Easily Enough.

They were studying in the catechism about the wonderful greatness and power of God. "Can God do everything?" asked the teacher. It was generally admitted that he could. Then the teacher rather mischievously propounded a stickler perhaps as a test of faith. "Could God make two and two equal five?" he asked. The query rather startled the little girls in the class, and their faces took on a worried, puzzled expression. They had never thought of such a thing as that, and it looked as if their faith was wavering. The teacher waited with a rather amused smile on his face. Then up shot a little hand. "Well," asked the teacher, "what do you think about it?" "Yes, sir, he can," was the prompt and certain response. Now it was the teacher's turn to look surprised. "Well, how can God make two and two equal five?" "By adding one," was the triumphant answer, and the mischievous teacher couldn't dispute it.—Sioux City Journal.

"The Smallpox Devil."

The natives of the west coast of Sumatra object to be vaccinated. They still make offerings to the smallpox devil. The heart and liver of fowls and buffaloes are mixed with yellow rice and other ingredients, placed in the model of a full rigged ship, carried in procession and finally launched into the sea. —Singapore Free Press.

On a parade ground at Calcutta are several adjutants, or argalas. These birds, which belong to the stork tribe walk up and down the ground, and they look so much like soldiers that at a distance strangers often mistake them for grenadiers.

The Forum of Trajan.

A few years ago the forum of Trajan was used as a depositing place for cats which were not wanted, but as it does not present the same facilities of retreat and hiding as the forum of Augustus street boys and others took every opportunity of stoning the unfortunate animals. Finally the authorities, after many complaints, refused to allow any more cats to be thrown there, and in order to get rid of those already living in the forum presented one to each sentry box on the walls of the city. They all, however, speedily disappeared from their new homes, some returning to the foot of Trajan's column, where they were either killed by the street boys or transferred to the forum of Augustus, while others, it was whispered, were sold by the sentries for a few centimes to enterprising young medical students in search of subjects for dissection.—Rome Letter.

To Prevent Iron Rust.

Among the new and useful metallurgical processes of note the San Francisco Scientific Press speaks of one by which iron may be effectively protected from rust. In this a solution of ferrocyanide is mixed with a flaxseed varnish to which has been added a small quantity of turpentine or benzol. The evaporation of the alcohol leaves the flaxseed varnish, which forms a coat and protects the cyanide of iron, the same being deposited upon the metal by the use of the ferrocyanide, the only preparation required by iron for such treatment being the removal of any rust that may have formed on it not admitting of the action of such a solution. Another process of interest to workers in metallurgy is that of substituting the use of manganese for German silver, the different metals and their proportions being as follows: Copper, 67.25 per cent; manganese, 18.50 per cent; zinc, 13 per cent; aluminium, 1.25 per cent, the color of this metal closely resembling German silver, being also fully as strong as the best quality of the latter and possessing superior adaptation for casting.

TALKING about tree planting along our thoroughfares reminds one of the time when the city trustees, a number of years ago, ordered the chopping down of the finest row of blue gums then growing in town. In-asmuch as the action of the authorities was at the time prompted by what appeared to be, inspirations of jealousy on the part of at least one member of the board, their destruction was all the more to be deplored. The trees grew along one of the principal streets and were ordered chopped down ostensibly to make way for the laying of a cement sidewalk—which has not yet come to pass. The real object was at the time said to be the animosity felt by one of the Burgomeisters towards their owner. Whether the story be true or not matters little at this late date, for the interested parties have all, like the trees, passed on to their eternal reward. However, the trees were destroyed, and the absence of the shade caused many a vigorous comment upon the action of the authorities duriug the ensuing summer time. If their destruction was brought about by the ill will of one man, who seemed to have a long standing grudge against a neighbor, what must be said of the other members of the board who gave tacit acquiescence to the infamy? That was in the days of old fogyism, of the old lang syne. Thank the good Lord those times are rapidly passing away. We are going to plant trees now, not cut them down. Let the new spirit of tree planting proceed, and let us cut down no tree—unless it be infested with scale pests.

THE chamber of commerce ought to bestir itself in the matter of the erection of a new hotel—it is the one thing which we now need badly. The departure of the Southern Pacific surveying force from Anaheim to Westminster, because of inadequate hotel accommodations is a case in point. These surveyors arrived last week; there were fifteen in the party including the wives of some of its members. The first thing they beheld upon alighting at the hotel was a big barroom in active operation, which must have shocked the sensibilities of the ladies if those of none other. They were charged at the rate of $10.00 a week for board and $10.00 monthly for rooming accommodations. These figures are not quite so steep as those obtaining in the Angelus hotel, but are quite steep enough for all practical purposes. However, Mr. Brown, who was in charge of the party, made no complaint about them, and the prices would have cheerfully been paid had the service been up even to the standard of a backwoods mining village. Perhaps the less said about this "service" the better. The party could not stand it and promptly changed their headquarters to Westminster. Our loss is Westminster's gain, and Anaheim doffs its hat to the Peatland town. We know how to run saloons here, but we can't run a hotel.

A NUMBER of business men conferring about this matter the other day were outspoken in condemnation of the fact that no accommodations could be found for this party of men and women. Several offered to take stock in a corporation, having for its object the erection of a commodious two or three-story structure, to be used for hotel purposes. Every hotel in Southern California—The Potter at Santa Barbara, The Green at Pasadena, The Coronado and all those of Los Angeles and the other cities of the south, are coining money hand over fist, and it would appear certain that there is room in Anaheim for at least one good hotel. The St. George at Fullerton, The Rossmore at Santa Ana and a half dozen other hostelries that might be mentioned in Orange county are magnificent in comparison to what we offer, to our everlasting shame be it said. Let the chamber of commerce take this matter up, and let us see if adequate hotel accommodations cannot be provided.

Twice in the history of the town have companies been formed to erect a large hotel here—once they got as far ahead as the extensive excavation out on Los Angeles street would indicate. Then the old fogys became frightened and nary a stick of timber ever saw the site of the project. Later $40,000 was put in the Hotel Del Campo which was built during the "boom," and which was conducted for a short while as an up-to-date and modern hostelry, then it's doors were closed and now for years it has been run as a cheap lodging house. I hear the old house is haunted and that at midnight ghosts leap from rafter to rafter overhead.

There are many excellent sites in town for a fine large hotel, and now that a spirit of awakening activity has seemed to possess us let the chamber of commerce ascertain whether an adequate structure cannot be erected. Certainly we cannot afford to turn from our door such parties as this surveyors outfit, and everybody knows that commercial travellers never think of stopping in Anaheim over night. We must have a hotel and that quickly.

WILLIAM THOMAS of San Francisco, who was one of the sponsors of the infamous Works bill, has stepped down and out of the so-called Water and Forest Association. In a letter to his associates he makes the laughable recommendation that his successor shall be a younger, broader-shouldered and thicker-skinned man, to whom he tenders his sympathy in advance. He writes in his resignation that "If I hadn't felt like the hunter who caught the bear, I would have given up long ago in disgust." The disgust, he remarks, is occasioned by the fact that for hard work he has been abused and has been accused of working for his own private interest. On the latter point, Mr. Thomas speaks as follows:

I present my resignation as vice-president and chairman of the executive committee because I am tired of doing hard work without any return therefor, except abuse. It seems impossible in this State, for any man to do work for the public without subjecting himself to the charge of working for his own private interests. So far as these charges have been applied to me, they have been and are absolutely false, and what is more they were known to be false at the time they were made; yet for three years I have received the most insulting letters and read the most insulting circulars and editorials and have made no answer.

I had made up my mind to stay by my job until I could get the State to take up the work instituted by the association. I have spent three years of hard work on these lines, and have spent more than $800 of my own money, and turn over the lucrative (?) and onerous office with the feeling of a man who wakes from a nightmare, My chief desire now is to be let alone. I want to make a living practicing law, and I never want to hear of storage reservoirs or forests again.

Mr. Thomas takes occasion to thank the members of the association for their loyalty and praises Gov. Pardee for his knowledge of the needs of the State in the matter of storage reservoirs and forest preservation. "If I were not an admirer of his," says the retiring vice-president and executive committeeman facetiously, "I would suggest his election as chairman of your executive committee, but he really has done nothing to justify such severe punishment."

He presents to the executive committee his photograph "to prove that he is not black and has no horns."

In the same document Mr. Thomas advises the association concerning its course. He favors reorganization by the formation of local chapters or lodges. He also advises:

Every dollar appropriated by Assembly bill No. 75 will be duplicated by the Federal government. In addition thereto, the reports of the work done will be published and mailed at its expense. These reports will present to the Secretary of the Interior feasible irrigation projects upon which there can be expended the funds available under the Newlands bill. Let there be no jealousy in regard to the location in which the work shall be first done. Pick out the storage reservoir which will cost the least and irrigate the most land and urge that first, no matter where it is. Stand by each other as citizens of the State as a whole, and not as residents of any particular locality, and some of us will live to see the work of construction actually commenced.

Well, Mr. Thomas, here is luck to you in your private life. The Water and Forest Association is dead beyond redemption, and that because it sought in the Works bill to subvert the interests of the common people. The association may be revamped and revivified, as you suggest but it will ever be the source of a noisome stench in the nostril. And Mr. Works and yourself were the parties who brought this about. Let it rip.

WELL, Santa Ana, you're dry, Here's looking at you. It may be Anaheim's turn next:

MIGHTY ARM OF THE LAW DISSIPATING TRUSTS

President's References to Manner in which Anti-Trust Legislation is Being Enforced.

President Roosevelt in his speech at Milwauke spoke upon trusts, giving an illustration of how the new legislation is being enforced with reference to these gigantic combinations of capital. What he said possesses peculiar interest to every American. In part he spoke as follows:

"In its wisdom Congress enacted the very important law providing a department of commerce and labor, and further providing therein under the secretary of commerce and labor for a commissioner of corporations, charged with the duty of supervision of and of making intelligent investigation into the organization and conduct of corporations engaged in inter-state commerce. His powers to expose illegal or hurtful practices and to obtain all information needful for the purpose of further intelligent legislation seem adequate; and the publicity justifiable and proper for public purposes is satisfactorily guaranteed. The law was passed at the very end of the session of congress. Owing to the lateness of its passage congress was not able to provide proper equipment for the new department; and the first few months must necessarily be spent in the work of organization, and the first investigations must necessarily be of a tentative character. The satisfactory development of such a system requires time and great labor. Those who are intrusted with the administration of the new law will assuredly administer it in a spirit of absolute fairness and justice and of entire fearlessness, with the firm purpose not to hurt any corporation doing a legitimate business—on the contrary to help it—and, on the other hand, not to spare any corporation which may be guilty of illegal practices, or the methods of which may make it a menace to the public welfare.

