Anaheim Convention Center Plans Approved

$5 Million Hall Slated for City

Anaheim may possibly be the home of a new convention and exhibition hall in the not too distant future should the City Council see eye to eye with the Planning Commission, who yesterday approved a petition submitted to them by Leo Freedman of Beverly Hills, to construct such a center at 1601 S. Manchester Ave.

The proposed exhibition and convention building will be built at an estimated cost of from $5 to $6 million, will have floor space of 90,000 square feet, and will be employed for exhibitions, sporting events, cultural events and conventions. The second floor of the dome shaped structure will be devoted to a banquet hall and ball room; seating capacity comes to 6,000 permanent seats and 3,000 temporary additional ones, with an estimated parking capacity of 2,272. A ball in the top of the aluminum dome will house translucent, revolving lights.

In conjunction with the exhibition hall, Freedman plans to construct an eight story hotel facing onto Harbor Blvd., and adjacent to the larger building. Ground is expected to be broken for the hotel, called the Charter House, on June 1, and the end of this year is expected to witness completion of the first two stories. Freedman said that the Hotel Corporation of America will lease the new hotel.

Some Opposition

Freedman's plans did not get through without opposition, however, and the principal source of dissent came from the Phil Anthony Homes, Inc., represented by attorney Julius A. Leatham, and Anthony Pools .

Anthony property adjoins Freedman's property to the west, lying between the proposed site of the convention hall and Harbor Blvd. The disposition of this property is apparently being considered at the present by the District Court of Appeals. Should the court rule against whatever usage Anthony Homes has in mind, the possibility exists that City Council could condemn the strip of land, which would form extension of a proposed road from the convention site's parking area to Harbor Blvd. Attorney Leatham asked that the Planning Commission lay the request aside for a period of six months and await the court's decision. His main reason, he said, was that it would be best for Freedman to do so since the property on which the hall is to sit and his main parking area are separated by an Edison Company right-of-way easement. Freedman, however, avers that he will have no difficulty in acquiring the right of way across the Edison Company easement.

Question Access

Members of the Planning Commission questioned whether Freedman could provide access to and egress from the hall and its northern parking area.

He then showed the Commission how he has completed two streets from Katella into the area, Clementine and Zeyn, and how he proposes to create at least one and perhaps two from the site onto Harbor Blvd. One of the proposed roads would pass through his adjoining hotel property. He also illustrated to the commission that access is to be had from the Freeway on the northeast.

The Commission further questioned him about rights of the city to use the convention hall for that

No Death Penalty Sought in Trial Of Grove Woman

By Orange County News Service

Although he is seeking a murder-in-the-first-degree conviction against Frieda K. Dickson, Deputy District Attorney Dewitt Chatterton yesterday informed a superior court jury he will not ask for the death penalty.

Mrs. Dickson, 12388 Lampson Ave., Garden Grove, whose trial began Monday in the court of Judge Robert Gardner, is accused of slaying her husband, Morris Dean Dickson, with a high powered rifle Jan. 18.

Yesterday's proceeding concerned itself with the selection of a jury of seven women and five men. Chatterton was expected to commence the people's case today.

In the preliminaries yesterday, Attorney Eugene Mophearson, one of the three men defending the Garden Grove housewife, indicated the defense would attempt to prove that Mrs. Dickson was defending herself from attack the night of Jan. 18.

Present in the courtroom were the defendant's three daughters, Leda, 16, and twins, Charol and Cherri, 7.

The slender, blonde-haired woman is said to have fired the fatal shot at her husband following a dare. They had been reportedly arguing that Sunday afternoon.

As she fired the fatal shot, the couple's three children were in another bedroom. The woman reportedly told one of the girls to call the police as she had just shot their father.

Mrs. Dickson was described as being an accurate shot with a

Ike Asks Gradual End of A-Tests

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has backed President Eisenhower's step-at-a-time nuclear disarmament plan in a personal letter to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, it was announced today. Eisenhower's proposal, made in an April 13 letter to Khrushchev, calls for an installment plan limitation of nuclear weapons tests. The first step would provide for a ban on tests in the atmosphere up to 30 miles above the earth, those which contribute most heavily to increases in radioactive fallout.

Khrushchev has not yet replied to the President, but news of his letter's existence was broken by the Russians Monday at Geneva, where talks on nuclear test suspension are in progress. The text was then released by the White House without waiting, as is usual, for a Russian reply.

The British Foreign Office announced Macmillan's backing of the plan today.

It did not make public his text and did not say on what date he wrote, but indicated Macmillan's message preceded the President's expressed agreement with the President's view.

The Prime Minister was said to have told Khrushchev that he agrees with Eisenhower's position that a limited agreement covering atmospheric tests would be desirable and useful if a more comprehensive agreement is not presently possible.

The United States proposal for a phased ban on nuclear weapons had been outlined broadly in Geneva by Ambassador James J. Wadsworth, chief of the American delegation.

The Geneva conference on banning tests began last Oct. 31. The Russians insisted on their right to veto inspection aspects of any control system applying to underground explosions.

"These negotiations must not be permitted completely to fail," Eisenhower wrote Khrushchev, saying that without a new approach "no basis for agreement is now in sight."

Eisenhower's new approach was this:

Step around the current arguments, political and technical, over control of underground and outer space tests and try to seek an initial agreement on prohibiting tests in the earth's atmosphere.

"If you are prepared to change your present position on the veto, on procedures for on-sight inspection, and on early discussion of concrete measures for high altitude detection," the President told the Soviet boss, "we can of course proceed promptly in the hope of concluding the negotiation of a comprehensive agreement for suspension of nuclear weapons tests.

"If you are not ready to go this far, then I propose that we take the first and readily attainable step of an agreed suspension of nuclear weapons tests in the atmosphere up to fifty kilometers (30 miles) while the political and technical problems associated with control of underground and outer space tests are being resolved."

Gunfire, Blasts Rock N.C. Town In Union Dispute

HENDERSON, N.C. (UPI) — Gunfire and dynamite explosions brought on by apparent unionist dissatisfaction with company hiring policy broke out anew in this textile mill town today, despite union ratification of a strike-ending contract.

Fresh violence was triggered at the Harriet-Henderson cotton mills late Monday night by members of the Textile Workers Union of America (AFL-CIO) angered when the number of former strikers added to a second shift at the mill amounted to less than 30 persons.

More than 350 scared nonunion workers bedded down in the mill Monday night, afraid to leave because hundreds of angry union workers roamed just outside the mills.

But today reinforced police escorted the beleaguered workers from the plant through angry, shouting unionists without major violence.

Some 100 state highway patrolmen were rushed here to back up the 98 local police already at the scene.

The reinforcements were requested by Maj. Carroll V. Singleton following a jarring dynamite blast in the mill yard. Powerless police watched street lights and searchlights on mill property shot out one by one.

The only violence this morning occurred several minutes before the troopers arrived at the mills. Union members stoned the cars of workers reporting for the 7 a.m. shift.

Bullets shattered all street lights and police searchlights near the mill grounds. In one 15-minute period, 10 windows of the North Henderson Mill were shot out.

Police said a stick or a stick and a half of dynamite was thrown inside the North Henderson Mill plant grounds between the gate and guard house about 4:10 a.m. No extensive damage was reported.

MYSTERY OF SUB FINALLY SOLVED

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — A "mysterious" submarine drifting offshore near Encinitas, about 30 miles north of here, had sheriff's deputies worried for a time today until it was discovered the craft was engaged in Navy maneuvers.

After some hectic early morning checking, it was disclosed that the submarine Perch had moved close to shore at slow speed, apparently to unload a small Marine Corps force on the beach.

A San Diego County sheriff's patrol car, however, spotted the Perch's conning tower and deck awash about 500 yards from the coastline and radioed a report for the commandant of the naval base here.

Spotlights were flashed on the submarine in predawn darkness while the investigation was launched to determine its identity.

Mrs. Simpson Identifies Suspect in Club Robbery

By Orange County News Service

Attractive Mrs. Fern Simpson, who lost both her hands by shotgun fire that also killed her husband, South Seas owner Leslie Simpson of Anaheim, was the major witness yesterday in an armed robbery jury trial that commenced in superior court.

Defendant in the case is 37-year-old Joseph Rosoto, accused of participating in the armed robbery of the South Seas night club March 9, 1957.

Two other men, wearing silk stockings over their faces, participated in the holdup but have yet to be captured.

Rosoto, a fisherman, was arrested in Washington a year after the crime. Simpson and his wife identified the suspect from photographs shown by Anaheim police.

Although his two alleged partners were masked, the defendant only had a yachting cap, said witnesses to the armed robbery. Approximately $487 was stolen.

Mrs. Simpson, 30, of 516 Haven Dr., yesterday on the witness stand, positively identified Rosoto as the man who participated in the robbery.

Defense Attorney John J. Gottes questioned the Anaheim woman on the appearance of the defendant, Mrs. Simpson commenting that he appeared to have lost a little weight. She was positive on her identification, however.

Although three men took part in the robbery, the woman recalls seeing only two.

She told of seeing two men walk into the establishment, guns in their hands. They went through the pockets of persons in the establishment, mostly employes. They also took money out of the cash register and then forced the victims into a back room.

Mrs. Simpson said she recalled seeing Rosoto rip out a telephone as they were herded into the rear office.

Simpson and his wife were both witnesses against the defendant at a preliminary hearing held Jan. 9. On Feb. 7, Simpson was murdered by an unknown man as he and his wife walked up to their home. The murderer fired a .12 gauge shotgun at the victims as they walked to their home. Mrs. Simpson threw her arms in front of her face, thus saving her life. The killer fired point blank at Simpson.

Rosoto had been questioned as a suspect in the murder but was later released by Anaheim police.

The trial is being heard in the court of Superior Judge Karl Lynn Davis.

Deputy District Attorney James Turner is presenting the people's case to the jury.

Voters Deciding Annex Move Today at Polls

Whether the Magnolia-Cerritos annexation will pass or not today is in the hands of residents of the area, who are voting on the proposition at the Dr. Jonas E. Salk School at 10351 Gilbert St.

The polling place opened at 7 a.m. and will be open until 7 this evening. The vote is one of yes or no: "shall the area in question be annexed to the city of Anaheim or not?"

The area up for annexation is presently county territory, 218.7 acres between Stanton and Anaheim, and includes 613 eligible voters. A simple majority will be required to pass the annexation.

The area presently considering the move is part of a district which was not annexed to the city two years when voters in the area turned the proposal down.

U.S. to Attempt Orbit Of Mice in Discoverer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States will try to put mice into a space orbit within a month or so, and may try to get them back alive.

Roy W. Johnson, the Defense Department's space projects chief, revealed the project in a speech Monday night. He said the next Discoverer satellite, Discoverer III, would have a "biomedical space traveler" aboard.

Johnson did not specify what he meant in his address to the Republican League of Women Voters, but a spokesman for the Advanced Research Projects Agency, which Johnson heads, later said "mice in the plural" would be involved.

It will be the first U.S. attempt to put a living creature into orbit. A mouse rode across the South Atlantic in the nose cone of an Atlas missile some months ago, but died when scientists failed to recover the cone.

Johnson left the impression Monday night that an effort would be made to eject the capsule contatning the mice and return them safely to earth. He said the biomedical information to be obtained from Discoverer III would be "very useful" to Project Mercury, the program to put a man into orbit around the earth in 1961.

WITH A TOWEL—OR WITHOUT?

Censors Ponder Latest Bardot Film

PARIS (UPI) — A 33-foot film strip of Brigitte Bardot scampering naked from her bath awaits New York movie goers next week, provided the censors are not too scandalized.

The new Bardot film ("Love Is Not a Profession") portrays Brigitte as a remarkably immoral girl who holds up a jewelry store and then seduces one of Paris' most famous lawyers (Jean Gabin) into defending her.

The 33-feet in question — and they really are in question in New York — show Brigitte walking through her bedroom just after emerging from a bath.

In the version shown to blase Paris audiences she is as undressed as she was in the bathtub. The Parisians never batted an eye.

French producer Raoul Levy, who helped his curvaceous star reach fame and fortune with similar undraped scenes in the past, thought the scene was "perfectly harmless."

