

LEGIONAIRES PLACE EMBLEM OF PEACE' ON GEORGE HOLDEN'S LAWN; JOE ELLIOTT CONDUCTS FUN SESSION

"A spontaneous evening and a good time was had by all" could be the title of the Anaheim Post meeting held in the city hall last Monday night at which time the "post within a post" was organized with a choice and yet cheery crowd forming the new "south of the slot" tribe.

It seems there were many things happened at an inter-noon-in-between-post meeting—and as a result South Anaheim's few including, regrettable as it may seem, some of Anaheim's uniformed finest (meaning policemen of course—fremen please skip) paid and sold and paid. Anyway to sum up the entire procedure which was perpetrated upon the post under the guidance of Joe Elliott, during the festive moments, the total net result was a very able committee, the gun mounted facing the enemy (imaginary of course). Note: The committee is supposed to have it their way.

In serious moments, of which there were a few, business of Legion was transacted with dispatch and Earl Fuller, commander called for an election of a delegate to represent the post at the forty-ninth annual convention of the American Legion which was held in San Francisco. Fred W. Smith was selected to take the post recently vacated by Dr. Waters who moved out of the jurisdiction of the Anaheim post. Also during the meeting, it was announced that the County Council would hold a dance in the near future at Valencia Hall, with the receipts being used for a fund to be handled by the Disaster and Relief committee of that body. The Disaster and Relief committee is not purely a Legion committee, it having charge of Legion activities should any type of disaster descend upon any community within the county and the fund is used to further that cause.

George Miller, a member of the United Spanish War Veterans and as well a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, a post of which was recently organized in Anaheim, was a visitor at the post meeting and offered the assistance of his organizations, officially, to the Legion committee which will have charge of the Memorial Day observance. Chairman Ray Smith of the Legion committee thanked Mr. Miller and accepted the proffered aid.

A buffet luncheon terminated the evening.

Armstrong's Robbed Last Sunday Night

Road houses and service stations seem to be on the menu of the burglars these days. Last Sunday night Armstrong's place on the 101 highway between Anaheim and Santa Ana was broken into and according to a check-up, $45 taken.

About $20 in nickels was taken from the marble machines, and $15 in cash and merchandise was taken in a cigarette vending machine.

The combination on a small safe was knocked off, but nothing had been removed which indicates the thieves were frightened away before completing their job. A five dollar bill was found on the floor which the management believes was dropped by the thieves during the hasty exit.

CITY PARK TO BE SCENE OPENING OF SCHOOLS WEEK

In preparation for the Public Schools Week which starts next Monday, the annual musical festival is well under way to be given at the city park theater here next Sunday.

Miss Ethel Campbell has charge of the event and has arranged the entire production by herself. It is woven into a pageant history of American music and has a cast of about 600 children.

The program has been divided into three parts for this year with a prologue and closing with specially arranged numbers.

The first part, or introduction will feature the Indian, discovery of America and Spanish themes. Part one is built around the colonial days and the Revolutionary War. This followed by the second part, consisting of songs of the American West, including those of Lowell Mason, known as the father of public school music. The pageantry then follows through into part three which brings out the Civil War days in song and the conclusion features "America the Beautiful."

A music contest was sponsored among the schools in anticipation of the festival. While many pupils will take part in the festival who did not win out in the contest, the winners receive special recognition and are allowed to sing in their individual class groups. Miss Laura Dean's third grade at Horace Mann, Miss Irma Steadman's fourth grade at Lincoln, and Miss Gertrude Anderson's fifth and sixth grades at Broadway were winners.

Study Made of City Budget
Wednesday Indicators
No Tax Increase

The City Council in a meeting held Tuesday night, launched into the checking of the budget and waded through much business which kept the city days in harness "till the wee sma' hours."

A proposition recently made to the council by C. Young, to take over some property belonging to the city and institute a riding academy was accepted by the council. They agreed that the first year's rent was to be used in grading and leveling the property which is known as the University site. Many other routine items of business were taken under advisement, including the purchase of a ton and a half International Truck from the Elstite company. The truck is to replace one of the trucks now in use in the street department.

A bid for the talent for the city park was accepted and awarded to Gamahl-Grim Lumber company whose bid of approximately $120 was the lowest of six.