"Some substantial good will be done in the immediate future; and as the department gets fairly to work under the law an ever larger vista for good work will be opened along the lines indicated. The enactment of this law is one of the most significant contributions which have been made in our time toward the proper solution of the problem of the relations to the people of the great corporations and corporate combinations.

"But much though this is, it is only a part of what has been done in the effort to ascertain and correct improper trust or monopolistic practices. Some eighteen months ago the industrial commission, an able and non-partisan body, reported to congress the result of their investigation of trusts and industrial combinations. One of the most important of their conclusions was that discriminations in freight rates and facilities were granted favored shippers by the railroads and that these discriminations clearly tended toward the control of production and prices in many fields of business by large combinations. That this conclusion was justifiable was shown by the disclosures in the investigation of railroad methods pursued in the fall and winter of 1901-1902. It was then shown that certain trunk lines had entered into unlawful agreements as to the transportation of food products from the West to the Atlantic seaboard, giving a few favored shippers rates much below the tariff charges imposed upon the smaller dealers and the general public. These unjust practices had prevailed to such an extent and for so long a time that many of the smaller shippers had been driven out of business, until practically one buyer of grain on each railway system had been able by his illegal advantages to secure a monopoly on the line with which his secret compact was made; this monopoly enabling him to fix the price to both producer and consumer. Many of the great packing-house concerns were shown to be in combination with each other and with most of the great railway lines, whereby they enjoyed large secret concessions in rates and thus obtained a practical monopoly of the fresh and canned meat industry of the country. These fusions, though violative of the statute, had prevailed unchecked for so many years that they had become entrenched in and interwoven with the commercial life of certain large distributing localities; although this was of course at the expense of the vast body of law-abiding merchants, the general public, and particularly of unfavored localities.

"Under these circumstances it was a serious problem to determine the wise course to follow in vitalizing a law which had in part become obsolete or proved incapable of enforcement. Of what the attorney general did in enforcing it I shall speak later. The decision of the courts upon the law had betrayed weaknesses and imperfections, some of them so serious as to render abortive efforts to apply any effective remedy for the existing evils.

"It is clear that corporations created for quasi public purposes, clothed for that reason with the ultimate power of the state to take private property against the will of the owner, hold their corporate powers as carriers in trust for the fairly impartial service of all the public. Favoritism in the use of such powers, unjustly enriching some and unjustly impoverishing others, discriminating in favor of some places and against others, is palpably violative of plain principles of justice. Such a practice unchecked is hurtful in many ways. Congress having had its attention drawn to the matter enacted a most important anti-rebate law which greatly strengthens the inter-state commerce law. This new law prohibits under adequate penalties the giving and as well the demanding or receiving of such preferences, and provides the preventive remedy of injunction. The vigorous administration of this law, and it will be enforced, will, it is hoped, afford a substantial remedy for certain trust evils which have attracted public attention and have created public unrest.

"This law represents a noteworthy and important advance toward just and effective regulation of transportation. Moreover, the passage has been supplemented by the enactment of a law to expedite the hearing of actions of public moment under the anti-trust act, known as the Sherman law, and under the act to regulate commerce, at the request of the attorney general; and furthermore, additional funds have been appropriated to be expended under the direction of the attorney general in the enforcement of these laws.

"All of this represents a great and substantial advance in legislation. But more important even than legislation is the administration of law, and I ask your attention for a moment to the way in which the law has been administered by the profound jurist and fearless public servant who now occupies the position of attorney general, Mr. Knox. The constitution enjoins upon the president that he shall take care that the laws be faithfully exercised and under this provision the attorney general formulated a policy which was in effect nothing but the rigid enforcement, by suits managed with consummate skill and ability, both of the anti-trust law and of the imperfect provisions of the act to regulate commerce. The first step taken was the prosecution of fourteen suits against the principal railroads of the Middle West, restraining them by injunction from further violation of either of the laws in question.

About the same time the case against the Northern Securities Company was initiated. This was a corporation organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey with a capital of four hundred million dollars, the alleged purpose being to control the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific Railroad Companies, two parallel and competing lines extending across the northern tier of states from the Mississippi river to the Pacific ocean. Whatever its purpose its consummation would have resulted in the control of two great railway systems upon which the people of the Northwestern States were so largely dependent for their supplies and to get their products to market being practically merged into the New Jersey corporation. The proposition that these independent systems of railroads should be merged under a single control alarmed the people of the states concerned, lest they be subjected to what they deemed a monopoly of interstate transportation and the suppression of competition. The governors of the states most deeply affected held a meeting to consider how to prevent the merger becoming effective and passed resolutions calling upon the national government to enforce the anti-trust laws against the alleged combination. When these resolutions were referred to the attorney general for consideration and advice, he reported that in his opinion the Northern Securities Company and its control of the railroads mentioned was a combination in restraint of trade and was attempting a monopoly in violation of the national anti-trust law. Thereupon a suit in equity, which is now pending, was begun by the government to test the validity of this transaction under the Sherman law. [This suit has since been decided in favor of the government.]

"At nearly the same time the disclosures respecting the secret rebates enjoyed by the packing-house companies, coupled with the very high price of meats, led the attorney general to direct an investigation into the methods of the so-called beef trust. The result was that the filed bills for injunction against six of the principal packing-house companies, and restrained them from combining and agreeing upon prices at which they would sell their products in states other than those in which their meats were prepared for market. Writs of injunction were issued accordingly, and since then after full argument, the United States Circuit Court has made the injunction perpetual.

The cotton interests of the South, including growers, buyers and shippers, made complaint that they were suffering great injury in their business from the methods of the Southern railroads in the handling of transportation of cotton. That by dividing upon a fixed basis the cotton crop of the South all inducement to compete in rates for the transportation thereof was eliminated. Proceedings were instituted by the Attorney-General, under the anti-trust law, which resulted in the destruction of the pool.

In November, 1902, the Attorney General directed that a bill for an injunction be filed in the United States circuit court at San Francisco against the Federal Salt company and against a number of other companies and persons constituting what was known as the salt trust. As a result the Federal Salt company is about to dissolve and therefore no contest will be made.

The above is a brief outline of the most important steps, legislative and administrative, taken during the past eighteen months in the direction of solving, so far as it now seems practicable by national legislation or administration to solve, what we call the trust problem. They represent a sum of very substantial achievement. They represent a successful effort to devise and apply real remedies; an effort which so far succeeded because it was made not only with resolute purpose and determination, but also in a spirit of common sense and justice, as far removed from rancor, hysteria and unworthy demagogic appeal. In the same spirit the laws will continue to be enforced. Not only is the legislation recently enacted effective, but in my judgment it was impracticable to attempt more. Nothing of value is to be expected from ceaseless agitation for radical and extreme legislation. The people may wisely, and with confidence, await the results which are reasonably to be expected from the impartial enforcement of the laws which have recently been placed upon the statute books. Legislation of a general and indiscriminate character would be sure to fail, either because it would involve all interests in a common ruin, or because it would not really reach any evil. We have endeavored to provide a discriminating adaptation of the remedy to the real mischief."

LOCAL JOTTINGS OF INTEREST

Serious Injury

Harvey Hampson, an employe of the Fullerton Oil company in Soquel canyon, met with an accident on Saturday afternoon which may cause the loss of his right hand. He was engaged in perforating pipe when he sought to throw the belt from the pulley. By some mischance his hand was caught in the belting and fearfully crushed by the pulley. With great presence of mind he extended his left hand and shut off the steam, thus saving himself from far more serious injury. He called for assistance but it was a half hour before his cries were heard. Then men working in an adjoining rig went to his assistance and liberated him. He was brought to town and placed in the hospital, where his hand was found to be lacerated in such manner that it may possibly have to be amputated.

Hampson has been the victim of ill luck for a long time. In the fire which destroyed much of the Union company's property some months ago he lost his clothing and entire effects. He has several times sustained injury, at one time suffering a fracture of the skull. He was fireman of the ill-fated Walla Walla but resigned his position a few days before her last trip when she went to the bottom.

He is spoken of in high terms by his associates and his recent injury has caused regret in the oil wells.

Medical Association

The Orange County Medical Association met at the office of Dr. Dryer in Santa Ana some evenings ago. There were present Dr. Johnston of this city, Dr. Freeman of Fullerton, and a number of other medicos from various parts of the county. The subject for the evening was introduced by Dr. Dryer, who read a paper entitled, "A Meddlesome Midwifery." This was followed by a discussion. Election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: President, William Freeman of Fullerton; vice-president, F. E. Wilson, Westminster; secretary, H. S. Gordon, Santa Ana; treasurer, J. R. Medlock, Santa Ana; librarian, F. M. Brown, Santa Ana.

Dr. John L. Dryer was elected a delegate to the State Medical Society, to serve two years, and Dr. H. S. Gordon, an alternate delegate. The next meeting will be held in Dr. Freeman's office in Fullerton.

Buena Park Industry

The Pacific Creamery management states that the institution is purchasing from the farmers daily, seven days a week, over 25,000 pounds of milk, which is worked up into "Lily" brand sterilized cream by the large factory, employing fifty men and women at good wages. The output of the creamery is about 15,000 cans daily and this condensed cream finds its way into the markets of the Philippine Islands, China, Japan, Hawaiian Islands and other foreign countries, and is shipped daily to all parts of the western portion of the United States. The demand equals the supply and the output is increased from month to month. The company keeps a large warehouse full of the condensed cream constantly, believing it is best to keep it stored from sixty to ninety days before putting it on the market. There are invested in the plant tens of thousands of dollars and many improvements are under way and contemplated, one of which is installing over $25,000 worth of copper kettles in which to steam-boil and handle the milk. Two more new forty-horse-power boilers are to be installed at once. Crude oil is used as fuel, the company finding it much more economical than coal, being a saving of a least 50 per cent. The company Thursday shipped two carloads of the cream north. The creamery also manufactures a high-grade chocolate.

Club Hall.

The women of the Round Table of Placentia will incorporate and build a large hall, already over $1200 having been pledged, and there are a number of others who offer to donate liberally. It will be conveniently arranged for the club headquarters, and for other social events in that community.

Home Telephone Co.

The Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce has petitioned the board of supervisors to offer for sale an ordinance as requested by the Home Telephone Company for the operation of a telephone system in this county. Petitions for presentation to the board were also ordered circulated.

SOFT CORE

Like the running brook, the red blood that flows through the veins has to come from somewhere.

The springs of red blood are found in the soft core of the bones called the marrow and some say red blood also comes from the spleen. Healthy bone marrow and healthy spleen are full of fat.

Scott's Emulsion makes new blood by feeding the bone marrow and the spleen with the richest of all fats, the pure cod liver oil.

For pale school girls and invalids and for all whose blood is thin and pale, Scott's Emulsion is a pleasant and rich blood food. It not only feeds the blood-making organs but gives them strength to do their proper work.

THURSDAY.....APRIL 16, 1903

THE decision of the United States circuit court in the Northern Securities merger, and the sitting of the interstate commerce commission in Los Angeles, are events of parallel interest to thinking people in this section. To be sure, the decision in the Northern Securities case is of vast importance to the entire country, inasmuch as a powerful blow has been dealt this unlawful combination of railroad lines. Indirectly the decision also bears upon all manner of illegal combinations of capital, and is the entering wedge which will doubtless rip up the trusts and put them out of business. The session of the interstate commerce commission has developed the fact, which is pretty well known to shippers of Southern California, that an agreement exists between the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroad companies amounting to the paralysis of all competition between them. Evidence was adduced showing that each road had provided equipment for moving only half of the orange crop, and much of the inefficient service complained of by the growers is to be attributed primarily to that one cause. It requires more time to transport a carload of oranges from Southern California to the Atlantic seaboard, by probably a week, than was consumed in the service a few years ago. It is usual to attribute this slow movement to "congested traffic" and "insufficient motive power" due to the great expansion of our business interests, but if there existed healthy competition between both roads this slow movement would be the very first thing scheduled to go. Here in Orange county it has been known for years that both railroad campanies are in a combine, whether it be in restraint of trade remains for the interstate commission to determine. Had it not been for the existence of this combine the Southern Pacific would long since have built its road from Anaheim to Placentia, and probably on the other hand the Santa Fe would contemporaneously have entered the Peatland. As it is, each road keeps out of the territory of the other, and delegations of people from either place may go to Los Angeles for a conference with the powers that control these corporations, and make all sorts of promises for shipments over one line or the other, in order to secure the construction of a road into their neighborhood; and while they may be pleasantly received and given all sorts of taffy about the richness of their respective sections. There will never be a mile of road built into their territory as long as this combine continues. But now that the Huntington line is invading this county both roads are moving for the protection of their interest from encroachment by the incoming corporation, and we shall probably soon see quite a bit of track-laying in this vicinity by both companies in the near future. At the same time it is to be hoped the Interstate Commerce commission will sufficiently safeguard the interests of the shippers by following the course pursued in the Northern Securities company. That it is a combination in restraint of trade is as sure in this case as it was in that of Jim Hill and his millionaire associates.

NEWS comes that Franklin K Lane, the unsuccessful Democratic aspirant for governor, is on a tour through the southern states conferring with leaders of the party relative to his candidacy for the vice presidential nomination next year. The statement is made that his mission has been quite successful, and that Texas leaders and others have been won over to his cause. That Lane would be a strong nominee before the people is evidenced by the way in which he rolled up votes last November, when he ran well over forty thousand ahead of his ticket. This seems to be all but incredible, but it was due in large part to the abnormal political conditions existing at the time. Still it must be confessed that Lane made a strong and telling canvass, being an orator of considerable renown and a campaigner of no little ability. That he has the California Democracy with him goes without saying, but the interesting question arises, what will Willie Hearst say about all this? Hearst is himself a candidate for the presidential nomination, and while his protentions are scoffed at in many quarters, he will probably have a deal to say about his party's nominees in the campaign next year. He has been elected to congress from his New York City district, and stands well with the Kansas City platform wing of his party in that state. Now Hearst had no use for Lane as the Democratic candidate for governor last fall, and previous to his nomination declared he would refuse to support him for the office. Hearst's threat threw the Democratic state convention into a panicky state, but it took the bit in its teeth on recovering its second wind, so to speak, and the following day nominated Lane by acclamation.

Since Lane's defeat for the governorship he is said to have been organizing his forces, not only for his own nomination as vice-president, but for the defeat of Hearst as a presidential possibility. Probably Lane would not refuse to hook up with David Bennet Hill, but it would be interesting to know what Willie Hearst and William Jennings Bryan think of this combination.

SANTA ANA on Monday voted in favor of prohibition and as a result the seven saloons now operating there will close their doors. The victory for prohibition was decisive, out of 1168 votes cast 688 were dry and 431 for the saloon, thus giving the dry people a majority of 257. The municipal campaign was waged with spirit. The work of Dr. Chapman, Francis Murphy and others in behalf of the cause of temperance had telling effect and weeks ago it was confidently asserted by men competent to judge that the result of the election would undoubtedly be in favor of the dry people.

Anaheim's municipal election comes next April and we understand that the forces of prohibition will be with us for a campaign of education at that time. That there has been a great upheaval in popular sentiment regarding the liquor question in Southern California in recent years is undeniable, and if, as the prohibitionists say, the saloon is a barrier to progress, our people will give them respectful hearing and take what they say into consideration. Anaheim has made greater strides forward during the last six months than for a long time past and this must and shall continue. While upon this subject we might say that the city trustees would undoubtedly improve matters by revoking the licenses of certain saloons here. We have too many of them by half.

CHAUNCEY HUGGANS has gone the way of all who look upon the wine when it is red, or any other color for that matter. Sick at heart and bowed down under the weight of his infirmities he has been permitted by the humane authorities of this city to go on his way, if not rejoicing at least without serving a jail sentence of fifty days. There are those who say the city bastile is unfit for incarceration of a human being, while others pronounce it the greatest reformatory in the State; but once a man enters its portals he leaves hope behind. However, after spending two nights in durance Huggans was permitted to return to his home in Fullerton, the rest of his sentence being marked up to profit and loss. Huggans was once the premier restauranteur of Orange county and for years conducted at Fullerton one of the best hotels in Southern California. He enjoyed good health, but the drink habit brought in its train the eating of morphine and other drugs. Then came sickness and he lay for a time at death's door. When our neighboring town voted prohibition in Huggans closed his saloon and went in for the blind pig. He was arrested on numerous occasions and heavily fined. He moved to this city and under promise of starting a large restaurant he was granted a license to sell liquors. The restaurant failed to develop, but Huggins for a time had a profitable trade in retailing liquors, but his health was gone and he was not the merry boniface of the aforetime. His business dwindled, then came the raise in saloon licenses from $10 to $50 per month and that meant destruction. He could not pay, was placed under arrest for selling liquors without a license and was fined $50. He took an appeal to the higher court and later went to Arizona. His health became so poor that he was sent back to Fullerton, money being raised by his friends therefor. He arrived in time to learn that the higher court had sustained the lower and that he must either pay his fine or go to jail. More dead than alive he returned to Anaheim and surrendered himself to the authorities. He was placed in jail, being given the privilege during the day of walking outside in the sunshine. After two days of confinement he was told to go and sin no more. There is a moral in all this for boys who stay out late at night, smoke cigarettes, blow the smoke through their noses and spit on the sidewalks.

THE fact that Santa Ana has gone dry, and that by an overwhelming vote, lends emphasis to the purpose of the prohibition people to begin a similar campaign in this city. In all probability Anaheim will vote at its municipal election next April upon the question whether or not to continue its saloons. It is not the rabid prohibitionists on the one hand, nor the saloon men on the other, who will decide this question, but the large body of independent voters occupying intermediate ground whose ballots may go for or against prohibition, as circumstances may present themselves. There are saloons here which are making prohibition votes daily. Night is made hideous by their drunken orgies, and complaints have been made to the authorities thereat. There are wineries which are said to be persistently disobeying the liquor ordinance, and liquors are said to be retailed at the brewery without even the formality of a retailer's license. There is at least one saloon in town whose license was procured through false pretenses and which should be immediately closed. On the other hand there are respectable places here where liquors are dispensed and which are conducted by men of respectability. To such places as these the independent voter has little if any objection, but to this other sort of gin-mills he takes particular exception. Of no particular benefit to the town, so far as we can see, they must be particularly offensive to the large body of incoming strangers who are seen daily on our streets. These places are makers of prohibition votes, and unless the city authorities weed them out Anaheim will, one of these days, be in line for membership among the other dry towns. Let the weeding process proceed.

REAL ESTATE changes continue to be of daily occurrence, and more home-seekers are on the streets of Anaheim than at any time in its history. We believe we have the greatest county in the state, and the finest part of that county right here about Anaheim. Property is cheaper now than it ever will be again. Great development has been made in this section during the past two years, and more of it is scheduled for the near future.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

To study the diseases of plants and to seek methods for prevention or cure is the object for which Ralph E. Smith has been called from the Massachusetts Agricultural college at Amherst to become assistant professor of plant pathology. Asparagus rust is the disease which will receive his first attention.

The earliest living graduate of the university, Rev. Albert F. Lyle, '64, will come from his home in Newark, N. J., to act as chaplain at commencement. The alumni have provided for his visit.

The alumni living in San Francisco have arranged to meet informally at lunch every month. A similar custom is followed by graduates of the university in a dumber of cities. Such a reunion was held last month at Johannesberg by eight graduates of the university who are now in South Africa as mining engineers.

A revised list of the addresses of the twenty-five hundred alumni of the colleges at Berkeley is now being compiled by Recorder James Sutton, '88, and Alfred C. Skaife, '00. It is much desired that alumni should always notify the recorder of any change of address.

James Whipple, '00, the former captain, will coach the football eleven again next year as he so successfully did last season.

The discovery of a number of new stars and of four stars whose velocities in the line of sight are variable, observations of a new comet, and other interesting additions to astronomical knowledge, are announced in five Lick observatory bulletins just published by the university.

BAKERSFIELD, April 13.—Outlaw James McKinney had a fierce running fight yesterday afternoon with Deputy Sheriffs R. W. McCracken and Warren Rankin at Fugitts' ranch; on the south fork of Kern river, six miles from Kernville. The outlaw's arrival had been hourly expected, and the officers were lying in wait for him on the road from Randsburg, which runs by Coyote hole across the desert.

McKinney was seen coming down the road about 4 o'clock, and was recognized instantly by the officers. He saw them, too, and put spurs to his horse and struck out across country, firing at the officers as he did so. His shots failed to take effect, and the officers were after him in an instant, sending several shots after his fleeing form, one of which is believed to have struck the fugitive, who, however, continued his flight.

