KILL BITTERNESS;
JINGO THINKERS

It is surprising to note that men in more or less exalted positions in America allow bitterness to make sound reasoning collapse. Arthur Brisbane, Hearst's $50,000 a year editorial writer, in commenting on President Harding's address yesterday, in which the President said "it must not be again," referring of course to war, urged preparedness. He declares that the way to prevent war is to get ready for war. In other words, if a drunkard would reform, the best method for him to pursue is to put a barrel of whiskey in the cellar and be tempted an hundred times a day. We say that is not the way to prevent the drunkard; nor will a great navy and army prevent war. The man who never goes armed never shoots anyone. The man who "totes" a gun some time finds occasion to use it and it nearly always piles up grief for him.

Great Britain, Japan and the United States will abandon their navy building programs, involving it is estimated some six billions of dollars (that means six thousand million dollars) and put that money into activities of peace. There will be no more wars. Six thousand millions of dollars for the good of the peoples who pay the taxes will bring more peace, plenty and happiness to the peoples than all the battleships and war machinery ever made.

Does anyone think for instance, that the people of China would ever bear arms against the United States in the face of the work our people have done and are doing to save their starving masses? Does anyone think Belgium or France or the people of the United States would bear arms against the people of the United States when they were in need?

Six thousand millions of dollars in food and raiment for the destitute of the world would make this a pretty contented world. That same amount spent to make people live rather than die would bring great things to the world.

The Hearst papers are notoriously bitter toward Great Britain and they would undoubtedly be notoriously bitter toward any other nation that would find it necessary, as Great Britain did at one time, to force the world's news service out of the country.

The people should do their own thinking and begin at once. Senator Borah has started the ball rolling and if the people will support him in Great Britain, it will be long before the people of the world will awaken and demand that no more "six thousand millions" be spent to make machines to kill people.

You, who read this can aid in the work by writing to President Harding, urging him to use his great power to encourage all nations to disarm. It has never been recorded in history that one man can shoot another unless he has a gun.

JOHNSON SPEAKS;
ENEMIES CRINGE

It has been rumored for some time, especially since last July that Senator Hiram W. Johnson would retire at the end of his present term in the United States senate, or perhaps before, to engage in the practice of law in the east. His political enemies have probably been praying on one knee and then on the other, and perhaps on both, that such would be the case. If he lives, Senator Johnson will become a candidate next year to succeed himself in the United States senate. Any Californian who has had hopes of succeeding Senator Johnson may now make arrangements to do something else.

Senator Johnson is needed in the United States senate and he will stay there as long as he wants to remain in the service of the people. In a statement issued yesterday, Senator Johnson said that he has been offered very much more than it is necessary for him to worry over his financial welfare the balance of his life, but like thousands of others, he declared that he had lived so long in California he could not live happily in any other place. It is reasonable to say, for facts uphold the statement that many men with the opportunities Senator Johnson has had, would today be wealthy. Men blessed with a stout heart, a soul as numerous as they should be, both in and out of the Congress of the United States.

ATTORNEY SPEAKS

There is no reason at all why anyone should be allowed to sell wine in Anaheim, according to City Attorney Ames, who said today that there is a city ordinance that empowers the police officers to make arrests and secure convictions if they do their duty.

Three Mexicans yesterday were before Justice Howard, charged with being drunk. They admitted the charge and told Justice Howard they became drunk from a mixture something like wine sold to them over the bar in the San Diego saloon.

The ordinance covers the ground very completely and provides a fine of $300 or three months in jail or both, just as the court deems necessary.

"CHICKEN" SUPPER FOR
MASON'S IS NOW PLANNED

On the night of June 1st, Anaheim Masons will have a chicken supper. This supper was promised some weeks ago when the Masons entertained their ladies. During the course of an address, E. H. Metcalf, one of the past masters of the Anaheim lodge announced that within a few weeks, when a full moon appeared, he would, by the sense against administration leadership on appropriation bills will come when the senate in the naval amendment in increasing the pay of the navy fifteen million dollars.

Today, E. H. Metcalf, above mentioned, is preparing to commence to begin to get ready to collect chickens. How, what and where he proposes to operate is not known. He guarantees a sufficient number of chickens, however, to make the chicken dinner real and not imaginary. Good sized pieces will prevail on the table, not mere scraps.

An interesting program is also arranged for the evening after the chicken has disappeared.

ANAHEIM'S BAND IN SEAL BEACH DURING SUMMER FESTIVITIES

The Anaheim band will be engaged to furnish twelve Sunday concerts this season in Seal Beach. The matter has been taken up by the Seal Beach Chamber of Commerce, which is heading the list with $100 towards the paying for the cost of the band. Another important item under consideration by the beach chamber is the bathing parade, which will be held on July 17. This year the professional element will be eliminated and amateur entries only will be received. Full particulars will be announced later.

Get ready for an outing Sunday and Monday. There won't be any business done in Anaheim, so you may go away and remain until work time Tuesday morning.

Next Monday is Memorial day, a legal holiday in the United States, and local merchants always observe Memorial day. Secretary H. P. Knoll of Anaheim Retail Merchants association notified all members today that stores will close all day Monday.

Being in line with the merchants in the observance, the Anaheim Herald will not publish on Monday, but the regular edition of the Los Angeles Express, delivered with the Herald daily, will be distributed to subscribers.

Many Anaheim people will make a week end trip to various resorts. While others will remain at home and attend the Decoration Day services at the Anaheim cemetery, which will be in charge of Malvern Hill Post No. 121, G. A. R., the local organization composed of 25 members who fought in the Civil War.

The services at the cemetery will be as follows:
Invocation, Rev. J. A. Geisinger.
Communion singing, "America."
Quartette, "Tintin Tintin." Mrs. C. W. Pugin, Miss Lucy Arroy, Roy Fordham, F. Leslie Meeker.

Decorations of graves by school children in charge of the Daughters of Veterans, Women's Relief Corps, and American Legion Auxiliary, band music.

Tribute to the unknown dead, by Adjutant O. V. Knowlton.
Lincoln's Gettysburg speech, Martin Leuchner.
Quartette, "To the Old Country."
Address, Rev. Abraham Markle.
Selection by the band.
Solo, by Mrs. W. W. Fagin.
Community Singing, "Star Spangled Banner," led by the band.
Benediction.

Suggestion has been made by visitors to Anaheim, shoppers from various parts of the county that the city officials cause parkways to be painted on the lines of the streets with automobiles park so that one car can not take up space on the crowded thoroughfares where two cars could be parked.

