PAYING THE PRICE;
SCALES OF JUSTICE.

A man who is believed to be "in-terested" in more banks in the United States than any other living man was sentenced in Los Angeles yesterday to a term ranging from 10 to 48 years. His record, as far as authorities have been able to learn, extends throughout the country. He has, it is said, secured funds from banks illegally, from Maine to Florida and from Washington to the southern tip of California.

The man has a very pleasing personality and puts up a very clever front. His apparent sincerity and superior intelligence has been the means of opening bank vaults for him. But now he will operate no more. For after he has served from 10 to 48 years in San Quentin, he will be an old man and probably an object of charity for future generations to sustain as a public charge.

Men of brilliant minds and superior qualities in business sometimes take the wrong road to prosperity. This man is an instance. But he put his efforts into legitimate business, he would probably be a man of high standing in some big city with everything to live for. He started off on the wrong foot and now faces a life apart from organized society.

The history and the future prospects of this swindler is merely another instance pointing to the fact that a person may be able to get away with unlawful adventure for a while, but justice will eventually win out. This does not apply to bank swindlers any more than it applies to men who cheat their fellow men in any line of business or social activity.

HOLDING THE BAG; SOUND BUSINESS.

It is quite probable that a great many Americans believed Princess Anastasia of Greece, formerly Mrs. William B. Leeds of Cleveland, Ohio, would open her purse and let gold flow into the hands of her husband, a prince of Greece. It has already been said that the gold of the late William B. Leeds has helped the royal family of Greece, but there is no proof that such is a fact.

Princess Anastasia is now in Paris, where she will undergo an operation of a serious nature. Before going, she made a will which involves the future use of something around $40,000,000. A trust fund for her son is provided, but the price is not mentioned. In the event of the death of young Leeds or his heirs, the whole estate will go to the lying in hospital in New York City.

There may be some who think Princess Anastasia is a misguided American woman because she married a prince. The facts thus far presented in the international marriage, however, show that Mrs. William B. Leeds-Princess Anastasia still has complete use of her mind and is not going to let American dollars pay tide-water with the prince or any of his relatives.

There are those who will probably say that the prince will get his gold while the princess is alive, and we are inclined to think the same way. Nevertheless, there is reason to be proud of the little American woman, once a poor shy girl of Cleveland, Ohio, whose thought of Americans as expressed in her will, shows the true American spirit.

If all war profiteers were properly housed where they belong, there would be no house or apartment shortage in the country today. Someone would long ago have written a poem, "The Building of the Housewag," or something on that order.

"Uppie! Sindlar says the 'capitalist' press suppresses news capitalists do not want published. Guess James Stillman, ex-president of the National City Bank, isn't a capitalist."

Now that strawberries are getting around like cents a box, a dollar looks more like money than it has in two or three years.

LOVE LETTER TO MRS. STILLMAN
SAID TO HAVE BEEN ADMITTED
AS EVIDENCE IN DIVORCE CASE

Attorneys for Stillman Said to Have Had Letters Introduced to Prove Stillman Not Father of Mrs. Stillman's Youngest Child

MRS. STILLMAN ON DEFENSIVE SIDE FIRST TIME

(Copyright 1921 by the United Press)

MONTREAL, Que., May 6.—"Where the devil did they get that?" Fred Beausval exclaimed today when shown a copy of the alleged "dearest, yours" letter, which he is charged with writing to Mrs. James A. Stillman.

Beausval's face turned scarlet with anger as he read the alleged letter and was informed by the United Press correspondent that it had been published in New York as having been heard in the Stillman divorce hearing.

"I never addressed Mrs. Stillman in such terms," the alleged correspondent asserted, after a moment. "Someone has doctor-ed a letter of mine but this writing is not mine. They have made a great love letter write out of me."

NEW YORK, May 6.—Mrs. James A. Stillman, for the first time since her divorce case became public, was fighting on the defensive today.

Still maintaining a brave front, she conferred with her lawyers hurriedly marshalling evidence to offset the sensational attacks launched by attorneys for Stillman May 19 to prepare her counter attack.

