LETTER FROM KANSAS.

CLAYTON JOHNSON, D. MANNAR,
SANTA MONICA, CALIF., MAY 10, 1911.

ED. SOUTHERN CALIFORNIAN.—Perhaps you may not object to hear from a reader of your paper, who has just left the fertile plains, and many groves (and alkali and sand banks) of Los Angeles, to journey through more rigorous climates, where Nature, though not so lavish, is probably more equitable in the distribution of her gifts; meeting out with even measure to every spot of her creation, not starving portions to render others riotous with good living. Here she is a careful and impartial provider; where she is a prodigal and a spendthrift.

To one who makes the voyage from Los Angeles to San Francisco on so pleasant a steamer as the Orizaba, and under such an efficient officer as Capt. Johnson, even the slight unpleasantness of seasickness can be endured with equanimity; yet the voyager is apt to change his "We on the Ocean Wave" for the securities of "terra firma" with a sensation of relief, and a section on one of the Silver Palace cars of the Central Pacific seems much more substantial and satisfying—more like you were "going somewhere."

Under such circumstances we found ourselves, on the morning of Sept. 6, booked for the five days' journey to Omaha. The ride through the Sacramento valley was oppressive, as is usual at this season of the year, and at dusk, the air and shadows of the Sierras seemed a grateful release to mind and body. To the lover of nature, the scenery of these mountains can never grow tame, however familiar and as the old objects of interest fade, the emotions of awe and pleasure are scarcely less strong than those aroused by the novelty of the first trip.

We stopped for breakfast the first morning at Humboldt, thence to Ogden is a section of country from which the weary eye can gain no sensation of relief from barren hills and alkali plain. To the pulmonary sufferer, this part of the journey is trying to the extreme. The dust, which rises through the closed windows, is of the most irritating character, rendering breath almost a burden. Breakfast the second morning at Ogden where we changed to the Pullman car of the U. P. R. The car is superior in arrangement and finish to the Silver Palace, but the officers, we think less con-teous and accommodating than those on the California portion of the route; but then these are election times, and it is difficult to determine how much disinterestedness may enter into the composition of human motions.

The scenery of the Wasatch mountains, after we leave Ogden, is though not so grand as portions of the Sierras, is more varied, and possesses more originality. Isolated rocks standing out from mountain sides in bold singularity; peculiar peaks; the "Devil's Slide," "Devil's Gate" and "Finger Rock" are prominent features, while along the road for a half day winds the Weber river, a beautiful mountain stream, suggestive of Eden after the previous day's experience through the alkaliflats.

But again for some changes, and during the afternoon we travel through another section of sage brush. Supper at Green river, the only tolerable meal of the route. Passable meals can be obtained throughout the trip at $1.00 each.

The third morning we wake up in the Rockies, which are but few smiling views. Breakfast at Laramie, one of the prettiest towns on the road. From we arrive in the land, and at night a storm which continues all the next day, until the train, under Omaha where we exchange cars for Kansas City. Still it rains, until twelve o'clock. That night, when we reach Kansas City after eight days' journey from Los Angeles. The steamer which brought us up the coast was a "Grealey" steamer, and the train in which we reached Kansas City was a "Grealey" train. On the former ladies were not allowed a voice, but on the latter we were in the progressive state of Missouri, consequently one more vote was polled for Grant. The result stood Grealey 388, Grant 22.

After a couple of days' rest, the cars are again resumed, and the destination reached is Olathe, the capital of Johnson County, Kansas. The county fair is in progress, but, in failure, few articles for exhibition, and the crowd do not look interested. Three years ago, the people of the county were called upon to meet the question, which is now puzzling the minds, and perhaps the conscience, of the enfranchised of your county,—the question of Railroad Subsidy. They voted a subsidy and the taxes now range from four to five per cent. Since then, hard times, depreciated lands, crops won't pay expenses and taxes. Moral—"Go thou and do likewise!" And yet Johnson Co. is one of the finest portions of the beautiful

