[FROM WEDNESDAY'S SEMI-WEEKLY.]

WANTED.—A boy to learn the printing trade. Apply at the GAZETTE office.

—Eighty men are picking hops at the yard of J. B. Raine in Gospel Swamp.

—John Carlin has been appointed a Notary Public, to reside at Los Angeles, vice C. E. Beane, deceased.

—Anyone having a milch cow which they desire to rent will please communicate with this office.

—Prof. W. B. Jones, of the State University, urges the utilization of the seaweed on our coast in the manufacture of iodine.

—The schooner Lizzie Madison arrived at Wilmington on Friday with 180,000 feet of lumber for A. Guy Smith & Co.

—It is said that a brother of Mr. James Irvine, owner of the San Joaquin rancho, has leased the same for a term of years.

—We have on file another interesting lot of Silverado items from a gentleman who has promised to keep us posted in regard to the developments in the mines.

—Capt. W. J. L. Moulton, the Superintendent of the Santa Monica railroad, has been pronounced insane, and committed to the asylum at Stockton. The cause is ascribed to hereditary influences.

—The receipt of an invitation to the First Anniversary Ball of the Stella Social Club of Santa Ana is acknowledged with thanks. The event takes place on the evening of September 6th.

—At a convention of Farmers and Workingmen, held in Los Angeles on Saturday, A. H. Rogers was nominated for Supervisor of the First District. Mr. Rogers is a farmer and a resident of Vernon School District.

—Persons in Los Angeles or elsewhere who desire to send letters to Silverado, should write on the envelope "via Anaheim." The mail is sent from Anaheim per stage every morning and reaches Silverado in a few hours.

—Work at the tannery has been delayed somewhat by the delay in receiving necessary castings from the foundry at Los Angeles. They arrived, however, on Monday, and the machinery is now undergoing the finishing touches.

—The Anaheim and Silverado Stage Line is paying well, the travel over the road being great and constantly increasing. We are now printing a large quantity of way-bills for the line, which is an evidence that the business is good.

—We saw yesterday a fine photograph of Mr. Nagle, taken at the Anaheim photograph gallery. Mr. Nagle is dressed in his uniform as Foreman of the Fire Company, and an exceedingly gallant and handsome looking fireman he makes, too.

—Now is the time of year when the weather-wise take to predicting the kind of winter it is going to be. A Sacramento paper predicts early rains and little of it, because of the cloud-bursts in the mountains, and the heavy dews of the summer.

—On last Friday Mrs. Carr, Deputy State Superintendent of Public Schools, visited the Anaheim schools. She expressed herself highly pleased with the result of her visit, and paid a high compliment to the teachers for the proficiency and deportment of the scholars.

—John Chinaman is a playing of it in a way which the fishermen despise. All along the coast, from San Juan Capistrano to Santa Monica, the Celestials have picked the mussel and abalone beds as clean as a whistle, until now the fishermen can't find bait enough for their hooks. The Chinese dry the mussels and abalones for shipment to China.

—The following items are from the Santa Ana Herald: Mr. Niell, a resident of this place, fell from the "dump" of the Southern Slope mine at Silverado last Monday, a distance of five hundred feet. The unfortunate man's thigh was broken, and he was otherwise badly injured. So says Dr. Burtnett.... Frank Burger, of San Juan, accidentally shot himself through both hands on Tuesday evening with a double charge of No. 5 shot. Dr. Burtnett informs us that the left hand has been amputated, and says it is very probable that the right hand will also have to be taken off.

—We are beginning to think, says the Express, that the San Diego Union was right when it announced that the S. P. R. R. contemplated abandoning Santa Monica as a landing, and concentrating the freight and passenger traffic on the Wilmington route. Certain information has reached us which renders it highly probable that in less than ten days we shall see a startling change of outlet policy on the part of the railroad authorities. Until the facts are fully developed we shall content ourselves with keeping in line with the rumors that have the semblance of probability in them.

—Col. W. S. Davis, of Orangethorpe, leaves to-day for West Point, whither he has been called to testify in the Fitz John Porter case. Col. Davis was on Gen. Martindale's staff, but at the time of the unfortunate occurrence for which Gen. Porter has been held accountable, he was temporarily on that officer's staff, and is familiar with the events which transpired on the day when Gen. Longstreet was prepared to gobble up Porter. Col. Davis's testimony will go far towards clearing away the cloud which for so many years has obscured Gen. Porter's military fame.

Murder of a Chinaman.

Justice Bailey held an inquest on Monday on the body of a Chinaman found dead on the farm of Mr. Jefferson, about five miles west of Anaheim. The facts as developed at the inquest are as follows: Henry Gold has a contract to husk Mr. Jefferson's corn. He engaged two Chinamen in Santa Ana on Wednesday to husk the corn, and they worked until Saturday. They went off on Saturday evening, after the day's work was done, and one of them returned on Sunday and told Mr. Gold that he had had a quarrel with the other Chinaman and had given him a thrashing. He then went to the tent in which the Chinamen lived and went to sleep. Mr. Gold was absent from the farm during the day, and when he returned, about 6 o'clock in the evening, he called to the Chinamen to assist him in carrying to the house some vegetables which he had brought home. No response being made he glanced in at the door of the tent and saw the Chinaman lying on the bed, apparently asleep. On Monday morning he went to the tent again, and the Chinaman was lying seemingly in the same position as on the previous evening. Mr. Gold now discovered, however, that he was dead. His head had been chopped to pieces with a hatchet. There were two terrible gashes in the forehead. After receiving these the victim must have involuntarily turned over, as the side of his head was hacked and chopped in a fearful manner. Evidence was given tending to show that the deed was committed by the Chinaman who had quarreled with the deceased and had been whipped by him.

Mr. J. M. Gibson, whose place is about 2½ miles this side of Jefferson's farm, said that on Sunday evening, between 5 and 6 o'clock, he was driving along the road between his place and Jefferson's and saw the Chinaman running. On catching up with him he got into Mr. Gibson's wagon, saying that he was in a hurry to get to Anaheim, and that he was going to Los Angeles. Mr. Gibson noticed that his eyes were bunged up and that he had been roughly used. He rode as far as Gibson's house, and it is presumed he walked to Los Angeles on Sunday night and in all probability took Monday afternoon's train for San Francisco. The names of the murderer or his victim could not be ascertained. Some of the Anaheim Chinamen went to see the body, but they say he does not belong to the Company to whom they owe allegiance. The Coroner's jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts given above.

—Eastern papers are now discussing the location of the Garden of Eden. A scientist of renown has published an elaborate argument to prove that the first home of our respected and ever-to-be-lamented forefather, Adam, was at the north pole, and that the flaming swords of Seraphim and Cherubim, which Scripture tells us guard the approach to Eden, are in reality the icy blasts which have ever prevented daring adventurers from reaching the goal. With all due respect to the learned man who has promulgated this theory, we must publicly disavow our belief in his conclusions. The original Garden of Eden was in T 4 S, R 10 W, S. B. M., and we have the fig trees in Anaheim to prove it.

—At the meeting of stockholders in the Anaheim Water Company, held on Saturday, thirty-two shares were represented. After discussion it was resolved to purchase a one-half interest in the Cajon ditch, for $20,000, the agreement between the companies to be submitted for ratification at a meeting to be held on next Saturday. The water is running in the ditches, and Mr. Rimpau informs us that the Trustees will again begin to sell water on Saturday.

—Mr. Angle has found his shotgun. The theft was traced to two boys who, upon being arrested and taken before Justice Bailey, at first denied and then confessed that they had taken the weapon from Mr. Angle's house. As the youths were only between ten and eleven years of age, the Judge dismissed them, giving them a severe reprimand, and pointing out to them the enormity of their crime, and the fate that awaited them if they pursued their evil course.

—The Los Angeles Mirror gives us this handsome notice: While in Anaheim the other day we called at the GAZETTE office, of which Mr. Melrose is now the proprietor, and was surprised to find so extensive an establishment. It is fitted up in the best of style and is complete in all its arrangements both for newspaper and job work. The people of Anaheim should appreciate this fact, and give the proprietor a hearty support.

—On Saturday we will give the order of exercises, route of procession, etc. of the parade of the Firemen and their guests on Sunday. In addition to the Fire Department of Los Angeles, the Turners have made arrangements to be present, and the Los Angeles Guards are expected. There will probably be at least one thousand strangers in town on that day, and our Fire Company are all agog in making preparations to entertain their guests handsomely.

—A few days ago Charles Sweitzer, a fisherman at Wilmington, captured a large fur bearing seal in the creek at that place. It had come in at high tide and at the ebb was unable to get out again. It is a very fine specimen, measuring seven feet in length and weighs 300 pounds. Sweitzer keeps it in a large slatted box, one end resting on the shore, so that it can come up for air.—Express.

