Rob Farrell Whoops Up Waterman.

"Robert Farrell vs. R. W. Waterman" was the title of a case disposed of by Justice Austin this morning by the defendant paying all demands and costs of suit. A reporter scenting an item somewhat different from the general run, made some inquiries and was considerably shocked to learn that Robert Farrell, editor and proprietor of the Whittier Pointer, had dared to bring suit against the Governor of the great commonwealth of California for $85 worth of political taffy. Such, however, proved to be the case, for upon being questioned Mr. Farrell said that shortly before Colonel Markham's name was brought out as a candidate for the nomination of Governor on the Republican ticket, Mr. Waterman came to him and insisted on being "whooped up" to the extent of $85.

Editor Farrell did the "whooping" in fine shape. The Pointer gave many reasons why Waterman should receive the nomination; but as subsequent events show, the Pointer's logic failed to bear fruit.

The general drift of events undoubtedly had a tendency to put the Governor in anything but a pleasant mood, and when the rural moulder of public opinion had the gall to present his bill for the aforesaid "whoop," it is not at all surprising that the Governor got very angry and declared that the editor of the Pointer could go to San Diego or some other seaport town.

Then, again, the Marcus of Borax, who runs the "hoss" paper, might have given the chief magistrate some ill-timed advice. Be that as it may, the bill remained unpaid, and just before the convention convened in Sacramento, to wit: on August 9, Editor Farrell, through his attorney, C. C. Stephens, filed papers in a suit in Justice Austin's court.

Numerous delegates and newspaper correspondents have examined the atmosphere in and around the chief magistrate's office in the early part of last week in Sacramento was tainted with sulphur. No wonder Editor Farrell, not being contented with going on record as the first man who ever sued a Governor for newspaper "whoop up," had the audacity to have the summons served on His Excellency at the time when the streets were crowded with representative Republicans from all over the State who were shouting the praises of Markham.

To the Governor and his private secretary this independent jollification was most obnoxious, and to have a constable step into their private sanctum and summon the Governor to appear in a justice's court in Los Angeles, to answer to a trifling suit was too much. No wonder the air was impregnated with sulphur.

A telegram was received this morning that the matter would be settled forthwith, and shortly after Justice Austin took his seat a personal friend of the Governor's put in an appearance, paid the amount sued for and the case was dismissed.—Express, Aug. 20.

A Horticultural Boom.

All over this section at this time there are drying thousands of apricots, nectarines, peaches, prunes and other deciduous fruits. These products thus prepared are selling at 13 to 25 cents a pound. They will bring in here an immense amount of money.

This is the boom. The orange-growers have been pocketing $250 to $745 an acre for their crop. The producers of cabbage have received $210 to $515 for their crop. If that seems too much to make on this vegetable, let it be noted that they got $50 a ton for the crop. The potato men have made as high as $210 an acre. The walnut growers will get next fall $200 to $500 an acre. The growers of prunes and apricots are getting $125 to $225 an acre. If this is not a boom, pray what would make one? Granted it is only the inception of a boom, but it is there and of solid strength. It is a boom that will grow. In ten years the orange crop will be 25,000 cars, and all the other branches will keep up with the head of the procession. Let wise men keep their eyes on the situation. It is a boom and it will stay.—L. A. Herald.

Some people are constantly troubled with boils—an ounce does one boil than another makes its appearance. A thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the best of blood-purifiers, effectually puts an end to this annoyance. We recommend a trial.

The debt of the United States is steadily decreasing; the public debt in Canada is enormously increasing. Perhaps annexationists may find in this fact new reason for advocacy of their cause. In 1867, when the dominion was founded, the per capita of the debt was $22, and in the United States $42. Now in the Canadas it is $46, and in the United States $15.

Infernal Ingenuity.

Cahil secretly devises more excruciating tortures than those of which you can see the evidences in the face of a rheumatic or neuralgic sufferer. The agonies are the consequence of not checking a rheumatic or neuralgic attack at the outset. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters can be used by afflicted or careful persons in confidence that they will promptly control rheumatic attacks, and thereby avert neuralgic suffering. Dyspepsia, biliousness, kidney complaint, debility, malaria, nervousness, sleeplessness, and constipation, are likewise conquered by this benign, safe, and thoroughly reliable medicine. Use it regularly, and be free from these distressing ailments.

THE GRAND JURY.

Fifth Term of Three Months Commences Monday.

The report of the Grand Jury was filed with the Superior Court on Thursday last. As indicated in these columns various items during the past three weeks, the present Marshal of Anaheim and his predecessor in office were indicted. The complete report is as follows:

To the Superior Court of Orange county, State of California, the Grand Jury of the county and State aforesaid, for the term of——

We have been in session fourteen days, much of the work accomplished having been transacted by committees appointed for and during adjournments for that purpose.

We have examined into eleven cases brought to our notice, during which time we have examined thirty-four witnesses.

We have found two true bills.

We have examined into all matters pertaining to the interests and affairs of Orange county, which we herein report in relation to our investigation has progressed from day to day.

First—We recommend that persons, companies and corporations who are in possession and management of places on the sea coast in this county resorted to by the public, as places for bathing, plans boats, repair boats and such other appliances in the water as will lessen the danger of drowning by persons visiting such places.

Second—We further recommend the proper officers to look into any and all matters pertaining to the destruction of timber on government lands within the boundaries of Orange county, and especially that of Trabuco canyon.

