250 AUTO MEN ATTEND BANQUET AND HEAR TALKS AT HIGH SCHOOL

Dealers and Employes Discuss Improved Service To Public at Meeting Here Last Night.

To raise the standard of the automobile dealers and employes and make of them better business men and more efficient workmen in order that they may better serve the automobile driving public is the purpose of the Automobile Trade Association; and those who attended the banquet of the Orange County association at the high school building last night were thoroughly imbued with these ideas and principles.

Two hundred and fifty guests were seated around the banquet table to partake of the splendid dinner prepared by the members of the Anaheim Ebell Club. The members of the club received many compliments upon the meal, but they were handicapped by the fact that there were two hundred and fifty guests when only one hundred and fifty had been expected.

Speaking of the meeting this morning, Harry D. Riley said: "More truths and facts were brought out than at any meeting I ever attended."

Three Speakers on Program

The speakers were J. F. Thompson, branch manager of the Willys-Overland Pacific company, and H. J. Banta, manager of the Weinstock-Nichols Company, both of Los Angeles, and M. E. Drum, character ahologist of San Francisco. All three men delivered inspiring addresses. Mr. Drum illustrated that he has reduced character reading to a science and that he can tell by ones general appearance the work for which he is best fitted. He pointed out a number of local persons to illustrate the accuracy of his character readings.

"For Your Protection."

The emblem of the California Automobile Trade association is a radiation upon the rim of which appears the name of the association and at the top the association's slogan. "For Your Protection," The association has proven, it was pointed out last night, that it is true to the purpose by prosecuting a number of dealers who have imposed upon the public. Any complaint of unjust treatment by a member has been investigated by the association and if founded upon fact the member has been required to make amends or he has been expelled from the association.

The association is divided into seven different crafts. Each craft meets once a month and there is also a general monthly meeting. The following crafts are included in the organization: Motor car dealers, battery dealers and electricians, garage men, painters, upholsterers and body builders, dealers in tires, tubes and accesories, vulcanizers, truck and tractor agents.

DAUGHTER RAN AWAY WITH TWO BOYS SAYS S. A. MAN

No trace had been secured by the Santa Ana police today of a 15-year-old Mexican girl, the daughter of J. Estrada, proprietor of a Mexican restaurant on East Fourth street, who was reported to have run away with two boys, suspected by the father as Gilberto Higuera, of East Pine street, Santa Ana, and Joe Avanado, of Peralta.

Estrada told the police that his daughter disappeared Monday with two boys in a Dodge car, taking part of her wardrobe with her.

He gave the police a photograph of the girl but could give them no idea of her possible destination.

CITRUS GROWERS WILL STUDY ACCOUNTING AT FULLERTON

That an absolutely practical course in cost accounting, offering a method, rather than a set of "cut and dried" rules, is the object of farm account school for citrus men to be held at Fullerton high school Thursday, December 15, was announced by Farm Adviser H. E. Wahlberb today.

The class will start at 9:30 a. m. and will last all day. The afternoon session will open at 1:30. Classes will be held in the biology building of the high school. Professor R. V. Wright, farm management specialist of the state college of agriculture, extension division, will be in cahrge.

Citrus men who took the course last year are requested to bring their farm account books. Others who are interested in taking work and securing new ideas on methods of keeping track of production costs and other features in connection with citrus growing. All are instructed to bring pencils and paper and come prepared for an all day session.

ROTARIANS OF ANAHEIM TO VISIT SANTA ANA AND ORANGE

The regular Monday meeting of the Anaheim Rotary Club was held in the Cherry Blossom yesterday. Dr. H. D. Newkirk presided as chairman and introduced a business man of Redlands, Frank Moore, who spoke upon the splendid spirit and purpose of Rotary.

The committee of police protection reported that they had met with cooperation on the part of the city officials. A committee was appointed to confer with other charitable organizations in the matter of providing Christmas baskets for many poor people in the city.

As Christmas and New Year will be celebrated on Monday this year, which is the regular meeting day of the Anaheim Rotary, it was decided to meet with the Santa Ana and Orange clubs, respectively, at their regular meetings.

This announcement, made today by the football committee of the San Diego Athletic and Aeeration association, is definite and final, they stated.

FARM CENTER ENDORSES MOVE TO CONSERVE WATER HERE

The movement looking to the conservation of water which has the support of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, and of which Postmaster J. F. Ahlborn of this city is the apostle was endorsed last night by the Anaheim Farm Center.

