Whooping Cough.

I had a little boy who was nearly dead from an attack of whooping cough. My neighbors recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did not think that any medicine would help him, but after giving him a few doses of that remedy I noticed an improvement, and one bottle cured him entirely. It is the best cough medicine I ever had in the house.—J. L. Moore, South Burgettstown, Pa. For Sale by P. A. Derge. m

Invasion and Evasion.

"Where have you been, sir?"

"Been?"

"Yes. Where have you been?"

"Oh, yes—been?"

"Well, where have you been?"

"Been l-looking at bulletins, my dear. Army of in-invasion has started for Cu-Cuba."

"Well, the army of evasion will start right straight for bed. Climb!"

Many old soldiers now feel the effects of the hard service they endured during the war. Mr. Geo. S. Anderson of Rossville, York county, Penn., who saw the hardest kind of service at the front, is now frequently troubled with rheumatism. "I had a severe attack lately," he says, "and procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It did so much good that I would like to know what you would charge me for one dozen bottles." Mr. Anderson wanted it both for his own use and to supply it to his friends and neighbors, as every family should have a bottle of it in their home, not only for rheumatism, but lame back, sprains, swellings, cuts, bruises and burns, for which it is unequalled. ## FOR THE BOYS AT THE FRONT.

Red Cross Entertainment for the Benefit of the Soldier Boys.

Never was the Opera-house filled with a more patriotic gathering than that which filled the spacious edifice on Friday evening on the occasion of the entertainment given by the ladies of this city and vicinity for the benefit of the Red Cross society. The object was to provide the soldier boys of Company L with such supplies as might be deemed necessary, and right royally did the people respond to the call in behalf of the troops. At 9 o'clock when the Master of Ceremonies, R. Melrose, announced the first number on the program, the hall was filled to the doors, all of the reserved seats having been sold early in the day. The applause was unstinted throughout, with occasional outbursts that spoke well of the loyalty of our people. The Stars and Stripes and Cuban colors hung festooned from above the stage.

The Anaheim band, under the leadership of Prof. Whann, opened the musical program with the "Star Spangled Banner," which drew from the large audience loud and long-continued applause.

Mr. Fay followed with a short address upon the causes that led up to the war, and the approaching liberty of the Cuban people.

This was followed by the tableau, "Remember the Maine," one of the most appropriate of the evening. At the rear of the stage hung a mammoth painting of the ill-fated battleship, as she lay in Havana harbor, with a vivid portrayal of the bursting mine that sent her to destruction. Shafts of fire rising upward showed the force of the explosion, while men-of-war's men were hurled in all directions.

The painting was the work of F. W. Fleischmann, who was assisted by Edward Synold, and was at once a realistic reminder of the dark crime committed at Havana Feb. 15th. Hugo Strodthoff, dressed up as Uncle Sam, in red, white and blue, stood upon the stage, pointing to the battle-ship sinking to her destruction. The tableau was impressive and was loudly applauded.

A selection by the Mandolin club, composed of Misses Fannie and Margaret Higgins, Miss Jessie Melrose and Fred Backs, followed. The quartet discoursed a Cuban dance, entitled "Manana," with rare sweetness and effect, which met with appreciative applause.

Miss Fritzie Heimann read the following entertaining essay, written by Mr. Melrose, upon the history and character of the Red Cross society:

It is nearly sixteen centuries ago that the banner of the Red Cross, with the inscription, In hoc signo vinces, ("Under this standard thou shalt conquer") was borne aloft by Constantine the Great. It is needless to tell the student of history, however, that the cross was then the banner of conquest, not charity; the standard of so-called Christianity, which in those barbarous days meant the antithesis of "Peace on earth, good will to men."

It was after the battle of Solferino, in 1859, that a philanthropist of Italy, Henri Dunant, conceived the idea of establishing societies among the nations of the earth, wearing one uniform, working under one banner, and having for its object the care and nursing of the wounded in war. After the roar of battle had stilled, he saw the cannons' devastating work on that bloody field. He saw the wounded lying uncared for on the gory ground, the vanquished powerless and the victors heedless of their suffering. He saw lives without number, bright with promise, go to an agonizing death for lack of ministration. He saw such unnameable horrors and such unspeakable suffering upon that gory field, that the latent sympathy in his breast was awakened to full activity: and thereafter all his energies and fortune were consecrated to the inauguration of some system of amelioration.

Through his efforts an international conference was held at Geneva, Switzerland, on Oct. 26, 1862, of men of various nationalities in sympathy with Dunant's ideas and work; and the result of their work was the formation of what is known as the Geneva Treaty, upon which the association of the Red Cross is founded. On the 22d day of August, 1864, at Genoa, twelve governments affixed their signatures to the treaty, and it was then that the emblem of the society was adopted—a red cross on a white ground. Soon thereafter twenty-two governments gave in their adhesion to the treaty, and in 1868, experience having taught wherein the articles of the treaty were deficient, a second convention was held at Geneva, and the scope was then enlarged.

It should be noted that the convention at Geneva did not form a society, but formulated a treaty pure and simple, under which the Society of the Red Cross may be formed in any country, each country making laws and regulations adapted to the needs of their own nation. The wisdom of this is apparent. Suppose that the Red Cross society of Spain had extended its work to the amelioration of the condition of the sick and starving reconcentrados during Weyler's regime in the ever-faithful isle. The incongruous spectacle would then have presented itself of one portion of the government deliberately attempting to save the very people which another portion of the government were as deliberately attempting to destroy.

The work of the Red Cross is never done. It is carried on every day in the year, wisely and calmly, without blare of trumpets or self-glorification. War, pestilence and famine bring it prominently into public view, but the general public is apt to forget it and ignore its existence in times of peace and prosperity. But it lives up to the maxim, "In time of peace prepare for war," and continuously, unceasingly it occupies itself with preparatory work, collecting funds, getting supplies together, training nurses, and always keeping itself in readiness for a conflict with poverty, disease, disaster and death.

It should be remembered that the Red Cross knows no enemy—its ministrations are extended to friend and foe alike, and citizens of neutral countries who wear the badge may freely go among the combatants without let or hindrance. This feature was brought prominently to the fore during the Franco-German war of 1870-71, when the English branch of the Red Cross sent its nurses, physicians and supplies to the aid of the combatants, and expended in the noble work nearly a million and a quarter dollars.

It is a curious fact, and one which the limited time allowed me prevents me from explaining, that the United States, generally in the van in all good works, did not give its adhesion to the Geneva Treaty until March 1, 1882, on which date Congress enacted the necessary law, which was proclaimed by President Arthur on July 26 of that year.

Thirty-one other powers had brought themselves within the provisions of the treaty at that time; but though laggard in the good work it is not too much to say that in no country has the Red Cross been so beneficent in its work as in our own. Happily the field of war has not been the scene of its activities, but all over our broad land it has fed the hungry, clothed the naked and cooled the fevered brow of the sick. Its cross has fluttered amid the fire-swept forests of Michigan, and the parched and poverty-stricken plains of Texas. It performed its mission when the floods of Johnstown and in Ohio created havoc and desolation among thousands. The cyclone of the north and the pestilential fever of the south brought the banner of the Red Cross upon the scene; in fact, wherever there is human misery and suffering, there will be found its faithful followers with all the immense resources of the society to aid them in their noble work.

John Hartung favored the audience with a violin selection from "Traviata," in his usually acceptable fashion, accompanied by Mrs. Erdman upon the pianoforte.

Miss Edith Fay sang a new song, "Heroes of the Maine," with good effect, and responded to an encore with a verse from "America," which was loudly applauded.

The tableau, "Columbia," participated in by Mrs. Cahen, Mrs. H. Kuchel, Misses Zelma Bailey, Minnie Zeyn, Annie Everhardy, Winifred Melrose, Beatrice Smythe, Fritzie Heimann and Melanie Cahen, called forth loud applause.

The colored lights were thrown upon the stage with good effect by Misses Fannie and Margaret Higgins.

Mr. Dickel sang the "Red, White and Blue," in good voice, accompanied by Miss Mabel Langenberger upon the piano, and in response to calls for an encore sang "Marching through Cuba."

The tableau, "Good-bye, Sweetheart," by Miss Jessie Melrose, John Hartung, and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Rogers, showed the departing soldier, sadly taking his farewell from his lady love, the while the old folks sat bent in silent meditation.

The singing section of the Turners favored the large audience with a song in German, and had to respond to the loud applause with an encore. The singing section was under the leadership of Prof. Thomas, and never sang better

Alex Henry's tableau, "Landing of Admiral Dewey at Manila," was the last number of the program. The tableau showed Alex with an Admiral's uniform on, standing in a boat being rowed by sturdy sailors through the breakers. The Admiral waved his sword, as if in salutation to the newly conquered land. The curtain went up again and again on the tableau, and in response to the calls, the sailors went through a short drill, and formed as an escort to the admiral. The tableau literally brought down the house.

Refreshments and dancing served to fill out a very pleasant evening.

A mammoth cake, made by Mrs. Konig, was raffled off for the benefit of the soldier boys, and fell to Miss Marie Kaiser, who on Monday presented it to Mrs. Hartung for her efforts in making the entertainment so successful. Mrs. Hartung will cut the cake and present each one donating refreshments with a slice.

About $84.70 net was realized. This will be forwarded to the Red Cross society in San Francisco.

The people at home remember the brave boys at the front, and in their silent bivouac or in the field the prayers of those at home are with them, and may God watch over them and bring them safely home again!

Card of Thanks.

The undersigned, as manager of the Red Cross entertainment, given at the Opera-house on Friday evening last, desires to express her appreciative thanks to all those whose kind assistance aided in making the entertainment such a conspicuous success. Especial thanks are tendered the ladies for their bountiful supply of cakes and other delicacies furnished; to the band for furnishing the music; to the city for furnishing electric lights; to F. Crist for making Uncle Sam's suit; to Chas. Federman & Co. for furnishing the cloth for the same, and to all those taking part in the entertainment.

MRS. JOHN HARTUNG.

Few officers consider the suggestion of a dash for the coast of the United States by Ceveras squadron as one of the probabilities. If that were to be undertaken, it would be by vessels not in the squadron that for some days past has been flitting about in the Caribbean. The danger from that source is regarded as slight. If the squadron is proceeding by a northern route, it cannot avoid beeing seen by vessels bound east along the usual routes. If it is traveling by a southern route out of the usual line, the scouts of the United States navy are almost certain to sight it. Charleston, Chesapeake Bay, Philadelphia, New York, Boston and Portland are considered by the Navy Department officials and by ordinary officers of the War Department quite safe against Spanish exploit. The Navy Department people have ceased to pay any attention to inquiries concerning the many Spanish fleets daily reported as having been seen at widely separated points of the compass, and will no longer venture to extend comforting assurances to those who cannot avoid concern at every fresh report of a Spanish fleet. A little amusement and some indignation is expressed at the altogether uncalled for nervousness manifested by citizens of Boston and other eastern cities, who call for protection from the navy, and who succeeded in detaching on useless scouting service the Columbia and the Minneapolis. The officers of those vessels have been heard from, and they consider that they were unnecessarily deprived by useless scouting service from going southward, and exposed to the jeers of their comrades, merely to quiet the anxieties of persons quite needlessly alarmed. The war will, it is believed by those who are acquainted with the programme of the naval authorities, and the condition of the Spaniards in Cuba, be short, if the fleet of Admiral Sampson and that of Spain can be brought together. The Navy Department does not look for any excess of energy in the Spanish navy. It is considered that the demoralized condition of Spain precludes renewed war activity.

AT THE PRESIDIO.

Latest Items of News from Our Soldier Boys.

[CORRESPONDENCE OF THE GAZETTE.]

Tuesday, May 10.

We passed examination yesterday, and were ordered in line for muster at 4 p. m. Then the fun commenced. It seemed that there had been a change in our officers, and that the first lieutenant elected by the company had been dropped and that Nate Ulm of Santa Ana put in his place. We were called up to be mustered in when Sergeant Abbey made a motion that we refuse to be mustered in without our first lieutenant. The motion was sustained without a dissenting vote. Then Bishop of Santa Ana made quite a speech in support of the first lieutenant. For a time it looked rather squally for Co. L, but when it was seen that the boys were going to stand by their officer we were assured that we should have him, and the mustering in proceeded. To Sergeant Abbey must be given the credit of taking the lead in the movement. I wish to say this because the San Francisco papers give all the credit to Bishop. And I wish the people at home to know how the matter stood.

On Tuesday signing the muster roll took up most of the drill time, so we got off easy. Our condition is much improved, both as to eating and sleeping. We have great times running the lines, but I don't think that will last long.

Wednesday.

About as usual. More drill but not enough to make a man tired.

One more regiment came in to-day and are now going into camp west of us.

It is very windy to-day, but not cold.

To-morrow the boys that failed to pass will start for home. I think there are 17 from our company.

Have met the ex-captain of Co. G (Halpin). He came up as corporal in Co. A of Los Angeles, but has been promoted to second lieutenant of Co. K. Charlie Puckett, one time of Anaheim, is in Co. E, and Will Mitchell is in Co. A. All the boys are well and in good spirits, but impatient for a move on Manila.

Thursday Morning.

Cold, foggy morning, but no wind.

Regular routine:—Breakfast, 6:10; drill, 7:40 to 8:40; guard mount, 9:40; drill, 10 and 11:30; dinner, 12; drill 2 to 4; supper, 5:20; taps, 10 p. m.

