HATS OFF TO BORAH; DISARMAMENT PARLEY.

Senator Borah has succeeded in winning his fight to compel the senate to ask President Harding to call a conference on disarmament with Great Britain and Japan. In the face of violent opposition from the steel and munition trust, Senator Borah has succeeded in reminding his colleagues of that old phrase so many thousands of times written by practicing typists, i. e., "now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party."

Great Britain is happy to confer with Uncle Sam on disarmament, and Japan is willing, but wanted Great Britain or the United States to take the lead. Uncle Sam has taken the lead, and we may now expect a step toward disarmament, although it will be no easy task to overthrow the giant steel and munitions trusts.

The republican senate is on the right track in the matter of disarmament and the body will do well (to safeguard its chances at the next presidential election) to put the program through at an early date. The United States is "fed up" on war and politics.

WOMEN WORKERS; CHURCH FOUNDATION.

There may be good reason why certain church organizations will not allow women in their councils, but after due deliberation covering a number of years, we fail to see why a group of men who set themselves up as disciples of Christ will not allow women, the very foundation of all churches, to sit on their executive or governing boards.

The Anaheim Herald will be delighted to know why women are not good enough or brilliant enough or loyal enough to decide with men, the destinies and the activities of church organizations. It will be interesting to know what the churches would do without women members, women workers and women teachers, should they decline to serve longer without representation on the church boards. Women of the United States have displayed far greater ability in progressive education than have men. Behind every great moral movement, and behind every law enacted for the moral and physical welfare of children, some woman (or a group of women) has been standing and pointing the way to men.

The children of today are going to be the men and women of tomorrow and the women of today are responsible for every progressive action taken to conserve the children who will some day rule the land.

The decision of a great church organization in general assembly at this time refusing women membership on its council or executive board is a backward step. The clergyman might better have taken no action than to decline membership to women.

PHYSICAL TEST; A GOOD LAW.

In Wyoming it is now necessary to secure a physician's certificate as to physical soundness before marriage license is issued. Many will laugh at the law and probably use the old thread-bare question, "how have we gotten along so many years without such a law?" Others will ask what the man will do who is refused a marriage license.

It is true, Wyoming and all the states have gotten along without such a law for over a hundred years, but the horrifying knowledge the examinations for service of the young men in the world war disclosed the fact that a very large per cent of our young men were physically unfit for war service.

The other question as to what men will do who have been denied marriage license is easily answered. If they are worthy of the woman they seek as a life mate, they will recover good health and probably give their moral a bath.

It is a strange thing that in this country we are most particular about pure bred cattle and indifferent sometimes as to the breed and breeding of the man who marries our daughters. Too much care cannot be taken in selecting the fathers of children of the future generations. Wyoming sees the light first.

EDITORS HERE TO VIEW BIG ORANGE SHOW

The first bit of sunshine in Anaheim for several days struck the Mother Colony about noon today when about a hundred editors of Southern California newspapers arrived for a luncheon as the guests of the management of the California Valencia Orange show at the Oyster Loaf cafe.

Practically every newspaper in this immediate section of Southern California outside of Los Angeles was represented. Directly following the luncheon, several short talks were made by members of the orange show committee and members of the Southern California Editorial association. President Herman Stern introduced Charles C. Chapman, honorary president of the show, who delivered an address of welcome to the visitors and response was made by John E. King, president of the Southern California Editorial association. Mrs. Penny of Long Beach, J. M. Mathews, Covina, N. L. Chapin, California Farmer, and a few remarks in which they paid tribute to Anaheim's enterprise in undertaking an event of such magnitude as the Valencia Orange show.

Manager Fraser of the orange show made a happy talk and thanked the visiting editors for honoring the show with their presence and informed them of the decision to keep the show open until Wednesday night. FORCEFUL LECTURE AT AUDITORIUM LAST NIGHT

What proved to be a most interesting and forceful lecture was delivered at last night by Rev. W. E. Schutte when he answered the question "Is Infidelity Sensible?"