Third—Informations having been filed charging Dr. Mills, Coroner of Orange county, with having held an inquest on the body of Lieutenant Donaldson without authority of law; made a full and thorough examination, and find the charge sustained, but do not find the Coroner criminally liable; and would recommend that in all future cases the Coroner will not hold inquests unless in cases clearly covered by law, in order that the county may not be put to unnecessary expense; we therefore respectfully request the Board of Supervisors to carefully scrutinize all bills presented for payment for holding inquests.

Fourth—We have examined the books of the Board of Supervisors and find that they contain a full record of all the county business and are properly kept as required by law.

We have examined the county jail, which, with some slight improvements, is well suited to meet the present requirements of Orange county. We find the building well constructed, ventilated and kept.

Owing, however, to the location of the cells, it does not give much security to the confinement of prisoners, nor does it insure a proper degree of safety to the jailer. Therefore we recommend to the Board of Supervisors that they cause a heavy iron grating to be erected in the west end of the jail corridor, extending around and far enough on each side of the entrances thereto to afford the jailer perfect security in locking prisoners in the cells. The jail register was examined and found satisfactory. The Sheriff's record of all arrests made was found correct.

Fifth—We have examined the County Recorder's books, also those of the Auditor, Clerk, School Superintendent, Assessor, Sheriff, Tax Collector, Coroner, Public Administrator and Treasurer, and find the books of all the county officials thoroughly systematized and correctly kept. We find cash on hand in the County Treasurer's office, $41,783 10, up to August 1st, 1890, and amount after all outstanding warrants are paid (to be), $40,072 64. We find also that all of the above named officials are courteous and efficient, and all moneys collected by them have been properly accounted for. We would recommend, however, that the Auditor keep a separate account with the Clerk as Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, and that the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors keep a book in which entry be made of all moneys received by him as such clerk.

We find the county books exposed to great danger of destruction by fire, and would earnestly recommend the immediate attention and action of the Board of Supervisors in creating greater security to the county books.

Seventh—We have examined the Horticultural Commissioners and find that they are doing their duty as well as possible under existing laws, and recommend the attention of the Board of Supervisors and District Attorney to aid them as far as possible in enforcing the law.

Eighth—We have examined the principal bridges of the county, and we would recommend that the bridge across the Santa Ana river, which is built in connection with the S. P. R. R. bridge be protected in some manner at its eastern extremity from the flow of water which strikes that particular point during the winter season, or in time of high water; also that the partition between the wagon track and the railroad track on said bridge be repaired. We also find the road on Fifth street west of Santa Ana, and immediately east of the Fifth-street bridge, in a bad condition, and would recommend that the first twenty rods more or less be graded up to a height of some two or two and a half feet so as to prevent any water from the Santa Ana river flowing around the east end of the said bridge, and the doing away with the present culverts.

We also find that the support to or on which the west end of the bridge across Aliso creek rests is liable to be washed out at any time during high water, and should be protected. We further find that the bridge on the San Juan road between the wind-mill on the San Joaquin ranch and the Mission is unsafe and should be condemned and a new bridge erected in its place. We find that the crossings on the Southern Pacific railway are designated by signs as they should be for the protection of the traveling public, and has been brought to our notice that several of the engineers who run their trains over the Santa Fe road in this county fail to sound their whistles as required by law. We also find that the railroad cut through the point of the hill near the old stage station three miles of San Juan is a dangerous place for those traveling with teams, and recommend that the attorney of the Board of Supervisors be directed to bring suit against the Santa Fe Railroad Company to compel them to cause their trains to slacken speed when passing through said cut.

We further find that the Road Commissioner should not allow up any of the county funds after the rainy season has passed and before the first Monday in March next, unless a petition for same is first made to the Board of Supervisors, and the necessity for the same is set forth in said petition.

Ninth—We find that the county roads as now laid out are in good condition, and that no changes are necessary at present.

We also call attention to the following: Burrel Reinhard directly west of Olive, Mills, near the railroad track, and the property of an absent claimant, which is said to be dangerous to persons passing the point, which is a steep embankment, and should be fenced. Also the property of Mrs. Hall, on the north side of the road, at the point where the road turns to the west, and

THE GRAND JURY'S REPORT.

The Grand Jury have made their report, the complete text of which will be found on the first page. The most important part of the document, to our citizens, is that portion which refers to our municipal affairs. The Grand Jury finds (first) that the City Clerk has not kept his books according to law and (second) that he has been guilty of receiving the Marshal's reports without proper investigation.

Marshal Smythe is found to have been $143 short in his accounts when he tendered his resignation, about a year ago. This shortage was turned over by a check from Marshal Landell on July 26th last, at the first meeting of the City Trustees after the report of the experts showed the deficiency in his accounts.

Marshal Landell, just previous to the beginning of the exporting of the city books, was in arrears to the extent of $916 43 in his city accounts, and had also, about that time, $1,[illegible] of school funds illegally in his possession. As this money was turned over, on the investigation of his accounts, the Grand Jury crossed out its reference to it.

These facts are calculated to make the "dull creeps" start down the average taxpayer's back. The delinquency has been paid up in great part, but, owing to the fact that stubs are missing from receipt books for a period covering several months, both Smythe and Landell, to make matters worse, declare they have no means of knowing how much is yet due the city. This is indeed a pretty state of things! If there is to be no punishment for this crime, the people have at least the right to expect that in future more safeguards shall be thrown about the Marshal's office, that a recurrence of this disgraceful affair will be impossible.

A lax system of business was carried on, it appears, by the Clerk and Marshal in their intercourse as city officials. In future the requirements of the law will, we agree, no doubt, be more rigorously complied with. The City Clerk declares, however, in a letter published elsewhere this morning, that it was the business of the Finance Committee of the City Trustees to verify the Marshal's accounts, and that no blame can reasonably attach to him in the premises.