Latest developments in the legal fight were:

Testimony of Dr. Hugh Russell, a Buffalo chiropractor, that Mrs. Stillman told him in March, 1918, that Fred Beausval, the French-Canadian guide was the father of her baby, then unborn.

Tentative admission by Referee Daniel J. Gleason of one of the seven letters, Beausval is alleged to have written to Mrs. Stillman. The alleged letter, supposed to have been written ten February 11, 1919, is said to have contained the following statement:

"I hope you get the little parcels with the beaded bandage and two pair of babies moccasins and a pin for baby. I hope yours fits all right. I sent the pairs of moccasins yesterday from Las Beance by registered mail."

"I hope you will have got them by the time you get this letter and let me know what you think of them. I told you, dear, I think that I had written on the skins a few lines; of course, the lining hides it now. If the baby should wear the lining through it would show."

"I can tell you dearest I am going to hurry and get things going right again so I may come to you and baby soon, dear."

"I never knew or understood what it felt like to be a father or mother before, but now I know, I understand it all, and you bet I am coming soon again to take care of my dear love and baby."

"Everything will seem slow until I have you both again darling. I just love to have the baby in my arms just to feel and look after; they are the fruit of heaven and earth, and oh, darling, how cold it is now that I am alone at night."

"Good night, dear heart, and kiss baby good night for me. The first thing you will see me there some morning after baby."

"Tell me how you are planning to stay in the country so I will know where to make straight for. Good night, dear. Oh, how I love you, dearest. I love you both, good night. And I will soon be down. Here's a nice big hug and love for you dear. With much love to you both."

The alleged letter was addressed to "Fred" and addressed to "my dearest honey." It was understood that it will be characterized by the defense as a forgery.

"HOME RUN" KING IS IN BAD WITH HIS BIG BOSS MAN

NEW YORK, May 6.—Babe Ruth, the king of bat is now in the bad graces of Miller Huggins, the sawed-off manager of the Yankees.

The New York club owners deny that the home run king has been threatened with suspension but all the baseball writers know that Huggins is displeased with the way the Bambino is acting.

Huggins wants his boys in early at night and the babe loves the rush of wind against his face as he speeds around under the moon in his high power car.

Huggins claims he can't insist upon some of the lesser lites following the mandate of training if he permits any exceptions.

Ruth is too greatly overweight and while his condition hasn't taken the edge off his batting eye, his work in the field has been anything but that required of a major league gardener.

Managers have various ideas of training rules. McMurran makes the Giants follow the straight and narrow path. Johnny Evers, a pupil of the Frank Chance school, is a strict disciplinarian. Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker, the noted playing managers, have different ideas.

Cobb refused to lay down a set of training rules when he took hold of the Tigers this spring. He said he would leave it up to the boys to keep in condition, according to their own ideas.

Speaker succeeds very well with the "brotherly" line of leadership. He pals and runs around with his players and when he's ready to turn them in turn "in with him. Perhaps Speaker is right. At least none of the Indians was suspended last year.

If you would profit by opportunity, knock you must open the sweat glands as well as the door.

Herman Stern, chairman of the executive committee of the Orange Show, yesterday received a telegram from U. S. Senator Samuel M. Shortridge, reading as follows:

"An pleased to advise you that President Harding has promised to open your first annual California Valencia Orange show May 17. Leading Lady in "Miss Valencia" Here Today Receiving Instructions

"SHOOTING" TOMORROW

Joseph A. Ellison, producer for Screenogram, arrived in Anaheim this morning and started the work of producing "Miss Valencia," the motion picture to exploit the Valencia orange industry and the California Valencia Orange show here May 17 to 22, inclusive.

Miss Tressa Strickland, of Orange, winner of the Anaheim Herald Orange News and Los Angeles Express contest for the star role in this picture, assuming the part of "Miss Valencia," was here and with Miss Marjorie Brown and Margaret Thomas of Anaheim, experienced first instruction in motion picture work.