The city plunge will be opened about May 15, according to the decision of the council. Considerable time was taken up with the discussion of the request of the Odd Fellows asking the use of the city park during the encampment to be held here in October. It is planned to erect a number of tents on the park for the use of delegates to the convocation. Also additional lavatory facilities were asked by the Odd Fellows. This along with the request for 24 hour police protection for the park at the city expense was taken under advisement with a decision to be made later.

Mayor Charles Mann stated that he did not believe an increase in city taxes would be necessary after studying a portion of the budget being turned in by the various departments. A special meeting was held Wednesday afternoon at which time the council members perused the budget and more closely.

The county, it is anticipated will contribute 20 per cent of the cost of the building material as has been the rule on other structures of a like nature.

Bond Argument Ends In Justice Court

An argument over the recent school election was so warm that it terminated in Judge Charles Kuehler's court where, Steve Luther, member of the Cypress School board paid a fine of $10 on a charge of assault brought by Sam Miller.

Luther and Miller got into a heated argument over the merits of the recent bond issue and each became so warmed up by his own belief that the assault charges were the outcome. The fine was suspended with an admonition to the boys keep the peace for a period of six months.

Anaheim Students At L. A. Universities Appear On Radio

"The Boy From Home: Mike Good" and in this instance the girls as well, is evidenced by the fact that an Anaheim student at University of Southern California, Mrs. Charles A. Heinrichs, was called for the nomination and election of officers for the ensuing year.

Thomas H. Kuehler, who is studying law at University of Southern California, was selected to present one side of the gas franchise election, and through his various radio addresses and appearances before interested bodies made a host of friends and became the recipient of many commendatory replies.

Along the same lines comes the information that Miss Katherine Bushard, niece of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bushard of Anaheim, and just completed an important assignment in which numerous radio speeches were entailed as well as addresses before organizations.

Climaxing a campaign carried on by the school authorities in Anaheim, the voters went to the polls last Friday and voted the permission sought by the Board to rearrange the school taxes to allow more for maintenance.

The total vote for the election was 643 which is considered a fair vote for a school election here. M. A. Gauer, superintendent of schools estimates that upon a checkup some one-fourth to a third of the voters were "red penciled" on the records as ineligible to vote for various reasons. These, however, were being passed by the vote cast.

The tax measure was passed with a healthy margin, being 438 for and 204 against.

In the trustee election, Miss Rea was given a vote of 638, while one vote was cast for a former candidate and 52 voters were left blank, indicating the voters were interested particularly in the tax measure.

In other places in the county the vote was heavy, with the possible exception of Santa Ana.

In conjunction with school elections (two local issues were before the voters) one for $125,000 being passed, $8.41 Bond, and one for $25,000 being passed in the Centralia district.

Trustees for 11 high school districts were chosen, but contests developing in the San Juan Capistrano, Valencia and Newport Harbor Union High school districts. Spirited voting for positions on the Centralia and Cypress district boards was recorded.

Repercussions from the recent political squabble at Cypress were felt as Robert Luther, political campaigner for Steven Cawthon, president of the board, was fined $10 in the Anaheim Justice court on charges of assault. The action was brought as the result of a fight involving Luther and Samuel Alvarado before yesterday.

Favors in Cypress favoring the passage of bonds at the election scheduled next Friday were conceded to have won a preliminary victory, with the re-election of Cawthon being followed by a margin of 26 votes over his opponent, Louis L. Nicholas. The present board favors the passage of the bonds, for $150,000.

Centralia

Tei Stens, Hansen road rancher, was elected trustee, but contests developing in the San Juan Capistrano, Valencia and Newport Harbor Union High school districts. Spirited voting for positions on the Centralia and Cypress district boards was recorded.

Three Weeks Left Reclaim Property From Tax Sales

Only three weeks remain, according to County Auditor, W. T. Lambert, during which tax payers have the right to redeem property from tax sales by paying the amount of taxes unpaid prior to 1934-35 plus interest of 7 per cent per annum, computed only from July 1, 1934. After April 29, if the present laws remain unchanged, penalties of one per cent per month, now suspended, will again become operative and retroactive.

Special legislation enacted by the legislature when called by Governor Merriam last fall made it possible to redeem property under these favorable terms.

The right to make installment payments on property not previously placed on the ten-year plan will also close on April 29, as the law now stands. The law, too, was offered tax payers by the fall session of the legislature.