The New York censors thought differently. They ordered the disputed 33 feet cut out of the American version.

Levy came up with a solution he hopes will soothe the censors although he admits it makes the scene more provocative.

He refilmed the sequence showing Brigitte holding a small towel. But, he said, "it's even more suggestive like that than it was before."

"I just cannot understand Americans," Levy said. "If you ask me, it's not pictures of Brigitte Bardot without any clothes on that cause so much juvenile delinquency over there. It's all those Hollywood gangster movies that are provoking restless American youth into trying to be like Al Capone.

"They're the things the censors should ban instead of picking on me and Brigitte."

He said he had made two trips to New York to battle the censors and still wasn't sure how he would make out.

TV in Review

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — CBS-TV's Desilu Playhouse has had some sticky goings this season, but Monday night it uncorked an hour with some sauce and crackle in "The Untouchables."

"The Untouchables" was the first half of a two-parter which will deal with the efforts of a squad of seven federal agents to poleax the Capone mob. To keep it honest, I should add that Paul Monash's TV script is based upon a book co-authored by Eliot Ness of the FBI and Oscar Fraley of the UPI, an alphabetical orchard in which I also toil.

However, I believe this review is free of bias and anyway, Fraley already has the money. At least I hope so, Oscar.

Monday night's opening chunk was a trifle episodic, but when you're setting the stage in this sort of large-scale operation I suppose a little jumpiness is inevitable. Even so, director Phil Karlson kept events spinning at a pretty fair clip and one sequence —which dealt with an attempt to set up a tricky telephone tap— was a real gripper, stuffed with a painfully effective combination of humor and grinding suspense.

Almost all the performances were quite serviceable although the Joe Mantell in the role of a fink was given an almost impossible part into which to lace any believability, in major roles, Keenan Wynn, Barbara Nichols, Robert Stack and Bruce Gordon chipped in solid jobs, and appearing briefly as Al Capone at the close, Neville Brand was suitably menacing if a trifle stilted in his employment of an Italian accent.

Part Two should be worth an hour of your time next week.

Short Shots: I caught only the first half of ABC-TV's special, "The Investigators and The Law," because it overlapped Desilu Playhouse. It struck me as an engrossing effort and some of the footage of the old Kefauver crime hearings and McCarthy investigations was captivating — all of it still had a rather eerie feeling of immediacy, of an unrehearsed drama expiriding right in front of the eyes. TV has largely abandoned this sort of live, sustained coverage of events, a melancholy circumstance, since it is TV at its most exciting.

The Channel Swim: A live situation comedy with Don Ameche, Two Young To Go Steady, will replace NBC-TV's Oldsmobile Music Theater on May 14. CBS-TV will build a one-hour special around the Geneva conference May 10. Death Penalty Bill Up for Vote

By MICHAEL FALLON
United Press International

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A modified bill to abolish the death penalty in California was given a 50-50 chance for survival today on the floor of the Assembly.

The bill by Assemblyman Lester A. McMillan (D-Los Angeles) would stop capitol punishment on an eight-year trial basis.

On the eve of the lower house debate, McMillan said he had rounded up 39 votes, two short of the number needed for passage.

"Whether they'll stay with me I don't know," he said. "It will be close, there's no question about it."

McMillan said the swing votes were held by eight assemblymen, mostly first-term lawmakers who claimed they were "still on the fence."

Opponents Pursue Key Votes

Opponents of abolishment were reported to have been working the Assembly floor Monday in an attempt to capture the key votes.

Earlier, Assemblyman Walter I. Dahl (R-Oakland), chairman of the Republican caucus, said GOP legislators had voted "overwhelmingly" to battle the anti-death penalty bill. There are 33 Republicans in the 80-member Assembly.

The minority party caucus vote came before McMillan amended his bill to place an eight-year moratorium on the death penalty. In its original form, it would have abolished capital punishment outright.

In place of the death penalty, the measure provides for a life-term sentence with no eligibility for parole until 10 years have been served. Parole then could be granted only with approval of all members of the Adult Authority and five of the justices of the state Supreme Court.

The amended McMillan bill was sent to the Assembly floor without recommendation after a brief hearing April 9 before the Ways and Means Committee.

The bill had previously received by a vote of 8-2, the approval of the Assembly Crime Committee.

Arguments presented during a three-hour night committee hearing were substantially the same as those heard two years ago when a similiar measure finally won Assembly approval but was defeated in the Senate.

The important difference in this ear's controversy over capital punishment is that Gov. Edmund G. Brown has publicly promised that he will sign a bill abolishing the death penalty if one reaches his desk.

Linda Christian Sues Tyrone Power Estate

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Linda Christian filed suit Monday seeking $200,000 from the estate of the late Tyrone Power, her former husband and father of her two daughters.

Castro Says Cuba Will Aid Forces Seeking to Free Dominican Republic

By GARCIN KAGANOWICH
United Press International

PRINCETON, N.J. (UPI)— Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro said Monday night his government will give all aid short of war to forces seeking to "liberate the Dominican Republic" from the leadership of Rafael Trujillo.

Castro spoke before a Princeton University graduate seminar after an uproarious friendly greeting from more than 1,000 other students and a few Cuban neighbors.

He was to make a morning visit to Lawrenceville School here and then head for New York for a four-day round of speeches and meetings with the city's large Cuban colony.

Castro told about 250 students and faculty members at Princeton's Woodrow Wilson School of International and Public Affairs that the Trujillo dictatorship in the Dominican Republic is "one of the worst contradictions of this hemisphere."

He said it was a danger to his nation, and other American countries because the island nation could be used as a springboard for anti-revolutionary forces.

Cuba would "like to liberate the Dominican Republic," Castro said, and will give all possible aid to anti-Trujillo forces but will not go to war to help them.

Castro said also he expects minority parties will appear in the near future in Cuba in opposition to his revolutionary regime. He said his government will do nothing to muzzle their dissent.

Nevada's population in 1970 is expected to be 67 per cent greater than it was in 1955. Arizona is expected to grow by 66 per cent during the same period. California by 54 per cent and Florida 53 per cent.

Showdown Near On Labor Reform

By ALVIN SPIVAK
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate moved toward its first 1959 showdown on the labor reform issue today with Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) predicting a "safe margin" of votes to keep his bill intact.

Kennedy, chief sponsor and floor manager of the measure, said he expected the Senate to crush a move by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-N.C.) to strip the bill of Taft-Hartley law changes demanded by organized labor.

A vote was scheduled this afternoon on the Ervin proposal, one of 130 pending amendments.

Ervin, who co-sponsored the Kennedy bill but split off on this issue, was backed by southern Democrats and some Republicans, including Sen. Barry Goldwater (Ariz.), senior GOP member of the Senate Labor Committee.

He was supported in debate Monday also by Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) and Vice Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) of the Senate Rackets Committee.

Mundt described the Kennedy bill as akin to "the proverbial boy sent out to do a man's job."

But Senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill.) and various other Republicans, plus what Kennedy considered a solid contingent of northern Democrats, were lined against Ervin's move.

AFL-CIO sources looked upon today's vote as the key test of the Kennedy-Ervin bill's fate. They felt that if the line could be held there the bill would go through in its present form — a form satisfactory to that organization's leaders.

Explains Move

Dirksen told newsmen he was opposing the Ervin amendment only to retain "a vehicle" by which administration - proposed Taft-Hartley amendments can be considered later. These would include bans on secondary boycotts and organization picketing.

Kennedy, who opposes the administration measures as "too controversial" at this time, wants to hold the bill's Taft-Hartley revisions to those involved in the voting today. These include:

—Permission for strikers to vote in representation elections.

—Authority for building contractors to sign union contracts before actually hiring workers.

—An attempt at ending the so-called "no man's land" in federal and state jurisdiction in labor disputes.

Water Fluoridation Bill OK'd by Solons

Dear Abby...

Keep Her on the Reservation!

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago my wife started going out "with the girls." I became suspicious when she stayed out so late and I followed her. She was meeting her boss in a bar. I caused a big scene and the next day I went to the president of the company they worked for and he fired them both. Since then five people have phoned me from the office expressing their sympathy over what happened and all said the affair had been going on for over three years (ever since she started working there). There are children involved on both sides. I forgave my wife for the children's sake but now she wants to get another job to help pay off some bills. Should I let her? I don't think she can be trusted?

WRONGED

DEAR WRONGED: Keep her home for the time being. Nobody changes over night.

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 and have more troubles than my mother. A boy at school took a liking to me and followed me around so much I started calling him my shadow. He begged me to go to an afternoon show with him but I refused. He called me nine times and my mother said, "For goodness sakes, go with him and get rid of him! He liked me all the more. He asked me to take his I.D. bracelet and to tell you the truth I wanted to but my mother would have brained me. He gave me a box of Easter candy and my mother served it to her bridge club and I didn't even get one piece. If I don't accept his I.D. bracelet it will ruin my friendship with his sister who is my age. What should I do?

TROUBLES

DEAR TROUBLES: You say if you ACCEPT his I.D. bracelet your mother will "brain" you, and if you DON'T, you'll lose his sister's friendship. I doubt if either your mother or his sister would resort to such drastic measures, but you'd better refuse the bracelet. A girl can live without a girlfriend, but she definitely needs her brains.

DEAR ABBY: I am a divorced woman who is considered very attractive to men. My problem is this: Every man I've gone out with thinks that just because I've been married I have no morals. The first thing they suggest is their apartment or a motel or something like that. I love to dance. I enjoy good clean fun and I'd like to meet a man with the same ideas. Now I ask you, was I born forty years too soon or am I just old-fashioned?

LONELY

DEAR LONELY: — There is nothing "old-fashioned" about keeping one's self-respect. You are attracting the wrong kind of men. Change bait.

Do your parents trust you? Get ABBY'S booklet, "What Every Teenager Wants to Know." Send 25 cents and a large, stamped self-addressed envelope to ABBY in care of this newspaper.

Income Tax Jump Slated If Sales Tax Repealed

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— Assemblyman Samuel R. Geddes (D-Napa) said he would introduce a bill in the Legislature today to repeal the state sales tax and boost income taxes to make up for the revenue loss.

"I don't think the sales tax is equitable," Geddes said. "It doesn't hit everyone alike. Persons on relief and other state aid have to pay the sales tax. It hurts these people more than it does those who have much more money but who don't necessarily buy more."

The measure would repeal the state's 3 per cent sales and use tax and the Bradley-Burns act which permits an extra 1 per cent sales tax for individual counties.

YOUR MONEY'S WORTH

Interest Rates Slated to Rise To Highest Mark in 25 Years

By SYLVIA PORTER

It will be tougher to get a loan as the year rolls on.

It will be more expensive to borrow money for your business or your home or other personal activities this fall than this spring.

The probability is that within a few months the level of interest rates — meaning the cost of borrowing money — will be at the highest mark in more than a quarter-century.

The likelihood is that the Federal Reserve System soon will turn the credit screws again, act deliberately to cut down the supply of money in the banks available for loans.

The outlook is for a new phase of "tight money" — rivaling the brutal money squeeze of late 1957 — as the business resurgence continues and the supply of money is curtailed while demands for credit climb on all sides.

These are not casual forecasts! Signals are increasing that what I am writing here will become front-page news in coming weeks.

For what is to happen is now being foretold in the vast United States Government securities market — the market in which the U. S. Treasury itself borrows the money it needs to pay off maturing I.O.U's and to cover its current deficit.

This market is the bellwether of all the markets, the place where experts seek clues to trends in borrowing, interest rates, etc. When, for instance, the U. S. Treasury finds it harder and more expensive to borrow money, it means other borrowers, big and little, are going to find it harder and more expensive to borrow too.

More Difficult

And right now the Treasury is finding it more difficult to get cash and more costly to borrow.

Today the Treasury is paying 3¼ per cent for 90-day loans, against 1¼ per cent a year ago. Today it is paying 3 7/8 per cent for one-year money against under over 4 per cent; A year ago the 1½ per cent for identical loans in April 1958. Today the going rate to the Treasury for five-year loans is over 4 per cent; year ago the rate was under 2½ per cent.

