Estimate This Season's Citrus Crop Will Return Over $4,000,000 to Anaheim

3500 CARS OF FRUIT WILL BE MOVED

Growers Get $3,500,000 and Local Labor Will Receive $500,000

It begins to look like a blue year for Anaheim and Orange-co citrus growers, the fellows who raise valencias, in particular.

Several weeks ago Charles Eyga-broad director of the Calif Fruit Growers Exchange stated in an exclusive interview published in The Plain Dealer that the current season would be the best ever experienced by local orange growers. The prediction is coming true with a vengeance. A better feeling is already noted. Optimism is noted among ranchers and business-men alike. Last year's poor market, the drouth and hoof and mouth disease are in the dim, distant past.

For Anaheim has a big crop and the prices are getting stiffer every day. Three local houses expect to move at least 300 cars apiece. That makes 2400. Three other houses will handle a total of 1100 cars, it is estimated, making a total of citrus shipments from the district this season of 3500 cars. Counting 400 boxes to the car, that is 1,429,-000 boxes. While estimates of average returns vary because of the small sizes, it is believed the season as a whole will not miss $2.50 net very far. That would mean a return to growers of $3,-550,000. Add to that about 40 cents spent with local labor for picking, packing and hauling, a total of $568,000, and we have a grand total of $4,118,000 that the current crop is placing in local channels of trade.

Hundreds of pickers and packers are now busily engaged at the height of the season. Some additional will be put to work when the Anaheim Citrus Fruit Ass'n puts in operation this week its new house at Center-st and the Santa Fe tracks. This association has been operating two shifts daily at its West Anaheim house on the S. P. and still hasn't been able to get out its share of the fruit.

Every raise in the price of fruit now is pure velvet to the grower. Just what a raise means to the district now may be gained from the recent 75 cent boost in prices. Fleming's million boxes yet to be sold, the market advance of the last two weeks means an additional revenue of $750,000 to Anaheim growers. And of course, whatever may be said for Anaheim goes for the whole county.

After announcing increases of 25 cents and 50 cents last week, the Southern Orange-co Fruit Exchange stated the price was at a point where it was the disposition of exchange directors now to crowd it further. However, at their meeting Monday, directors again raised the ante on some smaller sizes. This has been the history of the market for some time now and Exchange directors are most optimistic, it was announced today.

"They are eating oranges to beat the cars back east now," stated Egalvaid today. "The price is good and we don't want to boost it to the point where we will slow up consumption because of the big crop we have to dispose of. Conditions are favorable for fine orange market. We do not expect deciduous fruit to offer so much competition as last season. A little summer weather after the backward spring in the east, and lemons will also stiffen.

"We can't hold back now and wait in the hope of still higher prices which would delay consumption. We have so much fruit to move that we must keep it going.

A new high figure for fancy Orange-co valencias was reached yesterday when California Belle of the Placentia Orange Growers' Ass'n brought $6.65 on the Philadelphia market.

Old Mission brand of C. C. Chapman and Altissimo brand of the Placentia Mutual Orange Growers' Ass'n brought $6.55 each.

No Anaheim Supreme or Anaheim Glorians, two of the local fancy brands which have been among the leaders, were reported sold.

CONGRESSMAN HAS MONKEY FARM TO STUDY GLAND USES

Rep. John Joseph Kindred.

Representative John Joseph Kindred, New York, has been the butt of the jibes of fellow congressmen since it became known he is operating a monkey farm on an island off Florida for the study of transplantation of glands. In private life he is a physician. The farm is not commercial, but is being used for gathering scientific data on various theories of transplantation.

NEW CHARGE AGAINST 2 DIXIE MEN

A new complaint against John Saxon Porter and Lester J. Graham, missing officials of the Dixie service stations, were again made defendants in a criminal action filed today with the district attorney and signed by Morris Stevenson. Stevenson charges the two with obtaining money under false pretenses, similar to charges already filed against them.

Porter was president of the company and lived in Los Angeles. Stockholders said that Graham, who lived in Anaheim, was the manager. Many thousands of dollars is said to have been invested in the service station scheme on the alleged promise that jobs in the stations would be given with the investment in stock certificates.

CONTRACTS LET FOR HIGHWAY WORK

Oglesby and Dahl, paving contractors, were awarded the contract for the hard surfacing of two miles of Fairview-ave between the town of Fairview and the junction of the avenue with the harbor boulevard. The bid was $34,-160. The county engineer estimated the job to cost $36,000.

The board of supervisors also accepted the bid of Lawrence Maas for $5088.15 for the excavating and refilling of trenches to accommodate the proposed pressure system in Orange-co Water Works district No. 2 at Buena Park. Seven bids, the highest being $6264, were submitted.

RIDLEY FEATHER-WEIGHT CHAMPION

PORTLAND, Ore., June 11.—Ridley, the Seattle boy, is feather-weight champion of the Pacific coast today and holder of the Portland Boxing commission belt.

He won all the way from Danny Nunes of Sacramento in a 10-round mill here last night.

A left hook to the jaw sent Nunes to the canvas for the count of nine in the sixth round. Nunes saved himself by holding on the rest of the round and Ridley, in the excitement, swung wild, when by measuring his man he might have scored a knockout.

FINE SHOWING OF OIL AT BROOKHURST

Quantities of Black Gold Brot Up By Tools of Wonder Well

The Wonder Oil Co. at 2:30 this afternoon had another marked showing of oil in its well just west of Brookhurst-ave and north of Lincoln-ave. The crew appeared to be ready to stop drilling either permanently or to put in a smaller casing. They had not yet reached the point of preparing to cement off. The company refuses to give out any information.

A pronounced showing of oil which, according to one of the lessors, makes it certain that a well will be brought in by the Wonder Oil Co. on Brookhurst-ave, was reported today. An Anaheim lessor appeared equally confident that oil would be struck, but declared that the company was still drilling this morning.

The well now is down 4400 feet. The company expects to cement off at a depth not lower than 5000 feet, according to the local lessor.

If a well is brought in the terms of the contracts provide for the erection of a dozen or more derricks on other separate leases by the General Petroleum, Standard, the Keck Drilling Co. and Wonder Oil Co., which are working together, and other companies, the local lessor said.

Another report that negotiations had been started for part of the extensive acreage of Mrs. I. R. Williams on Magnolia-ave west of Orangethorpe-ave.

From an entirely different and apparently independent source the same report came, namely that oil had been found. It was also declared that the well was being boarded up and visitors barred, but this was denied by the Anaheim lessor referred to above.

STARBUCK ROAD ORDERED OPENED

The first steps towards the opening of the long and much-mooted Starbuck-rd, known also as Valencia-dry, was taken last night at the regular weekly meeting of the Fullerton board of trustees. The board instructed the clerk to write the telephone company, asking them to move the telephone poles from the center of the right-of-way to the north side of the right-of-way, extending the drive from Richman to Brookhurst-ave, and permitting the people in that vicinity to come into town over it instead of having to make a detour as at present. It was hinted that the board may later push the matter further and make it a principal thoroughfare, but that the finances do not at the present time permit.

Judge William French was granted a leave of absence from June 15 to September 1 because of ill health. H. E. Hart, justice of the peace of La Habra is to take his place during his absence.

An ordinance was given the first reading providing that five per cent of the proceeds from bus lines operated in the city exclusively be paid into the city treasury as a tax.

The city attorney was also instructed to draft an ordinance providing a tax on dogs, $2 each for males, and $5 for females.

George Cornwall was granted permission to install a service station at the corner of Brookhurst and Commonwealth-ave.

The resignation of Mrs. James P. Glenn from the newly appointed health board was accepted. Mrs. Glenn said domestic duties prevented her having time to devote to the work. The appointment of her successor has not yet been announced.

The board instructed the health board to make a survey and inspection of meat markets and cafes in Fullerton.

A communication was read from the Anaheim Elks inviting the board to attend Flag Day exercises, Friday, the 13th. The clerk was instructed to answer the same.

Charles Bean protested that dust from the plant of the L. A. Paving Co. is doing damage to his orchards. E. R. Werdin, manager of the Co., was instructed to correct the dust trouble immediately.

SYMBOL OF LUCK LOSES CHARM

Altho Dr. R. E. Whitted, dentist, accused of a serious statutory crime by a Santa Ana girl, carried a rusty horseshoe with him into courtroom the charm was unable to prevent his conviction at the hands of the jurors. It was revealed today when jailers said they found such an article on the person of Whitted when he was searched before being assigned a cell in the county jail.

Faced with the prospect of being sentenced from 1 to 15 years in the state penitentiary on Friday, June 13, Dr. Whitted had secreted the horseshoe on his person in the hope of a "lucky turn" jailers said.

Whitted was reported as being lavish in his "treats" for fellow prisoners.

ARREST 5 AT FULLERTON WEDDING

Attaches of the district attorney's office here today described the release of three sailors, and two women, one of them the bride of one of the sailors, as a "narrow squeak" following their arrest in Fullerton last night, as they were celebrating the wedding on a charge of possessing liquor.

On the ground that the evidence was insufficient to warrant prosecution District Attorney A. P. Nelson ordered the release today of Marlow Dahlgren, 22, Mrs. Marlow Dahlgren, 21 Miss Grace Brockman, 24, Ted Villines, 22, and Ernest V. Pemland 23, members of the party. The sailors said they were from ships now at San Pedro.

Members of the party said they started out in a rented car at $1.50 an hour to celebrate the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Marlowe. They expressed great surprise that Motorcycle Officer Rod Reed should find in their rented car a bottle of what he described as liquor.