Friday Morning.

Same cold, foggy morning. Rained some in the night, and there will not be much drill to-day on account of the rain.

This morning we thought war had commenced at home. A shot was heard in the direction of the regular camp, but on investigation found that one of the sentries had fired on one of the soldiers who was running the line. It was reported he killed his man, but I can't verify the report.

As yet our guard have no loaded shells, but suppose they will have soon. Some of Co. L's boys were run into the guardhouse last night and are doing police duty to-day. They say that they will never try it again.

We are being outfitted with a complete outfit of clothes, hats and shoes, which looks as if we may get to move soon.

THE GAZETTES came and were very much appreciated by the boys.

Saturday Morning.

It is still damp and cold. At 11 o'clock it commenced raining and is still at it (4 p. m.) It looks as if it had commenced for a general downpour. It is getting very muddy.

Hatfield is in the hospital, sick. Will go over and see him soon.

Sunday, May 15th.

Bad night. It rained all night, and some of the tents were flooded, but my tent was in very good shape.

Several of the boys reported sick. Hatfield is better.

Will be no drill to-day. Neither will there be any visitors. It is reported that the first regiment is to start for the islands to-morrow, but don't think they can get away.

Monday Morning.

Still raining, and our camp is in a terrible condition. The tents are dry, but mud is about shoe-top deep all over camp. Not many of the boys have shoes fit for such weather, as we have not got our shoes yet. Expect to get them and our overcoats to-day.

It is reported that we will leave on Wednesday, but don't think we can get off.

The first regiment are packing up this morning.

Yesterday we had open camp. No guards. Everybody was allowed out of camp until 11 p. m. Most of the boys went up town and report a big time.

Hatfield is well and none of the boys are seriously sick.

A. D. PORTER.

Over forty cases of ammunition were found in the Spanish steamer Argonauta, captured during the first days of the war. It was on board this steamer that Lieut.-Col. Cortijo, Weyler's brother-in-law, was captured, with other Spanish soldiers, now prisoners at Fort McPherson. The discovery of the war supplies will not change the status of her case before the prize court. It had already been decided before the learning of the find that the steamer was legitimately a prize of war, no claims having been filed by the owners of the ship or cargo. A like decision was rendered in the case of the steamer Ambrosio Bolivar and the schooners Candidata, Mathilda and Sophia. The only formality remaining to make these vessels the absolute property of the United States is the confirmation by the Federal Court authorities of the findings of the prize commission. The cases of the Buena Ventura, the first capture of the war, and the Pedro, Catalina, Miguel Jover, Panama and Guido, all large and valuable steamers, will have to be tried in regular form by the United States Court, claims having been filed by the owners of the ships and cargoes. The barkentine Carlos T. Rosas, 750 tons, captured by the New York off Havana last week, was brought in by a petty officer and a prize crew. She had on board a cargo of garlic and jerked beef.

In connection with the trip of the battleship Oregon an interesting story is in circulation at the Navy Department which cannot be confirmed, but which illustrates the intrepidity of Capt. P. E. Clark, commanding the vessel. Upon his arrival at Rio de Janeiro the War Board took under serious consideration the question of protecting the battleship from the fleet of the enemy, then supposed to be awaiting her at some advantageous point. One or two members of the board urged the advisability of sending a squadron to convoy her to Key West, but this was scouted by the majority, and voluminous instructions were sent to Captain Clark in regard to the course he should take. The reply which, it is said, the captain sent to the department was something like this: "Please don't tangle me up with instructions. I am not afraid of the whole Spanish fleet."

SNAP SHOTS AT THE NEWS

Information comes from Cuba that Gen. Gomez at the head of 15,000 insurgents is closing in on Havana. His advance guard, led by Quintin Bandera, the dispatch says, had a skirmish with and put to flight 800 Spanish troops. Santiago de Cuba, according to the same report, is menaced by 5000 insurgents under Gen. Garcia. The dispatch also reports that Spanish warships have been sighted off Yucatan, convoying three transports carrying troops and provisions for Havana.

The patriotism of the members of the first Christian Church of Sedalia, Mo., was shown in the middle of a sermon the evening the news arrived of the battle of Manila. The pastor, the Rev. J. S. Meyers, was preaching on "The present war from a religious standpoint," when he read a telegram announcing that Commodore Dewey's ships had won a great naval battle at Manila and completely annihilated the Spanish war vessels. In an instant the congregation was on its feet waving handkerchiefs and cheering. It was several minutes before the applause ceased, when all joined in singing "My Country, 'Tis of Thee."

A horrible tragedy occurrd at the Foster plantation, four milesesoutheast of Horn Lake, Miss., at ten o'clock last Monday morning, resulting in the death of four men. Four deputy sheriffs visited the Foster place to arrest Nimrod Littlefield and his son, both negroes, charged with a murder committed several years ago. The negroes resisted the officers, whereupon Deputy R. B. Campbell fired, killing Nimrod Littlefield. The younger negro seized a Winchester rifle and used it with fearful effect. His first shot killed Deputy W. C. Cooper. The infuriated negro then turned on H. R. Campbell, shooting him in the head, death resulting instantly, while another shot brought Deputy C. I. Jones to the ground a corpse. Deputy R. B. Campbell went for assistance, and upon returning to the scene of the tragedy, a posse found the bodies of the dead men horribly mutilated, their heads having been beaten into a jelly. Bloodhounds were secured and immediately put on Littlefield's track, and if he is caught a lynching will occur.

It is announced at the adjutant-general's office at Washington that 115,000 volunteers have been mustered into the United States army. It is expected that from now until the remainder of the 125,000 men called for have been mustered, the work will progress very slow. It is problematical whether the government will await the slow motions of some of the States. The probability is that if the mustering of the required quote is not completed by this week, so far as the delinquent States are concerned, they will be cancelled, and volunteers will be accepted from other States. Telegrams have been received from North Carolina indicating serious difficulty in organizing the necessary troops in that State. Many of them are being rejected by the examining board, and the mustering officer will have difficulty in filling the State's quota.

Suit has been filed in the Superior Court at Santa Ana by William Kroeger of Anaheim vs. C. C. Collins of Santa Ana, wherein the plaintiff prays for a judgment of $622 06 and interest. Plaintiff alleges that on the 20th day of September, 1897, Henry Kroeger and himself went into an agreement with Collins, whereby the defendant agreed to purchase the entire crop of walnuts of the two Kroegers, at 8¼ cents per pound for the first-grade soft shells, 6¼ cents for second grade; 7 cents for first-grade bleached hardshells and 5 cents for second grade; that the defendant paid them $50 to bind the bargain. The plaintiff further alleges that this crop of walnuts was 117 sacks of the various grades, which according to the contract figures would have ammounted to $1046 25; that, however, the defendant would not receive the same, and in other markets they were only able to ralize $360 20 for their crop, and they sue to recover the balance.

Society circles of Los Gatos are greatly stirred up over an elopement that was frustrated at a late hour one night recently by a number of town officials. The parties to the proposed runaway were W. H. Garrison and Lillian Sund, the 18-year-old daughter of Herman Sund, a prominent contractor and politician of that place. Harrison is married and has a wife and two children. Plans for the flight had been well arranged. A negro with a team had been hired to meet them at a point and drive them to Los Gatos where they were to take the early morning train on the way to Seattle. Justice Beggs and Constable Reynolds learned of the matter and when Harrison and Lillian appeared at the appointed place to meet the coachman they were taken into custody. Both of the lovers carried large bundles of clothes and were well prepared for a long trip. Sund was escorted to her home, and Harrison was taken to jail. He was released next morning upon his promise to leave the town.

The Spanish loss during the recent engagement at Cienfuegos is now known to be heavier than at first reported: three hundred killed and several hundred wounded. Great damage was done along the coast. The cruiser Marblehead picked up several Cubans in an open boat, some miles down the coast, including Col. Ortize, Lieut. Olivares and three privates from an insurgent camp near Cienfuegos. They report that the Spanish losses and the damage wrought by the shells from the warships were heavy. The hospitals at Cienfuegos, they say, were full of wounded, and fear prevailed everywhere that the American warships would return to complete the work of destruction. During the engagement, the Marblehead threw 450 5-inch shells into the Spanish forces, and 700 shots from her secondary battery. The Nashville threw as many more shells, and 1200 shots from her secondary battery. Fifteen hundred Spaniards were stationed in an improvised fortress on a neck of land, and upon this the ships concentrated their fire, and it was here the most terrible destruction was wrought. During the heavy fire of shells and just after the lighthouse was blown up, five Spaniards who were running together in an attempt to escape, were picked off by a shell from the Marblehead, the gunner being ordered to fire upon them by Ensign Pratt. They were torn to pieces.

The monitor Monterey has been ordered from San Francisco to Manila to reinforce Admiral Dewey's squadron. The Monterey is a tower of strength in herself, and is probably the most formidable monitor in the world, yet she combines with her offensive and defensive qualities a seaworthiness that is phenomenal. The Monterey is described technically as a barbette turret, low freeboard monitor of 4000 tons displacement. She is 256 feet long by 59 feet beam, and 14 feet 6 inches deep. She carries, in two turrets surrounded by barbettes, two 12-inch and two 10-inch guns, while in her superstructure between the turrets are mounted six 6-pounders, four 1-pounders and two Gatling guns. The turrets are 8½ inches thick, and the surrounding barbettes are 14 and 11½ inches of steel, and against this armor all the batteries of Manila might thunder away without effecting an entrance. The monitor's personnel is 19 officers and 172 men, and once she is in the entrance to Manila harbor nothing in the shape of a navy would be likely to budge her from her position. Her dispatch may have an important bearing upon the Spanish government's intention of sending reinforcements to Manila.

The British fleet in the Pacific is to be strengthened to a considerable extent during the next few months. The Temeraire, the first battleship to be permanently stationed at Vancouver, is being fitted out at Portsmouth, and will sail shortly for Esquimalt, and the big cruiser Warspite is also to be sent to join the Pacific fleet. The fleet is to be strengthened by replacing some of the smaller cruisers with larger ones, the second-class cruiser Arethusa, being now on her way here to relieve the third-class cruiser Icarus. In the south the battleship Iron Duke is to be stationed at Coquimbo. Among naval men the opinion is rife that England is about to make a move in the Pacific which will startle the world, or, if not this, she is preparing to meet a contemplated move by one of the other big powers.

Shall the United States retaliate upon France for her alleged sympathy with Spain by refusing to make an exhibition in the big exposition of 1900? This question is causing no end of discussion among members of Congress. Gen. Grosvenor declares he will oppose any measure appropriating money for an American exhibit. He asserts his firm belief that the steamer Lafayette, captured and released by our warships, delivered French artillerymen to the Spanish and that these Frenchmen killed our sailors at Cardenas. Congressman Dockery of Missouri is of one mind of Gen. Grosvenor. Attention is likewise called to the flagrantly hostile attitude of the Parisian press. Out of half a hundred newspapers published in Paris, only three are at all favorable to this country. Congress has already appropriated $25,000 for the Paris exposition, of which only one-half has been spent. This was at the service of the Commissioner, Moses P. Handy. Strong opposition to any further appropriations is to be looked for.

The American Exchange Bank of San Diego, a private banking house, closed its doors last Wednesday morning. A notice on the door stated that "Owing to the severe checking during the past three weeks the American Exchange Bank is without ready funds to meet further checking. The assets are ample, however, to pay all depositors in full. N. T. HORTON, Cashier."

Below this was the following: "As trustee of the American Exchange Bank I have taken charge of the same. "E. J. SWAYNE."

The bank was a small private affair and had been doing business about eighteen months. It is owned by N. T. Horton, the cashier, formely of Pasadena. The failure was caused through the recent defalcation of County Treasurer Thompson, who made a special deposit of $11,000 of county funds there. His expose resulted in a sudden demand for the money and cramped the bank, which had its money closely loaned out. The deposits were $26,000 three weeks ago, now reduced to $8,000 with assets which will probably meet all obligations in full. The failure has no effect on other banks or business houses.

Silver candle-sticks, yards of old lace, medals of the Legion of Honor, diamond rings, ivory-bound prayer-books, silver saucepans, all sorts of solid old jewelry and articles of luxury were sold by the Los Angeles Sheriff one day last week. It was the last chapter in the history of a proud name. Perhaps not the last of the name, for there may be those who will again give it the glory and prominence it once had in the history of France. The goods were the property of the once Count de I. de Kersaussen-Pennendreff, and every article bore the family crest. The Count had been decorated by Napoleon III as one of the last of the la Ville Noblesse. But then came Sedan, commune, republic and again the Count by force of character and talent came to the front. But worse to him than Prussians or socialists, was the grand enterprise, for the Count embarked in the Panama Canal scheme and then came losses, despair and death. That is why all these remnants of greatness found themselves hawked about in the hands of men who bought them for a song. Under Sheriff Clements paid $4 50 for a set of ivory-bound prayer-books, and a purse and card case which undoubtedly originally cost $100. A bracelet, in which the gold alone is worth $50 or $60, went for $15. Two great silver candlesticks went for a couple of dollars. Forty yards of point lace, given to a member of the Count's family by Empress Josephine, brought $25, its value probably being more than that a yard. Only a few hundred dollars were realized by the sale, this amount going to the Count's heirs.

