GOVERNOR WON'T SEND TROOPS TO AQUEDUCT

BLOCK MOVE FOR FIRE DISTRICT

S. W. McColloch Sues to Restrain Placentia Fire Protection

Steps taken by citizens of Placentia to get adequate fire protection for that city were forced to a standstill today and a barrier appeared in the superior court at Santa Ana in the form of a law suit. It was brought by S. W. McColloch and it asked the court to restrain forever the collection of taxes to raise an amount that was deemed essential to protect city dwellings and business houses from possible destructive flames.

The procedure taken to establish fire protection for Placentia was outlined in McColloch's suit. Last June 10, on petition of 50 asserted taxpayers and citizens of Placentia, county supervisors named W. J. Travers, Harry Easton and Samuel Newnes as members of the fire commission of the unincorporated city of Placentia. These men, it was alleged, reported $5000 would be necessary to carry on their work and furnish equipment. The board it was claimed, authorized the commission to raise this amount by direct taxation on property within an area fixed at the time within the "fire limits." A tax of 40 cents was established for each $100 assessed valuation of property within the limits. County Tax Collector Lamb already has made a part of the collection and will take steps to collect the balance unless he is restrained by the court, the suit continues.

But 42 of the 50 persons who signed the petition were taxpayers and residents of Placentia, McColloch alleges in his suit. The act under which the commission was appointed, drawn by the legislature in 1881, was attacked by the protestant as unconstitutional in that, he alleged, owners of property proposed to be taxed are not given an opportunity to protest. He further alleges that the tax levy was fixed without an election, this he claims, being provided for in the act.

McColloch asks that the appointments to the fire commission void; that the commissioners be enjoined from taking any further action; that Collector Lamb be restrained from making further collections and that he be required to pay back the money he is alleged to have received, and that the supervisors be prohibited hereafter from taking any similar steps to provide fire protection for the city under the taxation method.

McColloch stated that he had property within the fire limits and asserted he would be "injured" were he forced to make the tax payments. As defendants in his suit he named the three members of the fire commission, Collector Lamb, and the five supervisors.

No Letup in War On Bootleggers

Judge Charley Kuchel's aggregate of fines had mounted today to $15,072.50, following the collection of $1600 from bootleggers and other violators of the Volstead act and from auto offenders so far this month.

Of the $1600, $1150 was received from liquor law breakers.

There is no indication, therefore, of any let up in the war on the bootleg element, regardless of the gnashing of teeth and general damnation of the administration which has resulted.

HOOVER SEES PROSPERITY NEXT YEAR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Business prospects for 1925 are indicative of a highly prosperous year, judging from the signs of the times, as interpreted by Secretary of Commerce Hoover in an excerpt from his annual report to congress made public today.

Hoover's review of conditions referred chiefly to the fiscal year ending July 1, 1924, but he took occasion to remark that "some moderate decreases in activity during the latter part of the year have been followed by general recoveries.

Among the outstanding features of 1924, according to Hoover, was the advance in agricultural prices, which had hitherto lagged behind in industry since the slump of 1920."

A second feature, Hoover said, "is the beginning of sound policies in German reparations leading to a hopeful measure of economic recovery in Europe. Third, the complete recovery of our own industry and commerce (aside from agriculture); great stability of prices, high production, full employment, expanding foreign trade and prosperity thru out the business world.

The general level of business activity was decidedly higher than in the so-called "very prosperous year of 1919," according to Hoover. Manufacturing production dropped slightly as compared to 1923, but mineral production rose materially.

"Notwithstanding far lower prices than in 1919, the value of sales of retail stores was decidedly greater in 1924," Hoover continued. "Wages, there were lower indexes than in 1919, they may be explained as wholly due to the decline in prices. Based on the calendar year of 1913, as 100, the general average of wholesale prices dropped from 156 to 1923 to 150 in 1924."

Discussing a slight slackening in production at the close of the fiscal year, Hoover said that there was a recovery in September, which for manufacturing production stood 1 points higher than in June.

"Of first importance," he said, "the agricultural recovery by September had proceeded to a point where the wholesale price index of farm products was 142, on the 1923 basis, as compared to 149 for the price of all commodities, thus marking the reestablishment of the farmer's buying power at much more nearly the pre-war ratio."

"DRYS" KEEN FOR STOCK RECALL

Political Headquarters Opened for Reform Council Today

Petitions are being liberally signed to recall G. J. Stock, last representative of the old wet political machine on the city council, who, it is charged, has played "peanut politics" ever since the municipal election last spring and is credited with being one of the prime movers in the agitation to remove the four dry councilmen, Metcalf, Knipe, Slaback and Hanson.

Dry forces have opened political headquarters at suite No. 1 on the second floor of the I. O. O. F. bldg, it was announced today. The offices can be reached conveniently from the stairs leading to the Odd Fellows' hall at 122 West Center-st. A telephone was installed today. The phone number is 825. Anyone desiring to sign the petition to recall Stock and has not been presented with a petition, will find one there. Inquiry about registration will also be answered by calling phone 825.

Probably no petition ever circulated in Anaheim has been more eagerly signed than the one to recall Stock. While the U. S. A. club is credited with spending considerable sums of money and devoting weeks of time in preliminary canvas to get barely enough names to force an election to retain the four dry councilmen, the petition to recall Stock had not been out 24 hours until more than enough signatures had been secured to place him on the recall ballot, indicating the attitude of the public toward those considered responsible for the strife and turmoil that has made Anaheim the laughing stock of the state recently.

There was no preliminary canvas before the circulation of the Stock petitions which is being done by volunteer workers.

The unrefuted charge that Stock has not only done everything possible to embarrass and heckle the first reform administration Anaheim ever had, but as councilman has consistently refused to sign warrants for city officers to enforce the dry laws has served as a red flag to the dry forces of the city who have reacted with unanimity and desire to see Stock also put on the recall ballot.

Stock was declared today to be greatly worried by the unforeseen turn of events and to deeply regret now that the recall was started against the four dry councilmen.

OIL WORKER HELD ON GIRL'S CHARGE

Clark Escapes by Picking Jail Lock

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17.—John Bertram Clark, former pastor of the Church of Cosmic Truth and love seer, who was recently adjudged insane, picked the lock of his cell in the state asylum for insane at Patton today and escaped, according to word received here.

Clark was arrested here two months ago after he went thru a marriage ceremony with Cecyle Duncan, pretty police operative, Clark himself performing the ceremony and issuing a marriage certificate.

ANOTHER L. A. BROKER IS MURDERED

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17.—A bloodstained steering wheel from the "death sedan" in which Albert R. Rosenblum, Los Angeles real estate operator, formerly of New York, was killed in Los Angeles' exclusive Wilshire district, was the principle clue late today with which police hoped to solve the mystery murder. The finger prints, police said, were not those of the slain man and were believed to have been left on the wheel by the real estate broker's slayer of the murderer's accomplice.

Mrs. Rosenblum told police she came here with her husband from New York a year ago and had been happy until six months ago when she said her husband stayed away from home many nights on "strange business deals."

Clarence A. C. Harbert, with whom police said they learned the slain man recently had several appointments, was formerly an official of the Los Angeles city water department. Harbert was grilled by the police, but failed to furnish any information expected to lead to the arrest of Rosenblum's slayer.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17.—Albert R. Rosenblum, real estate operator, was found murdered here today under circumstances similar to the sensational killing of Harry I. Katz, wealthy musician and diamond dealer. Rosenblum's body was found in a street in the exclusive Wilshire section not far from the apartment where s Katz was killed.