Although he had the start of his pursuers at first, they gained on him, but he succeeded in dodging into the brush and getting away. Although the officers made every effort he could not be again located. His course when lost sight of was directly towards the Greenhorn mountains, on the other side of which is Tinns valley and Glennville, from which points the distance of Porterville is insignificant.

Sheriff Kelly has wired for a posse to go out from Visalia to intercept him at White river, near the border of Kern and Tulare counties, as there are no officers in the country en route and there is no communication with Glennville. At the latter place the escaping murderer has friends whom he expects to aid him with fresh mounts and supplies and take care of him if he is unable to proceed. They are all friends of his boyhood days, ready to do anything for him. The next news from him will probably be at White river.

Blind Chaplain Dead.

SANTA BARBARA, April 11.—Rev. William Henry Milburn, blind Chaplain of the United States Senate, died in this city at noon yesterday from the effects of a stroke of apoplexy received at Lincoln, Neb., four years ago. The Misses Gey, adopted daughters, who have been with him since his arrival in Santa Barbara, were at his bedside at the time of death, which was not unexpected. The funeral services will be held at the residence in this city Monday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. J. S. Carroll of Grace Methodist Church officiating. The remains will be deposited in a vault and later sent to Jacksonville, Ill., for interment.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 11.—Consular reports from Monastir show that a condition of anarchy prevails there and the situation is daily becoming more acute. Assassinations of both Christians and Mussulmen are increasing more frequent. In district of Pridlop, during last week, not less than fifty Christians were assassinated by Musselmen.

Car Shortage in Sight.

Trunk-line traffic managers say that if the present rate of increase of general freight traffic, both east and west, keeps up, there is likely to be a recurrence of trouble from car-shortage, that was experienced last fall and winter. Western railroads are now making urgent demands upon their eastern connections for cars with which to move grain, flour and provisions, and eastern lines are clamoring for quicker returns of cars that they have sent west. There are now slight congestions of freight at important junctions, points west of Buffalo, and acres of side tracks on the outskirts of that city are filled with loaded cars waiting to be sent on their way. The eastward movement of grain and flour is increasing daily, as also is the westward movement of general merchandise, agricultural implements, machinery, iron, steel and coal.

The Pennsylvania railroad, Baltimore & Ohio and Pittsburg & Lake Erie—who are the largest freight carriers out of the Pittsburg region, are concentrating as many cars as possible in that locality in expectation of an abnormal western demand for coal and steel products. Fears prevail that all of the transportation resources of these three lines will not be able to handle the traffic when the season reaches its hight.

Espee's New Plan

The Southern Pacific on May 15 will inaugurate a new system for facilitating the handling of traffic on its overland passenger routes. Instead of conductors collecting tickets and cash fares, train agents are to be placed on all the larger passenger trains for the purpose of performing this work, and the conductors will confine their duties to the management of the train, and following out the orders of the dispatchers.

The change is the result of the growing travel over the company's lines. The new agents are to be selected from the ranks of the train brakemen and baggagemen, which means advancement in position and wages for the latter.

Bust of Washington

A committee has been formed in Paris, France, consisting of the Marquis De Grasse, Marquis De Lafayette and Count De Rochambeau, descendants of three notable figures in the American revolution, to offer a bust of Washington to the United States. It will be a replica of the famous bust by David D'Angers, which was once in Washington, but destroyed by fire. The daughter of the sculptor has placed at the disposition of the committee her father's original plaster cast, from which the new bronze section will be made.

A public subscription has been opened. The Count De Rochambeau is chairman of the commission.

The Southern Pacific company will sell tickets to beach points every Saturday. Round trip, good for return following Monday—$1.75. ap9-1

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 13.—California's famous mission rock case was decided in the Supreme Court today. Rocks proper are two small barren islands in San Francisco Bay which McKinley set aside for naval purposes. In 1870 the California Legislature conveyed submerged lands surrounding the islands to the Mission Rock Company, which built up and created fourteen acres. The United States later brought suit for islands and also submerged lands, which was won in Circuit Court. Court appeals modified so that the States has no title to submerged lands. But held islands which have surface less than an acre. The decision is sustained by the Supreme Court to-day, holding California had title to the submerged lands and had right to convey. That it was not the policy of the President to reserve more than islands themselves. Lands in question are valued at about three hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

CHICAGO, April 10.—Under murderous fire from thirteen desperate Italians who were strongly entrenched behind oak doors, twenty policemen led by a Lieutenant, charged a saloon this morning in search of the assailants of another Italian who was picked up near the saloon in a dying condition, with seven knife and one bullet wound on his body. The Police Lieutenant was shot through the arm. Three Italians were wounded in the fight inside the saloon before they were disarmed. All the Italians were taken to the station, where they are held. It is alleged to be a Mofia plot and the police are investigating the theory.

Sultan Cooling Off.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 13.—The Sultan's fright over the uprising of Albanians seems to have quieted to-day. He has issued an order for summary punishment of Macedonian train wreckers. Almost immediately after, he issued another order to the Genoa shipyard for a private yacht to cost $60,000 and a new cruiser to cost $400,000. He also obtained a large supply of electric lights of peculiar construction from firm to be used by Turkish hospital corps in searching for dead on battlefields.

Engine Turned Over.

ELIZABETH, N. J., April 10.—A big engine of the Central Railway turned over to-day as it was leaving the round house. The engineer and fireman were killed and a brakeman was fatally injured.

MANCHESTER, Eng., April 13.—Buffalo Bill was badly injured this morning while giving an exhibition with the Wild West Show here to-day. Colonel Cody's horse fell and threw him. Cody was removed to his hotel. The full extent of his injuries are not yet known.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—William Thomas has resigned his position as Vice President and Chairman of the Executive Committee of the California Water and Forest Association in a breezy note addressed to the members of the Association. He recommends that his successor shall be a younger, broader-shouldered and thicker skin man, to whom he tenders his sympathy in advance. He writes in his resignation, "that if I hadn't felt like the hunter who caught the bear, I would have given up long ago in disgust." The disgust, he remarks, is occasioned by the fact that for hard work he has been abused and has been accused of working for his own private interest.

CHICAGO, April 13.—One thousand engineers, firemen and deck hands on government dredgers struck here this morning because they are paid smaller wages when working at other ports than at Chicago. An attempt will be made to operate with non-unionist men relying on government protection, as the work affects the government and shipping interests generally.

STRIKE OF TEACHERS.

No Money to Pay Instructors at the Sherman Institute.

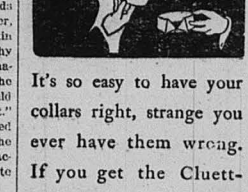

RIVERSIDE, April 11.—A peculiar condition of affairs exists at Sherman Institute, the government Indian school here. The appropriation for the employment of teachers proved to be inadequate and not wishing to labor for the love of humanity alone, the teachers decided to quit in a body until July 1st, when more funds will be available. In the meantime Superintendent Harwood and his wife are teaching the 400 Indian boys and girls, assisted by a number of the older pupils.

LOS ANGELES, April 11.—Yesterday's order for all unions affiliated with the Building Trades Council to stop work on jobs where non-union men were employed was generally obeyed. Employers gave in on thirty big contracts to-day. New Chamber Commerce building unionized. Many smaller contractors giving in. Job pressmen out. Waiters and cooks threaten to strike during fiesta and President Roosevelt's visit. Nearly one thousand men out to-day. All will be out Monday.

GRASS VALLEY, April 11. — The stage running between Nevada City and Downieville was held up to-day by lone highwayman several miles from Nevada City. Five women and two men aboard, three shots were fired by the robber. No one was hurt, but Wells-Fargo box was taken; amount of cash obtained is not known.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC SURVEYORS GO

Miserable Hotel Accommodations Cause Them to Leave for Westminster

The force of Southern Pacific surveyors who arrived in town Tuesday evening of last week remained until Thursday, when the miserable hotel accommodations afforded by this city caused them to change their headquarters to Westminster, where they have since remained. The party embraced fifteen members. Charges at the hotel were $10.00 per week and $10.00 monthly for rooms. No objection was made to these rates, but dissatisfaction existed with the hotel from the start. The barroom seemed to be the principal feature of it.

When it became known on Thursday morning that the surveyors had left town on this account people became indignant, and there was considerable talk during the day about the formation of a corporation to erect a new hotel here. The chamber of commerce has the matter in hand and it is probable that what the town has needed for a long time—decent hotel accommodations—may be forthcoming before long.

The surveyors have been engaged upon the work of running the line from Benedict to Smeltzer, but what further work it will have hereabout has not been determined. A line was run from the intersection of Center and Los Angeles streets in this city westward, but what this was for none of the surveyors would say.

The usual crop of railroad rumors continues active. These reports include work to be done in this neighborhood by the Southern Pacific, Santa Fe, Salt Lake railroad and the Huntington electric line. A Santa Fe man in town this week took notes of these surveyors and what they are doing.

It has been known for a long time that the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe, which were formerly competing lines are now, as one railroad man recently expressed it, "first cousins." That is why the Southern Pacific did not build its road to Placentia when it changed the location of its depot here some years ago. It looked for a time like the road would be built, but the compact between the roads, which was at that time, entered into and which has since continued, put a stop to further operations. Thus the Southern Pacific remains out of Placentia and the Santa Fe on the other hand keeps out of the Peatlands. Whether it is because this combination may be regarded by the government as in restraint of commerce and therefore illegal, or not is difficult to say, but evidence is not lacking that the combination will soon go by the boards and that extensive railroad building may be the order of the day hereabout in the near future.

The latest report about Huntington is that his road will come in town on Lemon street and will turn east on Center as far as Los Angeles. Thence it will go south, but whether it will continue to the city outskirts on that street or turn east on Broadway is not stated. However these reports of the electric railway are premature, for in all probability no work on the line through this city will be done before the line to Placentia is completed, and Huntington may even decide to build his road as far as Riverside before building down this way.

COUNTY SEAT GOES DRY.

Santa Ana Votes Overwhelmingly in Favor of Prohibition.

Santa Ana on Monday voted in favor of prohibiting the liquor traffic by a ballot of 688 to 431, a total of 1168 votes.

In the contest for members of the board of city trustees, the anti-saloonists won in every case, electing George L. Wright over W. S. Whitney (incumbent), in the Second Ward by a vote of 149 to 77. A. Black over John Avas in the Fourth by a vote of 117 to 89 and E. C. Wright over George Riley in the Fifth by a vote of 120 to 94.

