Vanderlip Admits Insinuations Against Late President Harding Were Only Rumors

KEEN STORE TRUSTEES SPENDERS

Churchill and Hardebeck Are Believed to Have Expended $18,000

The 285 or more unit holders of the Keen Hat Stores, the majority of whom live in Anaheim and vicinity, need not expect in any way to recover any large sums out of the $100,000 collected on units by Trustees Glenn B. Churchill and O. C. Hardebeck. The latter in all probability have no considerable amounts, that is, "salted away" somewhere, altho they made careful preparation to fight their case retaining L. J. Allen of Los Angeles as attorney, who was paid $400 and to whom is owing $300 more, according to the books.

It is estimated that the trustees personally expended $15,000 each, and possibly more than that in the past 18 months. Of the remaining $70,000 large sums went to purchase stocks of men's furnishings of good quality for the stores in Anaheim, Long Beach and Fresno, which alone actually did business, and for supplies, which were bought in large quantities. Careless management is up further profits.

The trustees, unless they were trying to manufacture evidence for later use by their existing behavior, were decidedly hard up just before things came to a head some three weeks ago. On one occasion, for example, they drew some $15 from the cash register and divided it between them.

Attorney Allen yesterday issued a letter addressed to "creditors" of Anaheim, Long Beach and Los Angeles, in which he declares that a letter of the Los Angeles Board of Trade dated Feb. 12 "falsifies and misleads." Allen's letter appears below.

Franklin D. Reed, accountant, who represents the committee of unitholders of which W. N. Miller of Anaheim, of the well known drilling firm, is chairman, today declared that Attorney Wallace C. Durst of Los Angeles had been appointed receiver of the Keen Hat Stores by the Federal Bankruptcy Court, and that his jurisdiction had replaced that of the Los Angeles Board of Trade.

The trustees themselves, apparently, had thrown the case into the bankruptcy court, when they found themselves unable to raise the cash to free themselves from the attachment obtained by the Board of Trade. If Attorney Durst represents the trustee's interests, a new and interesting angle is brought into the case. Anyhow he, and not the Board of Trade, will conduct the sales of goods which begin tomorrow.

The committee of unitholders will meet again probably Tuesday or Wednesday evening, when further action will be planned and reports made on what has been accomplished so far in the matter of prosecuting the trustees on the criminal charge brought by Bert Kuebler of Anaheim of obtaining money by false pretences.

The penalty on conviction of such a charge is one to 14 years and each of the unit holders can bring a similar charge, altho there is a limit to the accumulated sentences that may be passed.

Kuebler's and all similar charges legally must be pushed by the district attorney acting for the people as plaintiffs, but the large amount of investigation required will make the aid of the unitholders themselves necessary. The object of the letter of the unitholders' committee outlined yesterday in these columns was primarily to raise money. The 50 to 60 unitholders present at Tuesday's meeting unanimously voted aid to the extent of two per cent of their interests. The other 200 or more

Egyptians May Take Over King Tut Tomb

CAIRO, Egypt, Feb. 15.—The Egyptian government may take over the tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen as a result of the dispute with Howard Carter, chief of the Egyptologists working in the Valley of Kings it was learned today.

Foreign tourists who flocked to Egypt to see the 3000-year-old tomb are besieging the government to arrange to have it reopened to sightseers.

BIG PROGRAM FOR WATER AND SEWER

City council last night approved plans for a $20,000 sewer program and $110,000 water system extensions. The former will be built with money received from sale of Stanton farm and a special bond election will be held after city election for latter.

Council instructed City Atty. H. V. Wetsel to proceed with prosecution of about 75 business and professional men delinquent $700 for city licenses.

The two-hour parking ordinance was adopted and becomes effective in 30 days.

About 20 signatures appeared on the petition requesting that if condemnation proceedings were instituted to widen Center west of Clementine that the expansion be effective to West-st., instead of stopping at Palm at, as first proposed.

Council learned it is going to take a lot of water to fill the park plunge and a lot of gas to heat it. The boilers consume 26,000 feet of gas per hour. The 286,000 gallons of water were heated from 54 to 62 degrees Wednesday and from 62 to 74 in 4 1-2 hours Thursday morning. The contractor stated that whenever the temperature was brought to that figure in the morning, it would remain that high all day because of the heat of the bodies of the bathers.

Anaheim used to be proud of its 173,000 gallon reservoir. The swimming pool holds 50 p.c. more.

Anaheim High School Winner of Debating Title for Third Time

Anaheim High school annexed another championship today, taking the Orange-co debating title. The affirmative team, Ronald Anderson and Joe Schwienfest, won 2 to 0 over Huntington Beach. The negative team, Lauren Wright and Winton Smith, went to Fullerton where they got the decision of two judges.

The question was "Resolved that the United States government should maintain the policy of non-participation in European affairs." This is the third consecutive year that the local debating crew has won the title.

Miss Lucille Bickley deserved much credit for the commendable manner that she has coached the students.

COUNCILMEN SEEK BOOST IN SALARY

City Treasurer's Salary Increased From $10 to $125 Per Month

Voters will cast their ballots at the April election on whether they approve a boost in salary of city councilmen after May 1 from $15 to $50 per month. Election ordinance read last night included this provision.

Two councilmen will be elected for four years and two for two years. Clerk and treasurer will be elected for four years.

The treasurer, who has been receiving $10 per month, will receive $125 because of increased work in handling bonds, paying assessments and other things attendant to the growth of the office.

A new law provides the city treasurer shall advertise for bids from banks desiring to become depository of municipal funds.

The banks must pay at least two per cent. The city now has $260,000 on deposit. At two per cent the interest would total over $5000.

At the city election, the 12 precincts will be combined into six I and 11 into A; 2 and 3 into B; 4 and 12 in to C; 5 and 6 into D; 7 and 8 into E; 9 and 10 into F.

"A precinct will be at high school; B at Ford garage; C at 415 E. Center-st.; D at Citron school; E at city hall and F at Gibbs Lumber Co. Polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. There will be one judge, one inspector and two clerks at each pool. Each will receive $5.

3 KILLED, 1 HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

The machine turned completely over and the occupants were pinned beneath it.

JAMESON OIL CO. LEASES 2000 ACRES

The acreage which the Jameson Oil Co. has leased north of Villa Park and East of Olive amounts to 2000 acres, according to prominent residents of the vicinity. The land lies on the Bixby ranch.

The well is located approximately a mile and one-half east of Olive.

Four other children fled in terror as their father swung the axe on the daughter and mother.

NICKY ARNSTEIN, IN TOILS, ACCUSED IN NEW SWINDLE

Nicky Arnstein.

Nicky Arnstein knows that the old adage, "Troubles never come singly," is true. A few days after his conviction on charges growing out of a huge bond swindle in 1920 was confirmed by the New York district court of appeals, he was indicted with others in Youngstown, O., on the charge of swindling Micheal W. Kashmerich of Johnstown, Pa., and a relative, of $48,000 through manipulation of a fake brokerage house. The sentence confirmed in New York calls for two years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

CASING-HEAD PLANT MAN ON JOB

With not a single well yet on production in the territory west of the city, F. W. Copp, representing a well known Los Angeles concern, last night appeared in town with a contract to erect a casing-head plant to supply the needs of the Gaddie Well No. 1, the other two wells which Gaddie expects to drill for the Midas and perhaps the Garner Oil Co., all at Cypress and the Miley well near Broadway and Euclid-ave.