City of Kansas; and adjoining Kansas City, the Kansas of the south-western country; Olathe, the county seat, numbers between three and four thousand inhabitants. Seven years ago, it was a mere stopping place, on the road between Santa Fe and Kansas city, probably no pretensions as your adjacent towns of Santa Ana. It is hard to recognize our old acquaintances in the beautiful village resting upon the fertile rolling hills, with tasteful houses, well kept yards, Dear old Dumb Asylum, churches and public school buildings; and I must add, quite three railroads— Mo. R. Ft. Scott & Gulf, Lawrence and Galveston, and Missouri Pacific. Well, perhaps railroads build up towns, but cannot properly denigrate them.

Nature has beneficently assisted an enterprising people, who have struggled under difficulties, and are now growing, Kansas, like the soil of our Ossawatimie hero, goes "marching on." Farms, with their accompaniments of groves of forest and fruit trees, crown every eminence, and looking abroad now, before "decay's effacing fingers," have touched her green hillsides, or shorn her trees of their luxuriant foliage, are the first breath of winter has chilled her warm air, and tinged her blue skies with sober hues, surely our land affords few lovelier pictures. But I must stop, lest I grow enthusiastic over my adopted state.

position commences, and lasts during the week. Expectation stand on tiptoe. E J C Railroad Meeting.

Col R. L. Peet and Frank Gamal, Esq. will address the people of Anselm and vicinity on the question of Railroad Subsidy, in front of the Planters' Hotel Thursday evening 24th inst. at 7 1/2 o'clock.

The trial of David Davies is progressing at Los Angeles. Fred Gamali and Marcus Sparks and Willis are charged for charges.

A report of the railroad meeting Monday evening is coming out. It will appear next issue.

Dr. Hooper of the California is quoted to say:

GOVERNOR SALMON.

His Excellency, E. S. Salomon, Governor of Washington Territory, favored one edition with a visit on Monday last, and in the evening delivered a very able political address at the Plasterers' Hotel. The speaking would have been at Enterprise Hall but for the fact that a Railroad meeting had been appointed for the same evening at the Plasterers' and at its conclusion it was deemed "wise" to get up a separate meeting at the Hall, so the audience were invited into the billiard-room of the Hotel, where Mr. Fisher called an impromptu meeting to order, and introduced the Governor.

Mr Salomon began by reminding that public sentiment had so much changed of late from Greeley to Grant that a long speech or an elaborate review of the whole political situation was no longer necessary. The first part of his address consisted of an interesting account of the career of Carl Schurz, and the course of the Hon. Senator's disaffection toward the Republican nominees. This disaffection, Mr Salomon claimed was solely from a quarrel with President Grant and others, and disappointments in the failure of objects of his personal ambition. Also that he had, by the extremes to which the personal personalities made a breach between himself and his Republican friends and lost, formerly distinguished and status in that party. Mr Salomon had held a command during the war, under Mr. Schurz and knew him intimately. Thoughts that Schurz had mistaken the character of the German American in supposing that they would leave the Republican Party simply because one of their old leaders had done so. Speaker was proud of the fact that Germans when they came to America ceased a blind following of leaders and learned to read and think for themselves.

He closed with an eloquent allusion to the luxury, not characteristic of the German people, to whom he said, and not to Kaiser nor Wilhelm, gave the honor of the Franco-German war. He was no friend of the Kaiser, who had shot down his own people in the streets of Berlin, simply because they asked for privileges to which they were justly entitled. Thought that our coming election had a deeper significance than the mere success of a party in the United States. Despite in Europe, he desired the overthrow of the Republican party; the common people hoped for its success as an avenger of the perpetuity of Republican institutions and a promise of more liberal forms of Government for themselves. Whichever way the contest was decided, it would affect the welfare of the people of Europe as well as of America.

We regret that we cannot follow the speaker further. He is a man of personal experience in the matters which have led to the present singular state of political affairs and his address was of the greatest interest throughout and was frequently and warmly applauded.

