MOTHER TO TELL HOW SHE TRIED TO STOP LOVE AFFAIR OF SON

Mrs. John Kennedy Will Take Stand Today In Trial Of Arthur Burch—State May Close Tonight.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—Mrs. John D. Kennedy, mother of the young broker who lost his life at Beverly Glen in one of the most sensational murder mysteries of recent years, was to face Arthur C. Burch today as his chief accuser.

The bereved mother was to be placed on the stand by the state, to tell of the relations between her son and Madalynne Obenchain, now jointly accused of his slaying.

She was expected to tell how she and her husband, J. D. Kennedy, tried repeatedly to break off the affair, but that the beautiful Madalynne seemed to hold her son in a grip of infatuation.

The state planned to use Mrs. Kennedy in painting an effective picture for the jury—a picture of this delicate mother, gowned in black, bowed with grief for her murdered son.

TROOPS CHECK RIOTING IN COAL FIELDS OF SOUTHERN KANSAS

PITTSBURG, Kan., Dec., 15.—The rioting in the southern Kansas coal fields by the "Amazon army" appeared checked at least temporarily, with arrival of national guard troops in the disturbed district.

Sheriff Milt Gould of Crawford county received word that several hundred women were mobolized at Cherokee and are gathered about a mine there, but are not staging an offensive against workers.

Franklin, heretofore headquarters of the "Amazon army" also was reported quiet.

CAVALRY ON PATROL

The state troops included large numbers of cavalry which were distributed over Crawford county to patrol the mine field.

As the troops moved in, a statement from Alexander Howat, chief of the "rump" forces, for whom the Amazon army is fighting, announced the raiding by the women.

Women leaders of the Amazon army will be criminally prosecuted, it was declared today.

County Attorney C. A. Burnett announced that as soon as possible an investigation of rioting would be made and "warrants issued as the facts justify." This action will be in addition to any taken by the military.

MOTORCYCLE DAMAGED BY MYSTERY FIRE AT YORBA

Mystery surrounds the origin of the fire that destroyed the motorcycle of Carl Shores at Yorba some time between December 10 and 13. In a report to the office of Sheriff C. E. Jackson today, Shores stated that he left the motorcycle in a shed on the noon of December 10 when he went and did not return for it until yesterday.

The motor was in good shape when he left, but upon his return it had been burned. A neighbor woman said that she had heard an explosion about midnight Saturday night that sounded as though it came from the shed in which the motor was kept. It is thought that spontaneous combustion must have been responsible for the fire and that the explosion occurred when the fire started.

Anaheimers Must Pay Income Tax Today, Says Burns

Many Anaheim people who have not paid their income tax received notice yesterday from the Los Angeles office of the internal revenue collector reminding them that they must "come across."

Today is the last day on which the tax can be paid without penalty being added. The payments will be accepted up to 5 o'clock this afternoon by the Los Angeles office or by Deputy Elmer B. Burns at the city hall in Santa Ana.

Five per cent penalty will be added on all taxes which become delinquent and 1 per cent a month penalty for each month that the tax remains unpaid.

Up to the time that the notices were sent out yesterday the Los Angeles office announced that $10,000,000 remained to be paid through that office.

TICKETS FOR FOOTBALL GAME AT PASADENA TO BE SOLD HERE

Tickets for the football game between the University of California and Washington and Jefferson College at Pasadena on New Years Day will be put on sale here in a few days, according to Malcolm Fraser, secretary of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Fraser received a telegram this morning announcing that plans for the distribution of the tickets had been changed.

There are but two prices on tickets this year—$2.50 plus the war tax and $5 plus the war tax. The Tournament of Roses officials state that mail orders accompanied by check, money order or cash will be accepted and filled in the order of receipt and until all remaining seats are sold.

There will be no further sale of seats for the new stadium until after January 1. Those holding stadium receipts will have first choice of seats for the New Year's game this time and after that the general public will be privileged to purchase the remaining seats.

No individual is to be permitted to purchase more than ten tickets for the game with the exception of bona fide secretaries of chamber of commerce who may take orders and purchase tickets for the several communities they represent if they so desire.

HUGE CROWD ATTENDS POULTRY SHOW AT SANTA ANA

Wyandottes and Rocks held the center of attraction at the Southern California Poultry show today. A special program of practical methods of handling these types of birds was planned for this afternoon. E. G. Teaney, manager of the show, was expected to have charge of the demonstration.

Huge crowds attended the show yesterday and last night the building was well filled. Judging has been practically completed and the fancy classes have been checked and verified. Southern California birds won out in the majority of cases over many of the winners in the state show at Berkeley, which are on exhibition at the show.

Two White Leghorns offered as prizes last night were from the flock of J. V. McConnell at Garden Grove. J. H. Wilde of Santa Ana was the winner of the prize birds.