Edward Hartley, superintendent of the Montezuma and Contention mines at Montezuma, Mex., has arrived at El Paso, Tex., with a bullet hole through his left lung, three inches above his heart. He was shot by a Mexican whom he ordered out of camp, and had it not been for the timely interference of a fifteen-year-old Mexican senorita the superintendent would now be a dead man. Hartley discovered some goods in the possession of a Mexican laborer which he had stolen from the company's store. He took the goods and ordered the man to leave the camp in one hour. The peon replied by pulling out a revolver and firing a shot at Hartley, who was standing but a few feet distant. The Mexican had the reputation of being a dead shot and aimed for the heart. As his finger pressed the trigger a pretty fifteen-year-old Mexican girl sprang forward and struck up the muzzle of the weapon, and the 45-caliber bullet struck three inches above the mark. Hartley called for help and his clerk ran to him with a Winchester. The superintendent seized the weapon and fired four shots at the Mexican, who retreated precipitately. The fugitive continued his flight into the mountains and a number of his friends followed him. Hartley mounted his horse and started for the telegraph office to notify the authorities, but a dozen friends of his assailant drew their weapons and halted him. They ordered him not to leave camp. He cocked his Winchester and commanded them to disperse. They did so. He then rode to the nearest town and notified the authorities and a squad of cavalrymen was at once dispatched in pursuit of the fugitive. Hartley reached El Paso the next day. He was drenched with blood and exhausted, but will recover

THURSDAY..........................MAY 26, 1898

Now that work will soon begin upon placing the machinery in the cannery building, with a likelihood that the canning of apricots will be in full swing within a month, the deciduous fruit growers of the valley should give earnest attention to the urgent necessity for thinning their fruit. The experience of the most successful growers is that the rigorous thinning of apricots and peaches is the one great essential to success. The deciduous fruit trees of the valley are so completely covered with blossoms in the early spring, so harmonious are the conditions of soil and climate hereabout, and so heavy is the resultant setting of the fruit, that unless the overabundance of the yield be thinned, the fruit will be necessarily small and of inferior quality. Many orchardists are thinning their apricots so that there will be none within the space of a span of one's hand. This will produce first-class fruit, and yield more remunerative returns to the grower than if no thinning were done, with the result that the fruit would be small of size, of poor quality and be finally rejected by buyers in quest of first-class fruit.

We recently heard one of the most experienced canners in Southern California advise a number of deciduous fruit growers as to the proper method of thinning peaches. He said that if two men could be found, each of whom regarded the other as his implacable and inveterate enemy, and these two men had peach orchards, and they could be made to swap places, and thin the other fellow's fruit, the result would be that each would be doing the other a service of incalculable value. In their attempt to denude the other fellow's trees of the bulk if not the entire crop, their thinning would be just about right, and their fruit would be of first class quality and fetch the top-notch price. The point is here: Many a grower in going out to thin his orchard, does it in a half-hearted and listless way, reluctant to take off the small fruit that he thinks he will on the whole take chances on its developing into fruit of first-class quality. Thinning of fruit is a new idea among many of the growers throughout Southern California, but it must be met in heroic fashion and dealt with according as experience and the results of the most successful horticulturists dictate. You must thin your fruit, or you will never raise first-class fruit.

In this connection we may say that the cannery has in sight a sufficient amount of first-class apricots to run it this first season. The amount required will be perhaps 100 tons of apricots, and the aim of the company will be to put out nothing but the very choicest kind of canned goods. A reputation is what the management is after the first season. The cannery season, we may add, opens out under especially advantageous circumstances, and orders are coming in from the east for all classes of canned fruit. The reputation of California canned goods has taken an active hold on Eastern jobbers, and from all sides there comes a great demand for California canned apricots and peaches. A part of this demand it will be the purpose of our cannery to supply; and growers should know that none but the very choicest grades of fruit will be accepted. First-class apricots are quoted at $18 per ton, second-class, $13.50; and first-class cling peaches $18 per ton Third-class fruit will have little or no market. Therefore growers should turn their attention to thinning. And those whose desire is to dispose of their fruit to the cannery had best look sharp and consider the advisability of making contracts for the delivery of the fruit.

Another point: Those of our residents who have not subscribed to stock in the enterprise may yet do so. That the cannery will be a conspicuous financial success we do not permit ourselves for a moment to doubt. It will score a success from its initial season—and the work of canning the first apricots will be in operation within a month.

MR. GUENTHER of Orange, who is one of the Directors of the cannery, sets a good example to our moneyed men in his relations to the enterprise. On Tuesday he paid an installment of $50 on his stock—his work in behalf of the enterprise cannot be measured in dollars. He has circulated petitions for subscriptions at Orange, and secured many subscribers, and his counsel and advice to the board at their weekly meetings are at all times to the point well-timed and invaluable. Mr. Guenther sets a good example to our local moneyed men who have not yet subscribed to stock in the enterprise.

A CURRENT rumor is that the Spanish fleet in Cuban waters is to be reinforced by the battle ship Pelayo and the armored cruiser Carlos V. These are Spain's largest and most powerful ships, and if she concludes that she does not need them for home work or for the Philippines, she may well send them to help their venturesome fleet now in the Gulf.

But whatever Spain may do, she cannot overcome the advantage in naval strength with which we started and which we shall always hold. Before the Pelayo and Carlos V could get here, we should have the Oregon, a more powerful ship than either, with Admiral Sampson, accompanied by the Marietta and Buffalo. We should then have in Gulf waters of the armored class alone, four battleships, two cruisers and four monitors, against Spain's one battleship and five cruisers, even counting the Pelayo and Carlos V; and in the unarmored class we should be far superior.

Our advantage, too, will grow more marked as the war progresses. If Spain has ships repairing and fitting out, so have we. The Newark and the Princeton, for example, are two on which we can now rely, and later in the year will come the Chicago, Atlanta and Philadelphia. If the war could be prolonged by Spain to next winter, she would have more armorclads, but we, too, should then have the use of our Kearsarge and Kentucky, which are far more powerful than anything in the Spanish Navy. Soon thereafter we should have the powerful battleships Illinois, Alabama and Wisconsin.

In short, while it is not at all impossible for Spain to gain a success over some ship, or at some port, or by a combination of skill and fortune in some action, we cannot see any possibility of her overcoming that general superiority which we had at the outset. That will endure. This advantage must grow more marked when the question of coaling begins to hamper Admiral Cervera's ships. Such rules, for example, as England's against recoaling at the same port within three months must tell. Above all we are not to suppose that Admiral Sampson proposes to wait for the reinforcement of his opponent before carrying out his own plans.

THE CANNERY.

Work Begins on the Germain Building to Fit it for the Purposes of the Company.

The stockholders of the Orange County Preserving Company met at the City Hall on Monday, with G. G. Guenther of Orange presiding. The purpose of the meeting, which had been adjourned from that of two weeks ago, at which there was no quorum, was to adopt a code of by-laws. Petitions bearing the endorsements of 437 shares out of a total of 531 cash shares were presented favoring the adoption of the by-laws submitted by the Directors and the by-laws were formally ratified, and the stockholders' meeting adjourned without day.

Immediately thereupon the Directors met, with Mr. Fay in the chair, and the following Directors present: Fay, Benchley, Dickel, Stern, Guenther and Rogers; absent, [illegible].

A large number of stockholders remained to attend the deliberations of the board.

The executive officers were authorized to enter into a contract for cans, figures from a Los Angeles house having been procured on advantageous terms.

An application from E. H. Kennedy of Los Angeles was read applying for the position of superintendent of the cannery. Mr. Kennedy's letter was received some weeks ago, and the Directors have since then been inquiring into his qualifications. They found that his recommendations were endorsed by many of the leading cannery firms of Southern California. He was thereupon elected to superintend the placing of the machinery in the cannery, which it has been definitely decided to locate in the Germain building at the Santa Fe depot. Mr. Kennedy's endorsments are of a high order of merit, and the Directors are of opinion that they have secured the services of a first-class man. He is already at work arranging for the placing of the boiler to the machinery and will continue in the employ of the company.

Mr. Fay reported as to the use of compressed air for the pumping of syrups from the cellar into the cannery in the preparation of the fruit. This will save the company the expense of constructing an upper story for the storage of the syrups, which ordinarily are fed into the cannery by gravity pressure.

Anton Stoetzer of the Los Angeles Lithographing company was present and submitted samples of labels. Messrs. Dickel and Stern were appointed a committee to procure labels.

Adair Scott reported making contracts for 23 tons of first-class apricots. He reported it was an easy matter to procure 100 tons.

Mr. Benchley was appointed a committee to make arrangements with the dryer to dry such fruit as was not acceptable for canning.

Treasurer Stern was requested to give a bond in the amount of $3000, and in order to place the responsibility for the funds of the company legally upon him, the following preamble and resolution were adopted, exempting the Citizen's Bank from liability:

WHEREAS, The Citizens' Bank of Anaheim has heretofore been appointed depository for the funds of this corporation; and

WHEREAS, The Board of Directors have this day required Mr. Stern, as Treasurer of the corporation, to furnish bonds for the faithful performance of his duties; and

WHEREAS, In view of the fact that said bond has been required, and that said Treasurer should have the privilege of depositing the money for which he is responsible in such bank as he may see fit; therefore be it

Resolved, That the order of the board heretofore made designating the Citizens' Bank of Anaheim as depository be and the same is hereby rescinded.

The Secretary reported that $533 had been collected from the first assessment, which had been turned over to the Treasurer.

An assessment of $2 per share was thereupon levied upon the capital stock, payable immediately.

The board went into a short executive session and later adjourned.

The formal announcement of the engagement of Miss Laura Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Williams of Chicago, and grand-daughter of the late Judge John Dean Caton, to Maj.-Gen. Wesley Merritt, military governor of the Philippine Islands, was made on Monday. Miss Williams is about 20 years old, a brunette, graceful and petite and of striking appearance, with jet black hair and eyes and brilliant coloring. She has received much attention here and abroad, and especially in London, where she was the guest of Robert T. Lincoln, when he was representative of this country at the Court of St. James. She was presented at the Queen's drawing-room with Miss Lincoln. Norman Williams has for a number of years been one of the well-known figures in Chicago legal and financial circles. Gen. Merritt was born in Illinois, and a graduate of West Point. He entered the war directly after graduation in 1861. In April, 1863, he was appointed brigadier-general, and his services throughout the war were of the most distinguished form. Since its close he has made a name for himself as an Indian fighter, and in 1895 was made a major general. Gen. Merritt left Chicago for the Pacific Coast on Monday night a special car attached to the 6 o'clock train on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad. He steadily refused to be interviewed, and the members of his staff maintained the same reticence.

M. W. Matson, member of the Second Gun Division of the San Francisco Naval Reserves, had an enterprising experience at Tacoma in securing his release from the British ship Cressington, wheat laden for Falmouth, that he might go to war. Matson had signed articles for three years, but on reaching Tacoma found a telegram from Lieutenant-Commander Turner of San Francisco ordering him to report himself ready for duty. When he presented this official message to Capt. Porter of the Cressington, the latter declined to allow him to leave the ship. Matson managed to get ashore, however and sent word to the captain demanding his wages.

Capt. Porter replied by advising Matson to come aboard and get his money, but this Matson refused to do. The matter stood thus for forty-eight hours, and Matson set about to libel the vessel for his wages.

When this became known to Capt. Porter, he took Matson's advice, met him at the British Vice-Counsulate, and paid his wages. Matson is awaiting orders to join his comrades of the Naval Reserve aboard either the Monterey or the Monadnock.

SEEING THE SIGHTS.

Arthur Newman Enlightening Himself Previous to His Departure for Manila.

J. Newman has received the following letter from his son Arthur, who departed from Anaheim with Company L for San Francisco, en route to Manila. It will be seen that Arthur is taking in the sights in the city before taking his departure with the troops for the Southern seas. He addresses his brother:

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21, 1898.

Dear Brother:—Well, sonny, how are you making it, anyhow? I suppose you are not thinning beets yet, are you? So you must be having a pretty easy time of it.

Well, it is raining outside now and it has been since 4 o'clock, and so it is pretty sloppy outside.

I was off duty last Thursday and I went over to the Golden Gate park. That is the finest place I ever saw. There are all kinds of trees and birds there. I saw nine buffaloes, a lot of deer, elk and moose, and all kinds of fine birds were in a big place fenced in with netting all around and above, and the roads and paths wind all through the trees and lawns. After I saw all I wanted to I went into the museum. I was over two hours in seeing the curiosities, and there were many, I assure you. One room was filled entirely with Egyptian relics, such as mummies 2500 to 3000 years old, guns used in the long ago, and fancy work by the early Egyptians.

Then there was a room with old Spanish curios, such as armor, coats of mail, old style guns and cannon. The upper floor was for stuffed birds of all kinds, shapes and descriptions from all over the world. There are egg collections by the wholesale. One egg was there that weighed more than six ostrich eggs, so you may imagine it was a whopper. If I can get off Sunday I am going out there again and take in what I missed Thursday.

Our neighbors, the first regiment, are going to leave for the Islands tomorrow or Tuesday, as they are all packed to go on twenty minutes notice, and when they get to Honolulu they have to wait for us.

The good people of Alameda sent us a lot of good things to eat for Sunday's dinner, so we will have a good meal in camp at last. So far we have been regulars; that is, we have had beans pretty regular. Your brother,

ARTHUR NEWMAN.