On account of the rain, preliminary pictures could not be taken today, but tomorrow, weather conditions being favorable, the work will go on. Meanwhile, the young ladies are preparing costumes and studying "make up" so that they will be proficient in that part of motion picture work.

Mr. Ellison has asked the Anaheim Herald to announce that he wants as many girls and children to appear at the Anaheim union high school tomorrow as possible. Those who want to appear in the scene, a part of the picture, "Miss Valencia," are asked to call or notify the editor of the Anaheim Herald. The part to be taken at high school is an allegorical Grecian scene, and Mr. Ellison wants as many girls as possible from all over the country, as he can get to assemble there, notifying the Anaheim Herald of their desire to take part in the scene. Weather permitting the scene will be made at noon tomorrow, Saturday.

Mr. Ellison stated today that he starts today presenting the picture, "An Visit Anaheim," shown at the Fairland Sunday evening, will be shown in the Pacific Electric depot in Los Angeles three times an hour, or 24 times daily throughout the balance of the time before the Valencia Orange show. He is also arranging now to secure co-operation of various business men for presentation of "Miss Valencia," in nearly every store in Southern California, from Pasadena to Los Angeles.

In connection with the scenario, Mr. Ellison said today that he will probably announce the winner Monday. On account of being unable to get a meeting of the judges before Sunday, the name of the winner of the scenario will not be made until Monday of next week. The preliminary work being done on the picture is largely allegorical and the theme presented by the winner of the $100 scenario prize will be interwoven, bringing the Valencia industry through its history to date.

FRENCH PREMIER SAYS ARMIES WILL OCCUPY GERMANY UNLESS TERMS OF TREATY ARE FULFILLED

Ambassador to Berlin Instructed to Notify Germany To Turn Over Thousands of Guns and Cannons as Per Agreement When Treaty was Signed

ALL PENALTIES WILL BE APPLIED FOR FAILURE

France: Mobilizing an army of 500,000 men to invade Germany if any one of her obligations is evaded in any way. Fleet concentrating at Brest. Great Britain: Closing fleet movements in secrecy. Under stood to be ready to take a naval demonstration off Germany's ports, but not to attempt a blockade. Germany: Planning to install a mediocre cabinet to accept the allied ultimatum. United States: Considering invitation from the allies to resume her place on reparations and ambassador's conference and supreme council.

PARIS, May 6.—France today began mobilizing a half million soldiers to invade Germany at the slightest evasion of the allied terms.

"If any of the obligations are evaded in any way we will invade," Premier Briand declared as he went off conference with Premier Millican and the cabinet to complete final arrangements to enforce the allied demands. France already has 132,000 men on the Rhine.

Brand announced last evening that many accept the ultimatum; the others, he said, called to the colors, will not be demobilized until the young men of the 1918 class have been trained to replace it. The 1915 class was to its training camps two weeks ago.

Under present arrangements force of 150,000 men will constitute the start army of invasion. It may take the Ruhr valley it will take 12,000 tanks, several hundred armor cars and twenty motorized batteries. Large cavalry forces and engineering troops are held in readiness at Dijon doff.

The strict accounting to be demanded of Germany was shown in the statement by Premier Briand.

Our ambassador at Berlin has been instructed to notify Germany that she must hand over to us the tanks and thousands of rifles and cannons. Certain forts and hundreds of machine guns have not been delivered to us as yet. Germany also must start demobilizing the 1918 class. If she refuses these things, penalties will be applied.

Germany must pay without delay the money due us under the treaty. It is impossible to hesitate. These are the facts. If she does not pay we enter the Ruhr. If any of the obligations are evaded in any way, whatever we shall occupy German territory. It is not words we want, but money. If not written promises, but action that we will judge Germany now."

CHARITY OF U. S. IS SAVING MILLIONS IN CHINESE FAMINE

SHANGHAI. (By Mail.)—Famine conditions which have threatened 40,000,000 lives in Northern China and have been aggravated by typhoid and other virulent diseases are being combated today in such a systematic manner that it appears likely a major proportion of the population will be saved. The fate of the suffering millions depends on the continued financial support of America and China.

