Wife Took Cats to Bed With Her Husband Kicks

That cats were responsible for their marital difficulties is the charge contained in a suit for divorce filed today with County Clerk J. M. Backs, in which Jack Ducommun asks legal separation from his wife, Luella Ducommun.

Ducofmun alleges that he and his wife lived in a two-room house and that his wife insisted on keeping three or four cats with her at all times while in the house. The part to which he objected most strenuously, Ducommun asserts, was the action of his wife in taking all of the cats to bed with her. As a result the bed became filthy and covered with hair, which was very objectionable to him, he said.

Ducommun operates a small lunch counter at Huntington Beach. More than $10,000 in community property will be divided between the two.

ORANGE AND ANAHEIM UNITE IN REQUEST FOR P. E. LINE

Representatives of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce and the newly organized Chamber of Commerce at Orange, have made an appointment with D. W. Pontius, vice-president of the Pacific Electric railway, for Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, to discuss the possibility of connecting both cities with the line now terminating at Fullerton. Orange business men say they are dissatisfied with the present stub connecting that town with Santa Ana, and they believe that direct communication will add greatly to their publicity value as well as increasing travel through their city. There is no immediate probability of the extension being built, they say, but the importance of the move will be put before the new vice-president.

Movie Actress Is Hurt When Boat Burns at Balboa

Trapped in a burning speed boat in the ocean off Balboa yesterday afternoon, Miss Ann Little, motion picture actress, was badly burned about the neck and arms. E. Markovitch, pilot of the boat, and J. Morris Foster were also severely burned. Two other occupants of the small craft leaped overboard and escaped without injury.

The boat caught fire when a gas line broke, allowing a small quantity of the flaming oil to run down beneath the forward deck.

The party had been cruising near the beach for some time preparatory to taking part in a motion picture. The boat, known as the Eva B, is a small speed craft and was badly damaged by the fire.

LARGE TOURING AUTO DESTROYED BY FIRE ON BOULEVARD

Defective wiring under the front seat was held to be responsible for the fire that entirely destroyed the Noah automobile, property of Lynnwood Andrews of Los Angeles, on the Laguna boulevard near the beach about 6:20 last night.

Starting suddenly, the flames quickly enveloped the car, spreading rapidly to the gas tank, which exploded and wrecked the car. Andrews leaped from the automobile when the flames broke out and took with him the cushion from the front seat. This was the only part of the car saved. The car was insured by the Automobile Club of Southern California.

O. K. Carr, county traffic officer, was an eyewitness of the spectacle, arriving on the scene shortly after the car burst into flames.

TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND SACKS OF SUGAR LOST IN MILLION DOLLAR FIRE

The mammoth warehouse of the Los Alamitos Sugar Refining Company was destroyed in a $1,500,000 fire today. The factory is in Orange county, 10 miles from Anaheim.

Fire Chief McCraw of Long Beach despatched two companies to battle the flames. Reports received here by telephone about noon were to the effect that the fire was still beyond control and the storage buildings doomed.

All efforts were being concentrated to prevent the fierce blaze from spreading ot the refinery and main factory.

One hundred and seventy five thousand sacks of refined sugar, valued at approximately $6 a sack, have been destroyed, according to E. C. Hamilton, manager of the factory.

The loss represents half the entire seaonal output of the plant, Hamilton said. It is completely covered by insurance.

Hundreds of people living on farms in the vicinity were attracted to the scene by the dense smoke pall.

It was impossible for firemen and valunteer workers to approach within several hundred feet of the fire, owing to the intense heat, early advices said.

Lawyer Would Certify Ages of Two Boys Who Shot Woman to Death

Robert Rosser and Charley Handy, held in Santa Ana in connection with the death of Mrs. Mary Ricketts, who died from gunshot wounds at Anaheim Landing Tuesday evening, appeared before Judge Cox this afternoon for preliminary hearing. When the boys gave their ages as 15 and 16, respectively, the district attorney asked that their arraignment be postponed until he had investigated the case with the intention of certifying their ages.

The coroner's verdict rendered this morning after an inquest over Mrs. Rickett's body held that the woman came to her death as the result of bullet wounds inflicted by a gun in the hands of the two youths.

CITY PARK OF ANAHEIM DESCRIBED AS MODEL IN NEW MAGAZINE

"The City Park at Anaheim" is the subject of an article published in the November editon of The California Southland, a magazine edited by M. Urmy Seares at Pasadena. An architect's drawing accompanies the article which says that the "plan may well be taken for a model by cities already well grown but holding for future use a park tract undeveloped."

The article follows:

"In the last number of California Southland was presented a plan of the park of Anaheim, designed by that city's landscape architects, Cook and Hall of Los Angeles. Those interested may send to the publisher for copies of the preceding number. This plan may well be taken for a model by cities already well grown but holding for future use a park tract undeveloped.

"In the southwest corner of the property will be developed the public auto park, with entrance and exit on North Palm street, midway between West Sycamore and West Cypress streets. About one and three-quarters acres are comprised in this development, which it is believed will be large enough to meet the auto park needs for some years to come. Later, if it becomes necessary to accommodate more visitors, a portion of the picnic grove would be used for that purpose of camping out under tents. The plan of the auto park is based on giving the greatest possible accommodation to automobile parties. Opposite the entrance, a building with caretaker's quarters, would provide accommodations such as showers, sittubs for laundry, hot and cold water, storage lockers and telephone booth. Twenty-one stalls, 30x40 feet separated by rustic fences, containing gas plates for cooking, would give ample space for pitching tents and meeting the requirements of campers. The central area of the park, surrounded by the road system, will contain three palm-thatched shelters with dining tables and seats, and a large gathering place in the cool of the evening.

"The area will be properly lighted, and the standard rules regarding sanitation and neatness must be maintained by the campers, who will pay a nominal charge for the privilege of using the auto park. The area will be enclosed by a heavy border plantation of trees and shrubs along North Palm and West Cypress streets, utilizing the existing orange trees for the present, until taller trees can be grown, so that the residences facing on the auto park may overlook a park like setting in so far as this is possible. The entire area will be enclosed by a wire fence, with ornamental gates for entrance and exit, and the park will be under the supervision of a caretaker at all times. The park plan as noted will accommodate one hundred people comfortably, and every reasonable effort is to be made for the comfort and health of visitors to Anaheim.

"In planning the auto park we have incorporated all the best features of existing auto parks, while keeping in mind the part this development may play as a factor in the Orange show or similar festivals to be held. In this connection, the stalls will be used as booths for concessions, and provision has been made for easy access into the athletic field, where the big tent would be pitched.

MANY DECORATED CARS FROM ANAHEIM WILL ENTER PARADE

The best committee of the year in Chamber of Commerce activity, according to Secretary Malcolm Fraser, is that appointed by the members at their last monthly meeting, the Armistice day parade committee, composed of A. Bayliss, F. K. Gresswell and Frank Tausch.

This body made a whirlwind campaign of the business district Tuesday and got promises of donations of 137 decorated vehicles for the Armistice day parade at Santa Ana November 11. Including in the list are decorated floats of the local Legion post, city of Anaheim, Anaheim Beef Company, Bake-Rite Bakery, California theater, Anaheim Sugar Company and Chamber of Commerce.

The local automobiles will park along East Broadway, all to be in their places by 8:45 o'clock November 11. They will take places on both sides of the street, extending as far toward Atchison street as may be necessary. Advertising signs, which may be obtained either from Mr. Gresswell or Miller & Robbins, will contain only the name of the firm entering and a line stating the business, according to the instruction from Santa Ana. Many of the entrants, especially the auto agencies, are putting into line more than one car each. Decorations should include national colors, or the colors of the American Legion, blue and gold, besides liberal foliage and floral pictures, if possible, and each car should have an appropriate sign. Sign orders should be arranged early, to avoid delay, according to the local committee.

