ANAHEIM PEOPLE THANKED FOR CO-OPERATION IN S.S. MEET PLANS

Citizens Urged To Take Advantage Of Opportunity To Show Hospitality While Visitors Are Here.

A communication thanking the people of Anaheim for their co-operation in the preparation for the coming convention of the Southern California Sunday School association and urging them to take advantage of this opportunity to show real Anaheim hospitality to the visitors when they arrive, was received today by the Herald from the general convention committee. The letter points out that help has been received from all of the churches, the chamber of commerce, the mayor and the city trustees and from the people of the city generally who have promised to throw open their homes to accommodate the delegates while in the city.

More Autos Needed

The letter makes a further appeal to the citizens to furnish an automobile for the parade and to attend the open sessions of the convention.

The communication follows:

"We thank you for the opportunity that you give us to say just a word to the people of Anaheim concerning the coming convention of the Southern California Sunday School association, which will meet in the White Temple November 8, 9 and 10.

1500 Visitors Expected

"This gathering will bring a large number of visitors of a representative type to our city. It is expected that there will be at least 1500 visitors here each of the days named.

"As members of the general convention committee we wish officially to express our appreciation of the cooperation we have had from the churches of Anaheim and the citizens generally.

"The city trustees joined with us in inviting the convention to Anaheim and the mayor of the city has issued a proclamation asking the business houses to close from 2 to 4 o'clock the afternoon of November 10, the time of the great parade. This will greatly help to give inspiration to all. We also appreciate the gift of the city tubs and their use.

Schools to Close Nov. 10

"We are also deeply grateful to the grammar and high school boards for closing the school the afternoon of November 10.

"The chamber of commerce, which also joined with us in giving the invitation to the Sunday School association to hold its convention here, has helped us in many ways besides sending out effective publicity to the churches and papers of the state.

"We appreciate the hospitality and good will of the citizens who have opened their homes to the incoming guests and this has been done by people of all religious faiths and of no profession. It is a big undertaking to try to entertain so large a company as will be here next week, but we hope to do it in such a way that they will remember Anaheim favorably, and so that some of them will want to make their home here.

Great Speakers on Program

"The program has been arranged for the convention. We can say this much, that it has been the work of the state association. Many of the finest speakers of the state will speak from the convention platform and everyone of them will be worth hearing.

"The women of the churches will serve two meals each of the first two days and the noon meal the last day, providing for 500 at each time. This, with what the restaurants can serve, will take care of the situation in this particular. It is requested that the Anaheim friends give the church dining room over to use of our visiting friends for these days.

"May we make this one request: That every loyal citizen of Anaheim who has not done so already, furnish a car for the parade.

"See the beautiful pageant prepared and given by local talent. Be sure to attend the evening meetings, and the last night hear Dr. Brougher in his humorous lecture, 'What's Under Your Hat,' and see the film that night, 'Alice in Hungerland.'

LOS ANGELES FACTORY DESTROYED BY FIRE EARLY TODAY

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—The $85,000 plant of the Elaterite company in the West Vernon district was completely wiped out in an early morning fire today.

Several explosions from gas retorts occufred during the blaze, which was difficult for firemen to cope with. The Pioneer Paper company and other nearby industrial plants were saved only after a hard fight.

The Elaterite company has been manufacturing a compound used by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company in the manufacture of tires.

City's Reputation For Hospitality at Stake--Riley

Harry D. Riley, president of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce, in a statement issued to the Herald today says that the city's reputation for hospitality is at stake when the annual convention of the Southern California Sunday School Associaton opens here next week. He urges all citizens to co-operate with the committee in charge of the convention in the plans for the program in general and especially in connection with the parade of automobiles which closes the three-day session here.

Mr. Riley's statement follows:

"It has been brought forcibly to my attention during the past few days that the thirty-second annual convention of the Southern California Sunday School Association to be held at the White Temple here, next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, November 8, 9 and 10, will mean much to the Anaheim district and Orange county generally.

"The committee engaged in perfecting plans for this great meeting of Sunday school workers report that they are short rooms and breakfast accommodation for one hundred couples. Also, that one hundred more automobiles must be loaned with drivers, to be at the White Temple at 2 p. m. Thursday, November 10, and to be in use to 4:30 that afternoon, in connection with the great auto parade of the delegates through Orange county.

"Anaheim's reputation for hospitality, long successfully maintained, is at stake unless we accomplish the desires of the committees now in the field, in regard to beds, meals and autos, above set forth.

"May I ask that all who will furnish these accommdations, ring up the chamber of commerce, telephone 665, at once, stating the details in each case. You may be assured that your generous co-operation will be highly appreciated by the entire community."

POLICE NET THROWN OUT TO GET THREE L. A. MAIL BANDITS

LOS ANGELES Nov. 4.—A "telegraphic cordon" was being cast all over Southern California today by postal authorities in an effort to capture three armed bandits who late last night literally kidnapped a United States mail truck from the heart of the congested district.

An estimate on the loss had not been made today. Four sacks of registered mail were stolen.

The mail thieves, in a touring car, ran their machine directly in front of the mail truck, which had just left a postal sub-station, and stopped, blocking the narrow street.

One of the bandits ran back, jumped on the step of the mail truck and thrust a revolver against Nelson G. Grimes, the driver.

"Make a false move and I'll drill you," he said. "Drive ahead."

Grimes drove the truck as directed half way across the city, the bandit car following close behind. The strange caravan came to a halt in a secluded spot, opening to a dark little-used alley.

Handcuffing the driver to the wire cage of the truck, the bandits hauled out four full sacks of registered mail, loaded them into their own car, and disappeared.

Pedestrians did not find Grimes for a quarter of an hour, despite his calls for help, according to his story.

EXPLOSION OF TANK CAUSES FIRE ALARM

Explosion of a acetylene tank at the Anaheim Welding company this afternoon resulted in considerable excitement but little damage. A backfire in an engine on which work was being done caused the explosion. A part of the tank was hurled through the roof.

By the time the fire department arrived the burning carbide had been extinguished.

ANAHEIM SECOND TEAM WINS FROM ORANGE IN GAME HERE

The Orange "skeeter-weight" football team met defeat by the Anaheim "skeeter-weights" yesterday afternoon on the local field. The game was a fight from start to finish, the final score resulting 13 to 0 in Anaheim's favor.

This afternoon the Orange regular team is playing the Anaheim team to decide third place in the Orange County league. The game promises to be a fast one because the two teams are evenly matched in weight.

BUILDING PERMITS FOR THREE DAYS PASS OCTOBER MARK

Anaheim's building program for the month of November has started off most propitiously. During the first three days the total permits issued exceeded in value the permits for the full month of October. The total is $189,450 as against $181,650 for October.

The permit for the new Kraemer building makes up this amount in large part though seven permits issued yesterday totaled $14,800.

