Startling Contradictions in Testimony Before Naval Board Probing Gun Explosion

DEAD MAN'S HAND FIRED 2ND GUN

Officers Had Testified Electric Current Had Been Switched Off

LOS ANGELES, June 16.—The limp hand of a dead man, one of the 48 bluejackets killed in the U. S. S. Mississippi, fired the second gun after the dreadnaught had sped to Los Angeles harbor with its dead and dying, injuring sailors and endangering the lives of hundreds of the passengers on the steamship Yale, it was shown conclusively in testimony given today before the naval board of inquiry probing the blast.

Many of the members of the board of inquiry paled when the testimony was offered for it came in direct contradiction to testimony of navy officers to the effect that the electric current controlling the firing of the big guns was "dead" when the Yale was narrowly missed by a mysterious shot.

George Clarence Ogletree, seaman first class, member of the squad of rescuers which carried the dead gunners from turret No. 2 on the ill-fated man-of-war testified the hand of a corpse he had in his arms struck the firing control switch which shot the second gun, seriously wounding several sailors standing on the bridge.

There followed a heavy shock and explosion which knocked him senseless, the seaman testified. When he recovered a few seconds later, an officer ran to the firing control and threw the safety switch.

Walter C. Ebel, turret captain, first class, corroborated Ogletree's testimony.

Rumors, widely circulated about the harbor, that the second gun which fired the second blast had been tampered with to "cover up" between the time the bodies were taken from the ship and examination of the Mississippi by navy board members, were strongly denied today by navy officers. They said the turret had been under heavy guard since the time of the first explosion.

GUARD BODIES OF BLAST VICTIMS

SAN PEDRO, June 16—Armed military and police guards stood watch in San Pedro today over the morgue where the bodies of the 48 gunners killed in the U. S. S. Mississippi explosion are resting, following storming of the morgue and threats to blow it up by alleged I. W. W. members.

"It should be 4800 dead, instead of 48," police raid the "radicals" had shouted at the door of the morgue.

Police and sailor guards were rushed to the morgue after police, led by Officer W. L. Beard, had dispersed an alleged I. W. W. mob and frustrated a plot to blast the building.

The plot, according to police was to avenge breaking up of a meeting Saturday night in I. W. W. hall, when 300 citizens and sailors wrecked the building. Six of the alleged radicals were beaten and then tarred and feathered.

The authorities said today the "radicals" and sailors had been warring for weeks, following the ousting of a sailor from the I. W. W. hall, because, it was claimed, he resented attacks on the American navy and the flag.

LOS ANGELES, June 16.—Eighteen witnesses were augmented when the naval board of inquiry investigating the explosion which killed 48 bluejackets on the U. S. S. Mississippi resumed its sessions here today.

Eight witnesses from the U. S. S. Mississippi will be examined first so that the man of war may leave as soon as possible to undergo repairs at Mare Island Navy Yard, San Francisco Bay. The other witnesses are from the crew of the U. S. S. New Mexico, engaged in target practice with the Mississippi at the time of the explosion.

The high naval officers of the investigating board were confronted today with three possible theories for the blasting. First that it was caused by a defective

Equal Rights Gets Smoker for Women

CHICAGO, June 16.—Equal rights for women took another step forward today when the Illinois Central Railroad attached to its St. Louis-Chicago daylight special a lounge and smoking car for women.

They may smoke there to their heart's content, without fear of intrusion from men, railway officials stated. The car will be a regular part of the train in the future.

I.W.W. GIVEN TAR PARTY IN CANYON

Seven men, I. W. W.s, were taken Saturday night to Santa Ana canyon by men in the navy and tarred and feathered, passed thru Anaheim about 5 a. m. yesterday, according to Al Pape, private patrolman of the business district.

They had been picked up by some one in a Ford car and were on their way back to San Pedro or vicinity.

The I. W. W. headquarters were raided Saturday night by a mob. Nine persons were taken to hospitals for treatment after the row. Two of them were small children, who had been scalded when a coffee urn upset. Another was a woman who is said to have fought the attackers.

The I. W. W.'s retaliated for the wrecking of their headquarters, part of the furniture of which was burned, by storming the nearby Cleveland undertaking parlors where the bodies of the dead in the turret tragedy aboard the Mississippi had been taken.

Captain Hagebaugh addressed the I. W. W.'s and told them he regretted deeply the raid and tar and feathering.

Deputy Sheriff Ed McClellan learned from O. E. Lemos, auto service man who lives near the spot, that the victims were made to remove all their clothes. Cold, but thin, tar then was spread and a quantity of feathers administered.

Lemos was attracted to the scene, he said, and saw what happened, but he soon was ordered to leave.

The officers found two five-gallon tar cans, four suits of underwear and other clothing. They also found a card marked, "Admission to the chamber of horrors, special entertainment." Sealed to it was a tar-smeared I. W. W. delegate's card, which stated "an injury to one is an injury to all." B. Johnson of Marine Workers' local No. 510 was the owner.

A trail of tar was lost to the investigators.

WRITER ARRESTED

J. I. O'Donohoe, a writer, and Pedro Riges, and Jack O'Brien, actors, all of Hollywood, were picked up yesterday by the Fullerton police on the charge of transporting liquor. They were released on a combined bail of $300, and cited to appear for a preliminary hearing on June 17.

SLEMP WILL NOT QUIT, HE SAYS

Issues Official Statement After Persistent Reports

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The dissension and internal warfare that broke out between President Coolidge's campaign managers and advisers at Cleveland over the management of the national convention culminated today in C. Bascom Slemp, secretary to the president, issuing a formal statement denying he was contemplating resigning his post.

This statement was issued by Mr. Slemp at noon after reports were persistently circulated thruout Washington during the morning that Slemp had decided to quit.

No official statement was to be had at the White House concerning these reports until the conclusion of a conference between the president and his secretary, after which this statement was made by Slemp:

"I am leaving this afternoon for Cincinnati to be present at an operation to be performed on my son-in-law, P. W. Slemp. The time of my return is in a certain sense, on account of this, indefinite.

"When I do return I expect to be actively associated in the campaign and in the present position, which I have not resigned.

"In all probability I will be on the advisory committee of the national committee, a committee, which will have the real management of the campaign."

