

Now and Then

FACING DISGRACE; BUSINESS SCORNS

Dispatches today record what most men consider disgrace. James A. Stillman, millionaire president of the National City bank of New York, has "resigned" because of his alleged immoral method of living. His divorce suit against his wife proved a boom-crash, for his wife filed counter-charges that the public seems willing to accept as true.

James A. Stillman's wealth, wholly inherited from his dead father, will help him to face disgrace with calmness, for there are very few things in this world that money will not buy. Two things money will not buy, however. One is honor and the other happiness.

The case of Stillman is not unusual among the ranks of the accidental wealthy. It is not difficult to recall names of dozens of sons of wealthy parents who are not worth getting up at sunrise to snoot.

We all want enough of wealth to be able to live comfortably, but strange as it may seem, the happiest people in the world are those who are fortunately poor. Money makes them too often very disagreeable and grief.

The man who works, the man who gives the world the results of his labor and lives with honor, is more blessed than the man who inherits wealth and buys disgrace. There is a deal of merit in that old saying, "blessed be nothing."

CHEATING CHEATERS; REAPING HARVEST

Speculation is legitimate business, but all speculators are not legitimate business. This is brought to light with a bump today by information from Florida that two or three "confidence" men reaped about $2,000,000 from tourists during the winter season just closed. The story came to light when two confidence men fell out and one of them fell dead after the other had pushed him with a bullet fired from the fire.

It is claimed that these bunco boys gathered their wealth from middle-aged men who tried to get more of the world's wealth through speculation. They all fell for the appeal that they could double their money in ten minutes. Some of them did, but before they finished dealing with the bunco boys, they lost it all.

It seems impossible to impress otherwise good business men with the fact that money does not grow on trees. Some men gallop an independence and then try to get another for money through speculation. They seem to throw prudence to the winds when a glowing proposition is presented to them. Visions of additional wealth stall their mental engines.

The best investment for idle funds is in real estate, government bonds and savings accounts. It is strange that good business men grab "gold bricks" when they ought to know that anyone who has "gold bricks" more than likely will retain them if they are worth keeping.

Speculation is risky business; even more risky than starting an oil pipeline at the north pole, or trying to sell steam heaters at the equator.

LACK OF THIRST; FREE AND EASY

Los Angeles isn't such a "worse" place after all, so far as its real citizens are concerned. One gentleman, light wine and beer, candidate for mayor in yesterday's primary, was as popular with the Los Angeles voters as Cox was with the voters of the United States last fall. Out of 68,000 votes counted up to early this morning, only 11,000 thirty people had recorded their call for light wine and beer by voting for "personal" liberty candidate. It seems that he misjudged the people of Los Angeles when he thought they wanted light wine and beer to return. Probably most of the advocates of such a platform were tourists. Tourists can't vote in Los Angeles, strange as it may seem. And it is well.

Another great thing about California is that eventually we see folks from the old home town, but we don't have to go back to the old home to see them. They follow the crowd sooner or later.

See by the papers that hospitals are all doing good business. Also the only reason people don't also dynamite is because it probably doesn't taste good.

NEW POSTOFFICE BUILDING BIDS ASKED BY DEPARTMENT INSPECTOR SPECIFICATIONS RECEIVED HERE

Postmaster Ahlborn Now Has Blanks For Bidders and Specifications for all Requirements in New Quarters

BIDS WILL BE RECEIVED UNTIL JUNE 15TH NEXT

All who intend bidding for the new postoffice quarters for Anaheim are invited to call on Postmaster Ahlborn who is now in possession of all necessary information as to the dimensions, and all other specifications for the new quarters.

It is practically certain the quarters will be in a new building to be erected before January 1, through the notice calling for bids specifies January 1, 1922, "or such date as the building is ready for occupancy." It is not thought the quarters will be wanted before January 1, 1922, or the call for bids would have specified "on or before" that date.

The special notice calling for bids is practically as follows:

F. E. Jarvis, postoffice inspector at Los Angeles, representative of the chief inspector in Washington, will receive proposals up to and including June 15, 1921, for the furnishing of suitable quarters for postoffice purposes at Anaheim, California, under a lease for five or ten years from January 1, 1922, or such date as the building is ready for occupancy.

GERMANY DECLARES NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR C. C. CYCLOPS

BERLIN.—(By Mail).—The theory that the German submarine or mine was responsible for the unexplained disappearance of the American collier Cyclops in West Indian waters, was refuted today by the Admiralty.

