The Anaheim Water company will elect a sanatorium in two weeks from today and invite proposals from all wanting the job.

"Newark" and Costa are the names of two railway stations that have been established between here and Downey.

The schooner Rassau arrived at Anaheim Landing last Sunday with 180,000 feet of assorted lumber consigned to Halberstadt & Company.

Six hundred and forty acres of land in and around San Juan Capistrano are being laid off in town lots by a surveying company in charge of Mr. Nichols of Tustin City.

Conrad is building an addition to his saloon which has been leased to Menzel A. Bagatelle. Tables will be added to the furniture. Menzel will open tonight with a free lunch.

Head's Business College Journal for January contains a list of students who graduated at the last term. Among those mentioned we find the name of Fred Rimpau, a whittom-type slinger on the Gazette.

The Artesian well on Mr. Chapin's farm in the Lone Tree settlement is now down 189 feet. Artesian water was obtained at a depth of 180 feet but the flow was slight and it was thought it was about to get deeper in search of a larger stream.

Among Los Angeles people on the first train from that city were Broderick and Dr. McLaughlin. Mr. Broderick of Wells-Fargo & Co., and last, but not least, Gen. Joe Huber, who by the bye, came down expressly to have inserted that double column ad of Swigart & Huber's tin establishment.

The farmers living in the proposed Cajon Waters District, met in Enterprise hall on last Saturday in accordance with the call which had been made. As they had already petitioned however to be organized under the Bush Act, they adjourned to meet at the polls on the sixth day of February.

At a meeting of the First Presbyterian church, held last Sabbath morning, after service, the church decided to adopt the term service of elders, instead of services for life. The term of office will be three years. The following arrangement was adopted for this election: Mr. P. C. McKinnin, the present elder was chosen for three years, Mr. Alex. Bailey, for two years, and Mr. Jas. H. Reine for one year, subsequent elections to be for three years.

The first train—According to an announcement the first regular train over the Anaheim branch of the Southern Pacific railroad made its appearance at Anaheim about a short time after eleven o'clock on Thursday morning. And ready to receive visitors and guests who were expected were quite a number of private cars, and, whilst the regular coaches from the lively station were on hand to accommodate the travelling public. Owing to the fact not having been known in Los Angeles that on Thursday the number of passengers was not so large as it might otherwise have been. However enough came to show that railroad communication with this section was an item of interest elsewhere and Center street for a couple of hours put on quite a metropolitan appearance. We understand that there will be an excursion from Los Angeles on tomorrow week.

Married.—On January 12, 1875 by Rev. P. Parley, L. W. Kirby to Miss Felicitad Carrillo.

Preaching at the Presbyterian church tomorrow at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday School at 11 a. m. At the conclusion of the morning service there will be an ordination and installation of elders. Topic for the evening, "The Trial of Christ Before Every Man." The Episcopalians will hold divine services at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. by Rev. Mr. Loop of San Gabriel.

It is not an extraordinary sight to find ripe walnuts in our walnut orchards at this season of the year. But what is a rare sight, and what can be seen in Mr. Langenberger's garden on Spangmoor street, are green walnuts just forming from the bud and the thermometer calls for 38 degrees below zero in some of the eastern states.

Michael Reese was down in this section the other day inspecting his property. He had dinner in Wilmington and after eating three ducks at one sitting and feeling pretty good he declared his intention to build a railroad from Anaheim to the Landing.

The jury in the Vaquero trial returned a verdict of guilty and assigned the death penalty. Counsel for defense asked that sentence be deferred for two weeks to allow time to prepare a bill of exceptions. The court fixed the day of passing sentence on January 23.

25 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

January 16, 1900

Marshall Steadman has had a force of men engaged in excavating a trench along Center street for laying water pipe from the main at the corner of Center and Palm streets, connecting with the new residence being erected for the parents of Father Dube and the house lately built for Mr. Voelke on the lot west of his former residence next to the property of Isaac Lyons. Henry Smith, Frank Nantz and Jake Vetter are engaged on the job.

Mrs. Ferdinand Banks is visiting relatives in San Francisco.

Frank Steadman has been sick the last day or two with an attack of asthma and a gripe.

Paul Turk returned on Sunday evening from a month's visit with relatives in Chicago.

Painter Nemets has painted some very artistic signs for Oliver Bush's billiard and pool room.

Ben Porter drove over from Fullerton on Monday afternoon. He said he contemplates a trip to Bakersfield to work in the oil fields there.

A. D. Porter and Frank Stone are at the Bolsa Chica where they have work with contractor Groos lowering the dike in the dam across the channel to extreme low water mark.

Napoleon Hart and wife drove to the Bolsa Chica shooting grounds on Sunday accompanied by Mrs. Metz. Mr. Hart reports an enjoyable trip.

Dr. Wm. Freeman of Fullerton has gone to Tacoma, to be joined in wedlock to Miss Belle McPadden formerly of Fullerton. The Doctor is expected to return with his bride some time next week.

J. B. Rae returned on Sunday from Berkeley after an absence of several weeks. On Friday last he and his wife celebrated their silver wedding. Mr. Rae returns to be asked on all sides to run for water director.

Peter Weisel, Jr., departs on Saturday for Milwaukee where he will be joined in wedlock to one of the charming young ladies of that city. He will be accompanied by his mother and sister, Miss Elsie, his father remaining here to give his attention to the enlargement of the cannery. Pete takes with him the best wishes of a host of friends for his future welfare and happiness. He will be gone probably a month or more and may prolong his honeymoon trip to Europe. On his return he will go to housekeeping in the Lee cottage which he has refitted and refurbished.