WESTMINSTER.

Mrs. C. W. Dickey has returned from Los Angeles and Pasadena, where she has been visiting relatives and friends for the past week.

Gusto Barton has returned, singing "Home, Sweet Home." He did not like New Mexico as well as he at first thought he would.

Mrs. Alice Barton has returned from Tropico, where she has been attending the bedside of an unfortunate brother, George Miller, who met with an accident while loading baled hay. He is slowly recovering, but is not yet able to accompany his sister home.

Mr. Kiah Bohannon says his potato crop is looking fine, and will be in the market in two weeks.

Mrs. Frank Smith, who has been quite sick, is improving, but is not yet able to get out.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonican of Centralia made Dr. Wilson a call at his office on Monday. Mrs. Lonican has had measles, which left her eyes in a very bad condition.

Rev. W. L. Miller's smiling countenance has been conspicuous in the postoffice of late, filling the place of our most worthy postmaster, Dr. Wilson, while the doctor is attending to his patients.

Mrs. Will Williams of Anaheim Landing visited relatives at Westminster during the week, the guest of Mrs. Harper.

Mr. George Abbott and family visited Mr. and Mrs. George Applebery in West Anaheim Sunday. Mr. Abbott was taken quite seriously ill and was not able to return until Monday, when she was brought home with no serious results.

Joe Harris and others are at present engaged in the fishing business at Bolsa Chica, occupying the cottage of William Schumacher of Fullerton.

The Bolsa is a very pleasant place for a day's outing at the beach.

The ladies of the Westminster W. C. T. U. held a very enjoyable meeting on Friday, the 20th, at the home of Mrs. Niles. The afternoon was spent in making and filling handbags for the soldiers and sailors. They put in each bag needles, pins, buttons, thread and a small New Testament, and each one wrote a letter or a few verses.

—From the Waco (Tex.) Times-Herald of May 15th we take the following very pleasant reference to an old-time friend of Mrs. Louis Passmore of Olive:

"The second prize [in the floral parade of the Waco carnival] consisting of an etched glass and gilt jewel-box of exquisite workmanship was awarded to Mrs. Peter McClelland, whose La France rose carriage was drawn by a handsome pair of bay horses. Seated in the carriage were Mrs. McClelland's three pretty daughters, Misses Ida, Mary, Lillian and Willie. Two colored footmen in pink satin livery, with white lace ruffles on shirt front and chaperon de bras a la Napoleon, led the prancing steeds. The entire carriage was a parterre of pink La France roses, woven beautifully with the leaf of the live oak tree, which resembles in shape the natural foliage of the rose."

Mrs. McClelland is a particular friend of Mrs. Passmore, who is overjoyed at her award of the prize.

—The Fullerton home guards have organized by electing the following officers: E. S. Richman, captain; H. C. Head, first lieutenant; E. R. Amerige, second lieutenant; Drs. Clark and Rich, surgeons; C. E. Holcomb, chaplain; W. C. Vail, treasurer. The following committee was appointed to take the necessary steps to procure arms and other equipments: Edgar Johnson, H. C. Head, O. des Granges, Jr., W. E. McFadden, W. R. Carpenter. The new company has over 100 members. It has been decided to meet every Wednesday evening to drill.

Yellow Jaundice Cured.

Suffering humanity should be supplied with every means possible for its relief. It is with pleasure we publish the following: "This is to certify that I was a terrible sufferer from Yellow Jaundice for over six months, and was treated by some of the best physicians in our city and all to no avail. Dr. Bell, our druggist, recommended Electric Bitters; and after taking two bottles, I was entirely cured. I now take great pleasure in recommending them to any person suffering from this terrible malady. I am gratefully yours M. A. Hogarty, Lexington, Ky." Sold by P. A. Derge Druggist.

DEWEY'S THE MAN.

NEW YORK, May 24.—A dispatch from Manila says the German consul there tried to land provisions from a German ship, but that Admiral Dewey refused to permit it. The consul then declared that he would force the landing under the protection of his two German cruisers, but Admiral Dewey threatened to fire upon the cruisers, and the attempt to land the supplies was abandoned.

That Baseball Game.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—I noticed in the last issue of your paper a clipping of a letter received from Buena Park in answer to the "J. W. M." notice. In reply I will not say that they themselves refused to play, because that is not necessary. I will not say that if we were at fault the umpire would not have awarded the game to us; but I will say that they had better think twice before calling a team "babies" who have met almost every team in the county. We have no more open dates this season, but should the Buena Parks wish to show their mettle we would advise that they cross bats with the S. A. H. S., the Red Stars or the Westminster nine. Yours,

J. W. M.

DR. SCHIFFMAN,

DENTIST.

OF LOS ANGELES.

Extracts or Fills Teeth Without Pain.

Will be in Anaheim JUNE 4. ONE DAY ONLY!

Commercial Hotel.

We refer you to the following well known people of Southern California:

Dr. Schiffman extracted two large, badly decayed molars for me, positively without pain. W. A. FLICKINGER, Santa Ana.

I have just had twenty-five bad teeth and old buried roots extracted by the Schiffman method, and it did not hurt a bit. I heartily recommend Dr. Schiffmann as an expert dentist, and the Schiffman method of painless dentistry is wonderful.
S. M. HEMPHILL, Orange, Cal.

Dr. Schiffman has filled teeth and done other work for me, and I must say that he is the easiest dentist that ever worked for me. The doctor is exceedingly gentle in his handling and working on the teeth, and I consider his work of the very best. All his work on my teeth was perfectly painless. I highly recommend him to my friends.
JOHN H. SCHUMACHER,
107 N. Spring St., Los Angeles.

I have just had nine roots taken out by the Schiffman method; they were extracted without the slighest pain and I heartily recommend it to all. D. C. MORRISON,
Judge Police Court, Los Angeles.

Dr. Schiffman extracted six teeth for me; they were broken off and buried roots and badly ulcerated; but they were extracted without a bit of pain, and I heartily recommend the Schiffman painless method to all.
JOHN WEBER, Pomona.

The one Dr. Schiffman extracted for me was "a wonder." And the way he did it was also a wonder. I did not know it was out until it was all over. E. W. MANSFIELD,
Business Manager Burbank Theatre, Los Angeles.

I had a bad tooth pulled by Dr. Schiffman to-day. I experienced no pain whatever. Dentists in the East claimed I have the hardest teeth to pull of any other customer. I recommend Dr. Schiffman to suffering humanity. VICTOR BOYD, South Riverside.

On account of some unfortunate experience I had in the extraction of my teeth, I became a great coward in this respect. To-day Dr. Schiffman extracted one of my very refractory teeth without causing me one particle of pain. D. K. TRASK,
Attorney, Fulton Block, Los Angeles.

Had three teeth extracted by Dr. Schiffman without any pain whatever.
WALTER F. THAYER,
Superintendent Station C, Postoffice, Los Angeles.

I have just had some teeth extracted by Dr. Schiffman's method. It is painless. I would have no other. Just try it once, and you will be convinced as I was.
MRS. B. R. REYNOLDS, Covina.

I can testify that the extraction of a tooth by Dr. Schiffman's method need not be dreaded by anyone. He surely does it without pain. REV. S. L. WHITE,
Pastor Boyle Heights Holiness church, Los Angeles.

I cannot speak too highly of Dr. Schiffman's method of extracting teeth. It is positively painless. S. A. CRAWFORD, 409 Magnolia avenue, Riverside.

It is with pleasure that I state that I have had several teeth filled by Dr. Schiffman and that he killed and extracted the nerve and filled the root of one of my teeth, and put on a porcelain crown which cannot be distinguished from a natural tooth, all of which was done without pain.
JUD. R. RUSH,
Attorney, Fulton Blk., 207 New High street, Los Angeles.

It affords me great pleasure to in this manner testify my appreciation of your skill and methods. I have at various times during the past six months received treatment personally, and also for my family, at your office, and the usual torture in extracting teeth and filling the same is changed into complete satisfaction if not pleasure, through the painless system you employ. I would therefore heartily recommend any of my friends to you who may be in need of your valuable services. S. A. D. JONES,
Gen. agent New York Life Ins. Co., Los Angeles.

A son of Governor McCord of Arizona says: It affords me pleasure to add my name to the list of fortunate ones who have had teeth extracted without a particle of pain by Dr. Schiffman. His method certainly robs the dental chair of all its terrors.
C. J. McCORD, Yuma, Ariz.

Two badly ulcerated roots; a splendid, safe and easy operation.
REV. SELAH W. BROWN,
University, Los Angeles.

I never realized that so many teeth could be extracted so quickly and without pain. I had 29 teeth extracted at one sitting, and I fully endorse and recommend Dr. Schiffman to all needing this kind of work.
MRS. C. ALLISON, Covina.

Dr. Schiffman I consider expert. By experience I find his work painless and perfectly satisfactory.
H. C. ROYER, M. D., Los Angeles.

I had a badly ulcerated wisdom tooth extracted, without hurting, by Dr. Schiffman.
B. F. DAY,
Southern California Music company, Los Angeles.

The method of extracting teeth advertised by Dr. Schiffman as "painless" is painless. I did not believe it was possible, but I have tried it and now know better.
H. McPHEE,
Editor Santa Ana Evening Blade.

Dr. Schiffman filled a very sensitive tooth and extracted an ulcerated root for me without a particle of pain.
MRS. O. H. BURKE, Orange, Cal.

I had 26 teeth extracted and have gained 9 pounds in last three months. I am very much pleased with Dr. Schiffman's painless manner of relieving me of old teeth.
WM. BOYD, Anaheim, Cal.

Had 19 teeth pulled by the Schiffman painless method and I am tickled to death it did not hurt one bit. D. BAKER, Orange, Cal.

I had 9 teeth extracted by Dr. Schiffman, without one particle of pain, and I think he is the best dentist on earth.
MRS. L. C. BLAKE, Fullerton, Cal.

Dr. Schiffmann extracted 12 teeth for me without the least pain or even discomfort.
T. W. HILL, Garden Grove, Cal.

Dr. Schiffman pulled ten teeth for me and did not hurt a bit. The work was done in the best possible shape, and I recommend the Schiffman painless method highly.
GEO. H. GILE, Fullerton.

I have had 5 teeth extracted by Dr. Schiffman without pain. THEO. STALEY,

FLEXIBLE RUBBER DENTAL PLATES

OUR NEW PROCESS of Flexible Dental Plates is as yet but little understood by the public and less understood by dentists in general. It has many advantages over the ordinary rubber plate—even gold plates—being lighter and thinner. This plate being flexible—only a trifle thicker than heavy writing paper—fits closer to the mouth, will last longer and is tougher than any other rubber. Once tried, no other plate will be desirable. Brought to the notice of the public through Dr. Schiffman only.

A full set of teeth on Red Rubber only $5.00, and a fit guaranteed.

Dr. Schiffman will be in San Bernardino May 26, Riverside May 27 and 28, Pomona May 31 and June 1, Santa Ana June 3. These visits are for the accommodation of those who cannot go to Los Angeles for Painless Dental work. In our Los Angeles Office we employ seven skilled operators.

Frank Shanley Elected City Recorder.

Recorder Pierce Defeated for Re-election. After Holding the Office and that of Justice of the Peace for a Time Whereof the Memory of the Oldest Inhabitant Runneth Not to the Contrary—Trustee Helmsen Questions Trustee Groat's Right to Participate in the Deliberations of the Board, on Account of His Removal to Los Angeles—The Question Not Pressed, and Groat Acts With the Board for the Last Time—Later Resigns His Seat—Nick Hugo's Thrilling Experience In Bear Valley—Shafting Falls In Fleischmann's Cold Storage Room—Brevities.

The Board of Trustees met in regular session on Tuesday evening; present, the full board, viz.: Rust, Dickel, Helmsen, Schwenckert and Groat.

Marshal Steadman reported the taking up of 680 feet of pipe on Los Angeles street, which had been scraped and cleaned and hauled to the power house and piled up.

Trustee Helmsen of the Finance Committee reported the auditing of the various demands and the purchase of a ton and a half of hay from C. E. Groat, who had removed to Los Angeles.

In the matter of the charge for the light furnished the Red Cross entertainment on Friday evening, the expense for the same amounting to $2.50, the board voted to remit the same, making it as a donation to the fund subscribed for the soldiers.

Trustee Groat brought up the matter of the old tank at the water works, stating that it might be a good idea to raise it to the level of the new tanks, and recommending that it be done at the least possible expense.

Trustee Helmsen raised the question as to the legality of Trustee Groat's continuing a member of the board. He had removed to Los Angeles with his family and household goods on Monday, and it was doubtful, in his opinion, if he could now be considered a resident of the city.

Attorney Chynoweth stated that Mr. Groat's removal might act as a bar to his participation in the deliberations of the board. The city charter says that each member of the board must be a resident of the city.

Trustee Rust said it was only a matter of a day or two, and it was rather a close question.

Mr. Chynoweth said that he did not know whether he was competent to answer the question at the present time.

Trustee Dickel thought Groat was still a resident of the city.

Trustee Groat said he still regarded himself as a resident of Anaheim. He was getting ready to remove to Los Angeles, and had moved his family and household goods to Los Angeles, but had still three loads to take up, and would be in town some few days yet.