Peggy Joyce and Wealthy Husband to Settle Their Difficulties Out of Court

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Peggy Hopkins Joyce, former Follies beauty, and her millionaire lumber man husband, today were near agreement for settlement of their marital and financial difficulties out of court.

Reports in some quarters were that an agreement had been reached allowing Peggy to retain the $1,338,316.32 worth of gifts which Joyce gave her from August 1, 1919, to the time of their separation.

Weymouth Kirkland, attorney for Mrs. Joyce, intimated the negotiations were near conclusion, but refused to confirm the report that an agreement had been reached.

In return for allowing her to keep the expensive gifts, Peggy is understood to have agreed to permit Joyce's suit for annulment of the marriage which comes up for hearing before Judge Joseph Sabath on Tuesday.

The hearing, according to the agreement, will be only perfunctory and an annulment will be entered by the court. Peggy will not have to appear.

At present Joyce is paying Peggy $1,250 a month temporary alimony and has given her $40,000 attorneys fees.

Rumors connect Peggy's name with that of Peter C. Merillon, wealthy son of a Paris banker, in case her marriage with Joyce is annulled.

ANAHEIM DELEGATES TO ATTEND MEETING OF CIVIC OFFICIALS

Victor Girard, Los Angeles subdivider, has called a meeting of secretaries and other chamber of commerce officials of Southern California cities to discuss the possibility of further developing their industrial and residential resources. Representatives of the local chamber and of Vernon, Whittier, Torrance, San Bernardino, Riverside, Ontario, Pomona and Santa Ana will attend the meeting at Walnut park Friday afternoon.

In his call of the meeting, Mr. Girard, who has been one of the most energetic community builders in Southern California, says:

"Many of us, whose interests are bound up in community development, realize that in the race to push forward the claims of Los Angeles, opportunities which smaller communities offer to home seekers, business men and investors are very often subordinated and overlooked. Moreover, we are convinced that if these otuside communities were brought together by representative men on a basis of co-operative, harmonious action, through permanent organiztion, which would support their claims and voice their development asperations, actual constructive benefits would accrue.

"Such an organization would not have interest inimical to that of Los Angeles but, as a matter of fact, could serve the broader purpose of working to distribute rationally and evenly the development which is coming to Southern California and thus discourage its congestion into any one large community. There is an obvious advantage in puting community development on a competitive basis, thus giving freer opotrunity for the best that is in each community."

Man Who Robbed Officer of Gun Held in Memphis

Circulars containing a picture and description of Henry Coyle, alias William Harvey, sent out by Sheriff C. E. Jackson proved effective in locating the man, according to a telegram from the chief of police at Memphis, Tenn., received by Jackson today.

Coyle is wanted at Huntington Beach where he is charged with holding up an officer and taking his gun away from him. The man is also wanted in San Francisco on another charge and it is understood that officers in a third city are seeking Coyle.

As the Orange County warrant was the first one issued for his arrest the man will probably be brought here for trial on the Huntington Beach charge. Deputies will probably be sent to Memphis at once to bring the man to Santa Ana to stand trial.

AUTOS USED TO CARRY DOPE MAY BE CONFISCATED

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 3.—Attorney General Webb, in an opinion handed down yesterday, upheld the constitutionality of the law passed by the last legislature providing for the confiscation of the automobiles used in the illegal transportation of narcotic drugs.

The attorney general's opinion was rendered at the request of the state board of pharmacy and settles a point long at dispute.

The ruling is considered a victory for the Narcotic Control association and others engaged in fighting the traffic, as enforcement of the new law will aid greatly in breaking up the system employed by the ring in distributing its nefarious product.

Obenchain-Burch Lawyers Await Move by Woolwine

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 3.—District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine was today expected to hurl the next firebrand into the defense stronghold of Arthur C. Burch and Madalynne Obenchain, principals in a love-tragedy which is gripping the country.

Paul Schenck, chief counsel for Burch, who opened the spectacular battle on Tuesday by unexpectedly asserting that his client had been insane since the death of John Belton Kennedy, with whose murder Burch and Madalynne are charged, said today that he and his assistants were awaiting the district attorney's next move.

Bitter Personal Feeling

Charles Erbstein, fighting Chicago attorney who is leading Madalynne's defense, asserted that he also was anxious for a move on Woolwine's part.

"I've got a lot of ammunition for that gentleman," Erbstein said, chin out.

There is bitter personal antagonism between the two, because of the district attorney's violent opposition to admitting Erbstein to practice in California courts.

Await Judge's Decision

Woolwine's move is expected to develop tomorrow afternoon, when Judge Sidney Reeve is to hear a motion by Erbstein to dismiss all charges against Madalynne on the grounds that she had not been brought to trial within sixty days afterindictment, in accordance with the penal code of California.

As for the defendants, Buch is holding himself virtually recluse in the county jail, all his former talkativeness and animation missing, while Madalynne was announced as suffering from a collapse and under a physician's surveillance.

Rice Forms Basis of Many Foreign Dishes Liked Here

Rice and potatoes are not exact equivalents in food value, although both contain a relatively large proportion of starch. Potatoes, unlike milled rice, contain minerals and vitamines B and C. If the diet, however, contains plenty of fruits and vegetables, the use of rice for potatoes makes little difference from the standpoint of nutrition, because these needed substances are abundantly supplied by the other foods, the United States department of agriculture believes.

In countries where rice is an important item of diet it is usually combined with some other local food of pronounced flavor. An American use for dry, flaky, cold boiled rice is as a salad basis. Left over peas, carrots, green beans, or fresh tomatoes may be combined with left over rice, or small amounts of fresh fruits. Grapefruit makes delicious salad when served with rice and French dressing. Plain cold boiled rice or cold pressed rice may be served with lettuce with a hot or cold cheese dressing, or with mayonnaise. Either adds greatly to the nutritive value of the dish and gives it an appetizing flavor.

Rice Combination Salad

1 1-4 cups cooked rice.
4 tablespoons chopped pimiento.
2 tablespoons grated cheese.
4 tablespoons chopped celery.
4 tablespoons green peppers or olives.

Combine the ingredients and serve on lettuce with French dressing, or mayonnaise.

Most of the rice curries in the orient are made with a basis of plain or boiled rice, to which are added other dishes combining many foods and flavors, such as minced ham, salt fish, chopped boiled eggs, fruits, or vegetables. They are usually served in a curry dish with perhaps a portion of plain rice, each person chooses as few or as many of the other dishes as desired, spreads them over the rice, then covers the whole mass with curry sauce made as follows

Curry Sauce

2 tablespoons fat.
2 tablespoons curry powder.
2 cups hot milk or water, tomato juice or cocoanut milk.
1-2 lemon.
3 cloves.
1 tablespoon grated cocoanut.
Salt and cayenne.
1 chopped onion.
1 tablespon chutney.

Melt the fat and stir in the curry powder, add the milk or water, tomato juice or cocoanut milk, and cook until it is smooth and thick, then add the other ingredients and let the sauce simmer for 30 minutes.

The dish known as pilau—a combination of rice, meat broth, meat, and fat—in some rice producing countries forms the common staple food of the people. Pilau is also a popular dish in Turkey, where it is often colored with saffron and flavored with spices or mixed with currants in a way that does not find favor with western palates. Other forms and combinations are common in the Creole cookery of the southern states. Any kind of meat or fowl may be used.

Plain Pilau

1 1-2 pounds of meat.
3 cups water.
1 teaspoon salt.
1-4 teaspoon pepper.
1-2 cup rice.
4 tablespoons butter or other fat.

Place the meat in the cold water with the seasoning and bring it slowly to the boiling point, removing the scum that rises to the surface. Cook it just under the boiling point for 30 minutes, or until the meat is about half-cooked. Pour the broth into a double boiler, add the rice, which has been washed thoroughly, and cook it until tender. The rice will absorb the broth and the grains will be unbroken. Add the fat just before removing the rice to serve. While the rice is being cooked, finish cooking the meat by browning it in the oven or in an iron kettle on top of the stove. When both rice and meat are cooked, pile the rice on a platter and place the meat on the rice.