These bills, numbered Sessions 28172 and 28173, replaced similar laws enacted a year ago, which expired April 29 last year. The new ones contain some-

Garden, Bridge Party Announced by Club

The Laguna Beach Woman's Club has announced that its garden and bridge party will be held at the Laguna Hotel at Laguna Beach on April 11, and that a large number of reservations had already been made for the affair. In addition to bridge there will be a musical program and other entertainment.

What more liberal provisions than their predecessors.

Last year Auditor Lambert opened nearly 4000 special accounts of payment of back taxes on installments. Many of these have already been paid in full, clearing property from tax liens. Many new accounts have been opened since Sept. 19 on the new law, Sec. 28172.

Auditor Lambert directs attention to the fact that second payments must be made not later than April 29 on accounts opened last year, requiring also payment of 1934-35 taxes in full.

Under Section 28172 it is necessary only to procure from the auditor an estimate showing the amount required to make the first installment payment on back taxes. This may be obtained by mail, remittance made in the same manner, with 1934-35 taxes to be paid before April 29 to the Tax Collector.

Annual Report of the Bell Telephone Company Shows Taxes $89,500,000

For every dollar the Bell Telephone System earned for its 800,000 owners last year it paid more than 70 cents in taxes. This was revealed in the Bell System's annual report recently released, which showed that telephones are now taxed on an average of $6.76 each annually. The total tax bill, according to the report, was $89,500,000. After paying interest on the bonds the company earned $5.36 per share on its American Telephone and Telegraph Company common stock, which, in view of the money invested by the stockholders in the business, is a return of about 4½%. Financial authorities point out that while this is a common stock subject to all the risks of that type of security, the earnings last year were just about the same as on a low risk bond.

The report dealt more fully than ever before with the financial background of the company which has enabled it to protect the investors in a remarkable manner through five years of depression. The American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which has 675,000 stockholders, had a record at the outset of the depression of not having made a dividend in half a century. This, perhaps as much as anything else, was instrumental in enabling the company to raise a tremendous amount of capital which it had to have to meet demands for service during the boom years 1920 to 1926. To date its unbroken dividend record has been continued through five years of depression, paying a $9 dividend per share on its common stock each year. The company has only one class of stock, all of it of the voting share type, and contrary to many organizations which found it necessary to pay large commissions in order to market its securities, has received an actual premium over and above the $100 par value of $14.40 a share. In addition, it is explained in the report, the company did not, during the boom years, pay any extra dividends either in the form of stock or cash. It consequently had a substantial surplus at the outset of the depression and the stockholders' equity at the end of 1924 amounted to $21.50 per share. This amount, plus the paid in amount of $114.40 makes a total of $135.90 per share which is the stockholder's investment left in the business at the present time. On that basis, according to the report, the earnings of

County Engineers Hear Discussion of Soil Erosion

V. W. Hannum, Water Superintendent for the City of Anaheim, also spoke. He spoke of a disastrous fire in regard to the Metropolitan Water District service which is to be started in Orange County soon. Sinclair also will show illustrated slides of the Montrose flood disaster, he said.

Newsboy Proves Able To Pick 'em Honest

A newsboy peddling his wares here last week found that to have the instinct of a credit man aided him in getting a boost and incidentally draw commendation from a customer was worth while.

D. E. Hush, night clerk at the Pickwick hotel has been spending some of his time wandering around the city park during the daylight hours and was accented a few times by the Press-Telegram boy who, although being refused each time, proved he could take it and never lost his manners.

Rush noting the manly spirit of the boy, decided he would buy one and handed the lad a dime. The paper merchant was unable to make change and upon being told to "keep the change" immediately informed his mother who he did not believe his mother would permit him to do that, but offered as an alternative that Hush keep the paper and pay him when they met again and the latter had the change. This made a hit with the purchaser and commendation was sent to the boy's employer.

The salesman who some day will undoubtedly make the grade as a credit manager, is Paul Ryals, 412 North Columbia street.

Sweepstake Winner Wins In Court

Climaxing a lucky streak with another little bit of luck, Mrs. E. M. Atherton formerly of Buena Park and now of Westwood was successful in a suit brought against her to exercise a judgment.

Mrs. Atherton was one of the lucky ticket holders in the recent Irish sweepstakes and upon receiving some publicity was made the defendant in a suit by J. E. Walter company.

The matter was brought to trial before Judge J. K. Scovel of the Superior court who last Friday ruled against the Walter company. The original judgment was obtained in February of 1929 in the sum of $8000. Friday Judge Scovel by his ruling virtually nullified the judgment.

