SUBSCRIPTION, per year, $2.

The people of Georgia in the October election will be called upon to vote on a constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to pension Confederate soldiers.

There have been big rains throughout Arizona, and the railroad has suffered numerous washouts. But compensation is found in the growing grain and in the replenished water sources.

The Southern Pacific and Atlantic & Pacific have issued a new tariff schedule for Arizona and New Mexico. There is a general reduction on previous local rates, both in the above localities and to Los Angeles and points in that vicinity.

Miss R. S. Miller, living in Dakota, has during the last six months edited a readable weekly paper, proved up on a pre-emption claim, planted five acres of trees on a tree claim, built a sawmill, and raised the largest turnips and the roundest squash in the country.

An Eastern paper recently received contains a flaring advertisement of "Mountain Oranges from California." Whereabouts among the pine and redwood forests of our mountains this fruit came from is not stated, and information on this point is anxiously awaited.

In most places the steam laundries started during the stress of the anti-Chinese excitement have failed, though that in Chico is said to be doing a good business. These things succeed where managed on a business basis, and fail where run on sentiment. There is no sentiment about a badly starched shirt.

The Universal Peace Union, in session at London, has condemned Tilden's proposition to make liberal appropriations for coast defenses, and urge that smaller sums be appropriated to obtain permanent friendly relations with other nations. It will be observed that the U. P. U. waited until Saml was dead before they jumped onto him.

The State Board of Equalization has assessed the railroads of the State as follows: California Southern, $1,264,800; Pajaro and Santa Cruz road, $150,000; San Joaquin and Sierra Nevada, $160,800; Santa Pacific Coast, $300,000; Stockton and Copperopolis, $2,350,000; Southern Pacific, $17,000,000; Central Pacific, $20,000,000.

The regular army of Mexico numbers about 24,000 men, and this force can be increased in a rapid way, under the present laws, to 250,000. In case of war between the United States and that country, the former would of course come off conqueror, but it would be no child's play, and would result in considerable fighting and loss of life.

A black crop report was sent out by a Cleveland paper for the farmers to fill out, and the other day one of them came back with the following written on the blank side in pencil: "All we've got in this neighborhood is three widows, two school ma'ams, a patch of wheat, the hog cholera, too much rain, about fifty acres 'taters and a durn fool who married a cross-eyed gal because she owns eighty sheep and a mule, which the same is me, and no more at present."

The Assembly rejected the constitutional amendment re-organizing the Supreme Court by a vote of 42 to 12. That is good. If the Court is to be re-organized it ought to be done at another time, in another way, and for another cause. It is a revolutionary and barbarous proceeding to surreptitiously bounce a Court because its decision don't please us. The same crude views of justice are entertained by certain tribes of Indians who kill the medicine man when, according to their notion, too many of his patients die.

The "pioneer day" in Salt Lake, which celebrates the entrance of the Mormons into the valley, was rather gloomy this year. A correspondent says: "Not less than ten thousand Saints and Gentiles came together on this particular occasion, of whom at least half were children. But not at all to smile, to be gay and glad. No; rather to lament and to dilate upon the sorrows and persecutions of the truly righteous in these last days. The music consisted largely of dirges, such as 'Rest in Peace,' 'Pass Under the Rod,' and the Dead March in Saul. Likewise the addresses were exceedingly funeral and sepulchral in tone."

They Signed the Call.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—The following is published as the correct list of the signers of the memorial that induced Governor Stoneman to call the extra session of the Legislature: Senators—Boone, Creighton, Davis, De Long, Dugger, Drum, Fisher, Hurlbut, Johnson, Knight, Low, Palmer, Parker, Perkins, Perry, Roddy, Routledge, Wallis, Wright; total 21. Assemblymen—Allen, Almy, Ashe, Barbary, Barnes, Beard, Black, Britt, Bullock, Carter, Contra Costa, Carter, of Solano, Clark, Colby, Cook, Corcoran, Culver, Daly, Davis, Deveny, DeWitt, Dooling, Douglas, Edwards, Firebaugh, Franklin, French, Goucher, Hazard, Heath, Henry, Heywood, Hollister, Hunt, Huxley, Jones, Kalben, Laughlin, Long, Loud, Lowell, May, McDonald, McGlashan, Meares, Moffitt, Morris, Munday, Patterson, Pellet, Reeves, Sullivan, Swayne, Tarry, Van Voorhis, Watson of Alameda, Watson of El Dorado, Ward of San Francisco, Weaver, Whitcomb, Wood, Woodward, Yule; total 64.

There are now nearly 100 persons busily engaged in putting up fruit at the cannery in East Napa. The fruit they are now engaged in working on are peaches, plums and pears; there is enough of this fruit now on hand to keep cannery busy for some time to come. It is all from Napa Valley, and is of first-class quality.