—Mr. and Mr. Al. Smith, photographers, desire to sell 2 cot bedsteads, with or without mattresses, and also a coal oil stove, with all the appliances for cooking. These articles will be sold very cheap, and anyone who desires a good camping-out outfit will find in the above just what they are looking for.

REPORT OF PROGRESS.

The Work at the Black Star Coal Mine —The Prospects Encouraging.

The developments that have been made in the Black Star coal mine lately have been such as to warrant the most extravagant expectations concerning the future of the mine. The main drift is in two hundred feet, and in the numerous side chambers the veins of coal loom up beautifully. There is enough coal in sight to keep a large force of men busy for years, and its quality is of the best. There are now eighteen men at work in the mine, and so easily is the coal got at that the dumps are kept constantly full, it being impossible for the teams to haul it away fast enough. Mr. Witte, the manager, went to Los Angeles the other day to negotiate for some of Mr. Nadeau's big teams, so as to relieve the dumps of their excess of coal.

The coal is hauled to Anaheim and Los Angeles by team. It would seem as if it were a primitive way of doing business to carry the coal by mule team thirty miles, instead of sending it by rail; but at the rates now charged by the railroad company it is found that the present mode of delivering it in Los Angeles is much the cheapest. The coal is sold in Anaheim for $8 a ton, and in Los Angeles for $10. A twelve-mule team, using a trail wagon, hauls from seven to eight tons.

Much complaint is made of the flimsy character of the bridges spanning the ditch of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company. It is almost a daily occurrence for teams, loaded as above mentioned, to crush through the bridges. Unless the water company makes their bridges of a strength sufficient for the kind of travel that passes over them, they will some day find themselves mulcted in a good round sum for damages.

The office of the Black Star Coal Mining Company is in Anaheim, and all business is transacted here. Its chief representative is Mr. B. F. Seibert, to whom is largely due the credit of developing this grand accession to the mineral wealth of the county.

The mine is distant from Anaheim fifteen miles, and is on the direct route between Anaheim to Silverado. The silver mines are about ten miles beyond the coal mine. Passengers taking the stage at Anaheim can stop at the Black Star and inspect this already famous mine.

Another curiosity has been added to the number which now adorn the counter of the Bank of Anaheim. It is a black walnut, imbedded in a rock taken from the mine fifty-five feet below the surface of the ground. The collection of minerals and curiosities now in the possession of Mr. Seibert is quite large, and is the nucleus of what will be in a few years a very numerous, valuable and interesting collection.

Arithmetical Quacks and that Example.

EDITOR GAZETTE.—I have been prompted by S's ludicrous explanation of your example, to submit my opinion, bearing out Miss Pauline Wright's solution. Ungallant S. certainly is, as he says, to question the correctness of Miss Wright's explanation, the first to be submitted; and unwise I pronounce him to be in wasting such ponderous thought and arithmetical wind on such an easy example. The golden rule of arithmetic, I would inform my friend S., is clearly to understand an example, without which all calculations are necessarily fallacious and the answers will fall wide of the mark. Perhaps S. will say he knows all this, (for he states the example correctly) but his figures show that he has not yet mastered this first most important principle. It is evident, too, that he has quite forgotten that staid old arithmetical axiom—that self-evident truth patent to the merest school boy—that all parts or fractions of things or numbers have, as much so as the whole, an inherent unity, and are capable of division precisely the same as a unit. A quarter of an apple, for instance, possesses as many halves as a whole apple. The most infinitessimal part of an orange, it matters not how many times divided, contains precisely the same number of quarters or eighths or tenths as a bank or a double-eagle or a ten-cent piece, which is in itself but a subdivision of a larger coin. I would not be misconstrued upon this point. Not halves or quarters of a whole apple or orange, for example, but simply halves or quarters of any part of an article so divided. In the example under consideration, it is not required to find ⅔ of all the money the boy had originally, but ⅔ of 9-10 of his stock of coin. And if he spent ⅔ of this, isn't it evident that he had left the remaining ⅓? S. states an example and solves another as different from the first as A from Z. If a boy spends ⅔ of 9-10 of his money, undoubtedly he has remaining 27-80 of the money he had originally; but not 27-80 of 9-10 of his money, what part of which is, in a word, as S. will readily see it he will turn to Miss Wright's solution or at the example he has stated, precisely what the problem requires. (27-80 of 9-10, I would inform my friend S., is ⅔.) It is easy to see where S. has stumbled: he proceeds majestically (perusing Miss W's explanation as printed in the GAZETTE a few weeks ago) until he arrives at the very answer (27-72 of 9-10, or ⅔ of 9-10), when he reduces it (the very thing not wanted) and says, with a degree of nonchalance never surpassed, the answer is 27-80! If that's the kind of mathematician he is, he is, may I be permitted to say, an arithmetician benignly queer. S. mall boys, as a rule, should not grapple with such arithmetical minds as Miss Pauline Wright and myself. S, be wise to-day; 'tis madness to defer!

Beery.

IONE CITY, Cal., August 22.—Frederick Aultner, a brewer of this place, died at noon to-day. Deceased drank nothing but beer for fourteen or fifteen years. Water never passed his lips in that time.

A Los Angeles brewer has an employe, a medium sized fellow, who drinks a a fifteen gallon keg of beer daily. That individual could "see" old Gambrinus himself and "go" him several "better."—Herald.

The Bee—Its Profits and Peculiarities.

We had a visit from Mr. Wm. Fithian the other day, and our talk was naturally upon the "busy bee." Mr. Fithian went into business as a beekeeper last season, starting with fifteen stands. He now has eighty stands, which represent the increase of one year. Some of the stands have yielded one hundred and fifty pounds of honey, and even at the low price which that product now brings in the market, it will be seen that the business is a much more profitable one than is generally supposed.

Mr. Fithian told of an accident which befel one of his neighbors, which illustrates one of the many peculiarities of the industrious bee. It is not generally known that they have an antipathy to "jacks," and seldom fail to resent the near approach of that most useful but scarcely ornamental animal. The neighbor in question, being ignorant of this aversion, undertook to utilize a jack about the apiary in hauling boxes, etc., on a sled. He had driven through once or twice unmolested, but soon the bees began to cultivate the jack's acquaintance. They explored his ears, but instead of appreciating their intentions, he raised a frightful commotion, and it was difficult to tell whether his heels or his voice rose the highest. He refused to budge a step, and laid about him so energetically that he kicked over four stands. Think of it! Four angry swarms of bees surrounding a forlorn jack! His driver took hold of the bridle and attempted to pull the animal away, but he caught his would-be rescuer's arm, and sinking his teeth into the flesh held him in a vice-like grip for several minutes. The arm swelled fearfully, and it was some time before the laceration was healed.

It has been noticed that bees soon learn to know their master, and while suffering him to work among them with impunity, they fiercely resent a similar attempt on the part of a stranger. They manifest great aversion also to persons of unclean habits. Personal uncleanliness seems to cause their angry passions to rize to the highest pitch, and they are apt to remind such an individual of his failure to appreciate the old adage of cleanliness being next to godliness.

It has been noticed, too, that if the bees return hurriedly from their labors and pour into their hives, a thunder storm is brewing. This indication is regarded by bee men as infallible, even if the appearance of the sky does not in any way denote a storm.

An Important Law.

Mr. Victor Montgomery has kindly drawn our attention to an amendment made by the legislature, of the law relating to the filing of articles of incorporations. Many corporations are now being formed, and we have reason to believe that the law is not strictly complied with. Serious consequences may ensue by carelessness in the filing of the articles of incorporation, and the following will show what steps are necessary:

No corporation hereafter formed shall purchase, locate, or hold property in any county in this State without filing a copy of the copy of its articles of incorporation filed in the office of the Secretary of State, duly certified by such Secretary of State, in the office of the County Clerk of the county in which such property in situated, within sixty days after such purchase or location is made. Every corporation now in existence, whether formed under provisions of this Code or not, must, within ninety days after the passage of this section, file such certified copy of the copy of its articles of incorporation in the office of the County Clerk of every county in this State in which it holds any property, and if any such corporation hereafter acquires any property in a county other than that in which it now holds property, it must within ninety days thereafter file with the Clerk of such county such certified copy of the copy of its articles of incorporation. The copies so filed with the several County Clerks, and certified copies thereof, shall have the same force and effect in evidence as would the originals. Any corporation failing to comply with the provisions of this section shall not maintain or defend any action or proceeding in relation to such property, its rents, issues, or profits. Any corporation which has not heretofore filed a certified copy of the certificate of its articles of incorporation may avail itself of the provisions of this Act with the same effect as if it had filed such certified copy of such certificate; provided, that this Act shall not affect any pending litigation, or any suit now pending in Court.