A ten day stay of execution was obtained by the Walters attorneys which will keep the attached property in the hands of the sheriff for a period of time anyway while they appeal to the court of appeals.

On December 18, 1924, at Anaheim the Athertons executed a $4700 promissory note to the Walter company. It was not paid at maturity, and on February 20, 1926, the company secured a $5000.44 judgment against the Athertons. In 1927 the Walter company was suspended for failure to pay its corporation license tax. On October 27, 1933, directors of the defunct concern, acting as trustees, had the judgment renewed. Judge Scovel ruled that the trustees had no authority to secure the renewal of the judgment, and ordered the execution recalled. He held that the trustees lacked this authority because the corporation itself was non-existent. This ruling had the effect of outlawing the judgment, which now amounts to approximately $8000 with interest.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST SCIENTIST

"Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment." These words of Christ Jesus, from John, the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Unreality" on Sunday in all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. One of the Bible selections includes the verses from John: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was God. The same was in the beginning with God. All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made."

The Lesson-Sermon presents also this correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Gospel of John. It is declared that all things were made through the Word of God, and without Him [the logos, or word] was not anything that was made." Everything good or worthy of God made, is ever is valueless or baneful. He did not make,—hence its unreality."

Making Survey Of Sugar Beet Acres

In accordance with the provisions and instructions of the Sugar Section of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, a survey of the planted acreage for the 1935 crop will be started this week. An impartial survey of the planted acreage will be advantageous and a protection to all parties concerned, particularly the growers.

Each Farm Supervisor, as the survey is officially termed, must certify that he has inspected each of the farms assigned to him, and which is under a Sugar Beet Production Adjustment Contract, and must certify as to the number of acres planted to sugar beets on each farm inspected. The acreage so certified must be the acres needed to sugar beets. Temporary ditches and other such areas which are allowed out after the seeding operation must be included in the area measured for sugar beet compliance. All land needed to beets must be covered by an AAA contract. Land in excess of the base acreage must be contracted for separately as new land.

In this district covered by this office, if the acreage found by the Farm Supervisors is larger than the acreage allotted under the Contract it may be possible to secure an adjustment of acreage in cooperation with the sugar factory and this office. If not, it will be necessary to destroy the excess acreage, and have the same certified to by the Farm Supervisor.

Where growers question the measurement taken by local supervisor, a qualified person with engineering training will be employed by the Association to accurately check the acreage under contract. The expense of this survey will be met by the Association, except where grower requests. When such request is made the grower must advance sufficient funds to the Association to pay for the survey. If it is found the inspector's estimate of acreage is not correct, and the grower has complied with the acreage requirements, the money advanced by the grower will be refunded, and the cost of inspection will be paid by the Association. If it is found the first survey was correct, and the grower has not made compliance, the money will not be refunded.

IN THE DAYS OF LONG AGO

50 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

APRIL 18, 1885

The weather has been more than ordinarily fickle during the past week. It rains; it didn't rain. It has been a week of sun, shine, it has been a week of clouds. It has been as warm as in June; it has been as cold as in December. In short it has been a week of contradictions, of rainy promise, of disappointed expectations. It rained very heavily in Los Angeles on last Tuesday, for half an hour the rain came down in a deluge and for several hours it rained with respectable steadiness. It rained in streaks, and looking from the car windows on the road between here and Los Angeles the passengers could see dry dust and muddy mud alternate at a distance of a few miles apart. It rained heavily in the mountains and must have replenished the sources of water supply.

Over ten years ago Mr. E. S. Saxton came to Anaheim from New York, and after staying here a sufficient length of time to assure himself that the climate was what he had been seeking for, he purchased some property, sent for his family, and built himself a beautiful home, which it was his pleasure and pride to care for. Until lately he has had remarkably good health but he had arrived at an age when he could no longer successfully combat with disease, and he died on Saturday night. He was honored of all men. His long life of usefulness was crowned by the respect and reverence of his neighbors and friends. We shall greatly miss the kindly old man who for years has been a welcome visitor to our office, and whose advice and counsel we always found profit in following. What ever of reward there may be in the unknown realm for a pure, useful and honorable life will surely be meted out without stint to the man whose death the whole community regrets. Mr. Saxton was aged 74 years.