Both Katz and Rosenblum were killed with a .32 calibre automatic pistol.

Rosenblum was slain after returning from an auto ride with his wife, Beatrice, according to police, who immediately launched an investigation to determine if Katz and the slain real estate man were business associates or friends.

Altho Rosenblum carried a sum of money a watch, and wore several diamond rings, he had not been robbed.

Police believe Rosenblum was murdered in his auto, an expensive speed model, and then the body thrown into the street.

Rosenblum's car, covered with bloodstains, was found by the police today after several hours' search, abandoned in a street. The cushions of the car and the windows and doors were streaked with blood.

Clarence C. Harbert, said by police to have been an intimate friend of the slain real estate operator was grilled by detectives in connection with the murder. Harbert, the officers said, recently had several mysterious appointments with Rosenblum, who registered on eac meeting with Harbert at a fashionable hotel here under the name of John Klaxon.

Mrs. Rosenblum, the murdered man's widow, told police her husband often absented himself from home and said he recently had had some "strange business" deals.

A visible clue in the murder was obtained when finger prints, said not to be those of Rosenblum were found in the blood stained car in which the real estate man was believed to have been killed.

Carroll and Fay Hansen, who found Rosenblum's body said they were going home when they stumbled across the corpse in a dark side street.

Rosenblum had been dead about two hours when his body was discovered. He had been beaten over the head with some blunt instrument and then shot thru the heart.

UNION LABOR CONVENTION PEACEFUL

Ready to Join Worldwide Movement if Integrity Can be Preserved

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 17.—American labor is now ready and willing to join in a world-wide labor movement if by such co-operation "we can be assured a basis that will enable us to maintain our integrity," Samuel Gompers, president of the A. F. of L., declared in formal statement to the organization's annual convention here today.

Gompers' statement was read to the convention by Wm. Green, vice-president of the federation and secretary-treasurer of the miners' union.

In uniting in any international movement for the advancement of labor, Gompers warned that there must be no deviation from "the principle of voluntarism which have guided the American labor movement."

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 17.—What promises to be one of the most peaceful conventions in a decade of the American Federation of Labor got under way here today. Nearly 400 delegates were present.

Seldom has the federation entered its annual meeting with its program so completely agreed upon, and with the facts which heretofore have warred with each other so pacified and quiet.

From President Samuel Gompers down Federation chiefs anticipate little serious trouble during the ten day meeting. Weekend conferences among leaders appear to have successfully installed the possibility of any acrimonious disputes on the chief problem confronting the convention, politics, and the Federation's policy in national elections.

This report, containing six major recommendations probably will be laid before the delegates tomorrow.

The council chiefly urged that the federation assume a more active part in national and state primaries and continue its non-partisan committees set up for the La Follette campaign, in an effort to secure the election of candidates regardless of party who best would serve labor's interests. In this connection members explained organized labor will not be handicapped by being a unit of any one party, but will be enabled to advance its aims thru all parties or groups and to secure representation in congress, thus being in a better position to enact legislation.

This decision of the council has satisfied the pro and anti third party factions, he added respectively by Wm. M. Johnston, president of the Machinists, and a member of the La Follette national committee and Major Geo. Berry president of the Pressman's Union and defeated candidate for the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

Johnston said today he did not want the federation to unite in the formation of a third party and would ask labor's support to a non-political movement only after it was established and found to be a going proposition, Berry declared he now planned no assault upon the report unless an effort were made on the floor to deviate from the non-partisan course.

Three major planks in the Federation's legislative program for congress already have been agreed upon. First and foremost is enactment of the Howell-Barkeley bill, abolishing the railroad labor board. The board is now particularly obnoxious to labor leaders because of its recent decision compelling workers to appear before it. Next is repeal of the Esch-Cummins transportation act and finally is enactment of constitutional amendment by which congress by a two thirds vote may override the decisions of the supreme court.

As in the past, the convention is expected to pass resolutions denouncing the Ku Klux Klan, and opposing American recognition of soviet Russia. These may produce fights, especially the latter because of recognition of Russia by Great Britain and France.

Today's session was devoted chiefly to routine, welcome speeches and presentation of the executive council's annual report, which did not include the recommendations of policies. A joint session with delegates of the Mexican Federation of Labor, meeting across the Rio Grande in Juarez also was a feature. American delegations tomorrow will go to Juarez for a joint meeting.

TWO DIE IN ROADHOUSE HOLDUP

GRANITE CITY, Ill., Nov. 17. Two men were shot and killed and a third was probably fatally wounded when eight bandits who are believed to have held as prisoners for six hours and robbed more than 50 couples at the Lakeview club a roadhouse near Mitchell, Ill., Sunday morning, sought to repeat their performance at the Eagle Park Club, a resort near this city early today.

The dead: Melvin Norvelle, 26, of Madison, Ills., a guard at the roadhouse and an unidentified bandit.

"Chicken" Ridge, another guard, was seriously wounded.

The eight bandits entered the roadhouse with guns drawn in the midst of a gay dance. At the sight of the robber gang the orchestra stopped playing. Norvelle, who stood near the door, reached for his gun. The bandit leader covered him and searched him. Then he shot Norvelle twice, killing him. Ridge, the other guard, managed to get his gun and blazed away at the bandit who fell as his companions riddled Ridge.

The bandits then carried the bodies of the slain men into their machine and drove off toward Granite City. As they passed the city hall here they fired three more shots into Norvelle's body and threw it in the street.

The bandits drove to a hospital here and carried their leader's body into the operating room, demanding that "something be done for him."

He was dead, however.

The robbers left the body there and fled. Their loot was estimated at $1,600.

EMERGENCY NOT ENOUGH TO WARRANT

Obtain Injunction To Restrain Residents of Owens Valley

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17.—An injunction restraining residents of Owens River Valley from interfering with the Los Angeles aqueduct was granted today at Independence, county seat of Inyo-co, according to word received here.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17.—High up in the Sierra mountains in the shadow of Mount Whitney, the highest peak in the United States, more than 100 ranchers of the Owens Valley were gathered today prepared to battle to retain their hold on the head gates of Los Angeles aqueduct which they seized in a daring raid.

While Gov. Friend W. Richardson refused to answer the call for troops of Sheriff Chas. Collins of Inyo-co., scene of the raid, the ranchers established a camp, shipped in supplies, and prepared to defend their position, as this city's water was dripping out of the aqueduct back into the Owens river at the rate of $10,000 worth daily.

Climaxing a bitter fight of months over the water of Owens Valley between ranchers and Los Angeles city officials, the seizure of the head gates was characterized by Mayor George E. Cryer, as "an act of lawlessness and an outrage."

According to reports here from Inyo-co., tents were erected during the night by the raiding party, and truck loads of food and supplies were being rushed to the "valley avengers." Fresh horses were also reported arriving at the head gate camp to join the original party which seized the aqueduct.

At Independence, county seat of Inyo-co., lawyers representing Los Angeles, demanded a court injunction to oust the raiders and to prevent them from interfering with this city's water supply.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 17.—Gov. Friend W. Richardson said today he would not send state troops into Inyo County, where 100 raiders have seized the Los Angeles city aqueduct. The governor issued a statement saying he saw no reason for calling out the militia.

The governor's statement follows:

"The reports received by me up to this time from Inyo-co. show that no one has been injured, no property has been destroyed, and not a shot has been fired in the Owens river controversy. The sheriff of that county has ample powers, and should be able to control the situation.

"He has authority to deputize an unlimited number of citizens to assist him. He can call upon bystanders at any time to assist him in making arrests.