Latest from the Legislature.

SACRAMENTO, August 19.—The Senate met at 11 o'clock. On motion of Knight, the bill appropriating $25,000 for expenses of the extra session, was taken up and read a third time. The motion of Del Valle to postpone until to-morrow was lost and the bill passed—ayes, 26; nays, 5. The consideration of Reddy's amendment to Senate Bill No. 16, repealing the common law doctrine of riparian rights as the rule of decision, was resumed. Cross, who was speaking at the hour of adjournment last evening, finished his remarks. Pending further debate a recess intervened. The Senate convened after recess, and Senator Cox and others delivered speeches, after which a vote was finally taken on the reconsideration of Reddy's amendment to the Del Valle bill. Reconsideration was defeated by a vote of 20 to 15. Spencer then moved to strike out the existing clause of the bill, by a vote of 19 to 15. Del Valle, the author of the bill, here arose and announced his intention to vote against the bill, as the heart and the entire purpose of it had been cut out. Upon remonstrance of friends, however, he decided to vote for it. It was then the time, and passed to engrossment by a vote of 21 to 14. McCune moved to take up out of order Edwards' Assembly bill providing for special irrigation legislation and local irrigation districts. He said he offered the motion to determine the question whether or not the Senate was willing to take any action whatever. The motion requiring two-thirds vote for passage was lost by a vote of 18 to 17.

Messages from the Assembly relative to adjournment until September 7th were read. Cross moved as a substitute that the Legislature adjourn sine die to-morrow at 12 o'clock. Johnson seconded the motion. The substitute was carried by a vote of 32 to 3. The Senators voting in the negative being Baldwin, Langford and Wright. Adjourned.

SACRAMENTO, August 19.—The Assembly convened at 10 a. m. Mr. Henry re-introduced the resolution that the Legislature adjourn sine die Saturday at 1 p. m. A Mr. Munday offered a substitute that the House adjourn till Tuesday, September 7th, at 2 p. m. Munday's substitute was carried by 37 ayes to 29 nays.

Henry's resolution, as amended, was put and carried—ayes, 57; nays, 28.

After recess Morris introduced a resolution to request President Cleveland to demand from the Mexican Government the immediate release of Editor Cutting. Lost. Munday introduced the concurrent resolution to adjourn until September 7th. Carried. Recess until 5 p. m. The Assembly reconvened at 5 p. m., and a call of the house being taken sixty-five members were mustered. The Senate concurrent resolution relative to adjournment sine die was read and rejected by the following vote: Ayes—Almy, Barbary, Carter, Contra Costa, Carter, of Solano, Firebaugh, Henry, Hollister, Jones, Laughlin, Lord, Heath, McLean, Pellet, Porter, Reeves, Roseberry, Walrath, Ward of Butte, Woodward, Yule, 20. Nays—Ashe, Barnes, Beard, Britt, Bullock, Clark, Colby, Cook, Culver, Daley, Deveny, DeWitt, Dooling, Douglas, Edwards, Franklin, French, Goucher, Hazard, Lovell, May, McJunkin, McDonald, McGlashan, McMurry, Mara, Morris, Munday, Patterson, Pyle, Swayne, Tarry, Van Voorhis, Watson of El Dorado, Ward of San Francisco, Whitcomb, Wood, Parks—45. McJunkin gave notice of reconsideration.

Atmospheric Irrigation.

The following letter which has been received by the Governor, is self-explanatory, and it is to be earnestly hoped that some public-spirited citizen will send the doctor the necessary "wherewith," so that he may come immediately to California and put his "art" into effect, and thus solve the vexatious and much-muddled irrigation question: 239 EAST TWENTY-SECOND STREET, NEW YORK CITY, July 31, 1886.

His Excellency the Governor of California, Sir: Seeing in yesterday's New York World that an extra session to consider the water question had assembled, I have the honor to inform you that I am convinced an unfailing, abundant supply of water may be had by art from the atmosphere. I commenced studying this subject in Arizona in 1878. Coming to California in 1879 I pursued the study of it there, and about three years ago I came East on the same business. I was employed for a patent, but I desire to have the methods operated at once, it being a matter of life or death to all organized beings on the earth, as the ice accumulating around the poles is causing in the earth's crust to explode and conflagrate her. All the self-luminous planets and suns are in conflagration.

The withdrawal of water from the atmosphere by art means the removal of ice from the poles, the opening of the deserts, and in time the polar regions for settlement, the restoration of the year to its normal length 365 days; the wiping out of epidemics, and the conservation of the planet, with the lives of all its inhabitants now endangered. My means are very limited, as the study, etc., of it has knocked me about, but if you send me transportation I will come to California—D. V.—and explain, so that it may be operated at once. Very respectfully, your obedient servant, MICHAEL CARILL, M. D. University of Louisville, Ky.