The following have secured permits: Sam Kraemer, business building, $54,000; B. V. Beebe, business building, $4,700; G. T. Ingram, dwelling, $14,000; Jacob Michael, residence, $1,400, McIlean, alterations, $100; Huntington, alterations $100; C. O. Foster, dwelling, $3,500; Velo, dwelling $2,000; Paul Bock, dwelling, $5,500; H. A. Neff, alterations, $400; F. A. Pietrock, dwelling, $3,200; J. J. Dwyer, garage, $150. All of these come under the new building ordinance.

The plumbing, gas and sewer connection permits for last month amounted to $341.45. The greatest amount for any previous month was $332.20.

Noel Newton, whose case was presented at the same time, was awarded $3112.50. He asked for $9000 damages.

The case went to the jury about 2:30 yesterday afternoon and a verdict was reached shortly before 5 o'clock. W. W. Krick was foreman of the jury.

Woodruff and Shoemaker of Los Angeles represented the plaintiff. W. I. Gilbert and Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus were attorneys for the defendant.

Madalynne Obenchain May Be Freed by Judge Today

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—Jail doors may swing open today for beautiful Madalynne Obenchain, almost three months to the day since John Belton Kennedy was shot to death by "two dim figures" while in her company.

Superior Judge Reeve announced today that he would not postpone his decision on Attorney Charles Erbstein's motion for a dismissal of the case against Madalynne.

Erbstein's motion will be acted upon at 2 p. m. It is based on the allegation that Madalynne has not been brought to trial within sixty days after indictment, as required under the California penal code.

After brief arguments, Judge Reeve is expected to announce whether or not the accused woman is entitled to her liberty.

Mrs. Obenchain will not be released," District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine predicted confidently today.

"It would gain nothing for the defense but a paltry delay of a day or two. She would be immediately re-indicted on the same charges."

Madalynne, pale, anxious-eyed, sat quietly in her cell throughout the morning hours today, buoyed up by the hope that the afternoon session of court would bring her freedom.

Anaheim Mayor Asks Merchants to Close Stores Next Thursday

William Stark, mayor of Anaheim, today issued a proclamation urging the merchants and professional men of the city to close their stores and offices from 2 to 4 o'clock next Thursday afternoon and to join the monster parade planned in connection with the convention of the Southern California Sunday School Convention.

The mayor's proclamation follows.

The Southern California Sunday School Association is to hold its convention in Anaheim November 8, 9 and 10.

It is very fitting that we should bid these visitors welcome and that we should extend to them the freedom and hospitality of our city.

We are fortunate to have in our midst these devoted workers representing so largely the towns and cities of Southern California, and these national experts and instructors in child welfare and religious training.

As the afternoon of Thursday, November 10, is to be devoted to a demonstration and parade by the visiting delegates and local workers, assisted by the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce, I urge our citizens to join in this demonstration, and ask the merchants and business men as far as possible to close their stores and offices from 2 to 4 o'clock of that day and make of this parade a demonstration fitting the importance of the occasion and the enterprise of our progressive city.

DEAF MAN ATTACKS STATEMENT MADE BY JUSTICE JOHN COX

W. E. Dudley of Santa Monica takes issue with Justice John B. Cox on statements made by the latter in an article in Touring Topics for October in which the judge classes deaf persons among those incompetent to operate a motor vehicle.

Dudley is deaf and states that he has driven a car for the last six years and that he has derived much pleasure from his driving. He also maintains that he is entirely competent to drive and censures the judge for basing his discrimination against deaf people driving cars from the impressions gained from the few who have appeared before him in court.

Dudley states that in the years he has been driving he has never had a bit of trouble and feels himself entirely competent to handle his car. Those deaf persons who have come to the judge's attention are exceptions to the rule, according to the Santa Monica man, who suggests that the judge should not base his opinion on such a foundation.

In closing Dudley asks that Judge Cox not publish further articles against the ability of the deaf to drive automobiles.

Cox, in answer to the objections in the letter, stated that he did not think that the safety of the greater number should be imperiled by the actions of a few who are seeking their own pleasure and that he still maintains that he has taken a proper stand in holding deaf persons incompetent to drive an automobile with the highest degree of safety for themselves and others.

Judge Cox will go to Los Angeles tomorrow to address the Los Angeles City club and safety council on the subject of accident prevention.

YOUTHS HELD FOR CAR THEFT RELEASED BY JUDGE COX

J. Cameron, Roy McKenzie and Peter Fitzgerald, held in the county jail on vagrancy charges, were dismissed today by Judge Cox on a motion by District Attorney A. P. Nelson.

The boys were held on the suspicion that they might know something concerning the deserted car found on the San Diego road near Capistrano about a week ago. This car was registered in the name of H. G. Paige of Riverside.

In turning the boys loose, the judge advised them to accumulate a little more money before again starting out to travel and suggested that riding was better than walking as a mode of traveling.

County Officers On Hunt For Three Stolen Autos

Three stolen cars missing from Bakersfield within the last few days are described in a telegram received today by Sheriff C. E. Jackson from D. B. Newell, sheriff of Kern county.

The missing cars are a Standard 8 with disc wheels, a Chevrolet touring and an Oakland touring model.

Each female salmon yields approximately 3,500 eggs each year.

SHERIFF JACKSON WILL GO TO TENNESSEE TO GET PRISONER

Sheriff C. E. Jackson will leave for Memphis, Tenn., the latter part of this week or the first of next week to bring back Henry Coyle, held by the police pending Anaheim's arrival at the southern city.

This was decided at a meeting of the deputies yesterday afternoon in which Mrs. Swanick acted as executive. That the sheriff was in need of the slight vacation offered by the trip was the decision of the deputies, who insisted that he make the trip.

That the brief respite from his arduous days and busy nights will be welcomed by the sheriff and will afford him a brief rest was the hope of the deputies. That he also need to see his brother and father as he passes through Fort Worth, Texas, on the Southern Pacific as he travels eastward.

Jackson formerly lived in Tennessee and is a native of Alabama.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS MEETING OF COUNCIL

Unprecedented secrecy surrounds the action of the city trustees at their joint meeting with the executive committee of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce held in the council chambers last night. The call for the special meeting announced that its purpose would be to consider plans under which the city limits of Anaheim could be extended to take in a large portion of the surrounding territory and thereby include a population which would be entitled to many of the benefits of citizens and which, for the greater part, is anxious that the property be annexed to the city.

Information from unusually authentic sources indicate that although no definite action was taken, plans were laid whereby the city limits of Anaheim would be extended to include thousands of acres situated in a circle around the city. It is understood that several important questions were turned over to City Manager Stewart for investigation and that a thorough report of his findings will be made at a meeting to be called in the near future.

CAR THIEF SENTENCED TO SERVE TERM IN SAN QUENTIN

Leonard E. Kelly was today denied probation and sentenced to a term of from one to ten years in San Quentin on the charge of stealing an automobile in Santa Ana October 4.

Kelly's petition for probation was denied by Judge R. Y. Williams when the past record of the youth, who is 20 years of age, was laid before the court.