Especial significance was laid on the sentence of Slemp's statement as indicating that the advisory committee and not William D. Butler, the Massachusetts capitalist, is to have the determining voice in the management of the Republican congress.

This represents, in effect, at least, a partial victory for the old line Republicans who rebelled at Butler's management and left the convention before the nomination of General Charles G. Dawes.

Slemp, according to persistent reports, returned from Cleveland prepared to resign if President Coolidge intended allowing Butler the latitude in the campaign that the New England mill owner exercised at Cleveland. It is understood he even put his resignation in writing.

He made a complete report to the president, after which Mr. Coolidge took Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, and Frank W. Mondell, permanent chairman of the convention, on a trip on the Mayflower over the week-end.

From these guests, both of whom had long been identified with the old line leadership of the party, he learned other details of what happened at Cleveland.

The Coolidge-Slemp conference took place immediately after the president's return to the White House from his yacht trip this morning, and the statement followed.

Count Broke, Can't Rejoin Rich Wife

BERLIN, June 16.—Count Ludwig Salm Von Hoogstaeten, Austrian nobleman who married Miss Millicent Rogers of New York, heiress to a $40,000,000 Standard Oil fortune, is "broke".

The count's plight was revealed today by his friend, Mlle. Lyia De Putzi, beautiful Hungarian moving picture actress. It is understood that the count wishes to follow his bride of six months to the United States, but is prevented by the temporary financial embarrassment.

"When he arrived in Berlin, Count Salm had money, but he spent it," said Mlle. De Putzi. He first told me that he did not accompany the countess with her father, five weeks ago, because he wanted to remain in Europe to play tennis in the Olympic eliminations."

WOMAN SUES DENTIST FOR LARGE SUM

Dr. William A. Flood, Santa Ana dentist, today was sued by Helen Simons of Santa Ana, who asked $25,000 damages because of alleged neglect in the treatment of her teeth.

With an "impacted wisdom" tooth, the defendant, in her complaint, recited that she visited Dr. Flood on Feb. 24. In attempting to extract the tooth the dentist crushed off the top of the tooth and left the root unmoved, she charged. In attempting to extract the root the dentist caused the crushed top of the tooth to become imbedded in her gum with the result that her jaw was fractured, she charged.

Miss Simons recited that she was not aware of conditions until seven weeks after the experience in Dr. Flood's office, when she secured an X-ray of her mouth.

No damage was done the vessel, the message said.

The channel thru which it was passing is shallow at low tide.

May Be It Wasn't Chemical Co. That Made That Smell After All

No, Mabel, Fred Cowan of the Ideal Tool room, did not strangle any poor 'werrin' goil" and conceal her body in the rear of his auto. Humph-umph! You will have to guess again.

It's nothing but cow meat. Fred tells his small son, who quizzed him about the offensive odor which the car emits, somelook different from gas that investigation proved it only to be three misplaced, long-lost packages of meat. Fred, like a dutiful man, takes his meat home and places it on the kitchen table but there are three other husbands somewhere in the vicinity of Anaheim who do not and Fred's conclusions are that the packages were thrown in the wrong car for it's too far from Thanksgiving to expect a Salvation Army donation. Fred dug a six-foot deep hole in the back yard this morning and buried superfluous packages.

Defense Will Attempt to Show Franks' Slayers Are Abnormal

CHICAGO, June 14.—Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, jr., slayers of Robert Frank, 12, are abnormal, according to preliminary reports of the first of several experts to test the youths at the county jail.

They should not hang, is the opinion of these experts, which will be the ground work on which the defense will build.

Dr. Karl Bowman, Boston psychiatist and ductless gland expert, probably will be the first defense witness and will present his findings from the exhaustive tests he made on the boys at the county jail.

Instruments with as strange names as the phrases which the trial will make current have been used in the tests, which continued today. The metabolimeter, which measures oxygene consumption thru re-breathing processes and determines the action of certain glands, has had its inning; today the plethysmograph will be brot out. It measures mental disturbances as a seismograph records earth disturbances. Loeb has accepted the tests with good nature. Leopold, the egocentric, resents being made laughable in the eyes of the public.

"I would infer from reading the newspapers that Loeb and I are being trained like fleas to jump thru hoops for the entertainment of the curious," he said.

FOREST FIRE THREATENS CAMPERS

LOS ANGELES, June 16.—A serious forest fire, which started shortly after noon today in Waterman Canyon, on the road to Lake Arrowhead, was reported late this afternoon to be raging thru several canyons and was threatening the lives of motorists and campers, according to information received here from San Bernardino.

Fanned by a brisk west wind, the fire was beyond all control, it was stated. A squad of motorcycle officers was rushed to the vicinity to stop all automobile traffic on both sides of the blaze and other officers combed the forested regions to warn campers to rush to safety.

One hundred fire fighters began a battle against the blaze and several hundred more were sent to the fire this afternoon.

Keenan is now in Honolulu.

Jordan, carrying 79,017 names, nearly 3,000 more than the required number.

Solemn Military Tribute to Explosion Victims Tuesday

LOS ANGELES, June 13.—Solemn military tribute will mark the memorial services here Tuesday for the 48 U. S. S. Mississippi explosion victims, according to plans made today.

This afternoon the bodies will be removed to a field overlooking the sea. There the flag-draped caskets of the enlisted men will be placed in five rows and in front will rest the bodies of the three officers.

Full crews from the U. S. S. Mississippi and New Mexico and men from seven other dreadnaughts will attend with the highest officials of the navy on the Pacific coast.

Following the reading of the naval funeral service, the mourning sailors will stand at solemn parade rest while the roll call of the living and the dead is made.

As the names on the rosters of the Mississippi and New Mexico are called, each man will step forward and answer, "here!" When the names of the dead gunners are reached, a friend of the man called and of the same rank will respond, repeating: "Died in the line of duty."

Los Angeles paid its tribute to the navy heroes today. Residents contributed hundreds of dollars to a fund for dependent relatives of the 48 bluejackets and 3 marines and ten florat tributes to cover their coffins.

OUTRACES STORK

A race to the County hospital against the stork was won by H. H. Dickey of Portland, Ore., and Mrs. Charles Wilson, a visitor at the Newport Beach municipal camp ground.

In the Santa Ana business section Dickey's speedometer registered 47 miles an hour. A few miles from the hospital Mrs. Dickey whispered something to her husband. The car leaped ahead.