A Strange Story.

WASHINGTON, August 17.—Secretary Bayard received a dispatch from the United States Consul at Port Stanley, Falkland Islands, giving an account of a ship of peace which occurred on the night of June 2nd, causing loss of life and great destruction of property. Extending the entire length of the southern end of the harbor and a slight elevation is past, from which the laboring public procure their fuel. There are no channels which drain the bog, and large quantities of water collect there during long rains, which at certain seasons last for days at a time. For three days previous to the disaster a rain storm had prevailed. About 8 o'clock in the evening the fog began to quake, and finally, with a noise like thunder, it broke down, rushing down upon the town, carrying away everything in its way, blocking up the streets and piling up eight in some places to a height of six or eight feet. Solid stone walls were rent asunder, fences, porches and lamp posts were torn away; boat houses were all swept away before its march. The bewildered and terrified population believed their town was being destroyed by an earthquake. The survivors lasted only an hour, but the path was one of great devastation. A mass of scattered peat amounting to no less than 50,000 tons lay over the town. A boy of seven and an old man named Patrick Kesting were lost.

James Mitchell, track-walker on the S. P. R. R., between India and Dry Camp, on the Colorado desert, was found dead Wednesday night on his section. He had left in the morning on the train from India to Dry Camp, and started to walk back on his tour of inspection. A train found his lifeless body on the desert, where he had assembled the bones of the dead. The body was taken to India and buried.

J. W. HINSON, County Superintendent. Los Angeles, August 12, 1886.

Relics of the War.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Some time ago Acting Secretary Fairchild instructed Mr. J. C. H. Division of Abandoned Property, to carry into effect the provisions of the Act of Congress authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to deliver to the rightful owners certain articles of jewelry, etc., captured by the United States Army during the Civil War and deposited in the Treasury Department. Mr. Krites has accordingly prepared rules and regulations which will govern the restoration of all such articles, and has just concluded an examination of the articles on deposit. They are contained in two boxes, and consist of silverware, jewelry, portraits, watches, etc. One of the boxes contained nearly 500 watches, gold and silver, and a number of knives, pocket-books, letters, etc. These were mainly taken from prisoners-of-war who died in hospitals around Washington, Cape Lookout and Elmira, and which were given to the Treasury by General Ketchum. Some of them, however, belong to Union soldiers who died during the war near the places designated. Another box contained a lot of articles captured by General Sherman's troops in Camden, South Carolina, in the early part of 1865. They consist of family plate, jewelry, etc., which had been deposited in the bank at Camden by Mr. McElrea and other wealthy residents of that section. When the Union Army approached the town an effort was made to transfer the articles to a place of safety, but it did not succeed, as the troops came upon the scene while the transfer was being made. Many of the principal articles belonging to Mr. McElrea were restored to him by a special Act of Congress in 1883. An inventory has been made, and it is thought the articles can easily be identified by their owners. They will be restored upon application accompanied by satisfactory evidence of ownership. These two boxes are supposed to contain all the property of the character described now in the United States Treasury, except possibly the presentation swords belonging to Gen. Twiggs and captured by Gen. Butler in New Orleans. It is an unsettled question as yet whether these swords can be restored under the provisions of the Act referred to above. All the articles mentioned, which have not been restored by application, will be advertised and one year from the time will be sold at public auction.

A Railway Project.

There is a party of railroad engineers now at work, and have been for several days, around La Balsa, where they are running lines, making levels and doing a good deal of preliminary work. It is rumored about that the project in contemplation is to make a canal from San Joaquin to the Rio de la Balsa, and the railway on a basis to serve as a dock for ships. If this should prove feasible, and there are many who regard it as being so, the getting of it into practical operation will revolutionize the business of Southern California. Time will tell what the engineers are up to.—Herald.

PACIFIC COAST ITEMS.

A shower of frogs, extending over three miles in one direction, fell in Big Flat, Sierran county, lately. The Governor of Washington Territory has proposed to erect an artesian well at Kittitas. It must be of 53-inch bore and is not to exceed $6,000 in cost. The entire business portion of Tulare was destroyed by fire on Monday night. Loss estimated at $250,000. Sixty-five business houses were destroyed. The Monterey County Board of Supervisors has appropriated $25 per month for the benefit of the family of M. M. Pomber, the deceased Deputy Sheriff, who was shot by the Soldado assassins. The cannery turned out 3,000 cases of canned fruit last week, says the Santa Rosa Democrat. They had employed an average of 200 hands, and paid out over $800 for help. Oregon farmers are employing as harvest hands people from the Forest Grove Indian Training School. It is a good training for the Indians to follow the ways of honest industry. Farmers from the country around Seattle, W. T., report plans by the thousands of decayed trees, there being to be sold for the fruit. This is very suggestive for some enterprising person to start a fruit-drying establishment in that vicinity. A young lady in San Leandro dreamed the other evening that she was riding, and that the horse was running away. She jumped and fell from the horse to the floor, dislocating her shoulder. Thrown from a nightmare, as it were.

