1,700 Homeless In North Illinois

United Press International

Spring floods soaked New England and the Midwest Saturday, chasing more than 2,000 persons from their homes and climaxing a week of turbulent weather.

Some 1,700 persons were homeless in the industrial Rockford area in Northwest Illinois and the rampaging Pecatonica River threatened another 2,000 with evacuation in nearby Freeport. Sudden floods in Wisconsin drove 360 more into temporary shelters.

Evacuations were begun throughout New England as sudden floods swept through parts of Vermont and New Hampshire and threatened towns in Connecticut and Rhode Island.

The watery onslaughts capped a week in which southern tornadoes, eastern fog and northern rains took 20 lives.

The tornadoes and high winds killed 10 persons in Texas, three in Florida and one in Oklahoma while Wisconsin and Vermont each reported a single flood victim.

Three crewmen were killed early Friday when an 83-foot trawler ran aground off Cape Cod, Mass., and one man was killed when a U.S. Navy Super-Constellation plane crashed while trying an emergency landing on a fog-enclosed airstrip at Argentia, Nfld.

At Rockford, the swollen Rock River threatened to surpass its highest crest in history, a peak of 63 inches recorded in 1929.

Route 2,000 Residents

At Freeport, where 35 to 40 blocks are still under water the Weather Bureau predicted the Pecatonica would crest at 17.5 feet by midnight Saturday. That depth would flood all of Freeport's East Bank section, routing 2,000 residents, and would block all but one highway in the area.

The Milwaukee River slammed into the Milwaukee suburbs of Glendale and Mequon on Saturday.

The New England floods struck with dramatic suddenness and were expected to spread swiftly through the six-state area. Flood warnings were out for White River Junction, Vt., Hartford and Middletown, Conn., and Woonsocket, R.I.

Deadly ice floes rambled along with the flood waters, snapping a 65-foot metal radio transmitter tower on the Sugar River near Claremont, N.H., and bowling over trees two feet in diameter.

In Northern New England waters were receding gradually and there was no danger of major flooding. Dynamite was used in some sections to break up clogged ice floes that resulted in flooding Friday.

Some minor flooding was expected today along the Connecticut River in Southern New England. Flood warnings were out along the river in Vermont, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

Bulletin Wins Aid-to-Education Award

Receives Coveted CTA Citation

The Bulletin yesterday was the recipient of an award from the California Teachers Association for "outstanding service to public education in 1958."

Termed the Sixth Annual Communications Award, the presentation was made during ceremonies at a CTA luncheon at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Los Angeles, as part of the Fourth Annual Southern California School Public Relations Conference.

An engraved plaque, signifying the award, was presented by Mrs. Alletah Glasier, chairman of the CTA Southern Section Public Relations Advisory Committee, to Howard Loudon, publisher of The Bulletin.

Newspapers over the entire Southern California area competed for the coveted awards, with each having been nominated by teacher associations in their respective areas of circulation. The Anaheim Elementary Teachers Association, John Shea, president, nominated the Bulletin to receive the award. A scrapbook containing materials to substantiate their nomination was prepared by teachers of the association under the direction of Mrs. Dixie Edwards, member of the group's public relations committee.

Read Bulletin Policy

In making the award to The Bulletin, Mrs. Glasier read to the jammed Sierra Room audience, a letter containing the Bulletin's statement of editorial policy concerning the public schools of Anaheim and pointed out that "In an area of such explosive growth, as has been experienced, without the help of its daily newspaper the results to its schools might well have been catastrophic."

Introducing Howard Loudon and Don Shaffer respectively, as publisher and managing editor of The Bulletin, she told conferees that both were natives of Southern California and had received their schooling in California; and expressed appreciation "in behalf of the entire C.T.A., Southern Section, for the splendid attitude and policy toward public education that has been shown by these two men."

Following the presentation of the award to The Bulletin, awards were presented to the Los Angeles Mirror-News, The San Diego Tribune, and KCOP, Television Station.

BULLETIN RECEIVES AWARD — Howard Loudon, publisher of The Bulletin, accepts the Sixth Annual Communications Award of the California Teachers Association at ceremonies at the Statler Hilton yesterday. Presenting the coveted award for "outstanding service to public education in 1958 is Mrs. Alletah Galsler, chairman of the CTA Southern Section Public Relations Advisory Committee. Shown looking on is Elden Hauck, conference delegate of the Anaheim Elementary Teachers Association.

100,000 Red Troops Rushed Into Tibet

By EARNEST HOBERECHT
United Press International

NEW DELHI (UPI)—The Communists have rushed 100,000 fresh troops into Tibet in an effort to crush the tough Khamba tribesmen who have taken up arms against them, according to reports reaching here today.

Although details of the battle for Tibet were scanty, reports from the border said shooting can still be heard on the outskirts of Lhasa, the two-mile-high capital of the remote mountain state.

(A Red broadcast heard in Tokyo said, however, that the Lhasa High School, which had been closed because of the revolt, reopened Thursday to begin its spring term — an apparent indication that the city was quiet.

Peiping Contradictory

(Even though the Dalai Lama has escaped across the border into India — a fact which the Communists were the first to announce — Radio Peiping today repeated its claim that he "is held under duress by rebels.")

Indian officials, described as "most worried," were busy trying to find and plug the leak that enabled the Communists to announce that the Dalai Lama had entered India before anyone here but Premier Jawaharlal Nehru and two top aides knew of his arrival.

They were wondering whether the story was "leaked" by Communist agents in the border area, or whether it means that the Reds have cracked India's most secret codes.

GRACE KELLY HAS APPENDIX REMOVED

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (UPI) — Princess Grace of Monaco had her appendix removed today.

Her husband, Prince Rainier, paced the corridor outside the surgery at Lausanne's chic Cecil Clinic while the operation was being performed.

The operation was performed by Dr. James A. Lehman of Philadelphia, a noted surgeon and the Kelly family physician.

The princess entered the operating room at 2 a.m. e.s.t and was returned to her room a half-hour later. Lehman said Friday the operation would take only about six to eight minutes.

NATO Council in Warning to Russ On West Berlin

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The NATO Council today sternly warned Russia of its "unanimous determination to maintain the freedom of the people of West Berlin and the rights and obligations of the allied powers" there.

The 15-nation council also endorsed "broad lines of the policy to be pursued" by the Western Big Three—Britain, France and the United States—in their forthcoming meetings with the Soviet Union in an effort to achieve an honorable settlement of the Berlin crisis and the problem of German unity.

The council's firm endorsement of the Western Big Three position came in a communique issued at the close of its three-day spring session, which commemorated the 10th anniversary of the founding of the North Atlantic Alliance against Communist expansion.

The council reported it had a full discussion of the reports it received from the Western Big Three and West Germany on their plans for dealing with Russia—"The present state of their thought in regard to the problems which will be discussed during the forthcoming negotiations with the Soviet Union."

Points of view expressed by the other 11 members of the 15-nation council "will be taken into account during the consultations" which the Big Three and West Germany will hold prior to the foreign ministers' meeting with Russia scheduled to begin May 11 in Geneva.

The communique said the council reaffirmed its declaration of last December which backed up the Western Big Three in their refusal to pull their troops out of Berlin until the entire German problem is settled and also stood fast against any Communist efforts to restrict allied access to the western sectors of the former German capital.

Laguna Beach Boy Dies in Collision Between Bus, Car

CORONA DEL MAR (OCNS) — A head-on collision south of here Friday evening, between a Greyhound bus and a car, killed a nine-year-old Laguna Beach boy on the Coast Highway.

The boy, Ray A. Beck Jr., 1735 Broadway, Laguna Beach, was riding with his father, Ray A. Beck Sr., 37, a marine corps sergeant stationed at Camp Pendleton.

According to the California Highway Patrol Beck was northbound at 6:45 p.m. when the smashup happened, about a mile south of Morning Canyon Road, near Crystal Cove.

The accident report indicated that Beck Sr., skidded across the centerline as he was slowing for other northbound traffic.

The impact with the bus tossed the boy onto the pavement and brought instant death. His father is in serious condition at Hoag Hospital with back and leg injuries. Funeral arrangements for Ray Beck Jr., will be handled by Altz Mortuary.

The bus, southbound to San Diego, was driven by Gordon [illegible] with several persons.

Traffic was reported "heavy but fast" - at the time of the accident. Scores of persons, including those on the bus, witnessed the tragedy.

Stewart, driver of the Greyhound bus, said it happened so fast he barely had time to hit the brakes or swerve.

Several of his passengers were quoted as saying that the bus driver "didn't have a chance" to avoid the collision.

The impact did extensive damage to the bus, including its air brake system. A replacement bus was sent to the scene to carry the passengers on to San Diego.

Judge Delays Arguments In Placentia Recall Case

By Orange County News Service

Arguments on why an injunction should not be issued taxpayers attempting to block a Placentia recall election against city councilmen have been continued until April 17, by Superior Judge Raymond Thompson.

The case was continued the two weeks because of the illness of the attorney representing the six Placentia taxpayers.

The judge also granted Attorney Kenneth Marapese, reportedly hired by a citizen's committee to oppose the suit, permission to file a bill of interpleader — in substance a request to join the defendants in their fight against the court action.

Marapese and Atty. Warren Ferguson, who is representing the city council, and City Clerk Sigfred W. Swanson, argued various points of law before Judge Thompson granted Marapese permission to file his written arguments backing his plea to join the case.

Reportedly before the session, both attorneys had considered requesting the continuance, but minutes before Judge Thompson walked into the court room, Marapese reversed his field.

He explained the opposition was using "delay tactics" in the case and said he wanted the court to lift the temporary restraining order that is now preventing the city clerk from checking recall petitions.

Ferguson argued that the city wanted the case heard in court, with both sides presented and thereafter a verdict on the election issue. In the meantime, he said the clerk would not count the recall petitions until the issue is decided "one way or the other." He said the case would probably take two weeks once it reached the court.

Although he is requesting to join the council and city officials against suit, Attorney Marapese is representing a group that is actually opposed to both parties involved in the case.

The plaintiffs, Lorenzo C. Gomez, William Ferguson, John Gagnon Jr., Edmund M. Ponce, James W. Hock, and Ana Robinson, are opposing the recall action, claiming the petitions are illegal and there are not sufficient signatures to merit an election.

The injunction suit is an attempt to disqualify the recall petitions and to nip in the bud a recall election for Placentia councilmen Alfred Aguirre, Joseph Hannah, Paul Breting, Leonard Gutmann and Mayor Raymond Pound. Marapese is attempting to have the recall petitions upheld in court with his bill of interpleader.

Both attorneys spent time arguing over the number of votes necessary on the recall petition if it is to carry. Marapese reportedly contending the state constitution says 25 per cent of the voters who participated at the last election for the offices sought to be recalled must support the action.

Ferguson, city attorney for Placentia, disagreed, explaining the law requires 25 per cent of the registered voters in the community. There are reported to be 1524 registered voters in Placentia.

Initially, petitions submitted to the city clerk were found to be insufficient, but recall supporters were able to obtain added signatures, it was explained. A check of the new petitions had been ordered by the court.

Taxpayers opposed to the recall are charging that many of the signatures were obtained by "fraud and misrepresentation." To hold the election for this purpose would be a waste of money, they allege.

A total of 125 signatures were reportedly withdrawn from the petitions, it is claimed.

Many of the parties involved in the recall issue are leading members of the cast in two other cases that have been filed in superior court, a taxpayer's suit to block an annexation and a libel suit filed by councilmen, as private individuals, against Golden R. Bennett, 234 Sunrise. Asked by the city fathers are $375,000 in damages.

Approximately 15 persons were in the court room to hear the proceedings Friday. The case first began in the court of Presiding Judge John Shea, and then was transferred to Judge Thompson.

Marapese's request to intervene will be subject to demurrers by attorneys of the defendant and the plaintiff, it was explained.

Beverly Hansen Named 'Miss Garden Grove'

Today attractive blonde Beverly Hansen, 18, 13202 Barnett Way, is "Miss Garden Grove."

She was selected from 10 finalists by seven judges last night at the stage of the first annual Strawberry Festival, at Brookhurst and Garden Grove Blvd.

The four runners-up in order are Dolores Robinson, 16, 8702 Katella; Linda Cooney, 17, 12211 Safford; Betty Marsh, 17, 11751 Garden Grove Blvd. and Sharon Kay Cosby, 11601 Samuel Dr.

The winner received a round trip to Hawaii, a ball gown, a wrist watch and an oil painting.

The runners-up received trophies.

Television newscaster Bill Welsh served as master of ceremonies as he will do in tonight's festivities.

Today activities started at 10 a.m. with the first of day-long visits from entertainment personalities for appearances and autographs.

The El Toro Marine Band will play at 2 p.m.

A gala midway of rides, exhibits and booths for both games and food will remain open throughout the festival.

Weather

Considerable cloudiness today and Sunday, but mostly sunny in afternoons. Little temperature change. High today about 78. Low tonight 52.

King Hussein of Jordan today was to visit Disneyland. The 23-year-old monarch was scheduled to arrive at the Anaheim entertainment center at about 11:30 a.m.

HIGH SCHOOL ACTOR KILLED BY 'PROP' PISTOL

RAMONA, Okla. (UPI) — Ramona High School canceled its senior play today after the 17-year-old leading man was killed by a friend who playfully drew a bead on him with a stage-prop pistol that turned out to be loaded.

A bullet fired from the pistol Friday night hit the eye of Arthur Justice Jr., an honor student whose parents are both members of the high school faculty. He died in an ambulance racing toward a hospital at Bartlesville, 33 miles north of here.

ORDER RESTORED AFTER ARGENTINE RIOTS

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Army troops, police and firemen restored order to downtown Buenos Aires today and workmen cleared the street of scores of buses, streetcars and autos overturned or burned by Peronist and Communist-led rioters Friday night.

A powerful bomb exploded early today in a church in the Palermo district, causing some damage, but it was not known whether it was connected with the rioting. No one was hurt.

TITAN MAKES THIRD SUCCESSFUL FLIGHT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — The Air Force's newest ICBM, the Titan, made its third straight successful flight Friday during an action-packed seven hours at the Atlantic missile range.

In other displays of missile might and plans, a swift B47 jet bomber fired a test version of an air-launched ballistic missile (ALBM) and the Air Force assisted the Army in launching another intermediate range Jupiter.

SCIENTISTS MAKE DISCLOSURES

Each Has Capacity to Cure Own Cancer

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (UPI) — Every human being has within himself "the capacity to cure his own cancer," Dr. Charles Higgins said Friday. He and other scientists disclosed progress in their efforts to learn how to manipulate this capacity to the full.

It is hidden within the endocrine system of interdependent glands which secrete a host of chemicals that regulate man's development, growth, reproduction, and bodily functions, in the opinion of Higgins, who has earned world fame for his pioneering discoveries of their relations to cancer.

He disclosed the discovery of a new, easily used tool which could bestow a magnificent benefit on the female sex. The tool is a way of getting at the secrets of mammary cancer which kills more women than any other.

The tool is a particular kind of rat whose female never develops a mammary cancer spontaneously. Higgins and his associates at the University of Chicago have learned how to inflict that cancer on these females 100 times in every 100 tries.

He said 40 per cent of these cancers were found to depend on the secretions of the endocrine glands for their existence, while 60 per cent are independent of those secretions. This is also, roughly, the proportion of human mammary cancers which are dependent or independent of those secretions.

These rats are thus living laboratories both of how mammary cancers begin, how they can be dealt with by manipulating the extremely complex chemistry set off and regulated by endocrine secretions, and finally cured.

Higgins disclosed that already his laboratory has rats which have been put through that cycle, from cancer-free to cancerous and back to cancer-free. A few which had mammary cancers have been cancer-free — cured, that is — for a year. A year in a rat's life is equivalent to 20 in a woman's.

Manipulating human endocrine chemistry presently is second to surgery as the most effective way of dealing with human mammary cancer, but surgery is effective only if the cancer has been detected in its earliest stages, before it has spread out into the body.

I'll Handel This

By LEONARD R. HANDEL
(Bulletin Sports Editor)

Now that the Los Angeles Dodgers have "peddled" Big Steve Bilko to Spokane of the Pacific Coast League, another horsehide "fiction story" can be placed in the round file.

When the L.A. ball club acquired Steve last season from the Cincinnati Redlegs, Dodger officials started beating the drums, extolling the virtues of Mr. Bilko and predicting freely that he would assume the club's home run leadership role.

This was supposed because of his tremendous four-ply output in the minor leagues.

It was stressed that Steven had led the Pacific Coast Loop in homers during the '57 season with a robust 57 total.

Los Angeles brass, looking towards the shallow left field wall, said excitedly that with this added incentive the lad could be a threat to the major loop home run mark.

What they hadn't seemed to notice was that while Bilko did acquire a huge number of homers in the miners his major league output was something less than spectacular.

In fact, during a seven-year major league career he "blasted" 29 round-trippers and was able to earn a batting average of .243.

The reason for this is one which is fairly well known in the Big Show.

While he can blast a fast ball into the next county, the huge first baseman had a terrible time with anything that curved.

Now, major league pitchers are smart.

They learn right quickly that a man has a weakness with a certain pitch and when this occurs his tenure in the majors is noticeably cut.

Bilko had had many chances at cracking the big time and on each occasion suffered the same fate.