The road of the party was made more rough through the action of the "kangaroo court' of the prisoners in the county jail, who were said to have "soaked" the jack tars $5 on "charges" not ascertained.

The sailors were expected to do some "tall explaining" on their return to their craft today, as the result of the Orange-co episode.

ELECTRIC CO. SUES

The Taylor Electric Co. sued W. J. Villott today in the superior court on account of a lien amounting to $130.59 against a dwelling at the corner of North Highland and West Brookdale-ave, Fullerton.

URGE G. O. P. TO RETIRE RADICALS

Permanent Chairman In Earnest Admonition To Convention

CONVENTION HALL, CLEVELAND, June 11.—Admonition to Republicans to retire from congress the insurgents who have played havoc with administration policies and to elect in November a congress that is Republican in "principle as well as in name," opened the Republican national convention meeting in its second session here today.

It was delivered with great earnestness by Frank W. Mondell of Wyoming, permanent chairman of the convention, who took up the gavel laid down by Representative Theodore Burton of Ohio, the convention keynoter. His short speech simply emphasized Burton's warning against any third party tendency within the Republican party, and ascribed whatever failures have met the administration program in Washington to the insurgent members of the party.

"Every serious fault of recent legislation and every failure to complete and round out a satisfactory legislative program," Mondell said, "could and would have been avoided had there been dependable Republican majorities in congress. The one certain and sure remedy for such a condition is the election of a congress Republican by a goodly majority, both in name and principle."

Mondell briefly and glowingly reviewed the Republican accomplishments under Harding and Coolidge, and coupled with it a caustic criticism of the Democrats.

"If the American people were prepared to forget," he said, "the wholly indefensible record of the Democratic party in earlier days, they could not overlook the fact that the most recent record of the Democratic party is one, first of all, a single redeeming feature; of scandalous mismanagement, of unwise and indefensible policy, while in control and utter lack of definite principle or policy, save that of muckraking and obstructions.'

Following is the text of Mondell's speech seconding the nomination of President Coolidge:

"We are assembled from every state of the Union and from its island possessions to register the nation's will.

"The prayers of millions of our countrymen are with us. They look to us to perform a duty important both to America and the world. The nation and the party calls for New England's favorite son. Calvin Coolidge has already been nominated. Popular demand has made our function here a purely formal one. It is a most

PRESIDENT OF FRANCE RESIGNS

PARIS, June 11.—Alexander Millerand handed in his resignation today as president of the French republic.

When parliament convened this afternoon for the simultaneous reading of the letter of resignation in both houses, there was much speculation as to his successor. The Left president will be a supporter of the policies of the left bloc (radical socialists). He will be elected Friday.

Premier Painlev of the chamber of deputies read Millerand's letter of resignation and announced that the assembly would convene at Versailles at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon to elect a new president of the republic.

A cabinet meeting was held before noon after which President Millerand sent his letter of resignation to the presidents of the chamber and senate.

The document merely said

"I have the honor to transmit to you my resignation as president of the republic."

Resignation of the Francois-Marsal cabinet is expected at once.

By the end of the week, according to the present program, France will have an entirely new government.

Not Guilty of 'Gun Toting' Charge

Jesus Jiminez, Yorba Mexican, accused of carrying concealed weapons, was free today following the return of a verdict acquitting him yesterday in the superior court of Judge R. Y. Williams who had previously instructed the jury to reduce the charge from that of felony to a misdemeanor.

The court did not question the constitutionality of the law, although a northern California based, he said, on the failure on the part of the state to prove that Jiminez is an alien. The court said that the burden of proof rested with the state to prove that Jiminez was not born in the United States and had not become a citizen.

The jury ended the argument by returning the verdict in favor of the defendant.

AWARD CONTRACT FOR B.P. PAVING

Supervisors late yesterday awarded to Steele Finley of Santa Ana the contract for constructing an addition to Orangethorpe-ave at Buena Park, a distance of 6600 feet to a width of 84 feet. Finley's bid was $76,000, the lowest of three bids. The boulevard is now 18 feet wide and supervisors said that when it is widened it will be one of the broadest roads in California.

The more than a mile of paving will be five inches thick and of asphalt - concrete construction. The Griffith Co., Los Angeles, bid $77,000; the Los Angeles Paving Co., $79,000. The engineer's estimate for the job was $80,000.

JAPS TO OPERATE FAMOUS MINES

DELEGATES IN TWO RIVAL CAMPS

Most Important Planks Accepted by Committee on Resolutions

CLEVELAND, June 11.—The resolutions committee of the Republican convention this afternoon accepted most of the important planks reported by the sub-committee in its final draft.

The committee gave its O. K. to the world court plank after Senators Watson of Indiana and Harreld of Oklahoma had offered a clear quotation in language of President Coolidge in his December 6 message concerning divorcing the world court from the League of Nations, and it had been voted down.

The committee also approved the planks of taxation and economy, agriculture and tariff, submitted by the sub-committee.

CLEVELAND, June 11. — The Republican national convention divided this afternoon into what amounted to two rival camps over the selection of a running mate for President Coolidge.

While western delegates held a meeting in the Hotel Winton to "demand" the nomination of a vice-president who appeals to the agricultural west, a little band of eastern administration leaders held another session in the Hotel Cleveland to try to find some way to end the situation which has been created by western insistence upon a "progressive candidate."

In the meeting at the Cleveland hotel were the members of the president's cabinet — Secretary Weeks, Secretary Mellon, Postmaster General New and Secretary Wilbur and C. Bascom Slemp, secretary to President Coolidge. Senator Reed of Pennsylvania and others.

In the Winton meeting were "the western delegates" hailing from Iowa, Nebraska, the Dakotas and Minnesota.

As a result of western opposition administration leaders admitted it looked impossible to nominate Herbert Hoover, and suggestions were afloat that it might be possible to effect a compromise upon General James G. Harbord or James Good of Iowa, who for 16 years was in congress, and lately manager of the Coolidge campaign in the west.

The session in the Hotel Cleveland lasted several hours. It broke up just about the time the westerners were going into conference at the Winton. Those in the Cleveland meeting said: "It looks like Hoover is done."

Administration leaders apparently were hopeful of effecting a compromise on either Harbord or Good and at once set out to canvass western sentiment toward them.

No success attended efforts up to 3:30 p. m. to get an expression of opinion out of President Coolidge at Washington.

Western delegates became busy right after the recess, seeking support for their movement, inaugurated at the Hotel Winton this morning, in favor of naming a vice-presidential candidate from the farm belt.

They were keenly resentful over the meeting of the eastern leaders in the Hotel Cleveland last week in which it was apparently hard narrowed the choice down to Herbert Hoover, James G. Harbord and Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas.

Of this latter the only one that is acceptable in any sense to the westerners is Curtis and they are are not particularly "wild" about him. The latter is a man of the stripe of Judge William S. Kenyon, former leader of the senate farm bloc.

Hanford MacNider of Iowa, former national commander of the American Legion, was named chairman of the meeting of the westerners this morning, which was attended by nearly half hundred delegates. More prom ed to be present at a later m ing, set for 5 p. m.

It was 11:02 when the or gavel fell and the con opened with the usual anthem.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

NUTS AS FOOD

Nuts have heretofore been treated as a necessary to cook meals. We are gradually learning that they are in themselves a valuable food. They are rich in fat and are an even more concentrated food than cheese. As a general thing they are poor in starch although chestnuts contain a large amount of starch. Walnuts and cocoanuts are rich in fat, while almonds, butternuts, Brazil nuts and peanuts are rich in both protein and fat. They are not indigestible if they are well masticated to reduce the amount of cellulose and care is taken to combine them with food containing little fat. In the making of nut pastes and butter the cellulose is eliminated by the process of grinding and cooking.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

Conducted by ANNE ELIZABETH THOMPSON

"LONESOME FOR MEN"

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Do you really think there are any bonsai to goodness men these days? I am a girl of 25, blonde, blue eyes, and considered nice looking, always ready and up to date, but not flashy or better than I can afford. I can cook and do all my own sewing as well as millinery which I learned as soon as I left school. I then secured a business education and now have a very good position and earn good wages. I love to dance, play the piano and enjoy out of door sports. I am the only girl in our family and was not permitted to run around when I was in my teens.

Now my girl friends are all married. I have a wonderful home and mother, but still I find myself lonesome to have company. I have met young men at dances who appealed to me, but as I am not a flatterer I do not seem to take with them. Do you think I ought to invite a young man to call on me like other girls are doing these days? I cannot make myself come down to that.

Do you think that when a young man takes a girl home from a dance or social that she should invite him in? I never did that either and I now find myself longing to go to dances, etc., with a gentleman, but it seems they all want a bobbed-haired girl, flighty and flirty, regardless of reputation, appearance or anything else, just so they make a fuss over them. Are there any real gentlemen left these days and where could I meet them?

LONESOME.

Of course there are real gentlemen left these days, many of them. The trouble with you is that you are not looking for goodness, but think too much about your own fine points and independent spirit. It is not necessary to flatter, but it is necessary to appreciate and treat a feeling of warmth which would encourage a man to like you. You would not like any man who was as indifferent to your charm as you try to be to the charms of the men you meet. It is correct to ask a young man to call, and it is also correct to invite him in when he has taken you home unless the hour is too late. In that case invite him to come to see you.

THANK YOU: If your friend was right and you were a bit too free on the boat, profit by this unpleasant experience, and be more reserved in future. Do not try to force yourself on her since she treats you so coldly, but find a new friend. I am sure that if you go half way you will have no difficulty in making a new girl friend.

After the unfortunate thing that happened on the boat, I doubt if there is any use trying to make the young man like you again. Let him go, and in the future be very careful not to act too free or to give the impression to observers that you are.

