"Step-mother" Charged With Mistreatment of Oilworker's Children in County Jail

PROSECUTION OF PAIR TO BE PUSHED

Arraigned Today Before Judge Cox, Each Held Under $5000 Bail

Arraigned today before Justice C. H. Cox, Floyd Hatch and Mrs. Bertha Phares, charged with contributing to the delinquency of Hatch's two small children, were held under $5,000 bail each for preliminary hearing Feb. 28 at 10 a. m.

Mrs. Bertha Phares, the woman said to have translated the character of the story-book stepmother into real life, was arrested late Saturday.

Her hiding place exposed by Hatch, Mrs. Phares was taken in to custody at Compton by Deputy Sheriffs Dan Adams and W. E. Bates.

The whereabouts of Mrs. Phares, who fled from the couple's home when the pitiful condition of the two Hatch children was discovered, were revealed by Hatch at the county jail Saturday.

Hatch, when first jailed, denied knowledge of the woman's desertion and declared that she had no relatives or friends whom she might seek.

Several hours in solitary confinement, however, refreshed his memory and he recalled the existance of a sister at Compton. He accompanied Officers Bates and Adams to the sister's home and Mrs. Phares was found there.

According to R. R. Miller, county probation officer, an investigation will be made into reports that Hatch began his associations with Mrs. Phares in Denver, Colorado, and that he brought her to California. Charges of white slavery will result if the facts are found to justify it, Miller declared.

"We are not going to overlook any means of prosecuting this pair," Miller said. "Any charges that apply to their case will certainly be brought against them."

Meanwhile the two defenseless victims of parental neglect and brutality are recovering something of their childish freedom of spirit today as well as recuperating from the terrible effects of their treatment. Bruises and welts that covered their little bodies are gradually disappearing and, under the tender attention of nurses and doctors at the county hospital, they are regaining their trust and confidence in adult nature.

Clyde, 5, and Alta May, 6, are both bright children, the hospital attaches said.

Surprising them here, he caused the arrest of Smith on New York warrants charging abandonment of a wife and family in the east, and is attempting to bring about a reconciliation with Mrs. Campbell.

BANDIT GANG GETS STOCK OF WHISKEY

HAMMOND, Ind., Jan. 28.—A gang of between 20 and 30 bandits early today loaded two auto trucks with whiskey at the warehouse of the Hammond Distilling Co. and sped away.

Police of Illinois and Indiana and prohibition enforcement agents started in pursuit. The bandits left behind an empty truck and three U. S. government agents, supposed to guard the warehouse, drunk, according to officers.

The liquor is valued at about $160,000.

The gang of bandits were in the warehouse from midnight making careful selection of the liquor to be taken. Approach of daylight, it is believed, caused the men to abandon the empty truck without attempting to load it.

About dawn Hammond police were notified something queer was going on. A squad sped to the warehouse and found the guards lying about intoxicated, they said. The men were unable to talk, according to police. They were ordered locked up by Chief Agent James E. Browning for the northern district of Indiana.

The three students under arrest are Robert A. Heller of Boston; Robert Ackler of Butte and Bernard A. Quesnel of Kalispell.

The money package was found intact in Heller's possession. He has been working as extra night clerk at the local postoffice for two months. According to his first story, two masked men overpowered him and escaped with the package.

Three thousand dollars was brot forward in cash; $7,100 laid on the altar in pledges due on or before six months, and in the evening this was augmented to something over $8,000, making a total in cash and pledges during the day of more than $11,000.

"Rain of Dollars" Will Continue

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.—The "rain of dollars," which covered So. Calif. generally thruout the night, will continue for another 24 hours, the weather bureau announced today.

Indications were a heavy downpour for a short duration some time during the day.

A total fall in Los Angeles up to 5 a.m. today was approximately .40 of an inch, the weather bureau reported. Monrovia and Claremont territory received almost an inch for the first 12 hours of the storm.

Financially, the rain was one of the most valuable this section has received. The rain ended one of the longest droughts So. Calif. has known.

Besides aiding the ranchers, the rain also extinguished the brush fires at Ojai, which seriously threatened property of the Pan-American Oil Co. on the El Roblar ranch property.

LIGHT RAINS BIG HELP TO RANCHERS

Last night's rainfall didn't amount to much in Orange county, but it broke the long drought and brightened up the groves. Garage men smiled, and chains were more in evidence than at any time this year.

Los Angeles county received more rain than this, and north Orange than south.

Anaheim's rainfall was .20 of an inch, according to the gauges of the Anaheim Orange & Lemon Ass'n. and Max Nebelung. That makes 2.60 for the season so far, according to the association, against 4.60 a year ago at this date.

The La Habra Citrus Ass'n. received .30, making 3.45 inches for the season, comared with 4.19 last year to the corresponding date.

The Placentia Orange Growers of Fullerton reported .37 or 2.68 so far this season.

The city of Los Angeles up to 5 p.m. yesterday had received .12 or 1.55 this season, against 5.31 last. But other points in Los Angeles county fared better. Glendale, for example, received .42 and Pasadena .38.

The north part of the state got more rain than the south, with some exceptions. San Luis Obispo with 1.14 up to 5 p.m., stood highest among many points thruout California. Santa Barbara also fared rather well with .55.

It was pointed out today there was still ample time for plenty of precipitation this season. In the season of 1917-1918, Anaheim had received less rainfall up to Feb. 4 than has been received this season. In February and March, 1918, 12 inches of rain fell, making the season's total over 13 1-2 inches, about the average. Rains late in the season are most desirable, doing the most good.

COUNCILMEN LET GO OF 73 ACRES

Sell Farm at Stanton for $53,000 to Man From Arkansas City

City Manager O. E. Steward today was completing negotiations for the sale of the large farm the city of Anaheim bought for sewage disposal purposes in the vicinity of Stanton 13 years ago.

The purchaser is J. D. Rhoads, who wired late Saturday from Arkansas City, Kansas, that he would take the farm at $725 an acre net to the city, half cash and the balance in two years. He had discussed the purchase while in Anaheim recently, and council has been awaiting word from him since he returned east.

Anaheim paid $22,116.40 for 73.31 acres in 1911. Taxes have been paid the last three years on 72.80 acres, about 1 1-2 acres being taken off for railroad right-of-way. The annual tax bill has been $477.66 in the three years since the law went into effect requiring taxes on municipality-owned realty.

City Manager Steward stated he did not know what Rhoads planned to do with his purchase, it is considered prospective oil land.

Council has been attempting to sell the farm for some time, desiring to use the proceeds for park, water and sewer mains or other improvements. Altho the purchase was for sewage disposal, it is believed there will be no objection to other use of the money.