"Los Angeles city has sufficient water in the reservoirs to last for several months.

"The courts are open for parties who desire redress if the sheriff fails to control the situation. I see no reason at this time for asking that troops be sent to Inyo-co.

"To send national guardsmen there might incite bloodshed and cause destruction of property.

"Calm, orderly procedure will I believe, settle this problem. As far as I can see there is no cause for hysteria, but there is another splendid opportunity for yellow journalism to injure the state."

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17.—Immediate used of California National Guard to disperse 100 residents of Inyo-co. attempting to watch over the opened flood gates of Los Angeles aqueduct from which water valued at thousands of dollars daily is escaping, was considered today by Gov. Friend W. Richardson.

With the hurried appeal of Sheriff C. C. Collins of Inyo-co for troops before him, the governor was expected to take action early in the day toward suppression of the latest gesture of Owens Valley residents in their quarrel with the city over aqueduct water rights.

TROOPS FOR L. A. AQUEDUCT

department to interfere, the Owens Valley mob opened the aqueduct gates yesterday morning and today were still standing guard over the escaping water.

The action of the Owens Valley raiding party brought the long standing differences between the city water department and the residents of that section to a climax which, it was predicted, might result in bloodshed unless settled quickly.

Taking the law into their own hands, the Owens Valley residents assembled at a secret rendezvous and rode to the aqueduct head gates in automobiles, according to a report here from Lone Pine. They were unmasked. Most of the party, it was said, was made up of rugged Owens Valley farmers, owners of lands from which it was charged Los Angeles had drained water, making the farms practically valueless.

Aqueduct guards were put to flight by the raiders and stood off at some distance while the gates were opened and the entire flow of the aqueduct turned lose.

The men in the party assembled from all points of the valley and after taking over the head gates announced they would stay there "for the rest of their lives is necessary," demanding that the city of Los Angeles make a "final settlement" with them.

The Owens Valley people today sent word to Los Angeles they did not fear state troops and were confident Gov. Richardson would not send militiamen to the valley. They said the governor had stated some time ago he did not think the Owens ranchers had "been treated fairly by Los Angeles."

W. B. Mathews, chief counsel for the water bureau, was hastily drawing up a petition for an injunction when word was received that the raiders had voluntarily barred from the city's aqueduct.

The latest word from Sheriff Collins was that the band of raiding men were still gathered at Lone Pine and they informed the sheriff they were going to stay on guard at the head gates of the aqueduct.

Included in the Owens Valley "mob" are prominent residents of the section, including bankers and other business men, according to officials of the water bureau.

In a telegram asking for troops to disperse the raiders, Sheriff Collins said:

"Approximately 100 citizens have opened the Los Angeles aqueduct gates and are now shutting the water of the aqueduct into Owens river. They are standing guard over the head gates and resisting all efforts to close it. All efforts to disperse the party have failed. Confident the party will disperse and bloodshed be averted by only arrival of state troops, I urge that troops be sent immediately. Location of party five miles north of Lone Pine."

Governor Richardson was reported today on his way to Sacramento, where he will confer with state officials regarding the situation at Lone Pine.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—State Adjt.-Gen. Mittelstaedt had not received any word from Gov. Richardson late this morning regarding the dispatch of state troops to guard the Los Angeles aqueduct in the Owens Valley country according to a statement to International News Service.

"It is up to the governor," Gen. Mittelstaedt said.

"I understand he is on his way to Sacramento and that when he arrives there he probably will take any necessary steps for the protection of the aqueduct."

GOOD ADVICE ON CHRISTMAS MAILS

Failure to fully prepay mail delays its delivery very much, Postmaster J. H. Whitaker said today, particularly around the holidays. Another potent cause of delay is use of odd-size envelopes, including the half size and small one, which have to be stamped by hand.

Umbrellas, canes and golf sticks have to be re-routed with long sticks of wood, or they are likely to be broken.

Hats, cut flowers, candy, drawings and paintings, dolls, etc., with sharp points or edges, all have to be especially wrapped to protect them or the clerks handling them.

Securely wrapping of parcels, especially at Christmas time, and plainly and fully addressing them will do much to eliminate delays.

State Government Expenses Increase

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 17.—Fixed charges of the state government for the coming biennium will increase more than $8,000,000, absorbing $6,000,000 surplus now on hand and necessitating additional revenue besides, according to a statement made public today by State Controller Ray L. Riley.

The fixed charges represent expenditures established by statute which cannot be regulated by either the governor or the legislature.

Controller Riley estimated the fixed charges for the two-year period would total $68,-804,871, as against $59,024,-224 for the period now drawing to a close.

Failure to fully prepay mail delays its delivery very much, Postmaster J. H. Whitaker said today, particularly around the holidays. Another potent cause of delay is use of odd-size envelopes, including the half size and small one, which have to be stamped by hand.

Umbrellas, canes and golf sticks have to be re-routed with long sticks of wood, or they are likely to be broken.

Hats, cut flowers, candy, drawings and paintings, dolls, etc., with sharp points or edges, all have to be especially wrapped to protect them or the clerks handling them.

Securely wrapping of parcels, especially at Christmas time, and plainly and fully addressing them will do much to eliminate delays.

DENY REMEDY FOR IMMIGRATION ILLS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17—Denial was made in a statement issued today by the California joint immigration committee that the new expatriation law of Japan provides a satisfactory remedy for ills alleged to exist as a result of the dual citizenship policy of the United States so far as concerns Japanese born hereafter, it will rest with their parents to protect or sacrifice the Japanese citizenship of their children," said the statement issued by V. S. McClatchy, secretary of the committee. "Where the parents are alien born they probably will elect to have the children retain the rights of citizenship in both countries.

"As concerns perhaps 100,000 Japanese already born under the American flag, and entitled there by to American citizenship, all of them, with the exception of less than 2,000, are citizens of Japan with full rights and obligations of such citizenship. It is problematic how many will avail themselves of this opportunity to cast off their Japanese citizenship since such act

SOCIETY

ANAHEIM friends of Mrs. Josephine Stroup, and they are countless, will be pleased and interested in the announcement of her marriage, which Dame Rumor has set for tomorrow, with "Ladie" Shaffer as the fortunate groom.

She has maintained her social and club relations in Anaheim and but last Thursday was present at the Coterie meeting with Mrs. Herman Shindler, when she whispered her secret to the members.

Mr. Schaffer is the son of Mrs. J. Schaffer and until about three years ago was connected with Schaefer's Market sales force. Several brothers and the mother are residents of Anaheim.

Their friends are eagerly awaiting their appearance here after the happy event, when no doubt, they will be accorded the usual reception (?) to newlyweds by intimate friends.

Stork Shower

Another organization of ladies, the Housekeepers' Circle, was held with Mrs. Rudolph Swartsbaugh, with all members present but three. Needlework occupied the nimble fingers while chatting and Christmas plans were discussed and confidences exchanged.

The really interesting feature of the meeting was a stork shower for one of the members, who was delighted when the contents of a basket were emptied in her lap by the hostess. The shower was a surprise, but a pleasing one.

A delicious luncheon was served late in the afternoon and plans were made for the next meeting, which will be with Mrs. Eicholtz, on Nutwood-ave., Jan. 9, of the new year.

Jolly Coterie Meeting

The Coterie club with Mrs. Herman Schindler hostess, held an interesting meeting, with five hundred the chosen entertainment. Mrs. Frank Mauer won first prize, Mrs. Hushman, second and Mrs. Heying, third.