AN INNER STRUGGLE

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 22, married and have a little daughter 3. I love my husband, who is very, very good to me, yet I am utterly miserable all the time.

The terrible demon, jealousy, has taken hold of me and makes life miserable for us all, for I could never make anyone as miserable as I am myself.

Until a year ago I never knew what jealousy meant. I was ill in a hospital for weeks and since then it has grown on me steadily worse until at times I am so unhappy I am faint and weak.

I want to tell you some of the things on my mind which make me miserable and let you judge whether it is my evil mind or if I have real cause for jealousy.

We have a young married couple in our home about our own age. When the young wife and I are out together she will smile or speak to any man who will look at her and this does not seem right to me.

When I tell my husband he says she is only full of mischief and tells me to go on with her and have a good time, so I do.

At home he dances with her for an hour at a time and seems to enjoy it, but when I ask him to dance with me he dances once and goes off to smoke or something else.

Also the young woman does not mind how short her skirts are and likes to pull them up to her knees but my husband can't see she ever does anything out of the way, though she does many little things that are indiscreet.

These things lead my mind on to worse and I wake up at night with most terrible dreams. I try to work or read or sing, or quit thinking but to no avail.

My husband is not jealous of me. If I did the same as she he would not care. I don't get angry at them when they seem to misbehave. I get so miserable I feel that my heart will burst.

I have told my husband how I felt, for I have no one else to tell and asked him to help me conquer the feeling. He loved me and told me I was bringing it all on myself, that he was true to me and would guard his actions, to keep me from feeling that way, but he seems to forget all I say when she is around.

Please help me and tell me what will do me good, even if it is a good scolding.

MISERABLE WIFE.

Let the young woman who is indiscreet whether intentionally or not, seek shelter elsewhere. That will remove a cause for jealousy. You must be right, your self control is good. You can conquer it, but it must be a long fight. Beware of worrying your husband with your frequent mention of what you are suffering, try inspiring a feeling of utmost trust in him and learn to laugh at yourself.

PLEASING PLAY ON PROGRAM AT ORANGETHORPE

ONE of the finest programs ever given at the Orangethorpe school was presented to a large audience Friday evening when 30 young folk graduated. Much credit is due Mr. Charles M. French, principal, who so ably supervised the work. He was assisted by Miss Florence Caines, Mrs. Ethel Lewis, and Mrs. Vangella Rainey, the other teachers.

The auditorium was beautifully decorated with a background of pepper boughs, fern and palm leaves. The front of the stage was banked with roses, carnations, gladioli, hydranges and various other flowers.

The daintiness of the girl graduates in their fluffy white dresses and the dignity of the boys of the class was impressive. The 30 young folks who had successfully completed the eighth grade work and are now ready for high school are the Misses Laura Johnson, Ida Kidd, Miriam Porter, Evelyn Thompson, Lilah Schutte, Myra Ortis and Frank Del Giorgio, Wesley Dickenson and Aubryce Hill.

The decorations lent a springlike atmosphere which was in keeping with the operetta entitled "Midsummer Eve." Miss Lilah Schute played the role of queen. She was lead to the throne by six dainty little flower girls, Pearl and Mearl Pebley, Mary Ellen Gordon, Wilma Collman, Celia Conrow and Gadys Spencer who were costumed in yellow and pink paper dresses and carried beautiful baskets of flowers. Rosser Williams and Hardin Covey were pages attending the queen. Ten intermediate boys very cleverly played the part of little green elves.

The younger girls in a bewitching manner enacted the part of the Will-o'-the-Wisp and gave a dance and song. Twelve intermediate girls were costumed to represent various flowers. They very ably executed a lengthy and difficult drill which infrequently is surpassed for beauty. Many thanks is due Mrs. Dan Williams who played the accompaniment.

After the operetta a poetry reading was given by Gladys Spencer; a piano solo by Henrietta Heamstra. The primary boys and girls costumed in a number entitled "Over all Boys and Sunbonnet Babies" very pleasingly presented a song and march. Mrs. Ethel Lewis sang two vocal selections in a very charming manner for which the audience lent no little applause. Miss Laura Johnson gave the valedictory address after which Mr. J. S. McDuell, president of the school board, in a very efficient manner presented diplomas to the graduates.

Final West Side PT. A.

A program especially for eighth grade mothers was presented yesterday by the West Side P.-T. A., when George Hellenkamp, of the high school faculty, gave a practical talk concerning children who are to enter high school next year. Although not all of the mothers of the association heard the talk, those who did gleaned much benefit from it.

Two piano solos by Miss Jessie Fallis and two solos by Mrs. A. L. Knipe with Mrs. Hitchcock at the piano, added enjoyment to the afternoon. An excellent report from the Pasadena P.-T. A. convention was presented by Mrs. R. C. Irwin.

Election resulted in the choice of Mrs. A. Palm for president; Mrs. C. R. Harrison, vice president; Mrs. S. F. Irwin, secretary; Mrs. Chas. Schweinfest, recording secretary; Mrs. Lomen, treasurer; Mrs. Bryant Drake, parliamentarian; and H. D. Jenkins, historian.

The meeting adjourned for the summer and the autumn meeting date will depend upon the opening of school.

GIRL, REPENTANT OVER FRAUD, TO STUDY IN PA

Miss Erna Lange.

In 1923 Miss Erna Lange was accounted the winner of the John Armstrong Chaloner art prize with her contribution titled, "Lament." Later the committee awarding the prize disqualified her because it was found that her picture bore a striking resemblance to one done several years ago by an English artist, James Williams. Miss Lange admitted the resemblance, asserting she had never seen the picture and had entered the contest under the impression that the prize was open to any one. She will leave for Paris for a year's study.

PRIZES OFFERED FOR SOLUTION OF AUTO ACCIDENT PROBLEM

In 1907 there were 508 deaths from automobile accidents in the United States. In 1923 there were 15,700 such deaths. These figures do not include grade crossing accidents.

HOW can the ever-mounting number of automobile accidents in the United States be reduced? This question is being asked of every licensed insurance agent and broker in the country.

Not only is it being asked, but one of the largest indemnity companies has brought together startling figures showing the steady increase in deaths from automobile accidents and, in a determined effort to get an answer to the question, has proposed a prize contest.

Pointing out that high automobile liability insurance rates of any insurance company cannot be reduced unless the number of accidents is reduced, Charles H. Holland, president of the Independence Indemnity Company of Philadelphia, is offering $1,750 in cash prizes for the three best solutions of the problem.

Judges, who will be nationally known authorities in automobile traffic matters, are now being chosen to consider the suggestions and award the prizes. The first prize is $1,000; the second, $500, and the third, $250. The contest will close June 30. Suggestions must not exceed 500 words in length and must be practical.

"There is a growing conviction," Mr. Holland says in his announcement, "that some way must be found for reducing the appalling number of automobile accidents. We do not know how this can be done, but we believe it can be done. Furthermore, we believe that if the creative brain power of the 150,000 agents and brokers can be mobilized, a real solution will be discovered."

CHARLES H. HOLLAND
Who Offers the Prizes

According to statistics furnished to Mr. Holland by the Automobile Department of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, deaths resulting from automobile accidents, not including those caused by trains hitting machines at grade crossings, have steadily increased from 896 in 1907 to 15,700 in 1923. In addition to these deaths it is estimated that about 400,000 persons were seriously injured in automobile accidents in 1923.

Sharp Clashes Over Platform

CLEVELAND, June 11.—Republican platform, on which President Coolidge will go to the polls in November, was completed early today by a planning committee of administration leaders.

Laboring all night long, 15 men drafted the platform, closely following the recommendations of President Coolidge. The document, to be confirmed first by the full committee on resolutions, probably will be presented to the convention for ratification about 10 o'clock this afternoon.

The dominant issues were federal economy—reference to the saving of billions of dollars by the Republican administration — and endorsement of the Harding-Hughes-Coolidge world court proposal.

The men who drew up the platform were Charles B. Warren of Michigan; Lewis H. Smith of Colorado; Senator Frank R. Gooding of Idaho; Representative Martin D. Madden of Illinois; Senator James E. Watson of Indiana; Bert C. Kulp of Kansas; Speaker Frederick Gillett of Mass.; Governor Arthur M. Hyde of Missouri; Ogden L. Mills of New York; E. J. Adams of Oregon; William S. Vare of Penna.; Senator Peter Norbeck of South Dakota; R. B. Creager of Texas; Senator Reed Smoot of Utah and Henry W. Anderson of Virginia.

Each plank was written into the platform by a majority vote. Throughout the night the discussion was frequently broken by angry debate. Three of the decisions created a storm of dissension in the committee meeting, angry voices floated out in the corridors where a score of newspaper men waited in ceaseless vigil. These were upon agriculture, the adoption of an anti-Ku Klux Klan plank and a decision not to recommend the Mellon plan of tax reductions to the nation.

Opening their session at 3 o'clock last night, the committee first disposed of the economy features of the platform. This plank pointed out that the Harding-Coolidge administration saved $2,000,000,000 in two years, reduced taxes $1,250,000,000 and the national debt $2,500,000,000. It was adopted joyfully.

An hour later the president's wishes on a world court plank were adopted without discussion. The plank gave hearty endorsement to the Coolidge plan for joining the court, while disavowing any intention of mingling in affairs of the League of Nations.

The first break in harmony came when a proposal was made to endorse the Mellon plan. Instead, the committee wrote a plank proposing a commission to study the question of further tax revising.