"I have arrived in Anaheim many times," said a well known rancher yesterday, "and have been forced to park my car a block or two away from the main business district merely because someone had taken up too much space in parking his or her car. I would be glad, and many other out-of-town shoppers would feel as I do, if the merchants who line the front of the city would paint parking spaces on Center street so that no car could take up more than the space needed for one car."

The matter will be brought before the city trustees at their next meeting.

INSURGENTS WILL TEST STRENGTH OF THE
NAVY BILL

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The real test of the strength of the insurgent movement in the senate against administration leadership on appropriation bills will come when the senate in the naval amendment in increasing the pay of the navy fifteen million dollars.
There is an increase in the personnel of the navy by 20,000 men over the house provisions.
The senate naval committee made it 120,000 by boosting the pay list.
The insurgents, greatly encouraged by the "moral" victory won in reducing the transportation item $1,000,000. Knocking out the $1,000,000. Alameda naval base provision and virtually forcing the Borah amendment provision into the bill over Presidential objections, are out to slash the pay appropriation.

MAN ARRESTED FOR OLD TIME HANGING
OFFENSE IN ORANGE

Eddie Nelson was arrested on the Santa Fe train yesterday by Deputy Sheriff E. E. French as the train was passing through Orange. Arrest was made on a telegraphic warrant from Del Mar. Nelson, according to authorities there, had stolen a horse, sold it and was now heading the Santa Fe train.
French boarded the train and arrested a man answering Nelson's description. The man objected to the arrest more or less vehemently, and the officer decided that he had the wrong man. Nelson was later identified by the conductor and was brought to the county jail here.

ROBBERIES IN ORANGE ARE NUMEROUS

Garage and Home Entered
And Robbed Last Night
By Burglars

ROBBERS INVADE CITY

There are robbers in Anaheim doing a good business. It may be that one man is doing all the business, but that doesn't matter, someone is gathering suits of clothes, silk shirts, watches, rings, automobile tires and such like a collection gathered in the past few days.

Last night someone entered the residence of N. Read at 418. Empty street, and left with a suit of clothes owned by Mr. Read, a new silk shirt, a watch and chain which Mr. Read bought in France while doing service in the trenches, and a lady's ring.

Mr. Read works for the Union Oil Company and went to work yesterday at 4 o'clock. He returned home after midnight. His mother and sister, with whom he lives, were away from home visiting, and as Mr. Read approached the front door to enter, he found the door unlocked. He passed through the house to the kitchen and found the back door unlocked, and being then suspicious that he was not well, he went to his room and found the door unlocked. He called the police and they found the man who committed the robbery. A few nights ago, when returning, he saw a man about 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighing about 150 in a neighborhood. He believes this is the same man who visited his home with out invitation last night.

Either the same man or another visited the Mission Garage last night and took 7 Portage tires from the display window in the front of the salesroom. This robber entered by the rear door and helped himself to the tires he wanted and then left. This was accomplished apparently while the lights were burning brightly, or it has been suggested that it may have occurred when the lights were out over the city for half an hour or more.

Protection against robbery is largely in the hands of the people and it is advised that people leave a light burning in their homes when they go out and leave the house unoccupied.

There are burglars active all over this section now, according to new reports and Anaheim is getting her share.

Police protection is a matter of little importance if the people do not use every safeguard in keeping burglars away from their homes. Burglars seldom enter homes where there is a light burning, no matter what hour of the night.

Automobile owners have suffered considerable loss during the past few days. The oranges show an endless number of tires, robes and motorometers have been taken. Spare tires attached to automobiles parked in the city were also taken. It is believed that fully $1,000 worth of tires, robes and motorometers have been taken during the past ten days.

MULE BRANDY GETS
MEN IN TROUBLE

"Mule brandy" brought William Johnson, colored, and A. C. LeBarb before Justice of the Peace John B. Cox in Santa Ana Monday on a charge of disturbing the peace in a local pool hall owned by Nick Pappas.
LeBarb pleaded guilty and was fined $10. Johnson was freed after declaring that LeBarb and another man went to make him drink, and that a row of considerable proportions was started by his refusal. The judge implied that the other man could not be found, and is declared by both Johnson and LeBarb to be the real cause of the trouble.

MAN RETURNS FUNDS

This morning's attendance at the Valencia Orange show was as good as any morning last week, according to announcement by Manager Malcolm Fraser. "We are very well pleased with the attendance this week, even during the rainy spell."

Tonight there will be a big parade from the show grounds to Center street and down Center street. Following the band will be members of the vaudeville troupe in automobiles and on trucks, and the program at the tent tonight is said to be the best yet.

The executive committee of the show today received a letter from E. M. Chalmers of this city enclosing certificate No. 43 which the committee presented to Mr. Chalmers as guarantee that $100 he advanced to the show would be repaid with interest. Mr. Chalmers thanked the committee, but declared that he was glad to give that sum to an institution that has done so much to bring Anaheim to the front and that has put on such a meritorious show. "The show will do that," said one of the directors today. "We won't have to worry much when next year's big show is being prepared."

Many visitors at the show are ordering Valencia shipped east to relatives and friends. One packing house took an order for 100 Valencia oranges this morning. The oranges this morning rose 3 boxes of the souvenir oranges to be shipped to eastern points.

POKER GAME

Roy Gardner Arrested Last Night in Roseville, in Midst of Game

RETURNED TO PRISON

SACRAMENTO, May 24.—Roy Gardner, California mail robber arrested at Roseville, near here at midnight last night, showed far more interest today in the fact that his arrest broke up a poker game than in anything else.

"You should have seen that man keeper's face when they arrested me," Gardner commented. "He was just playing poker, and he was the funniest thing I've seen since I left Los Angeles."

"I was dealing the cards when they stuck the gun in my face and they took the postal officers entered. I was just following on dealing, but I thought the fellow who was running the game was going to pass out."

Gardner was seated at a table in the hotel lobby playing cards with the postal officers entered. Dan O'Connell circled past the table and coming back asked if he would join the game. "Before Gardner could lay down his cards O'Connell was already there."

NEW GAME LAWS FEATHERED ARE SATISFACTORY

Governor Stephens has officially enacted into law the best general bird-shooting season ever secured by the California fish and game commission for its quarter-million of licensed sportsmen.

The restrictions to govern sportsmen after July represent the utmost exploitation of wild life of established game that the practical conservation students of the fish and game commission considered safe. With hunting interest increasing yearly, it was evident no broader privileges could be granted. Those whose favorite recreation is the sport of the gun (that the work in their behalf has accomplished enough to permit continuance of the present decidedly liberal law.