The prize tonight will be two fancy Brown Leghorns offered by J. H. Williams, judge of one of the classes in the show. Both of these are fancy birds and prize winners as have been all of the birds given as prizes. The fact that no admission is charged and the numbered tickets are given free at the gate has attracted many.

Friday will be children's day and the prize tomorrow night will be two router pigeons offered by Mrs. Ben Davis of Cucamonga. These two pigeons won first prize in the show in this class and are valued at $25.

A very interesting and practical lecture and demonstration on Rhode Islands was given by A. C. Goodacre of Compton yesterday afternoon. "Princess Pat," the prize winning hen of Ford Heving of Anaheim, was used in the demonstration. Mr. Goodacre showed why "Princess Pat" was such a remarkable hen.

Most Amazing Sales Day In History of Anaheim Will be Held Tomorrow

Free Gifts Worth Hundreds of Dollars Will Be Given By Merchants---Be Sure to Bring Your Copy of the Merchant-Herald Sales Section Bearing Number

Cheer up Folks! Tomorrow is the big day—Friday, December 16! It's Anaheim Merchants Christmas Gift to the Public Festival!

Hundreds of dollars in free gifts of valuable and most acceptable merchandise will be given to the fortunate ones who hold the magic numbers printed in the upper left hand corner of the Merchants-Herald circular and Special Free Gift Section of Wednesday's Edition of The Herald, corresponding with the numbers displayed in the windows of the stores embraced in this sensational campaign of trade appreciation! To the Merchants Free Gifts, the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce adds $100 in cash, represented in 20 merchandise certificates of the denomination of $5.00 each.

Aside from this splendidly generous gift feature of the day, there will be a veritable carnival of genuine bargains! Unquestionably, the most amazing—most stupenduous—most attractive sale in the merchandising history of Anaheim!

The stores are radiant with fascinating Christmas Stocks — everything beautiful and useful and suitable as gifts are shown in an extraordinary broad range of selection, from the simplest toys, to gladden the hearts of the Kiddies to the more sensible things for the grown ups! All priced within the compass of every purse!

Here is positively the greatest opportunity to shop profitably ever offered to the buying public of Anaheim and all Orange County in truth! The big price reductions made in all kinds of merchandise to celebrate this "Merchants Appreciation Sale" would be sacrificial at any time of the year, but in the Christmas season where there is an unusual demand for these goods it proves what The HERALD has always contended: that the merchants of Anaheim conducted their business—their sales on a high plane of commercial ethics—that they sold a high quality of merchandise consistently priced and refused to surrender their business integrity and honor to cheap, hum-bugging practices to attract trade to their stores. Character has been held high above mere profits!

There will be a tremendous crowd of shoppers in town Friday. They will come from all parts of Orange county. They will constitute a great army of good buyers—persons who appreciate the disposition of the merchants to price the most desirable, seasonable merchandise so that their dollar will go the longest way toward discharging the obligations of the Christmas Gift list.

Do yourself the favor of taking advantage of all the price reductions offered. Bring the copy of the section of the Herald showing the gift number in the upper left hand corner of the first page. Compare this number with the numbers displayed in the show windows of all the stores embraced in the Anaheim Merchants-Anaheim Herald Campaign and in addition to the profits you will gather in price reductions, you may get a handsome useful gift! Come early — make your money go the longest way!

Did Santa Ever Forget You? Read This Mother's Letter

Can you remember, like this mother can, the Christmas Day when you thought Santa Claus was going to pass you by? Surely you can. But, probably, old Saint Nicholas came to you and brought you the little gift your heart was crying for.

But today, like then, there are many unfortunate little children who are wishing with all their tiny hearts for a present; but there will be no Santa Claus for them unless it is you. Stockings, one of each pair filled with candy and trinkets, are coming to The Herald office in answer to the plea sent out. Each pair will take some poor little kiddie happy. Are you going to help?

Here's a letter from a mother who, when a child, thought Santa Claus had forgotten her:

Editor Herald: Having just read your article in the Anaheim Daily Herald of December 13 issue, I want to express, if only in a small way, my desire to co-operate in this splendid work. As I read the beautiful appeal for the poor unfortunate little children whose hearts are filled with a longing for the pretty gifts they see but can not have because of poverty in the home, if they have one, my thoughts went back to my childhood when just a tiny child, how I wanted a doll for Christmas but I also knew it took money to get Santa Claus to bring one, and we were poor. So mother took me aside and explained how I needed a dress so badly and wouldn't it do instead of the doll this time? Well, I swallowed a lump that came very near choking me and tried so hard not to cry and submitted to the fate of a toyless Christmas.

On Christmas morning, Uncle John was coming home for the holidays so I tried to think of that for consolation.