The stolen car was a Chandler, the property of Mrs. Fannie Reeves of French street, Santa Ana. Kelly said that he took the car in an effort to get back to Los Angeles after he had been left in Santa Ana by a friend who failed to call for him. He was captured in Los Angeles several hours later when he was observed by city police in an infraction of traffic regulations.

$10,000 Check Found Worthless; Man Held

OAKLAND, Nov. 4.—R. L. Bradford, San Francisco, was in the Oakland jail today, charged with attempting to pass a check for $10,000 on a bank in which he had no funds. Bail was fixed at $20,000. Police said Bradford, who has gone under the name of John L. Gray, confessed today that he had defrauded William Cavalier, Oakland bond broker, out of $10,000 in liberty bonds. After his alleged confession he paid Cavalier the $10,000.

World-Wide Campaign to Check Bolshevism in Full Swing---Chapman

The world-wide campaign to check the ungodly doctrine of Bolshevism—"the no God, no country, no flag idea"—instituted by the International Sunday School association, has brought into harmonious action all the nations of Christendom, according to information just received by C. C. Chapman, "the Orange King" of Fullerton who is a director on the international board.

The message of this wonderful constructive work for the happiness and perpetuity of highly civilized institutions was received in a letter from W. C. Pearce, assistant secretary of the International Sunday School association, on board the steamship Cedric, homeward bound for New York.

Mr. Pearce, regarded as the foremost Sunday school builder of the church today, sailed for Europe last spring, charged with the mission of getting in touch with all the Christian nations and urging them to get together in a militant, co-operative, tremendous world-wide campaign to stamp out the iniquitous doctrine of Bolshevism, which insidiously works to sap the strength of the nations and undermine the foundations of established governments.

Mr. Pearce was accorded a wholehearted enthusiastic welcome by church and state—"They were mighty glad he had come!"

"The door was wide open," says Mr. Pearce, "and we succeeded in getting in contact with all the constructive spiritfal factors that will quickly restore the sane balance of the peoples of the world. The real campaign is not in full swing yet but it has started and will gain the momentum that will carry everything before it."

The success of Mr. Pearce in its full significance—the return of the nations of the world to God—means more to human happiness, prosperity, progress and peace than anything the coming conference at Washington may achieve, since the foundation Mr. Pearce has laid will be indestructible, while any superstructure of state, no matter how imposing it may be in itself, is unsafe and will inevitably collapse unless it is predicated upon something stronger, surer and safer than a "scrap of paper" upon which men have scribbled signatures that are meaningless in the realm of crafty diplomacy.

Canned Heat and Lemon Soda Pop Put Four in Jail

Reactions incident to imbibing freely of the contents of several cans of "sterno canned heat" mixed with lemon soda pop are held to be the reasons why Dan Conner, Milten Marshall, Joe Smith and Frank Farrell, all of Taft, are today sobering up in the county jail.

Jim Wright of Huntington Beach had partaken of the contents of only one can of the preserved heat and was able to pay his fine of $20 when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Warner. The others were fined $20, but were unable to pay, with the result that they are serving time in the county jail at the rate of a dollar each day.

"Canned heat" is the latest discovery of the booze fiends, who seem bound to acquire a jag by any method possible, according to officers in the sheriff's office, who stated that they had never had a case of this kind come to their notice before.

The men were taken on a charge of drunkeness by Jack Tinsley, city marshal of Huntington Beach. All were in a hilarious mood and seemed to suffer little from the effects of the strange drink.

The "canned heat" is said to consist largely of wood alcohol and contains some gasoline. The wood alcohol is considered a poisonous substance and is extremely injurious to the lining of the stomach.

THREE CHIROPRACTORS TO FACE TRIAL ON STATE CHARGE

J. A. Hatch, J. G. Kelley and A. D. Anderson, Santa Ana chiropractors, were today held to answer to the superior court on a charge of practicing a method of healing without a license from the state board of medical examiners, following their appearance before Justice J. R. Cox yesterday afternoon for their preliminary examination.

The complaints in this case were filed last March and the work of securing evidence and preparing for a legal battle has been in progress since that time.

Griffith Jones of Los Angeles was attorney for the defendants and C. N. Mozley, deputy district attorney, was in charge of the prosecution. J. A. Carter, special investigator for the state medical board, was at the hearing.

MAN ARRESTED RESPONSIBLE FOR REFINERY FIRE OFFICERS SAY

Flames Threaten Total Destruction To Richfield Properties — Was Second Incendiary Blaze.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Nov. 4—Irving Solomon, aged 26, is under arrest in the county jail as the alleged party charged with responsibility for the fire which late yesterday threatened to destroy the big refinery of the Richfield Refining company.

Two men arrested were immediately after the fire furnished alibis and were released today.

L. B. Smith, employe of the Associated Oil company, is said to be in possession of a witness against Solomon.

Smith is alleged to have seen a man answering Solomon's description set fire to the oil sump at the refinery, and shout, "I hope the whole thing burns."

C. M. Fuller, general manager of the refinery, said today he had affidavits of three other witnesses in addition to Smith.

Company to Prosecute

The Richfield company intends vigorous prosecutions, Fuller said. This is the second allegedly incendiary fire at its refinery within six weeks. Both are laid by Fuller and other officials to strike troubles.

While the fire six weeks ago was nipped almost the instant it broke out, yesterday's was spectacular in the extreme and threatened total destruction to the Richfield properties.

"Balloons" of flame leaped hundreds of feet into the air.

FLAMES DESTROY FIVE PIERS ON ATLANTIC WATER FRONT

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Fire swept the Weehawken water front for half a mile today, destroying five piers of the Erie railroad, two oil laden trains, a huge warehouse and thirty barges before it was finally under control. The damage was estimated at $3000,000.

Embers from the terrific blaze rained down upon New York's theater and uptown district while crews of vessels up and down the river were called to fire posts because of blazing fragments blown across the river.

Fanned by a high wind, great columns of smoke and billowing flames shot up from the burning piers and all oil tank trains on the Weehawken river front, making the blaze the most spectacular witnessed from Manhattan since the Black Tom disaster.

SPREAD OF COAL STRIKE IS HALTED TO AWAIT OWNER'S ACTION

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Spread of the unauthorized strike of bituminous coal miners was halted today pending action by the mine owners on the check-off injunction.

Approximately 85,000 miners on strike in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, further walkouts hinged on whether mine operators would abide by the court ruling and refuse to withhold union dues from the miners' pay.

Decision by the operators as to whether they will violate the injunction, or violate the contract with the miners' union, is expected to be announced in all fields within a week.

Indiana operators were the first to announce they would agree to the ruling made by Judge A. B. Anderson and today they were faced with practically a complete tie up of operations.

The Illinois mine operators will meet in Chicago on November 9, to take action. Although all men were urged to remain at work by Frank Farrington, head of the union in the Illinois district, approximately 3500 walked out at various mines throughout the state.

The annual convention of the Illinois miners will be held at Peoria next week and a further rift in the ranks of the United Mine Workers of America is expected to result when Farrington launches his expected attack on John L. Lewis, president of the organization.