"You see it is her seventh child and a girl," traffic cops were told. There wasn't any traffic ticket made out for Dickey.

SAVE YOUTHS AT NEWPORT BEACH

The lives of H. M. Woods and A. D. Grant, Hollywood youths, were saved by Elmer Catt and A. J. Robinson of Upland Sunday afternoon in the surf off Fifteenth street, Newport Beach, after the pair had battled big odds in a long rip tide.

Catt first noticed the two Hollywood boys to be in distress. They were about 100 yards out and floundering in the water. Catt and Robinson, who were at the Newport Beach municipal camp ground, went to their rescue. After obtaining a life-saving float they began to battle the waves. Caught in the trip tide, they were buffeted about for more than 20 minutes before they reached Woods and Grant, whose strength was fast waning.

All four were exhausted when they reached the beach.

BOY'S HEAD IS NEARLY SEVERED

Child Crushed to Death Beneath P. E. Car at Anaheim Landing

Traffic accidents in Orange county yesterday snuffed out the lives of two young people. One was Edward Breedlove, 16, of Corona, whose father carried in his arms the corpse, its head almost severed, from a place on the canyon road five miles east of Olive, to Anaheim hospital, late yesterday.

The other was Sylvia Callahan, 4, of Long Beach, who walked onto the Pacific Electric tracks near Anaheim Landing. Death in both cases was almost instantaneous.

In the Breedlove car were the father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Breedlove, and the boy's sister, Dora Frances, 11. A car driven by C. H. Kidd, 55, of the Lennox hotel, Los Angeles, swerved into it and the youth was hurled through the windshield, his neck and face being horribly mangled.

Kidd, after receiving treatment, was taken to the county hospital. Later he was removed to the county jail pending inquest at Back's, Terry & Campbell parlors at 4 p. m. today. Mrs. A. H. Brown, a passenger in the Kidd car, was hurt, but not seriously.

Witnesses said the Kidd car hit another on the road, then careened in front of the Breedlove machine. A report at the sheriff's office, however, said the Kidd car's approach was not seen.

W. Scholtz, a passing motorist, took the Breedlove family to Anaheim. The father, clinging to the hope that the son's life might be saved, was pictured as entering the hospital with the boy in his arms, though life had passed some time before.

Accidents in other parts of the county proved less serious. There were a score at Laguna Beach and near Capistrano, while other were in the west part of the county.

The Callahan child, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Callahan, 2715 Pasadena avenue, Long Beach, was taken by death while on her way to a Long Beach hospital. Her parents were camping near the beach and the child was playing.

Madlin Hitcher of Los Angeles was hurt in Orange co park when a car driven by Frank Tuttle of that city backed into the vehicle. Others hurt included Homer Taylor, Oscar Brinkley and E. Wills of Santa Ana, whose car was hit by a Mexican auto near Delho.

Mrs. Manuela Budrow, at the request of members, favored Rotarians today with three soprano selections which provided a pleasant variation from the usual program.

Mrs. Budrow, who is a teacher at the Anaheim Conservator of Music, was accompanied by Earl Fraser. Both are of Santa Ana.

She sang the Habanera from "Carmen," Goodman's "Spring Song" and a song of her own composition "Will o' the Wisp."

Horace Benjamin presided in the absence of President Carl Leonard, who has gone to the annual international convention at Toronto, Canada.

Benjamin and Charles Grim were the chairmen of the day.

There was no outside speaker.

It was announced that the 100 per cent attendances were still being maintained.

BROOKINS TRIAL TO JURORS TODAY

The second trial of G. E. Brookins and Mrs. Addie Wiley, of Anaheim, was coming to a close this afternoon in Superior Judge Drummond's court.

Mrs. Wiley and Brookins, jointly indicted with a statutory offense, were cross-examined closely by Deputy Dist. Atty. C. N. Post regarding cases of the [illegible] separation from her husband, E. WILSON HELD TO SUPERIOR COURT

Fred Wilson, whose house just west of Placentia ave and East Center st was raided June 3, was held to answer to Judge Charley Kunkel to answer in superior court, and bail of $1000 was fixed following preliminary hearing.

The hearing was marked by "stalling tactics" from Attorney Thomas Davis representing the defence, on the ground that no connection had been shown by H. G. Wettlin, deputy district attorney, between Wilson and a keg of whiskey found in the garage and between previous crimes of which Wilson was convicted and the present crime. Davis started out with an objection to any evidence whatever being heard, alleging that the case was outside the jurisdiction of the court.

Henry Dello, Los Angeles-co detective, furnished most of the evidence telling how he had followed Wilson, who was driving a Ford, from Bellflower to Anaheim June 2 and had also seen him June 3 at Anaheim, driving up to the garage.

The intoxicants, empty bottles, labels and still syrup, etc, were all found in the garage.

Miss Margaret Beck, in charge of the laboratory at the county hospital, and Judge Lewis Works of Norwalk township, who had convicted Wilson on a previous occasion, were the other witnesses, the former testifying to the contest of the liquor examined.

Jesse Elliott, deputy district attorney, in charge of the raiding party, was present today's witness. The complaint charged possession of some five gallons of liquor June 3 without a permit. Last March and December were declared to have been the other occasions when Wilson was tried, in Los Angeles and at Norwalk, respectfully.

CHANGE TIME OF HOWELL FUNERAL

A Christian Science reader will officiate, altho Mrs. Howell was not a member of the Science church. She is survived by her husband, R. C. Howell, and another daughter, Mrs. J. O. Schwentker, of Anaheim.

Her death occurred late Saturday at the family home. The Howells had been residents of Anaheim 18 months, coming here from Albuquerque, N. M., and were greatly enjoying their growing circle of friends in the city. Altho Mrs. Howell had been an invalid a great many years, she had gained considerably during her residence here, and the Sunday before her death she had been unusually well. The services will be held in the Backs, Terry & Campbell chapel, with interment in Loma Vista.

NO COMMUNISTS FOR PROGRESSIVES

ST. PAUL, June 16.—The communist party was virtually read out of the Farmer-Labor-Progressive convention here today.

