Armistice Day and Americanism

TODAY IS ARMISTICE DAY—a day consecrated to bitter-sweet memories and tender thoughts.

The nations of the world stand with bowed heads—voicing a Thanksgiving prayer; first, for the flower of manhood that made the last and greatest sacrifice on the battle fields of France, for the preservation of a Christian civilization—for the liberty of the whole world.

To such great souls as these there is no death—only unfading glory. Buried on the field where they fell their dust will hallow the soil, but their real sanctuary will be in the warm, loving heart of the nation they served with full, complete, consummate devotion.

Words, flowers, praise, are all that a grateful nation can offer at the shrine of these whose eyes are closed, whose lips are sealed forever.

For the living—those who fought through red war's hell—our love is equal since they, too, presented their lives a willing sacrifice on the altar of their country. To these splendid patriots we tender our tribute of sincere, affectionate regard—wholeheartedly happy in the possession of the precious privilege of being able to show our gratitude more substantially to the illustrious living—a privilege denied to us in respect to those who have marched into immortal glory.

Both did their best—their matchless courage, their superb, dramatic, brilliant work has inscribed a story of imperishable grandeur on the tablets of historic fame.

Out of their achievement a new ideal of civilization was established—the nations of the whole world stooped under the galling burdens of imperialistic persecution lifted their heads and caught the inspiring vision of the whole world being transformed into one vast laboratory where men could test their new-born freedom—their new ideals—where they could work together in harmony, happiness, prosperity and peace, undisturbed by mad, swash-buckling militaristic autocrats!

IT TOOK SUCH A CATACLYSM OF war to crystallize and create this new word AMERICANISM. History will record no self-imposed sacrifice nobler than America voluntarily made for the principles of AMERICANISM during the world war.

To right the most appalling wrongs that were ever attempted upon the world by a mad and brutal power, America, 3000 miles away, answering a universal and God-given sympathy, entered the world war, and but for this, the withering, destroying and blighting powers of Satan and his cohorts would have prevailed and civilization been destroyed or turned back thousands of years.

Asking nothing for herself, flying the banners of justice and freedom and humanity, and with a smile upon her determined face, America sailed across stormy and dangerous seas and landed before the battle front, the bravest, most initiative and invincible army that ever faced the foe—and saved for the world the holiest cause for which a sword was ever drawn, that right and liberty should not be driven from the earth.

And so, in order to symbolize the spirit that led her voluntarily to assume the soul-racking responsibilities, burdens and sacrifices to save humanity, the word "Americanism" was created. It came from the crucible of terrific strife, from the white heat of battle and from the clash and shock of opposing armies.

It is the most vital word now in the English language. In it are crystallized the hope and faith and unselfish love of mankind. It stands for the God-like sentiment of America, for the support of right against wrong, for good against evil, for justice against injustice.

It stands as the champion for every good thing that mankind has fought for, hoped for, prayed for and died for since the world began.

It stands against every evil thing, every wrong thing, every detestable thing, every cowardly thing that Satan has erected.

Peter Stoffel, Anaheim's Martyr-Hero of World War

Americanism

In Flanders Fields

Out of the shock of bursting shells,
Out of the flash and roar of thundering guns,
Out of the shriek and mourn and whine of shrapnel,
Out of the ceaseless staccato bark of machine guns,
Out of the silent and unseen approach of death-dealing gases,
Out of the lurking, invisible submarine, assassin of the sea
WAS AMERICANISM BORN.

Americanism means to possess the highest ideals.
It means a determined, unequivocal protest
Against Militarism—Bolshevism—I. W. W.-ism!
It means that this magnificent nation Appreciating the God-given blessings
Of matchless resources; of unbounded opportunity
To all mankind, to gather the fruits
Of their genius, initiative, energy and thrift.
Finally, it means that the American people still hold faith that the Peace first made for all the world by the Great Galilean was not made in vain.

In Flanders fields the poppies grow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place, and in the sky
The larks still bravely singing, fly.

Scarce heard amid the guns below.
We are the dead. Short days ago,
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe!
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch. Be yours to lift it high!
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, the poppies blow
In Flanders fields.

By Lieutenant-Colonel John McCrae

PRESIDENT HARDING'S SPEECH
We are met today to pay the impersonal tribute. The name of him whose body lies before us took flight with his imperishable soul. We know not whence he came, but only that his death marks him with the everlasting glory of an American dying for his country.