When J. A. Hollingshead, chairman of the farm center, called the meeting to order at the high school building a large number of local ranchers were present as were also a number of public spirited citizens, interested in the growth and development of this community. The announcement that the meeting was to be devoted to a general discussion of the subject of water conservation had created considerable interest.

City Manager O. E. Steward was to have been the principal speaker, but illness prevented his attendance. The general discussion, however, brought out much information. The address of Postmaster Ahlborn was of especial interest. Always taking a conspicuous part in movements for the public good, Postmaster Ahlborn has found the agitation of the importance of water conservation a labor of love. As head of the movement backed up by the Associated Chambers of Commerce, he has placed an exhaustive report before the county board of supervisors in which an appropriation is asked for the investigation of feasible reservoir sites.

The movement for this appropriation is undoubtedly going over, it is said, as the business men and ranchers of the county are thoroughly alive to the situation and the board of supervisors will realize the great good to be accomplished by taking the situation in hand.

CHRISTMAN'S VICTIM MYSTERY TO POLICE

The identity of the person whom George Christman, alias George S. Jean, formerly of Anaheim, now in the Los Angeles county jail on various charges, says he murdered in New York was a puzzle yesterday for Deputy Sheriffs Wright and Strong. According to the officers, Christman has named three different women as the one he is said to have slain. After a severe grilling he asserted the woman he killed in New York was none of the three, but a girl whose name he declines to give, according to the police.

At first, it was stated, he said he killed or thought he killed Grace Alberts, known to him as Grace Mansfield, whom he says he met at San Juan Capistrano. Later he said the girl was Minnie Reed of New York.

Yesterday Christman is said to have told the officers that the girl killed was Blanche Falkingham. But she is supposed to be alive.

Then Christman said none of the three was his victim and he declined to talk any more. He is held on charges of grand larceny, burglary and joy riding.

TWO NEGROES ARRESTED AFTER BRUTAL ATTACK ON BUS DRIVER

D. O. Grimes Suffers Deep Cuts On Face and Broken Arm in Fight With Men at Fullerton.

Brutally attacked when he ordered two negroes to take the rear seat in his Crown Stage bus at Fullerton at 7:45 last night, D. O. Grimes, driver of the bus, suffered a broken arm and a three-inch cut on his left cheek.

The bus was ready to pull out for Los Angeles when the two negroes appeared on the scene. Space was available for two in the second seat and the rear seat was vacant. The occupants of the second seat are said to have held the door and Grimes politely requested the negroes to enter the rear seat.

The negroes, Eddie Woods and E. G. Brooks, both of Fullerton, then attacked the driver. One man had a club of inch material about two inches wide and three feet long. The other had a knife with which he lunged at Grimes' throat but missed, slashing his cheek and cutting through to the teeth in one place.

Hit Driver With Club

The man with the club endeavored to hit the driver an the head but the full force of the blow was caught on an arm lifted to ward off the blow. The arm was badly fractured as a result.

Feeling run high in Fullerton last night as a result of the brutal assault, and Woods, who was taken by City Marshal Arthur Eells of Fullerton at a friend's house, where he had fled, and Brooks, who was taken from a Motor Transit bus in Whittier in response to a call from the Fullerton police department, were brought to Santa Ana to the county jail for safe keeping.

That trouble with the same negroes has occurred between bus drivers before for the same reason is reported. It is thought that the attack was premeditated as one of the two had a club ready and the other quickly produced a knife. A complaint charging the two men with assault with a deadly weapon was sworn to this morning by Grimes. The negroes were to be arraigned before Justice French of Fullerton today.

Los Alamitos Man Takes Booze Case to High Court

Appeal to the superior court has been made by Attorneys Eden and Koepsel for Jack Talomantes, Los Alamitos hotel man, who recently was found guilty of selling intoxicating liquor and fined $200 by Justice J. B. Cox.

Talamantes was arrested last August and his trial was held in September. The jury disagreed and another trial was held in November. After a very brief period the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

BREA CITY MARSHAL TO GET HEARING ON BRIBERY CHARGE

J. E. Stone, Brea city marshal, was to appear before Justice J. B. Cox late this afternoon for his preliminary hearing on the charge of accepting a bribe from J. M. Chavez.

Stone is alleged to have offered to "suspend operations" against Chavez, whom he suspected of bootlegging, for the sum of $100. This money is said never to have been paid. Chavez swore to a complaint December, charging the marshal with bribery.