A rather speedy return to less-rugged competition.

For instance, in 1949 Big Steve cracked the majors for the first time when he competed for the St. Louis Browns, a ball club whose main requirement for a starting berth was a warm body.

With the Browns he hit .294 and hit not a single round-tripper.

The following season, with the same ball club, his batting average drooped to a rousing .182 and once again he was blanked in the home run department.

Well, this was enough for St. Louis.

The 1950 season found him with Rochester (International League) where he clobbered 15 homers, earned a .290 batting mark and "bingo" 1951 found him back with St. Loo.

Unfortunately, the 1951 season was one which was featured by some fine pitching in the American League and the curve ball once again drove him to the minors.

And so it went.

Steve would hit well in the minors but when came his trip to the majors he fell apart.

The Dodgers, now seeking some sort of youth movement, were faced with the problem of finding a place for the rotund infielder and because of this realized that something had to be done.

Steve is now 30.

The Dodgers decided to let him go and keep Jim Baxes, former Los Angeles Angel and Hollywood Star infielder.

Baxes, 28, is a fine fielder with a rifle-like arm. While not a home run hitter, he does produce a great number of singles and doubles, which also go a long way towards winning ball games.

It will be interesting to see what will transpire in the Dodger camp this season.

If Baxes should blossom into one of the club's better ball players, then the decision of Dodger brass will be vindicated.

If Bilko should start clobbering the ball with Spokane it is quite possible that he will receive another chance to compete for the Dodgers.

However, it is our guess that his tenure in the majors has just about run out.

He has shown a marked inability to hit major league pitching — which sort of hurts his chances in the big show.

Bilko may or may not find a home in Spokane.

At any rate he is back in the Circuit where he clobbered 57 round-trippers one year.

Should he do it again it would be a great thing for the sagging Coast League gate.

Which would be a great deal for all of baseball.

BEATS THROW — Western's Flavio German slides safely into third base during yesterday's game with Las Vegas High School at La Palma Stadium. German scored first run of game a few moments later as the Pioneers of Coach Roy Merk went on to win 3-1. They face Valencia's Tigers in Placentia Tuesday.

Painter's Three-Hitter Gives Western Las Vegas Win

Fine pitching by Dennis Painter, plus a three-run uprising in the second inning was enough to give Coach Roy Merk's Western Pioneers a 3-1 victory over a scrappy Las Vegas Wildcat club at La Palma Stadium, yesterday.

A good turnout of local sports fans were on hand for the contest which saw Painter limit the considerably tamed Wildcats to but three hits. He also hurled shutout ball for the first five frames, finally giving up the single tally in the sixth period with two retired.

The Pioneers pushed across their three runs in the second when with one out Flavio German singled.

He went to second on a bingle by Dave Sturrock and the bases were jammed a moment later when Bud Irvin's ball to the infield was tossed to third in an attempt to get German, who beat the throw to the bag.

Dave Serlin then cashed in Flavio and the bases were still loaded. Painter cracked a base hit to score Irvin and Barthel also bingled to tally Serlin.

Rally Ends

That was all there was to the rally, but it was more than enough.

With Painter tossing masterful ball the Wildcats were kept off the base paths in rather alarming quantities.

The sophomore Pioneer whiz was never in trouble except for the frame where the run was scored.

In that inning a walk, double and single, spelled the breaking of Painter's shutout.

While Dennis was hurling good ball he was being matched by a fine mound performance on the part of Las Vegas' Ted Bair.

The sharp Nevada moundsmen, after running into rough seas in the second, cruised to a fine performance during the remainder of the game.

Throughout the contest he was touched for nine hits, but seemed to have the ability to pitch himself out of trouble on many occasions.

The Wildcat infield came up with some tremendous plays, which drew round of applause from those in attendance.

Tour Disneyland

They toured Disneyland last night and will see other Orange County points of interest following their game with Coach John Wallin's Anaheim Colonists today.

Western will go back to the horsehide wars Tuesday when they meet always dangerous Valencia High School on the Tigers' diamond.

Valencia, a member of the Orange League, is coached by Jack Knudsen and is rated as one of the teams to beat in that Circuit.

Gametime is slated for 3 p.m.

League Play

Following that encounter the Pioneers will come back Thursday to start the second round of Freeway League action.

They will be meeting Rancho Alamitos High School on the Vaquero's diamond.

In their last meeting the Pioneers were able to squeeze through with a 1-0 triumph when Sturrock came sliding across with the game's winning run in the last of the seventh.

Winning pitcher was Painter, who limited the Vaqs to but three hits.

Western is presently leading the Circuit, one-half game ahead of Orange High's Panthers.

Colonists Defeated by Santa Fe Team, 7-5

Blowing a four-run first inning lead, Anaheim's Colonists dropped a 7-5 decision to a "never -say - die" Santa Fe High School squad on the Chief's diamond, yesterday.

It was the 19th loss in 18 starts for the local forces who met Las Vegas High School at La Palma Stadium this morning.

Yesterday's game started out as though Wallin's men were going to rip the home team's diamond in small-type pieces.

Singles by Benny Ramirez, Clint Stark, plus bases on balls to Glen Herbel and Tom Lambeth in addition to a sacrifice by Don Grothe, produced the four run tally.

Peck Away

However, the Chiefs started to peck away at the lead with two runs in the second and three more in the third.

Anaheim scored a run in the top of the third on a single by Bob Baker, sacrifice by Ramirez, an error off the bat of Stark, which allowed Baker to move to third, from which point Bob stole home.

However, the winners were not to be denied as they came up with the two winning runs in the fourth.

Starr Loses

Suffering the loss was Jim Starr, who came in to assume the mound duties for Bill Bielefeld in the third.

Colonyville will next meet Long Beach Jordan on the Beach City's diamond Monday.

After that they will "rest" until Thursday, when they test Newport Harbor's Sailors at La Palma Stadium in the first game of Sunset League action.

Gametime will be 3 p.m.

'Sign or Else' Robinson Told

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sugar Ray Robinson, always most dangerous when he's cornered, was put on one of the biggest spots of his boxing career today by the stern "sign or else" warning tossed at him by ex-Marine General Melvin Krulewitch.

Gen. Krulewitch, the new head of the New York Athletic Commission, told the "Sugar Man" Friday in words that crackled like Marine orders that he will be stripped of his world middleweight crown if he doesn't sign by noon, April 15, to defend against Carmen Basilio.

Now it's Robinson's move, and no one in boxing was rash enough to forecast what boxing's most elusive champion would do next.

Another Deadline

In addition to the April 15 deadline imposed by New York, Robinson also is faced with an April 25 deadline drawn up by the National Boxing Assn. However, the NBA wasn't quite as specific as Gen. Krulewitch about which challenger Ray would have to meet.

Krulewitch made it crystal clear that he doesn't think much of Germany's Gustav (Bubi) Scholz as a challenger.

The Robinson camp, through Attorney Martin Machat, has informed the New York Commission that George Gainford, Robinson's advisor, has been negotiating with Scholz, the world's No. 4 middleweight in the latest rankings. And Scholz has wired the commission that these negotiations are in progress for a Robinson-Scholz fight in the United States or Germany sometime before December.

The boxing source said Krulewitch wasn't impressed by these "negotiations" for three reasons: 1. The commission doesn't think Robinson should be allowed to dip as low as the No. 4 ranking for his first challenger since March 25, 1958; 2. A match for which site and date haven't been arranged is pretty vague; and 3. Gainford is not Robinson's manager-of-record and Sugar Ray might not be obliged by an agreement made by him.

The commission is of the opinion that Carmen Basilio is the suitable contender for the title of middleweight champion of the world," said Krulewitch in his warning to Robinson.

It was Basilio that Robinson defeated in that long-ago last title bout to regain the crown.

Sanford Indicates '58 is Forgotten Becomes First Giant to Go Distance

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

Jack Sanford indicated today that the experts can throw out the "lost year" of 1958 as just one of those things.

Obtained from the Philadelphia Phillies during the winter, the 200-pound fireballer became the first San Francisco pitcher to go the distance Friday when he pitched the Giants to a 6-4 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

"If Sanford and Sam Jones can step up to their potential we can go all the way," manager Bill Rigney has been saying all spring. "We'll go as far as they can take us."

Sanford posted a 19-8 record as a rookie in 1957 but was a big disappointment with a 10-13 record last season. The Phillies sent him to the Giants for San Francisco problem pitcher Ruben Gomez last winter.

Two Shaky Innings

Sanford's performance was significant because he had his worst moments in the first two innings. Rocky Colavito homered off him in the first inning and the Indians pushed him around for four runs in the first two frames. Then Sanford settled down and shut out the Tribe the rest of the way. That solid San Francisco socking did the rest.

The Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Kansas City Athletics, 6-1, the St. Louis Cardinals edged out the Chicago White Sox, 2-1, the Milwaukee Braves scored a 13-inning, 4-3 victory over the Washington Senators, the New York Yankees beat the Los Angeles Dodgers, 1-0, the Detroit Tigers whipped the Cincinnati Reds, 10-5, and the Philadelphia Phils beat the Baltimore Orioles under the Miami lights, 7-2, in other exhibition games.

The Pirates batted around for four runs in the second inning and got six-hit pitching from Curt Raydon, Don Gross and Bob Smith. Key blows in the big rally were a double by Dick Groat and singles by Hank Foiles, Raydon and Roberto Clemente.

Lindy McDaniel, Howard Nunn and Marv Grissom combined in a seven-hitter that enabled the Cardinals to end a six-game losing streak. The Cardinals got only five hits but scored in the third on Don Blasingame's triple and Bill White's sacrifice fly and gain in the fourth when Curt Flood homered.

Wes Covington's homer broke up the 13-inning contest between the Braves and Senators and marked Washington's seventh straight loss. Centerfield Bill Bruton threw out the potential winning run at the plate in the seventh and Johnny Logan had four hits to star for the Braves.

John Gabler and Zack Monroe hurled a two-hitter for the Yankees who got the only run of the game when Gil McDougald slammed a homer in the second inning. Gabler worked six innings and gave up only a leadoff single to Jim Gilliam. John Roseboro beat out a slow roller in the ninth for the only hit off Monroe.

The Tigers romped to an easy win over the Reds as Rocky Bridges blasted a two-run homer and two other hits. Nine of the Tigers' runs came in the first two innings off bonus baby Jay Hook, a rookie-right-hander who made his first start of the spring. Don Lee, Don Mossi and Jerry Davis yielded 10 Cincinnati hits including homers by Frank Thomas and Jerry Lynch.

Jim Owens and Jack Meyer of the Phils combined to hold Baltimore to four hits. Owens was tagged for three hits and two runs in the first inning but pitched hitless ball for the next six frames and Meyer allowed just one hit in the last two. Harry Anderson and Carl Sawatski each clouted a two-run homer for the Phils.

New Youth Ball Program Started

FOSTORIA, Ohio (UPI)—A new type junior baseball program, designed to meet critics of little league baseball head on, will be tried here this summer.

The whole program is aimed at eliminating adult pressure from the players and letting the youngsters run the whole show.

Originator of the idea is Tony Lucadello, a Fostorian who scouts for the Philadelphia Phils. He feels it will allow the boys to play ball without interference from adults.

Here's how the plan works:

The boys, ages 9 to 17 inclusive, are divided into three leagues, midget, 9-11; junior, 12-14 and senior, 15-17. Each team will consist of 12 players, four rookies, four with one-year service and four with two years.

Games will be six innings long with every player getting to play at least part of the game. A player will be allowed to leave and return to the game but the pitcher and catcher must be replaced after three innings, although they may go to other positions. The three boys not in the game will serve as base coaches and bat boy.

If a team cannot field nine players, the opposing team must give them one of their players. (There are no forfeits. The purpose of this program is to play ball.)

No adults, with the exception of the two umpires, will be allowed on the field. This rules out much of the criticism levelled by opponents of little league baseball.

C. F. Poston, secretary of the Fostoria Junior Baseball Assn., said if the plan is successful it may catch on other places since it allows the youngsters to grow and develop by personal, individual initiative.

Poston said the Fostoria plan will "give less-talented boys an opportunity to develop themselves and also allows the boys to do what they came out onto the field to do—play ball."

Monarch Baseballers Lose to St. Paul's, 4-2

By BOB LUSKEY

It is beginning to look like little, seniorless St. Paul's, is getting the "Indian sign" on big, powerful Mater Dei today, after the up and down Swordsmen, overlooked by many in the pre-season polls, tripped Coach Pat Roberts' Monarchs 4-2 yesterday afternoon at Santa Fe Springs.

The Monarchs had entered the game with a perfect two-win no-loss record in Parochial League combat, plus the Loop leadership, but that all went down the drain as a result of yesterday's defeat.

The loss to the Swordsmen had an uncomfortable resemblance to Mater Dei's narrow loss to St. Paul's in basketball, which nearly cost the Monarchs the Parochial League championship in that sport.

St. Paul is a newcomer to the P.L., joining the conference during the cage wars, and since it numbered only freshmen-sophomores and juniors in its student body, it was not figured to be much of a threat in loop operations, however, the spunky Whittier club has made a habit of pulling upsets and especially making Mater Dei a prime subject of its "surprise" victories.

Yesterday's loss was a result of a combination of a flu attack, overconfidence and one of those "off" days that every baseball team encounters.

Locals Lose

The Orange Countians looked as if they were going to add the Swordsmen to their long list of victims in the second inning when, thanks to a booming triple by catcher Bob Webber, the locals moved out in front by a 2-0 score.

However, the host nine came back with a single score in the bottom of the second and tied the tray in the home half of the third with another singleton.

The Swordsmen pushed across the winning tallies in the last half of the sixth inning when they capitalized on a walk from starting and losing pitcher John Huarte and a single, two wild pitches and another single off reliefer Jack Neal.

The attack dropped the Monarchs into third place with a 2 1 Loop record behind unbeaten Pomona Catholic and once beaten St. Paul's. On the season the Orange Countians possess an eight and four, won-loss mark.

Leading the Mater Dei hitters who could scratch but four safeties off winning chucker Bill Teland, were Mike Layton who went two for three and catcher Bob Webber, who collected a triple in three tries.

Rapid Punching Scott in Line For Boost in Fistic Ratings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rapid-punching Charlie Scott was in line today for a boost in the welterweight rankings that would match his own soaring confidence as a result of his technical knockout triumph over veteran Isaac Logart.

Scott's triumph over the fifth-ranked Logart at 1:14 of the third round of Friday night's nationally-televised bout was far more emphatic than his split decision nod over the Cuban on March 16.

Scott's handlers indicated that they were seeking a match with sixth-ranked welterweight contender Gaspar (Indian) Ortega as part of their campaign to prepare Scott for a shot at the title now held by Don Jordan.

Logart, who weighed 145½ pounds to Scott's 148, took the opening round on the United Press International scoresheet as the stupg Scott's face with a series of jabs.

But then the 22-year-old unranked Chicagoan started to roll. The blow that set up the finish in the third round was a booming left hook to the jaw that dropped Logart for a three-count. The Cuban got up quickly but was obviously in trouble.

Scott swarmed in with a barrage of lefts and rights, knocking Logart partially through the ropes. Referee Marty Gallagher stepped in to grab Logart and stop the bout.

Mater Dei Wins Loop Track Go

Coach Jack Dennen's Mater Dei track team was ready for its crucial show down next Friday with powerful St. Francis, after polishing off a weak St. John Vianney squad 85 to 19 yesterday afternoon at Monarch field.

The Mater Dei - St. Francis titanic is slated for Friday afternoon at the Monarchs' oval, and the winner of that meet will assume the role of favorite for this year's Parochial League track championship.

The Knights are the defending loop titlists, but the Orange Countians have come back strong this season after finishing in the cellar last season, and pose as a real threat to the La Canadan's crown.

In yesterdy's meet Bob Kennedy paced the local forces to their victory with a triple killing, winning the 100 yard dash, 180 low hurdles, and the Broad Jump.

Kennedy's time in the 100 was a so-so 10.3, while his winning clocking in the 180 lows was a respectable 20.9. In the Broad Jump the Bob came through with his second best showing of the season, with a 20 foot distance.

Other big scorers for the Monarchs were Chuck Baer, Mike McCarthay, and Lee Raab. Baer had the best time of the day, winning the 440 in 51.7.

Because the Nobles failed to bring either a Bee or Cee squad with them to the meet, the Monarch lighties and midgets both won via the forfeit route.

For the varsity it was their third straight track triumph, having disposed of La Salle, St. Paul's and now Vianney. However, the big one remains for Friday afternoon when the Dennenmen play host to St. Francis' Golden Knights.

Hawkins to Battle Marques in Legion

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Dwight Hawkins will square off against Herman Marques in a 12-round bout at Hollywood Legion Stadium tonight, with the winner to be crowned state bantamweight king.

Hawkins, who scored 11 of his 28 wins by kayos and who has lost eight and boxed two draws, was expected to enter the ring against his Stockton, Calif., opponent as a 3-5 favorite.

Tonight's battle will be the second start of the year for Marques, a former national AAU bantamweight champion. He decisioned Frankie Duarte in San Francisco last Feb. 27.

Marques' overall record stands at 9-3-1. Included in his four knockout records are Billy Peacock, Baby Brown, Ross Padilla and Willie Parker.