Highway construction on a greater scale than has ever before been known in China has been undertaken in Shantung, Shansi and Chihli provinces, under the direction of the American Red Cross. As a result of this movement millions of starving families have been enabled to win a livelihood, while promoting the future betterment of the stricken districts.

Already there has been completed a great highway from Teh Chow, in Shantung, to Kwan Tao and this road is to be extended eastward to Han Tan, where it will reach the Grand Canal, China's ancient inland waterway. Similar plans are under way for Shanai and Chihli provinces.

Methods employed by the relief workers to obtain the best results for the benefit of the suffering populace have been carefully considered. Workmen are chosen from the families in greatest distress and are paid in grain in quantities sufficient to maintain the strength of the laborers and their families.

Peking Union Medical College dietitians have given their advice as to the amount of food necessary to maintain the sufferers and every precaution has been taken to avoid waste. Transportation of food supplies to the people living from 50 to 100 miles in the interior from the nearest rail connection has proved a severe problem, but is being solved by the use of battalions of wheelbarrow coolies. Hundreds of these coolies with their squeaking barrows are daily trudging along the paths from rail to villages, bearing foodstuffs.

Present indications are that the first harvest will be reaped about June 20. Then the crisis will have been passed unless the elements decree otherwise. In the meantime millions of dollars must be forthcoming to save millions of lives.

FARM BUREAU STAND- ING ON PRINCIPLES

(By Dr. J. R. Schottel) Sec'y Orange County Farm Bureau)

Members of the Farm Bureau, every one of us should be so well acquainted with our organization that we realize that it is our organization and that we are, indeed, a part of it. No one in this great republic has more reason to be proud of himself, his position, or his country, than have the members of the American Farm Bureau.

Born to honest toil and a great purpose, that of feeding the world, they are entitled to honor and respect from the entire nation.

Remember that the sturdy pioneer who conquered the wilderness and founded on the American continent a nation of homes was an agriculturist; our beloved Washington and Lincoln were from the farm as are most of our great leaders of today.

When, in the midst of the greatest calamity that has ever occurred in the history of the world, it became necessary to call on some one industry for aid, the world with one accord appealed to the American farmer.

By an intelligent and combined effort, by a loyal co-operation of all of our people, America put across the seemingly impossible, went over the top, halted the forces of anarchy and gave the wavering lines of western civilization the needed strength and encouragement.

Today it is the American farmer who is feeding starving millions abroad, and building in our own fair land homes of comfort and contentment from which shall come the future leaders of the world.

Long live the American farmers and the American Farm Bureau!

OSHSING, N. Y.—Twins, a boy and a girl, born to Mrs. G. M. Blake, who named Caesar and Caesar after the operation which saved their lives and their mother's.

NEW YORK.—Dominick Gilbert, 22, charged with grand larceny, walked right out of the Tombs prison to freedom by donning a tin imitation of a detective's badge.

Cain also thought his punishment more than he could bear; but he didn't have the gall to make a counter proposal.

PRINTER'S USED

TO BE BOOZERS MANY YEARS AGO

In a recent letter to The Breckers' Gazette, F. M. Woods, of Lancaster county, Nebraska, told how a Nebraska printer got an auction sale and an account of a wedding mixed together. The resulting article, wrote Mr. Woods, read like this:

"Married at the home of the bride's township one mile north and two miles east of Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, highly respected residents of Thursday, Jan. 27, Miss Ethel Drinkwater by the Rev. 18 head of Shorthorn consisting of four bridesmaids dressed in pale blue and carrying calves by their sides. They had tulle veils, aired by the noted Kentucky Jack Bombina 21. Also forty-six head of hogs, including the groom's father from No. Dakota, where he is engaged in missionary work, and is immuned by the double process. These shots are thrifty, and all relatives of the bride and groom. They all gathered in the spacious dining-room after the ceremony, and partook of 300 bushels of seed oats, 1000 bushels of corn, 10 large stacks of millet and alfalfa. The bride is the youngest daughter of one trusty incubator, capacity 600 eggs, one Mrs. Deere five-room cottage and a trip to Omaha, after which they drew 10 per cent interest from date. Free lunch at noon."