Mrs. Roerden while delivering milk to her customers in town on Sunday morning had the misfortune to fall and break her right arm at the wrist. It was while crossing the ditch in front of the Beecher place, near the city water works that she slipped and fell. Dr. Eddy set the break and Mrs. Roerden is getting along nicely.

Ed Kraemer has sold his crop of oranges advantageously and is now talking of making a trip to Europe.

A number of ladies of the city have organized a Turn Verein sisterhood, the purpose being to cooperate in a social way with the members of the Turn Verein. The following officers have been chosen to serve for the first year: Mrs. Katherine Black, president; Mrs. Corolla Kistler, vice-president; Mrs. Clara Fischer, financial secretary; Mrs. Emma Wisner, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Selma Oeffinger, treasurer; Mrs. Helena Ruhman and Mrs. Miss Kosser, trustees.

On Monday evening last Anaheim Lodge No. 27 F. & A. M. conferred the third degree of masonry after which the following officers were installed for the ensuing year: A. S. Bradford, W. M.; J. H. Enoch, S. W.; Geo. S. Eddy, J. W.; Wm. M. Higgins, Treasurer; Joseph Holmen, secretary; Wm. Crowther, S. D.; Alex. Henson, J. D.; H. C. P. Woods, Steward; J. S. Ordinger, Tyler. Brother Chas. E. Mitchell of Long Beach, inspector of the 33rd Masonic District installed the officers. After the ceremonies a banquet was spread which was enjoyed by all the brethren present.

C. Schindler was quite seriously injured at Fullerton on Saturday by being thrown from his wagon and striking his head upon the ground. His horse took fright at the Santa Fe train, wheeling around and overturning the vehicle. Mr. Schindler was brought home and yesterday was said to be improving.

MANY TOURISTS EXPECTED

Supporting the "Sea America First Movement," as fostered by hotel associations, tour companies and railroad lines throughout the United States, the West Coast Tourist Co., Inc., have completed and are now distributing an introductory eight-page folder—"Redwood Highway Tours."

This folder is descriptive of the timbered "wonderland" of California Northwest, bordering and contiguous to the Redwood Highway, between San Francisco, Eureka, Crescent City and Grants Pass, with connection to Portland.

One way and round trip tours in either direction between these points are featured. Lateral trips between Eureka and Red Bluff (Gateway to Lassen Park), between Eureka and Redding (Gateway to Pitt River country), and between Eureka and Yreka are also mentioned.

According to Clyde Emerson, General Passenger Agent for the line, there has already been an unprecedented demand for supplies of this folder from tourists and travel centers, not only throughout this country, but in foreign parts as well.

Edmonson states that these giant redwood forests of California Northwest hold a peculiar fascination for the easterner as evidenced by inquiry, a tremendous tourist traffic is expected over the Redwood Highway Tours during the summer of 1915.

In order to handle this traffic efficiently, the West Coast Tourist Co., Inc., in addition to its present joint service with the Coast Auto Lines between Eureka and Grants Pass, is planning to operate tours in first class parlor car equipment, with luxurious individual adjustable air-cushion seats, long plate glass windows and other features.

These spring and summer tours of two, three and four days or more are destined exclusively for the leisurely sightseer, tourist and vacationist. In time, these giant redwoods should prove to hold a greater drawing power for the tourist than the rather worn out points of interest, which have so long carried the popular fancy of the traveler.

HARBOR NOTES

Orange County's Harbor Commission has asked General Landry H. Beach to make a survey and Harbor Layout for Newport Bay. The action has been received with great satisfaction in all directions. The development of Los Angeles is now asserted; the report of General Beach will be used in the incentive for a County Bond issue for real improvement.

The two yacht clubs having Newport Bay for "Home Waters" have both just closed very successful seasons. The Newport Yacht Club will install a new set of officers early in 1925. This club has awarded some splendid trophies for races held the past season.

The Southland Sailing club claims credit for holding a record for the number of starters in any yachting event. This club had 26 starters at one of its August races. The City Fathers of the City of Newport Beach have taken an active interest in the number of trophies for important races held during the 1924 season.

A third Yacht or Boat club has been organized directly as a result of the races arranged for prizes offered by the City Trustees. These special races were for Juniors and no one over eighteen can be a member of the Balboa Island Yacht Club—the third Yachting Association on Newport Bay.

Establishment of a select Beach Club is announced in the plans now made public for the taking over of the Balboa Palisades Tavern and the purchase of a strip of beach between at Corona del Mar, also a part of the City of Newport Beach. Extensive changes and additions to the tavern will make it a club of importance having distinctive features which should make a strong appeal. The most magnificent views are secured from the location at which the club stands, overlooking the wide expanse of Newport Bay and the limitless area of the Pacific. The clubhouse is to be erected in a delightful situation and will prove a great attraction to the already charming features of the Newport Bay area.

LEPERS IN PHILIPPINES

More than 300 lepers detained in various parts of the Philippines are held under conditions neither sanitary, humane nor safe to the public at large, according to an urgent communication sent by Governor Eugene A. Gilmore to the secretary of commerce and communications. Mr. Gilmore requests that a coast-guard vessel be made available immediately for the purpose of collecting these lepers from the various islands and transporting them to Cullion Island, the leper colony.