At the sale price of about $53,000, which is $20,000 over the purchase price, the city has made several thousand dollars' profit, even after allowing 6 per cent compounded interest.

The sale of the farm is believed to have removed the last objection to the disincorporation of the city of Stanton, which organized to prevent Anaheim disposing of its sewage on the neighborhood. The early completion of the outfall sewer had already satisfied most Stanton people that incorporation was no longer desirable.

Seek Local Milk Fund Along With German Relief Drive

PLANS were announced today at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary club to solicit between $390 and $400 for a local milk fund upon assurance from O. H. Kenner, publicity chairman, that such an effort at this time would not interfere with the German Relief drive for $3000 in Anaheim.

It was reported to the clubmen that about 100 children in local schools are under-nourished and should have milk daily. While many children now get a daily milk ration at a cost of five cents daily, these children cannot afford even this slight expenditure.

The P.-T. A., luncheon clubs and other organizations will take the matter in hand.

Everything is ready for the mass meeting Tuesday evening at the high school. Committeemen were sorely disappointed today when Wm. G. McAdoo's secretary, after accepting the invitation to speak here, phoned that another engagement prevented the former secretary of the treasury coming.

Fred Siegel is the man who went ot Los Angeles in behalf of the local committee, headed by Harry D. Riley, and obtained McAdoo's promise to come and speak.

The committee declared today that volunteer solicitors were needed. They should report at headquarters in the Riley garage at 2 p. m. Tuesday. Workers to register at the pers also are required.

Some changes in the program were mentioned today. Dean Bode of St. Michael's church will accompany Mme. Beatrice Sapiro on the piano, she will sing Schubert's "Unedulid." Becker's Springtime will be sung in English. Two English and two German selections have been chosen by Mme. Sapiro.

Dr. C. S. Thomas of Los Angeles, who will speak, will represent the Quakers, who are contributing a share of the fund.

RETAKE LOOT WHEN THIEF FLEES CAR

An auto and most of the loot secured in a burglary near La Habra had been captured today, but the burglar was still at large, having abandoned his car when the chase grew too warm.

The burglary took place Saturday night at the home of A. W. McPherson, nohtheast of LaHabra. The family had been absent for some time, so the intruder worked unmolested, until a neighbor, noting the presence of someone in the home, notified the authorities.

Night Watchman Brown of LaHabra reached the scene in time to see the burglar dashing away in a light car. Brown pursued him and was steadily gaining when the burglar halted his car near the Pacific Electric crossing on the Fullerton-LaHabra blvd. and escaped afoot through an adjacent orchard. Brown lost him in the darkness.

In the car Brown found a quantity of clothing that had been taken from the McPherson home. It was believed that the burglar might have carried away small valuables in his pockets, as the house, it was found, had been thoroughly ransacked.

POLICEMAN HURT IN AUTO CRASH

An accident occurred at Northst and Placentia-ave late Saturday in which O. B. Baxter, policeman, sustained slight injuries. Baxter was riding in a new Rickland sedan owned and driven by J. E. Allen of Anaheim. Allen had started across Placentia-ave and was nearly clear, he said, when his car was hit by a Hudson driven by C. E. Leach of Placentia. The latter, he alleged, was going at an excessive rate of speed, burning rubber for a long distance before it hit his car and knocked it into an orange orchard, doing considerable damage.

Baxter was not hurt too badly to arrest young Leach, and cite him to appear before Judge Brown at 5 p. m. today to answer a charge of reckless driving.

Impeachment Proceedings May be Brot Against Chief of Navy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The immediate resignation of Secretary of the Navy Denby because of his connection with the leasing of the Teapot Dome and California oil lands, was demanded in the senate this afternoon by Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana.

"Unless Secretary Denby's resignation is in the hands of the President by sundown I shall take steps to secure his resignation from the cabinet," Senator Walsh declared.

In a conference with newspaper men shortly after four o'clock, Secretary Denby declined to discuss the oil scandal in any way.

Walsh's announcement was communicated within a few minutes to President Coolidge at the White House, where it was reported that impeachment proceedings probably would be resorted to by the Montana senator to remove Denby from the cabinet.

An amendment to the Caraway resolution to make it apply to the Doheny leases in California as well as to the Teapot Dome lease, was introduced this afternoon by Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska.

The house late this afternoon passed a resolution authorizing an appropriation of $100,000 as asked by President Coolidge for the employment of special counsel to investigate alleged fraud in connection with the leasing of government oil lands to private interests.

The only dissenting vote was cast by Representative Blanton, Dem. of Texas.

The resolution was immediately conveyed to the senate.

Amid a setting as dramatic as has been witnessed at the Capitol in years, the senate plunged this afternoon into tumultous consideration of the Teapot Dome "mess."

Great maps of Teapot Dome and the Elk Hills oil reserve in California festooned the walls of the chamber as Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana, laid his resolution before the senate, calling the leases and drilling the president to inaugurate court action to protect the government's right independently of Attorney General Daugherty and the department of justice.

The house naval affairs committee today called off its investigation of the leasing of the naval reserve oil lands to Doheny and Sinclair, pending the completion of a similar inquiry by the senate.

Admiral J. L. Latimer, the judge advocate general of the navy, appeared before the committee with all records bearing upon the transfer of the California and Wyoming leases from the secretary of the navy Denby to Secretary of the Interior Fall, but the committee did not examine him.

Doheny's offer as presented to the senate said:

"The offer submitted to the senate committee by Attorney Gaston McNab, is my act, it has my approval and is binding upon me."

The senate galleries were jammed long before noon, the opening hour. Senators themselves arrived early and when the senate was called to order the chamber was filled. Several persons who were out of the city hurried back upon the order of Senator Curtis of Kansas, Republican.

Walsh started the verbal attack by reading from letters and documents designed to show that the late President Harding and President Coolidge knew of the negotiations leading to the leasing of reserve lands and that the whole situation had been discussed in cabinet meetings.

He read these documents to repudiate a newspaper article charging that Fall had not consulted the cabinet. The article declared Mr. Coolidge had no connection with the oil scandal because he knew nothing of the lease negotiations.

DRY LAW BOOMS BOTTLE TRADE

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Tales of the fortunes made by bootleggers who were pre-prohibition bums now are very, very old stuff.

This is a new one. It's about a man who is accumulating a robust little bundle with the proper green complexion by legitimately helping make a cripple of the liquor laws.

This is how opportunity built a pitfall for him and began stuffing his pockets:

The Chicago police, yielding to one of those quaint urges which policemen have when one expects it of them least, began raiding restaurants, cafes and cabarets very diligently some months ago. They have been at it diligently ever since.

Arrests were made where the raiders found liquor actually in the possession of a diner. The idea was that one might be feeling drunk but that would be no evidence that he had violated the prohibition statutes unless the liquor was found.