Copp had a contract all ready to sign, providing for payment to his company on a royalty basis. B. H. Morey, F. Leslie Meeker, Fullerton geologist, and H. A. Gaddie, with whom he conferred, are considering the proposition.

Copp's company has casinghead plants for the refining of gasoline at Santa Fe Springs, Signal Hill and Torrance, according to Morey.

Negotiations with the Capital Oil Co., composed of Riverside men, may be favorably concluded tonight by its representatives and Morey and associates for the drilling of a well on part of the acreage of Gaddie and others around Cypress. The company practically agreed last night on the acreage it would select but cannot consider a limit of 30 days within which to drill because its new capital will not be available by that date to cover the costs, Morey said. The company has two producing wells at Signal Hill, Capital Nos. 1 and 2, according to Morey, and voted to double its capital so as to have funds to do more drilling. All the money on this new stock has not yet come in, however.

The Gaddie Well now is past the 2900 mark, with the likelihood of passing 3,000 feet by Sunday.

Kerk well near Brookhurst-ave has reached approximately 2500 feet.

PREPARED TO PAY MILLION FOR CLAIMS

Thomas Declares Sinclair So Negotiated Month Before Lease Made

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—H. F. Sinclair, in a contract negotiated March 11, 1922, one month before he leased Teapot Dome, agreed to pay the Pioneer and allied oil companies $1,000,000 to settle claims of those companies upon the Wyoming reserve, it was declared today before the senate public lands committee by George A. Thomas, Denver, secretary and treasurer of the Pioneer Oil Co.

Thomas said his company under the administration of Secretary of Interior John Barton Payne, had applied for 320 acres in the central part of Teapot Dome and for the lease of four wells on another part of the reserve.

Worn out by the ordeal of more than a month's continuous work in probing into the naval oil scandal, members of the senate public lands committee late this afternoon voted to suspend further hearings for nine days, until Monday, Feb. 25.

Several of the senators—notably Senator Walsh of Montana,—are showing plainly the great strain under which they have been working.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Frank A. Vanderlip, New York financier, who insinuated there was something questionable in the sale of the Marion Star by the late President Harding, and who charged publicly that the senate oil investigators did not question Albert B. Fall at length because of fear that his testimony would involve "higher-ups" was the first witness called today by the senate public lands committee.

Vanderlip took the stand before an audience that packed the hearing room as it never has been packed before. Louis H. Brush and Roy D. Moore, who bought the paper from the late president were prepared to refute Vanderlip's charges.

Vanderlip was sworn by Senator Lenroot, chairman, who began the questioning.

"On the evening of February 12 did you make a speech at Ossining, N. Y?

"No, at Briar Cliff, to the Rotary Club."

"What did you mean by saying 'a certain Marion newspaper was sold for $500,000, when everybody knew it was not worth half that much?'"

"I was not correctly reported in that instance. I said rumors were current and said I knew nothing whatever of the facts. Rumors go far above gossip. You hear them everywhere, in the offices, in the trains. I thot these rumors should be verified to clear the late president's name."

"Did you thot it your duty to give publicity?"

"I thot it my patriotic duty. It was heard in all newspaper offices. I know it was a hard thing to do."

"You can give the committee no definite information?"

"No, I just heard these rumors. I don't even know the price the paper sold for. The rumor of talk was that it sold for $550,000, that it was $600 a share. I have no information as to the value of the paper. I understand the terms included payment of $10,000 a year to Mr. Harding, as a contributing editor, the payment to be made to the widow in event of his death."

"Do you know anything about the income of the paper?"

"I heard $250,000 and one year that it was $69,000."

"You have no other information?"

"I have no accurate information for my statement—I heard the rumors."

Vanderlip said, in explaining his speech, that he had no information that anyone in the oil business contributed to the purchase of the paper, altho it was clearly "implied" in the rumors he heard, that the money came from some unexplained source.

"I thot," he continued, "by bringing it out in public you gentlemen could run down these rumors."

"You thot," said Lenroot, "that it was your public duty to broadcast the rumors, which, if not true

DEVELOPMENTS TODAY IN TEAPOT INQUIRY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Today's oil investigation developments:

1—Owen J. Roberts, Philadelphia attorney, selected by President Coolidge to replace Silas H. Strawn of Chicago, as one of the government counsel to prosecute the oil cases.

2—Frank A. Vanderlip, New York banker, grilled for two hours by senatorial committee, admits he had nothing more substantial than "rumors and gossip" on which to base his sensational reflections on President Harding and the senate committee itself.

3—Tom Johnson, foreman of Albert B. Fall's New Mexico ranch, denied receiving the $68,000 from Harry F. Sinclair mentioned by Archie Roosevelt.

4—Louis H. Brush and Roy D. Moore, who jointly purchased the Marion Star from the late President Harding, submitted the senate investigators a full statement of the transaction, refuting Vanderlips' insinuations.

5—Senatorial investigators determine to go to the bottom of other rumors and gossip that prominent New York financiers sent a huge million dollar "slush fund" to Washington to reimburse high government officials for their losses in stock speculation.

Invite 300 Leading Men to Industrial Banquet Tuesday

Three hundred representative business men, it is expected will be present at a banquet Tuesday night at the Elks club to signal the opening of Anaheim's $200,000 industrial campaign.

All will be guests of the C. of C. It is planned to have a series of five-minute talks so that every one will be familiar with just what additional manufacturing concerns will mean.

This afternoon there was a meeting of the workers at the city hall. Each of the 60 will invite five others as his guests Tuesday night.

At the meeting of directors of C of C. last night at the city hall, complete plans for the drive of next week were outlined and the effect of additional industry on the civic life of Anaheim discussed. It was asserted the increased manufacturing payroll made possible by the purchase of the Anaheim Sugar Co. land would radiate in all direction so that all businesses in Anaheim and No. Orange county would benefit by the resulting prosperity.

It was pointed out that with the coming in of oil wells in Anaheim that the industrial site would be available for refinery purposes and that increased building activities would come with additional workers in the plants that have already made application for space in that tract. This building activity would create additional demands for building material and labor in the Anaheim district.

It is estimated that within a year at least 200 additional families would be moved to Anaheim and from statistics obtained from other industrial centers would create a payroll that would greatly increase the demand for local merchandise of all kinds.

It was also revealed that several industries were looking to Anaheim and were waiting for the result of the campaign of next week before deciding upon a location.

The meeting on Tuesday will be summed up by Dr. James Allen Geissinger who will present facts and figures on just what an industrial center would mean to Anaheim. It is also planned to have community singing under the direction of "Doc" Barnes and other entertaining events.

Five Twin Bell were sold at .0, five Julian Petroleum at 67½ and 10 at 65, five Multnomah common at 15 and five Moreland Truck at 40.

JURY INSTRUCTED IN LIQUOR POSSESSION CASE

SEATTLE, Feb. 15.—Possession of intoxicating liquor in one's private dwelling for the use of one's self, family and bona fide guests, is not unlawful, according to an instructed jury verdict late yesterday in Federal Judge Cushman's court.

The jury deliberated three hours and returned a verdict freeing Marie Dalton of a charge of illegal possession of liquor while entertaining a party last September in her apartment.

It was said at the district attorney's office that the court's instructions would make it extremely difficult, if not altogether impossible to get convictions for possession in the future.

HUNDREDS OF GUARDSMEN ON WATCH

Roughly Dressed Men Surprised With Fuse Escape in Motor

Oil companies in the Huntington Beach field will have hundreds of guards on duty tonight as the result of activities of firebugs this week.