As the hours slowly drifted past, an immigration plank without reference to the Japanese exclusion act, party harmony plank urging election of a regular Republican house and senate and a plank condemning misfeasance and malfeasance in office, but ignoring specific mention of the senate scandals, were adopted.

Prohibition issues were disposed of with a demand for law enforcement.

The second real fight came on the anti-Ku Klux Klan plank. At one time the platform builders apparently faced a deadlock. There was much shouting and thumping of tables. The plank finally adopted reaffirmed the racial equility under the constitution and closed with a 'guarantee for religious freedom". It was proposed by Representative Ogden J. Mills who warned the committee the Republican party would lose New York State unless it were adopted.

The opposition was led by Senator Peter Norbeck of South Dakota.

"This plank will irritate the Klan," said Norbeck. "I propose we either fight them or let them alone." His suggestions were voted down, this being the only plank upon which a roll call was taken.

The agriculture plank, left to the last, also caused an angry row. Senator Gooding of Idaho and Norbeck condemned the Republican party for indifference to the farmer and warned it would lose the west unless federal aid were promised the farmers.

G. O. P. CONVENTION SPLIT OVER VICE-PRESIDENCY

of the convention—a chorus of "noes" being cast against the committee's decision to seat as delegates two native Porto Ricans, and Robert H. Todd, and deny a seat to E. Mont Reilly, a former governor of Porto Rico. The noes came from Reilly's friends but they were so greatly in the minority that the issue was plain.

For the first time in the history of a Republican national convention, a woman presented the report of a major committee. She was Mrs. Elizabeth P. Martin of Philadelphia, a business-looking matron of long political experience. She proposed that Mondell be elected permanent chairman and this was O. K.d with a whoop.

The delegates again showed their lack of regard for Wisconsin delegates by rising and applauding vigorously Mondell's crack at the "insurgents" in the last congress that prevented President Coolidge from carrying out his program.

As on yesterday, the 28 delegates from the Badger state remained in their seats and only smiled as the delegates shouted "stand up Wisconsin" and yelled at Mondell "give it to them."

The convention rose and applauded Mondell when he finished, but the Wisconsin delegates again kept their seats, which resulted in more ribald remarks. The Wisconsin people came here to sit, not to stand and applaud.

Paul Howland of Ohio then presented the report of the committee on rules, which, as expected, contained an unanimous recommendation that women be admitted to full membership on the national committee and be accorded full equality in the affairs and councils of the party. This represented a clean cut victory for Republican women, who have consistently striven for such a "50-50" recognition.

Loud applause greeted the presentation of the report, indicating its approval by the convention.

It took Howland until nearly 12:30 to finish the lengthy report of the rules committee, which contained not only the provision giving women 50-50 representation in the party, but also proposed certain changes in the apportionment of delegates to the convention.

The delegates cheered when Howland read a recommendation that the national committee be empowered to declare vacant the seat of a national committeeman who failed to support the nominee of the party, thinking evidently that this was another thrust at the Wisconsin insurgents, but Howland stopped them by saying "that's been in every year."

When he finished, the report was adopted unanimously.

This task out of the way, Mondell called for a report from the committee on resolutions, (the platform committee) but Charles D. Hilles of New York arose and said that as it was evident the committee was not ready to report, he proposed a recess until 8 o'clock tonight. Senator Willis of Ohio seconded it.

A dozen delegates jumped to their feet and tried to get Mondell's attention, but he waved them all down and called for the ayes and noes.

There was a boom of ayes and another boom of seemingly equal proportions of noes.

"The ayes have it," shouted Mondell among the uproar, and so the convention recessed until tonight.

CLEVELAND, June 11.—A dramatic eleventh-hour effort to swing the Republican national convention entirely away from any vice-presidential candidate picked up by the conservative eastern crowd of administration supporters, was launched here in Cleveland this morning just before the convention met for its second day session to adopt the platform.

It was engineered by an influential group of delegates from Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas and the Dakotas, who served notice on the easterners they do not want Herbert Hoover or James G. Harbord, but rather they demand some one of the stripe of Judge Wm. S. Kenyon or Senator Wm. Borah, who is closer to the needs of the agricultural west.

The northwestern delegates met in the Hotel Winton this morning in a general session. They denied they were insurgents and pointed out that none of the Wisconsin followers of Robert M. LaFollette were invited to attend.

They are merely going to fight for a western man for the good of the party, they said.

State Senator Charles T. Cessna, one of the delegates at large from Iowa, was the moving spirit in the gathering.

Resentment over the all-night meeting in Cleveland, participated in by Secretary of War Weeks, Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon and other influential eastern men, was in the background of the westerners' move.

There were no "farmers" in the Weeks-Mellon gathering, nor anyone to speak for them.

All the delegates who attended the Winton session took great pains to emphasize this was "no bolt" but merely a group gathering to try to get a western agricultural balance to a ticket they consider dominantly eastern in person and spirit.

The westerners' meeting lasted an hour and was attended by approximately 40 delegates.

Hanford MacNider, a delegate-at-large from Iowa, and formerly national commander of the American Legion, was named temporary chairman.

After discussing their plans behind closed doors, the session broke up, because the hour was approaching for the convention to assemble at the auditorium, and it was announced another session would be held at 3 o'clock.

Meanwhile those who attended this morning scattered to do missionary work among the delegations in every state embraced in the peection that this afternoon's session there will be a greater representation and definite action can be taken on candidates.

MONDELL URGES G. O. P. TO RETIRE INSURGENTS

"The public welfare now, more than ever, needs wisdom, patriotism, courage and unselfish devotion to duty. Co-operation between the executive and legislative branches of the government is essential to the happiness and prosperity of the people. The creation of confidence, the removal of any feeling of unrest, the continued progress toward the restoration of normal conditions, and the firm establishment of the party in its position of traditional glory can best be attained by the election of Calvin Coolidge to the presidency.

"The nation's honor, its prosperity, its progress and the happiness and contentment of its people will be our aim. No man in America has the people's confidence to the same extent as our beloved president. Besides possessing the public confidence, he has every attribute requisite to lead us to the accomplishment of these ideals.

"The burden of war taxation was greatly reduced. The public debt was steadily diminished. The armies of the unemployed, more numerous than the hosts that the nation marshaled into the world war, were soon absorbed in the ranks of industry, as wise legislation and sound administration relieved the nation and its people from the handicap of Democratic policies.

"Never before in our history has the need and necessity of dependable party responsibility been so clearly demonstrated as in the very recent past. Legislative control by shifting and changing combinations, resulting in majorities having no common faith and recognizing no united responsibility cannot, in the nature of things, produce legislative results beneficial or satisfactory to the people of the country. The inevitable effect of such legislative control is confusion and paralysis and a legislative product satisfactory to no one.

"Every serious fault of recent legislation and every failure to complete and round out a satisfactory legislative program could and would have been avoided had there been dependable Republican majorities in the congress. The one certain and assured remedy for such a condition is the election of a congress, Republican, by a goodly majority, both in name and principle.

"This is the open season for weird claims and wild assertions on the part of our friends, the political enemy. They recently emerged from beneath the political landslide of four years ago, they attempt to appear as confident as they were just before being engulfed in that overwhelming catastrophe.

"In the moments they can spare from their fierce family feuds and rivalries they make a pretense of assuming to believe that they successfully laid down a smoke screen thru which their transparent partisan purposes shall not be discovered, and, in the contemplation of which all of their sins of omission and commission, of discredited policies and discreditable administration shall be overlooked and forgotten.

"If the American people were prepared to forget—as the Democrats themselves endeavor to do—the whole indefensible record of the Democratic party in earlier days, they certainly could not overlook the fact that the most recent record of that party is one devoid of a single redeeming feature; of scandalous mismanagement, of unwise and indefensible policy when in control and utter lack of fixed and effective principle or policy, save that of muckraking and obstruction, when in minority.

"As we proceed to the nomination of our candidates and the drafting of our platform we may find inspiration in the fact that ours is the only national party in America that can and does point with pride to each and every candidate nominated at its conventions and to every declaration made in any of its platforms. All human experience justifies faith and confidence in an organization with such a history. The record of wise leadership, sound policy, and faithful public service in the past affords the best possible guaranty of the future.

"A tree is known by its fruits; not by the showy flowers of promise or the occasional defect in butt or branch, but by the normal harvest of the Republican party and leadership is faithfully reflected in the matchless growth and fadeless glory of the republic."

What is declared to be a plot to enlist school boys and girls in the "Red" cause, is being aired in England. Evidence of a communist movement to "catch the young" is seen in frequent gatherings of children at which radical speakers preach Marxism. JAPANESE OUTBREAKS MENACE AMERICANS

The mad passions of the hour among certain elements in Japan will pass. The anti-American demonstrations in Tokio and elsewhere, on account of exclusion legislation at Washington, are not to be assumed as indicative of the attitude of the government or the responsible elements of Japan. Admitting that there is deep and sincere hurt among all classes in Japan, yet it is hardly conceivable that the more enlightened and responsible of the Japanese, in public and private life, would overstep the bounds of reason and encourage assaults upon Americans and promote a course the inevitable end of which would bring disaster to Japan.

The government at Washington soon is to reply to Japan's note of protest against exclusion. The reply, news reports indicate, will be firm but friendly. The United States, having the position that it does, does not desire, and must not have unassimilable elements in its population, will not recede from this stand. It cannot be persuaded out of this self-protectional move, nor can it be forced out of it by covert threats or showing of violence. At the same time, government and people, in this country, should be extremely tactful not unnecessarily to wound the sensibilities of the government and the people of Japan. This Nation is not hostile to Japan or to the Japanese. The exclusion legislation was not intended to be a hostile move against Japan. Other countries have adopted the same policy, and are on friendly terms with Japan.