After the first few raids it got to be the custom for diners to toss their flasks and bottles out onto the dance floor the moment any policemen put in an appearance.

Indeed, on one occasion there was a heap of flasks and quarts and fifths on the dance floor of one restaurant that faintly resembled Mont Blanc. The police were not quick enough to catch anyone red-handed.

Congressmen may not be in favor of tax reduction, but if they value their jobs, they'd better be.—Muncie Evening Press.

SIERRA CO. MAKES NOTABLE RECORD

DOWNIEVILLE, Jan. 28.—No criminals or insane persons were committed to state institutions during 1923 from Sierra county, and but one youth was given a term in a reform school.

This is the first year in the history of Sierra county when several commitments were not made.

LEAGUE MEETS

GENEVA, Jan. 28.—The league of nations today convoked a conference at Rome for Feb. 15, to discuss naval disarmament.

The conference will extend the agreements reached at Washington to countries that did not participate in the Washington conference.

It is believed that the selection of Rome as a meeting place assures participation by soviet Russia. Russia had refused to take part in the conference, were it held in Switzerland.

He said that a woman backed out of an alley in front of him, and that after striking her car a glancing blow he went into an orange tree. No one was reported seriously hurt.

WORK RUSHED UPON GAS DEATH CELLS

CARSON, Nev., Jan. 28.—The state board of pardons was expected to render a decision late today in the cases of Gee Jon and Hughie Sing, Chinese, condemned to die by lethal gas Feb. 8.

A flood of protests against the execution and pleas for commutation of the death sentences to life imprisonment were received by the board.

Unless some legal action is taken to stay it, Thomas Russel, a Mexican convicted of murdering an Indian girl, will also die by the poison gas the same day as the Chinese.

Warden Dickerson announced today that the cyanogen gas to be used would leave Los Angeles Feb. 1, by truck. Work is being rushed on the death cells.

PROHIBIT BRANCH BANKS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The First National Bank of St. Louis lost in U. S. supreme court its chained right to establish branch offices under present federal banking laws.

The court held the law gave no such rights superior to a state law prohibiting such branch banks.

The economy program will make better speed when Congressmen begin to realize that if the taxes don't fall, the axes will. — Norfolk Virginian-Pilot (Dem.)

Henry G. Dawes, comptroller of the currency, declared that while it is impossible to state even an approximate amount of money needed, the figures will run into many millions.

MacDONALD FLAYS RUHR OCCUPATION

LONDON, Jan. 28.—An interview with Premier MacDonald, printed by the Paris newspaper Quotidien, extolling the league of nations and condemning the occupation of the Ruhr, called for explanations today.

The premier and the foreign office issued statements pointing out that the interview had been given before MacDonald became premier.

"While it substantially represents his personal views, it does not represent the official views of his government," said the foreign office.

Isbell's Mineral

Fresno, Calif., Jan. 5th, 1924.

C. A. Isbell:

Dear Sir—It is with pleasure that I give you this testimonial in favor of the wonderful mineral you are selling; also the female treatment combined. Both have saved my life and done wonders for me.

I took sick December 14, 1922, with hemorrhages caused from over work and ulcers of the womb. I suffered with this for the rest of the Winter and part of the Summer. I was a nervous wreck. I could not eat or sleep, and was sick all of the time, could hardly walk. I felt so bad that I did not care what happened to me.

The doctors said I was an anaemic, and they wanted to operate on me when I got in a better condition, but nothing seemed to help me. I got disgusted and quit. I saw Isbell's Mineral advertized in Casner's Drug Store and decided to try it. Have taken seven packages and have gained 12 pounds and can do all of my work.

After using half a box of the female treatment it stopped the hemorrhages. I feel quite a few ulcers without a pain, and never have any more pain in my sides. And eat, sleep and work. And really I do feel like a new woman. So I owe my new life to Isbell's Mineral and Female Treatment, which has saved me from a horrid operation and a big doctor bill.

I would be willing to tell any one who wishes to ask me anything about this wonderful mineral and female treatment. . .

I remain,

MRS. HERMAN BLOOD.

ISBELL'S MINERAL

The great remedy. It ought to be better known. Ten weeks back I was hobbling along on crutches on account of blood poisoning. The Doctor had a hole cut and burnt in my left foot about an inch deep, and such torture when it was operated on and treated afterwards, and while suffering so much pain, I got 6 packages of Isbell's Mineral and took one as a tonic and put the other 5 packages in a large bucket with about three gallons of water and kept the water as hot as I could stand to keep my foot in it for three hours. I went to bed and never had any more pain. I threw the crutches aside in two days and my foot was well in 10 days. It stops the toothache for my children in a very few seconds. Try it. Henry Brown, 2256 Kern-st., Fresno, Calif.

Lemoore, Calif., Jan. 1st, 1924.

To Whom It May Concern—I keep Isbell's Mineral in my house at all times, and feel safe and protected from all ailments that are apt to happen to my family and self by the use of wonderful Mineral. I know of its saving the health of several of my people and friends, and I am unable to say enough for this mineral. Very truly yours,

HARRY R. RANDLEMAN.

January 21, 1924.

Mr. Isbell and to Whom It May Concern—I have used your mineral salts for some time, and I just could not help but write and tell you of the wonderful results I have obtained from it. I have been troubled with stomach troubles and impure blood for a long time. Although I have been doctoring for 16 years Doctors gave me this and that and I have really taken so much medicine without result as the Dutch sayeth up life. When thanks to God that I happened to run onto your wonderful mineral. I have not felt so good in years. My brother, Walter, has many praises for your mineral. It has cured him of stomach trouble and his back never bothers him any more. I think your remedy a Godsend to suffering humanity.

Yours truly,

C. W. FREDERICKSON,

BANDITS GET $200

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.—Two armed bandits held up two men at the doors of two downtown establishments early today and obtained more than $200 in the robberies, which happened within a few minutes of each other.

Leonard Lail, garage night manager, was robbed by one of the bandits of $150 after being locked into the stock room. The bandit walked leisurely away with his confederate, who had remained on guard.

M. J. Simmons was opened his business establishment in West 8th street, when two men called to him. Thinking they were officers, Simmons greeted them, but was held up a moment later and robbed of $55.

Of Interest to Santa Fe Patrons

Have you compared after-the-war prices of what you buy and sell with those of a pre-war normal year—say, 1922 with 1915?

Santa Fe System Lines have made such a comparison, and you will be interested in the result:

The Santa Fe System sells transportation only, but buys steel, fuel, lumber and all kinds of building and construction material; and is a very large user of labor.