Last night the derrick of the F-2 well of the Standard at 10th and Lake-sts was totally destroyed by fire. At the same time, about 10 p. m., C. H. Grace of the Standard surprised two roughly dressed men while they watched a fuse in the Copeland No. 2 well of the Union. The two fire-bugs fled in an auto otward Long Beach. Grace an auto toward Long Beach. Grace

The fuse was saturated with oil with matches tied to the end.

Officials believe the two firebugs responsible for destruction of the Bell of Montebello rig at loss of $20,000 and blaze which was extinguished at the Talbert well earlier in the week.

The Standard rig burned last night did not endanger the field but a serious fire at the Copeland might have been disastrous to the field, oilmen stated today.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—Whiskey glasses engraved at various levels reading "ladies," "gents" and "hoks" were revealed today in the testimony of one of the principal girl witnesses in the Pomona "strip poker" scandal.

When asked how much liquor she drank, the girl said she drank "what any lady would" and explained that the contents of the glass to the "lady" level, was not much of a drink.

Three youthful defendants in the case were held for trial on charges of contributing to the delinquency of minor girls. Three other cases were dismissed and four other defendants will be heard later.

Lion "Les" Wilson, the "small boy" "song and pep" leader of the club, told of stunt plans for the big social affair to be given by the Business and Professional Women's club, Kiwanis, Rotary and Lions.

VANDERLIP CONFESSES INSINUATIONS ONLY RUMOR

would be slander on the late president?"

"I thot it my duty to broadcast these rumors."

"Do you think you should assist in spreading these rumors?"

"I hoped it would do just what it has done—broadcast these rumors to wide public circulation. There are rumors current, that are making 'reds' faster than any soviet propaganda. I've had much experience with gossip and rumors, and I've learned to draw a distinction between gossip and rumors."

"Do you mean to say you got these rumors from responsible sources?"

"I have never heard anyone discuss the rumors who proposed to know the facts about them. I wanted to clear the memory of the late president."

Regarding his statement that Fall was let go because there was fear he would "peach" Vanderlip said:

"That was my own personal inference."

"Did you know this committee was advised by counsel that he might not be given immunity if he testified under duress?"

"I had heard that."

"Did you give voice to idle rumor after what the committee did to Fall's case?"

"Did you know counsel had advised he couldn't be forced to testify?"

"Have you ever heard of a case where a man was forced to testify under duress when he claimed immunity?"

"That was my impression."

"You think it was a fair inference to draw?" demanded Lenroot, pounding the table, "when you knew that Fall had declined to testify on advice of counsel?"

"I didn't know Fall had refused to testify," the witness said.

"You charged the senate and this committee with dereliction of duty without asking legal advice or consulting the committee?"

"If you tell me you had the legal advice, I'll say it was right; you did not go on—if you had no other way to go about it."

"Would you make a speech of that sort without informing yourself of the facts?" Lenroot asked.

"I was only referring to rumors?" said Vanderlip.

"Could you now say, that the committee had not done its full duty in its conduct toward Mr. Fall?"

"If you tell me the committee has no power to go on with its questioning of Mr. Fall on grounds that he might incriminate himself, I would say that was ample reason for not continuing unless you have some other way to make him testify," said Vanderlip.

"By granting Fall complete immunity?" asked Lenroot.

"Or by passing legislation to make him testify," said Vanderlip.

"You suggest passing legislation violating the constitution?"

"You do it some times," replied Vandersip, "and I think it could be done."

"You believe you were doing your patriotic duty by making a statement that has not an iota of truth in it?" asked Lenroot.

"I was merely stating certain rumors," replied Vanderlip again.

"You weren't very careful about your statement, were you?"

"I am very careful about my statements. I was a journalist and learned to be careful."

"There is no way for the senate to force a man to testify if he claims constitutional immunity," said Lenroot.

"In that case I think it was proper that you did not go on."

"You said you wanted to clear the name of the late president, but what about the committee?" asked Senator Adams, Dem., of Colorado.

Vanderlip said he did not think "this came within the jurisdiction of the committee."

"But you gave currency to these rumors, nevertheless?"

"Not currency to them, merely stating the rumors.

"You put the rumors above gossip?"

"Yes, I heard them from a dozen people, it was a substantial rumor."

"Having taken this stand, do you care to make known the people who told you the rumors?"

"There are some men I don't want to involve these people who did not propose to know the facts. You clearly have sensed the road to ascertain the facts and kill the scandal. I understand the men who bought the paper are here. I believe a statement of facts will end the scandal."

"Did you say anything in reproach about a member of the committee."

"I think I said one member was 'fantastically high-minded.'"

"That was in the nature of a reproach?"

"Oh, no; I thot this investigation required force and character."

"Knowing all the facts what do you now think of this committee's action toward Fall?" asked Senator Adams.

"Your course was the only possible course."

"You agree then we were justified in uniting for a criminal proceeding to bring out other facts?"

"Yes, sir."

Referring to the Marion Star, Vanderlip said a fair net earning would be from 10 to 12 per cent on investment. He said President Harding's name "greatly enhanced" the value of the newspaper property.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—All barriers in the senate's naval oil investigation were smashed down today.

Flooded for weeks with persistent reports of a vast "slush fund" sent from New York to buy off high governmental officials, senate oil investigators determined to run the rumors to the ground.

For days the committee has been working quietly on "tips" that Wall Street financiers sent a million dollars to a Washington bank to be used to make up stock gambling losses by federal officers. Expert accountants have been going over books of brokers of Washington, New York and Cleveland.

Told by the accountants, however, that the brokers "have succeeded generally in covering up deals with government officials," the committee determined to go to the source of the rumors and summoned several New York financiers.

Frank A. Vanderlip, assistant secretary of the treasury under President McKinley and former president of the National City Bank of New York, who cast insinuations upon the late President Harding in connection with the sale of the Marion, Ohio Star, was the first of the financiers subpoenaed.

The committee instructed Vanderlip to be ready today to explain his charges.

Edward B. McLean, Washington publisher, also was under subpoena. In addition to asking him about the "slush fund" the committee wanted McLean to produce the check for $100,000 which he said he gave ex-secretary of the interior Albert B. Fall who returned them uncashed.

Charges of a grave character have been laid before the committee in connection with these checks.

Others who would be expected to appear include Otto Kahn, New York, Harry Payne Whitney, race horse owner, and a member of the syndicate which handled stock of the Mammoth Oil Co., a Sinclair company "subsidiary controlling Teapot Dome, and Benjamin F. Yoakum of the Cotton Belt Lines Railroad.

LEGAL COURT IN "LOVE NEST" CASE

If a man and a woman who, it is said, love not wisely but too well, yet love wisely enough that the neighbors remain ignorant of smashed conventions, what can the law do about it?

That question was scheduled to be asked tomorrow as G. E. Brooking, Anaheim business man, and Mrs. Addie Wiley, 19-year-old Pomona girl, are scheduled to appear for preliminary hearing of charges preferred by the girl's husband.

Mrs. Brooking, the outraged wife, had confronted herself with filing a divorce action.

These men, however, were said by committee members not to be involved actively in the "slush fund" operations.

E. L. Doheny may be recalled. Harry F. Sinclair, for whom a subpoena will be waiting when he arrives in New York from Paris, will be questioned about the fund.

