ANAHEIM POLICE CONFISCATE LIQUOR

STILLS LAID SUNDAY EVENING
AND LARGE QUANTITY OF GOODS CAPTURED

Operators Under Arrest Charged With Manufacture and Possession of Contraband Whisky—Most Complete
Still Ever Unearthed in Orange County Brought to the City Hall
Proprietor Was Preparing to Do
Business on a Large Scale—Expert Whisky Distiller From Old Kentucky.

Over in the city hall there is stored
away a large quantity of perfectly good whisky, but it is inaccessible to
the thirsty motorist who passes on the street, because Chief Nichols carries
the keys to the storeroom in which it is deposited, and it is his purpose
to dump it into the gutter and let it
waste its sweetness in the desert air.
Just how much liquor the police
have in their possession is not known.
Capt. Bert Moody says they captured
enough in a raid southeast of town
Sunday evening to float a battleship.
But that statement, apparently is an exaggeration.

Saturday night a man was arrested
in Long Beach, charged with the possession of liquor. He told the officers
that he purchased the liquor near Ana-
heim and agreed to point out the place.
Long Beach officers communicated with Chief Nichols, and a raid
on the joint was organized. The man
was brought here and police officials
were led by him to a house on the Olive road, where a still was found
and 55 gallons of liquor, ready for the market, was confiscated. The man operating it was arrested and gave his name as Othel C. Boria.

Not content with this, the officers
searched further and unearthed what
is believed to be the most complete
still yet captured in Orange county.
It had a capacity of 100 gallons, and
had evidently been in use just before
the officers located it, as it was still warm. A large quantity of liquor and many barrels of fermented mash ready for distillation were found at this place. The mash was ruthlessly destroyed by the hard-boiled officers,
but the distilled liquor was brought into town.

The owner of the place being absent, Chief Nichols and Motorcycle Officer Sawyer stuck around, awaiting his homecoming. They caught him about 10:30 o'clock and brought him to town. He gave his name as W. G. Hawkins, and stated that he had been a resident here only a few months. He came from Old Kentucky,
and was perfectly familiar with the methods of liquor manufacture. He was making his product of clean grain,
was rectifying it in accordance with
the approved method, and was turning out pure liquor. Undoubtedly his plant would have developed into a great industry if the Anaheim police
had not interfered with him.

Hawkins was arraigned before Judge Charles Kuchel Monday on two charges—the possession of liquor and the manufacture of liquor. He pled
not guilty and was bound over to superior court in the sum of $1500.
In default of bail he was taken to the county jail.

ORANGE COUNTY AGAIN BEATS ALL COMPETITORS

Blackberries Ripen in March on La
Habra Terraces

One of the most interesting agricultural achievements in the Southland during the past year has been
the remarkable development of a planting of Advance blackberries on
the Subtropical Farms, near La Habra,
where ripe berries were picked from
mike-month-old vines on March 15.
writes Rosa H. Gast in Farm and Orchard magazine. Commercial picking was commenced the first instant,
and although a heavy crop will not be taken from the vines this season, an unusually heavy first and second set
of berries was noted in some places
by the writer, who visited the farms
on March 28. When it is considered that these berries ripened about a month earlier than the Advance variety in other sections, and fully six weeks earlier than other sorts of

blackberries in any part of the Southwest, or even the United States, the possibilities of this variety as a commercial berry can be fully realized.

The Advance blackberry needs no
introduction to the readers of the Farm and Orchard magazine, for its exceptional qualities were first noted
in these columns two years ago, when
the only plantings of it were held by the originators, Preston & Knott,
berry growers of Buena Park, Orange county, who have been growing the Advance for local and shipping trade
over a period of about 20 years. There are now a great many plantings of
this variety in Southern California,
and growers having commercial success are elated over the advantages of the berry.

It was through reading an article
in the Farm and Orchard magazine
that R. L. Reynolds, manager of the Subtropical Farms, first became interested in the Advance variety. He purchased 8000 plants last May and
set them out on terraces, on the farm's
protected hillside lands—10
acres of them altogether. In this more sheltered location the plants
have made rapid and heavy growth
during the past nine months, bloom having started in January.

On the hillside, the plants were set on terraces six feet across, and
the plants were spaced five and six feet apart in the rows. Aside from the more favorable all-year-round temperature in the hills, Mr. Reynolds believes that planting on terraces has advanced the date of maturity more than any other factor. Although the ten acres of blackberries on the farms
comprise several small patches, the majority of the plantings have been made on the southern slope, or at least, they are slopes with southern exposure. The terracing is heavy in most places, the slope being rather abrupt, and thus a large part of the sun, area of the plants exposed to the sun at all times. It appears, then,
that this berry would make a valuable
intercrop for hillside orchards, one
that would pay its own way, as well
as help carry the orchard along to maturity. Southern growers are in need of more cash crops, and it would be well for them to study the possibilities of berries and early vegetables. The rapid expansion of metropolitan Los Angeles, as well as the surrounding cities, is accelerating the demand for both, especially out-of-season crops. There are many localities where favorable winter temperatures for early berry and vegetable
production is known, and with soil
right and water right, the activity
should be a profitable one.

Experienced berry growers know
that regular and thorough irrigation
all through the season is most essential factor in berry culture, when the proper location and soil are secured.
Mr. Reynolds is assuring his plantings
of the proper amount of water regularly by an interesting method. The usual procedure is to irrigate every
two or three weeks during the fall
and winter season, then to give more frequent applications as the picking season approaches, but on the Subtropical Farms, it is expected that irrigation is not a matter of time, but one of necessity. Mr. Reynolds has soil
tests made regularly in his fields by
an expert during the fall and winter
months and when the moisture content drops below a certain level, water
is applied. This method it seems should be economical of water and
at the same time should assure the plants a regular sufficient supply of moisture when they are most in need of it. Many crops of berries have been cut in two by allowing the soil
in which the plants were grown to become too dry during the winter,
but under the cultural system practiced on this La Habra ranch, such a condition is not likely to arise.

The marketing of the early blackberries from the Subtropical Farms will be mostly local this season, although
Mr. Reynolds expects to ship to San Francisco by another year. He is now sending shipments of rhubarb by water to that market. It goes by truck
to the Wilmington docks and thence to San Francisco by the fast steamers
of the Los Angeles Steamship Company. By this route San Francisco is brought less than 25 hours away from the ranch. As the Advance blackberry has always proved to be an exceptionally firm berry for distance
shipment, it is expected that consignments made to northern markets will reach their destination in good condition.

In its recent session the Senate
ratified 19 treaties of peace—in addition to the peace that came when the Senate adjourned.

KU KLUX ACTIVITIES

CONSIDERING its emphatic repudiation during the past few months in every community, county or state which it sought to dominate,
it is difficult to believe that the Ku Klux Klan is still striving to get control of municipal governments in Orange county. News comes to us from an authoritative source, however, that the three cities of Anaheim, Fullerton and Huntington Beach are doomed to undergo a factional fight in the near future, which means that their progressive strides will be halted, bitterness among neighbors and friends will be engendered
and divisions created that will never be bridged.

As the Ku Klux Klan works wholly in the dark, and its fundamental principle is to shun the light of day and keep profoundly secret all its acts, and even its membership, it is difficult to get definite information as to what is being done or what is contemplated. It is publicly known, however, that Cyclops Myers made a desperate effort to hold the membership in line and to strengthen his forces after the disaster that overtook them on February 3. Threats were made before the February election that, in case the citizens' ticket won, there would be another recall election as soon as the law would permit.

It is presumed that when a recall is inaugurated against an official
some reasonable ground will be given for the action, some serious charge made against him. As the present members of the council are conducting the affairs of the city in a wise, economical and efficient manner, we are somewhat curious to learn just what charge could be brought against them. The only reason that occurs to us is that not a single one of the five has pledged up ten dollars to Cyclops Myers for a ticket entitling him to membership in the unholy order; not one of them owns a shroud that will give him the privilege of marching in procession behind a band playing "Onward Christian Soldiers"; not one of them knows the magic word that would pass him through the door of the dark and dismal Klavern where the Klan performs its secret rites. Can they go before the people asking the recall of honest, faithful and efficient councilmen on such grounds? Can they print on the ballot that these men are sought to be recalled because they are not members of the Ku Klux Klan?

That's the only reason they could give, and even leaders of the Klan would hesitate before going to the people with such an issue. Besides, it would require 1050 names to call an election, and that number cannot be secured. Citizens of Anaheim, don't worry. There will be no recall election here. The rank and file of the Klan are opposed to further warfare and will not sanction it, even if the leaders desire to keep alive the strife for their own profit.