Stone has been held in the county jail since that time in lieu of $1000 bail set by Justice Cox. Although the bail was later reduced to $500, Stone remained in the county jail, unable to raise the required amount.

Witnesses who were to appear in the case were Dana Spicer and Fred Klein of Brea and Ed Renn of Placentia.

MAN FINED $25 FOR DRIVING AUTOMOBILE OVER NEW ROAD

Although he claimed that he had been given permission to pass over a new road under construction, Elmer McGee of Riverside was fined $25 by Judge Cox today. F. C. Ford, superintendent of construction on East Seventeenth street over which McGee was said to have passed, denied that permission had been given and stated that no one was ever allowed over the roads in process of construction.

GARDEN GROVE WANTS TO JOIN CITIES IN SEWER PROJECT

The joint agreement between the cities of Anaheim and Santa Ana for the construction of an outfall sewer to the ocean may be presented to the mayor and council at a special meeting which has been called for Thursday evening. The mayor and clerk of Santa Ana were instructed to sign the contract by the cohncil of Santa Ana last night.

A movement has been started at Garden Grove with a view to that city connecting with this improvement. The pipe line from this city will pass within a mile of Garden Grove, according to the survey.

Officials at the city hall stated this afternoon that they could see no objection to Garden Grove joining in this improvement, provided they would pay their share of the expense and provided it would not delay the construction of the sewer.

The improvement will cost $550,000.

Son and Widow Share In $45,000 Property

An estate of $45,000 was left by Dr. C. J. K. Jones, well known citrus grower of Orange, who died December 7, it was shown in a petition to probate the will on file today in superior court on behalf of J. R. Porter, Orange banker, through Attorney F. C. Drumm. The estate consists of citrus property, valued at about $41,000 near Orange, and the remainder consisting of personal property and cash.

Heirs to the estate named in the petition include the widow, who resides at Orange, a son, at Utica, N. Y., other non-resident relatives and Reinhold Barrein, of Orange, who was manager of Dr. Jones' ranch property.

TEACHER TO RECOVER FROM BURNS, REPORT

The condition of Miss Alice M. Clausen, Santa Ana school teacher, who was severely burned when her night-robe caught fire from an open gas heater Sunday morning, was slightly improved today, Miss Clausen is confined at the Community hospital where hopes are held out for her recovery.

A spurt of flame from the heater set fire to Miss Clausen's night robe, the only garment, which blazed instantly, enveloping her in flames. Her screams attracted other occupants of the house who rushed to her assistance.

Miss Clausen is the daughter of George Clausen, local furniture dealer, and has been employed as teacher of the kindergarten class of the Jefferson school.

TIME TO SEND THAT PACKAGE BACK EAST WARNS POSTMASTER

Have you started that parcel east yet? If not, it is about time, if you wish it to reach there by Christmas day. At the same time we wish once more to impress upon the public the necessity of addressing parcel post packages correctly. This is the advice of Postmaster J. F. Ahlborn.

Place the address in the lower right hand corner, and the name of the sender in the upper left-hand corner. This is necessary to insure the package reaching its destination.

Never place the name of the sender under the name of the party to whom the parcel is addressed or there is likelihood of the package being returned by a railway mail clerk to the Anaheim postoffice.

This occurs occasionally, and so it is well to always properly correct your package, as well as securely pack them.

J. H. STERN SENTENCED TO TERM IN PRISON FOR AUTO THEFT

J. H. Stern, one of the Stern brothers charged with embezzlement in connection with the theft of an automobile belonging to the American Legion post of Santa Ana, pleaded guilty to the charge at 1 o'clock this afternoon and was sentenced to from one to ten years in San Quentin by Judge Z. B. West. He will be taken to the prison within a few days, it was said.

In making his plea of guilty today, J. H. Stern took all of the responsibility for the crime, saying that his brother, S. M. Stern, was "working" for him at the time. J. H. Stern is the older of the two men. The trial of the younger brother is set for January 3.

He pleaded not guilty to the charge.

BOOZE RUNNERS CAUGHT AS COUNTY POLICE START SEARCH

Quick action on the part of San Diego county officers in capturing two cars laden with booze at Oceanside late yesterday saved work for Orange County officers, who were patrolling the highways in the southern end of the county.

In response to a call from the customs office at San Diego, Sheriff C. E. Jackson and deputies Roy Ballard and C. M. Woos established a patrol of the boulevard. They were released a short time later when word was received from Oceanside that the two cars with their cargos had been captured.

