WORK ON THE SHIPS.

GOOD PROGRESS BEING MADE IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF UNCLE SAM'S NEW NAVY—THE NEW ARMOR-CLADS.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Now that the United States may at any time become involved in hostilities with Spain over affairs in Cuba, it is pleasant to note that good progress is being made on the gunboats of the new navy. The latest bulletin from Chief Contractor Hichborn shows most gratifying gains toward the completion of the vessels still under construction. The monitor Terror is actually in commission, and practically done, being put down at 99 per cent completed. The big battle ships Massachusetts and Oregon are also practically ready for service, the former being more than 98 per cent and the latter 95½ per cent done. The Massachusetts will be tried next Saturday, and the Oregon three weeks later, on May 10.

Close upon these vessels is our biggest and most powerful monitor, the Puritan, with her 14-inch armor and her 12 inch guns. She is 92 per cent ready, so that we may at last add her to the force actually available in case of war with any foreign power. Notable is the gain made on the Brooklyn. Constructor Hichborn's statements are made monthly nowadays, and so well has this largest of our armored cruisers been pushed, of late, that she is now nearly three-fourths done, or 72 per cent. It cannot be many months before we shall begin to count her in the available strength.

The Newport News gunboats, Nashville, Wilmington and Helena, are all more than three fourths ready, being put down at 76 per cent. The Iowa, launched the other day, is more than half done, 56 per cent, and probably the Cramps will push her forward, especially if they secure a contract under the bidding for this season's battle ships. The three Baltimore torpedo boats are each 29 per cent advanced. The Holland submarine boat is one-fifth done, and there is thus some reason for the proposal pending in Congress to authorize duplicates of her, conditioned on her performance in a way satisfactory to the Navy Department.

These are the ships sufficiently advanced to be taken into consideration as possibilities under an early call for their use. Little of consequence has been done on the Kearsarge and Kentucky, and little also it would appear, even on the six composite gunboats and on the three latest torpedo boats, although four per cent progress is reported on the one building by the Moran Brothers, at Seattle, while their enthusiasm on the subject is suggested by the report that they have already applied for a competitive test with the two building by the Herreshoffs, at Bristol, which is certainly taking time by the forelock.

It is thought, if the Bethlehem and Carnegie companies agree, the armor plates for the Kentucky and the Kearsarge may be a little larger than those hitherto applied to our battle ships, this being considered an advantage, with other things equal. The armor will amount to about 2,800 tons for each vessel. Of this amount 863 tons will be applied to the water-line belt, tapering from the center to the bow, while it also extends aft to where the protective deck begins. For the big 13-inch guns the total requirement for barbette and turret is 543½ tons, while 8-inch turret on top adds 81 tons, making a total of 624½ tons. The turret plates will be 17 inches thick at the maximum. But in addition these ships carry each fourteen 5-inch rapid-fire guns in a superstructure. Here there must be added 250 tons of armor for the latter, which is six inches thick, and, finally, 329 tons for casemate armor, five inches thick, 76 tons for the conning tower, and 36 tons for bulkhead plates.

It is thought that the new battle ships, to be authorized at this session, will have about the same displacement, the same batteries, and the same armor as the Kearsarge, and will cost about as much. But undoubtedly the conclusions of the Walker Board as to the two-story turrets and other matters will be awaited before a final settlement upon the plans. Indeed, the final action of Congress has yet to be secured.

"We take pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy because it is praised by all who try it," says J. W. Cox & Son, druggists, Marshfield, Oregon. No one afflicted with a throat or lung trouble can use this remedy without praising it. It always gives prompt relief. It is especially valuable for colds as it relieves the lungs, makes breathing easier and aids expectoration. A cold will never result in pneumonia when this remedy is taken and reasonable care exercised. For sale by Derge. apl

The emigrant authorities at New York are appalled at the great influx of Italian paupers. More than 15,000 have arrived, and the authorities have advices that 15,000 more are about to sail from Naples. This begins if Italians is attributable to their desire to escape being drafted into the army for service in Abyssinia. The steamer Bolivia which arrived in New York on Sunday from Genoa and Naples brought 1,376 Italian immigrants. Six hundred of them were detained at Ellis Island on the ground that they are likely to become public charges. Of this number none had more than a dollar or so, while many of them were practically penniless. Only about 10 per cent of those detained will be allowed to land. The steamer Alesia of the Fabre line, also from Naples, reached the bar at 10 o'clock Sunday night with 1,064 more on board. All the paupers will be shipped back.

HORTICULTURAL MATTERS.

MR. HUNTINGTON FAVORS US WITH HIS VIEWS UPON THIS ABSORBING SUBJECT—SEVENTY-FIVE THOUSAND TREES INSPECTED SINCE THE FIRST OF THE YEAR.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—I wish through the medium of your paper, to state a few facts to the citizens and horticulturists of this, the Anaheim district. I learn that the Board of Supervisors contemplate a change in Ordinances 17 and 18. What those changes will be I know not, but allow me to say that any change that would affect the protective portion of said ordinances should be strenuously opposed by the horticulturists of this county, and especially of this district, which at this time is doing all or nearly all of the importation. It is a deplorable fact that the ordinances of this county do not support the inspector in his labor. I have inspected, Mr. Editor, in round numbers 75,000 trees and plants since Jan. 1st, 1896, and the county of Orange has not paid me one cent for my services. What I have received has been paid me by the consignees. Some have paid me and some have not. Some positively refuse to pay. Now how can a man do this work without pay?

The ordinances of Orange county are mandatory. They command me to do this work. I have asked the Board of Supervisors to be responsible to me for my fees, which probably is the cause of the proposed change. I do not wish to find fault with the Board of Supervisors. They have the law for their guide; so have I; but in my interviews with them they have expressed themselves in a way that caused me to believe that they did not think it necessary that imports should be inspected, especially where said imports were accompanied with a certificate, the law to the contrary. All the same I know from experience that it is necessary. I have quarantined and destroyed a great many trees that came here under certificates.

The best thing the Board of Supervisors could do would be to repeal Ordinance 18 and pay the inspectors for their services and let Ordinance 17 stand as a protection to the horticulturists of Orange county. All the other counties of the State do so, why not this?

The horticulturists of this county pay more money into the treasury in the way of taxes than any other class of citizens. Still they receive little if any protection.

It may seem strange to some that I am alone in this fight, but the fact is that the other districts in the county are importing comparatively nothing—but one small consignment in each of the other districts having been reported; while I have had ten consignments from foreign countries, two from Florida, and 25,000 trees and plants from beyond the Missouri river, besides trees and plants from all over the State of California. This is a serious matter to me. If I do this work, which the law says I shall, I must be paid by some one, or I shall be compelled to throw up the sponge. I am your obedient servant, L. Z. HUNTINGTON,
Horticultural Commissioner.

ADVANCE IN SUGAR.

Sugar has scored its regular weekly advance of 1/8, and the market is strong with prospects of further advances. Imports are very much below the average. The official imports of beet and cane sugars during the seven months past, as compared with 1895, are:

	1896.	1895.
Cane	1,558,703,737	1,317,445,525

The imports of cane and beet sugars during January last and corresponding period in 1895 compare as follows:

	1896.	1895.
Beets, lbs	37,377,666	92,367,162
Cane	219,507,279	94,307,781

Since January 1st the receipts of all kinds of sugar have been 322,809 tons, which, added to 149,298 tons stock in all hands on January 1st, makes a total supply of 472,107 tons since the opening of the year. From January 1st to March 8th, 1895, the receipts were 262,385 tons; stock on January 1st, 165,469 tons; total supply, 427,854 tons.

On the 18th ult. it was estimated the total stocks of sugar in all hands was 137,107 tons, compared with 137,354 tons at the corresponding date in 1895.

The world's stock of sugar (principal countries) is estimated at 2,488,901 tons, an increase of 15,391 tons compared with the supply at corresponding period of 1895. But in 1895 the excess or surplus was very large, being fully 635,000 tons over the stock held a year earlier.

Cuba's total sugar crop this year will amount to only 10 per cent of her nominal product, using the figures of the crop of 1895 as a basis of comparison. Figures which have been submitted to the Department of State at Washington show the status of the sugar crop to April 6th. This year's product to the date named is 77,250 tons. Last year's product to the same date was 566,000 tons. These figures are the result of the reports of clearances for the United States received from consular officers of the United States throughout Cuba, together with actual stock in warehouses. Most of the plantations which have been able to grind are now done grinding. Twenty-two, all of them in the eastern provinces, are still grinding by permission of the insurgent leaders, to whom the owners are paying taxes.

The total output for the crop, including the estimated product of plantations which are still grinding, will probably fall below 100,000 tons, as against more than 1,000,000 tons last year. This startling discrepancy in Cuba will be offset to a great extent by the unusually large acreage in the West Indian islands, in the islands of the Pacific and the extensive beet-root plantations in Germany and France.

The crop in Cuba as it stands represents enormous sacrifices, taxes having been paid both to the Government and the rebels, in many cases, besides large sums expended for the maintenance of armed guards to protect plantations.

Memorial Day.
The old veterans will soon take up their march once more to the cemetery to deck with fairest flowers the graves of the noble dead. Business will be suspended and the entire country will go with them to assist in the ceremonies. Don't let it be noticed that you have still neglected to procure a suitable monument to mark the resting place of your loved ones, but go at once and give your order to the Orange County Marble Works, where you will find H. L. Talbott, the marble cutter, who will give you prices on all kinds of cemetery work. mar12-1m

DEPEW ON CALIFORNIA.

NEW YORK, April 13.—Chauncey M. Depew returned last night from a twenty-two days' trip under the sunny skies of California and the Southwest. Neither Mr. Depew nor Cornelius Vanderbilt, who accompanied him, was kidnapped or robbed, except perhaps in the regular way of business, by the porters of their two special cars, and Mr. Depew's face beamed with contentment.

"I have never had any fear of being kidnapped or being robbed," said Mr. Depew. "My trip was a most enjoyable and profitable one in every way. We in the East do not know California or appreciate the wonderful future that is before it. There is a State with a population of a million and a half that is as great in area as France with its 35,000,000 people. The people are the most prosperous and hospitable in the world. I am not speaking of the cities, but all through California you see no poverty. Ten acres will support a family and yield an annual income of $3,000. Twenty acres will yield $6,000, I was told. Fruit farming is the way the land is utilized to achieve such results.

"They are all for McKinley in California and protection is their battle cry. I dropped in a little Morton seed here and there as I journeyed, but I do not know whether it will take root or not.

"I visited Monterey, and I call it the most beautiful place in the world. Monte Carlo cannot compare with it. Its seventeen mile drive is unparalleled for fineness. The Stanford stock farm is wonderfully interesting, and it was the only big stock farm we visited. When the Stanford property is realized on, that college will have the richest endowment in the world—about $20,000,000, I understand.

"California was the only interesting feature of our trip.

"Everywhere we were received with the greatest courtesy. A railroad man looks at the productiveness of the country and compares that with its facilities for transportation. We spent from five to eight hours a day in that sort of investigation. Generally we were met by the Board of Trade or a committee of business men of the places we visited, who did everything in our power to enlighten us. All told we traveled 8500 miles and were in twenty-five States. We lived almost entirely in our cars."

ROMANCE OF A FRENCH SOLDIER.

DESERTED TWICE FOR LOVE OF A WOMAN, AND TWICE REPENTED AND SURRENDERED.