AAU Boxing Finals Set for Tonight

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI)—Finals in the AAU championship boxing tournament will be held tonight when the class of the nation's amateurs square off at the sports arena.

So far things have gone according to form with the favorites pounding opponents into submission.

Brian O'Shea, 139, Irish champion fighting out of Chicago, decisions Paul Lopez, Denver, in Friday's quarter-final round with former middleweight champion Tony Zale cheering him on.

Also, Tien Chung, of San Jose, Calif., the 1958 intercollegiate NCAA champion, won his bout with a split decision over Danny Andrews of Catskill, N.Y.

The semi finals in the lighter weights will be started at 8 p.m. and the finals held right after the finals in the heavier weights are over.

Rams Open at Night First Time in History

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—For the first time in the club's history, the Los Angeles Rams will open their NFL home season at night, meeting the New York Giants here Saturday evening, Sept. 26.

General manager Pete Rozelle announced the Rams' home schedule today with another adjustment calling for the final game of the season with the champion Baltimore Colts to be played on Saturday, Dec. 12, instead of Sunday. The remainder of the home games are on Sunday.

"For the last four seasons, the Coliseum temperature has been in the high 80s on opening day," Rozelle said in explaining the night opener. "We feel that Ram fans would prefer a night game while the weather is still warm."

Following the opener with the Giants, the Rams' home schedule resumes Oct. 25 with Detroit; Nov. 1, Chicago Bears; Nov. 8, San Francisco; Dec. 6, Green Bay and Dec. 12 Baltimore.

Expect Skowron Back in Lineup

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI)—Bill Skowron, injured first baseman of the New York Yankees, was scheduled to return to New York by plane today for rest and possible treatment.

Skowron, who has been walloping the ball at a .446 pace this spring, suffered a wrenched back while warming up before an exhibition game Thursday. The injury was similar to that which benched the husky righthanded batter for most of last year's World Series.

The Yankee first baseman has been given diathermy treatments but it was decided that he should go back to New York by plane to rest there.

In view of Skowron's history as a "slow healer," manager Casey Stengel is grooming left-handed batsman Marv Throneberry for the opening day assignment at first base in case Skowron is not ready.

RAMS OPEN AT NIGHT

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Los Angeles Rams announced today they will open their National Football League campaign with a night game for the first time when they entertain the New York Giants Saturday, Sept. 26.

Ericsson's Perfecto Wins for Servite, 7-2

The Servite Friars outhit and outpitched a highly-touted Salesian High School ball club to cop a 7-2 win at Fremont Friday.

Pitcher Terry Ericsson went the route to pick up the win while hurling a no-hitter in the process. The Friars started early and finished late, picking up three tallies in the first and four more in the last two stanzas.

Mike Hunter's lead-off double gave evidence of things to come as the Serviters reached J.V. slugballer Pedro Baeza for seven runs on ten hits. The big rap for the Friars was Ronnie Thomas' base-clearing triple to ice the contest.

Coach Bill Miller's horsehiders are now six and two on the season, hosting nly to St. Paul and Pomona Catholic.

Dear Abby...

He Sounds Like a Store Dummy!

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I was in a big store shopping for an Easter party. I was picking up bunnies and chicks and little things for table decorations. I couldn't hold everything in my hands so I asked the floor manager if he would give me a sack, while I shopped some more. He said, "No" and I said, "Why not?" He said, "Because you could walk out the door without paying for them." I said, "If that was my intention I would have brought my own sack." He just turned his back on me. I am still plenty burned up about this and if I had more time I'd have dumped everything on the counter and shopped elsewhere. Don't you think a good store should provide baskets for their shoppers?

STILL MAD

DEAR STILL: Indeed I do. And the store where you shopped also could have provided a more tactful floor manager.

DEAR ABBY: A lady wrote to your column and complained that her husband "lost" four hankies in one week. Well, I have her beat. My husband lost two pair of underwear in three days! He comes home drunk and can't remember anything. When I accuse him of running arounds he says I'm crazy. How should I handle this? HAD IT

DEAR HAD: Go with him and see that he doesn't lose his shirt.

DEAR ABBY: I went to my doctor for a check-up and he said I should lose ten pounds and he put me on a diet. My husband does not think I am overweight and said if I lost ten pounds I would be a bag of bones and he would have to shake the sheets to find me. Should I obey my doctor or my husband?

DEAR AUDREY: On matters of your health, listen to your doctor. Your husband is still dreaming about the Gibson girl.

AUDREY

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were asked to be Godparents for a baby who was born to some so-so friends of ours. I don't mean to be snobbish, but we can't imagine why they asked us because we rarely see them and surely they must have closer friends than we are. My husband says to tell them we would rather not be Godparents and I say we should go through with it and get it over with. Have you any suggestions? By the way, what are the obligations and duties of Godparents, anyway?

JUST FRIENDS

DEAR JUST: Call their clergyman and find out exactly what the "duties and obligations" of Godparents are in their church. If you do not want the responsibility, by all means decline in a few very diplomatic words.

Are you getting along with your parents? Get ABBY'S booklet, "What Every Teenager Wants to Know." Send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed stamped envelope to ABBY care of this newspaper.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Chemicals Used in Detergents Given Credit For Many Unusual Properties, Some Save Lives

By VINCENT J. BURKE
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A government medical researcher reported today that a chemical used in manufacturing household detergents has unusual properties which:

—Are credited with saving a life the first time the compound was used in human medication last Friday.

—May prove of value in inhibiting fatigue.

—May enable man to increase his tolerance to carbon dioxide, thereby enabling him to live more comfortably in submarines and sealed vehicles designed for space travel.

—Offer hope of a possible new and superior treatment for acidosis. This is a condition of the blood and tissues which follows many afflictions, including cases of children who accidentally swallow too many aspirins and older persons with respiratory difficulties.

Chemical "Appears Promising"

The scientist is Dr. Gabriel G. Nahas, 39, chief of the respiratory section of the Walter Reed Army Institute of Research. He laid out the first results of his experiments in highly technical language two weeks ago. He published his findings in Science, the official journal of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Nahas, a French citizen who plans soon to apply for American citizenship, then discussed his findings today for the first time in layman's language in an interview with United Press International.

He said his experiments have demonstrated that the chemical—known as T-H-A-M in chemical shorthand—stimulates elimination from the body of toxic waste materials, including carbon dioxide and acids such as lactic acid.

"It appears promising," he said, "but a lot more work must be performed before anyone can be certain it will prove of lasting and permanent value."

Saves Woman's Life

The drug was used in human medication for the first time at Henry Ford Hospital at Detroit, Mich. last Friday and apparently saved the life of a young woman after all known methods had failed to revive her from a coma.

The drug was administered because attending physicians had read Nahas' article in Science a week earlier. They telephoned Nahas last Friday to report that the young woman had undergone a heart operation and was suffering from carbon dioxide intoxication because her lungs were not functioning properly.

They learned that new laboratory tests had confirmed Nahas' findings on (apparent) non-toxicity of the drug. Nahas advised them how to use it.

On Tuesday, Nahas received a telephone call from the hospital reporting that the woman was "on the road to recovery" with saving hope.

Progress Made in Leukemia Battle Should Please Present Day Inhabitant

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (UPI) — Inhabitants of this present atomic age should be very happy that science is working hard and making progress with leukemia, the utterly incurable cancer of the blood.

Radiation, the inevitable accompaniment of the atomic age, causes leukemia. Of that there hardly is any doubt. The good news is that science now has a most plausible clue as to how radiation does it.

Suppose leukemia is caused by a virus. If so, it may be a virus which sleeps harmlessly in untold multitudes — until something happens which awakens it into death-dealing malignancy. Radiation may be a something.

This supposing stems from the pioneering work of Dr. Ludwik Gross which has convinced most cancer scientists, including the most skeptical, that at least one leukemia — a leukemia of mice—is caused by a virus. Gross' proof published several years ago was as positive as proof can be in this difficult field.

Gross told a seminar for science writers, sponsored by the American Cancer Society, on the newest findings in cancer research, that a leukemia induced in mice (of a kind which rarely produces spontaneous leukemia) by radiation with X-rays can be transmitted to other mice by injecting them with a tissue extract of the irradiated mice from which everything filterable has been filtered out. Presumably what is left are viruses since these leukemic viruses (of mice) go through the finest filter.

One shouldn't jump to conclusions on this because Gross doesn't. Scientist that he is, he awaits the evidence coming from the experiments which will be based on this one. But on the matter of radiation being a cause of leukemia, the panel of leukemia experts who briefed the science writers, thought everyone should know the facts.

Dr. Cornelius P. Rhoads, research director of the Sloan-Kettering Institute, New York, who served as their chairman, showed statistically that the rate for new cases of human leukemia had almost tripled in the last 50 years which saw first the bludgeoning of X-ray and radium irradiation and more recently the radiations arising from atomic bombs and atomic reactors.

Nevertheless, leukemia still is a comparatively rare disease and the scientists didn't want to scare anybody. Rather, they were concerned lest some person who needed an X-ray so a doctor could diagnose an ailment, might refuse out of fear. What the scientists had in mind was to encourage ever-lasting vigilance in people concerned with atomic reactors and bombs and in professional handlers of X-rays, and to let everyone know that this is a possible hazard of the atomic age.

Lower Retail Food Prices Seen For Year by Agriculture Department

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department said today retail food prices are likely to average a little lower this year than in 1958 when they were at an all-time high.

The department forecast a small reduction in prices because of prospective larger supplies of pork, eggs and, at least during the first half of 1959, of fresh citrus fruits and vegetables.

There appeared to be little cause for joy among grocery-buying housewives and producers, however, because the department forecast said "marketing charges for food are likely to increase this year." This means a smaller farm share of the consumer's food dollar, a bigger take for the middleman, and less savings for the housewife.

The department said in its publication, "The National Food Situation," that per capita consumption likely would recover from the decline of last year when supplies of some foods were temporarily reduced.

The per capita increases will be mostly in pork, lard, chicken and, possibly, lamb and mutton. The consumption rate for beef likely will be 81 pounds per person compared with 79.7 pounds last year. The rate for veal is forecast at 6.7 pounds, compared with 6.8 pounds in 1958.

The consumption rate of pork will jump to a whopping 66 pounds compared with 60.6 pounds last year. The eating of lamb and mutton is expected to go up from 4.1 pounds per person to 4.4 pounds.

Consumption of chicken will jump from 28.2 pounds to 29.8 pounds, the department said.

Thieves Show Some Honor In London Crime

LONDON (UPI) — There is honor of a sort among thieves after all, and Scotland Yard was getting plenty of help today from the underworld in its effort to find the burglar who broke into the home of Sir Winston Churchill.

Whoever the thief was, and he has few friends left, he got away with $28,000 in furs and jewelry, thus dampening the celebrations today for Lady Churchill's 74th birthday.

Underworld "narks" — Stoolpigeons — believe the burglar was too young to know there is a curious code of honor about the home of the nation's wartime savior. Or else padding silently about "millionaires row" he found an unguarded house and broke in without knowing the identity of the owner.

In either case, he did a disservice to the nation and even worse, to the underworld. Sir Winston, who is vacationing in the south of France, has his town house in the most regularly burgled area of the capital. The house next door to his has been robbed 14 times.

Now the entire area is alive with police and special guards and it will be a long time before it is safe for any burglar.

IN NAME ONLY

'Gongstairs' Meet One Day Defeat in Paris

By DICK DAVIS
United Press International

PARIS (UPI)—French "gangsters" (pronounced gongstair) were nearly wiped out in Paris recently but in name only.

"La strip-tease," an art form much admired in France, shimmied and bumped away in the Paris hot spots but people suddenly started calling it "deshabillage" instead.

It was the big event for "purification" of the French language, part of a nationwide campaign to stop Frenchmen from borrowing words from other languages, mainly English.

The campaign was launched by an organization of patriotic linguists known as the office of the French Vocabulary (OVF) and for 24 hours the OVF clamped a tight watch on the language used all across France.

Called "Bad Boys"

One startling result was that all mention of gangsters vanished from the newspaper crime pages. Instead newspapers resorted to such 19th Century terms as "repousseurs" or even "mauvais garcons" which is simply French for "bad boys."

One of the most noticeable disappearances was the word "strip-tease," pronounced streeptix, from the amusement ads. One of the most startling was the disappearance of "pipeline," (pronounced peepleen). It became "oleoducs" for 24 hours at least.

Though a big network of OVF watchbirds were watching, there were plenty of fumbles.

In the sports pages of staid, carefully written newspapers like the conservative Figaro there was talk about "rugbymen." The Communist daily Humanite filled an account of a future boxing bout with "match-makers." Words like "outsider" and "handicap" crept into the pages.

Radio Ignores Campaign

Terms like "plus value" crept into the financial columns. One newspaper used "music hall" in a big black headline.

On the radio, suave radio announcers paid little attention to the OVF program but used words like "sexy" and "stars" which the Frenchman understands perfectly well.

Meanwhile in daily life business was booming at "snack bars" and "milk bars" where people ordered "sandwiches" (pronounced sondveech) without batting an eye.

However they asked for "chiens chauds' at places that serve hot dogs. But they always have, so this was not an OVF victory.

The OVF said it was not a narrow-minded organization, it said it just wants Frenchmen to respect their mother tongue which was once the international language of diplomacy — and "l'amour."

'Pure Japanese Language' Day Would Bring Silence to Country

TOKYO (UPI) — If somebody in Tokyo decided to take a cue from the French and decree a "pure Japanese language day," the Japanese might find themselves struck dumb.

If silence didn't reign, chaos might.

For in modern times English has become the adopted second tongue of the Japanese. Words like "restoran" (restaurant), "hoteru" (hotel) and more than a thousand others have passed into common usage.

The Japanese probably could get through a whole day without using a single English word, but the strain might be killing.

The housewife leaving her "apato" (apartment house) to do some shopping at the "depato" (department store) might have a tough time explaining where she was going if she couldn't use some adopted English.

Her husband would have an even tougher time taking her out to dinner. "Restoran," of course, is out.

But so is the silverware—the "naifu" and "foku"—and much of the menu. No "bifu-teki," or beefsteak; no "katsuretsu," cutlets; no "kakuteru" before dinner, no "kohi" or "keiki" afterward.

This ancient tongue simply wasn't meant to expand along with modern-day innovations. The Kanji characters have stayed pretty much the same since they were brought over from China more than 1,000 years ago, except for some simplifications.

California Tops Nation In Health Insurance

NEW YORK (UPI) — California led the nation in the amount of health insurance benefits received from insurance companies in 1958, according to the Health Insurance Institute here.

The institute said insurance companies paid state residents over 316 million dollars to help cover the cost of hospital and doctor bills, and to replace income lost through sickness or disability.

New York state was second to California with 272 million dollars in benefits.

The benefit payments to Californians represented an increase of 11.8 per cent over the 1957 figure of 282 million dollars.

Sites Sought For Water Conversion Plants

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A. L. Miller, director of the office of saline water, said today staff engineers will start immediately to inspect sites being considered for the five saline water conversion demonstration plants authorized by Congress.

Miller said more than 100 cities and communities have shown interest in having the plants located in their areas.

The Interior Department has elected the long tube-vertical multiple effect distillation process for the first demonstration plant. Secretary of Interior Fred A. Seaton will select the second process to be tested on or before June 2, and the remaining three processes at no more than three-month intervals thereafter.

The department has been authorized to spend 10 million dollars to build five saline water conversion demonstration plants for the production from sea water or brackish water of water suitable for agricultural, industrial, municipal, and other beneficial consumptive uses.

Three plants will be designed for the conversation of sea water. They will be located on the East, West and Gulf coasts. Two processes will be selected for the treatment of brackish water. One will be located in the arid areas of the Southwest and the other in the Northern Great Plains.

The first demonstration plant is being designed to convert sea water into fresh. Under the law, it will be located in one of the three coastal areas.

A Better World for ALL People

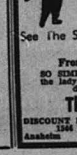

"The Golden Rule of doing unto others as you would have others do unto you is found in the teachings of all the great religions of the world. The principle of the Golden Rule has found universal acceptance. Here is a religious teaching that can unite the people of the world in their efforts to achieve a better life and a better world. More and more people want this kind of religion. A religion that teaches us to share the good things of life with all other people can fulfill the fondest hopes of mankind."

You've just read an advance excerpt from tomorrow's sermon "Good Living is Good Religion." Rev. Grant Butler will deliver it to the Unitarian Society of Orange County at 9:30 a.m. and again at 11 a.m. Services are held at Fairmont School, 11341 Mable St., Anaheim, E. of the freeway E. of Euclid. Religious education classes at both services.

Write for "Religious Education Prospectus" and the booklet "Introducing Unitarianism." Drop a card to Rev. Butler, 323 W. Vermont Ave., Anaheim, PR. 9-9415.

Attention, Orange residents! A neighborhood discussion on Unitarianism, its beliefs, origins, ministers will be held at 8 p.m. this Sunday at the Grace Fawthrop residence, 208 N. Cambridge, Orange. All interested persons are welcome.

Delighted at their classmates situation on the Orange Coast College farm are first grade students from Lindbergh School in the background. Finding answers for the questions that came from 30 first graders was the problem of Elgin L. Hall, chairman of the College agriculture division. Accompanying the children on their field trip were six mothers and three teachers. On their excursion around the campus the first graders also visited the feed mill and the poultry area, poultry dressing plant, the ornamental horticulture section and a new class room building under construction.