The larvae from which the sand-grain spring by the million on Salt Lake, Utah, are gathered every morning on nets at Lake Park, the summer bathing place, and buried in the sand. In this way the place is being gradually rid of these pests. The Santa Barbara Press says: The survey through Gavita Pass locates the road on a grade of 2.2 feet on the hundred, or about 116 feet to the mile. The road will cross the summit through a tunnel 2,800 feet long.

News has been received at Nogales, A. T., that the town of Santa was entirely swept away by floods on Saturday and Sunday. The place has a population of 700. Not a house is left standing. Grain fields were flattened to the ground. No estimate of the damage or loss of life is given.

After two weeks' examination of the records of the United States Land Office at Los Angeles it has been discovered that land valued at $300,000 patented by the United States in San Bernardino county has never been placed on record, thereby escaping taxation. Similar frauds are feared elsewhere.

Hank Redfield, a well-known citizen of Arizona, committed suicide by taking poison at Benson on Friday night. He had a brother lynched about four years ago for supposed connection with a band of stage robbers, and was a cousin of Charles J. Guiteau, the assassin of Garfield.

The old transcontinental rates on Eastern lines have been reduced by Tuesday, with the exception of the following in carloads to Chicago and Missouri River points: Beans and barley, 60 cents per 100 pounds; corn, 50 cents; dressed goods and honey (strained), 90 cents; mustard seed, 70 cents; bran and wine, 50 per cent of standard; wool in grease and skinned, 75 cents and $1.50.

The first unpleasant news from Kings City, the new town twenty miles south of Soledad, is to the effect that Dan. McKinnis, a farm laborer, who had been working lumber, was struck by a heavy piece of falling timber, but as he made no complaint his accident was not considered severe. The people were horrified Sunday morning to find his body lying on the ground, and the ground where he had gone to sleep. The sight presented by the body was revolting. A large number of dogs were roaming loose around the place, and during the night they had eaten of the man's head, face and part of his limbs.

Edward Donovan, who delivered himself up at Virginia City and made a false confession, last week, of having murdered Michael Hasset, in Gold Hill, several years ago, and also murdered the Pollock family, 90 cents of the tollhouse, in Six Mile Canyon, and robbing the latter of $1,400, saying he could not rest until he made a confession, after standing a preliminary examination, has been discharged. Donovan, who appeared to be cranky in placing himself at the head of all these murders, thought it a fine joke. The judge, in dismissing Donovan, took occasion to severely rebuke him for making false confessions of a nature to starve the community, and regretted that there was no law to severely punish offenders for crimes of that nature.

Prosperous Negroes.

Of the 150 negroes owned by L. & T. Turner in this vicinity there is not one now living who is not worth enough property to save him from the oppression to which the majority of his race are subject. One of them, known under the name of Scruggs, living in this county, has 500 or 600 acres of land, and drives about his plantation behind a team of four fat mules, overseeing his tenants and laborers with as much independence as any white man in this quarter of the State. Another illustration of the point is found in the ex-slaves who were owned by Anderson Lockett. They have all become prosperous, and have done much to improve agriculture wherever they have gone. They are spread all over the South, from Tennessee to Texas. One of them, Daniel Lockett, accumulated wealth to the amount of $10,000 or more. But five years ago he attempted to branch out and become a merchant, in connection with his business of raising cotton, and this proved disastrous. He has now lost most of his property by unprofitable investments and unfair dealings on the part of cheating whites.—Herald, Arkansas, Correspondence St. Louis Globe Democrat.

A Mystery.

How the human system ever recovers from the bad effects of the numerous medicines often liberally poured into it for the supposed relief of dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation, rheumatism and other ailments, is a mystery. The mischief done by bad medicine is scarcely less than that caused by disease. If they were weak bilious, dyspeptic, constipated or rheumatic, would often be guided by the experience of invalids who have thoroughly tested Huxley's Stomach Bitters, they would in every instance obtain the speediest and most reliable relief. This medicine is a carbide and is the same time a thoroughly safe remedy, derived from vegetable sources, and possessing, in consequence its basis of pure glycerine, as a medicinal stimulant and to be found in the very local bitters and stimulants often resorted to by the debilitated, dyspeptic and languid.

NEWS ITEMS.