Declaring with the author of Leslie's Weekly that a man without a religion is no man at all, Mr. Schutte contended that an infidel does not use as much sense as the birds of the air which follow the instinct God has given them.

The infidel turns his back on his best friend, tramples the Bible under foot and is without hope. Citing the case of the famous thinker Voltaire, he told how this man pronounced his physician one-half of him possessed if he would prolong his life six months but when told that he could not live six weeks, cried out: "Then I will go to hell and take you with me." This was all the hope Voltaire had.

Mr. Schutte said that he had noted orators of the Lutheran church and has just completed a lecture tour of the Pacific coast. He will preach at both services of the Grace Lutheran church Sunday.

PRESENTATION SECRETARY METZGAR

Anaheim, Fullerton Members
Associated C. of C.
Abhor Attitude

MEETING WEDNESDAY

Considerable indignation is expressed in Fullerton, Anaheim and in other points of the county today over the third paragraph in a letter sent to various members of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county by J. C. Metzgar, secretary-treasurer of the organization, calling attention to the May meeting of the association.

It has been very apparent to many, since criticism were made against the county road system, that the secretary of the Associated Chambers of Commerce has displayed resentment at the special committee report closing the road system and the method of accounting in the county auditor's office and in the engineering office. In the letter above referred to, Secretary Metzgar made a gross misstatement. The paragraph referred to says:

"The Special Referee Committee appointed by President Jahraus on the Anaheim Chamber charges vs. McBride, Jerome et al, will hand in a report of their findings."

It Metzgar knows anything about the proceedings, he knows that the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce is not the power behind the charges, but that the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the county is that power. Mr. Metzgar knows, if he knows anything about the meeting here on February 27th, that the Associated Chambers of Commerce appointed a special committee of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce to investigate the road system of Orange county.

There has apparently been an attempt to ridicule and belittle the efforts of the special committee of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce in investigating the road work in the county, by the Santa Ana Register and other papers. The paragraph referred to says:

Various stories have been circulated the past two months regarding the road system of the county, leading to the investigation of the system by the Associated Chambers of Commerce. It has been said that there is a personal feeling against County Engineer McBride and that an attempt is being made to put such superior charge of the road work in his district, instead of the board as a whole directing the work.

BANDIT'S USED BIG TRUCKS TO CARRY OFF-TRAIN'S CARGO

NORTH TONAWANDA, N. Y., May 21.—Bandits today stopped a westbound fast freight on the New York Central railroad on the Southern branch near here, held the fireman and engineer at bay with revolvers, robbed cars of merchandise valued at $50,000, and escaped. About 25 bandits took part in the holdup and six motor trucks were used to haul away the loot.

ASSOCIATION WINS AGAIN IN SUIT OF L. C. YEOMAN

L. C. Yeoman of Glendale, formerly of Anaheim, who was charged to have sold his orange crop of 558 boxes outside of the association, was denied a trial in the supreme court yesterday.

The case was brought against him some time ago and a verdict of 50 cents a box was set by the Anaheim Citrus and Fruit Association for oranges sold after signing up with the association.

The case was decided in favor of the association in the superior and appellate courts. Mr. Yeoman then appealed to the supreme court. The following letter was received by the association from their attorneys this morning:

"We finally have just received a card from the clerk's office of supreme court notifying us that the appeal of L. C. Yeoman to have his case reheard in the supreme court has been denied."

LETTA PARSONS TAKEN HOME BY HER HUSBAND

FARMINGTON, Mo., May 21.—Letta Parsons, 32-year-old bride, accused of killing her six-year-old stepchild, Lilly, returned to her humble home in the Ozark from Mountains today.