Over in Fullerton, it is reported, petitions are being circulated demanding the recall of the city councilmen because they are anti-Klan, and believe that all the people of the city should have a voice in the city's government. Down at Huntington Beach the same unfortunate situation prevails. Last week the Chamber of Commerce of the beach city unanimously adopted a resolution endorsing the present board of trustees and denouncing any attempt to recall the members. In the face of this opposition by the men who control the business interests of the city, it is unlikely that the bunch of irresponsibles, led by men who are farming them only because of the profit it yields them, will succeed in their endeavors.

Notwithstanding the rumors now current to the effect that a recall movement is under way in Anaheim and that a petition for signatures is being circulated, we are loathe to believe that there is any foundation for the stories. If such a move should be started, drastic steps will be taken by the business men who employ labor to nip it in the bud. It is understood that every employee of a business house or industrial plant who belongs to the order, or is a sympathizer, will find himself out of a job if Cyclops Myers attempts to stage a recall election. The substantial people of the city are satisfied with the present government, and they are going to protect it and perpetuate it in power.

California Valencia Orange Show

Manager Stern of the California Valencia Orange Show is greatly concerned these days because it is apparent that many applicants for space and concessions in the mammoth tents will, of necessity, be turned down. He hasn't space enough at his disposal to accommodate all who wish to make an exhibit. At headquarters last Saturday it was announced that all but 31 of the 143 spaces in the industrial tent had been sold, and there were more applicants for the remaining spaces than could be accommodated. Many people are going to be disappointed. There are spaces in the citrus tent for thirteen feature displays, and they will all be taken. These displays, it is promised, will far outclass anything ever before shown, either here or at San Bernardino.

Executive headquarters represent a hive of industry, and groundbreaking for the triumphal arch front for the citrus exposition has already been started. Reservations for space are coming in rapidly, concession details are speedily being handled and indications are that it will be the biggest affair of its kind ever staged.

Saturday, May 30, has been spoken for by the Scouts of California, who plan to play hosts on that date to all the other various Masonic orders of the state, including 35,000 visiting Shriners who will be there.

Stars of radiance are to appear in person on May 25, through courtesy of "Uncle John" of KHL, for the benefit of those who have heard their sing and talk over the radio, but have never glimpsed their faces.

The Automobile Club of Southern California bulletins that every road leading to Anaheim will be in perfect condition for the thousands of motorists who are expected daily, and ample provisions for parking are being made by the committee in charge of that detail.

The Midway will again be a blaze of amusements, with rides, games of skill, carnivals and the festival spirit predominating for an hour of frolic after the beauties of the citrus, industrial and automobile canvas
auditoriums have been scanned.

OLINDA WILL STICK TO FULLERTON HIGH SCHOOL

Indications at present are that the recent election whereby Brea and Olinda withdrew from the Fullerton Union High School union will not be successful, as far as Olinda is concerned. Pupils from Olinda will continue to attend the Fullerton high school as in the past.

Petitions have been circulated for
a merger of the Olinda and Yorba Linda grammar school districts into one district, to be known as the
"Yorba Linda" grammar school district.
This grammar school district will be a part of the Fullerton High School union.

Brea and Olinda in an attempt to call
the withdrawal election, Olinda voters
signed it. Later, it is asserted, facts
regarding the withdrawal were mis-
represented in some cases and in other cases the unpleasant phases of the organization of a separate high school
district were not told.

The Olinda voters learned that in addition to having to pay a tax for

the erection and maintenance of a high school at Brea, they would have to continue to pay their share of the bonded debt of the Fullerton Union High School district contracted prior to the date of the withdrawal. This bonded debt amounted to approximately $133,000 and could not be completely liquidated until the year 1933.
At the withdrawal election the community of Olinda voted against the move by a large majority, but the
move was carried by the Brea vote.
Dissatisfied with the result of the election, Olinda voters circulated a petition seeking consolidation with
the Yorba Linda grammar school
district.

This petition was presented at a special meeting called in Yorba Linda recently. Numerous signatures to the petition had been obtained in Olinda,
and the same success is being met in Yorba Linda.

At the meeting in Yorba Linda district, Attorney A. P. Nelson said that the move started in Olinda could be carried out legally. County Superintendent of Schools R. P. Mitchell had already given his approval of the plan.

FULLERTON NOW AFTER BIG METHODIST SCHOOL

Will Try to Take U. S. C. Away From Los Angeles

The Fullerton Chamber of Commerce and residents of northern Orange county are preparing to wage
another battle for selection of that city as the home of a university. It is learned, after information to the effect that plans are being considered for the location of the University of Southern California from its present
location in the center of Los Angeles
to an outlying community.

J. Charles Thamer, recently elected president of the Fullerton chamber,
said investigations would be started
at once and that, if it is found serious consideration is being given to a change in the university, Fullerton
will offer a portion of the site tendered for the location of the Southern
branch of the state university.

"I don't believe the University of Southern California will require as much land as would the Southern Branch, and until we know definitely
the acreage wanted we will not specify what we will give," Thamer
said. "The land we had for the other project is still available and it would make an ideal location for the college."
According to a statement in Los Angeles by President Von Kleinsmid,
cramped quarters and high prices of
property surrounding the present location are reasons for the contemplated move.

It was learned also that J. W. Wood,
who represented Burbank in its effort
to secure the Southern Branch, is negotiating with Von Kleinsmid in an effort to make Burbank the home of the University of Southern California.

ANAHEIM INVITED TO WITNESS EXPOSITION

Unique Occurrence Presented to the City Officials Yesterday

A unique invitation to Long Beach's
Fifth Annual Harbor Industrial Ex-
position, to be held in that city April 22
to 29, was presented to the officials
and populace of Anaheim yesterday.
The invitation was in the form of a
parliament scroll, and it was personally delivered to Anaheim city officials
by a committee from the Long Beach
Chamber of Commerce, consisting of
H. O. Melone, A. L. Forver and C.
Bend Harp, who journeyed from
the beach city by automobile.

The parchment scroll is approximately done in old English type, and is embellished with ribbons and the gold seal of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce. It carries the personal signatures of Ray H. Clark, mayor of Long Beach; H. P. Burnmaster, president of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce; J. David Larson, executive secretary of the Chamber, and Paul Graham, chairman of the exposition
committee.

The text of the invitation reads as follows: "The City of Long Beach
and the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce extend greetings and a cordial invitation to the city officials,
Chamber of Commerce and the people
of Anaheim to attend the Fifth Annual Harbor Industrial Exposition of Southern California, to be held in Long Beach, California, April 22 to 29, 1925. This exposition will graphically
portray the industrial and commercial development in the harbor district.
It will be a unified display showing
progress and achievement in the de-

ORANGE COUNTY LEADS WORLD IN AUTOS

MOTOR VEHICLE REGISTRATION
IN COUNTY FOR PRESENT
YEAR WAS 36,720

This Shows Average of One Vehicle
Each 2.14 Persons in the County,
Which Tops the List of All Communities in the United States—Los Angeles County is Second, With an Average of One Car to Each 2.52
Persons—Total in State, 1,350,559.

Orange county leads the world in
per capita ownership of automobiles,
figures compiled by the California
state motor vehicle department show.
According to the statistics, this county
has one automobile to every 2.14
residents.

Los Angeles county occupies second place with one car for 2.52 persons,
and Kern county is third with an automobile for every 3.62 persons.

Will H. Marsh, chief of the division,
states that a total of 36,720 vehicles,
including trailers, was registered in Orange county in 1924, divided as follows: automobiles, 31,205; solid
trucks, 634; pneumatic trucks, 3352;
motorcycles, 336; trailers, 963.

In the apportionment of motor vehicle fees, Orange county received $57,851.08.

The total registration of the entire
state, inclusive of trailers, was 1,350,- 759, an increase of 229,374, or 20.5 per cent over 1923.

Sonoma, Stanislaus, Colusa, Yolo
and Yuba counties are in fourth place,
each having an automobile to every three persons.

Sacramento county shows one automobile to every 3.55 persons. San Francisco and Alameda have one automobile for every five persons.

Trinity county is at the bottom of the list, with one automobile for every 7.4 persons.

"There is little doubt but that Orange county leads the entire world
in per capita ownership of automobiles," says Marsh. "We have figures
from practically all parts of the world and these would indicate that Orange county is at the top of the list."

"Despite the huge number of machines in Los Angeles county, Orange county topped the list among California counties."