At these prices the Treasury can borrow, but investors aren't eager to lend to the Government. And for two vital reasons.

On one hand, the strong business upswing so clearly under way now makes it certain that demands for loans, are going to swell.

The boom in homebuilding assures a record demand for mortgage money. The spurt in retail sales will force businessmen to borrow to restock their shelves with goods. The decisions of corporations the nation over to hike their spending for plants and equipment signal a rising demand for capital to finance the plants and equipment. The revival in the auto market means more loans on autos. The comeback in sales of appliances, furniture, etc., spells more demand for all sorts of installment loans. States and cities are borrowing all-time peak amounts. And the U. S. Government is competing heavily and constantly for cash as well.

Controls Supply

On the other hand, the Federal Reserve System — which controls the supply and cost of credit in the United States — is determined not to expand the supply of money enough to cover all demands. For the Federal Reserve is convinced that if all who want to borrow can get loans easily and cheaply, inflation - breeding forces will be encouraged, and we'll take off on a new inflation spree.

In its dedicated effort to use every weapon at its command to curb inflation, the Federal Reserve is likely to begin expanding its operations to "mop up" funds in the banking system.

It is also likely to hike again the rate it charges member banks for loans (the discount rate) and thus spur banks to raise the rates charged on loans to you. Since last June the Federal Reserve has boosted its own loan rate three times to a current level of 3 per cent; a fourth increase may come almost any time.

On Monday, May 4, the Treasury will tap its market for $4.5 billion to pay off some maturing I.O.U's. It'll pay one of the highest rates since the '30s for the cash. Then the signal of what is to come will be apparent to all.

Challenge Too Much For Professional Safe Man

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Ralph Wolfgang Clark, 67-year-old professional safecracker who takes pride in his work, said today he knew what went wrong on the "job" that led to his arrest.

"I worked too long," the mild-mannered, gray-mustached Clark said from his jail cell. "Should have abandoned the project after 10 minutes. But it was a fine safe! Such a challenge! And I had cased the job well—I knew there was $15,000 in it."

Clark was absorbed in his work at a union office during the predawn hours Sunday when he suddenly became aware that two police officers were standing behind him, guns drawn.

"Please, gentlemen!" he said. No violence. I am a safe burglar —not a gunman."

Officers Charles Saldenberg and John Papageorge said Clark carefully assembled his tools, which included a crowbar, drills, clamps and other necessities of his trade, and then peacefully accompanied them to headquarters.

Phi Mu Alums Set Dinner

Chartered in 1956 and growing ever since, the Orange County Alumnae Association of Phi Mu Sorority sees the 1959 season as its busiest and most productive to date.

Under the leadership of their re-elected president, Mrs. William Fulton of Fullerton, the group will hold a husband and wife dinner party at the home of the J. E. Nickels', Fullerton, April 23.

J. Herbert Hall Jewellers Annual High School Table Setting Contest, Display Opened Monday

J. Herbert Hall Company, jewellers, 451 N. Loara St. at Broadway-Orange County Shopping Center, Anaheim, today announces the opening of its second annual high school tablesetting contest for 11th grade girls throughout the area, according to Helmut Lubke, local manager of the firm:

Tables will remain on display in the store through Saturday. The public, as well as the students, faculty and parents, are invited to drop in and vote for their favorite table. This voting ensures impartiality.

Points to bear in mind are correctness, beauty of coordination of table-appointments, and originality of theme. Final decision of the judges will determine the three most outstanding tables.

Six schools and 18 gifts are participating in the five-day event. Schools represented are Anaheim Union High School, Western High School, Fullerton High School, Garden Grove High School, Marywood Catholic School and Valencia High School.

First prize will again be $100; second, $50, and third, $25. Another $25.00 will be awarded the popular vote table, and consolation prizes of Emily Post's revised "Book of Etiquette" will go to fourth, fifth and sixth places. All cash prizes go to class funds.

Class participants, limited to one chairman and two assistants, with, of course, no adult help, may select flowers from Wayne's For Flowers, linens from the Broadway Anaheim, Broadway-Orange County Shopping Center, and fine china, silver and crystal from J. Herbert Hall Jewellers, also in the Broadway-Orange County Shopping Center.

Judges awarding the prizes Saturday at 2 p.m. at the store will be Mrs. B. F. Coupland, president of the Ebell Club of Anaheim; Mrs. Edgar F. Elfstrom, Assistance League of Fullerton, and Mrs. William R. LeVecke, Assistance League of Anaheim.

LBSC Sets 49er Day

Students at Long Beach State College will construct a 24-building boom town reminiscent of Gold Rush Days for their 49er Day, Spring fund day, Friday.

The lower college campus will be transformed into "Pete's Gulch" for the carnival which starts with the dismissal of classes at noon and ends with a costume dance in the college cafeteria.

Winners of competition for the roles of Lotta Crabtree and Black Bart, legendary California figures, will be announced at the start of the day-long program and the two will reign over the celebration.

More than a dozen student organizations will take part in the costume parades, winners of the beard growing contest will be announced—and shaved by LBSC coeds, and the junior class will stage a tricycle derby.

Entertainment will include skits by student groups and the appearance of the Lancers, popular vocal group, and a chuck wagon-style dinner will be served early in the evening.

At the dance which concludes the day's activities, a sweepstake trophy will be presented to the campus group which has accumulated the most points in the several areas of competition.

Liquor Store Clerk Robbed At Knifepoint

FULLERTON (OCNS)—Two well dressed Negroes held up a west side liquor store clerk at knifepoint, tied him with wire and made off with $125.78 cash Monday night.

The clerk, James Wesley Arnold, 24, 3617 West Ave., told police the men entered the Valencia Liquor Store, 1737 W. Valencia Dr., at 8:20 p.m. As they browsed, Arnold turned away for a moment and one of the suspects "stuck something sharp" in his back and said, "let's go, buddy," Arnold reported.

They forced him into a restroom and tied his hands with automotive wiring. Arnold said they released him temporarily a few minutes later and forced him to open the cash register, then pushed him back into the restroom and retied him.

Bette Mae McCarthy, 29, of 1236 W. Valencia Dr., told police she was entering the store at 8:43 p.m. when she saw one of the suspects reading a newspaper by the front door. The other suspect brushed by her and both disappeared around the rear of the store.

Police said Arnold had several superficial scratches and a minor cut in the middle of his back where one of the robbers kept jabbing him with the knife. Arnold did not require treatment.

It was later discovered the robbers also took a bottle of liquor and some beer valued at $7.25. Both suspects were in their 20's and neatly dressed, Arnold told police.

'I Don't Care Girl' In Critical Condition

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — Mitzi Dore, burlesque's "I Don't Care Girl" who police said attempted suicide by gulping an overdose of tranquilizing pills while on an airliner, remained in critical condition today at Daniel Freeman Hospital.

The attractive red-haired stripper from Alexandria, Va., was found in a stupor on the women's restroom aboard an American Airlines plane from Washington about a half hour before it landed at Los Angeles International Airport.

Miss Dore, 32, carried a note addressed to Fred Raulin of Washington. It said:

"Dear Fred: Hope you marry Nancy and will live happy ever after. I just can't go on living. Life is meaningless for me.

"When I realized I lost you, I wouldn't want to stay in your way. But just can't. Love is not what it is. All my love, Mitzi."

Four Utility Companies Ask Court To Return Over-Taxes Paid to Cities

By Orange County News Service

Claiming the county and many of its cities have levied illegal taxes against them, four public utilities have filed a tax recovery suit in Superior Court asking the return of $146,049.55.

Named as defendants in the case are the County of Orange, Anaheim, Buena Park, Cgange, Santa Ana, Tustin, Westminster, Brea, La Habra, Huntington Beach, Seal Beach, Garden Grove and Cypress.

The plaintiffs — The Southern Pacific Co., Pacific Electric Railroad Co., Southern Pacific Pipe Line, and the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. contend they were charged 50 per cent of the market value of their property while the state wide local rates were only 23.7 per cent.

The taxes were paid by the firms but under protest and now they are asking the courts for the return of the excess amounts.

The plaintiffs claim the 50 per cent rate is illegal and fraudulent and contrary to the state and federal laws.

Specifically, the largest return is asked from the county, the four utilities asking for a total of $124,853.79.

purpose when they saw fit to do so. Freedman said that the project should definitely be done in co-operation with the city and he hoped to work out a mutually profitable agreement with the city whereby it would have an option on use: "First refusal rights."

Freedman said that should City Council approve his plans it will take six months before work can actually begin on construction and that completion of the project could be expected sometime in 1960.

rifle, having had experience in the use of the weapon, it was explained by Chatterton.

She had reportedly complained to neighbors, Chatterton explained, there is no one who can testify seeing the man ever strike her or mistreat her. He described her as being very jealous and possessive.

The victim, according to statements made yesterday, had served a prison term and had been in trouble for hot checks.

Also defending Mrs. Dickson are Attorneys Joseph Armstrong and Orda Chandler.

Only witness called to the stand yesterday was Marion Wisber, dispatcher for the Garden Grove Police Department, who described several calls made notifying police about the shooting.

Mrs. Dickson is said to have called the station, saying she had just shot her husband. Police had been informed of the slaying by a prior telephone call, however, said the witness.

Farmer's Insurance Building Set in SA

SANTA ANA (OCNS) — The Santa Ana City Council last night approved a variance permitting the farmers Underwriters Assn. to construct a $1,500,000 insurance building east of Flower St. between Memory Lane and the freeway.

The vote was 4 to 1. Councilman Al Hall cast the dissenting ballot.

In okaying the building, the council over-rode a denial recommendation by the city's planning commission.

Woman Hostage Held by Escaped San Quentin Pair

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (UPI) — Two convicts escaped from San Quentin Prison today and seized a woman hostage at knife-point.

The escapees held the woman at the end of the Marin County Rod and Gun Club pier just north of the prison while armed prison guards faced them in an impasse.

San Quentin is about 12 miles north of San Francisco on the west side of San Francisco Bay.

The two convicts, both trusties working outside the prison walls, fled on foot about a mile and a half to the Rod and Gun Club at about 9:15 a.m. p.m.

A gun club member said the convicts pulled a knife on the woman as she was fishing off the pier.

"Tell the Coast Guard to stay away from the pier or we will kill the woman if anyone comes near," one shouted.

The Coast Guard sent a patrol boat and helicopter to the scene. The convicts yelled to the prison guards facing them to get them a boat so they could flee across San Francisco Bay.

The woman hostage was believed to be a Mrs. Theresa Lopes, San Rafael.

Mrs. Caroline Lato, Mill Valley, Calif., who was on the pier at the time, said "I saw these two men running down the pier, and then they stopped where this woman was sitting down, fishing. They grabbed her fish knife from a pile of gear and put it to her throat. Then they jerked her by the hair and pulled her up to her feet. They told the rest of us not to come near or they'd slit her throat."

The men dragged the protesting hostage to the end of the pier, and called back to the prison guards who had by then arrived on the scene: "Tell them to get us a speedboat right away or we'll kill her."

Dozens of police and prison authorities waited 100 feet from the fugitives in the tense stalemate.

Wayne Brooks, a San Rafael bar owner who was on the pier at the time of the escape, said: "I saw these two convicts running down the pier, and two guards chasing them.

"There were about 20 or 25 people on the pier, and then the convicts—they had a knife, I don't know where they got it—grabbed this woman and pointed the knife at her throat.

"They told the guards not to come any closer or they would kill the woman, and everybody stopped.

"They're out at the end of the pier now, and they just yelled to the guards to get them a boat so they could get away, but I don't know what they're going to do."

All available San Quentin guards and Marin County sheriff's deputies and highway patrolmen were rushed to the scene, which is near the west approach to the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge and is almost adjacent to the prison property.

Highway Patrol and sheriff's cars blocked nearby highway intersections. Police tried to keep sports fishing boats away from the pier, which extends nearly a block and a half into the bay estuary.

Marine Arrested On Suspicion of Attack

SANTA ANA (OCNS) — A 37-year-old Camp Pendleton Marine is being questioned today by Sheriff's investigators, as a suspect in the hammer attack of a 12-year-old Stanton girl, Oct. 22 of last year.