Christmas eve was always an event filled with anticipation, and I couldn't help but feel, perhaps, the doll would come anyway. I still had faith, I went to bed, but not to sleep and listened and waited, finally the door opened and footsteps were approaching. I waited breathlessly. Sure enough they came to my bedside and on a chair beside the bed they placed something, then beat a speedy retreat. As soon as ever I could, I crawled over to find, as I thought, perhaps it was the doll, there lay a little bundle. I felt of it and, oh, the heart of me sunk, it was woolen goods—the dress.

There was nothing to do but to crawl back in bed a broken hearted and disappointed child, but I was determined not to let mother know how bad I felt.

Christmas day dawned a bright, sunny day, and my household was tiptoe with expectancy, welcoming the return of Uncle John. Finally he came—bag and baggage—ushered in, his trunk dragged out in the middle of the floor, and he opened it and what excitement! There was a gift for everyone but me; and it looked very much as if my doom was sealed and the lid to be dropped down. No one can understand the feeling I endured. Then suddenly he said: "Oh, yes, I almost forgot Anne." And out of the very bottom-most corner what do you think he took? I thought I would go wild for sheer joy! In my hungry arms he placed a beautiful doll.

The sun never shone so bright as it did on that glorious Christmas day.

How little it takes to make glad the heart of a little child, and a pair of stockings and only one to fill seems such a little thing to do. Not only will I give one but a dozen.

From one who hasn't forgotten.

Motorcycle Cop Catches Autoist After Fast Race

Timed at fifty-one miles an hour as he sped through a trap on the Huntington Beach boulevard, Roy Hanby of the Kenwood apartments at Huntington Beach was caught by County Traffic Officer Vernon Meyers after a short chase yesterday morning.

Meyers stated that Hanby was traveling at the rate of sixty-five miles an hour when he was caught. A heavy fog which wet the road and rendered it slippery increased the hazard of the pursuit.

With Justice J. B. Cox's well known custom in regard to speeders who exceed fifty miles per hour, it is considered probable that Hanby will make an extended sojourn in Santa Ana when he appears before the judge next Wednesday morning.

TWO MEN FINED FOR VIOLATING TRAFFIC LAWS HERE

TWO HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENTS HERE YESTERDAY

Race on West Broadway Ends When One Car Overturns and Other Hits Telephone Pole.

Two Anaheim high school girls, Mildred Dickenson and Jessie Trecker, were more frightened than injured when they climbed from under the wreckage of two automobiles in which they had been racing on West Broadway late yesterday afternoon. Miss Dickenson suffered a fractured arm when her car somersaulted several times after hitting a railroad crossing, while Miss Trecker received slight bruises about the head and face when her car crashed into a telephone pole.

According to Frank A. Krause, local representative of the Automobile Club of Southern California, who witnessed the accident, the girls were racing on West Broadway near the railroad crossing. Miss Dickenson was driving a Dodge and Miss Trecker an Overland. When the Dodge struck the railroad crossing on a slight turn the car turned over three times and was almost a total wreck. The Overland skidded and crashed into a telephone pole, smashing a front wheel and demolishing the front of the automobile.

The girls were rushed to the hospital where their wounds were treated. Later they returned to their homes where it is announced their injuries are not serious.

Be good to yourself. Join the merry crowd that will be present on both occasions. The admission is only 25 cents and then you want to encourage the students by helping to swell the fund. They are building to cover the expense of their year book.

CLUB ISSUES WARNING ABOUT SPEEDING ON WAY TO GAME

The Automobile Club of Southern California has made a special warning to motorists who are going to the Santa Ana-Bakersfield game Saturday that traffic officers are patrolling the Ridge Route between Los Angeles and Bakersfield. Heavy fines are being imposed on drivers exceeding the fifteen mile limit. There are warning signs along this road and motorists have no excuse for not knowing the law, the club points out.

Officials of the club state that the trip to Bakersfield is about 157 miles from Anaheim, and can be easily reached in 6½ hours by keeping within the speed limit. Fans leaving Santa Ana at 6 o'clock Saturday morning should be in Bakersfield by one o'clock, it is said.

The pavement from the foot of Grapevine Canyon to Bakersfield, the club also advises, will be found patched and rather rough, requiring careful driving to avoid meeting the other cars at places where pavement is only wide enough for one car.

Motorists taking this trip should travel the Telegraph Road into Los Angeles, as the Whittier road has a very poor detour around the Montebello bridge, which is under repair. Arriving in Los Angeles on the seventh st., turn to the right on Broadway, following same to the fork of Broadway and Pasadena avenue. Take the left fork (Pasadena avenue) to Avenue 20, where, on turning to the left around the Tower of the fire department, you are going north on San Fernando boulevard, which leads directly over the Ridge and into Bakersfield.

Invitations to assist this committee will be sent to a number of young people and it is hoped each one will give at least a few hours of her time on that day for the sake of the little children in the care of the organization.