That the showing of this county in automobiles is but another indication
of the prosperity which prevails here
is the statement of prominent business and professional men.

"Their figures should prove conclusively to knackers that California,
and particularly Orange county, is not in a slump, as alleged by persons un-
informed," said a prominent banker.
"Figures don't lie and statistics show
that Orange county leads California and the world in the per capita ownership of automobiles should be sufficient to convince the scoffers
that we are not suffering from depression. On the contrary, we are enjoying excellent business and indications are that these conditions will continue."

development of the Southland."

H. O. Melone, chairman of the committee who delivered the parchment,
stated that upwards of 40,000 people
are expected to attend the big Long Beach event this year. According to Mr. Melone, 152 industrial and commercial exhibits will be displayed,
enhanced by the most elaborate
decorations ever before attempted in the Long Beach municipal auditorium.
Herbert L. Clarke's nationally known Long Beach municipal band will give concerts daily. There will be a fashion review each evening. Many novel
entertainment features and surprises
are planned and the program will vary each day. The exposition will be open both afternoon and evening
from April 22 to 29, except Sunday.

In line with the general program of economy, President Coolidge has sent his brown felloes to the haters to have it repaired for Easter. It is not thought, however, that extensive repairs will be necessary as the hat
was not even stepped on when the President threw it into the ring last year.

IN THE DAYS OF LONG AGO

Items of Local Interest Cullied from the Files of Former Issues of This Paper

50 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

April 17, 1875

John Westphal has sold 30 feet of his lot on the corner of Center and Clementine streets. The purchaser will at once commence building a store.

Mr. Burnett has located in Santa Ana.

Otto Evers gave a battle at his new boarding house, near the depot, on Wednesday evening. It is reported to have been a very enjoyable affair.

The Messrs. Plato will in a few days begin fitting up their general merchandise store in The Gazette building.

Dr. Hayward of Orange informs us that not a single vine on his farm was injured by the frost. This he attributes to the fact that, as he moves irrigates, the soil had sufficient warmth to resist the frost.

Mr. Mendelson despatched on Thursday several wagon loads of goods from this place. Judging from the frequency of these events, he must be doing a lively business in the little town of San Juan Capistrano.

In the final report of the superintendent of the Wells Fargo & Company express in regard to the amount collected in aid of the Kansas and Nebraska sufferers, we find that Anaheim contributed $4. Bully for Anaheim.

Mendelson, the fashionable tailor has increased his stock and decreased his prices. He now makes (fashions) pants for $5 and a suit of the same material for $25 and upwards.

Bishop Mora, on his recent visit to Anaheim, presented to the member of the Catholic church a beautiful bound edition of the Bible, in five volumes, to be put up at a raffia, and the proceeds to be applied to the building of the new Catholic church.

Robert Strong, superintendent of Westminster colony, informs us that 100 families in Arkansas desire to settle on lands adjacent to the colony. Mr. Strong is confident that during the months of May and June there will be a vast incoming of population.

The I. O. O. F. of Anaheim and Orange will hold a public meeting at the hall in Anaheim on the morning of the twenty-sixth instant, to which every one is invited. In the afternoon a picnic will be held on the Strobel grounds, and in the evening a ball at Enterprise hall will wind up the festivities.

F. A. Koll has been passing a few days in town. We understand that the state of his health is such that he has abandoned the idea of starting a lumber yard.

N. H. Mitchell begs leave to inform the public that he has discontinued running his stage to Wilmington for the present.

About 40 persons were at Fairview schoolhouse on last Sunday, to take steps to reorganize the Sunday school. The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing term: Edward Evers, superintendent; James Boswell, secretary and treasurer; Miss M. Austin, chorister and organist. Classes were then organized and teachers elected as follows: Miss Austin, Mrs. Givins, Mrs. Reeder and Edward Evers.

We regret to announce the resignation of Mr. Hanson, the gentlemanly conductor of the Anaheim branch of the Southern Pacific. His successor will be Charles Dunn.

Bishop Mora has purchased 300,000 brick to be used in the completion of the Catholic cathedral in Los Angeles.

J. W. Hellman of the Farmers and Merchants bank in Los Angeles has purchased a half interest in the Chino rancho, paying therefor $150,000. The entire rancho contains about 35,000 acres.

The board of supervisors, at their last session opened bids for the construction of the Santa Ana bridge. H. J. Stevenson & Company proposed to build the bridge according to specifications for $17,400. John M. Baldwin for $14,950 gold coin or for $17,490 in bonds of Los Angeles county. The California Bridge and Building Company want $17,370 in bonds. Arthur Brown wants $14,500 in bonds. D. B. Jennings will build it for $11,900 in gold or $13,000 in bonds. The contract will be awarded at the next meeting of the board, which will be held on May 3.

Max Nebelung of the Anaheim hotel had a slight unpleasantness on Wednesday afternoon, the result of one of his employees getting outside of too much drinking fluid. Judge Clark has the fellow's pop-gun and all is quiet again.

25 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

April 19, 1900

Mrs. Koiv leaves today for a week's visit with friends in Los Angeles.

Arno Hansen has invitations out for a party at the home of his parents on Orangeflower avenue tomorrow evening.

Otto Rust has installed a new pump at his winery on Palm street. The water is down 40 feet.

James Gardiner has been appointed assistant for the Pullman precinct after A. A. Pondergrast resigned. The latter has moved to the oil fields where he has secured employment.

George Dunn came over from Redlands the first of the week on a short business mission. George reports business brisk at Redlands. He purchased a quantity of hay while here.

Mrs. A. C. Polder, with her little daughter, arrived on Friday from Tacoma, Wash., and are stopping with her relatives, George Bauer and family. She has been in precarious health for some time and was expected to try a change of climate. Mr. Polder will return to California later.

The following officers were elected at a meeting of the Deeds and Prizes Association of Anaheim on Saturday April 14: J. B. Neff, president; April 14: J. B. Neff, president; J. B. Neff, vice-president; John A. Eymann, secretary; Citizens Bank of Anaheim, treasurer. The plan of marketing fruit and vegetables which was a successful last year will be followed this year as closely as conditions will permit.

The Central telephone station has been moved to the front part of Derge's drug store from the rear thereof. A new switchboard has been put in and various other improvements installed which will be appreciated by the patrons of the company.

Joseph Hatfield has returned from Fresno, where he visited his wife's relatives. He reports the country looking fine, having had lots of rain. He went out into the mountains where Brans and Sontag held forth and saw where several of the bandits' victims were killed.

Charley Bell was in town on Saturday from Los Angeles, gauging spirits at Otto Rust's winery. Charley notes evidences of considerable improvement in Anaheim and surrounding country and considers this section one of the liveliest and most prosperous in Southern California.

Robert Lynn of the Long Beach Tribune was in town on Saturday, accompanied by Joe Sharpe, a well-known hardware dealer of that city. They came upon their wheels, but found the trip so dispiriting that when they returned they took the train as far as Los Alamitos and rode the wheels thence to the beach. Mr. Lynn says that Brother Bourland, who formerly ran a paper there, as he did also in this city, is thinking of relocating in that place. When he sold out he signed a contract not to engage in the newspaper business there for five years, but is now endeavoring to get a modification of the terms of the contract and, if successful, will probably electrify the village by the sea with another paper.

After the election the singing section of the Turnverein serenaded Marshal-elect Stedman at his residence on Broadway, so Mr. Stedman got even, appeared on Tuesday evening at Turner hall, while the singing section was at practice, with a lot of refreshments to the great surprise of all. There was a liberal quantity of San Diego Primo to wash it down, and the edibles were made to disappear in the usual artistic fashion. The evening was very pleasantly spent and the marshal was pledged in bumper of the beverage which cheers but does not inebriate—if you don't get too much of it. The singers sang into microphones, under the leadership of Prof. Thomas, the song being immediately reproduced by the machine amid shouts of laughter. Captain Schumacher, William Weiss and superintendents sang solo into the phonograph, which were reproduced perfectly.

Will Julius was elected city clerk of Long Beach at the recent election there. Will was formerly a resident of Anaheim, where he has many friends who will be glad to note his success.

The Savings, Loan and Building Association, at its regular monthly meeting last week, elected the following board of 11 members to serve during the ensuing year: Herman Dickel, Richard Meier, H. A. McWilliams, F. B. Baker, Fred Backs, Jr., Joseph Backs, H. Cohen, N. F. Steadman, E. B. Merritt, Charles Dodge and Ed Zeus. H. A. McWilliams was elected president and Fred Backs, Jr., secretary. A new series of stock will be opened in May.