COMMERCE IS HUGE FROM AND TO CALIFORNIA

California is the sixth state in the Union in volume of commercial exports. Its record for the first three months of 1924, if maintained throughout the year, would give a grand total of more than $200,000,000 in exports from this state, within the twelve months! This is a tremendous figure. Only five other states exceed California in volume of exports—New York, Texas, Pennsylvania, Illinois and New Jersey.

This commerce is growing healthily. California, ten years hence, should be the second state in the Union in volume of commerce. It should push New York closely for first place. This is not exaggerated. It is based on reasonable expectation. Pacific commerce is increasing more than Atlantic, proportionately. California is right in the center of this enormous development.

When the kidneys are in need of a good flushing take FOLEY PILLS, a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys. They promptly and effectively flush the kidneys, increase their activity and bring pleasant relief. Landon Taylor, Dorchester, Iowa, writes: "I can truthfully say that FOLEY PILLS are the best I ever used. I had lots of trouble with my kidneys and liver; I couldn't lift anything my back was so weak. Every morning I was dizzy, could hardly walk, but now I feel fine." Heying's Pharmacy.

"A LITTLE WORK"

A little work, a little play
To keep us going—and so, good-day!

A little warmth, a little light
Of love's bestowing—and so good-night!

A little fun, to match the sorrow
Of each day's growing—and so, good-morrow!

A little trust that whenever die
We reap our sowing! And so, good-bye!

—George du Maurier.

REPLY TO THE ABOVE

For shame, dear friend! renounce this canting strain!
What wouldst thou have a good great man obtain?
Wealth, title, dignity, gilded chain,
Or throne of corses which his sword hath slain?
Goodness and greatness are not means, but ends.
Hath he not always treasuries, always friends,
The good great man? Three treasures—love and light
And calm thoughts, equable as infant's breath;
And three firm friends, more sure than day and night,
Himself, his Maker and the Angel Death.

—Coleridge.

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAY'S NEWS

VISCOUNT TAKAAKI KATO

The overthrow of the Kiyoura government in Japan makes Viscount Takaaki, as leader of the Kensekkai party, the most dominating figure in the island empire today.

Kato, who in the past was oftimes confused with Admiral Baron Tomosaburo Kato, also a former premier and now dead, has served his country as prime minister four times, in 1900-01, 1906, 1913 and 1914-15.

From 1894 to 1899 he served as ambassador to Great Britain.

The Kensekkai party, in power, will boast the largest group in the new house of representatives. The Kiyoura party stepped into power following the attempted assassination of Prince Regent Hirohito last January. It was an unpopular regime from the start and early drew the title of "Imperial Wedding Cabinet," the impression being that it was stated to exist only through the celebration of the wedding of the prince regent.

DINNER STORIES

"Look here, Patsy Shea," said the priest, "if you're a sensible man you'll never let a drop of whiskey pass your lips again. Sure 'tis your worst enemy."

"Array, now, your riverince, and haven't you told us from the pulpit that we wor to love our enemies?"

"True for you, Patsy," was the reply, "but I never told you that you were to swallow them."

In a former generation, when elaborate doctrines were deemed more important by Christian clergymen than they are today, they were prone to apply every utterance of the Bible to the demonstration of their own particular tenets. For example, one distinguished minister announced his text and introduced his sermon as follows:

"'So, Mephibosheth dwelt in Jerusalem, for he did eat at the King's table, and he was lame on both his feet.'

"My brethren, we are here taught the doctrine of human depravity.—Mephibosheth was lame. Also the doctrine of total depravity—he was lame on both his feet. Also the doctrine of justification—for he dwelt in Jerusalem. Fourth, the doctrine of adoption—'he did eat at the King's table.' Fifth, the doctrine of the perseverance of the saints—for we read that 'he did eat at the King's table continually.'"

AUTO LICENSES SHOW WEALTH—San Francisco Journal

The statistical matter compiled by the Class Journal Company and Automotive industries presents instructive information upon the distribution of automobiles through the several states of the Union. The compilation gives the number of automobiles in each state, this figure being based upon the official record of the number of licenses granted, and also the ratio of the number to the population of the state. It reveals the interesting fact that in the eleven states west of Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Texas and the Dakotas the ratio of autos to inhabitants is one to four, but in the remaining thirty-three states and the District of Columbia this ratio is one to eight. This difference does not indicate that Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming own more automobiles than the thirty-three other states. It means that there are fewer dwellers in the west than in the South, the interior and the East. This becomes evident when one notes that California, though having 3,246,861 inhabitants in 1920, had 1,100,283 autos on January 1, 1924, a ratio of one to three; whereas New York, though having a population of 10,385,277 according to the census of 1920, on January 1, 1924, had only 214,359 more autos than California, a ratio of one to nine.

The number of autos and the ratios vary noticeably as between the several states. As might be expected, the numbers are fewer in the Southern States, and the ratios between them and the populations spread most widely apart in the south. Inferior roads, less wealth than in other sections and "poor whites" account for the facts. Texas leads with more autos than any other Southern state possesses,having 688,899, but Mississippi has the smallest number, 104,400, while it and Georgia have the smallest ratio, one to seventeen. New York has the most autos, 1,214,642, but Ohio and Pennsylvania and Illinois press it close with 1,068,700 and 1,064,624 and 969,331 autos respectively. Nevada owns the fewest automobiles, 15,700, but Delaware and Wyoming are almost beside the Silver State, for Delaware has 29,097 autos, and Wyoming 29,884. The highest ratio of autos to population is recorded by California, where it stands at one to three, but Iowa comes next with one to four, and nine states have ratios of one to five.

Though no other state has so few autos as Nevada, the District of Columbia anomalously has 102,171 autos, whose ratio to population registers at one to four. Here the large figures are owing to there being relatively few dwellers in the district and to the wealthy members of Washington society having an abundance of autos.

GLEANINGS FROM THE BOOK OF LIFE

"We are holden to men by every sort of tie, by blood, by lust, by pride by fear, by hope, by lucre, by hate, by admiration, by every circumstance and badge and trifle, but we can scarce believe that so much character can subsist in another as to draw us by love. Can another be so blessed, and we so pure, that we can offer him tenderness? When a man becomes dear to me, I have touched the goal of fortune.

"I wish that friendship should have feet, as well as eyes and eloquence. It must plant itself on the ground, before it walks over the moon. I wish it to be a little of a citizen before it is quite a cherub. We chide the citizen because he makes love a commodity. It is an exchange of gifts, useful loans; it is good neighborhood; it watches with the sick; it holds the pall at the funeral; and quite loses sight of the delicacies and nobility of the relation.

FINE VODE BILL AT CALIFORNIA

Vaudeville Day at the California theatre means but one thing, a good time and that is exactly what is in store for the fun-loving show goers of Anaheim tomorrow.

Jene Fowler, "Gentleman Gymnast," opens the show with a nifty athletic presentation such as you see on big time stages in Los Angeles and other big towns. His work is far above the average and should prove very interesting to all who love athletic sports.

Sweet and Hill in "Tomfoolery" offer a 13-minute revue of nonsense and all that it means. Their act is built upon clever sayings and songs. A pleasing duo who should be very popular.

Lennie and Dale in "The Grocery Boy" offer a comedy skit that will no doubt have the house a laughing from start to finish.

Hayden, Goodwin and Rowe, "Three Jazzomaniacs," present a nonsensical jazz revue filled with pep, melody and fun. A great trio with a mean line of goods.

Patrick and Retta—Miss Willis Patrick, who has from time to time been featured with some of the leading tented enterprises, is now in vaudeville with Mr. Retta, who has attained distinction as a tumbler. One of Miss Patrick's feature tricks is a jazz dance performed on the wire. She feels perfectly at home on a tiny wire and performs all her feats with as much grace and ease as most people do on the ground. Together with Mr. Retta, this duo presents one of the best acts of its kind seen in vaudeville and are worthy of mention.

On the screen, "The Guilty One," starring Agnes Ayres, holds the attention. It is a drama of every-day life and is unique, inasmuch as it is so true to life. A great feature with a real cast.

Last times tonight of "The Code of the Sea" and the new sensation, "Plastigrams," the novelty with a kick to it.

WILLS AND FIRPO BOUT UP IN AIR

NEW YORK, June 11.—Conflicting reports on Tex Rickard's intentions toward a Wills-Firpo bout in August were in circulation along Broadway today, several men close to the promoter giving widely divergent views as to his attitude toward Harry Wills' indifferent exhibition against Bartley Madden on Monday night.

One man maintained that Rickard intended to wait 24 hours longer to get the final and complete reaction of the newspapers and the public on Wills' status; if the reaction is adverse Rickard will drop the Wills-Firpo romp like a soiled handkerchief.

Other stories were to the effect that the promoter planned to go thru with the business, but would insist on a generous cut of the guarantees named. His is said to have quoted Firpo at $240,000 and Wills at $150,000 when the frolic looked like a million dollar proposition.

Rickard himself has said nothing beyond the remark that Wills had injured his drawing power in the Madden affair. This would seem to indicate that he planned to perform a major operation on the colored man's guarantee, if he can get away with it.

Thewrite r sees no good reason why he cannot. If Wills, for instance, was cut to $100,000 for the occasion in question, it would be more money than he ever saw at one time, and box fighters are not exactly inimical to money.

SARGUM SPROUTINGS

Accidents happen in the best of regulated families. Paddy Mullins, manager of Harry Wills, had carefully built up a reputation for his charge. He had the lanky New Orleans negro at the top of the would-bee five years ago. Paddy then began to clamor for a championship battle, which would repay him for his work.