While we do not believe there was any criminal intent to defraud on the part of the Marshal, his negligence is inexplicable and it will be difficult to explain it away. A deficiency is but a step removed from a defalcation. In fact, by many will the Marshal's deficiency, even though it be repaid, be viewed in no other light than as one involving default and flight.

The Grand Jury brings in two indictments one of them against our fledgling contemporary, the Santa Ana Free Press, which had the temerity to libel John Avas, Chairman of the Santa Ana Board of Trustees, in saying that he held his office for his own aggrandizement. Several other uncomplimentary assertions were made in reference to Avas, all of which, the Grand Jury surmised, gave ground sufficient for an indictment. The publishers of the paper were arrested, and released on $750 bail in each case, their trial being set for September 1st. The other indictment is for a certain Santa Ana physician, who's name cannot be given, as he has not yet been arrested. It is understood he is now in San Francisco.

Various other matters are touched upon by the Grand Jury, one of them being a petition by Santa Fe engineers to blow their engine's whistles in accordance with law. Many engineers run through Anaheim—especially freight engineers at night—who never sound their locomotive's whistle at all while running through the city. Frequently no whistle is blown for the entire distance from Arch Fe Springs to the Santa Ana river—and we have heard railroad men say that at times the entire trip between Los Angeles and San Diego is made without the sounding of a single locomotive whistle during the entire trip. This is all contrary to law. We hear much objection on the part of our citizens to the practice. Let every engineer sound his whistle at crossings as required by law.

While matters of great importance were considered by the Grand Jury, and weighed by them fairly and fully, their report is not as concisely drawn and luminous as one disposed of entertaining them might require. In fact, the report is in some instances very slovenly put together, making it rather difficult in places to understand. With this exception, and the criticism that the Grand Jury were uncommonly lenient in not bringing indictments against both of our implicated City Marshals, the body has done its work well. It will pass into history as the most Grand Jury ever to assemble in this county; and one whose summoning was timely, judging by its report.

The Pomona Times- and Santa Ana Free Press having spoken favorably of Richard Melrose of Anaheim as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Assemblyman, and it having come to our knowledge that Mr. Melrose had received a number of letters from prominent Republicans throughout the district asking him to allow his name to go before the convention, we interviewed the gentleman as to his intention in this matter, and he desires us to announce that, while grateful for the hearty promises of support received by him, it is absolutely impossible for him to be a candidate at this time. His business affairs require all his attention, and he cannot afford the time necessary for the canvass. This declination is final.

OUR correspondent in the following paragraph asks questions in reference to a subject that has been asserting itself with particular pertinacity to the people of this irrigation district for several weeks past. He writes:

EDITOR GAZETTE.—Will you please inform the taxpayers if there is any important lawsuit for or against the district pending, which in any way could justify the employment of a law firm at $5,000 a year? For [illegible] August 21, 1890.

There is no "important lawsuit" pending against the irrigation district. The only litigation in sight at present is the series of condemnation suits to be brought against the Yorbas, a favorable decision in the first one of which will probably terminate the whole affair. Those cases are yet some distance in the future, of course, but will be taken up at the earliest moment. Until such time the "law firm" will have but little to do, that can be seen by a layman, except to attend the meetings of the board and draw their salary of $416 on the first of each month. Whither are we drifting? With customary coolness, we admit that we are compelled to give that up.

OUR esteemed contemporary, the Escondido (San Diego) Times, asks for information on the following point:

Colonel Markham would not have received the nomination for Governor on the first ballot, but for the fact that San Francisco changed its vote from Morrow to Markham before the result of the ballot was announced. There was something a little peculiar about that change, and we would like to have it explained. No doubt it was all right, however. The development of Markham's strength in the Northern and central parts of the State was wonderful. Southern California is coming to the front.

One of the rules for the government of the Republican Convention, reported by the Committee on Permanent Organization and Order of Business, we learn from a delegate, was to the effect that no vote could be changed until after the roll-call was completed, and that changes could then be made prior to the announcement of the result of the roll-call. Immediately after the first roll call, and before the Secretary could add up the totals, the chairman of one of the Assembly Districts of San Francisco changed the vote of his district to 5 for Markham—a gain of only one vote for that gentleman, as the vote of the district had been four for Markham and one for Morrow. Homboldt next followed, giving its 15 solid votes for Markham, and then began the stampede, the chairman of nearly every delegation which had cast Morrow votes endeavoring to secure recognition from the Chairman of the Convention in order to get in with the majority. There was nothing peculiar about San Francisco's change of front. They simply bowed to the inevitable, and accepted the situation they could not change, like sensible men.

To our good friends who are so solicitous for our welfare as to request the suppression of this piece of news or that—saying that it "would be better" for "all concerned" not to "say anything about it"—we may be permitted to say that their labors in future will be in vain—as, we make the proud boast, they uniformly have been in the past. When a paper cannot print the news of the day, the sooner its relegation to the journalistic graveyard is effected, the better. We desire to print the news, and all of it, to the extent of our limited ability. When a man has committed a wrong and sees a report of it in the public prints, he has no one to blame but himself. This is a little sermon which we give our readers without extra charge.

THE assessment on the Dreyfus winery and improvements, which had been placed at $10,000, has been reduced by the Board of Equalization to $5,000. As the value of the building and improvements is placed by level headed business men at not less than $25,000, it is difficult to see how the low assessment of $10,000 should be reduced one-half. This is a question possessing peculiar interest to the taxpayers, and one which they would like to see explained.