The work of the Volunteers has recently received the personal endorsement of both President Harding and Governor Stephens, the latter through a congratulatory letter to Col. W. M. Hughes, commanding officer for the three states, California, Arizona and Nevada. The tags are to be sold for whatever amount one wishes to give.

LOCAL DENTIST GETS WIRELESS MESSAGES FROM ATLANTIC

In a test made last night by the Western Electric Company of New York City, radio signals were transmitted from the experimental station of that company, in New York City, call letters "2XB," on a wave length of 450 meters, unusually short for long distance transportation. These signals were what are known as continuous wave signals, produced by apparatus of recent development, and were of very low power.

At 10:25 o'clock, at the station of Dr. J. E. Waters, located at West Orange, these signals were heard quite distinctly, and part of the message copied. Interference by the high power radio station at San Diego made it impossible to get the entire text.

Receiver is In Tree

This was done with the receiving antennae lying in a tree, due to the 100-foot mast usually supporting it having been blown down in the recent windstorm.

A report of the reception of these signals is being forwarded to the Western Electric company as requested in the broadcast message sent out by them. At least one other amateur station in Southern California is reporting the reception of the test signals, that of Lawrence Mott of Avalon.

Dr. Walters who is an Anaheim dentist, has had wide experience with wireless telegraphy. He was at one time an operator in the employ of the Marconi company. During the war he served in the United States navy as a wireless operator. He now communicates frequently with stations on the Atlantic coast.

Dance by Wireless Jazz

Asked today about the wireless music being sent out from Los Angeles, Dr. Waters said that these musicians furnish dance music for his home but that there is entirely too much jazz about it. He is of the opinion that the time will not come when the wireless instrument will replace the phonograph in the home as wireless causes too much interference and he believes that the government will not permit it to be used generally.

PROGRESSIVE RANCHERS ARRANGE FIELD MEET

During the past two months field meetings of ranchers have been of almost daily occurrence in the northern part of the state, and similar field meets are to be held by the ranchers of the district.

Leading ranching communities, realizing that they have individual problems which they must solve for themselves, have formed community field gatherings, where the most practical tillage methods for that particular locality have been studied and decided upon.

The Northern ranchers have accomplished definite progress by making a study of their problems in a practical manner. Methods for increasing land production are being worked out; the ranchers are adding profits by better tillage of the lower soils, a method available to every farmer who has the proper power and implements.

At the field meet, to be held at Fullerton on the W. M. Knepp Ranch, Spadra Road and Orangethorpe Drive, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., Saturday, Dec 17 the ranchers will see a special operation of the Holt Mfg.'s new small size caterpillar tractor. Not enough machines of this new model were completed in time to take part in the tractor demonstration at the late San Fernando Valley Fair, and some of the ranchers and orchardists who were disappointed at not seeing this revolutionizing tractor at work, have arranged for the firms that are represented in the "Better Farming Tours" to spend the two days with the ranchers of this district.

These firms include the Holt Mfg. Co., the Killefer Mfg. Co. and the Dixon & Griswold Co. The new Holt one-man caterpillar tractor can be operated at a nominal expense of fuel and lubrication. It is an entirely new design that has been built to meet the peculiar requirements of the California rancher and orchardist.

This is the first season for the small Holt caterpillar, and it already has engaged the favorable attention of many progressive ranchers who are seeking economy in operation, coupled with the utmost service.

The new tractor will be seen operating the Killefer Mfg. Co.'s deep tillage tools, the sub-soiler, cultivator and Disc Harrow, and Dixon & Griswold's La Crosse Orchard Disc and Mold Board Plows, for the benefit of rancher and orchardist.

The H. G. Pendell Co. of Los Angeles will transport the tractors and implements in a Denby Truck and two trailers.

The ranchers from all parts of this district are invited to be present and participate in the big field meet. —Adv.

Mystery of Ancient Violins Is Exploded

It has long been suspected that the master makers of violins in Italy in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries knew of some remarkable gum which they employed in making varnish for their instruments.

A member of the Chemical Society in London, who has carefully investigated the subject, concludes, after showing that the varnishes exercise a decided influence over the tone of a violin, that Stradivarius and other famous makers probably used only such familiar things as turpentine, linseed oil and resin rather than some mystical gum. The resin was oxidized with nitric acid. It is doubted whether the popular idea that age is advantageous rather than detrimental to a violin is well founded.

Disappearing Shops Planned For Theaters

In building a new theater in Auckland, New Zealand, disappearing shops for the building front are being seriously considered. The idea is to lower each shop into a well at night, thus making their roofs part of the floor of the theater vestibule. The building site has already been purchased.

In Paris the surplus of women is greatest between the ages of 20 and 29.