Her woodchopper husband took her home after she was paroled by the State House court presided over by her in custody of her attorney, F. Burke, on condition that she would report at the state penitentiary on charge of manslaughter in the fourth degree opens. A murder charge was dismissed.

led to the report of a special committee appointed by the Associated Chambers of Commerce. This special committee was named from the body of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce and for that reason, those who favor the present system, attack the Anaheim Chamber, utterly disregarding the Associated Chambers of Commerce, which organization favored the investigation and will pay, pro rata, for the cost of auditors employed by the social committee.

The May meeting of the Associated Chambers will be held in Orange next Wednesday night at the Episcopal church parish house, a dinner at 7 o'clock preceding the session.

POPULAR DEMAND PROMPTS HEADS OF VALENCIA SHOW TO CARRY ON EXPOSITION IN MIDDLE NEXT WEEK

President Harding's Brother and Sister Will be Special Guests at Legion Day Tomorrow Afternoon.
Beginning at 2 O'clock

DR. HARDING WILL TALK TO MEN OF LEGION

It was decided by the executive committee of the California Valencia Orange Show this morning that the show be continued to next Wednesday, including Wednesday night.

This action was taken after practically all of the exhibitors and concession holders and all in any way associated with the show urged the directors to continue the exposition because of the rainy weather the past two days and the likelihood of it raining Sunday.

The show will, therefore, continue as it is for three days next week, the same entertainers, with additional talent, having been engaged for the three extra days.

The news that the show would be continued for several days next week has been telegraphed and tabulated all over Southern California, to newspapers and others who have been delighted and who desired to see the great show being so highly praised all over the country.

Dr. Harding, Mayor George Tryon Harding, youngest brother of President Warren G. Harding, will be a guest of the show directors with his sister, Mrs. E. E. Remick of Santa Ana. Chairman Herman Stern of the executive committee will go to Santa Ana for the honor given him a week tomorrow afternoon and it is expected the president's relatives will arrive at 2 o'clock and remain through the afternoon.

MINISTER NOT ON TRIAL FOR MARRIAGES

Parson Who Married Scores
Of Elopers Up For Trial
Before Church Board

THOUSAND IN YEAR

WINONA LAKE, Ind., May 21.—Maryland's "marring parson" went on trial here today.

In the case of Rev. J. L. McElmoye, accused of running a "prema group" in his little parsonage at Elkhart, Ind., was argued before the judicial commission, the supreme court of the Presbyterian church.

Several years ago the Reverend McElmoye was charged with indiscreetly marrying elopers who lodged over the state line from Pennsylvania and Delaware.

In the case which was reviewed before James P. Goodrich, Indiana's former governor, who presided over the high tribunal today, it was charged that the minister married thousands of couples in the little town. One count against him states that as many as one thousand couples were united in one year.

The licensing today brought out the allegation that Reverend McElmoye gave the minister of another Elkhart church more than a race for "green" money to see who could marry the most couples and that the minister was in the lead when the Presbytery of New Castle, the lowest court, stopped the alleged marriage.

The case was dragged through the church courts and Presbyterian authorities suggested that the pastor resign.

Decision by the judicial commission will be on whether or not the lower courts had power to make such a "suggestion." The findings of the court will be made public to the general assembly next Wednesday.

FORD STILL FIGHTS SEATING MAN WHO DEFEATED HIM

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Democratic leaders determined to keep the Ford-Newberry case alive today planned a fight to prevent the senate from passing a resolution to take the matter from being abandoned.

George White, chairman of the democratic national committee, is urging Senator Pomeroy, Ohio, ranking democrat on the committee, to keep the investigation going.

Ford wants the committee to go on. He still maintains that Newberry's seat was "bought" through use of large sums of money. He has telegraphed the committee.

WEATHER FORECAST
Unsettled weather with probable continued showers tonight and Sunday.

BABY WELFARE IS GREAT SUCCESS AT BIG SHOW

The registration of the babies at the Welfare tent goes on in spite of the rain. Mothers today took the opportunity to have their baby registered before the closing. The registration complete for the five days is far above the expectation of the committee. It goes to show that the mothers of this community are interested in the welfare of their children.