According to the report of Dr. Jose Avelino, chief of the Cullion Leprosy Colony, 5,103 persons are confined there, four of whom are Americans. The colony consists of 2,487 men, 1,315 women, 802 boys and 496 girls. There are 1,134 single and 2,350 married lepers; 287 widows and 1,238 children.

THE UNITED STATES AND SOVIET RUSSIA

An Englishman, Charles Soreles by name, has recently published a book entitled "Impressions of Soviet Russia." He had spent a great deal of time in that country for the purpose of giving conditions there a thorough and first hand study. What he reports will be interesting.

It will be remembered that the United States appropriated many millions of dollars and sent a commission to Russia for the purpose of saving the starving in two of its largest and ordinarily most productive provinces, where a famine was raging. At the very time that this was done, Soviet Russia was spending millions for the purpose of destroying other governments, including our own, when we were giving to relieve the starving people of that country.

Official announcement comes from Russia that for 1925 two hundred million gold rubles, approximately one hundred million dollars of our money, has been appropriated for foreign propaganda work. Famine is still prevalent in parts of Russia, and yet its vicious government can turn its eyes away from its own suffering people and spend millions of dollars of gold for the purpose of destroying organized government in other nations, including our own.

And what does this Soviet government aim to accomplish by the spending of such a large sum of money? It aims to bring the same conditions in other countries that are in Russia, where a few crafty men have seized the government, and by force are maintaining themselves as the ruling power in that country, although they call it a "soviet" which might imply that the laborers of Russia were participating in the government. As a matter of fact, less than three per cent of the Russian people are represented at all in its government, and of that three per cent only a very small fraction of one per cent have anything to say whatever about Russia shall or shall not do and yet they call their government an ideal which they want the other governments of the earth to follow. Over eighty per cent of the population of Russia consists of peasants. They have no voice and no relation whatever to the government. Only a small fraction of the laborers, and those are the communists, are permitted even to vote, and their votes really count for nothing, since an autocratic government far more autocratic than the czar, and far more vicious, rules the country as it pleases, and has kept itself in power by the murder of thousands and thousands of the best people in Russia, and by sending many more thousands as exiles into Siberia, and by putting very many more thousands in prisons. In other words, the Soviet government rules by force. It is backed by a standing army that does not hesitate at murder or any other crime which the Soviet government may want it to perform. When its people are hungry, because the government is hurtful, wasteful and discourages industry, then the hypocrites who rule Russia send out a loud call for help. The Soviet plunders its own people for the purpose of maintaining its army of assassins to keep itself in power. And when making their appeals to the pity of other governments and the people of other countries to send food and money to aid the starving in Russia, these cruel, barbarous, detestable rulers of Russia recompense this charity by sending money to destroy the governments of the very countries from which they have asked help for their own people. The Russian money is used for fostering strikes, stirring up class strife and hatred, with the aim of destroying such governments.

And yet there are people in the United States who want us to recognize Soviet Russia, with its one hundred million treason funds. The Soviet government has killed twenty-eight bishops, 1,219 priests, 6,000 doctors and teachers, 9,000 doctors, 54,000 officers, 260,000 soldiers, 70,000 policemen, 12,950 landowners, 355,250 intellectuals and professional men, 138,000 peasants. The statistics of these Russian domestic killings were compiled by Mr. Charles Soreles, the English writer, after a thorough and painstaking investigation of the facts. Have the governing people of Russia any right to expect recognition from our republic, when they are using a part of a one-hundred million dollar treason fund to destroy our government? We believe America never should recognize a government that is sustained by hypocrites and that keeps itself in power by murder and the fear which murder inspires—a government which is so contemptible that it repays our charity which it begs by attempting the destruction of our form of government.

"You wets don't know what you're talking about," said the Neighborhood Grocer when he was told that 1924 had been a year of big biglification in the United States.

BUILDING IN THE SOUTHLAND

Southern California construction firms specializing in the erection of industrial buildings will have one of the most prosperous years in 1925, according to Joseph F. Rhodes, Los Angeles contractor, who has been engaged in the building business in the latter city for many years.

A survey to determine to what extent industrial construction was planned for the Southland for the new year was recently completed by Mr. Rhodes' office. The results show unmistakably that there would be an abundance of this type of building under way within a few months.

"From every part of the United States inquiries are being received by the various Chambers of Commerce and construction firms regarding the cost of erecting industrial plants in this territory," stated Mr. Rhodes, "and this fact clearly indicates that there will be an abundance of industrial construction work in 1925."

"In addition to this there are a large number of industrial units for which contracts have been held in abeyance pending completion of financing. The recent new era of prosperity sweeping the entire country has enabled the owners of these units to complete the necessary financial arrangements and construction work is now scheduled to begin early in the new year."

Realizing that prices of material and labor, necessary in the construction work of these plants, Mr. Rhodes stated, will not remain at the low levels which have been prevailing for months, many owners are insisting that their plans be hastened to completion.

SCENIC DRIVE OF SOUTHLAND COMPLETED

Mulholland Drive, one of the most delightful scenic drives in Southern California, is completed. It is a 25-mile stretch extending from Griffith Park over the ridge of the Santa Monica Mountains to Calabasas. This drive has opened up more than 70,000 acres of highly desired sites for homes.

The eastern gate of the highway will be reached by Vernon Avenue in Griffith Park. It is planned that over $1,000,000 will be expended in the erection of a Greek theater and other public buildings at this point, which will form an imposing entrance to this scenic route.