The public schools throughout the county will be closed next week, as the law required the presence of every teacher at the Teachers' Institute which will be in session in Los Angeles. An unfounded report has gained currency that the Anaheim school will have to close for lack of funds. Such is not the fact however, and the schools will keep open ten months, as usual. The closing of Los Angeles schools has been averted. The Board of Education has sold a lot to the city for $12,000, which sum is sufficient to keep the schools open the usual time.

The Board of Town Trustees held an adjourned meeting on Wednesday. The committee reported unfavorably upon the applications of Connellet and Roberts for bridges. Mr. König was allowed $15, one-half of his expenditure on bridges. A petition asking for an appropriation in support of the Anaheim Immigration association was received, and the Board donated $300. After transacting some routine business the board adjourned.

Col. J. G. Howard, the well-known lawyer of Los Angeles, delivered a lecture in that city last week on Aaron Burr, and in the course of his remarks he spoke scathingly of Blennerhassett, a contemporary of Burr. At the conclusion of that traduced ancient lives in Los Angeles, and a few days after the lecture he gave Col. Howard a pummeling for his temerity in criticizing his ancestor.

For many years Fred Langenberger has been a sufferer from consumption and has been compelled to live a life of comparative isolation in the mountains. He died in Anaheim on Wednesday at the home of his father, whither he had been brought a few days previously. He was a young man of great promise and we know of no one who was held in greater esteem by his companions and intimates. May he rest in peace.

A fire in Los Angeles on last Saturday night destroyed two dwelling houses on Fort Street, owned by Mrs. Mullaly and Miss Sailer, and caused a loss of $8000, which was partly covered by insurance. The fire is supposed to have been caused by the explosion of a coal oil lamp.

Arthur Auerbach of London, has arrived in Los Angeles. He is going to join his brother in business under the firm name of Auerbach Bros. Both gentlemen are the sons of the well-known senior of the house of S. & T. T. Auerbach of London. The advertisement of the firm is published in the Gazette. (Auerbach Bros. were proprietors of a wholesale and commission house dealing in green and dried fruits, honey, etc.—Ed.)

Mr. Chas. Wille has received a carload of cooper's material, and is now prepared to fill all orders for casks, tanks and pipes at the very lowest rates consistent with the good workmanship for which he has acquired a most enviable reputation.

The sidewalk to the depot is a marked-improvement and gives a metropolitan tone to the town. When it becomes hardened it will be a favorite promenade. The work has been well done by Sorenson and Hill, the contractors, and the city dads could not do better than to extend the sidewalks to other parts of town.

An elegant music box, valued at $150 will be raffled at the jewelry store of R. Luedke as soon as the tickets are sold. 200 chances at 50 cents a chance. You are invited to call and see the box.

Ninety-five cents on the dollar has been offered for the bonds of the Riverside Water Company, interest to commence of January 1, 1885. The directors of the company will probably accept this proposition.

The Laguna Beach camping site has been leased by Harris Bros. of Orange. They propose to make that charming resort more popular and attractive this season than it has been heretofore.

Mr. McDermont of Orangethorpe raises the largest and best sweet potatoes in the county. Those who wish to endeavor to excel him will find the potatoes on sale in Newbold's store.

The County Superintendent of Schools has appointed W. M. Higgins School Trustee of the Anaheim school district, vice C. E. Leonard, removed from the district.

The removal of the dwelling house of Mr. Backs has been the most interesting event of the week on Los Angeles street. It will look very sightly on its new site.

W. M. McFadden has gone to San Francisco as a delegate to the Grand Council O. C. F.

25 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

APRIL 14, 1910

The hottest political fight in the recent history of the city was pulled off Monday, when the regular biennial municipal contest held the boards. C. O. Rust and Max Nebelung were elected trustees and C. L. Becker and W. P. Quanton tied for third place, each receiving 203 votes. Rust received 227 votes and Nebelung 209. E. B. Merritt was re-elected city clerk, he had no opposition. Charley Boege defeated Frank Shanley for treasurer by a majority of 76 votes. One of the hottest fights of the day was between V. U. Simpson and N. F. Steadman for city marshal. The latter has held the office for 18 years and the contest was close. Simpson finally winning by a vote of 238 to 214. The tie between Becker and Quanton will be trotted off at a special election to be called later on.

Mr. Melrose some days ago tendered Gov. Gillett his resignation as trustee of the Los Angeles normal school to which he was some years ago appointed by Gov. Pardee. He gives as his reasons therefor this increasing private business which renders it impossible to longer serve on the board. The Los Angeles normal school and its site will shortly be sold by the state and a new building erected upon another site. An offer of $550,000 has been received for the property.