The Santa Fe System received in 1922, $1.45 for hauling the same amount of freight the same distance that it received $1.00 for in 1915, and $1.60 for hauling a passenger the same distance it received $1.00 for in 1915. Or, combining freight and passenger, it received $1.50 for the same service it received $1.00 for in 1915, the increase being 50 per cent.

The Santa Fe System paid $2.11 for the same quantity of fuel that $1.00 paid for in 1915; $1.77 for the same quantity of materials and supplies, other than fuel, that $1.00 paid for in 1915; $2.22 for the same number of hours of labor worked in 1922 as $1.00 paid for in 1915. Aggregating all operating expenses, it paid in 1922, $2.05 for the same number of hours worked and same quantity of materials and supplies as it paid $1.00 for in 1915. It paid $2.90 in taxes in 1922 for every $1.00 paid in 1915.

Santa Fe System employes received an average annual compensation in 1922 of $1.81 for every $1.00 received in 1915, and the cost of living of such employes was $1.62½ in 1922 for every $1.00 in 1915.

Freight rates and passenger fares cannot be reduced until taxes and the cost of operation are reduced.

Cost of operation cannot be substantially reduced until the price of labor and material is reduced. And the price of labor and material cannot be reduced until the cost of living is reduced.

DAILY GREETING TO OUR READERS

Like a morning dream life becomes more and more bright the longer we live, and the reason of everything becomes more clear. What has puzzled us before seems less mysterious, and the crooked path looks straighter as we approach the end.—Jean Paul Richter.

CONVENTIONS OF 1924 TO BE SPIRITED

There will be no dull moments at Cleveland, beginning June 10, nor in New York, beginning June 24. Both of the great national political conventions this year will be of extreme interest. From present indications, the work of neither convention will be cut and dried. It may not be a foregone conclusion as to the nomination to be made by either convention. And it is reasonably certain that neither of the platforms will be cut and dried. There probably will be spectacular contests in both conventions. This will liven up the whole political situation. Nothing so spices politics with interest as a warm contest over candidacies or platform policies.

There is no foreknowing the results of the deliberations of either convention. Mr. Coolidge seemingly, at the moment, has the lead for nomination at Cleveland. But many things might happen between now and June which might make some other nomination more feasible. As to the Republican platform, that also is yet to be determined.

The democratic nomination lies on the knees of the gods. It is not in mortal ken to forecast who will win the coveted honor. There are several outstanding Presidential figures in the Democratic camp. Whether one of them is to be nominated, or whether a "dark horse" is to be named, does not now appear.

Dramatic events are treading upon each others' heels in Europe. This year promises to bring many stirring developments over there.

CROSSING MENACE IS ATTACKED

Big railroad systems entering California are beginning systematic attack upon the grade-crossing peril. The Santa Fe, for example, is to expend $2,250,000 in Los Angeles county alone for new viaducts and grade separations. This means the elimination of a number of life-imperiling crossings. Other railroads are working to the same end.

Meantime public opinion should crystallize, to fight this menace. Let the people, enlightened as to the ghastly hazards of crossings, demand and keep on demanding that these dangers be removed. The work must be gradual, of course. But it should be started and pressed continuously. Each year should see the passing of several dangerous crossings. And no other grade-crossings should be permitted. When the establishing of new crossings is stopped and when the elimination of old ones is begun, this problem is on the way to solution.

Be thrifty, but avoid stinginess.

Friendship is a mockery and a delusion if it be not sincere and candid.

California is growing and developing prodigiously. Its development is healthy and enduring.

One of the best things that could happen to a young man would be to be thrown upon the world, to sink or swim himself. This way is ruggedness of character developed.

California will be a great power and influence in the national political campaign this year. This state may even supply a Presidential candidate. Both of the great parties will fight strenuously for the electoral vote of this state.

The great political battleground this year will be in the Middle West and in the Rocky Mountain and Pacific West states. There will be battling for New England, New York, Ohio and the border states of the South. But the decisive territory, politically, lies west of Ohio.

"I wish to say that FOLEY PILLS worked O. K. on me in a couple of hours and the pains left me at once. DINNER STORIES

Hidden away between two rocky hills in the oil fields of central-west Texas there used to be a wayside eating house which served the truck drivers who carried freight to the oil field camps. An elderly native of the neighborhood spent most of his time on the front steps of this pine board establishment whittling, chewing tobacco, and scrutinizing each truck driver, truck, and its contents.

One truck particularly interested and puzzled him. It was always loaded with large steel barrels. One day as the driver hurried to his meal the old man plucked his sleeve and asked:

"What you got in them barrels, mister?"

"Nitroglycerine."

"Nitroglycerine! Good Lord, that's explosive, ain't it?"

"Yep."

"Dangerous, ain't it?"

"Yep."

"Ever have any explosions?"

"Nope. Never expect to have but one."

James finished a laborious explanation of the reason why he threw stones at Mrs. Smith's little boy, only to have a question flung at him by his mother: "When that bad boy threw stones at you, why didn't you come and tell me instead of throwing stones at him?"

James drew all his six years up in an expression of scorn and said to her with a cynical smile: "Aw, Ma, that wouldn't have helped any. You couldn't hit the side of a barn."

A lot of us have an aversion for visiting a photographer. Perhaps, then, most of us can appreciate the feelings of an old Scotswoman who had resisted all entreaties of her friends to have her photo taken; but was finally induced to employ the services of a local artist in order to send her likeness to a son in the United States. On receiving the first impression she failed to recognize the figure thereon depicted as herself; so, card in hand, she set out for the photographer's studio to ask if there wasn't a mistake.

"Is that me?" she queried.

"Yes, madam," replied the artist.

"And is it like me?" she insisted.

"Yes, madam: it's a speaking likeness."

"Aweel," she murmured, resignedly, "it's a humblin' sicht."

Little Talk On Thrift

By S. W. STRAUS

(President American Society for Thrift)

It is a matter of interest and importance that greater public attention is being given to the development of our latent water-power resources. Scientists have calculated that the maximum of potential waterpower in the United States exceeds 54,000,000 horsepower, of which we have only utilized about 9,000,000 horsepower for commercial purposes.

A better idea of what these figures mean is gained when one understands that one hydraulic horsepower is equal to about 8 tons of coal energy.

Something like 40 per cent of our total possible horsepower is to be found in the states forming the Pacific coast division. Montana apparently leads all other states in waterpower possibilities, as 8 per cent of the nation's supply is found within the borders of that commonwealth. New York state possesses about 3 per cent of the nation's available amount.

Our lakes and streams possess a wealth of fabulous value, and our neglect to more thoroughly take advantage of our waterpower possibilities probably constitutes one of our greatest sources of national waste.

This country leads the nations of the world in potential waterpower resources. In fact, about 30 per cent of the world's supply may be found here. Canada ranks second, China third and Russia fourth.

