

JUDGE F. TAUSCH ELECTED TO LEAD ANAHEIM C. OF C. FOR COMING YEAR

E. M. Keath Will Be Second
In Charge of Chamber
Activities

Judge Frank Tausch, an active member of the Chamber of Commerce for some time and for years an active civic worker was elected to head the commerce body for the ensuing year at the election meeting held last Friday noon.

E. M. Keath, for the past year active in the chamber and one of the leaders of the Merchants and Manufacturers association as well as active in boy scout work here was selected to assist Tausch with the work of the chamber.

Tausch has been serving as president for the past three months following the death of O. E. Stevens.

George Reid, secretary, outlined the program for the year and announced that his annual report would be given at the next meeting.

The year's program met with the approval of the board and includes two road projects, three holiday celebrations, participation in the I. O. O. F. convention, and promotion of new industries.

The first of the road projects to be taken up is the widening of Lincoln street from its junction with Manchester boulevard until it crosses the S. P. tracks.

Plans for the Manchester road celebration were discussed and it was decided to delay it until the strip is finished from Anaheim to Mira Flores.

The other project is to widen the Olive road where it joins Anaheim for the convenience of traffic between Santa Ana canyon and Manchester road expected to increase in a great degree since the canyon road has been rebuilt and the Manchester link now completed within 10 days.

Discussion as to whether Broadway should be cut through to the County road or whether a large easy swing bridge into Center street should be constructed, resulted in the majority of the directors favor the Broadway route, which would keep out of the congested district of Anaheim yet furnish easy access to the town to those interested in stopping.

The chamber will supervise the housing for the I. O. O. F. convention. Plans were discussed to provide entertainment features for the delegates and to see that each one was escorted on a scenic drive recently laid out among the orchards and oil fields in Northern Orange county.

Additional plans for Halloween this year are already being discussed. The chamber directors, Amistie day will be participated in by the chamber.

Due to unforeseen mechanical difficulties we have found it necessary to postpone our "New Home Edition" until next week, July 25.

At this time the entire portion of the northern county will be covered completely. Advertisers wishing to take advantage of this full coverage may do so without any increase in prevailing rates.

Many friends of the Gazette have dropped into the new offices of the Gazette this week and have seen us in the throes of the agony of moving, and leaving a cheery word boosted along the good work.

Open house will be held all day Thursday from 10 in the morning until 6 p.m., at which time everyone is invited to come in and see our new home. You do not have to be a subscriber nor "friend of any of the staff." We want everyone to see what we have and know what we are doing. So plan to come in and see us some time during the day on Thursday, July 25th.

CITY APPROPRIATES FUNDS TO AID LEGION WITH ARMISTICE DAY FETE

A delegation from the American Legion called on the City Council at its meeting last Tuesday night at which time funds were requested to assist in the observance of Armistice Day here this fall. The council allowed $700 from the advertising fund.

The committee headed by Bill Webb with Ray Smith as general director is proceeding with plans for the county-wide celebration which will consist of either a day or night parade and perhaps both. Music has been obtained for the parade and other features are being lined up by the committee.

This year, unlike that of the past few years, the Legion is asking the people of the district to assist with the events of the day. Heretofore the Legion has acted as a sole sponsor.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the late Irrel Warden who for the past seven years has been a resident of Anaheim.

John Cox gave his autobiography.

ANAHEIM POLICE ACTIVITIES ARE SHOWN, REPORT MADE FOR YEAR

25 Per Cent Increase In The Arrests For The Fiscal Year

Activities of the Anaheim police outlined in the annual report of the department for the past year, at the city hall here last Tuesday noon, the fiscal year ending April 30, show 242 arrests for intoxication and 61 for drunk driving, providing the greatest number of offenses committed.

Other arrests were much more scattered, with the next number being 23 for disturbing the peace, 16 for vagrancy, and 10 violations of the California vehicle act.