All-States Group Sets Date For 'Buddy' Plan

The All States organization Inc., starts the first of the "Buddy" plan Sunday April 5 2 p.m. at the Ontario Fire Station 119 S. Euclid Ave. The group for the first "Buddy" meeting will be Ohio, Illinois and Virginia.

The object of the "Buddy" system is to create more interest among state groups, better relation between states, keener competition in flost construction, and a general higher standard of All States picnic and parade each year.

Any state planning a meeting is requested to notify Winfield F. Wheeler 2224 W. Sunkist St. Ontario YUkon 62-9373. All States Picnic; Inc. publicity chairman.

Baptist Growth Noted

The latest statistics received by the Baptist World Alliance, Washington, D.C., show that there are over 22-million Baptists throughout the world in more than 100 countries. The totals by geographic areas show that there are 280,000 in Africa, 718,000 in Asia, 52,000 in Australia and Oceania, 105,000 in Central America and the West Indies, 1,135,000 in Europe, 147,000 in South America, and 19,900,000 in North America.

Mater Dei High School To Present First Play, 'Two's a Crowd' for Three-Day Run April 12

April 12, 13, and 14 are the dates set for two hours of merriment and glee when the senior class of Mater Dei presents its first class play, "Two's a Crowd" in the Mater Dei Auditorium.

The first performance set for Sunday afternoon, April 12th is scheduled for the different religious orders of Orange County while the Monday and Tuesday evening's performances are both open to the general public with curtain time pegged at eight o'clock.

The play, a three act comedy by Douglass F. Parkehirst centers around the Maxwell family of Clarkstown, USA, and when Dick, Patrica, and Dot Maxwell find themselves "in charge" of their home during the unexplained absence of their mother, Patrica persuades her brother and sister to rent rooms to "Tourists"—thereby easing the family's supposed need for funds.

Mamie Beggs, maid, cook, amateur detective, and also one of the funniest characters to ever grace a stage, refuses to become involved, but when the house is full of a great assortment of would-be-tenants. Mamie invdives everyone by suddenly developing a case of measles, which quarantines the whole crowd for two weeks.

Although Maime is sure the mysterious Albert Wilson, his wife, and glamorous daughter, Annabelle, are criminals, Annabelle becomes the unwilling means of bringing romance to Dot Maxwell and Michael Street, handsome young guest.

Finally, Patrica's love-lorn slave, red headed Willie Peabody, also an unintended guest, stumbles on the key to the Wilson mystery and just as Patrica decides people are pretty easy to get along with after all, a surprise ending brings the play to an unexpected and riotously funny climax.

Mater Dei students to win roles in the offering are Nancy Webb as Patrica Maxwell, Edie Driscoll as the mother, Emily Maxwell, Larry Mack as Richard Maxwell, Diane Bouchard as Dot Maxwell, John Kelly as Willie Peabody, Bob Lukey as Wilbur Street, Maurice Mounig as Michael Street, Joey Baltazaor as Albert Wilson, Gloria Jannell as Annabelle Wilson, Kathy Geoghegan as Hortense Wilson, Bob Webber as Doctor Webster, John Hazard as the little boy, Pam Benton as the little girl, and Maeva Hutter as the fat woman.

Tickets are on sale now and may be purchased from any senior at Mater Dei High or at the Mater Dei High School office. Since there is limited seating in the Mater Dei auditorium, people are urged to buy their tickets early.

A hundred years ago, a cast-to-coast trip by train and stage-coach took 600 hours. Forty-five years later, a train could do it in 100 hours. Thirty-five years after that, a plane could make the trip in 16 hours. Today, jets do it in four and a half hours.

Casa Colina Board of Trustees Contribute to Building Fund

Contributions of $40,765.75 to the Casa Colina building fund by members of the board of trustees were announced today by Stephen I. Zetterberg, president of the Chino crippled children's center.

Casa Colina is currently engaged in a drive to raise $700,000 to aid in the construction of a $1,300,000 center for the treatment of handicapped children and adults on a new site in Pomona.

"Being closest to the situation, it is only fitting that the board should take the lead in giving," Zetterberg said, "and we are very proud of the very real financial sacrifice many of our members have made in addition to giving hours of their time in service."

He explained that the men and women making up the board of trustees are all volunteers, civic, and professional leaders who serve without compensation in directing the affairs of the crippled children home. The board members make major policy decision, review the work of the professional staff, and lead the way in their various communities of origin in gaining financial support for the charitable work carried on.

Board members represent communities from all over Casa Colina's service area, which embraces eastern Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Orange and Riverside counties.

HLKY In Fifth Year

The Protestant broadcasting station HLKY in Seoul, Korea, now beginning its fifth year of religious and musical broadcasts to Koreans and American servicemen, is installing a relay station in Taegu, 200 miles south of Seoul.

Within a year, programs prepared on tape in Seoul will be broadcast daily over a new 250-watt transmitter in Taegu to some of the greatest listeners now cut off by mountains from broadcasts. The Taegu station HLKY will be the first of a proposed Christian network in Korea.

Experts To Discuss Far Eastern Problems at Whittier Institute

Six experts on Far Eastern problems make up the faculty of the two-day Whittier Institute of International Relations meeting April 10 and 11 at Whittier College.

Theme of the Institute is "The Far East in Crisis."

Featured speakers at the Institute, which is sponsored for the 25th time by the American Friends Service Committee, are Dr. Robert North of Stanford University and Carroll Alcott, news analyst and veteran China newsman.

North will open the Institute Friday, April 10, at 8 p.m., speaking on "Background for Revolution—How was China 'Lost'?"

Alcott will give the closing address Saturday night at 8 p.m. on "America's Response and Responsibility." All meetings are in Stauffer Hall.

Chairman of the event, which has been changed from summer to spring to allow student participation, is Dr. Randolph Fyle of Whittier College. Moderator will be Dr. Harry Nerhood of the college.

Mark Panel

A panel symposium on "China on the Move" Saturday will feature a discussion by Dr. Merrill Goodall, Claremont Graduate School; Dr. Douglas Mendel, UCLA; Dr. Robert North, and Dr. Shao Chi Yuan of USC.

A panel roundtable on "United Nations Dilemma: Two Chinas" on Saturday will present views of Dr. Ross Berkes, USC, and other regular faculty members.

Dr. Robert North is research associate at the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace, Stanford University; specialist in Soviet Relations with Asia; author, "Kuomintang and Chinese Communist Elites," and "Soviet Russia and the East." He received Ford and Rockefeller grants for Indian and Asian studies, 1953-1954.

Carroll Alcott, KNX-CBS news analyst, was for 14 years a news correspondent, editor and broadcaster in China. In the 1930's his regular English broadcasts out of Shanghai so incensed the Japanese they tried to assassinate him.

The public is invited to attend the Institute. Registration and $3 fee should be mailed to the AFSC, P. O. Box 991, Pasadena.

Harvey Mudd College Adds to Staff Three New Teachers of English, Math, Chemistry

Harvey Mudd College has added three new faculty members to its staff, according to an announcement by Dr. Joseph B. Platt, president.

Dr. David Scott Sanders, instructor of English for the past three years at the University of Maryland, has been appointed assistant professor of English. Dr. Courtney S. Coleman, assistant professor of mathematics at Wesleyan University, will be assistant professor of mathematics at HMC. Named instructor of chemistry is Mitsuru Kugota, who has been a teaching assistant at the University of Illinois and at the University of Hawaii.

Professor Sanders, who received his degrees at the University of California at Los Angeles, was teaching assistant at UCLA, while working for his doctorate.

His forthcoming publications include a book, "Pattern of Rejection," a study of John Dos Passos and James Farrell, American novelists with reference to Communist literary appeals from 1919 to 1949, which is with the University of California Press.

Professor Coleman, who holds degrees from the University of California, Berkeley, and Princeton University, before becoming assistant professor in mathematics at Wesleyan, was an instructor there; teaching assistant and instructor at Princeton.

Kubota, a native of Hawaii, received degrees from the University of Hawaii and the University of Illinois. He is presently a candidate for his doctorate at the latter institution. His field of research has been in the investigation of structures of Lewis type addition compounds

New Orleans, founded in 1718, was named for the Regent of France, Duc d'Orleans.

Christian Scientists To Hear Sermon on Fable, Fact Tomorrow

Delineation between the false and true is the paramount consideration of the lesson-sermon entitled "Unreality" to be heard in all Christian Science churches on Sunday morning. The golden text, from Psalms declares, "Thou hast dealt well with thy servant, O Lord, according unto thy word . . . Through thy precepts I get understanding: therefore I hate every false way."

Selections from the Bible and from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, affirm man's recourse to the divine law to insure freedom from unjust sentences decreed for the transgressing of ocalled mortal laws.

"Jesus went about all Galilee," it is recorded in Matthew, "teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people."

"God is the lawmaker," asserts Mrs. Eddy in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, "but He is not the author of barbarous codes." Later she says, "Christ Jesus overruled the error which would impose penalties for transgressions of the physical laws of health; he annulled supposed laws of matter, opposed to the harmonies of Spirit, lacking divine authority and having only human approval for their sanction."

A small town called Icostum was once located on the site of what is now Algiers. It had a Christian bishop as late as the fifth century, but disappeared before the present city was founded in 944 A.D.

The Great Clock at Westminster Palace in London — more commonly known throughout the world as "Big Ben" — started ticking on May 31, 1859. Its famous bell, however, didn't begin to toll until the following July 11.

First Baptists To Welcome 40 New Members

Sunday morning, April 5, A. J. Harms, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Garden Grove, will extend the right hand of fellowship to 40 new members of the church. His sermon topic will be "Manna for the Soul". The ordinance of the Lord's Supper will also be observed.

A series of most helpful expositions of the Book of The Acts of Apostles are being given. At the evening services, this week's subject, taken from the 12th chapter, will be entitled, "The Iron Gate Opened." Dr. Harms also will bring helpful Bible studies on Wednesday evenings at 7:30 p.m. Each week he is presenting one of the greatest chapters of the Bible.

The Youth of the Church, under the guidance of Dick Westfall, director of Youth Activities, and Donald Faulkner, director of Christian Education, have planned an installation banquet, (in the form of a barbecue) at the home of the teacher, Fred Davis, 1146 Wakefield Ave., Anaheim, tonight.

The newly elected officers and chairmen of the Baptist Youth Fellowship will be installed as follows: President, Danny Young Vice-president, Laura Lenau; Secretary-treasurer, Linda Hanard; Citizenship Chairman, Ricky Langdon; Faith Chairman, Pat Sorling; Outreach Chairman, Mike Perry; Witness Chairman, Betty Lloyd.

The Nicene Creed is the statement of the Christian faith set forth at the Council of Nicaea, A.D. 325.

Dr. Gordon Hynes will visit Chester Avenue Baptist Church, Bakersfield for the morning service; Dr. Frank W. Thompson, morning service at Burbank First Baptist, evening service at Calvary Baptist of Pasadena and he will also speak at Shnland First Baptist on April 26.

Dr. Ralph E. Hone, evening service at Corona First Baptist; Rev. R. Merrill Jensen, evening service at San Diego First Baptist; and Dr. Edwin S. Gaustad, morning service at Claremont First Baptist on April 19.

Here and There

A Benefit Spaghetti Supper will be served at the Anaheim Elks Lodge, sponsored by the club for the benefit of Troop 75. Funds will be used to buy new tents for the Troop. April 7, 6:00 to 7:30 p.m. Cost $1.00 each adult, 65 cents children under 12. Tickets available at Elks Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. John Laiturl and children have returned from the East, after spending a year and a half there. They will make their home at 8335 Dale Ave., and will again be members of the First Methodist Church.

Welcomed this week at the St. Jude Hospital, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith of 339 W. Whiting, Fullerton, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Forrest and the Rev. and Mrs. Oran Smith, all of Fullerton. The baby has been named Lori Kay.

Orange Coast College industrial relations classes will have the opportunity to hear about the grievance procedure in the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, when John E. Cleary, a company representative, visits the class at 11 a.m. April 8. Cleary, general plant personnel supervisor of the company, will also give students time for a question and answer period. The class is taught by Miss Frances Potter, business education major.

Hospital Association To Hold Convention In Missouri in June

The 44th annual convention of The Catholic Hospital Association of the United States and Canada will be held at Kiel auditorium, St. Louis, Mo., June 1-4. Pre-convention meetings will be held May 30-31.

The theme of this year's convention will be "Management: A Sacred Trust." Nationally known speakers from the health and hospital field and industry will be featured during the convention.

The Rev. John J. Flanagan, S. J., executive director of the Association said the entire program has been designed for all hospital personnel who have supervisory responsibilities. "It will develop basic general principles of management applicable to all departments in the hospital", he said, "Most important of all, the principles and techniques of management will be presented in terms of what they can contribute to the needs of patients and in keeping with a Christian response to these needs."

About 3,000 Religious, who staff the Catholic hospitals throughout the U.S. and Canada, are expected to attend.

Jewish Passover Services Set At Beth Emet

Ordinarily, Passover and Easter come about the same time in the Spring. This year, Passover comes late, April 23-30, due to the Jewish Calendar Leap Year, which adds an entire month before Passover.

The biblical Book of Exodus explains the origin of Passover. It is the story of the enslavement of the Children of Israel in Egypt by Pharoah, and the deliverance through leadership of Moses and Aaron.

Passover is celebrated for an entire week, and its characteristic custom is the eating of unleavened food.

On the first two nights of the holiday, ceremonial meals called the "Seder" are arranged in the homes. Often a few families gather and eat the Seder meals together.

For those who do not plan Seder meals in their homes, Temple Beth Emet 400 N. Emily Street, the Conservative Jewish Congregation of Orange County, has arranged Seder Meal Services in the Temple. These will be conducted by Rabbi Aaron J. Tofield and Cantor Philip Moddel on Wednesday Night, April 22, and Thursday Night April 23.

All of the traditional ceremonies will be performed, and the meals will be strictly Kosher. For reservations call Chairman Seymour Elias, KE 5-2606, or the Temple Office, KE 5-9350.

Design Awards Won by Episcopal Churches

Three Episcopal Church structures captured prizes at the annual competition for contemporary designs of religious buildings of the Church Architectural Guild of America.

An award for architectural excellence, churches or synagogues, went to St. Barnabas Episcopal Church, Greenwich, Conn.

Merit awards also went to St. Nicholas Chapel of the Episcopal Seamen's Center Building, San Pedro, Calif., and St. Mark's chapel for Episcopal students and faculty at the University of Connecticut, Storrs.

The awards were presented at a conference sponsored by the guild and the National Council of Churches.

St. Philip's Guild Observes First Founders Day

The first Founders Day for the St. Philip Benizi Ladies Guild was celebrated at a meeting and program that was held this week. Guest present were from the three local parishes. Father M. L. Ortmann, O.S.M. opened the meeting with a prayer and gave the opening speech welcoming the distinguished guests that were present.

Mrs. Herbert Gruzel, president presided over the brief business meeting. A history of the guild was given by the guild's publicity chairman Mrs. Ted. Krae. Among the guild's countless accomplishments this past year, was the fact that Dr. Maurice F. Mullville M. D. has officially become the Doctor for the St. Philip School. His fine work for the school is greatly appreciated.

Father Philip Brennan O.S.M. gave a brief talk. The faculty of St. Philip School was represented by Mrs. Charles Rak and Mrs. Julius Malik, both of whom are second grade teachers at the school.

Sister Mary Dolores, Principal of St. Philip's who was out of town was represented by Sister St. Stephen and Sister Mary Ruth at the Founders day program. In the absence of Sister Mary Dolores, Sister St. Stephen accepted a check for a Rexograph machine for the school. And thanked the Guild for this much needed gift. Father Ortmann was also presented a gift in the form of a check. He announced that it would be used to help furnish the new Church when it is completed.

Guests for the evening included Mrs. Edwin Erickson, president of St. Mary's Mother's Guild, Mrs. William Flaherty, first vice president, Mrs. Matthew Wlodarski, third vice president and Mrs. Trudy Taylor, program chairman; also of St. Mary's Mother's Guild, Mrs. Frank Drews of St. Pius Parish and Mrs. Melvin Johnson of St. Boniface Parish.

Methodists of Finland

The Methodists of Finland, are observing during 1959 the one-hundredth anniversary of Methodism in their country. One of the first events of the centennial year was the dedication of a new church in the coastal town of Loviisa on the Baltic Sea. The new church, which was built in part through the labors of the pastor, the Rev. Harry Svenson, and members of his congregation, will serve Swedish-speaking people.

DESTINATION: Church

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Psalms	42	1-4
Monday	Psalms	55	14
Tuesday	Psalms	84	1-12
Wednesday	John	21	1-14
Thursday	John	21	15-25
Friday	I Corinthians	15	1-28
Saturday	Revelation	1	1-20

Mother's wearing her smart new hat, Susan's curls are brushed till they shine, and Dad's looking pretty sharp, himself, in that pale gray suit.

If the Browns look like a family starting out on a pleasure ride — well, that's exactly what they're about to do. They're going to church.

The Browns are regular churchgoers. But this is their secret. They go to church not only because they feel they should, but because they want to. Church, for them, is one of the most joyous occasions of the week.