German submarines were not in that vicinity when the Cyclops met its fate, according to the Admiralty, which added that were that the case, it would not now hesitate to make the fact known.

As to the theory that a German agent may have placed a bomb aboard the official stated that nothing was known here of such action, but he assumed that, and such a thing happened, some traces of wreckage from the Cyclops would have been picked up later.

The Admiralty information was given only after careful examination of data, and it was said that there could be no doubt as to its correctness.

ANAHEIM HI "Y" MET LAST NIGHT FOR SUMMER PLANS

Last night members of the Anaheim Hi-Y Club met for their final meeting of the year at a supper at the Y. M. C. A. building. After the famous "bean" feed and "rubber" pudding, A. H. Witman gave the boys a very interesting and instructive talk on his recent trip into Old Mexico. He told of conditions he found there, and of the different people he came in contact with, also of the Yaqui Indians and the part they play in the history of the country.

Following Mr. Witman's talk, the club proceeded to regular business session. Officers for the coming year were elected. Cliff Elliott was elected president and Fred Witman vice president; the other two officers to be elected the first meeting after school starts in the fall.

Mr. Raitt then outlined to the boys the summer program for Anaheim and called on the boys to assist him in the carrying out of the plans as outlined. There were twelve present at the meeting.

TROLLEY'S BIRTHDAY

NEW YORK, May 4.—Electric railway companies throughout the United States today are celebrating the thirty-third birthday of the overhead trolley car. It was in Richmond, Va., on May 4, 1888, that the modern overhead trolley really got its start as a commercial enterprise.

When money talks at an Allied conference, it doesn't need any interpreter.

uary 1, 1922, or such date as the building is ready for occupancy, in accordance with blank form which calls for the furnishing of rent, heat, light, water closets, toilets, safe and vault and all necessary furniture and equipment for the proper conduct of mail office at a stated price per annum.

The needs are given as approximately 2500 square feet of floor space, good daylight and the location of the building must not be too far from the business center and within eighty rods of railroad depots.

Blank proposals and specifications may be obtained from Postmaster Ahlborn, who also has detailed information on the subject. The form of lease can also be seen at Mr. Ahlborn's office.

Bidders are asked to submit diagrams of rooms offered, but this is demanded where a building already constructed is under consideration. Proposals must be sent to Inspector Jarvis at the Federal building in Los Angeles.

COUNTY OFFICIALS GIVEN INCREASED SALARY IN BILL

The legislature favored Orange county's new government bill, in which certain county officials will receive more money. The bill will become law about August 1, but will not effect county officers now in office.

The adjustment brought about is the demand of increased work and responsibilities by reason of the county's growth.

Salaries as provided in the new county government bill for county officers of this county are as follows: Clerk, $3600; sheriff, $2400; recorder, auditor, tax collector, $2900 each; treasurer, $2800; assessor, $3000; district attorney, $3900; superintendent of schools, $2800; supervisor, $1600; coroner and public administrator, $1000; justice of the peace and constable, salaries range according to populations of townships, from $125 a month down to $19; live stock inspector, $300 a year; grand and trial jurors in superior courts, $3 a day; justice and recorder, court jurors for criminal cases $150 a day and for civil cases $2.

The provisions for compensation of supervisors, coroner and public administrator, justice of the peace, constables, live stock inspector and jurors are substantially the same as they were in the county government bill of 1919.

Under the county government bill of 1919 the schedule of salaries fixed for heads of offices was as follows: Clerk, $3600; sheriff, $2400; recorder, auditor, tax collector, $2900; treasurer, $2800; assessor, $3300; district attorney, $3900; superintendent of schools, $2200.

The last grand jury held hearings to which county officers were called. In general, county officers reported that the county government bill now in force does not make adequate provision for meeting the increased work placed upon the officers by the growth of the county.

PRISONERS TURN ON THEIR ACCUSER

Andy Cornett and Charles Woodard were sentenced to sixty days in the county jail yesterday by Justice of the Peace J. B. Cox, when they were convicted of violating the ordinance prohibiting the transportation of liquor for beverage purposes.

The pair immediately demanded that a complaint be sworn out against A. L. Turner, the complaining witness in the case. They claim that Turner robbed them both on the night of the arrest, and that they were fighting him when he called for help. They were told to go to the district attorney.