If Silverado does not, like Panamint, utterly let down, it seems fair to suppose the county of Los Angeles will, in the near future receive another impetus that will be greatly beneficial, and that the improvement to trade and traffic will reach out far beyond that county. The oil interest, which for a couple of years has been reported as promising, begins to be developed into something tangible, and between these two interests, much of life and business should follow. Anaheim will, if it is up to snuff, receive the best part of the silver business, the new district being so near at hand, and may if it takes time by the forelock, manage it almost exclusively, so far as shipments are concerned. But to do it, much is to be done. We do not suppose the bay there will answer the purpose, as at present organized, nor do we know that any arrangement could be made to divert trade from the railroad, but it might be tried, for if the assays recently made are correct, and the mines do not turn out to be mere pockets to be used up in short order, there will be some need of quick transits as well as quick sales.—San Diego News.

An old woman was lately arrested at Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, for selling salmon which she had heavily weighted with sand and small pebbles. The insertion of this ballast was so ingeniously performed that for months before the trickery was discovered she had been reaping large profits.

ON THE WING.

Our Washington Correspondent on his Travels—From Niagara Falls to Colorado—Bird's-Eye Views on the Route.

PUEBLO, Colorado, August 20.

It is a long distance from Niagara Falls to Pueblo, but the journey is through such a diversified country, affording a glimpse of so much varied and interesting scenery, that time and space are alike annihilated, while the traveler indulges his pleasurable emotions without fatigue or weariness. Our route to the Mississippi was via the Lake Shore and Great Wabash. We at first contemplated a boat ride on the lake as far as Cleveland, but a high wind and a very "rough sea" the morning we left Buffalo was suggestive of homesickness to some of the party, and we abandoned it. There is not much travel by lake boats now-a-days. It is a pleasant way to kill time when one is in no hurry and the waters are untroubled, but in this fast age even lightning express trains are almost too slow for the impetuous American, who now looks forward to the day when "balloon navigation" will do the thing. One reason why lake travel has been so universally abandoned is the danger of it from frequent sudden storms. Old Erie is said to be the most treacherous of all the great lakes in this respect.

From Toledo to Kansas City is a slick and comfortable ride of 700 miles without change of cars and in quick time. These roads traverse the three great agricultural States of Indiana, Illinois, and Missouri, of the immense resources of which it is not the purpose of this letter to speak. The crops looked well and the condition of the farmers would seem, from our "bird's eye view," to be full of promise. We passed miles and miles of splendid corn, and felt good deal like the Englishman who traveled from New York to Chicago, then on to St. Louis and Omaha, and at last he refused to go further because he was disgusted with "the blasted magnitude of the country." The girls and boys who boarded the trains at various points along the route had a healthy, promising look about them, and appeared to have a kindly regard for the exhilerating practice of osculation, which is likewise a favorable omen touching the future development of the country. One thing that suggests itself to an observing traveler, is the inquiry why people leave these fertile and easily cultivated States to seek homes further west. It is not strange that men desert the old thickly settled Eastern States and the over-crowded cities to follow the lamented Greeley's wholesome advice—though only a limited number of them are recommended to take a Hoe Cylinder Press—but those located in the broad States just mentioned should be sufficiently imbued with worldly wisdom to let well enough alone. Ills they may have, as drawbacks and discouragements are everywhere in this world, but it is better to bear them than to fly to others we know not of. In northern Missouri, for instance, there are, uncultivated, thousands of acres of as good farming lands as the sun ever shone upon, and it is a mystery why people leave them and go to Kansas or anywhere else.

Arriving in Kansas City Saturday evening, we stopped over to see the town, and on Sunday morning attended Episcopal church, where we heard a young rector with an exceedingly stagy style of elocution proclaiming to a small but select congregation what the newspapers have often repeated in the last four years—that there is corruption in politics and high places. The young man meant well and gave his hearers to understand that it is their business to look out for breakers. Kansas City is an odd place in appearance, the unevenness and up-and-downness of the streets exceeding anything in America. But it was made in a hurry and probably that was the best they could do in the matter of location. Some day, perhaps, they will move all the houses off and level down the hills and bluffs, and move them back again. At any rate time will change its rough and rugged exterior. It is a business place, and by rapid growth has come to contain about 35,000 people, all of whom have an abiding faith in its future. Great expectations as to towns of this character are seldom fully realized, yet as there is a large territory to the west and southwest of it, for which it is the most available trading point, Kansas City undoubtedly promises to become an important centre, whose growth for some years will be commensurate with the development of the country around it.

From this embryo metropolis we took the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe road across the plains to Pueblo. This road runs the entire length of the great State of Kansas, through some of the best sections of it. For over 100 miles it follows the course of the Kansas river to the Cotton wood valley, and further west the Arkansas river is followed a much greater distance into Colorado. Neither of these streams are large or beautiful, their water being shallow and like the "Muddy Missouri" of about the consistency of bean porridge, yet they enrich and beautify the fertile valley through which they run.

Eastern Kansas is fully as well settled as Northern Missouri, and the cities of Atchison, Topeka, Leavenworth and Lawrence compare favorably with eastern towns of corresponding size, having the additional attraction of that air of dash and activity peculiar to new western towns. Of course a journey through on the cars is not sufficient to gain much accurate knowledge of the advantages of Kansas as a farming country. Much has been written pro and con about it by those whose opportunities of knowing the truth are better than mine, but I am satisfied that there are as good lands in the Cottonwood and Arkansas Valley as can be found anywhere on top of God's green earth. Taken all in all there is ample room and opportunity in Kansas for those who are willing to work and endure the trials of a beginning. And it is difficult to understand how men will remain in large cities living in hovels and rearing their children in hot-beds of vice, when broad fields invite them to come and make themselves homes. Few fail of a good living who come west with willing hands and determined spirit. Without these the experiment is useless, for there is no royal road to wealth even upon western prairies. But the same labor and energy which earns a scanty living in the crowded cities of the East will in a few years surround a family with peace and plenty and a secure future. The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Company has sold over 25,000 land-seekers tickets this year, and a large proportion of the explorers have located upon the lands offered. The south-western extension of this road is being pushed rapidly forward, of which more anon.

One thing which has been the source of constant surprise to us is the excellent meals furnished at eating houses along the line. After we crossed the Mississippi river we rather expected hard fare and made up our minds to eat anything, from a prairie dog to a pickled Indian, but the reality was a very different thing. At Topeka and Florence the regular spread excels even the famous Union Depot dining rooms at Pittsburg and Cleveland, and at the same price. A.

A WASHINGTON correspondent says: We justly ridicule much that Kearney and the like of Kearney say and do, but ridicule will not stop the hunger of thousands of Kearney's deluded followers. The devices of Kearney and Butler are as sufficient food for hungry men as anything is which the old parties are offering. A Republican Senate and a Democratic House did nothing from Oct. 1877, to June 1878, that has tended to the establishment of confidence and the consequent revival of trade and industry. If Butler offers to the hungry laboring man a sufficiency of bread even for a brief period, we must not wonder if he takes it and does not consider the supply cannot last forever. Better men than Butler, wiser men, should be able to offer a better and more permanent supply. They have not done it, and the delusive schemes of Kearney and Butler seem likely to control in Massachusetts and elsewhere.

A tramp a few days ago begged a piece of bread at the house of a prominent citizen of Erie. When the proprietor came to the door he recognized a former oil prince, whose business capital recently was $200,000.

The St. Louis Post thinks that the persistent wretch who is always asking, "Is this hot enough for you?" will get his reward one of these days. When a dark-complexioned old person, with horns, shall lead him in, crying, "Is this hot enough for you?" he will understand all.

Lotta, says an exchange, has $200,000 worth of Government bonds. Is this young lady laboring under the impression that she can escape her duty to society? Why doesn't she marry and support a husband?

SAN FRANCISCO, August 26.—The British ship Cape Breton arrived from Rio de Janeiro this morning, and was immediately ordered to quarantine below Black Point. On May 9th Harry McDade, a seaman, died of yellow fever. No signs of the disease has appeared on board since, but the quarantine officer deemed it best not to permit her to come up to the wharf until thoroughly fumigated.

SALT LAKE, August 26.—A Mormon with two wives took them before the Third District Court of this city to-day, asking for naturalization papers for the second wife. She answered affirmatively to the question whether she was living in polygamy, whereupon the District Attorney objected that she was not of good moral character. Objection sustained. The Evening News, the Mormon church organ, advises polygamous wives hereafter, in any matter in which the law of the land is concerned, to call themselves by their maiden names, and in any court to take the position of unmarried women.

—Once more the attention of the public of Anaheim and vicinity is directed to the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Al Smith, photographers, will remain in town but a few days, and those who desire photographic work must visit the gallery immediately. They especially desire it to be known that they are provided with large cameras, purposely adapted for taking views of buildings and residences, and that their prices for that class of work is much lower than has ever been charged heretofore. Their ability in this line is fully attested by the many elegant views of dwellings on exhibition at the photographic gallery on Los Angeles street, and the public is given a cordial invitation to call and inspect the same.