A speech was afterwards made by A. A. Wilson Esq. of Los Angeles a more extended notice of this must be deterred till another day.

The Governor left yesterday for Los Angeles to take session at San Francisco. He has made a lot of personal friends here who will be glad to welcome him again when he ever again drifts down into the lower latitude of California.

As the Governor's wife cannot go, said Mr. E. F. Fisher, minister to the city, she will be left to look after his accounts by sending to bank notes within the first half, without even passing on his expenses. This is surely a thing to be feared, especially and possibly because of the fact that the Governor is a man of his habits that he might be to go through some of the same kind of trouble. The Governor's household will be a very interesting one to be sure.

Southern Californian

SATURDAY OCT. 20, 1912

L. P. FENNER, 30 and 31 New Market St. San Francisco
 Chicago, is our authorized Agent in San Francisco

FOR CONGRESS.
 FOURTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.

E. J. C. KEWEN, OF LOS ANGELES.

The Markets.

Our San Francisco letter is to October 17. Barley 110 to 112; Chevalier 140 to 150; Corn was 150 to 155 for new, and 155 to 160 for old, market dull. Holders of mustard seed who desire to market it this year are advised to send it in now. Onions are worth 1 12 to 1 25. Red not wanted. Butter choicest grades scarce and worth 55 to 65. Common and inferior grades of Fresh Roll bring 35 to 40. Eggs Southern Coast are quoted at 52 1/2 to 55. Wool clean 15 to 20c, burry and heavy 3 to 5c less.

More Questions.

I find in the Los Angeles News of Oct. 24. "Twenty Question for Common School Children, and R. M. Widney Judge."

I add the following: If the San Diego road connects with the Scott road 88 miles from Los Angeles.

1st, How can it be 100 miles farther to Arizona by way of S-ott's road than it is by Stanford's road, when they must both travel the same route across the mountains

2d. Can any body make one of these roads 100 miles longer than the other without licking Stanford's molasses barrel?

3d. Will Judge Widney ever be competent to act as Judge in any case between the people and Stanford?

4. Will the Judge be Judge after his appointed term is out?

Col. Peel's Railroad Speech.

Col B L Peel, of Los Angeles, came down Thursday evening, according to announcement, to talk to us about railroad matters. Mr Ganahl had also been announced to come, but his engagement in the celebrated Davies trial prevented his leaving the city. A large audience of our best citizens assembled at the Planters' Hotel and had the pleasure of hearing one of the most manly and sensible speeches, with which we have been favored. The Col. unlike most other speakers of this peculiarly personal age, indulged in no vile fling at Mr Stanford or Mr Hyde, but relied upon the substantial merits of the San Diego proposition to commend it to the good sense of his hearers. His remarks were sound and met with loud and continued applause. We do not think he changed any votes, for people here were all in favor of the San Diego proposition before, and his practical views of the matter have but confirmed the previously formed opinions of our people.

GONE TO LOS ANGELES.—About forty of our citizens are at Los Angeles, as witnesses on the Davies trial. They have already been there several days and seem likely to be kept some time longer, from reports as to the probable duration of the case.

Later.—We are advised that the case will probably be far enough advanced to-day to allow the witnesses to return home.

HOUSE WARMING.—On Tuesday evening last about 75 of the friends of Mr David Davis assisted the gentleman in "warming" the very neat residence he has just completed at the northern edge of town. Everybody danced and feasted and had a good time until morning. Our reporter neglected his business in not being present and writing up a better item than this about it, and we should pull his hair for the delinquency but for the fact that he immediately took the precaution to get himself sheared so close that there is nothing to pull.

Death of Mrs D. K. Williams.

A sad and sudden death has occurred among us this week. Mrs D. K. Williams, a lady years of age has been ailing for several months past, but not so as to be considered dangerously sick. Her husband Mr D K Williams is a carpenter by occupation and left home Thursday morning to work at Anaheim Landing, leaving his wife, as usual, keeping house alone. Friends were visiting Mrs W. Thursday evening and left her, apparently, as well as usual, but on Friday morning a neighbor called and found her dead, having evidently been seized with a convulsion.