Joseph Holman has received a letter from A. M. Patterson, formerly a resident here, but now of Santa, Ontario, saying that while at the ferry dock recently he had seen some Anaheim oranges coming off the ferry boat.

He adds that they came in "fine condition." Patterson says that last year was a hard one for the Canadian farmers, and this year the war in South Africa has taken many young men to the front. He states that he contemplates returning to Anaheim next fall.

NOTICE INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS OR BIDS.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that sealed proposals or bids will be received by the Board of Trustees of the City of Anaheim, at the office of the City Clerk, in the City of Anaheim, on Thursday, April 23, 1925, for furnishing all printing and advertising for the City of Anaheim for the year commencing May 1, 1925, and ending April 30, 1926. All of said printing and advertising shall be in conformity to the specifications therefor, which said specifications are marked and designated "City of Anaheim Specifications for printing and advertising for the City of Anaheim" now on file in the office of the City Clerk.

Such proposals will be received as follows:

First: For all advertising to be done by said City required by law to be published in a daily newspaper published in this city.

Second: For all advertising not required by law to be printed in a daily newspaper, but required by law to be printed each issue for a definite period of time.

Bidders shall state in their bids whether or not such bid is based upon an estimate for publication of advertising in a daily or weekly newspaper, and shall designate therein the name and address of such newspaper.

Should the city printing required exceed the estimate therein set forth, the compensation for such job printing in excess of said estimate shall be at the same rate as that mentioned in the bid for such estimate.

Third: Separate bids will also be received for printing notices of street improvements required by law and also for printing such notices in connection with publishing notices and resolutions concerning the particular improvement described in such notices.

Each bid must be accompanied by a check drawn on a bank within the State of California, in the sum of not less than $50.00, payable to the City of Anaheim, the name to become the property of the City of Anaheim if within ten days after the award of the contract to him, the successful bidder shall fail to enter into a written agreement with said City, to furnish said printing and advertising in conformity to said specifications.

The Board of Trustees reserves the right to reject any and all bids, or any part of any bid, and may accept bids separately for advertising required by law to be published in daily newspapers, and for all advertising not required by law to be printed in a daily newspaper, but required by law to be printed each issue for a definite period of time, and may accept bids for city printing independently from said city advertising, or as a part of the same bid.

By order of the Board of Trustees of the City of Anaheim.
Dated this 5th day of April, 1925.
EDWARD B. MERRITT,
City Clerk of the City of Anaheim.

NOTICE CALLING FOR BIDS FOR GASOLINE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that sealed bids will be received by the Board of Trustees of the City of Anaheim, at the office of the City Clerk, in the City of Anaheim, on Thursday, April 9, 1925, at the hour of eight o'clock P. M., for the furnishing to said City of Anaheim of approximately thirty thousand gallons of gasoline for the Ames & McFarland, Anaheim, California, for the year 1925, and which specifications are now on file in the office of the City Clerk of said City.

Prices quoted in bids must be for said gasoline, F. O. B. truck, Anaheim, California, on City Oil Tank Sliding, or if delivered by truck, to be placed in storage tanks at the City Power House; said bids to state location of plant from which said gasoline will be supplied. Said gasoline to be delivered during the year beginning April 15, 1925, and ending April 14, 1926, and shall be delivered in such quantities and at such times as may be required by the City Manager of said City.

Each bid must be accompanied by a duly certified check in an amount equal to not less than ten per cent of the amount of said bid, or a bond in like amount subject to the approval of said Board of Trustees. Said check or bond shall be made payable to said City and the same shall be forfeited to said City as liquidated damages, if within ten days after the acceptance of any such bid the bidder fails to enter into a written contract with said City for the furnishing and delivering of said gasoline.

The successful bidder must, within ten days after the contract is awarded to him, enter into a contract with said City, providing for the sale and delivery of said gasoline in accordance with said notice and in accordance with said specifications, and shall file a bond in the principal sum of Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars, payable to said City and conditioned for the faithful performance of said contract.

Said bond shall be subject to the approval of said Board of Trustees. Said Board of Trustees reserves the right to refuse any and all bids. By order of the Board of Trustees of the City of Anaheim.

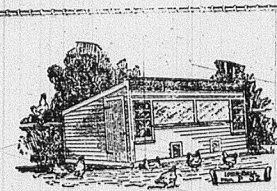

Dated this 26th day of March, 1925.

Do Your Hens Refuse to Lay?

MANY hens go on a strike each year because the place in which they have to lay and roost is unsuitable. Poor hen houses or none at all, are the reasons why many hens do not lay as the owner thinks they should.

Keep the birds working, but well fed—provide a dry, clean house, free from drafts. Don't keep a hen over two years old—remove the rooster except before setting eggs—infertile eggs are better for table and market use.

STORY OF GAS GOES BACK TO EARLIEST DAYS

"Prehistoric Husbands" of Today May Profit by This History

Far down the corridor of time, somewhere near the Miocene or Pliocene, or as science terms it, the prehistoric age, man sat up and began to take notice. He was ignorant of nature's great forces, naturally superstitious, and looked upon nature in her unequal moods with fear and trembling.

But he noticed that when lightning struck in dead timber or brush that oftentimes a great commotion resulted. A fear-inspiring plume of yellow and red waved and roared, and black clouds arose.

Whenever this occurred, he noticed a warmth, or what we term heat, and afterwards, when the manifestation of force died down, that fallen logs and miles of brush had disappeared, leaving in their place an impassable gray dust. He found in this dust glowing pieces which, when touched, would burn.

He did not know this as fire. To him it was a manifestation of the great unknown. But he found that by raking these embers and placing sticks and brush upon them, he could reproduce in miniature the great fires which had followed the flash of lightning.

He found that this miniature manifestation gave him warmth and comfort, and he was quick to avail himself of the comfort afforded. Up to this time all food he had consumed had been in a raw state. But through some process he discovered that the meat which he secured in his hunting could be roasted, which made it much more palatable and tender.

Once acquainted with the value of fire, he became a strong advocate of its usefulness. It served him for cooking. It served him in warming the cave which was his dwelling. He also found that animals feared it and would remain away during the dread hours of the night. For this reason he guarded the coals carefully. If they were put out, he had no means of reproducing them, until such time as he could secure relief from a source similar to the one which gave him his first knowledge of its utility.

Some advanced thinker of prehistoric manhood discovered that by rubbing two sticks together violently fire could be produced. First a little glowing spark, then an ember, which if blown upon and encouraged would finally burst into flame and become fire.

Later he discovered that metal could be melted and molded into forms necessary for his domestic and hunting implements. Man was progressing.

But during all this time he had no knowledge of the force which he was controlling. He did not realize that the flame which he encouraged in the brush or dry wood was one of nature's great forces—gas. That the heat surrounding the wood distilled the gas from the fibers of the wood, which burned.

Thousands of years passed before man realized that there was some force which could be used for benefit other than that which was developed

IT'S DIFFERENT FROM THE KITCHEN OF TODAY

Artist's conception of hubby coming home with several square meals in prehistoric times

from the burning of wood, coal or like material.

We now come to the age of the alchemist, the forerunner of our present chemist, the alchemist whose one and sole ambition was to discover how to manufacture gold.

An alchemist, seeking for gold, discovered an unknown force, which, confined in some kind of a container and released slowly, would burn.

This was gas. But until 1792 no one thought of utilizing this gas for domestic purposes. Then a man named Murdoch built what is known as the first gas stoves.

He piped it into his home and used it for lighting purposes. Shortly after, a street in London was lighted by gas, and this became the wonder of the age. People traveled hundreds of miles to see the "devil gas," as it was called, used in this way.

In the nineteenth century gas was brought to America and used for lighting purposes. At that time it was impossible to secure the piping necessary to transport the gas from the retort to the point where it would be used, and large quantities of old army buckets were secured, the gun barrels removed, screwed together, and used for piping.

But, like any great invention or discovery, its utilization for purposes other than coincident with its discovery was slow, on account of the enormous expense of manufacture and transportation, and through lack of knowledge of its further and greater utility.

Later it was discovered that gas was the most efficient form of fuel for cooking, and from that day on gas began to take its rightful position. Today it is the housewife's most efficient servant.

The man who does not realize the importance of efficient appliances in the home is still a prehistoric husband. He is holding back the efforts of his helpmate. He is encouraging a waste in his "bit of the world's greatest factory, the kitchen."

LAND OF OPPORTUNITY.

Some pessimistic newspapers are in the habit of proclaiming that the door of opportunity in this land of the free and home of the brave has been forever closed to the poor and unfortunate.