Mr. Nebelung's Explanation

EDITOR GAZETTE.—In reference to the report of the Grand Jury charging the Clerk of the city of Anaheim with not having kept his books according to law, I would say that, inasmuch as the Board of Trustees as well as their officers are not supposed to be lawyers, and neither the board nor the officers, at the time the city government was changed from a town to a city of the sixth class, were informed that special laws in the statutes of California were laid down providing for the government of a city of the sixth class, therefore the books were kept, up to the 1st of May, 1890, in accordance to Section 2, Ordinance No. 11, which reads:

"It shall be the duty of the Town Clerk to keep such books as shall show the amount of revenue derived by the town and the source of such revenue; and also show the disbursements ordered by the trustees and for what such disbursements were made."

All of which the Clerk's books clearly show. The second charge, of accepting the sworn monthly statements of the Marshal without verifying the same, bit the wrong man, as it is the duty of the Finance Committee of the Board of Trustees to examine and pass upon all reports of the Marshal, Clerk, Treasurer, etc. The above statement is not made to justify myself, but only to explain to my fellow-citizens my position in this matter.

Respectfully, M. NEBELUNG, City Clerk.

The following is the ticket nominated by the Democratic Convention at San Jose: Governor, E. B. Pond of San Francisco; Lieutenant-Governor, R. F. Del Valle of Los Angeles; Chief Justice, J. A. Stanley of Alameda; Associate Justices—Jackson Hatch of San Jose, James V. Coffey of San Francisco, George E. Smith of Los Angeles; Secretary of State, W. C. Hendricks of Oroville; Controller, John P. Dunn of San Francisco; State Treasurer, Adam Herold of Placer; Attorney-General, Walter G. Graves of San Francisco; Surveyor-General, Stanley B. Boon of Humboldt; Superintendent of Public Instruction, Henry C. Hull of San Mateo; Supreme Court Clerk, J. D. Spencer of Stanislaus; Congress—First District, T. J. ORDINANCE NO. 64.

An Ordinance Fixing and Levying a Property Tax for the Fiscal Year 1890 and 1891.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Anaheim do ordain as follows:

Section 1.—That there be and hereby is fixed and levied a property tax for the fiscal years 1890 and 1891 of fifty cents on each one hundred dollars of the assessed valuation of all real and personal property within the corporate limits of the City of Anaheim.

Sec. 2.—The City Clerk shall cause this ordinance to be published once in the ANAHEIM GAZETTE and thereafter it shall take effect and be in full force.

THEODORE REISER,
President of the Board of Trustees of the City of Anaheim.

I hereby certify that the foregoing ordinance was introduced at a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the City of Anaheim, held on the 26th day of August, 1890; that it was duly passed and adopted at a regular meeting of the Board of Trustees of the City of Anaheim held on the 27th day of August, 1890, by the following vote:

Ayes—Trustees Reiser, Littlefield and White.
Noes—None.
Absent—Trustees Ochs in Her and Bannerschmidt.

That the President of the Board of Trustees of the City of Anaheim signed the same on the 27th day of August, 1890.

Malaria

is believed to be caused by poisonous miasma arising from low, marshy land or from decaying vegetable matter, and which, breathed into the lungs, enter and poison the blood. If a healthy condition of the blood is maintained by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, one is much less liable to malaria, and Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured many severe cases of this distressing affection.

A Wonderful Medicine.

"For malaria I think Hood's Sarsaparilla has no equal. It has kept my children well right through the summer, and we live in one of the worst places for malaria in Marysville. I take Hood's Sarsaparilla for that all gone feeling, with great benefit." MRS. B. F. DAVIS, Marysville, Cal.

Break-Bone Fever.

"My daughter Pearl was taken with dengue (or break-bone) fever 2 years ago, and my friends thought I would lose her. I had almost given up hope until she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. She took four bottles in four months, and gained 15 pounds. I thank Hood's Sarsaparilla for giving her back to me restored to health and strength." JULIA A. KING, Sherman, Texas.

BRONCHITIS

Is an inflammation of the bronchial tubes—the air-passages leading into the lungs. Few other complaints are so prevalent, or call for more prompt and energetic action. As neglect or delay may result seriously, effective remedies should always be at hand. Apply at once a mustard poultice to the upper part of the chest, and, for internal treatment, take frequent doses of

C. O. Iepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind., writes: "My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skilful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine, saying he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving it to her until entirely satisfied she was entirely well. This indisputable evidence of the great merit of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has given me unbounded confidence in the preparation, and I recommend it to my customers, knowing it cannot disappoint them."

"Ayer's Cherry Pectoral cured me of a bad cough and my partner of bronchitis. I know of numerous cases in which this preparation has proved very beneficial in families of so that the medicine is known among them as 'the consoler of the afflicted.'"—Jaime Rufus Vidal, San Cristobel, San Domingo.

"A short time ago, I was taken with a severe attack of bronchitis. The remedies ordinarily used in such cases failed to give me relief. Almost in despair of ever finding anything to cure me, I bought a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was helped from the first dose. I had not finished one bottle before the disease left me, and my throat and lungs were as sound as ever."—Geo. B. Hunter, Altoona, Pa.

ORDINANCE No. 63.