ROLFE HOME SCENE OF SURPRISE PARTY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George Rolfe in Garden Grove was the scene of a jolly birthday surprise party on a recent evening in honor of Mrs. Rolfe's sister, Mrs. Julia A. Garrison of Santa Ana. So cleverly had the affair been managed that Mrs. Garrison was taken completely by surprise as the guests, in a body, came marching in bearing their tokens of remembrance and good will in the shape of dainty gifts, cards and refreshments.

A pleasant social hour was spent and late in the night a table was cleared and delicious refreshments served.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Harper, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cleveland, Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Crane, Mrs. Hendricks, Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Lulu Beardsley, Mrs. Geo. Beardsley, Mrs. Reed, Mrs. Webber, Mrs. Garrison, Mrs. Steele, Mr. and Mrs. Rolfe.

Mrs. Harper sang a charming old song, "Mother's Arm Chair." A number of other songs were sung by the entire company. These were followed by readings, and a very clever duet by Mr. and Mrs. Harper, depicting scenes of married life—quarrels and reconciliations. It created much merriment.

During the evening the doorbell was violently rung and without ceremony in marched a company of white-robed ghosts, who solemnly glided through the house and vanished, leaving the astonished company quite awe-stricken at the supernatural appearance. At a late hour the guests departed with many good wishes for the health and happiness of Mrs. Garrison, who feelingly expressed her appreciation and thanks for the pleasures of the evening.

The golden wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. N. Pederson, father and mother of Mrs. J. P. Probst, was celebrated with a quiet dinner and social time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Probst Thursday.

The guests were seated at one o'clock around a large table with a centerpiece of a large gold and white wedding cake. Streamers of yellow and white were extended to the cake and fastened to it with large yellow chrysanthemums. Place cards marking the covers of the guests were white and gold, the wedding bell in one corner and the name written in the gold ink.

Preceeding the dinner service the Lutheran custom of blessing at an anniversary service was held with Rev. H. G. Schmelzer reading the scriptual lesson, giving a short address and then offering prayer.

The service of the dinner was done informally with each guest enjoying the informality of friendship at the table. The wedding cake was cut and served as was done fifty years ago on the tall graceful cake plates.

At the close of the dinner Rev. Schmelzer gave a short talk and then presented to Rev. and Mrs. N. Pederson two envelopes, one for each of them, containing ten five-dollar gold pieces, remembrances from their ten living children. Each envelope was tied with a large golden ribbon giving the effect of the occasion. The ten children are as follows: Mrs. J. P. Probst, Anaheim; Mrs. J. M. Craig, Los Angeles; Mrs. H. H. Pederson, Mrs. L. S. Smith, San Francisco; one daughter in Iowa, one daughter in Montana, a son in Idaho, and three sons in Oregon.

The afternoon was enjoyed in listening to portions of the life history of Rev. Pederson, given by himself.

The guests were Rev. and Mrs. N. Pederson, honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Probst, Mrs. L. E. Smith, Mrs. J. M. Craig, Mrs. H. H. Pederson, Rev. and Mrs. H. G. Schmelzer.

MRS. GUY POLLARD RECEIVES SURPRISE

The home of Mr and Mrs. W. P. Webb, Sr., on South Philadelphia street was the scene of a surprise for Mrs. Guy Pollard, the acting past noble grand of the Rebekah lodge. The party was tendered to Mrs. Pollard in appreciation of her most successful year as noble grand of the local lodge. Last night at 7:30 o'clock the members gathered at Philadelphia and Center streets and went in a body to the Webb home where Mr. and Mrs. Pollard were guests of the evening. They gave Mrs. Pollard a complete surprise by quietly walking in and taking possession of the living room while Mrs. Pollard was busy in the kitchen.

Several original guessing games were greatly enjoyed by everyone. Other card games and music, furnished by Mrs. Llewellyn made the time pass quickly. At a late hour delicious refreshments of cakes, sandwiches and coffee which the guests had prepared, were served.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Black, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Summons, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gates, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Webb, Mr. and M[illegible] C. W. Hedges, Mr. and Mrs. J. "22 YEARS OF SERVICE" ANNIVERSARY SALES

To the Old Friends— and to the New!

This month witnesses the commemoration of Falkenstein's 22nd Anniversary. Falkenstein's might at this time glance back and particularize upon the incidents that identify its 22 years of service to the people of Orange County. But that is not the thought which has influenced the preparations of these "22 Years of Service" Anniversary Sales

Beginning Tomorrow—Saturday

Let us make the Anniversary something bigger and better than anything of its kind which previous years have memorized.

Let us impress more women with the purpose and the value performance of this store.

Let us forget the accomplishments of former years and gather together such an array of New Merchandise and New Values that this event will signal the beginning of a new era in our census of new friends.

And so along these lines this event was planned---and along these lines the Anniversary will be launched. It should be the largest in the history of the store from the standpoint of sales as well as from the standpoint of new customers gained.

Everything is Ready!

Just a Few Words About the Merchandise

FIRST. It is all merchandise of Falkenstein quality, gathered unhurriedly and with great care. This store has high standards of quality and it has held to them absolutely.

SECOND. The Anniversary offerings are the New Fall Merchandise.

THIRD. The prices are extremely low. From the first day to the last we will have offerings that will be the talk of all Orange County.

FOURTH. The advertising policy of this store is to be conservative in its statements, but we can safely say, that-

No such opportunity for saving has been offered the people of Orange County in Years

Big Income Increase On Southern Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—The Southern Pacific Company reported today a net operating income of $27,334,435 for the first nine months of 1921, an increase of $18,227,873 over the same period of 1920. The net income in August was $5,200,608.

It'll be different next summer. Young men are complaining that with "day-light saving" ten thirty is just the shank of the evening.

You tell your son never to fight unless the other boy hits him first. And still you kick if it works out that way.

It's a well read man that "votes" for every pretty girl who calls.

FIGHT PROMOTER MAKES CHANGE IN CARD FOR TONIGHT

By Billy Darnley

The stage is all set for tonight's fistic doings out at Spark's farm where the matchmaker has arranged an excellent card of four round bouts for the club's weekly show. From the curtain raiser to the main event there should be enough action furnished to satisfy the most rabid fan when the opening gong calls them to the center of the ring. The feature event of the evening between those two good boys, Johnny Meyer, the scrappy fireman from Glendale, and Young Stanley Ketchell of Montana, promises to be a "humdinger" from start to finish. Both boys are in good shape to set a fast pace and the bout should give the fans something to talk about for sometime to come.

The semi-windup between Jack Iman and Bill Burns also is coming in for its share of attention and this bout, too, ought to be a rattling good go. Iman is fit and ready to put up another real hurricane battle such as he came through over at San Bernardino last night when he stopped Jimmy Torbett in the third round. Burns sends over word from Olinda that he will keep Jack stepping fast and local fans to keep their eyes open and watch him go tonight. He expects to give Iman a real fight.