The story of a French soldier named Massiault, recently acquitted by the court martial of Montpellier, reads like a romance. Young Massiault enlisted in 1882 in the Ninety-first Regiment of infantry at Mezieres. He proved an excellent soldier, and was promoted successively to the grades of corporal, sergeant, sergeant general and adjutant. In 1888 he was a pupil in the Administration school, and was on the point of being again promoted when he made the acquaintance of a young woman, with whom he fell desperately in love. To the astonishment of all, he deserted and ran away with her to Belgium. A few months later he returned to Mezieres and gave himself up. He was tried by court martial, sentenced to four years' hard labor, and to be reduced to the ranks on the expiration of his term of punishment. Under the amnesty law of 1889 he was released and was incorporated in the 100th Regiment, garrisoned at Narbonne. The military authorities doubtless imagined that by sending him to the other end of France they would place him out of the reach of the influence of the beauty that had bewitched him.

But in this they were mistaken. She found out where he was, and soon she arrived at Narbonne. Once more he deserted and went with her, this time to Spain. This second desertion was aggravated by the fact that he carried off his uniform and arms.

Not daring to return to France, he led a miserable life in Spain for eighteen months, but at last he could not stand it any longer, so he returned to Marseilles, where he entered the service of Foreign Legion for five years under the false name of Stoock. He was sent off to Tonquin, where at once he proved himself to be a good soldier, and rapidly regained the galons of corporal, sergeant and sergeant-major.

But the recollection of his desertion weighed upon his mind, and his false name troubled him. Moreover, for seven years he had not seen his parents. He became homesick, and longed to visit his native place in the Ardennes. His term of service being about to expire, he went to the Colonel and told him who he was. He was sent back to Narbonne, and thence to Montpellier, where once more he appeared before the court martial. He was tried and acquitted on account of his good record, and the soldiers and spectators who were present at the trial cheered him. But he had to be again reduced to the ranks because Sergeant-Major Stoock no longer existed in the French army. At the present time his friends and admirers are making energetic efforts with a view of getting him restored to his former rank.

A. P. A. AND M'KINLEY.

PRESIDENT HUDELSON OF THE ORDER SAYS THE REPORTS THAT THE ASSOCIATION IS FIGHTING HIM IS UNTRUE.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—A great deal has been said lately by representatives of the A. P. A. to indicate that the organization has definitely announced its opposition to the nomination of ex-Governor McKinley by the national Republican convention. B. F. Hudelson, state president of the organization, says the statement is absolutely untrue. The advisory board will meet in Washington May 12th, he says, and until then the attitude of the A. P. A. relative to McKinley or any other candidate will not be known.

"The American Protective Association," said Mr. Hudelson, "has declared its purpose to take part in the deliberations of all the national conventions and will have a large representation in each body. Our representatives will demand from each convention the insertion of three planks in the platform. We will demand a strong position on the immigration question, another insisting on a general non-sectarian school system and a third declaration that no money shall be given nor appropriation be made for any sect, church or sectarian institution. Besides we shall insist upon the nomination of a candidate who is thoroughly American. If the association should be ignored it will undoubtedly place a ticket of its own in the field."

"After You, Gentlemen."
The French at Fontenoy, sheltered by the ridge, could scarcely believe their eyes at the sight of the English gunners slowing wound their pieces to cover them. When they at length realized that it was one of the enemy's and not one of their own batteries, the officers of the Gardes Francais rushed to the head of their men, shouting to them to deploy and charge the cannon. Almost at the same moment the grenadiers cleared the hilltop, and began to descend upon him. It was then that there occurred that wonderful meeting which has charmed so many generations of readers.

Every one knows the description of the scene for which Voltaire was indebted to D'Argenson. How the French officers, in their blue and silver coats and their long scarlet vests and stockings, waited the approach of the grenadiers, hat in hand. How the redcoats doffed their marvelous shield fronted caps, while Lord Charles Hay bowed to the opposing line, with the words, "Gentlemen of the French guard, please to fire first!" to which the Comte d'Anterocho replied: "Gentlemen, we never fire first. Fire yourselves!" Such was a battle of the grand age as pictured by the aristocrat who saw the universe reflected in the mirrors of the Oeil de Boeuf, but in the Lothian papers there is a yellow letter, written by Hay, in hospitalt after action, which gives a fuller, and it is to be feared, more natural version of the story.—Temple Bar.

SNAP SHOTS AT THE NEWS.

The British ship Blairmore while riding at anchor in San Francisco bay on Thursday morning last toppled over and sank in seven fathoms of water, and six of her crew were drowned.

The contract for the sale of the Chino ranch to an English syndicate has been filed for record in the San Bernardino Recorder's office. The purchase price is $1,600,000. The sale includes 42,000 acres.

The Supervisors of Solano county have instituted a test case on the constitutionality of the four-year tenure of office for county officials. They intructed the County Clerk to order supplies from the Secretary of State for the full set of county officers to be voted for at the Fall election, and an injunction was immediately issued, and the case will be taken through the courts.

Maggie Geyer, the pretty organist in the Mason, O., Methodist church, who eloped with Rev. John Shorten, the pastor, last August, reached home Thursday afternoon from Philadelphia, with a babe in her arms. Her humble parents welcomed her home. Her boy baby was born on the 12th of last December. Shorten's salary as a canvasser failed to support both, and his employer threatened to discharge him if he continued to live with her. He was kind to her, and they eloped to escape the shame of exposure.

Lyon post, G. A. R., of Oakland has been suspended for ninety days for violation of grand army regulations in the publication of charges made by the post a few weeks ago against the management of the Soldiers' Home at Yountville. Post members claim that newspaper publication was made from a stolen copy of the report and that sending copies of charges to the governor, attorney-general and members of congress was merely a technical violation of the regulations, which offense has been committed without censure for years by other posts. They claim the suspension will disrupt the post.

Four Addison, Mich., married men fixed up a story about being called to Moscow on business. One of the men's wives happened to know there was a masquerade ball that night at Moscow, and she didn't do a thing but hire a livery rig and have the bill charged to her husband. Then she drove around and told the other three deluded women what she suspected. They got into other garments at once, drove to the ill-fated town, purchased masks, and went to the ball themselves. When the unmasking time came next morning each one had her own true and loving husband by the arm. Then the husbands begged off, promising never to go to Moscow again, and no divorces will follow if they keep their promises.

Prof. D. F. Browning, a teacher of guitar music, well-known here, committed suicide at Needles at 2:30 Monday morning, with a razor. The deceased was about 30 years of age, and has been teaching music at Needles for about two years. He was a heavy drinker, and when a physicion was called Sunday night he was found to be delirious, and an attendant was left in charge of him for the night. At the hour of 2 Monday morning he suddenly rose and despite the efforts of the attendant, who tried to hold him until help could be obtained, he jumped upon his violin and guitar and smashed them, exclaiming that they should ruin no one else. He then destroyed the sheet music and pictures and then cut his throat about five times with a razor he had secreted about his person. He has relatives who are wealthy in Ogden.

Miss Gertrude Hopkins, one of the official stenographers in the Common Pleas Court of Cleveland, Ohio, who has a surplus of personal beauty, will shortly have a typewriter for sale cheap, unless she wants to keep it as a memento of "former days." Miss Hopkins has discovered that she is an heiress to $7,000,000.

Her mother, formerly a Miss Barker, was born in New York in 1836. Miss Josephine Barker was the daughter of James Barker, who was born in England. The latter was a fourth son, and as the English law at the time gave all the property to the eldest son, he came to America. Later the eldest son, who inherited the property, becoming dissolute, sold his life interests.

A change in the English laws turned the attention of the American Barkers to the property, and they began suit to recover the life interests. Solicitors have been retained to look after Miss Hopkins' interests. It is stated that there are very good prospects of her winning the case. There are not many claimants, and if the suit is won, Miss Hopkins will be wealthy.

Captain McNally has purchased 3,000 acres of land adjoining the ranch of R. J. Northam at La Mirada, and the tract has been subdivided and set out to lemons, olives and other semi-tropical fruits, the improvements being on a lavish scale. It is intended to establish there a colony totally different from any that has been located in Southern California heretofore, one of the restrictive clauses of all agreements for the sale of the lots being that each purchaser shall expend at least $250,000 in improving his property, and shall live there at least a part of each year. These terms insure a wealthy class of residents, and it is said that already sixty purchasers have been secured, to whom the restrictions only made investment more desirable. They come from Chicago, and each is said to be a millionaire. A clubhouse is being erected, and all its appointments will be in keeping with the wealth of the colony, and the luxurious tastes of its individual members. An olive mill is said to be the finest in the world, is also in course of construction. Ample pleasure grounds have been provided, the wide avenues with which the tract is traversed being relieved at intervals with parks. An artificial lake and vast swimming pools will be provided, and measures taken for the systematic care of all the property held in common.

Newport society will entertain two duchesses the coming summer. Besides the Duchess of Marlborough, the Duchess of Manchester will, it is said, spend the season there. The latter's expected visit has already stirred up the gossips, and rumors are rife concerning its objects and outlook. Two things are generally agreed upon, that in returning to her native country, the American duchess does so to find an American wife for her son, the young Duke of Manchester, and probably to secure an American husband for herself. Newport will fairly swarm with heiresses this season, girls of high position, beauty, culture and wealth, with fortunes ranging from hundreds of thousands to millions. Heading the list comes Miss Gertrude Vanderbilt, eldest daughter of Cornelius Vanderbilt, whose fortune will not be less than $15,000,000, and probably reach nearer $20,000,000. Her father has always been credited with preferring an American son-in-law to one with a title, but then the young Duke of Manchester is half American, through his mother, and in every way such an excellent match, it is possible Mr. Vanderbilt might be willing to entertain an alliance between him and Miss Vanderbilt. Such a wedding would be quite as brilliant as his niece's to the Duke of Marlborough. Miss Virginia Fair's fortune will not fall far short of about $15,000,000, inherited from her father, the late Senator Fair of California. She is an exceedingly pretty girl and might win a duke any day without her colossal wealth. The Duchess of Manchester, it will be thus seen, will be surrounded by an almost embarrassing amount of wealth and beauty, and if the young duke returns to England without a bride it will not be because of a scarcity of girls from whom to select. His mother's choice will be more limited. In fact, it will be narrowed down to one person, if society's rumors and hopes count for anything. This one person is said to be William K. Vanderbilt, who has known her for years, and is supposed to be one of her greatest admirers. According to the stories, it was his friendship for the duchess which caused the first trouble between him and his former wife, now Mrs. Belmont. Whether this is so or not, the two women were once devotedly attached to each other, but are no longer so.

Bob Fitzsimmons was hissed off the stage by the "gallery gods" at Pittsburgh some nights ago. The rendering of the song, "The Best Man of Them All," in which Fitzsimmons was named as the person, was greeted with hisses and groans, intermingled with cheers. Fitzsimmons' act, the last on the program, opened with an exhibition of bag-punching. As he came from behind the scenes there arose a chorus of groans from the gallery. The champion gave the bag several taps, then lost his patience, strode to the front of the stage and yelled: "If youse fellows don't quit I'll pull down the curtain—see!" They did not quit, and after the lanky Australian had punched the bag a few more times he pulled off his mits and left the stage.

Dr. Blue, government examiner of immigrants at San Francisco, whose duty it is not alone to inquire into the physical condition of those who desire to land, but to see that they are possessed of the necessary $30 which raises them above the level of paupers, had before him last Thursday an exceptional case. The man was shabbily dressed and had come from Australia on board the steamer Mariposa as a steerage passenger. He was asked his name and occupation, and replied, "George M. Smith, gentleman." The doctor, not deeming "gentleman" a sufficiently explicit answer to the question of the immigrant's occupation, asked him what he did to earn a living. The reply was "Nothing." Somewhat amused at the calm assurance of the man, Dr. Blue asked him how much he was worth. Smith's answer was, "$50,000," and then before the doctor had time to doubt the assertion, the steerage passenger produced from his pocket letters of credit, Bank of England notes and bills, which substantiated the statement of his wealth. He was allowed to land.