MOTHER ACCUSED IN CASE OF DROWNING FATHER APPEARS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—Mrs. Mary Chipar, age 28, was held to jail here today while police made further investigation of charges that she threw her ten-month-old baby Enrico into the bay and drowned him.

She was taken into custody late yesterday, after her husband had identified the body of a baby taken from the bay as that of his child and had told of his wife taking the child away the morning before the body was found. Chipar said his wife told him she had "put the baby out to board," but refused to say where.

MISS VALENCIA PICTURE IS STARTED

Work on Picture Will Begin Here Friday Morning At Seven O'clock

BE SHOWN TWO WEEKS

Service Manager Eliason of the Screenogram Service in Anaheim this morning announced that he will be in Anaheim Friday morning at 7 o'clock where he will meet the young ladies at the Herald office to prepare for work on the motion picture, "Miss Valencia," which will be shown all over Southern California, starting at Gramercy's Million Dollar theatre in Los Angeles.

This afternoon Mr. Eliason is going over details with Miss Tressa Strickland of Orange, who won the honor of having the leading part in the picture as a result of a contest conducted by the Anaheim Herald. Orange News and the Los Angeles Express.

Some time tomorrow Mr. Eliason will telephone the Anaheim Herald and give the name of the Herald or Orange News subscriber who won the $100 prize.

The young ladies who will take part in the picture will be required to work all Friday, and perhaps part of Saturday. They will be given costumes and rehearsals under the direction of Mr. Eliason.

BIG SHOW PRIZES TOTAL $2000 IS REPORT AT OFFICE

California Valencia Orange show cash prizes and silver cups, ribbons and other trophies, total something like $2000, the office declared today. Some of the cups have already arrived at the store of B. Hartfield, who has delivered them to the committee at cost.

This morning, Decorators Holbrook and Allen began to decorate the racks for the Orange and other citrus exhibits are in place. Rest room arrangements are being made by Construction Foreman Martin Green, who did the same work for the National Orange show and other big expositions in California. Mr. Allen is beginning to build the large square columns that will form the impressive main entrance and Electrician Ramsey will illuminate the banner strung across Los Angeles street, at the main entrance so that the thousands of autos that will be in the night will see that all these preparations are for, and many of them make note of it.

A prize of $5 will be given to the merchant of Anaheim who will make the best window decoration, beginning next Monday morning, and running it until Wednesday night, when a committee of the orange show will choose which is the best display, judging on the value to the orange show in publicity, and not on the expense of materials used or size of the display. Not more than two posters of the California Valencia Orange show will be allowed in each window. This contest is open to all merchants of Anaheim and each window must be finished for public display by Monday morning, and left without change until the close of the day, Wednesday.

YOUNGEST-OLDEST ANDERSON HOLDS UNIQUE RECORD

The Squier apartment building on Emily and Chertree was completed May 1. This building was started, or rather the carpenter work started on March 1, and Contractor Joseph R. Anderson started it. He finished it May 1, when the first tenant took possession of one of the up-to-date and convenient apartments. This sixteen room house was completed in 60 days and may be said to be Anaheim's youngest building.

Each apartment is composed of a spacious living room, dining room, kitchen, bed room, bath, dressing room and five closets. In the dining room, arrangement has been made for comfortable seating for the popular disappearing bed is installed. The apartments are well lighted by numerous windows, and the fixtures and other conveniences found in modern apartments are found in the Squier building.

Contractor Anderson today notes the distinction which is his in that he constructed, or rather did the carpenter work on Anaheim's youngest building and yesterday started tearing down Anaheim's first building.

Anaheim was settled in 1856 and in 1857, the old winery was built of adobe brick on South Claudias.

In that direction a cloud of dust arose early yesterday morning and loud crashes were heard. It was found not to be a bomb explosion of the Bolshevik form of May day celebration, but merely that man Anderson wrecking the oldest building in town preparatory to erecting an industrial building for A. Schulte.

HERMAN STERN IS THE LOSER OF A FINE AUTOMOBILE

Herman Stern, prominent Anaheim resident and business man, suffered the loss by theft of his specially built Jordan automobile, according to a report at the sheriff's office today.

The car was stolen from Long Beach last night. It is believed that it can easily be recovered owing to its unusual appearance. A large car, it was equipped with disk wheels, and was painted a light tan color.