Spanish Rice

3 onions (medium size).
1-2 cup drippings.
1-2 cup uncooked rice.
3 cups fresh or canned tomatoes.
3 green peppers cut into strips.
2 teaspoons salt.

Slice the onions and cook until tender and slightly brown in the melted fat. Remove them from the fat, add the rice, which has been carefully washed and dried, and brown it. Then add the cooked onions, tomatoes, green peppers, and salt; turn the mixture into a baking dish and bake it until the rice and peppers are tender. This will make 6 or 8 average servings.

Growing Girls Should Have Home Rooms Of Their Own

Every girl should have a room of her very own to arrange as she pleases, if the family can possibly spare the space. Girls instinctively love what is beautiful and try to express themselves in their surroundings. With a little thought and some real work the girl herself can transform an uninteresting, uninviting room into place of tranquility and charm—a sort of sanctuary to which she can escape when she wants to think things out alone, as girls often do.

The girls in the "Own Your Own Room" clubs, under the direction of the United States Department of Agriculture and various State agricultural colleges, have accomplished wonderful results in making over unattractive rooms according to the suggestions given them by club leaders and home economics specialists.

The Walls And Floor

The first step is naturally the improvement of the appearance of the empty shell of the room. A neutral shade for the walls, floor, and larger articles in the room is usually pleasing. Cushions, table covers, books, and other small, bright colored objects give the needed touch of color. Chintz or cretonne in curtains sometimes suggests the color to be emphasized. This is more informal and homelike than an attempt to have everything to match. No matter what color scheme is chosen, the darkest tones are best for the floor and its covering, lighter tones for the walls, and the lightest for the ceiling.

Smoothly finished floors partly covered with rugs are easily cared for. Paint or varnish can often be applied to an old unfinished wood floor to make it look better. Attractive bedroom rugs can be made at home by braiding, crocheting, or weaving rags and odds and ends of material.

Plain wall papers or those with inconspicuous all-over designs are good backgrounds for pictures. A plastered wall may be painted quite easily The girl herself should be able to paint both the plaster and woodwork of her room if the latter needs attention. Painted bedroom furniture is much prettier than cheap grades of oak or stained wood. Old bureaus, bedsteads, tables, and chairs, even though quite different in design, can be made to look as though they belonged together if carefully painted white, ivory or an attractive shade of gray or tan. The old finish should, however, be removed and the wood sandpapered smooth before any paint is applied.

Choosing A Good Bed

The bed is the most important piece of furniture in the room. About one-third of every 24 hours is spent on it. For health and comfort a good bed is important, especially a good mattress and spring. A simple, painted-metal single bed is desirable for a young girl. A slip-on cover of unbleached muslin is excellent for keeping the mattress coan. Sleeping without a pillow is often recommended, but the bed needs at east one pillow to make it look complete, and this, like the mattress, should be protected by a thin, close-fitting, washable cover between the ticking and the pillow case. The sheets, blankets, and comfortables should be chosen with care.

An improvised dressing table can be made by hanging a mirror over a small table. This is to be preferred to dressing tables with flounces of cretonne that collects dust. A bureau or chest of drawers is needed for storing clothes and personal belongings. Bureau and table covers should be as simple as possible and always fresh and clean. If there is room for only one chair it should be a comfortable one. A bookshelf and work table are attractive touches. If there is no room, some sort of wardrobe is needed in which to hang clothing. A good waste basket, one that will not tip is over easily nor shed dirt, should be provided. Many girls make their own.

Shades and curtains should be chosen to regulate but not shut out the light and air. Simple, durable, softly hanging material such as white or cream voile, scrim, Swiss, or cheesecloth, hemmed or hemstitched, make good washable curtains which may have overcurtains of colored or figured material.

The lighting is important. For lighting the bureau or dressing table an electric light on a drop cord or an inverted Welsbach gas burner gives a better light if suspended over it, but if kerosene is the only source of light available a bracket lamp is fastened to the wall at one side of the bureau gives the best lighting. For reading, a table lamp is most satisfactory. One or two well-chosen pictures, well framed, add to the room, but useless ornaments only increase the work of cleaning.

YESTERDAY

TODAY

FULLERTON MAN DROVE HIS CAR OVER ROAD NAPOLEON BUILT

When Sydmer Ross returned to his home, Dos Pinos Rancho at Fullerton a few days ago he had completed a long motoring trip that took himself, wife and daughter over most of Europe and into Africa.

The Ross family left California in May, 1920, and were gone nearly a year and a half and all of that time, except while crossing the Atlantic, they spent in touring by motor car. In all they drove more than 23,000 miles on the continent, nearly 2,000 miles in England, and then after reaching New York on the home bound trip motored across the continent to Fullerton. The fact that Ross drove "young" did not prevent him from doing all of the driving in spite of the fact that he was warned time after time that it would require a professional chauffeur to get his car to the places they desired to visit.

He was warned about bandits in Sicily but went unarmed and unharmed. They were warned of the difficulties of the roads over the Alps but Ross drove his big six Studebaker over a road that Napoleon had built and climbed with it to an elevation of 9,954 feet just a little lower than the summit of the Tioga Cass over the Sierra Nevada mountains.

Mountainous country was preferred by the Ross party on account of finer scenery and finer roads and to get their full share while in Spain they crossed the Pyrennes three times. While in Spain Ross was quite amused while in the leading hotel at Pampelune. One of the features of the dining table was a heap of toothpicks and between each course of the dinner the natives would engage themselves in removing all traces of thepreceding course just finished.

In only one city was it found that the car would not serve as transportation for the party for in Venice they went about in gondolas, having left the car some miles from that city and made the intervening distance by train.

There is not the congestion of traffic in Europe that is found in Southern California, for thereis a lack of cars. In the city of Paris the taxis are thick as flies, and travel at what seem to be most dangerous speeds but somehow avoid any accidents. Taxi fare is so cheap in Europe that the Ross party spent some three hours in one italian city, using three different cabs to do their errands and the entire sum spent for the three of them amounted to $1,12 in American gold.

Once before when Ross was in Europe he was motoring but as it was in 1914 and the war broke out then, his car was detained by the German authorities in a little town on the shores of Lake Constance. He was unable to get permission to ship it out of the country under any pretense and when he went to take a look at it on the recent trip he found that the tires and every other thing that could be used to advantage had been removed. Now that he can take it out it had so little value that it would not pay.

The scarcity of cars in the continent led to an offer for Ross to sell his Studebaker for $1,000 more than hehad paid for it, but as that would have left the party stranded so far as motoring was concerned the offer was refused.

Ross stated to a representative of Harry D. Riley, Studebaker dealer, that he was able to take care of the car himself during the entire trip on the continent and had no repair bills. After returning to London he had the car thoroughly inspected and only two minor repairs were required. After his arrival in New York he traded the big six for a later model of the same size and drove home finding the only really bad roads in eighteen months in Colorado and Arizona where there had been recent storms.

CUT IN AUTO PRICES MAKES BIG PROBLEM FOR USED CAR MEN

"The cut in prices of the various makes of new automobiles," says Bob Vincent of the Anaheim Auto Company, "causes the most difficult problem in the automobile game, which is to place the correct value on the used cars which have been taken in trade."

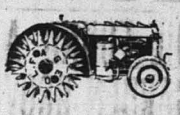

"The price cut on new cars naturally means a cut on used cars, without consideration of the price at which the used car was taken in. For example in making a price adjustment on a used car we can not take into allowance the amount allowed in trade, but must place the car at a price which the public think is a fair value.