SEEK ARSONISTS FOR $2,000,000 FIRE

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 17. Police were working today to determine the truth of falsity of a report that pyromaniacs caused the $2,000,000 blaze which swept several piers, injured three men and menaced the entire waterfront in the lower section of the city yesterday.

The fire, Jersey City's second in which millions were lost within three days, followed so closely upon the heels of the first that police and fire officials, unable to determine definitely the cause of either, declined to make a statement one way or another.

YOUNG NIECE IS HONOREE AT HOME OF AUNT

Miss Marjorie Thomas, of Pittsburg, Penn., is a very fortunate young lady, in that as the niece of Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Knopf, she had some delightful pleasures extended her.

The Knopfs, who are winter residents of Anaheim—and mighty good boosters for summer as well—brought Miss Thomas with them in coming to California on the last journey, as a graduation gift, she having finished from the Pittsburg high school last spring. The trip was made by motor with stopovers at Yellowstone park and many points of interest, all new territory to the young lady.

In her honor a company of young folk was invited to the Knopf home on Ball-rd Saturday evening, with Mrs. Robert Clark, another aunt, joint hostess. The rooms were all decorated, yellow and green being the favored color tone, with chrysanthemums and smilax gracing every possible place. Thirty were present.

Miss Elizabeth Siegel, talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Siegel, og the-Anaheim Conservatory of Music, sang several solos and other music made a delightful impromptu program. Mrs. Knopf and Mrs. Clark later served the young folk with delicious luncheon, covers being placed for the Misses Margaret Sutch, Alhambra; Dorothy and Adelaide Eicholt, Bastain, Richardson, Small, Tillie Pulz, Elizabeth Siegel, Wagner, and Houpt, Long Beach; the Messrs Phillip Bastain, Tom McBride-Hammond, Robert Peltzer, Arthur Gross, Walter Heineman, Christainsen, Thomas Mock, Wagner, Long Beach; William Puls, Ewald Shulz, and Mr. and Mrs. Seigel, and the entertaining relatives.

During the coming winter Miss Thomas will study music and French and return to her eastern home next spring with her aunt and uncle.

BILLY WHISKERS

BY FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

Billy Whiskers was telling his adventures to the goats in the farmyard when Shep, the dog, bounded in and was going to bark at him.

But the leader of the goats quickly sprang between them, explaining as he did so who Billy was. Then Shep's hair quickly lay down and he advanced with a friendly gleam in his eyes instead of the fiery looks he had had there a minute before when he saw a strange goat in the flock.

"I am very, very pleased to meet you, Mr. Whiskers, for I have heard so much about you. The two little boys to whom I belong are always reading and talking about the books with the history of your life in them. So you see I know all about you and am more than delighted to meet you. I just heard the men at the house discussing a piece of news that excited and interested me very much and I think it will all of you, too. A neighbor just rode up on horseback to tell us that some sheep dogs got in his flock night before last and killed 12 of his most valuable sheep. And they—for the neighbors are helping him—are now on their way to see if they cannot kill the dogs if they come back tonight. This they will likely do. It being such a bright moonlight night, it gives the dogs a good chance to see the sheep. Our men have gone, too, but they would not let me go with them for fear I might be shot by mistake. But I am crazy to go to see whose dogs they are that are doing this dastardly trick. You see the dogs run up to a sheep, bury their teeth in its neck, suck its blood, and then run on to another sheep and do the same thing. They never eat the meat, only suck the blood. And they say that a dog that has once done this is ruined for life as he will to get pay for war munitions.

do it again whenever he gets the chance and cannot be broken of the habit. The queer part of it is that a shepherd dog won't kill his own sheep and will protect them from strange dogs, but he may go off and kill some other farmer's sheep. It is a good thing our sheep are shut up in pens at night and not allowed to roam around the pasture where the dogs can catch them."

"You may not believe it," said Billy, "but in my younger days I used to herd sheep out in New Mexico. Only I had to protect them from wolves instead of from dogs, which are much worse. And many is the wolf that I have ripped open with my long horns just as he was about to pounce on a sheep. What say you that we sneak along in the shadows and follow the men and see if they catch the dogs? I despise a dog that will kill sheep in that way, so that I should enjoy seeing him shot."

"I should like to go very much," said Shep, "but they told me to stay behind and I hate to disobey the men. I never have in my life and I don't like to begin now."

(Billy has another exciting adventure in the next story.)

It will be too bad if nations must take charge of China again to get pay for war munitions.

DECADE AND HALF MARKED WITH PARTY

CELEBRATING their fifteenth or crystal, wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Quarton, of East North-st., and Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Folkers, 711 W. Broadway, invited a company of their friends in to pass the evening at the Quarton home.

With white and yellow chrysanthemums and marigolds and white wedding bells, the rooms were adorned almost to simulate Fairyland. After felicitations, four tables of the party settled down for games of five hundred, while others enjoyed other games. Mrs. Wade Quarton made highest score and Mrs. Jack Abbott, next, for the ladies, and Mr. Arch Quarton high, and Mr. Wm Quarton second, for the men. All were awarded with suitable prizes.

Dinner was then served and such a dinner it was! Turkey cranberry sauce, countless other goodies, with plum pudding for dessert. Something strenuous had to be done after that feast, so old fashioned dancing proved popular as pastime, the guests leaving only at the stroke of "three o'clock in the morning."

The two couples received many useful gifts of the appropriate crystal and scores of congratulations from distant as well as community friends. Present were the Messrs and Mesdames Wade, Wes and Archie Quarton; Jack Abbott, Joe Baum, W. F. Folkers, Wayne Amack, G. W. Brown, Los Angeles; Lyle Barnes; the Misses Nettie Abbott, Pauline Folkers and John Albright, Frances, Roberta, Clara Louise, Lola Bell, Arlene Quarton; Bernice Marjorie Folkers, Tom Joe Quarton and the celebrating couple.

HIGHWAY GARDENS WILL BE EXPANDED

C. R. Hannah of the High Bulb Gardens, two miles south, has received a loan of $4000 to help him on his expansion program and will proceed to increase the crop of bulbs under the ground. He is also enlarging the variety of bulbs.

Recently 40,000 bulbs arrived from Holland by special permit, including Spanish iris, dwarf gladiolus, anemones, ranunculi, dabiana, allium, etc. The consignment carried an ad valorem duty of 20 per cent.

Hannah, whose bulbs leading wholesalers of Los Angeles and elsewhere have pronounced the best they handled, is trying to anticipate the ban to be placed on imports Jan. 1, 1926. On that date narcissus bulbs cannot be imported at all.

He is trying to add largely to his acreage. He declares that this soil and climate are ideal for bulb raising.

Procrastination may convert a white spot on the tonsil into a green spot in the cemetery.

RED CROSS DRIVE MOVING NICELY

With two weeks of work yet to be put in, the Red Cross today had collected a substantial fraction of the total apportionment of $7500 assigned to Anaheim and vicinity, according to Lee Eicholtz.

Half of every dollar contributed stays in Anaheim and the other half goes to national headquarters where it is used in national and foreign catastrophes such as earthquakes, floods, etc.

Mrs. C. F. Grim of Anaheim had a real instance of the way the American Red Cross works, when, in the course of a world tour last year, she saw the Red Cross mercy ship put in during Christmas week at Yokohama, just after the earthquake. Mrs. Grim was aboard the S. S. Franconia and tells how the President of the Yokahama C. of C. and two other representative Japanese came aboard and voiced Japan's thanks for the help. Lumber, clothing, food, etc., was given.