Simplification of the law by eliminating district differences between game of state-wide distribution, was sought. A compromise on quail was effected, whereby south and north each conceded two weeks coming to a November 1-January 15 open time. This cuts out complication of bringing legally killed birds into districts where unlawful to possess them. All species of quail are alike as regards valley, desert or mountain varieties, except the reduced limit on the larger birds.

Particular interest attaches to moving forward of duck season two weeks to open October 1 and close January 15. This will solve 90 per cent of the patrol difficulties that the fish and game commission has had to meet. Complaints of ducks eating down crops just before the former opening date will be automatically ceased, and the many parts of the state that felt they were "losing out" on the earliest and best spring sport will have their "innings." This will suit Imperial and San Diego sportsmen, as well as the children. The October "hot" comes as often after mid-October as before.

Likewise, the curtailing of shooting two weeks earlier in the spring is a step in advance. The federal authorities having agreed to conform to whatever adjustment of the season California desired. Stopping sportsmen by federal regulation has done wonders for the ducks.

The new law stops all shooting of sage hens in Inyo and Mono counties, where almost exterminated. It allows August 1 opening on these birds in northeastern California, where still plentiful, so they can be shot while fit for the table.

Dove season will not be changed. Rabbits will be given the same season and bag limit as quail, with a re-enactment of the "Landowner's privilege," allowing the protection of crops from the depredations of Bunz, Squirrels, September 1; grouse, September 15; and deer season, September 15. Deer season is the present law were traced up. Deer season is not yet determined; if any changes are made, a much later law will result.

CYPRUS CANAL IS DECLARED OUT OF COMMISSION

Due to the numerous objections of property owners in and near Cyprus, the proposed drainage canal for District No. 2 was declared abandoned by the board of supervisors in their regular meeting Tuesday.

The decision was made after two hours of bitter discussion. The court room where the meeting was held was filled with residents of Cyprus and numerous speeches were made in protest to the proposed measure. The contract for improving the Jeffrey road bridge was awarded to the Moroccan Bridge and Construction Company, their bid being $2675, being the lowest received.

No bids were received on the $20,000 bond issue for improving the Bay City school district, and the matter has been held over till the next meeting.

The board made appropriations for $600 for the salary of a lookout on Santiago Peak during the summer fire season. His estimated cost was $550.10.

The committee to clean up the cemeteries came before the board and requested that the county chain gang now working at Orange county park be detailed to clean up the cemeteries in Santa Ana and Anaheim before Decoration Day. The request was granted.

Word has been received that an engineer will be sent over to straighten out certain power problems which have come to the attention of the public utilities.

The date for an all day hearing will probably be Tuesday, June 7, at Fullerton. The program committee is planning to get the engineer to address the Fullerton Farm Center on Monday night. June 6. The following day will be devoted to individual conferences with farmers who desire information on new rates and will schedule their pump repairs or other electrical energy should be charged to.

HUNGARY NEVER TO BE BEGGAR NATIONS MAN'S OPINION

BUDAPEST. — (By Mail). — Hungary will never become a beggar among nations, as have some countries.

This was the declaration of Admiral Horvath, president-governor of Hungary, in an interview. "We have never asked for charity and never will," the Admiral continued. "Nevertheless, we shall remember forever that when two revolutions came as an invasion and left us in a prostrate and dying from cold, America came to our assistance. What no diplomacy could have done this evidence of disinterested good will has done, and for the kindness shown our children, Hungary will be America forever."

I saw Admiral Horvath in his rooms in the old palace Franz Joseph. The place itself is one of the most famous in Europe. All about everything about the palace has been much simplified, the governor-general has had the old furniture and the old grandeur, and they are still watched over by guardsmen in uniforms of crimson and gold.

The governor-president has a cordial manner. He is very short and stocky, with a high forehead and a pair of thin lips. Like everyone in the Hungarian attitude, he is an optimist regarding the European situation. In this, the attitude of the Hungarian differs greatly from that of the Austrians. The latter are obviously discouraged and given over to the psychology of defeat. The Hungarians believe absolutely in the rehabilitation of their country, and although they constantly bemoan the territory which they have lost to Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Roumania, they believe that they will win it back.

"The financial situation in Hungary is showing marked improvement," said Horvath. "The krona is now 390 to the dollar which means that its market value is rising with remarkable rapidity when compared to the value of the surrounding countries."

The rise in the value of the krona will result, Admiral Horvath thinks, in an alleviation of the food shortage in Budapest, which has been serious owing to the refusal of the peasants to exchange good food for worthless money. In Hungary the peasants at present constitute a strong element and the confiscatory measures in vogue in Austria are impossible here.

Conditions among working men are steadily improving," continued Horvath. "Miners now receive 6.50 a month as against 4.50 a month and a living wage for Hungary. Other industries do not pay as well, but the government, while it continues to prohibit strikes, has taken the side of the workers in the recent controversy, when the printers and several other groups of workers demanded an increase in wages. The condition of the middle classes is the worst, and for some time the Hungarians will need outside help, particularly for these people."

NERVOUS FAINTING SPELLS

Mrs. Werner Tells How They Yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Camden, N. J. — "Before my baby was born I was run down and weak; had pains in my back and stomach; was very nervous and would faint frequently. I certainly suffered awfully with those nervous and fainting spells. I did not know anyone at times was so nervous. A doctor treated me for the nervous spells, but did not seem to do much good. I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills before so I began taking them again. I soon felt a change and could do my work without pain and was cured of those nervous spells. Now I have a nice fat baby girl and had an easy time at birth, thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. WILLIAM WERNER, 1216 Van Hook St., Camden, N. J.

When a wife finds her nerves are lagging, she is weak, nervous, suffers from headache, the "dread" she should build her system up at once by using that standard woman's medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as did Mrs. Werner.

AMERICANS BRAVE BUT IMPRUDENT SAYS GENERAL

DUSSELDORF, Germany. — (By Mail to the United Press). — General Gauchet, who commands the French and British forces of occupation in Düsseldorf, has a warm spot in his heart for the American army.

By the medium of this dispatch he wants to be cordially remembered to General Cameron, the American Commander in Chief, General Jobe and to General McArthur.

It was under Gauchet that the famous American 42nd or Rainbow Division received its baptism of fire. Gauchet's eyes light up when he speaks of the Rainbow idea, and particularly when he mentions that fine young soldier, the "MacArthur," a general who was oftentimes ahead of his own first line infantry in an advance.

Ten he was in command over the crown of the 42nd Division in the famous counter-attack of July 15, 1918. He tells with relish of how he and Cameron shared the same "C" during that operation and controlled the development of their share of it. Later the general was shifted to Belgium, and there had under him the 51st or Pine Tree Division of the Yanks, sailing from the Pacific coast and mountain states in Germany, but from "Pine Tree" in particular.