He is Sgt. Robert Granham, 1660 Wisteria, Santa Ana, who is charged with armed robbery, burglary and rape.

Granham was arrested by Sheriff's Deputies Saturday evening, near 15541 Golden West, Santa Ana. They picked up the suspect when they observed his suspicious actions and following a complaint by a housewife that her lights had gone out.

Deputies discovered that someone had tampered with the light fuses in the rear of the home of Mrs. Mary Navarrette. Granham was seen walking near the home, minus his shoes.

Granham reportedly said he was looking for a friend, but later changed his story and said he was out for a walk, following a quarrel with his wife.

Deputies in their report, said the Marine was a possible suspect in the case of an attack on a Stanton girl last year, an attack committed by someone who tampered with the light fuses of the home and forced his way into the residence through a rear door. Walking in his stocking feet and wearing white socks on his hands, the prowler reportedly struck the young victim, Donna Lee Booth, 7281 Grand Oak, with a hammer, four times.

The yells of the terrified girl attracted the parents, who slept in a nearby bedroom.

Police found the tools the man had used, plus some of the white socks he used in the burglary and attack.

Deputies Saturday evening, first stopped on Golden West when they noticed a small sports car sticking out into the street. The motor of the vehicle was still warm.

Following Mrs. Navarrette's complaint, they parked their vehicle behind the sports car and waited. They observed Granham walking down the street past the car, in a staggering manner. The sergeant approached Albert Alvarado, who was standing near his home and assertedly asked about a friend. At this point, he was approached by the deputies. He is also being considered as a suspect in another prowler case, it was reported.

Police Investigate Two Moral Offense Reports

A case of attempted child molest as well as an indecent exposure case, were reported to Anaheim Police over the week end.

The first incident occurred at the Centralia school where two eight-year-old girls had gone to play at about 2 p.m. According to police, a boy of about 15 arrived on his bike, observed the girls for a time, then approached one of them and told her that if she did not remove her clothing, he would. He then grabbed her and tore her blouse, but when the child screamed, her attacker became frightened and fled on his bike.

The second incident occurred shortly before 11 a.m., Sunday morning, as a woman was walking to church, going north on Citron. At the alley between Santa Ana St., and Broadway, a car pulled up blocking her progress. A young man then exposed himself and made an obscene remark. When the victim shouted at the man, he fled, "burning rubber." The woman then reported the incident to police.

Children Study About Hopi Indians

Hopi Indian culture is being studied in Mrs. Lucille Kvam's third grade at Buena Terra school in Centralia School district in a unit on Southwest Indian lore.

Pupils were fascinated when they were given an opportunity recently to study "first hand once removed" the customs and artifacts of the Hopi tribe. All three third grades at Buena Terra were invited to the auditorium to listen to Mrs. Robert Rummel, a resident in Centralia School district. She showed a large collection of articles used or sold by the Hopi Indians.

Mrs. Rummel began to collect dolls when she was a teacher to preschool youngsters to help impress them in the lore of the American Indian. She and her husband became so engrossed in the study themselves that Indian lore has become a full-time hobby over the past five years. The couple found that one of the best ways to help the Indian is to buy his product. They have built up an amazing collection. Mrs. Rummel's husband travels a good deal throughout several southwestern states in his business. He never fails to bring home at least one authentic article, she said, to add to the growing display.

Children were particularly interested in the toys, musical instruments and crude utensils and tools which are used every day among Hopi families.

Fullerton Council, Planners Work On Largest Annexation for City

Land Move Extends to Placentia Borders on West and North Sides

FULLERTON (OCNS) —What could become Fullerton's biggest annexation, extending to Placentia's west and north boundaries, got under way with special City Council and Planning Commission sessions yesterday morning.

Containing 340 acres, Valencia Grove Annexation No. 6 was given tentative approval by the council at 9:15 a.m. Five minutes later, the commission approved the request by the area resident to annex, and another council meeting was called for 2 p.m.

The annexation boundaries, starting at Fullerton's present boundaries extend east from just north of Chapman Ave. At Placentia Ave., following Placentia's boundaries, the line goes north to a point 640 feet south of Madison Ave. for 701 feet, skirting Placentia's tiny Annexation 59-5.

It continues north along Placentia's boundary just west of Diane Ave., cutting easterly north of Sheree Ave. to Bradford Ave., north 660 feet, west 1,340 feet, north 660 feet, and west 1,295 feet to Placentia Ave.

Turning north 660 feet just past Pioneer Ave., it then swings back to Bradford Ave., leaving a 60 acre L-shaped parcel in county territory. Going north 510 feet to Palm Dr., it again goes west to Placentia Ave., south 668 feet, west 744 feet, north 845 feet and west to Fullerton's limits, then straight south to the starting point.

City Administrator Herman Hiltscher reported almost 100 per cent approval on the unofficial request to annex. He said there are approximately 25 parcels under separate ownership and 50 registered voters.

The 60-acre L-shaped parcel may be added to the annexation by 2 p.m. Hiltscher said one of the owners of the three parcels, surrounded on three sides by the proposed anhex, may return with signatures for inclusion by the time the council meets again.

The commission recommended that the 60 acres be added. If it is added, and the annexation is successful, it will be the largest single addition to Fullerton territory.

The largest annexation to date was Orangethorpe No. 2, containing 338 acres and annexed in January, 1954. Hiltscher said the city could add the 60 acres but reiterated the city's policy of "annexing only upon request."

Planning Commission Chairman Ralph McLean commented the annexation "is significant to the new state college (on Fullerton's eastern limits) which should have zoning under the control of one municipality.

Hiltscher told planners, in reply to their question, that Fullerton is already furnishing water "to most of the area, as far east as Carolyn Dr." He said the water development master plan has taken into account the "possibility" of such annexations eastward.

City Attorney Stan Christensen said the council scheduled the 2 p.m. session to approve the circulation of an official petition. He said another special meeting may be called Tuesday, but that councilmen may take additional actions in the long technical chain of required annexation meetings at Tuesday night's regular meeting.

After the petitions are submitted, the council will set an election date.

Need for Vehicle Safety Check In Anaheim Told

Plans for a community vehicle safety check to take place in the City of Anaheim during the week of May 25, are well under way according to Arvid Moe and Bill Pearson, co-chairmen for the event. Both have been engaged in contacting business firms, talking to individuals and groups relative to the value and possibilities of such a program for Anaheim.

With sponsorship definitely established by the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce through its Traffic and Safety Committee chaired by Harry Barnes, the co-chairmen for the vehicle safety check have been busy in their attempt to establish plans that will involve motorists of the entire city.

"We have contacted a number of persons and everyone has been interested in co-operating," said Moe. "It is our hope that this first attempt at such a program will be so successful that it will become an annual affair."

Recently in attendance at the quarterly traffic safety meeting at Los Angeles with Lt. Alvin Rogers, Anaheim Police Department, Moe pointed out the interest shown among the conferees relative to the Community Vehicle Safety Check Program.

"Burbank has just finished a successful check," he said, "and according to the statistics released by the Auto Club of Southern California, there are a lot of unsafe automobiles traveling our highways. The program we are planning will allow every motorist an opportunity to have his car checked for safety with no obligation and without charge."

Scholarships Available From Polio Foundation

The Orange County Chapter of The National Foundation announced today that, with less than one month to go before the deadline for filing applications for its 1959 Health Scholarships, only two Orange County young people have applied for scholarships in nursing, physical therapy, occupational therapy, medicine and medical social work.

All applications for four-year financial assistance in these fields, amounting to a total of $2,000 per student, must be received by The National Foundation, 800 Second Avenue, New York, 17, N. Y., by May 1st, said John McKittrick, Chapter Chairman.

The March of Dimes scholarships in nursing, physical therapy and occupational therapy are being offered to high school seniors; those in medicine and medical social work to upper classmen in college.

"Time is running out," said McKittrick. "Many young people who have been thinking of the end of the school term in June as the time to decide what to do and where to go for higher education probably don't realize that it will be too late by then to qualify for one of these awards.

"Careers in the health field are exciting and rewarding—and demands for the services of well-trained men and women far exceed the supply. By starting their education for health professions now, qualified young people can equip themselves for a future in which the specter of unemployment is non-existent and will be for many years to come."

McKittrick said it would be a tragedy if opportunities for March of Dimes assistance for college work were missed "simply because it is spring and May 1st seems a long way off."

Supervisors Set May 1 As County Loyalty Day

By Orange County News Service

Loyalty Day" is being proclaimed throughout the nation as a counter measure to the Communist-inspired May Day observances throughout Europe.

Morals Rap Faces Former BP Teacher

BUENA PARK — A former grammar school teacher was arrested by police late yesterday afternoon on charges stemming from incidents involving small boys, officers reported.

Robert Emmett Hanrahan, 27, of Long Beach, who up until recently was employed by the Buena Park Elementary School District at the 8th Street School, was booked into the Orange County Jail late yesterday after an exhaustive investigation by Buena Park detectives and the District Attorney's office of Orange County.

Hanrahan was charged with four counts of felony child molesting. The incidents all allegedly took place on the grounds of the school, some in Hanrahan's room, others in the boys' restroom.

Hanrahan was freed last night on a $5,000 bond and is slated to appear in Anaheim-Fullerton Municipal Court May. 7 for arraignment on the charges against him.

The incidents first came to light when parents of the youngsters involved contacted Buena Park police. Upon questioning, the boys told investigators of the alleged occurances which, according to reports took place while class was in session, after school and during school hours in the boys' rest room.

One of the lads stated to officers that Hanrahan had "told me what a good boy I was and then sat me on his lap." It was during this time that one of the alleged incidents took place, reports said.

Another of the boys told investigators that he had been asked to stay after school "to draw" and that Hanrahan allegedly made advances to him on these occasions, reports said.

Hanrahan allegedly used the boys' restroom on occasion and exposed himself to youngsters, reports said.

He is a former student at Long Beach State College where he appeared in several student play productions.

He was slated to appear soon in another play under the auspices of the Long Beach Community Playhouse.

Woman Sues Fullerton Schools For Injury

SANTA ANA (OCNS)—A $25,000 damage suit against the Fullerton School District was filed here Monday by a Placentia woman who alleges injuries during a night swimming class at Fullerton Junior College.

The plaintiff, Louise Krueger, 503 Wilson Circle, claims that she slipped and fell in a hallway leading from the pool to the women's dressing room in April, 1958.

Named as defendants are Mary Conger, the swimming instructor; the Fullerton Evening High School and Junior College; the Fullerton Union High School and Junior College; the Fullerton Union High School and Junior College District; and the trustees of the district.

Police Apprehend Youth On Auto Theft Charge

One juvenile boy, 17-years-old, placed in custody after being apprehended in a stolen car Sunday night, while his companion in crime, also a juvenile, is still being sought by police.

The Lakewood youth and his companion were observed in the car reported stolen earlier by Glen Lester Hanson, of Lynwood. The two car thiefs were backed into a driveway at 1773 W. Lincoln where they were switching their positions on the driver's seat, when the officer approached after parking his squad car. Upon his approach the unapprehended youth jumped from the car, and ran north behind the Typewriter Service Shop where he leaped a fence and made good his escape.

In the meantime, the Lakewood boy put the stolen vehicle in gear and drove away onto Lincoln Ave. At Euclid he made a right turn going south, but was quickly stopped by the pursuing officer who overtook him on Euclid, between Lincoln and Broadway. The youth, according to police, readily admitted stealing the car and implicated his companion, who has a prior conviction for car theft.

Navy Offers Recruits Nuclear Field Training

"The high school graduate can qualify for training in the Navy's Nuclear Field Program prior to actual enlistment," said Navy Recruiters in Anaheim's Post Office today.

"However, he must have plenty 'upstairs'. If found qualified under a series of examinations, he is classified as a 'Nuclear Field Seaman Recruit,' and after basic training in San Diego, is sent to school in New London, Conn." Chief Boatswain's Mate Hal Hall of the recruiting office said today.