At Millican, Texas, a few minutes after 2 o'clock Thursday morning, John Brooks shot and killed his daughter, Mollie Brooks, fatally wounded her sweetheart, A. C. Worrels, and then committed suicide. Worrels and Miss Brooks were lovers and had made up their minds to marry in opposition to the wishes of the young woman's father. When the northbound Central Texas train, due at 2:02 a. m., stopped at the station, the young people were ready to get on board and run away. Worrels helped Miss Brooks upon the steps of the platform, and just as she got up, her father, who stepped from the other side of the car fired upon her, shooting her through the right breast, the bullet passing through her body. She fell backward in the arms of her lover, with the words: "Oh, mother, father has killed me," and immediately expired. As Worrels bent down to lay her on the platform Brooks fired upon him from under the car, the ball passing through his neck and making a fatal wound. After the shooting Brooks went to the powder-house of a rock quarry near by, secured a box of dynamite, and, going away about 100 yards, sat down upon it and applied a match. A terrific explosion followed, which tore him to pieces.

When Congressman Linton of Michigan resolved not to accept the challenge of Captain Thomas Phelan of Kansas City to fight a duel the matter was taken up by Cyrus E. Page of Butte, Mont., an old-timer, 58 years old. The correspondence between the two was made public by Phelan, because they could not agree on conditions. Page claimed to represent Linton, and was therefore the challenged party. He proposed Butte as the fighting ground and selected rifles as weapons at seventy-five yards. Phelan accepted the defy, but insisted that he was challenged and claimed the right to name the place and weapons. In his letter he said: "I will not fight you at seventy-five yards, but as the challenged party, I will meet you at ten paces with rifles, to wheel and fire. Submit my acceptance to your friend and arrangements will be readily made to meet you. I am sorry that you should fall in the place of W. S. Linton. Your enthusiasm makes you an unnecessary sacrifice, but you elect to perish, and believing in the cause I champion, I am willing to gratify you. Let your reply be immediate." Page says he is ready to stand by his acceptance of Phelan's challenge, but expresses the belief that the Irish captain is a "coward, blowhard and windbag."

A suit came up in the Superior Court at Bakersfield some days ago that is expected to involve the old dispute between Haggin and Tevis on one side and Miller & Lux on the other over the waters of Kern river, which was supposed to have been settled by the famous contract between those parties made years ago. The case is that of the Farmers' Canal Company and other corporations vs. Simons et al. The principal parties in interest are the leading irrigation canal companies, of which Haggin and Tevis are the principal owners, on one side, and Miller & Lux on the other, though other parties are joined.

The suit arises over disputed claims to the waters of the South Fork canal, or Panama slough, which the defendants claim is the oldest diversion of the river. They claim that the South Fork is a natural branch of Kern river, through which the water has always natually flowed.

The plaintiffs claim, on the other hand, that there is not and has not been any natural flow, and that the only water in the South Fork for the past twenty years has been diverted into it by artificial means. An interesting fact is that the slough in question runs through the center of Bakersfield and is a sink hole, filled at times with stagnant water and decaying accumulations, and has been repeatedly condemned and ordered filled in by the Board of Health and Grand Jury as a menace to health.

The A. P. A. has declared war on McKinley, and through the chairman of the National Advisory Board, Judge H. D. Stevens, who has established headquarters at St. Louis, declares that nothing will be left undone to unmake the man from Ohio. This was brought out by the launching of a boom for the Presidency of Congressman William S. Linton of Michigan, who has been the mouthpiece and champion of the organization in the House of Representatives. It came about by a snub administered to the National Board while it was in session at Washington last week. The board sent a letter to the managers of McKinley, Reed, Morton and Allison, inviting them to appear and state their attitude toward the organization, as it intended to take a hand in the National fight. All of the managers but Hanna obeyed the summons and had long conferences with the members of the board. Hanna came not. A second letter was sent him and it brought a reply that McKinley would recognize no faction in the Republican party and would make no pledges nor promises to any secret organization. This settled his chances with the organization. It was decided at once to fight the Ohio candidate and a resolution to that effect was passed. Then the managers of the other candidates were notified of this action and that at the proper time the organization would act. It became necessary to carry on the fight to secure a candidate to throw the A. P. A. votes to. Ostensibly Linton was selected as the man. He was willing to take the place. When Chairman Stevens arrived in St. Louis Monday he set up National headquarters and at once launched Linton's boom, and hundreds of Linton buttons are already being worn. In an interview he announces that the organization will defeat McKinley for the nomination, and if nominated it would fight him at the polls. He says of the 400 delegates already chosen to the National convention there are ninety members of the A. P. A., and that the organization will secure sixty more, and with the 150 votes they will be able to defeat McKinley and nominate a man to their own liking.

PROGRESS IS THE WATCH-WORD.

At the meeting of the City Trustees Tuesday evening, all the members being present, they again demonstrated, by unanimous vote, that the City of Anaheim shall be the town of Orange county if they can make it so. This was done by instructing the City Attorney to draw up the necessary ordinance declaring the existence of the necessity for enlarging and improving all the city property, including the expansion of the electric light plant, the sinking of a large caison around the wells at the water works (from which the pumps will draw the water, thus avoiding the continual pumping of sand), the erection of a large steel tank to increase the storage capacity, and last, the laying of new water mains throughout the streets where necessary.

The existence of the necessity for these different improvements is well known to all of our residents, and the City Trustees will extend our people the opportunity of voting for the indebtedness necessary to their institution when the time comes. The electric light plant should be enlarged so that the town can extend the pole lines and give more lights on the streets, as well as to stores and residences, which the city is now unable to do. That the people desire and are entitled to a better water supply and storage capacity is also well known. We had last year to refuse to sprinkle along several streets in the center of town, on account of the scarcity of water; and as for the new water mains, it is only necessary to say that the old mains were laid in 1880-81. The city needs new mains, and what is worth doing is worth doing well. The new mains will be of ample strength and scope so that in case of fire the pumps may be connected with them direct, thus giving a force at least five times greater than we now have.

Let us bear in mind the fact that these different improvements are necessary. They will be self-supporting from their very inception. The city must be abreast of the times, and to accomplish this every citizen should put his shoulder to the wheel of progress and help it along.

The adoption of the necessary ordinances preliminary to the final voting upon the bonds will require not less than four months, and the election will probably not take place until August or September, but it is well to educate the people up to the standard required in order to pass competent judgment upon the matters at issue. The bonds should be voted for, for many reasons. In the first place, we have outgrown the capacity of the electric light and water works. That is an unerring indication of the growth of the municipality. No one could have foreseen a year ago that the electric light works at that time installed would be found to be totally inadequate to the demand before the lapse of a twelvemonth; but such has proven to be the case. The history of our municipal lighting was never paralleled in the State. Starting with sixty odd lights, a year ago, the service leaped at once into such popularity that at present close upon 575 lights are burning; and, of course, if they should all be turned on at once their brilliancy would indubitably be somewhat dimmed. But notwithstanding the works are running up to the full extent of their registered capacity, there are such constant calls for more light that the engineer at the power house reports he could install 250 lights in a fortnight, did the increased capacity exist. Here we find ourselves in quite a quandary. What are we going to do? Shall we refuse these people point blank to install lights into their residences — refuse to put up more arc lamps upon the streets? If so, we might as well shut down the works altogether, go out of business, and turn the works over to a private corporation to run them as the people demand. But we are not going to give a negative answer to these requests for more light. We would that they should have lights in their houses —that more arcs should be placed upon the streets. We ask them to join hands with the friends of progress and impress the voters with the necessity for voting this indebtedness.

It will require $15,000 to provide a thousand extra lights, and make the necessary improvements to the water works. The expenditure of this money here will make Anaheim a lively town this winter, and we will emphasize the fact, as we have the name already, of being the most progressive town in Southern California. Let us begin this morning this campaign of municipal education. Let us issue these bonds, pay them back in forty years, and make these improvements, and go ahead, in response to the demands of the times, on the march to industrial prosperity.

The telegraph informs us from Washington that an authoritative statement was made a day or two ago that an important diplomatic communication had been forwarded by President Cleveland to Spain concerning the Cuban trouble, as appears in the item on the fourth page this morning. It was in effect that Secretary Olney had sent to Minister Taylor at Madrid cable instructions to offer to the Spanish government the good offices of the United States to bring to an end the struggle now in progress in Cuba. A denial was authorized by an official of the administration and it was sent out by the press associations, but it is learned from a source beyond question that certain representations have been made by the President to Spain, but not through Minister Taylor. A communication, couched in the most careful and conservative manner, was forwarded to the Spanish government through Minister de Lome, the representative of Spain in Washington. It was deemed desirable that the fact that such representations had been made should be kept quiet on both sides of the Atlantic, hence the denial. The communication, while it is of an ultra-pacific character, and contains nothing that Spain can justly take offense to, contains one clause that is significant. It is a request for a reply as early as possible, and the request is put in such terms as to suggest an unpleasant alternative, if it should not be complied with. The fact that the President has offered the good offices of his country in a settlement of the Cuban war causes much surprise in Washington. It had been believed that he would take no action in the Cuban matter, and the decided representations made in the communication will arouse new interest in the Cuban question, apart from the struggle of the patriots. Spain's cause in Cuba is lost, and the patriot insurgents overrun the island and threaten the existence of the despotic government at the gates of Havana.

An unerring indication of the growth of this section is furnished in the number of trees imported into this horticultural district, Mr. Huntington informing us that the number inspected by him since the first of the year has been no less than 75,000. This exceeds by many times over the tree importations of the two other horticultural districts of the county combined. Of this number, one-third, or 25,000 trees, composed principally of apple and pear, were imported from beyond the Missouri river. Three thousand grape fruit trees were imported from Florida, and a large number of ornamental trees came from Japan. The country is settling up rapidly, and we are setting out more trees than ever. While we are one of the oldest settled sections, yet there is more new land being broken up and set to trees around us than in probably any section of Southern California.

ALAMITOS NOTES.

About a week ago the desert wind swept desolation from east to west, and on Friday last, on the principle of returning evil for evil, a fifty-mile an hour blowometer, situated God knows where, away towards the northwest, sent all the sand back again, and slanted corn, potatoes and beets in the opposite direction. Between the two winds the stand taken by THE GAZETTE last year, urging the farmers to stand up for $4 a ton for beets, now at least appeals to the beet growers' common sense, if not to their common pocket, for what with planting the seed twice over, and harrowing until the teeth of the harrow are thread bare with wear and tear, I wish them luck of all they will deposit from the crop in the Citizens' Bank. The outcome may be brighter than I predict, but on the evening of the 10th things look black enough.

Mr. J. M. Gilbert, the popular postmaster of Clair, is in the act of redeeming his promises to the people of the district. He began work on the new postoffice on Monday. It won't be a shanty either, but an imposing building 30 feet by 15, rustic and hard finished throughout. It is situated on the section road, half way between the public schools of Magnolia and Alamitos, and just opposite Dr. Barter's nursery.

The good people of Clair and Magnolia have made a contract with Jim Thompson to haul all the milk of the district to the creamery of Rusb and son, situated half way between Clair and Anaheim. The price paid for hauling the milk is 10 cents per hundred pounds. Jim thinks the pay is very small for lifting the heavy cans up to his high wagon, but as he is an unmarried young man, and with moderate aspirations, he should not despise the "day of small things."

It is more than probable that the general postoffice will establish a regular tri-weekly mail route between Anaheim and Clair postoffice. Even if it shouldn't, the new postoffice is here to stay, and it will be an everlasting monument to Mr. Gilbert's energy and public spirit.

It is with much regret that I have to record the death of Mr. W. Goldie's baby. The little fellow in the midst of his popularity was suddenly cut off on Monday night. Sympathy with Mr. and Mrs. Goldie is deep and general.