At this point Mr. Schwenckert reverted to the tank matter, which he had ascertained would cost $150 to raise. He doubted the propriety of expending this sum of money on the old tank. Inasmuch as a new tank would cost $400, the board after further discussion decided to refer the matter to the Committee on Public Improvements for further investigation and report.

Nothing further was said as to Trustee Groat's inability to act as a member of the board, and a moment later, under the head of unfinished business, the applications of Frank Shanley and J. B. Pierce for the City Recordership came up, and were voted upon as follows:

For Shanley—Dickel, Rust, Groat.

For Pierce—Helmsen, Schwenckert.

Mr. Shanley having received a majority of the votes cast, he was duly declared elected as City Recorder for the ensuing year.

The bond of Marshal Steadman was approved.

The Clerk submitted his annual report, which was referred to the Finance Committee.

Trustee Rust brought up the matter of an electric fire alarm, which was referred to the Committee on Public Improvements. Two alarm boxes will probably be installed, one at a central point in town and the other at the West End.

Trustee Dickel brought up the matter of the sidewalk at the north corner of Henry Albrecht's property at the West End, which was in bad condition, a contiguous ditch abutting against the walk, making a bad pitfall for pedestrians.

Trustee Groat said he knew the place well, as he had fallen into it one night, and hadn't been out late either.

Trustee Helmsen said Mr. Brown of the lumber yard had at one time offered to give the lumber for a bridge over the ditch at this point, or had offered to put in the bridge if the lumber were purchased from him, and the matter was referred to the Committee on Public Improvements to investigate and report.

Trustee Schwenckert brought up the Husmann sidewalk matter, which he characterized as an eyesore. To the Public Improvements Committee.

Marshal Steadman reported the application of Messrs. Carver and Zachman for city water. Granted on condition that the applicants take the usual course, viz., paying $20 for the placing of the pipe, and taking it out in water.

The matter of the repair of the water meters was referred to the Finance Committee.

Charley Albrecht wrote from Downey complaining of a pig-pen nuisance maintained near his property on Los Angeles street. The Marshal was ordered to abate the nuisance.

Trustee Groat's resignation was read by the Clerk, and the same was accepted, and a vote of esteem passed for his efficient services while a member of the board.

Bills to the amount of $59 03 were audited and ordered paid, and the board adjourned.

THE WATER BOARD.

Ernest Browning Resigns as a Member of the Board.

The water board met in regular session on Saturday afternoon; present, Fay, Benchley, McFadden, Carpenter, Pierroti and Nebelung.

Supervisor Potter appeared before the board in reference to the removal of the ditch running a half mile through the properties of J. B. Stone and J. P. Zeyn on the county road at Fullerton. He had received numerous communications regarding the ditch, which is said to be at present in the center of the thoroughfare. In the event of the company deciding to change the location of the ditch to the side of the road and to put in a culvert, Mr. Potter stated that the county would pay half the cost of the improvement.

In this connection a petition was read, signed by numerous residents of Fullerton, requesting the board to change the position of the ditch from the middle of the thoroughfare to the side. After discussion the matter was referred to the Ditch Committee, and the attorney of the company requested to write D. E. Miles in San Francisco, original owner of the land, asking for a deed to right of way.

Engineer Sherwood submitted a neat drawing of the flume being constructed on the North Branch ditch to replace the old flume built in 1884. The flume is 92 feet in length, 18 feet high, 4 feet by 2½, and carries 1200 inches of water.

Mr. Benchley reported that work on the flume was well under way, the lumber had been purchased, new ditches being made connecting the flume with the old ditch, and the work was progressing as rapidly as possible.

Attorney Melrose rendered a written opinion relative to the ownership of a water alley running through lots C1 and D1 of the original townsite survey. A search of the records revealed that on January 2, 1860, the Los Angeles Vineyard society conveyed the alley to the Anaheim Water company, and by a deed recorded in Book 124 of Deeds, page 315, Los Angeles County Records, the same had passed into the control of the Anaheim Union Water company, which was now the lawful owner of the property. The search was made as the result of a complaint lodged with the board by Horticultural Commissioner Huntington, who complained of scale-infested orange-trees growing on the neutral strip, which none of the adjoining property owners claimed. The opinion was filed and the superintendent ordered to clean out the trees.

Mr. Nebelung stated that Mr. Kroeger, between whose property and his own the neutral strip lies, had already cut down the trees, and the superintendent was instructed to grub up the roots.

In the matter of the application of J. N. Nenno of Placentia for cementing the ditch from which he obtains water, the Ditch Committee reported, recommending that the ditch, running from the southeast corner of the Wilshire tract west to Major Klokke's orchard, be cemented, the parties in interest hauling the gravel and cement, doing all team work, including the back filling, and giving deed to the right of way. This latter has been agreed to by Mr. Nenno and the others along the route of the ditch. The ditch will be 1320 feet in length.

B. F. Porter wrote the board directing its attention to the condition of the ditch on the northwest corner of his property, which was two feet higher than his land adjacent to the ditch, and by which his walnut trees are being continually damaged by overflow. The water gates also leaked badly, having worked out in places, and gopher-holes assisted in running water upon his place, to the detriment of his trees. Mr. Porter opined that about 300 feet of cement would save money for the company and do away with the danger threatening his walnut trees by overflow. To the Ditch Committee.

A communication was received from Ernest Browning, resigning as director of the company. On motion of Mr. McFadden, seconded by Mr Carpenter, the same was accepted, and Mr. Benchley introduced the following:

Resolved, That in accepting the resignation of Mr. Ernest Browning as a member of the board of directors of the A. U. W. Co., we desire to express our sincere regrets that Mr. Browning feels obliged to resign his membership from the board; and we desire to express our high appreciation of his valued services heretofore rendered the company, and our sincere regard for Mr. Browning as a director and a gentleman of integrity and ability.

The resolution was adopted and ordered spread upon the minutes and a copy sent to Mr. Browning. Mr. Browning's resignation is caused by ill health.

PLACENTIA.

Dewitt Montgomery and Arthur Staley arrived from Stanford last Saturday. Tom McFadden will follow this week.

Mrs. J. B. McCullough of Los Angeles is visiting at A. Pierroti's.

A. S. Bradford and wife visited at Santa Ana last week.

Election came off today for bonding the district for $2500 to improve and add another story to the school house. The bonds carried, there being 22 votes cast—18 votes for and three against, with one blank.

George B. Key lost a valuable horse recently.

The recent rains did a lot of good to nearly all vegetation, and no particular damage.

A large number of the school children are down with measles.

A great number of our people will take in the Independent Order of Foresters' picnic at Newport Beach on Saturday next. Excursion rates are given by the railroad.

George B. Key's team, loaded with packed oranges, met with an accident on Saturday last, the wagon being overturned and badly smashed.

Miss Maggie Strain and Miss Waitie Woodward are down with measles.

Maj. E. F. C. Klokke was down to his ranch from Los Angeles on Saturday last.

Miss East will leave in a few days for a visit to Nebraska and Illinois.

Ed. Crowther will leave shortly for Boston to study music under a noted professor.

—Pursuant to a call issued by the Free Silver Republicans of Orange County, a meeting was held at Santa Ana on Saturday, May 21st, with Dr. M. A. Menges chairman. The object, as stated in the call for the meeting, was read by I. D. Mills, secretary, and a permanent organization was effected by the election of M. L. Lane, chairman, and Herbert Crooks, secretary. A committee of three was appointed to assist the chairman in selecting a county central committee, as follows: D. C. Pixley, Geo. Wilton and Geo. E. Morgan. The chairman was directed to appoint a committee of five to confer with like committees of Democrats and Populists regarding the union of forces. The following committee was appointed: Dr. M. A. Menges, chairman, Santa Ana; D. C. Pixley, Orange; David Cobau, Tustin; E. C. Mitchell, Garden Grove; and Frank Stone, Anaheim.

The young people of the Presbyterian church give a gramophone concert and social this evening at the Del Campo hotel.

Kleinigkeiten.

—The streets are being cleaned of weeds.

—The balmiest weather is the order of the time.

—Advices from many sections in the county report the deciduous fruit crop turning out to be unusually large and of a very fine quality.

—An interesting letter from our correspondent with the soldiers at the Presidio will be found upon the first page.

—The ladies' aid of the Presbyterian church will meet this afternoon (Thursday) at the home of Mrs. Fay. All members and their friends are invited to attend.

—The Directors of the Deciduous Fruit Association will meet on Saturday at the City Hall, and will talk over the walnut situation. All walnut growers interested are invited to be present. Meeting at 2 o'clock.

—The annual election for School Trustee of the Anaheim School district will be held at the Central Schoolhouse on Friday, June 30. The polls will be open from 8 o'clock until sunset. Dr. Gardiner is the outgoing trustee.

—The playing of the band at Friday evening's entertainment was very favorably commented upon on all sides. There is no doubt Prof. Whann is giving Anaheim some of the best brass band music we have ever heard.

—The schools will be out on Monday in honor of Decoration day. The children of the city, West Anaheim, Katella and Fullerton schools will attend the memorial services at the cemetery here in the afternoon at 2:30.

—A number of large boxes of cakes, fruit, preserved fruit and jellies were shipped to the soldier boys of Company L at the Presidio by the patriotic citizens of Anaheim on Tuesday. The soldier boys have a warm place in the hearts of those who remain at home.

—Anaheim has sent $109.70 to the soldier boys at the Presidio, $84.70 to the Red Cross, derived from the entertainment of Friday evening, and $25 contributed the boys of Company L by the Odd Fellows. How is that for high for a patriotic record?

—Memorial services will be held in Christ Church, Los Alamitos, on Sunday next, the 29th. The sermon will be preached by the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Hill. All veterans and their friends are requested to be present. Services begin at 11 a. m. Bring lunch baskets. Hot coffee will be served in the lecture room.

—The Turners and band boys are making great preparations for their picnic to be held in Santiago canyon on Sunday, June 5th. This will be the first formal picnic at the Santiago park, and the boys have determined to make the day memorable. The band will discourse its sweetest music under the umbrageous forest of the primeval grove, and the active section of the Turners will compete in athletic exercises, in which everybody will be invited to take part. Dances at the pavilion and refreshments of all kinds will be served. There will probably be an attendance of thousands from all over the county.

Charley Norman drove up to Los Angeles a day or two ago, and during his journeyings about the city drove his wagon in front of the Studebaker wagon establishment. Charley purchased a Studebaker wagon about a year ago, and recently one of the wheels began squeaking in an odd manner, although the wheel seemed to be perfectly sound. The president of the wagon company happened to be in the office at Los Angeles, and Charley called his attention to the squeak in the wheel. Mr. Studebaker ordered the house to present our fellow-townsman with a new set of four wheels, and Charley now drives his rig around on them. He is sorry he didn't tell Mr. Studebaker his whole wagon squeaked, and then get a new outfit, and a span of horses,

—The Fullerton High School baseball team met their first defeat at their grounds last Saturday, when they crossed bats with the Red Stars, who won by a score of 18 to 12. The school put up a hard game for the Stars, who had to import two pitchers to defeat them, one from Los Angeles and the other from Santa Ana. Saturday the school team with play with the Westminsters, the former champions of the county.

Umpire—Peters of Santa Ana.

—The Orange County Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance company was organized at Santa Ana on Saturday afternoon when some twenty-five farmers from El Modena, Orange, Fullerton, Garden Grove and Westminster were present to assist in the company. The organization was made under a provision of the statutes which authorizes farmers to unite for the purpose of mutual insurance. A canvass of those interested in the movement revealed the fact that there was represented insurable property to the value of $57,000, divided among about fifty persons. The law requires that there shall be at least $50,000 worth of property and twenty-five persons, so the conditions were considered favorable for incorporation. Articles of incorporation were adopted and the following men elected as a board of directors: A. Barrows, Fullerton; F. D. Reed, Garden Grove; H. Larter, Westminster; N. H. Leonard, Bolsa; E. W. Crowell, Orange; Thomas Nicholson, Villa Park; W. A. Beckett, Garden Grove. A committee was appointed to secure the signatures of the members to the articles of incorporation, and will report at another meeting to be called by the secretary.

—A new county liquor ordinance was adopted by the Board of Supervisors on Monday. The ordinance places the license per annum at $200, instead of $300. The penalty clause was changed from a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $200, or 200 days in the county jail, to not more than six months in jail or a fine of not more than $500. The discretionary clause of the old ordinance, which gave the board power to refuse to grant a license, which was declared illegal by Judge Shaw of the Los Angeles Superior Court some weeks ago, was omitted.

The board instructed the clerk to advertise for bids for the $9000 worth of Laurel school district bonds, the bids to be opened June 8th, at 10 a.m.

Bids for the $1500 worth of Fountain Valley school district bonds were received from the Oakland Bank of Savings at $43 premium, with accrued interest, and from Isaac Springer at $25.65 premium. The bid from the Oakland bank was accepted.

An opinion of the District Attorney was received relative to the claim of Adam Brandel for rebate on liquor license, and the demand was denied.

—The Orange Belt lodge, I. O. F., of Fullerton will give an excursion and picnic to Newport on Saturday and have engaged the Anaheim brass band to accompany them on the trip. The train will leave on the regular 9:50 Santa Fe, and return at 5:10 in the evening. The lodge invites all Foresters and others to participate in the excursion.