"Your men are brave," says General Gauchet, "but sometimes a bit imprudent. I remember once they went into a town without arranging for their water supply—costs of fighting in their shirtsleeves—and took the place in short order. But like all Americans, they had been eating too much sugar, either in their coffee or elsewhere, and got thirsty. So they abandoned the town and fell back to get water and supplies."

"That doesn't matter, General. They told me when I remonstrated. Now that we've had our water, we'll go back and take it all over again!" "Yes, but my children, I told them. You may take it back again, but that way you'll have a big cemetery. And that is worth thinking of!"

WILLARD DEPOT TO ENJOY BIG OUTING

The Anaheim Ignition Depot will be closed Saturday afternoon from one o'clock through Sunday and Monday, May 28, 29 and 30. The employees and their families are going to the San Jacinto mountains for the annual picnic of the Willard service station in Anaheim.

A. Bevilard will leave early Saturday morning to prepare a camp for the remainder of the party for the three days.

RAIL COMMISSION CLOSELY WATCHES REDUCTION IN OIL

Closely watching the price of crude oil because of the bearing on rates for gas and electricity, particularly gas, the railroad commission today, coincident with the announcement that the price of the fuel had been reduced, addressed letters to the four large oil companies of the state.

The commission asked for verification of the reports of the reduction of the oil in an expression of opinion by the heads of the oil companies as to the probable price in the future.

"It is of special importance that the commission be fully informed relative to this important item of the operating costs of the railroads," the commission says in its letter to the Standard Oil. Further commenting on the reduction announced in today's press, the commission says: "This reduction in price of oil does not apparently follow the advice which your representative gave the commission at the hearing in Los Angeles in Application No. 6325, heard on April 29, when your Mr. Fitzsimmons advised that he did not know of any reason why there will be a reduction in price if present economic conditions continued."

"There is pending before this commission at the present time a number of important rate proceedings affecting gas and electric utilities in which the price of oil has a material bearing and it is of special importance that the commission be fully informed relative to this important item of the operating costs of utilities."

We, therefore, ask that you advise us directly as the earliest possible time the reduction which has been made by your company, when said reduction becomes effective especially with reference to the delivery of oil to other gas or electric utilities in California, and also desire that you advise us in so far as possible of the probable continuance of this reduction price and the possibility of a further reduction or a later increase in the price."

The letters sent out by the commission were addressed to the Standard Oil Company, Associated Oil Company, General Petroleum Company and Union Oil Company.

EVERY cent you spend over the price of Calumet might as well be thrown away. You don't get a thing for it. You can't get greater leavening strength or greater purity than is offered in Calumet.

It is made in the world's largest, best equipped and most sanitary Baking Powder Factories.

Contains only such ingredients as have been officially endorsed by the U. S. Food Authorities.

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

No matter what you pay you can't secure as much in sound baking powder quality.

On the other hand—you can buy a cheaper baking powder—a little lower in price than Calumet—and much lower in merit. That's the worst kind of false economy.

Calumet never fails. Every baking is perfectly raised—sweet, even and tasty.

Used by millions of housewives and is the largest selling brand in the world.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Calumet Graham Muffin Recipe:
1 cup of white flour, 1 cup Graham flour, 1 tablespoon sugar, 3 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup of milk, 1 egg well beaten, 1 tablespoon melted butter. Then mix in the regular way.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES
APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins. Mentho-Sulphur is a potent skin preservative. This sulphur preparation, made in a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to very severe, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and the soreness right up to the skin, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rashes, pimples or eruptions. You do not have to wash for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

Radicalism in North Dakota was clearly described at the "hoon day" session of the Elwell society today by Attorney Heml who served in the North Dakota legislature prior to the reign of radicalism which swept that state in 1918.

Attorney Heml's talk was highly interesting and well presented, giving a keen insight of the affairs of that state which led up to the victory of the radical element. Dissension on the part of the farmers and lack of sympathy on the part of the business men and the state officials for the farmers' plight originally sowed the seed of dissension which grew until it finally upset the whole scheme of government. A word of warning was spoken by Attorney Heml against regarding the welfare of the farmer and allowing discontent to grow in his heart.

Next Tuesday Superintendent C. J. Nellis of the Whittier state school will address the club. The club will hold an open meeting and allow as many members as desire to attend, although word should be sent J. A. Clayton not later than Monday night as to the number desiring to attend.

A rising vote of thanks was tendered to retiring Secretary Earl Farris, who has been succeeded by Rev. Messias.

O'DAY PROVES HIS DEALINGS HONEST

Action against J. W. O'Day, Los Angeles mining promoter, held here on charges of embezzlement and obtaining money under false pretenses, was dismissed yesterday on motion of Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mosely.

The dismissal was a result of evidence produced by Attorneys Cruzan and Laughlin for the defense, and by testimony of Mrs. James Hunter, a Los Angeles woman with whom O'Day had business dealings.

Milton MacArthur, the complaining witness, testified that he had given O'Day $500 to purchase interest owned by the Hunters in mining land near El Toro, and that the money was never delivered to them. The counsel for the defense, however, produced a receipt for the $500 given O'Day by the Hunters.

It was also charged that the Hunter had never agreed to part with their interest in the mining claim, but a quit claim deed giving O'Day title to the land was also produced as evidence. The Hunter admitted that the signatures on the documents were genuine.

BAD CHECK GETS MAN INTO TROUBLE

A complaint charging the felony of issuing a bank check with intent to defraud was issued today against Joseph N. Dorius of Los Angeles. The charge was preferred by Charles Truett of Anaheim.

The check, which was drawn on Hellman Commercial Bank of Los Angeles, was for $25.10, and is said to be in possession of automobile accessories. It was returned from the bank for "no funds."

CHORAL UNION HAVE MEETING

The Orange County Choral Union held its regular practice last night in the Junior high school. A full attendance was present. The ladies of this organization held their rehearsal from 7:30 to 8:30.

The men of the club also had floor drill last night. The Mikado play, which the union is now practicing, will probably be staged in this country during the fall. It is sure to be a success and the faithful work of the singers has already shown good results. The special parts are being taken by members who have done professional work in the opera before.

EASTERN STAR HAVE MEETING
The Eastern Star held its regular meeting last night in the Masonic Temple on the corner of Emily and Center streets. A large attendance was present and a very interesting business evening was enjoyed. A social hour was enjoyed at the close of the meeting.