From Griffith Park the highway is paved through Hollywood, this part of the drive having been planned in two tiers, as east-bound and west-bound road, which have not as yet been connected with the portion through Griffith Park, but which connection will soon be made. It then circles the viaduct from Hollywood Knolls and over the Chahuenga Pass.

Continuing west, the highway circles above the Bowl and follows the crest of the Hollywood Mountains, the Pacific, Catalina and other islands are to be had on one side, while on the other are awe-inspiring views of snow-capped peaks and wooded canyons. The highway then passes over the valley side of the hills, and from here a beautiful panorama of San Fernando Valley greets the eyes, with its bustling cities, green fields and Mt. Lowe and Mt. Wilson in the distance. Crossing Laurel Canyon, the road weaves its way through one beautiful spot after another until Calabasas is reached, the western terminus.

It is planned that the stretch just west of Topanga Canyon to the sea will be built immediately, which will traverse the mountains of the Malibu and with the completion of this stretch there will be 45 miles of ridge driving unsurpassed for beauty.

Love often flies out the window and alights on the divorce judge's bench merely because it has viewed a wife deliberately permitting herself to get fat.

Santa Fe Helps Shippers

Record-breaking freight traffic handled without congestion or serious delay

Since January 1st, 1923, the Santa Fe has purchased new equipment costing over $50,000,000, including 13,750 freight cars and 146 locomotives. It has spent $43,000,000 additional on new shops, terminals, double track, etc.

As a result, from August 1st to November 1st, the Santa Fe Railway handled 48,395 cars of commercial freight in excess of any previous year—an increase of 9.7%—without congestion or any material delay. Notwithstanding the heavy calls, cars have been furnished practically on demand. In the few cases of local shortage, due to excessive local demand, cars have been furnished with such slight delay as to be negligible.

Four years of legislative peace and fair treatment under the Transportation Act have been a vital factor in its ability to meet satisfactorily the record-breaking freight traffic of the past two years and maintain a surplus of cars at all times, barring local temporary shortages.

Good service to the farmer is of the utmost importance when prices and crops in the aggregate are good. Inadequate railroad facilities cause freight congestion, delays, waste, and loss to everyone. The wholesaler, jobber, and retailer must carry heavy stocks and place orders well in advance, to make sure their shelves do not become bare. The farmer must store his grain and hold his livestock waiting for cars to ship to market.

In a country growing like ours it is not easy to keep pace with such growth. During the war the railroads fell behind, as their expansion had to be deferred for more pressing matters. Today they are fairly abreast of the procession. They are pressing forward on a continued program of improvement which, with a continuance of present general conditions, will steadily extend their ability to serve.

On the Nation's Business

A SLEET storm snaps wires in New England; a blizzard fells a line of poles in the Western ranges; a flood overwhelms a valley community; a prairie cyclone sweeps away everything in its path;—wherever the emergency, men and materials are rushed to the spot in order that telephone service, vitally important at such a time, may be restored.

And the mending of every break restores to telephone users, everywhere in America, a particular path for the passage of his voice. Whether sudden calamity comes from an Atlantic gale or a Texas "twister," its damage must be repaired at once, because it cripples some part of a communications system that is nation-wide.

Because America has universal service, the telephone truck speeding to a scene of disaster is truly "on the nation's business," and the implements of its workers are weapons wielded in the nation's cause.

SERIOUS CHARGES AGAINST KU KLUX DRY RAIDERS

Charged With Contributing to the Delinquency of a Minor.

Four of the investigators who took part in the famous dry raid engineered by Myers, Starbuck and Stasenko are facing a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Complaint has been filed with the district attorney against Mrs. E. S. Ward, Mrs. Jessie Wall, E. R. Wall and Frank Martin. Martin Shields has sworn to the complaint charging that his son, Ivory Shields, was the victim. The boy is under age and the father states in his complaint that Martin induced him to purchase a half pint of alcohol, most of which the four "investigators" drank. They gave Shields a drink out of the bottle, and saved a portion of it to use as evidence against him. A warrant was issued by the district attorney's office for the four parties.

"WIFE OF THE CENTAUR" PROMISES SOMETHING NEW

A motion picture story of a decidedly different sort is promised for the California theater when King Vidor's "Wife of the Centaur" opens next Monday.

Adapted from the sensational novel by Cyril Hume, the picture tells, rather than the typical love story, the story of a man with many loves, a man who hates himself for his infidelity, but who can not resist temptation.

That every man, like the centaur of mythology, is "half man and half beast" is the theory on which Hume based his story. The "centaur" played by John Gilbert, is a romantic, picturesque figure, in whom conflicting emotions are always struggling. He holds a high idealistic love for a woman, but cannot resist the attraction of others.

Vidor has filmed the story, it is reported, with remarkable fidelity to the book, and has given it a screen translation with many striking scenes and contrasts.

Eleanor Boardman and Alleen Pringle are cast in the leading female roles, as the two women with whom the "centaur" is in love.

The supporting cast, which is an unusually large one, contains the names of such well-known players as William Haines, Betty Francisco, Philo McCullough, Jacquelin Gadsden, Kate Price, Kate Lester, Lincoln Siedman, William Orlamond and others.

"Wife of the Centaur" was adapted to the screen by Douglas Doty. It is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer offering.