As our nation grows in population, and the cost of mining and transporting coal becomes more difficult and expensive, it will be necessary to draw more and more upon our natural power supply. It is within the range of possibilities that this great storehouse of wealth will as the years go by become more and more a contributing element to our national leadership in the important affairs of mankind. It is a matter of such far-reaching consequence that there should be no neglect of it through lack of information or understanding.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

What Editors Are Saying

CHANCE FOR "THOROUGHBREDS"—Kansas City Times

A professor of the University of Wisconsin sees in an alleged high degree of backsliding among students and other youth today an unusual opportunity for the few with the right mettle in them to advance and attain prominence. The professor, in an address before the Wisconsin Teachers' Ass'n. this week gave this view of the matter:

"When 90 per cent of the young people one meets are discourteous; when 90 per cent of the other students have a sullen, 'dirty' look and scowl; when the majority do superficial, slipshod work, going in only to the first layer of difficulty; when almost every student allows himself to get slouchy in regard to habits, garments, linen and fingernails; when the great majority of young people are spending money with a reckless disregard for money value; when most students put pleasure and all things first that ought to be in second place—what a chance for a 'thoroughbred!'"

There is at all times a wonderful chance for the few who choose to go a different way from that of the crowd. The small number of people who gain important positions, rise in the world, at any time must proceed only by thrift in use of time and money, by industry, perseverance and devotion to worthy ideas.

Whether the state of most young people today is as bad as indicated by the Wisconsin observer is not the important matter, so far as individual attainment is concerned. There are always enough persons to be left behind when one determines to get ahead.

The situation is hardly a cause for glorification on the part of possible thoroughbreds or others. It holds an opportunity for service as well as advancement. And it would be just as well if professors and the rest of those who deplore the shortcomings of youth today would spend part of the time in trying to change the conditions.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By HOLTON

In the course of our life there have been but few persons whom we have thought we might send to the electric chair and thereby enjoy a sense of composure and satisfaction. One of these is the person (name unknown) who invented the titles "hubby" and wife." Often has this person caused us to suffer violent attacks of mal de mer while on land, ensconced in our own study and reading newspaper or magazine. The idiot who invented the title "kiddies" for children is not quite such a flagrant offender. We would only send him to the penitentiary for life.

OIL HEARING HOLDS UP SOVIET PROBE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Further hearings of the Senate investigation into the recognition of soviet Russia were indefinitely postponed today because of the Teapot Dome inquiry.

An announcement was made by Senator Borah, Rep., of Idaho, chairman, to a crowded committee room, that the Teapot Dome inquiry was so important that the Russian investigation would be set aside for the present.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, called as a witness today, will testify later.

A cold bath makes you feel good in the same way what a sore tooth make you feel good when it stops hurting.

DEMAND RESIGNATION OF SECRETARY DENBY

In a letter June 7, 1922, to Harding, Fall declared the question of leasing oil lands and the validity of the leases had been discussed several times in cabinet.

"We have it from Fall himself that the question had been discussed in cabinet," Walsh said, "altho I realize we must take anything Fall has said, or might say, with some degree of doubt."

Walsh pointed out that was the custom of President Coolidge to attend cabinet meetings while he was vice president.

He also read a letter by President Harding approving the reserve land policy determined upon by the secretary of the interior Fall.

Senator Walsh's resolution differed materially from the one he announced originally he would present. For one thing it provides the prosecution of such litigation appointed by the president to prosecute the oil lease cases would have to be confirmed by the senate and that once confirmed they would "have charge and control of the prosecution of such litigation, anything in the statutes touching the powers of the attorney general notwithstanding."

By KENNETH W. CLARK

(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The federal government moved quickly today to cancel the naval oil reserve leases made by ex-secretary of the interior Albert B. Fall with the Sinclair and Doheny interests.

While the White House was taking swift steps to appoint two nationally known lawyers—one Republican and one Democrat—to inaugurate court action to recover the two leases, Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana, the senate's prime prosecutor, submitted his resolution in the senate, directing the president to take such action and to stop further extraction of oil from the reserves at the Teapot Dome and Elk Hills.

Passage of the Walsh resolution "before the sun goes down," was freely predicted. Several hours of stormy debate promised to precede this action.

Names of many nationally known attorneys were considered at the White House over Sunday to take charge of the government's interests independently of the department of justice.

Among these were John W. Davis, potential candidate for the Democratic nomination for the presidency; Henry L. Stimson, Republican secretary of war in Taft's cabinet, Sherman L. Whipple, Democrat of Boston; Charles Warren, Republican of Michigan; ex-senator Atlee Pomerene, Democrat of Ohio and C. A. Severance, Republican of St. Paul, ex-head of the American Bar Ass'n.

Attorney General Daugherty wired President Coolidge, from Miami, Fla., approving the decision to have the suits handled without employment of counsel within the department of justice. "As you know, I do not desire to evade any responsibility in this or other matters, but considering that Mr. Fall and I served in the cabinet together, this would be fair to you, to Mr. Fall, the department of justice and my associates and assistants therein," Daugherty said.

Daugherty has been criticized on the floor of the senate as "not quite above suspicion" in connection with the leases. This is said to have influenced President Coolidge not to turn the case over to the department.

Walsh's resolution, together with a similar one by Representative Pinin Garrett, Democrat of Tennessee, in the house, specifically charged that the leases "were executed under circumstances indicating fraud and corruption" that they were made "without authority on the part of the officers purporting to act in the execution of the same," and that the leases were "in defiance of the settled policy of the government to maintain in the ground a reserve supply of oil adequate to the needs of the navy in any emergency threatening the national security."

There appeared little doubt that the resolution would be passed by the senate and house. The principal of the measure was approved by even the staunchest administration supporters, who were rejoicing today over President Coolidge's midnight announcement Sunday that he would employ counsel to start the suits. They were told that the president had taken much pride of the Democrat's thunder by acting before Walsh's resolution was presented to the senate.

Walsh charged in a formal statment that the White House announcement had been actuated by the committee's confidential action.

Regardless of what action may be taken by the president's counsels, the senate committee will probe deeper into the oil lands probe it was announced today.

The next meeting is scheduled for tomorrow, when Fall is to be summoned to appear. In view of a statement today by Fall's physicians that his condition is "still grave," it is thot improbable that the ex-secretary will be able to appear before several days. If his illness should necessitate too long a delay, committee members indicated they would go to his bedside to get his testimony.

The Walsh resolution did not carry an appropriation. Senator Caraway, Democrat of Arkansas, demanded today that the "million dollars given to Daugherty to prosecute war fraud cases be used."