No one ever said that going to church had to be a glum, long-faced affair. Going to church isn't a duty. It's a privilege.

Make church your destination this Sunday. And go joyfully.

DEATH WEAPON — This is the .25-caliber revolver which Connie Nicholas is accused of having used to kill her former lover, Forrest Teel, in Indianapolis. Teel was killed by three bullets. The defense contends that the shooting was accidental.

COMMON COLD VACCINE SEEN

CHICAGO (UPI) — A researcher has predicted a vaccine which will prevent most common colds will be available within the next two years.

But he added he does not expect the age-old malady to be wiped out, because "people are people."

"I realize I stuck my neck out," said Dr. Thomas G. Ward, professor of virology at Notre Dame University. His report appeared in the current issue of Today's Health, an American Medical Association publication.

No drug on the market can be considered effective against colds, Ward said. But he believes a vaccine can be developed against 60 to 70 per cent of all colds caused by bacteria or a virus.

About 20 per cent of common colds are really due to allergies or wishful thinking, he said.

Ward said he believed the vaccine would not be entirely effective because "people are not going to take the vaccine, just as they are not taking the polio vaccine."

Final Jail Building Plans Due for County

SANTA ANA (OCNS) — Final plans for a 400-inmate auxiliary county jail near the county hospital are to be submitted to county supervisors about May 1, Willis Warner, board chairman, said today.

Upon approval of the detailed drawings, supervisors will then advertise for construction bids. Actual work on the site could get underway in June.

The jail is to be built on Placentia Ave., near Lampson Ave., adjacent to the County Animal Shelter.

It will relieve severe overcrowding in the old county jail in downtown Santa Ana.

Anaheim Dentists Join County Hospital Staff

ORANGE (OCNS) — Three more Orange County dentists, Dr. William Keesecker of Anaheim, Dr. Donald R. Tiedtke of Anaheim, and Dr. Wallace C. Kvilvang of San Clemente have joined the volunteer staff of the Orange County General Hospital.

There are now 170 dentists throughout the county who donate a half day service to the dental care of persons unable to pay for treatment. Most of the patients are children referred by school nurses or social workers.

The drive, part of a statewide program, will be from May 1 to 10 and will be under the direction of the Orange County Republican Central Committee chairmanned by Coalson C. Morris of Anaheim. Heil, an Orange County farmer, was born in the county and is now an active partner with his brother in operating the family farm. He is a graduate of Pomona College and has a master's degree from Stanford University.

FBI Director Named Year's 'Humanitarian'

LAS VEGAS (UPI) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover today was named "Humanitarian of the Year" by the Variety Club International, worldwide organization of entertainment industry persons.

Formal announcement of Hoover's designation will be made tonight at the new Las Vegas Convention Center where 1,200 delegates end their annual convention with a heart fund dinner.

Variety clubs are dedicated to humanitarian activities.

Hoover was chosen because of his "tremendous and continuing contributions in the fight against juvenile delinquency," according to Edward Shafton, Omaha, Neb., attorney who headed Variety's Awards Committee.

Prince Charles Battles Chicken Pox Attack

WINDSOR, England (UPI)—The Prince of Wales, 10-year-old son and heir of Queen Elizabeth, came down with chicken pox today, first day of the Easter school holiday.

The husky young heir to the throne was not seriously ill and the royal doctors said no further bulletins will be issued on his condition.

He will rest quietly in bed in Windsor Castle and watch his favorite cowboy programs on television. These include "Wells Fargo" and "Maverick."

Dr. Richard May, surgeon apothecary to the royal household at Windsor, said if the disease ran its normal course Charles would spend 10 days in bed and 10 days recuperation.

Anaheimers Injured In Traffic Collisions

Two persons today are recovering from minor injuries received in two different car accidents.

Released after treatment in Anaheim Memorial Hospital was Ellen Page, 28, 10282 Ramblewood Dr.

According to police she was driving south on Knott when a collision occurred with Jeffrey L. Smith, 16, 518 Santa Ana Ave., Newport Beach, who was driving west on Orange.

Treated by her own doctor was Joy Dean Vandruff, 27, 722 S. Birchleaf Ave.

The accident happened at Ball and Velase Thursday.

Police said that Mrs. Vandruff was driving west on Ball and Jack O. Ford, 18, 808 S. Verona, was driving also west on Ball when they apparently collided.

Child Beating Trial Set for Orange Dad

By Orange County News Service

The preliminary trial of Nicholas Swanson, 38, of 13591 Compton, Orange, charged with sticking a bar of soap in his step - daughters mouth and then beating the 6 - year old child, has been set for April 13 in the Santa Ana-Orange Municipal Court.

The aircraft worker, whose bail has been set at $3,500, is reported in Orange County jail today.

The victim of the beating was little Christine Doty, who was reportedly black and blue after the alleged beating given her by Swanson.

He assertedly grabbed her by the legs, lifted her so that her head touched the ground, then beat her with a strap.

Hubby's Loaded Rifle Causes Hassle For Wife

FULLERTON (OCNS) — A young Anaheim housewife was taken handcuffed to police headquarters at 3:40 p.m., Thursday, after a loaded shotgun, an unloaded rifle, a hunting knife and a metal sap were discovered in her car, but she was released when officers found no crime to match their suspicions.

The "apprehension" in the 200 block of N. Spadra Rd., drew a crowd of several hundred persons. Police said they stopped the passing car, after hearing a county-wide broadcast for information on the car.

Officers said a bullet hole was in the right wind wing. The rifles were on the back seat floor, covered with a shirt and the knife was in the trunk.

The woman was released after she told officers her husband had used the weapons to go hunting recently. She apparently did not know one of the weapons was loaded, police said.

Countian Comes Out Best In Road Hassle

By Orange County News Service

A judgment pertaining to an eminent domain suit that had been under advisement, was given Thursday by Superior Judge Robert Kneeland. The case involves a parcel of land along the south side of Katella east of Placentia, which is sought by the county for highway purposes.

Judge Kneeland awarded property owner Ray Bivens $15,300, plus $10,000 for severance to the balance on the property. Another $10,000 was awarded for improvements on the property.

The judge also awarded the defendant special benefits for improvements on the property. He will received interest on the price of the property since 1957, it was ruled.

RINK AS IN DRINK

MOSCOW (UPI)—Stars A. Cherepanov and A. Kutchevsky have been excluded from the Soviet all-star ice hockey team for hitting the Vodka bottle, the newspaper Soviet Sport reported.

Chief trainer A. Tarasov said Kutchevsky's playing had been spotty while Cherepanov's wavered sharply "and he even showed signs of cowardice," on the ice. Both men were promised reinstatement if they gave up "their harmful habits."

Scout Organization Meetings Set for April 6

Interest in Boy Scouting is so strong in Magnolia School District that the PTA's of the Robert M. Pyles School and the Dr. Jonas E. Salk School have both scheduled organizational meetings for Monday evening, April 6 at 7:30 p.m. in their respective multi-purpose rooms to start new Scout units. The meeting at each school is open to parents whose sons are interested in scouting. It is the first of a series of three which are required of parents by the rules of the Boy Scouts to start any new unit and is designed to acquaint the parents with the various phases of Scouting.

The Robert M. Pyles School, which opened last fall, does not have any Boy Scout or Cub units as yet. However, the PTA voted in December of sponsor them and Thomas C. Hamlin was appointed Institutional Representative following their most recent meeting, which featured youth organizations.

The organizational meeting at Pyles Monday evening will be to definitely start a Cub Pack, and a Boy Scout troop if there is enough interest shown to warrant one, according to Mrs. Robert E. Huff, PTA youth chairman.

The Pyles meeting will be in charge of Fred Allison, chairman of the Organizational and Extension committee of the Boy Scouts, Hamlin, and Mrs. Huff.

The Salk School has no Boy Scout troop at present, although two Cub Packs meet there. The meeting at Salk School is to start a Boy Scout unit only. Boy Scouts range in age from 11 years up and Cub Scouts are from 8 years thru 10 years. Ed Smith with 17 years experience in Scouting is area commissioner and is making the arrangements for the meeting at the Salk school.

Petitions Circulate To Annex to Anaheim

A petition requesting annexation of the Tiller Rd. Area to Anaheim today is being circulated by Mrs. Beverly Boenau, 13272 Tiller Rd.

The annexation request entails some 140 homes. Mrs. Boenau told the Bulletin that two men were also circulating such a petition but were informing people falsely that they were included in Garden Grove annexation 74.

She said that the people didn't object to being annexed to Anaheim, but felt they were being misled.

The two men were not identified.

City officials today said that they never issued a petition request to any two men.

The officials said that they didn't know where the men obtained such a petition, as no record of it is in city hall.

Gifted Students To Be Aided By State Funds

California's secondary schools will get a $372,000 boost this spring in their continuing efforts toward maximum use of student learning power.

Roy E. Simpson, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, today announced first allocations from the fund, made available for distribution by the State Department of Education under Title V of Public Law 864.

Among the 57 allocations listed today is $2,900 to the Orange County Superintendent of schools.

More than 150 applications for the funds were received by the February 28 deadline. In addition to the 57 allocations announced today, totaling $131,166, another 40 will be announced next week. Action on the remaining 53 is anticipated following modification of the applications.

The money will be used to develop local programs for identification, guidance and encouragement of students with outstanding aptitudes and abilities. Public Law 864 contemplates financial assistance to states over a four-year period. The law, passed by the 85th Congress, is an effort to meet the need for capable persons in science, mathematics, languages and technical occupations related to the national security.

Distribution of funds by the Department of Education is on the basis of proposed local plans for secondary school use, as set forth in written applications. The $372,000 now being committed by the Department of Education is for use during the current school year, ending June 30, 1959. Actual distribution of moneys will be on a reimbursement basis following certification of expenditures.

Mighty Mite

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — When Jerry Barber used to step up to the tee and start matching shots with the professional giants of golf, little men everywhere took heart, for the California mite stands only five-five and weighs 137 pounds. Jerry retired from the tour in 1955 to take a job as a pro at the swank Wilshire Country Club here.

Hydrogen Rocket Fuel Pact Set in California

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The federal space agency today contracted for supplies of liquid hydrogen to power heavy satellite and space probe rockets and nuclear spacecraft of the future.

The contract, to run for five years, covers West Coast purchases of liquid hydrogen. It was awarded by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NSA) to the Linde Co., a division of the Union Carbide Corp.

Linde will expand its facilities at Torrance, Calif., and is scheduled to begin production of the powerful rocket fuel by next April.

Sophia Loren Tussle In Film Sprains Ankle

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Italian actress Sophia Loren was walking around today with a sprained arm, the result of a too-real struggle with actor Steve Forest during the filming of a motion picture.

Miss Loren and Forest had practiced the struggling scene for "Heller With A Gun" but when they went before the cameras Thursday the lovely actress complained of pain in her arm after the tussle.

She was taken to California Hospital where doctors X-rayed the arm and said they were treating it as a sprain although the e was a very slight possibility that one of the arm-bones had been cracked.

More X-rays were planned.

Two State Hospitals Receive Accreditation

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Dr. Daniel Blain, director of the State Department of Mental Hygeine, has announced the national accreditation of Agnews State Hospital for a three-year period.

The hospital was the second California facility named in recent weeks to the nationally select list of state hospitals given the recognition. Previously cited for full three-year accreditation was Porterville State Hospital for the mentally retarded.

U.S. Fathers Placed In 'Third Party' Role

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Social anthropologist Otto Von Mering of the University of Pittsburgh, today told fathers to "stop feeling rejected" and take it in their strides.

He said that American fathers are the middle guys, the mediators and the "third persons" in the family relationship today.

Dr. Von Mering noted that fathers begin to feel left out of the family when their wives appear to concentrate all their time on the children. He said the mother-child alliance is a natural "coalition" and papa usually retreats into the role of a "side-walk superintendent and Monday morning quarterback."

In doing so, Dr. Von Mering told the biannual meeting of the Family Service Assn. that the father "short changes" his children of the experiences that they need to grow to healthy maturity.

State Park Attendance Jumps To All-Time High

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Attendance at California's state-operated parks, beaches and monuments increased from about 11 million persons in 1956 to 20,058,774 persons in 1958.

According to the State Division of Beaches and Parks, an increase was noted to all lake State Parks. Turlock Lake State Park had an increase of 70,000; Folsom Lake increased 400,000; Millerton Lake, 800,000 and Salton Sea, 95,000.

Elsinore Lake State Park had an attendance of 204,000 in 1958, its first year of operation.

Among beach parks, the greatest increase was at Huntington Beach State Park, where 600,000 more persons, or a total of 1,366,641, used the facilities.

Among historical monuments, large increases were noted at Fort Ross, San Juan Bautista and Sutters Fort.

Mosk Appoints Man To Help Oust Ogle

At the request of the Orange County Grand Jury, Attorney General Stanley Mosk is assigning a member of his staff to assist in scheduled proceedings for the removal from office of County Counsel Joel Ogle.

Clarence A. Linn, Chief Assistant Attorney General in charge of the Division of Criminal Law and Enforcement, will participate in the people's case, Mosk said.

Trial of the civil charges, which allege willful misconduct in office, is scheduled to begin April 6, in Santa Ana Superior Court. The Grand Jury Asserts that Ogle violated his public trust in allegedly accepting valuable gifts from persons with whom he had official business.

Billy Graham Opens N. Zealand Crusade

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand (UPI) — American evangelist Billy Graham opened his New Zealand crusade before a crowd of 50,000 persons in Auckland tonight.

His address to the huge throng, one of the biggest gatherings in the history of Auckland, was relayed by headlines to cities and towns in all parts of the country. In Christchurch, one group of 80 prisoners listened to him on the radio and then returned to their jail cells.

Charles P. Pedrick, Jr., aviation electrician's mate third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Pedrick Sr., 2322 Glencrest Ave., returned to Norfolk, Va., recently with Fighter Squadron 71 aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Randolph after a six-month tour of duty with the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

This squadron, which flies the versatile F2H-4m "Banshee," gave air cover for the U.S. landings at Lebanon in August and took part in several major NATO exercises.

While aboard the Randolph, the squadron's personnel had liberty in Greece, Italy, France and Gibraltar.

Midshipman Gus. L. Keolanui, USN, class of '61, son of Mr. and Mr. Robert E. Bettenbender, 12292 Orangewood Ave., has been appointed to the Superintendent's List as the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., for scholastic accomplishments during the first term of the academic year 1958-59, it was announced recently.

The List is similar in many ways to the Dean's List at many colleges and universities. In order for a midshipman to be so honored, he must meet a minimum academic average of 3.3 (82.5 per cent) in his studies, have a mark no lower than 3.2 (80 per cent) in aptitude, and possess a conduct standing satisfactory to the Commandant of Midshipmen.

Those who achieve the distinction of making the Superintendent's List are granted special privileges commensurate with their class for the succeeding term. This also creates among the midshipmen an increased interest in doing well and taking deeper pride in their work.

Robert R. Arnold, apprentice petty officer second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Arnold, 2239 Falmouth Ave., graduated March 20 from Recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Deigo.

Apprentice petty officers are chosen from the ranks of the graduating recruits to assist Commanders in the routine of training for the fleet and shore installations.

The selection of apprentice petty officers is based on individual aptitude and leadership qualities.

Private First Class Richard D. Lippin, USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs James J. Lippin Jr., of 1404 E. Broadway, returned to Camp Lejeune, N. C. March 24, with the 2nd Battalion, 8th Marine Regiment after eight months in the Mediterranean Sea with the U. S. Sixth Fleet, Fleet Marine Force.

During the last week of February, in a joint operation with Spanish Marines, the Leathernecks completed their sixth amphibious exercise since arriving in the Med. The three day operation was held near Almeria, Spain.

Following the Marine landing the Spaniards conducted a separate landing to give the Leathernecks their version of amphibious warfare.

On completion of the operation the battalion began making ready for sea for the trip back to the states aboard naval auxiliaries of the Sixth Fleet.

Donald G. McCarthy, interior communications electrician third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. McCarthy of 1202 Opal Ave.;

Seaman Ronnie D. Minnis, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Minnis of 1155 Arbor St.;

Seaman William G. Morrow, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Morrow of 511 Sunkist, and

Seaman Frank B. Folier, USN, son of Mrs. E. T. Cope of 3322 N. Euclid, are part of ship's company aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Oriskany which was recommissioned March 7 at the Hunter's Point Naval Shipyard, San Francisco.

The Oriskany has been in the shipyard for the past two years undergoing extensive alterations and modernization.

Seaman Apprentice John B. Delight, 9851 Danbrook Dr., graduated recently from recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego.

A dress parade and review culminated the nine-weeks of training in which the seamen were instructed in the nomenclature of ships, shipboard duties, instruction in basic fire, gas and other drills pertaining to shipboard routine.

Following the initial training period the seaman recruits are sent to the fleet as replacements, to shore installations, both in the U. S. and abroad, or to one of the many class A. schools which provides trained personnel for the many specialty ratings which the navy has.

Private Godwin Bendrat, U.S. Army, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bendrat, 6215 Dickel St., completed the eight-week general supply course March 20 at Fort Ord.

Bendrat received instruction in the fundamentals of Army supply procedures and the preparation of supply records and forms.