HI-Y BANQUET

"Clean Sportsmanship" was the topic used at the Hi-Y meeting last Monday evening which opened with a banquet at the Y. M. C. A. building on South Philadelphia Street.

This meeting was planned by the local Hi-Y Club, under the direction of Warren L. Ashleigh, Y. M. C. A. secretary, and about 75 sat down at the banquet, including boys from the athletic teams of the High School and members of the High School Faculty.

Francis Bode, Hi-Y president and also president of the High School Student body, acted as toastmaster of the evening, called upon Edwin Beabe and Harold Husman, representing the Varsity and Light Weight Football teams, who gave a few words each regarding the work of the Football teams in striving for clean sportsmanship.

Miss Irene Jaques, girls' coach in the High School, Mr. Lawrence Sutherland and Mr. Arthur Fitzmorris, boys' coaches, were called upon and responded with a few appropriate words, stressing the fact that young people in their play are continually building character, and as the boys and girls of High School age play, just as are they likely to be in their business later in life. Mr. Claves, principal of the High School, brought out the fact that the large majority of the good athletes of Anaheim High School were good students as well, standing very high in their classes; also saying that he was very proud to be the principal of a school where the coaches and those who work with the young people were making such good progress toward the ideal of clean sportsmanship.

Mr. Elmer C. Henderson, University of Southern California football coach, could not be present because of illness, and at the last minute Mr. Louis L. Foley, vice principal of the Los Angeles Polytechnic High School, was secured and made the address of the evening. He said there are four things which go toward making up a real, true sport and based his talk on these four laws.

First, obedience to law; second, respect for others; third, mastery of self; fourth, joy in service. Mr. Foley said that any young person who would do his best to live up to this motto was bound to help to a great extent in making clean sportsmanship.

The banquet was prepared by Mrs. Ashleigh and Mrs. Bode and was served by members of the girls' reserve. Music was furnished by Bob Thompson and Lawrence Mitchell, and the singing was led by Mr. Ashleigh.

SHIRLEY MASON TO APPEAR IN FILM FROM NOTED PLAY

"That French Lady" Adapted From "The Strange Woman"—Booked at Local Theater

"That French Lady," the William Fox production starring Shirley Mason, that comes to the California for Friday only, is an adaptation of the well known stage play, "The Strange Woman," by William J. Hurlbut. The picture was directed by Edmund Mortimer from an adaptation by Charles Kenyon.

The story concerns chiefly a young French writer, Inez Pierrefond, played by Miss Mason, who expounds the theory of love without marriage in a book which has created a sensation in Paris. John Hemingway, of Delphi, Iowa, who is in Paris to study, with his friend, Charles Abbey, meets the young writer and becomes infatuated with her. She responds to his love and both are happy. He asks her to return to America with him and she consents, but it is then that he learns her views on matrimony. Reared in the conventional surroundings with iron best things he has ever done. It had rules on social conduct. Heming is a part that might easily have "ay" revolts, his ideal shattered. He is been overdone, and the would have cady to cast line aside until Abbeyruined the picture; one is forced to convince him that love is the big thing in life.

But, Delphi, Iowa, thinks differently and when the French lady, with her unusual views on matrimony arrives with Hemingway the social walls close in upon her. She fights back with the characteristic spirit of her race and with agile success until her case is laid before Hemingway's switch old fashioned mother. To her surprise, the mother agrees to let her son and the girl he loves live their lives as they see fit. The mother's ready sacrifice of her traditions and ideals away from her and she decides that she, too, can forego some of her views. Marriage and happiness is the answer.

Supporting Miss Mason in "That French Lady" are Theodore Von Eltz, Harold Goodwin, Charles Coleman and Kate Lester.

Denny Adds Another To His Triumph List

Wilson's "Oh, Doctor!" Is Excellent Vehicle on Screen

Reginald Denny has added another triumph to the list of his screen achievements by his work as star in "Oh, Doctor!" Universal Jewel, which will be shown at the California for Sunday only.

But the public who has acclaimed, not only his humorous personations, but his rapid-action recklessness, is due for a shock when he is introduced as an invalid whose principal activities consist in taking his own temperature with a clinical thermometer and drawing the stoppers from various bottles containing noxious poisons.

Denny's characterization of this hero in matrimony. Reared in the conventional surroundings with iron best things he has ever done. It had rules on social conduct. Heming is a part that might easily have "ay" revolts, his ideal shattered. He is been overdone, and the would have cady to cast line aside until Abbeyruined the picture; one is forced to the conviction that the big star must have devoted considerable time to studying the peculiarities of the hypochondriac.

The best opportunity for Denny to emphasize his subtlety of character portrayal comes when, having fallen in love with his beautiful nurse, portrayed by Mary Astor, he battles with himself to overcome his obsession regarding his own health and to act like a normal human being.

He succeeds and, then, spurred to greater endeavor by his desire to become like the heroes of the novels, she reads, he enters into a series of adventures that almost cause heart-failures to his aunt, his nurse and the three Shylocks who have loaned him money.

In this latter part of the story it is the Denny of "Sporting Youth" and other vigorous action pictures that is on the screen.

"Oh, Doctor!" was directed by Harry Pollard, and he achieved something worth while, as he has in the other Denny's which he has directed. The supporting cast is a fine and includes such widely known screen players as Otis Harlan, William Mong, Tom Ricketts, Lucille Ward, Mike Donlin, Clarence Geldert, Blanche Payson, George Egan, Martha Mattox and Helen Lynch.