WOMEN'S CLUBS IN CONVENTION LOOK TO ELECTION DAY

CAMP CURRY, Cal. May 24.—More than 1,000 women are gathered here for the twentieth annual convention of the California Federation of Women's Clubs. The first day of the convention was devoted to reports of officers. Mrs. Aaron Schloss of Berkeley, president, is presiding.

The most important event of the convention will be the election of officers. The election will take place Wednesday when 1,000 women from all parts of the state will compete for the honors for their respective sections.

The theme of the present is taken from Gertrude Atherton's history of California and club groups throughout the state have been practicing their parts constantly with a view to carrying away the thapsian laurels.

The keener competition exists between the northern and southern California groups.

Election of officers promises some rare treats when the post of first vice-president is considered. Mrs. W. A. Fitzgerald of Berkeley is unanimously favored for president, but both Doctor Merlans Bortola of San Francisco and Mrs. O. W. March of Chico are mentioned for the vice-presidency post.

BATH IN MORNING IS COURT'S ORDER

"It is the judgment of the court that you be committed to the custody of the sheriff for a term of thirty days. It is the further judgment of this court that the sheriff be instructed to give you a cold water bath every morning at five o'clock. With these words, Justice Cox today decided the temporary future of Steven Grape, arrested on a vagrancy charge in Santa Ana.

Grape was questioned as to when he had bathed, and said that to the best of his knowledge he had taken a bath in Riverside some ten days ago, and that the previous one occurred in Colorado. He was unable to remember when he had last earned any money.

MEXICAN PULLS A MOVIE STUNT

The trial of Ferdinand Revas, accused of battery upon J. W. Deck and C. N. Wood, prison guards near Revaca, a member of the county chain gang was continued until Friday.

Revas, it is claimed, became angry at Wood and threw the ball and chain he was wearing at the guards. He forgot that the chain was attached to his person, and when the chain straightened out, the expected happened.

The officers claim that Revas became unruly several times, and was forcibly restrained by the officers. It is planned to take up the matter with the department authorities and send Revas back to Mexico.

An English scientist declares that idiots may serve a useful purpose. They should not write screenplays for movie serials.

GERMANS CHARGED POLISH MACHINE NETS WITH KNIVES

OPPEL, May 24.—Armed only with knives, German volunteers successfully charged Polish machine gun nests Saturday according to overwilling descriptions of the fighting reaching here.

The Germans lost heavily, but they succeeded in driving the Poles from a large area along the Oder river and captured extensive stores of arms and ammunition. At Gross Czersk on the Czech-Slovakian frontier, the Germans rounded up more than a thousand Poles.

The Germans declared they obtained a number of unopened cases of French ammunition. They also captured that some of the guns captured were identified as German weapons which they had been compelled to give to the French when they disarmed.

Rather than face the problem of feeding the prisoners, the Germans released after being disarmed and returned to the Silesian villages whence they came.

BIG PROGRAM IS NOW BEFORE LEAGUE EXECUTIVES

GENEVA, Switzerland.—(By Mail).—Although President Harding's announcement that the United States can never join the league of nations in its present form is generally conceded to have killed the latter, nevertheless it is still keeping up a very marked degree of activity for a corpse.

The secretariat today completed the program of activities for the summer months. The program includes: June 6—Meeting at Geneva of the league's council, which will detail steps will probably be taken to meet President Harding's ideas as to what kind of a league the United States will join.

June 30—Meeting at Geneva of the league's international commission for the suppression of white slave traffic, of which as a result of postwar conditions the world is now threatened with a resurgence.

August 1—Meeting at Geneva of the league's international commission on emigration.

September 5—Meeting at Geneva of the second assembly of the league of nations.

The latter session will last for about five weeks and will be even more important than the first one of November and December of last year. In the event, it is possible to make over the league to meet the ideas of the United States the future basis of the league will be established at this time.

MOONEY CASE NOW PROCEEDING IN SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, May 24.—Attorney Milton T. U'Ren, representing the prosecution, was prepared to take up the arguments against a new trial for Thomas Mooney, when court opened today.

Mooney, after spending last night at San Quentin penitentiary, where he is serving a life sentence for alleged complicity in the San Francisco preparedness day bombing of 1916, was to be in court again today.

Proceedings in Mooney's case reached the grand jury again last night when Earl Hatcher of Woodland, Cal., testified that Frank C. Oxman, "Oregon cattle man" who was the star witness against Mooney, was not in San Francisco until three hours after the preparedness day bomb exploded. Oxman had testified to seeing Mooney drive to the spot where the bomb was placed.

Arguments in court today were a continuance of yesterday's arguments on the right of Mooney's defense to demand a rehearing under the "audita querela" proceedings instituted in his behalf. Attorney U'Ren for the state holds that the proceedings can be resorted to only in the collection of debts.

Recently a government transport arrived at New York bringing 5212 soldier dead. This hooves great expense to the government. Undertakers on two continents, and after all, in the majority of instances, there is no certainty as to the identification of the bodies.

ad by Holmes, company subscribe $50 and president and secretary be authorized to execute warrant for the amount. California Farm Bureau association.

MRS. JACK CUDAHY NAMED GUARDIAN

LOS ANGELES, May 24.—Mrs. Edna C. Cudahy, widow of John F. Cudahy, yesterday was appointed guardian of her minor children, Michael, aged 13 years, and Ann Elizabeth, 16. She gave bonds in the total sum of $41,000.

The children are beneficiaries, under the will of Catherine Cudahy, ex-trust first, the income of which was paid to their father, John P. (Jack) Cudahy, during his life time. The will provides that at his death the children shall be paid the income. The trust is mostly from dividends of the Cudahy Packing Company, aggregating $60,000 a year.

Mrs. Cudahy's petition to the probate court stated that the Cudahy Packing Company has passed its last dividend, but that the company has offered to advance $500 a month as a loan, pending the suspension of trust dividends.

Jack Cudahy died by his own hand April 20, last. The other children of Mrs. Cudahy are Edna Cudahy Brown and Marie C. Cudahy, both of whom have passed their majority.

Some men bathe frequently, and some compromise by using perfume. If you have some used furniture that is not being used in your home, advertise it for sale. Call 540 and advertise it in the Anaheim Daily Herald. Someone needs that furniture.

The case of the People vs. Fred Fitch of Huntington Beach, charged with violating the traffic law by operating his car on the wrong side of the street, was dismissed yesterday afternoon. The case was continued to give Fitch time to secure witnesses to prove an alibi. It was charged that Fitch drove his car on the wrong side of the street, and in so doing was responsible for a collision. Fitch claimed that he was not driving the car at the time.