About this time Jack Dempsey knocked the crown gally west off the brow of big Jess Willard. Jack was handled by a smart manager that did not want to take any chances with his newly-made fortune getter. So Paddy has clamored all these years in vain. Paddy made the mistake of letting this man grow stale from inaction.

When Paddy had almost given up hope of a championship match that very thing was offered him on conditions. His man must go out and knock over a few setups so that the match could be properly steamed up for a big drawing card. Paddy, in his eagerness to comply with the conditions, signed his man up to meet Bartley Madden. Madden had been almost forgotten in the fistic world, but on digging up his record it was found that he was a clever boxer and tough as they make them, in fact, has never been knocked out.

Paddy at once saw that he hight have made a mistake in signing with this fighting son of Ireland. The men met into training and the day arrived for the battle. The day was overcast and rainy, here was a chance to postpone the fight on account of bad weather. The public immediately demanded a new date. Paddy had the date postponed from time to time until the public claimed he was afraid to have his man fight and the fight had to go on or Wills would have lost all of his favor with the fans.

Monday evening they met. Wills won all the way, but he could not down the gritty Irishman. Now Wills is being panned for not stopping Madden. Paddy made the big mistake of being over-anxious in getting his man before the public after such a long rest. He perhaps has lost his chance at big money.

The fight proved that Wills is not the great hitter of old. One of the greatest critics of the day claims that the dreaded Panther has lost his slashing punch that made him his reputation. His reputation. His chances, if he ever gets any, with Firpo are very slim. Madden had little trouble in hitting him and when the South American lolls him a time or two he will be still easier to hit. Mr. Wills' chance of meeting Jack Dempsey appears very remote at present.

Johnny Dundee's fight with Sammy Mandell proved that Johnny's crown is not setting any too safely on the champ's head. If Sammy had been just two pounds lighter Dundee's junior lightweight title would have been lifted Monday evening. Sammy outpointed the champ in every round.

Frush, Criqui's conqueror, may soon claim Dundee's honors. The question is will Dundee give Frush a chance.

Duffy Lewis, Morman manager, is still showing his heels to all coast batters, but Manager Ellison of the Seals is not far behind. Lindamore, the Angel castoff and now member of the Mormans, is running third and a very close third at that. If either of the illustrious managers falter Lindy is right there to finish the race for them.

Pete Schneider is the leading swatter of the Tigers with an average of .349. The Angels have not a man in the select circle of the first ten. The Angels save their hits and store them up for one game, said game happens about one a month. Their last batting spree was about 12 days ago.

Bert Colima makes his debut at Compton Friday evening. The American Legion puts up good shows at their Compton plant. To get on in Compton a fighter must do his stuff. They stage more knockouts than any other club in the southland, and it's not because the boys are mismatched. They fight for fair and the one that gets over the punch is the lucky guy. Bert meets Dick Evans of Denver. Evans has a good record in the Colorado town and may give the Whittier Mex much to think about.

TURN THEM AWAY FROM WAR FILM

"Flashes of Action," a war picture now running at Fairyland theatre under auspices of Anaheim Post American Legion, is most commendable.

M. W. Martinet Jr., Commander of the local post reports that fully 200 people were turned away from the first show last night for lack of room. Mr. Martinet and the post are especially gratified at the reception the picture has received. The last showing is tonight.

The fife and drum corps gave a stirring tune or two prior to the prologue by the boys in khaki and soldier equipment, camp scenes and battle action portrayed by local veterans. A clear conception of the activities of war were obtained from the pictures of battleships, the guns in operation, smoke screens, the deep sea bombs and peril from submarine whose periscope was visible not far from a troop-ladened ship.

Ships loaded with khaki clothed troops, embarking from American ports or landing on French shore; cattle cars in France loaded with American troops; and like scenes brought a vivid realization of the tremendous sacrifices and deeds of valor by the heroic youth of America in the World War, which brot about the defeat of the world's most cruel war lord, and cannot be forgotten.

The purpose of the picture is to place before the American people the necessity of preventing such slaughter, as occurred on the other continent, from coming to our own, and the effect of these pictures is to inspire all who see it with patriotism.

TAGGING AL THE BASES

The Yankees finally won one at St. Louis. Hoyt shutting out the Browns 5 to 0.

Falk's home run broke up a pitchers' battle in the 13th and the White Sox downed Boston 3 to 2.

Larry Gardner made good as a pinch hitter and Cleveland won in the ninth from Washington 4 to 3.

The Athletics scored three runs in the ninth and nosed out the Tigers, 4 to 3.

The Pirates scored four runs in the eighth and five more in the ninth and beat the Giants 10 to 5.

Reuther came back to form, fanned eight Cubs and Brooklyn won 4 to 2.

JULY CLEARANCE SALES MOVED UP

The policy of dividing up the usual July clearance sales into several different sales held earlier in the summer is proving to be a profitable one for the S. Q. R. store and other local clothing stores, says O. H. Renner, manager of the big establishment at Los Angeles and Center-sts.

Many stores have been doing the same thing.

The result of this, combined with the receiving by growers of orange pool returns, has been that since May 1 business for the first time this year has shown a distinct improvement. January and February maintained a trade level that was practically unchanged. Then in March business got scatter, and the downward tendency was continued thruout April.

Renner is offering tomorrow shoes for both sexes and all ages at particularly low figures. He has already held clearance sales of goods in the men's and boys' furnishings department, ready-to-wear goods and silks.

A peculiar condition exists at present advantage of which the public would be foolish not to seize, says Renner. It is true that cotton is higher than it was a few months ago and wool is firmer, while silk prices are well under control, but the manufacturers' supplies and the public demand have not yet reached a parity. The factories are operating, but mainly in order to keep their forces together.

Many goods are cheaper than in months past. Woolen and cotton goods are lower, for the reason given, and silk is unusually reasonable because of the competition from glos, formerly known as artificial silk.

It appears improbably that the present lower prices can continue indefinitely, while July clearance sales, as indicated above, will not be much rarer than in former years.

SEBASTIANS MAKE LARGE PURCHASE

Sebastian Bros. yesterday received the first consignment of the largest purchase of goods the store has ever made, J. P. Sebastian announced. They were obtained of Milton G. Cooper, formerly Cooper, Coate & Casey, one of the largest wholesale houses west of Chicago, who advertised on the eve of removal to his own 12-story building in Los Angeles, that he would move nothing but the books.

Among the articles bought were 50 dozen dresses, consisting of voiles, ginghams, etc.

The local concern purchased goods in every department below the market prices. Ginghams are now lower than at any time in two years past.

The prices of notions offered by the big metropolitan house also were favorably commented upon.

These goods will be on sale during the rest of the month.

Sebastian predicts a firm market, however, and found that Los Angeles wholesale houses generally are not bidding against each other for the business nor cutting prices.

The new Sebastian store is scheduled to be opened on or about Sept. 1, a month later than first announced, but it is somewhat doubtful if the contractors can complete it in time for that date.

WALNUT GROWERS ELECT DIRECTORS

The annual members' meeting of the California Walnut Growers' Ass'n will be held Thursday at 10 a. m. at the headquarters in Los Angeles. Directors will be elected.

Secretary-Manager Walter Ross of the local association voiced the hope today that as many as possible would attend.

Committee and directors' meetings will precede that of members.

Japanese Threaten U. S. Consul General

TOKIO, June 11.—The life of U. S. Consul General Kemper at Yokohama was threatened by a Japanese workman Sunday, police admitted today.

The workman visited the consulate with a drawn dagger and told the Japanese clerk in charge he would kill Kemper unless the consul promised help against enforcement of the Japanese exclusion measure.

The man was arrested.

FRANK TINNEY IS HELD TO GD. JURY

NEW YORK, June 11.—Frank Tinney, noted comedian, was held for the grand jury under $2500 bail here today on a charge made by Imogene Wilson, beautiful Follies girl that he beat her unmercifully recently at her apartment.

NEW STYLES IN SUMMER STRAWS

New styles of straw hats are being featured this summer, says L. A. Lewis, manager of the local J. C. Penney Co. store.

There is the Yeddo straw, for instance, made in Switzerland, which is about half the weight of the ordinary straw hat and extremely nifty. It is one of the higher priced brands.

Then there is the braided straw of new type never before shown, made of selected wheat straw with brown and white alternating.

What Lewis claims are the largest and smallest hats ever made are being displayed. They show what the Kiwanians will feel like before and after going to Denver, says Lewis. The big one is about a yard in diameter at its longest and big enough to enclose four or five ordinary heads. The small one just about fits a good sized thumb.

MERCHANDISE IS LOWEST IN YEARS

Many goods sold at prices for which they could not at present be manufactured—that is the situation that merchants are facing at present, said the manager of a prominent drygoods store. Prices are actually lower than in years past—lower than during the war or the first post-war years.

The reason is, stocks have been moving slowly, trade has slackened up all along the line, and the money tied up in goods must be set to work again. Merchants can afford a loss, if their turnover is large, because they will recuperate themselves on the next purchases.

Some good brands of silk stockings are among the articles that are actually selling below present cost of manufacture, according to this manager.

This store will feature tomorrow staple and seasonable merchandise—goods that the housewife, for example, can use either for summer or practically any time of year.

Cotton, woolen and silk goods all are low, altho the raw material of none is particularly cheap.

Articles other than staple commodities or goods are being sold as usual at cost of manufacture plus a reasonable profit.

The average consumer, particularly the woman buying for her home, has rarely been in so fortunate a position before, because she is reaping the benefit of a certain degree of trade stagnation in certain sections of the country that affect the market as a whole.