NEW CONSTITUTION PLANNED FOR COUNTY FARM BUREAU

That the Orange County Farm Bureau may adopt a new constitution with a broader scope needed to cover the enlarged activities of the organization was announced at the farm bureau office today. This matter will be one of the principal features of business at the meeting of farm bureau directors next Friday in the main office at Santa Ana.

Need for a new constitution embodying provisions for the formation of departments for the various groups composing the farm bureau will be brought to the attention of the directors. The remarkable growth in the farm bureau organization in the county in the last few years has made this step necessary it is said.

It is expected that the directors will authorize the executive committee to draft a new constitution to embody the necessary features. This will mean a radical departure from the organization as it is now constructed, but is expected to afford a better means of service to the different lines of agriculture with which it deals.

The tractor committee will report at the meeting Friday on the result of their investigation concerning repair and fuel costs in the county. An effort to reduce these costs is being made by the farm bureau through the committee. A report from the Orange County Auto Trades Association along similar lines and presenting the other side of the question is expected at the same meeting.

XMAS SNOW SCENE IS SHOWN IN WINDOW OF LOCAL BANK

A unique reproduction of a Christmas snow scene is shown in the window of the Golden State National Bank. Planted in the snow are miniature Christmas trees and doll like figures in cold weather garb give the touch of realism to the setting. In one place is a little house, in another a building on which is painted the name of the Golden State National Bank and through the center of the scene runs a little railroad.

On a placard is asked the question: "Will our Santa Claus stop at your house this Christmas? One dollar starts a savings account." This calls attention to the load that is being drawn by the train. On the cars are attractive little Christmas packages and little savings banks. Another placard suggests that this Christmas be brightened with a savings bank, the guiding star to success and reminds one that this train bringing the best and most practical of Christmas presents can come to any home.

The display has been made to suggest in every detail the spirit of saving and combined with the reminder of the ease of starting a saving account is the worthy admonition to make this a sensible Christmas.

NEW COUNTY CLERK REFUSES MORE PAY

BUFFALO, N. Y.—Arthur R. Atkinson, county clerk elect, has notified the finance committee on the board of supervisors that he will not accept a salary increase during his term in office. The committee had before it a proposal to raise Atkinson's pay from $5000 to $5500 next year and to $6000 in 1923.

"I was elected on a basis of $5000 a year salary and will abide by that," Atkinson told the chairman.

"On the Corner"

FULLERTON

Joseph Bayes, one of the best known men in northern Orange County, passed away at his home southwest of Buena Park Tuesday.

Mr. Bayes at one time was in charge of the manual training department of the Fullerton grammar school and later of the High school and was popular with the students.

Later, he engaged in the furniture business in Fullerton with his brother-in-law, Mr. Pickering of Santa Ana, they occupying the room in which the Fullerton Paint and Paper Company are now located. Later he purchased a ranch near Buena Park where he continued to reside until his death.

He did not wholly give up his first occupation as a manual trainer, he dividing his time between the schools of Placentia and La Habra recently in this department.

He was about 45 years of age and leaves a wife and daughter, besides numerous relatives.

Funeral services were held this afternoon.

Fullerton Post No. 142, American Legion, held a largely attended meeting Tuesday night in their rooms over the Standard bank.

It was annual election night and officers were elected as follows:

Commander, E. J. Marks; first vice commander, Jack Horner; Second vice commander, Lee Potter; treasurer, John Rabb; adjutant, Sam Collins; serveant-at-arms, J. F. McConnell; historian, Bill Dowling.

The Junior College students and members of the faculty entertained the champion football team at a 6:30 o'clock dinner last night.

In their first year in the football business the college was presented with the Junior College championship of Southern California by the huskies who made the team, and to show their appreciation this dinner was tendered them.

PACIFIC ISLANDS WERE PEOPLED BY CHANCE SCIENTISTS SAY

Sixteen natives of the Pelew Islands in the north Pacific made an involuntary canoe voyage to Formosa, which anthropologists find interesting. As reported, the voyage seems to add proof to a current theory of the manner in which the innumerable islands of Oceanica were settled by man.

Now, the Pelew Islands lie east of the southern groups of the Phillippines Sixteen savages in three canoes with outriggers were fishing near one of the islands when a gale carried them out to sea. They had nothing to eat but fish. They were driven out for many days, some say sixty, in which time they probably traveled 1,600 miles in various directions, and at last sighted Formosa, an island of which they had never heard.

Almost dead from exhaustion, they landed and were kindly treated by the natives of that island. When they were able to eat and had regained their strength they were sent to Hongkong, thence to the Caroline Islands and from there home in a trading schooner. After more than three months' absence they were hailed by their friends as risen from the dead.

It is by such involuntary voyages, anthropologists think, that man was placed on many of the widely scattered islands of the Pacific.

MINATURE BOOKS WOULD SAVE COST

A curous idea in book making is offered by a firm of French publishers. Their plan consists of substituting for the large pages of the average books microphotographic reproductions of them to be read through a magnifying glass.