Some of the yellow journals shout continuously that the poor have no opportunities in America and make appeal to class prejudice to convince the poor that the rich have stolen their birthright and doomed them to industrial servitude.

Roland Hayes, the sensational negro soloist, a laundry boy whose mother was a slave and who has reached the heights of a great art and become one of the most popular singers in the world.

Inequalities of life are inherent in human nature and will exist in spite of the most highly paternalistic government. The socialistic idea (that all that is necessary is to pass more laws and take wealth from those who have and give to those who have not) will never create the utopia of human equality.

All over our country are men and women, who, like the negro laundry boy, are overcoming handicaps of poverty, ignorance, racial inequality, social ostracism by their native ability, capacity for work, endurance and character.

Individual effort helped Roland Hayes to scale the heights of success, and the door of opportunity still opens freely to those who knock. Preaching discontent to bring about class conflict and social revolution will probably continue to be the favorite and profitable occupation of demagogues.

Following the slump in wheat, Secretary Mellon and Hoover issued statements to the effect that there is no serious reason for concern regarding business conditions. They pointed out the fact that nearly all of the wheat crop was out of the hands of the farmers before the price fell and that the purchasing power of the agricultural section would not be curtailed by the slump.

GAS COMPANY SELLING

BLOCK OF SHARES

Big Improvements and Expansions Under Way by Corporation

The local Southern Counties Gas Company, operating gas properties not only in this city and in Orange county, but in more than 50 communities of Southern California, is offering to the public on the "consumer ownership" plan a new issue of 12,000 shares of 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock, totaling $1,250,000 par value.

The company opened its selling campaign actively here today, when Walter S. McFarland, secretary of the organization, visited the local gas office to explain the various features of the stock to the employees. The secretary spent the day with J. C. Hayden, Orange county manager of the Southern Counties organization, visiting all of the several gas offices in the county.

According to Secretary McFarland, the stock is being sold in all of the 27 offices of the gas utility. It is selling for $100 a share if purchased outright, or at $101 a share if bought on the installment plan.

Under the decision of the Railroad Commission of California authorizing the issuance of this stock, the entire proceeds must be used in defraying the costs of additions and betterments to the properties of the company. At present the Southern Counties Gas Company is active in developing its properties in various parts of Southern California where its product is used by more than 100,000 consumers more than 20,000 of whom live in Orange county.

The value of the tangible property of the utility, including the proceeds to be derived from the sale of these securities, after deducting bonded and all other indebtedness, leaves an equity of approximately $1,024,250, behind each share of the new issue. The value of the tangible property has increased from $474,225.48 in 1912, to $1,024,250.13 as of February 28, 1925.

Interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum will be paid by the company on all installment payments upon the purchase price, giving the investor a 6 per cent yield upon the investment from the outset. Investments may be made in any amount from one share up to, but not exceeding 50 shares, to any one person, the company's desire being to sell its securities to a large group of its consumers in Orange county and throughout its territory. Payments may be made in 10 equal parts, Hayden said.

To provide a convenient and quick market for the investor, the company will make application for listing the new security on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange.

ZANE GRAY FILM RECREATES WEST

"Thundering Herd" Proves Cities of Today Sleepy Towns in 1876

As radically as a covered wagon differs from an automobile, so a mid-western town of 1876 differs from one of the present day.

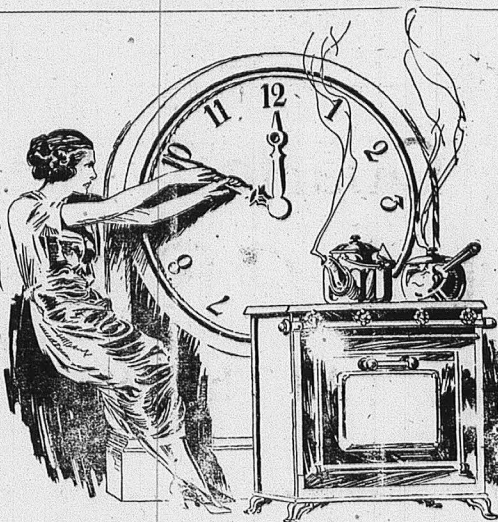

No section of the entire world has changed so much in the past 50 years as have the towns of Kansas, Missouri, Colorado, Montana and Wyoming, as motion picture directors have discovered to their cost when endeavoring to recreate for the films some vanished center. The sleepy freighting posts of the old West are today bustling cities.

For the production of Zane Grey's "The Thundering Herd," coming to the California for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, which William K. Howard directed for Paramount, an exact replica of an old-time trading post was built. Pioneers declared it was correct in every detail, according to their memories of old towns such as Fort Worth, Village, Dodge City and Salt Lake City.

It is stated that the gunfire on warships can now be directed by radio. "This does not mean, however, that there is going to be any effort to jazz up the navy."

One of the worst fist fights in history occurred the other day in the French chamber of deputies. But this isn't near as terrible as one of Tom Heflin's speeches.

THE WOMAN WHO STOPPED THE CLOCK

Husband, was due for luncheon in 10 minutes. Lack of facilities made it impossible to prepare the meal on time. Fried wife had read that the Senate, in order to accomplish last moment work, turned the clock back. But, unlike the Senate, it was no lack of efficiency that compelled her to stop the clock, but that her kitchen was not equipped with the character of appliances that make for efficiency. She was compelled to resort to subterfuge. Preparing meals three times a day is drudgery at best, but without the proper equipment it is heart-breaking work. A woman can not afford to be a drudge, to do with her hands work which machines can do better. A little thought will prove this. Quoting from Mrs. Bruere, a nationally known writer: "After a seven months' tour, during which we studied the churches, the schools and the homes of the country, we found almost every stage of civilization represented in the methods of living, from that of the stone age to that of the mechanical age. There are still pioneer women in this country, women who must do their house-keeping in the most primitive way imaginable, with the brook for their faucet, the bonfire for their stove."

"So you see you can hardly teach one kind of housekeeping to all of the women of this country, but you can, on the other hand, create a universal attitude of mind toward it, an attitude which regards housekeeping not as a limited, narrowing occupation, but as one with the broadest and most comprehensive scope. For house-keeping is not a thing apart. "Inventions, the use of water power, the building of highways, the manufacturing of gas, as well as industry and manufacturing as a whole, all effect the home. The best house-keeper is not one who manufactures and creates everything in her own home herself, but the one who assembles most wisely, with due consideration for her needs and her purse, what others have made and invented for her."

What better argument could be advanced for the modern kitchen appliance? With the installation of a 1925 model gas range, an automatic water heater, an automatic clothes dryer, a mangle and a washing machine, the home factory is equipped to compete with the factories of the nation.

IT PAYS

After a conference with the President the other day Senator Reed Smoot of Utah announced that there would be a $300,000,000 surplus at the close of the present fiscal year, and tax revision downward when congress meets next December. Secretary Mellon later concurred in the statement that taxes could and would be reduced.

Senator Smoot stated also that in addition to the general slashes on income tax rates he expected there would be an elimination of certain miscellaneous taxes, such as those on the sale of automobiles. Evidently it really pays to keep cool with Coolidge.

PLANS ANNOUNCED FOR PROGRAM AND DANCE

S. O. Beery, president of the Michigan Society of Southern California, announces the completion of the plans for their program dance on Friday evening, April 17, at the Ebell club-house, 1719 South Figueroa street. A program of talented artists has been arranged for, through the courtesy of Mrs. Austin Cadwallader, prominent in Wednesday Morning and other club circles of Los Angeles. There will be dancing and cards. All former Michigan people and their friends, including tourists, are cordially invited.

Charles Williams (to only conscious occupant of wrecked car)—Say, has the insurance agent come yet? Injured—No.

Charley—Well, move over, am. I'll lay down beside you.

Will Your Gas Range Do This?

LET'S Pretend it's Thanksgiving Day. The family is going to the matinee, and friends are coming for six o'clock dinner. It's the maid's day off. What will you do? "Why—there's only one answer," you say, "stay home and cook the dinner." And your answer is quite correct, unless—you own a Direct Action Gas Range equipped with the

LORAIN OVEN HEAT REGULATOR

You see, women who own Lorain-equipped Gas Ranges can cook a Whole Meal—soup, vegetables, meat and dessert—in the oven at one time. While the meal is cooking they can go to the matinee, football game, visiting, or do other work about the house for three, four or five hours.

At the end of the pre-determined time the entire dinner will be found deliciously done and ready to serve—and all cooked without spending one minute in the kitchen.