—Anaheim Lodge, No. 199, I. O. O. F., held its regular meeting on Tuesday night, and as the members were bubbling over with patriotism, the atmosphere of the lodge room was soon charged with red, white and blue, as a result of patriotic speeches made by the members. To show that their patriotism was of a substantial kind, the lodge donated $25 to the Red Cross Society of California, and that amount was ordered to be forwarded immediately to Red Cross headquarters at San Francisco.

—Next Monday being the last Monday in the month, is the day when the regular meeting of the Farmers' Club should occur. However, as the inauguration of the cannery has so absorbed the time and attention of many of the members (the cannery being an outgrowth of the discussions held by the club), it has been thought advisable, inasmuch as an important meeting of the cannery directors is scheduled for that day, to defer the meeting of the club for a month.

—While Al Smith was cultivating his orchard in Placentia the other day, driving a four-horse team, he encountered a swarm of bees which had settled on a limb of a tree. The bees stung the horses and they started to run, with the heavy cultivator dangling at their heels. Al abandoned his hold of the lines when he saw he could not hold the horses and let them go. The team ran around the orchard and were finally overtaken and stopped. The damage was nominal, and Al considered he had a lucky escape from what at one time threatened to be a bad runaway.

—Decoration day will be observed by the citizens of this city, in connection with the G. A. R. post of Fullerton and the citizens of that town, in the usual time-honored fashion on Monday afternoon next. The G. A. R. and the W. R. C. will start from Fullerton, headed by the Fullerton brass band, and attended by the school children and citizens of that place, at 2 p.m. Arriving here on Lemon street, at the corner of Center, at 2:30, they will be met by the Anaheim brass band and school children of the city, West Anaheim and Katella schools, and all patriotic citizens. The march will then be taken up to the cemetery, where the time-honored patriotic exercises will take place. C. C. Chapman of Los Angeles will deliver the oration. Following the exercises, which will consist beside the oration of music and singing of a patriotic character, will come the decoration of the graves of the soldier dead—North and South. A cordial invitation is extended all to participate in the memorial services. In time of war let a reunited country place loving emblems of remembrance upon the graves of the soldiers who have answered the last roll-call in the skies.

Capt. Henry Glass, commanding the cruiser Charleston, now steaming across the Pacific to join Dewey, comes from Golconda, Ill., the same town that our townsman Wm. Schwenckert hails from. Mr. Schwenckert knows Capt. Glass's father and sister very well, but never had the pleasure of meeting the Captain, the latter having grown up and gone to Annapolis before his time. Miss Glass is cashier in the Golconda bank, and her father is familiarly referred to as "Uncle Henry Glass," and, so Schwenckert says, is the greatest man to go fishing you ever saw. Golconda also furnishes the Secretary of State for Illinois, and as it has also furnished a City Trustee for Anaheim, we do not see how there can be very much left, excepting Capt. Glass's father and sister, and Schwenckert's folks. The Charleston will be a powerful addition to Admiral Dewey's fleet, and all hands hope that her gallant Captain may bring her safely into port and give a good account of his vessel when (if that should be necessary) it goes into action.

—On Thursday afternoon about 3 o'clock the overhead shafting and wheels at Fleischmann's cold-storage establishment gave way and fell with a crash to the floor, narrowly missing the head of Carl Eifler, who was at work in the front shop, but who ran to the cold-storage room to stop the machinery immediately on hearing the rattle of the shafting, indicating its loosened condition from the bolts in the ceiling. A step or two from the intervening door, the shafting, with its wheels and belting, fell to the floor, a few inches in front of him. He leaped over the shaft, and going to the engine shut off the power and brought the engine to a stop. A hurried survey disclosed the fact that the shaft had worked its way loose from the bolts in the ceiling, narrowly escaping a serious if not fatal accident to Mr. Eifler. Mr. Fleischmann, who was at the Opera-house painting the battleship Maine for Friday evening's entertainment, was notified, and Carpenter Jones was put to work to repair the damage. A piece of the ceiling was taken out and timbers put in to strengthen the fastenings to the shaft, which was replaced along toward 10 o'clock at night, and has since been operating to perfection.

—Three weeks ago Tuesday Nick Hugo, Herman Backs and Bob Mills started out on a hunting and fishing expedition to Bear valley. The boys returned last week with quite a story of adventure to tell. On Monday of last week Nick started out to hunt squirrels. He started up a deer, which he followed for about five miles, finally killing it. He threw it over his shoulder and walked, as he thought, toward camp for an hour, when darkness came on and he became satisfied he had been going in the wrong direction. He made a fire and toasted a juicy limb of a mountain squirrel for supper. Four inches of snow fell during the night, and Nick was in anything but a comfortable position. Next morning he started out to find the camp, but after walking in the forest all day long, night overtook him again and he was forced to sleep on the ground without shelter. No snow fell this night, and early the next morning, after partaking of a sumptuous repast of broiled squirrel leg and pure mountain water, of which there was a plenty in the creeks, he sat out again to locate the camp. Toward noon he located the city of San Bernardino, where he arrived at 6 o'clock in the evening, having traveled in a circuitous route probably 75 miles.

The other boys had become alarmed at Nick's long absence from camp and went in search of him. They climbed a high hill and shot their guns and called, but received no answer. After hunting all of Tuesday they decided to return and give the alarm, being informed by a mountaineer at the toll gate that Nick had probably struck out onto the desert. At Riverside Bob remained with the team, while Herman started for home on the train, arriving here on Friday.

A telephone message from Nick, who had just arrived at San Bernardino, was received by Joe Fritzie a few minutes before Herman walked into the shop with his tale of the lost boy. Telegrams were sent both boys, and they returned the following day.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Henry Burdort was in town on Tuesday afternoon on a short pasear.

Governor Whitaker was in town from Buena Park Saturday afternoon.

Napoleon Hart and wife and Mrs. Metz spent Sunday at Laguna beach.

John Hartung and H. A. Dickel went up to Los Angeles yesterday on a short business trip.

Dick Callahan came in from Randsburg yesterday afternoon for a short stay.

Rev. Stone will preach a memorial sermon at the Presbyterian church on Sunday morning.

Louis Gleichner and Miss Louisa Bonkesky of this neighborhood have been granted a license to marry.

County Superintendent Greeley was over from Santa Ana on Tuesday, on a short business mission.

Mr. Storm has rented the Kellogg residence on Broadway and will take up his abode there with his family.

Lloyd Bailey and wife and child came down from Los Angeles one day last week to visit with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Case of Los Angeles has been visiting in town during the week, the guest of her sister, Mrs. L. F. Lewis.

Miss Alice Chevalier was down from Los Angeles during the week, visiting with her sister, Mrs. Hartung.

Dr. Bullard came down from Los Angeles on Saturday afternoon to spend a day or two with relatives and friends.

J. T. Johnson, formerly section boss on the Southern Pacific here, has been appointed foreman of the gravel force operating on the Tustin branch.

Mrs. G. Bruitt of Alameda, cousin of the Misses Zeyn, and her little daughter arrived on Tuesday on a visit to her relatives and will remain a month.

Ora Sprague, formerly of Fullerton, has joined a marine band and will leave with the troops in a few days for the Philippines.

David Smythe is home on a short visit from Bloomington, San Bernardino county, where he is in the employ of the Southern Pacific railroad.

Mr. Newman has received a letter from his son Arthur, who is with the troops at the Presidio. Arthur writes that the Anaheim boys are all tenting together, and are having a way-up time.

Dr. H. W. Head, the well-known resident of Garden Grove, suffered a severe stroke of paralysis some days ago, and for a time was in a precarious condition. At last reports he was improving.

Tom McFadden was looked for to arrive yesterday from Stanford to spend the summer vacation with his family at Placentia. Arthur Staley and Dewitt Montgomery returned to their homes at Placentia from Stanford some days ago.

Mr. Kennedy, who is in charge of operations at the cannery, has a force of carpenters at work remodeling and renovating the Germain packing house at the Santa Fe depot, for which a lease has been signed for two years, with a privilege of a three-year renewal.

Miss Ada Hervey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hervey of Santa Ana, was married on Sunday morning at 8 o'clock to A. R. Bowdry of Plummerville, Ark. Immediately after the ceremony they departed for their future home in Arkansas.

A. M. Williams yesterday shipped by express to A. D. Porter, at the Presidio, the latter's alto horn. Porter has joined the Seventh Regiment band, and when he gets to Manila he proposes to show the natives how to toot a horn. Here's looking to you, Porter!

Judge Pierce, besides coming from the same State that Dewey hails from, is an old schoolmate of Norman Williams, father of Miss Laura Williams, whose engagement to Maj.-Gen. Merritt of the United States army was announced in Chicago the other day. The judge went to school with him at Woodstock, Vt., and remembers him well.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Farquhar of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Johnson of Long Beach, drove down from their respective homes to spend Friday, Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Passmore of Olive. Mr. Farquhar, who is Mr. Passmore's brother-in-law, is city editor of the Los Angeles Express. He has not been in this county for a year or more, and finds many and extensive improvements, especially in the vicinity of Anaheim.

Miss Teresa Pryor and Miguel Yorba were married on Sunday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents at San Juan Capistrano. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father O'Keefe. The bride is a niece of Don Marcus A. Forster, and is prominent in social circles at her home. A large number of the newly-married couple's friends gathered at the depot and showered rice on them as the afternoon train pulled out. Mr. and Mrs. Yorba will remain in Los Angeles for a few days before returning home.

C. E. Groat on Monday removed with his family to Los Angeles, where he will in future reside. Mr. Groat has lived in Anaheim for fourteen years, and has during that time occupied positions of public trust, having been elected a member of the City Trustees and Constable. Latterly he has entered the cement contracting business, and moves to Los Angeles for the purpose of embracing the advantages of a larger scene of activity. We are sorry to have him depart from amongst us, and hope that the full mead of prosperity may attend him in his new home.

Maj. C. D. Ball, surgeon of the Seventh Regiment, who was detailed to take command of Company L until a permanent organization could be effected, has received late orders from Maj. M. T. Owens in regard to recruits for the United States army. Major Owens is acting assistant adjutant-general and sends out an order instructing Major Ball to give notice that First Lieutenant A. Skerritt of the Third U. S. Artillery will be in Los Angeles to recruit men for the service. All able-bodied men who desire to enlist in the army will be given a chance to meet the recruiting officer. It is presumed that men are wanted for the artillery service, although recruits for the infantry may also be wanted. Lieutenant Skerritt is now in Los Angeles.

Charley Bauer and Dolph Luedke went down to the Landing on Sunday on a fishing expedition. They threw out a trow line about 1000 feet in length and hauled in 65 pounds of fish. This is the best haul of the season.

Miss Rector treated the children of her room to a picnic in Santiago canyon on Saturday. Mr. McWilliams drove Gade's 'bus and Bobby Rimpau drove a spring wagon. Miss Rector and Mrs. Cahen chaperoned the young folks.

Mrs. B. Webb, mother of E. E. Webb, died at the residence of her son at West Anaheim on Wednesday of last week, aged 78 years. Death was due to a complication of disorders consequent upon an attack of la grippe. The remains were taken to Los Angeles on Thursday for interment.

Addison Dyer went out on Tuesday to superintend the job of cutting the hay on his brother Harry's 160-acre field on the Tuffree ranch. Harry will have quite a crop of hay on this tract, and has rigged up his mower with a new apparatus that will not let a guilty straw escape.

A. H. Cargill returned some days ago from New York, after an absence of upwards of a month. He was 21 days in the metropolis, and never saw the sun once during that time. He informs us that business is going ahead in the city despite the war, but that the town is gaily decorated with patriotic colors from one end to the other.

Madame Modjeska begins a brief season at the Burbank theatre in Los Angeles on June 13, presenting "Adrienne Lecouvreur," "Mary Stuart," "Magda," and "Camille." The Madame's health is entirely restored, and her friends look forward to a very successful season.

Will Mitchell of Pasadena, who enlisted as a private in the Seventh Regiment, was dishonorably discharged by Colonel Berry at the Presidio one day last week, for conduct unbecoming a soldier. He was ordered out of the lines, but on his return was arrested and placed in the guardhouse.

Dave Yorba was in town the other day and reports crops looking fairly well up his way. Sheep business is not looking so promising as it might, and wool will be high. Dave foresaw the dry spell coming on some months ago, as he is quite a weather prophet, and has a large barn filled with hay. In 1887-88 we had a dry season and Dave thinks local history repeats itself about every ten years and consequently looked for a scarcity of rain this season. For the next ensuing several years, in his opinion, we shall have plenty of rainfall.

Mrs. Gus Hansen of Orangethorpe, acting under patriotic impulses that are worthy of commendation, donated a handsome cushion and piano-scarf at the Red Cross entertainment on Friday evening to be raffled for the purpose of swelling the amount raised to be forwarded to the Red Cross Society. Mrs. Hansen's liberal act was heartily applauded on the part of all, and the articles are now on exhibition at Stern Brothers' store, to be raffled at 10 cents a chance. The beauty of the articles is being extolled on all sides, and tickets for the raffle are going off like hot cakes.

Herman Stern put in a week in Los Angeles, assisting in the marking down of the stock of goods purchased by Stern & Goodman in that city a fortnight ago, and when he returned on Saturday evening brought with him one of the latest novelties, in the shape of an electric scarfpin. By "pressing the button" a tiny pencilling of electric light is made to flash in the glass scarfpin attached to the neckwear. It is necessary to carry a battery around with one, in order to turn on the light, and this Herman carries in his vest pocket. Herman is a great boy.