The first objective was the few pit mines still working in Crawford county and then and then "on to Scammon" was the cheer cry as husbands, fathers and sweethearts trailed and cheered them on.

"The women will mob every working mine south to the Oklahoma line," "rump" strike leaders announced in making known plans of the women to invade Cherokee county for the first time.

The request for the postponement was made by A. W. Rutan, attorney appointed to act for the boys. He desires to hold a conference with parents prior to determining the date of the trial.

MAN FALLS DOWN AND INJURES LEG

He has been a resident of Olive for a number of years.

POPULATION OF ANAHEIM DOUBLES DURING YEAR NEARLY 10,000 HERE NOW

The population of Anaheim at this good hour is in excess of 9,000, according to a statement made today by a representative of the Kassan Directory Company. New residents are moving in so fast as to hamper the closing of the directory on schedule time, and the Kassan Company is devoting all of making the most authentic and complete record.

On December 1, there were 5,126 adults in Anaheim, and on the basis of "three-fourths of a child to each adult" the number of children would be 2,843, and the total population of 8,969.

From October 1 to December 1, sixty-seven new families became residents of Anaheim. The growth during the first of December has been as great and averaging four persons to a family the population would be in excess of 9,000.

In January 1920 the United States census gave Anaheim as 5,526, representing a gain of almost 100 per cent!

The city water meter connections, estimated at five persons to a tap verifies the records of the Kassan Company.

Now add to this splendid record of development this fact—500 persons will be added to the present figures of over 9,000 when the contemplated additions to the city are made. With the rapid arrival of new residents it is extremely conservative to declare that the population of Anaheim will leap the 10,000 mark in less than three months.

The Kassan Directory Company have been carefully canvassing Anaheim and Northern Orange County for several months and their representatives declare that getting a complete record was very difficult on account of the rapid growth of the various towns, particularly Anaheim. The population figures of the Kassan Company are based on the most accurate information and besides this no person was included in the population of Anaheim unless that person actually resided within the corporate limits of the city. The most rigid rule was followed and as a result when the work is finished the public will possess a most valuable census record.

Hooray for Greater Anaheim!

Anaheim has donned seven league boots and nothing can stop her from realizing the splendid destiny that her resources, physical beauty, climatic charm, genius for prosperity, and splendid citizenship deserve!

Farm Bureau Statement Clears Misunderstanding

That there is in Orange County considerable misunderstanding about the relations between the Orange County Farm Bureau and the farm advisor and also about how each office operates, is financed and maintained, was disclosed in Santa Ana when a statement, aimed to clarify these points, was issued at the farm bureau office.

A general impression exists, it was stated, that the farm bureau pays the salaries of the farm advisor and his assistants and also pays for the upkeep of the advisor's office and of the automobiles he and his assistants use.

This impression is entirely erroneous, it was pointed out.

Farm Bureau Functions

Continuing, the statement set forth "that the Orange County Farm Bureau is:

"An organization of farmers who (a) co-operate with the department of agriculture and the University of California in the agricultural improvement of the county; (b) co-operate among themselves to secure better prices for farm crops, better roads, better schools, and better living conditions in the open country.

"Managed by a board of directors elected by farmers of each organized district.

"Financed by membership. The fee is $5, fifty cents of which carries a membership in the national farm bureau, $1, of which carries a membership in the state farm bureau, $1 of which supports the local center organization and $3.50 of which supports the county organization. The expenses of the county organization are for secretary, editor of publicity, notices of meetings, organization literature and expenses.

Defining Advisor

"A county agricultural agent is a public official whose business it is to make available in practical form the knowledge of agricultural science as developed by the state experiment statistics, the United States department of agriculture and the results of the best farm practice. He is expected to show by field demonstrations, publications, and otherwise, the application of such knowledge to local farm conditions.

"He co-operates with but is in no way an officer of or responsible for the actions of the farm bureau.

"Receives his whole salary from the state and national funds.

"He maintains an office in the county seat, but spends the majority of time in assisting farmers in the rural sections of the county.

"The expenses of the far advisor's office, the maintenance of automobiles, and expenses when away from the county seat, are all paid from county funds.

"The expenses of the farm advisor's and his assistants are available to any resident of the county, regardless of membership in the farm bureau. Since the farm bureau, however, is the best organized medium through which the farm advisor may work, his first attention is given to this organization."