Miss Poapst, sister of Mrs. Dr. Beebe, this week collected and turned over to Mrs. Jester the sum of $65, which was collected by her for the benefit of Charles Jester, the lad bitten by a mad dog a month ago. Dr. Beebe was called and after treating the boy's wound took him to Los Angeles and had him treated by Dr. Chambers of the Pasteur hospital. Dr. Beebe remitted his own charges and succeeded in getting Dr. Chambers to reduce the usual charge of $100 for the Pasteur treatment to $50. The total expense incurred by the lad was $65.

Clinton Briggs, recently arrived from British Columbia, has purchased the Thomas Ahern 35-acre place east of town for a consideration of $17,000. Mr. Briggs is an old-time friend of W. J. Elliott who met him in Long Beach and persuaded him to visit this section. He liked the section so well that he resolved to locate and purchased Mr. Ahern's fine ranch. Mr. Briggs will return north to settle up his business affairs and will return here in the near future.

The third and deciding game of baseball between Stanford and U. C. was played at Berkeley on Saturday and resulted in a victory for the former by a score of 8 to 3. Up to the last half of the ninth the score stood 3 to 2 in favor of Berkeley. A batting rally netted the Cardinals 6 runs. Fayette Lewis of this city captained U. C. and played well. Bob McFadden of Placencia played with Stanford.

A meeting of citizens interested in the river protection district will be held at the Library in this city on Friday evening. Delegates are expected to be present from Anaheim, Fullerton, Buena Park, Garden Grove, Westminster and other sections.

Joseph Unger has sold his 5-acre ranch on the corner of North and West streets for $5000 to a party from Oregon and has in turn bought 17½ acres a little further west from Joseph Connan for $10,000.

Charles Eells has purchased a 33 acre, highly improved ranch 1½ miles northeast of Tustin, and will later take up his residence there. The tract contains 14 acres in walnuts, 8½ in lemons and 9½ in valencias. It is in one of the garden spots of the county.

Mrs. Whiting entertained the 500 club on Tuesday afternoon. The first prize a Japanese basket was won by Miss Winifred Melrose. The second a Japanese gown by Mrs. McLaughlin. Mrs. Stern will entertain at the next meeting.

The engagement is announced of Miss Helen Sherer of Los Angeles to Arthur G. Baker of the same city, formerly of Magnolia. The wedding will occur in June.

The wedding is announced in Los Angeles of George McKinnie to Miss Ada Richards. The groom is a son of Fred McKinnie, formerly a resident of this city.

The Ladies Guild of St. Michael's Mission wish to thank most cordially those who so kindly assisted in making their play "Union depot" a success.—S. M. Dearing, Secretary.

The engagement of Miss Evangeline Gentry to Hans V. Weisel has been announced. The young people have an extensive circle of friends and are held in high esteem.

Jos. Helmsen cranked up the graphophone, when the returns came in on Monday evening and played "The Star Spangled Banner" and "Die Wacht am Rhein."

Andy Fuhrberg is wearing a broad smile since the election and is rattling a bunch of shiners in his pockets as a result of his cleanup.

The fourth anniversary of the Apollo club will be celebrated on Friday afternoon by a vocal and instrumental recital by members at the high school auditorium.

A quarter of an inch of rain fell on Monday morning freshening up the country and insuring a good yield of beans, beets and other crops.

Pete Nicolas was over from Fullerton on Monday and cleaned up a wad on the election bigger than a link of wienerwurst.

The Central Grammar School will have a vacation on Friday when carpenters will be at work upon the basement.

Frank Baum and wife left on Monday for New York and other points east. They will be absent several months.

Phid des Granges was driving his high stepper along the paved streets in town on Saturday afternoon.

Anne Breger Heads Beach B. P. W. Club

At a meeting of the Newport Beach Business and Professional Woman's club held in the Balboa Cafe, last Thursday night, Miss Anne Breger was selected to head the Beach club for the ensuing year, succeeding Mrs. Helen Elder.

A tentative plan was set to hold the annual dinner dance of the club on May 10, and the new president announced that she would appoint a committee immediately to care for the details.

Planning Snail Control Session Tuesday, April 9

In response to the considerable interest in snail control at the present time, an orchard demonstration showing methods of controlling this pest will be held next Tuesday, April 9, 2:00 p.m., according to Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg.