MAKE 4000 FORDS A DAY DURING MAY

Ford is building cars at full speed, and, according to an official statement from the factory at Detroit, the demand for Ford cars and trucks still exceeds the output, despite the fact that a new high level of production has been reached.

May first figures representing daily production were in the neighborhood of 4000 a day, so the May schedule was set at 101,125 cars and trucks, not including the output of the Ford Canadian plant or any of the foreign assembling plants. The output mounted daily; May 12th brought forth 4022, the greatest number that has ever been produced in one day so far this year. Since the month has 25 working days, present indications point to a new high record.

A comparison of Ford production figures for 1920 and 1921 discloses the fact that for April, 1921 the output was greater by 24,514 than for the corresponding month of a year ago. The output for May, 1921, will probably overshadow May, 1920, by between fifteen and twenty thousand cars and trucks.

Approximately 43,000 men are at work in the Detroit plant of the Ford Motor company. The factory is operating on full time, six days a week and three shifts a day.

"We were never in a better condition than we are right now," said Henry Ford recently.

Witnesses were scheduled to take the stand before Justice of the Peace Cox to attempt to prove an alibi for Fred Fitch, Huntington Beach man accused of violating the traffic laws.

Fitch's trial was started several weeks ago on the accusation of President Cox. The complaint charged that Fitch drove his car the wrong side of Main street in Huntington Beach, and in so doing, collided with another car.

SECRETARY WEEKS TELLS CHURCHMEN TO KEEP FIRES ALIVE

WINONA LAKE, Ind., May 24.—John W. Weeks, secretary of war, told Presbyterians here today how to promote universal peace.

A message from Weeks was read to the delegates attending the Presbyterian assembly, now in session here. "Re-establish the old-fashioned American home and we need have no fears from the enemy without," declared Weeks in his message. "It is up to the church to make the home function as an influence for good as it did in the good old days of our fathers. The church is nearer the home than any other agency."

"In these days of reconstruction, the church can, if it will, exert a steady and sobering influence in a time when men are not inclined to think clearly, and can render the nation and itself no greater service than to bring back the home as we know it."

"The nation is gradually putting its house in order but neither the president by executive decree nor congress by the enactment of legislation can wholly return the country to a normal state."

"The solution of our problems, both social and industrial, will not be very difficult when the citizen himself decides to return to the state of normalcy and it is this conviction in which the church, I think, has a duty to perform, the importance of which cannot be overemphasized. The first lines of defense of the republic from the enemy without and the enemy within is not in the army, nor in the navy, but in the home. Keep the home fires burning and believe in and I. W. W. and anarchy will die of inanition."

REMEMBER THE TIGER-RUG IN "THREE WEEKS"

Here is Ethel Glyn, noted English authoress, who is to portray the part of the "Queen of Fashion" in a big spectacle "The Adornment of Woman," during the actor's show of America's Federal at the Los Angeles Speedway on June 4th, in which seven hundred famous actresses and actors will participate.

"Three Weeks," with its new famous tiger-skin rug chapter, was from the pen of Ethel Glyn. Her fondness for tiger skins is reflected in her selection of rug. She is seen above in a set of tiger fur made from a skin presented to her by a noted British tiger hunter, who bagged the animal in India.

MILD DISEASES AMONG CHILDREN TAKING IMMENSE TOLL

SACRAMENTO, May 24.—So-called "mild" diseases are reaping a harvest of lives through the indifference of parents affected by them, according to L. E. Ross, head of the bureau of vital statistics of the state board of health.

Whooping cough killed more persons during 1920 than typhoid fever, measles, and smallpox, Ross recently announced, following completion of compilation of statistics on mild diseases in California. More than 400 deaths from whooping cough, while only 172 deaths resulted from typhoid, seven from scarlet fever, and 135 from measles.

At the same time Ross announced that California is standing on the brink of a volcano of smallpox. While there have been only seven deaths so far this year, thousands of cases have been reported. If smallpox becomes virulent the results would surpass the ravages of the influenza epidemic, declared Ross.

Whooping cough was more severe during 1920 than it has been for ten years. This disease, which reaches its peak every four years, showed an exceptional gain in 1920, after having reached a peak in 1918. The deaths for 1920 were a "surprise" as the disease was not scheduled to return until 1922.

Whooping cough is essentially a children's disease, the statistics show, although deaths from the malady were recorded of persons aged 65 years. Deaths were as follows: under one year, 236; between one and four years, 144; between five and fourteen years, 15; between 14 and 24 years, 1; between 25 and 34 years, 2; over 65 years, 3.

Measles showed a decided increase during 1920, Ross' report shows. There were 17,670 cases reported, with 195 deaths. The deaths were as follows: under one year, 40; between one and four years, 104; between five and 14 years, 98; between 15 and 24 years, 5; between 25 and 34 years, 4; between 35 and 44 years, 2; between 45 and 54 years, 1; between 55 and 64 years, 1; over 65 years, 2.

There is no such thing as a mild disease," Ross declares. "The virulence of these so-called 'mild' diseases proves that they are dangerous and that their toll of lives is great. Whooping cough is generally regarded lightly, but not only does the record show that the deaths are many, but also that those touched with the disease are liable to tuberculosis. A great many whooping cough cases later develop into tuberculosis if not watched."

"CHICAGO—Bon bon pursuers have supplanted the hickory stick in our educational system, said Dr. J. C. Ackison, president of the Pennsylvania College for women. He advocates return of the stick."

REMEMBER WHAT BRET HART SAID ABOUT CHINESE?

LIUCHUAN, Shensi Province, China. (By Mail).—Waste of money is inevitable when large sums are used for emergency relief in a country like China, where "squeeze" is an accepted and honorable practice, but an investigation of the famine region leads to the belief that the money that has been poured into this stricken land for the most part been very well "squeezed." Daily there is less and less waste.

But there are financial plague spots. Here in Shensi is to be found one of them. The local magistrate has, until John Hayes and his party of foreigners arrived on the scene to internationalize the control of the funds, been playing ducks and drakes with the money forwarded from Peking and Shanghai. Hayes put a sudden end to that situation when he discovered that the magistrate's house was listed as having $3,000 of starving persons, whereas it is doubtful if that many persons live in the community.

"My village elders submitted the figure," blantly explained the magistrate, "and I had to accept their word or they would lose face with my people."

Hayes was of the opinion that food was more important than face and immediately set about remedying matters. Another grave condition is being dealt with in the district administered by the Southern Army. A fund of $50,000 for famine relief fell into the hands of the authorities and was distributed impartially and then re-collected as taxes.