Citrus Growers Will Form Association to Fight Pests

The Orange County Citrus Institute which closed Saturday night, in a resolution prepared by C. E. Utt, prominent Orange county citrus grower, went on record as favoring the formation and financing by county growers of an association to promote the biological control of citrus pests. A rising vote following the presentation of the resolution showed the sentiment to be almost unanimous in favor of the association.

The resolution follows:

"Resolved that we, the 200 or more growers assembled at the Third Annual Citrus Institute of Orange County are heartily in favor of the formation of an association financed by and controlled by growers to promote biological control of citrus pests and that we request directors of our several associations to proceed to the formation of such an organization."

Report on Insectary

The presentation of the resolution followed a report of the work of the Committee of Eight recently appointed by county growers to investigate a proposed county insectary, by Utt, who is chairman of the committee, and D. Eyman Huff, vice-president of the David Hewes corporation. Utt and Huff expressed themselves as being emphatically in favor of the proposed insectary.

Harry Smith, chief of the division of pest control of the state department of agriculture, spoke on "The Possibilities of Parasitic Control of Citrus Pests." Smith told of the invasion of Orange County in 1880 by a pest which threatened the extinction of the citrus industry and the introduction by the United States department of agriculture from Australia of the vidalia, a natural enemy of the local pest, which checked the depredations of the latter. He told of the introduction from South Africa of another insect which has measurably halted the activities of the black scale and urged the employment by Orange County growers of entomologists in a world wide search for parasites which will ultimately control the native pests.

R. S. Woglum, entomologist at the California Fruit Exchange, spoke on the present status of parasitic control in Southern California. R. N. Wilson, secretary of the agricultural legislative committee, though not on the afternoon's program, was called upon to speak.

Discuss Labor Question

Parasitic control of pests has gave way to labor questions. C. V. Newman, manager of the San Joaquin Fruit company, in a plea for the stabilization of labor by improving conditions in orchard and packing house and the erection of homes for both the Mexicans and white laborers, declared:

"Labor is like electricity. In the hands of a skilled worker it is a faithful employe, but in the hands of the inept it is a power for destruction."

Newman emphasized the importance of houses and dormitories for citrus laborers. Mexicans who reside in the towns, he declared, are dissatisfied because of the high rents and the high prices of food and clothing. On Limoneira ranch he said, 200 houses have been erected for families of workers. Sixty-five of these have been set aside as homes for white employes. Single men are housed in three dormitories. A store where groceries and clothing are sold at prices approximately 10 per cent above cost has been established and is proving the wisdom of the plan, he said. Monthly audits of the store's books show between $7,000 and $9,000 in receipts.

Other ranches are following this example, he said. The San Joaquin Fruit Company has erected houses and for the unmarried help has had constructed dormitories equipped with modern conveniences with the addition of reading and social rooms.

"In this manner" he said, "we have an adequate supply of labor at all seasons of the year and even during labor disturbances."

Use Welfare Worker

C. L. Cumrine, manager of the La Habra Citrus Association, told the growers of the work of a woman welfare worker among the Mexican families employed by the association. The workers, he said are being taught honesty and reliability through the medium of homes and entertainments such as motion picture shows, boxing and dances.

Dr. Charles L. Bennett of San Dimas, speaking on sanitary housing of workers, stressed the importance of decent housing, characterizing it an economic asset.

The citrus institute closed at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Approximately 350 county growers attended the final session.

Perhaps the burglars engaged in stealing feminine attire take this method of discouraging style they deem immodest.

Even the distinguished Mary Roberts Rinehart is losing standing by having to write according to the views of a man whose views always are wrong.

HEADLINERS FROM BIG CIRCUIT ARE COMING TO CALIFORNIA

The acts which compose the Meiklejohn and Dunn vaudeville road show which is coming to the California Theater tomorrow are all headliners on some big circuit. For instance, those wonderful Italian comedians and musicians, the De Michelle brothers, have just completed their tour of the Pantages circuit and it is only because their home is in California that they are able to appear in Anaheim. Their act is entitled "Can't Keep 'Em Up," and it is a riot of laughter from start to finish.

Medley and Dupree have a neat collection of songs, steps and stories and as singers and dancers they will find few equals. Aerial acts are quite common but the Delsos are bringing a new act with them from Australia which they call "A Whirl, a Thrill and a Beautiful Girl," and in this act they feature their famous death slide. Harvey and Lewis are two clever entertainers who will amuse the audience with their comedy act entitled "We Can't Help It."

The feature photoplay for this program is "The Servant in the House," which is a picturization of the famous play of the same name.