A change has been made in one of the preliminaries, Alebtr Leo taking the place of Joe Cappelle. Leo will box Joe Chaney and the substitution should improve the card instead of detracting from it. Leo scored a clean cut knock out at Berdoo last night against Joe Moody in the first round. Several weeks ago, Moody did the same thing to Leo in the same town. Leo and Joe ought to give the fans a real thrill in their argument tonight, as should also Young Darrou and Clarence Rubidoux, who are figured upon to come through with the star bout of the evening. Paul Darden, the hard hitting 125-pounder from Huntington Beach, who disposed of Battling Abie at last week's show, meets another Placentia lad in Young Franks, who will try to uphold the honor of his home town in the curtain raiser.

$100,000 SUIT FOR LOST LOVE LAID TO RIDE IN CAR

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—The old inquiry, "Where are you going, my pretty maid?" in the case of Mrs. Wahnita Adams, was followed by an automobile ride and a broken home. This is charged in the $100,000 damage suit filed in the superior court yesterday by Horatio Adams against H. I. Hucke, said to be president of the Hollywood Planing Company.

The complaint, which was prepared by Attorney F. D. Adams, says that Hucke won the affections of Mrs. Adams away from her husband. They are alleged to have met one day on Hollywood boulevard. Mrs. Adams, it is alleged was waiting for a street car when Hucke drove past in his machine. He is alleged to have offered her a ride, which she accepted, and the rest followed.

ANAHEIM BOXERS WIN AT SAN BERNARDINO LAST NIGHT

Two Anaheim boys were winners at San Bernardino last night. Albert Leo put over the K. O. on Joe Moody in one round, while Jack Iman stopped Jimmy Torbett in three rounds. Moody's seconds throwing in the towel for their man to save him from further punishment. Both local boys showed up well at the Gate City's club and created a very favorable impression with the fans. Moody, it will be remembered, stopped Leo in two rounds several weeks ago so the boys are now fifty fifty. Other results were: In the main event, Johnny Adams of San Bernardino won decision over Bobby Ward of Salt Lake in four rounds; Danny O'Brien and Joe Thomas, draw; Bobby Barton was awarded the verdict over Tony Navor in four rounds. Billy Darnley of the local club was referee.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The name of Alanson B. Houghton of Corning, N. Hilles, republican national committeeman for New York.

Lawyer Charged With Stealing Automobile

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—Ray Barnett, lawyer, was arrested yesterday under indictment returned by the county grand jury, charging him with theft of an automobile from J. C. Hickman of Oakland on July 10 last. The car was parked before a cafeteria in Third street, near Boardway. It was remodeled and changed in appearance after being stolen, according to evidence presented to the grand jury. Bail was fixed at $3000.

Man Arrested Charged With Shooting Panzich

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—Said to have gone uninvited to a birthday party Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Panzich, 940 Summit street, creating a disturbance and then shooting the host in the arm, Steve Bisko, 29, was arrested yesterday.

Detectives Reed, Gibson and Stevens found the man in the Temple block yesterday afternoon. He was charged with assault with intent to commit murder. Panzich was shot in the arm and as a result may lose the arm.

MAY ASK KING GEORGE TO SUPPORT IRISH COMPROMISE

LONDON, Nov. 4.—King George may be asked to lend his moral support to the proposed compromise in the Irish situation, it was learned today.

The king, whose plea for peace in convoking the Ulster parliament at Belfast opened the way for the present negotiation, was in conference last night with Premier Lloyd George.

The titular and actual heads of the British government were known to have discussed at length the present crisis, with particular reference to Ulster.

If Sir James Craig, premier of Ulster, remains obturate against concessions when he confers with Lloyd George here tomorrow it was believed that moral pressure might be exerted on him from Buckingham Palace.

Thousands Pay Tribute To Italy's Unknown Hero

ROME, Nov. 4.—Thousands of reverent men and women paid homage yesterday to Italy's "unknown warrior," who will be interred with royal honors Friday. The body arrived from the Isonzo battlefield Wednesday and since then has been lying in state in the Church of Santa Maria Degli Angili. Today it will be buried under Victor Emanuel's monument, "The Altar of the Nation."

Mr. J. A. Daley, President,

Dear Sir:

We tried out the sample of Pancake Flour sent out and found it to have a very satisfactory flavor.

We gave half of it to a customer who buys Pancake Flour regularly. Today her husband told me they liked it very much but he was afraid they could not afford to buy it very often as the day after they used it his wife presented him with twins.

We should have the strength of it slightly weakened.

Yours truly,

Mrs. McWhorter alleges that every time she asked her husband for money he would attempt to kill himself.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4.—Ignoring the fact that scores of pedestrians were passing the restaurant yesterday morning, two bandits entered the eating house run by Tom Yamada at 117 Wellington street, between Los Angeles and San Pedro streets, held up the proprietor with a gun and robbed the cash register of $15 in cash. They then dashed out of the place and disappeared in the crowd. Marine Officer Defends The Killings In Haiti

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Many native Haitiens were killed by American troops or native gendarmerie under command of American officers during the American occupation of Haiti, but the killings were usually justified and proper, the special senate committee investigating the American administration in Haiti was told yesterday by Lieut. It was under his regime that alleged brutalities and indiscriminate killings of Haitiens are said to have occurred.

Blood of Murdered Girl Weighed to Test Kinship

In San Francisco some months ago a poor Italian baby that had come into the world under a cloud was restored to its birthright and good name when physicians drew a few drops of its blood and examined it under a spectrum with blood taken from the veins of a man who denied he was its father.

Science, that mighty force of truth, had learned that the rhythm of a child's blood as it courses through its tiny body is in harmony with the rhythm of the flow in the body of its father. In the case of the Italian baby science established its paternity.

But a more amazing experiment was undertaken in New York City in Bellevue hospital morgue in an effort to establish the identity and kinship of the broken girl whose frightfully utilated body was dragged from a stale Long Island pond. Nameless, this wretched torso had lain for the last ten days, not through any lack of persons ready to claim it—for eight have—but because of the skepticism of criminologists.

Astounding as was science's discovery in the problem of the Italian baby's parentage more so is the drawing of the dead blood, frozen in the veins of the pond victim. And yet this was done, and now the literal "life dust" of the slain girl lies in a little dot on a lens-shaped bit of glass beside two other dots of blood drawn from the arms of two women who claim her as a sister.

There is hardly a parallel in the Italian baby and the murdered girl, save for the fact that science has taken to-heart the rather ancient belief that "blood will tell." There was rhythm in the Italian baby's blood because it was drawn "living." There is none in the coagulated substance taken rom the pond victim's torso. Yet science has its answer to skeptics in this case, too.

Every drop of blood contains millions of corpuscles and every single corpuscle has a weight. In kinship, or blood relationship, there is a static condition of corpuscle weight and it is on this weight static that science is depending in its efforts to establish the murdered victim's identity.