Recently there was an earthquake in Java, and the Red Cross is expected to send aid there.

In the United States the annual per capita loss, on account of preventable diseases, is $25.

DAILY GREETING TO OUR READERS

Our work for God is God's best work for us. In our doing the work, we are built up in godlikeness.—Lyman Abbott.

DREARY OUTLOOK IN RUSSIA

A dreary picture of conditions in Russia is given by the Prague Tageblatt, a socialist publication. Statistics from Moscow indicate a famine that will involve fifteen or twenty million people. There is an incipient panic, peasants fleeing in hordes from their barren fields, and tales of children abandoned in the tragic exodus. Battles have been fought within the Communist party over the expediency of continuing food exports in the face of such dire need at home, and the anti export party seems to have the upper hand. Russian dock work ers rebel against loading grain ships for export.

In the face of these conditions the fall of Premier Ramsey MacDonald in England, and the consequent failure of the British loan comes as a calamity to the Soviet Government. Only the hope that the Labor party would receive a majority in the recent election in England stood between Russia and despair.

The New York Times says: "There was never any love lost between MacDonald and the men in power in Moscow. They have reviled the British prime minister as an individual and have boasted of the treaty as a surrender extorted from British capitalism. But, Russia's need of the loan that has now vanished is bitterly real. Her economic condition would be called desperate in any other country, but one that has managed to live somehow in defiance of the laws of economic gravitation, even at the vast cost of human lives and happi ness."

While trying to decide upon the most satisfying words and phrases in the language, do not overlook that gratifying phrase, "Paid in full."

SMALL TOWN LIFE

American small town life has been so held up to ridicule by one or two of our eminent authors that "Main Street" has come to be synonymous with mediocrity and the American business man of average attainments who has aspirations above the daily grind is heaped with contumely as a "Babbitt."

Human nature in small centers of population is about the same as in cities. There are Babbitts and Rotarians in both places. There are Main streets in cities as well as in villages. There is as much genius in the small town to the square inch as there is in the city.

Andrew Proudfoot, in the Lariat, takes occasion to rebuke those authors who think it is the height of art to single the sordid things out of life and to hold up the small town to scorn. He compares the American with the European small town. He says: "The small town life of Europe, even of Eng land, is not to be compared with out Main streets. Can you imagine the tables turned and the small towns of Europe being asked to feed hungry Americans? The Main streets of the small cities of America are the midribs of the most humanized form of civilization ever known, even if some sorry, roving, disappointed authors come around in them with a grouch that no amount of human kindness can dissipate."

Wisdom is clothed in simplicity, as with a garment.

President Coolidge is firmly opposed to the game of "Pad ding the Budget.'

There is just a bit too much verbal scrimmaging in inter collegiate football here in California.

DINNER STORIES

A well-known captain, who was a great character, lay dying in his ship, and ordered the sailmaker to bring for his inspection the canvas in which he would be shrouded when buried.

"Too good—too good!" he exclaimed. "I can't have good canvas wasted like that! Find a rotten piece. And what are you going to weight me down with?"

"Chain cables, sir," was the reply.

"Chain cable—chain cable?" returned the dying man, "more waste—I won't hear of it. Holystones. I tell ye, or by the great hook block, I'll haunt ye."

The head of a large business house noticed that one of his clerks, had been looking off color for some months, and one morning, when he was looking rather paler than usual, he tackled him on the subject.

"You look tired this morning, Jones," he said kindly. "Don't you sleep well?"

"No, sir," was the reply. "The fellow I share a room with and I suffer from alternate insomnia."

"Alternate insomnia! What is that?"

"Whichever gets to sleep first keeps the other awake all night!"

SUNSHINE PELLETS

BY REV. W. F. THOMPSON

If we'd walk more miles we'd wear more smiles.

And another incurable affliction is ancestors.

"Blood will tell"—if it's examined microscopically.

From morn 'til night
I daily fight
Temptation's luring hand;
A bite of that,
Or a bit of fat—
I gain to beat the band.

The four stages of dry sweeping: Room, Broom, Doom, Gloom.

Only sunny dispositions may live on the shady side of Easy street.

Coincident with teething, digestive disturbances are more often caused by dirty teething rings.

You can't banish human ills
By just taking liver pills;
Ten to one, the pill you're taking
Does not hit the spot that's aching.

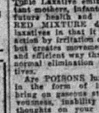
POISONS That Wreck DIGESTION Overcome by "RED MIXTURE"

This remarkable Tonic Laxative, known as RED MIXTURE, not only relieves inactive liver and bowels, but eliminates the toxins that cause the trouble. Hospitals have been using this Tonic Laxative for 20 years, and only recently has its originator, a prominent army surgeon, placed it upon the market.



Countless thousands who suffer from sedentary bowels, and may have become habitual users of laxatives through necessity, should associate themselves with this splendid Tonic Laxative. This remedy will relieve the most obstinate cases of constipation, and restore the digestive organs to their normal, active condition. RED MIXTURE contains no narcotics and has no habit-forming tendency; is a gentle laxative eminently safe for expectant mothers, infants and children, whose future health and comfort is at stake. RED MIXTURE differs from ordinary laxatives in that it does not force bowel action by irritation of the intestinal walls, but creates movements in a smooth, easy and efficient way that induces natural and normal elimination without further laxatives.

Are POISONS lurking in your system in the form of intestinal toxins that bring on nauseous stomach, headache, nervousness, inability to concentrate on your business, general depression, etc., all of which indicate sluggish liver and bowels? If so, don't fail to try RED MIXTURE, a true Tonic Laxative that builds up the System while giving relief. For sale in 75c and $1.50 bottles. If your druggist cannot supply you, send us his name and the coupon below with 10c for trial sample of "RED MIXTURE.

Health and Diet Advice

By Dr. Frank McCoy
Author of "THE FAST WAY TO HEALTH"

FASTING FOR HEALTH

SYMPTOMS: As assimilation is suspended, elimination is increased, and the accumulated toxins which are being ejected from the system will generally produce a condition similar to biliousness, with headache and often nausea for the first day or two. If these symptoms persist, it is an indication of an especially bad case of autotoxemia, and the fast must be continued at least until the headache and nausea disappear. Appetite for eating will vanish in the first few days, and will not appear again for many days. Consciousness for food may be felt for some time by those who are not occupied in some work which distracts their attention from the usual hour for meals. Patients must be careful about jumping out of bed too quickly or walking rapidly up a hill, as they will often feel dizzy from the sudden change in the blood circulation to the brain. This is an ordinary symptom and need cause no alarm being due to the change taking place in the blood stream. The tongue will become coated at first, and the breath foul and offensive, until the most virulent of the waste products are eliminated.

LENGTH OF FAST: If the complete fast be continued long enough, the tongue will become clear, the breath sweet, the mouth will be as clean as a baby's, and hunger and strength will return to the normal. This often takes from thirty to sixty days, and I have known instances where it did not return for ninety days. Such lengthy fasts should not be attempted by anyone except under the care of a physician who understands every detail and symptom liable to occur. I seldom find it necessary to advise a patient to go to the extreme finish of a complete fast. Satisfactory results are generally realized by shorter fasts, followed by a proper dietary regime, or by a series of short fasts.