The past season with its prolonged cool and damp weather has been ideal for the propagation and spread of the snail pest. Infestations have been found in many parts of the county, attacking various crops. It has become a problem not only of the orchard and field but also the garden.

The standard treatment for snail control is the use of poisoned bait, such as bran mash mixed with calcium arsenate. These materials are mixed dry at the rate of one part calcium arsenate to 15 parts of wheat bran and then enough water added to make a moist but not wet mash.

The agricultural commissioner's office which is in charge of pest control in the county, has made available at cost a supply of the poisoned mash for the convenience of the grower.

The demonstration will be held at the Fred C. Krause orchard on Derridge Avenue and one-fourth mile south of Ocean Avenue. This is about two miles east of Garden Grove.

The demonstration will feature different kinds of snails, materials to use and method of application. The agricultural commissioner will explain the snail control program as recommended for Orange County conditions.

All growers interested are invited to attend according to Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg.

Harbor Commission Is Aim of Newport Commerce Chamber

Creation of a Harbor commission to take over control and carry on activities of Newport Harbor on a continuing basis, with official sanction of the Board of Supervisors of Orange County is proposed, by a special sub-committee of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce.

Additional markings and lights for Newport Harbor are asked for in a request of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, addressed recently to Superintendent of Lighthouses, H. W. Rhodes, with offices at San Francisco. Completion of the great dredging and jetty program, now under way, is looked for early in November and thorough marking of the entrance and the bay area in U. Must File Applications This Week For Corn-Hog Contracts, Says W. M. Cory

Alcorn-hog contract applications are to be filed this week, according to W. M. Cory, Assistant Farm Advisor. Producers who grow corn and raised hogs in 1932 or 1933 or in both years, he said, are eligible to sign the 1935 contract, provided their farmings in 1934 equaled 25 percent of the average of their litters for those two years, or provided further they produced for the market in 1934 at least 25 percent of their base production exclusive of feeders purchased.

An extra provision is added in the 1935 contract, to guarantee that only those farmers shall be eligible to sign the agreement who have not retired from hog production, by requiring participants in the adjustment program to prove they planted in 1934 or in 1935 at least 25 percent of their base corn acreage.

"Corn-hog farmers of Orange County are again being offered a voluntary contract program for holding their production in line with effective demand, and for sharing in the resulting benefits," says Cory. "The course of action was endorsed by two-thirds majority of the producers of the nation who voted in the October referendum, and is warranted by the current economic outlook."

As was the case last year, the 1935 corn and hog program will be administered by the producers themselves through their own County Corn-Hog Production Control Association, dealing direct with the Secretary of Agriculture.

SMITTY SAYS . . .

Here's a way for Anaheim realtors to clear up the age-old argument of a clear deed to property: (It was in the morning mail):

"An attorney for a purchaser of a large tract of land in Louisiana objected to the abstract furnished, claiming it didn't go back far enough, to which the abstractor replied as follows:

"Dear Sir:—There are no records or archives available which concern the title to the above described land any further back than the United States Government.

"However, I believe from a historical standpoint I can give you as to the title in such a way that the objections you have pointed out will be waived.

"This land was acquired by the United States Government in 1800 by purchase from France, under what we now refer to as the Louisiana Purchase.

"France acquired possession of the land by conquest as the result of a successful war with Spain.

"Spain acquired possession of land by virtue of the fact that a young man in her service by the name of Christopher Columbus on the 12th day of October, 1492, discovered it.

"Columbus got his authority for making the aforesaid voyage and discovery from Ferdinand and Isabella, the King and Queen of Spain.

"The Pope of Rome got his authority by virtue of the fact that he said he was the Vicar of Christ on Earth.

"Christ got his authority by the fact that he was the Son of God, and God created the earth."

The boss gave a new assignment Tuesday while he squirmed out. Yeah, usually a new bound tippees quip up on a poor unsuspecting victim and immediately open a barrage of questions that sometimes would make an attorney feel like a student—but now and here that's out from now on, an interviewer has been interviewed—

Two bright and innocent looking young ladies came quip into the Gazette office and asked if they might ask a few questions about a newspaper. Sure. And the boss was busy.

They proved to be two members of the Fremont school who were told to interview someone in a profession they would like to follow. And did they know their stuff about firing questions in an interview.

They wanted to know about certain matters of newspaper and printing and they KNEW JUST what they were asking. No misdeeds. It was a case of answering directly.