An Ordinance for the Protection of Life and Property from Fire, and Establishing Regulations Concerning the Erection and Moving of Buildings Within the Corporate Limits of the City of Anaheim.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Anaheim do ordain as follows:

Section 1.—That all that portion of the City of Anaheim bounded and described as follows: Commencing at the point of intersection of the center lines of Clementina street and Chestnut street; thence along the center line of said Chestnut street to the point of intersection of the center lines of Chestnut street and Los Angeles street; thence easterly in the same direction to the point of intersection of the center line of Claudina street; thence along the center line of Claudina street to the point of intersection of the center lines of Claudina street and Center street; thence along the center line of said Center street to the point of intersection of the center lines of Center street and Hermine street; thence along the center line of said Hermine street to the point of intersection of the center lines of Hermine street and Chartres street; thence along the center line of said Chartres street to the point at last intersection of the center lines of Chartres street and Clementina street; thence along the center line of Clementina street to the point of beginning, shall be and is the fire limits of the City of Anaheim.

Sec. 2.—No building or other structure of whatever nature constructed of wood, except privies and water-closets, shall be erected or placed or moved within or into said fire limits, or any part thereof, except by permission of the Board of Trustees, granted by resolution entered on the Clerk's records of the Board of Trustees, provided that this section shall not be construed to prohibit the moving of any such building or structure that is now within said fire limits, to any place without said fire limits, but in such cases any person or persons desirous of moving any building or structure from within said fire limits shall first apply to the Board of Trustees for a permit, which permit shall state the time within which and the route by which the building or structure may be moved, and no person or persons shall be governed thereby in such removal.

Sec. 3.—Any person or persons, firm or corporation who shall violate, neglect or refuse to comply with any provision of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars or be imprisoned in the City Jail not more than ninety days or by both a fine and imprisonment.

Sec. 4.—All ordinances and parts of ordinances so far as they conflict with the foregoing ordinance are hereby repealed.

Sec. 5.—The City Clerk shall cause this ordinance to be published once in the ANAHEIM GAZETTE and the same shall take effect and be in full force.

THEODORE REISER,
President of the Board of Trustees of the City of Anaheim.

I hereby certify that the foregoing ordinance was introduced at a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the City of Anaheim, held on the 26th day of August, 1890; that it was duly passed and adopted at a regular meeting of the Board of Trustees of the City of Anaheim held on the 27th day of August, 1890, by the following vote:

Ayes—Trustees Reiser, Littlefield and White.
Noes—None.
Absent—Trustees Schindler and Bannerschmidt.

That the President of the Board of Trustees of the City of Anaheim signed the same on the 27th day of August, 1890.

MAX NEBELUNG,
Clerk of the City of Anaheim.

Grain Thieves.

A singular incident is reported from the Kraemer ranch. David Colima put in about 200 acres of wheat the past season, and had the grain threshed last week. On Sunday evening, after the grain had been threshed and stacked in the field, Colima was informed that he had better camp at the grain stack, instead of remaining at home, as several stacks of grain had been noted at different places in the valley during this season. Accordingly he took out his blankets and made his bed by the stack of grain. He retired early in the evening and soon fell asleep. About midnight he was awakened by a man prowling around the stack. Thinking it might be his brother looking for him, he arose from his blankets and said, "Joe, is that you?" Instantly the marauder leveled a gun at Colima and began retreating. He did not speak, but in the faint light of the descending moon, his gun could be distinctly seen, and Colima was satisfied to keep still without being told to do so. The fellow was apparently a white man, and large of stature. Colima is of opinion that he recognized him. When the fellow had backed off about 150 yards, all the time with his gun leveled at Colima, he suddenly turned and ran some distance to the road, where a four-horse wagon was standing. Leaping into his seat he drove rapidly toward the hills.

It is thought that the fellow was reconnoitring about the grain stack, and was preparing to make away with a load of the grain.

Grain thefts have been frequent in the valley this season. One farmer on the San Joaquin, we are informed, has lost 1,500 sacks of grain in this manner.

It would not be surprising if some sensational developments followed the occurrence of Sunday night. The midnight visitor to the grain stack is supposed to be known. His arrest would create quite a sensation.

Coyotes and Wildcats.

Ben Kraemer has recently been quite a loser of chickens, which coyotes and wildcats have carried off at night. One day last week he sat a couple of traps for the marauding varmints, and on going to look at them the next day he found one of the traps missing. Its stake chain had been broken, evidently by a coyote that had been caught the night before. A plenty of feathers at the spot where the parted chain remained showed that before the coyote had been caught, he had paid a visit to the henroost and carried off a fowl. A day or two afterward the remaining trap one morning held a fine specimen of the wildcat, which Kraemer gleefully sent on its way rejoicing by the Southern Pacific.

While Hally Schumsaker and Niak Galick were hunting rabbits in the cactus land north of town, one day last week, they came on two large wildcats, which they determined to kill. Rash of the boys selected his cat and fired. In an instant there were two dead wildcats in the vicinity of the firing. The next morning Nick killed a coyote in the cactus land on the Kraemer ranch.

Our Prosperous Section.

Los Angeles Herald.

No portion of the semi-tropics is improving more than the district around old Anaheim. The development of the fruit industry at Placentia is very marked, and well it may be; for no spot in all this sun-kissed land lends itself better to this. Nature is exuberant in the fruitfulness along those beautiful foothills. Within a week a large bunch of land, just south of the Southern Pacific depot, has been purchased by a syndicate of Chicago, who will cut it up into small farms and colonize it. All about the old town is prosperous, and the growth of population is quite marked.

SOLEMN CITY SOLONS.

Grappling With Momentous Affairs of State.

The Trustees met in regular session yesterday afternoon. Present, Trustees Reiser, Littlefield, Witte and Bonnenschieldt.

