VOL. XVII.

ANAHEIM, CALIFORNIA: SATURDAY, MARCH 5, 1887.

NO. 22.

SOUTH RIVERSIDE.

The prospects for this new addition to our city are in a most flattering condition. Finding that the railroad will soon be there, business is increasing at a very rapid pace, and when the track is laid to the new settlement, which will be within thirty days, unless there is some untoward delay, the advent of the new home will find a ready-made town with a busy population there to welcome it. The sales the past week were over $8,000, a remarkable showing, when we consider the weather and the state of the roads.

The pipe line for water is being pushed rapidly, and the water will be delivered on the land by March 10th, only twenty days from now, and within this time a good supply of pure, cold water, the growth of the place will take gigantic strides forward.

A trip through the settlement shows that builders are not waiting idly for the railroad, but having plenty of brick made in close proximity to the town, they are busy putting up good, substantial buildings and improving the place as fast as the necessary help can be obtained.

Mr. Turner, from Zanesville, Minn., has commenced the erection of a two-story brick store room.

Messrs. Cabern & Myers are putting up a brick house, and will soon commence running stage lines from South Riverside to Riverside, and from South Riverside to Pomona.

The new large hotel in the center of the city is nearly ready for the road. When completed it will be an ornament to the town and furnish excellent accommodations for the traveler, and be a favorite place for the tourist to spend a few days and see how new towns are built up in Southern California.

Mr. Siga has about completed a building 25x40, that he will soon open as a meat market.

A grocery store is being stocked, and will be open in a few days.

Mr. Alexander, of Wayne, N.Y., has commenced the erection of a building 25x40, which he will stock with hardware as soon as completed.

Two teaching houses, that was put up as a preliminary to the school, has changed hands, improved, and is now in its first-class style, so that visitors to South Riverside have an excellent place to stop at while there.

Some Eastern gentlemen have let the contract for the erection of a fine brick block, two stories high, and 12x12 feet front, to contain a store and a few flats.

R. H. Taylor is getting ready to erect a brick block, two stories high, and 12x12 feet front, to contain a store and a few flats.

The new residence of Mr. Rich is now nearly completed, and he will soon move into it.

Mr. Colburn moved into his new two-story cottage last week, and is comfortably housed for a permanent residence.

J. H. Taylor will move into his home next week.

Mr. Smith will be ready to follow suit a few days later, as his residence is nearly ready for occupancy.

Mr. Woodall has the frame up and rafters on his house, and it will be opened to completion as fast as the carpenter can do it.

Mr. Blum has commenced the erection of a building for a hardware store and tin shop.

Mr. Hammond, at the brick yard, is pushing the business to the utmost, as they now have over 1,000,000 bricks ordered ahead.

This enterprise will not only be a financial venture, but it will be of incalculable benefit to the new town in furnishing a cheap building material, right at hand, that will give the place a substantial look, found in no other new city in Southern California.

They are building for the future, and building well. To an Eastern man the erection of so many brick buildings is the best recommendation the new town could have. It diminishes the chance for fire, and therefore makes insurance rates low, besides being more comfortable than frame buildings in this climate.

While the business portion of the town is being built up thus rapidly, the surrounding tracts are not forgotten, and thousands of orange trees and vines will be set out this spring. Mr. Coley is preparing his ground for trees and vines, and has his residence nearly ready to occupy. Others are ready to follow his example as soon as they can plow the ground.

The near completion of the water system is a guarantee that water will be plenty for irrigation as soon as needed, and before any other fall orchards and vineyards will extend in all directions.

Lumber for the new yard that has been established is being hauled by wagons, as the demand was too great to wait for the cars, but as soon as the latter are running the building operations will greatly increase.

Although the place has the new look of all embryo towns, yet its great possibilities are as apparent to visitors, with scarcely an exception, go away delighted with the place.

hiring to the surface, will look bright and new by being coated with wet fuller's earth, and on this drying it should receive a coat of oil with a sponge.

Fatal Railroad Accident.

Train No. 52, east-bound on the Atlantic and Pacific, which connected at Barstow with the California Southern train, which left Los Angeles at 7 A. M. last Saturday, met with a serious accident Saturday night. Those familiar with the road will remember that Java section house is the first station west of the Needles, from which place it is distant seven and three-tenths miles. The grade for 3 1/2 miles runs steeply downward toward the Needles, and east-bound trains make quick time over that stretch of track. At Java the road is leaving the high plains and coming down through the sandhills to the low valley of the Colorado. There are many washes from the mountains, and the road consequently has many bridges along there. One of the bridges was set on fire some time Saturday, possibly by a spark from a passing train, and the fire ate away enough of the structure to make it a trap. The train had just left, however, by 9 o'clock, and there was no danger to the engine or the passengers. No. 52, due at Java at 9:24 P. M., was on time and going fast. The engine struck the broken bridge, and went down in ruin, with three cars piled around. Engineer H. Lewis and brakeman Robert were instantly killed, and were two Mojave Indians who were riding on the platform of the express car, and a tramp who is supposed to have been riding on the trucks. This is the complete list of fatalities. Three passengers were slightly injured. The passengers were all extricated from the wreck, all unharmed except those above mentioned. The wreck was seen in a blaze, and the express and baggage cars and the Pullman car Mexico were burned.