Now, will your gas range do that? Or will it do any of these things? Does it enable you to do all your canning in the oven by the sterilization process—the easiest, surest, quickest and best way to can.

And, are you absolutely certain every time you place a pie, a cake, cookies, biscuits or bread in the oven that they'll come out "just right" every time?

If you can't do these things with your gas range you should be willing to make most any sacrifice to buy one equipped with the Lorain Oven Heat Regulator, which makes all these things possible.

We'll be glad to explain and demonstrate the remarkable advantages of the Lorain Oven Heat Regulator, the device that measures and automatically controls the heat of the oven. Come to our store and learn for yourself.

Direct Action Gas Ranges are Lorain-equipped

You put your baking directly into the cold Direct Action oven. You do not light the burner until the baking is in because the oven heats almost instantaneously. This means a saving of time and gas as there is no wait to preheat the oven. You can do this with a Direct Action because of the open oven construction, with its absence of heavy oven bottoms and free walls which, in other ovens, have to be heated before the oven is ready for the baking.

PARENT-TEACHER MEETING

The Fourth district congress of the Parent-Teacher Association held an all-day meeting at Seal Beach Saturday, April 11. Mrs. J. Edmund Snow, president, presiding. "America" was sung, followed by the Parent-Teacher Association song. Mr. Smith, principal of the grammar school of Seal Beach, gave an address of welcome. The district will have a parcel checking booth at the Orange County Fair to be held in the fall.

Sixty-four delegates were present at the opening of the meeting.

The executive board will hold its next meeting in June, at Fullerton Park. This will be a picnic affair. The district endorsed the legislative bill regulating property 700 feet around school property, in regard to soft drinks, candy stands, etc., that spring up around schoolhouses. They can only be operated under bond and recommendations of two banks.

The president reported the free clinic will be ready and operating by May 1. Each organization is asked to appoint a good strong committee with power to act if any cases come to their notice.

Mrs. Snow is to work as a member of the Confidence Exchange. Other topics will be taken up besides health. Mrs. J. V. Kelsey of Garden Grove, Second district vice-president, was chosen to act on the state nominating committee to be held at Fresno, May 12.

The following officers were elected: First vice-president, Mrs. Vorse, Seal Beach; third vice-president, Mrs. W. M. Snow, La Habra; treasurer, Mrs. Hansen, Huntington Beach; historian, Mrs. George Goetsch, Orange; parliamentarian, Mrs. Roy Horton, Santa Ana.

The state wishes to redistrict some of our Southern California districts. Mrs. Snow is to act on this committee. We know we have a loyal supporter to retain the whole of Orange county in the Fourth district.

Robert Lee, a Spanish War veteran, presented the president of the Seal Beach Parent-Teacher Association with a "flag card," to be placed in the school. He told of the proper uses for our beloved and beautiful flag. Since 1776 our flag has cost much blood. United States is the youngest nation, and the flag third oldest. In March 87 patriotic organizations adopted the new pledge to the flag as given in the schools.

An old silk flag, the property of Mrs. J. V. Kelsey of Garden Grove, was displayed. This flag is a mere mass of shreds. It was in the first and last battles of the Civil War. The assembly gave the flag salute to this old historic relic.

Another flag was shown with 12 stars and 13 stripes. This flag is said to have been made about the last part of 1778. In 1779 a French expedition left Boston, Mass., and landed in the Santa Ana river, between Newport Beach and Balboa, Orange county. The river at that time had a large expanse, and boats could go up it. After remaining here awhile, the expedition went north and landed outside of Astoria, Ore. They soon learned they were not in the United States. They moved to Astoria and remained there a year and one-half. They were not content, and returned to Orange county. This flag was carried on this long journey, and is to remain in Orange county.

A patriotic department was created. Mrs. Alex Kuenzli of Brea was appointed district chairman.

All district department chairmen are asked to have their reports in to

Mrs. Snow not later than May 1. Reports from the department chairmen showed a gain over the reports of last year.

The Seal Beach ladies served a lovely dinner. The tables were decorated with vases filled with California poppies.

The afternoon session opened at 1 o'clock. Jerome Shafter of Long Beach gave a talk on Parent-Teacher Association work. If the Parent-Teacher Association functioned as it should, the United States would be made over in two years, and it would be the salvation of America. Make personal calls upon the mothers. Dad must not forget he is a parent. Know where your child is going. Go with him and see that conditions are proper. If they are not, make them so. After his talk he gave three very humorous readings and sang a spring song, playing his own accompaniment.

Mrs. William Reher and her two young sons of Seal Beach composed a musical trio. One had played the violin, the other the bass violin, accompanied on the piano by their mother.

Richard Warner Horst, professor of English of the Junior College of Fullerton, discussed the Eleanor Miller bill, which has just been defeated. Taking the child out of school, would he have received a religious training under trained religious teachers, or untrained teachers? Would the church take the responsibility of rehabilitating trained religious teachers? The child would have his school work to make up. The results—an overworked child. Leave religion in the schools more or less alone. See that the right kind of people are in the schools. Leave to reverence what the other fellow reverences alone. Think in terms of union and loyalty. Religion is safe, education is safe, and the child is safe.

Dr. Maude Wilde, president of the Los Angeles Mothers' Educational Center and lecturer of the University of California, spoke on the "Story of Life." Dr. Wilde stated facts to be seriously considered by parents of young children. Get the confidence of the little child, the early impressions will be lasting and carried through life.

Mr. Gilmont of the Santa Ana Register told of his long interest in Parent-Teacher Association work. The child is safe.

There is no body of workers who are serving the public as the school teachers. They handle the greatest asset of importance—the child.

Mrs. Adg King Wallis of Los Angeles made a few remarks.

The meeting closed, every one feeling it had been a day well spent, and such valuable information was being carried home by each member.

Y. M. C. A. NEWS

John H. Rudd of Des Moines, Iowa, has assumed charge of the Y. M. C. A. work of Anaheim, succeeding Warren Ashleigh, who resigned to take up work as superintendent of the city park. Mr. Rudd is a man of many years experience in Y. M. C. A. work, and he has been especially successful in the town and country type of Y. M. C. A. activity which is to be promoted in the Anaheim district. The association is fortunate in securing a man of his experience and ability to promote its program of service for young men. Mr. Rudd expresses pleasure in becoming a resident of Orange county, and the entire Y. M. C. A. has a bright future in the future of the work in Anaheim.

April 18 will be a great day for boys of Southern California who are members of any Y. M. C. A. groups or clubs. It is designated as "Y" Boys' Holy-Day at Holy-Wood, and that it is planned to be a great roundup of representative boys from all over the Southland.

The boys, with their adult leaders, will assemble at the Hollywood Y. M. C. A. building on Saturday morning, April 18, at 9 o'clock. From that place they will march in a body to Grauman's Egyptian theater, where they will be the guests of the management at a special showing of the picture, "The Iron Horse," with the full prologue, the Indians, orchestra, and all the features of the regular show program.

Following this entertainment, they will proceed to the Hollywood bowl, where luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock. The afternoon will be spent in athletic competition, with special stunts put on by various clubs of boys, with music and all sorts of attractive entertainment.

The attendance for this event is limited to 1781 boys, that being the capacity of Grauman's theater. As there are some 7000 boys in "Y" clubs in Southern California, it is evident that not all of them can go. Orange county has been assigned space for 275 boys, who will go from all parts of the county where groups of Pioneers, Comrades, or Friendly Indians, or Holy clubs are organized. There are about 800 boys in the county enrolled in such clubs and groups, and the places at Hollywood will be assigned as equitably as possible, on order of the applications from clubs which wish to attend. Plans are being made for a great gathering, with the 1800 boys who will crowd into Hollywood that day, and it promises to be a memorable event in the history of boys' work in Southern California.

In response to a demand for further opportunity for instruction in public speaking, the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. announces a short course of such work, to be put on in connection with the Toastmasters' Club, beginning on Wednesday, April 22, and continuing for six weeks. The Toastmasters' Club meets regularly on Wednesday evenings, with dinner at 6:30 o'clock, and the program of speeches following. The new class will meet with the club at dinner, and will then separate for the period of instruction. Men who are interested are invited to inquire for full particulars at once, as the number who can be taken into the class is limited, and the first to register will be the ones to get the work.