Altho not in connection with the "hush money," committee members said they probably would want to question Colonel Robert W. Stewart of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, to which it has been testified, Sinclair paid $1,000,000 for claims on Teapot Dome.

Briefly, the story of the "slush fund" as related privately to members of the committee, is this:

High government officials, touching many that the oil scandal has not already smeared with it, made "killings" on the stock market in steel about the time the steel rates in the last tariff act were being enacted. The money thus made, they plunged in stock of an independent oil company, at whose head were said to be relatives of government officers, and lost all the steel profits and thousands besides.

To cover these losses, certain New York financiers and oil men interested in securing special favors from the government, pooled a million dollar fund and shipped it to a local bank, directing that the money be distributed as a token of "gratitude."

Lately the man who handled the distribution was called on by the financiers to give an accounting as to where the money went. He could not give a satisfactory accounting of $200,000.

This fact is said to have incensed the financiers and during an informal discussion in the Bankers' Club in New York, one of the members of the "slush fund" syndicate minced no words in calling down wrath upon this man.

It was only shortly after this, the committee has been informed, that Vanderlip spoke to the Rotary Club meeting, in Ossining, N. Y., demanding a thoro housecleaning in government circles and intimating that the committee halted questioning of Fall for fear that he would "peach."

For a second time since the Teapot Dome scandal reached the sensational point, the senate and President Coolidge were at bitter odds today.

Elated with Coolidge's withdrawal of Silas H. Strawn as one of the special counsel, Democratic members of the committee, however, demanded that the chief executive also withdraw Atlee Pomerene, to whom serious opposition, which may prevent confirmation, has developed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Refuting entirely the sensational charges in connection with the purchase of the Marion Star from the late President Harding, Louis H. Brush and Roy D. Moore today submitted to the senate public lands committee a complete statement of the transaction, revealing among other things that the price was $750,000 and not $550,000 as stated by by Frank A. Vanderlip.

The history of the transaction was related to the committee in a statement by Mr. Brush, read by Mr. Moore.

DECLARE KEEN STORE TRUSTEES SPENDERS

unitholders have not yet come forward to help, but are expected to do so when they read the letter.

Included in Attorney L. J. Allen's letter to creditors—not to unitholders—is a copy of an assignment, rejected by the Board of Trade, which Allen seeks to have creditors sign, so as to assign their interests to an assignee.

Accountant Steed, speaking for the Board of Trade and unitholders' committee, declared that creditors would be foolish to assign their interests to any unknown party. Anyhow, a receiver now is in charge of the business.

The assignment calls for a general assigning of all property to the assignee, who shall conduct the business, pay creditors pro rata after selling the business, restock stores during the life of the contract not over one year, have access to all books, have the right to audit books once per month, etc.

The assignment was to be signed by the trustees as first party, creditors and assignee.

DEPUTIES CONTINUE FINANCIAL DISCUSSION

PARIS, Feb. 15.—The chamber of deputies today continued its discussion of the government's financial measures by giving Premier Poincare additional votes of confidence.

Two amendments proposed by opponents of the government's economy measures were voted down, the first by a vote of 330 to 243; the second by 373 to 194.

This constituted two confidence votes.

IDENTIFY ROBBER SUSPECT

Jose Marquez, held as suspect in Richfield service station robbery, has been identified from finger prints as Victor Gonzalez, escaped in 1916 from Folsom, where he was serving six years for first degree burglary.

WILL BOOM WALSH

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 15.—Dr. A. S. Stovall, former state senator and now representative from Elberta-co., today formally launched a boom for Senator Thomas J. Walsh, Democrat of Montana, for the 1924 Democratic voters for the purpose of preparing a petition for Walsh.

FIGHT OVER MISSION

MANILA, Feb. 15.—A bitter fight is going on between leaders and members of the independence commission over the number that shall constitute the mission to be sent to the United States.

The commission which has been sitting three days in an effort to reach a decision, voted down the proposal of Manuel Quezon that the mission be limited to six. He petulantly asked "why not send the whole legislature?"

The Democratas are opposing a large delegation.

GAGE HEARING TODAY

Andrew Gage was given a hearing this afternoon before a jury in Judge Frank's court. Gage is alleged to have interfered when officers arrested Jack Dunlap in Fullerton on the charge of reckless driving. The charges are denied by Gage who lays the blame to the officers.

FACES PERJURY CHARGE

Wm. Duncan, Tustin rancher, was released on $1000 bail after preliminary hearing today on perjury charge preferred to Allen and Lyon, attorneys, who obtained judgment against him for $7000 fee.

Market Reports

STOCKS COLLAPSE

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Unsettled by rumorous bearish reports the stock market broke wide open today, declines ranging all the way to over eight points. Everything on the list was affected by the selling and the trading was of such tremendous volume that it was more than ten minutes after the bell closed that the final quotation appeared on the stock ticker.

The Washington oil investigation was used as a bearish factor and the list was also unsettled on the report that Jesse L. Livermore, most prominent stock operator, had stopped his constructive activities.

Steel Common broke over three points to 103½. General Elec was down 8¾ to 298⅝; Baldwin six points to 120½; Corn Products six points to 174; Studebaker 3¼ to 109; American Can 5¼ to 112⅝; Industrial Alcohol 4¼ to 141½; Crucible 6¼ to 62¼ and Houston Oil 7¼ to 67.

The rails generally were down about one point each.

Government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds weak.

Stock sales today 1,823,590 shares; bonds $10,853,000.

GRAIN CLOSES LOWER

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—The sagging of the grain market which started early this week continued in the latter hours of trading today and all grains closed below yesterday's finish.

The bear movement was unexplained by news developments in which the outstanding features, the organization of $10,000,000 farm aid corporation here and the prospect of a higher tariff on wheat, were more bullish in character.

Wheat closed from 1⅜ to 2c off. Corn was off ¼ and oats from ¼ to ⅜.

INDIANS IN U. S. GAIN IN RICHES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Contrary to popular belief, the Indian population in the United States is increasing, rather than falling off, according to figures made public here today by Chas. H. Burke, U. S. commissioner of Indian affairs, in his annual report to Secretary of the Interior Work.

The population of the Indians in the United States, exclusive of Alaska, is now 344,563, Burke said, compared with 340,917 in 1922. The present population is an increase of 13,644 since 1912.

The total value of the individual and tribal property of American Indians at the close of the last fiscal year on June 30 was placed at $1,610,870,519, a gain of $233,124,122 over the preceding year and $342,939,256 more than in 1913. In the total for June 30, 1923, is included the value of oil, gas, coal and other minerals estimated at $250,000,000.

Educational activities among the Indians were stressed by Commissioner Burke. He said the number of eligible Indian children not in school was reduced by more than 5000 during the year, while special attention is being given to home economics and home building by special supervisors.

SAYS BRITISH POLITICIANS AFRAID OF PROHIBITION

LONDON, Feb. 15—Viscountess Astor, one of the eight women members of parliament, declared in a speech in the house of commons this afternoon that all the political parties in England are afraid of the prohibition issue.

She was speaking in support of the Welsh local option drink measure at the time.