"This has been done in pricing our used cars for our sale now in progress, for, irrespective of original appraisements, we are placing our entire stock of cars on the floor at prices which cannot help but appeal even to the most conservative buyer.

"Also our ability to finance our paper through the General Motors Acceptance Corporation enables our customers, to secure the lowest interest rates in the country, making a payment plan within the reach of everyone.

NEWS NOTES FROM BIG OIL FIELDS

RICHFIELD

Motor Oil and Refining Company No. 1 passed the Mining Bureau for a shut off at 2379, and is ready to resume drilling.

The Surp Shot Oil Company's No. 1 i snow on the beam. Completed at 2237, some cleaning out work had to be dohe with cable tools before the well went in production. On account of sanding up no figure on the production is yet available, but it is thought the well will make about 275 barrels.

The Talbert Oil Company's No. 1 has been on production now for a week and shows the capacity of a 200 barrel well.

Texas Holding Company No. 1, one of the big wells, quit flowing recently and now the tools are going into clean out. It was found that the sand had filled the hole up some 200 feet. No. 2 shows 1700 feet and drilling in hard sand.

Vista Del Mar Oil Company announces that a week from date an oil well can be duely expected to grace No. 2. Drilling stopped at 3723 and production is expected from 2600 to 2723.

BREA FIELD

The deepest well drilling in the Brea Canyon district is the Brea Canyon's No. 3-A, making hole at 3800 feet in sandy shale. No. 2 went down 4181 feet and turned out a four barrel well.

The Dolke-Thomas Syndicate No. 1 is about rigged up and ready to go. Located northwest of Fullerton on property repeatedly turned down by many of the larger companies, the drilling will be followed with much interest.

Menchego No. 1, drilled to 3250 and No. 2 drilled to 4289 have been abandoned by the Columbia Oil company. Menchego No. 2 proved a 6 barrel well and No. 1 was never drilled deep enough to get into the sand. Orange No. 7 at 3910 is now producing and is making about 100 barrels of oil and five million feet of rich gas. Pico No. 3 at 2955 is in brown shale. Pico No. 4 at 2100 is in the sandy shale.

In the Olinda field the Chansler-Canfield Oil company has one well drilling at 3500 feet

BIXBY HILLS

The recent production test made by the Bixby Ranch Syndicate failed to show any oil. Now a plug is being set to catch bottom water.

Drilling on the National Exploration company's Chino is now at 1500 feet in blue shale. Olinda No. 1 at 3800 is going very nicely.

The National Security Oil company set a string of 8 inch at 3093 and cemented.

MONTEBELLO FIELD

Drilling out the cement and making a test for the fourth time the Arcadia Oil company hopes to get a shutoff so that drilling can be resumed at 2975. No well in the Montebello field has resisted all efforts to shut off water as stubbornly as the Arcadia.

The Comanche Oil company will soon add new production to the Montebello output. At the Manly a string of 8 inch was set and cemented at 2680. Calkins No. 1 is rigging up for rotary to go deeper. The idea is to get the Calkins into the deep Eggleston sands and make a big well out of it.

Keeler No. 2 was finished at 3865 and went on a production. To date this well is pumping about 300 barrels of fluid of which close to 58 per cent is water. No. 1 at 3055 is fishing for tools.

The Pan American Petroleum company is having its troubles getting Pasadena No. 2 down. Sidetracking pipe and junk is now at 3180.

The Potter Oil company has about completed its sidetracking job and is ready to resume drilling at 3160.

The Petroleum Midway stopped drilling on Prugh No. 9 at 3456 and preparations are being made to put the well on production. Baldwin 7-A is drilling at 2965 in hard sand. Baldwin No. 11 at 2900 is drilling on iron.

Eggleston No. 1, the St. Helen's new Montebello wonder, continues to be the field's master producer. Doing close to 1700 barrels of 26 gravity oil the Eggleston well opened up a new field and started some five new wells drilling. Monterey No. 4, adjoining the Eggleston, is rigging up the rotary to deepen. Monterey No. 6 studded in and shows 800 feet of hole. Monterey No. 7 is building rig.

Drilling on Howard-Smith No. 1 is scheduled by the Standard to start in a very few days. On the Baldwin the following new wells have been located: Baldwin No. 59, 60 and 61.

The Western Pacific is putting up a fight against the trouble that makes the oil man's life interesting. With a string of tools in the hole at 3125 the outlook is not pleasing. The tools are being sidetracked so that drilling may continue.

WHITTIER-SANTE FE SPRINGS

The Union Oil Company's Bell well is the greatest oil well of its kind in the west. Completed at 3788 and flowing between 2500 and 3000 barrels of 31 gravity oil, the well is the greatest producer of light oil in the state and probably in the United States. Six inch pipe was set at 3781, the oil sand was just tapped. The gas pressure has increased from 400 pounds to 525 and the well is flowing steadily.

Drilling obligations of the Union Oil Company on the aggregate leased properties of 500 acres at Santa Fe Springs includes the starting of six wells at once. The Union will start a well on the Farwell, the Alexander, the Sanchez, the Flood, and two wells on the Bell properties.

The Standard Oil Company, bidding against the Shell and General Petroleum, secured the 62 acre Sanchez property, paying a thousand dollars bonus and giving a sixth royalty. The Standard has a rig up and will start drilling before the end of the week.

The Chansler-Canfield Midway has a lot of railroad land adjoining the Union's Bell on which a well is to be started at once.

Dan Murphy, president of the Brea Canyon Oil Company, owns the property on which the tile factory is located. Murphy has already staked out a number of wells and will begin drilling at once.

The Central Oil Company has seven acres lying right in line. The property has room for two wells. The Central will probably begin operations soon.

In addition to the Sanchez lease the Standard secured the Brownrigg-Kellar holdings and is building a rig to start drilling at once.

The General Petroleum has a 50 acre lease on which drilling operations will start soon.

According to present plans about 15 wells will be started at Santa Fe Springs within the next ten days.

The Union Oil Company's Meyer No. 5 is now drilling in the hard sand at 4800 and as yet has struck no favorable oil showings. The Union's only producer on the Meyer is No. 3, a well completed at 4595.

Whittier

All that seems to stand in the way of the Bandini becoming an oil well is the water problem. Drilled to 4050 this well has showed excellent indications of light oil. Water trouble at 3690 feet has prevented the well from making the showing it is believed it could make. At this depth the well is now standing cemented under pressure.

The Central Oil Company, operating in the old Puente field, has three wells drilling. No. 67 shut off water successfully at 1871 and is now drilling at 1955. No. 68 at 2480 is in the brown shale and No. 66 is making hole at 1955.

Drilling on the La Habra Midway's wild cat is now at 1767, the formation showing hard sandy shale. The showing of oil heralded last week was in the shale and consisted of colors only.

Standing cemented at 2345 the Southern California Oil Company's Sanderson No. 1 is ready to go ahead. The lost tools were fished out and the hole is now in perfect condition.

The Murphy-Coyote, famous for its big wells ten years ago, is till under heavy development by the Standard Oil Company. Drilling now includes ten wells. The drilling wells are Nos. 79, 80, 84, 85, 86 and 87. Nos. 80 and 90 are new locations.

On the Bastanchury lease the Standard has No. 1, a former producer, redrilling and deepening at 4475. No. 5 was put on production at 4738 and makes about 50 barrels.

Active drilling on the Whitley property now includes two wells. Whitley No. 5, the new well depened to 2565, is doing about 125 barrels. No. 6 at 2875 is in brown shale and is beginning to look favorable. At No.7 the pipe froze at 1960 and the well is standing.

PUENTE HILLS

After battling with water for a month or more the Bardeen Oil Company is making preparations to recement Getty No 1 at 2250. Indications point to a good well for Bardeen with the water shut off.

The Chino Corona United produced heavy oil at 3678. Cable tools are now being installed to go on down in search of a deeper and lighter sand.