The committee in charge of the baby welfare program has been diligent and in their work. They have done everything that is possible for the comfort of the babies and their mothers while they visited the tent. The displays from day to day have also been of great interest to everyone attending. They have shown how the properly cared for babies thrive.

Prize awards are being announced this afternoon.

FOUR-TENTHS INCH OF RAIN IN STORM

Only four-tenths of an inch of rain fell in Anaheim from 8 o'clock Friday morning until the same hour this morning, according to the record of the rain gauge at the Anaheim Sugar Company's factory. There are those who probably think there was too much rain during the past few days, especially those who wanted to attend the Orange show and Baby Welfare program.

The total rainfall since Thursday, when the present storm arrived in forty-three hours, has been less than half an inch. The total rainfall for the season, according to the records at the office of the Anaheim Sugar Company is 12.95 inches.

Judge J. B. Cox of Santa Ana has been in office less than a year. He performs on an average two marriage ceremonies a day. There are 285 days in the year. Eliminating Sundays and holidays there are about 300. Two times 300 is 600. And 10 times 500 is 5,000. He figures that he has married about 300 couples since the first of the year and counting the days when Jan Cupid was especially busy he is not far from the mark when he says "approximately 6,000" during his term in office.

TENOR AT SHOW IS SINGER OF ABILITY

It is the rare privilege of all in Southern California to hear the young Spanish tenor singer, Don Jose Sanchez, as he appears on the program at the Valencia Orange Show each afternoon and evening.

He was for two years pupil, companion and favorite of the celebrated artist, the late Constantino. The going-away of Constantino on his grand opera tour of Mexico, and his death was a great shock to the young pupil, and soon after that the young life was twice again over-shadowed by grief in the death of his father, and then the death of his younger sister who constantly played his accompaniment.

In the dark hours of shattered hopes, grief and discouragement he present teacher, Mrs. Carl Seaman of Yorba Linda, also a pupil of Constantino, and together they are carrying forward the great work which again took up his studies with his Constantino had so ably laid down.

Senior Sanchez has a most beautiful concert tenor voice and aspires to the highest standard in his art. He sings a variety of music at the Orange Show, but his great ability is better shown in the classical and operatic songs. All who really hear the wonderfully sweet round tones and catch his dignified individual personality, at once recognize in him a second Constantino.

Opinions

By The People.

Editor Herald:—As the only thing they did not seem to have thought of, having for our most wonderful Valencia orange show, was a song or words for a song. I thought I would send in these lines to try and add a few drops to the bucket so empty running over. Being a Valencia orange rancher myself, makes me more than interested in this beautiful orange show of ours.

Yours respectfully
HAZLIE E. WILCOX,
Burton avenue, Anaheim.

Anaheim Valencia Show Song (set to music of old song "Edelweiss")
Oh people, dear, and did you hear
The talk that's going 'round?
How down in Orange county
A perfect place they've found?
This world, it is a grand old world,
As you and I have felt,
But it made it quite complete,
This Orange Belt.

Chorus
Valencia, I'd like to "plinch" you;
Valencia, I love you so.
You be my Golden Telesman—
I'll teach you how to grow.
I've something sweet to tell you,
And this much you must know,
Oh, Valencia—such—such I've made up my mind to "chinch"
you;
Valencia, I love you so.
Then listen here, I'll make it clear,
In this most perfect clime,
There's a blooming little city,
And they call it "Anaheim."
They are coming from the eastward,
And from out the middle west,
For they keep a nearing Anaheim—
"Anaheim is best."

Chorus
So please come to our Valencia show
In Orange county fair,
Where piles of Golden Beauties bright
Are spread out everywhere,
But whether being oranges,
This much we still protest,
Oh, Sweetheart, young or old,
"Sunkist" is best!