You never had to crank old Dobbin in zero weather.

SHOOTING AT SHADOWS.

Shooting at one's own shadow may impress the layman as queer practice for the United States Army, yet that is exactly what is being done today at Crissy Field, in the Presidio.

In order to train aerial machine gunners to fire on ground and moving targets, Major Dolos, C. E. Vannoy, commanding Crissy Field, has devised a scheme of conducting this practice while flying over the bay.

Two airplanes are used in the instructions; and while flying at varying altitudes the machine gunner of one plane fires at the moving shadow of the other on the water and the splash of the bullets shows plainly just how well the gunner is shooting.

Lewis machine guns, firing bursts of 3 to 100 shots at a rate of 400 to 500 shots per minute, are used in this exercise.

Homely men generally make the best husbands and they certainly ought to.

A really "good sport" is one whose wife and family think he is.

The Board of Directors of the Placentia schools resents the accusation made recently by boys from that city to the effect that booze was stolen from the home of Mr. Glen Riddleberger, superintendent of the Placentia schools, and brands them as false and without foundation in a resolution recently passed by them. The boys, when arrested for drunkenness, told the Brea chief of police, McClure and Truant Officer Mitchell of Santa Ana, that they secured the booze from the home of Riddleberger. The boys who are now in the custody of Mitchell, have been separated and are telling conflicting stories as to where the booze was secured, and according to Board Member D. D. Lutzer the real source of their liquor supply will soon be located.

INCOME TAX QUESTION
ANSWERED BY GOODCELL

Full Information Given Anxious Inquirers by Collector

I am a single man and earning wages $1,000 during 1924. Do I have to file a return and what form must I use?

You must file, using Form 1040-A, although you have no tax to pay. I am a married man and have two dependent children. My salary in 1924 was $2,400 and my only income was $110, interest received from a note. My real estate taxes were $80. Must I file a return?

You will not have to file a return, because your net income was less than $2,500.

I am a stenographer, unmarried, rents on property I own, amounting to $1,100. In computing my tax am I entitled to the 25 per cent credit for earned income on both the $1,700 salary and the $1,100 in rents, or only on the salary?

You are entitled to the 25 per cent credit on your entire income, as all income up to $5,000 is considered earned income. You must file on Form 1040, however.

Part of my income is from salary and about $2,000 of it from rents. What form must I use?

You must use Form 1040. Form 1040-A is used for earned net incomes of not more than $5,000, derived principally from salaries and wages and Form 1040 for net income of more than $5,000 or net incomes, regardless of amount, derived from a profession or business, including farming. Where the income is from royalties or royalties is received Form 1040 must be used.

My net income was $2,500. I am married and living with my wife. Must I file?

You must file. All married couples living together must file return if their net income was $2,500 or more. Your return, however, will be non-taxable.

I am married but separated from my wife on August 31, 1924. Both of us are wage earners. Do we file separate returns and what personal exemption are we entitled to?

You are entitled to the married exemption of $2,500 up to August 31, on eight months, which is $1,666, which must be divided between your wife and you. For the last four months of the year your wife and you are considered as single persons, for which the annual exemption of each is $1,000. These four months would entitle each to an exemption of $233. The entire exemption of each of you would therefore be $1,166. If the net income of either husband or wife living apart was $1,000, each must file a return.

May I use Form 1040-A if my income, chiefly derived from wages, included interest received?

Yes. But if rents enter into your income use Form 1040.

I am a saleswoman, unmarried, and keep house and support my mother, who lives with me and who is physically incapable. She has an income of $300. My salary is $2,100. Must I file a return and what personal exemption am I entitled to?

You must file return as you are unmarried and your income was $1,000 or more. You are entitled to a personal exemption of $2,500 as the head of a household and $400 for a dependent, your mother, but you must include in your return the $300 income your mother received, if you claim the $400 exemption on her account.

We are four sisters living together and supporting our mother, who is physically incapable and who lives with us. Our salaries range from $1,100 to $1,400 each. Must we file returns and may each of us claim the $2,500 exemption as the head of a household?

Each sister must file a return if her net income was $1,000 or more. There can be only one head of her household. One of the sisters who assumes the moral and legal responsibility for the direction of the household, but only one of them, may claim $2,000, also a further exemption of $400 for the mother. The Internal Revenue Bureau is now investigating numerous returns made last year in which two persons from the same household claimed the $2,500 exemption as its head.

My salary for 1924 was $7,000. I am living with my wife. Additional income was $2,000 from rents and interest. I have no other deductions to make. How do you figure my tax?

You must use Form 1040. Your net income was $10,000 less $2,500 personal exemption, leaving $7,500 taxable. After $4,000 at 2 per cent, $800, next $2,500 at 4 per cent, $100, a total tax of $900. Your earned income was $7,000 less personal exemption of $2,500, $4,500, of which amount $1,000 at 2 per cent is $20 and $500 at 4 per cent earned income deduction on this $100 is $25. Subtract this $45 from your net income of $250 which gives you a net tax due the Government of $195.

During 1924 I earned $1,600 in wages. Am single. My Union dues were $60. What is my tax?

Use Form 1040-A. $1,600 less $60, $1,540 net income. Deduct $1,000 personal exemption, leaving amount taxable $540. Tax at 2 per cent on $540, $10.80. On this $10.80 you may deduct 25 per cent on account of earned income, $2.70, leaving a tax due of $8.10.

When must I file my return?