The Gold Seal Petroleum Company is now drilling at 4035. At this depth the well is not showing any encouragement.

Contrary to the expected the Mahala Oil Company's No. 1, completed at 4010 feet, failed to flow when tried out for production a few days ago. The rods and tubing are being installed and the well will be on the beam before the end of the week. With close to 1200 feet of oil in the hole Mahala No. 1 should make a commercial producer on the pump. The well seems to have plenty of gas to bring out the production and flow, but the oil seemingly did not come in fast enough to maintain the column. Pumping and agitating will bring the oil in and probably after being on the pump awhile the well will flow.

The Pasadena Puente Oil Company set 10 inch at 820 and is getting ready to make a production test from this point to 1340 where drilling stopped last week. The well has been showing up rather good and may make a producer.

The St. Helen's Petroleum has gotten away from all its early drilling troubles on the Garnier and is now making hole at 1600 feet. The brown shale is making excellent drilling.

The Wonder Oil Company has a 90 day extension on its Garnier holdings and will not start until further developments are made in this new field.

The Puente Hills Oil Company, a new concern in the field, has a rig up and is about ready to start drilling.

The Pomona Oil Company continues to make hole steadily and is getting down to where something should show up soon. At 3255 the formation is brown sandy shale that may shade off into oil sand at any time.

The International Petroleum Company drilled 749 feet of hole and shut down for want of funds. International claims to have excellent territory and is making an appeal for financial assistance.

NEWPORT-SAN JOAQUIN HILLS

Drilling on the H. T. & K. Syndicate stopped at 3102 and the well is standing idle. It is understood that the company is awaiting developments.

At 1250 feet the Northland Oil Company set 12 1-2 inch but did not get a shut off.

The Nu Santa drilling at 2335 feet is showing considerable oil and looks rather good. The Nu Santa got a shut off without any trouble.

That the Wircher-Gray oil interests think well of the Newport field is evidenced by the fact that this company is starting a rig for the fourth well. No. 1 is down 2809 feet in clay and gravel. No. 2 shows 2500 feet in the sandy shale and No. 3 is a rig. No. 4 is building.

At Newport the Interstate Oil Company has resumed work on one well, Heights No. 1. Drilling has just started.

Drilling on the Long Beach Consolidated is now at 3115 feet. Indications are about the same as have continued for the last 200 feet. The sandy brown shale carries gas in quantity and shows oil colors.

HAWTHORNE-INGLEWOOD

Kitselman is satisfied with a showing that appeared in the Hicks well at 3800 and is trying to shut off bottom water so that the showing can be satisfactorily tested out. Playa Del Rey No. 1 at 1700 had the 6 inch casing string freeze.

Although the Standard Oil Company has abandoned the wells on the Bohon and Landowners leases the properties have not been relinquished.

REDONDO

Satisfied that there is a deep oil sand carrying light oil at Redondo the Chansler-Canfield Midway is making preparations to go on down with Redondo No. 1. At 3935 this well started off with an initial production of 200 barrels, but like all top sand wells it did not hold up. Redondo like all the other Southern California fields is believed to have a second sand and in this sand the C. C. M. O. will bring in a real oil well soon.

The Union Oil Company's Sommers No. 1, now drilling at 4350, is in brown shale and shell. This well is falling into the doubtful class and will probably not make a producer. The Union's Redondo well on the Francis lease is drilling at 2600 and has had some showings.

LOS ANGELES

Beaat drilling a tEagle Rock states that at 2600 the formation is sandy blue shale and the outlook for a well is not discouraging.

The Burkhart well at Palms is drilling at 3745 in sandy brown shale.

NEW OIL DEVELOPMENT ON SIGNAL HILL IS PREDICTED NOW

Alexander Hurah, general sales director of the Fifty-Fifty Oil and Land Syndicate of Long Beach, was a business visitor today at the branch office in Anaheim.

In an interview with a Herald representative Mr. Hurah said:

"There will be big developments in the Signal Hill oil fields within a few weeks which will mark the beginning of a reign of prosperity unparalleled in the history of Southern California, and that's saying a good deal for a section of the state whose dynamic enterprise has astonished the whole world."

"Signal Hill is proven oil territory. The best proof next to the gushing oil itself is the fact that the Standard Oil Company, the biggest operating oil concern in the United States, and the Shell Oil Company, the biggest in Great Britain, are contending for supremacy in this field and have planned to spend millions of dollars in development."

GUILLEN PLEADS NOT GUILTY AT HEARING

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 2.—"I want the state of California to be satisfied. I don't care what becomes of me."

This was the statement in court this morning of Luis Guillen, alias Vicente Melcossa, alleged slayer of Deputy Sheriffs Theodore Crossley and Henry Nelson. But after consulting with W. J. Bensheof, who was appointed his attorney, Guillen decided to enter a plea of not guilty.

He was secretly brought here from San Bernardino at 8 o'clock this morning. The preliminary hearing was conducted without delay and he was ruled back to jail in the neighboring county. The trial was set for November 22 before Judge George Freeman.

Trial by jury is said to have existed in 2,000 B. C.

In an average life of 70 years, not counting the first 10, over 21 years are spent in sleep, over 16 in work, 11 months in dressing and undressing, and 7 months in church going, says one statistician.

Fluffy Ruffles Take Place of Hard Material

Each year brings out more fascinating models in lingerie styles charming in their lovely daintiness. Undergarments that are stiffly starched and uninterestingly plain, as in the good old days, when endurance was the chief thought, practically do not exist today.

Since woman's heart has always delighted in pretty attractive lingerie, she has discarded those old stiff ideas and now wears soft silks and linens, georgettes and Italian silks.

Pajamas for milady started out quite simply, following the lines of those for gentlemen, but now they have deviated to the soft charm of silks and added dainty tucks, laces and frills until, behold, sets of crepe de chine of delicate pinks, orchids, yellows cut and sewed to please the wearer. The coat and trousers, alike, are trimmed to fascinate.

Could any woman resist a raspberry confection of filet and georgette, combining a filet strapped chemise with step-in bloomers? Or would she rather be intrigued by a white Italian silk set of bloomers and vest, stripped with blue, or just the dainty pastel pink? The bodice of the chemise would have a yoke or band of hand work.

The stayed ideas of our grandmothers are giving way to the real comfort and charm of soft materials with every thought given to their attractiveness.

CERRO VILLA HEIGHTS SUB-DIVISION SELLING FAST, SAY REALTORS

Cerro Villa Heights, the newest and one of the fast citrus subdivisions that will ever be placed on the market in Orange county, has started out with a rush. Since it was first placed on the market, which was just a few months ago, practically one-third of the three hundred sixty acres which comprise the tract have been sold, mostly to local orange growers and business people.

The C. B. Berger Company, Anaheim realtors, are general sales agents for the tract for the owners, the Jotham Bixby Company of Long Beach. Hugh Thompson and Willard Smith, well-known engineers and horticulturists of Villa Park did the development work, and they have ont spared the large resources of the Bixby's in converting this little valley, lying in the foothills north and east of Villa Park, into one of the most highly developed orange grove properties in Southern California. The plantings are all Valencia oranges, the stock having been propagated especially for this tract by Smith and Thompson.

A mutual water company comprising the owners of the groves in the tract, owns the water system, which is declared by experts to be one of the most efficient in the entire district. The distributing system is so arranged that no night irrigation will be necessary even when the groves will have reached the full bearing stage. Splendid macadamized road system is now under construction throughout the tract and the county recently extended the boulevard running north from Villa Park almost to the property. The climatic conditions in Cerro Villa Heights are known to be ideal for Valencia oranges, the property lying high with a south slope and being protected on the north by high foothills, and with a clear, open view of the ocean on the southwest. Mr. Thompson, one of the engineersw ho has been manager of the Bixby ranch for the last twenty-eight years, has kept an accurate record of the temperatures for many years and they prove that this particular location is especially adapted to the growing of citrus fruits, avocados and winter tomatoes and peas.