RETURN TO EXPLAIN FRAUDULENT DEAL

Patrick Sarsfield, ex-army officer and purported geologist, was today enroute from Denver, Colo., to Santa Ana, to face charges of embezzlement and check kiting in connection with an alleged career of fraud extending over more than a year in this city.

Sarsfield was coming back, but unwillingly in charge of Constable J. L. Elliott.

Posing as a geologist, Sarsfield resided in Santa Ana. He had held a major's commission in the American army during the World war and possessed all the military bearing and dignity of the war hero. His record and appearance impressed Daniel Mears, plastering contractor, residing at 117 El Portal-st, whose subsequent dealings with Sarsfield led to the present charges of embezzling $500, which he was said to have received from Mears for the purpose of buying an option on oil land near Fairview.

District Attorney Nelson stated today that the authorities have information of numerous check operations involving several hundred dollars that are charged against Sarsfield.

NORMAND APPEARS BEFORE DIST. ATTY.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.—Mabel Normand, who has been summoned to appear before Dist. Attorney Asa Keyes this afternoon for a grilling on her testimony given at the preliminary hearing of Horace A. Greer, her chauffeur, charged with shooting Courtland S. Dines, today insisted that her attorney be present at the questioning.

Keyes, it was said, will have no objection to this. Keyes planned to question Miss Normand, especially on her testimony that she neither saw nor heard anything that occurred after Greer entered Dines' apartment on New Year's night.

At Greer's hearing she testified that she was standing in a doorway leading to a bedroom at the time of the shooting. She declared she did not see Dines or Greer or hear what was said between them. In statements to the police, both Dines and Greer placed Miss Normand on a lounge in their presence in the living room at the time of the shooting.

STOCK PROMOTER JAILED AS "FAKE"

Charged with embezzling funds subscribed for stock in the company of which he was an official, F. W. Weller, vice-president and general manager of the California Industrial Finance Corp., was held in the county jail here today in default of $3000 bail, while awaiting preliminary hearing before Justice J. B. Cox Mar. 6, at 10 a.m.

Keller was taken into custody in Los Angeles, home of the corporation, on a complaint sworn to by Horace C. Head, Santa Ana attorney, and one of a group of local investors who are said to have subscribed between $4000 and $5000 in stock.

"It was a bunco game, pure and simple," declared Head. "I made a very small investment. Many of my clients and friends purchased stock, but none of them would swear to a complaint, and I swore to the complaint to protect the public against further operations of the company."

Mendoza Gives Income Tax Hints

The cost of parts only may be deducted from the cost of operation of a car used for business purposes in computing the income tax returns, if you do the repairing yourself, according to Roy Mendoza, distributor of Parabell tires and income tax expert.

No money changes hands if you do the work, and your doing it instead of a mechanic whom you would pay doesn't alter the matter.

On the other hand, you could pay your wife for doing an odd job on your car and deduct the amount so paid.

FOR FATHER'S COUGH

January is usually one of the coldest months, and brings its share of coughs, colds and hoarseness. Take FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND at the first sign of a cough or cold, as it loosens the phlegm and quickly brings relief to the inflamed membranes of the throat. "Your HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND has done wonders for my father, who had an awful cough. He is felling fine now," writes Nicolasa Gonzales, Cuero, Texas. Sold at Heying's Pharmacy.

HOW TO END NOISE IN YOUR RADIO SET

With the possible exception of static there is no reason why a properly made radio receiver should not function without noise or trouble, giving clear, distortionless signals from stations within its receiving range. All trouble usually can be traced to defective parts, poor construction, or unskillful operation.

So writes Jack Binns in the February issue of Popular Science Monthly. Every noise has a meaning, he declares, and noises should not discourage the radio fan. If your set produces noises, you are much better off than the man who turns on the juice, plugs in the phones, and hears—nothing.

A crackling noise can be traced to static, run-down batteries, poor wiring connections, or defective rheostats and condensers. Listen in with aerial and ground disconnected, and, if that eliminates or cuts down the crackling, the trouble is due to static. If the noise persists, static is not the cause, and you must test the parts mentioned to locate the trouble.

A steady, regular, staccato beat, like the patter of a machine gun, can often be traced to an improper value in the grid leak. The remedy is to try grid leaks of different values until the right one is obtained.

A steady humming noise usually is caused by near-by power lines or lighting circuits near the lead-in wire. The remedy is to erect your aerial as far as possible from such lines and as nearly as possible from such lines and as nearly as possible at right angles to them.

A loose connection or open circuit in the grid circuit of the detector stage often will cause a sharp drumming noise that can be eliminated by checking up the grid circuit connections.

Whistling or howling noises may be due to too much regeneration too many turns in the tickler-coil winding, poorly designed transformers too close to each other, grid and plate wires running too closely parallel to each other, body capacity effects when the hand is brought near the controls, neglect to use a fixed condenser across the primary winding of the first stage transformer, and overloading of tubes.

A whistling noise changing in pitch without any adjustment of the receiver is caused by a neighbor tuning in his single-circuit regenerative set, with the circuit in an oscillating condition. The only remedy is to convince the owner of the troublesome set that he should use a double-circuit outfit, or tune in his present set with the tube filament turned down as low as possible.

If you don't get results after testing your set and checking up your wiring, you will find it an actual saving in time and temper to take the whole works apart and test each part separately.

Don't, though, try to make the tests, wire up the receiver, and get good results all in one evening. It simply can't be done.

RUSSIA MOURNING FOR LENINE TODAY

MOSCOW, Jan. 28.—Today was a day of national mourning in Russia for Nicolai Lenine, late head of the soviet government, whose body was entombed here yesterday.

Services were held by local soviets in towns and cities throughout the republic.

The funeral in Moscow was the most impressive and most spectacular in the existence of this historic city. Half a million mourners attended, standing for hours in weather 20 degrees below zero.

Physicians reported that more than 1000 were overcome by cold and physical emotion.

Pilgrims are arriving from all parts of Russia, passing slowly with bowed heads throughout the day before the tomb.

Throughout the night, an honorary guard of stalwart cavalrymen, their uniforms thick with frost, paced slowly back and forth before the tomb. Powerful searchlights from the Kremlin played over the scene.

Bonfires burned in the streets all over the city. The authorities were hard-pressed to find accommodations for the thousands of pilgrims and some had to sleep in the snow around the bonfires.

Thinks Republic Threatens Throne

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 28 — The recent political upheaval and ascendancy of the military control in Spain may prove only a forerunner to far more momentous events, including the loss of his throne by King Alfonso and the disintegration of the kingdom into a group of small republics, according to statements made by Marquis Marcelino Barquin, member of an ancient family of the Spanish nobility, in an interview while he was visiting here recently.