The Secretary read the minutes of the last regular meeting, which were approved.

The Marshal asked for instruction as to publishing the tax notice for the current fiscal year. He was instructed to have the same printed in our columns this morning. The advertisement will be found in another column.

He was also given instructions in reference to collecting water rates for sprinkling lawns, which until further notice will be 50 cents per month for each lawn.

The Finance Committee asked further time in reporting on the reports of the Marshal, Clerk and Treasurer. Given until next regular meeting.

Committee on Public Improvements made no report, Mr. Schindler not being present.

The Marshal was requested to notify Robert Hansen to rectify the damage done to the ditch and culvert on the corner of Center and Palm streets.

The Ordinance Committee introduced two ordinances, repealing the existing ordinances granting a right of way to the Anaheim and Olinda railroad.

Ordinances No. 62, 63 and 64, introduced at the last meeting, were called up and passed. They will be found in another column.

Mr. Witte called up the report of Expert Chynoweth, which censured the old Board of Trustees. Mr. Littlefield refused to sign the report, and as Mr. Schindler, the other member of the committee having the report in charge was absent, Mr. Witte withdrew the document.

The semi-annual report of the City Clerk was ordered printed as required by law. It will appear next week.

The bill of William Boyd for two days' work on the repair of the city water works, amounting to $3 50, was ordered paid.

The Clerk read a communication from the Southern California Railway Company, in reference to the demand for $9 for filling up openings on each side of their railroad track on South street, which had been paid for by the city and a demand made upon the company for the amount. General Manager Wade replied, asking whether the railroad company had been notified of the openings. As no notice had been given the railroad company, the President was requested to interview Mr. Wade and come to an agreement with him about the matter.

Two bids from S. O. Wood and H. C. Kellogg, regarding the making of city maps, were laid over until the next meeting. Adjourned.

PERSONAL MELANGE.

Captain Berry of Santa Ana Locked in on Monday.

Charlie Wood is at the Fresno Congressional convention.

W. M. McFadden and Prof. Hinton left on Friday for a week's trip to Fresno county.

The Arms brothers, proprietors of the Orange Post, were in town on Tuesday afternoon, and paid us a call.

Jack Sawyer had a slight recurrence of the grip, and has hied himself to New river, to camp, fish and regain his health.

Judge Freeman and L. Gaspper of Santa Ana were over to attend the meeting of the United Workmen on Friday evening.

Richard Egan of Capistrano is the newly appointed Orange county member of the Democratic State Central Committee.

Louis Sehorn leaves for El Paso and other Points in Texas on Monday, taking his children with him. He will visit his old home in the Lone Star State, and be absent a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Middleham and I. V. Albertson have returned from their camping trip to Laguna. "Fatty" states that he was the best floater at Laguna, and that his shape evoked universal favorable comment from the ladies.

Fred Miller has sold his Homa restaurant to J. S. Conn, and has taken up his residence in Dr. Ballard's cottage, near the Hotel del Campo. Mrs. Miller leaves on a visit to relatives in Portland, Oregon, in a few days, to be gone a month.

F. W. Sanborn of Santa Ana, who is after the Republican nomination for District Attorney, was over shaking hands with friends hereaway on Monday. He is a young lawyer of capability and worth, who would, if elected, fill his position with credit to the people and honor to himself.

Judge Wilson was down on Tuesday, looking up the friendly condemnation suit of the irrigation district against the Anaheim Union Water Company. The complaint in the case is now being prepared, but it will be some time before the trial can be had, owing to the voluminous nature of the complaint.

A. Goodwin of Santa Ana, one of the aspirants for the Republican nomination for County Treasurer, was in town on Monday. He is making a vigorous fight for the office, and is altogether undismayed in heading Captain Keith, the Democratic apirant, in his den. Mr. Goodwin considers that his canvass is progressing favorably.

Theo. Pinther of Santa Ana was in town yesterday, and called at this office. He advertises in another column for all kinds of fruits for drying purposes. Mr. Pinther is quite an enthusiast on the prosperous turn of fruit-growing in this valley, and predicts a boom in acreage property for fruit-planting inside of the year. He is also of opinion that the vine disease has run its course, and that the dread bacteria is a thing of the past. He is eminently well qualified to know, and his opinion is accorded weight by those who know him.

Chronicles of the Anaheim and Olive Road Controversy.

And it came to pass in the days when Towner was judge over the land of Orange county that one Louis, surnamed Schorn, the son of his father and the offspring of his mother, lifted his voice and spake reproachfully of the Supervisors of the land of Orange county. And he committed his words to writing, saying: What mean ye by neglecting the roads for the people to go up and down in the land? Do ye not know that the Anaheim and Olive road is a terror to both man and beast.

Then Samuel, surnamed Armor, the least of the Supervisors, felt called upon to answer. And he also committed his words to writing, saying: The Supervisors do ye no wrong. The tribute collected from the people of Anaheim road, district including the west country of Buena Park and one hundred and seventy-five dollars from the city of Anaheim, together with large sums of silver from the general road fund, had all been spent in your behalf to the uttermost farthing. Wist ye not that the Olive milling beams do great damage to that real throughout the length and breadth thereof?

Then was Louis, surnamed Schorn, exceeding wrath, for he with certain others employed those teams to carry their grain to his mill to the market to trade and get gain. And he lifted up his voice and cried: Great is the Olive Milling Company, which, with its beams, conferreth an untold blessing upon this land throughout all its borders and the coasts round about, and small is the least of the Supervisors, who rideth in his carriage at the expense of the people!