What are the nice things and what are the things not so nice, give an example, etc., etc. . . . well they left satisfied and we felt a certain pride in the coming generation.

They're getting knowledge from sources instead of the printed page . . . more power to 'em but next time will make the boss take it O. Yeah.

(Note to Jot-Em-Down Jimmy—Got your confession, knew you'd see the daylight—did you mean suspended or suspended?)

Drake, traveling north, according to witnesses, turned out to pass another car and struck the Harker car traveling in the opposite direction, a flaming blow and it in turn careened into the bakery truck knocking it against the side of the bridge. The truck came to a stop balancing over the side of the bridge.
The injured men were taken to the county hospital where they were treated for the injuries.
The Drake car is said to have received the most damage.

Movement Starts To Develop Orange Surplus Control

Holding its initial meeting Monday in Riverside, the Stabilization Committee of the Citrus Department of the California Farm Bureau Federation started activity in an attempt to develop a surplus control plan under the California-Arizona Citrus Marketing Agreement so that in seasons of surplus crops the low quality fruit and undesirable sizes could be handled on an equitable basis that the entire crop might be marketed in a manner to return cost of production to the grower and maintain a reasonable price to the consumer.
Dr. D. J. Wayland of Anaheim is chairman of the committee but in his absence in Hawaii E. D. Patterson, Vice-Chairman presided. Other members of the committee are: M. W. H. Williams, Redlands; N. Matzen, Escondido; John W. Crill, Anaheim; W. E. Spencer, Whittier; H. A. Lynn, Riverside; Wade Flippin, Orange and E. C. Kincaid, Ventura.
D. Flaherty, Executive-Secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau was elected secretary of the committee.

Various plans for the control and elimination of surplus which had been developed by leaders throughout the industry were read and considered by the committee. E. D. Patterson in a statement after the meeting said: "This Committee is made up largely of men who work in the development of the original Valencia Stabilization Agreement, and in tackling this task of developing a surplus control and elimination plan we recognize full well the many problems involved. It will be the intention of the committee to consider all plans which are presented to us in the hopes that from them we may learn something which will go into the making of a plan, which when added to the present California-Arizona Agreement will provide for still greater equality, and protect us in periods of emergency."

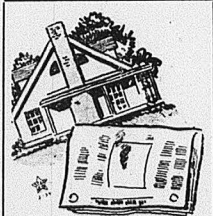

Dr. Patterson expects to rush any plan through and the committee has no plan of its own which any member is sponsoring. With our consuming market 3000 miles away, it is necessary that a marketing plan for California citrus under which we will not be compelled to ship all of our crop regardless of what we are able to sell it for after paying high freight charges, packing, and other expenses.

Many Of Principals In Ramona Pageant Are Veterans of Play To Be Given, Hemet

Nearly a score of principals in the cast of more than 200 that will present the twelfth annual Ramona Pageant at Hemet Saturday and Sunday afternoons, April 27 and 28, May 4 and 5 and 11 and 12, have appeared in each of the sixty performances of the famous outdoor play during the past 11 years. It was revealed recently when Emily Freeman, general manager, completed a tentative list of those who will take part in this year's production.

Among the principals who have established this record for continuous performances are Adelaide Clarke Fitzpatrick, who takes the role of the Senora Moreno; Frank D. Felt, who appears as Father Salvaderra; and Little Lowell, who has won laurels as the Margarita of the play.

In the case of Miss Lowell, however she has not appeared continuously in the same role. Four years ago she graduated from the pageant chorus to the role in which she is one of the chief supporters of Victor Jory and Joan Inness, who play the starring roles of Alessandro and Ramona.

Other veterans of the pageant cast are Mrs. H. B. Jones in the role of Aunt Eli Arias and his Ramona Pageant troubadours will furnish the incidental music for the play for the twelfth season. Jean Inness, who plays the title role, has appeared as the pageant's Ramona throughout two previous seasons, and Victor Jory, widely known motion picture star, returns this year to the leading role of Alessandro for his sixth season.

The coffee may be mostly leaves and peanut shells, the clothes of wood pulp fabrics, the bread almost anything. In America a lot of fabrics now in the market should be labeled "substitute." They look like wool, but they are very largely composed of some cheap vegetable fiber.
The way to be sure you are getting an all-wool suit is to look for the Trumpeter label. It guarantees you all-wool. Our prices are so reasonable that there's no excuse for substitutes.