The vote on the proposition to retain the city lot at Sixth and Main streets for city hall purposes carried by a majority of 187 votes. For marshal George E. Maxwell (incumbent), was elected over George Robinson by 338 votes.

Hiram D. Connell, independent, was elected over R. F. Chilton (incumbent) for treasurer, by 369 majority.

J. A. Wilson, anti-saloon, was elected over Sam Wilson, and C. M. Nash for recorder, by 153 majority.

John N. Anderson, Max Reinhaus and R. L. Freeman were elected members of the board of education without opposition.

Ed. Tedford and W. F. Heathman (incumbents), were elected city clerk and city attorney respectively, without opposition. Every ward in the city went dry except the Fourth, the vote on prohibition by wards being:

First, prohibition—Yes, 146; no, 70.
Second—Yes, 148; no, 86.
Third—Yes, 168; no, 78.
Fourth—Yes, 101; no. 116.
Fifth—Yes, 130; no, 81.
Total—Yes, 688; no, 431.

DEATH OF ANDREW WHITAKER

Andrew Whitaker, one of Buena Park's most highly respected citizens, died on Saturday morning at the age of 74 years. He was born at Cherry Valley, N. Y., November 12, 1828. In 1848 he arrived in California, coming by way of Cape Horn, and engaged in business and mining for several years, at the end of which time he returned to the East, settling in Chicago. He returned to California in 1888, accompanied by his family, and located in Buena Park, which place was founded by his brother, Hon. James A. Whitaker. He leaves a widow and four sons, J. Harry, Herbert, George and Frank. The deceased was a member of the Buena Park church and esteemed for his probity and other graces of character. The burial took place at Hollywood cemetery, Los Angeles, on Monday.

UNION OF YOUNG HEARTS

Joe Backs Leads Pretty Ella Warner to the Altar

At St. Boniface church yesterday, Wednesday morning, at 8 o'clock the wedding of Joseph M. Backs and Miss Ella H. Warner was solemnized in the presence of many of the relatives and friends of the happy couple. Rev. Father Dubble officiated. Miss Katie Backs was bridesmaid and Henry Knapke attended the groom. The church was decorated with flowers and evergreens and the occasion was one long to be remembered by those present.

After the ceremony congratulations were offered the newly wedded couple. Later all repaired to the residence of the groom's parents where the wedding breakfast was served.

The bride was attired in white organdy over white taffeta. The waist was made with a drop yoke of silk applique and shirring. The skirt was made entrain and trimmed in shirring and accordian pleatings. She wore a veil caught up with an emerald brooch and carried white carnations.

The bride's-maid was gowned in pale blue organdy and carried white carnations. The bride's going-away gown was black etamine with black chiffon hat to match. Many beautiful and valuable presents were received. The newly married couple left on the 3 o'clock train for Coronado where a short honeymoon will be spent. On their return they will go to housekeeping in this city.

Cupid's Dart

Invitations are out for the wedding of Robert Strain and Miss Ethel Spencer. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's parents on Orangethorp avenue, Wednesday, April 29th. Both Mr. Strain and Miss Spencer are well known and popular young people here.

Announcement of the coming marriage of William A. Freeman, son of Dr. William Freeman of Fullerton, to Miss Bertha Alexander of Kern, Cal., has been received.

Mika's Mishap

Allan Melrose while returning home on his bicycle Saturday evening shortly before midnight felt, as many boys have felt before him, that the devil was after him and he was scorching along at a one-minute gait. Turning a corner near his home he collided with a passing wagon and the next day Dr. Bickford had to plane down his face in several places. Neither the bicycle nor the wagon were injured. The driver stopped and asked if the kid was hurt and on receiving a reply that he was not continued on his way. Allan went home and went to bed thinking little of his injuries, but the next day his face, which would usually stop a clock, was a beautiful sight to behold. When he came down into the breakfast room the family ran screaming out of the house, thinking it was the wild man lately seen in the foothills. Dr. Bickford informs us the face will not have to be amputated and Allan has resumed his job with the Sant Fe oil wells. Mike ban goot faller.

Annual Meeting

At the annual meeting of the Deciduous Fruit association of Anaheim on Monday, April 13th, the following directors were re-elected: J. B. Neff, J. B. Rea, Geo. A. Hunter, J. A. Eyman and L. W. Kirby.

The officers are J. B. Neff, president; J. B. Rea, vice president; J. A. Eyman, secretary.

The report of the past season's walnut business was read, showing that No. 1 softshells brought the growers $9.85 per hundred pounds and No. 1 hardshells brought $9.49 per 100 lbs. An additional payment of 2½c per 100 pounds was made on walnuts at the meeting, and a reserve of 5 cents per 100 pounds is still in the hands of the association, making a total of $9.92½ cts per 100 pounds for No. 1 softshells.

This result was brought about by the exchange method of marketing which has been followed by this association the past five years, during which time it has paid a higher average price than could have been paid by any other method of marketing.

Membranous Croup

A son of Frank Legorgue is lying very low with membracous croup, which came so near suffocating him that his physicians opened his windpipe, introduced a silver tube, and by vigorous pumping of air into his lungs succeeded in resuscitating him, since which he has breathed comparatively easy through the tube. Large quantities of croup membrane have been thrown off; one piece of croup tube 2½ inches long with a small opening running through its length has been expelled. It is now hoped the throat and bronchial tubes will soon be free from membrane and the little fellow become convalescent.

Case Dismissed

In the Superior Court last week the case of Barr vs. Valjean was dismissed on motion of counsel for plaintiff.

FOR WHIPPING HER BOY

Mrs. J. B. Pierce Fined $15 for Chastising Her Son—Case to be Appealed

Judge Howard on Saturday fined Mrs. J. B. Pierce of Centralia in the amount of $15 for cruelly thrashing her twelve-year-old son, Leonard Foster. The complaining witness was L. W. Rains, a neighbor, to whose home, on the evening of April 11th, the lad went after being whipped.

In his testimony Rains said he had found the flesh of the boy to be bruised and lacerated. The boy had been bound hand and foot and had been whipped with a blacksnake. Rains took the boy to the residence of Jerry Cole and showed him the marks on the body.

Testimony was also given by Mrs. Rains, Mr. and Mrs. Cole and W. S. Taylor, all going to show that the boy's body bore evidence of having been cruelly beaten. Dr. Bickford testified that Rains brought the boy to his office for examination. The lad's body he said bore evidences of the whipping, but he did not consider permanent injury would result.

Leonard Foster, a frail youth of twelve years, was placed upon the stand. He said that on April 11th his parents tied his hands and feet with a rope, and that his mother whipped him with a blacksnake until he could not stand. When lying upon the floor his stepfather, he said, kicked him. Asked why he had been punished, the boy said it was because he had run rway from school and had stolen money from his father and chickens from his mother.

Mrs. Pierce gave testimony, admitting she had thrashed the boy, but had administered no more punishment than in her judgment was warranted by the boy's misbehavior.

J. B. Pierce, who was formerly justice of the peace of this township, but is now a farmer in Centralia testified that he had not whipped the boy, but that he had pushed him with his foot as he lay upon the floor after his mother had whipped him. The case was argued by R. Melrose for the defendants and by District Attorney Head for the people.

Judge Howard imposed a fine of $15 upon Mrs. Pierce. Thereupon attorney for defense announced that an appeal would be taken to the superior court. The boy went home with Mr. and Mrs. Rains, but it is said his parents will take legal steps to recover possession of him.

Off for Europe

Frank Huch leaves in a few days for his old home in Germany where he goes on a visit to his mother and other relatives. Frank has been away 19 years and for a number of years has been a respected resident of this community. Two years ago he promised his mother he would return home when she reached her seventy-fifth birthday, and as she attains that age in July he is making preparations for an early trip. He will go by one of the Hamburg lines of steamers, preferring them to the more speedy boats. When he sailed from Antwerp for New Orleans in '84 the trip consumed 30 days. He was on a steamer and the lengthy voyage must have been caused, as he says, by the captain losing the road. He will be seven days in crossing the pond and will be absent three or four months. He takes with him the best wishes of a host of friends for a pleasant voyage and a safe return.

He will be accompanied on the trip by Frank Seidler who also goes on a visit to relatives.

SUNDAY CLOSING TO BE VOTED ON?

City Council Requested to Call an Election to Vote Thereupon—Electric Railway Franchise Extended

The board of trustees met in regular session on Tuesday evening. All members present.

Report of the city marshal showed the following collections: For water, $329.50; license, $449; light, $510; delinquents, $120.70; total, $1309.30.

The treasurer reported the following sums on hand. General fund, $4032.54; library fund, $213.14; improvement fund No. 1, $952.50; improvement fund No. 2, $168; improvement fund No. 3, $459; total, $5825.20.

The clerk's report corroborated that of the treasurer.

Finance committee reported the allowance of bills to the amount of $843.53.

Weisel of the Public Improvement committee reported that the grading of Citron street was finished; that South street was now being graded, and that the stumps thereon had been removed; that chuck holes on streets had been filled up; that water connections had been made for Mr. Mercereau on Center street, and for Mrs. Arimond on Lemon street; that a water meter had been put in for Mr. Storm on Broadway and that the city lot had been plowed and brush removed.

The recorder reported collection of $10 from Edward Long for violation of Ordinance No. 94.

The ordinance committee reported an ordinance for numbering houses, which was read for the first time.

Rust reported that Mr. Bennerscheidt refused to give more than six feet for the Lemon street sidewalk. The report was accepted, and it was decided to take no further action in the matter.

Committee on public improvement reported that the work of putting up street signs would begin on Wednesday, and that the planting of trees along the streets would also begin at once.

It was decided to request property owners on Los Angeles street between Center and Santa Ana streets to give ten feet for sidewalk purposes, under the condition that the city would construct a sidewalk, otherwise that condemnation proceedings be begun.

Bid from Pacific Tank company, offering to furnish new water tank f.o.b. at Anaheim for $431. Offer accepted and tank purchased.

Mr. Tolle of Santa Ana stated in the matter of franchise for trolley cars through Los Angeles street granted the Inter Urban company, and which franchise had been assigned to the Pacific Electric company, that the time fixed in the franchise for completing the road would expire on the 23d inst., and on behalf of the company he asked for an extension of one year in which to complete the road. The request was granted.