Taking their lead from Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, Rep. of Wis., who said he would have nothing whatever to do with the convention because Communists were given places of importance in the meeting, leaders of the new third party movement, in framing the organization and personnel for the session which starts tomorrow, relegated the radical delegates to minor assignments and roles.

"LaFollette is our man."

William H. Mahoney of St. Paul, leader of the "Farmer-Labor-Progressive third party," thus replied today to the slapping he'd been administered to the convention recently by LaFollette.

"There is some keen resentment here because of LaFollette's letter, but we are not wielding our axes and we are going to endorse him for the presidency," said Mahoney.

Because of the carefully laid plans, there is little chance that anything but perfunctory oratorical anger will burst forth, as delegates are they to endorse LaFollette.

Communists, headed by C. E. Ruthenberg and Ay E. Foster, and Joseph Manley, executive secretary of the Federated farmer-labor party, who are sitting in at all of the conferences arranging the convention plans, have placated.

Mahoney admitted that the communists have a share in the convention as LaFollette delegates.

"In the beginning," said Mahoney, who is in charge of all arrangements, "we thot that LaFollette was with us. I had a conference with him in Chicago and came away with the distinct impression that he wanted our support.

"His denunciation was like a bolt from a clear sky. LaFollette says himself that he is not a radical, but he is the greatest magnet [illegible]

Politics for him to slap us in the face. He knew he could slap us and still get our votes.

"By slapping us, but not alienating our support, he knew he could win the American Federation of Labor and the Big Four brotherhoods which are trying to kill off third party movements for their own selfish gains."

Mahoney specifically charged that Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, "was the man who dug up this communist stuff which LaFollette wrote about."

Now that the leaders have decided that their banner must ride atop the LaFollette band wagon, if they have to nail it there by force, there isn't much to be done. The convention is scheduled for three days, but Mahoney admits he "we may get away Wednesday."

The convention is even more set and dried than the foregone conclusion of Cleveland. Only the talking remains.

There is to be a keynote speech, by Mahoney, in which he will denounces La Follette and with the same breath urge his endorsement. There are committees on platform, rules, organization and so forth, but the same personnel, including the communists, is on all of them.

Senator Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, and Representative Hudspeth, Democrat of Alabama, are being most seriously mentioned for the vice presidential endorsement. But the big task is over before it really got started.

BRITISH MAY TAKE "STRONG ACTION"

LONDON, June 16.—Intimation was given in authoritative quarters this afternoon that Great Britain will take "strong action" as a result of the Mexican government's decree expelling Rudolph E. Cummins, British charge d'affaires in Mexico.

It is generally believed that England will halt plans already under way for recognition of the Obregon administration.

The government has already appointed a representative to go to Mexico City to make an investigation and it was understood this would be followed by a recommendation that England follow the action of the United States in recognizing the Mexico City government.

Foreign office officials claimed that the British charge d' affaires at Mexico City had the full status and rights of an accredited diplomatic representative, the importance of the incident.

Premier [illegible] may say MacDonald will take up the matter immediately. So far he has not received any official communication from President Obregon or the diplomatic corps at Mexico City bearing upon the affair.

MUST CURTAIL USE OF POWER

Drastic curtailment of use of electricity has been invoked by the Edison company, it was announced today, because of the water shortage. Shortage due to stream flow is 223,000,000 kilowat hours. Huntington Lake now contains 21,860,000 acre feet compared with capacity of 49,000,000. This shortage is equivalent to 272,000,000 kilowat hours, making total hydro shortage of about 500,000,000.

The Edison company has marshalled every available source of energy including 20,000 additional k. w. hours from Long Beach steam plant and by rehabilitation of nine steam plants. Marshalling of this power, equivalent to 385,000,000, still leaves a shortage of 115,000,000 K. W. hours, or about 25 per cent of normal demand.

Each district, community and individual will be expected to reduce consumption 25 per cent consumption of energy. Electric signs and window displays will be completely darkened at once, street lighting will be reduced to the minimum, electric car lines will curtail service one-fourth, etc. No new electric power installations will be made and use of gasoline and other means of power will be urged wherever possible.

Wherever this conservation program is not carried out, the state power administrator will authorize the pulling of switches.

ASK DISMISSAL OF ANTI-BONUS SUIT

Such popularity must be deserved

BIG HITS don't just happen. Popularity doesn't come ready-made.

In pictures, plays or products, success must be built on something REAL.

Thus Chesterfield's swift rise to popularity was no accident. Smokers were ready for a better cigarette and in Chesterfield they found it.

Taste convinced them. That's why men are turning by thousands to Chesterfield.

BILLY WHISKERS

BY FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

Billy lay down to get a good rest after his strenuous days at the front.

The next day turned out bright and fair and after a good breakfast of sweet clover with the dew still on it, Billy felt fine. He walked along and presently came to the top of a hill from which he looked down on a peaceful valley. There it perched on the very top of an almost perpendicular bluff a castle with battlements and towers, whose walls were so built in the side of the bluff that it was hard to distinguish where the castle began and where it ended, being constructed of the same color of stone as the cliff itself.

The castle had windows that commanded a view of the river, both up and down stream. And one could see from them a long stretch of valley and the river as it wound in and out through the green pastures and farms. Along the river bank ran a brown road that followed every curve of the stream like a giant snake to run a race with the waters of the river.

It was on one of the sunny slopes below the castle that Billy saw some sheep and goats.

"I'll go over and get acquainted with them, for it makes me home sick to think of Nannie, home and friends. I have not seen any of my own kind of animals for a long time. To look at this peaceful scene one would never think there was a cruel war going on anywhere in the world, let alone only a few miles from this very spot, and that it may come to this very pasture and lay it waste, as it has hundreds of others, turning green pastures into dirt heaps filled with holes that resemble burnt-out craters of volcanoes. I can't see any bridge crossing the river, but when I get there if there isn't one, I can swim it as I did once before. For I expect this is the same river that I swam only farther up, when I was escaping from the Germans."

Billy ran down the hill so fast he sent up clouds of dust and loosened stones went rolling down after him. Arriving at the river, he found, as he surmised, no bridge across it, so without a moment's hesitation in he dived.

"Gee! This water is cold! Guess it is because I haven't had a bath for so long. It is a good thing I have to swim this river before showing myself to those clean, white sheep and goats, for my hair is as black as coal. I wonder where they are searching for me now. For they will never think I could get by the sentinels, and consequently will think I am hiding somewhere in camp. Let them look! Who cares? I don't!"