If the corpuscle weight of the dried blood and that of the blood of the two women—Mrs. Anna Walker and Mrs. Joseph Mendeba—is approximately the same then the two women will be permitted to take the mutilated body o their sister rom the morgue for decent burial. If the weights are at variance Mrs. Dorothy Bailey, who has claimed the body as that of her daughter, Dolly Bailey Higgins, will also be asked to submit to the blood test.

Failure in either case will then result in the maimed body being buried in the potter's field.

Townley Begins 90-Day Jail Term In Minnesota

JACKSON, Minn., Nov. 3.—A. C. Townley, president of the National Non-Partisan League, entered the Jackson county jail yesterday to serve a sentence of ninety days for violation of the Minnesota sedition law. The United States supreme court recently refused to review his case.

Lungs in a perfectly healthy state are very rare, according to the curator of a Parisian medical institute.

Emeralds, Like Most Gems, Get Color from Impurities

The ancients obtained their emeralds mainly from Upper Egypt, along the western borders of the Red sea. But since the discovery of America the principal source of fine emeralds has been at Muso, near Bogota, in the Republic of Colombia, where a mine has been worked for the last three centuries.

Emeralds do not rank next to the diamond in hardness, that place of honor being taken by sapphires. They may dispute the third place with topaz, but they are more certainly ranked fourth, coming between quartz and topaz. It is usual to reckon the hardness of minerals on a scale of 10. The diamond stands at the top, with 10 points; the sapphire is credited with 9 points, the topaz with 8, the emerald with 7 1-2 to 8, and quartz with 7.

The characteristic color of emeralds is brilliant, vivid green. The shades vary somewhat, but only an expert can select among them. The emerald is a variety of the mineral called beryl, whose transparent specimens are also valued as gems. It is silicate of aluminum combined with the rare element glucinum beryllium.

Where it Gets Color

The colors of beryls are green, blue, yellow, white and reddish. The peculiar rich green of the emerald is due to the presence of a small amount of oxide of chromium. Emeralds, on account of the rarity of the best specimens are often sold at prices as high as those of diamonds of equal or even greater size.

Emeralds, on account of the rarity of the best specimens, are often sold at prices as high as those of diamonds of equal or even greater size.

There is a bluish-green variety of the beryl known as aquamarine, a gem of much less value than the emerald, which is found in many places, including Maine, New Hampshire, North Carolina and Colorado.

Opaque crystals of beryl occasionally attain an enormous size. There is a specimen found at Grafton, N. H., which weighs 2900 pounds, and others weighing a ton or more are known. Of course, these masses, although composed of the mineral beryl, have no value as gems. Other semi-transparent crystals of beryl attain several pounds in weight.

It is an interesting fact that all the most precious stones, except the diamond, are compounds of the common element aluminum. The diamond stands by itself in not being a compound, but a pure element (carbon), in the form of a transparent crystal. The hardest of all known things, it is also the most brilliant, depending for its beauty not on accidental colors derived from extraneous sources and chemical blendings, but solely on its own marvelous power of splitting up and dispersing the light waves, and displaying their gorgeous spectral colors. It is a natural spectroscope.

Impurities Make Color

The great aluminum gems, on the other hand, owe their beauty mainly to inherent colors so that each of them is monochromatic. The curious fact just referred to, that, except the diamond, all the finest jewel stones are based on aluminum, comes out clearly in the following list:

Diamond—Pure crystallized carbon.

Sapphire and Ruby—Oxide of aluminum, colored by traces of metallic oxides.

Emeralds and Beryls—Silicate of aluminum and glucinum.

Chrysoberyl—Compound of aluminum and glucinum.

Topaz—Complicated silicate of aluminum.

Garnet—Silicate of aluminum.

Turquoise—Phosphate of aluminum.

All of these gems, with the single exception named, owe their colors to impurities, and ont one of them is an unmixed element except the diamond.

Yet the splendor of the single color exhibited by a fine emerald, sapphire, topaz or ruby is often so effective that the market price of any of these stones may, in particular cases, exceed that of diamonds.

These softer stones also lend themselves to the gem-carver's art. Emerald has sometimes been put into various forms. Nero is said to have had an emerald lens which he wore in a ring. There is at Florence, Italy, a miniature portrait of Ludovico Sforza carved out of a ruby.

Now is the Time to Buy or Build Your Home.

YES—of course you're going to buy or build a home of your own. You're tired of land-lords and high rent. Maybe you've even got "a set of plans" tucked away in the pigeon hole of your desk. But you're going to wait a while. "Prices are too high now," you say. Yes, sir—you're going to wait until you can buy for less.

—Listen, man! Can't you hear a thousand steel riveters beating Prosperity's tattoo? Can't you hear the roar of a hundred steam shovels—digging, digging? Look at that sky line yonder—great steel girders reaching upward into the blue. Listen and look—then think! Ask yourself the why of all this.

—Big business is building—not waiting. It can't afford to wait.

—Do you think there is much "guess work" in all this? These financiers—these builders—wouldn't they wait if they thought it would pay them to wait? They're building—building as fast as modern machinery and human hands can build.

—"Own your own Home."

PORTERS, WAITERS SAY WOMEN ARE NOT SO LIBERAL

Are women mean? That is, are they less generous with their tips to porters and waiters, when they travel or eat away from home?

This question was brought to the fore in a court case not long ago, when the porter of a Pullman car was asked as to his earnings. He said that they varied; that if his car was well filled with men he could count on about three times the amount of tips he would receive if the majority of the passengers were women.

A waiter, questioned in regard to tips, said that the average woman undertips, while the exceptional one overtips. He said very few of them were able to strike a happy mean in tipping. Incidentally, he remarked that about fifteen per cent was the tip, expected for lunch or dinner, in a high class restaurant, and anything under that savored of closeness, while if the amount was greatly over that percentage it meant undue generosity.

A bootblack, questioned in regard to his tips from both men and women, said that women were better tippers than men. He charges ten cents for a shine, and while one-third of the men will leave his place without giving him a nickel tip, only about one-eighth of the women who patronize him will fail to tip him.

True, New and No Love

Asks $50,000 for Love

After a courtship of six years a New York City attorney wed another than the one to whom he had been engaged. Now he must answer a breach of promise suit for $50,000. The girl claims he proposed to her while he was a law student and they were to be married when he was able to support her. They were about to wed last year, when he said he was called away on business and that he would see her the following week. A few days later she learned he was on his honeymoon with another.

True Love's Course

With the bridegroom under arrest as a kidnapper and the bride at home with her parents, Goldie Finkelstein of Cortland, N. Y., is bewailing her fate and claims that although she is only 14 she is entitled to have a husband as well as an 18-year-old girl. The bridegroom, Frank Cerio, took her from her home to New Jersey and married her there but was arrested shortly after the ceremony on the complaint of the girl's parents.