He might have come from any one of millions of American homes. Some mother gave him in her love and tenderness, and with him her most cherished hopes. Hundreds of mothers are wondering today, finding a touch of solace in the possibility that the nation bows in grief over the body of one she bore to live and die, if need be, for the republic. If we give rein to fancy, a score of sympathetic chords are touched, for in this body there once glowed the soul of an American, with the aspirations and ambitions of a citizen who cherished life and its opportunities. He may have been a native or an adopted son; that matters little, because they glorified the same loyalty, they sacrificed alike.

We do not know his station in life, because from every station came the patriotic response of the five millions. I recall the days of creating armies and the departing of caravels which braved the murderous seas to reach the battle lines for maintained nationality and preserved civilization. The service flag marked mansion and cottage alike, the riches were common to all homes in the consciousness of service to our country.

We do not know the eminence of his birth, but we do know the glory of his death. He died for his country and greater devotion hath no man than this. He died unquestioning, uncomplaining, with faith in his heart and hope on his lips, that his country should triumph and its civilization survive. As a typical soldier of this representative democracy, he fought and died, believed in the indisputable justice of his country's cause. Conscious of the world's upheaval, appraising the magnitude of a war the like of which had never horrified humanity before, perhaps he believed his to be a service destined to change the tide of human affairs.

In the death gloom of gas, the bursting of shells and rain of bullets, men face more intimately the great God over all, their souls are aflame, and consciousness expands and hearts are searched. With the din of battle, the glow of conflict, and the supreme trial of courage, come involuntarily the hurried appraisal of life and the contemplation of death's great mystery. On the threshold of eternity, many a soldier, I can well believe, wondered how his ebbing blood would color the stream of human life, flowing on after his sacrifice. His patriotism was none less if he craved more than triumph of country; rather, it was greater if he hoped for a victory of all human kind. Indeed, I revere that citizen whose confidence in the righteousness of his country inspired belief that its triumph is the victory of humanity.

This American soldier went forth to battle with no hatred for any people in the world, but hating war and hating the purpose of every war for conquest. He cherished our national rights and abhorred the threat of armed domination; and in the maelstrom of destruction and suffering and death he fired his shot for liberation of the captive conscience of the world. In advancing toward his objective was somewhere a thought of a world awakened, and we are here to testify undying gratitude and reverence for that thought of a wider freedom.

On such an occasion as this, amid such a scene, our thoughts between defenders living and defenders dead. A grateful republic will be worthy of them both. Our part is to atone for the losses of the heroic dead by making a better republic for the living.

CITY TRUSTEES AT BEACH FOR OUTFALL SEWER

Councilmen Will Enter Joint Agreement With Santa Ana—Herald Rates Discussion At Meeting.

The city trustees passed a resolution at their meeting last night declaring their purpose to enter into a joint agreement with the city of Santa Ana to acquire title to the beach frontage, for use as an outfall sewer. The two cities jointly agree to pay for the beach. This preliminary step is relative to perfecting an ocean outfall for the sewerage of the two cities.

Sealed bids for purchase of a house at 305 North Lion street were received as follows: M. W. McKim, $20,100; W. A. Dunlap, $20,000; Wm. Dyckman, $20,000. Owing to an irregularity in furnishing check with the latter bid, the board decided to reject all bids. The board has the right to order the house in open market and it ordered the manager to do so.

S. S. Conklin of The Daily Herald submitted figures to the board, showing that The Herald's rate charged for legal printing for street work is much lower than the rate offered by the publisher of another daily paper. Mr. Conklin asked that in fairness, The Herald be awarded the printing for the remainder of the fiscal year to May 1. He made this statement to the board in order to check up a mistaken report that existed in certain quarters that The Herald's rate was higher than that of the other publishers, whereas his charge is considerably lower. In one month he saved the city $90 in its printing bill, he said.

W. J. Heintz submitted a plat of a new subdivision on West and Santa Ana streets. The plat was accepted. The subdivision of Mrs. Gross at Walnut and Crane avenue was also accepted.

The subdivision of the Fern property was laid over and referred to the manager for further investigation. Owners of twenty acres on West street, south of Santa Ana street, also desire to subdivide and will petition the board provided the street openings are available.

The request of Mrs. Remick, asking for exemption of paying city taxes, was received. While the case is a deserving one, it is said, the board could not grant the request, having no jurisdiction to refund taxes already paid.

A communication was received from the League of the Southwest, asking the city to send delegates to its convention to be held in Riverside December 8, 9 and 10. The purpose is to devise means to harness the Colorado river to develop power. The object sought is of one of great importance to the western states. The letter was filed, and the city manager may attend the convention if he finds the time to do so.

Property owners on East Charlotte street protested against paving that street, owing to the high cost. The board has received several other protests, but has as yet taken no action upon them. The board has the power to advertise for bids for street paving, but reserves the right to reject any or all of them, should they be excessive. This action may be taken soon to ascertain just what paving costs.