By the time Billy landed on the opposite bank of the river, his hair was as clean and white as could be, and he looked his old proud self as he boldly walked up to where the sheep and goats were baaing a greeting.

(Tomorrow Billy is going to make some new friends.)

USEFULNESS IN WORK OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

Women's clubs have been very prominently before the people of California for the last few days. The biennial session of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, at Los Angeles, has been a very notable gathering. It has not been merely a social conclave—although there have been many delightful social functions in connection with the convention. Serious problems, some of them world-wide, have engaged the earnest attention of the assembled delegates. Positive stand has been taken on world peace and other questions of import. The influence of this session will be felt throughout the land and all over the world.

Development of women's clubs has been remarkable, in this country. Not to speak of the exclusively social clubs, there are thousands of organizations throughout the country, of earnest-minded women who are devoting themselves to a study of politics, economic subjects, social questions, literature, art, science, current events, and so forth. The impress of women's clubs upon the life of the community is strong. It exerts cultural, reformative, progressive influence.

California has been greatly pleased to entertain this important gathering of influential club women from all parts of the country.

There will be no extra session of Congress. Will someone please start the long-meter doxology?

EARNESTNESS LIFE'S KEYNOTE

The person who lacks earnestness in life lacks the secret of real living. The inspired writer sets it down this way: "Not slothful in business, fervent in spirit." This is the need of modern life—freedom from slothfulness; fervency in business.

Fervency is reality. The fervent person is intense. Intensity betokens life. Sloth is slow death. Earnestness need not shut out all brightness and cheerfulness. Far from it. Some of the most earnest persons are notably cheerful and genial.

This sometimes is called the "jazz" age. Some think that in almost every walk of life there is frenzy of some form—that present-day life is not normal and well balanced. This, perhaps, is an extreme view. But there is much frivolity and frenziness in pursuit of pleasure to the exclusion of serious endeavors. In these things, life should be balanced. So much of earnest, useful effort, so much of wholesome pastime. There should be neither extreme in working too hard and too incessantly, or the other extreme—playing too much and shirking the serious work of life.

Children should not be permitted to die of hunger in foreign lands, without generous relief from the United States.

Mexico is tranquil to the point of dullness as it awaits its Presidential election. Happy is Mexico when it can be tranquil in a Presidential year.

Away with the firetraps housing defective humdo beings in this state! These pitiful beings should not be exposed to the hazards of death by fire. There should be a thorough house cleaning as to this.

BEHIND THE SCENES AT G. O. P. CONCLAVE WITH BUSHNELL

PARAGRAPHS

By ROBERT QUILLEN

The American people are capable of self-government if they had the time.

The third party has arranged for everything now except the finances and the slogan.

Both parties have sufficient leaders, but they wish to lead in so many directions.

A bachelor has some advantages, but who is there to make up his mind for him?

No people is in danger of wild revolution while it remains so docile before a traffic cop.

Relatives are people you visit when heat makes the task of cooking at home unbearable.

A vanity case may seem absurd to the male, but the girls must have some way to carry their bathing suits.

It is fine to get back to nature if you can have one hand free to scratch bites next day.

Some dads are queer. They keep buying beefsteak when not one of the girls has a silk nightie.

Leonardo was a great student of anatomy, and there were no musical comedies in his day, either.

A haughty Congress can't break the spirit of a President who can survive all the puns made on him.

The man who thinks virtue always is rewarded never tried hugging his straw hat in a crowded elevator.

Another difference between a conviction and a prejudice is that you can inherit one from your grandfather.

No man is great enough to inspire awe after you have seen him making his toilet in a Pullman car.

Every American entry for the Olympics should tell us how the name is pronounced in his native country.

And so women are influenced by a candidate's pulchritude? Red-blooded men, however, will yield to platitudes only.

Old Ben Franklin said there never was a good war or a bad peace, which goes to show how times change.

When a candidate gives up, he is so low in spirit that there is no way to hurt him except to play a saxophone at him.

Correct this sentence: "I don't mind the operation," said he; "it's just that I can't spare the time."

DINNER STORIES

The colonel was delivering an address to junior officers up for examination. He dwelt with much emphasis on the fact that each officer should devote the intervening time to preparing for the final examination.

"The examination papers," he said, "are now in the hands of the printer. Are there any questions to be asked?"

Silence prevailed.

Suddenly a voice from the rear quietly inquired: "Who's the printer, sir?"

Jones, newlywed wanted experienced advice. He sought out Brown.

"You're married, aren't you?" "Yes."

"Well, what do you do when your wife says she has nothing more to say?"

"I place myself in a comfortable position in the easiest chair in the house, and prepare to spend an hour listening to her say it."

Two Scotsmen were taking a walk and were hot and tired.

"Has ye got any food wi' ye, Dougal?" asked one.

"A've a bottle of whusky. What hae you, Angus?"

"Dried tongue."

"Guid! Then we'll gae halves wi' our provessions."

The whisky was duly divided and drunk. Angus wiped his lips. "Noo for yer dried tongue, Dougal."

"Mon," said Dougal, "it's so dry the noo!"

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAY'S NEWS

FRED W. UPHAM

Fred W. Upham of Chicago, treasurer of the Republican national committee for six years who resigned his post as the Republican forces gathered in Cleveland, quit because his wife wanted him to.

He didn't want to himself, his close friends say, but his wife persuaded him that his health had suffered enough to warrant it. Mrs. Upham accompanied him to the national convention.

Last winter Mr. Upham went to the southwest and the Pacific coast, returning in much better physical condition. A recent examination by physicians had been reassuring. But Mrs. Upham urged him to relinquish some of his burden. He is the head of the Consumers Co., one of the large corporations of the country.

For 20 years Mr. Upham has been the financial genius of the Republican national committee by reason of his chairmanship of the Chicago convention committee, which made arrangements for the five national conventions held there. He became treasurer of the national committee in 1915.

In 1904, the first year the convention was held at Chicago, the arrangements cost $70,000. In 1916 the cost was $110,000 and in 1920 the expense had increased to more than $150,000.