DAILY VIEWS

"GERMAN SOCIALISTS GAINED PRESTIGE BACKING DAWES PLAN," SAYS LEADER

The leaders of the Social Democratic party of Germany feel that in mobilizing all their forces, including their one hundred deputies, for the putting through of the ratification by the Reichstag of the Dawes reparation plan they materially strengthened their position in domestic politics and are now able to put up a hard fight in the general elections made necessary by the dissolution of the Reichstag on Oct. 20. This belief is expressed in an article written for the Socialist press of the world by Rudolph Breitscheid, the Deputy whose trips to London, Paris and Geneva are counted as having helped bring about the acceptance of the reparation plan and Germany's application for admission to the League of Nations.

Dr. Breitscheid begins by repeating the Socialist statement that the Dawes plan is by no means a panacea for the world's ills, but that it is a step along the road away from the policy of force and toward the economic solution of international problems; acknowledges the efforts of the Socialists of other countries, notably the French, in behalf of a reasonable reparation settlement; justifies the sacrifice of their ideas of socialization of industry by the German Social Democrats in the interest of national unity and a chance to resume industrial activity; declares that not to have backed the reparation plan would have been a crime, and concludes:

"That the Communists, in beautiful harmony with the 'National Socialists,' damn us for having voted for the 'pact of enslavement' is something we must take as a matter of course. We believe that it certainly is better for a German proletarian party to come to an agreement with Herriot and the French Socialists than, like the Communists, to blow the same horn as Hergot, Westarp, Graefe and Reventlow and to be rewarded therefor by hearing the Nationalist speakers touchingly acknowledge this growth of national sentiment.

"We also believe that we have in no way abandoned our position as fighters of the class struggle by this action. On the contrary, the dawn of a clearer day on the field of foreign politics allows us to concentrate our forces more than before against our enemies on the field of domestic politics. The battle front becomes clearer when we are not so frequently obliged to join the bourgeois parties—even though from different motives—in protesting against the impositions of foreign capitalism and imperialism. And there is a chance of our going to sleep at home.

"The German People's Party and a part of the Centre Party have held out hopes to the German Nationalists of seats in the Cabinet as the reward of their accepting the railroad laws. These groups have not yet been convinced by the most miserable and despicable attitude of the successors of the old Conservatives that a sense of morality and decency, if not political considerations, ought to prevent the formation of the 'Bourgeois Bloc.' They want a homogenous government, and a homogenous government for them is only one including the Nationalists as well as the middle parties.

"What such a Cabinet would mean in foreign, economic and social policies need not be pointed out. The Social Democracy will have to line up for a ruthless battle against it, and then the fact of the Socialists having voted for the Dawes laws will not diminish, but increase the force of their attacks and their prospects of success."

COMMENTS of the PRESS
What Editors Are Saying

USELESS WORRY OVER FUTURE—Santa Barbara News

A stage entertainer some years ago when the threatened coal shortage was a subject of discussion told a story of a tramp sitting on a fence with distress written on his face, who, when asked the cause of his troubles said he was worried over what would happen when the world's coal supply was exhausted.

A forecaster looking forward to the time when the Nation shall have a population of 200,000,000 is painting pictures of the conditions that will prevail.

Already he sees signs of hunger in the land, and wants to speed up the farm machinery to feed the people of the coming generations. Like the tramp of former times he is distressed over the possible discomfort and suffering he foresees.

There is nothing new about this form of speculation. Some thousands of years ago, the philosophers amused themselves with discussions of this sort. One of them looked forward to the time when the world would be so full of people that they would starve to death.

A scientist has figured out that if all the progeny of a pair of codfish survived, and reproduced according to their kind the ocean would be solid with cod in a few generations.

Fortunately for these prophets and for the world at large, when the forecaster looks into the future he sees through a glass darkly. There are many things they can not foresee.

One thing is certain, the food supplies produced annually in this country at present are ample for a much larger population than the country now has. Enormous quantities of food stuffs never reach the market.

Farming is a business. When prices drop below the cost of production the farm product does not leave the farm, or at least it does not go to market.

In addition to that there are vast areas of idle land in this country. It is estimated that in California alone there are 20,000,000 acres that can be brought under intensive cultivation.

Then, too, modern science offers the hope of tremendous increase in food supplies.

Our panic over coal was vanished because of oil, and the enormous development of hydro-electric power. Our fears over food supplies are just as foolish as was our anxiety over coal.

Through millions of years nature has been taking care of these problems, aided by man's brains. Both these forces are still at work.

GLEANINGS FROM THE BOOK OF LIFE

Some of Huxley's Ideas

"Perhaps the most valuable result of all education is the ability to make yourself do the things you have to do, when it ought to be done, whether you like it or not; it is the first lesson that ought to be learned; and, however early a man's training begins, it is probably the last lesson that he learns thoroughly.

"The great end of life is not knowledge but action. What men need is, as much knowledge as they can assimilate and organize into a basis for action; give them more and it may become injurious. One knows people who are heavy and stupid from undigested learning as others are from over-fulness of meat and drink.

"My experience of the world is that things left to themselves don't get right.

"The only people, scientific or other, who never make mistakes are those who do nothing.

"Time, whose tooth gnaws away duce results. Try this medium.

everything else, is powerless against truth.

"A thorough study of Human Physiology is, in itself, an education broader and more comprehensive than much that passes under that name. There is no side of the intellect which it does not call into play, no region of human knowledge into which either its roots or its branches do not extend; like the Atlantic between the old and the new worlds, its waves wash the shores of two worlds of matter and of mind; its tributary streams flow from both; through its waters, as yet unfurrowed but the keel of any Columbus, lies the road, if such there be, from the one to the other; far away from that northwest passage of mere speculation, in which so many brave souls have been hopelessly frozen up."

LINER COLLIDES WITH FREIGHTER

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—The freighter Santa Cecilia and Mexican State liner Washington, are undergoing repairs here today as the result of severe damage sustained by both vessels when they collided off Point Montara, 22 miles south of the Golden Gate, Saturday night.

With her bulkheads filled with water, the Santa Cecilia limped into port under her own steam late yesterday, preceded several hours by the Washington which arrived with her entire forepeak caved in and with her wireless apparatus out of commission.

Three men of the Washing's crew were injured when the ships collided.

TEST PROVES TAX IS LEGAL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The New York state law requiring foreign corporations to pay a tax for doing business in that state, was upheld today by the United States supreme court.

Test cases were brought by Bass, Ratcliffe and Gretton, limited, of Great Britain, and by the Gorham Mfg. Co. of Rhode Island.

Bass, Ratcliff and Gretton sought to avoid payment of a franchise tax of $826, while the Rhode Island corporation, attacked the law because of a tax of $13,582 levied on the basis of its net income.

The supreme court held that the Franchise tax was neither arbitrary nor unreasonable and that the method of apportionment was not unfair.

SEEKS 30 MILLIONS MORE FOR NAVY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Secretary of the Navy Wilbur today carried to congress his plea for funds to keep the U. S. navy at the strength authorized by the Washington armament conference.

He appeared before the house appropriations committee with a request for an appropriation for the fiscal year 1925-26 of $323,-000,000—$30,000,000 more than was allotted to the navy by the bureau of the budget.

"This sum will be necessary, Wilbur said, if the American navy is to be maintained at an equal ratio with that of Great Britain.

SUES BARRYMORE TO GET BACK HER PLAY ABOUT POE

Miss Sophie Treadwell (Lucy Stone League name of the wife of W. O. McGeehan, sports authority) is suing John Barrymore, actor, for return of a play about Poe, poet, she submitted three years ago. She says he rejected it in favor of one written by his wife ("Michael Strange") but after she read Mrs. Barrymore's play, she told him it was an imitation of hers, and he dropped production. Barrymore denies attempting to "pirate" the play

CYPRESS

CYPRESS, Nov. 17. (Spl.)—The regular meeting of the Cypress C. of C. will be tomorrow evening at the school hall. Several matters of interest are coming up for discussion. Several important committees should be ready to make their reports.