D. Nagle

Desires to return his thanks to the public for the very general patronage which they have given him heretofore, and hopes that in the future he will receive the same generous support. He is constantly receiving fresh invoices of all kinds of men's and boys' boots and shoes, and also ladies', children's, and misses' wear. His long and practical experience in the business enables him to buy and sell cheaper than others not so well versed in the business. Also, custom work made to order on short notice. An invitation is extended to the public to inspect his stock. No trouble to show goods.

SILVERADO NOTES.

Various Paragraphs about the Silver Mines.

SILVERADO, August 21.

EDITOR GAZETTE.—Captain Rugar has leased from Mr. Maynard his interest (¼) in the California Consolidated No. 2 Company, American Union Lode, Shrewsbury Canyon, for the period of one year.

A REFRACTORY BULL.

An aggravating experience was had by the Huntington Company Monday in getting down a lot of ore from their mine for shipment with Mr. H. to San Francisco. Their trail is not wide enough for buros, so they conceived the plan of sliding it straight down the mountain in a rawhide. Accordingly one was brought up from the valley on purpose—a bull skin with the hair on—that was deemed long enough and strong enough to carry a big load safely to the bottom. Mr. Bowers, the President of company, bossed the job. He practised with it first at Silverado, staking it down at one side and getting on it endeavored to roll it up. It slipped with him and threw him. When it was taken up to the mine they put five sacks of their choice ore on it, tied it up well and started it down the slide on which is dumped the refuse dirt. It went first-rate to the bottom of this (some 400 feet) sliding evenly and smoothly down the loose dirt with its load, but when it struck rough ground beyond it became perfectly wild, bounding and jumping in the air, smashing against boulders and clearing rods at a leap until it burst open and threw out the sacks, which were torn to pieces and their contents of precious ore scattered promiscuously down the mountain side. They gathered it up, as well as they could, but still lost about two sacks, worth two or three hundred dollars. Mr. James Huntington left for San Francisco Tuesday with two or three tons of ore.

NAME CHANGED.

The name of the Grizzly mine has been changed to "Maggie," in honor of Mrs. Maggie Gillett.

THE EMMA.

This mine owned by Byron, Emma and [illegible] Hibbert and Charles Morgan is situated in Pine Canyon and Bear Gulch. It comprises two ledges, the Galena (in which is the Huntington mine) and the other and entirely distinct veins lately struck by Mr. Hill. Prospecting has been done in five places all of which strike ledges and prove that the ledges run entirely through the claim. The prospects open finely and show that the mine has an abundance of good paying ore.

THE "CLARK"

Company in the Mountain lode, north of the Emma, consists of P. A. and Charlie Clark, Jno. C. Hill, S. W. Gilbert and W. E. Taylor. Prospecting has just begun, and goes on finely.

THE "OPHIR"

Mine, on the Ophir lode, is owned by E. A. Pullen, J. W. Clark, Fannie Clark, W. E. Taylor and James E. Freeman. It was discovered by Mr. Pullen in January last. It has a 40 foot tunnel; the ledge is struck and well defined, 6 feet wide, and assays $40 gold, $350 silver. A heavy body of water is flowing out of it.

THE "PULLEN"

Company are on the Galena lode owned by E. A. Pullen, P. A. Clark, W. E. Taylor, Edward Evey, James E. Freeman and N. Bolen. It was discovered by Mr. Pullen in January. The ledge has been struck in three places well defined, and any quantity of ore could be at once taken out for a mill—a remark which will apply to dozens of other claims in the district.

THE "WARWICK"

First southern extension of the Galena and Ophir, both of which run through it. Owned by E. A. Pullen, J. C. Hill and Cash Harvey. Discovered in January by Mr. Pullen. Has given evidence of being a good mine. Messrs. Hill and Pullen have a beautiful camp in Bear Gulch, three-quarters of a mile from town, which is accounted the model camp of the district. It has a good spring of water and all the modern conveniences. Your correspondent thankfully acknowledges a courteous invitation to call, and as Mr. Pullen has a high reputation as a cook, will avail himself of it at his earliest convenience.

JOHN SMITH.

SILVERADO, Monday, August 26.

EDITOR GAZETTE.—The work of the last ten days has done much in determining the extent of the mineral deposits in Santa Rosa Mining District. The most prominent ledges have been traced northerly four or five miles from Silverado; and claims taken up in Ladd's Canyon show good surface prospects, similar to the croppings in the vicinity of this place. Southerly, in Shrewsbury Canyon, and in Trabuco Canyon, some seven or eight miles from Silverado, the main ledges have been located continuously from the old claims located here last winter and spring. The extent of the mineral district is surprising to the most sanguine.

The great rush to Shrewsbury Canyon and vicinity has continued during the week. Among the veritable rich finds is one by Mr. John Axhill of Fountain Valley and Mr. Joel Parker of Orange. These gentlemen discovered a large mass of high grade galena ore on the surface. Assays made on Saturday by P. A. Clark, place the value of this ore at $207 per ton for first grade and $89 per ton for second grade. Messrs. Axhill and Parker are engaged in breaking and sacking their loose ore for shipment. The ledge is thought to be a continuation of the Grayback lode of Dunlap & Co., Harvey & Thistlewaite, and others. It is to-day reported that there are other claimants to this discovery. There may be doubt upon whom Fortune has smiled, but that there is a fortune for somebody in this find there can be no doubt.

The Florentine Co., Blue Light Co., and Southern Slope are bringing down ore and hauling to Anaheim and Santa Ana for shipment. Lake & Sears have a large quantity of fine ore corded up at their mine ready for shipment.

The exodus to Ladd's and Shrewsbury Canyons, and the heavy fog that has covered the mountains during the last few days, have detracted somewhat from the usual life and activity of town.

A miners' meeting was held on last Wednesday evening, at which speeches were made by Messrs. Lynill, Carter and others. It being of an informal character, no business was transacted except the appointment of a committee for the purpose of calling a special meeting. The committee has issued the following call:

In accordance with Article 3 of the District Laws of Santa Rosa Mining District, we the undersigned do hereby call a special meeting of the mine-owners of Santa Rosa Mining District, to be held on Saturday, Sept. 14, 1878, at two o'clock P. M. in the town of Silverado; the object of said meeting being to amend the district laws of said mining district, and other minor matters. Signed, J. Oefinger, W. E. Taylor, P. A. Clark, R. B. Simpson, H. S. Knapp, H. S. Thistlewaite.

Miss Emma Clark opened a select school this morning with a good attendance of scholars.

The call for town lots is on the increase, several being sold last week for different business purposes.

A new hotel, a second feed stable and another saloon are among the prospective additions to the business community.

Benefel & Crawford, Martin & Benson, McTarnahan, Parker & Harding, Morgan & Waldrip, Morgan & Mills are a few of the many who have made new locations in and near Shrewsbury Canyon during the past few days.

Business at the Recorder's and assay office has been active and lively.

A pleasure party of young ladies and their escorts from Santa Ana met with a slight accident yesterday by the breakage of their carriage; results, a scare, but no lives lost.

JONES.

We shall not undertake to say that it is done maliciously, but we must insist upon it that the papers above us studiously avoid the usual notices in regard to our section by failing to copy such articles from the local press as pertain to it. But in their stead we find copious extracts in regard to the same things in other sections, and we find them crowded with the vile particulars of the vilest murders, and all the sensational trash of the last elopement, or the scandal of a ruined family.

The above paragraph is from the San Diego News, and it is true. The San Francisco papers seem to wilfully ignore events which, did they occur on the northern coast, would be written into notoriety by the scribblers of the metropolis. The most glaring instance of this injustice is given in the fact that scarcely a single allusion has been made by the San Francisco press to the silver discoveries in the mountains back of Anaheim. The Chronicle has had two or three telegrams relating thereto sent by their agent in Anaheim, but not a word of editorial comment has been made. We don't know of any remedy for this, except to "bide a wee." Newspapers in San Francisco, as well as elsewhere, are compelled to print the kind of news their patrons and the public demand, and the day is not far distant when the importance and the almost fabulous wealth of the Silverado mines will cause the San Franciscans (who above every other community are interested in mining developments) to demand that the fullest intelligence in regard to them be published. Until the metropolitan press awake to the exigencies and demands of the occasion, we may be permitted to suggest that the GAZETTE'S weekly reports from the mines are reliable and complete, and that the semi-weekly is sent by mail, postpaid, for $5 per year, and the weekly for $3.