The manager interviewed confirmed the statement of another store manager that the July clearance sale is being largely replaced this year by a number of smaller, departmental sales of special lines of goods.

NEW DEEP TEST IN DOMINGUEZ FIELD

The Union Oil Co. of Calif. has set a new deep test drilling record for the Dominguez field. The Union's Gardena No. 1 shows 6560 feet of hole and drilling is going right ahead. When the Union Oil Co. completes this well the landowners should be pretty well satisfied. In addition to being the deepest hole yet drilled in the Dominguez field the Union Oil Co. holds second place on the well for rotary drilling in the shape of a world's record. As yet the Gardena well has not shown any oil indications and the outlook is very doubtful. The Gardena Union well does not make the outlook very bright for the southwest side of the field.

The General Petroleum Corporation is satisfied that the southwest side of the Dominguez field is pretty much of a gamble and has shut down the Austin well at 5400 feet to await field developments. The General Petroleum Corporation's White No. 1 and Gardena No. 2 are assuming deep test aspects at 5800 and 5400, respectively, and add to the Union's findings as to the doubtful character of the southwest section of the Compton field.

The L. B. Chase Oil Co., it appears, is thru with the Dominguez field as formal announcement of the abandonment of the well has been filed with the State Mining Bureau. The L. V. Chase Oil Co. made an honest effort to get production and quit only after going to 5104 feet and not finding any showings or encouragement of any kind.

STRONG ODOR AT CHEMICAL PLANT

Owing to the very strong fumes coming from the waste product of the Crystal Chemical Co.'s plant last night, the president and secretary of the chamber of commerce visited the manager, Dr. Gustav Reich, this morning.

We are aware of the fact that this odor has been bothering the citizens of Anaheim for sometime. Since the purchase of the 40 acres by the Community Industrial Land Co. it has been necessary to pour the surplus waste matter, which was being pumped into large holes on this property, into other holes made for the purpose. A large amount of this waste product was allowed to be put on the right of way of the Union Pacific in order that the leveling of the 40 acres might be continued. Nothing is being pumped into this hole on the Union Pacific property at the present, and it is gradually being evaporated and has evaporated three and one half feet in the past few weeks. This is the body of water that is causing the trouble.

Mr. Wm. W. Chandler, county sanitary inspector of Santa Ana, visits the Chemical Plant every two or three days and has asked Dr. Reich to do everything in his power to eliminate this odor. It is being treated with chloride of lime in order that it may be thoroughly disinfected. By being disinfected, all of the germs detrimental to health and life are destroyed so that no danger in the way of sickness can come from this odor.

It was clearly demonstrated this morning that if this pool was stirred up, it would be almost impossible for anyone to live in that section of the city, so in the presence of the chamber of commerce officials, the Chemical Co. were ordered to place in that hole again today a quantity of this lime. The effect of this chloride of lime lasts about four days, then it is renewed, but at the rate of evaporation, it seems certain that this will be eliminated within the next month.

We wish to say that other manufacturing industries located in this section are not responsible for this odor. The Chemical Co. states that it is the product from their manufacturing plant that has caused this trouble, and as soon as we are connected with the sewer, it will put an end to it.

We earnestly request our citizens to bear with us in our attempt to eradicate this odor. We assure you that everything possible has been and is being done to eliminate this nuisance just as quickly as possible. We wish to call your attention to the fact that an election will be held very soon for the purpose of bringing this entire district into the city so that connection may be made with the outfall sewer. If this election carries, our troubles will be over as soon as the connection can be made with the sewer.

Harry D. Riley, President
Geo. W. Reid, Secretary
ANAHEIM CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

BROOKINS CASE TO JURY TOMORROW

The last of the testimony in the case of the people against G. E. Brookins and Mrs. Addie Wiley, good looking Alabama girl, accused of a statutory offense in connection with their arrest at Newport Beach in an asserted "love nest" was being taken today in the superior court of Judge F. C. Drumm.

Mrs. Brookins took the stand and told how Mrs. Wiley had entered the peaceful home and disrupted it by her attention to Brookins, according to her version, and finally won the husband away.

Brookins and Mrs. Wiley are being tried the second time on the same charge, the first jury having failed to reach a verdict.

MANY NEW HOLES IN ATHENS FIELD

Athens on the Hill or Rosecrans as the field is officially known showed a lot of new developments this past week. A number of new wells got underway drilling, and included the Associated Oil Co.'s two wells, the Barnsdall Oil Co.'s Rosecrans offset, the Sandberg Petroleum Co., the Standard Oil Co.'s Cowan well and the five new wells started by the Union Oil Co. The Rosecrans field now shows 14 wells drilling(3 new rigs, 2 new wells starting drilling, one producing well, and one new company in the field.

Long Beach came up to last week's production output and yielded 169,000 barrel daily. This old field is holding up remarkably well and has truly earned the honor of "Wonder Field" of So. Calif. Among the most important new producers of the week were the 1000 barrel well completed by the Calif. Co-op. Oil Syndicate, the Oceanic Oil Co.'s 400 barrel well, the Petroleum Midway's Harow-Kent 5, a 450 barrel well, the Shell Co.'s Alamitos 13, a 700 barrels producer, and the TeHemescal Oil Co.'s redrill, No. 1 at 300 barrels.

The United Oil Co. for a number of months has been making a valiant effort to extend the productive limits of the northwest section of the Long Beach field. Th› United's test well Bixby No. 1 went to approximately 5300, not finding anything promising plugged back to 4445 where the well was doing 150-200 barrels for several days until water broke in and caused the oil production to cease Work on the United's Bixby well is being carried on in a further effort to shut off the water and get the well back on commercial production.

MUST NOT DRINK IN SEAL BEACH

Adolph Wagner of Fullerton forfeited $25 bail, C. R. Baker, of Anaheim pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and Henry Day of Buena Park was fined $25 in the police court at Seal Beach by Judge Morrison. The men were all arrested in a series of dry-law raids made by Seal Beach City Marshal J. C. Arnold and a staff of 18 special policemen over the week end, records showed. "Seal Beach has ceased to be a rendezvous for men and women who come to the beaches with liquor and engage in ribalddry," declared City Marshal Arnold today.

"We will not countenance it any longer and those who expect to carry on their liquor drinking proclivities must seek some other place. Every man and woman found under the influence of liquor hereafter will be summarily dealt with. We expect to show no favoritism or leniency. Liquor drinking in Seal Beach has got to be stamped out, and I am going to see that the job is effectively accomplished."

Walter Scott loved to compose while walking, striking the ground with his stick.

"Ideal Community Leaders"

Dr. James Allen Geissinger

It is the simple, plain, unvarnished truth that Anaheim is one of the best looking cities in all California. Its streets are clean and well lighted by night. Its business blocks have a metropolitan appearance. Its homes are attractive and modern and show good architectural taste. It has imposing school and church buildings.

Every visitor remarks of this up-to-the-minute physical appearance of our city.

At the same time there is an air of enterprise and pep about the whole community that is equally apparent.

A community does not come to such characteristics by any manner of accident. There is first of all a spirit of idealism in the hearts of its citizens. And then there must be some kind of a get-togetherness on the part of those citizens to work out along the line of its idealism.

We mistake if we take either one of these elements in our community life for granted. The American thriftiness of our citizenship comes out of the hearts of our people and it is guided by men and women of vision and of community spirit.

If we have not done so until now it will be worth our while just to set it down for consideration: Anaheim is largely the fine, enterprising community it is and is recognized to be because of the public service done for the community as a whole every week by a group of public-spirited men and women whose only remuneration is the sense of work well done.

The Chamber of Commerce affords a clearing house for these men and women and helps materially to stimulate their inherent idealism.

The least the rest of us can do, we of the rank and file, who benefit by these various services rendered gratituously, is to cheer on these leaders, back them up and support them by giving them the largest possible Chamber of Commerce constituency.

Thus we help ourselves, make our own property more valuable and our city more nearly the kind of a city where our best American families are willing to live.

BOY SLAYERS TO TRIAL AUGUST 4

CHICAGO, June 11.—Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, confessed slayers of 13-year-old Robert Franks, will go to trial on charges of murder and kidnaping for ransom, August 4.

Arraigned this morning before Chief Justice Caverly of the criminal court, the youths pleaded not guilty and heard the date of their trial set.

The largest crowd ever jammed into the criminal court witnessed the arraignment.

The long legal struggle for the lives of two boys with millions behind them, for murder, got under way today.

It is Richard Loeb's 18th birthday and the day for which Nathan Leopold, Jr., had engaged passage to Europe on the Mauritania, but the wheels of the grim court procedure thru which the state hopes to bring these youths to the gallows took the place of happy anniversary celebrations and gay "bon voyages."

Fifteen extra deputies from the sheriff's office were on duty at the criminal court building today and battled continually to keep in order the mob of persons that strove to gain admission to Chief Justice Caverly's court.

The halls were jammed when Leopold and Loeb appeared for arraignment. So great was the pressure of the mob as it milled about the corridor that the doors to the court room crashed. One was torn from its hinges. A call was hurriedly sent to the sheriff's office for seven additional deputies.

Dignified and serious, the sons of two millionaires walked calmly into a stilled court room to face a curious crowd that had only a few moments before torn the doors to the court room from their hinges.

Instead of being handcuffed to deputies, as is customary with prisoners charged with murder, the two boys were looped to their guards by means of "come-ons"—thongs about their wrists, held by their guards.

Their eyes straight to the front, they walked calmly to the judge's bench, where they listened unflinchingly to the discussion among attorneys of the charges, the possible death penalty and the other legalities. Both ignored the crowd.