P. E. O. LADIES

HONORED WITH DINNER

Husbands of the P. E. O. ladies entertained with a delicious chicken dinner last night at the high school cafeteria. The table was artistically arranged with a yellow color scheme of the club carried out in delicate flowers. The dinner was prepared by the ladies of the Episcopal church, who received congratulations.

Mr. C. C. Smith, co-master of the evening, called on the men to give some evocation whether humorous or otherwise to the ladies for their splendid work during the past year, and Mrs. J. S. Ward responded with a little talk on sincere thoughts of their co-workers. Mrs. Edmiston also spoke in appreciation of the talks given by the men. Much fun was enjoyed over the demitasse which was followed by the arrival of the company at the play of "Mice and Men" in the auditorium by the dramatics class of the school.

Place cards of dainty yellow designs were placed for Mr. and Mrs. J.

MISS DEGRYSE

HONORED GUEST

Miss Frances Schumacher was the charming hostess last night of the were getting about sewing as usual when Miss Schumacher exclaimed,

 "some shower tonight, girls," and handkerchiefs of pretty colors and dainty white materials were showered down on Miss Evelyn Degryse in honor of her birthday anniversary. Miss Evelyn was indeed surprised and it took several minutes for her to realize what it was all about.

A dainty luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Frank Gates to Misses Viola Elliott, Hazel Withee, Vera O'Rourke, Valle Pember, Sylvia May Dumas, Messenger Stafford Shims, Ruth Ward,

SUMMER SESSION OF UNIVERSITY IS BEING PLANNED

Romance languages will occupy a prominent place in the curriculum of the University of California summer session in Los Angeles to be held June 29-July 30, according to a statement just received from Dean Baldwin M. Woods. In addition to the elementary, advanced, and conversation classes in French and Spanish, courses will be offered in the literature and life of the French and Spanish nations.

Albert Leon Guérard, Agrégé de Littérature de France, and Professor of French, Rice Institute, Houston, Texas, will deliver a series of lectures in English entitled "The Past Generation in France," in which he will begin with the revolt against naturalism in 1890 and end with the outbreak of the great war in 1914. A knowledge of French is not required for this course.

"The Social Background of French Literature in the Nineteenth Century," a series of lectures in French, is to be delivered also by Professor Guérard. The course will involve a study of the political, religious and economic factors which have influenced French literature.

Twentieth century literature, and a course for teachers, are Spanish courses to be offered by Pedro Henriquez-Urena, Ph. D., assistant professor of romance languages, University of Minnesota. There will be also a course in Spanish life and customs, consisting of lectures in Spanish, with readings and reports to familiarize the students with the actual life of the Spanish peninsula and the countries of Spanish America.

Bulletins containing complete descriptions of the courses offered may be obtained at the office of the summer session, 331 Pacific-Financial building.

GOATS ARE IMMUNE FROM TUBERCULOSIS SAYS BUREAU CHIEF

(Farm Bureau Bulletin)

Dr. P. M. Ely, head veterinarian at the University Farm at Davis, furnishes the report of goats slaughtered in the United States during the years 1918 and 1919, by the department at Washington, which gives one tubercular goat in 1918 in 150,000 and one in 155,000 in 1919. The French government, through its medical societies, has devoted much study to the milk goat, not only in France, but the scientific research extended to goats in all parts of the world and in 1918 the decision was reached that the goat through its peculiar resistance was absolutely immune from tuberculosis. Holmes Pegler, the greatest living English authority on milk goats, says that all eminent European authorities have come to this same conclusion that goats are practically immune from tuberculosis. "Who will not experience a sense of relief on hearing that goat's milk is practically free from this danger? Because the dairy industry is new in this country, because many of the breeders and owners of milk goats have become interested in them through ill health, they have studied the subject of milk goats and their problems very carefully. And it is the testimony of all the breeders that they have never had a case of tuberculosis.