"For years the Spanish people have not been united" said the marquis. "Especially is such the case with the military elements of the country. During the World War there were two factions—the one on the Allied side, while the other was with the kaiser. During all this time King Alfonso thought it best to keep neutral so as not to arouse any more trouble between the two factions, and as a result the king has endeared himself in the hearts of his subjects.

"The day of military rule is passed, and the day is not far distant when Spain will plant her standard among the republics of the world."

ITALIAN-ICELAND SHIPLINE PLANS

ROME, Jan. 28.—Plans are under consideration for the establishment of a regular shipping line between Italy and Iceland, the steamers touching at the Faroe Islands and Spanish ports.

The main idea for the new route is to make it possible for smaller exporters to get fish sent direct to Spain and Italy without trans-shipment.

9 MISSING WHEN MINE IS FLOODED

CRESSON, Pa., Jan. 28.—Nine men remained unaccounted for early today when the rising tide of ground water in Lancashire mine No. 8 of the Barnes and Tucker Coal Co., at Shanktown, wrecked by a gas explosion Saturday, drove rescue crews from the mine and threatened to stop the air shaft fans, leaving death triumphant in the workings.

A re-check is under way by company officials to determine whether or not the missing men were at work when the explosion occurred.

The latest official figures show there were 49 men in the workings when the blast took place. Of these six escaped alive and the bodies of 34 others have been recovered. These lie in an emergency morgue so badly burned and mutilated that identification is possible only by clothing and articles found in the pockets.

Positive identification of only five had been made late this morning.

A probe into the circumstances surrounding the disaster was started this morning with the arrival of agents of Joseph F. Walsh, chief of the state department of mines and district mine inspectors.

Their first move was to question the fire boss, who at 9 o'clock presumably reported the workings safe.

Why this report failed to show any accumulation of gas will be one of the objects of the probe.

VETERANS FINISH SCHOOL COURSES

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 28.—Nearly 500 state war veterans have finished school courses taken under the California educational aid program; 375 new students have been enrolled during the past 90 days, and 1275 former service men are receiving financial aid in meeting their expenses at state schools, according to a report filed today by George Stout, secretary of the state veterans' welfare board.

Stout said that the $400,000 allowed for this educational work among veterans will be practically expended when the men now in school complete their studies.

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Forecasting A Tremendous Spring Demand

739,626

more Ford cars and trucks were produced last year than the previous year, an increase of over 50 per cent.

In spite of this tremendous increase in production, it was impossible to meet delivery requirements during the spring and summer months when orders for 350,000 Ford Cars and Trucks could not be filled.

This year winter buying for immediate delivery has been more active than ever before—and in addition 200,000 orders have already been booked through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan for spring delivery.

These facts clearly indicate that the demand during this spring and summer will be far greater than ever, and that orders should be placed immediately with Ford Dealers as a means of protection against delay in securing your Ford Car or Truck or Fordson Tractor.

ARIZONA FORESEES PROSPEROUS YEAR

PHOENIX, Jan. 28.—High cotton prices, with a bounteous crop, together with successful diversified farming, promise unbounded prosperity for Arizona and the Salt River valley this year.

The total yield of cotton will go far over the early estimates of 80,000 bales, it is stated on good authority. Early oranges and grapefruit are now going on to the eastern and European markets; the lettuce crop will soon be ready for harvesting. Farmers and workers are busy hauling cotton to the gins, and merchants of the city are beginning to feel the effect of more money in circulation.

Conditions throughout the state seem more favorable than for months past. D. C. Jackling, head of one of the leading copper producing plants, said recently that the position of copper was as good, if not better, than that of any other metal.

While the copper market has been slightly under last year's quotations, the increased sales have given reassurances that conditions are bettering. None of the large properties has closed down, and all of the mining camps, including the gold camps of northern Arizona, are busy, according to reports reaching the state mine inspector's office.

ELEVEN AWAIT DAY OF DOOM

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 28.—Eleven murderers await execution in state penitentiaries, and four of them are sentenced to pay the supreme penalty before the end of March, it was announced today at the governor's office.

W. J. Yeager, Madera county slayer, is sentenced to die at San Quentin, Feb. 29, and Aurelio Pompa, convicted in Los Angeles, will be executed at the same prison, March 7.

A double execution is set for March 14, when Robert Matthew and Joseph Sinuel, Los Angeles negroes, will pay the death penalty.

Income Tax Queries

In order to file an accurate income tax return for the year 1923, taxpayers of every class, business and professional men, salaried persons, wage earners and farmers were advised yesterday by Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell, to present to themselves for consideration the following questions:

Did you receive any interests on bank deposits?

Have you any property from which you receive rent?

Did you receive any income in the form of dividends or interest from stocks or bonds?

Did you receive any bonuses during the year?

Did you make any profit on the sale of real estate, stocks, bonds, etc.?

Did you act as broker in any transaction for which you received a commission?

Are you interested in any partnership or other firm from which you receive income?

Have you any income from royalties or patents?

Have you any minor children who are working?

Have you control of the earnings of such children? If so, the amount must be included in the parent's return of income.

Has your wife any income from any source whatever? If so, it must be included in your return, or reported in a separate return of income.

Did you receive any directors' fees or trustees' fees in the course of the year?

Did you hold any office in a benefit society from which you received income?

Answers to these questions are necessary in the filing of a correct income tax return, Collector Goodcell declared.

If single (or married and not living with wife) and the net income was $1000 or more or the gross income $5000 or more, or if married and living with wife and the couple's net income was $2000 or more, or the gross income was $5000 or more, a return is required. The fact that the income may not be taxed by reason of the personal exemptions—$1000 for single persons, $2500 for married persons whose net income was $5000 or less and $2000 for married persons whose net income was in excess of $5,000, plus the $400 credit for each dependent—does not alter this requirement.

Persons whose net income was $5000 or less and was derived chiefly from salary or wages, should ask for Form 1040-A. Those whose net income was in excess of $5000 or regardless of the amount was derived from business, profession or farming, should ask for Form 1040.

"File your return today and avoid the rush," Collector Goodcell advised.

ROYAL STOCK CO.

IN LEO CARRILLO'S GREAT COMEDY SUCCESS

'LOMBARDI, Ltd.'

A COMEDY OF FRILLS AND FASHIONS WITH

CHAS. ROYAL—EDYTHE ELLIOTT AND RODNEY HILDEBRAND

—AND ON THE SCREEN—

"THE BISHOP OF THE OZARKS"

An all-absorbing drama of a beautiful girl flung to the brink of disaster, and of a man who fought his way from the depths to the heights.

UNITED OFFERS COMEDY SUCCESS

"Lombardi, Ltd., Leo Carrillo's great comedy success, was very successfully presented at the United theater last evening by the Royal Stock Co.