Dr. Coffin will be in his dental office in the Metz block on Monday and Tuesday of each week. apl9 1m Passion of Washington's Life.

Writing of Washington's great passion, Sally Cary, in The Ladies' Home Journal, Mrs. Burton Harrison says: "Apparently so riddled by the shafts of the little god of love had been the heart of Washington, the boy, that it is hard to know how, after his sighs for the 'Lowland Beauty' (Sally Cary), and his repeated addresses to Miss Betsey Fauntelroy, and his later sensibility to the charms of 'the very agreeable young lady,' afterward Mrs. Ambler, the passion for a woman who never might be his could have dominated him as it did for so many years. But from the evidence of his own letters the love he had felt for the others was as water unto wine beside the hopeless attachment for his beautiful neighbor, Sally Cary, that during this period threatened to assume 'sovereign controul' of his ardent nature. Fortunately, thanks to time, to the lady's subsequent absence in England with her husband, and, above all, because it was made subject to his own indomitable will, the feeling was subdued, and his marriage with Mrs. Custis ended the episode happily.

"The proofs are the enduring intimacy and confidence that existed between Washington, his wife and every member of the Belvoir family during their respective lives. They may be read by any student of the writings of Washington and will carry conviction in each line."

Time to Change.

Miss Helen Gladstone, in an article on the admission of women to the Cambridge degrees, calls attention to the fact that no fewer than six Cambridge colleges were founded by women for men—Clare, by Elizabeth de Burgh, countess of Clare; Pembroke, by Marie de St. Paul, countess of Pembroke; Queen's, by Queen Margaret of Anjou; Christ's and St. John's, by Lady Margaret, countess of Richmond, who also founded a divinity professorship, and Sidney Sussex, by Lady Frances Sidney, countess of Sussex.

Fear is implanted in us as a preservative from evil, but its duty, like that of other passions, is not to overbear reason, but to assist it.—Johnson.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate Under Execution.

In the Superior Court of the County of Los Angeles, State of California.

J. M. Griffith Company (a corporation), plaintiff, vs. Charles Schindler and H. S. Kroeger, defendants.

Under and by virtue of an execution issued out of the Superior Court of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, wherein J. M. Griffith Company (a corporation), plaintiff, and Charles Schindler and H. S. Kroeger, defendants, upon a judgment rendered the 12th day of May, A. D. 1894, for the sum of thirteen hundred sixty-nine and 50-100 dollars, gold coin, besides costs and interest. And that the sum of $1,-258.30, with interest from the 12th day of May, 1894, is now (at the date of this writ) actually due on said judgment, I have this day levied upon all the right, title, claim and interest of said defendants (or either of them), of, in and to the following described real estate, to wit: Lots Fifteen, Sixteen and Thirty-One, in Vineyard Lot E 5, in the City of Anaheim, County of Orange, State of California, according to a map of the Langenberger Tract, which said map is recorded in Book 1, page 551, of Miscellaneous Records, of the County of Los Angeles, State of California.

Notice is hereby given, that on Saturday, the 9th day of May, A. D. 1896, at 2 o'clock p. m. of said day, I will proceed to sell in front of the Court-house door, No. 304 East Fourth Street, in the city of Santa Ana, County of Orange, State of California, at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, in gold coin of the United States, all the right, title, claim and interest of said defendants (or either of them) of, in and to the above described property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to raise sufficient to satisfy said judgment with interest and costs.

Given under my hand this 13th day of April, A. D. 1896. J. C. NICHOLS, Sheriff.

SALE UNDER FORECLOSURE OF MORTGAGE.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT

Of the County of Orange, State of California.

S. S. Federman, Plaintiff, vs. Henry Kroeger and Sophie Kroeger (his wife), William Kroeger and J. M. Griffith Company, a corporation, defendants.

Under and by virtue of a decree of foreclosure and order of sale duly made and entered in the Superior Court of the County of Orange, State of California, on the 27th day of March, A. D. 1896, and a Writ of Execution for the enforcement of Judgment requiring sale of property under foreclosure of mortgage, issued out of the said Superior Court, on the 27th day of March, A. D. 1896, in the above entitled action, in favor of S. S. Federman, plaintiff, and against Henry Kroeger, Sophie Kroeger (his wife), William Kroeger and J. M. Griffith Company, a corporation, defendants, for the sum of seven hundred fifty-nine and 70-100 ($759 70-100) dollars, gold coin of the United States, besides accruing costs and interest, a copy of which said decree of foreclosure, duly attested under the seal of the said Superior Court, on the 27th day of March, A. D. 1896, and to me delivered on the same day, together with the said writ annexed thereto, whereby I am commanded to sell at public auction for cash, gold coin of the United States, the following and said decree described real estate, lying and being in the City of Anaheim, County of Orange, State of California, and bounded and particularly described as follows, to wit:

An undivided one-fourth interest in and to that certain lot, piece or parcel of land, commencing at the southeast corner of Original Town Lot No. Thirty (30); thence along Center street in a westerly direction eighty feet; thence at right angles with Center street in a northerly direction, one hundred and fifty feet, to the north boundary line of said Lot No. 30; thence in an easterly direction parallel with Center street eighty feet to the northeast corner of said Lot No. 30; thence at right angles in a southerly direction eleven rods to the place of beginning. Subject to a first mortgage upon said one-fourth interest heretofore given by said mortgagors to Richard Melrose.

Public notice is hereby given that on Saturday, the 25th day of April, A. D. 1896, at 2 o'clock P. M. of said day, I will proceed to sell at the Courthouse door, No. 304 East Fourth street, in the City of Santa Ana, at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, in gold coin of the United States, all the above described real estate, or so much thereof as will be sufficient to satisfy said decree for principal, interest and all costs.

HAPPENINGS OF THE WEEK

An Election to Be Called For Municipal Bonds.

The City Trustees at Tuesday Evening's Meeting Instruct the City Attorney to Draft the Preliminary Ordinances With that End in View—Fifteen Thousand Dollars Will be Required—Mr. Rogers and Mr. Des Granges Running Neck and Neck for City Surveyor—Municipal Election — Postoffice Removal — Billy Hale's Boarder Skips to Covina —Local Brevities — Minor Mention.

When the City Trustees at their meeting on Tuesday evening instructed the City Attorney to draw up the necessary ordinances preliminary to the calling of an election for the purpose of voting bonds for municipal improvements, they set about in the laudable endeavor to accomplish the necessary increase in the electric light service and the extension of the water mains, that it will take them at least a year to accomplish. The present board, when coming into office in April two years ago, set about to introduce municipal electric lights, and although they had the hearty co-operation of the progressive citizens of the city, it was not until the following April that the lights were turned on, although the best possible time had been made in getting the lights ready for service. The circumlocution of the statutes, making it necessary to pass different ordinances, setting forth first the intention of the city to issue bonds and naming the amount, and the subsequent passage of the routine ordinances as a condition precedent to the final vote on the bonds, was, and will be again, responsible for the delay in getting to work on the improvements; but, as in the case two years ago, it cannot be otherwise, and the best the friends of progress expect is that the improvements will be ushered in as soon as the law, and the will of the people, will permit. The avant courier, so to speak, of these ordinances will be submitted for first reading at the next meeting of the board, and will be passed at the meeting following a fortnight later, and while it is the intention of the authorities to push the matter with all possible speed, yet it is doubtful if the election on the bonds can be had earlier than August or September.

An estimate as to the amount of indebtedness it will be necessary to incur for these improvements was submitted to the board by the engineer, as follows:

4,100 feet 6 inch pipe	$2,618 87
5,300 feet 4-inch pipe	2,385 00
Labor for laying pipe	1,000 00
Total for pipe and labor	$6,003 87
One 6,000 gallon steel tank	$700 00
One 100-horse power Corlis engine, installed	2,140 00
One 1,000-light dynamo	3,500 00
One steel caison, 10x40	1,500 00
One 75-horse power boiler, set up	900 00
Four 7-inch wells	400 00
Total	$15,133 87

While the board had originally in mind an estimate of about $15,000 as necessary for the improvements in hand, yet it is probable that the engineer's figures will be shaded. The item for the four 7-inch wells will probably be stricken out, as the two deep wells now in use furnish all the water necessary for the uses of the city, the supply being practically inexhaustible. The new boiler, costing $900, also came in for discussion at the meeting, but on the stipulation of the engineer that it would be necessary while the others now in use were being washed out, the item was allowed to remain, as was also the item for the steel caison, although the board discussed the propriety of putting down one of cement construction. However the figures are purely preliminary to the work in hand, and will be useful as a basis of future computations.

All the members the board were present, and Marshal Steadman reported the collection of monthly licenses, and water and electric light rates during March as follows: For licenses, $182; water, $135 70; electric light, $166 80; total, $484 50; less 5 per cent commission ($24 23), $460 27. Delinquents for water, $4 85; for license, $2 50; total $7 35. There were no delinquents for electric lights.

Treasurer Cahen's report showed $871 04 in the General fund, and $1,468 17 in the Interest and Sinking fund. Total, $2,339 21.

Clerk Nebelung's monthly financial report for March showed a balance in General fund amounting to $871 05; in Improvement fund, $1,073; in Electric Light fund, $394 33. Total, $2,339 22, a difference of a cent between his figures and those of the Treasurer.

There was no report from the Finance Committee, except the auditing of the usual reports of officers and the ordering of the different demands against the city.

The Committee on Public Improvements likewise had no report to make, and there was nothing from the Ordinance Committee, except that the draft of the franchise granting the water company the right to maintain its ditches upon the streets of the city had been referred to the committee of that company having the matter in hand, and had not been returned.

After the consideration of the estimates furnished by Engineer Des Granges, City Attorney Chynoweth was instructed to prepare the necessary preliminary ordinance, to be submitted at the next meeting of the board.

Under the head of new business, the applications of C. S. Rogers and J. C. Des Granges for the position of City Surveyor were brought up, and Trustee Helmsen moved, there appearing to be no work for a surveyor to do, to lay the matter on the table. There was no second, but subsequently, there being no objection, the Chair decided that the matter of the appointment of a surveyor be deferred.

On the report of the Marshal that J. S. Hatfield desired to put in a gravel sidewalk in front of his residence and had asked to be given the grade of the street, the appointment was again brought up, and Trustee Helmsen nominated Mr. Rogers. Trustee Conrad nominated Mr. Des Granges.

Trustee Lewis said he was not prepared to choose between the capabilities of the two gentlemen, and Trustee McWilliams was somewhat similarly situated, but announced that he was ready to vote if a ballot were necessary.

Thereupon the matter of the appointment was after discussion again deferred, and the work of procuring an engineer to furnish the street grade for Hatfield's sidewalk was given into the hands of the Committee on Public Improvements.

H. Steiglitz, City Attorney of San Pedro, appeared before the board as a representative of the local harbor league and asked the endorsement of the board for the inner and outer harbor at that place.

On motion of Trustee McWilliams, seconded by Trustee Conrad, the San Pedro harbor was endorsed unanimously.

Engineer Des Granges reported on the installation of new electric lights for E. B. Merritt and L. C. Bailey, and renewals for Butcher Fleischman and Professor Hussman. Also recommended the painting of the smokestacks at the city water works.

Trustee Lewis stated that Herr Neidecker had offered to paint the stacks at $2 per stack, the city to furnish the material. This being considered a fair remuneration for Mr. Neidecker's services, it was about to be suggested that he be given the contract, on furnishing the necessary bond for the faithful performance of the work, when Trustee Conrad reported that he had already ordered the work done, he having found the stacks to be in need of immediate painting. Mr. Neidecker is doing the job.

Application for reduction of water rate at Opera-house. Refused.