But in spite of these instances of graft it must not be believed that the great majority of the famine relief money is not going into the proper channels.

SOMEONE ELSE WILL BE AS POPULAR AS THOMAS A. EDISON

BERKELEY, Cal., May 24.—Tom Edison has a rival in the question line. He is none other than Chief of Police Vollmer, Berkeley's psychological cop. The questions he propounds to those who would follow the noble profession of thief-catching are enough to raise the hair of one who has passed Edison's "ignometer" test with flying colors.

Chief Vollmer is after college graduates for his police force. They have to be the real stuff before they can swing a club with Berkeley's "line." But it must work, this question test for already thirteen diploma boys are wearing the blue of the university town.

The question test does not scare applicants off. Rather, it entices them to come and take a try at something hard. Sixty-three men took the test given May 1 and eighteen passed. Six of them were University of California graduates. The perfect score was 212, and five of the aspirants to blue-coated honors rated 190 or better. None made the 212 per cent.

Want to try your hand at being a super-cop? Here's what the venture some ones get. Try it on your self and the family:

Is an eight-pointed figure a trapezium, scholium, parallelogram, or octagon?

Is rubber taken from ore, petroleum, trees, or mice?

Is perjury a term used in pedagogy, law, theology or medicine?

Is Country Gentleman a kind of wheat, corn, hay or oats?

Is the cutlass a sword, musket, cannon or pistol?

Is Boston in Connecticut, Rhode Island, Maine or Massachusetts?

Is the leghorn a kind of cow, horse, fowl or granite?

A train can go 200 yards in ten seconds. How many feet in one-fifth of a second?

How many guns is forty guns and six guns?

A dealer bought some mules for $300. He sold them for $1,000, making $25 on each mule. How many mules did he sell?

What kind of amusement do you like?

Do you suffer from mental lapses? Have you a fiery temper? Are you subject to fits of anger?

What kind of amusements do you like?

What special ability have you? Do you ever get the blues?

Do you walk in your sleep? Do you stumble in the dark?

Do you like to be alone? Do you get tired easily?

Are you afraid of crowds and closed places?

Are you satisfied with life? A dealer bought some mules for $300. He sold them for $1,000, making $25 on each mule. How many mules did he sell?

Do you think people watch you on the streets?

Is there anyone persecuting you? Does your hand tremble when you use a pen?

Does your head ever ache on one side? Does the sight of blood make you sick or faint?

Chief of Police Vollmer says it's a fair test. It is original, as much so as Tom Edison's, and anyway Vollmer scorns the old dyed-in-the-wool civil service examination.

"A man who can successfully pass the test is good material for a police officer," this super-chief of super-cops declares. Anyway, people in Berkeley say Edison better look to his laurels as the original conundrum fabricator.

BE PRETTY TURN
GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite
Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any good store for "Gray's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and healthy.
Gray's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not infected with arsenic, mercury or prevention of disease.

TWENTY-SEVEN OF THE STATES ATTEND CONFERENCE

(Farm Bureau Bulletin)
Twenty-seven states of the union were represented at Chicago on April 5 at the fruit conference called by President Howard of the American Farm Bureau Federation at the request of the American Pomological Society and of fruit interests within the Farm Bureau. Nearly every state that produces fruit commercially was represented.

Shurman Baker and R. B. Peters were sent to represent the California Farm Bureau. Mr. Akron Saprio represented a number of California fruit associations.

To my mind the importance of such a meeting is to bring about closer understanding and co-operation among fruit men from east to west, which can never be done except by their representatives meeting together, each man ready to contribute to the general fund of information the problems and experience of his section, the attempts at solving marketing problems, and the mistakes that have been made which all may profit by.

Upon such a foundation, a national fruit policy can be worked out with intelligence, on our great subjects of marketing, standardization and insect consumption.

The necessity of a tariff on lemons and other fruit suffering from cheaply produced foreign fruit, was stressed in detail by R. B. Peters. California will need the support of eastern fruit growers, when this matter comes before congress. The east is not interested in citrus problems, unless through the Farm Bureau, the agency of protection of citrus made clear throughout the country.

Many speakers gave illuminating discussions of what is being done in co-operative marketing in other states, and that is a great deal more than some of us in California realize. You big warning sounded again and again was against our co-operative associations making long-time contracts with commercial marketing concerns, giving the latter the opportunity to juggle with prices and defeat the ends of the co-operative concern.

This thing was reported as having been done in some states with disastrous results. Action was taken along the following lines, which I consider of great importance:

First, a request was presented to President Howard of the American Farm Bureau Federation to appoint a committee of 21 from throughout the United States, to represent as nearly as possible all the fruit interests of the country.

This committee is to make recommendations for more uniform marketing system, standardization and publicity, after a thorough study of the field. It may be a year before this committee will be able to make a report, but this report should be well worth while.

Second, the creation of a fruit department in the National Farm Bureau organization. This department is to be headed by a man fully conversant with all matters connected with fruit production and marketing.

legislative department, with the understanding of those familiar and in sympathy with the fruit business.

If such a department had been in existence this year and had picked out the best legislative bills for the protection of pure fruit, it would have justified itself a hundred times over in this one work alone.

For, as all fruit men know, one of the things that seriously threaten the fruit business at this moment, is the synthetic fruit juice, made of coloring matter and chemicals, to look like fruit juice, but having no fruit in it whatever.

Many other things were suggested which the committee of 21 and the fruit department should take up for the good of the fruit men. Such as work to increase consumption of fruit, indirectly, by better grading and marketing, encouraged by the formation of local co-operative packing units, and directly, by advertising campaigns, similar to that of the California Associated Raisin Company.

The idea is to finance this department largely through the growers themselves, only a part of the money to come from the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Resolutions were passed looking toward grading laws throughout the country and against local co-operative units signing marketing contracts for over a year at a time with commercial sales agencies.

A good deal of opposition seems to exist to the Joint Stock Land Bank one of the banks provided for by the farm loan act, and this opposition, strangely enough, is coming both from money lenders like insurance companies and at the same time from farmers, whom the Joint Stock Bank was supposed to benefit.

Promoters of the Joint Stock Bank are at a loss to understand this and have written us to ask why this opposition. We have replied as follows, and believe this is the answer to the apparently incongruous attitude of farmers on this subject:

"We recall no special opposition to the Joint Stock Land Bank in the State Farm Bureau, in fact, there were one or two strong defenders of the bank on the board last year."

"But we do think the general feeling exists that the whole farm loan act is endangered largely because of the Joint Stock Bank provision, that part of the act being under strong opposition from the large insurance companies, because of the Joint Stock Bank being allowed to issue tax exempt bonds."