It is proposed that the size of the plates representing pages should be internationally standardized, so that any one possessing the magnifying apparatus would be able to read any book produced in this way. No technical difficulties are said to be in the way.

It is claimed that the cost of production would be enormously reduced. Also it would greatly reduce the work of libraries now cumbered by books of every shape and size. The plates would be, moreover, of a fireproof and durable material, while the system admits of an edition being enlarged to any dimension desired in accordance with demand.

Many Are Buying Lots In Val Verde, Says Loomis

Sales are going good on the Val Verde town lots and acreage, according to L. W. Loomis, local representative of the Marshall Investment Company, which is disposing of the property.

Mr. Loomis conducts excursions from Anaheim to this property three times a week. The bus leaves at 9:15 a. m. on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

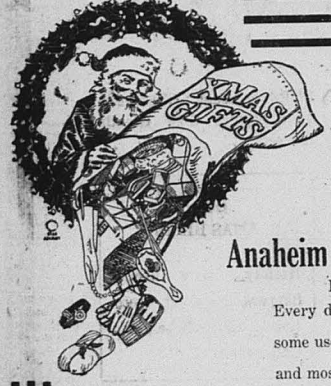

Speaking of the property today, Mr. Loomis said:

"Those who visit the Val Verde tract find that the property and surroundings are far beyond their expectations and that the prices are low. They can not help but exercise their good judgment in making purchases."

NEW YORK DESIRES INDUSTRIAL COURT

Aroused by the tie-up in the textile industry in New York and the disaster to commerce and life caused by the strikes of teamsters, tugboat men, longshoremen and milk drivers, a strong effort is to be made by prominent business men in New York to have an arbitration tribunal similar in scope and intent to the Court of Industrial Relations of Kansas established in New York. The committee on interests of employers and labor of the New York board of trade and transportation has been requested by the board to draft a bill for a law similar to Gov. Henry J. Allen's Kansas law, creating a court of industrial relations for the Empire state and to co-operate with other organizations to secure its enactment. Many prominent men will assist in the movement.

NEW CONSTITUTION PLANNED FOR COUNTY FARM BUREAU

That the Orange County Farm Bureau may adopt a new constitution with a broader scope needed to cover the enlarged activities of the organization was announced at the farm bureau office today. This matter will be one of the principal features of business at the meeting of farm bureau directors next Friday in the main office at Santa Ana.

Need for a new constitution embodying provisions for the formation of departments for the various groups composing the farm bureau will be brought to the attention of the directors. The remarkable growth in the farm bureau organization in the county in the last few years has made this step necessary it is said.

It is expected that the directors will authorize the executive committee to draft a new constitution to embody the necessary features. This will mean a radical departure from the organization as it is now constructed, but is expected to afford a better means of service to the different lines of agriculture with which it deals.

The tractor committee will report at the meeting Friday on the result of their investigation concerning repair and fuel costs in the county. An effort to reduce these costs is being made by the farm bureau through the committee. A report from the Orange County Auto Trades Association along similar lines and presenting the other side of the question is expected at the same meeting.

XMAS SNOW SCENE IS SHOWN IN WINDOW OF LOCAL BANK

A unique reproduction of a Christmas snow scene is shown in the window of the Golden State National Bank. Planted in the snow are miniature Christmas trees and doll like figures in cold weather garb give the touch of realism to the setting. In one place is a little house, in another a building on which is painted the name of the Golden State National Bank and through the center of the scene runs a little railroad.

On a placard is asked the question: "Will our Santa Claus stop at your house this Christmas? One dollar starts a savings account." This calls attention to the load that is being drawn by the train. On the cars are attractive little Christmas packages and little savings banks. Another placard suggests that this Christmas be brightened with a savings bank, the guiding star to success and reminds one that this train bringing the best and most practical of Christmas presents can come to any home.

The display has been made to suggest in every detail the spirit of saving and combined with the reminder of the ease of starting a saving account is the worthy admonition to make this a sensible Christmas.

NEW COUNTY CLERK REFUSES MORE PAY

BUFFALO, N. Y.—Arthur R. Atkinson, county clerk elect, has notified the finance committee on the board of supervisors that he will not accept a salary increase during his term in office. The committee had before it a proposal to raise Atkinson's pay from $5000 to $5500 next year and to $6000 in 1923.

"I was elected on a basis of $5000 a year salary and will abide by that," Atkinson told the chairman.

ADMISSION 25 CENTS

FULLERTON

Joseph Bayes, one of the best known men in northern Orange County, passed away at his home southwest of Buena Park Tuesday.

Mr. Bayes at one time was in charge of the manual training department of the Fullerton grammar school and later of the High school and was popular with the students.