FOOLISH PROCLAMATIONS

If a visitor from another planet had no information concerning those in high terrestrial office in these United States other than frequent newspaper clippings, he might well come to the startling conclusion that the chief duties of mayors, governors and even at times of the President are to make addresses and issue proclamations in connection with Turnips for Health Week, Butter-Stout Day and Remember Our Great Aunt's Day. It used to be the proud boast of the American people that its productive working time was interrupted by a minimum of holidays. We commemorated the birth and resurrection of Christ, the declaration of our own independence and the

The Pot of Gold at the End of the Rainbow

Pretty near all those who were lured into looking for the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow of hope projected after the election last fall have abandoned their quest and settled down to realities. This applies more to those in the mercantile business than it does to the devotees of the stock and other speculative markets, although the latter also appear to have some glimmering of the actuality.

A continual rise of prices, whether they be of securities or grain or plain calico, is attractive for those who have these articles for sale, but hardly as much so for those who are urged to buy. As it takes the consent of two parties to make a bargain, a reluctance on the part of one is apt to spoil a trade. Two-dollar wheat, thirty-cent cotton and two-dollar wool look very well on paper as an indication of prosperity, but of what avail are they when prices of bread, cotton and woolen garments start to get beyond the ordinary prices and people begin to stint themselves in their use? It is this ordinary matter of fact thing that has checked a speculative boom movement in commodities which at one time promised no end of future trouble, but which is now negligible.

The quick sensing of the consumer's reaction to inflated prices helped merchants to get their bearings, and so prevented them from lending aid to a foolish as well as a futile proposition. They are now engaged in dealing with facts, not theories, and with the actual situation instead of an imaginary one.

Science and Religion

The president of nine colleges and universities in California who were requested some time ago by the state board of education to examine as a committee the textbooks in science used in the public high schools and junior colleges of the state with a view to discovering whether the subject of evolution was presented in such a way as to discredit the bible and to develop in the minds of students an attitude of irreverence and atheism, have not only examined the textbooks but have granted hearings to ministers of various denominations and have come to a unanimous decision. It is that no statements derogatory to religion have been found.

In some few books evidence in support of evolution is presented, but in only a few instances is the possible bearing of evolution upon science discussed at all, and in those cases the writers have taken pains to assure their young readers that there is no conflict. Every one having any pretense to an education, as these nine presidents say, must be informed as to scientific facts and generally accepted theories. The truth has nothing to fear, except that it shall be hidden. Veritas nihil veritatis abscondit.

Present Day Mat Artists Exclusive

Times have changed in the wrestling game since the days when the late Frank Gotch held the world's championship. From the time he became prominent in the mat world until he died an undefeated champion, Gotch wrestled all comers, regardless of weight, color or creed. After he won the world's title from George Hackenschmidt in 1905, Gotch gave every wrestler, regardless how obscure or how famous, a chance at the crown. The famous Iowa toured the country from coast to coast, taking on all comers and, it might be added, that from 1906 until he died, in 1915, he did not lose so much as a single

YOUTH MUST BE TRAINED

Declaring that the young men of the nation must learn to obey before they are fit to command in any enterprise, whether civil or military, Governor J. C. Scrugham of Nevada has given his endorsement to the citizens' military training camps in a letter received today by Major General Charles T. Mencher, commanding the Ninth Corps Area.

all much less a match. He was a real champion. Nowadays, some of the leading heavyweights will not wrestle worthy opponents because they are not on "seeking terms." It seems they must be on the same social plane, must be properly presented to each other and all that sort of thing. Stranger Lewis, former world's champion, and Big Munn, present holder of the title, have not yet had any real worthy contenders because they and their managers are riled at one another. We have the spectacle of such high class wrestlers as Joe Stecher, Haps Steinhilber, Martin Pleskita, Waldemar Yezasko and Jimmie London denied the right to compete for the championship. First it was Lewis who gave these challengers the run-around, and now it is Munn.

Back in the days of Gotch, Tom Jenkins, Hackenschmidt, Yusuf Mabmont, Fred Beel, Farmer Burns and Evan Lewis, the original Strangler, were on the part of one of these wrestlers toward another gentleman of the hammerlock fraternity only hurried along the making of a match, instead of preventing it.

Wrestling has reached the stage that unless the men who are seeking to gain absolute control of it change their tactics the sport will be ruined.

"I am convinced that the plan of training the young men of the nation between the ages of 17 and 31 in military science is a very beneficial one from all points of view," Governor Scrugham writes.

"The exercise afforded tends to develop the physical powers of the growing young men and to give them a correct posture and would also justify the training involved. In addition to this however, the camps give an opportunity to the young men of equal ages to associate in large units and to develop character by personal contact for a common purpose. The discipline imposed is also valuable in teaching them that they must learn to obey before they are fit to command in any enterprise, whether of a civil or military character.

"In conclusion, the work serves an invaluable purpose in preparing the young men of this country to defend the nation in the hour of peril, and this preparation is not only one of power but off that patriotism which consists in a proper frame of mind which every citizen ought to have respecting his obligations to the government which protects him and his property."

More than 25 per cent of the number of citizens who can be accommodated in the seven camps in the Ninth Corps Area have already applied, although the first camp does not open until June 12.

Does Advertising Pay?

—Advertising has made the Victrola Dog famous.

—It has put Castoria down your throat, left bristles in your gums, and then came along with a Rubberstet and took them out.

—It has put Sozodont, Pebecco and Pepsodent on your teeth.

—It has put a Gillette against your hayfield.

—It has put Murine in your eye, sold you Cuticura for pimples, Pears for the bath, and Ivory for the tub.

—It has put Arrow collars around your neck and Ingersolls around your wrist.

—It has jammed your feet in Holeproof sox, put Paris garters on your legs and Tiffany rings on your fingers.

—It has worn out your jaws on Wriggley's and posted you on what to buy to cure corns, warts and bunions and ingrowing toenails.

Go anywhere you want to, do anything you wish, and advertising has had a hand in it—absolutely.

And then you ask—"Does advertising pay?"

Advertising in the Gazette Teaches the People of Anaheim to —believe in you and your goods.

—to think they have a need for your goods.
—and to buy at your store.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES

Are you or your friends planning to take any long trips? Do you know all there is to know about long distance driving, or would a few words of warning in regard to such long trips from the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California be of interest?

Here are some of the "don'ts" from the club, and every one of them is important whether you are taking a long trip or a short one—in regard to the equipment of your car and person.

Don't allow the car to be without provisions or food of some sort at any time.

Don't fail to have warm clothing in the outfit. The high altitudes in the West are cold and the dry air is penetrating.

Don't forget the yellow goggles. In driving west you have to face the sun all afternoon and glare is hard on the eyes.

Don't drive through water without first ascertaining the depth.

Don't wait until your gasoline is almost gone before filling up. There might be a delay or it might not be obtained at the next point where a supply station is expected.

Don't allow your water canteens to be other than full of fresh water, and keep them filled. The burst of a water hose or a sudden leak in your radiator might occur between garages.

Persons walking along the highways at night are in far greater danger from automobiles than in the daytime, according to investigations by the public safety department of the automobile club. The driver at night cannot see dark objects well because of the constantly shifting lights from approaching cars. Sometimes the glare is so great that there is momentary blindness on the part of the car operator. The moral is: If you walk on the roads at night, keep to the left side for safety.

Watch the signs! This brief but pointed suggestion heeded by the automobile club in view of the large number of excuses being given by arrested drivers that they did not see all drivers get the sign-reading habit. Ignorance of road signs is in the same category as ignorance of the law, when a driver is halted into court. It should be borne in mind, suggests the automobile club, that signs are not placed merely to give the sign-posting crew exercise, but each has a definite function. Thousands of arrests would be averted if drivers would acquire the habit of noticing caution signs. Every month adds to the number, and unless the practice of observance is acquired by drivers, they not only lay themselves liable to arrest frequently, but to accident, through failure to observe warnings.

Watch the signs and avoid accident and law violation.

The driver making a wrong signal not only invites tragedy for himself, but threatens other cars on the road, according to investigations of the legal department of the Automobile Club of Southern California. Every driver should use the utmost care in making signals accurate and easily discernible. Slipshod, indifferent signaling confuses those behind the car about to turn or stop. Improper signaling has caused many a costly accident.

HERE IS A JOB FOR ALL FRIENDS OF THE FOREST

The forest ranger fights your battles on the fire line every summer. It is hard work and it is dangerous, protecting the nation's forest wealth. Most of these fires are man-caused—due to thoughtlessness, carelessness or ignorance. Many of them could be prevented by education and easily.

You can help in this. You are one of the ranger's allies. You can help stop the hand of the man who starts a forest fire.

The big drive—the opening barrage in the summer's campaign—is American Forest Week, April 27 to May 3. It will be nationwide. In his proclamation, President Coolidge calls upon "all patriotic citizens to unite in the common task of forest conservation and renewal."