William Gray, Jr., Treasurer of the Atlantic and Indian Orchard Mills Corporation of Boston, is a defaulter to an enormous amount. It is believed that his stealings will amount to over half a million dollars. He has committed suicide. A Cobleville, N. Y., farmer recently sold his crop of hops at 9 cents a pound. They were selling in the markets at 40 cents per pound, but he was one of those characters who never see a paper, and consequently was easily cheated. Graham successfully navigated the Niagara Whirlpool Rapids Thursday afternoon in a barrel. James Scott, a fisherman of Lewiston, attempted to swim the Whirlpool Rapids in a cork suit. His body was picked up at Lewiston an hour later. Willie Sells, a boy who killed his relatives near Osa Mission, Kan., demands another trial on a ground almost as remarkable as his crime. He claims that the District Attorney mesmerized him during the trial, thus making him give any kind of testimony the prosecuting officer wished. The Holstein cow, Clethilde, closed her 6-year-old record at Syracuse, N. Y., last night. She has given during that time a little more than 25,000 pounds of milk, or about seventy pounds a day. The highest previous record was 23,775 pounds made by the cow Echo, owned in Utica, N. Y.

Cables from London announcing a sharp advance in wheat there caused a similar movement at the Call Board in San Francisco on Tuesday morning. Seller 86, which closed Wednesday night at $1.31, opened next morning at $1.33, advanced to $1.37 and closed at $1.35. The sales were the largest ever recorded during one session, and reached 44,000 tons.

An imbecile widow named Lebel, residing in Sells St. Denis, France, whose son endeavored to obtain admission for her in the madhouse but failed, was tied to a stake by the latter, who set a fire around her and burned her to death. While the woman was suffering, her sons sprinkled holy water over her, and when arrested they said they had burned their mother because of religious motives. The woman was 60 years old, and had the reputation of being a sorceress.

The Denver (Col.) Democrat publishes a very earnest petition that has been forwarded to the President by Governor Ross, signed by all federal officers at Saratoga, urging the adoption of the plan of General Miles of the removal of the Apache and Warm Springs band of Chiricahua Indians from Arizona. This letter urges that no peace is possible between these bands and white people so long as they are permitted to remain on their present reservation or in Arizona, and that permanent peace is therefore impossible until they are removed to some region devoid of mountain fastnesses, where they can be held in subjugation. It is understood that some action will be taken by the officials of Arizona, and hoped that the combined action thus taken will have due weight with the President, and the permanent security against further depredations.

The Rarest Plant in Mexico.

In the botanical garden at the palace, they have the celebrated flower, Zapaliqui Nochtli, of the Arceas. The story runs that here only three of the kind in the world exist; one at the palace, another at a different point in Mexico, and the mother plant in the mountain. At one time two tribes had a long and bloody war for the possession of it, as the story goes, but with a good deal more exaggeration. The plant is commonly called the "flower hand," as they claim that inside is a perfect hand. It went to see it, and was much disappointed. The tree grows to a good height. The leaves heart-shaped, are thick and about the color of the under part of a silver maple leaf, except that they are very rough, which prevents them from glistening like the maple. The thick, wax-like, bell-shaped red blossom grows most upward, and inside is the so-called hand. It has five fingers and one thumb, but looks exactly like a bird's claw, and not like a hand. The story ran that there are but three in existence. Without doubt the plant is rare, and there may be more than a dozen, if that many, in the world, but I have seen in the gardens of two different gentlemen the very same tree. One of those gentlemen is in Europe, and the other bought his plant from him, and there is no way of learning where the tree came from.

Manuel Aravillo has a one-acre watermelon patch on Lemon street, from which he has already picked a dozen loads, and there are about twice as many as in the patch yet. He occasionally takes a load in Long Beach or the Landing, and the melons command a remunerative price and are easily disposed of.

Mr. Mead, a resident of Garden Grove, quite involuntarily came near furnishing the Oranger with a corpse and a few last week. He was bathing in the channel at Anaheim Landing, and venturing into deep water went down twice, but was pulled ashore by Arthur Lewis and Herbert Morton before the fatal third descent. He was unconscious when landed, and but for the timely and accidental arrival of Dr. Bullard it is probable he would not have recovered.

The receipt of a special ticket entitling the editor to ride at 1/3 on the steamboat plying on Elsinore Lake is acknowledged with thanks. Elsinore Lake is half way between Los Angeles and San Diego, on the C. S. R. R. It is 7 miles long, 3 miles wide and 80 feet deep. The boat makes two regular trips around the lake daily, stopping at a number of points, thus answering every purpose of a street car. A large settlement is growing up around the lake.

Herbert S. Jary, aged 21 years, was drowned in a pond at La Cienega on Sunday afternoon. The young man went in bathing, and being a good swimmer made a fine dive, rose up in good style and swam back to the diving place and made another dive, from which he rose but did not swim, and soon sank, and rose once more, only to sink again without rising. Another account attributes his drowning to cramps, induced by bathing too soon after eating.