The 19-year-old soldier entered the Army in October 1958 and completed basic training at Fort Ord.

He was employed by Macoma Eng., Inc., Cypress, before entering the Army.

Hotel for Animal Air Travelers Doing Just Fine, No Complaints

By DOC QUIGG
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — The only hotel of its kind in this hemisphere — it caters exclusively to animal air travelers, including snakes, gorillas, elephants, penguins, eagles, skunks, anteaters, rats, llamas, and common kitty cats — is doing just fine, with no complaints from guests.

A report from the "Animal port" at New York International Airport shows that in one year and one month of operation it has housed 22,500 walking, flying, and slithering creatures representing 72 animal species. Monkeys were the most. There were 12,677 of them.

The airborne monkeys mostly were en route from overseas to various institutions of science to help out with such things as Salk vaccine manufacture. Dogs were the next most frequent guest—2,673 of them. There were 166 snakes, including one seven-footer which escaped its bag and was found snoozing curled around an electric motor. There also was one 345-pound beer-drinking lion.

"Ninety per cent of our traffic is international," said George Bauer, the resident manager, "and 90 per cent of the dog traffic is GI. The GI's get the dogs in Europe while they're serving there, and when they get transferred back to the U.S.A., they send the dogs by separate air transport. Military transfer being what it is, the GI's sometimes arrive two or three days behind the dog, which we keep for him."

The 5,000-square-foot, $300,000 Animalport building is a private operation, built and maintained by the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to assure owners, shippers and airlines that pets and all other livestock get professional attention. Its slogan is "No animal too big or too small, no diet too intricate or exotic."

Industrial Management Club To Hear Speaker

Irving R. Susskind, Western Division vice president of the Executive Relations Institute, will address Anaheim Industrial Management Club members and guests at the Anaheim YMCA April 6 at 6:30 p.m. His subject will be "Humanics" and will deal with the science of human relations.

IRVING R. SUSSKIND
. . . to give address

According to Myron Reed, club president, Susskind has personally trained over 10,000 men and women in effective public speaking and human relations. He is known for his power packed humor flavored direct approach to human problems of management. He will outline basic methods industry finds effective in dealing with people. Susskind speaks from a wide experience in business, lecturing, and consultation service.

The program will also include a DeMille Foundation film "A Question of Law and Order," presented by Dr. Lee Demins of Fullerton.

Announcement of seminars in speechcraft and management will be made by Richard Swanson, Education Chairman.

Reservations for the Monday night dinner and program may be made by calling KE 5-2165.

Scientific Experiments to Aid Decisions in Cancer Operation

By DELOS SMITH

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (UPI)—The surgeon about to operate on a cancer patient tears open a sealed envelope and inside is a slip of paper which says whether this patient is going to get an anti-cancer drug along with an operation. Or, perhaps, a flip of a coin decides.

That is the basis of scientific experiments going on all over the country. It is for the purpose of deciding whether this chemical "adjuvant therapy" will improve surgery's already respectable record for saving or prolonging the lives of the victims of certain cancers caught in an early stage.

In Chicago it has been going on for three years and two months. In that time, 40 women with breast cancer got the drug "adjuvant" to surgery and 40 got the surgery only. Recurrences and deaths both have been twice as high among the surgery only group.

Sounds good, but Dr. Warren Cole, of the University of Illinois, Chicago, who revealed these experimental results, refused to say "adjuvant" therapy was the best and refused to recommend it to other surgeons. And so did Dr. I. S. Ravidin, of the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, who took part in the surgery on both President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles, and is president of the American Surgical Society.

There are other things to consider' besides statistical numbers, they added. The "adjuvant" to surgery in these cases was nitrogen mustard which is a poisonous drug.

It can be used against cancer because it is more lethal against cancer cells than it is against normal cells. As an "adjuvant," it is used to wipe out any cancer cells which the surgery left behind.

Rev. Paul Kugler Resigns from Anaheim Free Methodist Church

The Rev. Paul H. Kugler, minister of the Anaheim Free Methodist church since September 1955, has resigned his pastorate here to accept a position with the Los Angeles Pacific College.

The Reverend Kugler came from the state of Nebraska. He attended Los Angeles Pacific College where he received the Bachelor of Theology Degree in 1944.

He served the Prescott Arizona Free Methodist Church as pastor for six and one-half years. While there he and Mrs. Kugler were married and their two children, Linda and Leon were born. They now attend the Benjamin Franklin School in this city.

In 1953, Reverend Kugler worked for the Los Angeles Pacific College as purchasing agent, superintendent of buildings and grounds and directed the student work program. His new post will be in the field of public relations and deputation.

He also will be the director of alumni relations, in student recruitment and field officer.

While in Anaheim he has promoted the College by obtaining the support of more than $40,000 in gifts and contributions from Orange County.

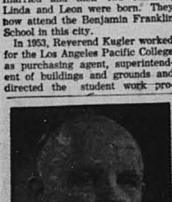

Mrs. Kugler plans to work in the registrar's office at the college and will continue her work toward a teaching credential. The children will attend the Bushnell Way School in Highland Park, Los Angeles.

This new work will take the Reverend Kugler into the states of California, Arizona, Oregon and Washington.

The Anaheim pastor states that he feels 'his is a "call from God,' and that Christian education is a very important element in today's society, a balance for the secular materialism and the rage of self expression.

"Our term of work in Anaheim has been more than gratifying and we have appreciated the many friends and neighbors that have so generously expressed their love and interest both in the church and the parsonage family. We will cherish the valuable friendships that have been made," says Reverend Kugler.

ROBERT VAN ATTA

R. Van Atta To Lecture in Anaheim Sunday

How the understanding of God's spiritual laws may be applied in daily living will be the topic of a Christian Science Lecture to be given Sunday afternoon by Robert S. Van Atta of Rochester, New York, it was announced today by First Church of Christ, Scientist.

Van Atta, who is on tour as a member of The Christian Science board of lectureship, will speak in the church edifice, 918 N. Citron St. at 3 p.m.

The lecture is open to the public without charge. Van Atta's subject will be "Christian Science and God's Government".

An engineer for a number of years, Van Atta served in an engineering capacity at one time on the Panama Canal and on railroad construction in Bolivia. He later was an aeronautical engineer with the Army Air Corps. He has been a student of Christian Science since 1913, is an experienced public practitioner of Christian Science lecturer since 1946.

Lutherans To Build Hospital in Pacoima

Construction will begin in Pacoima this month on a $2,500,000 hospital resulting from the cooperative efforts of 43 Lutheran congregations which represent nine Lutheran church bodies in the U. S. A. Lutheran congregations undertook the sponsorship of the new community hospital in the San Fernando Valley after attempts by non-church groups to finance the building failed.

According to the Rev. John G. Simmons, of North Hollywood, executive vice-president of the new institution, the 100-bed structure to be called the Pacoima Memorial Lutheran Hospital will be open to the sick and suffering of all races, creeds and colors.

Speaker's Background Covers Many Fields For Sunday at Knott Avenue Christian Church

From the pulpit and foxholes to television studio and college classrooms comes G. B. Gordon who will speak at the Knott Avenue Christian Church Sunday at 9:30 a.m.

G. B. GORDON
. . . speaks Sunday

Gordon was news director and producer-director at WICS-TV, Springfield, Ill., until August, 1958, when he joined the staff of Pacific Bible Seminary, Long Beach, as executive director of seminary development and professor of speech, radio and television.

At WICS-TV he covered political conventions in 1956, made filmed interviews for "Today" on NBC, directed phases of "Wide Wide World," and conducted news shows from two to five times daily from the local studios. From 1953 to 1958 he was also full-time professor of speech and radio at Lincoln Bible Institute, Lincoln, Ill., where he built a modern radio studio for local productions.

Born in Joplin, Mo., he has been educated in California, Indiana, and Illinois, with degrees from Pacific Bible Seminary, Butler University, and Northwestern University. He has done some work toward his Ph. D. at Northwestern University. During World War II he was a chaplain in Patton's Third Army with 20th and 83rd Infantry Divisions and received the Bronze Star and Army Commendation Ribbon. During the Korean War he was an Air Force chaplain.

Besides teaching at Lincoln Bible Institute and Pacific Bible Seminary he has been on the faculty of the Butler University Graduate School of Religion, Indianapolis, and Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago. He has held pastorates in California, Indiana, and Oklahoma. He is a member of Theta Phi, the Speech Association of America, the Radio-Television News Directors Association, and the advisory board of the Mission Services and the Christian Youth Hour.

Catherine Turner To Sing in Choraleer Presentation April 19

When the Anaheim Choraleers present "The Creation" on April 19 in Anaheim High School auditorium, the role of Gabriel will be sung by Catherine Turner, soprano, Uriel by John Hagopian, tenor, and William Fackiner, bass, performing the role of Raphael in Part II.

Catherine Turner is from Tustin and has been singing in choirs since she was six years of age. She studied for the past 15 years in New York and Michigan. Her career in music includes direction as well as performance in many operettas. Currently, she is soloist at the First Methodist Church in Santa Ana.

William Fackiner, well known accountant in Anaheim, is a graduate of USC, UCLA and Occidental. He has been singing for 28 years, doing professional work in radio, opera, motion pictures and concerts in New York and California. An interesting point is that he sang the bass role in "The Creation" in Anaheim 25 years ago.

John Hagopian of Alhambra, a newcomer to the Choraleers, was a member of the Roger Wagner Chorale for six years and soloist in USC's A Cappella Choir and Madrigal singers. Presently soloists and choirmaster at the Church of Our Saviour in San Gabriel, he is also a member of the Bell Telephone Chorus.

Directed by Winifred Sloop, the program will begin at 4 p.m. and will feature organ accompaniment by Elizabeth Lyon and piano accompaniment by Mart Stewart. There will be no charge for admission.

Book on 'Desert Padre' Off the Press This Fall

John E. Thayer, reference librarian at Honnold Library of the Associated Colleges, has completed a biography of Eusebio Francisco Kino for young adults to be published in the fall.

Entitled "Desert Padre," it is the story of an indefatigable Jesuit whose career among the Indians began in Baja California in 1683 and ended 28 years later after he had forged nine links in the mission chain in the Mexican state of Sonora and in what is now southern Arizona. His map of 1701 was a revelation to cartographers of Europe and the New World, who thought California to be an island. He first designated portions of the land Alta and Baja California. Astronomer, cartographer, historian, as well as missionary, Kino is regarded by many as the Southwest's first cattleman, Thayer says.

Mount Calvary Sets Dedication

The Mount Calvary Lutheran Church of West Anaheim will hold a service of dedication for the newly erected education and worship unit tomorrow at 3 p.m. The guest speaker will be Dr. Carl W. Segehammar, president of the California Conference, Augustana Synod.

The new church, located at 631 S. Western Ave., is the first unit of an overall plan on the five acre development site.

The congregation will hold its regular schedule for morning worship services. The Rev. Floyd Lawson will conduct the 8:30 a.m. service and the Rev. A. G. Fjellman, regional director of the American Association for Augustana Lutheran Churches, will speak at 11 a.m. Sunday School is at 9:30 and a nursery is provided at 11 a.m. The public is invited.

Pomona Minister To Speak at Anaheim Church

A pulpit exchange will bring the Rev. Raymond A. Waser, minister of Pilgrim Congregational Church of Pomona to Anaheim Community Congregational Church, Sycamore and Placentia, Sunday at 10 a.m. His sermon topic will be "What is the Church?"

The Reverend Waser, who was graduated from Hartford Theological Seminary, has held important pastorates throughout the country. He was minister of First Congregational Church of Pasadena prior to moving to First Pilgrim Congregational of Pomona in 1952.

The Pomona church is one of the largest in the Southern California Conference of Congregational churches and is one of the sponsoring churches of Anaheim Congregational.

The Reverend Walter J. Vernon will again conduct services at Anaheim Congregational on Sunday April 12th.

Revival Series Set At Bethany Church

The Rev. and Mrs. Samuel DeKlerk from South Africa will start a series of revival meetings at Bethany Church, Sunday at 7:30 p.m. according to The Rev. Raymond E. Turnure, pastor.

Samuel DeKlerk has held large campaigns in both white and negro populations and has assisted in the establishing of large congregations in Africa. He has been singularly used in praying for the sick, with many outstanding healings.

The public is invited to attend the services each evening at 7:30 p.m. (with the exception of Monday) through April 19.

The church is located at 121 W. Cypress (just west of Los Angeles St.) in Anaheim. Further information may be obtained at the church office at KE 5-2446.

Roman Catholic Church Is Largest Religious Body in Country with 36,023,977 Membership

EDITORS: This is the 12th in an intermittent series of dispatches profiling America's major religious bodies.

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

At the start of this century, the United States was a "missionary territory" of the Roman Catholic Church.

Today it has more practicing Catholics than any country of the world except Italy.

The latest official Catholic directory reports a total U. S. membership of 36,023,977. This figure, based on diocesan records, is probably low. The Census Bureau estimates that more than 43 million Americans regard themselves as Catholics.

Even at the lower figure, the Catholic Church is by far the largest religious body in the nation, with four times as many members as the largest single Protestant denomination.

Relations Have Improved

Despite continuing tensions over some issues (such as government aid for parochial schools), Catholic-Protestant relations in America have improved notably in the past 30 years. One measure of the improvement is the often - expressed belief that it is now possible for a Catholic to be elected president.

Objective observers believe that peaceful co-existence is the closest relationship that Catholics and Protestants are likely to attain in the foreseeable future. Although both sides are committed to the goal of Christian unity, they have made no detectable progress toward resolving the deep doctrinal differences that stand in the way.

Catholics believe their church is the "one true church," founded by Jesus Christ, and invested by him with infallible authority to teach and define the Christian faith. They believe that Christ committed to St. Peter the care of the whole church, and that this role has descended to each of Peter's successors as bishop of Rome. The title "pope," applied to the bishop of Rome, comes from the Italian word for father.)

Catholics Accept "Tradition"

Catholics, like Protestants, regard the Bible, as divinely inspired. But, unlike Protestants, they accept "tradition" as an equally valid source of revealed truth. They say that some important aspects of the Christian revelation were never set down in writing in the Scriptures, but were handed down through the ages, from the time of the first Apostles, by word of mouth.

On the basis of tradition, the Catholic Church teaches some doctrines for which Protestants are unable to find any warrant in the Bible. An example is the dogma, proclaimed by Pope Pius XII in 1950, that the Virgin Mary was taken up bodily into heaven (the theological term is "assumed") at the end of her earthly life.

Catholic worship centers around the Mass. Non-Catholics who have heard a Mass sung or recited, largely in Latin, sometimes have difficulty comprehending the tremendous significance this ancient service holds for Catholics.

Renewal Of Sacrifice

To Catholics, the Mass is not merely a re-enactment, but a "renewal" of Christ's sacrifice on the cross. Those who participate in the service share in the "merits" which he earned for mankind by his self-giving on Calvary. Catholics also believe that the bread and wine consecrated on the altar become, not symbolically, but "really and truly" the body and blood of Christ. Those who partake of the sacrament in Holy Communion receive Christ Himself as the food of the soul.

Catholics are required on pain of mortal sin to attend Mass every Sunday and on certain other holy days. While they are urged to take communion frequently, the only fixed requirement is that it be received at least once a year, during the Easter period. A Catholic must confess his sins orally to a priest.

A Catholic's minimum duty also includes going without meat on most Fridays and on certain other fast days as a form of penance.

THIRTY-DAY TOUR

Annual Sacred Heart Pilgrimage To Europe Slated for May 30

The Third Annual Pilgrimage of the Sacred Heart, a 30 day tour of several of the principal Roman Catholic Shrines of Europe, has been announced by Air France in association with the Catholic Travel Office of Washington D.C.

Led by Very Reverend Eugene Robitaille, vice principal of the Fathers of the Sacred Heart, the pilgrims will depart from New York on May 30 via Air France Super Starliner to Paris.

The Shrine of the Little Flower in Lisieux will be the first of the European Shrines to be visited, followed by three days in Paris with Mass at the Basilica of the Sacred Heart at Montmartre and at the Shrine of the Miraculous Medal. After a one - day visit to the Shrine of St. Bernadette at Nevers, the group will proceed to Paray Le Monial to celebrate the Feast of the Sacred Heart.

From Paray Le Monial the pilgrims will continue to Ars where Mass will be celebrated in the village church where St. John Baptist Vianney, the Patron Saint of Priests, performed his priestly functions. Additional cities to be visited include Geneva (Basilica of St. Francis de Sales.) Milan (Tomb of St. Charles Borromee), Padua (Shrine of St. Anthony), Florence (Basilica of St. Francis of Assisi), and Rome, where an audience with Pope John XXIII is anticipated.

After their return to Paris via Siena, Nice and Lourdes, the group will depart for New York aboard an Air France Super Starliner on June 27. The cost of the tour includes transatlantic economy air service, first - class rail and hotel accommodations. Detailed information may be obtained from the Fathers of the Sacred Heart, Fairhaven, Mass., the Catholic Travel Office, Washington, D.C. or any Air France office.

WES AND EDDIE — Wes Stallings and his pal, Eddie, will entertain at the Father and Son Banquet of the Evangelical United Brethren Church this Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. to be held in the parish hall of the Grace Lutheran Church, 700 W. South St., Anaheim. Stallings has spent the past eight years making people laugh and at the same time showing young people that the Christian way of life pays. He has made many television appearances and at present can be heard every Friday at 5:30 p.m. over radio station KHOF-FM.