LEAGUE OF NATIONS HAS 100 TREATIES

GENEVA.—(By Mail to United Press).—That open diplomacy has made some progress since the war—despite all setbacks—was shown today when the league of nations announced a total of 100 international treaties had now been duly registered with it, since Versailles.

The last bundle to arrive included the Russo-British trade agreement, recently signed at London.

Of the 100 mentioned above, England has registered 23. The Ambassadors' Council, acting for the allied powers, has sent in 12, while Germany and France have each recorded 12.

Wallace Reid and Agnes Ayres "The Love Special" A Paramount Picture

Wallace Reid is widely known as the athletic star. This is perhaps because of the many outdoor pictures in which he has appeared, and where in he has shown in many striking and realistic scenes, his athletic prowess. He has been seen in many thrilling fistic encounters, he has raced madly around the great automobile courses in which Mr. Reid starred and which proved one of his most popular pictures. In the new production, the star plays the role of a railroad construction engineer and the majority of the scenes are exteriors, filmed on mountain locations. With each new picture, a powerful railroad story, at Mr. Reid's popularity grows.

The Leading Music Store in Orange County extends to you a most cordial invitation to use its many conveniences while in the city.

STARTING & LIGHTING Storage Battery

Has Your Battery Anything "On the Bench"?

THERE was once a Baseball Manager whose two star pitchers looked invincible before the game. But there came the laborer. And the Manager surveyed the Bench in dismay.

There are motorists who start out with a battery of no reserve power. And they run the battery down quite unconsciously. They are shocked one day to discover that everything has been "knocked out of the box" just when they need a start most.

The Prest-O-Lite Battery uses less than one-fourth of its power-reserve for a single start—and the generator quickly replaces that.

BANKERS SAID TO HAVE STARTED WAR PROPAGANDA EARLY

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Investigation of a special house committee of charges that propaganda was circulated to get the United States into the World War is proposed in a resolution introduced today by Representative Michaelson. The resolution was referred to a committee.

Mr. Michaelson asked specifically for inquiry into the reference made on the floor of the house in February, 1917, by former Representative Callaway, to the alleged unethical activities of J. P. Morgan and Company before the United States entered the war.

Mr. Michaelson charges that J. P. Morgan, former French Foreign Minister, said France was ready to make peace late in 1914, but was dissuaded by the late Robert Bacon, a representative of the Morgan interests, and Myron T. Herrick, and William G. Sharp, former Ambassadors to France, who, according to Mr. Michaelson's interpretation of M. Hanotaux's charges, agreed to originate propaganda designed to put the United States on the side of the allies.

G. B. DANIELS LOOKING FOR MAN; BOUGHT A TIRE

G. B. Daniels is a kind hearted man and also an unassuming man. This same G. B. Daniels sells automobile tires at 211 North Los Angeles street and sells lots of them. Sometimes he doesn't get paid for the tires, but he sells them just the same.

Late last Saturday night, a man called at Mr. Daniels' place of business and bought a tire. He gave Mr. Daniels a check for $16.75 on a La Habra bank and signed the name of James Burton to the check. Mr. Daniels, however, the latter said he would like to see Mr. James Burton for a few minutes. If this by chance is read by Mr. James Burton, he will be pleased to see Mr. Daniels. As stated before, Mr. Daniels wants to see Mr. James Burton.

It is suggested that perhaps Mr. James Burton wrote the check on the wrong bank, but Mr. Daniels wants to see him anyway.