Old Man's Love

Eleanor A. Clark, 23 years old, who lives near Pourhkeepsie, N. Y., taought it a good thing to give up telephone operating to become the housekeeper of Edward H. Clark, 72 years old. Later she married him and says being an "old man's darling" is not all she expected it to be. She is seeking her freedom and claims in her suit that her husband gave her $20 a month to run a big house on and that although he is wealthy he forced her to do all the work. In addition to this she claims her husband was jealous of her and locked her in her room on many occasions. She also states that he made her use the cellar floor for a refrigerator. When ham placed on it became mouldy he told her it improved the ham, made her scrape off the mould, cook the ham and eat it.

The justice who is trying the case made the comment: "There should be a law passed that all these old men who marry young women should have guardians appointed for them."

Sues Dead Lover's Estate

A marriage license taken out in Salem, Mass., over thirty years ago, which was never used, will be part of the evidence submitted in the suit brought by a woman shoe-worker in Danvers, Mass., against the estate of her fiance, who died last year. She asks $20,000 damages for the failure to marry her and claims that she had been "keeping company" since in the early '80s up to the time he died last December.

"Mother" Love.

Motion picture studios lured one mother away from her daughter, according to the story brought out in the arrest of a woman in New York City recently. She is the wife of an officer on a United States shipping board vessel. When her husband left port a few months ago, she sold the furniture of their apartment, gave up the lease, and took her five-months old daughter to the home of friends. She left the little girl there on the plea that she was looking for work and would call for the baby in a few days. When she had not returned in three months a complaint was made against her and the police began a search for her. After the search had continued for three months she was arrested on Broadway and will now be forced to care for her child.

Wedding Ring Good Here

In France at some of the watering places the jewelers are having a run on them for wedding rings. One of them was interested enough to question a young American girl, who was buying a wedding ring, as to the propriety of the girl buying the ring.

"Oh, but I don't want to use it for getting married," was her reply, "I merely want to get into thegambling Casino with it."

Further questioning brought out the fact that young girls are barred from the Casino, but when theyshow wedding rings are permitted to enter. The fact that the crop of brides are very young did not escape the notice of the guard, but he shrugged his shoulders, when questioned, and answered:

"We can't force them to furnish a marriage certificate with the wedding ring, can we?"

"Tied" Love

A Dallas wife appealed to the police of that Texas city for protection from her husband. She states that he ties her wrist to his wrist and her ankle to his ankle every night before they retire. She says he is fearful lest she steal away from him and as he is insanely jealous of her betakes this method of making certain of keeping her.

Bees have been trained to start and stop work at the sound of a gong by a breeder in England.

INTERESTED IN REAL ESTATE.

Mrs. Bonding—I admit I prefer the old things. I just date on "The House of Seven Gables."
Mr. Flatbunter—Never heard of it. What does it rent for?

"Hey, Mister, this cheese sandwich."
"Smatter with it?"

"I'm off o' politics an' politicians, fer all I ever got out o' Washington wuz a package o' turnip seeds that didn't come up," said Jake Bentley, t'day.—Abe Martin in Farm Life.

GLOOM-FOUNDERED

Pharmacist, build me a cocktail carbolic.
I've had a call from my pessimist friend.
He, with a countenance grim, diabolic,
Tells me the world will soon come to an end.
Told me? Nay, proved it, by portent and token;
Made it so plain that a child mightn't err.
Since he has left me my spirit is broken—
No more with him shall a session occur!

Build, 'pothecary, a drink that is deadly—
Blithely I'll scribble by name in your book.
Objects in front of my optics glow redly,
Whate'er direction I happen to look.
"Merc."—labeled "bich." or the potent carbolic—
Matters not which, so it's lethal enough.
I, with that rotter, have had my last frolic;
I am fed up on his mirth-murder stuff.

Quick, kindly druggist, prepare me the knockout;
Make it a sure one—we can't have it fail.
Prophets of evil, I've ordered a lockout—
Never again shall you camp on my trail.
Slip me the hemlock—hold steady; don't waste it.
I shall be rid of this joy-killing Jim.
Suicide? Horrors! You don't think I'd taste it!
Not for a million—I've bought it for HIM.

—Strickland Gillilan in Farm Life.

DON'TS FOR DAIRYMEN

1. Don't slaughter or sell a heifer calf from a profitable cow. Raise it.
2. Don't keep your cows in a dark, damp, dirty pen.
3. Don't overfeed them.
4. Don't feed milk at 100 degrees temperature one time and 80 degrees the next time.
5. Don't feed sweet milk one time and sour milk the next time.
6. Don't feed from dirty buckets and never from a trough.
7. Doing any of the last five things is apt to cause "scours" and "stunted calves."
8. Don't feed the grain in the milk; feed it dry. Chewing it aids digestion. Mixing it in milk means more scours.
9. Don't feed the foam that forms on milk as it comes from the separator nor that on whole fresh milk. Foam is bubbles—bubbles are full of gas and gas causes colic and sometimes scours.—Farm Life.

IT is one of the very last subdivisions of strictly high-class young Valencia oranges that will ever be placed on the market in Orange County—

Most of the purchasers of groves in this tract are experienced orange growers of this section, and all of them are thoroughly familiar with local conditions and values—

Here are the names and addresses of some of the purchasers of groves in Cerro Villa Heights—in Cerro Villa Heights, at the present price, because they know they are the best value in this entire section, and they are buying now because they realize the present price is the bed-rock bottom, and that values must steadily increase along with development and growth—

John Kogge, Orange
M. M. Seymour, Regina, Sask., Canada
Dr. Leon Patrick, Orange
W. Cruzen, Placentia and San Gabriel, two groves.
Martin Hausladen, Anaheim, two groves.

Hadn't you, too, better get acquainted with Cerro Villa Heights? Phone us, write us or see us and we'll show you one of the prettiest and best grove subdivisions that has ever been placed on the market. The groves run from four acres up to twenty acres, and very reasonable terms may be arranged if desired.

FUTURE COMMERICAL GREATNESS

Governor Hart of Washington said in a recent interview:

"Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle will some day be rated in commercial importance with New York, Boston and Philadelphia."

Perhaps the people of the east would smile superior at these words. Nevertheless the statement of the governor is wholly reasonable. Americans now living may see them verified. The more distant future is almost certain to witness the verification. Conditions tend to accelerate the westward movement; and on this coast the east and west must meet.

Each of the three cities named has an excellent harbor. That of Los Angeles, created artificially in large part, may in the end equal the best. The harbor of San Francisco, nature's generous gift, is one of the finest in the world. That of Seattle has depth and area and shelter. Portland is not in the list because of lack of nearness to the ocean.

Harbors alone do not make cities, but they are of vast importance. Behind all growth there must be material resource. In this the territory tributary to the Pacific coast is abundantly blessed. California, and particularly the southern end of it, has water power almost beyond estimate, capable of being developed cheaply. Therefore it is becoming recognized as elsewhere unequaled for manufacturing purposes.

It may seem trite, and yet it is a circumstance worth mentioning again, that this region has a climate that must be reckoned as a valuable part of its assets. Tourists come for the charms of the region, and find them. But they observe here great opportunity for investment and they elect to remain.

"An outbreak of war in Central Europe at the present moment would be unfortunate" ventures an able and sometimes almost over-cautious editor. He is right. The outbreak he mentions could not even by the most optimistic be regarded as a happy incident.