Asked to plead to the charges, the two youths, in strong clear voices, easily audible thruout the court room, said they were not guilty.

Constance Lavelle, 19, a pretty young woman who said she came to Chicago recently from Texas, was in the court room and identified Leopold and Loeb as two youths who "picked up" her and a friend one evening about the time of Franks' disappearance. She said she accompanied the boys on an auto ride to the south side, where she was forced to leave the car when she resisted advances.

Only one member of the three wealthy families involved was present in the court room. He was Jacob Franks, grief-worn father of the young victim. He sat in the rear of the room, his head bowed, as the young men pleaded to the charges.

SANTA FE OUTPUT DROPS TO 53,000

Santa Fe Springs production dropped to 53,000 barrels last week, the lowest point the field has yet reached. A few new producers were completed but these were not large enough to make any material difference on the field's output. The new wells were for the most part redrills and were put on by the General Petroleum Corporation. Three wells completed by the General Petroleum Corporation ran from 40 to 80 barrels.

The last hope of a comeback for the Springs field rests with the Shell Co.'s Chanber deep test well. In the center of production of the field the Shell believes a deep sand will be developed and to this hand has No. 64 on the Slusher lease over the 5800 mark looking for the said deep sand. To date the well has not had any indications of oil and the outlook is very doubtful.

Huntington Beach prosecution continues to hold good at 48,500 barrels. This past week three new producers were completed and added to the production of the field. The Standard Oil Co. completed Huntington Et at 3260 feet and got a 65-barrel well.

The big well of the week at Huntington Beach was put on production by the Associated Oil Co. On the Miley-Keck property the Associated finished No. 48 at 3930 feet and got a 200-barrel well. The new producers is making 26-gravity oil and is one of the best producers of the month at the Beach field.

It appears that the old Brea field is about to stage a comeback of considerable importance. A number of the old operators are quite firmly convinced that the old field has an undeveloped deep sand that will create something of a surprise when it is opened up. Pioneering the deep sand development in the Placentia section of the field is the Krohn-Hazzard-Blake organization. This organization took over the holdings of the Caloka Oil Co. some little time ago and in a quiet and unassuming way started a deep test well drilling. This deep test well is now making hole at 3600 and is beginning to justify the prediction that these men are going to get what they went after. Another well that is showing deep sand possibilities and justifies the revival of activity in the old field is the Union Oil Co.'s Graham-Loftus No. 55. Drilling on 55 is at approximately 4559 feet and some very encouraging showings have been picked up. Other concerns who have seen the possibilities of the Brea-Placentia field are the Capitol Oil Co., the Keougheon organization, the Chicsan Oil Co., the Shell Co. and the Standard Oil Co. The Union Oil Co. also believes in the possibilities of the Richfield section of the field by starting a new well on the Frank Morse property.

FULLERTON JUDGE OFF ON VACATION

William French, justice of the peace of Fullerton township, and Fullerton city recorder, is planning to leave next Tuesday for Gilroy where he has a son, to spend the first part of his proposed two and one-half months vacation, which he is taking in search of health. He plans to go from there to Bishop and vicinity on a camping trip. Mrs. French plans to go with him, as does also Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Shalley, relatives of the Frenchs and possibly Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Keith, daughter and son-in-law of the judge. Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Gearhardt and two sons of Santa Ana plan to join the party at Bishop. Mrs. Gearhardt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. French.

ROTARY ACCEPTS TWO NEW MEMBERS

The regular weekly meeting of the Fullerton Rotary club was held at noon today, the chief speaker being Harry James of the Brunswick Record Co., who spoke on making phonographic records. Two new members, R. Wolcott and Dan Denning, were admitted. Rev. Walter Thornton gave a talk to the new members. There was a fair attendance.

J. P. SEBASTIAN BACK FROM LAKE

J. P. Sebastian returned yesterday from Big Bear and other points with his family. He enjoyed some excellent fishing for about a week at the lake, bringing in many good rainbows from two pounds up.

The trout are running heavier this year than last, and also have to be tempted with different bait, said Sebastian. One of his friends caught a 4 1-2 pounder.

Sebastian spent a day at Oceanside, and that was quite enough, he declared.

59,000 BARRELS TORRANCE OUTPUT

By ELLWOOD J. MUNGER

The daily average production of the Torrance field has stood at 59,000 barrels for three weeks. A number of new wells have been placed on production, the decline of the old producers has been taken care of, and the point at which the field's output is standing leads to the belief that the peak of production for the field has been reached.

The Superior Oil Co., headed by W. M. Keck, won the production honors of the week at Torrance by completing and putting on production two of the field's last and biggest wells. Superior Oil Co.'s Torrance No. 33 finished drilling at 3340 feet and came in at 1100 barrels. Superior No. 34 completed at 3345 came in at 1160 barrels and is today the largest oil producer in the Torrance field. The Superior Oil Co. has been very successful in its east end development and has built up a production considerably in excess of 10,000 barrels daily. The Superior Oil Co. is credited with much of the pioneer work that characterized the early development of the field and in this work was able to get a line on the good production the field is now yielding.

The Standard Oil Co.'s Ellingwood well has proved another disappointment. First, the well was drilled to 3630 feet, put on a production test and showed a lot of water. Drilling deeper a second time the well was put on production at 3745 feet and produced a lot more water. Just what the Standard will do with the well is not known, but it is thought that the test well will be carried on in search of a deep sand. The Ellingwood is one of the big pieces of property in the southwest section of the Torrance field, whose successful development to production will mean much to the field.

Characteristic of the northwest section of the Torrance field or the Redondo field proper is the recent completed well of the Fullerton Oil Co. The Fullerton Oil Co.'s Waddell No. 3, drilled to 3480 feet, came in an 80-barrel well, producing 15-gravity oil. The Waddell well is a good producer for this section of the field. Deeper drilling has been tried only to get into serious water trouble.

That the Bluemle lease of the Shell Co. is one of the big producing properties from which the future production of the east section of the Torrance field is to get its supply in a large measure has been proven by the advent of the first well of the property, Bluemle No. 1, completed at 3880 feet, is a 500-barrel well, making 20-gravity oil. The Shell's Keystone well has been redrilled within 150 feet of the bottom, 3815, and is in good shape for a production test to 3650 feet where a string of 8 1-4 casing has been set. Kettler No. 2, the deep test well of the East section, went to 3995, but is having a little difficulty locating water trouble which has prevented the well from making any kind of satisfactory production test. The matter of a deep sand for the Torrance field seems to meet a lot of discouragements.

BILLY WHISKERS

BY FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

"Well, I shall have to lock him up myself, if I don't want him to follow me," Billy's master had said.

As if Billy had understood what his master said, and objected to being shut up, he ran down the street and disappeared round a corner.

"Now is my chance. I have my horse right around the corner and I will ride off while he is hiding from us," and in a jiffy the Captain was mounted and galloping out of camp.

"I must give orders immediately to all the sentinels not to let Billy pass them, and that he is to stay in camp until further orders," thought the General.

As soon as Billy thought he had gone far enough and saw that he was not being pursued, he turned back and came to the corner he had turned to peek around and see what the General and the Captain were doing.

Horrors! What did he see but his master riding off on horseback as fast as his mount could gallop, and the General standing where he had left him, watching him out of sight.

"For once they have gotten ahead of me. But it won't be for long. I'll go get Duke and have him follow the scent of the horse and in that way I'll find my master. For I guess a goat can travel as far as a horse."

As Duke belonged to a French company, Billy would have to leave his own camp and go over to where Duke's company was encamped. So he started down the street and ran as fast as he could straight past the General, who was still gazing down the road Captain Strongheart had taken, lost in thought. And as Billy passed him, he could not help baaing, as much as to say: "You haven't got me cornered yet."

The clatter of Billy's hoofs on the cobblestone pavement and his defiant baa awoke the General from his reverie and he called Billy to come back and save his strength, as there would be no use following the Captain as he had too good a start.

But Billy baaed back, "Well, we'll see!" and he ran on until he had to pass a sentinel at the edge of the camp, who stopped him with his bayonet, pointing it at him and saying:

"Not so fast, Billy, my dear! I have orders not to let you pass. You are to stay here and not tag your master."

"Baa," said Billy, and turned and fairly flew to another street that led out of the village in the direction his master had gone. But he had the same luck here and more. For this entrance was guarded by an American cowboy and instead of trying to stop all mwith his bayonet, he lassoed him, and led him off to where the horses were stabled, to shut him in a box stall.

(Poor Billy! It looks as if he would have to give up trying to follow his master. But we shall see.)

STOCK MARKET STRONG, BUOYANT

NEW YORK, June 11—Save for recurrent periods of profit taking, principally in the late trading, the stock market was strong and buoyant today. Rails were the first to point the way to higher price levels but even the oil stocks exhibited a firmer trend.

Gains of a point or more were recorded in a large number of active railroad stocks, including Missouri Pacific Pfd., Frisco Pfd., Southern Railway, New York Central and Rock Island.

Buying extended to the equipment, steel and oil stocks in larger volume than in any previous session for a week.

Coodeu oil, which was sold heavily last week, went to 27½, up 3 points from yesterday's low and 3 points from the low of last Saturday.

Gulf States sold in the upward movement of steel stocks, advancing 2½ points to 68½.

Mack Truck featured the motor stocks.

The industrial and mercantile stocks led the upward movement in the stock market in the last hour and new high prices were registered for many stocks in these groups. U. S. Steel added nearly a point at 96¾. Marland Oil pushed thru 31 for a new lead of one full point.

The whole market surged forward in an active upward movement near the close, final prices being near the highest price level of the day.

Stock sales 1,003,000 shares; bonds $22,130,000.