SYMPHONY TAKES FRIDAY THE 13TH FOR CONCERT DATE

Friday of this week the Orange County Symphony orchestra will make its second appearance in the county at the Anaheim high school auditorium. Tickets can be purchased at the Louis Trier Music Company from any member of the M. E. choral society.

Ella Rhodes, voice teacher and soloist, will appear in four groups of songs accompanied by the orchestra. Mr. Rhodes is a tenor of exceptionally fine voice and it will be worth the price asked to hear him.

Professor Walberg, director of the orchestra, is well known in Southern California for his ability to make a success of musical organizations. He has produced a wonderful orchestral body and deserves credit for their good work.

WEEKLY MEETING COX'S OFFICE IS VERY PRODUCTIVE

Another Wednesday has descended upon Santa Ana and motorists who have the heavy foot disease drifted in to pay their respects to Justice Cox on the weekly speeder's day.

B. L. Rodriguez, Fred Prede, and George Miller all left $10 in the judge's possession, while Dan Marshall and Richard Sweet spent $15 worth.

A John Doe complaint charging the theft of a horse was sworn to yesterday by J. P. Williams, a rancher.

JUDGE LANDIS TO RESIGN IN JUNE

Famed Federal Judge Said To be Making Ready to Give Up The Bench

IS EXPECTED IN JUNE

CHICAGO, May 4.—Kenesaw Mountain Landis will give up his job as judge of the federal courts here in order to devote all of his time to his position as high baseball commissioner. His resignation, according to present indications, will take effect early in June.

It has long been known among Judge Landis' friends that he would give up the bench. Since the attack was made on him in congress because of the fact that he held two positions, the judge has planned to quit the court. He would not quit under fire, however, and would not leave while the impeachment proceedings were pending.

With the resignation of Judge Landis the federal court will lose one of its most picturesque characters. His ready wit, his broad spoken humor, his vigorous, outspoken method of dealing with attorneys, witnesses, court attaches and those on trial before him made him nationally known. The judge's leaving the bench gives up a salary of $7500 a year. His pay as baseball high commissioner is $42,500 a year.

Landis has been setting dates on all cases for decision ahead, not later than June 15. He has started making arrangements to obtain a few moments from his court room. They include his desk, a chair and a few tickets. Judge Landis said today he had not resigned yet.

SUPERVISORS IN SESSION ORDER BRIDGE MADE

The board of supervisors held their regular weekly meeting yesterday. Among the things brought up for discussion was the hiring of a deputy to assist County Aid Commissioner Walter Gregg.

Mr. Gregg was instructed to hire a deputy at the salary of $1800 per year. The deputy's office will be located at 111 East Third street.

County Engineer McBride was instructed to draw up plans and specifications for a bridge for the Santa Ana river to be erected at Third street.

OLD TRICK GETS BY IN SANTA ANA

A catfish in Santa Ana is in the possession of an envelope which is of no value except to serve as a reminder not to trust a stranger with money.

An innocent appearing stranger appeared at the establishment and asked to trade silver money for a $10 bill. He said that he wished to send $10 to his wife in Texas and showed her an envelope with his wife's address written upon it. Upon receiving the bill he sealed it in the envelope. When he counted his silver it was found that he was shy the amount, so leaving an envelope in the cashier's hands he went out to get the deficit.

Up to the time of going to press he has not returned, and it is not believed that he ever will of his own volition. The envelope now in the custody of the cashier has no ten dollar bill therein.

Boy Scouts Meet

(Frank Sackett, Editor)

The Boy Scouts of Troop 1, Anaheim, held last night at the Fremont school, there were 23 boys in attendance.

Plans are being made whereby this troop, with the consent of the school board will have the use of one of the rooms for their permanent headquarters.

The meeting last night was a very enjoyable event. Twelve of the Tenderfoot Scouts were initiated with the aid of electricity and some bare copper wire. Messrs. Heigl, Solis, Hunter and Duckworth were visitors at the meeting. Mr. Heigl is the Orange County Scout executive, and Mr. Solis is the man that has charge of all the Scout editors in the Santa Ana Register, while Mr. Hunter is the Scoutmaster of the local troop.

After this event orangeade and cookies were served by the commissary department.

Troop 1 and Troop 2 of Anaheim will hold a joint meeting tonight at the Fremont school to discuss plans for the coming Orange-show activity.