In the matter of water delinquents. The Marshal was instructed to turn the water off.

The Clerk was instructed to issue the usual spring street-cleaning notices. The weeds are coming up, and they should be chopped down the approaching dark of the moon, so that they will not be coming up again.

Proposition of Hartford steam boiler insurance company to insure the boilers at the power house. Action deferred to the first meeting in May, the beginning of the fiscal year.

Bills to the amount of $855 55 were audited and ordered paid. Adjourned.

Yesterday morning Mr. Steiglitz wired Senator White the endorsement of the city board. The matter comes up for final action in the Senate at Washington to-morrow. The House has appropriated $50,000 for San Pedro, and the harbor league is attempting to have it increased by the Senate to the amount originally agreed upon, viz: $392,000.

CITY ELECTION.

A VERY QUIET DAY, AND A LIGHT VOTE POLLED—ONLY 105 VOTES CAST—CAUCUS-TICKET ELECTED.

The municipal election on Monday was one of the quietest ever held in this city, and a very light vote was polled. Only 105 votes were cast, and except for efforts on the part of some of the energetic citizens during the afternoon, it is doubtful if a hundred votes had been polled. The polls were open at sun-up, and at noon only 41 votes had gone into the ballot box. Very little interest was taken in the election, only one ticket being in the field; but the voting during the afternoon was brisker, and the century mark was passed shortly before 5 o'clock. The complete vote is as follows:

TO MOVE OR NOT TO MOVE?

WILL THE POSTOFFICE BE MOVED TO THE DEUTSCH BLOCK, OR BE PERMITTED TO REMAIN WHERE IT IS?

Postoffice Inspector M. H. Flint was in town on Saturday, and the two petitions that had been circulated for signatures for and against the removal of the Postoffice were presented to him. These he carefully filed away, and will forward them to Washington, along with his report, and it will probably be some time yet before the result is announced. Although Mr. Flint was not in a position to divulge the matters that pertained exclusively to his department, yet it was learned that Mr. Federman's offer was to furnish the premises at present occupied by the Postoffice to the Government at a rental of $1 per year for 4 years. The present rental is $16 per month. Mr. Dickel, on behalf of the Deutsch block, offered to fit up the premises and offer them to the Government free of cost for a term of four years.

A reporter of the GAZETTE hunted up Mr. Flint, and had a talk with him. He was found in the Postoffice going over a handful of letters.

"What about these petitions that have been circulated for and against the removal of the Postoffice?" asked the reporter.

"I have received them, and they will be forwarded to the Postoffice Department at Washington," replied Mr. Flint.

"Do you care to say what your suggestions in regard to the removal of the Postoffice will be?"

"Not at present. I will say, however, that the two petitions appear to have nearly an equal number of signatures, one of them having 124 and the other 119 names."

"Which of them has the larger number?"

"That I cannot reveal. At any rate, of the two sites both are, it seems to me, reasonably within the center of your town, and one is quite as accessible as the other—the proposed site is only about a block or so away from here. And your people don't seem to care very much where it is located, judging from the number of signers of the petitions."

"Of course, in the matter of petitions, they will have but very little weight, will they not, in the matter of the contemplated removal?"

"Well, they will be referred to the Department at Washington for what they are worth."

"Which do you consider the better proposition of the two?"

"That I cannot say at present. I am here to put the Postoffice where it will best subserve the interests of the people, and in the cheapest and best place for the Government. The Department at Washington will decide which is the better offer."

"You don't care to give an indication of the probable nature of your suggestion to the Department in regard to the removal."

Mr. Flint smiled pleasantly and said he really could not, and the reporter withdrew, leaving him to sort over the letters.

PLACENTIA POINTERS.

E. L. Bosworth has returned from San Francisco.

W. M. McFadden and wife have gone on a visit to San Francisco.

C. Moran has been quite sick, but is now able to be about again.

W. B. Hervey reports that he has sold his Tustin orange crop of sweets at one dollar and twenty-five cents on the tree.

Mr. Clark of a Los Angeles company of insecticide manufacturers, has a contract with W. F. Botsford to spray 3,000 of his orange trees. Mr. Clark is confident that he can kill the scale thoroughly, and it will at the same time be a good advertisement for his compound.

D. J. Yorba is planting out an orchard of four hundred orange trees.

Billy Hale's brother has purchased twenty acres of Ed Kraemer, opposite William Crowther's place, for $150 per acre.

The hay crop will be very light in this vicinity. It is suffering badly, commencing to head at from 6 to 12 inches and looks as if it had pretty hard work to get the head out.

The cabbage crop is turning out better than was expected.

H. G. Wilshire has planted out 2,500 grape fruit trees from the Lakeside Nurseries, Florida. They are of a new variety, being seedless. He is also having 2,000 buds set of the same kind.

J. N. Nenno's little girl died last Tuesday, April 7, of a dropsical trouble. She was aged five years and eight months and had been sick for about six months.

C. W. Almes has been appointed census marshal.

The Greatest Sale on Record in Orange County.

Next Saturday, the 18th, the Red Front, Santa Ana, commence a monster clearance sale which will be without parallel in the history of merchandising throughout Orange county, when they will mark down every article in their store to actual cost. This is the more remarkable, because at the commencement of a season our store-keepers are always in the habit of getting full prices for their goods, and when a store like the Red Front announce the tremendous reductions on everything in their house, which is what they are going to do, it means a terrible sacrifice on their part. Of one thing every one can rest assured. The Red Front will do exactly what they say they will, they never fake nor humbug the public, and we know the people at large will believe in the sincerity of their announcement. Read their special great advertisement which is in this paper. They will not be open to-morrow (Friday).

Druggist Derge has just received a nice line of ladies' and gentlemen's purses which he will sell at prices from five cents up; also a nice assortment of California Souvenirs and curiosities. Ask to see the stationery he sells at 10c per box. Did you ever see a lead pencil made of paper, and that you sharpen with a pin? Derge keeps them. 1t

If you need a mower, a rake, a wagon, a buggy or any kind of implement, and you want to save money, see Stern & Goodman, Fullerton.

Kleinigkeiten.

—Republican primaries next Saturday.

—The Signal Service predicts fair weather. Look out for rain!

—Who was it that put in that vote for Ah Foo for Treasurer?

—The Republican county convention will convene at Santa Ana on Tuesday next.

—The ladies' euchre club will meet at Mrs. L. F. Lewis' to-morrow afternoon.

—The Pastime club will meet this evening to hear Mr. Bosworth's report on his recent trip to San Francisco.

—Mr. Littlefield, school census marshal of Anaheim school district, began yesterday his labors of taking the school census.

—The Directors of the local fruit association met on Tuesday, and made the usual monthly disbursement of funds to the orange growers, and the latter are wearing broad smiles of satisfaction thereat.

—Ike Williams is grading two miles of road from Moon's corner in Centralia, westward. Ike and Supervisor Potter, although they do not belong to the Commonweal party, evidently believe in "good roads."

—The Savings, Building and Loan Association will open a new series of stock on May 23d. Mr. Chynoweth, the Secretary, will give all information regarding it. Now is the time to get in on the ground floor.

—Jacob Stern has purchased at assignee's sale the stock on the shelves of Arthur Porter's store, and will on Saturday next begin to close it out at bedrock prices. See his advertisement on the second page.

—President Rogers of the Chamber of Commerce has called a meeting of that organization for Saturday afternoon at Harker & Littlefield's real estate office, for the consideration of matters of particular importance to all. A large attendance is desired.

—One of the most notable land transactions of the year is reported in the sale by Ed Kraemer of sixty acres of his ranch land opposite Wm. Crowther's on Placentia avenue, for $9,000. The place will be extensively improved.

—The ladies of the St. Michael's Guild will give a social at the Del Campo hotel May 8th. A program is being arranged, and the evening will conclude with a social dance. Twenty-five cents admission, light refreshments included.

—Mr. Sasmil, the saddler, advertises his stock of harness, saddles, whips, etc., at cost for thirty days, as he contemplates retiring from business. Here is a chance for bargains for those desiring anything in his line.

—Josiah Russel of Pasadena, who is just recovering from the effects of a broken leg, was in town yesterday, and sold the Blanche Burnham place near the Orangethorpe schoolhouse to F. J. Teale, the well-known Los Angeles real estate agent. Extensive improvements will be made.

—Remember the lecture on the Chemistry of the Ranch and Orchard by Prof. Woodbridge and A. Scott Chapman of Los Angeles at the Opera-house this evening. There will be no admission fee, and as the subject treated upon is one which horticulturists and others are interested in, there should be a large outpouring of the people to hear these eminent speakers discourse upon it.

—The number of probable aspirants for delegates to the Republican County Convention exceeds the number to which Anaheim is entitled, and the returns are not all in. It has been suggested that the names of all the candidates be printed upon one ballot, and the voter to decide which one to vote for at Saturday's primaries. That would make an interesting election.

—Fred Mekeel lost a valuable horse on Monday in quite an unaccountable manner. He had driven in from Santa Fe springs, where he has been at work for some time past, in his sulky, and had tied the animal to a hitching post at Dr. Lee's. The horse took fright at a passing wagon-load of cement barrels, and in its confusion backed upon the post, thrusting it into its flank, badly rupturing itself. Nothing could be done to save it, and the animal had to be killed.

—Clarence Groat is putting in a cement reservoir of 37,500 gallons capacity for E. P. Fowler on his extensive walnut orchard southwest of town, and will construct some 3,000 feet of cement ditches to irrigate the orchard therefrom. Mr. Fowler has three wells from which he pumps seventy-five inches of water, and by running the pumps all night and pumping into the reservoir may irrigate with 150 inches during the day. He expects to begin irrigating from the reservoir about May 15th. Had the proposition to increase the limits of the water district prevailed last Fall, this orchard would have been irrigated with water from the company's ditches, and the treasury enriched to the extent of not less than $1,500 for stock; but this is now lost as well as the increment from water sales on the ranch, and we shall probably have a plenty of waste water to run into the sandwash.

—One of the finest crops of apricots to be found in the entire valley may be seen in the orchard east of town kept in such admirable state of cultivation by Theo. Meyer. The fourteen-year-old trees are perfectly laden with green fruit, and the trees in the young orchard, set out last year, attest the fertility of the soil in their clusters of fruit, much of it already quite large. From one of the trees in the old orchard last year, Mr. Meyer plucked 1,800 pounds of apricots, and many of the trees now bending low with their weight of young fruit would seem to be seized with a virtuous desire to do as well if not better. Mr. Meyer has a lovely flower garden also, and regales his guests with fine bouquets, and is withal a gentleman of the old school of hospitality. When the fruit ripens we shall pay another visit to the orchard to ascertain whether it is as excellent in taste as its appearance now would seem to indicate.

—The Orange City brass band, that capital organization of musical talent, which we have many times had the pleasure of hearing discourse the choicest bits of music, will give a vocal and instrumental concert at the Opera house on Saturday evening, and the citizens of Anaheim ought to see to it that the boys have a crowded house. They were with us a year ago, on the occasion of the inauguration of our electric light system, and discoursed martial music on the street and concert selections in the Opera-house during the celebration, all without money and without price. The boys participated in our enthusiasm and positively refused to accept of a cent for playing. We have now a very fine opportunity for reciprocating their generosity, and the hall ought to be crowded on Saturday evening, as much for the exercise of reciprocity on our part as for the excellence of the program, which will be out to-day. The program will include vocal selections by Lillian Butler Harris, the well-known soprano, who has made quite a reputation at Orange as a delightful singer. There will also be readings, recitations and pantomimics by Misses Estella Dufford and Gertrude Clark, who are said by competent authority to be unique, graceful and charming in their line. The band will have in addition a particularly meritorious program, under the leadership of W. Frank Harris, who is too well known among our citizens to require an extended introduction. Suffice it to say that he is one of the very finest cornetists in the country, and should be heard to be appreciated. The opening number is the Honeymoon March, which Prof. Harris has kindly dedicated to the brides of Anaheim. Reserved seats are on sale at Derge's, and everyone who wants to hear a good program as well as help along a worthy musical organization to whom we are under obligations, should turn out in force and attend.