Rev. Burr addressed the board asking it to call a special election for the purpose of voting upon the question of closing all places of business on Sunday in accordance with a law which he stated had been passed by the last legislature which authorizes city trustees to call such an election on petition of fifteen per cent of the voters in the city. Inasmuch as no petition was presented and the board did not know the details of the law referred to, it not yet having been published, the matter went over for future action.

Justice Howard called attention to the necessity for better jail accommodations. The clerk was instructed to communicate with the board of supervisors reminding them that they had once offered to co-operate with the city in constructing a jail, and asking them if they were still in that mood; and the marshal was instructed to report to the board at its next meeting any recommendations in regard to the matter which his experience may suggest.

Berdrow reported that an examination of the records showed the width of South street to be 49½ feet, and it was ordered that a surveyor be employed to establish the lines of that street.

Clerk Merritt reported the use of 161,887 gallons of water at Loara by the Espee for the month ending the 11th inst., and that he had rendered a bill of $20.23 therefor.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for city printing and advertising.

Schneider brought up the question of building a new powerhouse, and the board seemed to be unanimous that one was needed at once. Fletcher suggested that H. A. McWilliams be employed to draw plans and specifications for a brick structure, and to consult with the city engineers in regard thereto, which suggestion was put in the form of a motion and carried.

Petition of C. Federman for a reduction of his flat rate for electric lights was denied, but the marshal was instructed to install a meter on the premises if desired by Mr. Federman. Adjourned.

DEATH OF MRS. MOWRY.

News has been received here of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Mowry at her home in San Francisco. Intelligence concerning her death is meager, but it is thought it occurred the latter part of March. She had been ill only ten days and succumbed to nervous prostration and pneumonia.

During the past few weeks a number of Russian families have left the beet fields at Los Alamitos for British Columbia, some leaving many unpaid bills behind. Two families departed for no-ta Saturday.

CROP WILL BE SHORT

At the grange meeting held in San Jose on Saturday reports from widely scattered sections of the valley were to the effect that there has been serious damage done to the apricot crop by the heavy rains which came on at a critical time.

The Sisters of St. Dominic extend their most heartfelt thanks to all their kind friends for their generous donations to the orphans for Easter. All enjoyed themselves excellently. The gay-colored eggs delighted them on Sunday, and "Kite Day" was spent at the Fullerton foothills on Monday. Jolly rides home, and candy after supper completed the pleasures of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. John Goodale leave this week for their old home in Scotland. They have disposed of their business interests here and go well weighted down with sheckels of the circulating medium. They have been residents of Anaheim for many years, and are held in high respect by all. They contemplate residing permanently in their old home, but wise ones say they will return to this city at some time in the not distant future.

NEW CHURCH BUILDING

Plans have been perfected for a new church for the German Evangelical congregation. The building will cost about $1700.

PEARCE AN INSOLVENT.

Giles Otis Pearce, a mining operator and promoter well known in Orange county, filed a petition in insolvency in the United States Court in Los Angeles on Monday. Judging from the appearance of things, a man may deal in gold mines and yet not get any gold out of them. He has debts amounting to $23,145.16, and to pay this sum he apparently has nothing but some bedding, worth about $25. He has three trunks full of clothes and mining tools, worth $150, at a Santa Ana hotel, but the proprietor thereof persists in holding to the stuff for an unpaid board bill.

If a man could pay his debts with ordinary mining stock, Giles Pearce would get out of the hole he is in and have money to burn. He has enough mining stock on hand to paper a room with, having no less than 332,424 shares in six companies, each with a long, high-sounding name. The greater part of his indebtedness consists of borrowing money and unpaid bills for advertising in eastern papers, one paper alone in Philadelphia having a bill against him for $2000.

The companies in which he holds stock are the Madona Gold Mining company, Pike's Peak Tunnel Mining Railway, Rio Colorado Gold Extraction company, United Mines company of Delaware, Channel and Tunnel Mining company of Los Angeles, and the After Gold Mining company of Los Angeles. The Pike's Peak company is in the hands of a receiver, and the others are not being operated.

Pearce was formerly in Colorado Springs, and came here about a year ago. He formed a great scheme some months since for a mining exchange and a big smelter at San Pedro, but neither "went."

TYPHOID AT PALO ALTO.

Several Cases Are Those of Students at the University.

PALO ALTO, April 11.—Fourteen cases of typhoid fever have been reported to the City Board of Health during the past three days. As yet the epidemic has not spread to the university campus, but several of the cases are those of students residing in town. It is believed that the germs have been spread in the milk supply of the town, which has been cut off by the health officer.

NORFOLK, Va., April 10.—Alexander Spencer (colored), aged 18 years was hanged at Houston, Va., to-day, while Good Friday services were being held in a church adjoining the jail. He was hanged for the crime of murder and assault of an aged white woman, who had raised him from an infant.

Millinery Department.

We are gladly surprised to notice that our newly established Millinery Department is growing in favor daily with the ladies of Anaheim and vicinity and we feel so encouraged that we shall endeavor to make this department one of the chief attractions for the shopping public. That our styles are correct you can see in the May Designer, in which appear quite a number of styles of Spring Millinery, such as we are showing in our large window. The department is in charge of a competant milliner, which enables us to either alter ready trimmed hats according to the taste of the purchaser or to trim up shapes, of which we carry quite a variety.

Street Hats and Sailors in every shape that fashion approves 50c. to $3.

Flowers and Fruits, very popular this season, in large assortments.

PEOPLE WHO GAMBLE.

Chinese and Italians Especially Addicted to Games of Chance.

Of all the nations of the earth who gamble—and they all do it more or less—the Chinese come in an easy first. Superstition and the gambling mania go in double harness, and while the mandarins fly kites to decide what should be done about Wei-Hai-Wei and Talien-Wan the humbler Celestials gamble for dear life to pass the time away. "The Chinese play night and day," says a traveler, "till they have lost all they are worth, and then they usually go and hang themselves," from which it would appear that the yellow danger is not so formidable after all.

The Chinese laborers in the United States squander their earnings in a game called "white pigeon's ticket." White, by the way, is the unlucky color for the gamer and the lucky one for the keeper of the gaming house. These gentry keep orange peel in a box, believing that it will bring them luck.

The Italians are no less superstitious, and they gamble persistently, the poor people especially, in the government lotteries. Everything has a number; a cat, a dog, a gondola, and the "Libro dei Sogno"—the lotto player's oracle—will tell you what the number is and the rules for interpreting the appearances in dreams. Visitors to Venice, which has always been a stronghold of gambling, may have seen the declaration of the winning figures from the Campanile of St. Mark's—the silent, eager crowd gathered in the square and the group of officials gathered round the boy with the bandaged eyes who draws the numbers from the cage.

There is a story told in Venice of a madman who hailed a gondolier from the window of the madhouse on the island to tell him the numbers he had dreamed. The man put his money on them and won, and from that day to this the gondoliers go near the window as they pass in the hope that the madman will call again. The story is true.—London Chronicle.

Getting Even With Him.

"Papa," said the little girl, "who do you love best in the world?"

Of course she thought she knew what he would reply, and he knew that she thought she knew it, says the Chicago Post. Consequently he decided to tease her.

"Daisy," he replied.

Daisy was her sister.

She thought it all over, and then she climbed up in his lap.

"Papa," she said, "I wish you would ask me if I love you or mamma best."

"Very well," he returned. "Do you love mamma or me best?"

Revenge is sweet, but even so a tender hearted bit of humanity does not like to be too harsh.

"You won't feel very, very bad if I tell you, will you?" she whispered.

He promised that he wouldn't.

"Well," she said, "then I guess I love mamma best."

Yes, revenge is sweet.

His Only Fear.

"I want a gentle horse for my wife to drive," said the prospective purchaser. "Can you recommend this one?"

"Yes, indeed," replied the owner. "There is not a safer horse for a lady to be found anywhere, and there is but one thing he's afraid of."

And what is that?" asked the other.

"He is awfully afraid some one will say 'Whoa!' to him and he won't hear it," replied the conscientious owner.—Chicago Daily News.

His College Yell.

"My dear," said the young wife, "there was a time when I was proud of the powerful voice you put into your college yell, but now I wish it had been merely a whisper."

"Why, dearest?" asked the astonished young husband.

"Because," she replied, "the baby has inherited it."—Chicago News.

Reckless Daring.

"Colonel," the beautiful girl asked, "what was the bravest deed you ever did?"

"Let me think a moment," the old warrior answered. "Oh, yes! Once while conversing with a Boston girl I deliberately said, 'I done it.'"—Cleveland Leader.

FLOWER AND TREE.

Keep begonias where the air is not too dry, and they will not drop their leaves.

In watering house plants sufficient should be given to soak the soil thoroughly.

A tree is nearly dormant in winter, especially one that has been lately transplanted.

Plants in a dormant state require very little water during the winter, and an excess will cause decay.

Drenching rosebushes with strong quassia tea is a good curative of bugs and other destructive insects and pests.

To root cuttings quickly fill a saucer full of sand, into which the slips may be set. Keep the sand the consistency of mud.

Never give up a decaying rosebush until you have tried watering it two or three times a week with soot tea for a short time.

Repotting of plants becomes necessary for two reasons—the plant uses up the available fertility in the soil and fills the pots with roots.

To prevent crotched trees from splitting after they come into bearing twist and fasten two small limbs together, and as the stem grows it will prevent splitting.

Cuttings of quick growing herbaceous plants, like heliotrope, verbena, phlox, geraniums, root quickly, chrysanthemums quickest of all. Choose cuttings when the plants are most vigorous.

Saved the Loved Ones!

Mrs. Mary A. Vliet, Newcastle, Col., writes: "I believe Ballard's Horehound Syrup is superior to any other cough medicine, and will do all that is claimed for it, and it is so pleasant to take. My little girl wants to take it when she has no need for it." Ballard's Horehound Syrup is the great cure for all pulmonary ailments. 25c, 50c and $1 at J. P. Hatzfeld's.

Lowering of the Great Lakes.

W. S. Harwood writes of "The Great Lakes" in St. Nicholas. Mr. Harwood says:

Geologists point out the fact that this chain of lakes has not always been as it now is; that there was a time when all the lakes were blended into one, having probably the Mississippi river for its outlet to the gulf on the south. One geologist says:

Every day sees something taken from the rocky barrier of Niagara, and geologically speaking at no very remote time our great lakes will have shared the fate of those which once existed in the great far west. Already they have been reduced to less than one-half their former area, and the water level has been depressed 300 feet or more. The process is pretty sure to go on until they are completely emptied. The cities that stand upon their banks will ere that time have grown colossal in size, then gray with age, then fall into decadence and their sites be long forgotten, but in the sediments that are now accumulating in these lake basins will lie many a wreck and skeleton, tree trunk and floated leaf. Near the city sites and old river mouths these sediments will be full of relics that will illustrate and explain the mingled comedy and tragedy of life.