Another resolution calling for an investigation of the government's treatment of disabled service men was introduced in the senate yesterday by Senator Robinson of Arkansas. It is the second of its kind presented since the amazing disclosures by Senator Walsh of Massachusetts.

The Robinson resolution provides for the appointment of a joint congressional commission of three senators and three representatives to investigate the treatment, hospitalization and compensation of the veterans and the methods employed by the different federal bureaus charged with the administration of the relief activities. It also would have the commission recommend remedial legislation.

In presenting the resolution Senator Robinson said:

"The failure of congress to deal comprehensively and systematically with just and necessary legislation respecting ex-service men is not due to indifference or to opposition to the accomplishment of those purposes. It may be truthfully said that the sentiment in favor of such action is universal in both houses."

COVER CROP SEED GIVEN FREE TO FARMERS APPLYING

Farmers who can make use of a good cover crop are urged to take advantage of an offer made today by County Horticultural Commissioner E. L. Morris.

The commissioner has on hand about 150 pounds of soy bean seeds and 50 pounds of cow pea seeds representing a surplus of these two commodities used in an experiment recently conducted by D. G. Milbrath, government pathologist at Alhambra, and G. W. Wardwell, county superintendent of rodent control.

Orange county farmers are welcome to these seeds while they last and they may be had for the asking.

The soy bean makes an excellent cover crop, according to Morris.

grows in a dense form and is good hog and cow feed.

Milbrath and Wardwell conducted their experiments on the L. T. Wells ranch near Talbert. They were particularly interested in the effect of nematode on the roots of the soy beans and cow peas.

Wardwell says the nematode is a worm that destroys the roots of beans, potatoes, carrots, etc. The young worms feed on the roots and cause galls or knots which impair the growth of the vegetables.

Better results were obtained in experiments with the soy bean. The sow peas were not damaged quite so extensively, according to Wardwell.

There are seven varieties of soy beans and five varieties of cow peas.

DRIVE SUCCESSFUL FOR PRUNE - APRICOT ACREAGE

SAN JOSE, May 4.—The California Prune and Apricot Growers, Inc., won its state wide drive for a 75 per cent sign up of the prune acreage of the state under its plan of reorganization when tabulations today showed that the association had obtained 107,000 acres of prunes, 900 acres more than needed, with reports still being received of additional acreage signed.

It was uncertain whether the apricot growers had signed enough acreage to keep them in the association. The Santa Clara valley growers had signed about 75 per cent of its apricot acreage, with outside districts several thousand acres short of the total needed to carry the state up to that mark.

Under the terms of the new contract signed by the growers during the drive which ended last night, the form of the association is changed from that of a capital stock corporation to a non-capital stock association, bringing it with the spirit as well as the letter of both state and federal laws governing farmers' cooperative marketing organizations.

DAIRYMEN HEARD DISCUSSION ON TUBERCULOSIS

(Farm Bureau Bulletin)

The question of tuberculosis in dairy cattle is a thing of vital interest to every cow owner and every person using milk as a food product.

Dr. J. P. Iverson, state veterinarian, while in the county last week met with a group of local dairymen and gave a very thorough and complete discussion of the status of the disease in this state, the method of control.

In the state of California as a result of the operation of the pure milk law, purely a public health measure, tuberculin testing has been conducted on a larger scale than any other state in the Union.

The intradermic test has been accepted by state authorities and given official recognition. The state law now reads that it is unlawful to offer milk for sale unless it is from a tuberculin free herd or has been pasteurized, the tuberculin test to be made at least every six months.

Dr. Iverson stated that children under 10 years of age were more susceptible to tuberculosis than adults and for this reason alone to protect babies and children the law should be enforced.

There are approximately ninety dairies in Orange county producing milk for human consumption. Seventy-five percent of the milk produced here is pasteurized but at least half of the milk used raw is from cows that have not been tuberculin tested, in some cases, over a year. The people who own one cow and furnish their neighbors with "Boskie's" rich milk afford a big chance of spreading the disease because very few of these family cows are ever tested.

A move is on foot now backed by every progressive dairyman of this county to make Orange county as near tuberculosis free as possible. The state tuberculosis tester will be in this county soon so anybody wishing to have their cow tested should send their application to the local Farm Bureau office, Santa Ana.

BIG TREAT WILL BE GIVEN MEMBERS OF FARM BUREAU

(Farm Bureau Bulletin)

Orange county farmers will be given a treat of their lives on Saturday, May 14, at the county park.