YORBA LINDA

YORBA LINDA, Feb. 15. (Spl.)—The Yorba Linda Woman's club held their regular meeting on Tuesday in the club rooms. The meeting took the form of a birthday party as the club was 12 years old on that day. Mrs. Hileman had charge of the luncheon and with her efficient co-workers served a delicious menu. There were four tables, each centered with purple and gold Iris, these colors being the club colors, and violets and yellow acacia were used in profusion over the rooms. One of each of the following letters was on each table, Y. L. W. C. and after Mrs. M. Quagley who had charge of the program, had lit the 12 candles on the birthday cake, one lady from each table gave a toast as follows: Y for yesterday by Mrs. M. A. Quigley who is a charter member of the club. L for loyalty by Mrs. Frank Rospaw. W for womanhood by President Mrs. S. W. Acker, and C for corporation by Mrs. A. W. Miller. It was much regretted that there was not a larger attendance as a program followed that was much enjoyed. This included two solo dances by dainty Marlys Johnson of Fullerton, dressed in costume, and vocal solos by Mrs. Howard of Olinda, given very pleasingly. Mrs. E. E. Knight, county president, was presented a fan of the general federation, by the executive board of the local club in appreciation of her gift of a membership of the local club to the general federation. Mrs. M. A. Quigley, who is leaving soon for her new home near Riverside was presented with a pretty piece of china. The meeting was pronounced a splendid success by all those attending.

The Y. L. Bridge club of young matrons held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. H. S. Brown, on Tuesday afternoon. The day being warm the tables were placed on the screen porch and after several games, prizes were awarded Mrs. C. H. Ekbler, first, Mrs. B. M. Selover second and Mrs. W. H. Holland consolation. Other members present were, Mrs. Warrick Murray, Mrs. Grover Beale, Mrs. Harry Holen, Mrs. Harry Marsh, Mrs. Gallord Page.

VISIT CLEAR LAKE

Fred Nelson, with R. Clapp of Log Cabin fruit stand, R. Clapp, Santa Ana, and Sam Clapp, Huntington Beach, returned Wednesday evening from a week's business and pleasure trip to Clear Lake, Lake co., 500 miles from Anaheim. Nelson went there in the interest of the Clear lake Highland, Inc. They made the trip in two days and report good roads all the way.

There is plenty of fish in this region and the season is open the year around. Quail hunting is excellent. The oil prospects are particularly good and there is plenty of gas for both cooking and lighting purposes.

The motorists state that the scenery is very enjoyable and different from this part of the country. One of the most interesting sights was the rock formation that floats like a piece of wood on the lake. It is volcanic. The lake is about 25 miles long.

J. Soules Makes Apology

Could Not Wait on the People

On my opening day from early morning until late at night, my new store was crowded. I simply couldn't wait on them. Wanted an opportunity to talk with each customer personally and take all measures myself, but that was impossible. I am pleased with the splendid business I received and thank you all heartily for such cordial welcome as I received.

DAILY GREETING TO OUR READERS

What is our creed. Each deed well done,
Words matter not, true worth is won
As test of good; whate'er we do,
Love of our God must filter through
And touch our brothers, ere we win
Their heart and feet from paths of sin.

CO-OPERATION IS KEY TO FARM PROBLEMS

President Coolidge and others are urging farmers to co-operate more closely. Co-operation unquestionably is the hope of the farmer. He must co-operate in his marketing. He must have co-operation in financing and in transporting his crops. He will do well to foster co-operation with consumers. In truth, co-operation all along the line, from the days of plowing and planting, through the days of cultivation and growth of crops, to the day of harvesting and of marketing—co-operation all the way, in as many directions as possible, is the hope of the farmer. Government aid may carry him along for a time. But ultimately he must depend upon himself.

Self-help and co-operative spirit; use of sound judgment in choosing his crops and in caring for them; diversification; applying common sense methods—these will aid the farmer as nothing else will.

The people would have more confidence in "the powers that be" at Washington if each and every department of the Federal Government were overhauled and if reform brooms were yielded vigorously to sweep clean every department and every bureau.

PRINCE OF WALES HURT IN DARING RIDING

The wholesome young Prince of Wales is a "good sport," to put it in common American parlance. His daring riding has caused the king father and queen mother considerable apprehension. A prominent cavalry officer says that "the Prince is the bravest horseman in England." The bold young scion of royalty has had many a spill and escaped unscathed. But in his last mishap his collarbone was fractured. This will not deter him from resuming spirited riding after his hurt heals.

The Prince maintains the traditions of British royalty in being an ardent lover of outdoor sports. He does not choose soft places for himself. He takes on, frequently the most plebeian and democratic activities—as, for example, his recent stay of several weeks on his ranch in Canada, during which time he worked strenuously in the fields with the farm help.

Woodrow Wilson has left his monument in the hearts of mankind.

The best way to honor Woodrow Wilson is to emulate his virtues and carry on the work which he began.

SANTA FE FIELD DROPS RAPIDLY

The discovery well of big production, Bell No. 1 of the Union Oil Co. has staged a comeback in the deep sand and is a very creditable well in the Meyer sand. More than two years ago Bell No. 1 was brought in in the Bell zone at a depth of 3788 feet and produced more than a million barrels. Redrilled and deepened to 4770 feet the Bell well in the Meyer zone is producing 550 barrels. The output of the Bell well in the Meyer zone is good considering the present depleted condition of that deep sand and the low gas pressure over the Springs area.

An encouraging feature of the west side of the Springs field is the splendid showing the Standard Oil's O. A. Houghton well is making. Completed a 1000-barrel well at 4669 two weeks ago, the well has increased its production to 1080 barrels. The Standard's extreme west side test well, W. L. Houghton 1, has passed the 5560 mark and found nothing.

Santa Fe Springs production has dropped below the 120,000 mark and ocntinues to decline at more than a 1000 barrels a day. The field is drilled up and new production cannot hop to take care of the decline.

Huntington Beach is holding its own among the old fields of So. California with an output in excess of 60,000 daily. The field this past week showed some new developments new wells being started by the Associated Oil Company and the Standard. The Associated's new work included 3 wells on the Miley-Keck property, the Standard's a new well on the surf.

Montebello has not as yet been successful in pushing the western boundary of the field out from the old proven field. The H. L. Whisten well at 4320 failed to make commercial production and is to go down to 5000 feet for a second test. The Union Oil Company's La Merced No. 24 a deep test well in the old field has passed 4300 feet and found nothing. The drilling of the Reppetto Hills Oil Company's No. 1 is now attracting a little attention, drilling is at 3650 feet and some showings noted.

Rideout Heights this past week had the addition of the Standard Oil Company to its development list. The Standard has closed a lease for the Patten property and has a rig up for No. 1. The O'Donnell Oil and Refining Company, the discovery of the deep sand in the old field has started its No. 9 a new well.

At Richfield the Union Oil Company's Graham-Loftus 54 is looking very good and will give the field a real incentive for deep drilling. At 4050 the Union well revealed a deep sand that carries oil in good quantity. The old Brea field has been waiting for something to open up a deep sand and it appears that Graham-Loftus 54 will do it.

With the abandonment of the Co-operative Petroleum Syndicate at 5400 and the M. & H. Oil Company's No. 1 at 4662 the outlook or hope of a western extension of the Santa Fe Springs field fades. The Co-operative well is considered a good deep test and will probably satisfy doubters.

MRS. IZETTA JEWEL BROWN

Announcement of the candidacy for the senate of Mrs. Izetta Jewel Brown on the Democratic ticket again centers the interest of women leaders on the chance of winning a seat in the senate for a woman—and a southern woman at that—a resident of West Virginia, stronghold of the "Old South."