Mr. Upham's interest in national politics never has waned in 32 years. He has been a delegate to the national convention a number of times ,first in 1892 from Wisconsin. He was western treasurer of the national committee in the Taft campaign in 1908 and again in the Hughes campaign of 1916. The only elective offices he has ever ... was ... of the Cook county board of tax reviewers for 14 years, and Chicago alderman.

Comments of the Press

What Editors Are Saying

POPULATION OF CALIFORNIA CITIES

(Riverside Press)

Riverside is credited with a population of 25,778 by the National City Bank of New York, which has made a survey of population gains for the cities of the state since the census of 1920. The estimates have been based on school attendance records, postal receipts, building permits, water and electric light connections and telephone installations.

The figures on Riverside tally well with local estimates. There will be some surprise, however, at the rating given to San Bernardino.

The population table for the seventeen leading cities in the state follows:

	1910	1924
Los Angeles	576,000	865,000
San Francisco	506,676	579,847
Oakland	216,261	270,443
Long Beach	55,593	111,186
San Diego	74,683	99,877
Sacramento	65,903	85,000
Fresno	45,086	72,138
Berkeley	56,036	70,048
Pasadena	45,354	62,678
San Jose	39,642	49,555
Stockton	40,296	40,500
Aalameda	28,806	32,607
San Bernardino	18,721	21,501
Santa Barbara	19,441	25,161
Riverside	19,340	25,778
Bakersfield	16,836	24,229
Santa Ana	15,485	23,227

Los Angeles is claiming over a million population and will naturally be prompt to challenge this estimate.

It will be noted that the only city in the list which is not credited with a substantial growth is Stockton. The writer is somewhat puzzled at this estimate. He drove through Stockton a few days ago and noted a great deal of new building, both business and homes. ... seemed as good as in the other cities listed, but ... far more than would be suggested by a population gain in four years of only about 250.

Why Electricity Must be Saved

On account of the unusually light rainfall during the past winter, Power companies throughout the state who use water power for the generation of electricity are now faced with an acute shortage. On the Edison system the two principal sources of water power supply are the Kern River east of Bakersfield and the tributaries of the San Joaquin River northeast of Fresno.

Kern River is carrying only 25 per cent of the water usually available on this date.

On the Big Creek System where water is stored in Huntington Lake the amount available is less than 25 per cent of normal. This lake which has a capacity of 88,000 acre feet now holds less than 20,000 acre feet and practically no more will flow in until next April.

Under the supervision of the Railroad Commission plans have been formulated to protect the essential requirements of all power users throughout the state. This will be done by directing the use of the power so that non-essential service will be curtailed until the present situation is relieved.

To this end the Edison Company has prepared a power budget which assigns to each of its operating districts the amount of power available for each month. The District Manager in turn will arrange so that this power will be distributed equitably among all the consumers in his district.

To accomplish this some rigid rules will be put into effect which will eliminate the use of certain kinds of service which the committee representing all of the interests throughout the state considers unnecessary.

The siuation is unforseen and absolutely unavoidable. Wherever restrictions are made they are necessary to conserve the power for the use of farmers to mature their crops and to supply industry and maintain payrolls. Without supervision the crop would suffer and industrial workers would be laid off.

We ask our consumers to aid in every possible way to reducing the consumption of electric energy by shorter hours of use and, wherever possible, the substitution of other devices to conduct their work.

Southern California Edison Co.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Savory Potatoes—Ten medium sized potatoes, one small onion, three pieces celery, two tablespoons salt, dash of pepper, milk or soup stock. Pare potatoes and place whole in a good sized buttered baking dish (in one layer is best). Add onion and celery (minced), add seasoning. Almost cover with milk or stock. Dot with butter and bake until potatoes are well done, basting over off the last ten minutes.

Pumpkin Pie—One egg, two-thirds cup sugar, one cup strained pumpkin, one tablespoon melted butter, one-quarter teaspoon ginger, one-quarter teaspoon cinnamon, one and one-half cups milk, two or three drops of vanilla, one half teaspoon salt.

Beat thoroughly the sugar, butter, spice, pumpkin and yolk of egg. Add vanilla and milk. Beat the white of egg and add to mixture. Pour into unbaked crust and bake slowly, as for a custard.

SUGGESTIONS

Cleaning Rugs—Here are two simple things about cleaning rugs that every housewife ought to know: First, a few drops of chloroform or ether will remove gummy substances from the rug. Second, six parts of yellow corn meal and one of salt, mixed, heated and scrubbed over a rug, will remove dirt spots and brighten the rug up like new. If the rug has been made by grease, spread the mixture over thickly and allow it to stand over night.

Shoe Rack—A common towel rack can be purchased at a 5 and 10 cent store and when fastened to the inside of a closet door near the floor, makes a good place to slip shoes. Keeping them off the floor in this way helps when sweeping the closet.

A Pretty Lunch Cloth—Of large dinner napkins that are very seldom used, take four, join them with one-inch linen insertion, then put the insertion around the outside, and crochet a little edge on it. You can make a very pretty and durable lunch cloth.

Protection Against Moths—Save five-gallon lard cans, wash out thoroly in hot water, if possible. Then wash and dry your flannels, wool hose, etc., and pack them away in cans. Close, run hot paraffin around the cracks to make air tight, and you can set away in the attic or the "mother" closet and be assured that the woolens are safe from moth. For furs, use these cans and pack with the furs a small bottle of chloroform with a perforated cork and then seal as above. Perforate the cork with a needle or any sharp instrument. The chloroform will destroy all moths or bugs.

STOCK MARKET SHOWS FIRMNESS

NEW YORK, June 14—The stock market displayed inherent firmness today. It took the forenoon offerings with little sacrifice in value. With the approach of the lunch hour the upward swing was again established. News that the production situation was going to be corrected by an elaborate curtailment program, especially in the Cromwell field, was directly responsible for the better feeling in oil.

Trading in rails revealed the customary new highs, among which Chesapeake and Ohio and Nickelplate were particularly prominent. Irving again exercised to a number of low priced carriers' shares.

Specialties attracted a good deal of attention by reason of their strength.

Government transactions involving about a billion dollars did not cause a ripple in the money situation, which continued easy. Call money ruled at 2 percent.

Bonds, especially those of foreign government, continued firm. Gains were strong but cotton futures were reactionary.

Foreign exchanges were firm to strong especially French francs, on the news that Premier Herriot reached an agreement with Premier MacDonald on the international situation.