W. M. Belding, president of the Orange County Farm Bureau, announces that the program arranged is of such importance to every farmer in the county that no one who desires his livelihood from the soil should miss it.

Speakers of national and state renown are scheduled to speak.

Dr. W. H. Walker, president of the California Farm Bureau Federation, is the headliner. As a member of the executive committee of the American Farm Bureau Federation, he has been in Washington, D. C., in the interests of California farmers on many legislative issues including tariff. He has just returned from a conference with congressional committee on tariff of special interest to citrus, walnut, dairy and bean growers. Walker will give a very vivid report on the present status of tariff and markets.

R. B. Peters, vice-president of the state federation, will discuss the state marketing exchange which is making big headway in central California.

A. L. Lovelace, organization manager of the state federation, has been urged to remain over for the annual picnic to add to review the accomplishments of the biggest farmers' organization in the world.

Music will be provided by the symphony orchestra of the Fullerton minor high school, under the direction of Prof. Wahlberg.

Farm bureau delegations are planning to come from Ventura, Imperial, Riverside, San Bernardino, San Diego and Los Angeles counties. A regional directors' meeting is called for the afternoon.

Coffee will be served by the farm bureau. Every farmer in the county is urged to come out.

Mr. White is a brother of the White who is a member of the firm of Ellison-White, and has been a director of Chautauquas for seven years. He will remain throughout the Chautauqua.

The first number of the week's entertainment will be given Saturday night by Burrell Ford, electrician, who has a most unique program. The big brown tent will be pitched opposite the Herald office, and the season tickets are on sale at Henderson's Realty office.

Among the high lights of the week might be mentioned Peter Clark Macfarland, Vilhjalms Stefansson, the Kelghley Players in "Nothing But the Truth." Mr. White said today that in all his many years experience as Chautauqua director he has never known a program so universally popular as this one.

Bringing out the point that nineteen out of ten the woman endures and endures the violent impossible things to test her fidelity by a worthless husband, "Forbidden Fruit," showing at the Fairland tonight and tomorrow night is a "vee" like portrayal of the unworthiness of many husbands and the thoroughbred qualities of most women. merrow and Friday nights at the main high school auditorium. The current play, "Mice and Men" is to be presented by the dramatics class. The curtain will rise at 8 o'clock. The story is about Mark Embury, a philosopher, who being very lonely, decides to adopt a young orphan girl, bringing her up according to his ideas and then marry her.

When the inmates of the founding hospital are brought before him he meets Little Britain, whom he recognizes as Peggy, and adopts her. Complications of the plot are brought in by Roger Goodlake and his wife, who loves another name, named George Lovell.

As Peggy grows older she and Lovell are brought together much of the time in Embury's home and they fall in love with each other. Goodlake is a very heartless woman and when she learns of the love existing between Lovell and Peggy she uses every means in her power to separate them.

Lovell, who really doesn't care anything for her, tells her to marry him and her anger. Lovell then returns to Peggy.

Embury, learning of their love, decides to give Peggy up and so he writes a letter to Lovell in which he gives him the home that he had prepared for himself and Peggy. The letter is delivered by Peggy herself, but he does not know the contents. Knowing that she really loves Capt. Lovell but that her duty is to Embury he tries to force herself to marry the philosopher. But when she learns the contents of the letter she is happy.

Thus Peggy and young Lovell are married, and go to live in the home given them by Embury.

The costumes for the entire play are to be rented from Fisher's costume house in Los Angeles and the costumes will be brilliant. There will

BREA NEWS

Foundations have been laid for the new extension to the Beach-Ross Tool Co. machine shop.

The new addition will run crosswise of the two present shops, forming a kind of a "T". This building will be 50x80 feet, thus will double space. As big as the other shops are they are overcrowded already, and are hampered by the cramped condition.

This means another increase in the force and another bunch of families brought to Brea. And this means yet more pressure on the housing situation.

ORANGE NEWS ITEMS

Orange's building activities "came back" strong after three months lagging.

Eased somewhat since the first of the year, the tapping of hammers resounded conspicuously throughout Orange as a result of April's boost in building.

When City Clerk W. A. White closed the building record book allocated to the month of April, building permits totaled $26,925, the highest since December.

There were fifteen permits issued during the month and six of those were for new homes. In addition there were four new garages, built, three additions and repairing and two business houses came in for improvement.