Miss Alice Mason of Buena Park, daughter of Mrs. Isabella Mason of that place, was joined in wedlock at 7 o'clock on Wednesday morning, May 18th, at the family residence, to Carl A. Anslyn of Los Angeles, Rev. Fields of the First Methodist Church of Buena Park officiating. The bride was becomingly attired in a handsome traveling suit. The room was prettily decorated with orange blossoms, La France roses and honeysuckles. The happy couple left on the 8 o'clock train for a week's honeymoon at Catalina. After June 1st they will be at home at their residence, 2809 East Fourth street, Los Angeles. The hearty good wishes of their many friends go with them.

Mr. Neff informs us that the result of the meeting of deciduous fruit growers in Los Angeles last week was the formation of the Southern California deciduous fruit exchange, composed of some twenty associations. Another meeting will be held as soon as the incorporation papers are returned from Sacramento, when the method of disposing of the fruit crop—whether by f. o. b. sales or through Eastern agents or both—will be acted upon and a plan adopted.

The walnut growers, who met the following day, formed a central exchange, Fullerton and Rivera, however, remaining out for the present, but both agree to co-operate for the maintenance of prices. Another meeting will be held June 10th, when it is hoped to embrace all the associations in the exchange. Mr. Neff informs us that it will cost the walnut growers $30,000 in commissions for marketing the coming season's walnut crop if the sale of the crop be left to the middlemen; whereas if the growers combine and market their crop themselves, the cost will be less than $10,000.

—The citizens of Fullerton are making preparations for a big liberty pole raising celebration on Decoration Day. The timber for the flag pole is the same that was donated to the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce by an Oregon lumber company, but for some reason was never put up, and has been lying at Newport for several months. The timber is an Oregon pine, 130 feet in length, without a knot the entire length of it, and as straight as an arrow. At the base it is sixteen inches and at the top measures ten inches. Workmen have dressed, tapered and rounded the pole from the base, and it will be set in a cement foundation. When erected it will be one of the highest flag poles in Southern California.

SEWARD'S COSTLY DISPATCH.

The Bill Was $15,000, and One of the Results Was the Fall of Maximilian.

It was during our own serious troubles in the early sixties that France and Austria undertook to plant an empire on this continent in the neighboring State of Mexico. Although warned off by our State Department, American diplomatic methods seem never to inspire any particular amount of awe in European foreign offices. In this case they were simply ignored, and the two allied powers continued their work of setting up an Emperor in the land of Montezuma. However, with the ending of our war and the readjustment of our own internal affairs, attention was again directed to what was going on in Mexico against the avowed wishes and policy of the American Government.

At this period Napoleon and Eugenie were dazzling the world with the splendor of the court of the second empire. A great number of our own people from all sections of the country were residing in Paris, to which city it was jokingly said, "all good Americans wanted to go after death." Americans were in evidence at all the brilliant fetes of the empire. The elegance of their residence, the lavish expenditure of money, and the brilliance and fascination of the women from this side of the Atlantic made our country people important social factors. The American colony in Paris as an organization dates from this period.

At the height of this happy state of affairs Secretary Seward's dispatch notifying the imperial Government that Mexico must be evacuated came like the proverbial thunderclap out of a cloudless sky. That dispatch yet holds a place in France's official memory. The cable was almost in its infancy, and communication through it was very costly. Secretary Seward did not economize his words, but talked as fluently and went into as many details as though he were seated at a table opposite the French Minister of Foreign Affairs.

The dispatch cost $15,000. If Napoleon III. had been skeptical before as to the intention of the United States, Seward's coolness in holding a conversation at such a price convinced the Emperor and his ministers that the American Government would stand by what the Secretary said, and France came to the conclusion to let Maximilian "go it alone" as Emperor of Mexico.

The withdrawal of the French troops was ordered, and this led directly to Maximilian's tragic death at Queretaro in June, 1867. The Emperor did not pretend to disguise his chagrin at the failure to establish a monarchial Government in America. On July 4 following the execution of Maximilian some American gentlemen in Paris made all arrangements to celebrate the national festival by a grand dinner. But the banquet was never given, the Emperor formally and arbitrarily forbidding it.

Up to this time the Americans who spent immense sums of money in Paris were warmly received at the Tuileries, and in fact encouraged to come, for nothing more contributed to the stability of the empire than keeping the shopkeepers of Paris in good humor and plenty of American gold circulating throughout France. Under such conditions the Emperor was at liberty to run the country as he pleased.

After Secretary Seward's costly dispatch had had its result—not only in the withdrawal of French troops from Mexico, but in a diminution of Louis Napoleon's prestige—the glories of the American colony at the imperial court began to wane. Since then only on extraordinary occasions does it exhibit any of its old-time, empire-period brilliancy. Under the new dispensation of republican Government it is a matter of such difficulty for an American to get an invitation to the Elysee as to be hardly worth the trouble incurred.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

PRIZES AND PRIZE COURTS.

How the Spoils of a Captured Enemy's Ship are Apportioned.

Any ship of the enemy may be made a prize on the high seas, even though it belongs to private citizens.

The question of the legality of prizes taken is settled by a specially organized prize court.

The prize court now in session at Key West is composed of three judges appointed by the president.

The sentence of the prize court is conclusive upon all the world. The original owners of a prize seized and condemned have no appeal from its decisions.

One-half of the value of all prizes captured by the navy goes to the government.

One-twentieth of one-half the value of all prizes captured goes to the commander of the fleet to which the captors belong.

After deducting the fleet commander's twentieth and the fleet captain's one hundredth share of the half of the prize reserved to the captors the remainder goes to the men and officers of the capturing ships, being divided among them in proportion to the amount of their regular pay.

All vessels of the navy within signaling distance of the vessel or vessels making a capture and ready to render efficient aid if required, share in the prize.

When a vessel is captured, the commanding officer of the vessel making the capture is required to put her in charge of a prize officer and crew to take her into port.

If a captured vessel and cargo are not taken for the use of the government, in which case the captors are paid their due shares by the government, the prize is sold at auction.

The five inch gun is the largest to which the rapid fire action has been applied in the United States navy. With a gun of greater caliber one man could not easily handle the cartridge.

VOICE OF THE PRESS.

RAIN IMPROVES THE BEETS.

From the Chino Champion, May 20.

Had this week's rain come a month earlier it would have increased the planting of beets on the Chino ranch 3000 acres. As it is, it has been a glorious rain, a blessing to the country and of immense benefit to our agricultural interests.

A number of fields of beets have been planted this week on the strength of the rain, and in many other fields in which the seed was lying dormant the green rows of young beets are already seen.

It is estimated that this rain will increase the acres of good stand by 500 and the total yield on the Chino ranch by 10,000 tons. This increase comes not only from the new planting, but from every acre already planted. On a large acreage considered doubtful of any crop at all, a good crop is now assured, and on a very large part of the acreage planted the yield will be doubled. There are scarcely any fields on which the yield will not be increased by this rain. The ground is well soaked, and the cloudy, damp weather since the rain has caused the moisture to go down deeper, and there has been little or no loss by evaporation. All in all, the prospect for a beet crop has improved nearly 50 per cent in the past six days.

ORANGE SOCIETY ITEM.

From the Post.

The Bloomer Social was a "blooming fake" as some one good naturedly remarked. Those who attended it expecting to see a bevy of dames and damsels in abbreviated costumes were disappointed, for the "bloomers" were only bright flowers arranged in tasteful bouquets, surely the most modest and charming of "bloomers."

Naval Terms.

Docking a ship—The practice of cutting its steering apparatus squarely in the middle for the purpose of enabling the vessel to jump over a torpedo without catching on it.

The hull of a ship—A mispronunciation for whole.

The magazine—A periodical in which the officers publish their grievances against the management of the navy. It often contains very hot stuff; hence the danger of explosions.

Coal bunkers—Those members of the crew who for lack of other accommodations are obliged to sleep on the coal.

A protected cruiser—A ship which is navigated by an officer who knows how to keep her from running aground.

The port side—That part of the ship where the wine is stored.

The boiler room—A place where certain unfortunate members of the crew are boiled.—Buffalo Express.

Saves the Trouble of Washing.

"Oh," said the barber who was giving his testimony at the statehouse one day recently, "you must remember that when a man is giving a customer a shampoo he is at the same time giving his own hands a wash." Which recalls the domestic who liked to mix up the dough for the bread because, as she explained, it did take the grime out of one's hands so.—Boston Transcript.

His Contempt.

"I thought," said Dawkins, "that you said you didn't think much of Bradbury as a pianist, and here you have taken a box for his recital."

"I didn't know," answered Morley, "a better way to show my contempt for him as a musician than by taking a box and leaving it empty on the evening of his recital."—Harper's Bazar.

It is absurd to say that wealth is a thing of such a kind that a man with plenty of it around him may perish with hunger, like Midas in the fable, who, from his insatiable wish, found everything before him turned into gold. —Aristotle.

New Use For Candles.

The subject of "candles" has disturbed the equanimity of more than one American in Europe. To pay for a whole candle when only a small portion of it has been burned is sufficient to rouse the ire of the meekest and most enduring. One of our American consuls to Belgium tells an amusing story of a New York man who found a new use for this much discussed article.

A New Yorker was shown to a room in a hotel in Brussels, where he found 20 candles stuck in a chandelier in the center. As it was dark the attendant lighted them all, but the guest had been in European hotels before and made him put them out immediately.

This was of no avail, however. In his bill next day he found them charged, "20 candles, 10 francs" ($2).

He went back to the room and took them all out, wrapped them in a bit of paper and slipped them into his overcoat pocket.

When he was about to leave the house, he found the servants drawn up in two lines in the hall, in the European style—ten menservants on one side, ten maidservants on the other, all smiling and ready for the expected tip. Then he drew out his package and distributed the candles, one to each.

"Allow me, monsieur," said he, with a bow; "permit me, madam. They are very superior candles, I assure you. I paid 10 cents apiece for them," and he left them all staring at the candles like so many altar boys.

The Charleston is well on her way to Manila. The big cruiser passed through the Golden Gate at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning, after having been anchored in the stream all night. She adjusted her compasses at an early hour, and then passed up the bay, past the docks on the northern frontage of the city. Every steam vessel in the harbor blew au revoir to Capt. Glass and his crew. None of the forts in the harbor saluted the vessel, but the demonstration made by the 6000 soldiers gathered at the Presidio was tremendous. When the vessel was sighted coming down the bay, the soldiers gathered on the beach to bid her bon voyage. They lined the beach for a mile, and cheer upon cheer rang out from the men who are to soon follow the Charleston to the scene of Admiral Dewey's triumph. The Charleston's big siren answered the boys on the beach time and again, and the whistling was heard from one end of the city to the other. Never has a war vessel leaving the harbor received such a send off as was given the Charleston, which was the first of the American fleet to be built on the Pacific coast. She was launched from the Union Iron Works ten years ago, and was one of the "nest eggs" of the present American navy.

Severe on Women Lawyers.

Emma Walker Herr gives the following apologue in The Philistine: "Once at the gate of a great city, to which only good people were admitted, sat the gatekeeper, a wise old man, whom for convenience we will call St. Peter. Along came a lawyer, who said, 'St. Peter, may I come in?'

"'No,' said the good old man, 'no lawyers can ever enter here.'

"He of the green bag turned sorrowfully away and sat down by the wayside to await further developments. Just down the road, tripping along, with a little red umbrella over her head, came a female disciple of Blackstone, wearing a smile intended to vanquish all argument and act as a password to the beautiful city. Of course St. Peter let her in. The poor man on the outside straightway headed for the gate again and demanded of St. Peter that he should show cause. 'You just let that woman in—and she's a lawyer from Ann Arbor.'

"'Oh,' said St. Peter, with a tired smile, 'the woman is not a lawyer. She only thinks herself one.' And he rapped the lawyer over the head with a big key and bade him begone."

A Busy Woman.

Mrs. Arthur C. Peck of Denver is the executive of four incorporated institutions—the Haymarket Haven, on Broadway, a home for young girls, where they are taught useful arts and are fitted to become domestics; the Belle Lenox nursery, a spacious building with large yard, a refuge for little ones; the Working Girls' home, where working girls find a home when newly arrived in the city or when thrown out of employment, and the Colorado Conference Deaconess home, just incorporated. The Rocky Mountain Advocate says, "Absolutely free from ostentation, officiousness or self seeking, reticent and timid, Mrs. Peck bears all these enterprises in detail and conducts them without friction." The right of suffrage evidently does not absorb all her energies or necessitate the abandonment of charitable work, as we are told would be the case. Mr. Peck is much interested in his wife's work and contributes liberally to all her benevolent institutions.

The Postmaster at Dyea.

Clara H. Richards, the postmaster at Dyea, Alaska, refuses to deliver the mails for more than two persons to any one individual waiting in line at the official window. There is a line several hundred feet long in front of the office all day, and to stop the whole line to wait for any one person to call for a list of names amounting sometimes to 600 and even 1,000 from the outlying camps would be a hardship to the general public. She also limits the sale of stamps to 25 or 50 cents' worth to one person, as it is impossible to keep a supply on hand, and private speculators getting possession of them charge as high as 25 cents each. Miss Richards adds that the assistance given her thus far in conducting the affairs of the office has been entirely voluntary and that as a result of the enlarged business her bond has been increased from $500 to $7,000 without increase of pay.—Boston Woman's Journal.