Charles Jones, who is connected with the Buena Park News, will give a short talk on the Cypress school's new adventure into the newspaper world. The Chatter Box. Mr. Jones has also promised to help out with a song or two.

Fire Chief Owens of Buena Park, will be on hand to give suggestions and aid in the establishing of a fire fighting unit in Cypress. A goodly sum has been promised by subscription for the purchase of apparatus. G. G. Priddy is heading this move.

L. M. Frantz of the Southern California Edison Co., will be on hand to chat with the chamber on the workings of the Edison Co.

The meeting should be worth while and everyone is invited to attend.

Mrs. G. G. Priddy was called to Long Beach Friday by the very serious illness of her cousin Mrs. Tillie Mosey. Mrs. Mosey is well known in this section and her many friends will be glad to learn that she is recovering from her illness as well as could be expected.

Mrs. L. C. Williams, who recently opened a restaurant in the Fusuy block is making a decided hit with her menus. Sunday's special was a chicken dinner, and was well worth going a long way to get. Mrs. Williams makes a specialty of barbecued meats and the sandwiches made from these meats are a real treat.

M. C. Chase is taking radium treatments for an eye trouble that has hampered the vision of his right eye for some time.

Local Masons took in the 6:30 dinner and the conferring of the third degree by the past masters of Yorba-Linda lodge.

FORTUNE IN GOWNS IN UNITED FILM

Miss Mae Busch, who enacts the title role in "A Woman Who Sinned," which will show at the United theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, is a veritable fashion show by herself.

The winsome star is first shown as a minister's wife; then as the mistress of a Wall-st broker. Her gowns, therefore, range from the dainty gingham dress of a country girl to the most elaborate of evening creations.

The gowns worn by Miss Busch in "A Woman Who Sinned" present a splendor of clothes heretofore unequaled on the screen. The gowns are the latest creation of an exclusive fashion shop in Paris. In no way are they reminiscent or suggestive of anything in milady's wants that have ever been shown to feminine eyes before. Although Miss Busch is a possessor of a myriad of expensive gowns, at no time is her brunette ability overshadowed by her costly clothes.

The story of "A Woman Who Sinned" is from the pen of Fenton Fox. In addition to writing the story for which he was offered $50,000, Fox directed and produced the picture. A number of elaborate sets are shown in the picture, including one interior set that cost more than $2000. A big brawl scene employing nearly 2500 extras.

Miss Busch is the featured player, supported by Irene Rich, Wallace Morgan and Rex Lease.

As an added feature on this program, Hal Roach presents his little rascals, "Our Gang," in their latest comedy, "The Cobblers." This is decidely one of their clever pictures.

Of the six women who were candidates for Congress on major party tickets in the recent election three were victorious at the polls.

FRISCO SEEKING A. A. U. MEETING

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Nov. 17—A decision of the common field events of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States to have the 1925 outdoor track and field championship meet at San Francisco was to be approved today at the thirty-sixth annual meeting of the Union.

San Francisco, Pasadena and Chicago were rivals for the honor, first of its sort for the west since 1920.

Decision on the indoor track and field meet was withheld, pending a reply are to be held at Bay Shore, Long Island. The indoor swimming meet for women will be held in St. Augustine, Fla., and the men's outdoor swimming contest will be in Seattle, Wash., and the men's indoor swimming meet has been awarded to the Olympic Club, San Francisco.

The wrestling committee decided to stage next year's wrestling championships on the grounds of the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College at Stillwater, Okla.

Murray Hulbert, vice president of the Union, formerly a congressman, and now president of the board of aldermen in New York City, is expected to strike C. Prout, of Boston, who has been head of the organization for three terms.

It is believed he will be unopposed.

LAST OF LINCOLN'S LINE WILL SOON GO

The immortal need no issue to perpetuate their names. Grateful nations look to that.

Abraham Lincoln, Mary Todd Lincoln were blessed with four sons—Robert Todd, Thomas (Tad), William Wallace and Edward Baker. Of these only Robert Todd, former ambassador to the Court of St. James, secretary of war in Garfield's cabinet, and former president of the Pullman Palace Car Co., is alive.

Robert T. Lincoln is the only son of the president who lived to an age sufficiently advanced for marriage, and of his alliance only one son was born. This boy was named Abraham, but he, too, passed away in his youth and the hope of perpetuating the line of the great president passed with him.

His children were the delight of Lincoln's life and the loss of them the greatest trial. Many new sidelights upon the character of Lincoln have been disclosed in the disclosure of the records of his life and times by the Rockett Lincoln Film Co., producers of "Abraham Lincoln," which will open at the California next Sunday, and his relations with children, both his own and others, form one of the most delightful commentaries of his life.

The lone marker, however, enabled him to pass his last year's record of 12 touchdowns.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

BY NOOMAN E. BROWN

Before another football season rolls around another change in the provisions for the kickoff will be made. That is assured now, with the end of the present season still a few weeks off.

The present rule, which calls for kicking off the ball from mid-field instead of the 40-yard line, has already proved a blunder on the part of the rules committee.

The change was made to meet what officials expected to be a new condition created at the same time by the elimination of the "tee" for the kickoff. They believed that the prohibiting of an artificial base for the ball would shorten the distance obtained by the kicker. To neutralize this they moved the location of the ball nearer the opponent's goal line.

Now, however, they are aware of the fact that the good kickers had little trouble in getting almost as much distance to their kicks from heel-made grooves as they did from raised tees.

And the result is that 90 per cent of the kickoffs are landing behind the enemy's goal line. The ball is then carried out and put in play on the 20-yard line.

This makes the kickoff of little value from any viewpoint. In the opinion of many experts it could be dispensed with and the ball put placed in play on the 20-yard line of the side losing the toss.

When the ball was booted from the 40-yard line the receiver frequently had an opportunity, behind some interference, of getting the ball back well beyond the 20-yard line. Ask Red Grange. With the ball landing behind the goal line the kicking side has no chance to recover the ball thru fumble or nail the runner "in his tracks," always a thrill of the game in the past.

Some coaches, awake to the weakness of the new rules, have attempted to outwit their opponents and the rule makers by having their kickers apparently "top" the ball when they kick it. This causes the ball to bound along the field. The temptation to endeavor to fall on it or pick it up and run with it is great. The moment an opponent does get his hands on it—and misses it—the ball is in play, of course, and the kicking side has a 50-50 chance of regaining possession of the ball within the shadow of the opposition's goal line.

The two outstanding stars of the British golf firmament of 1924 are Joyce Wethered and E. R. Whitcombe. They performed as brilliantly for England as Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen did for Uncle Sam.

Whitcombe is the young gentleman who led Walter Hagen most of the way in the British open championship and finished one stroke behind the American meteor. In the more recent News of the World tournament, which is the British equivalent of the American pro tourney, Whitcombe proved himself easily the class of the field.

Miss Wethered, regaining her title as British women's champion, placed herself well above all competition. She not only won the British women's open title but took the closed event later.

Friends of Bill Sherdel, Cardinal southpaw, like to tell the story that when he made his first railroad journey to Milwaukee from the Blue Ridge country to join the club, he took a day coach, sat up all the way and subsisted on food his mother packed before he left home.

But Bill points out that apparently he also packed a mean left arm along on that first trip, else he would not now be in the big show.