April's total year exceeding the corresponding month of last year by $16,825 and exceeded March of this year by $18,535.

Mrs. C. A. Wood of South Orange street who has been confined to her room for ten days, is improving.

Mrs. J. R. McClure leaves today for the Carbon Canyon mineral springs, where she will remain for two weeks.

Mrs. A. H. Bibber has left to attend the Baptist convention at Corona. She is a member of the nominating committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Evans of the Mission apartments entertained at dinner Mr. and Mrs. Mark McKaher of Huntington Beach Sunday.

Steve Mitchell, who ten days ago suffered a very painful injury when two nails were driven through the forefinger of his left hand, was able to resume his duties as box maker at the Villa Park Lemon house Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Pilsley motored to Nuevo to join a fishing party leaving there for Silver Lake.

Mrs. Ray Van Biber was a Los Angeles visitor Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Linger of South Shafter have purchased property in Santa Ana and soon will move to that city.

Mrs. C. Z. Bates of 322 Palmyra, who has been out for nine months, returned to her home Sunday.

Harvey Hughes of Riverside was a business caller in Orange Monday.

DOROTHY ARNOLD IS BELIEVED TO BE WIFE OF FARMER

MERIDEN, Conn., May 4.—A photograph of Dorothy Arnold taken just before she disappeared eleven years ago was identified Monday by Leon Albert Ingraham, a farmer of Durham, Conn., as that of his wife, Doris, who disappeared more than a week ago after telling her mother-in-law, Mrs. Edward Ingraham, that she was the missing New York heiress.

According to Ingraham, his wife told him two years ago that she was Dorothy Arnold, and showed him letters bearing her father's signature, which she burned. When shown the picture, Ingraham looked at it carefully and said:

"That is my wife, and she was Dorothy Arnold."

Ingraham's father and mother were in the room at the time. The farmer began to cry as soon as he looked at the picture, and his mother cried also. She identified the picture, and her husband, the father of young Ingraham, said it looked like Doris.

"Don't you think the nose and eyes are those of Doris, mother?" said Leon Ingraham.

"Yes, absolutely," said Mrs. Ingraham.

Durham and Meriden, where Mrs. Ingraham has been well known for several years, are greatly excited over the turn of events which taken in the Arnold case. Many persons now recall that they thought all along Mrs. Ingraham bore a decided resemblance to the missing New York girl, and several said they recalled vaguely that two or three times something had been said to her about it, but that she had not seemed willing to discuss it.

Young Ingraham said that he had been trying in every possible way to obtain trace of his wife since she boarded a train for New Haven a week ago yesterday, but he had not been successful. No one in Meriden or Durham has heard from her since she disappeared the day after she informed Mrs. Edward Ingraham that she was Dorothy Arnold, and so far as known here she has not appeared in New York.

Opinions
By The People

Brea, May 3.

Editor Herald:—To know the reason why? Two articles of recent date, one in the Anaheim Herald, the other in a Los Angeles paper, have very much interested me and will come one please tell me the reason our boys are given old clothes while cash by their usefulness to yourself, but which are still good enough for the man who want to war in our stead. The other article refers to the cash in thousands of dollars sent recently to aid famine stricken China. That's very well to feed the starving, but the old saying "charity begins at home" has more true Christianity in it than most any other. Did we send those boys "over there" to risk their lives and for those who came back crippled, foot sore and weary, or even those lucky enough to come back whole of limb to be made beggars? If those boys are in need, and I doubt not many are, I say the best is none too good for them. The one thing worthy of praise in the article is the relief committees of Los Angeles are getting positions for some of the men. That's what those men want, is a job. They should not be treated as paupers. When all our ex-service men are cared for in a manner befitting in time then to feed and clothe your neighbor across the way.

"THE HOUSE OF SERVICE"

Four Important Questions YOU Should Ask Before Selecting Your Auto Painter---

- 1—Whether the painter's experience is such that he can produce good prevailing color schemes, so essential in automobile painting.
- 2—Whether he is sincere and able through years of experience in automobile painting to give full value for money received.
- 3—Whether he recognizes the importance of time, and is he able to fit himself to "rush" conditions and still give the proper results.
- 4—Whether he possesses an inborn artistic feeling which can only be developed by broad, practical experience.

REMEMBER—There are two kinds of paint jobs—one that costs less and lasts only a short time—and the other that costs a little more but is DONE PROPERLY.