In a certain sense these lakes form one mighty river, draining a region of over 525,000 square miles and finding an outlet for their overflowing water through the swift St. Mary's river at the east end of Superior; through Huron and the St. Clair river and Lake St. Clair and the Detroit river; through Erie and Niagara and Ontario and the St. Lawrence, on to the vast ocean beyond.

It is interesting to note that the bottom of Lake Superior, the highest of the lakes, is about 400 feet below the surface of the sea at New York harbor.

Catarrh Cannot be Cured

with Local Applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials, free.

The Pulley Line Pole.

The tall clothes poles for pulley lines used in the yards of tenements have practically come into use within 25 years. There are enough of them standing in the city now to make a respectable forest. They number thousands, and their number is all the time increasing. Not every tenement hangs out its clothes on a pulley line. Corner tenements, for instance, occupy so much of the lot on which they stand that there isn't room to set poles, and they hang on the roof. And sometimes in tenements in the middle of a block drying arrangements are on the roof. But in the case of a great majority of tenements the tall poles are used.

Some of these tall clothes poles are 75 feet in length. They range from 20 feet up and cost from $10 to $35 each. On account of their shut in situation and from the further fact that they are usually set close to a fence they get very little sunlight at the base, and so are likely to be damp there and to rot. Poles set in paved or cemented yards last longer than poles set in dirt yards. The ordinary life of these tall clothes poles is five to ten years. In new work and in renewals the poles set in this city amount to some thousands in a year.

The poles used are almost all of them spruce, and nearly all of them come from Nova Scotia.—New York Sun.

All He Got From the Suit.

An author now both rich and famous tells how he earned his first sixpence. His father had been for 27 years engaged in a suit in chancery and had just gained his cause. The expenses of the suit, however, had swallowed up the entire estate, the residue being merely 3s. 6d. My father, he relates, ranged the 7 sixpences on our breakfast table. "My boy," said he, "see what comes of going to law in Great Britain. Your mother has told you that I have won my suit in chancery?"

"Yes, father."

"Well, then, look! That is all I get of it," and he pointed grimly at the sixpences. I opened wide my eyes.

"All you get of the whole suit?" I echoed, with a puzzled air, convinced that a suit in chancery was composed, as other suits are, of a coat, waistcoat and trousers. "Why, father, those are only the buttons!"

It was this deplorable joke that earned me my sixpence, for my father, laughing, tossed me one, and I rushed off like a dog pelted with a bone.—Strand Magazine.

Dramatic Entertainment

On Tuesday evening, April 23th, at the operahouse, the members of the Shakesperean club of St. Vincent's college, Los Angeles, will give a dramatic entertainment. The drama will be that beautiful and strong play, "Malediction." The costumes to be worn are of the finest, and the talent of the students has repeatedly been praised by the Los Angeles papers. Many of our citizens have at various times witnessed performances given by the above club at the Los Angeles theatre, and all speak highly of their ability. Lovers of the dramatic will be given a rare opportunity to enjoy a most pleasant evening and at the same time help a worthy cause, as the entertainment is to be given for the benefit of the new Catholic church which is now nearing completion. The general price of admission is only 25c; reserved seats, 35c. for sale at McCollum's bicycle store.

As additional attractions a very laughable farce and some excellent singing will will be rendered. Besides the commendable purpose for which the entertainment is given, you may feel assured of full value for your money. Let there be a large attendance.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 13.—A shooting affray in which a 9-year-old boy was killed and a woman mortally wounded, an attempted murder, two suicides and two attempts at suicide that may result fatally, occurred in this city last night.

Joseph Kwaltkowsky, 51 years of age, a Polish citizen, is locked up at shooting his landlady and killing his son, 9 years old.

He formerly conducted an extensive business in one of the city markets. Since the death of his wife a year ago, business difficulties drove him to drink. Last night when Kwaltkowski returned home Mrs. Walinski, his landlady, notified him that he would have to move, whereupon he drew a revolver and began firing, backing out of the house as he did so. Mrs. Walinski followed him and grappled with him. He pointed the revolver at her breast and fired. She fell to the ground mortally wounded. Kwaltkowski fired several more shots, one of them striking his 9-year-old son, killing him instantly. A large crowd quickly gathered and he retreated into the house, locking the door behind him.

When the officers arrived he barricaded the doors and began firing through the windows at them. The officers fired about thirty shots through the window but failed to hit him. Kwaltkowski continued to fire until his ammunition was exhausted. The officers then battered down the front door and found the Pole hiding in a closet. He made a desperate battle with a stiletto before he was finally overpowered.

George Denning, 55 years old, had been separated from his wife for some time. He called upon her to-day and tried to induce her to re-enter marital relations. She refused. He drew a revolver and fired. She fell to the floor in a faint, and believing that he had killed her Denning ran away. His body was found later in the evening in a Salvation Army lodging house. He had taken poison.

Miss Marie Beers, 20 years of age, actress, took morphine yesterday. She is dead.

Bertha Vaughn, 23 years of age, swallowed a dose of vitrol. Her condition is critical.

Miss Blanche Murphy, after a quarrel with an unknown man who disappeared, swallowed a quantity of laudanum.

Walks Without Crutches

I was much afflicted with sciatica, writes Ed. C. Nud, Iowaville, Sedgwick Co., Kan., "going about on crutches and suffering a deal of pain. I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, which relieved me. I used three 50c bottles. It is the greatest liniment I ever used; have recommended it to a number of persons, all express themselves as being benefited by it. I now walk without crutches, able to perform a great deal of light labor on the farm." 25c, 50c and $1 at J. P. Hatzfeld's.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 11.—Frank Breen, Treasurer of Longshoremen's Union, was sentenced to-day to three years in San Quentin for embezzlement of $12,000.

Resume Investigation.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 13.—The Cole county Grand Jury resumed its investigations this morning into the baking powder scandals connected with the State Legislature.

"The square peg in the round hole" figuratively expresses the use of means unsuited to the desired end. A great many people who have been cured of dyspepsia and other diseases of the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery say: "We tried many medicines with only temporary benefit. It was not until we began the use of 'Golden Medical Discovery' that we found a complete and lasting cure."

$3,000 FORFEIT will be paid by WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y., if they cannot show the original signature of the individual volunteering the testimonial below, and also of the writers of every testimonial among the thousands which they are constantly publishing, thus proving their genuineness.

"It is with pleasure that I tell you what Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pellets' have done for me," writes Mrs. T. M. Palmer, of Reede, Kaufman Co., Texas. "Two years ago I was taken with stomach and bowel trouble. Everything I ate would put me in distress. I lived two weeks on milk and even that gave me pain. I felt as though I would starve to death. Three doctors attended me—one said I had dyspepsia, two said catarrh of the stomach and bowels. They attended me (one at a time) for one year. I stopped taking their medicine and tried some patent medicine; got no better, and I grew so weak and nervous my heart would flutter. I could not do any kind of work. Now I can do my house work very well; am gaining in flesh and strength, and can eat anything I want."

FACTS ABOUT ANAHEIM.

Sketch of the Industries and Resources of this Most Beautiful Part of California.

The City of Anaheim, with a population of 2500, is situated in the northern part of Orange county, in Southern California, 12 miles from the ocean, 4½ miles from the foothills, and 148½ feet above sea level. It is 27 miles from Los Angeles, the second largest city in the State of California.

The climatic conditions are the most favorable for out-door life to be found in Southern California. The temperature is extremely uniform, seldom rising above 90 degrees in summer, or falling below 32 degrees in winter. The abundance of sunlight and the absence of sharp frosts and cold winds make it a place especially acceptable to those desiring to escape the severe climate of the east.

The country is very attractive. It is practically level, with just sufficient slope from the hills to afford adequate drainage. The roads are level, well graded, and well kept, affording excellent opportunities for cycling and driving. The soil is a rich sandy loam which never bakes, making it a very easy ground to work; thus lending itself readily to the cultivation of berries, nuts, oranges, etc.

The variety of products, and the possibility of procuring small tracts of land at low figures, and on easy terms, make our section of the county very attractive and advantageous for truck raising, or for farming on a small scale. The following are a few of the products: oranges, lemons, walnuts, grapes, peaches, apricots, sugar beets, berries and vegetables of all kinds.

Anaheim is the possessor of a Building and Loan Association, Water company, two railroads, fruit cannery and drier, large oil industry, ostrich farm, bank, several adequate commercial houses, two hotels and two newspapers. The city also owns its water and lighting plant.

FACTS ABOUT ORANGE CO.

THE census bureau has issued a bulletin on agriculture in California which we quote from extensively in another part of this issue. One of the interesting features of the report is the paragraph giving the number of farms and acres of farming lands in the five Southern California counties. The pre-eminence of Orange county is apparent:

Counties.	No. farms.	Acres.
Los Angeles	6577	890,953
Orange	2266	569,426
Riverside	2440	427,497
San Bernardino	2350	319,132
San Diego	2088	320,419

But it is in the acreage of irrigated lands that Orange county takes easy precedence over the other counties of Southern California:

Counties.	Acres.
Los Angeles	55,544
Orange	41,549
Riverside	22,947
San Bernardino	37,577
San Diego	16,022

The area of Orange county is 780 square miles; that of Los Angeles, 3880; that of Riverside, 7008; that of San Bernardino, 20 055, and that of San Diego, 8400 square miles.

Orange county thus contains one-fifth the area of Los Angeles; yet its irrigated lands approach in area to one-half those of its neighbor to the north.

Riverside embraces nine times its area, yet it irrigates 9000 more acres, or a fourth more than the belauded county on the east.

San Bernardino is 25 times its size, yet its irrigated acres exceed those of this jumbo county by nearly 4000, approximately ten per cent.

San Diego is eleven times its size, yet it irrigates 25,000 acres more than the county on the south—300 per cent is the former's irrigated area as compared with that of the latter—almost the irrigated area of San Diego and Riverside combined.

Orange county possesses the finest system of irrigation, the most secure water rights, that exist in Southern California. That is what we have said many a time and oft. These figures prove it. It is the handsomest and most productive county that lies outdoors and is settling up faster than any other in the State.

SHOE HIEROGLYPHICS.