—The Native Daughters contemplate giving an entertainment, to consist of tableaux vivants, under calcium lights, to be followed by a social hop, at the Opera-house, the second week in May. The Native Daughters comprise some of the sweetest girls in the community, and combine with their amiability and their beauty the gift of arranging the most enjoyable of entertainments, and we may look forward to an evening of genuine and unalloyed pleasure.

—A peremptory writ of mandate in the case of Leo Stephans vs. the Board of Supervisors of Orange county to compel them to issue a license to him to sell liquor, was argued on Friday in the Superior Court and denied by Judge Towner. The case was subsequently set for trial on the 30th inst. Stephans has been released from the county jail on $300 bonds, pending a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus to come before the Supreme Court in Los Angeles on Monday next. Meantime his saloon is open at Orange, and he insists that the Supervisors will be compelled to issue his license.

—The anonymous letter fiend is again in evidence, and we hear of one or two citizens being in receipt of them. The impression prevails that some of them at least are not written by men, although the handwriting is disguised. The letters are written in ink, upon soft paper, and one of them, which we have been permitted to look over, makes quite interesting reading. The man or woman who would write anonymous letters attacking others—well, the man ought to be killed, and the woman ought to be spanked and put to bed.

—Agent Darling of the Southern Pacific has established quite an innovation at the depot, it being nothing less than a full line of first and second-class tickets to all railroad points in the East, as far north as Canada and south to the City of Mexico. Hitherto we have had to go to Santa Ana or Los Angeles for them. Parties desiring to go to any point in the East should call upon him and get full information regarding accommodations. Mr. Darling will sell you your ticket to your precise point, start you right, and there will be no unnecessary change of cars or other discomforts such as travelers used to be hampered with.

—Prof. Frantz and Rudolph Fossek, Sr., became involved in a difficulty at the residence of the former on Tuesday morning, and the Professor struck Fossek under the eye, laying open the skin and causing it to bleed and blacken, for which Judge Pierce imposed a fine of $10. The difficulty arose over a chicken trade, Fossek having brought back a number of fowls with which he was not entirely satisfied. Frantz claims that Fossek applied an improper remark to his wife, whereupon he lost his usual imperturbable self-control and struck him. Fossek swore out a complaint, Frantz plead guilty and a fine of $10 was imposed.

—The American Type Founders company has instituted suit against the Los Angeles Herald Publishing company to recover $6500, alleged to be due on a contract for the lease of five Thorne typesetting machines. The machines were put in by the Herald, but proving unsatisfactory, they were discarded. This rejection of the Thorne machine, which printers maintain is unsatisfactory mechanically, is a serious blow to the type founders trust, as the machine breaks up a lot of type every day, and is otherwise said to be unsuited to the work mapped out for it.

—The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. William Goldie died at its home in Buena Park on Monday evening at 20 minutes to 6 o'clock, after a brief illness, of an affection of the brain. The child was four months old, lacking four days, and when on Sunday afternoon its parents visited with Mrs. Goldie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Williams, it seemed to be in particularly good health and spirits. It was only a short time ill, and although everything was done to save it, it expired as stated on Monday evening. The remains were interred in the Anaheim cemetery on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Woods officiating. The sorrowing family are to be commiserated in their loss.

—Constable Groat has issued postal notices offering $50 reward for the arrest of James G. Haley, alias Harry Betts, the alleged miner and bunco-steerer, who skipped out of Nogales after raising $375 in this city to open up an alleged mine of great richness in Mexico. Mr. Haley answers to the following description:

"Age, 49 years, but appears to be much younger; height, about 5 feet 10 inches; weight, 172 pounds. Steel blue eyes, brown beard all over face, but generally shaves all but mustache; bald-headed; third finger of left hand cut off between second and third joint. Were when last seen, April 3d, light colored shirt, black coat, overalls, new pair No. 7½ laced shoes, black soft felt hat, known as 'crusher;' wore no vest."

Those competent to judge are at a loss to account for a probable route which might have been taken by the vestless miner in his flight. None of the railroad conductors, stage drivers or line-riders have seen anything of him, and from all reports they seem to be exceedingly anxious to get him and hold him. Whether Haley skipped to Guaymas to take an outgoing vessel is problematical, but the conductor on the Mexico railroad declares he did not see him.

—On a recent visit to the brewing establishment of F. Conrad in the West End we found the proprietor busy making the pipe connections between two of his mammoth new boilers, Engineer Shaeffer was found at the ammonia pumps, where one sees pipes coated with frosted ice, alongside of steam conductors, not many feet from the warm sunlight of the exterior, and Johnny Lederer and his force were found engaged in giving the kegs their quarterly inside drenching of hot tar and rosin. The brewery is a hive of industry. Herr Lederer says that it is erroneously supposed that beer making is nothing but child's play—that all one has to do is to drink it and have Katzenjammer in the morning. But there is really a lot of work connected with the business, and Conrad's brewery is no exception to the rule. The establishment gives employment to a large force of skilled laborers, and is the means of circulating quite a bit of wealth throughout the community. Conrad has recently imported a carload of kegs from St. Louis, and is exporting more beer at present than ever. His brew is a light decoction of malt and hops, and is stored in his ice house for a sufficient length of time to impart that delicate flavor for which the beer of this establishment is so justly renowned.

—The farce comedy, "Too Much of a Good Thing," rendered by local talent, under the auspices of the Legion of Honor, at the Opera-house last Friday evening, was witnessed by a large and appreciative audience, and the roles of the different members taking part were capitally rendered. Miss Robison portrayed the part of "Mrs. Perkins" to perfection, while Miss Heimann and Miss Fay as Nellie and Hattie Perkins displayed an aptness for the stage that was creditable to them in a high degree. Mrs. Hartung and Misses Zoyn and Williams also acted their lines well. C. S. Rogers, disguised as "Mr. Perkins," rendered his part in a manner that would have done credit to a professional. His song, "Girl Wanted," was vociferously applauded. The ludicrous results of mistaken identity between Frank Purdy, the country cousin, and Tom Johnson, the jealous lover, were quite laughable. Mr. Purdy sang "I'm the Man" in a creditable manner, and responded to an encore with an original composition entitled, "Tamales at the Ostrich Farm," which brought down the house.

The entertainment concluded with a social hop, which was one of the enjoyable events of the season. Schoneman's orchestra rendered excellent music and dancing was continued until a late hour.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Bishop Johnson will preach in the Episcopal Church on Sunday afternoon, May 10th, at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Meyer of San Francisco, sister of Mrs. Mosseman, is visiting in town, the guest of her niece, Mrs. Arthur Lewis.

Herman Harris, the well known Santa Ana business man, was in town on Friday last, and registered at the Commercial.

Mrs. Leweke of San Francisco, accompanied by her two boys, is the guest of Mrs. Conrad, and will remain for an extended visit.

J. H. Revel of the R. G. Dun mercantile agency of Los Angeles has been in town during the week revising the ratings for the new annual report.

W. H. Blennerhassett forsook the cares of office on Friday last and took a run over to Catalina, to enjoy a day's outing at the Hotel Metropole.

Supervisor Nickey was over from Santa Ana yesterday on a short business visit. He reports everything quiet at the county seat, politically as well as commercially.

Senor Juan de la Guerra and his bride were in town from Yorba on Tuesday afternoon. Senor de la Guerra is now a permanent resident of our lovely neighboring town up the river.

Rev. Mr. Skinner has been quite seriously ill with erysipelas in the face for a week past, but was on Monday able to be out again, and is now in a fair way to recovery.

A. M. Williams has been elected by the local lodge of Odd Fellows to be its representative to the Grand Lodge, which meets in San Francisco in May. He leaves for the metropolis on the 1st.

John H. Roller, who has been quite ill in Los Angeles with brain fever, has recovered sufficiently to be brought down to the Rolio ranch to recuperate. Johnny's neighbors are glad to see his good natured face among them again.

Miss Frances Landell of Philadelphia visited her cousin, Judge Landell, on Sunday, and is so well pleased with California that she has promised an early return to spend some time here.

Frank Harris and U. Sid Lemon were in town on Monday making arrangements for the forthcoming concert to be given at the Opera-house by the Orange band on next Saturday evening.

Jake Stern contemplates a trip to the old homestead in Germany the coming summer. He has been absent for twelve years, and will time his arrival to the occasion of his father's seventieth birthday. He will take his family along, and will leave the middle of June.

A. S. Bither of Santa Ana, architect of the Rahman block, was over on Thursday last on an inspection of the building. He found the walls to be not only plumb, but that the building, which is rapidly approaching completion, has been put up in thoroughly substantial manner.

J. A. Vail was in town from Fullerton on Monday and informed us that, owing to the depressed condition of the Eastern orange market, in consequence of foreign importations, shipments of fruit from his town have slackened temporarily. Oranges will go out again in a few days, and the entire crop will be cleaned up at good prices.

John E. Harris, aged 40 years, brother of County Treasurer Harris, died at his home in Westminster last Thursday evening. He was an old resident of the county and leaves a widow and a large family of children. He was buried Saturday morning in the Santa Ana cemetery.

Baron Von Steinmetz, a German nobleman of high degree, who has been touring throughout Southern California, with headquarters at Pasadena, was in town on a short visit during the week. The Baron is said to be immensely wealthy, owning, so it is reported, five castles in the old country, and being worth nine millions. An interesting rumor in connection with his trip here is that he is betrothed to a well-known Pasadena lady who formerly resided in this city.

—Here is a copy of a postal card, all the way from Iowa, from a gentleman who may become a possible settler here, asking for a copy of this paper and for information about this country—one of a kind of which we are in almost daily receipt:

CRESCO, Iowa, April 3, 1896.

Dear Sir:—Please send sample copy of ANAHEIM GAZETTE and price. I was through your town last February, and received a GAZETTE. I like your country very much and think I will locate somewhere near there inside of six months. Yours truly,

GEO. B GOOCHER.

Cresco, Howard Co., Iowa.

Mr. Goocher has been forwarded copies of THE GAZETTE, and we hope to have him come to Anaheim to locate. It is the greatest country on earth, and is growing more rapidly than any other section of California, Los Angeles alone excepted. Real estate is cheaper here than in any portion of the State, and it is the equal of any, and the superior of much that is held at three or four times its rate. We have no killing frosts in winter, being sixty miles away from the Riverside frost line; and we have no scorching heat in summer, as we are but twelve miles from the sea, and enjoy the temperate sea-breezes every afternoon. This is the great orange, lemon, walnut, and grape fruit country of the future, and land is cheaper now than it ever will be again. Come out, Mr. Goocher, and get in on the ground floor. We are going to have a boom, and now is the time to get in the swim.

J. S. Richardson, editor of the South California Farmer, a monthly San Diego publication, was in town yesterday, and made this office a pleasant call.

T. D. Huff, a prominent and wealthy merchant of Santa Ana, was found dead in his orchard at 7:30 yesterday morning. The cause is supposed to be heart disease.

One of the orphans at St. Catherine's died of measles on Monday, and for a time a large number of them were down with the ailment, but yesterday they were somewhat improved.

A. G. Spencer of San Francisco, representing one of the leading life insurance companies of the country, has been in town for several days past. Mr. Spencer was once an editor, managing the paste-pot and shears for a Scandinavian paper, and in company of so many sons of the northern coast, also sailed the seas, but has lately settled down to the more lucrative business of writing life insurance.