The Seventh Division of the First Collection District of California, formerly comprising the counties of Los Angeles, Ventura, San Bernardino and San Diego, has now been changed and a new division added. The Seventh Division now comprises the counties of San Bernardino, San Diego, Mono and Inyo. Deputy Collector H. C. Farquharson, formerly in charge of the Seventh Division, has now been assigned to the charge of Division No. 8, with headquarters at San Bernardino, instead of in Los Angeles as formerly. E. D. Gibson has been assigned to the Seventh district.

About three weeks ago a mail pouch containing 69 registered packages was stolen from the mail car near St. Louis. Among the registered packages in the stolen pouch was one for August Hillischer and one for Geo. Kahler of Anaheim. The latter does not know what was contained in the package addressed to him, but in Mr. Hillischer's package was a draft for $2,200 on a Los Angeles bank, payment of which has been stopped. The government is not responsible for the loss of registered matter, but endeavors to fix the responsibility for the loss and punish the offender.

And examine the remaining stock on hand, which must be disposed of regardless of cost at Debeaux's.

Some of the Court House officials are having a pretty little squabble. It appears that the Assessor inadvertently failed to list some very valuable property owned by E. J. Baldwin and others, amounting to nearly $800,000. The omission was not discovered until after the books had been passed upon by the Board of Equalization and transferred to the County Auditor, after which they are supposed to be closed against any alterations or additions. But the Assessor got access to the books and added the omitted assessments, a proceeding probably illegal, and it is supposed that the tax cannot be collected. The Assessor says that County Auditor Montano gave his consent to the entries, and Montano says that it was done in his absence from the office and without his consent. The Deputy Assessor waxes wroth and says, "You may say for me that Montano has lied, for he was satisfied to have it go on the books." The taxpayer has less interest in this question of veracity than in the question as to whether the tax can be collected.

The San Diego Union says: S. D. Parker and family, of Orange, Los Angeles county, were the victims of an unfortunate accident a few miles above the Mission, Monday. They were making a tour of the country in a buggy, and were overturned at the place mentioned above. Mrs. Parker had a shoulder broken and sustained other injuries. Mr. Parker did not escape without a thorough shaking up.

St. Michael's Church could not contain the audience which assembled to witness the ceremony on last Sunday evening which made Mr. Spurgeon Riley and Miss Portia Cowan man and wife. The church was beautifully decorated, the music was superb and the service was of the most exquisite taste. We join with the community in wishing a long and happy life to Mr. and Mrs. Riley.

It is reported that an accident in the shape of wounding a horse occurred at the Landing. Some boys were playing with a pistol, and one of them wagged with another that he could not hit a horse that was in the vicinity, which the former contradicted. He playfully shot at the horse, the ball inflicting a wound which will probably render the animal useless.

Viticultural and Horticultural.

Mr. F. W. Morse of the State University was in town several days this week, pursuant to a request made in accordance with Prof. Hilgard's letter, published last week. Mr. Morse was the guest of Mr. Langenberger, and under his pilotage made a close and thorough inspection of the diseased vines in the various vineyards. Until he systematically examines his notes, and studies them in their various bearings, he is likely to be misled by what appears to be the cause of the present trouble. His impression is, however, that the cause is to be found in climatic conditions; i. e., warm weather early in the season forcing the flow of sap, and subsequently cold weather checking the flow, producing sickness in the vine. Microscopic examinations of the roots show them to be perfectly healthy, and in very many instances they are now sending out shoots, from which it may be assumed that it will be safe to leave the roots in the ground instead of digging them out next pruning season. Mr. Morse states that this vine trouble is not confined to this county, but has been manifest for several years in the northern vine-growing counties. His report to Prof. Hilgard, together with their deductions from the facts given, will be published in the GAZETTE.

There is in the real estate office of McLeod & Knapp some magnificent bunches of Sultan (seedless) grapes, from the two-year-old vines of Mr. A. McDermott. The Sultan is not a grape with which people in general are familiar, and these specimens should be seen to be appreciated.

On the place of Mr. C. Bannerschmidt west of the depot is a Berger vineyard set out this spring that will beat the average two-year-old vines all hollow. The vines have made an astonishing growth, and the bunches on the vines of one row nearly touch those of the opposite row. Last year Mr. Bannerschmidt grubbed up three acres of his Muscats, and this spring planted the Berbers of which we now speak. It is also surprising that they should have grown so thickly and rapidly after having been planted on soil that had nourished Muscats for eight years or more. Can it be that the Muscat roots left imbedded in the ground during the process of grubbing acted as a fertilizer? This vineyard is well worth a visit to those who doubt our statement.