Even in confinement as some of the large herds are kept in Switzerland, it seems to be part of the goat's phresiological make up which keeps it free from this dread disease! It is a known fact the country with more milk goats has the lowest death rate, especially in children and a less percentage of tuberculosis. Is it not the milk goat of Switzerland rather than the laws of men who are responsible for the low death rate from these white plague in that country? In the Balkan states there is little or no health regulation, yet we find the next lowest percentage of T. B. and a generous use of goat's milk and goat cheese.

Milk is our first and our most perfect food, the milk of the goat is not only free from the danger of tuberculosis, but it is more like mother's milk than any other milk obtainable in commercial quantities and it is digested in half the time in which cow's milk digests, and quite contrary to the popular belief has a very pleasing taste. The goat will probably never take the place of the cow, but its milk will more and more take its place as the most perfect food for the growing child, and a boon for the delicate stomach.

$1000 SLIPPER IS IN ANAHEIM TODAY WANT CINDERELLA

Mrs. Lannie Haynes Martin and the Los Angeles Examiner's $1,000 slipper of gold is in Anaheim today, and the slipper is being displayed at the S. Q. R. store. Mrs. Martin is receiving contestants at the Valencia hotel.

O. W. Renner of the S. Q. R. store announced this afternoon that the S. Q. R. store will give a pair of slippers to the Anaheim girl or woman who registers the most nearly perfect foot with Mrs. Martin or who sends the measurement of her foot to the Los Angeles Examiner before the contest closes.

The best pair of slippers in the S. Q. R. store awaits the Anaheim woman or girl whose foot is more nearly perfect than anyone's else in this city.

The slipper being displayed has caused considerable interest all over Southern California, where Mrs. Martin has visited. The contest will close some time next week. The Examiner has been looking for the most perfect foot in Southern California for "Cinderella's Coronation" ball to be held at the Cinderella Hall at the close of the contest.

Bert Lytle, motion picture star, is ahead in the contest for the role of Prince Charming. G. T. Prince of the Examiner is here with Mrs. Martin today carrying on the work of accepting the $1,000 slipper and hunting for Cinderella.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnson and son Frank visited at the C. S. Holt home Sunday.

PLACENTIA ITEMS

At the meeting of the Orange county W. C. T. U. held at Anaheim Mrs. Mable Tuffree of Placentia was elected second vice-president of the organization for the coming year. Several from here were in attendance at the different sessions of the convention and all report a splendid and helpful time while there.

Mr. Howard Lucy was host Wednesday afternoon to a number of friends who played five hundred. Mrs. Arthur Anderson made high score and Mrs. John Wagner second and Mrs. Frank Anderson received the consolation.

Luncheon was served during the social hour to Mesdames Jack Solis, Harry Bean, Arthur Anderson, Dave Lamke, Frank Trendle, George Johnson, Raymond Johnson, Bruce, John Wagner, Lee Meyers, Arthur Edwards, Frank Anderson, W. E. Robertson, McFarland, Misses Lucy Almes, Anna Johnson.

John E. Scott and Henry Tuffree went fishing in the region of Big Bear over Sunday and Monday. Mr. Tuffree took two horses on Friday and went as far as Redlands where he was met on Saturday by Mr. Scott who went in his machine. They then went on horse back from there to their destination, and will bet Scott will do his work standing up the rest of this week. They had a dandy time anyway.

Mrs. John Tuffree entertained the Daughters of Veterans and the members of the U. A. R. at her home on Carolina avenue. No set program was had but just a general good social time was enjoyed by those present, and the hostess served delicious and dainty refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tuffree had as their guests for Sunday and Monday of this week Mrs. Tuffree's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Koppin of Sunset Beach.

It is yet too early to announce whether Uncle Sam will enter or inter the League.