—William Harris boarded with Billy Hale at his ranch house on the Botsford orange grove, along with the rest of the men working on the ranch. After standing Billy off for a good round sum for board, he took it into his head to skip out without paying. He turned up missing one morning, and Billy tracked him to Pasadena, and put in a day or two of hard labor looking for him, not so much to recover the amount of the bill as to gaze upon Mr. Harris' countenance again. Mr. Harris was captured at Covina a day or two ago and was arrested and brought back to Anaheim. On being ushered into the august presence of Squire Pierce yesterday, that official gave him the benefit of thirty days in the county jail.

Sheriff Nichols was in town on Monday on legal business and made a short call at this sanctum. Joe has two convicted murderers on file in the Los Angeles county jail, for safekeeping, one awaiting sentence and the other his trial, in the persons of Mr. Southern, who slew Mr. Cuero in Santa Ana a year or so ago, and was lately convicted therefor, and Mr. Berdugo, who shot a companion at Santa Ana some weeks ago, and whose trial began in the Superior Court on Tuesday. He has likewise in the Los Angeles jail for safe keeping, Mr. Baldwin, the Bolsa rape fiend, whom Judge McCoy released under a misapprehension of fact, and who was rearrested and bound over by a Santa Ana Justice of the Peace, and sent to jail awaiting trial. Every prized prisoner that Joe gets, he takes to Los Angeles, for two reasons, first, he is afraid the fellows may break out of the Santa Ana jail and escape, and second, the Santa Ana people may mutiny and break into the jail and lynch the prisoners. When the new county jail is erected, he will have a load of care and worry off his hands, and will once more smile again.

—Sport Wetzel came over from San Bernardino one day last week to call on his friends and to look for his watch, which he said he had "staked out" somewhere in the neighborhood of the Curtis gum grove on the occasion of his recent eccentricity. Sport looked for the timepiece, but failed to find it. He came to town with ten brand new simoleons, and announced that here he would henceforth abide, notwithstanding the watch, saying there was no place like Anaheim, and that San Bernardino was too slow for him; but after sojourning in town for four or five days, and meeting with all his aforetime friends, and his wealth having meanwhile dwindled to a dollar and fifty-five cents—the fare from here to San Bernardino—he didn't do a thing but buy a ticket for that town and light out for home, only touching the high places going out.

Fred Smythe returned on Saturday last from Nogales, whither he had gone in company of James Haley, the alleged miner who turned bunco steerer and mysteriously disappeared with the cash raised in town to prosecute the development of his mine of fabulous richness—referred to in these columns last week. Smythe and Haley left Anaheim two weeks ago, and reached Nogales the following Saturday evening at 10:10 o'clock. They went to a restaurant to get supper, and later in the evening, about 11 o'clock, Haley arose and asked to be excused for a short while, saying he would be back "in a second." He stepped out, and failing to return, Smythe retired for the night, never suspecting the designs of the prospector. He arose the next morning and on inspection found that Haley had not occupied his room during the night. Inquiries throughout the town failed to reveal a trace of the missing man, and realizing that he had skipped out, a warrant was sworn out for his arrest. The conductors and stage drivers on both sides of the line leaving Nogales that morning were interviewed on their return as to whether they had carried him out of town, but none had seen him. None of the line-riders saw anything of him, and very few of the business men of Nogales, whom Haley claimed to know, seemed to be able to recollect him. A more complete disappearance it would be hard to conjecture. The line-riders and officers are on the lookout for him, and have promised to telegraph on their very first interview with him. A reward of $50 has been offered for his arrest, and his description appears elsewhere.

The Supreme Court has affirmed the decision of the lower court, which sustained the ordinance of the city of Chico, which provides for taxing drummers $50 a quarter.

THE WAR IN CUBA.

MATTERS DRAWING TO A CRISIS IN THE ISLAND—RUMORS OF A BATTLE IN WHICH THE INSURGENTS ARE VICTORIOUS, BUT NO DETAILS GIVEN OUT CONCERNING IT.

NEW ORLEANS (La.), April 13.—The Picayune to-morrow will print the following from its special correspondent:

"HAVANA, April 5.—The condition of affairs is continuing to draw to a crisis, and soon there will be a clash which will either redound to the benefit of the Spaniards or the Cubans. For the past four days no official news has been given out at the captain-general's office, and rumors are rife of a battle in which the insurgents were victorious. No details can be learned, but there has been considerable hurrying and scurrying around the palace."

CHICAGO, April 9.—A Tribune special from Key West says that four times within the past few days the Spanish forces have been defeated by the insurgents under Maceo in Pinar del Rio province, according to advices from Havana, but not one word has been allowed to go out in regard to these engagements by the Spanish authorities. The most important conflict occurred yesterday at Majana, on the strong line. Maceo's advance force, 2,000 strong, attacked the Spanish column near that place. The Spaniards were routed, according to reports, with a loss of 500 killed and wounded.

Prior to this encounter there were engagements with Maceo's main army west of the strong line, in which the Spaniards had the worst of it. It is said in Havana that the Spanish loss in the four engagements was over 1,500 killed and wounded, although the government suppressed all information about the battles.

The number of wounded soldiers arriving in Havana proves the truth of the rumors. One train from the west yesterday brought in 400 wounded men.

Maceo's army is still west of the trocha, but there are many insurgents in Havana province. Gomez is still in Santa Clara province, moving toward Siguana Valley. On Monday his army entered San Juan de las Veras. The Spanish garrison fled to the forts and Gomez secured many arms and quantities of ammunition. Tuesday night the insurgents again raided Hoyos Colorado, a town fifteen miles west of Havana. The troops fled to the forts. After the insurgents retired the Spaniards came out of the forts and seeing a crowd in the square, opened fire, killing four women and two children and wounding others. The Spaniards say that they thought they were firing on the insurgents.

NEW YORK, April 10.—The Herald this morning publishes the following correspondence under date of Puerto Cortes, Honduras: The steamship Bermuda, which was detained in New York harbor on February 24, as she was preparing to leave for Cuba with a large party of patriots and ample supply of arms and ammunition, has arrived here. The history of her voyage, ending in the safe disembarkment of the filibusterers and their armament, bristles with dramatic interest. The log was realed off by one of the officers of the ship, who told his story in a matter-of-fact way, which rather served to intensify than dull its interest.

"I'll tell you the story," he said, "beginning with our departure from New York harbor. You know that on Saturday, March 14, we lay at anchor off Bedloe's Island. We had some trouble in engaging a crew, owing to the previous difficulty with the United States authorities. But after we had got our agent to work the thing went beautifully. Sunday morning following we weighed anchor and slipped through the narrows.

"During the night of Monday, March 16, we steamed up and down the coast at half speed and when the day dawned the Bermuda was a changed ship. Men had been set at work in the night to change her red funnel to black.

"This was necessary to avoid immediate identification in case we should fall in with any Spanish man-of-war, and subsequent events proved the precaution was well timed.

"The sun rose brilliantly as if in favor of our enterprise, and as the sea was brightened under its first rays our hearts sank at the spectacle presented a few miles to the seaward. There in the half light hung a big Spanish man-of-war. They seemed not over two miles away and I do not understand yet how it was she let us go by unchallenged. We did nothing but watch her apprehensively until she sank out of our view on the edge of the horizon.

"On Tuesday morning the Bermuda cast anchor off Assateague Island, Va., and took in a quantity of lumber, eight boats and four seamen. The seamen were badly needed. By 2 o'clock in the afternoon we were heading northward again. The next day the Bermuda came to anchor early in the morning off Atlantic City. Here General Garcia came aboard with seventy-two Cubans, and among them Senor Nunez. In half an hour she was heading southward with her band of Cubans, who were in the very best of spirits.

"All went well until March 19, when a stiff southerly gale roughened the sea. On the following day, Friday, the gale increased, the waves rose still higher, the ship labored considerably and a marked change came over the landsmen—they were dreadfully seasick. On Saturday, however, the weather abated, but the engines broke down twice that day, once in the morning and once in the afternoon. This caused a delay of four hours altogether. During the lull the arms and ammunition were brought on deck and distributed to the Cubans.

"Fine weather and a smooth sea ushered in the Sabbath and the Cubans busied themselves in making into small packages the munitions of war to admit of greater facility in landing. The Bermuda passed Turk's island on the morning of the 23d and on Tuesday, the 24th, hove to three miles off shore, about seven miles west of Barroos, in the southeast end of Cuba. It was an anxious time for the Cubans. A reconnoitering party consisting of volunteers from the ship's crew including the New York pilot and five Cubans commanded by one of the ship's officers, went ashore.

"A signal had been arranged with the ship. If the reconnoitering party found nothing suspicious the signal was to be given for lowering the boats and effecting a landing. Fortune favored the expedition. The discipline was excellent and in a remarkably short time the cargo and men were safely ashore. It was 2 o'clock in the morning when the last boat load left the vessel.

"The moon was shining brightly and the stars shone gloriously. The hearts of those on shore beat high when they saw each little cargo come silently and swiftly from the ship to the shore. As boat after boat unloaded its cargo there was a disposition to cheer, but this was checked by the officers, who could not afford to lay their comrades liable to danger, which it was not necessary to face just then.

"It was well for us that all our movements at this critical time were characterized with the utmost caution. Not a word was spoken as the men and arms were landed. Seven miles away, in Baracoa harbor, lay six Spanish cruisers and the slightest blunder would have imperiled our lives."

The officer concluded his narrative by stating that thirty minutes after the Cubans marched inland and the Bermuda got under way again a Spanish man-of-war came from the harbor and began throwing her search light across the sea. Again fortune favored the Bermuda and she escaped unnoticed.

PHILADELPHIA, April 9.—Information received here concerning Sergeant William H. Cox and several of his comrades of Battery A, Pennsylvania National Guard, goes to prove that there is an element of truth in the rumors that young Americans are fighting for Cuban liberty. The presence of W. D. Ergood, the full back of the University of Pennsylvania football team, in Cuba fighting for the Cubans, also tends to give weight to what at first appeared as chaff. That such rumors in many instances are true is proved by a story, the details of which are vouched for, though the names of those engaged cannot be given out. There is nothing more or less than a regular organized and equipped military bicycle corps, which is now engaged in drilling and other work preparatory to embarking for Cuba. About 150 members are enrolled. Officers have been elected and the baggage and munitions of war are now being secured. They are all Philadelphians.

NEW YORK, April 9.—A cablegram to the Herald from Havana says: The feeling of restlessness in Havana is growing daily, especially in commercial exchanges, where crystalization of political and economic sentiment in Havana first manifests itself. In the Produce Exchange talk is now heard daily similar to that which preceded the fall of Martinez Campos. Men who it would not be fair to quote by name say everybody realizes now that Weyler is accomplishing no better results than Campos did. Dissatisfaction is increasing rapidly, many loyal Spaniards expressing pessimistic sentiments and disgust at the failure to make headway against the insurgents.

The Bakers' Association of Havana sent a delegation to Captain-General Weyler refusing to supply under contract any more bread and crackers for the army unless the bills were settled immediately. The Government owes the bakers $13,000. It is not known yet what the Captain-General will do.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The Herald's Madrid cable says: Affairs look so serious again that American tourists are hurrying away. Every place on the express which leaves for Paris to-morrow afternoon has already been taken.

The passage of the belligerency resolutions has caused excited talk. A guard is still maintained at the American legation, but it has not been increased. The feeling is prevalent that a crisis is near and trouble might break out at any moment.

The rumor is gaining ground that Marshal Campos is to be sent back to Cuba, but no confirmation of the story can be obtained in official circles, and Marshal Campos declines to be interviewed on the subject. His position just now is a very delicate one. Contrary to the general belief, he came back from Cuba a poor man.