Later, he engaged in the furniture business in Fullerton with his brother-in-law, Mr. Pickering of Santa Ana, they occupying the room in which the Fullerton Paint and Paper Company are now located. Later he purchased a ranch near Bhena Park where he continued to reside until his death.

He did not wholly give up his first occupation as a manual trainer, he dividing his time between the schools of Placentia and La Habra recently in this department.

He was about 45 years of age and leaves a wife and daughter, besides numerous relatives.

Funeral services were held this afternoon.

Fullerton Post No. 142, American Legion, held a largely attended meeting Tuesday night in their rooms over the Standard bank.

It was annual election night and officers were elected as follows:

Commander, E. J. Marks; first vice commander, Jack Horner; Second vice commander, Lee Potter; treasurer, John Rabb; adjutant, Sam Collins; servant-at-arms, J. F. McConnell; historian, Bill Dowling.

The Junior College students and members of the faculty entertained the champion football team at a 6:30 o'clock dinner last night.

In their first year in the football business the college was presented with the Junior College championship of Southern California by the huskies who made the team, and to show their appreciation this dinner was tendered them.

PACIFIC ISLANDS WERE PEOPLED BY CHANCE SCIENTISTS SAY

Sixteen natives of the Pelew Islands in the north Pacific made an involuntary canoe voyage to Formosa, which anthropologists find interesting. As reported, the voyage seems to add proof to a current theory of the manner in which the innumerable islands of Oceanica were settled by man.

Now, the Pelew Islands lie east of the southern groups of the Phillippines Sixteen savages in three canoes with outriggers were fishing near one of the islands when a gale carried them out to sea. They had nothing to eat but fish. They were driven out for many days, some say sixty, in which time they probably traveled 1,600 miles in various directions, and at last sighted Formosa, an island of which they had never heard.

Almost dead from exhaustion, they landed and were kindly treated by the natives of that island. When they were able to eat and had regained their strength they were sent to Hongkong, thence to the Caroline Islands and from there home in a trading schooner. After more than three months' absence they were hailed by their friends as risen from the dead.

It is by such involuntary voyages, anthropologists think, that man was placed on many of the widely scattered islands of the Pacific.

MINATURE BOOKS WOULD SAVE COST

A curous idea in book making is offered by a firm of French publishers. Their plan consists of substituting for the large pages of the average books microphotographic reproductions of them to be read through a magnifying glass.

It is proposed that the size of the plates representing pages should be internationally standardized, so that any one possessing the magnifying apparatus would be able to read any book produced in this way. No technical difficulties are said to be in the way.

It is claimed that the cost of production would be enormously reduced. Also it would greatly reduce the work of libraries now cumbered by books of every shape and size. The plates would be, moreover, of a fireproof and durable material, while the system admits of an edition being enlarged to any dimension desired in accordance with demand.

Many Are Buying Lots In Val Verde, Says Loomis

Sales are going good on the Val Verde town lots and acreage, according to L. W. Loomis, local representative of the Marshall Investment Company, which is disposing of the property.

Mr. Loomis conducts excursions from Anaheim to this property three times a week. The bus leaves at 9:15 a. m. on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Speaking of the property today, Mr. Loomis said:

"Those who visit the Val Verde tract find that the property and surroundings are far beyond their expectations and that the prices are low. They can not help but exercise their good judgment in making purchases."

NEW YORK DESIRES INDUSTRIAL COURT

Aroused by the tie-up in the textile industry in New York and the disaster to commerce and life caused by the strikes of teamsters, tugboat men, longshoremen and milk drivers, a strong effort is to be made by prominent business men in New York to have an arbitration tribunal similar in scope and intent to the Court of Industrial Relations of Kansas established in New York. The committee on interests of employers and labor of the New York board of trade and transportation has been requested by the board to draft a bill for a law similar to Gov. Henry J. Allen's Kansas law, creating a court of industrial relations for the Empire state and to co-operate with other organizations to secure its enactment. Many prominent men will assist in the movement.

Between Ourselves

By Della M. Stewart

In certain of our newspapers are now appearing little items concerning what particular wives or husbands do that specially annoys their mates, contributed by the wives and husbands themselves. One husband, for instance, incurs his wife's disapproval because "he boasts to his friends," and one wife is found wanting because she "thinks herself without fault, always."

Now it must be admitted that neither of those traits is admirable, but why share the knowledge with the general public? If the mere telling in some mysterious way lets off steam, which would otherwise react on the offender, some good may be done.

Harmony or its opposite in daily living with those about us is mostly a matter of emphasis. No two beings, unless they are celestial, not of the earth, earthly, can always unvaryingly agree and be mutually attractive. Even the deepest of love does not presuppose no honest differences of opinion, no arguments, no disappointments.