This is a wonderful opportunity for young men to embark on an entirely new technical career, said Chief Hall, "and at the same time, serve in one of the oldest organizations in the country, the U. S. Navy.

Young men interested in a career in the Nuclear Field, Electronics, Guided Missiles, or any one of over 60 other specialties in the Navy, are invited to contact the Navy Recruiter whose office is located at 113 W. Broadway, Post Office Building.

County Counsel To Draft Rules For Ambulances

Continuing his investigation of the need for regulations for ambulance services in the County, Claire Nelson, Fifth District Supervisor, met with representatives of the ambulance services yesterday.

Principal spokesman for the group of ambulance service operators was Don Bowers, operator of Bowers Ambulance Service in Garden Grove. Bowers presented a list of recommendations which had been voted at a meeting of the ambulance service operators last week, which included a list of controls that they felt should be maintained. The recommendations were signed by the operators of eleven ambulance services throughout the County.

Expressing an attitude of complete cooperation with the county and cities in their efforts to adopt uniform county-wide regulations, the statement of the ambulance operators said in part, "We believe if the general outline presented could be followed on a county-wide basis, it would result in a uniform regulation that would benefit all parties concerned."

Included in the recommendations of the ambulance operators was the licensing of all such operations, the establishment of standards for drivers and attendants, the regulation of equipment to be carried by ambulances, control of safety equipment on vehicles, requirement for proof of adequate insurance and controls on the number of ambulance operations permitted under a "Certificate of Public Necessity." A request was also made for the control of rate schedules.

Following this meeting, a draft of a proposed ordinance will be drawn up by the County Counsel's Office, and a second meeting will be held with City Administrators for further discussions on ambulance ordinances within the various cities of the County.

Among the selections to be played are "March" by Purcell; "The Afternoon of a Faun" by Debussy; Highlights from the "Music Man" by Willson; and "Psalm 18" by Marcello will be guest-conducted by Robert Reynolds from the Anaheim High School music department. There will be no admission charge for this concert.

The band and orchestra have recently been engaged in a candy sales promotion to raise money for new uniforms. Besides netting about $900 for uniforms there has been competition for the individual prizes for the best salesman. Students who lead thus far in the candy sales are Gary Lindstrom, Dick Cotton, Linda McLemore, Christie Lundquist, Sharon Mims and Janis Railsback, all members of the concert band.

The winners of the contest will be announced on Thursday evening.

Sanitarium Patient Takes Own Life

SAN CLEMENTE (OCNS) — George P. Brignell of Laguna Beach committed suicide in the Capistrano By The Sea Sanitarium here yesterday afternoon.

Dep. Coroner Frank Hanson told OCNS the 47-year-old man used a cord from his bath robe to strangle himself to death. The cord was wrapped around a bath room door knob and then formed into a noose.

Brignell's body was found by a sanitorium attendant at 12:40. Hanson said Brignell had been dead only a short while. The body was removed to Laguna Beach Funeral Home. Despondency over ill health was blamed for the act.

I'll Handel This

By LEONARD R. HANDEL
(Bulletin Sports Editor)

Orange County football fans, who are reaching the point of expecting top-rate action on both the high school and junior college levels, are waiting anxiously for the coming North-South Charity game to be sponsored by the Brea Lions' Club.

Being played for the benefit of the Orange County Big Brothers Association, this contest figures to be a slam-bang affair with many of the county's top gridders expected to see action.

Big day is set for August 14, which is exactly one week prior to the first day slated.

Reason for the shift is a highly valid one in that it will be that much further away from the Shrine Game to be played at Memorial Coliseum.

The Orange County contest, first of its kind in this area, could easily become a sports highlight in the community.

It would be a good bet that attendance will reach a high peak as the contest will bring together the top young football players in the county.

Dick Arbenz, who is handling preparations for the game, reports that Anaheim will be well represented which means that local fans will have another reason for being certain of attending.

Remember, the skirmish is set for early August.

Better plan on going.

BOXING BEAT

It would seem that the fistic scene in Long Beach is taking a decided turn for the better.

Attendance figures, which were rather low at the start of the weekly cards have started to climb rapidly.

Those close to the scene are smiling broadly and confidently reporting that the sport just might be here to say in the beach area.

Main reason for this has been the fine cards being produced by that group.

Promoter Leon Black has been coming up with some slam-bang main events, with Heinz Guder having supplied a good deal of the action.

It has been a long time since the fistic world has made any appearance on the local scene and Long Beach is about as close as it has come in this period.

True, the Hollywood Legion Stadium brings forth some interesting events, but the bouts are taking place in the wilds of Filmland on Saturday nights.

The Long Beach contests, much closer to home, are held during the week, when a large number of people, tired of television, enjoy an occasional evening away from home.

The writer believes that a bright future can be seen for the fistic whirl in the beach city.

It has been a long time in coming.

COLONIST CLASH

Let's not forget that Anaheim's Colonists will do battle with Huntington Beach High School Thursday afternoon on the Oilers' diamond.

This game could very easily decide the champion of the Sunset League as both clubs are fighting for that post at this time.

The Oilers will enter a slight favorite, but it will be up to the locals to knock them off.

Probably getting the starting role will be Clint Stark and if he is in good shape the beach city lads will be in for trouble.

Time will tell.

TELEVISION FIGHT

Homeside television fans are going to get a "break" when heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson defends his crown against Brian London in Indianapolis next month.

The "break" is two-fold.

First, those watching can turn it off at any time and secondly, it will be a good deal as no monies will be charged for viewing the contest.

Actually, this is not too surprising as it would seem rather doubtful that any one possessing all their marbles would pay to see this mismatch on the screen.

Anyway, it will be the first chance many have had to see Floyd in action.

It's just too bad the opposition isn't a bit better.

FURTHER NOTE

The fistic whirl has come in for a great deal of criticism in recent months and chances are good that things will not get any better.

However, many fans are still complaining that there is no local televising of cards from any Southland arena.

Wonder if they are upcoming?

It's True What They Say About Drysdale

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

Those long-suffering Los Angeles fans are finally convinced that it's true what the experts said about Don Drysdale.

One of the biggest flops of the 1958 season, the 22-year-old sidearmer pitched the best game of his career Monday night and beat the San Francisco Giants, 2-1, on Charlie Neal's ninth-inning homer. The victory moved the Dodgers past the Giants into second place in the National League.

Drysdale, who beat Sam Jones in a brilliant mound duel, yielded only three hits and struck out 11 to score his second victory of the season. He has struck out 25 batters in 24 innings to lead the league in that department and seems well on his way toward the brilliant season predicted for him a year ago.

Then, Drysdale started the season as the overwhelming choice to be expected to be the league's pitcher of the year. But he dropped his first five decisions, didn't win his second game of the season until May 21 and wound up with a thoroughly disappointing 12-13 record for the year.

The 6-foot, 6-inch, 210-pound right-hander flashed brilliant form during spring training but suffered a 6-1 loss to the Chicago Cubs in his first start. He bounced back four days later, however, with an eight-hit shutout against the St. Louis Cardinals, so now has yielded 10 hits and one run in his last 18 innings.

A crowd of 32,946 gave Drysdale an ovation when he retired the side in the ninth inning and after the game the young pitcher said, "I think that's the greatest game I ever pitched." Willie Mays homered over the short left field fence in the first inning but Drysdale didn't allow another hit until the eighth.

The game was the only one played in either league Monday. New York at Boston in the American League was rained out and the Pittsburgh - Philadelphia National League night game was called at the end of the first inning because of rain and wet grounds.

Miss Williams shot a 77 Monday to lead the 16 qualifiers for today's round. Her 18-hole 41-36—77 was three over women's par and made her the only qualifier to break 80.

Miss Sheldon shot an 82.

Marge Ferrie, a three-time champion from Long Beach, barely qualified with an 85. Other qualifiers included Trudy Keel, Woodland Hills, and Mrs. Betty Loveys, North Hollywood, both with 40-40—80s, and Mrs. Jean Dameral, Pasadena, with an 81.

Will Wonders Never Cease? Portland Wins at Phoenix

United Press International

Will miracles never cease? The Portland Beavers broke a tradition Monday night that had stood since the demise of the Los Angeles Angels and San Francisco Seals, winning their first game in history at Phoenix Municipal Stadium.

The Beavers, who dropped all 11 of their games at Phoenix last season, used the home run to good advantage while making their debut on the winning side of the ledger in Arizona. George Freese belted a pair of two-run homers to get the winners off to an 8-0 lead, but the Giants came back with some long-distance slugging of their own to make it respectable, eventually losing 9-6.

Small Turnout

A crowd of only 643 saw the Beavers make history. It was the smallest turnout since Phoenix entered the PCL last season.

In other night games, Salt Lake City shaded Seattle, 8-7, and league-leading Spokane defeated San Diego, 7-3, before a meager crowd in the Southern California city.

Sacramento scored 11 runs in the first two innings, then held on for an 11-8 win over Vancouver before 7,007 fans in an afternoon game at Edmonds Field. The victory put the Solons in second place, a half game behind Spokane.

At San Diego, Spokane put together a pair of double steals and a double in the ninth inning to break a 3-3 deadlock. Steve Bilko, down from the Los Angeles Dodgers, slammed a bases-empty homer in the sixth for the winners.

Salt Lake collected 11 hits off four Seattle pitchers and withstood a grand slam home run by the Arabinero Ted Tappe in the eighth to post its first win of the season. First baseman Paul Pettit and outfielder Carlos Bernier each drove in three runs for the Bees.

Generous With Walks

Despite issuing a generous total of 12 walks, Salt Lake starter Don Rowe lasted seven and two-thirds innings to pick up the victory. Seattle started Tom Gibson, who was belted out in the first inning, was tagged with the loss.

Vancouver scored six runs in the seventh at Sacramento but it wasn't enough to overcome the Solons' earlier hitting splurge. Al Heist homered for the home club, while Ray Barker knocked in four runs for the Mounties, three of which scored on his bases-loaded triple in the seventh.

Field of 10 Horses Eye Alamitos Race

LOS ALAMITOS — With a field of 10 (plus four also-eligibles) assured for Saturday's $25,000 Pacific Coast Quarter Horse Racing Association Derby, Los Alamitos officials were buzzing today over tomorrow's $3,000 Fullerton Feature at 400 yards.

In this one, a typical Saturday headliner on a Wednesday, 11 of the fastest sprinters in training were named through the entry box yesterday and the big surprise among 'em was none other than the sport's champion two-year-old money-winner of all time, Marion Seward's Miss Louton.

Already assured a berth in the derby off her third best time - 22.17 seconds - in last Saturday's two trials, the entry of Miss Louton in tomorrow's overnight feature immediately occasioned more than a little surprise among dyed-in-the-wool quarter horsemen.

Such a move in thoroughbred racing would be tantamount to Round Table going in a race two or three days before the Santa Anita Handicap. But in this straightaway sport, it's all in a day's work and Miss Louton's performance in Saturday's trial indicated that one more sharp effort tomorrow would put her on edge for the big derby jackpot.

Completely disregarding the age barrier, owner Seward also has picked a pretty stiff assignment for a rugged little filly who last year won 10 of her 13 starts, including the richest quarter horse stakes in history — the $32,000 New Mexico Futurity at Ruidoso Downs.

In her initial start this year, Miss Louton was woefully short, being beaten three-quarters of a length by Missle Bar before coming back with a sharply - improved third last Saturday to Triple Lady in the second division of the Derby Trials.

But while she is no cinch to bound under the wire in front in tomorrow's Fullerton, going against the likes of such handicap stars as Pap, Easter Maiden, Vannevar, Quick M. Silver, Cute Trick, Pokey Pat, No Butt and First Call certainly should get Miss Louton revved-up for her derby assignment.

Post time tomorrow will be 1:30 and as for Saturday's 440 - yard Derby classic, about the only other details to be determined in Thursday's draw for post positions and a decision by jockey Ken Chapman on the only known conflict in riding assignments.

Chapman, it seems, is confronted with the problem of coming back on either Dale (Wells Fargo) Robertson's Antlers Trade or Kemper Chalin's Missle Bar, both of which he rode in the Derby Trials.