CHICAGO, April 11.—A dispatch from Washington says that at last President Cleveland has taken action in behalf of Cuba. He has made to Spain a formal proposition that the good offices of the United States be accepted in mediation between that country and her rebellious colony in the West Indies. This proposal was made in a cablegram of instructions to the United States Minister at Madrid, Hannis Taylor, which was dispatched to-day. No diplomatic dispatch of equal importance has left this capital since Secretary Olney's note to the British government on the Venezuelan boundary question was sent last summer. It brings to a crisis the relations between the United States and Spain, which have been unsettled since the outbreak of the Cuban rebellion.

The note thoroughly explains the attitude of the United States and the reasons which have led to this action. The principal points of the dispatch are:

First—The President offers the good offices of the United States government in mediation between Spain and the insurgents, with a view to a settlement of the trouble and the bringing about of peace in Cuba.

Second—The note recalls the correspondence between this government and Spain at the time of the ten years' war, when President Grant and Secretary Fish proposed mediation, and the Spanish government, though declining to accept it, promised certain reforms in Cuba. The fact that the United States was in part instrumental in bringing about that settlement, and the charge that the Spanish government has not kept its promise, is given as a reason why the United States now has a right to be heard in the case.

Third—It is pointed out that the present rebellion in Cuba has assumed a much more serious aspect than any former insurrection, the insurgents having apparently taken possession of all the island except Havana and a small section of country roundabout.

Spain is assured of the fact that the United States is actuated by only disinterested motives, and by a desire, through friendship, to bring about a more pacific and satisfactory state of affairs in the island. Spain is urged to accept our good offices in the spirit in which they are intended, and the hope is expressed that the Spanish government will see its way to granting reforms in Cuba. The President does not ask Spain to grant the independence of Cuba, nor does he suggest that home rule be accorded the people of that island. He leaves all these questions of method to be discussed after Spain shall have expressed a willingness to accept mediation.

PHILADELPHIA, April 11.—The steamer Bermuda, which has proved a successful Cuban filibuster, arrived in port last night. Captain O'Brien was not ready to risk any chances of arrest that might be lurking in Philadelphia. Hence a tug went down the bay to meet the vessel. When he reached Marcus hook, twelve miles south of here, Captain O'Brien and several others, among whom are supposed to be General Garcia and Senor Nunez disembarked and were carried by the tug boat to the wharf. The party then took a train for New York.

HAVANA, April 11.—The insurgents have burned the machinery houses of the central plantations of Dina and Barbon, near Moralito, the approximate loss being $1,200,000. The insurgents also burned 90,000 tons of cane on the plantation of Santa Gertrudes, belonging to Antonio Gonzales Mendoza.

Woman's Work

Is never done, and it is especially wearing and wearisome to those whose blood is impure and unfit properly to tone, sustain, and renew the wasting of nerve, muscle and tissue. It is more because of this condition of the blood that women are run down,

Tired, Weak, Nervous,

Than because of the work itself. Every physician says so, and that the only remedy is in building up by taking a good nerve tonic, blood purifier and vitalizer like Hood's Sarsaparilla. For the troubles Peculiar to Women at change of season, climate or life, or resulting from hard work, nervousness, and impure blood, thousands have found relief and cure in

Hood's Sarsaparilla

The One True Blood Purifier. $1 per bottle. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Hood's Pills are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Notice.

Dr. Flournoy wishes to inform the public that he expects to remove his office to Los Angeles some time in May, and offers to put his treatment for inebriety or the whisky habit down from $100 to $50 each, payable in cash or notes. Thirty, sixty or ninety days will be given, to suit patient's convenience. A cure guaranteed in all cases. When required, parties can be seen that have taken his treatment and gone from ten months to three years without the least desire for alcoholic drinks. No dangerous or strong drugs used, consequently no physical wrecks, resulting, as can be seen, in other treatments for alcoholism. The doctor also would like to refer anyone suffering from hemorrhoids (piles) to his numerous patients as to the efficacy of a new, painless, positive and permanent cure he has for that disease. apl2

Frank Shepardson, an engineer on the Southern Pacific Ry., who resides at Los Angeles, Cal., was troubled with rheumatism for a long time. He was treated by several physicians, also visited the Hot Springs, but received no permanent relief until he used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He says it is the best medicine in the world for rheumatism. For sale by Derge. apl

BUSINESS.

R. G. DUN & CO'S. MARCH REVIEW OF TRADE CONDITIONS IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

Business generally throughout the country is not yet meeting the expectations for this season of the year.

The general tendency of industries and prices is not encouraging. Industrial markets are in the main weak of tone. In some branches of trade an increased demand has been obtained by concessions in price; in other lines this policy has failed.

There is less currency anxiety; but large failures during the month disturbed bankers and caused a slight stringency in commercial loans.

Foreign trade is more satisfactory; exports showing an increase over last year.

In Southern California trade has sympathized somewhat with conditions of depression in the East. Merchants have bought cautiously, and business has lacked the snap usual at this time.

The returns from the orange crop, notwithstanding the unfortunate opening of the season, will total up satisfactorily to the grower, except in the small district of the frost blight. Not more than 600 or 700 carloads remain to be marketed; scarcely more than 200 of these choice. Without a doubt the demand will continue good at full quotations.

The lemon market is quiet, but the California lemon is holding its own well, in close competition with large foreign importations.

The only change in the dried fruit situation to note is the improvement in the raisin outlook. The decision that seedless raisins or Zante currants can not be entered duty free assures to the grower a fairer price for Sultanas and like varieties, and if the plans now under way by our growers and packers be consummated the result will be the formation of a raisin trust with supreme power in the raisin market of the United States.

As to crop prospects, the honey yield will probably fall a little short of last year's. The walnut groves promise an unusually rich harvest. In a few localities, especially Ventura, apricots, peaches and prunes are dropping from the trees, affecting disastrously the fine crop prospect of this section of a few weeks ago. Grain and hay look well under the circumstances, but more rain is needed or these crops will fall materially below the average yield.

Reports from mining sections continue good, and the organization of the local mining exchange ought to accomplish much good for the industry.

Much interest centers in a number of new enterprises, notably the proposed English colonization of the Chino ranch and the scheme for raising canaigre and manufacturing the extract.

The demand for naval orange and olive trees has been so unusually large this year that nursery stock cannot meet the demand, showing an increased confidence in the future of these industries.

There were 24 failures in the district during the month, with liabilities of $88,000; nominal assets $67,500; as against 14 in March, 1895, with liabilities of $56,000, and assets $31,000.

VOICE OF THE PRESS.

TWO ITEMS FROM LOS ANGELES.
From the Times.

Those young men of Anaheim who were so anxious to participate in the riches alleged to have been discovered in a mining property will look with suspicion on strangers who may hereafter signify a desire to share bonanzas with them. Simplicity has been the cause of many victims.

Anaheim is entitled to sympathy. Rivalry for the location of the postoffice appears to have degenerated into a mere scramble of land boomers, who rightly estimate the advantage of having the postoffice on their property as a nucleus for other tenants. It is bad policy to move these public offices around. Business should be permitted to crystalize about some center and not be broken up by the removal of an office so essential to the commercial stability of any community. The center should not be left on wheels.

A GOOD BIT OF DETECTIVE WORK.
From the Orange News.

About a week ago a bicycle was found concealed in a hedge near the Y of the Santa Fe railway northwest of Orange. It had evidently been stolen, and Marshal Gelderman undertook the job of restoring it to the owner. He got the number of the wheel, found out the wholesale dealer, from him secured the address of the retailer, and from the retailer the information that the wheel had been bought by Rev. R. B. Taylor of San Bernardino in 1894, from whom it was stolen two weeks ago. The wheel was shipped to its owner this morning.

HOW IS THIS, BUENA PARK?
From the Fullerton Tribune.

The Buena Park butchers challenged our butchers two weeks ago for a tug of war. The Fullertonites accepted and deposited a check for $50, but the Park meat hackers failed to cover it. They had better go hide themselves for at least thirty days. If arrangements could be made for them to pull with wind they could defeat any team in the State. The Fullerton butchers say they can defeat the Park laddies in a tug of war, wrestling or boxing match, in fact, everything but a foot race.

VIOLATING THE GAME LAW IN SANTIAGO CANYON.
Santa Ana Cor. L. A. Times.

A resident of Santiago Canyon writes to Santa Ana that many people are violating the game laws of the State by shooting quail and doves out of season. He states that scarcely a day passes in that portion of the county that those who live in the canyon are brought face to face with indisputable evidence of this violation of law. He further states that if any one is desirous of prosecuting the offenders any information of which he may become in possession, will be at their disposal.

There is one thing which is not generally known to the public—that is, Mosby and his men never received one cent from the Confederate government. Each man provided himself with his own uniform, horse and arms, and boarded himself. The United States government furnished us with captured horses, arms and ammunition, and the extra horses captured paid our board. So, instead of receiving pay from the Confederate government, we turned over to them horses, mules and arms. I will mention one incident to show what an honorable and conscientious man Colonel Mosby was. On the greenback raid, when we captured $168,000, before division was made of the money $30,000 was offered Colonel Mosby, which he declined to receive. Nor did he ever take anything for his own use that had been captured.—Thomas Moss in Washington Post.

Matchmaking Napoleon.

The first Napoleon was the greatest matchmaker that ever lived. After repeated refusals the doughty little soldier himself finally won the hand of Josephine, and devoted his matrimonial instincts to the affairs of others.

No excuse was admitted from a bachelor.

To him who urged that he could not find a wife, "Be that my care," he said, and the same evening the affair would be arranged. The poor received dowries and trousseaux.

One day by decree the emperor married off 6,000 soldiers at once. Another day his great court dignitaries were obliged en masse to find partners for better or for worse.

Interchangeable.

"You must have misunderstood me, waiter. These are veal cutlets, breaded, aren't they?" "Y-yes, sah." "I ordered pork tenderloin." "Yes, sah. Jes' take off de breaded part of it, sah, an dare am de po'k tendahline, sah."—Chicago Tribune.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves Teething troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. Castoria assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."
UNITED HOSPITAL AND DISPENSARY, Boston, Mass.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL ESTATE UNDER EXECUTION.

In the Superior Court of the county of Los Angeles, State of California.

Standard Collection & Mercantile Co. (a corporation), Plaintiff, vs. Mrs. R. E. Means and Miss E. O. Means, Defendants.

Under and by virtue of an execution issued out of the Superior Court of the county of Los Angeles, State of California, wherein Standard Collection & Mercantile Co. (a corporation), Plaintiff, and Mrs. R. E. Means and Miss E. O. Means, Defendants, upon a judgment rendered the 20th day of March, A. D. 1896, for the sum of Eighty-Three and 75-100 dollars, gold coin, besides costs and interest. And that the sum of $81.25, with interest from the 18th day of March, 1896, is now (at the date of this writ) actually due on said judgment, I have levied upon all the right, title, claim and interest of said defendants (or either of them) of, in and to the following described real estate, standing on the records of Orange county in the name of Elfie O. Means, and particularly described as follows, to-wit:

The south twelve (12) acres of Vineyard Lot B three (3), in the town of Anaheim, according to the map of said town recorded in the office of the County Recorder of the county of Los Angeles, State of California.

Notice is hereby given that on Thursday, the 7th day of May, A. D. 1896, at 2 o'clock p. m. of said day, I will proceed to sell in front of the Courthouse door, No. 304 East 4th street, in the city of Santa Ana, county of Orange, State of California, at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, in gold coin of the United States, all the right, title, claim and interest of said defendants (or either of them) of, in and to the above described property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to raise sufficient to satisfy said judgment with interest and costs.

Given under my hand this 9th day of April, A. D. 1896.