The board passed an ordinance forbidding the dumping of any rubbish, cracked ice, dead animals, or any other objectionable matter upon public streets.

WILD ANIMAL ARENA FEATURES CARNIVAL OF ANAHEIM LEGION

Realizing that good clean amusement is one of the prime factors in the making of a successful celebration, the committee in charge of the good times week program of the Anaheim Legion post secured for its exclusive midway features the Greater Sheesley shows. This organization has never been seen before on the Pacific coast, being distinctly an eastern institution. They are now returning from a most successful engagement of fairs in the great northwest where they were accorded the distinction of being the most complete and novel amusement organization ever seen in the Canadian provinces.

In their tour of the state fairs of the northwest the papers of Helena, Butte, Salt Lake City and Silverdale, where they supplied the amusement features were unanimous in the statement that the Sheesley shows had set a new standard for amusements at their fairs, not only for the number and variety of the attractions but for the entire absence of any feature that could be considered objectionable. They will bring here their entire organization, twenty-five cars of most novel entertainment comprising twelve shows and six of the latest novelties in riding devices, which will be operated on an immense amusement plaza especially laid out for their benefit.

Featured over all the shows of the Sheesley company will be the wild animal arena. In a massive steel arena, lions, leopards, panthers, pumas, bears, in brief almost every known species of the denizens of the jungle will be seen in subjugation, handled by expert trainers.

To the seeker of thrills and novelties, Mr. Sheesley will offer for the first time under canvas the "League of Nations," featuring that irresistible star of musical comedy, Miss Bobby Burns Murray, in a joyous 100 per cent clean girls show. Probably the most sensational act ever seen in Southern California will be the appearance of Miss Olive Hager in almost unbelievable feats with a motorcycle on a racing track that has been specially built for her.

S. S. Delegates Thank Herald For Help During Convention Here

The delegates to the thirty-second annual convention of the Southern California Sunday School Association yesterday unanimously passed a resolution thanking the Anaheim Daily Herald for its co-operation in making the convention one of the most successful ever held. News stories while the convention was in progress during three days here as well as press notices before the opening of the sessions were largely responsible for the interest exhibited by residents of Northern Orange County it was pointed out.

Whisky Caused Joe's Downfall Says His Wife

That whisky is responsible for the downfall of Joe Aguilara and the breaking up of his home, is the opinion of his wife, who was responsible for his appearance in Justice J. R. Cox's court late yesterday afternoon on an assault charge.

Aguilara was at liberty today on $25 bail. His hearing is set for November 25.

Officers from the sheriff's office were called to Placentia Wednesday evening by Mrs. Aguilara, who stated that her husband was attempting to beat her. She told the officers that they had never had any serious trouble before and that Aguilara had not missed a day at work in several years in the Placentia packing house where he is employed.

Civilization Triumphant!

THE Civilized World pauses today--Armistice Day--and surveys the march of human events from the dawn of history, down all the dusty years, to the tragic climax of humanity's struggle for liberty--for happiness--for peace--on the consecrated battlefields of France.

Cruel, savage, barbarous as the object lesson was, it still served to show the whole world that mankind will no longer tolerate the mad whims of militaristic monarchs whose unbridled cupidity--whose imperialistic dreams must be served--even to the horrifying extent of plunging the world into a cataclysm that drenched the soil of France and Belgium with the precious blood of patriots!

Today, thank God, the idea of universal disarmament, holds paramount position in the heart and mind and soul of the normal, christian, civilized nations of the earth--all the genius, all the energy, all the logic, all the philosophy, all the spiritual influence of the greatest personalities of our time are harmoniously engaged in the God-blessed mission of solving the vast problem of bringing permanent peace--to establishing the Kingdom of Heaven on earth.

To the illustrious living no less than to the immortal dead, we owe a debt of gratitude that must be the first obligation of a grateful nation to discharge. To those who won imperishable glory on the field of battle--the ones who fell--God met with a smile. They are now at rest--at peace--bivouacked in the temple of eternity--immortalized and occupying a place of matchless distinction among the holiest memories of mankind.

To those who are still here--those who offered their all on the altar of their country those who unselfishly, courageously and heroically braved the tortures of hell that posterity should enjoy the fruits of their work--liberty, happiness, peace--that all men should enjoy the broadest opportunity of gathering the unimpaired results of their own initiative, industry and thrift, undisturbed, safe and secure.

HARDING'S SPEECH AT ARLINGTON CEMETERY

dead by making a better republic for the living.