There was not much change in character of trading in the last hour. Stocks of merchandise companies continued in the speculative limelight, under the leadership of Woolworth, which touched a new high above par.

Activity in the general list fell off considerably, but the undertone remained firm up to the close.

Stock sales 860,500 shares; bonds, $21,667,000.

NEW YORK CITRUS

NEW YORK, June 16.—Thirty-eight cars valencias, four cars seedless, six car navels, one car St. Michaels, two cars seedlings, six mixed cars and twelve cars lemons sold.

Valencia market about steady on 200s and larger; lower on 216s and smaller. Lemon market strong on best stock, unchanged on poor stock.

Navel averages ranged from $4.65 to $5.75; valencias, $3.25 to $7.95; lemons, $1.95 to $5.20.

WHO'S A LIAR?

Joe Nichols, of the Anaheim Glass Co., is either the best fisherman or the poorest sailor in Anaheim—but he don't eat fish.

Joe says no fish can get his bait without being hooked—he says he sent 28 mackerel tried it Sunday, off Redondo, and explains that his haul would have been doubled but for the fact the ocean would not be quiet—anyway Joe got sick of fishing.

"I wanted to photograph the catch", he adds, "but Mrs. Nichols was in a hurry to get home."

SARGUM SPROUTINGS

By Sargum Sprout

Pete Sour, who wrestles Orlando Miller at the Fairyland Wednesday evening, has a very impressive record. Pete is not much older than Miller but he has been a busy young man in the wrestling game.

For a number of years he made his home in Santa Paula where he took on any and all wrestlers that he could entice on the mat. Roy Mabee had a great deal of respect for the Santa Paula lad when Roy was doing his business. Roy claimed that Pete was too heavy for him. Roy wrestled several just as heavy as Pete, but Pete has size, science and strength.

The most notable man Pete ever met was Joe Stecher. Joe was to throw Pete twice in 60 minutes. We understand Joe could not cut the mustard. Other good men Pete has wrestled are: Hackenschmidt, Boel Montana, when Boel was going good, Tony Bardini, Terra Miyake, Dick Daviscourt and many others.

Any one that has entertained that array of bone crushers is very apt to be abel to give a good account of themselves with any man.

If Orlando Miller can handle Sour he is indeed nearing the top of his profession. Pete is out to win over Miller for he wants to get started in this section. Miller is working for another whirl at Santel.

Right now Miller looks to be a better man than he was when he met Santel and it took the Champ an hour and twenty minutes to defeat the Little Giant at that time. Santel's years are beginning to tell on him while Miller is just coming into his own.

Anyway, Wednesday evening's entertainment is going to be a high-class order. Seat sales are much better than at the previous match when Black was eliminated by the Little Giant.

Joe Benjamin, the dandy of the boxing world, is going to forsake the movie business long enough to engage in a few fights. Beautiful Joe will make his first appearance for many moons in Vernon Arena next Tuesday evening. He is head-lining with Dode Bercot. This Bercot lad's record proves him to be a bearcot. If Dandy Joe figures that he can beat Bercot and not be in the best of condition than Dandy Joe is liable to get his pretty face mussed up to lose its pompadour.

Babe Ruth challenged the great Ty Cobb to mortal combat in the Detroit-New York mixup the other day. It is a safe bet Babe and Ty years have mellowed Ty's temper down a bit. A few years back Babe would have been accommodated in a hurry. Ty is not a friend of Babe Ruth or any of the Ruth relation, but he is just learning that baseball fighting is not profitable for long enough to live on.

Such fights always result in suspensions and Cobb knows that his services are worth more to his team than the chance of maiming Babe Ruth in a fist fight would be. Rulings for fighting on the ball field often times appear too severe. Rowdyism is not to be encouraged among the players but a man should be allowed to stick up for his rights any old time. Ball players are afraid to become too interested in the work for they may know they are right but they also know if they voice their opinions they will be put out of the game and not only lose of the team their services but will gain the names of being rowdies.

Saw the Saturday game between the Seals and the Angels. The Seals won 2 to 0 because the Angels did not have any kick. On the Seal side Lewis pitched 27 men on bases with no one down. With a little pep at least one of the five should have scored but the Angels do not allow their cash demeanor to be disturbed. In other words they lack spirit, kick or whatever you want to call it.

A fiery manager who would inject some pep in that listless flock of Angels would not only be a hero with the fans, but would win ball games. The Angels have the ability but are not displaying it. This week they play Vernon, the rivalry will awake the sleeping Angels and they will not only field brilliantly but will pack a wallop. How far am I missing my guess?

Tagging All Bases

Long George Kelly continued his hitting streak. He got two singles out of four times up and the Giants defeated the Reds, 4 to 1.

The Cards dropped a close one to Brooklyn 4 to 3, Ruether being too good for them.

Earl Combs, young star of the Yankees, may be out of the game for the rest of the season. He fractured his right wrist in practice. Incidentally the Yankees lost: 10 to 3.

The Browns broke their losing streag, defeating the Athletics in ten innings, 9 to 8.

Under an avalanche of 21 hits the Tigers smothered the Red Sox and won 10 to 4.

The White Sox defeated Washington after the Senators got away to a three run lead in the first, 6 to 4.

STAR SAYS SHE DIDN'T SEE GREER

LOS ANGELES, June 16.—Edna Purviance, film beauty, the first witness called in the trial of Horce Greer, Mabel Normand's chauffeur, charged with murder of Courtland S. Dines, Denver millionaire, caused a sensation when she testified this afternoon she had seen Dines in his apartment at the time of the shooting and did not hear his voice.

She said she could not say he was even in the apartment.

Previously she had testified she did not see the shooting.

Greer was Miss Normand's chauffeur. Just before the case opened neither Miss Normand or Dines had appeared but District Attorney Asa Keyes said both were in Los Angeles and would be in court to testify.

Miss Normand returned a few days ago from the east. Keyes said since her arrival he had several conferences with her regarding her testimony. Dines arrived a few hours before the case opened, from Denver, where his father is critically ill.

She was ill five weeks in bed and suffered from lock jaw. The dentist told her she would be well soon, the plaintiff said, but it was not until after the surgeon was called in that she began to improve.