Do it today. Hundreds of taxpayers, who do not understand the income laws are falling to take advantage of the 25 per cent reduction on earned income. Call at the Revenue office at once and let a Deputy assist you in preparing your return. During the February and March rush, it will be almost impossible to furnish individual service to taxpayers. File during January.

MAKING REPRESENTATIVE GOVERNMENT REPRESENT

Voters, not area, or population not participating in elections, should be the basis of representation in the House of Representatives and in that part of the electoral college based upon seats in the House.

Under the federal Constitution any state may decide what portion of its population is fit for self government. No portion of the population of a state deemed by that state to be incapable of participating intelligently or safely in voting, should form the basis of representation in Congress or the electoral college.

Whether the non-participation of a voter in elections be due to disfranchisement by his own state or the grounds of inability for self government, or whether his apathy be demonstrated by his own failure to vote, his influence should count for nothing in the distribution of voting power in Congress and the electoral college among the several states.

The Constitution contains a provision for the reduction of representatives and the electoral college of any state which by disfranchisement reduces its electorate.

The amendment is mandatory, but it has never been put into effect. To do so, indeed, would be difficult, because of the practical impossibility of reaching an exact determination of the extent to which failure to take part in elections is due to disfranchising laws and practices.

Under the present system one vote in certain states is represented ten fold in the House of Representatives and the electoral college as compared with one vote in certain other states. It is argued that the same condition prevails with reference to senators, but under the theory of our constitution senators represent sovereign states and not population.

Members of the House of Representatives are supposed to represent people. The distinction, therefore, is clear.

Substitution of a new constitutional amendment based upon this principle for the Fourteenth amendment covering this question, would correct a gross injustice in representation.

It would do much to liberalize election laws and practices; it would do more than any amount of agitation to insure a fuller participation of voters in elections.

Under such an amendment representation of the several states in the House of Representatives, made each ten years, would be based upon the average vote in each state in congressional and presidential elections during the preceding ten year period. Such an amendment might take effect when the next decennial apportionment is made, in 1931.

At the last general election approximately 29,000,000 votes were cast—an average of about $6,000 for each of the 435 congressional districts of the country. Basing seats in the House of Representatives on the participating portion of the population of each state, representation in Congress would be approximately as follows:

Alabama, 3; Arizona, 1; Arkansas, 2; California, 21; Colorado, 6; Connecticut, 6; Delaware, 1; Florida, 2; Georgia, 3; Idaho, 2; Illinois, 37; Indiana, 20; Iowa, 16; Kansas, 10; Kentucky, 11; Louisiana, 2; Maryland, 6; Massachusetts, 19; Michigan, 19; Minnesota, 12; Mississippi, 2; Missouri, 19; Montana, 3; Nebraska, 7; Nevada, 1; New Hampshire, 3; New Jersey, 12; New Mexico, 2; New York, 20; North Carolina, 13; North Dakota, 4; Ohio, 20; Oklahoma, 3; Oregon, 4; Pennsylvania, 32; Rhode Island, 2; South Carolina, 1; South Dakota, 2; Tennessee, 3; Texas, 10; Utah, 2; Virginia, 3; Washington, 6; West Virginia, 3; Wisconsin, 13; Wyoming, 1.

In this computation every state is given an additional member for a fraction greater than half of the total of 66,000. It strikingly illustrates the difference in degree of participation of the voters of the several states in self government.

Here is a proposal for making representative government representative of all-called political progressives. As they will be unable to figure out how anything could be done in this matter but the cause of justice, it is unlikely that they will take any interest in it.

The effect of such a provision would be to cause every voter to be represented in elections of every qualified voter. Accuracy of returns could be insured by requiring every election board to file with the clerk of the county a certified list of the names and addresses of every voter who casts a ballot. This would make the detection of election frauds easy. With such an amendment in effect it may safely be predicted that the percentage of participation of voters in elections would be increased fifty per cent, taking the country as a whole, because all governmental as well as political machinery in the several states would be, from self-interest, actively engaged in getting out the fullest possible vote.

It will be noticed that there is nothing essential in this proposal. It would apply to all sections alike. The federal Constitution provides that each state, within certain limitations, may determine what percentage of its population is qualified to exercise influence in elections. If Rhode Island imposed a property qualification, it may do so, but cannot claim representation in the House of Representatives on the basis of voters thus disfranchised. If North Carolina or South Carolina proscribes a literacy test and applies it in a peculiar way, it may do so, but cannot assert in the House of Representatives voting power it nullifies at the ballot box. That is fair enough—but the effect of the law would be to discourage restrictions of this kind not honestly intended to promote good government rather than to obtain partisan or class advantage.

There are still a good many far-bearing animals left in this part of the country. They are called money and the girls.

and which is entirely due to close attention to every operation and rigid economy, wherever such could be worked out without sacrificing our efficiency. It was also due to our special method of handling your business and to the close co-operation of the employees of the organization.

Our total membership now stands at 109 active members representing 1632 1-2 acres of oranges and 79 1-2 acres of lemons making a total of 1703 acres now in your Association.

When we first started this Association six years ago, we had in mind 2,500 acres as the limit we could most efficiently handle. We have since found that in a house of this size, much higher returns can be made and more satisfaction given to our members if we keep this acreage around what we have at present.

The full capacity of this plant is around 1200 cars per year and to gain port and which should be worked according to the fluctuating market conditions, we should not have more than a total of 800 cars to ship each.