If he guesses wrong, Chapman will find solace in that Eddie Arcaro also made the wrong choice some years back, when he picked Devil Diver over Kentucky Derby winner Shut Out.

If it will help Chapman reach a decision, here are the official individual times that determined Saturday's line-up;

Triple Lady 22.09, Pana Bar 22.16, Miss Louton 22.17, Missle Bar 22.20, Tidy Too 22.21, Lip Request 22.9, Antlers Trade 22.30, El Diablito 22.37, Jet Sue 22.41 and Lassie's Pride 22.45. Also-eligible — Outrider 22.56, Fame Goldquest 22.58, Eagle Flight 22.57 and King Rastus 22.58.

While Chapman pondered over his Derby status, jockey Efrain Garza seized the opportunity to boot home a riding double and gain a 10-7 lead over Kenny in the rider standings.

Efrain, once a good winner aboard thoroughbreds at Belmont Park, won 'em both for the same stable, Kaufman and Paxton — Tinky's Beauty at four dollars and Dusty Bar for $9.80.

Hard - working Harry Holcomb hustled home I. F. Sumrall's Tee Beau to register a $43 surprise in the day's 350-yard Brea feature, zipping under the wire in 18.1 to outfinish Dyna Van and Dandy Bar.

Bright Future Predicted For Long in Relays

LOS ANGELES (UPI)— Track writers and coaches have predicted sensational Dallas Long will set a new world's shot put record Friday night in the Mt. San Antonio College Relays.

The predictions were made by 44 coaches and writers who cast ballots Monday at the Southern California Track and Field Writers and Coaches Association meeting.

L.A. Clips Giants on Neals' Home Run

By ALEX KAHN
United Press International

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The cheers still were resounding today for Don Drysdale's superlative pitching performance Monday night as the Dodgers beat the Giants, 2-1, in a thriller witnessed by 32,946 fans.

Both Drysdale and Manager Walt Alston agreed it was the 22-year-old hurler's greatest game and even Bill Rigney, manager of the Giants, agreed it was a brilliant effort although he liked the work of Sad Sam Jones' defeat.

For tonight's continuation of the series, the Dodgers called on Stan Williams to take the mound while for the Giants it was Stu Miller, both having 0-0 records, although both have worked this season.

Neal Hits Decisive Blow

Charlie Neal's homer in the bottom of the ninth Monday night was the Dodgers' margin of victory. The slim second-baseman said "it was the greatest thrill" of his life when he caught one of Jones' curves and hit it to left-center field almost in the same spot where Willie Mays had homered in the first inning to give the Giants their single tally.

From that point on, Drysdale retired 21 men in order until Andre Rodgers slammed a ball to shortstop on what was first scored as an error and after the game changed to a hit, giving Drysdale a three-hitter instead of a two-hit effort.

In the ninth, Jackie Brandt beat out a grounder that could have been an easy out had Norm Larker covered the bag and permitted Neal to handle the ball. Drysdale then walked Mays while trying not to give him a fat pitch, but Mays was forced by Orlando Cepeda to end the threat.

Mays' First Homer

For Mays, the first-inning blast was his initial homer of the season, and like Neal's homer, it caught the "jet stream" breeze in left center field and sailed over the fence there.

Th Podgers tapped Jones for six hits, with Jim Gilliam and Wally Moon getting Triples and Larker a double. But their only other run came in the second on a walk, a sacrifice and singles by Larker and Zimmer.

The 11 strikeouts registered by Drysdale gave him 25 men fanned in three games to lead the National League. He went into Monday night's game tied with Johnny Antonelli of the Giants and Larry Jackson of the Cardinals with 14 strikeouts each.

Duarte Battles Bazel Tonight

Frankie Duarte veteran Mexican bantamweight, will be even money when he faces Edgar Basel, German bantamweight champion, in the 10-round main event at Long Beach Municipal Auditorium tonight.

Basel, winner of four straight battles at the auditorium, has had little trouble in outboxing the opposition so far.

Nicknamed the Baby Faced Phantom by harbor district fans the fragile looking dutchman is unquestionably one of the cleverest ringman in the business.

However, there is some doubt as just how well he can stand up under punishment, and the fact that he is a light puncher puts him in jeopardy each time he climbs in the ring.

Duarte although he lacks the speed of the agile German, makes up for this deficit with a hefty punch, and the ability to absorb an unusual amount of punishment.

Bout Asked

After looking at Basel win over Frankie Bravo last week, he asked Promoter Leon Black to put him in with Edgar.

The Latin is confident that he can halt Basel's win streak the same as Kid Rayo put an end to Basel's stable mate, Karl Heinz Guder two weeks ago.

Roy Smith, popular Torrance heavyweight, and Andy Issacs of Los Angeles clash in the six round semi-windup.

Smith, a favorite with harbor district fans, is attempting to gain main event recognition, and is favored to use Issacs as a stepping stone toward furthering his ambitions tonight.

Three four round bouts should supply plenty of action in the preliminaries.

Ricky Palma, crowd pleasing lightweight, meets Torro Martinez of Mexico, making his initial Long Beach appearance.

Manuel Cisneros, Bakersfield welterweight, who turned in a slam bang battle last week tackles with Bunchy Bonitas, newcomer from Mexico.

Also exempted were Robert Sweeny of Palm Beach, Fla., Peter M. Grant Jr., of Phoenix, Ariz., and Jack Penrose of Miami Beach, Fla.

NEW BOOKMOBILE — Recently delivered to the Buena Park Library District is their long-awaited bookmobile which they will put into use in the very near future, taking the books to the people. This service will be especially welcome to those in the outlying areas of the district, young mothers with children and elderly people who lack transportation to the main library. It is planned to make about 20 stops each trip. The inside is furnished the same as any library with a professional librarian in charge of the desk. The traveling library will hold 2,400 books and the patrons will have access to the 50,000 books in the main library by requesting any book they desire. Shown with the new light green colored bookmobile are (from left) Mrs. John Fowler, trustee; Mrs. Leroy Jack, library clerk and driver; Mrs. Melvin Perry, trustee; and Mrs. Paul Callaway, head librarian of Buena Park Library District. Yorba Linda Woman's Club Wins Four Certificates of Achievement

The Yorba Linda Woman's Club was awarded four certificates of achievement in community service at a recent meeting of the Orange District Federation of Women's Clubs held at the Disneyland Hotel.

Mrs. Lee D. Meyers, Jr., president of the local club, joined with other club presidents in giving a talk on the work accomplished by the club during the past year in which were stressed unity and community achievement and cooperation with other civic organizations.

Hours of participation also totaled more than 2000.

Honorable mention was also given for the club's participation and donation to the Veteran's Hospital at Long Beach and for the Press Book entry. Two first awards were won on the city flower display of the rose and a flower arrangement prepared by Mrs. P. B. Livingston, chairman of the Garden Section.

Attending the convention meeting with Mrs. Meyers were Mrs. M. Verne Steward, vice-president and Mrs. George Kellogg, parliamentarian.

Schools Plan Open House

Public Schools' Week from April 27 to May 1 will be observed by all six schools in Centralia School district.

Three schools will hold regular monthly PTA meetings first, with time allotted at the end of the evening for visiting individual rooms and meeting teachers. They are Walter Knott on April 23, Glen H. Dysinger, Sr., on April 27, and Raymond Temple on April 28. Centralia, Mira Linda and Buena Terra schools will hold open house on April 28, 29 and 30, respectively.

This year marks the 40th observance of Public Schools' Week which was originally the idea of the Masonic lodge in 1919. California Masons endeavored to foster interest in more and better schools then as now by showing accomplishments of the students. All six of the schools will display projects of the classrooms and individual pupils. The meetings will all start at 7:30 p.m.

The public is invited to attend any or all of the open houses, whether they have children in school or not, according to W. U. Almand, president of Centralia elementary district's board of trustees.

REPORT MARINE CASUALTIES

Continental Marines participated in their first naval engagement April 6, 1776, when the small vessels of the American squadron, enroute from the Bahamas, engaged a British man-of-war. Lindbergh Board Told Need for School Bonds

Mrs. H. D. Train, president, opened the meeting of the Lindbergh PTA Executive Board by calling on Mrs. Chas. Arendale to read a poem, "Let Us Work Together." Following the reading of the minutes by Mrs. Robert Kisner and the financial report by Mrs. Arnold Slama, Mrs. Dean Sawyer gave a report on the recent school carnival.

Richard Tranter, principal, announced June 16 as the date for the second school bond election. He asked for active participation from board members to encourage parents of school children to register to vote. He also pointed out the fact that unless the bonds are approved in June our school faces the prospect of half day session, no bus transportation, increased pupil load per teacher, and a sharp curtailment of the extra-curricular activities such as teaching music, home economics, shop and physical education programs.

On April 28 there will be four showings of a safety program on the school playground, demonstrating the safe use of cars and bicycles. All students and parents are invited.

A public health clinic was to be held at the school on April 16 to immunize kindergarten and second graders against polio and diphtheria-pertussis-tetanus and to give small pox vaccinations to first graders. Those volunteering to help with this program are Mmes. W. C. Story, John Harris, J. T. Allen, and A. M. Bailey.

Mrs. Train announced that there will be a final rag drive the first week in June. She also read the names of the newly installed Buena Park Council Executive Board.

Following adjournment of the meeting Mrs. Train presented each board member with a lovely cup and saucer. The board, in turn, presented her with a glass and metal tea cart in appreciation for her year of service to the organization.

Coffee and sweet rolls were served by hostesses Mrs. John Harris and Mrs. Frank Stewart.

Silent Auction Brings Money for Stanton Club

STANTON — The rumpus room of the Pete Baldassarre home at 7921 First St., was the meeting place of the Sunshine and Shower Club on a recent afternoon. Before the business meeting the guests enjoyed a pizza luncheon prepared by Mrs. Baldassarre, assisted by Mrs. Lewis McBratney as cohostess.

Entertainment of the afternoon was furnished by a "silent auction" of articles of all descriptions including food. The members wrote their bids on a piece of paper for the items in which they were interested with of course the one submitting the highest bid claiming the article. A neat little sum was obtained for the treasury from this activity. In several cases only one or two cents difference in the bids determined the purchaser.

Guests for the afternoon were Mmes. Kate Doane, Beatrice Skillen, Marcella Ferary, Eric Reishalt, Philip Selfridge and Margaret Riley.

LHHS Highlander Band Meets Duke of Argyll

LA HABRA — Activities of the La Habra High School Highlander's Pipe Band gained international attention last Thursday evening as members of the band met the Duke of Argyll who is returning to his home in Scotland after completing a tour around the world.

Chance meeting of the Duke and the Highlander's Pipe Band took place at the Disneyland Hotel where the band appeared before the California Federation of Women's Clubs convention. The Duke, dining in another part of the building, heard the familiar strains of the bagpipe, hurried upstairs to find the pipers and introduced himself. He expressed pleasure at meeting a group of American high school students who had adopted the Scottish traditions, according to Ethel Ann Fengler, who is a LHHS instructor and campus sponsor of the group, and offered to pose for several pictures with the students.

The Duke of Argyll also requested that the high school's Caledonian Society send him full information about the Highlander theme and offered to assist in any way possible in helping the Caledonian Society carry out the authentic traditions of their Scottish theme. The Duke pointed out that when he returns to his home, Inveraray Castle, he will tell the story of the American students at LHHS who have adopted the Highlander theme.

Main corridor of the LHHS campus was named the Argyll in honor of the Duke of Argyll shortly after the school was opened and the students had selected their theme.

Public Schools Week

The observance of Public Schools Week in late April each year serves to point up the vital place in our democratic system which these schools hold. This, of course, was the purpose in establishing the "week" just 40 years ago. But in the four decades since then the growth in both the importance and the problems of our public schools makes this particular week one of the most meaningful of any such observances. And while we hear much of the difficulties and shortcomings of our public schools system in these days, it should also be noted that efforts to correct these conditions are steadily increasing. Certainly the public is more alert to the needs of our schools than ever before, and business and industry are constantly increasing their aid. The public schools are everybody's business. They're not only the business of parents with youngsters in school but of those whose youngsters are grown and people who have no children. Why? Because the kind of nation—and to a large extent, the kind of world—we have tomorrow largely depends on how well our offspring are trained for it in school today. Visit the classrooms during Public Schools Week. It will encourage the educators and better inform you on the splendid work they are doing.