The plot deals with Lombardi, famous French dressmaker, who trains young ladies as modiste models, and later sees them depart for a career on the stage. Lombardi is too tender-hearted, and hates to beg his customers for money, thus facing ruin. He accepts a loan from the bank, and when the term expires he cannot raise the money. His friend, the Vermicelli king, Rodney Hildebrand, deposits the money to his credit and takes a share of "Lombardi, Ltd," thru the request of the mannequin Daisy, with whom he has fallen in love.

The presentation would be incomplete without the favorite, Edythe Elliott, who plays the part as Lombardi's assistant. Lombardi believes himself to be in love with a showgirl who was once his model. She gives him up for a trip to California. Lombardi realizes he was not in love with the showgirl, but his little assistant, Nora.

The show gives all the characters an excellent opportunity to display their acting abilities. It is well worth seeing. United theater fans will have an opportunity to see the show this evening or tomorrow evening.

The crusade to reduce taxes is pretty sure to have the support of all those who can do a little figuring with paper and pencil. —Boston Transcript.

NEW YORK BOXING NEEDS A LANDIS

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—"Boxing at this moment is tottering on its feet. With a Landis at the helm it would be immune from interference."

The speaker was Senator James Walker, author of the boxing and baseball laws in New York. He spoke at the baseball writers' banquet at an early hour this morning, while milk cans rattled and a great city slept.

Those present did not sleep. They were called to attention by the senator's words—an appeal for a national head of boxing. Baseball has its Landis, the motion pictures their Will Hays, and the theater its Ananetus Thomas. The senator was asking for a supreme head of boxing.

He did not outline a plan whereby this fortitious state of affairs might be brought about. He merely sounded a call for it.

"Boxing is a great sport and conducted as a sport it is a fine thing," Senator Walker said. "However, there is an inclination on the part of those who hold the destiny of the game in their hands to abuse the confidence that is placed in them. Boxing needs a commissioner of undoubted repute, such as Judge Landis. He conducts baseball in a manner that brooks no criticism. If boxing had such a man at its head, I believe that the sport could be saved from itself."

The senator, it is admitted, holds the destiny of boxing in his hands, so far as New York state is concerned. With a multitude of reform bills at Albany, Walker has been quoted as saying that he "would not walk across the aisle to save boxing." His message today was, in effect, an appeal to the better element connected with the game. He wanted this element to start something that might result in national supervision and national authority in conduct of boxing.

"Boxing must have a man like Landis at its head if it wants to endure," he declared. "There can be no half way measures. The sport is a national institution, and therefore, we cannot live without national supervision and control. Once a man of Landis' reputation is placed at its head, boxing no longer would be the object of innuendo and thinly veiled rumors of double dealing. It would be so superior to these reports that they would cease to be circulated. It is a condition that must be brought about, if boxing is to live.

Among other speakers were Judge Landis, John Heidler, John McGraw, Christy Mathewson and Irving Cobb.

PASADENA TRIMS ANAHEIM 4 TO 0

At their own ballwick yesterday, Pasadena Eagles turned the tables on the Anaheim Merchants and defeated them 4 to 0. The game was called at the end of the fifth on account of rain. As Anaheim quite often doesn't get to bat good until the end of the day, there is no telling what the result would have been otherwise.

The Eagles piled up their quintet of counters in the third inning when they hammered out five safeties. O'Cox, Peckham and Bell featured with the wallow, the former slamming out a homer.

SARAZEN SHOWS HE'S REAL CHAMP

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28—Gene Sarazen is the world's greatest match play golfer. This is the verdict of the many golf fans who braved the elements at the course of the Hillcrest Country club yesterday and saw Sarazen win the international golf title from Arthus Havers by a count of 5 and 4.

Sarazen showed he is a real champion, not only in medal play, but in match play, also.

Havers outdrove Sarazen time after time, but the American professional champion didn't allow a few yards on each hole to bother him.

TOKIO, Jan. 28.—"A matter of saving our face if you care to call it that, but deeper it is a matter of national pride," a source close to the foreign office declared this afternoon, discussing the proposed legislation at Washington, which may exclude all Japanese.

Baron Matsui declined to discuss the matter, stating that it was being handled diplomatically, and is admitted serious. However, others close to Matsui expressed the opinion that newspaper reports that Japan had protested to Washington were premature, the belief being that Ambassador Hanihara has only expressed to the state department the attitude Japan will take, provided the bill passes.

The cabinet will say editorially tomorrow on the subject:

"A law to limit immigration is bad because the gentleman's agreement is working well. This new law questions Japan's ability to enforce this agreement and also denies Japan this milder form of restriction. The second section regarding the 2 per cent quota is more difficult to protest because it is not discriminatory, but will work a hardship to the Japanese, meaning that only approximately 300 immigrants can enter the United States."

A source close to the cabinet claims that feeling is not high on this issue, as Japanese thought is now centering on domestic issues, but it is the easiest course for politicians to make a political football of the issue and arouse their constituents against imaginary sinister motives of America. They thus gain political favor, it was pointed out, at the serious cost of impairing the Washington conference results and the earthquake aid of the United States, which united in producing the best feeling toward America here in many years.

WHO WROTE FILM? MAN OR WOMAN!

Baffled in their efforts to learn the identity of the author of "Flaming Youth," the First National film version of which is being shown at the California Theatre this week, members of the all-star cast which interpreted the story cannot agree as to whether the book was written by a man or a woman.

Boni & Liverwright, publishers of "Flaming Youth," declare that it would amount to a breach of contract to reveal any authorship of the volume other than the nom de plume "Warner Fabian."

Colleen Moore, who plays the role of "Patricia" in this picture, declares that the author is a woman, and Elliott Dexter, who enacts the role of "Dr. Bobs," is equally as sure that a man is responsible.

"I will admit," says Miss Moore, "that it is unusual for a woman to write in such a frank manner and especially when she exposes the innermost thoughts and most intimate actions of her sisters. But, it the same. I believe the story has all the earmarks of having been written by a woman."

"It take a man to write so frankly without leaving a clue to his identity," replies Dexter. "The descriptions of the women are penned as a man would pen them —not as woman would write. No woman would so frankly expose her own sex without attaching some alibi in their defense."

SEE HUGE METEOR

DAYTONA, Jan. 28.—What happened to be a large "shooting star" early today swept across the sky and amid a shower of sparks plunged into the sea off Daytona beach.

The phenomenon was witnessed by several persons here, who said that the flash was followed by dull rumblings. They said the meteor lighted up the ocean for miles.

SANFORD, Jan. 28.—Motorists reaching here early today reported seeing a huge meteor crash into the sea off the coast shortly after 1 o'clock.