Some of the purchasers of groves in Cerro Villa Heights are the following, their groves ranging in size from four and one-half acres to fifteen acres. A number of them have built homes on their groves and others are planning on building on sites which are just being laid out in the foothills the tract and valley below: John Kogge and J. Roy Smith of Orange; Nelson McArthur and W. Scott Elmer of Santa Ana; A. Yturry of Placentia; Dr. Thos. Warden of Anaheim; C. O. Thompson of Villa Park; Dr. M. M. Seymour of Regina, Sask.; E. H. Paddock of El Modena; Dr. Leon Patrick of Orange; Martin Hausladen of Anaheim, two groves; and W. Cruzen of San Gabriel and Placentia, two groves.

The Berger company handled the sales of the Peralta Hills Tract, a few years ago, for the Bixbys, Smith and Thompson also being the engineers for that tract, and it was all sold out in a very short time. It is located a short distance up the Santa Ana Canyon, on the boulevard and is now dotted with beautiful homes and bearing groves, and the owners value their properties at from $2,500 to $4,500 an acre.

REAL COUNT TO TAKE PART IN PLAY, SAYS PRETTY DIRECTOR

Quick, girls! Primp up your hair, apply a touch of rouge and a dash of powder, adding a sweet smile and a graceful pose, for Anaheim is to be visited by a real count, his royal highness Count Trenville, who will arrive in this city next week. He is a descendant of the royal blood of France and is making his first visit in this country. He is well known throughout the social circles abroad and is a great sportsman. A pair of eyes and a dimple or two are his great downfall. Why is he paying Anaheim a visit? is the question being asked by hundreds. It is simple to answer. He is a personal friend of Miss Miller and is making the trip in order to play a special engagement in the cast of "Miss Dolly Dimples," to be seen at the California theater November 14, under the anspices of the Elks for their Christmas charity fund and you will see one of the cleverest productions ever staged as well as helping the good cause, so be a good booster for it is to be some show.

TWELVE DODGE CARS SOLD HERE IN MONTH

Charley Mann says that the greatest difficulty he has encountered lately is getting enough Dodge cars to meet the demand. He recently received a two carload shipment and has been able to fill a number of back orders. Now that the railroad strike has been sidetracked he feels hopeful of getting more cars through to this territory. Mr. Mann says he finds the Dodge is such that it is just as popular with the person who doesn't own one as with the person who does.

During the month of October, twelve new Dodge cars have been delivered. Following are the sales: Dodge 1 1-2 ton truck to H. H. Hale, Placentia; Dodge screen commercials to Joe Silva, Anaheim, and Harry Radin, Anaheim; Dodge touring cars to Consuelo Melos, Los Alamitos; Herman Backs, Anaheim; A. J. Lenain, Anaheim; W. Sanderfield, Anaheim; Max Salschelder, Anaheim; R. E. Grimm, Anaheim; Emory E Knipe, Anaheim; Mrs. N. I. Schulz, Anaheim; Dodge Roadster to Ross Johnson of Yorba Linda.

Well-Made Coops Necessary To Poultry Prize Winners

Not infrequently improperly built and unsuitable coops have resulted in accidents and damage to the fowl in transit, or have presented the birds in such objectionable surroundings that they have been neither pleasing to the judge nor to the judge.

Special Shipping Coops Advisable

Where fowls are shipped by express, in order to have them reach their destination in the best possible condition, they should be transported in special shipping coops, which should be substantially built and able to withstand rough handling. Such a coop may be made from waste lumber salvaged from dry goods boxes or second hand half-inch material. Boards more than one-half inch thick should not be used, as they make the coop too heavy and the express charges excessive. The coop should be nailed together with the supports of the slats or cover on the top, which should be put on with screws or hinges and hooks, so that it may be easily opened. This is important, as the top or cover must be opened each time the coop is used, and if put on with nails it is soon broken and the coop spoiled.

There are standard sizes of coops which commonly are used for shipping poultry, the dimensions of these containers varying according to the number of fowls to be transported. The following dimensions should be used in constructing the coop for one hen or cock, 12 inches wide, 18 inches long, and 24 inches high; for two hens or one hen and cock, 12 inches wide, 24 inches long, and 24 inches high. In preparing for shipment, a small quantity of hay, straw, or dry shavings should be placed in the bottom of the coop to absorb moisture, and two cups or cans should be provided—one for feed and one for water. The cups should be fastened securely to the side walls in opposite corners, about half way to the top of the coop. A tag or card, plainly marked, showing the destination of the shipment, as well as the return address, must be tacked or pasted on the outside, where it can be plainly seen.

Special exhibiton coops should be used by poultry club members in exhibiting fowls at county and school fairs or other exhibitons, or by adult showmen in displaying their champion poultry. Such coops should not be user for shipping poutry but may be employed to take the birds to the show, if carried by wagon or motor car. The floor should be solid and the framework of wooden strips, 2 inches wide and 1 1-2 inches thick. The top, back, and sides may be covrede with lath, wire netting, or any kind of thin, strong cloth. The front should be of 2 inch wire netting. If it is impossible to otbain netting, however, laths may be used, but the strips should be placed about 2 1-2 inches apart, to afford as much opportunity as possible to see the birds. The coop should be made in the form of a 2-foot cube, and will accommodate one mature bird or a pair of chickens. If more than this are to be exhibited together the coop shbuld be made larrer in proportion to the number of fowls it is to accommodate.

Every poultry club member or other fowl fancier, who intends to exhibit birds, should construct one or more exhibition coops of this type, according to the number of specimens he intends to exhibit. Birds can be trained and conditioned in these coops before the exhibiton, and after becoming accustomed to them they will appear to better advantage when being judged.

Furthermore, when birds are shown in coops of this kind that are uniform in size and type, not only is the appearance of the showroom improved, but the individual exhibit is more attractive. Training and exhibiting some of the best specimens of both old and young birds every fall is an interesting and important part of boys' poultry club work.

BRITONS WHO PAY GAMBLING DEBTS BY CHECK MAY NOW RECOVER MONEY, LORDS RULE

LONDON.—A far-reaching and, for England, sensational decision has been rendered by the House of Lords in a ruling that mone paid by check in settlement of a gambling debt is recoverable by the loser.

The decision opens an avenue for possible litigation involving hundreds of thousands of pounds sterling, and if all losers insisted upon their rights under the law it would mean the ruin of scores of the bookmakers who do a big business at all the race meetings.

The ruling has caused a furore in sporting circles and the bookmakers have called a special meeting to consider the situation.

Fred Fishering, brother of A. F. Fishering of this city, advertising manager at Redlick's, has received honors in national advertising. Several months ago Fishering developed an idea that he thought would be useful to the American Tobacco company, as a feature in the publicity campaign of one of their products. At a meeting of the board of directors of the company in New York last week the idea was adopted with Fishering receiving a wire of the acceptance.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—German marks, which passed in this country at 23 8-10 cents before the war, today broke to a new low record, today at a small fraction over one-half of one per cent after an early bid price of less than one-half cent apiece. Trading nevertheless was small.

Reds Nabbed As They Set Bomb In Havana

HAVANA, Nov. 3.—Two men, Antonio Pazos, Cuban, and Jose Rodriguez, a Spaniard, said to be connected with the syndicalist labor athenaeum, were arrested yesterday while placing a bomb at a corner in the business section of Havana. They were also charged with being the authors of propaganda directed against American officials in Cuba.

SINGING AND DANCING ON NEW CALIFORNIA BILL TONIGHT

For genuine entertainment, the Meiklejohn and Dunn vaudeville road show which is coming to the California theater will be found hard to beat. Singing, dancing, comedy, in fact everything which goes to make up an entertaining vaudeville bill will be found on the program for tonight.