"The co-operative feature of the Federal Farm Loan Bank has enabled it to stand on firmer ground. Therefore the opposition that exists around local farm Bureau organizations is largely due to the feeling that the Joint Stock Land Bank provision will cause the repeal of the whole act, unless it is eliminated. I think that is what the Smoot bill proposed to do. It will have the support of the large money lenders on the one hand and the farmer on the other, who thinks that he is thereby saving the Farm Loan Bank."

THE PRISONER'S ESCAPE

By JOHN BARTON
(Copyright, 1921, by The Associated Newspapers)

AS THE WISE old rabbit said, these herons at the Big Marsh were fools. As Thunderpaws the Shunk said, they looked it. As Maltie Kitten said, they acted it. Maltie squirmed along inside of the hollow log while all three of them were hiding from the angry birds, and peeked out under Thunderpaws's chin to watch them.

The herons soared round and round, looking as big as blankets, with their feet sticking out behind their stubby tail feathers, to steer by, hunting for the fellow who had climbed their nesting trees. (It was Maltie Kitten.) And they kept getting more and more discouraged because they couldn't find him. One by one they began to stare their yellow eyes, and gave their long necks, and gave their sharp beaks after something more interesting.

"You keep a-looking!" called one, and he flapped his clumsy wings and sailed off toward the other side of the Big Marsh.

"You do that," said another. "I'm busy. He sprang one leg out to jump hisself away, an extra short arm as he flew around."

"Look at it," said Thunderpaws. "Oh, he's double-jointed!"

"Look at, yourself," Maltie almost called out loud when he saw what the greedy thing was picking out of the burholes. "A mouse! And we're in here starving!" He wasn't, really, because he'd eaten six minnie quers.

fish less than an hour ago, but just the same he felt like it.

"You want starve long," the old rabbit told him. "They're forgetting."

Sure enough one after another dropped his tall, skinny legs, and lit in the water. There they stood, half-dead, dignified and serious as an owl in the sun, watching for minnows to swim past them.

Thunderpaws had another fit of the giggle when one began to fix the long feathers that hang down his neck with a little comb they wear on one claw. How he croaked up his other toes, and what a time he had getting it to suit him—vain thing!

Just about then one made a dive into the muddy bottom and brought up a mud-puppy—which isn't a puppy at all, but the ugliest-looking lizard you ever set eyes on. The herons hate sharp beaks after something more interesting.

"Come on," stamped the wise old bunny. "Let's go quick, while the herons aren't looking." Out of the hole popped rabbit and shunk and kitten. Sure enough, every nest had a hen heron sitting on it, craning her neck to see what was going on. But no one turned to see them as they slipped through the reeds, along the bank around a little clump of bushes—and there across the grassy field, was Maltie's cabin!

FOR SOME GOOD

There is a likeness close, that Nature draws Through all her creations, through all her laws, In her great Book of Life she subtly weaves The impress of her plan through all the leaves.

Earth's waving trees, her flowers and golden grain Are children of her sunshine and her rain, The fruits of good or ill, that through Man's years May blossoms, are born of his smiles and tears.

Thy years might be all sunshine, as the glow Unending, where the desert's hot sands blow, No clouds of grief break o'er its length in rain— Thy life a desert selfishness, and vain.

Gaze from the summit back thy life along: Where flowers blow thick; where the birds' free song Floats clearest; and the blossoms of the year Blow purest where once watered them thy tears.

There is a likeness close that Nature draws Through all her creations; through all her laws, Grief blends with Joy and clouds o'er cast the sun, The harvest is not gained alone by one.

LIFE

Is this world then but husk and chaff, a flicker in the gloom; A thing of glare and epithet and Death's sudden bloom? Or the ages' greatness long begone, the life whose light has flown, But carved the crumbling columns on, or graven on a stone?

Eternal dust the legacy The Past shall leave to Time? Shall Honor leave but Memory and Love the lute and rhyme? So Time the ages end and flow, no link between the chain Of purpose in their tread ahead, no meaning in their train?

Ah, no! Thou must be faithful that some wise, purposeful plan Pervades the planets in their paths: the Destiny of Man. That Reason rules where simple fools cry chance. That accident Guides not after the falling star but some pure purpose bent.

EDITORS BELIEVE ANTI-TOBACCO LAW IS FAR FAR AWAY

NEW YORK, May 24.—Statutory prohibition of the use of tobacco by adults is still a long way off if the editors of the country truly interpret public sentiment in their communities. This statement is based on the results of a questionnaire conducted by Edward A. Morse of this city for the Tobacco Merchants association of the United States. The questionnaire was sent to nearly 150 editors. Replies were received from nearly 63 per cent, representing a total circulation of 25,000,000.

Of the 7,847 editors replying 7,933 or 95 per cent declared their communities against tobacco prohibition. Only 3 per cent of the remainder found any considerable sentiment favoring such prohibition.

The questions asked were: 1. Do you favor the enactment of laws prohibiting the personal use of tobacco by adults? 2. In your judgment does the general sentiment of your community favor such legislation? 3. Is the use of tobacco personally objectionable to you?

In presenting these questions, said Mr. Morse, commenting on the results, "we made no argument pro or con, as we wished unbiased replies. The results show that the sentiment of the organization we were representing still afterwar. The nature of the replies showed that most editors were entirely in the dark as to whom we represented."

"Checking up the questionnaire returns with the anti-tobacco legislation of the last year it is interesting to note that the highest percentage of replies reporting sentiment favorable to tobacco law came from Utah, where 42 per cent of the editors thought their public favored such a movement. Utah is the only state to adopt an anti-cigarette law last year and the editors attributed this to the influence of the Mormon church."

In Idaho where the Mormon church is also strong a prohibitory bill was passed but was almost immediately repealed. The editors in that state were 59 per cent against anti-tobacco legislation.

"On the other hand old anti-cigarette laws were repealed by Tennessee, Arkansas and Iowa. In these states the editors' estimates of adverse public sentiment were 53, 54 and 55 per cent respectively."

"There has been considerable agitation in other states during the year all of which confirms the judgment of the newspaper editors as to public opinion. A bill introduced in Arizona to prohibit smoking in public dining rooms and other public places was amended to prohibit consumption in public of peanuts, chewing gum, tea and coffee and then defeated by the senate."

"Kansas with 59 per cent more seriously considered the repeal of its anti-cigarette law. Last year a petition for a referendum in Oregon failed of sufficient signatures to bring the question to a vote and 95 per cent of the editors declared their public against such a movement."