—Last week we stated that Mr. Irvine objected to a road being made across the San Joaquin rancho and through Tomatoes Canyon to Silverado, and gave Mr. C. E. French as authority for so stating. We find in the Santa Ana Times of Thursday the following:

The statement of the GAZETTE is incorrect. Mr. Irvine has never objected to said road—at least as far as I know. C. E. FRENCH.

On Friday, the 23d inst., Mr. Fred W. Athearn came to our editorial rooms and told us that Mr. C. E. French had just been at his office and explained to him that the road to which Mr. Irvine objected to being declared a public highway was the one crossing the San Joaquin and through the Tomatoes canyon. The GAZETTE of August 10th having stated that Mr. Irvine objected to that part of the road between Anaheim and Silverado which runs through the San Joaquin, Mr. French's explanation and correction was given due publicity. His denial in the Times raises an interesting question of veracity between him and Mr. Athearn, and we presume the latter gentleman will have something to say in regard thereto on his return from San Francisco.

—We notice by the last issue of the Anaheim GAZETTE that Judge Athearn has retired from his old position as one of the firm, and henceforward the GAZETTE will be published by Richard Melrose alone. The GAZETTE has a large circulation, is a wide-awake paper, and we extend a hearty wish for its continued success under the able control of Bro. Melrose.

The above is from the Ventura Free Press, a paper of which Geo. W. McCoy is part proprietor. Mr. McCoy was an employe in our office for two years, and like all with whom we have been thus connected, retains for the paper and its editor the kindest feelings.

The Miners' Meeting.

SILVERADO, August 22.

EDITOR GAZETTE.—The miners' meeting, heretofore mentioned, was held last evening. The Santa Ana band did not come up, and it appears that the announcement that it would was unauthorized. The meeting was called to order about eight o'clock by Cash Harvey on the sidewalk of Pierce's store.

H. S. Knapp was called to the chair. He modestly disclaimed any knowledge of the situation to justify him for the position, but would do the best he could to see that its proceedings were conducted in a parliamentary manner. He was not explicitly informed as to the object of the meeting, but understood that it was in reference to certain dishonorable conduct that had existed in jumping claims.

A voice here inquired how he knew that any dishonorable conduct had existed.

The chairman said he did not know. He only stated it as a matter of common report.

Another voice here spoke up out of the darkness in which a circle of nearly a hundred miners stood around the inefficient candle that obscured the chairman's throne—the store platform—and said the meeting appeared to be irregularly called. He favored calling out regularly and knowing what they were going to do.

Some inquiry was here made as to what provision, if any, the district by-laws contained in regard to their amendment. Recorder Clark, being appealed to, furnished the required information.

It was then moved and seconded that a meeting be regularly called. An amendment was offered, that such meeting be called for the purpose of amending the by-laws of the district. The amendment was carried, and then the original motion.

A motion to adjourn was here made. No second.

Mr. Lynill was called on for a speech, and responded in a 20-minutes' effort. He deprecated any lawlessness, claim-jumping or otherwise. Better settle all matters at home by the force of moral suasion, than go to law. His remarks were received with applause.

Mr. Ellis, surveyor, was called for. He disclaimed any knowledge of the situation, and so had nothing to say. Presumed they were all law-abiding citizens.

Mr. Heathman was called for: no response.

The chairman here read a letter from Jas. Huntington, just left for San Francisco, and P. Bowers, expressing their regret at not being able to attend. They particularly deprecated the practice of claim-jumping, and severely denounced Taylor & Co. for their conduct in this regard.

The first response to this was a voice from the darkness, saying that it would have been better for men having this to say to come personally and say it.

The chairman here invited some action on the sentiment of the letter. A voice moved that consideration of it be dispensed with for the present.

W. E. Taylor, being in the crowd, came to the front by saying that the meeting had been gotten up by interested parties to bull-doze him. He had suspected it all along, and this letter proved it.

Harry Thistlewaite advanced and said that perhaps he was considered an interested party.

Mr. Taylor said certainly he was.

[At this point things looked very promising for a row, and your correspondent modestly withdrew his head from the glare of the lantern, where he made a shining mark for stray pistol balls.]

Mr. Thistlewaite said he knew nothing about the meeting or its objects. He had been away when it was called. Mr. Taylor promptly accepted the statement.

Thomas Harvey here advanced and made quite a lengthy statement, saying that himself and partners had labored faithfully for the advancement of the district. Some reference in his remarks to jumpers brought

Mr. Taylor to the front. He objected to being called a jumper. He was no jumper. The point of controversy between his company and Harvey & Thistlewaite was now in court, to be settled by legal adjudication. The public were asked to wait for its decision before forming an opinion.

On motion, it was also declared to be the object of the meeting to be called to consider the question of claim-jumping and how to discourage the evil.

Mr. Carty here took the stand and made a forcible and humorous speech with some excellent points on the question of jumping that were heartily applauded.

Cash Harvey was called and declined; ditto P. A. Clark; Parker ditto.

Mr. Byrd spoke of the multitude of claims many persons held. It was a damage to the district. Better have only one; then go to work and uncover the silver. There would be no prosperity until they did.

On motion a vote of thanks was extended the orators of the evening. [To be included in this, as many persons put in remarks as possible, and your correspondent indulged in a proposition to build a co-operative or joint-stock mill. He was promptly coughed down.]

On motion, a committee of seven was selected to call the meeting provided for. The following were chosen: John Ofinger, R. B. Simpson, Fred Langenberger, W. E. Taylor, H. S. Knapp, H. Thistlewaite, P. A. Clark.

The chairman of the committee gave notice that they would meet Friday evening next at 7 o'clock, at Pierce's store.

Whitehead suggested that notices be posted in each of the adjacent canyons.

The committee evidently did not relish the idea of hoofing it up the canyons to make such posting, and discouraged the proposition.

The meeting adjourned.

SHREWSBURY.

I return to-day, and this effort will probably end my observations in this direction. I will close by telling you what I can of the rich strike in Shrewsbury Canyon. I have not been there and have only a vague idea from wild reports that come in. Axhill & Parker struck on Sunday last a very rich ledge on top of the ground. They were soon confronted by a second party of miners who claimed to have discovered it before. War was declared and revolvers flourished. How it was settled I know not, but the result appears to be that Mr. Axhill went to town and ordered a thousand ore sacks. There is great excitement about it, and many Silveradans have left for the new district and beyond. They will keep going until they reach San Juan and the sea, and then perhaps come back and work what they have already located.

JOHN SMITH.

California Sumac.

Editors Rural Press.—I received your favor of June 18th, with request to hear further on the culture and trade in California sumac. The long delay in answering your request is owing to the purpose had in view of commencing the leather business as now going into operation by the Anaheim Hide and Leather Company. This company was recently organized with A. Guy Smith, president, B. F. Seibert, treasurer, J. Anderson, manager, and E. Schubert, secretary. The requisite improvements have been secured for the manufacture of light leather, such as calf, kip and sheep skins. The last named stock is to be tanned with California sumac alone, and from the practical working of this business, the real value of the tanning properties of our home sumac, in contrast with the Sicily imported article, may be fully determined.

About one year since, we sent samples of our native sumac to the Eastern cities of the Atlantic States, as also to San Francisco. These samples were very highly approved by the Morocco Manufacturers' Convention, held at Lynn, Mass., as published by Shoe and Leather Reporter. The samples of sumac as gathered last June, were taken too early in the season to possess its best tanning properties.

Prof. Hilgard's test of the sumac, gathered in the month of August, is favorably compared with the analysis of the Sicily sumac, and doubtless the planting and culture of our native sumac as practiced on the Mediterranean coast, would greatly improve its tanning properties.

We have sent samples in the leaf branches to our several consuls in Italy and Sicily, and in return have received like samples of the sumac we import. The appearance and taste is very similar. By the advice of one of our consuls most interested in our home productions, I will therefore order from his agency a good supply of the Sicily sumac seed for planting on the "new Italy" coast, that we may here, by its culture and trade, realize the benefit of this new home industry as strongly advocated by Mr. Keegan of New York, president of the Morocco Manufacturer's Association of our Eastern cities.

The few statements as given on the sumac question, in this, my long delayed answer, are now offered that those interested in the new California industry may be the better assured of its claims upon the people, and that the dry waste-lands of Southern California may become very valuable to the owner thereof by the planting and preparation of the new sumac for the trade at large.

J. ANDERSON.

Anaheim, Los Angeles Co.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 27.—The mortuary report for the week ending Tuesday evening at 6 P. M., shows deaths, from all causes, 493, of which 380 were from yellow fever, all but 18 whites. Sixty-nine died in the Charity Hospital, five in the Hotel Dieu and six at the Touro Infirmary.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 28.—Last February a boy eighteen years of age, named Peter Light, was drowned while driving some horses across Alder Creek, in this county. Yesterday a man was clearing out an old well near the spot, which had been overflowed and filled up, and he found the boy's body.

Kleinigkeiten.