Mrs. Brown, who is the first woman to throw her hat into the senatorial ring in the coming campaign, blazed the trail for herself in 1922, when she was defeated for the senate after a valiant contest. Reports from West Virginia are to the effect that her chances in the coming election are much better than in 1922, when newspapers did not take kindly to the idea of a woman senator representing their state. Shortly after her recent announcement of her candidacy she was referred to as "senatorial timber," and at Democratic headquarters in Washington it was said she was planning a campaign calculated to give some concern to the opposition.

Her platform, briefly stated, is prohibitionist, agricultural and feminist—feminist in so far as she is a supporter of the National Woman's party and is an advocate of their equal rights bill. Prohibitionist she has always been. It is, she said in a recent statement, "traditional" with her. Her activities in behalf of agriculture are counted upon by her friends to win her the vote of the rural population. For years she has been affiliated with the American Farm Bureau Federation, and is a member of the federation's national committee of five women.

Mrs. Brown first came into public notice at the Democratic convention in San Francisco, to which she went to make the speech seconding the nomination of John W. Davis for president. In the ensuing campaign she traversed from Maine to Kentucky in the vanguard of speakers for Governor Cox.

What Editors Are Saying

There is a tragedy impending which the American people should face resolutely. Nothing can be done to avert it. Senatorial investigations, legislative enactments, and even local ordinances will not wash out one word of the tragedy nor lighten the dismal consequences in store for us. No one avenue is open but that of a puncture-proof, non-skid resolution stocially to accept the inevitable.

It seems that after running a course of normalcy for many centuries the honored game of checkers, favorite indoor sport of cracker-box philosophers in village stores, is nearing what is technically called the point of exhaustion. The game goes back almost to the beginning of the civilization. The Egyptians, Greeks and Romans held it in high esteem as requiring profound mental efforts.

But when the cracker-box philosophers came the beginning of the decline of checkers. The intensely analytical powers of the mind of this individual discovered that there is a certain combination of moves which will win the game as inevitably as the right combination opens a bank safe. If your opponent also knows these combinations, the game is almost sure to end in a draw. Thus when some years ago an American and English champion played fifty games, forty-seven of them ended in draws.

Now a game of checkers that is bound to end in a draw is no game at all. The real zest and heart have been taken out of it; it is merely a series of moves in which the players know from the start what each of the next two dozen moves is to be. And that's no game.

Our intensely analytical minds have now reduced this game to a mere matter of mathematical calculation. We have had to make the selection of opening plays compulsory. The spirit of adventure has departed from checkers. We shall soon have to resort to lotto and dominoes for mental exhiliration.

BENEFIT DANCE PROVES SOCIETY EVENT OF SEASON

THE dance at the Elks clubhouse by the Women's Press club scored another hit, socially, last evening when they gave the benefit for the soldiers at Camp Kearny. The hall was crowded and every dancer had a delightful time. The grand march was announced at 10 o'clock and was led by Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Cohen. As the couples marched down the aisles they were presented with red bon bons, and in one was the number "14," which entitled the holder to a box of candy as a prize. Miss Eleanor Quill held the lucky "14."

The popular club twins, the Misses Martha and Ida Schaeffler, in fetching Valentine costumes, passed the bon bons from prettily trimmed trays swung from their shoulders by gay ribbons.

Balloons were distributed and serpentines were passed out at a late hour, all of which gave diversion to the program of dances.

During the time the serpentines were being thrown about, Mrs. Lena Mae Noland lost her necklace of pearls, and if any of the dancers found them, Mrs. Noland would appreciate phoning 453.

Mrs. Kustiner talked of Gertrude Atherton, with whom she has personal acquaintance, making her number heartily acceptable. Mrs. C. C. Smith told the story of the rise to fame of the Polish immigrant, Anzia Yiesserska, and who now is a well-known writer in America.

Literary current events were presented by Mrs. Frederick B. Schiller, leader of the section, concluding the program.

Mr. Lee who is a new man at Placentia is to be complimented in bringing to Orange-co. two of the finest and most intellectual and well posted public speakers of California. Secretary Lee is starting out with a vengance to make good his promise to put Placentia on the map.

The C. of C. has already straightened out a bad tangle on the paving proposition and by means that has won the respect of the property owners of Placentia, so that the town at last is going to be pulled out of the mud as the following streets are to be paved, and curbs installed. Crowther-ave., Bradford-ave., Center-st., Chapman-ave., Market, Melrose-ave., Santa Fe-ave., Walnut-st. This will make a wonderful improvement for Placentia and one that is directly traceable to the efforts of the C. of C. and Secretary Lee, who has been backed by not only the directors but the entire membership. Placentia is to be congratulated on the fact that it realizes its strategic position in Orange-co. and its most beautiful location, and has taken the first step towards a more beautiful and substantial city.

The sanitary proposition now before the board of the Placentia district will be decided some time in the latter part of the month. Placentia already has a sanitary district, but outlying sections petitioned to come into this district, but protests were made by other property owners of the district petitioning for annexation. The question is now before the board, and the C. of C. is also working with the opposing parties in an effort to iron out the differences of opinion, but regardless of the decision of the board the city and surrounding territory are assured of a newer outlet to the Pacific ocean with the joint cities outfall system.

NO BIG ONES IN TORRANCE FIELD

By Elwood J. Musser

From the standpoint of gusher wells and big production the Torrance-Redondo-Lomita field has proven a disappointment. The field opened a few months ago with 1200 and 1500 barrel wells. It is now producing 250 and 350 barrel wells and a close check of the field reveals the fact that the field has only one well doing more than 1000 barrels, the big well being the Sentinel Oil Company's Jourdin No. 1 a producer that is running close to 1100 barrels. The total daily output of the Torrance field runs around 25,000 barrels and there seems little hope of increasing this figure unless some operator goes down and finds a deep sand.

Three wild cat wells claim the attention of the oil fraternity at Torrance now and upon their success much of the future development of the Torrance field depends. On the northeast side of the field the Rosenburg well has reached a depth of 3750 feet and to date has had no showings to get excited over. On the extreme north edge of the field the Petroleum, Midway's Lewis well has passed the 4500 foot mark and has nothing to show. The Superior Oil Company's Torrance 13 is setting down to where it should show something encouraging if it is going to make a well, drilling has passed the 4100 mark and nothing exiting has been passed. Aside from the east boundary line of the field it appears that the productive area of the Torrance-Redondo field field has been pretty well fixed.

New production this past week at Torrance included a 350 barrel well drilled by the Doruth Oil & Investment Company, 300 barrell well completed by the Grunwell Oil Corporation, a 200 barrel well by Bailes-Kinsey-Jennings, a 400 barrel well by the James F. Nugent Oil Company and a 585 barrel well that came in barefooted on the Fortuna Oil Co., Clark lease.

Long Beach continues to be the wonder oil field of Sou. Calif. and it seems to be no feat at all to bring in a 4000 and 5000 barrel well. Jack Doyle astonished the operators of the east side of the Hill with a 4000 barrel well at 5000 feet. The Doyle well is producing 30 gravity oil the highest the Hill field has yet produced. The Shell Co., of Cal. drilled its Alamitos No. 8 to 5200 feet and got a 2500 bbl well producing 28 gravity oil. The east slope of Signal Hill is looking up with these big wells coming in and it appears that that part of the field that was neglected two years ago is coming into its own and much of the future production of the Long Beach district will come from that section of the field. The daily output of the Long Beach field is holding steadily at 231,000 barrels.