Looking Ahead

The Two Berlins

East and West Berlin are separated only by a barbed wire fence constantly patrolled by gun-carrying Communist police. This Iron Curtain runs directly through the heart of what used to be one sprawling city, dividing it into two distinct zones. The two cities, side by side, present the world's most dramatic comparison between capitalism and total socialism.

A West German worker can stand in his apartment in one of the tall modern apartment buildings a few blocks from the dividing line and actually see across the Iron Curtain and study the desolation and poverty of the Communist zone. An East German worker living under Communism can climb up through the rubble to the top of one of the vacant, shattered buildings in the Soviet sector and gaze out across the rising, shining, prosperous new city of West Berlin. And when he does, he doesn't wonder any more about the Communist propaganda against capitalism. He knows that it is false.

Millions Are Hearing

Millions of people behind the Iron Curtain have heard about this stunning contrast in the two cities. Millions of Europeans know about it. And this is one of the principal reasons Soviet dictator Khrushchev wants to first "neutralize" West Berlin, and then wipe it off the face of the map. The contrast of East and West Berlin is giving the lie to the whole Communist propaganda barrage beamed throughout the world. To his Kremlin yes-men, Khrushchev has described West Berlin as a capitalistic "cancer" growing in the land of socialism and he wants it cut out by the roots and buried.

He knows that to anyone except the most sightless, warped Communist, West Berlin must be viewed as a veritable garden spot rising up out of the desolate, stagnant desert that Communism has made of its 42,000 square miles and the shattered, forgotten cities of East Germany. To Khrushchev, prosperous, expanding capitalistic West Germany is a foot-long thorn with barbs on it digging deeper and deeper into his hide. It is a glittering show window, trumpeting the success of capitalism. Communism came into being 110 years ago declaring that capitalism was a burden on human society and that the socialism designed by Karl Marx would create a "paradise" for all mankind. It dedicated itself to stamping out capitalism by force and establishing world socialism under a dictatorship.

Mustn't Look

Khrushchev doesn't want any free-minded person in the vast Communist domain — now enslaving nearly a billion people — to see what capitalism is doing for all categories of citizens in West Berlin. John Noble, the American who spent three years as a slave in notorious Vorkuta prison camp in northern Russia, reports that the Red Army men who guard the prisoners of Vorkuta are those who, while on military duty, have had a glimpse of West Berlin or other prosperous areas outside the Iron Curtain. They are kept at primitive Vorkuta, in the frozen Arctic, at least two years to erase from their minds all remembrances, and to frighten them with the possibility of long imprisonment there — if they do not forget!

Twelve years ago Communist Russia, as one of the Four Powers meeting at Potsdam, agreed to maintain complete freedom of all transportation arteries into West Berlin from the West. But that was only expedient for the moment, and the Communist bosses, in their worst nightmares, never dreamed that individual freedom under capitalism could accomplish so much in so short a time as has happened in West Berlin.

Miracle Of Rebuilding

In the 10 years since establishment of the West German Federal Republic and the beginning of free enterprise capitalism in West Berlin, the flattened, prostrate city (approximately 75 per cent destroyed in the great blockbuster and fire-bomb raids) has been reborn and rebuilt. Its automobile plants, its machine tool industries, its steel fabricating and appliance factories, its new textile industries, already have gained world-wide markets. It's commercial and residential streets are brand-new and modern. Its shop windows are overflowing with high quality merchandise. The streets are crowded. And the people are enjoying the highest living standard of their lifetime — rapidly overtaking the people of the heavily socialized nations in Europe. Every factor of economic progress shows a continuing upward surge. Just a few miles away, in the totally socialized Soviet city of East Berlin, the hard reality is stagnation, poverty, desolation, life in a police state, the frustration of human hopes.

The free world must keep West Berlin free and open to the eyes of the world. Indeed, the story of the two Berlins ought to be put into filmed and photographic documentaries and carried to all the peoples of the world.

Assignment: Washington

by Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON — I've been thinking about what my old friend — and the friend of all taxpayers — Rep. Clare Hoffman (R., Mich.) had to say about us reporters.

Spongers, he said we were, because we've been keeping an eagle eye on him from up here in the press gallery. He would take away the use of our typewriters in the Capitol, he said, because they were owned by Uncle Sam.

First, I must come to the aid of a fellow journalist, Inez Robb, whom Mr. Hoffman singled out just because she stomped on a sore toe — our lawnmakers' free privileges.

Revengefully, ruefully, said he: "She sits up there and pounds a government typewriter, lolls back in a comfortable chair, has a cigarette tray handy if she wants one, a glass of cool, clear water. . ."

My dear Mr. Congressman, there are no drinking glasses up here — and no ash trays, either. And, in the first place, Mrs. Robb wasn't even up here, and, instead, typed that nasty ole column on a machine of her own.

Huffy Mr. Hoffman could have saved the taxpayers $120 right then and there, had he known the facts, because it took him a page and a half of print in the Congressional Record (for which the taxpayers must pay at the rate of $81 a page) to say what he did.

But as to us bona fide spongers, I guess we could manage to keep check on how lawmakers are spending the taxpayers' money without the use of typewriters up here.

Of course, Mr. Hoffman, a self-avowed champion of nepotism, could then claim we're sitting on government chairs and walking on government marble floors, and try to bar us altogether from snooping.

And that's just what one lovely lady legislator proposed: That was Rep. Iris Blitch (D., Ga.) who said she wouldn't allow reporter Vance Trimble to step through her (the taxpayers') door.

The crime that Mr. Trimble committed was writing all those nasty stories about nepotism — and about Mrs. Blitch's $100-a-month office, paid for with those hard-earned income taxes paid by you and you and that other taxpayer.

I guess we could all fold up our typewriter ribbons and get out of here, and let all the extravagantly-legislated dollars go down the stink hole without a word to the taxpayer.

But I don't think they'd stand for it. They want to have the privilege, a least, of knowing which stink hole their dollar disappears into.

Our absence, however, would be felt even harder by Mr. Hoffman's colleagues who keep sending us breast-beating pronouncements — printed at government expense — which they desire for us to write up on those Uncle Sam Machines.

This, I dare say, would spell bankruptcy for a lot of elected Joes whose names would be forgotten by their voting public were it not for our faithful mention of their names in print.

Even when we kid them, they like it — just as long as we spell their names right.

I would say that our dear friend, Mr. Hoffman, was snarling at the wrong front porch when he looked up at the House press gallery and said it was we — not the Congressmen — who were sponging.

At least, he must have thought better of it because he deftly removed the thing about sponging from the Congressional Record.

But he did say it. We heard it with our own two ears. And they, Mr. Congressman, do not belong to the government.

Your Birthday

by Stella

TUESDAY, APRIL 21—Born on this first day of the incoming sign, Taurus, you are ruled by Venus, the goddess of love and beauty. You have a magnetic personality and are steadfast and enduring in your attachments. You are, by nature, a builder, whether in the field of ideas or by the work of your own hands. You have a good head for business and probably will prosper. You are not one to be satisfied with anything second-rate. You would rather take nothing!

You are a person of moods, and it is difficult to determine exactly how you feel inside. You have a dogged independence which exerts itself continually. You are a better "no man" than a "yes man." You can be quite stubborn when it comes to getting what you want. You are rarely, if ever, persuaded to act against your better judgment. The one weak spot in your armor is the strength of your affections! You will do anything for those you love.

The stars have given you several talents, but unless you specialize in some one thing, you will never become outstanding. You will merely be competent in many fields but an expert in none. Yet, if you discipline yourself in one area of expression, you may become famous in your own time.

Among those born on this date are: Max Weber, political economist; George P. Gordon, inventor; John Muir, naturalist; Peter Aveland, theologian and philosopher; Elizabeth II of England.

To find what the stars have in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

The Ways and Means Committee was all set to consider unemployment benefits for non-working movie stars—seeing as how the movie stars and the lawyers were about the only ones left who are not getting anything. Just then the door opened and Tallulah Bankhead came rushing in calling out, 'Dahlings, wait!' Well, they waited for about an hour and a half, then they got back down to business. But first they had Mint Juleps all around just to get into the spirit of the thing . . . Well, that's what happened in Washington.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Our lawmakers have their own book collection, called the Library of Congress. This library spends 18 million dollars a year, has 2,600 employes, and with 36,905,919 entries in its catalog is probably the biggest anywhere.

It appears now though that some of the congressmen have been putting in fewer rush calls for the library's books than for its magazines and out-of-town papers.

Along with pretty near everything else that's printed, recorded, or photographed, the library gets most of these. And a "very few" members, it now is disclosed, have kept delivery crews busy hustling late issues, free, across Capitol plaza from library to congressional office buildings.

Stock Periodicals

One subscription list — daily installments of which were phoned to the library each morning by a secretary — is said to have included a stock of periodicals from Atlantic Monthly to Vogue, plus two New York papers.

Rep. Omar Burleson (D-Tex.), chairman of a committee that makes the library rules, explained that these members apparently hadn't discovered the local newsstands. So he now has got out an order, the burden of which is to go find them.

Next, who knows? Burleson may fix it where schoolboys have to write their own essays. Or at least, grind them out without help from the Library of Congress. Anyway, that's the way things are tending.

The library currently spends $143 per year per member of Congress on these and other literary efforts requested by House and Senate members not for themselves but, for some of the voters back home.

Experts Answer Questions

Nobody knows for sure how many of the 25,000 such requests passed along annually to the library by the lawmakers originate with the kiddies. The library says though "we suspect" they account for more than half of the total.

It is assumed that all such scholastic endeavors are awarded top grades by the teachers. Nothing less would be fair to the experts who get them together. There are 173 of these in the library's legislative reference service, and between them they know all about everything.

All a member of Congress has to do is get on the phone. The experts will answer his questions, do his research. They will write him a speech, with or without jokes. They need to know only the subject, and which side is he on?

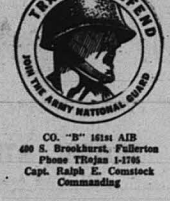

Wanted Text For A Friend

They don't admit to having ghostwritten any congressional book.

One lawmaker sent along two volumes recently printed in Japanese translators had been tied up on this job a couple of weeks, library boses decided this was a little too much, especially when it was learned the member didn't make the request for himself.

He wanted the English text for a friend. He got it, too.

But on Burleson's orders, that's all over now. Hereafter, if a House member or senator selects for a quiet evening's reading something published in Sanskrit or Urdu, the translators will leap to their work. But for a constituent, a deciphered sentence or two is the limit.

FROM The Mail Box

Dear Sir:

I would like to take this opportunity to say that I think your new feature "Mullen It Over" is a top flight addition to the paper and one that has drawn many favorable comments from many friends of mine.

Of particular interest is the fact that the issue that took great pains to point out many of the pitfalls to stay away from when moving into a new area has been used by me to pass on to many of the new people moving into the West Orange County area who are anxious to have many of their questions answered for them in advance. I think Hal Mullen did just that in his article on variances, zoning, school districts, utility service areas, etc.

Thought you might like to know that there are many who think your new "addition to the paper" is a very good one. With best wishes for your continued success.

Cordially yours,
George P. Karcher

THE Family Scrapbook

Plaster Pin

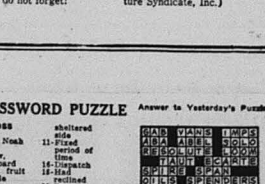

Here's a simple project for the young craftsman which can result in a very impressive pin for mother, grandmother, Aunt Mabel or teacher. And very little material is needed.

1. Get an old spoon, soup size or larger.
2. Lightly grease or oil the inner surface.
3. Draw a picture or cut one from magazine or newspaper. It should be small enough to fit in the bowl of the spoon.
4. Mix plaster of Paris with water to the consistency of thick cream.
5. Put the picture face down in the spoon and smooth it down neatly.
6. Put a few drops of water on the back of the picture.
7. Pour in the plaster and smooth evenly with the top of the spoon.
8. Open a small safety pin and press the back of it into the plaster.
9. Allow the plaster to dry for 20 minutes.
10. Remove plaster by tapping spoon gently on the hand.
11. Shellac the whole so as to preserve it.