—Will "S" reply to his traducers? Or is he annihilated?

—In the case of Thistlewaite vs. Taylor et al (dispute in regard to a mining claim) a jury was demanded by plaintiff, and the case has been set for Monday, Sept. 2.

—Mr. Charles S. Miles returned to Anaheim on Friday night from his four month's visit to the East. He was accompanied by his mother, both being in the best of health.

—On Thursday evening Mr. Victor Montgomery received his commission as Notary Public, to reside at Anaheim. This fills the vacancy caused by the resignation of J. W. Clark.

—The S. P. R. R. Company have served notice on the McFadden Bros. owners of the steamer Newport, that they intend to apply for an injunction to prevent the McFaddens from using the wharf at Wilmington as a landing for their steamer. The McFadden Bros. desire the people of Los Angeles to build a tramway from that city to Wilmington. They say that such a road can be built for $30,000.

—The reason given by the Railroad Company for its proposed abandonment of Santa Monica is that the wharf piles have been so eaten by the terredo and other ocean worms that the structure is insecure. To put it in repair would involve an expenditure of $30,000, and it is estimated that this cost for repairs would have to be incurred every three years. Although the wharf will be abandoned, every effort will be made to continue Santa Monica in favor as a summer resort.

—The name of the Chinaman killed at Jefferson's farm on Sunday was Loah Tuck, and his murderer was named Lin Sin Ock. An exchange says that the murdered man was well known to the police of Los Angeles, and was considered a very hard case, having served out a long sentence in the chain gang, for the theft of a pair of pants. He had a vicious eye and sinister cast of countenance, and, if we remember rightly, wore no queue, having been deprived of this mark of Chinese uprightness, no doubt, in some former punishment.

—Mr. Anderson's letter to the Rural Press, which we copy, suggests a new crop which gives promise of being a paying one. Sumac grows in a dry, sandy, poor soil, requires no irrigation, and if it possesses the tanning properties claimed for it a large and profitable market could easily be opened for that grown in this county. Mr. Anderson has put the native sumac, which grows in such wild profusion in the country about Anaheim, to the most severe tests, and the results have been gratifying. In a few weeks the Anaheim Tannery will turn out a lot of leather, in the manufacture of which native sumac has been used, and then its value will be demonstrated beyond question. It is reasonable to suppose that the Sicily sumac will grow well here, and probably under the favorable conditions here presented, be an improvement on the native sumac.

—A correspondent of the Express, who is one of the excursionists to San Francisco, says: In your issue of Friday last I think you have done the Southern Pacific Railroad an injustice in regard to the excursion to this city. In conversation with A. N. Towne, General Ticket Agent of the Railroad, last Saturday evening, he said that he was pleased to see so large a delegation of Los Angeles citizens here, and that he would do all in his power to make it pleasant and agreeable for us. After the two cars were filled in Los Angeles last Friday, there were quite a number unable to procure excursion tickets, and they were forced to buy the regular tickets, paying $23 for a single fare. I would beg to state that Mr. Towne has refunded to all those who have applied to him the $4 overpaid, and furnished them with return tickets free of charge, and instead of being forced to go on home on Thursday next, as advertised, he has notified us that our excursion tickets will be honored on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. Tally one for the railroad monopoly.

The Picnic Tomorrow.

The excursion train will leave Los Angeles at 9 A. M. sharp, and will arrive in Anaheim at 10 or a little after. There will probably be four cars of excursionists, and it is expected that all who can will be at the depot with their teams on the arrival of the train and convey the firemen's guests to town.

The large building opposite the GAZETTE office has been kindly tendered to the Fire Company by Messrs. F. & J. Backs, for their use to-morrow, and the truck will be housed there and the procession will start from that point in the following order:

Marshal.
Anaheim Brass Band.
Los Angeles Guards.
Turners.
Los Angeles Brass Band.
38's Engine Company.
No. 2 Engine Company.
Hose Company.
Anaheim Fire Company.
Truck.
Honorary Members Anaheim Fire Department.

The procession will be from the place stated down Centre street to the Tivoli Gardens. Arrived at the Gardens, a fine lunch will be served. This lunch will be something tempting, and many prodigious gastronomic feats are expected to be performed. Several speeches will then be made, members of the Los Angeles Turnverein will exhibit their skill, the Los Angeles Guards will exhibit their proficiency in military drill, and the half hundred games which the Anaheim firemen have made preparations for will be inaugurated. Dancing will be indulged in at the pavilion, the music being furnished by the Los Angeles and Anaheim bands. This order of exercises is, of course, subject to such modifications as the Committee of Arrangements shall consider best for the comfort and amusement of their guests.

A Relief Entertainment.

The daily papers are filled with appeals to the benevolent and other associations for contributions for the relief of the fever-stricken people of the South. The dreadful plague now raging there entails not only death, but privation and destitution. Business of all kinds is suspended, and the poorer classes, among whom the fever seems to work with greater virulence, are altogether dependent upon charity for the care and attention required. Contributions are flowing in from every hamlet in the country, and Anaheim also proposes to contribute its mite. Messrs. J. C. Langendorfer and V. Montgomery have been appointed a committee to get up an entertainment on Tuesday evening, the proceeds to go to the relief of the fever sufferers. The entertainment will be given at Magnolia Hall. Speeches will be made, a number of declamations and songs will be given, and there will be an abundance of instrumental music. The entertainment will conclude with "The Skidmore Guards." The admission is ten cents. Let there be a rousing attendance, so that Anaheim's contribution shall be a substantial one.

A box has been placed at the postoffice, so that the charitably disposed can place their contributions therein. The money so collected will be forwarded along with the proceeds of the entertainment.

That Sum.

EDITOR GAZETTE.—The little problem you published a short time ago seems to call forth a variety of answers and solutions from our local mathematicians. If a boy spends ⅞ of 9-10 of his money, what part of 9-10 of his money has he left? Many give for the answer ⅞, and the one who signs "S," explains the question, giving 27-30 as the result of his labors on the problem, and adds, "that's the kind of mathematician he is." Though I do not wish to dispute the arithmetic of any one, I must say that I am quite a different "kind of mathematician" and ask you to receive my solution of the boy's wealth. It is this: He spends ⅞ of 9-10 which equals 9-16 of his whole money. The whole being 16-16 he would have left 7-16 of the whole and 7-16 is that part of 9-10 as 9-10 is contained in 7-16 which is 35-72 and the answer as I solve it. The sum can be clearly proven by letting 80 cents represent the small man's coin.

GEO.

EDITOR GAZETTE.—I see by the GAZETTE of the 24th inst. that "S." disputes the correctness of my solution to the example of the week previous. I beg leave to convince him of the correctness of my solution. If he had $100 and would deposit in the Anaheim bank $10 he would have $90 or 9-10 left. ⅞ of $90: $56.25. $90 minus $56.25 leaves a remainder of $33.75. What part of $90 is $33.75? It is 33.75-90.00 or ⅜, my former answer, which is correct. If "that is the kind of a mathematician" that "S" is, he had better come to the Santa Ana school at once, and take a few lessons in arithmetic before he exposes his ignorance through the newspapers.

REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE OF THE GAZETTE.

Our school opened last week; had a pleasant beginning but rather light attendance so far. The already pretty school property has been further beautified by a row of locust trees set out on the front; a fact suggestive of the deep interest in the school felt and manifested by the trustees and other members of the community.

There is little of stirring interest to the general reader, occurring in this neighborhood at the present time. It is a season of buoyand earnest labor. The horizon is dim with the smoke of the steam thresher; every place is being, has been, or is about to be threshed, and the cheerful music of industry goes up from the toiling sons of the harvest.

Here the melon season has reached its acme and the tongue cannot sing its conquests in tasting the crimson and golden beauties of a semi-tropical "melon patch." Many thanks to our kind-hearted neighbors who have so thoughtfully contributed to the pleasure of a sojourner, for a time, among them.

The Rev. Clayton preaches in the Orangethorpe school house on the first Sunday of each month.

The Sunday school meets every Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. Its past success and its future hopes are closely linked to the name of its present superintendent, Mr. A. Guy Smith. This gentleman, ably assisted by his lady and several of the resident ladies, has zealously and successfully maintained the work in this place. We earnestly hope that their efforts may be continued and well sustained, as the Sunday School is a powerful lever in the hands of the Church to restrain, modify and shape the moral character and usefulness of a community.

The Orangethorpe Literary Society is not in active operation at the present time. We understand that it yielded to the pressure of increasing work and its meetings were postponed till "the sleaves come gathered in."

The grapes seem to be abundant on the vines of our neighborhood, but the peach trees are not very full; it is supposed that the force of the trees is turned principally to growth this year. The roads are dusty but the weather has not been unpleasantly hot and we crave pardon if we suggest, without explaining, that it a trifle cooler out here than it is in Anaheim. More anon.

REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE OF THE GAZETTE.

Corn husking has begun. The present high prices are a stimulus to activity. Several improved varieties of corn, both white and yellow, are being tested. We shall have something to say of the Lawton corn from Ohio as soon as it is harvested. It is evidently very productive.

The murder of a Chinaman by a fellow countryman on Mr. Gold's place, has terrified other Chinese laborers in the vicinity, and will not lessen the public feeling that we would be better off without this irresponsible element in our midst. Their usual inoffensiveness cannot be always relied on, though for "barbarians and heathens" they are certainly a peaceful race.

Mr. John Edwards has bargained for the forty acres lying northwest of his home. Price $650. As will be seen from his advertisement, he will rent his lands and stock for a dairy ranch.

"Married in San Francisco, Aug. 22, by the Rev. Dr. Scott, Mr. S. H. Butterfield, of Los Angeles, to Miss Ida K. Wilcox, of New Orleans." His friends here tender hearty congratulations.

Mr. Oscar Mack has taken charge of the Alamitos school.

The cheese factory at Garden Grove has begun operations. If successful, as there seems to be no reason to doubt, there will be a great increase of milch cows in this valley. Every sociable cow, and every flat pocketbook, wishes it success.

Mr. Sherwood is proud of a wagon tongue and neck yoke made of blue gum. The latter was made of seasoned wood, and worked hard, and seems to be strong as hickory. The former was made some years ago from green wood, and though it is badly checked yet it is stiff and strong. Perhaps the best plan would be to work the wood green and oil it to prevent checking.

The Presbytery of Los Angeles adjourned on Saturday, feeling that it had strengthened and encouraged its church here by its meeting.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Society hold their next social in tite hall Tuesday evening, Sept. 3. There will be good ice cream in abundance, the best of music, and a good social time. The "mite" will be taken at the door as usual.

The Methodist social last Friday was a success as usual.

The council called by the Congregational church met here last Saturday, and after mature deliberation voted to recognize the new church, with 34 members. Services were held on Sunday in the M. E. Church as announced last week. Monday they had a picnic at the Landing, a good dinner in the warehouse, and a happy time.

REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE OF THE GAZETTE.

At last the cheese factory is completed and the work of cheese making has commenced in earnest. In a future communication I will give a detailed description of the building and machinery. I believe Mr. Hitchcock is now willing to purchase milk, to be paid for in cheese.

The church is at last commenced. The frame is up and the roof about on. The window frames and windows will be put in soon, and the building will be ready for service in a short time. It is not decided as yet how near it will be completed before service is held in the church. But I understand that there is no intention of going into debt.

The corn crop is beginning to ripen and some parties expect to commence shipping the small yellow in about three weeks. The threshers have about finished in this neighborhood although there are one or two large lots still to be threshed. The threshers belonging to T. C. Walker, F. Rogers & Co. and Brown and Avis are all at work on the mesa south of Westminster. The wheat and barley crops there are very good. As a general thing the farmers have not made anything from their barley crops. This is accounted for 1st, because the damp weather caused the grain to fall down before it was ripe enough to head, and 2d, because the price has been so low that what grain was saved was hardly more than sufficient to pay the expense of harvesting. We all anticipate much better returns from the corn crop, which will be much larger and better than it was last year. A great many beans were planted and the yield promises to be very good. Some are already harvesting their crops. Castor beans are already being sent forward.

"J. T." makes some poor puns about Howard and Cook, regarding an article in the Call about Garden Grove. The writer does not know who wrote the article, but the statements are substantially true. And every statement can be corroborated by facts, with but one exception. Some parties from Napa county who are visiting and who read the article in the Call say the account was not overdrawn. To be sure the land is spotted. Some is very poor and some is extraordinarily good. But as far as we have seen the same conditions prevail in other portions of Southern California, and it is very difficult to find a square mile of land in this section of the State that is all alike or all good. There is more or less alkali ground in every section of land, and this year as well as last the artesian wells have failed more or less at the very time they were most needed. Yet with all these drawbacks we are willing to have any one from any portion of California come and examine the country for themselves, and we will show them as thrifty and productive farms here as can be shown any where in the United States. Two and sometimes three crops a year are raised on the same piece of ground; and all good paying crops. Much of the land which was planted to barley has either been planted to corn or is now being planted to potatoes.

Many of the farmers south of this settlement have been to the mines and are much elated with the prospect of making a rapid fortune in Silverado. Where one will make wages prospecting or buying claims, there will be fifty who will lose all the time and money invested. A residence of twenty-five years in California has taught the writer by dear-bought experience that "all is not gold that glitters;" nor silver either, no nor even copper. A man who has a farm or any remunerative employment had much better stay at home and attend to his legitimate business, than to waste his time, money and energies in a new mining district; for ten to one they will amount to absolutely nothing. The writer sincerely hopes that the new mines will be a second benanza. It will bring more capital to the county than any other one thing, will aid more in its development, will give the farmers a home market for all their products, and will multiply our population; but let men who have money to lose prospect the mines, and not men who cannot develop them even if they find a good one.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE GAZETTE.

The latter part of August is redeeming itself enjoyably from the uncomfortable opinion it compelled at its debut. Such delightful breezes, such nice cool mornings and evenings! Why, one would scarcely call it August; and especially after being fortified in one of the very warmest days of the warmest part of the month by the information (not from the oldest inhabitant,) that August was always a very hot month all through and especially in this locality.

Fruit grows here finely, to say naught of roses, vines and fig trees. Great delicious melons, peaches, and fine flavored apples, and grapes that seem to have stolen the amber gloss of the Southern Californian sun, are plentiful, showing that one needs only to plant in order to reap. Yes, cultivate. There are persons who think they need only to scratch up the surface of the ground or cut it up into sods, and place their seeds therein in order to reap the finest and best, as witness a cornfield not "ten thousand miles away" where the ground lies in huge dry clods vainly having tried to send up a crop of corn to compete with other fields scarcely a quarter of a mile off, whose two and three and sometimes four eared stalks stand ten feet high on an average. (Actual measurements this time. Cloddy corn three and four feet high, one and two ears on the stalk, many with none.) Cloddy ground people are loud in their exclamations of "California is no place to make a living." "No place to bring up a family." "No chance to train them for anything but cattle and hog herding." Contrast—A mile away from the above named corn patch, a farm, (ranch) with trees around the house, division line marked by trees; corrals, sheep, white wooled, round and happy looking. Cattle, every one of 'em a picture; house unpretentious as yet but having hopes in the near future; people stirring, thrifty and sure that California is the right place to live. Cause of difference in the two places—cultivation.

OMAHA, Aug. 18.—Col. Hogg, of Oregon, one of the largest land owners of the Pacific Coast and the most active in inducing immigration, arrived to-day, returning from a visit to his agent in Europe. He has travelled through Great Britain, Germany and France and predicts a small immigration during the coming year. Indian troubles have given Oregon and Idaho a bad reputation, while the labor difficulties have caused a widespread belief that this country is overflowing with laborers. He says the German authorities are particularly active in preventing immigration.

"German Syrup."

No other medicine in the world was ever given such a test of its curative qualities as Boschee's GERMAN SYRUP. In three years two million four hundred thousand small bottles of this medicine was distributed free of charge by Druggists in this country to those afflicted with Consumption, Asthma, Croup, Severe Coughs, Pneumonia and other diseases of the throat and lungs, giving the American people undeniable proof that GERMAN SYRUP will cure them. The result has been that Druggists in every town and village in the United States are recommending it to their customers. Go to your Druggist, W. M. Higgins, and ask what he knows about it. Sample bottle 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. Three doses will relieve any case.

The Crust of Tarter

Speedily leaves the surface of teeth upon which the cleansing and preservative influence of SOZODONT is daily exerted. No form of decay can infest a set of "ivories" upon which it is used. It has, moreover, a most refreshing effect upon the mouth, in which it leaves a very agreeable taste, besides rendering the breath fragrant. If the mouth be rinsed with it after smoking, the taste of the tobacco is entirely dissipated. As an auxiliary to personal cleanliness it cannot too highly be extolled. Sold by druggists.

Inventors and Patentees

Should send for instructions, terms, references, etc., to Edson Brothers, Solicitors of Patents, Washington, D. C., who furnish the same without charge. Edson Brothers is a well-known and successful firm of large experience, having been established since 1865. tf.

Notice.

In the District Court of the Seventh Judicial District, of the State of California.

In and for the county of Los Angeles.