ORANGES SIZE UP LAST 3 WEEKS

Fruit has sized up almost as much in the last three weeks in many groves as it had in all the season previous, declare fruit experts. Though the rain three weeks ago was limited, it did local valencias vast good, followed by warmer weather.

Fruit men say fair prices may be expected for valencias. The navel market is off largely because of the many cold waves that have swept the east this winter. One local company has had to keep cars in roundhouses for as many as 15 days on several occasions because of danger from freezing. Of course decay set in because of the delay.

PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, Feb. 15.—(Spl.)—The members of the Placentia Round Table club, with their husbands and families, enjoyed a very unusual and entertaining program on Tuesday evening in celebration of their twenty-second anniversary. The program was very appropriately started off with community singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and other familiar melodies. This was followed by two delightful numbers by the Wallace-Cook trio.

A most beautiful and stately minuet was then danced by eight young ladies, daughters of the members.

Miss Katherine Bradford gave two solo readings. The music section then sang a group of songs. The ladies were in colonial costume and presented a very charming appearance as they sat grouped together on the steps with the colored spotlights falling softly on powdered wigs and rich costumes.

The next number was a series of tableaux, with appropriate songs sung behind the scenes by Mrs. Estella Walker, Miss Ruth Howerton and C. P. Smith. These tableaux were as follows:

2—Grandfather, with Mr. Robertson of Fullerton in character and singing his own songs.

3—"Mother" was portrayed by Miss Florence Schofield rocking the cradle and singing lullabies.

4—"Father" was Mrs. Charmiele trotting "his" little girl (Miss Geraldine Edwardson) on "his" foot to the nursery rhymes, "Ride-a-Cock Horse" and "Hey-Diddle-Diddle."

5—Miss Mary Helen Murdick (in costume), with a big collie dog, gave a reading.

6—Little Miss Murdick, in bedtime costume.

7—"School Days" with Mrs. Fred Cline, "teacher," and Maxine Bender and Eunice Marie Smith as pupils.

8—"Play Days" with the barefoot boy going fishing (Maxine Bender) and his little playmate (Eunice Marie Smith).

9—"Her First Beau" with Mrs. W. C. Cober as the bashful maiden and Mrs. C. P. Smith as the freckle-faced "beau."

10—"Aunt Dinah's Quilting Party"—(a) Three ladies quilting (Mrs. C. E. Fuller, Mrs. J. E. Scott and Mrs. A. Pierotti); (b) "I (Mrs. J. Chas. Thamer) Was Seeing Nellie (Mrs. Wickett) Home."

11—"The Bride"—Miss Nina McLellen with Miss Geraldine Edwardson as "Cupid."

The "last but not least" number on the program was another enjoyable selection by the Wallace-Cook trio.

This delightful program was due to the untiring efforts of the participants, supervised by Mrs. J. W. Travers and Mrs. Estella Walker. Delicious refreshments of birthday cake and Valentine ice cream were served the guests by the hostesses, the officers of the club.

Four rows of orange trees are being taken out of the Fuller ranch for the streets and curbs that are to be put in by the subdividers, Fourman and Askin.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon for Harry Eagan, who had been quite ill for several months and passed away Saturday evening. The deceased is survived by a wife.

For Swollen Joints

Most remedies fail, but Joint-Ease succeeds.

It's for joint troubles only, whether in ankle knee, hip, elbow, shoulder, finger or spine—whether rheumatic or not.

It limbers up stiff, inflamed, painful, creaky joints so quickly you'll be astonished.

Two seconds' rubbing and away it goes through skin and flesh right down to the bone and ligaments—that's why it succeeds. Ask Heyler's Pharmacy or any reliable druggist.

UNITED THEATER, 306 E. Center

TONIGHT SATURDAY MATINEE SATURDAY NIGHT

10c 25c 35c

Here at last THE MOST SENSATIONAL AND AMAZING PHOTOPLAY EVER MADE!

ABOUNDING WITH THRILLS—HUMOR—EDUCATION

UNITED OFFERS CANNIBAL FILM

The most sensational and amazing photoplay of all times, "The Isle of Vanishing men" will be shown at the United Theatre tonight, Saturday matinee and night.

It is the photographic record of the astounding and unparalleled adventures of Mr Wm. F. Alder among the man-eating Kia Kia Cannibals of the Malay Archipelago, abounding with thrills, humor, novelty and education. It is the first time that a white man, an American, has ever taken pictures of these savage people and shows their home life, their customs wearing apparel (or lack f it) and many of their traditions. There were many adventures, dangers and close calls in the taking of these pictures and we now have the chance of seeing all this without the danger to our lives that we would have if we were seeing this first hand.

The picture has made an instantaneous hit in every city where shown and has broken all box-office records so far. It is the strangest of all photo-plays and is almost inconceivable in parts. Only one who has been in these South Sea Islands can believe the difference in the lives of the savage and civilized population of the world.

There will also be shown a Peerless Comedy and on Saturday matinee and night the fifth episode of Ruth Roland in "Ruth of the Range."

Pete Yserra of 120 W. Chartres-st. yesterday reported to local police the loss of two spare tires. The details of the theft were not given.

130-POUND TEAM WINS HOOP TITLE

The last of an uninterrupted chain of victories fell to Anaheim's crack 130-pound basketball players when they won county championship 26 to 14 at Tustin yesterday. Tustin played to advantage as its court is of a different dimension than the local. Sweeney shone brilliantly, coming out high point man. He made five field goals and then shot five fouls. Swarthout, usual mainstay, was heavily covered by the Tustin guard. This left Sweeney free to show his stuff. Glas and Mann, the combination that can't be beat, were at their best, and won praises for their excellent work. Glas was forced to the bench in the last several minutes thru fouls. Sweeney took his place and made some excellent breaks. Howell went in for Sweeney at center. Dargatz stood up well in the game but was slower than usual. The team was well balanced and it was hard for the Tustin men to get in the points they registered.

Coach L. E. Sutherland's charges are deserving of "bouquets" for winning the county title as they defeated Santa Ana four times and Fullerton twice. The boys are in the pink of condition and with a game now and then to keep in trim, they should be ready to tackle any team in the southland. Their next opponents will be from the Citrus League.

Tustin players, Praether, Labruchene, forwards; Runnick, center; Crawford and Russell, guard.

INJURED BOY IMPROVES

Earl Todd, who was badly injured about two weeks ago when a passing auto truck struck him as he was changing a tire along the highway, between Pomona and Brea, is improving nicely.

EUROPEANS WILL TAKE 6 EVENTS

(By Davis J. Walsh)
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Individual victories in 12 of the 20 events on the Olympic track are conceded even at this premature moment, to athletes of foreign countries by those in close touch with developments here it became known today.

The estimate was furnished by an A. A. U. man who knows his business as the ice man knows his tongs. Finland, looming larger daily as America's arch rival, will score the major part of the European victories, our informant believes.

Altho the subject is rather carefully avoided, I think every one familiar with the situation realizes that the American will be outscored in individual victories" declared this man, whose identity is withheld for obvious reasons.

"Where we expect to come thru is on the basis of team strength. It would not surprise me if European athletes won at 1500 meters 5000 meters, 10,000 meters, the marathon, the 3000 meter steeplechase, the pole vault, the javelin, the discus, the shot put, the 10,000 meter walk, the 3000 meter team race and the cross country run.

Elaborating on his estimate, it developed that the American Olympic committee hardly looked for Joie W. Ray, America's greatest distancer to win the 1500 meter race. The race, it developed, is expected to be a two man affair between Paavo Nurmi of Finland, holder of the world's record for the mile and Wide of Normay, with Nurmi a natural favorite.