WHAT THE OLD RABBIT THOUGHT OF HERONS

By JOHN BARTON
(Copyright, 1921, by The Associated Newspapers)

In all the years he'd lived at the Big Marsh the kind old rabbit had never been in such a pickle. Here were two of his worst enemies in his hollow log, a skunk and a cat, though they were Thunderpaws and Maltie Kitten, which made a great deal of difference. Here were the herons, who'd never troubled him, ranging round outside like pirate hawks, ready to pounce their terrible beaks into his or any other furry thing that stirred a whisker. Yet instead of being scared or cross he found himself chuckling. He could see how funny it was—just because he was a wise old beast who could stand a joke on himself so long as he wasn't going to be eaten. "Why Maltie Kitten," said he, "things haven't been carried up like this since the Big Flood." (He didn't mean the Noah's Ark flood, but one day had in the Marsh after he was born, which was very much like it.)

"I'm awfully sorry," mewed Maltie, trying to sound the way. "But I just have to peek into nests to see if they have any crow's eggs in them. Bobby Robin is a fountain of mugs, and the crows stole Bobby Robin's eggs."

The old rabbit couldn't believe his ears for the second time. "What's that?" he exclaimed. "How do you fellows hunt, anyway?"

"The same as anybody else," answered Thunderpaws. "Only we don't hunt our friends, and we do hunt our enemies. We're just one big family."

down by Dr. Muskrat's Pond. Then he went on to explain about the compact to keep the peace of the Pond, and about Tommy Peele and Lonnie Thompson, and a cat and a dog, who helped them keep it.

"It must be wonderful," sighed old Grandfather Long-ears. He couldn't quite believe it all, but here he was with the queerest family that ever crept into his hole—want't he just glad he's been nice to Nibble Rabbit? There came a day when he was glad yet. And they were, too.

"But those 'normous heron birds,' persisted Maltie Kitten. "they're none of our hunting. It wouldn't have hurt their nest just to let me look in. Can't you explain to them? Or maybe if I stopped out and showed them what a little thing they're making all this fuss over they'd feel foolish." He wanted to be going along.

"Explain to a heron?" demanded the old rabbit. "Not touch! They always feel foolish, and they like to make a fuss. Let them rave till they get hungry enough, and they'll forget all about us. Then I'll show you a trick on them."

"Foolish," sniffed the skunk. "I believe you. That's just how they look. Look at 'em, Maltie. Just look at 'em!"

EX-KAISER'S BLADE OF GRASS EPISODE IS NOW RELATED

BERLIN.—(By Mail to United Press).—There is a little story concerning the Kaiser, tapestry, court architects and blades of grass. It came about during the reign of Wilhelm II that the monarch wanted his castle in Koelnwusterhausen newly outfitted. He took a fastidious personal interest in the decorations and furnishings. Finally all was well, except the tapestry of his work room. Wilhelm called in the court architect to decide the exact shade of the tapestry; green, it must be, he had decided, but just what sort of a green he did not know. The court architect waited upon his Majesty, but his Majesty was attending a Kiel review.

The following day, they were surprised to get from him a package. Layers of paper and cotton; and more layers! Then finally a blade of grass. His Majesty commanded that the tapestry be the color of this blade, plucked in Kiel. But, the green had faded from the blade in its warm packing.

"So the architects secretly journeyed to Kiel to study the green of the grass. When the Kaiser finally returned, he was pleased at the exactitude wherewith his orders had been followed."

One reason why our forefathers were able men was because they had to depend on their own abilities instead of a press agent.

HEALTH FOR WORKING GIRLS

Those Who Suffer and Are Unable to Work Need Helpful Suggestions

Springfield, Ill.—"I had periodic trouble with weakness, cramps and backache and I could not get on my feet. I had been recommended your medicine and took four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now strong and well, able to work. I recommend your medicine to my friends."—ANNA Tedrick, superintendent.

Why will girls continue to suffer month in and month out as Miss Rinkus did when case after case is related where Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has removed the cause of the trouble and brought good health. For more than forty years this old fashioned root and herb medicine has been a standard remedy for such ailments, and has the record of having restored more suffering women to health than any other medicine.

If there is any complication about your condition you do not understand to depend on your own medicine. Co. Lynn, Massachusetts, in regard to your health.