The explanation of the man detected in carrying munitions of war in the direction of Mexico, is that he intended to stage a battle out in the desert. The idea was some movie picture producer sooner or later would require a battle scene. Evidently a poor excuse is better than none, for he was permitted to get away with this one.

Los Angeles started out to add 1000 men to its police force. The number was cut to 500, then 250. After this it seemed likely to reach the vanishing point. Some of the councilmen apparently are trying to figure out how to appoint less than none.

Now they are linking the name of Roy Gardner with the theft of a yacht. It is beginning to be believed that Tom, the piper's son, who stole a pig and ran away, an episode immortalized in verse, was nobody but Gardner.

A peculiar writer states that Debs is in prison for the practice of Christianity. This is not the ordinary belief. He went to jail because in the time of his country's distress his course was of a sort to give aid and comfort to the enemy. However, there is no venomous condemnation of the prisoner now. He is felt to be misguided and mistaken, but kind of heart and honest of purpose.

One of the most desperate burglars captured lately is eighteen years old. If precedents are followed he will be sent to the juvenile court, and then released on parole. Surely students of criminology ought to be able to devise a better way.

There is much fuss made about the insidious efforts of the British to "grab our oil." If this country produces oil and has not business acumen enough to keep it from being grabbed, there really is nothing to do except to wish Americans would wake up.

It is not surprising that facsimile handwriting is now sent across the sea by radio, but this is because the generation has become quite accustomed to miracles. Only a few years ago such a feat not only would have been deemed impossible, but was of course unthinkable, the instrumentality by which it is accomplished not being in human knowledge, or the limitations of human dream.

Minister Sentenced For Mann Act Violation

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 3.—The Rev. Fred R. Royston, former Methodist minister, was sentenced in federal court here yesterday to serve eighteen months at McNeil's Island prison, following his plea of guilty to the charge of violating the Mann act in transporting Miss Franke Edwards, 19, from her home in Salem, Ore., to Centralia, Wash. The girl lived next door to Royston, who has a wife and 11-year-old daughter.

BOY LIVES AS GIRL TILL HE'S PAST 21

When one Charles C. Williams of the rather isolated island of Ocracoke, N. C., arrived back, after a three months' leave, at the island recently, there was a lot of excitement among the 500 inhabitants, and the question on every lip was "Is he going to stay a man or a girl"?

Which may sound strange in view of the fact that for twenty-one years prior to Williams' departure from his home the good folk of Ocracoke had cherished him in the honest hearts as a pretty, fair haired girl who lived with "her" mother and did most of the housework and sewing. It was not until he suddenly left without warning and the folks began to ask questions that the mother revealed the secret she had guarded throughout the boy's life.

It developed that at the time of her baby's birth she was so disappointed that it was not a girl that she determined to call him "Vera" and bring him up as the daughter she had hoped for. No one suspected, and as time advanced it became easy to keep the secret. Williams, being of a rather quiet, retiring nature, made it simpler. Until he was nearing his twenty-first birthday he had never been off the island, but on his first trip with his mother to the mainland dressed as a girl, of course, he made up his mind to see what the world was like.

So Vera, the girl, became Charles, the man, overnight, as it were, and stole away to try his luck in Baltimore. He succeeded to the extent of finding a job in a restaurant and for the three months was seeing life. He say enough to send him back to Ocracoke Island with the firm determination to stay even if "it means dresses."

THE RED COW GOES A-HUNTING

By John Barton

(Copyright, 1021, by The Associated Newspapers.)

NO, Nibble Rabbit wasn't one bit s'prised. He wasn't s'prised that Trailer the Hound had changed his mind about saving Tad Coon. Nor he wasn't s'prised that the Red Cow was there in the middle of the Deep Woods. She might be on the wrong side of the fence for a cow, but she was the right side for poor Wowie! Didn't Those Fox Highwaymen Change Their Minds About Coon-catching? They Ran.

Tad—that much was certain. So Nibble wasn't s'prised at anything. Because when things get as bad as they possibly can be, something just has to happen.

And happen it sure-ly did! "Tow-row-row!" bayed Trailer. He wasn't stopping for the words to his song, he was just yelping the chorus as if the foxes were already on the run and he in full cry after them. He tried to lead the way to where he'd heard Tad crying.

But the way the Red Cow galloped through the bushes was a caution. It was mostly luck that she didn't hit a tree for she didn't seem to steer out of the way for anything; she just floundered along with her head wagging and her feet swinging.

Everybody in all the woods knew that some one was coming. Tad forgot his poor handy-paws were cold and stiff—stiff as a buzzer's wings. For it's mighty chilly business hanging on to a clammy willow stem all night long, way up in a tree without leaves enough to keep the wind off you. He shinned up higher yet. And he saw the Red Cow splash through the Wicked Little Brook. "Wa-hoo!" he yowled, dancing with joy on his dangerous perch.

"Mmoo-Oo!" the cow roared back. It was such a terrible sound that Trailer crouched out of the way and let her pass. She was shaking her horns and snorting like a runaway steam engine. Up went her tail, but the hairy white brush on the end of it was no flag of truce!

Wowie! Didn't those fox highwaymen change their minds about coon-catching? They ran. They didn't even peek over their shoulders to see who was chasing them. It might have been a bear, or it might have been a lion. They'd have believed anything you had a mind to tell them—if you could fly fast enough to catch up with them. You never could do it on feet!

They ran. And after them came the Red Cow and Trailer the Hound. Oh, 'twas grand to see them! And you'd better believe there were more folks enjoying the sight than just Tad Coon.

Original Star Spangled Banner Inspired Key to Write Anthem

One of the large flags of Washington, perhaps the largest, and a flag most closely and affectionately associated with our national history is the original Star Spangled Banner. It is inclosed in a monster glass frame and occupies a long section of the west wall of the Hall of American History in the old National Museum building. Its stripes are about two feet wide, and the stars are as large as a woman's picture hat. In the descriptive matter relating to this flag, its dimensions are not given. The bunting is much worn, and rents and holes are visible in numbers of places. It was the Fort McHenry flag of September, 1814, the flag which Francis Scott Key saw and which inspired the words of "The Star Spangled Banner."

The large descriptive cards within the flag case tell the story of the flag in this way:

"The Star Spangled Banner—Garrison flag of Fort McHenry, Baltimore, during the bombardment of the fort by the British, September 13-14, 1814, when it was gallantly and successfully defended by Colonel George Armistead and the brave men under him. "Francis Scott Key, detained with the British fleet, had eagerly watched for this flag during the fight and as he saw it still waving over the fort on the morning of September 14, he was inspired to write the verses of "The Star Spangled Banner."

In the glazed case with the flag is a picture of Colonel Armistead and among other descriptive matter under it is this: "During this defense, Key, from the deck of the Minden, saw through the mists of the deep 'by the dawn's early light' this flag 'O'er the ramparts so gallantly streaming.'"