The latter is also conceded first place in the steeple chase and cross country races with Verne Booth, of Johns-Hopkins, the only American having a chance to break thru in the hill and dale event. Nurmi might also be given been placed at the top of the list in the 3000 meter scramble, were it not for the fact that it falls on the same day with the 1500 meter race. If he cares to try for a four-ply victory, equalling Alvin Kranzlein's record, Nurmi will be the favorite at 10,000 meters, altho Deraux, of France, who bettered Guillemot's mark, is coming like the wind.

Willie Ritola of Finland is liked for the 5000 meter race provided Joie Ray doesn't shift to the longer distance at the earnest rehest of the committee. Myra and Johnssen of Finland are the to be the javelin throwers, the former and another Finn, Identity unknown, is a prime favorite in the discus.

John Hoff, of Norway, with a record of 13 feet nine inches is expected to win the pole vault and Perholn, of Finland, the shot put, altho Ralph Hills and Orville Wanzer, Americans, may connive to annoy him somewhat.

Frigerio of Italy probably will win the walk, it is said, with Willie Plant, American champion, having an outside chance.

110-POUND TEAM WINS AT TUSTIN

By defeating Tustin 16 to 2 yesterday, Anaheim's 110-pound basketball team steps into second place in the league. The defeat Orange last week shoved them down a notch. Tustin's only point came close to the end of the third quarter when Lindsey tossed the sphere thru the loop. Ochoa and Alsip played a good game together at guarding. Utter and Martin shifted at center and scored plenty of action. Woods and Glas assisted by Hensley, shot baskets whenever the ball was in their section.

Joe Burrows has been assisting Coach Sutherland with this team and has seen them develop wonderfully within the last several weeks. Consistent training earlier would have made a winning combination.

Orange players: Coffman, Ellson, forwards; Neuman, center; Wise and Crawford, guards. Miller sub for Wise and Lindsey for Crawford.

GREATEST GOLFERS IN TEXAS TOURNEY

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 15.—Many of the world's greatest golfers started play today in the third Texas open championship, the event which sets the record for links cash prize money with $1500 for the winner and a total of $6000 to be distributed among the leaders.

Walter Hagen is not to defend his title, but a fine field is here:

Macdonald Smith of San Francisco, winner of the California open, and Joe Kirkwood are the favorites, with Bill Melhorn, St. Louis; Jim Barnes, New York; Cyril Walker, Englewood and Jack Burke, St. Paul in the running.

PICK POTENTIAL OLYMPIC TALENT

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—It became known thru official sources today that the A. A. U. has culled the violets from the field of stubble and has drafted what it pleased to term a list of "potential candidates for the American Olympic team" based on performances, past and present.

The prospectus includes some 125 of our most prominent people and doesn't hesitate to name a few members.

Conspicuously missing, however, is the name of Charles W Paddock, Olympic champion for 1,000 meters. Charles, in an off moment, allowed himself to lose caste with the A. A. U., but everything will be all to the garlic in due time.

They declined to permit star sprinters to remain disqualified in this country.

Minus Charles, the remainder of the tentative sprint field includes Loren Murchison, national champion; "Boots" Lever, intercollegiate champion; L. A. Carl, Johns-Hopkins; Albert Washington, Chicago; Eddie Sudden, former Stanford man; Al Leconey, Lovejoy, and E. C. Wilson, Iowa.

Some of the boys, of course, will make the ultimate riffle, some will not.

Another prominent contender, and to wit, Allen Woodring, Olympic and intercollegiate champion, is not found among the 400 meter men but the list is a good one, nevertheless. It includes Jake Darrell Boston; J. C. Taylor, former Princeton star; Walter Koppisch, Columbia; Bill Stevenson, learning to raise the left eye brown at Oxford; Vernon Archer, Chicago, and C. S. Cochrane, Mississippi A. and M.

The middlewest does a semi-monologue in the 800 and 1500 meter runs. Those named for the former include Ray Watson and Ray Buker, Chicago; Allen Helferich, Penn State; Ray Dodge, Portland, Ore., and Larry Brown, Philadelphia. For the longer distance, perforce, Joe Ray heads the list, surrounded by Watson and Buker, team mates and Lloyd Hahn, Boston; Ed Kirby, Cornell, and Mal Douglas, Yale.

Stepping on to 5000 metres, Verne Booth, John-Hopkins; Elmer McLane, Pennsylvania; Joun Romig, Philadelphia, Calhoun, Army, and Hurd, Navy, are mentioned.

Karl Johnson, Pittsburgh national champion, tops the possible nominees at 10,000 metres, followed by James Hannigan, Dorchester, Mass.; John Pray, Philadelphia and F. E. Wendling, Buffalo.

For the marathon, Clarence De Mar, who goes right on like Tennyson's brook; A. Michaelsen and William Kennedy, Stamford, Conn., Frank Zuna, Newark, and Charles Mellor, Chicago, are mentioned, off hand, while the same applies to Marvin Rick, Mike Devanney and Russell Payne, the latter from Ohio State.

The high jump field is the broad winner. It includes Perry Brown, Harold Osborne and Dick Landon, champions all; also "Brick" Muller, San Francisco, and Poor, Kansas.

The broad jumpers named are equally gifted. They include Ned Gourdin, Dorchester, and De Hart Hubbard, Michigan, both of whom have bettered 25 feet; Albert Rose, Pennsylvania; Bob Legendre, New York, and Comins, Yale, inter-collegiate champion.

Others on the "potential list" are:

Hurdler—Carl Anderson and Ivan Reilly, Chicago; Dave Kinsey, St. Louis; Brickman, Chicago; John K. Torton, San Francisco, and Charley Brookins, Iowa.

Pole vaude—E. E. Myers and E. F. Knourek, Chicago; J. K. Brooker, Michigan; "Red" Norris, California; George Owen, Fennsylvania.

Javelin—H. Hoffman, H. C. Fried and Milton Angier, Chicago; J. P. Hanner, San Francisco; Cleveland Sturrz, Yale; and Sorrenti, California.

Discus—Tom Lieb, Notre Dame; A. R. Pope, Chicago, and Clarence Houser, Los Angeles.

Shot put—Ralph Hills, Princeton; O. Wanzer, New York; C. A. C. Eastman, Harvard, and Pat McDonald, New York.

Hammer throw—P. Tcotell, Boston; Matt McGarth, New York; Jack Merchant, San Francisco.

5000 meter walk—W. Plant and J. Pearman, New York; Charles Foster, Detroit; H. L. Schultz, Buffalo.

Bebe Daniels is a Navajo Indian Girl

Adopted by a Navajo squaw during the filming of Zane Grey's "The Heritage of the Desert" which Irvin Willat produced for Paramount, Bebe Daniels now possesses full right to the ancient privileges of the tribe.

While the company of over three hundred players was on location in southern Utah Miss Daniels became a prime favorite with the Indians and the adoption followed. Henceforth she will be accorded the protection of the Navajo Medicine Men against sickness, evil spirits and the designs of her enemies.

When the lengthy and somewhat trying ceremony of adoption was concluded, the squaw "mother" looked triumphantly at Mrs. Daniels, who accompanied the players on location, and said, "She not your daughter any more. She my daughter. I her mother."

The featured players in "The Heritage of the Desert" are Bebe Daniels, Ernest Torrence, Noah Beery and Lloyd Hughes.