Ed Blondell and his company say they have made half the world laugh. Those who have seen "The Boy From Home" agree that even in China there would be miles of smiles if this tubby comedian appeared there.

Davy Jamieson dances his way right into the hearts of his audience, and he is sure that Anaheim will prove no exception to this rule.

That agile pair, Wire and Walker, smile as they thrill, and their unusual offering is something new to the vaudeville stage, if such a thing is possible. Pretty costumes, special scenic effects and aparatus all go to make this one of the most enjoyable acts on the bill.

The patrons of Grauman's Million Dollar theater were charmed by the beautiful voices of this Naive Alpine Trio. Although they have been in this country only a short time, this talented trio has played to hundreds of people throughout the country.

The photoplay which will be shown in conjunction with this unusual vaudeville program, is "Moonlight Follies" in which that bewitching little sprite of the screen, Marie Prevost, is to be seen.

Examination Ordered For Postmaster At Bay City

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—An examination for the office of postmaster in San Francisco was ordered today by the civil service commission. It is not known here whether there will be any other entrants for the examination but James B. Power, who has been agreed upon by Senators Johnson and Shortridge for the place. In any event, the senators have decided that if Postmaster Fay resigns before the result of the examination is announced they will ask to have Power appointed as acting postmaster until the permanent appointment can be made.

Standard Advances Oil Price In Pennsylvania

PITTSBURG, Nov. 3.—The Joseph Zoep agency here, buyers for Standard Oil, announced the price of Pennsylvania crude oil at the wells is advanced 50 cents per barrel to $4. This is the biggest advance since the upward movement in oil began several months ago.

Unhappiness is often an illness, a cure for which may be found in rest or a change.

PROBABLY.

"Why do they hold Thanksgiving in late November," asked little Billy Scrooge.

"Because it probably dawned just then, on the inventor of the holiday, that Christmas comes but once a year," growled his father.—Farm Life.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You can Bring Back Color and Lustre with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is mussy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or Bladder troubles you—Salts is fine for Kidneys.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

CAPPELLE AND NEFF FIGHT TO DRAW AT RE-OPENING OF CLUB

A packed house greeted the reopening of the Delhi Athletic Club at Santa Ana last night and the fans were rewarded by an excellent card of bouts. Billy Cappelle of San Pedro and Chet Neff of Seattle went four fast and exciting rounds to a draw in the main event of the evening. There was little to choose between either boy and Referee Lloyd Neal's decision of a draw was well received. In the semi-windup, Young Garcia was again returned winner in his go with Kid Louie of Placentia. Louie lost the fight by taking his time and covering up too much (at the advice of his friends), and thereby lost a good many chances of beating Garcia, who was fighting all the time. It was a good fight at that, the fans being on edge all through it. Referee Neal's decision was fair, according to promoters, and did not deserve the booing which followed.

Old Father Time George Moss beat K. O. Less Swall every round and was given a draw for his trouble in the poorest fight on the card.

The real event of the night was the go between Young Burton and Eddie Young of Long Beach. Both boys went after each other hammer and tongs and there was no let up in the whole of the four rounds. Burton had the big edge in the first two rounds, dropping his man three times by well placed right crosses, but in the third round, when it looked certains for Young Burton got careless and ran into a right cross himself that put him on the floor for nine counts. From then on the tide of battle changed. Young came back like a house afire and fought the little darky to a standstill. Both boys showed great rameness and were all in at the finish. It was one of the greatest four round bouts ever witnessed by Orange county fans and the draw decision was the only one to give.

In the curtain raiser, Teddy Cruz of San Pedro made short work of Battling Rose, putting him on the floor for the count in the second round.

OLD GRUDGE FIGHTS INSURE GOOD CARD HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

By BILLY DARNLEY

Tomorrow night's weekly boxing card at Sparks' Fistic Farm appears to be a regular one. Some classy boys have been lined up for the occasion and some rare old battles will undoubtedly take place. Johnny Meyer, the fighting Glendale fireman, heads the list against that good boy, Young Stanley Ketchell. Ketchell, it will be remembered, some time back put up a whale of a fight with Kid Mexico. Although losing the decision, which at its worst should have been a draw, he made more friends than the winner by his gameness and gady, willing style of mixing. Meyer has never failed to put up an excellent go of it each time he has appeared on the card here and that has made him a great favorite with local fight bugs. He and Ketchell figure to come through with a rip-snorter of a fight and there appears to be little to choose between the two as both are in tip-top shape to set a fast pace.

When Big Jack Iman and Bill Burns get together, another red hot mill can be expected for both boys are big, strong huskys and rough going, and besides, carry a wicked wallop. Iman is out to redeem himself for the poor showing he made against Steve Dalton and, confidently, expects to make short work of Burns Friday night. He wants a return match with Dalton and claims he will not rest until he gets it.

The prelims look out of the ordinary for this week's card for with that sturdy colored youngster, Young Burton, and Clarence Rubidoux tangling there is sure to be some fur flying. The baby brother of Ad. is going after these days and Burton will find out he has a man's contract on his hands when he hooks up with ough Rubidoux. This bout should prove to be the star one of the evening. What should run it a close second is the fracas between Joe Chaney, the Whittier flash, and JoeCappelle, Billy Cappelle's little brother. Joe is carrying a knockout wallop around with him now and any time it lands something is going to drop. However, that is not worrying Young Cappelle for he is also in the possession of a punch.

A snappy curtain raiser is on the program. Paul Darden, the hard hitting 122-pounder from Huntington Beach, and clever Young Frankie from Placentia will tangle. The card looks to be the real goods from the curtain raiser to the main event and a good sized crowd is expected.

Football is very popular in Burma, India, the players wearing no footgear, and kicking the ball with the bare feet.

IT is one of the very last subdivisions of strictly high-class young Valencia oranges that will ever be placed on the market in Orange County—

Most of the purchasers of groves in this tract are experienced orange growers of this section, and all of them are thoroughly familiar with local conditions and values—

Here are the names and addresses of some of the purchasers of groves in Cerro Villa Heights—in Cerro Villa Heights, at the present price, because they know they are the best value in this entire section, and they are buying now because they realize the present price is the bed-rock bottom, and that values must steadily increase along with development and growth—

UNEXPLAINED CRIMES

A grand jury has censured a New York city paper fo rhaving published a list of "unsolved murder mysteries." It alleges that the list in great part "false and untrue." This is a singular situation.

In New York city are frequent murders. So many of them remain unsolved that an imposing list might be made without appending a single case to be classified as "false and untrue." In this respect New York does not differ particularly from other centers of population. Chicago and Philadelphia also have crimson records. In each place such mystery as may be constituted of an unexplained murder is common. Coming nearer home, the charges that New York resents and the grand jury condemns, may with justice made against the metropolis of California.

Perhaps there is a misunderstanding of terms. Ordinarily the solution of a murder mystery involves discovery of the perpetrator, the disclosure of his purpose and methods, and in instances, even his punishment. The only really satisfactory solution must lie in the placing of the guilt wheer it belongs. But if the police regard murder as an incident too common to be worth solving, something to be taken for granted as part of the history of the day, they thus wipe the slate clean. They may look upon the demand for detailed explanation as an impertinence.

A glance over police records will show that of the murders less than half result in arrest. When such a crime occurs it is mentioned in the news. If the victim was a person of standing, news value may cling to his name until after the funeral. Then the whole matter be dropped and virtually forgotten.

It is not surprising that a New York journal should have gone over the files and presented a resume of homicidal activities. It would be surprising if it could not make the showing impressive enough by citing facts, and not introducing the element of fiction.

TH ESOLDIER BONUS

Senator Reed has awakened his colleagues from any dream they may have had that the soldier bonus bill had gone back into committee to repose indefinitely. Whatever they may do with the measure, the thought that they are to have the chance to sidestep it is banished by the Reed amendment.