The grape distillers of this county met in Los Angeles on last Saturday and were addressed by L. J. Rose and others. A letter, covering the same points as the one published in the GAZETTE three weeks ago, was prepared and forwarded to Collector Ellis.

Mr. Rose subsequently addressed the meeting on the importance of forming a Grape Growers' Union. He said that it was absolutely necessary for vineyardists that they combine, fix a price on grapes and not to sell unless they could get the fixed price. He said if grapes were worth $25 a ton up north they were worth $20 here. We make better sweet wine, as good white wine and nearly as good claret, as they do up north and there was no reason for the price of grapes being so low. He offered the use of his city distillery to the Union.

It was resolved to organize, the temporary officers were continued and a committee of five consisting of Messrs. Bridgen, Workman, Stuber, Pitt and Reiser was appointed to draft by-laws and report at a meeting to be held on Monday, August 23d, at 1 o'clock at the Board of Trade rooms.

Charles A. Wetmore, chief executive officer of the Viticultural Commissioners, has returned to San Francisco after a sojourn of some months at Washington, where he has been working in behalf of the wine interests of California. Mr. Wetmore speaks enthusiastically of the extension of the wine growing interests, and stated as a result of his observation that the demand for California wines will everywhere keep pace with their progress in excellence, supplemented, of course, by the facilities for getting them to market. There is no prejudice against them, and they are freely accepted wherever their merits recommend them.

The Grape Growers and Winemakers Association of California held a meeting on Tuesday in the office of the Viticultural Commission at San Francisco, President H. W. McIntyre in the Chair. C. A. Wetmore, Chief Viticultural Officer of the State, was called upon to address the meeting and spoke on the measures pending in Congress.

Charles Kohler, at the conclusion of Mr. Wetmore's remarks, suggested that in the event of the work in the East being continued, a plan to raise funds should be adopted. He moved that a committee on ways and means, to consist of five members, be appointed. Motion was carried.

President McIntyre announced the appointment of a committee consisting of Charles Kohler, C. A. Wetmore and Dr. J. D. B. Stillman to answer a card published by Dr. R. H. McDonald during the unemployment, warning visitors against California wines.

Professor George Humann of Napa district expected in his own vineyards a very heavy crop of excellent quality, and they had experienced no untoward, owing to a new method of pruning and shielding.

Dr. J. D. B. Stillman of San Bernardino county reported that some of his varieties were already ripening. He has made large plantations of Sultan, which are already bearing.

J. H. Wheeler of Livermore thought that in his vicinity the prospect for price was better than for a crop. In many vineyards the vines, especially the young vines, have a dried-up appearance. President McIntyre stated that in regard to the upper part of the Napa Valley, especially in the vicinity of St. Helena, the Zinfandel crop is light in some cases, suffering from coulure and in other cases not having set well, showing exhaustion from overbearing in 1894. In the neighborhood of Rutherford and Oakville the prospect is better, the Zinfandel being well set and a good crop

General.

Several Youngville men there will be a fair crop.

Professor Hilgard was invited to address the next meeting, and an adjournment was taken until the next quarterly meeting.

Times: As previously noted, the Horticultural Commission have quarantined a considerable quantity of northern fruit shipped here, which they had infected with the San Jose and other pestiferous scale bugs. Yesterday they held one hundred and fifty boxes "in soak," and, unless the consignees prove energetic in disinfecting, he is likely to have a lot of spoiled fruit on his hands. The shipping of northern fruit here with its various ornamental bags for asparagus is dangerous work, and the Commissioners are doing well to keep a close watch on it.

Orange Tribune: We have made patient inquiry, and so far have failed to find that any regular price has been established for grapes. Several "jump buys" have been made, on an estimate of the crop, with the price about $20 a ton. Some offers have been made to take the fresh grapes at $20 a ton and the balance at four cents a pound in the worst boxes, but nobody seems anxious to sell at those figures.

Plaquemine, parish, Louisiana, raises an orange crop worth annually half a million dollars, but the cold weather of last January was so severe that the crop of the coming season is represented as a total failure. This has occurred only three times within a century.

MR. BENNETT—Dear Sir: By accident I came across your Insulator (a new invention to me) and perceiving at once the wonderful change in the tone of the piano since my last visit to that house, I concluded that I could not do without them, and therefore beg you to furnish me a set at your earliest convenience. Anybody who will take the trouble to place a muffling-sounding piano on a floor without carpet will find the piano is double its former value. But as our civilization compels us to cover our floors with carpet, we have to depend on our Insulators, which will give the same effect as if the piano stood on the bare floor, and we will have that clear, bell-like, ringing tone we so much desire.

Political.