Now Samuel, surnamed Armor, was grieved at the anger of his adversary, which had led him to say many foolish things about the least of the Supervisors, so he opened his mouth and spake once again, saying: What right hath Louis, surnamed Schorn, to call me, the least of the Supervisors, an enemy to the Olive mill? Do not all men know that I sing the praises of the Olive mill which grindeth the finest of the wheat to feed the hungry? What hath the filing of the least of the Supervisors in a carriage to do with the Anaheim and Olive road? Wouldst thou contend with the Almighty who hath given thy road sand for a foundation and dust for a covering? Go to, and quit thyself like a man, instead of reviling thy friends.

After many days Louis, surnamed Schorn, again committed his thoughts to writing, saying many grievous things about the least of the Supervisors, that he threw mud first, that he had no business to make answer, when assailed, that he with many others was willing to sacrifice himself for pay and other like accusations, ending with the question: Why not furnish sparsely settled districts from the general road fund?

To this Samuel, surnamed Armor, the least of the Supervisors, makes answer, saying: It is written in the book of the ANAHEIM GAZETTE that the attack was first made on the Supervisors. Doth not thy manhood recoil from striking one who would make no defense? Canst thou kick a cur without his snapping at thee? How, then, wouldst thou always have even the Supervisors and forbid his making answer to thee? To make thy point in argument is it necessary to twit an officer with working for pay? Said I not that in my former epistle that more money was transferred from the General Road Fund to thy district than to any other district in the land of Orange county? Dost not then remember how the Bren Canyon road was opened up to the north country at an expense of several hundred dollars for the benefit of thy suit? Canst then not be satisfied with all these advantages without "crying, like the horse leech's daughter, 'give, give.'" Must the whole land of Orange county be drained to put money into thy purse? Think not that such of those epistles adds more proof of the folly of thy attack on the Supervisors and of thy humiliating greed for more than thy share?

Again I adjure thee to abandon thy "Trans-oceanic" proclivities, and show thyself a man who is willing to "live and let live."

S. ARMOR.

—Lovely night-cool evenings here.

—The streets are being cleaned of weeds, and are now in a very presentable state.

—The testimony in the case of the People vs. Avery & Everhardy, charged with receiving stolen cattle, has been ordered written up.

—Judge Towner has appointed H. Cohen, Frank Ey and John Landell appraisers of the estate of Sin Sc Wan, the lately deceased Chinese manderin.

—H. G. Wilshire has disposed of his property at Fullerton and at present is sojourning at Buena Park. He contemplates leaving for the East in November.

—Max Nahabieng advertises this morning that he is still in the field for the purchase of this season's walnut crop, for which he will pay the highest ruling prices.

—The Orange County Fair Association held a meeting at Santa Ana on Saturday. It was decided to send a committee to Los Angeles to solicit life members to the association.

—The Southern Pacific will sell special round-trip tickets to the Admission Day celebration at San Francisco on September 6th, 7th and 8th for $21 15, vold after September 12th.

—J. S. French of Placentia advertises this morning that he will let the contract for building two miles of barbed-wire fence around his place at Placentia. Contractors will take notice.

—For the Fruit Festival to be held at San Diego Sept. 2d to 6th the Santa Fe will sell round trip tickets from Anaheim at $7 50. Tickets on sale Sept. 1st to 6th, good returning until Sept. 8th.

—Prof. Frantz has purchased a trotting horse for $40, which he thinks can be made to go a mile in something like two minutes. He was offered $50 for the beast, one day last week, but refused to sell him.

—The trial of the gang of ruffians who tarred and feathered Editor Bently of the Azusa News began at Los Angeles on Monday. The offenders are young men of Covina. A strong case is being made out against them.

—Letters for the following persons remain uncalled for at the Postoffice: Alexandre Balenzuela, Frank Baxter, L. Bresse, Daniel Donovan, John H. Fitzgerald, James Hayes, Jean Martines, John Rojeo, Geo. Stamp, Frank Tima.

—Hinds, Wiederhoit and Thalse, the three Placentia vegetarians, who were arrested at the time of the taking of the census for refusing to answer Enumerator Clark's questions, were fined $50 each by Justice Ross in Los Angeles on Monday.

—Theo. Staley of Placentia has our thanks for three superb bunches of prunes, which abundantly testify to the adaptability of his soil to the fruit. Prunes are high-priced articles in the market this season, and Mr. Staley will make $200 from his quarter acre of them.

—Mr. Huntington, whose place is on the Spoerl tract, west of town, has shown us some specimens of the Japanese plums, which are very fine in appearance. The largest one measures 8½ inches in circumference. The fruit is from trees a year old last winter.

—Prof. McKinney, who will teach the Sprada school the coming term, and who is camping at the Landing, has the record of being the champion pole-and-line fisherman of the season. In six trips to New river he landed 71 pounds of carp. He is entitled to the medal.

—Carp are unusually plentiful at the mouth of New river, three miles north of Anaheim Landing. Parties recently returned from the grounds have brought large specimens of this palatable fresh-water fish. The largest weigh about four pounds, and are highly prized by pioneers. The fishing is reckoned great sport by our local disciples of Izaak Walton.

—We acknowledge the receipt of the report of the Secretary of Agriculture for 1889, and that of the Department of Agriculture for the preceding year, both volumes forwarded us through the courtesy of Senator Stewart. The former contains the report of Prof. Pierce on the vine disease, large extracts from the advance sheets of which have recently appeared in these columns.