J. E. GRIFFIN, administrator of the estate of Daniel Schmidt, deceased, Plaintiff, against M. COHEN, defendant.

Action brought in the District Court of the Seventh Judicial District of the State of California, in and for the county of Los Angeles, and the complaint filed in said County of Los Angeles, in the office of the Clerk of said District Court.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA send greeting: to M. Cohen, defendant. You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff in the District Court of the Seventeenth Judicial District of the State of California, in and for the county of Los Angeles, and to answer the complaint filed therein, within ten days, (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons—if served within this county; or, if served out of this county, but in this district, within twenty days; otherwise, within forty days—or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to obtain judgment against the said defendant for the sum of $300.00 gold coin, alleged to be due on a certain promissory note and $215.00 gold coin due on said promissory note as provided for by the terms of said note, and for costs of suit. Reference is had to complaint for particulars.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the complaint as above required, the said Plaintiff will take judgment against you for the sum of $300 gold coin, principle, and $215.00 gold coin, interest, due on said promissory note.

Given under my hand and the seal of the District Court of the 17th Judicial District of the State of California, in and for the county of Los Angeles, this 11th day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight.

(SEAL.) A. W. POTTS, Clerk.
By A. Rimpau, Deputy Clerk.

OFFICE OF THE SHERIFF, of the County of Los Angeles.

I hereby certify that I received the within summons on the 12th day of July, A. D. 1878, and that after due search and inquiry I was unable to find the defendant, M. Cohen, in Los Angeles county, State of California. Dated this 12th day of July, A. D. 1878.

H. M. MITCHELL, Sheriff.
By Wm. R. Rowland, Under Sheriff.

I hereby certify the foregoing to be a full, true, and correct copy of the original on file in my office.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of the District Court this 16th day of July, A. D. 1878.

Kleinigkeiten.

[FROM LAST SATURDAY'S SECOND EDITION.]

—Judge Athearn went to San Francisco on the excursion train yesterday.

—P. A. Clark has been commissioned a Notary Public, to reside at Silverado.

—Extra copies of the Weekly GAZETTE, in wrappers ready for mailing, are for sale at this office.

—The son of R. D. Curtis, who was hurt by falling from a horse last Saturday, is in a fair way to recover.

—Thirteen tons of coal from the Black Star coal mine were brought to Anaheim yesterday for B. Dreyfus & Co. The dumps are now full, the teams now employed being unable to haul away the coal as fast as it is taken out.

☞ We solicit the patronage of those who require anything in the job printing line. We have hundreds of dollars invested in job printing material, and our facilties are such that we can afford to do every kind of printing at very low rates.

—United States Surveyor-General Wagner has appointed the following persons in this county United States Deputy Mineral Surveyors: J. E. Jackson, E. T. Wright, John Goldsworthy and H. J. Stephenson.

—Mr. C. C. Angle has had a shot gun stolen from his house. The gun was probably taken on Monday, although Mr. Angle did not miss it until yesterday. Whoever has it in his possession will confer a great favor by returning it.

—It is rumored in Los Angeles that the S. P. R. R. are negotiating an arrangement with Gen. Banning to lease him for a term of years the two railroad wharves—that at Santa Monica and that at Wilmington. He would, under the lease, have full control of the two termini, and be authorized to collect such toll on freight and passengers as he could legally enforce.

—Messrs. P. Davis and Bro. received a letter the other day from C. C. Sweetzer. He has a stock ranch located about sixty miles below Tucson and twenty miles from Sonora. The letter received by the Messrs. Davis had been opened by robbers, who are now plying their vocation in the Territory with wonderful vigor. The letter contained nothing of value to the highwaymen.

—The GAZETTE was honored last evening with a visit from the Anaheim Fire Company. We have never before had the honor of welcoming such a numerous and stalwart lot of gentlemen, and our appreciation of the honor conferred is only equaled by our mortification at not having quarters commodious enough to entertain them as we desired. May the "braw fire laddies" live long and prosper.

A Vermont girl peeled, cooked and mashed twenty-four potatoes in seventeen minutes, and is now ready to receive offers of marriage. All applications must be endorsed: "No fooling around till next Winter."

—The editor of the Santa Ana Times is bilious. He should prescribe for himself. He accuses the GAZETTE of being not only unjust and untruthful, but as being guilty of a breach of bad taste. He says it is false that Anaheim capital and enterpise has developed Silverado; that it is false that Mr. Irvine has objected to the opening of a road across the San Joaquin and through Tomatoes Canyon; that the GAZETTE shows bad taste in sustaining him in his objections; and that these statements in the aggregate are utterly unjust. When the physician heals himself—when he gets rid of some of his superfluous bile—we will argue these propositions with him to his heart's content. If his liver had been performing its functions with healthy regularity, he would have noticed the fact, which everybody but himself noticed, that our remark in regard to sustaining Mr. Irvine in his objections to the proposed road was merely a bit of badinage, called forth by what had previously appeared in this paper on the same subject. As to our statement of fact, it is perfectly true. Mr. Irvine does object to the road, and the Times can ascertain the correctness of this statement by addressing Mr. C. E. French on the subject.

—We are informed that a prominent rancher of this county has filed a cavest on a patent on an invention for gathering lodged grain, which will revolutionize harvesting operations in Southern California. The attachment consists of a platform on low wheels and with canvas sides, so arranged as to be coupled under the apron and rakes of a reaper. The rakes throw the grain on to the platform and a man forks it back out of the way of the rakes. When loaded the machine is drawn directly to the stack, the doors of the canvass box are opened at the rear, a rope is thrown over the grain and the whole machine is drawn from under the load, which is then pitched on the stack. By this apparatus much labor and time is saved, and the worst lodged grain can be gathered with less expense than the best grain can be taken up with a header, and with no waste, as the reaper cuts close to the ground. Parties who have seen them at work say that hereafter headers will be at a discount in this county. —Republican.

—The photographic parlors are now an art gallery in miniature, and are well worth visiting. Some very finely executed pictures of our citizens adorn the walls, and the faithfulness of the "counterfeit presentments" is very striking. Among those we noticed the other day were large pictures of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Beebe, Mr. John Fischer, Mr. F. Ey, Mr. E. Dunham, Mr. Theo. Rimpau, Mr. Adolph Rimpau, Miss Langenberger, Mrs. Leonard and others whom we can not now recollect. Every one who likes to look through an album will find a much greater pleasure in visiting the gallery and inspecting the great variety of pictures to be seen there.

—The members of the Anaheim Fire Company look well in their new and handsome uniform. The uniform consists of helmet, belt and shirt. The helmet is of the regulation shape, the front piece being decorated with the figure 1, the number of the company. The initials of the owner are in white letters on each helmet. The belt is stamped "Anaheim Fire Company No. 1." and the red shirt has a large figure 1, in white, sewed on the breast. The foreman's helmet has a white front piece, and the belt is also white, both being neatly ornamented and indicating the rank of the wearer. The speaking trumpet is of brass.

Mrs. Green, a colored lady, was not allowed to enter the genteel cars of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, as it was about to move toward Scranton from Wilkesbarre, but was ordered to go to the next or smoking car. Mr. Green, also colored, protested, but of no avail. He subsequently brought an action against the railroad company to recover the penalty of $500 affixed by the Pennsylvania statute as a punishment against any common carrying company from excluding a person from any of its cars on account of his or her color. Green proved his case in the court below, and recovered accordingly. The railway company appealed to the Supreme Court. On the argument of the case last week, one of the Judges of that tribunal, who probably did not sympathize with the plaintiff's case, asked General McCartney, the counsel, "what the result would have been if the company had denied the woman admittance to their genteel car on account of her odor instead of her color?" The counsel replied, "Why, in that case the company would have owed her less, that's all." The house was brought down, and even great merriment was visible on the woolsack itself; but the counsel was not questioned any more. —Wilkesbarre Record.

That fountains are ornamental no one putes, but, according to a paper read by Mr. Binney before the Manchester (Eng.) Literary and Philosophical Society, they have an important sanitary utility. He contends that the atmosphere of towns may be sensibly ozoned and improved in quality by their action. He says: "A water-fountain may be regarded as a hydro-electric machine, the friction of the water issuing through the jets developing electric action, materially assisted by the conversion of the spray into aqueous vapor. I would suggest that the fact should be prominently brought before municipal bodies to erect fountains in all available places in large cities as sanitary agents. They might prove highly beneficial in crowded localities." The subject of ozone, in its various phases, is engaging the attention of scientific inquirers.

Mr. T. J. Wood had an apple baked two-thirds through by the sun as it hung on the tree. This was on Tuesday. With proper care and the construction of hot houses we do not despair of being able to raise baked and dried apples, pears, etc., and it may not be too much to expect that we shall yet see here trees bearing canned peaches, apricots, etc. By a system of cross budding possibly very fair cove oysters and corned beef might be grown.—Riverside Press.

"What are you setting that child on the quarto dictionary for?" said Mrs. D, as the pater arranged his little boy at the breakfast table. "I am," replied he, "fixing the basis of a sound Education." "Yes," said she, "but you are beginning at the wrong end."