MISS DUMKE HONOR GUEST AT SHOWER

Alice Pannier, assisted by her sister Ruth, entertained a party of friends at her home at Glen Rose Ranch last night, the occasion being a kitchen shower, complimenting Lillian Dumke whose wedding will be a social event of next week. The evening was spent playing games until the bride-elect was called into another room where a clothes line was filled with many gifts from her friends. Late in the evening light refreshments were served to Anita Herzler, Mabel Betz, Sydia Betz, Theresa Siewart, Minnie Wallace, Edna Hoculi, Maude Livingston, Lydia Sievick, Lucy Wood, the honor guest, Lillian Dumke and Gladys and Alice Zahl.

PARENT-TEACHERS CLUB HEARS WAR TALK

At the Parent-Teachers' meeting at the Junior High School, Mr. M. M. Fishback of Orange Union High School gave a very interesting talk on the "Battlefields of the Late War" and the necessarily limited conditions for education for years to come of a people depressed in spirit and burdened with debt.

He showed the audience a bonifide passport and told of the many things necessary to be done, even to paying one's income tax before Uncle Sam is willing to part with one of his nephews. He prefaced his talk with a few incidents of the ocean voyage and his traveling companions.

A chorus of girls and boys, accompanied by the school orchestra, delighted the association with music. Eight little girls from the fifth grade sang a Christmas song about "Santa Claus." The president, Mrs. C. W. Austin, presided at the business meeting.

FULLERTON MAN WEDS ANAHEIM GIRL

J. C. S. Garrick and Miss Pauline Levine were quietly married at Los Angeles at high noon yesterday. The newly weds will be at home to their friends on West Truslow avenue, Fullerton.

Mr. Garrick is the foreman of the service department at Riley's garage. He is also director of the Automobile Trades Association Band.

Miss Levine has been a resident of Anaheim for three years, having come here from New York. She is popular socially. Mr. and Mrs. Garrick have the good will and wishes of a large circle of friends, notwithstanding that some of their most intimate friends feel that, they did not secure a "square deal," the wedding having taken place without their knowledge, though not without their full approval.

H. C. L. CLUB HOLDS MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT

The members of the H. C. L. Club held a meeting in the club rooms at the Placentia grammar school last night. At 6:30 o'clock, a pot-luck supper was enjoyed after which a short business meeting was held. The remainder of the evening was spent with sewing and visiting.

Those enjoying the meeting were Freda Ipsen, Mabel Ipsen, Bess Clark, Elnor Loescher, Beatrice Libby, Elsa Haffi, Ola Stolwell, Mildred Richardson, Nell Robertson, Eva Salter, Wilma Adams, Margaret Key, Ruth Hart, Jessie Salter, Alice Key, Marie Robertson and Mrs. A. L. McCullah.

MERRY FEW AT CAMPBELL HOME

Mrs. R. E. Campbell was hostess to the members of the Merry Few Club at her home on Zeyn street yesterday afternoon. The afternoon was spent with sewing and plans were made for a Christmas party to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Prescott on West street next Tuesday afternoon and evening. Late in the afternoon the hostess served a delicious luncheon to Mrs. Lyman Davis and daughter, Juanita Lucille, Mrs. Gus Prescott, Mrs. Emil Kestenholz and daughter, Norma May, Mrs. E. Voss Harrington and son Voss, Mrs. E. E. Kneip and daughter Naomi Jean, Mrs. Norbert Anderson, Mrs. Hubert Wilson and Mrs. Roger Sherman.

LABOR BOARD APPROVES CUT IN WAGES OF RAIL WORKERS

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—Drastic changes in overtime pay of half a million railroad workers were made public by the United States railroad labor board today. The board, in announcing new working rules, stated that starting Friday maintenance of way employes would not be paid time and a half for overtime until a ten hours had been completed. Under the old rules time and a half was paid after eight hours work.

The ruling will save the roads millions of dollars a year in operating expenses. The new rulings were branded today as a blow to the eight hour day by J. J. Farnan, vice president of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way employes.

"The eight hour day is gone," he stated. "There is nothing to prevent the carriers from working men ten hours a day if there is no punitive provision."

Studebaker Dealer

Makes an Important Announcement Concerning the Used Car Values

Popularity of This Make Having an Unprecedented Effect on Used Car Market.

The fact that Studebaker cars are now generally recognized by discriminating buyers as the best new car values on the market, enables the Studebaker dealer to collect as "trade ins" on new Studebaker cars, an excellent assortment of high-grade used cars. On account of this unprecedented Studebaker popularity, these high-grade cars were taken in at fair market values.