Six Boys Killed.

Easton, (Penn.) February 25.—A deplorable accident occurred this afternoon on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, about two miles above this city, by which six boys, whose ages ranged from 12 to 15 years, were killed. The unfortunate youths were Walter Moon, Walter Heath, Willie Evans, John Gregg, Charles Bonstien and Manning Garley, all of Easton. They had been out hunting in the woods, and were working in the railroad track, on their way home. A coal train heading down upon them, the boys stepped to the opposite track, when they were struck by a fast passenger train, heavily loaded with coal. There were seven boys in the party, six of whom were struck by the engine and thrown either between the tracks or against the side of the coal train. Harry Brown was struck by his brother and killed. The other five boys were killed by the engine and thrown either between the tracks or against the side of the coal train. The boys were all extricated from the wreck, all unharmed except those above mentioned. The wreck was seen in a blaze, and the express and baggage cars and the Pullman car Mexico were burned.

A Candid Juror.

In the examination of jurors in the San Francisco Superior Court in the case of Goldson, on trial for the murder of Mamie Kelly, the following amusing episode occurred.

"I saw you in the furnishing goods business, answered all questions to the satisfaction of the prosecution and was then turned over to the defendant's counsel. He asked that he had discussed the merits of the case considerably—in fact, one of his children attended the same school which little Mamie Kelly did."

"I would like to try this case," remarked the juror.

"How so?" asked Mr. Campbell.

"I saw I would like to be a juror in this case."

"What for?"

"Judge Murphy excused the candid furnishing goods man, and suggested that in the further examination of jurors it would be better not to bring out the individual opinions of the jurors on the question of the guilt or innocence of Goldson."

It is spring. A resurrection of nature's latent forces is taking place. Like the world around you, renew your complexion, invigorate your powers, cleanse the channels of life. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the means to use for this purpose.

It is reported that communications are passing with a view to the meeting of the Emperors of Germany, Austria and Russia to discuss a nucleus cunctis in Eastern affairs.

Two young women named Baldwin in Wayne county, (N. Y.) have died from tuberculosis.

CHEAP AND TASTEFUL DINNERS.

Below we give two bills of fare that need not cost more than forty cents each, even for people who live in the city and have to buy their own vegetables. The quantity is sufficient for six persons.

(1) Beef Soup.
Bisque of Veal, boiled Potatoes,
Watercress Salad,
Boiled Rice with Steamed Fruit,
Potato Soup,
Fruit in season.

Best Croquettes, Tomato Sauce,
Potato Salad, Cheese Fritters,
Beef Soup.—The dinner will supplement the second. Cover a ten cent dish of beef with two quarts cold water, let it come to a boil slowly, throw in half a teaspoonful of salt and skin until an onion skin comes out. Add one carrot, peeled, one onion, one small turnip and two stalks of celery, and simmer two hours. There should be a little more than a quart of the broth at this time. Remove the beef and skin, and pour the soup into a large kettle, or serve the soup plain. It is a good plan always to strain a soup, even if it is rich, after it is cooked with vegetables, rice or barley. Small rags and scraps of meat, and bits of bone, not only look shabby, but the latter are very dangerous.

"I know many families who throw the chicken or the two or three useless bits that they waste food upon, as much of it is made of meat, such as the bones of fowls and steaks, and bones from a roast, or the carcasses of a pair of broiled fowls, sufficient to provide a capital soup at least three or four times a week."

Blanche of Veal.—Boil a fifteen cent knuckle of veal, and add a few bits of salt and a few bits of pepper, and a few bits of onion, and a few bits of carrot, and a few bits of celery, and a few bits of turnip, and a few bits of potato, and a few bits of rice, and a few bits of bread, and a few bits of fruit, and a few bits of vegetables, and a few bits of meat, and a few bits of bone, and a few bits of skin, and a few bits of fat, and a few bits of oil, and a few bits of butter, and a few bits of lard, and a few bits of tallow, and a few bits of grease, and a few bits of milk, and a few bits