—One day last week there was shipped from Los Angeles the enormous quantity of 210 carloads of canned goods and dried fruit. These cars carried probably more than 2,500 tons, and the value would reach to a million of dollars. For example, a carload of dried peaches weighing fifteen tons or 30,000 pounds, would be worth, as prices go, $6,000. There is a great deal of money coming into this State.

—Carl Pampert has renounced his allegiance to the Kaiser of Germany and become a citizen of the United States. He was admitted to citizenship in the Superior Court at Santa Ana on Monday. Herr Pampert will make a very good citizen, but he will be unable to vote at the ensuing election, because he will not have been a citizen of the State three months on election day, as the law requires.

—Asa Ellis, Collector of the port of San Francisco, died in that city on Wednesday of last week. Previous to his removal to the metropolis, Mr. Ellis had resided in Los Angeles county continuously for some thirty years. He held various public offices and represented his county in the Assembly. He leaves an aged wife, one son and three daughters, one of whom is Mrs. Barham, wife of a former Anaheimer.

—W. G. McPherson of McPherson announces himself as a candidate for County Assessor, subject to the decision of the Republican County Convention. A letter received from him yesterday, dated Hanford, Tulare county, conveys the information that he is largely engaged in surveying friends of the family. The parents have the condolence of all in their bereavement.

—Ordinance No. 62, fixing the new license rate; Ordinance No. 63, locating the fire limits of the city, and Ordinance No. 64, levying a property tax for the current fiscal year, will be found in our advertising columns this morning. Our business men

Ordinance No. 62.

An Ordinance to precede for the Licensing of Business carried on in the City of Anaheim.

The Board of Trustees of the city of Anaheim do ordain as follows:

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to conduct or carry on within the corporate limits of the city of Anaheim any business in such persons or agents for any other person or persons, firm, corporation, or otherwise, any such business, calling, occupation or profession as is hereinafter mentioned, without first procuring from said City of Anaheim a license so to do.

Any person or persons, either for themselves or as agents for others, violating any duty or conduct any business, calling, occupation or profession mentioned in this ordinance, without first procuring such license shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction by any court having jurisdiction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than twenty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or be imprisoned for a term not exceeding thirty days, or both such fine and imprisonment, and the consent of said license shall be forfeited to and due the said City of Anaheim, and all such persons, bodies or associations or agents or employees thereof shall be liable to an action in the name of the City of Anaheim for any amount of unexpired installments for the amount of the license of such licenses as he or they may be engaged in, with costs of suit.

Sec. 2. That the monthly rates of license for the pursuits, business, trades, occupations, avocations and employments hereinafter named and described and not hereinafter established for and within the City of Anaheim, and the same are hereby established and which are hereby established for and within the City of Anaheim, and the same are hereby established and which are hereby established for and within the City of Anaheim, and the same are hereby established and which are hereby

"A farmer's true capital consists of a clear head, sound judgment and a willing pair of hands."

Search for the borers whenever you have nothing to do, and search for them regularly also, if you wish to save your peach tree.

Ice will not preserve odors if the vessels in which milk is kept are not clean. Even the refrigerator should be well washed occasionally.

Skim milk cheese a year and is worth one cent a pound as manure and three cents a pound as feed for hogs, its cost being about two cents a pound. Such is the proper use of cheese of that kind.

It will be time to re-lime the waste places of the earth when the already cultivated ones are made to produce full crops. The work before us is to make the most of what we have instead of hunting for more.

It is sometimes difficult to sow turnip seed, but the Farm Journal says that a pound of timothy seed and a peck of sand, mixed, for we sow it all evenly enough to get an even stand of plants neither too thick or too thin.

Keep down all growth around the trunks of trees. Borers grow very fast, and take the nourishment that should be given to the fruit. All undesirable shoots on trees should be rubbed off as soon as they appear.

A correspondent of the Live Stock Indicator says: I harvest $1,000 in sheep and barn manure annually, and produce four live years and I make more clear money than can be made on acres of corn in the same length of time.

Some farmers consider certain marks in a cow as indicating her quality as a milker, but a better guide is to weigh her milk regularly. That tells the story without any guess work as to exactly what every owner ought to know.

In fattening poultry for market is a profitable part of the winter's growing, as the poultry is almost out of winter employment, for but little work is done with the orchard at that season. The raising of early broilers is also entirely in the winter.

There is quite a difference in the breeds of hogs. A fat-stock can be made to weigh five pounds when ten weeks old, while the common pig-fed-on will only weigh three pounds when a year old. Breeds make the most when fed well on the food.

Some kind of covering to shed off water will be of advantage to stacks of hay or fodder. But few farmers take pains to thus protect their stacks, and the result is that before spring approaches the hay or fodder is in a condition that renders it unpalatable enough.

If a machine whenever it can be done, if you intend to keep up with your enterprising neighbors, and get a machine that can be applied to all kinds of work done in the house and farm possible. In labor of farmers' wives should be lessened in every department.

The average production per acre of land can be largely increased, and by high farming with a small body of ground made to yield to its fullest capacity, the productions of the country would equal those of China or Egypt, where all farms are but little larger than our gardens.

In fitting weeds in the pig pen in order to make manure is an old custom, but weeds to be valuable seeds should be destroyed in the winter manner. It is from the manure heap that weeds are hauled out and spread on the farm, in the shape of seed, and easily from the pig pen.

Tobacco stalks, like leaves, perform their part for the season and die, says Thomas Meehan, the eminent horticulturist. Such being the case rapid growth of rootlets should be encouraged by manuring early and cultivating in a manner so as to keep the soil so that the rootlets may have greater opportunities.

Whenever the pastures begin to turn out early in