Studebaker dealers are in the new car business and make their profit selling new cars,—not used cars; therefore all used cars traded in on new Studebakers are sold at actual cost.

If the used car buyer selects wisely and buys from a reliable dealer at a fair used car market price, he should be able to buy more real automobile value for a price from $500 to $900 than he could get in any new car at this low price.

Here are a few of these choice bargains; come in and look them over—we have many more from which you can choose.

There Is no Better Investment Than A Ranch in the Vicinity of Anaheim

Between Ourselves

By Della M. Stewart

Let's learn not to accept blindly. Why not do our own thinking for ourselves? A lazy mentality hinders progress just as much as a lazy physical attitude toward life binders personal advancement.

Conditions about us and in our own lives are not only bettered often because we assume that they must always go on just as they have. They are, therefore they must always be. That's not sound reasoning, is it, now we think of it?

But it's only the things we think about that are improved. Progress always comes because somebody somewhere has troubled to think out a better method or way. We shall find this true, whether we apply it to house-work or the highest reaches of science.

We take poverty for granted, and it is ours. We take poor government for granted, and continue to be the victims. We accept unharmonious family life as a thing which must be, and continue to have our days made torture. Unless we exert ourselves enough to think out better plans for doing, we shall not march in the line of progress, but sit back and watch braver ones succeed where we fail.

There are certain immutable conditions and laws of life and nature that we must accept as cheerfully as possible because they are beyond our power to change. But these are in the great minority in our lives. If we will, we can overcome, we can change, we can progress.

Why blindly accept?

Have a Smile

How he earned a shilling tip was amusingly told by Sir Thomas Lipton at a concert given by the firm's choral society a few weeks back. "When I was crossing over from America last year," he said, "I was preparing to sit down on a deck chair when a parson came up. 'Look here, steward,' he said, 'I want a deck chair put in that corner spot.' I got a deck chair and placed it there, when he said, 'Here's a bob for you.' Being Scotch," concluded Sir Thomas, "I took it."

Admiral Sir Guy Gaunt said at a dinner in New York: "American hotels are good, amazingly good, but in the cosmopolitan districts there's a lack of ceremony about them which I for one rather enjoy. I know a pompous Englishman who arrived at one of these hotels by auto. He strode up to the desk and asked for a room. 'I am Lord Caravan,' he said.

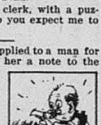

"'All right, lord,' said the clerk genially. 'Room 327. Three flights up turn to the right, fourth door on the left hand side.'

"But the Englishman thumped his heavy traveling bag on the counter and said coldly and significantly: 'I am the Earl of Caravan.'

"'Well,' said the clerk, with a puzzled smile, 'what do you expect me to do—kiss ye?'"

A washerwoman applied to a man for work, and he gave her a note to the manager of a certain club. It read as follows:

"Dear Mr. X.—This woman wants washing."

Shortly afterward the answer came back: "Dear Sir—I dare say she does; but I don't care for the job."

Blake was talking with his friend Scribbler, the well-known English journalist of Fleet street.

"Do you believe in writing anonymously?" he asked the hero of the pen.

Scribbler looked to see that the door of his study was shut ere he replied in a confidential whisper: "Well, I've often wished that one of my productions had been anonymous."

"What was that?" asked Blake.

"A letter proposing to Mrs. Scribbler," groaned the famous writer.

E. A. Sharp and wife, former Brea business folks, were visitors from Los Angeles Monday.

TOMMY TIT MAKES GOOD HIS BOAST

"DEE, dee, dee, chickadee! See me- See me-" Tommy Tit the Chickadee kept saying this over and over as he flew from the Green Forest up through the Old Orchard on his way to Farmer Brown's dooryard, and his voice was merry. In fact, his voice was the merriest, cheeriest sound to be heard that bright, snapping cold morning. To be sure, there were other voices, but they were not merry, nor were they cheery. There was the voice of Sammy Jay, but it sounded peevish and discontented. And there was the voice of Blacky the Crow, but it sounded harsh and unpleasant. And there was the voice of Chatterer the Red Squirrel, but Chatterer was scolding, just from habit, and so his voice was not pleasant to hear.