A Coroners jury, composed of Jno Fischer, M Calisher, Th. Rimpau, Th Reiser, B Dreyfus and F. H. Adams was convened by Justice Clark this afternoon. They found in their verdict that deceased was named Ellen P. Williams, was a native of England, 56 years of age, and that she came to her death from causes unknown.

Her funeral will be held from her late residence to-morrow at 10 A. M.

HORSE TRAINING.—Prof Wright, a gentleman who claims to have the longest experience of any living man as a professional horse trainer, has been giving lessons here this week in the art of training and rendering serviceable this most useful of domestic animals. We have noted the Professor's instructions as far as time would admit, and though not a "horse man" nor professing to be a competent judge, we can say that this method seems to us reasonable and successful, and that his instructions embody much curious and valuable information which is worth the price of tuition to any man who handles a horse. As to time and terms apply to Tom Canavan at Planter's Stable.

M CALISHER & Co.—We take pleasure in referring to the new announcement of the gentlemen in today's paper. They are receiving entire new lines of goods in every department of their business which, with their usual enterprise and sagacity they are offering at prices which will soon clear them off and make room for other shipments.

WASH YOURSELF!—Take a bath get shaved! Shear that brush-heap off of your head; and disguise yourself so much into the appearance of a gentleman that the man you owe $5 won't know you. See Prof Dean's card.

HOUSE MOVING.—Mr Henry Boege has moved from his late residence on Center street, to the vineyard of Mr Lorenz, on Lemon st., and, unlike most parties who move, has taken his house along with him.

FUNERAL SERMON.—A funeral discourse commemorative of Mrs Elizabeth, wife of Rev. John Marquis will be delivered at Enterprise Hall by Rev. L. P. Webber, next Sabbath at 11 o'clock. Friends and the public are cordially invited to attend.

DEED FILED.—T J F Boege to H. H. Boege; two tracts in Anaheim Extension, for $1,000.

Yesterday's Star states that resolutions were passed at a meeting of the Tax-payers' Union, last Wednesday, "requesting the Directors of the San Diego and Los Angeles Railroad Company to withdraw their proposition from before the voters, so as to better unite their strength against outside schemes."

San Francisco belles intend to discard corsets and rely upon natural causes for their squeezing hereafter.

DIED.

In Anaheim, Thursday night, October 24th, Mrs D K Williams, in the year of her age.

On the 23rd inst. Mrs Elizabeth, wife of Rev John Marquis in the 59th year of her age.

For Water Overseer.

We take pleasure in calling attention to the announcement of Mr. M. O. Boyle, as a candidate for this office. We should have a man who understands the business, no matter what his political proclivities may be. The election of an incompetent person would be a public calamity for he would waste the public money in misdirected efforts at work he did not understand, and those needing the water would fail, after all their trouble and expense, to get the requisite supply. Mr. Boyle is one of those pioneer Californians, whose long mining experience has made him intimately acquainted with the best methods of conducting and controlling water, and being a gentleman of active and industrious habits we feel confident that he would discharge the duties of the office to the entire satisfaction of all concerned.

Resolutions.

Adopted by Anaheim Lodge No. 207, F. & A. M., Oct. 19, 1872.

Resolved—That the members of Anaheim Lodge No. 207, F. & A. M., herewith express their gratitude to brother Theodore Reiser, W. Resolved—That these resolutions be placed on the Lodge Records, and published in the newspapers of Los Angeles county.

DEPARTING.—Amid all our hopes and pleasant prospects for the future, it is with a feeling of deep regret that we note the fact that one of our most esteemed citizens, with his amiable and accomplished lady, are about leaving us to make their home in the northern part of the state. We refer to Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Swayne, a gentleman and lady who, though of short residence here, have by many noble qualities of mind and heart endeared themselves to all who were fortunate enough to make their acquaintance.