We have, however, suggested to your Board of Directors that we are now in a position to consider applications from a few desirable groves, but would not advocate throwing open our books in a general way. We have also suggested that a few members who have in the past marked part of their acreage in the Association and used the Association information to market the balance of their acreage outside be invited to bring their entire acreage into the Association. We believe it is perfectly alright for a member to sign up his acreage as it comes into bearing, but to continue to keep some outside of the Association for the purpose of making an advantageous deal with some outside independent and throwing this part of his fruit in direct competition with the Exchange fruit in the markets throughout the country, is encouraging a bad practice and is unfair to the Grower who is properly giving his entire support to the Exchange Association.

HOW TO PROCEED FOR AUTO LICENSES

Will H. Marsh Makes an Official Announcement

So many conflicting statements have been circulated concerning procedure necessary to make application for 1933 automobile license renewal, Will H. Marsh, Chief of the Division of Motor Vehicles has made the following official announcement:

Branches of the Division of Motor Vehicles located in Los Angeles, San Diego, Fresno, San Francisco, Oakland and offices of the Automobile Club of Southern California, The California State Automobile Association and the Orange County Automobile Association will be permitted to accept applications from this date.

New license plates will be issued by the branches and clubs upon presentation of the certificate of ownership (the pink) and the certificate of registration (the white). They will also be issued upon presentation of legible certificates of ownership.

The automobile clubs will be permitted to accept certificates of registration for transmission to the division when it is found impossible to procure the certificate of ownership. Marsh advises, however, that every effort will be made by the clubs, according to agreement made with them today, to procure the pink certificate before accepting registration fee under the last named condition.

A receipt will then be issued the applicant. When proper verification has been made in Sacramento of the certificate of registration. It will be approved and returned to the clubs who will then issue plates.

The clubs operate branch offices in more than 40 California cities and will have a special staff at each office to handle registrations during the renewal period which begins February 1st. Marsh stated the help of the clubs would assist the division materially in its task of providing licenses for more than 130,000 motor vehicles in the state before March 2.

Application may be made by mail through the Sacramento office. Marsh urges all mail applicants to forward both the pink and the white certificates. By thus co-operating with the department, he said today, thousands of dollars will be saved in verifications and a more prompt service can be rendered the motoring public. Applications may be made by mail to the Sacramento office also on the white certificate, when it is impossible to obtain the pink. After verification, plates will be mailed applicants. This procedure, however, will necessarily be slower than when both certificates are presented.

The Sacramento office has already received approximately 200,000 applications and expects to make delivery of plates on those about February 2.

MANY SITES COMPLETE WITH FULLERTON OFFER

Fullerton boosters making a strenuous effort to locate the southern branch of the University of California on the Bastanchury ranch met strong competition from numerous other communities Monday when committees appeared before the board of regents of the college. Most prominent sites offered were:

San Diego, 1,000 acres.
Fullerton, 1,000 acres.
Monrovia, 716 acres.
Oxnard, 600 acres.
Palo Verde, 1,000 acres.
San Fernando, 800 acres.
East San Fernando, 700 acres.
Covina, 601 acres.
Burbank, 400 acres.
Chino, 1,000 acres.
Pomona, 80 acres.
Pasadena, 1,000 acres.
Altamira, 640 acres.

Selection of a site, it developed, has been virtually placed in the hands of a committee of prominent Los Angeles citizens, and they seem to favor a site in the Beverly Hills district, in the city limits of Los Angeles.

DEMANDS ECONOMY

President Coolidge has adopted the policy in enforcing his campaign of economy, as promised to the people, in calling the leaders of his party as well as department chiefs to the White House and personally impressing on them the necessity of what he himself has said, "economy and still more economy." Recently when the chiefs of one bureau attempted in Congress to "log roll" for a larger appropriation than the Coolidge budget had allowed he lost no time in impressing on them that a repetition of this offense might result in some vacancies. The fact that at the head of the nation there is a man anxious to save millions of the people's money and yet fully appreciate it that such savings can only be made piece by piece has already had the effect of curing and dissipating many departmental day-dreams. As a result all departments of the government are beginning to reflect, perhaps willingly but with a little compulsion of fear, the President's ambition. Meanwhile his basic rule is that with economy there must be increased efficiency.

The co-operation of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, of course, is genuine and originates within himself. Announcement is now made that the Treasury has reduced the public debt by almost a billion dollars within the last twelve months. This makes on a 4 per cent basis an additional saving of nearly $40,000,000 a year interest charges. Quite a saving of the people's money.

CAMPAIGN OF EDUCATION

A careful survey of the program for popular education and its broad implications discloses its wide scope. It includes the education of the entire nation and the stamping out of illiteracy. It cannot be accomplished in a year or two. This makes on a 4 per cent basis an additional saving of nearly $40,000,000 a year interest charges. Quite a saving of the people's money.

Think of what it will mean for the future of the nation! The children of all the people, studying, playing, working together with one aim and in one spirit, not an arbitrary purpose superimposed upon them by an all-powerful government, but a co-operative, patriotic purpose entered into willingly and joyfully as becomes the children of freemen.

Class education, sectarian education, artistic education, will in time become as obsolete as the doctrine of divine right of kings.

Class antagonisms, race antipathies, religious intolerances, artificial distinctions based on wealth and family connections must vanish inevitably. A man is to be valued for his character, his intellect, his capacity for work for his disinterested public service, his patriotic idealism.