So every one who heard Tommy Tit's cheery voice that cold winter morning just had to smile. Yes, sir, they had to smile, even Sammy Jay and Blacky the Crow. They just couldn't help themselves. When Tommy reached the stone wall, that separated the Old Orchard from Farmer Brown's dooryard his sharp eyes were not long in finding Peter Rabbit and Happy Jack the Gray Squirrel, and Chatterer the Red Squirrel hiding in the old wall, where they could peep out and see all that happened in Farmer Brown's dooryard. Looking back through the Old Orchard he saw what seemed like a little bit of the blue, blue sky flitting silently from tree to tree. It was Sammy Jay. Over in the very top of a tall maple tree a long way off was a spot of black. Tommy Tit didn't need to be told that it was Blacky the Crow, and that that was as near as Blacky dared come.

Tommy fairly bubbled over with joy. He knew what it all meant. He knew that Peter Rabbit and Happy Jack and Chatterer and Sammy Jay and Blacky the Crow had come to see him make good his boast that he would eat from the hand of Farmer Brown's boy, and that not one of them really believed that he would do it. He tickled all over and cut up all sorts of capers just for pure joy. Finally he flew over to the maple tree that grows close by Farmer Brown's house.

"Dee, dee, dee, chickadee! See me! See me! called Tommy Tit, and his voice sounded cheerier than ever and merrier than ever.

Then the door of Farmer Brown's house opened and out stepped Farmer Brown's boy and looked up at Tommy Tit, and the look in his eyes was gentle and good to see. He pursed up his lips and from them came the softest, sweetest whistle, and it sounded like "Phoe-be."

Peter Rabbit pinched himself to be sure that he was awake, for it was Tommy Tit's own love note, and if Peter had not been looking straight at Farmer Brown's boy he would have been sure that it was Tommy himself who had whistled.

"Phoe-be," whistled Farmer Brown's boy again.

"Phoe-be," replied Tommy Tit, and it was hard to say which whistle was the softest and sweetest.

"Phoe-be," whistled Farmer Brown's boy once more, and held out his hand. In it was a cracked hickory nut.

"De-dee-dee- See me!" cried Tammy Tit, and flitted from the maple tree right on the hand of Farmer Brown's Boy.

"Dee, dee, dee! See me! See me!" cried Tommy Tit, and flitted down from the maple tree right on the hand of Farmer Brown's boy, and his bright little eyes twinkled merrily as he helped himself to a bit of nut meat.

Peter Rabbit looked at Happy Jack, and Happy Jack looked at Chatterer, and all three looked as if they couldn't believe their own eyes. Then they looked back at Farmer Brown's boy, and there on his head sat Tommy Tit.

"Dee, dee(dee, chickadee! See me! See me!" called Tommy Tit, and his voice was merrier than ever, for he had made good his boast.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

FRANCE MAY NEED FUND TO RESTORE DEVASTATED MARSHALS

American Reception Committees, Movie Men, Wildcat Distributers, Cooks, Etc., Giving Foch the Battle of His Career.

Ferdinand Foch, marshal of France, will return to his country soon with several dozen college degrees, one wildcat, numerous souvenirs from the Blackfeet Indians, an ample supply of bruises and abrasions received at the hands of American movie picture men and reception committees, and a severe case of indigestion at the hands of American chefs.

His chief source of relief will be that nobody tried to make him eat the degrees or the wildcat.

* * *

American hospitality is a splendid thing in many ways, the marshal will testify, but you can get as badly injured at it as you can at the battle-front. The only difference is that it takes the Red Cross longer to realize that you are suffering.

* * *

Marshal Foch's impression of America is that it is a country entirely surrounded by fifteen course dinners and obstreperous movie picture operators. Ask him which of the forty-eight states impressed him most and he will tell you chronic indigestion, obesity, gout, and general lassitude.

* * *

He will admit that to the visitors belong the spoils, but he will question the theory of the entertainment committees that the spoils should be made into a sort of goulash and served him at every train stop.

* * *

Just what he did to deserve all the punishment is a mystery. He had supposed America felt a sense of graditude toward him. Yet he no sooner set foot on American soil than Broadway offices emptied their waste-paper baskets upon him. Indeed, his memory must be a nightmare of hand-shakers, waiters, chefs, motorcycle cops, chauffeurs, college professors and camera men, all attacking without mercy.

* * *

One can almost hear him paraphrasing his famous message: "My left arm is broken, my right arm is bent, my stomach is ruined, my patience is exhausted....I am attacking the ship office with a view to getting back to France, where a marshal can have a quiet smoke, eat when he dam pleases, and tell the movie picture operators to chase themselves."