But there's always the possibility of emphasis which helps over the hard places. One's mate may be obstinate and perfectly sincere at the same time—boastfully glad of the ability to supply comforts; self-satisfied and self-reliant. We can emphasize the quality we wish. It depends entirely on our angle of vision.

It's a distorted vision which looks for the faults and shortcomings and notes those instead of virtue. And so—my husband's always most thoughtful—what's the chief virtue of yours?

Have a Smile

A gentleman was one day visiting a lunatic asylum, and while walking in the grounds he met a patient, to whom he said:

"Well, my good man, how did you get here?"

The lunatic replied as follows:

"Well, sir, you see, I married a widow with a grown-up daughter, and then my father married that same stepdaughter, and that made my wife the mother-in-law of her father-in-law, and my father became my stepson.

"Then my stepmother, the daughter of my wife, had a son, and that boy, of course, was my brother, because he was my father's son, but he was also the son of my wife's stepdaughter, and therefore her grandson, and that made me grandfather of my stepbrother.

"Then my wife had a son, so my mother-in-law, the stepsister of my son, is also his grandmother, because he is her stepson's child; my father is the brother-in-law of my child, because his stepsister is his wife; I am the brother of my own son, who is also the son of my step-grandmother; I am my mother's brother-in-law; my wife is her own child's aunt; my son is my father's nephew, and I am my own grandfather."

CHATTERER DOES SOME HARD THINKING

CHATTERER the Red Squirrel sat in the doorway of his winter home, which, you know was the summer home of Drummer the Woodpecker, and Chatterer was doing some hard thinking. Right down in his heart he was almost sure that Farmer Brown's boy was ready and willing to be the friend of all the little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows, just as Tommy Tit the Chickadee had said a day or two before. But somehow it was dreadfully hard to really and truly believe it. It always is hard work to believe a thing when you always have believed just the other way around. All, or nearly all, the little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows had looked on Farmer Brown's Boy as their greatest enemy for so long that even when Tommy Tit actually did what he had said he would do and ate from the hand of Farmer Brown's boy, it was hard to believe that others could do the same thing. And yet Tommy Tit insisted that they could.

He Tossed a Fat Hickory Nut So That It Fell Half Way Between Him and Chatterer.

"If you and Farmer Brown's boy are not friends it is all your own fault," said Tommy. "How can you expect him to be friendly if you always run away and never give him a chance? All he wants is a chance to be friendly. I know, because I have proved it. I trusted him and now he is the best friend I have."

"I suppose," said Chatterer to himself as he thought it all over, "I suppose that I could try it for myself. He certainly was good to me when I was his prisoner, and it was he himself who let me go. I—I'd like ever and ever so much to go up to his house and have all the fat nuts I want without the trouble of hunting for them. I believe I'll run up to the edge of the Old Orchard and see if he is anywhere about."

Chatterer scampered down from the old apple tree and scurried along the old stone wall in the direction of Farmer Brown's dooryard. When he reached the edge of it he very carefully peeped out. Farmer Brown's boy was standing on the doorstep whistling, and his whistle was very soft and sweet and good to hear and what it said was "Phoebe, Phoebe."

Chatterer knew right away that he was calling Tommy Tit the Chickadee, and he was not surprised to hear a soft reply— 'Phoe-be, dee, dee, dee, Phoe-be"—from the Old Orchard. A minute later Tommy Tit the Chickadee was helping himself to fat nutmeats from the hand of Farmer Brown's boy.

Now, this was more than Chatterer could stand. Why, Tommy Tit was just the teeniest, weeniest bird, just a little round ball of black and white feathers. He had no sharp teeth nor stout claws to take care of himself with. And yet he dared to do what all of the other little forest and meadow people were afraid to do. Chatterer couldn't stand that. He ran out from the old stone wall toward Farmer Brown's boy and then stopped, with his heart going pitapat, pitapat. Farmer Brown's boy saw him right away, and what do you think he did? Why, he tossed a fat hickory nut so that it fell half way between him and Chatterer.

"Dee, dee, dee! See me- See me- What are you afraid of, Mr. Fraidy?" called Tommy Tit.

Chatterer felt his mouth water as he looked with longing eyes at the fat hickory nut. And it hurt his pride to hear little Tommy Tit laughing at him. He suddenly shut his teeth with a snap and darted forward to the nut, and then with it held tight in his teeth raced back to the safety of the old stonewall. Not until he was there did he dare to so much as look to see what Farmer Brown's boy was doing. When he did look he found that Farmer Brown's boy hadn't moved. He was smiling, and somehow that smile made Chatterer suddenly feel very brave. No one with such a pleasant smile could be very mad at heart. Perhaps Tommy Tit was right after all. He would think it all over and try again the nert day. So he scampered back to his home in the Old Orchard, taking the fat nut with him, and as he ran he could hear Tommy Tit.

"Dee, dee, dee! See me! See me!" cried Tommy.