Sleeping in these hallowed grounds are thousands of Americans who have given their blood for the baptism of freedom and its maintenance, armed exponents of the nation's conscience. It is better and nobler for their deeds. Burial here is rather more than a sign of the government's favor, it is a suggestion of a tomb in the heart of a nation sorrowing for its noble dead.

Today's ceremonies proclaim that the hero un-er-va is not un-er-va. We gather here to the nation's breast, within the shadow of the capitol, of the towering shaft that honors Wash- ington, the great father, and of the exquisite monument of Lincoln, the martyred savior. Here the inspirations of yesterday and the conscience of today forever unite to make the republic worthy of its death for flag and country.

Our are lofty resolutions today, as with tribute to the dead we com- mune ourselves to a better order for the living. With all my heart I wish we might say to the defenders who survive, to mothers who sorrow, to widows and children who mourn, that no such sacrifice shall be asked again.

The loftiest tribute we can bestow today—the heroically earned tribute—of unclouded thought, neither shadowed by remorse nor made vain by fancies, is the commitment of this republic to an advancement never before made. If American achievement is a cherished pride at home, it is our unselfishness among nations is all we wish it to be, and ours is a help- ful example in the world, then let us give of our influence and strength, yes, of our aspirations and convictions, to put mankind on a little higher plane, exulting in exalting the world's distressing and depressing trag- edies barred from the stage of right- eous civilization.

There have been a thousand de- fenses justly and patriotically made; a thousand offenses which reason and righteousness ought to have stayed. Let us beseech all men to join us in seeking the rule under which reason and righteousness shall prevail.

Standing today on hallowed ground, conscious that all America has halted to share in the tribute of heart and mind and soul to this fellow Ameri- can, and knowing that the world is noting this expression of the repub- lic's mindfulness, it is fitting to say that this sacrifice and that of the mil- lions dead shall not be in vain. There must be there shall be, the command- ing voice of a conscious civilization against armed warfare.

As we return this poor clay of its mother soil, garlanded by love and covered with the decorations that only nations can bestow, I can sense the prayers of our people, of all peo- ples, that this Armistice Day shall mark the beginning of a new and last- ing era of peace on earth, good will among men. Let me join in that prayer:

Our Father who art in heaven, Hallowed by thy name. Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in Heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who tres- pass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For Thine is the Kingdom, and the power, and the glory. Forever. Amen.

FORMER ANAHEIM GIRL RECEIVES SHOWER
Miss Emma Hahn of the National bank was given a pleasant surprise at the bank this morning in the form of a miscellaneous shower. She is soon to become the bride of Walter Jacobson, one of our young ranchers. Upon arrival at the bank this morning she found many mysterious strings leading in various directions, which she was instructed to follow up, and anything attached to them should be hers.

She found many beautiful and useful presents coming from the bank force, and it proved a merry time for all present until real banking hours opened.

Miss Hahn has been with the bank for the past eighteen months. She was formerly a resident in Anaheim and will be remembered by the younger set.

Indian Fishermen Scorn Hook and Line

INDIAN FISHERMAN
There are some skilled fishermen who scorn the hook and line as being too effeminate. Anybody, they think, can catch fish with a pointed pole and a reel and a line with a tempting morsel of bait dangling on its hook. But it takes a true fisherman to catch fish with a gaff, which is nothing more than a long pole with a short line or wire hanging from one end and a

INVESTMENT
POINTERS*It Is Rare Indeed—

It is a rare thing when the small investor gets a chance to share in the millions to be made from California oil. I was simply fortunate in owning this land and I am offering to share my good fortune with you. $50 buys one land-owner's interest. Quick action is necessary! Today is YOURS!

Why They Are Buying—

One reason Long Beach people are buying Fifty-Fifty so fast is because they have seen with their own eyes the quantities of oil being produced by the Horsch Well, and they know it proves our location in the oil producing territory. There is time, NOW, for you. Don't wait. Act!

That Which Speaks Loudest—

Is the fact that the big producing companies are increasing their holdings on Signal Hill and spending vast sums of money for continued drilling operations. They are not spending their millions without the assurance of MORE! Are you going to share in this new wealth that has come to Long Beach?

The Difference Is This—

The big difference between our proposition and selling stock is that we sell you the land and you get a definite, fixed portion of the oil, with no drilling expense, no salaries, no office expense. Besides, with us, the royalty is 50 per cent instead of the usual one-sixth. How many $50 interests can you handle? The more you invest the more you win!

And Then It Is Safer—

Because the land owner's interest is absolutely protected, the oil produced and run into the pipe line, their half of the price collected by the Western Savings Bank and remitted to each member under the Fifty-Fifty Plan. How much will YOUR royalty be?