First Southern Baptist Church Sets Schedule

The Rev. Emery Collins of First Southern Baptist Church of Anaheim is guest evangelist this week for the First Baptist Church of Dana Point. Services are held each evening at 7:30 in the Carpenter's hall and will be continued through Sunday evening.

Substituting for Pastor Collins Sunday morning at 8:30 and 11 will be George Davey, lay preacher of First Southern Baptist. Sergeant Williams Morenz will preach at the evening hour.

His First Sermon

Sergeant Morenz recently made public his decision to be a minister of the gospel. After his term of service he will enter a Southern Baptist College and Seminary for the completion of his training.

He has served his country in Japan, Europe and Asia. Mr. Morenz is the church secretary and soprano soloist in the choir.

The sermon by the young preacher will be part of the emphasis on work being done with boys through the Royal Ambassador chapter of the First Southern Baptist Church. Taling part in the program Sunday night will be the Royal Ambassadors and their sponsors.

Bill Wilson will present by film the work of the chapter.

Sunday afternoon at 4:30 p.m. Joseph Abston, Minister of Music at First Southern Baptist Church of Anaheim, will give a fifty minute concert on the Baldwin 5A organ. Abston will include in his program works of Buxtehude, Bach, Franck, Karg-Elert and Alder.

Hope College Chapel Choir To Be Guests at Garden Grove Community Drive-In Church Tomorrow

The Hope College Chapel Choir of Holland, Michigan, will be guests tomorrow at 11 a.m., in Garden Grove Community-Drive-In Church, which meets in the Orange Drive-in Theater on the Santa Ana Freeway.

The sixty-five voice choir, under the direction of Dr. Robert W. Cavanaugh will appear as part of its annual spring tour which is taking them on a 6,000 mile trip through Illinois, Iowa, Colorado, Arizona and California. It marks the second time in this century that the choir has made this extensive western trip. A similar itinerary was followed in 1955 when it also covered six thousand miles on a western tour.

The music sung at the concert will consist entirely of sacred compositions and has been in preparation since last September. The following selections will be sung this Sunday.

One number on the program, "The Creation" by Tom Scott, is a choral arrangement in spiritual style, of a selection from the poem collection "God's Trombones," by James Weldon Johnson. The narration will be done by George Worden, a senior student who last year won the national contest of the Interstate Oratorical Assn.

The Chapel Choir was organized in 1929 and has, under the leadership of Dr. Cavanaugh, become recognized as one of the outstanding college choirs in the country.

Milwaukee Native

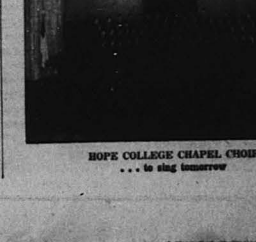

Professor Cavanaugh is a native of Milwaukee, Wis. He received his early school training in the Milwaukee schools and later was soloist in the Washington Park English Lutheran Church. During his high school days he was the youngest member of the Milwaukee Lyric Male Chorus.

Cavanaugh received his undergraduate training at the University of Wisconsin where he received his A.B. degree in 1937. While there he took an active part in the University Glee Club, serving as president of that organization. He later studied at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago under Theadore Harrison and Leo Sawerby. The Bachelor of Music degree was conferred upon him by the conservatory in 1939 and the Master of Music degree in 1940.

It was in that year that Prof. Cavanaugh joined the faculty of Hope College. He stepped into a full schedule of teaching voice and theory and directed the Chapel Choir and the men's Glee Club.

TO BE TRAINING CENTER

The Methodist Theological Seminary at Frankfurt, Germany, plans to become the training center for all Methodist missionary candidates from West Germany and Switzerland, the Rev. Ernst Sommer, the president, reports. Dr. Sommer reports that a small part of the Seminary building has been set aside as a dormitory for women, and that the curriculum will be adjusted to meet the training requirements of missionaries.

Unitarians To Hear Sermon on Golden Rule

"Is the Golden Rule unique to the Christian religions?"

Hardly, reports the Rev. Grant Butler who will discuss the universality of this ethical principle in a sermon Sunday before the Unitarian Society of Orange County.

He will speak at 9:30 a.m. and again at 11 a.m. Services are conducted at Fairmont School, 11341 Mable St., Anaheim, just south of the Santa Ana Freeway, east of Euclid Ave.

Religious education classes are offered at both services.

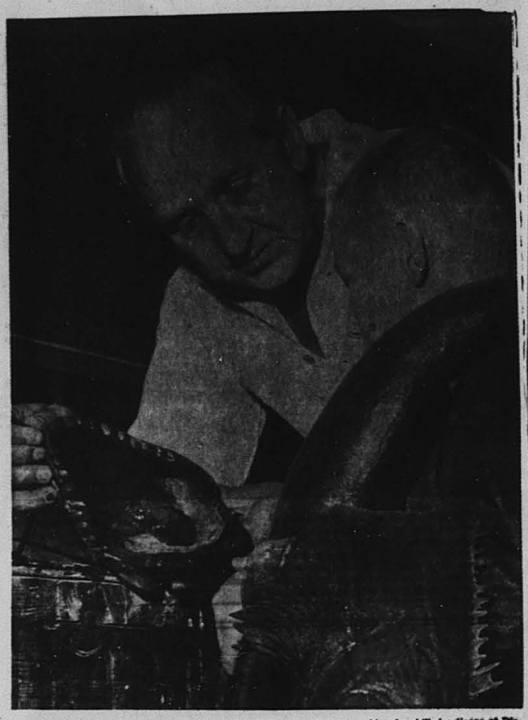

A neighborhood meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday at the home of Grace Fawthrop, 206 N. Cambridge, Orange. Persons interested in learning about Unitarianism are invited to attend. Rev. Butler will be present to answer questions.

Disneyland to Offer Matterhorn, Submarines to Summer Visitors

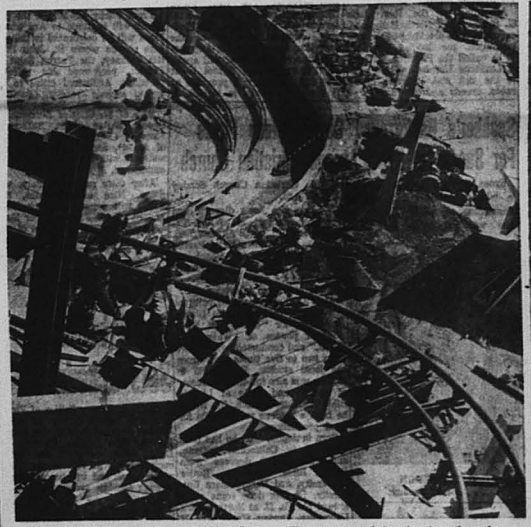

READY BY JUNE — Nearly $5½ Million in new attractions at Disneyland will be completed early in June of this year in the portion of the Park between Fantasyland and Tomorrowland. Major new developments being constructed are the 146½-foot-high Matterhorn, a 1/100th replica of the famed Swiss mountain, complete with bobsled runs; a submarine voyage, sailing beneath the Polar Ice Cap and past the legendary "Lost Continent of Atlantis" and the "Graveyard of Sunken Ships;" and the Disneyland-Alweg Monorail system, a preview of an electrically-operated, high-speed transit. Extensive additions also are being made to the Skyway ride, and the "Super Autopia" freeway system, and two lakes are being provided for motor boat cruises. It's Disneyland's greatest expansion since opening in July, 1955.

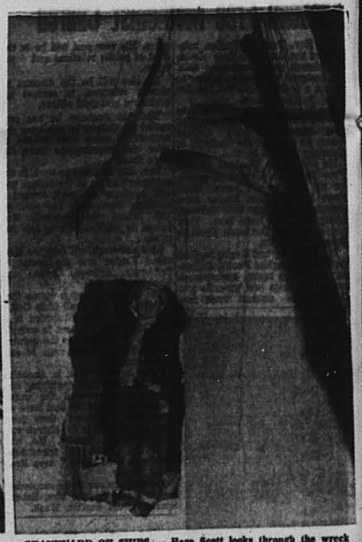

SAY AHHH — Nine-year-old Scott Heslop of Salt Lake City, Utah, looks into the mouth of a Moray eel, one of many denizens of the deep that will be seen by Disneyland visitors when they take the new submarine ride scheduled to open in June. This eel, like hundreds of other lifelike fish, is made of plastic rubber by skilled artisans at Disneyland. All sorts of underwater life, including mermaids, will be viewed from the portholes of the submarines. Sculptor Nick Rendich shows Scott how the eel will appear under water.

MONORAIL AND MATTERHORN — Circling in front of the replica of the Matterhorn being constructed at Disneyland is the sweeping curve of the monorail system that will carry speedy electric streamlined trains over the area. Two modern trains will carry 82 passengers over a "concrete highway in the sky" — a concrete beamway supported by pylons and reaching heights of 35 feet. Here Scott Heslop looks on as Wayne Cox (center), project man, and John Allen, manager of the J. L. Burns Construction Co. go over plans. Disneyland's monorail will be the first complete monorail system, operating daily, to be installed in the United States. The monorail system will cover four-fifths of a mile of track. A Speedramp, or moving ramp, will carry passengers from ground level to the loading platform at the Monorail Train Station. Walt Disney has said the monorail systems "will serve as a practical prototype of high-speed inter-urban transportation systems which could well be the answer to the growing problems of metropolitan area congestion."
(Bulletin Photo)

FROM THE MATTERHORN — Looking down near the top of the Matterhorn under construction at Disneyland, one sees the rails that will carry the bobsleds on their ride down the towering mountain. In upper center of the picture can be seen the submarine 'pens' from which the subs will emerge on their trips into the unknown depths of the Disneyland submarine ride. The pillars, seen upper right, will carry the monorail on its speedy trip high over the Anaheim Park.
(Bulletin Photo)

GRAVEYARD OF SHIPS — Here Scott looks through the wreck of ship in the graveyard of sunken ships that will be one of the first underwater views seen as submarine passengers begin their underwater trip. Other attractions include ruins of the lost continent of Atlantis, an underwater volcano and a sea serpent.
(Bulletin Photo)

NOT AFRAID — This octopus doesn't frighten little Scott one bit. Another of the monsters created out of plastic rubber for the submarine ride being constructed at Disneyland, this octopus will be seen among the ruins of sunken ships and other undersea wonders when the new ride is opened in June.
(Bulletin Photo)

CONCRETE AND STEEL — Bill Palmer, construction superintendent, points out the details of construction on the Matterhorn, being built at Disneyland as Scott watches in awe. Reaching 146½ feet into the air this mountain, an exact replica of the famous Swiss peak, will be as high as a 14-story building.

The Berlin Bluff

We should have learned long ago that the Communist technique is to employ confusion as a weapon against their "enemies."

The Berlin "crisis" is a good example. In one breath Nikita Khrushchev sounds ominous threats if the West doesn't get out of Berlin by May 27. In the next breath he hints that May 27 shouldn't be taken as an absolute deadline.

Of course, we have no intention of budging from Berlin. We and the French and British are there by agreement—an agreement in which the Russians are a party. The West Berlin residents want nothing more than to have us stay. Indeed, if we did not stay we would be violating our promise to these people.

The economic condition of East Berlin is so tragically worse than the area under Western supervision that this has become a point of high embarrassment to the Kremlin.

If they can kick us out, or trick us into withdrawing, they can then proceed to "level out" Berlin's economy. That would mean bringing it all down more or less to that now existing in the zone under Russian control. At least, the difference between the two areas would not be so glaring, so damning to the "superior" economic system which the Soviets boast about.

The principal thing in this whole affair is to recognize it not as a genuine threat to the peace but as simply more Communist bluster. There is no real reason for us to get frantic about our defenses and call for new crash programs to meet this new "crisis." To be sure, we can't be careless about our distinctive position but quiet alertness and fewer wails of alarm from congressmen would be in order.

Assignment: Washington

by Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON — Blackie's head drooped, but he managed to look up through tassles of black hair at an old friend. And you heard a faint whimper.

"I don't think he'll make it," said his old friend, the doc, gently. Blackie was going to die of leukemia, despite everything that the greatest health research institution in the world could do for him.

Every day for many weeks, the young veterinarian, Dr. William L. Gay, has stopped by the meticulous cage of Blackie to talk to the old dog, to comfort him.

You'd hardly expect to find this kind of personal tenderness at the imposing, vast National Institutes of Health, where practically all medical ills of the world congregate under microscopes before a complex of 1,000 scientists.

That NIH, which sits in the Maryland suburbs almost against our back yard in Bethesda, sprawls acres of hope for the multitudes for generations ahead.

To do a sound, complete, reporting job on what's going on behind the red-brick walls of the high and low buildings on the grassy slopes of NIH would take a lifetime. But what struck my fancy was the animals.

It's a sort of an Old MacDonald's farm there, in addition to a zoo. For instance, they've got more monkeys at the institutions than you'll find in 100 zoos — 1,200 altogether.

The little apes are used mostly to test Salk vaccine. Every time drug manufacturers make up a new batch, samples are sent down to NIH and are injected in the monkeys to make sure the vaccine is safe for humans.

If it weren't for all these animals, no telling how many thousands of people now enjoying a full life would have long joined their maker.

The dogs and cats, like most of the other animals, are in stout health when they arrive at the National Institutes of Health.

But Blackie's case was different. He was an ordinary, happy dog in a very comfortable home when his master learned that he had leukemia — cancer of the blood.

So, tearfully, his master decided to part with her pet. Perhaps, she thought, Blackie could serve humanity as he had served the household on so many lonely nights.

The dog was taken to NIH. Of course, there was a chance that the research people could come up with a cure for him.

Well, they tried. They removed his spleen, the organ near the stomach that stores a body's blood.

And while the scientists — the world's greatest—kept close tabs, Blackie responded. "The treatment helped for several weeks," said Doc Gay. Then the dog began to waver.

Now, when we stopped by his slatted cage, he was too tired to lift his tail. But he did come forward to greet Doc Gay, and his eyes responded to kind words.

Just what Blackie has contributed to medical science will not be known for some time.

But when he goes — probably in a few days — Blackie will have made his mark in medical history. It will be a mark in terms of man's best friend.

A Bigger Problem Than Berlin

Your Birthday

by Stella

SATURDAY, APRIL 4 — Born today you are an independent, quick thinking individual whose temper will flare at the slightest intimation that anyone is crossing you. You are original and intensely ambitious. You probably will decide, early in youth, what you want out of life and go out after it, despite setbacks or opposition. In fact, it seems as if the more opposition you meet the better you enjoy the challenge. You must always guard against a pyrotechnic display of temper, for you will say and do things when angry which you may wish later to retract. But your habit of never backing down will prevent you.

Since you are apt to be something of a "joiner" and like to participate in club and community affairs, you will probably not be one to wed too early in life. You will want to do considerable looking around, before you settle on your mate. Choose someone born under Scorpio, Sagittarius or Capricorn for the best prospects for happiness. You need a mate who can "stand up to you" when you get one of your stubborn moods on!

You have tremendous nervous energy, but your physical strength may not be as robust as you might wish. Be sure to guard against health upsets, since you do your best work when you are rested and relaxed.

Among those born on this date are: Maurice de Vlaminck, French painter; Thaddeus B. Stevens, statesman and reformer; George Pierce Baker, educator.

To find what the stars have in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Sunday, April 5

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 20) — After your morning devotions, invite someone home for Sunday dinner and to spend the afternoon.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21) — A fine Sunday for all your interests. Anticipate a pleasant meeting with friends this evening.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Friends and relatives contribute toward making this a happy, pleasant day to remember.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—Put your personality to work for you. Get about what you want today by projecting yourself.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Since this can be a romantic week end, make the most of it. Enjoy the company of your loved one.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Attend an inspirational gathering of people who think as you do about life. Enjoy yourself.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) —Take the lead in some project and let others follow your advice and instructions.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — After attending church, devote the balance of the day to relaxing recreation in the open air.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)— This can be your day to shine, socially. Entertain friends or attend a party.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)— A day in which you should store up vital energy for the coming week. Rest and relax.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — A pleasant, friendly day. Perhaps you may want to attend a lecture this afternoon.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20) — This can be a banner day for your personal affairs. Advance your interests at this time.

(Copyright, 1959, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

SUNDAY, APRIL 5 — Born today you are a calm, determined individual who has a flare for the dramatic and can project this artistically, although you appear quite unaffected by the excitement you may occasion. You are an individualist and are always solving old problems in a new manner. You are quick to act and rarely say anything, at first. With you, actions are what count. You can talk about things later if you must!

You are very critical and are something of a perfectionist in our own work as well as demanding it from others. You like to plan out a job and then have others execute it while you go on to develop another new idea. Since you have a good head for business, as well, it is likely that you will become financially independent while you are quite young. The sciences, as well as the arts, hold your interest and it will be up to you which path your life will take. Many fields are open to you. But whatever you select, one can be sure that you will stick to it until you have achieved your goal.

Since you are very intuitive, you act instantly and usually move in the right direction while others are still trying to make up their minds to move! This gives you a head start which others find very difficult to overtake. Wed someone whose mind is as quick as your own, for your mate will need to be able to keep pace with you to contribute happiness to the union.