The detailed report of the Republican primaries in San Francisco, given by the Cuff, shows that the opposing factions brought to their aid the vilest ruffians in the city; that gangs of hoodlums and epicurean scoundrels acted as repeaters; that notorious slugs and convicts, ready for any devilry from a scorpion's sting to murder, were employed to intimidate voters—in short, the primary was a fraud, a farce and a disgrace. It is probable that the largest number of bullies in its pay; and it is logical reasoning that the men who are the beneficiaries of the political efforts of the ruffians, and who doubtless furnished the "coin" without which their efficient aid could not have been secured, can hardly possess that high order of intelligence, social standing and political morality which would justify the Republican cause of Los Angeles county in opening wide their doors and inviting them to their homes, as has been suggested by the Committee on Entertainment. A great latitude is allowable in politics; and the injunction to "go in and win" is peculiarly apt in political strife, and the means of accomplishing the end is not generally closely criticized. But it must be a well-earned political conquest that will not revolt at such exhibitions of villainousness as characterized the primaries referred to; and he is a reckless man who will go into a Convention with the victors in such a struggle and not leave his watch at home and keep a tight grasp upon his wallet.

It will not do for Republican papers to point with the finger of scorn at Boss Buckley and his lambs, for it is evident that as Republican Bases of San Francisco are as unscrupulous as the blind statesman, and have no hesitancy in using the same vile tools in accomplishing their aims. It would be as well to cry "quits" in that respect, and fight each other upon other and more savory issues.

The Democratic party has not made much of a record in the matter of economy. The Democratic San of New York points to the fact that the appropriations in 1895 were $110,718,602 more than in 1876, or about 72 per cent. The same paper greatly fears that the result of this extravagance will be disastrous to the party's ascendancy in Congress.

The following table shows the number of times the veto power has been used by the twenty-two men who have filled the Presidential chair:

Washington	2 Taylor	0
Adams	0 Fillmore	0
Jefferson	0 Pierce	10
Madison	3 Buchanan	10
Monroe	1 Lincoln	1
Albany	1 Johnson	1
Jackson	1 Grant	21
Van Buren	0 Hayes	12
Polk	0 Garfield	6
Fillmore	9 Arthur	6
Johnson	9 Cleveland	11

Twenty-one Presidents vetoed 105 bills in ninety-five years; President Cleveland vetoed 111 in eight months.

Senator McClure has received from Gov. Stoneman the commission of United States Senator for A. P. Williams. The Governor, after looking up the law, signed the commission without objection and the Secretary of State attested it. McClure will present the commission at Los Angeles and is proudly exhibiting it as the sole result of the extra session.

The County Assessor is elected for a term of four years, which is probably the reason why the office is considered a persimmon worth cultivating long poles for. The candidates for the Republican nomination so far are C. C. Mason of Fulton Wells, J. W. Meyers of San Fernando, Ivar A. Weid of Los Angeles, and the present Tax Collector, El Hammond.

The Legislature has appropriated an additional $25,000 for its expenses. This Legislature is strongly in favor of the doctrine of appropriation, sometimes, and will probably stay with the State Treasury as long as there is a dollar in it. Meanwhile the work of doing nothing goes bravely on.

The Express gives the following list of candidates for county offices: C. H. Dunsmoor, for County Clerk; Geo. E. Gard, H. S. Pargels and J. C. Kays for Sheriff; F. A. Gibson, for Recorder; A. Montano, Deputy Sheriff; David L. Osborne for Auditor; El Hammond, for Tax Collector; W. N. Monroe and J. E. McComas, for County Treasurer; E. J. Wright and John Goldsworthy, for County Surveyor; Dr. McFarland, for Coroner; J. C. Oliver and J. W. Hinton for School Superintendent.

The Times says that Orr of Plumas, Ryan of Sacramento, and Moore of Los Angeles will be the leading candidates for Secretary of State, with Br'er Holt of San Bernardino in the background. There is said to be a very good state of feeling between the friends of Orr and Ryan.

Col. E. F. Edwards, the present Assemblyman from this district, is formally announced as a candidate for Senator. He has proven an able and efficient legislator.

The following delegates to the Democratic County Convention were elected in Anaheim on Tuesday: Theo. Rimpau, W. M. McFadden, F. A. Korn, A. Henry, B. F. Porter, W. J. Smith and D. W. C. Cowan.

The fight for the Republican nomination for Governor appears to be between Swift, Harrison and Diamond, with the chances in favor of the latter. This seems to be a G. A. R. year.

Another effort is being made to get Congressman Markham to accept a renomination, with some prospect of success. The Democratic candidate will doubtless be Joseph D. Lynch, of the Los Angeles Herald.

The proprietor of the Great Western Poultry Yard, Mr. James E. Goodley, St. Louis, Mo., is enthusiastic in his praise of Red Star Cough Cure, which cured him after all other remedies failed. He says it is neither constipation the bowels, nor causes sick headache.