Here is a job for all "friends of the forest" in California that is worth while. Forest fire is the greatest enemy of forest conservation and renewal. Fighting a fire before it gets started, preventing it, is good strategy. Every school, club, commercial organization, Boy Scout troop and Campfire Girl council should put on a program during American Forest Week that will be an outstanding event of the year.

Every Californian should become a veritable broadcasting station so that every one within his personal zone of influence will tune in and get, without static interference, a forcible message that: "It pays to prevent forest fires!"

We know it so

"Ah, I wish I could find some place where I could be cut off entirely from the world."

"Try a telephone booth."

AMERICAN LEGION NOTES

More than $15,000 a day is being expended by the state Veterans' War Reliefs Board in farms and homes for the former service men of California under the $10,000,000 loan bond act, according to the report of George H. Stout, secretary.

During March over $400,000 was invested by the board for the war veterans.

"The feature of the California veterans' legislation is that it operates without any cost whatever to the taxpayers of the state and creates millions of dollars worth of good, new city property and places under cultivation thousands of acres of untitled soil, thus adding greatly to the state's wealth," Secretary Stout declares.

Stout has conferred with its members of the legislature now in session relative to the work which his board is doing.

Without a dissenting vote, the proposed $20,000,000 farm and home loan bond issue being sponsored by the American Legion has been favorably recommended to the state legislature by the assembly and the senate.

The bond issue will come before the legislature in the form of a constitutional amendment to be submitted to the people in 1926, along the same lines as the issue of 1922, which has encouraged 17,500 ex-service men to make application for farm and home loans from the state.

National headquarters of the American Legion has sent David O'Leary and Al Chase to California to act as field secretaries in the Legion's campaign to raise $5,000,000 for its child welfare work and assistance to the disabled veterans of the World War.

California's quota is $400,000 and solicitation of funds will begin about May 1. In the meantime the state will be organized to accomplish what subject in all its phases. To both commission he has named former Representative John C. McKenzie of Illinois, former Senator Nathaniel B. Dial of South Carolina, Professor Harry A. Curtis, Yale University; William McClellan, New York City; and Russell P. Bower of the Farm Bureau Federation.

Muscle Shoals, to the farmers of the nation, means opportunity for agricultural development. The President's attitude is that this is a particular side of the subject which deserves careful study, and support in the event of the farmers' conjectures proving to be justified. For that reason, he will accompany the report of the Muscle Shoals commission with a strong sustaining message calling for action and decision.

When wheat goes up in price the demagogues declare it doesn't do the farmers any good because the speculators have it all. Then next week, if the price drops, they will tell you that the farmer is being cheated. Nothing like having an elastic mentality—or a poor memory.

The way they are digging up scandal nowadays in British high society, the way they are being dug up in the United States, is a wonder to behold. The reason, he will tell you, is that the farmer is being cheated. Nothing like having an elastic mentality—or a poor memory.

Stapleton in restaurant—This check is wrong, do you think I've eaten in restaurants for five years for nothing? Walter—I shouldn't be surprised, sir.

DEATHS ON THE HIGHWAY

Twenty out of every 100,000 persons in the United States were killed during 1923 in motor vehicle accidents on public highways, according to the report of the national conference on street and highway safety.

Of these fatalities only two of every twenty occurred at railroad crossings.

Past driving and inattention are given as the responsible element in the majority of cases.

George W. Anderson, judge of the Circuit court of Massachusetts, discussing this situation in a recent article said:

"Twenty-five years ago we were struggling, strenuously and expensively, to get rid of railroad grade crossings because of their obvious

EXPENSES CUT IN HALF IN THREE YEARS

General Lord, Director of Budget, Tells How Economic Have Been Effected

Expenses of the federal government have been cut in half since the budget was inaugurated three years ago and savings have been effected through teamwork and co-operation of the various federal departments, according to General H. M. Lord, director of the budget, in an address to the Merchants' Association at New York. In 1921, the last year free from budget control, the expenditures of the government were $5,116,527,685, and the next year, the first of budget control, this was reduced to less than $3,400,000,000. Finally by the end of June, 1924, the expenses had been cut to $3,048,000,000, only $45,000,000 more than the mark set by President Harding, who thought that annual expenditures ought to be reduced to three billion dollars.

General Lord said, in part: "I am not making any rash promises, but with all things as they are, I am satisfied that we will end this year with a surplus in excess of $100,000,000, and we have estimated for the next fiscal year that we will end the year with a surplus of $373,000,000. If we can hold expenditures down and keep them down so that we can give you a $100,000,000 surplus this year, with the prospect of more than $300,000,000 next year, you will have an additional reduction in taxation."

"I want to say the amount of reduction in expenditure directly due to executive pressure exerted through the bureau of the budget will always be a moot question and an idle one. The director of the budget never has made extravagant claims of extraordinary savings under budget control. He has been content to point to falling expenditures and to the development of teamwork and the spread of the gospel of economy with efficiency through the federal service, gratified that he has had the opportunity to participate in this great and good work. But in the field of estimates he can point to definite achievements that admit of no challenge."

DON'T CHEAT OTHERS

"Don't cheat the motorist who follows you of his right to enjoy the beauty spots of our Southland" is the text of an appeal being made to motorists planning picnic and outing trips. With prospects of a record touring season this year, motorists are asked to be made considerate than ever of the many tourists and outing parties who will follow them on the highways. Many wonderful picnic and camping sites are shorn of their beauty and appeal each year by selfish parties that leave papers and luncheon refuse around or who denude a spot of its wild flowers, which are usually thrown away long before the car is back in its garage. Considering the many who will picnic or rest along the roads this coming season, motorists should preserve the beauty and charm of these grounds if only for their own future use.

SALVAGING OLD MATERIAL REDUCES RAILROAD COSTS

Manufacturing scraping knives from old shovels, conduit from discarded boiler tubes, wrapping twice from rope scrap, draw bars from steel axles and chisels from worn out files are a few of the many ways in which the Southern Pacific Company saves hundreds of thousands of dollars annually by salvaging obsolete and scrap materials and supplies.

In announcing this yesterday A. S. McKellogen, general storekeeper for the company, stated that rigid economy is practiced by the railroad in salvaging used materials.

Various machines and devices, themselves constructed of salvaged material, have been invented by the company's employees to reclaim supplies which otherwise would be thrown away as useless. Following are some of the articles manufactured from scrap: Car lining paper from heavy wrapping paper; pipe clamps from sheet steel, torpedo cases from car roofing, velocipede handles from old steel, gaskets from lead, packing hooks from coil springs, water glass holders from galvanized iron, pin trays from typewriter metal covers, indicator numbers from car roofing, whistle nipples from axle steel, flange rollers from oil brass, center punches from tool steel, stove pipe from sheet iron and locomotive pilots from boiler tubes.

Senator Samuel M. Shortridge has announced his plans for another visit to Newport Bay. The senator is an ardent enthusiast of the Orange county harbor project and last fall, on the occasion of his visit, expressed his opinion that early development on an ample basis should be undertaken. He suggested that Orange county enter into a complete program to provide an operating unit and assured his hearers that once this was done and some business established, the federal government could no longer ignore the claim for financial co-operation and assistance. Senator Shortridge agrees with the solution of the entrance problem as announced by General Beach, the provision for an east jetty and a 600-foot entrance, and states that it agrees with the opinion he formed when making his tour of inspection on Newport bay. The Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce is planning for another visit on the part of Senator Shortridge and expects to arrange for a large gathering for the occasion.

RUPTURE EXPERT HERE

F. H. Seeley, of Chicago and Philadelphia, the noted truss expert, will personally be at the Rossmore Hotel, and will remain in Santa Ana Friday only, April 24th. Mr. Seeley says: "The Spermatic Shield will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, but contracts the opening in 10 days on the average case. Being a vast advancement over all former methods—exemplifying instantaneous effects immediately appreciable and without standing any strain or position no tures (following operations) specially matter the site or location. Large or difficult cases, or incisional ruptures, injections, medical treatments or prescriptions. Warning—all cases should be cautioned against the use of any elastic or web truss with understraps, as same rest where the lump is and not where the opening is, producing complications necessitating surgical operations. Mr. Seeley has documents from the United States Government, Washington, D. C., for inspection. He will be glad to demonstrate without charge or fit them if desired. Business demands prevent stopping at any other place in this section. P. S.—Every statement in this notice has been verified before the Federal and State Courts—F. H. Seeley, Home Office 117 N. Dearborn St., Chicago.