The First Woman Aeronaut.

The first American woman aeronaut, Mrs. Lucretia B. Hubbell of Norwich, Conn., is still living, and has a thrilling story to tell of her adventure at Easton, Pa., 43 years ago, witnessed by several thousand people. Mrs. Hubbell was then unmarried and a lecturer on phrenology. She decided on an aerial flight "for pleasure and expansion of the lungs," to say nothing of a good advertisement. The balloon was a fine and large one of silk and shot up so rapidly into the cold air that the aeronaut's hands were benumbed. While she was opening the bags of ballast with her teeth the balloon burst. By a strange chance the fragments formed a perfect parachute and drifted 11 miles farther, landing with a hard bump in a New Jersey clover field. The daring young woman escaped without a scratch and had an immense audience at her lecture that night.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Women In the Churches.

Lady Tennyson, Mrs. Wilberforce and more than a thousand other influential churchwomen in England petitioned convocation that women should be eligible to serve on the new parish church councils, as they already are to serve on the secular parish councils. The lower house of convocation recommended that the petition be granted, but the bishops have decided that no women shall sit in the church councils, except those women who are churchwardens. These will be members ex-officio.

Mme. Martin on Woman's Rights.

Mme. Maria Martin, editor of the Journal des Femmes, Paris, says: "The liberty that man claims for himself is not the right of one sex. The sun shines for all. Woman, as well as man, has the right to follow her vocation, to cure the sick, to make the studies necessary for her to plead the cause of the innocent when her talents inspire her with the character for such a course. Shakespeare's picture of Portia was not simply imaginative; it was prophetic."

A Question of Name.

A woman notary public was recently married at Denver, and the question arose as to what name she should sign in her official capacity. The matter was referred to the attorney general of Colorado, who decided that she should continue to sign her maiden name, inasmuch as he could find no authority of law for her dropping it.

The Status of Cut Glass.

There is a decided tendency to replace the white cut glass long used on fashionable tables with the French gold and white. This does not mean that cut glass is banished or even put in the background very seriously, but rather that in the desire for a change something else has come to the fore.

One Girl's Story.

This is an occurrence in the life of a young girl who had a near approach to death, and of the marvelous manner in which she was rescued.

Eighteen years ago Miss Mabel Shields was born in Chicago.

The most remarkable fact about her is, that she is alive to-day, living with her mother at 4846 West Congress Street, and enjoying excellent health.

Two years ago she commenced to fail, a number of complications setting in, incident to budding womanhood.

Her experience and sufferings during those two years were not only distressing but terrible. At last, utterly discouraged, she found relief and perfect health.

Her own story relating this experience will be a matter of great interest to hundreds of young women who are passing through the same period of life fraught with danger and death.

Miss Shields said: "Two years ago I commenced to fail in health. At first I did not pay much attention to my failing health, thinking I would mend shortly.

"I grew worse week after week till I became so bad that I was obliged to receive medical treatment.

"I went to the best hospital here for six weeks, but was not benefited.

"I had a terrible throbbing in my head day and night: my whole system was on the verge of a nervous collapse, and for weeks I could not sleep. I then went to a famous eye and ear infirmary.

"The physician there believed at first that something was growing in my ear, but after receiving treatment from him some time, finally told me there was no such growth, but it was purely a case of extreme nervousness and bad state of the blood. He was not able to give me any relief.

"I lost all color, had no good blood, and when I held up my hands you could almost see through them. I was so weak that I could not walk up stairs.

"I was completely discouraged, for the physical state I was in was deplorable.

"One of my friends suggested that I take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, which I finally did.

"After having used the pills in one box I felt much better. I kept taking the pills and grew stronger each week, my nervousness decreased and I regained flesh and health.

"After I had taken the fifth box of pills I did not have any throbbing in my head and I was as strong as I had ever been.

"To-day I have a healthy color, a good appetite, and the nervousness has left me. In the last two months I have gained flesh rapidly and am in perfect health.

"This marvelous change in my condition is entirely due to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I cannot say too much for them."

That there be no doubt regarding this story, Miss Shields made affidavit before Notary Public L. L. James.

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are composed of vegetable remedies that exert a powerful influence in purifying and enriching the blood. Many diseases long supposed by the medical profession to be incurable have succumbed to the potent influence of these pills. This universal remedy is sold by all druggists.

BREEDS SNAKES TO SELL.

The Peculiar Discovery Made by an Englishman In India.

The bounty given by the Indian government for snakes' heads in order to exterminate these reptiles has led to a few of the dishonest natives breeding them for a living.

An Englishman recently traveling through central India made a peculiar discovery.

In the heart of a dense jungle he came across a rude hut, and close at hand was a large pit covered with a tight fitting wooden cover. He found the occupants of the hut, two disreputable looking natives, and asked them the meaning of the peculiar pit.

They informed him that they were breeders of snakes and put them in the pit, the bottom of which was covered over with dried grass and leaves.

They kept the snakes there some six months, feeding them on all kinds of small animals and birds.

They then filled a large earthen pot with poisonous herbs, lighted it, lowered it into the pit and secured the tight fitting wooden cover, and thus smothered the reptiles.

The cover was allowed to remain on for a few days. It was then removed and the snakes were taken out by means of a long pole with a spike at the end of it.

Their heads were then cut off, and one of the rogues set out for the nearest government agency to obtain the bounty, while the other one caught fresh snakes for the pit.

The snakes very often devoured one another, but the mothers generally managed to bring up their young, though it was a marvel they bred at all in such a place, it being, one would think, contrary to their nature.—London Correspondence.

The Shah's Turkish Embassador.

His excellency Mirza Mahmoud Khan, the shah's embassador at Constantinople, holds his distinguished office upon conditions which are quite without precedent in the diplomatic world. The Lord of the Lion and the Sun does not devote a penny of his revenue to maintaining a representative at Stamboul. He has in that city about 15,000 subjects, and these are duly taxed for the purpose. Mirza Mahmoud has no reason to complain of the arrangement, for by the help of half a dozen ablebodied collectors he secures an income of about £20,000. True, he is compelled to hand over £4,000 yearly to his colleague at Vienna, but the balance enables him to live very comfortably. The contributors, however, insist upon his spending a certain amount on hospitality, and whenever he gives a dinner party to the corps diplomatique a committee of taxpayers is posted in an anteroom, whence they can satisfy themselves that their embassador does the thing in proper style and keeps up the dignity of the nation.—London Chronicle.

A Division of Recreation.

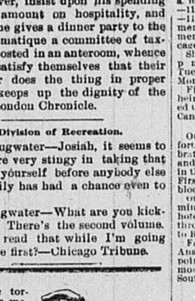
Mrs. Chugwater—Josiah, it seems to me you are very stingy in taking that new novel yourself before anybody else in the family has had a chance even to look at it.

Mr. Chugwater—What are you kicking about? There's the second volume. Can't you read that while I'm going through the first?—Chicago Tribune.



Only the tortures of the mediæval rack are comparable to the agonies which many women suffer through the peculiar weaknesses and diseases of their delicate, feminine structure. Nothing less than unbearable torment would induce sensitive-minded women to submit to the intolerable methods of the average doctor in dealing with diseases of this nature.

That there is "a better way" than these detestable "examinations" and "local applications" is a truth which some women have yet to learn, although thousands are already rejoicing in the knowledge. They have found in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the one unfailing remedy which heals feminine weaknesses at their very source. This marvelous "Prescription" restores absolute health to the internal organism; stops weakening drains and ulcerated conditions, gives elastic strength to the supporting ligaments, vitality to the nerve centers, and complete womanly vigor to the entire constitution.

It is the perfect fortifier and regulator of women at every critical period in their development; from the time when they merge into womanhood until the "change of life." It is the one medicine which makes motherhood safe and almost free from pain.

A lady living at 7 Park Avenue, Chicago, Ills., Mrs. Emily Howe, writes: "I, myself, suffered a long time from female weakness and seemed to be going into a decline. Took several bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' and it saved me from a great deal of suffering. I now enjoy perfect health and will ever praise the wonderful efficacy of your medicine."

The best popular medical book in the world is Dr. R. V. Pierce's 1000 page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser. It will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of mailing only. Address the Doctor at Buffalo, N.Y., or send 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC COMPANY

In making plans for a trip to any part of the East it is well to remember that a choice of three routes can be had over the Southern Pacific lines, viz.: Their Sunset route, Ogden route and via Portland. The Sunset line is especially adapted to winter travel, and the limited trains are during the season crowded to their full capacity with an exclusively first-class patronage.

This is the most magnificent train in America, vestibuled throughout, illuminated with Pintsch gas and heated by steam. Every train is made up as follows: One composite car, containing bath-room, barber-shop, cafe, library and smoker; one compartment car with lavatory in each compartment, and parlor for the special use of ladies, and a ladies' maid in attendance; as many double drawing room, tenso tion sleepers as may be necessary, with toilet annexes, one dining-car, meals served a la carte.

Season from November until April.

In addition to the above first-class service the Southern Pacific tourist system is positively unequalled by any competitive schedule.

Note carefully their various excursion routes, and take your choice.

Tourist sleepers leave Los Angeles as follows, viz:

Sunset route, via New Orleans, to Chicago—8:15 p. m., Tuesdays; Sunset route, via El Paso, to Chicago—8:15 a. m., Tuesdays; Sunset route, via El Paso to Chicago—8.15 a. m., Wednesday; Sunset route, via El Paso to St. Paul—8:15 a. m., Wednesday; Sunset route, via New Orleans to Washington—8:15 a. m., Thursday and Sunday; Sunset route, via New Orleans to Pittsburg—8:15 a. m., Friday; Sunset route, via New Orleans to Cincinnati—8:15 a. m., Saturday.

Ogden route: Los Angeles to Chicago—11:50 a. m., Monday; Los Angeles to Chicago—11:50 a. m., Tuesday; Los Angeles to Chicago—11:50 a. m., Wednesday; Los Angeles to Minneapolis—11:50 a. m., Thursday; Los Angeles to Chicago—11:50 a. m., Fridays; Los Angeles to Sacramento, 10:20 p. m. daily, and connect at Sacramento with a through tourist sleeper to Chicago.

Shasta route—Los Angeles to Portland, 10:20 p. m. daily; Los Angeles to St. Paul, 10:20 p. m. Tuesdays; Los Angeles to St. Paul, 10:20 p. m. Monday, only once each month.

First and second-class tickets for sale at Anaheim at Los Angeles prices, and baggage checked through to any point in the United States, Canada or Mexico.

Our local train service is unexcelled for comfort. Day coaches are equipped with the celebrated Scarritt seats, luxuriously upholstered, and passengers for Los Angeles are landed right in the center of the business part of the city—a First street or Commercial street—within a block of the large wholesale houses.

Our connection at Mojave for the famous gold mining camp of Randsburg is superb; good hotel at Mojave and elegant stage coaches through to the city of gold. Fare from Anaheim to Randsburg, $7 55.

Family commutation tickets for sale between Anaheim and Los Angeles, and other local points at greatly reduced rates. Limit, six months. For further information, call at the Southern Pacific depot at Anaheim.

AMUSING INCIDENTS.

Some amusing incidents occurred on the trip to San Francisco of volunteers who arrived from the East on Saturday. At Ogden the Minnesotans were delayed by the agent of the railroad, who refused to send out their train until they had paid $50 more a car, which the officer in charge refused to do. After some delay the men declared that they had an engineer and fireman among them, and would pull out the train themselves. The men, neither of whom had ever been on an engine before, were put in the cab, and one of them was about to pull open the throttle, when the railroad agent weakened and the train went on.

Quite an exciting scene occurred at the San Francisco ferry between the Minnesotans who had been detailed to look after the baggage, and the Colorado boys. There was a scarcity of trucks at the ferry, and strife ensued as to who was to have those that were there, each regiment being anxious to get settled at housekeeping as soon as possible. There was danger of blows when the Coloradons said to the Minnesotans, who claimed priority, "Well, take your old truck." The Minnesota men proceeded to load without delay, and, after the truck had gone away and threatening skies foreboded a downpour at no distant date, they were chagrined to find they had loaded the truck with the Colorado men's tents. It was a short time after the arrival of the Minnesotans when the Third Kansas battalion came in, and they were quickly fed. Many of these men from the prairie never saw a respectable mountain until they crossed the Rockies and were never within sight or smell of tide water before. The belated Kansans slept at Sixteenth street, Oakland, Friday night. When they went to sleep the waters of the bay were lapping the rocks of the embankment. When they awoke the tide was out and there was a wide expanse of mud. The commanding officer called to a sentry:

"Hello, where's all that water that was out there last night?"

"Darned if I know," responded the equally puzzled sentry.

Another lad from the plains had never seen a lemon. Upon receiving one at the ferry he declined to eat it and said he was "going to send it to the folks."

Cabs In Berlin.

When an American enters a cab in Berlin for the first time, he is said to be absorbed for half an hour in studying the impressive notice hung up therein for the benefit of passengers. It reads, literally translated, thus: "No passage money has the passage guest to pay, if to him not on the mounting of the cab the valid passage tickets, on height of the for a simple passage to be paid passage money, by the coachman down reached become are."—Chicago Inter Ocean.