Narcotic Bill Okays 'Illegal' Evidence Use

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill to allow the introduction in narcotics cases of evidence obtained illegally by police was in the Assembly today after receiving Senate approval by a narrow margin.

The bill, introduced by Sen. Donald Grunsky (R-Watsonville), would permit introduction of evidence obtained by illegal search and seizure and would get around the state Supreme Court's Cahan decision throwing out such evidence.

Opponents to the bill in the Senate, where it passed 21-18, said the measure will allow evidence to be admitted even if it were drawn from a defendant under duress.

PINBALL TRACY SCORES ARREST

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Thomas McInerney played the pinball machines at Ted's Buffet for two weeks before he hit the jackpot Monday.

His ball lit all the lights on one machine. Bartender Fred E. Freund Jr. offered congratulations and the prize—$9.10.

McInerney pulled out his police detective's badge and made the arrest - for running a game of chance.

Electronics Is Good Field In Naval Service

"In the Navy," commented the local Recruiter, "electronics is an 'open sesame' to an endless variety of exciting assignments, and the need for trained personnel continues to grow at a steady rate."

To augment the need for electronics trained men, the Navy inaugurated the Electronics Field Seaman Recruit Program. Under the EFSR program, qualified high school graduates may attend any one of sixteen service schools dealing with electronics after recruit training.

Educational institutions in all 48 states recognize the value of these schools. Many men have received credit for this type of training when they have enrolled in colleges for night or day classes.

Navy electronics schools prepare naval personnel to operate and care for the 3700 different types of electronic equipment used every day aboard ship or at shore stations.

Young men interested in a Navy career in electronics are invited to visit the Navy Recruiter whose office is located at 113 W. Broadway, Post Office Building in this city.

More Cattle Rustling than Ever

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Cattle rustling is more widespread today than in the Wild West of the 1870's, according to the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association. With "hot" cattle bringing as much as $300 a head as against only about $15 in the old west, it is estimated that losses from rustling run into millions of dollars a year.

Around Hollywood

By Vernon Scott

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—What a mess!

More than 190 nominees have been shoveled into the "Emmy" hopper this year in 42 categories sliced so thin there are eight separate "best actor" and "best actress" awards.

In other words, each winning performer should be hailed as "one of the eight best TV actors" of 1958.

Most honored of all video stars is Ed Sullivan. He and his show are distinguished by not having been nominated for a single TV Academy award. Old Stone Face stands alone.

Singularly slapped by the Acad's indiscriminate nominations is the Crawford family. Three members of the clan are in the running.

Father Robert Crawford is up for "best editing" on the "Bob Cummings Show." Robert Jr. snagged a nomination for "best single performance" in "Child of Our Time" ("Playhouse 90"), and young Johnny Crawford is a "best supporting actor" for "The Rifleman."

Network Count Puzzling

In totaling network nominations the bigwigs came up with an astonishing count: ABC 24, CBS 88½, NBC 84½. Nobody quite understands the halves.

One nomination for engineering was split up one-third to each network, but wasn't included in the final tote.

Horse operas clopped into a category of their own this year, the feeling being they are neither drama nor comedy. However, there are those who believe the oaters are hilarious and should be ranked as comedies.

Despite the prolific number of entries, the races are uneven. For instance, the "best news reporting series" has only three contestants, "best special musical or variety program" two. "Best special news program" is in with seven.

Another puzzling element is the nomination of shows which have been bounced off the air for lack of audience and/or sponsor.

Phil Silvers Among Missing

Among the luckless and bounced garnering nominations were "The Burns and Allen Show," Mr. Adams and Eve" and "The Jane Wyman Show." Five nominations are given "The Phil Silvers Show," which bombed out earlier this month.

For what it's worth, the Academy found that filmed shows racked up 101¼ nominations compared with 88¾ for live shows. Again, the fractions had everyone baffled.

Handicappers who work out a form chart annually for the movie Oscar derby are stumped on the Emmy merry-go-round. Only preaward favorite to cop a flock of statuettes is "The Fred Astaire Show," which entered the race with seven nominations.

Complaints are echoing about the Oscar show running 20 minutes short last week, but with 42 Emmy awards to be passed out the Television Academy will be fortunate if it doesn't run 20 minutes too long.

Ambling With Ann

By Ann Wardell Saunders

HOLLYWOOD — John Meston, the editorial supervisor and one of the chief writers of "Gunsmoke," took unto himself a wife, name of Betty Ford, and is on a leisurely journey to Spain where they plan to spend the next six months.

Before departing, John explained to me how some of the amazing sound effects on the show are achieved. "The credit goes to two of the finest sound engineers in the industry, Bill James and Tom Hanley," said John. "A few years ago, they wearied of what they considered phony gunshots and tape-recorded their own by carting a small arsenal of weapons into the hills back of Hollywood and recording the actual firing of all types of rifles and hand guns. They even set up the tape recorder back of rocks and fired bullets in the stone to get realistic tapes of the ricocheting lead."

Robert Young is off to Toronto, where he'll be guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Canadian Highway Safety Conference. . . . . Jan (Rough Riders) Merlin tells me he gets a shipment of pineapples and coconuts from Central America each month. "I'm fond of tropical food and always serve it fresh at my table." . . . Ray Milland will play like a suave lawyer turned investigator, whose lucrative law practice, combined with inherited wealth, enables him to carry on his activities on a global scale in "Markham," to bow May 2.

Swivel chairs, filing cabinets and a telephone switchboard! "Can this be Heaven?" I asked. "Probably not," explained Walter Slezak, star of "The Slightly Fallen Angel." "But we decided to be different. You see, the show opens in Heaven's requisition department. In most movies and plays, Heaven is almost completely bare. Our Heaven is complete with such functional furnishings as an intercom system for summoning angels, lounge chairs built so that the angel's wings won't be crushed, and ball-point pens for signing heavenly edicts."

To distinguish this Heaven from a business office, a carpet of clouds circles about the performers' feet. This is done by dripping dry ice into warm water and letting the resulting steam seep through vents in the floor. The clouds that form the walls are made of finely spun fiberglass hooked on to chicken wire. All this can be seen May 4.

Lydia Reed recently spent a week end at a farm home similar to the fictional McCoy home in "The Real McCoys" series. Said Lydia: "They had the neatest stove I've ever seen. No gas, no electricity, no butane. Just a compartment in the stove that burned wood and gave enough heat to cook roasts in the oven and vegetables on top. I've never eaten anything so delicious as the baked chicken with bread stuffing and biscuits that were cooked in this stove."

Lydia, city born and bred, vows she'll get a stove like it for her very own, one day!

Lydia says: "Brush steaks and burgers with French dressing before broiling, for a good flavor."

Kaiser Steel Corp. Earnings Revealed

OAKLAND (UPI)—Kaiser Steel Corp. has announced earnings of $3,303,000 of 76 cents per share of common stock for the first quarter of 1959.

For the same quarter in 1958, net earnings were $2,049,000 or 46 cents per share of common stock, the company said.

Sales totaled $60,971,000, the highest in Kaiser's history, compared with sales for the first quarter a year ago of $46,245,000.

Big Plutonium Plant Under Negotiation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Atomic Energy Commission said today it is negotiating a contract for construction of a 145 million dollar plutonium plant capable of being used also as a nuclear power station.

Congress authorized the plant last year against the administration's wishes. The Joint Chiefs of Staff had recommended increased production of plutonium for atomic weapons, but President Eisenhower opposed the project.

Since then, however, the administration decided to go ahead with the plant and invited 16 firms to submit contract proposals. Of the 14 proposals submitted, the AEC picked that of Kaiser Engineers of Oakland, Calif., as a basis for negotiations.

The new reactor will be built at the Hanford, Wash., plutonium works. It will take about four years to complete.

The eight plutonium reactors at Hanford and five newer ones at Savannah River, S.C., throw away the heat generated in the production process.

The new plant will be designed to convert this heat, if desired, into electricity.

Liz Taylor Delayed In Lebanon Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Elizabeth Taylor, recuperating slowly from a 90-minute throat operation last week, might remain hospitalized until Wednesday.

The 27-year-old raven- haired actress had hoped to be released from Cedars of Lebanon Hospital the day after removal of tonsil nodes, but doctors said that more infection had been discovered than anticipated.

Miss Taylor planned to return to her rented Las Vegas, Nev., ranch after her release to be near singer Eddie Fisher, 30. The couple will marry early next month after Fisher obtains a Nevada divorce from Debbie Reynolds.

Fisher also has been ill, suffering from a virus infection that has kept him from appearing at the Tropicana for the past two nights. He planned to go back to work tonight.

Esther Williams Gets Final Divorce Decree

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Actress Esther Williams, 37, obtained a final divorce decree Monday to end her 13-year marriage to producer Ben Gage.

The film star was awarded custody of the couple's three children, Benjamin, 9; Kimball, 8 and Susan, 5, in a settlement at the time she obtained her interlocutory decree, March 8, 1958.

Fair Exchange Assures Contract

When you must lose a trick, give it to the opponent who cannot do you any harm. This principle may lead to some very strange tricks.

Opening lead — ♣ K

Dummy's ace of spades is not as helpful as it might be. By any ordinary line of play South must lose a club and two hearts.

Sooner or later, South must lose another heart. The story is the same if South decides against a club finesse.

The trouble is that East always manages to lead a heart during the early stages of the play. This gives West a heart trick while he can still get out safely.

KEEP EAST OUT

You can make the contract if you keep East out of the lead. Is there any way to do this?

Your chance comes at the very first trick. Let West win the first trick with his king of spades! Discard a club from the South hand. This gives West a spade trick, to be sure, but it robs East of a later club trick. This is just an exchange of tricks, but it's a good bargain for you.

After getting that first strange trick West leads a club. You take the ace of clubs, draw one round of trumps with dummy's king, discard a second club on dummy's ace of spades, and ruff a club. This prevents East from gaining the lead with a club.

You return to dummy with a second trump and ruff dummy's last club. You then get back to dummy with a third trump and lead a heart for a finesse. West wins this finesse but cannot get out safely. If he returns a heart, you get a free finesse; and if West returns anything else, you ruff in your hand and discard the losing heart from dummy.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold: ♠ Spades J 8 7 5 3 ♥ Hearts 8 4 3 ♦ Diamonds 8 ♣ Clubs K Q 9 2. What do you say?

Answer: Bid four spades. This shows five trumps, a singleton or void, and not more than 9 points in high cards.

TOMORROW'S THE DAY FOR

SILVER BONUS

LAST WEEK'S GIFT WINNER $5.00

Sponsors—The Merchants of Downtown Anaheim and the Anaheim Bulletin

Trade In Anaheim Silver Bonus Day

A new name will be selected each week from a home in northern Orange County and the Silver Bonus Man will call at the home of the winner of each week's contest Wednesday evening between 5:30 and 7:00 p.m. and upon presentation of qualifying sales slips from the Silver Bonus stores will hand him his patriotic gift — if no sales slips, then his $5.00 consolation prize. If nobody is at home when the Silver Bonus Man calls, a note will be left instructing the winner to call at the Bulletin office and receive his $5.00 prize.

Remember to ask your Silver Bonus Merchant for your registration slip. If you have registered and moved, fill out a new registration slip and specify change of address.

SCHEDULE OF FREE GIFTS

If sales slips from Silver Bonus Stores are produced amounting to less than $5.00, the gift will be one-half of the accumulated sum or a minimum of $135.00

If sales slips from Silver Bonus Stores amount to $5.00 or more, the Free Gift will be the entire accumulated sum or a minimum of $270.00

TOMORROW'S SILVER BONUS GIFT IS

$270.00

Everyone 18 years or older eligible to participate.

Members of The Bulletin and their immediate families are not eligible to enter this contest. Owners of Silver Bonus stores and their employes can win the additional awards only on sales slips from stores other than that with which they are connected.