HASN'T SOLD YET, DECLARES EWING

OAKLAND, Nov. 17—"Absolutely nothing has been done regarding the sale of the Oaks," J. Cal Ewing, president of the Oakland club, declared this morning in answer to reports that Walter Johnson of Washington and George Weiss of New Haven had closed a deal over the week-end.

Prior to Ewing's announcement, Herbert S. McFarlin, secretary of the Oakland club, was asked what he knew of the reported sale.

"I am in no position to state," he replied, "but it would seem as if the report is correct.

When asked today regarding the Johnson-Weiss deal, Secretary Herbert S. Farlin of the Oakland club said:

"It would seem the report is correct, but Ewing must make the announcement."

EXPECT TO REPORT BALL CLUB SALE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—Announcement was expected to be made today that Walter Johnson, pitching star of the Washington Americans, and George Weiss, owner of the New Haven club in the Eastern league, have purchased the Oakland baseball club of the Pacific Coast league, it was learned here this morning.

It is understood that the price paid by the Johnson-Weiss partnership is around $200,000.

Johnson and Weiss have been on the coast for several weeks with the object of buying a ball club. It has been rumored several times that they would purchase the Oakland club but up to today nothing definite was known.

Neither Cal Ewing, president of the Oakland baseball club, nor Del Howard, business manager and next largest stockholder to Ewing, could be reported to confirm the sale.

DePALMA WINNER

Ralph DePalma in his Miller Special was first at Tanforan yesterday in the 100-mile dirt classic of the Western Racing Ass'n; Peter De Paolo, Duesenberg, was second; Eddie Hearne, third; Earl Cooper, fourth, and Tommy Milton, fifth. DePalma's time was 1:43 2-5, considered fast in view of the heaviness of the track.

LOCKHART WINNER

Frank Lockhart in his McDowell Special won all four of the principal events at Ascot speedway yesterday and set a new track record of 1 minute, 32 seconds in the Thomas Meighan 10-lap race. Later in the Ascot Derby he cut this figure further to five minutes, 17 seconds.

Ralph Ormsby's car suffered a broken connecting rod, George Beck's Frontenac, which he borrowed, failed to hold a seat and Al Watters' Frontenac, his third car, wasn't fast enough.

BIG PUGS READY

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 17.—Fred Fulton, giant pugilist of Minnesota, and Tony Fuente of California and Mexico, were ready today for their bout here tonight, which will determine Fulton's climb to a fight with Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion.

Fulton is favored to win, and Fuente's manager, announced that if his fighter beats Fulton a Fuente-Firpo bout will be staged here in December.

RESUMES TRIAL AFTER HICCOUGHS

REDDING, Nov. 17.—Interrupted by an epidemic of hiccoughs among the jurors, the trial of the Joerger damaze suit against the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. has been resumed after a delay of more than a week.

P. P. Wilbur, who was the first member of the jury stricken with hiccoughs, was confined to his bed for two days following the attack. Fellow jurors, after listening to him wheeze for two days, developed sympathetic hiccoughs and the case had to be adjourned.

RAILWAY STOCKS CONTINUE CLIMB

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. — Railroad and industrial stocks continued their forward movement into higher levels today. The rails were featured by heavy buying in all departments and initiated the rally which spread to the whole market, with the exception of the oils. Special demonstrations took place in a number of the specialty stocks, some of them new additions to the active list, and prices were pushed forward vigorously for gains of from three to 10 points.

While profit taking was in progress in some parts of the list, notably the oils, the shorts were being pushed in high priced stocks which have covered considerable ground in recent sessions, accumulating short selling on the way up. General Electric gained about 10 points on short covering and much of the buying in Mack Trucks was attributed to the same cause. The bears were not able to depress American Can the offerings were fairly heavy.

Heavy accumulation of railroad stocks has reduced the market supply and buying orders today found little stock offered. It required only a small volume of selling to send New York Central to a new high at 117⅝; Union Pacific up two points to 146⅝; Sou. Pac. up one to 102⅝; New Haven to above 29 and Wabash, pfd. A to a new high at 54¼ on exceedingly hevay trading.

Trading was very heavy in the first two hours the result of a large accumulation of bying orders from out of town points. There was further switching from industrial to railroad stocks, but many of the active independent steel, motor, equipment and specialty stocks were also favored in the trading. Industrial conditions were reported as favorable, money easy and commodity prices hardening.

Radio, Corp. featured the low priced specialty stocks with a further gain of five points, the stock selling at 35 against last week's low of 28½; New York Airbrake pushed up to a new high at 29½; Gen. Elec. gained 9½ at 266; Mack Truck 2½ at 111.

Steel stocks moved upward today in response to announcement that prices of bars, shapes and plates had been advanced $2 a ton by the Inland Steel Co. and that the big steel mills were preparing to blow in more furnaces. U. S. Steel sold up to 115⅝; Gulf States was 2½ higher at 77½; Crucible up 2¼ at 64½; Republic, Bethlehem and Colorado Fuel fractionally higher. Motors were firm with Baldwin up two at 125-¼ and Pullman up two. Oil stocks were again reactionary with declines of about one point in many of the active stocks.

Stock sales today, 1,771,000 shares, bonds $17,436,000.

CONCERT ORGANIST HAS BIG PROGRAM

George E. Turner, concert organist at the California theatre, has arranged a special screen presentation of the great ballad success, "West of the Great Divide." In this number Mr. Turner will continue the novel manner of presenting these musical numbers which has already met with much widespread approval in the city. In the many varied styles in which he plays song choruses, Mr. Turner displays marked qualities of charm and versatility.

Much favorable comment was heard on the musical interpretation of "The Alaskan" at its first showing yesterday, which was arranged by M. Turner, contains excerpts from Dvorak's "New World" Symphony, the "Ruy Blas" overture of Mendelssohn and the Indian songs of the California composer, Charles Wakefield Cadman.

"Sinners in Heaven" at Calif. Tomorrow

The title of the new Paramount picture, "Sinners in Heaven," which is coming to the California Theatre for Tuesday and Wednesday has a distinctly paradoxical sound. It is safe to assume that the picture satisfactorily explains and justifies the title.

To those, however, who have read the story by Clive Arden from which the picture was adapted by James Crelman and produced by Alan Crosland, the title has an especial significance and it is certain that they will approve its retention in the screen play.

"Sinners in Heaven" tells the story of a man and a girl who are thru fate wrecked on a tropical island off the coast of Africa. Try to imagine what would happen if you found yourself stranded in some remote corner of the earth, apparently a million miles from any sign of civilization, and your only companion was a person whom you cordially disliked! That is the situation that confronts Barbara Stockley ,the heroine; and you can readily understand the dynamic possibilities in such a drama when we tell you that the girl eventually falls in love with the man and marries him, there, in the heart of the African desert. How the marriage is performed and what happens after that, we will let you discover for yourself.

With a combination of such box office favorites as Bebe Daniels and Richard Dix who portray the two leading roles, surrounded by such likeable well known players as Holmes Herbert, Montague Love, Florence Billings, Effie Shannon, Betty Hilburn and Marcia Harris, the only fair thing to do is designate it as an all-star cast.

Make a note of the play date if you want to be amongst those present when "Sinners in Heaven" comes to town!

Will Rogers in one of his famous comedies, "Our Congressman" and Topics of the day are on the same program.

Tonight is the last showing of "Thomas Meighan in "The Alaskan," that thrilling story of the Far North by James Oliver Curwood; with a special stage presentation by "Fawnette," that American Indian Girl in a rare vaudeville treat.