Among those born on this date are: Booker T. Washington, Negro educator; Spencer Tracy, actor; Frank R. Stockton, author; Bette Davis, actress; William Congreve, dramatist.

Monday, April 6

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 20) — Good fortune smiles on you today. Begin your new working week on the bright and energetic side.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21) —Take care of confidential matters today. You can get just about what you want, if you try.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) —Take a calculated risk in a business partnership and make a handsome profit now.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—Promote a new and exciting idea; then get the boss to approve and put it into production.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Two influences combine to give you excellent fortune today. Take that calculated risk; win.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—Financial matters, involving others, should bring you a fine profit at this time. Get your share.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — Take the lead in introducing a new idea and then get it into production immediately.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Morning hours can be treacherous, so be on your guard. All goes well after lunchtime.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) —Jupiter brings you your best fortune so far this month. Make excellent progress.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20)— A money-making day, especially if you are in retail merchandising. Buy and sell to advantage.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — Demonstrate your special talents. All mental work is highly favored.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20) — A fine money-making day. Show that you know how to make your money earn more money!

Around Hollywood

by Vernon Scott

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — More than 100 movie stars will be squeezed into the Academy Award telecast Monday night for the biggest jamboree in filmtown history.

Never before have so many stars appeared on one program.

You name 'em, they'll be on the two-hour show—Ingrid Bergman, Clark Gable, Doris Day, Rock Hudson, Sophia Loren. Scores of stars who really appear on TV will be strutting their stuff in honor of Oscar night.

Six masters of ceremonies, Bob Hope, David Niven, Tony Randall, Mort Sahl, Sir Laurence Olivier and Jerry Lewis, are scheduled to fill the gaps between presentations. And there will be specialty acts aplenty to break up the dull doling out of statuettes.

For instance, Burt Lancaster and Kirk Douglas—who also teamed last year—will sing and dance their way through "It's All Right With Us."

Britishers To Sing

English imports Dana Wynter, Joan Collins and Angela Lansbury will warble "It's Bully Not To Be Nominated."

Rosalind Russell and Sammy Davis Jr. have brief bits, as do Miss Bergman, Cary Grant, William Holden and John Wayne.

An added fillip is the appearance of Eddie Fisher and Elizabeth Taylor on the same show. They will fly in from Las Vegas, Nev., for their stints. Debbie Reynolds had agreed to appear too, but her movie commitments forced the ex-Mrs. Fisher to cancel out.

Maurice Chevalier will sing "Thank Heaven For Little Girls" to a bevy of beauties, including Barbara Rush, Terry Moore, Arlene Dahl and Sandra Dee.

But the main event—and the reason for all the hullabaloo—is the awards. Even minor Oscars will be presented by top-flight stars.

Of the 10 nominees for best-acting awards only Deborah Kerr among the actresses, and actors Paul Newman and Sidney Poitier, will be absent. A trio of supporting nominees also will be among the missing—Wendy Hiller and Maureen Stapleton in the actress division, and Arthur Kennedy among the actors.

As balloting closed this week straw polls among academy members found the following six nominees the favorites:

Best picture—"Gigi."

Best actress—Susan Hayward, "I Want To Live."

Best actor—David Niven, "Separate Tables."

Best supporting actress—Wendy Hiller, "Separate Tables."

Best supporting actor—Burl Ives, "The Big Country."

Best director—Vincent Minelli, "Gigi."

Capitol Dispatch

by David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — When Senator Stephen Young of Ohio, Democrat, decided to sell or publicize approximately $234,000 worth of stock-holdings, he may have thought this would remove any possibility of a so-called "conflict of interest." But today a senator votes on all kinds of financial questions and, even though all his holdings were in government bonds, someone could conjure up a "conflict of interest."

Thus, if any senator votes to unbalance the budget, it could produce apathy on the part of the investor toward the purchase of government bonds. This might necessitate a steadily increasing interest rate which could benefit the senator just as much as, if not more than, dividends on some private stocks.

There is scarcely a problem that comes before the senate for a vote that isn't directly or indirectly related to a man's own finances.

But the case of Senator Young relates to stockholdings in particular industries, like oil and sugar, where concrete questions have arisen that may have to be voted on—whether to retain the present tax allowance in connection with the depletion of oil and gas properties and whether to limit imports of sugar.

Senator Young says he has been receiving letters and circulars urging him to vote to retain the 27½ per cent depletion rate but that he favors cutting the allowance to 15 per cent, and voted that way when he was a member of the House of Representatives. Does this, however, dispose of the matter? Will it be accepted by everybody that the Senator is voting his convictions now, or will it be said that he is merely trying to overcome the alleged ill effects of his continued ownership of oil stocks?

So far as the Democratic party is concerned, many of its spokesmen have continuously attacked bigness in business and the wealth of individuals as being the "image" of a Republican and not of a Democrat. The campaign literature of the Democrats constantly stresses that the Democrats are a "poor man's party" and that the Republicans are a "rich man's party." Mere accumulation of money, even though the result of thrift and honest work, seems to be a sin today in the eyes of many Democratic stump speakers and many publications called "liberal."

What is tragic, of course, is that a United States Senator should feel it incumbent upon himself to sell or publicize any of his private stockholdings just because of a theoretical "conflict of interest." This is based evidently on the mistaken assumption that a senator cannot hold securities and still vote conscientiously without incurring public disfavor.

In free America the axiom is that a man's innocence is presumed until he is proved guilty. But, while this may be the rule in courts of law, it apparently is being disregarded in the court of public opinion. Suspicion seems to be the guiding influence. Thus, Sherman Adams committed no crime, and nobody could prove that, when he made a routine inquiry, this was the direct or indirect result of favors he had received from a citizen outside the government. Yet he was condemned widely, particularly by the Democrats. They began to make a campaign issue out of it, thus forcing the resignation of Mr. Adams, who, of course, recognized finally, though reluctantly, that in politics the rule of suspicion suggersedes all else.

The action of Senator Young pays tribute to the power of suspicion and innuendo in politics. The Ohio Senator felt that, to be foursquare with his constituents, he had to reveal the nature of his wealth. How many voters, on the other hand, especially among the radicals now in the Democratic party, will be disturbed that any senator has so much money? Though the individual used to be exalted for his own enterprise and was rarely condemned for the mere possession of inherited wealth, there has been a change in recent years. The trend of the agitation is toward socialism and a redistribution of wealth in some form of "equality." Many men of inherited wealth in the Senate and elsewhere have exhibited a kind of "guilt complex" and have in some instances transformed themselves into so-called "liberals" so as to make it appear that their wealth wasn't influencing them. They have often criticized the same conservative doctrines which enabled their parents in free America to amass a fortune.

It's too bad that any man in public life feels he must cater to suspicion in order to stay in politics. It's too bad that a rich man in politics thinks he can prove his virtue only by attacking wealth or by selling all his holdings and converting them into cash so as to avoid every possible "conflict of interest." Even so, the purchasing power of his cash can depreciate if the Democratic party supports a spending spree. There's really no way to avoid some "conflict of interest" today if any man successful in his previous occupation enters public life.

THE Family Scrapbook

Enjoying Children

All too often, when we think about bringing up children, it's the difficulties and the problems, the responsibility and the hard work of which we are most aware. And no one can deny that there's a liberal amount of each of these involved in the job.

But it's all too easy to overlook the fun and enjoyment. We know that they are in the picture but our concern with the problems may almost push them out. And yet, if we stop to think about it, some of the greatest joys are the result of difficulties!

What deep satisfaction there is in the delighted greeting mother or father receives from the two-year-old when he's been away for a few hours! What a warm feeling we have when Junior or his sister put their arms around us and say, "I love you." And what a glow there is at the time the inquiring mind of the six-year-old figures out something of which we never imagined he was capable!

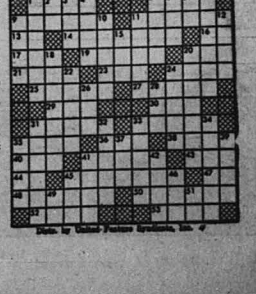

And these, of course, are but a few examples of the many, many ways in which our youngsters bring joy to our hearts. It's wise not to take such things for granted. Now and again, we can, with profit, sit down and talk together about the joys and satisfactions there are in being a parent.

Local Businessmen Oppose State Agency

In an attempt to stop curtailment of the business and industrial growth of Anaheim, Orange County and the State of California, the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce went on record in opposition of Senate Bill number 43 concerning the establishment of a State Economic Development Agency in California.

Basically the Chamber of Commerce members who are industrialists, businessmen and professional men, are attempting to stop the unnecessafy levying taxes "that will eventually break the State of California and will most certainly bring to a halt all economic development."

As stated in the correspondence to Luther E. Gibson, Chairman of the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee in Sacramento, the Chamber stated that "it is the firm conviction of our Board of Directors that a truly outstanding job in Economic Development has already taken place in the State of California primarily through the efforts of Chambers of Commerce, cities and interested private citizens. This has all been done without the expenditure of tax funds."

Objection to the proposed legislation has been forwarded not only to the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee but to Senator John Murdy, Jr., and to Assemblymen Richard T. Hanna.

One of America's 'Top Ten' Singers, Most Popular U.S. Star in Soviet

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Know who's the most popular American singer in Russia (discounting Paul Robeson)?

Doris Day!

No one is more surprised than the breezy, all-American blonde at the news that her recordings outsell any other U. S. platters in the U.S.S.R. — and she can't understand why.

"It's flattering, I guess," Doris laughed. "But I'm mystified.

"Maybe I should sing a special song in Russian and send it over. How about something like 'When the Communists flock to Vladivostok.' It just might make their hit parade."

Doris, bright as a spring day in pink sweater, ruffled blouse and gray flannel slacks, also has the distinction of being the only consistent feminine vocalist among the top 10 recording stars in this country.

Among Rock 'N' Rollers

It comes as something of a shock to find her name among those of Ricky Nelson; Elvis Presley, Tommy Sands, Pat Boone and other rock 'n' roll fanatics.

"I must appeal to the same teenage group," she surmised.

"But I don't sing the same kind of music. Maybe I've been fortunate in having so many good songs come my way. New ones I mean.

"Personally I wish more girl singers were as popular as the young male vocalists. More women and girls buy records than men, and I guess the female population would rather listen to male voices."

To preserve her place at the top of the platter pile Doris records two albums a year and cuts four single records every six weeks. This in addition to turning out two movies a year.

It was Doris' voice, however, that brought her movie stardom. She succeeded where other big-name vocalists (Dinah Shore, Rosemary Clooney, Peggy Lee) failed. The others turned to television, with varying degrees of success, but the Cincinnati-born songbird is sticking to pictures.

No Time For TV

"I just don't have time for TV," she explained. "My only appearances were on 'What's My Line' and the 'Academy Award Show' I've thought about doing a spectacular, but I'd want it to be on the same scale as Fred Astaire's program. Too many people are watching not to give your very best."

Doris, 1958's boxoffice champ among actresses, currently is teamed with the male boxoffice leader, Rock Hudson, in "Any Way The Wind Blows" at Universal-International.

There is an animation, a melody in her voice even when she talks.

"Once the picture is over I head out across country to plug the opening of another movie," she said happily. "But I'm leaving early to spend some time in my home town—Cincinnati."

GOOD OLD DAYS

EASTON, Pa. (UPI)—A Lafayette College expense ledger for a year in the 1840's came to light recently and included such items as: "Building whitewashing, $3.50; 103 pounds of beef, $4.12; toll to Jersey for a girl, 24 cents; to stranger for apples and pears, 44 cents."

Engineer To Speak To Constitution Party

A meeting of the Constitution Party of Orange County will be held Friday, April 10, at Santiago Park, Santa Ana, at the Lawn Bowling Club House, at 7:45 p.m.

Major E. Eller of San Diego will speak. The public is invited to attend and hear his address, entitled "From W. P. A. to Commissar." Major Eller holds degrees in Electrical Engineering and Law. For 35 years, he has practiced in the field of Electrical engineering electronics, radar, and instrumentation for the United States and foreign governments. He has specialized in the field of guided missiles and gyroscopes. During thir time he has maintained a professional, as well as a personal interest in the fields of economics and national politics. His experience gained by close observation in these fields, makes him unusually well informed and his ability as a public speaker is excellent. All Constitution party members, as well as the public in general, are invited to attend.

Worker Injures Back In BP by Lifting Sack

BUENA PARK — A Los Alamitos man was injured seriously yesterday morning on a construction job in the new Bellehurst Development as he attempted to lift a bag of plaster, police reported.

Taken to Garden Grove Hospital suffering from back injuries was Robert G. Bible, 29, 10631 Chestnut St., Los Alamitos, reports said.

Bible, an employe of the George W. Raymond Plastering Contractors of Montebello, apparently slipped after picking up the plaster and fell over backwards onto equipment being prepared for the day's work, it was reported.

LIZ TO 'QUIT' MOVIE CAREER

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco News quoted Elizabeth Taylor as saying today "I plan to quit the movies forever."

The News, a Scripps-Howard newspaper, said in a copyright dispatch from Las Vegas that Miss Taylor made the statement in an interview in Eddie Fisher's dressing room in the Tropicana Hotel there.

"I have three more pictures to do," she said. "I should be finished with them in about 18 months. After that, finish.

"My family life is more important to me than my career. How many Hollywood marriages do you know of where the wife is an actress and the marriage still works."

Miss Taylor's statement came only a few hours after Debbie Reynolds agreed to a Nevada divorce which will free Fisher in six weeks to marry Miss Taylor.

Anaheim Y To Offer Management Courses

Two management courses beginning Wednesday, April 8, will be offered by the Anaheim Industrial Management Club, at the Anaheim YMCA, according to Richard Swanson, Club Educational Chairman.

"Speechcraft for Supervision," according to Swanson, will include six concentrated student participation meetings covering essentials for effective public speaking. It will be limited in attendance and will meet each Wednesday from 7-9 p.m. under the construction of Leslie W. Sim of Anaheim.

"Introduction to Top Management" will bring out how and why leading local industrialists operate their organizations. All six meetings will be held at host companies including Menesha Container Corporation, Pacific Scientific Aeroproducts, Standard Pressed Steel Co., Hallaustore Electronics Co., Kiwkset Locks Co., and Delco-Remy Co. Company officials will describe company procedures, according to Swanson. Registration information may be secured by calling the Anaheim YMCA, KE 5-2165.

The courses are related to the national educational program of Industrial Management Clubs related to the National Council of YMCA's.

County Building Boom Continues This Year

By Orange County News Service

Building in Orange County this year is still on the upgrade, March exceeding the previous month by 245 per cent and the period so far in 1959 doubling the valuation record set in 1958.

Last month the county building department issued 745 permits for a valuation of $8,536,202. This jumped the number of permits issued so far this year to 1,846 and a valuation of $18,771,404.

In contrast, for the first three months in 1958 the department only issued 1,115 permits with a valuation of $9,745,041. Valuation thus this year has almost doubled.

For the month of March, single family dwellings with garage attached were again the top item with 246 permits and a valuation of $4,152,720.

Single family dwellings minus the garage recorded 99 permits and valuation of $1,339,086.

Swimming pools also were on the upswing with 53 permits issued for a valuation of $146,700.

West opened the jack of clubs, holding the trick. He continued with the eight of clubs, and East won with the queen. East then led the ace of clubs.

South chose this moment to take an unnecessary risk. He ruffed the third club with the jack of hearts.

Gets Axe

Down came the axe. West overruffed with the king of hearts. South played the rest of the hand with great care, but it was wasted. He had to lose a spade trick, and his contract was defeated.

It should have been obvious that South was bound to lose a spade trick even if he played the hand standing on his head. (Incidental ly, this is not a recommended way of playing a hand.) When East led the ace of clubs, South should have discarded his losing spade then and there.

This would give the opponents only what they were going to get. South could win any return and finesse through West for the king of hearts. The finesse would work and South would make his game.

Vet Tax Exemption Deadline Cut in Bill

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill to cut the time veterans have to file for veterans property tax exemptions was in the Assembly today after receiving Senate approval.

The bill was authored by Sen. A.S. Rodda (D-Sacramento) and would cut the time for filing by one month, setting it from the first Monday in March until the first Monday in May.

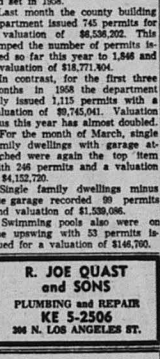

Rodda said the change would enable county officials to bring their tax roles into shape quicker.

When You Plan a Permanent Career You Want to Be Sure You Are Entering— A Growing Business

Here are some of the things we offer you for the rest of your life:

1. The opportunity for much above average earnings. Pleasant, dignified work.
2. Association with a sound, stable and successful company.
3. Steady year-round income month after month.
4. Job security — a lifetime career.
5. Permanence and independence.

This opportunity is open to people who wish to earn a better than average living—$100 to $200 commission per week and up for salespeople; $200 to $500 commissions and up for managers.

You do no collecting, make no deliveries, carry no samples; you buy nothing, you keep no books, you use all your time for just one purpose — making MONEY FOR YOURSELF.

This association with our company is open to reliable people who are looking for a permanent career in which they may be prosperous, happy and secure.