It will be recalled that the measure went back to committee at the direct suggestion of President aHrding. He addressed the senate in order that there should be no misunderstanding as to his views.

While in some quarters the presidential attitude was warmly approved, a small part of such approval came from ex-service men. They felt that the promises made to them when they started overseas had not been kept. They pointed to the fact that even Canada, its losses far greater than those of the United States, its resources far less, had taken care of its returned soldiers on a scale of comparative munificence.

Senator Reed is a democrat, and it is natural to suppose him not unwilling to put the administration "in a hole." However, the citations made in support of his amendment are awkward things to meet.

"I am going to tell them [ex-soldiers], he said, "that the reason they could not have the adjusted compensation was that it was proposed to tax the tax off the profiteers . . . . . .the men who stayed home while they went abroad to lose their health, to lose their jobs, and some of their brothers to lose their lives."

The senate is having a hard time with the tax question due to the fact that a tax is quite likely to be objectionable to the man who has to pay it. The republicans are experiencing difficulty in carrying out the administration program. Where they have been successful it has been by narrow margin. And now comes Reed detracting still further from their modicum of gladness.

The Santa Barbara News and Independent has appeared in eight-column form, every page giving evidence of the quality often described as pep. Confidence and prosperity seem to characterize the entire issue.

A curious sort of man makes complaint that he was induced to buy a machine for the manufacture of paper money. The method was to insert a $1 bill, turn a crank, and watch the paper emerge as a bill of much higher denomination. Such a man gains nothing by exposing his stupidity. His real quarrel is with Providence that neglected to provide him with brains.

Housewife Finds Burglar in Home Effects Capture

Returning home from an afternoon call on a neighbor, Mrs. Jean H. Berry of 251 Westminister road, Brooklyn, walked into her home to catch a burglar.

On entering she heard a noise upstairs. She called out and a gentlemanly stranger descended the stairs. Mrs. Berry grabbed him and demanded to know why he was there.

"I came to visit Mrs. Simpson, who lives upstairs, the man replied evenly, although the house was a detached one-family home and appeared to be nothing else.

"You're a burglar," accused Mrs. Berry.

The gentleman was shocked.

"Just go upstairs and wou will see that nothing is missing," he challenged.

Mrs. Berry declined and with that, the intruder made a hasty exit through the front doorway. Calling for help, Mrs. Berry attracted the attention of Patrolman George Chandler, a four months rookie of the Parkville station. He jumped on a motorcar and ran the fugitive down.

"He threw jewelry away as he ran," declared Mrs. Berry to the patrolman, when the alleged burglar was brought beforei her for identification. Search along the street recovered a gold wedding ring, two gold diamond rings, a string of gold beads, a wristwatch and a diamond lavalliere. A diamond ring is still missing.

By the time the prisoner was brought to the station house it was necessary to summon Ambulance Surgeon Stewart of the Kings County Hospital to treat him for heroin.

When arraigned before Magistrate Geismar in Flatbush court, the prisoner waived examination and was held for the grand jury. According to the police, the man's name is Edward McGinnis, alias "Ed Hay," 23, of 1530 Minford place, the Bronx. The police allege that he was given a suspended sentence in 1917 by special sessions as a narcotic fiend. They also stated that in 1918 he was convicted of a burglary in the Bronx, but was sent to Rikers Island to take treatment for his narcotic craving. Sentence was suspended when he came out. In 1919, according to the police, he was sent to Sing Sing for two years for a Bronx burglary, later being transferred to Dannemora during an epidemic of influenza. The police say he was discharged last Christmas.

WHO DO YOU S'POSE CAME TO TAD'S RESCUE?

By John Barton

(Copyright, 1921, by The Associated Newspapers.)

YOU can imagine how Nibble Rabbit felt. Here he'd brought Trailer the Hound way into the middle of the Deep Woods to rescue Tad Coon. And now Trailer said he felt like helping the foxes who were after Tad. All because Tad would play tricks that were funnier for him than they were for the other fellow. Poor Nibble was at the end of his wits!

But folks sometimes say things they don't exactly mean. Like

No; That Couldn't Be Anybody But the Red Cow.

Trailer. He was just having a good growl at Tad. It gave him such a nice excuse for not getting into a mixup. For those red rascals were in such a terrible rage he knew mighty well there would be biting if he took after them. All the same he hated to tuck his tail between his legs and sneak back home. He was glad nobody but Nibble was there to see him. But Nibble would tell Tommy Peele's dog, Watch, for sure and certain.

He sat down to think it over. And the harder he thought the more ashamed he looked. He knew what Watch would do; Watch wasn't afraid of anything. Nibble didn't set down. He couldn't puzzle this out, but he had a curious feeling that his furry feet had better be ready to jump. Something was going to happen.

It was still as still. Trailer shook his head till his ears flapped as if a fly had bit one of them. But no fly buzzed. The cool night air had stiffened every wing until sun-up. It was Trailer's own cowardliness that stung him.

Nibble couldn't have told you whether the chill in the brisky fur along his spine was fright or the tickly teasing of the dawn wind. It woke a fustle in the leaves, a whimpery sound like the wail of poor discouraged Tad. It grew louder, louder, as if it were hiding something—as it was. It was hiding footsteps.

The first thing Nibble heard was: Blam! Crack! Ker-smash! It wasn't a tree falling. When a tree falls the "crack!" comes first and the "blam" comes next, as it hits the earth, and there's much more "Ker-smashing." And no tree comes ker-flommoxing through the woods on four clumsy feet, lowing "Foxes! Foxes! Let me at 'em. No, that couldn't be anybody but the Red Cow. You know how she hated them! And she was in the Deep Woods, even if she couldn't squeeze through the wire fence like the woodsfolk do. Or climb it, either.

Up leaped Trailer, all enthusiasm. "This way!" he barked. "Right this way! Now we'll fix 'em."

AUTO CLUB PUBLISHES RULES OF COURTESY FOR MOTORIST

Courtesy on the road among motorists is akin to safety, say officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California, and a new "courtesy series of suggestions is now being issued by the club for the thousands of motorists in this section of the country.

Lack of courtesy, it is pointed out, often leads to recklessness which in turn leads to accidents. Therefore motorists are asked to read the following courtesy rules and see if they win to observe them.

These are the suggestions for courteous treatment of each other offered to auto owners throughout the United States by the Auto club:

1. When a man approaching you from behind sounds his horn as a signal that he wishes to pass, don't "step on it." Draw over to the right and let him go by.

2. Do not use more than your half of the road, thus crowding others into the ditch.

3. It is not courteous to "steal" a parking space from a man who is just getting ready to back into it.

4. Do not imagine that every motorist on the road who tries to pass you is starting a race. He may be on important business.

5. When you pass a man from behind, going in the same direction, do not cut in directly in front of him. This is discourteous.

6. Do not shove another man's car along the curb to make room for yours, thus jamming his car against a fire plug or a car ahead.

7. It is discourteous to halt behind a traffic jam and honk your horn.

8. The correct giving of hand signals is courteous as well as safe.

The "double," a small bronze coin worth half a farthing and still minted in Guernsey, is the smallest coin in circulation in Great Britain.

Solomon's Temple, for the building of which practically the whole manhood of Israel was commandeered, would have cost $5,000,000,000 to construct at present prices.

THE TASK

Talk not of death. Nor dream too much beyond
The rose'e blush, the water's brink, the frond
Of tropic palm, the glacier or the sky
That may be mist, or shroud infinity.

They work is here, not there! Is near, not far!
Why seek to fathom space or plumb a star
When there are mouths to feed and souls to saw
And hearts to soothe so far this side the grave.

That same wise Providence that bade us be,
Bids death and rest; mayhap Eternity,
That not a dread or hope of mine shall move
From its unalterable fact, or prove
What is or what is not.

So let us do
The work as faithful artisans and true,
And as for sleep at last in this poor shell,
What matters when or where, if we sleep well.