Occult Symbols That Have Been Devised to Deceive Womankind.

"People often ask me the meaning of the apparently crazy hieroglyphs and figures that are stamped on the inner side of the uppers of ready made shoes nowadays," said an F street shoe dealer. "As every shoe manufactory has a secret stamp code of its own and there is, therefore, no possibility of the general public learning more than that such codes exist, I may as well tell you that the vanity of modern mortals, and especially women, is at the bottom of these peculiar stamped characters and figures. You'd be surprised to know, for instance, how many women there are who imagine that they wear a No. 3 shoe when in reality their size is a couple of figures larger. A shoe salesman who understands his business can tell precisely the number of the shoe a woman customer wears at a glance. But as often as not a woman whose foot is a No. 5 calls for a shoe a couple of sizes smaller, and the mysterious stamped hieroglyph scheme was devised for the purpose of encouraging her in the belief that her foot is a couple of sizes smaller than it really measures in shoe leather.

"When a woman calls for a No. 5 to fit a No. 5 foot, no shoe salesman of this era who cares anything for his job is going to say, 'Madam, your foot requires a No. 5.' He simply breaks out a shoe of the style she requests that he feels confident will fit her comfortably and lets it go at that.

Wooing in England is, as a rule, the preliminary to a happy union. The latest statistics show that the average annual number of applications for divorce does not exceed 575, which is certainly small, considering that the number of Englishmen and English women who marry each year is 450,000.

Judge Hayne Dead.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—Robert M. Hayne, ex-Judge court and ex-Commissioner Supreme Court, died this morning at his home in San Mateo. Hayne had been ill a few weeks but had been sufferer for long time from heart trouble. Was 50 years old and leaves wife and children.

ST. LOUIS, April 10.—A huge derrick used at the metallurgy building at the World's Fair, fell this afternoon pinioning five men beneath it. The weight was so great that jack screws were required to liberate the injured, three of whom will probably die.

MANILA, April 13. — The Reina Christina, Admiral Montejo's flagship, which was sunk by Dewey at the battle of Manila Bay, was raised from her bed of mud yesterday by the crew of wrecking company and beached. About eighty skeletons were found in the vessel. The valve of the main injector is missing, which leads to the belief that the vessel was scuttled when her commander abandoned her. Fifteen shell holes were found in her hull, but otherwise the vessel was in fair condition.

Loubet on a Tour.

MARSEILLES, April 12.—Loubet arrived to-day en route to Algiers. Enthusiastically received. Decorated twenty-five officials, kissing each one as pinned on decoration.

To Work Against Mormonism.

COLUMBUS, April 10.—A National Anti-Mormon Missionary Association was incorporated here to-day, the object of which is to carry on a campaign against Mormons, wherever the faith has gained a foothold or where missionaries are working.

EUREKA, Ill., April 13.—Clay Clement, the actor, who was disinherited by terms of settlement of his father's estate because he went on the stage, now comes into possession of twelve thousand five hundred dollars.

SEATTLE, April 13. — Superior Judge Bell this morning quashed Grand Jury indictment against Mayor Humes charging him with failure to suppress gambling and kindred vices. The Judge held that the law does not contemplate that the Mayor shall act as a police officer.

GLENN FALLS, N. Y., April 13.—Six hundred operators of the Weil shirt collar factory struck this morning, and two hundred others who do piece work at home are also out. The trouble is over the demand for a reduced rate on thread which the operators are compelled to buy from the company.

CHICAGO, April 11.—Armour accomplished a great coup in May and July wheat this morning on the Board of Trade when he bid May up to 77⅞c from 76 6-8c and advanced July ⅝c. The scenes that marked the famous Leiter deal were re-enacted and for a time there was a semi-panic. Shorts frantically rushed to recoup themselves, but before they could recover, Armour had unloaded and put the price down to 74⅝c and 69⅝c. Armour's profits are estimated at over a quarter of a million.

Fishing Vessels Safe.

GLOUCESTER, April 13. — Eight fishing vessels, which were caught in the ice for many months in the bay of Islands, N. F., and which were long feared to have been lost, have been liberated and are coming home.

ROME, April 13.—The International Agricultural Congress opened here today with two thousand delegates in attendance.

MANILA, April 10.—The town of Bacolod, Island of Mindanao, was captured to-day by Captain Perahing's forces. One hundred Moros were killed and many wounded. The American casualties were three wounded.

Shaw's battalion of the Twenty-seventh Infantry, Chacuain's battery and Kilpatrick's troop of the Fifteenth Cavalry participated. The engagement was precipitated by the Moros opposing Pershing's advance along the west coast where a survey is being made. The Moros fired without warning from a stronghold. The American forces surrounded and shelled the stronghold, after which they made a terrific charge in which they used their bayonets with terrible effect. Among the killed is Datto Panandungan, who has been professing friendship for the Americans.

A SOUTHERN BELLE.

A beautiful Georgia Girl, Vice-President of the East End Palmetto Club, of Savannah, and prominent society there, relates the following experience:

You certainly have produced the finest medicine for suffering women that there is to be had in the country. I want to recommend it especially to mothers. I was seventeen years old when my darling boy was born. Felt very exhausted and weak for a long time, and it seemed I could not get my strength back. My sister-in-law bought me a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription (after I had tried several of the other remedies which are so much advertised, and found no relief). I had little faith in the medicine at the time and was so weak and sick that I felt discouraged, but within a week after I had commenced taking your "Prescription" I was like a different woman. New life and vitality seemed to come with each succeeding day, until, in a few weeks, I was in fine health, and a happy, hearty woman. My boy is now two years old, and, thanks to your splendid medicine, I am enjoying perfect health. If at any time I feel tired or in need of a tonic, a few doses of your "Favorite Prescription" recuperates me at once. My address is No. 511 Jones Street, East, Savannah, Ga.

MRS. SUSIE WILLIAMS.

To Dr. R. V. Pierce.

There is No Beauty Like the Beauty of Health.

Nothing encourages beauty of face and form so much as a healthy body. Very much depends on the condition of the organs peculiar to women. These should perform their functions regularly and be free from those weakening influences so often connected with life in the city.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, after making a specialty of woman's diseases, finally found a prescription, whose ingredients were entirely of vegetable origin, which had a marvelous effect on the organs peculiar to women. He found it also had a good tonic effect on the whole system; this he used in his private practice with such favorable results that he finally decided to put it up in "patent medicine" form some thirty-five years ago, and since that time it has enjoyed the largest sale of any medicine put up for women only. It is entirely vegetable, and Dr. Pierce gives his absolute guarantee that it contains no alcohol, opium or other harmful narcotics. The trouble with many tonics put up for the public is that they depend upon alcohol for their stimulating effect; this is something Dr. Pierce has always felt was bad practice, harmful and a poor business policy, if not absolutely wrong.

The Sisters of the Good Shepherd, at their convent, "Our Lady of the Woods," Carthage, O., use a great deal of Dr. Pierce's medicines; they say, in a recent letter to Dr. Pierce: "We beg to assure you of the great benefit these medicines give our ailing ones. We cannot sufficiently recommend their excellence."

"Favorite Prescription" cures the womanly diseases which undermine the general health, which make the eyes and cheeks hollow and the body thin. Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, in strict confidence. Address Dr. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT FOR CONSTIPATION

Constipation is nothing more than a clogging of the bowels and nothing less than vital stagnation or death if not relieved. If every constipated sufferer could realize that he is allowing poisonous filth to remain in his system, he would soon get relief. Constipation invites all kind of contagion. Headaches, biliousness, colds and many other ailments disappear when constipated bowels are relieved. Thedford's Black-Draught thoroughly cleans out the bowels in an easy and natural manner without the purging of calomel or other violent cathartics.

Be sure that you get the original Thedford's Black-Draught, made by The Chattanooga Medicine Co. Sold by all druggists in 25 cent and $1.00 packages.

VICTORIA, B. D., April 13.—Dunsmuir, owner of coal mines, who precipitated present strike by discharging men for joining Western Federation of Miners, now refuses to recognize Arbitration Board appointed by Dominion government, consisting of Chief Justice Hunter and Rev. Dr. Rowe. Says there is nothing to arbitrate. Won't recognize Western Federation and declares commission can do nothing.

NEW YORK, April 10.—The occupants of two Fifth-avenue apartment houses and the Victoria Hotel were driven from their beds this morning by fire which theatened to destroy the entire block. There were very many narrow escapes. The elevator boy first discovered the fire and gave the alarm, undoubtedly saving many lives. Among those rescued with great danger were Miss Huntington, niece of the late Collis P. Huntington, Miss Penfold and Miss Leiter, niece of the Chicago millionaire. Peter Daley and Band Master Dusa escaped through the smoke and Captain Zalinski, inventor of the dynamite gun used by the United States, who is a cripple, was rescued with difficulty from the top floor of an apartment house. The Victoria Hotel was damaged by smoke only. The fire started in a warehouse in the center of the block, which suffered greatest damage. The loss is $100,000.

Beauty and Strength

Are desirable. You are strong and vigorous, when your blood is pure. Many—nay, most—women, fail to properly digest their food, and so become pale, sallow, thin and weak, while the brightness, freshness and beauty of the skin and complexion depart. Remedy this unpleasant evil, by eating nourishing food, and taking a small dose of Herbine after each meal, to digest what you have eaten. 50c at J. P. Hatzfeld's.

PORTLAND, Ore., April 13.—Hod carriers and concrete men struck today joining small army of building trades employes already out. Employers this morning demanded police protection to each building, which was granted. Will import mechanics in all lines to take places of strikers and agreed not in future to employ any union men. All building operations will be suspended a few days.

Morgan, Ark., May 24, 1901.

I cannot recommend Thedford's Black-Draught too highly. I keep it in my house all the time and have used it for the last ten years. I never cure my children any other laxative. I think I could never be able to work without it on account of being troubled with constipation. Your medicine is all that keeps me up.

THE SANDERS-ARNOTT DISC PLOW.

The solid cast frame now being used on the Sanders-Arnott Disc Plow is the most valuable feature added to the Disc Plow since they were placed on sale. See them before buying. No more sprung beams out of line or bolts sheared off. We have a new pattern four gang plow for the largest ranches. Any disc plow without the solid cast frame is old style. Do not be misled into buying one. Made in one, two, three and four gangs patterns. The most successful disc plow in the market. Draft reduced 50 per cent. Send for circulars. We have a liberal proposition to offer any rancher who wishes to investigate the merits of this plow. Write for it
