-Durrea. This year five USL customers will build 700,000 cars, each of which will carry a USL battery.

The unusually favorable service policy under which the USL stations operate is one of the attractive attractions in purchasing a USL battery, says Ennis.

Liberal trade discounts now are being given on new USL batteries and battery repair work.

Irvin to Re-Charge Batteries Hereafter

Hereafter Irvin's Garage will do its own battery charging, Irvin this week put in a Tungar rectifier or battery-charger capable of charging 60 batteries at one time. A car owner need not have his battery sent elsewhere when he brings his machine in for a general over-hauling. The rectifier was put into operation this week.

Irvin recently installed a washrack capable of accommodating three cars at one time. He also had a vacuum cleaner especially adapted for cleaning the cloth upholstery of cars.

STANDARD DODGE SEDAN MAKES HIT

Charley Mann is displaying a standard Dodge sedan on his floor. It's as fine a machine as the commercial sedan, except for the full Spanish leather upholstery. It has five disc wheels, the rear seat and framework is removable and the front seat can be raised to admit luggage, the same as the commercial sedan. Beauty and substantiality are wonderfully combined in it.

Recent sales of Dodge cars include: Sedan to P. R. Nicholson, screen commercial car to K. Okamoto and coupes to Roy Medlin and G. J. Carney.

New Chalmers Car Wins Favor Here

Turton & Lumsden on Wednesday received a carload of Maxwells, comprising five touring sports. Also the first of the new Chalmers touring cars.

The latter has five disc wheels, real leather upholstery, Auto-Lite system, monogram lenses, one-piece windshield with wiper, Stromberg carburetor especially built for the Chalmers and various other features.

The firm hasn't been getting many Chalmers cars, and now is obtaining all it can, as it is of the Maxwell, while they are available.

The Chalmers, while made by the same manufacturers, is a distinctive machine with features all its own, the first points out.

Leather Upholstery Is Most Economical

"Experienced motorists often prefer the genuine leather upholstery of the open cars to the fabric coverings used almost exclusively in enclosed models, so far as general utility and wear and tear are concerned," says the Hull-Witmer Haynes Co., quoting a Los Angeles authority.

"The arrival here within the last few days of the first Haynes Model '77' sport suburban to reach the coast marks the advent of probably the first of this type of leather upholstered coupe among the larger cars in Los Angeles. The car, in addition to this feature, bears the marks of carefully thought out design and an attention to equipment detail seldom seen even in the most elaborately equipped sport type of car.

"This new '77' sport sedan cartainly is a dandy," said Paul B. Witmer of the Hull-Witmer Haynes Co., in showing off the car on its arrival at the sales plant of the distributing organization here. "The Haynes Company seems to be working overtime in working out the very latest in automobiles and equipment. The upholstery is brown Spanish leather, plain but mounted upon body-conforming springs of special design, is extremely comfortable and will stand all sorts of rought treatment. The body is mounted upon the standard Haynes '77' chassis with 113 inch wheel base, and the car is equipped with every luxury and convenience."