MANY SUGGESTIONS FOR CAFE NAME

Otto Lowenstein, the new proprietor of the lunch counter in Ruether's market, is loud in his praises of the Plain Dealer, in which he advertised, exclusively, for a name for his new business. He will give a money prize for the best name submitted thru the hundreds of letters left at the counter as the aspirants registered.

Mr. Lowenstein has not had time to open all of the correspondence but as soon as possible he will make the selection and the chosen name will be announced.

WARREN RESIGNS POST TO MEXICO

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Charles Beecher Warren, American ambassador to Mexico who plans to resign that post, has been prevailed upon by President Coolidge to withhold his formal resignation for the present, it was learned here today.

In the meantime, Warren will come to Washington from his home in Detroit for conferences with the president and Secretary of State Hughes and will then return temporarily to Mexico City.

Drafted into the American diplomatic service by the late President Harding, Warren served with distinction as ambassador to Japan, resigning a year ago to return to private life.

When definite steps were undertaken by Secretary of State Hughes preparatory to the establishment of diplomatic relations with the Obregon governm-nt, Warren was recalled to public service and sent to Mexico City with Judge John Barton Payne to draft these agreements for the adjudication of claims between Mexico and the United States.

Again he returned to private life and again he was recalled, this time by President Coolidge, to be the first American ambassador to Mexico since the beginning of the revolutionary troubles several years ago.

So high a regard did Mr. Coolidge have for Warren's ability as a diplomat that he picked him as chairman of the committee which wrote the Republican platform at the Cleveland convention.

In political circles here today it was widely reported that Warren's resignation at this time was a direct result of the ill feeling engendered at the convention by the conflicting factions in the Republican convention.

Ambassador Warren naturally was the center of all the disagreements among party leaders as to what should go into the platform and what be left out.

Officially, however, Warren's resignation was based on his desire to return to private life. Warren will return to Mexico City to wind up the affairs there and will then return to his home in Detroit.

The United States probably will be represented at Mexico City until September by a charge d'affaires as the appointment of an ambassador could not be confirmed by the senate until the new congress meets.

President Coolidge has not yet accepted Ambassador Warren's resignation and it was said at the White House today that an effort might be made to get him to remain in the diplomatic service.

DENIES REPORT HE'LL QUIT

DETROIT, June 16.—Charles Beecher Warren denied today the report from Washington that he had resigned as ambassador to Mexico.

"There is no authorization for the statement," he said. "I am going back to Washington this week end to confer with President Coolidge and I shall leave there Sunday night to return to Mexico.

"The newspaper dispatches reference to some disagreement at the White House as the reason for my reported resignation, is absurd and untrue. There were no such differences."

ARREST TWO FOR BRENNAN MURDER

NEW YORK, June 16.—James Piolo and Terry O'Neil, charger with murder in connection with the killing of Bill Brennan, pugilist, and ex-state trooper Cullen in Brennan's club Tia Juana, were held without bail today after pleading not guilty.

As they were taken into the courtroom Piolo was arrested on another warrant charging him with killing his own brother.

The suspect, who said he was Frank Rossi, later admitted his real name was James Piolo.

NEW YORK, June 16.—With Frank Rossi and James Hughes under arrest, police today were trying to find a motive for the slaying of "Big Bill" Brennan, well known pugilist, who twice fought Jack Dempsey.

Brennan was called from his restaurant, the Club Tia Juana, on upper Broadway, early Sunday morning and shot to death without warning.

James Cullen, formerly a state trooper, was shot in the neck when he pursued Brennan's slayers. He died this morning in the hospital.

Brennan was shot twice thru the body. He died without regaining consciousness. He was sitting at a table, chatting with his sister, Shirley Bernan, a singer in the restaurant, when he was called outside and slain.

Brennan is one of two men who have stayed in the ring with Jack Dempsey for more than 10 rounds. He retired from the ring a few months ago.

Both of the alleged slayers have long criminal records, police say.

Hughes formerly fought a Terry O'Neill, a lightweight.

The slaying is shrouded in mystery but the police are inclined to think the trouble involved bootlegging. A barrel of empty whiskey bottels was found in the cabaret, according to the police.

Rossi and Hughes were captured in a taxi at Gunpoint a block and a half from Brennan's restaurant.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT K. OF P. OPENING

It was a double celebration Saturday night at the Pythian Temple, the affair included both a public reception and dance when the new structure was formally turned over to the city authorities and the people and an observance of Flag Day. A handsome banner in the lodgeroom emphasized the latter feature of the observance.

Chancellor Commander Fred Davis presided and Mayor E. H. Metcalf made the speech of acceptance during an observance. Councilmen Knipe and Stock also spoke. The program was arranged by Anaheim Company, Uniform Rank, K. of P., Anaheim Lodge No. 105 and Pythian Sisters' Temple No. 81.

Approximately 1,000 were present.

Lloyd's Bashfulness Cause of Riotous Fun

The dictionary gives the definition of bashfulness as "shrinking modesty." But our definition, after viewing Harold Lloyd's latest Pathe Comedy, "Girl Shy," at the California theatre yesterday is that bashfulness is decidedly a subject for expansive laughter. Bashful persons have always inspired us with pity for them, but Harold Lloyd is seen as he portrayed to death of the female sex, he makes the part one of riotous mirth.

Lloyd is indeed one comedian whose pictures are ever a delight to see, for the reviewer and the audience never know what to expect of him in advance, after a series of clever characterizations and stories in the past, he once more proves his great versatility in "Girl Shy" by giving to the screen one of the most entirely novel types of hero it has ever had. The old adage that "there is nothing new in the movies" has been completely blasted at last. Lloyd definitely proves the untruth of the timeworn statement.

Conspicuous in his support is pretty Jobyna Ralston, who made such a hit with him in his last success, "Why Worry?" Jobyna brings to the screen a distinctive type of beauty, young, dainty and refreshing. Others in the cast are Richard Daniels and Carlton Griffin, with the direction credited to Fred Newmeyer and Sam Taylor.

"Girl Shy" will remain at the California theatre till Wednesday, and it is one of the few pictures that can be recommended heartily to those who like to "shop" for their entertainment. For it is certainly a bloom-chaser de luxe.

Fables "Good Old College Days" Kinograms and a special subject, "The Guest", round out a rather clever program.