There were eight cases of suspicion of burglary and only one for burglary outright. Five grand theft cases were tried; four petit theft cases, and three each for reckless driving, violation of the state liquor act, and bad checks.

Cases with only two offenders were battery, indecent exposure, and failure to provide. One person was arrested for violation of the penal code, and one each for simple assault, malicious mischief, carrying concealed weapons, and riot, suspicion of forgery.

Forty-four arrests were defined as "other departments." The arrests were almost 25 per cent greater this year than a year ago, with 407 cases recorded this year while a year ago only 214 offenders were booked at the city hall.

Officers gave 232 citations for violation of the motor vehicle act and 239 on the city traffic ordinance in addition. With 34 cars reported stolen, 34 of them were recovered by officers or by the owners.

In making out his report Chief James S. Bouldin remarked on the efficiency of the department in the new radio system. During the year motorcycles, autos and headquarters were all supplied with police radios, Anaheim being the last town in the county to make this change.

Police Judge Frank Tausch disposed of the cases as follows: Fines were paid by 316 violators; 130 went to the county jail; 42 were given suspended sentences; 22 were remanded to juvenile court; 17 cases were felonies and turned over to the district attorney; six cases were dismissed for lack of evidence; and 24 had their operators' licenses revoked.

The judge collected $6750 in fines, with 242 cases of violation of the California motor vehicle act providing $4892 of the fines and 216 cases of violation of city ordinances paying $2367 in fines. A total of 538 cases came before the judge.

SUPERVISORS END HEARINGS AS BOARD OF EQUALIZATION MONDAY

The county supervisors Monday concluded their hearings upon requested reductions in the county assessment rolls, as a board of equalization. No substantial change was made in the assessment roll.

As usual County Assessor James Slooper's assessments were sustained in nearly every case to come before the board. These cases were mainly feeble this year, numbering only eight in all.

The California Inland Empire property in Laguna Beach was reduced from $350 to $250 in assessment of land, and from $1400 to $1200 in assessment of improvements, because construction of the new Laguna school building in front of his property was held to have cut its value, and damaged the value of its property.

The state board has until the third Monday in August to return the rolls to Orange county, for the fixing of the county tax rate which must be fixed by Sept. 1.

PROSPECTS SAID GOOD FOR T. B. PAVILION AT COUNTY HOSPITAL

R. W. Balch, of Anaheim, president of the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health association announced last Saturday that the prospects for the construction of an addition to the County Hospital and a tuberculosis pavilion were much brighter.

Balch quoted Chairman John Mitchell of the board of supervisors as saying that the addition to the tuberculosis pavilion may be constructed by the board of supervisors. The health association has been urging the need for more room for tuberculosis patients at the county institution.

The announcement came last week following a meeting of the board of directors of the health group, when the resignation of Mrs. W. D. Shaffer, Brea, from the board was accepted with regrets. Father Arthur J. Hutchinson, of Capistrano, was made second vice president of the board, taking the place of George D. Griffith, Anaheim who was named first vice president, filling the vacancy caused by the death of James Irvine, Jr.

Discussion of the matter of erecting a public health nurse to act as field representative occupied directors at the meeting. It was decided to attempt to borrow a nurse from the county health department for two months, allowing up to $200 monthly for salary and auto expense.

The board received $20 interest on a $1000 bond, given to the association by the Elizabeth Revere estate seven years ago.

In connection with the health group's work against tuberculosis, the following statement was released by the board of directors: "As the work of a tuberculosis association continues, many interesting and very important facts about the tuberculosis scourge continue to be found out each day. One person in each 1700 of the population of the nation is killed annually by tuberculosis and an average of one person in each 190 of our neighbors has the disease.

"This toll of death and disability from a preventable disease calls for a renewed offensive against an age old enemy. Tuberculosis, killing 75,000 persons annually in the country and taking more lives between 15 and 45 than any other disease, is still the country's chief health problem. But the situation is not hopeless. The death rate can be forced down gradually lower with the existing weapons. We need only apply the knowledge available.

"Weekly chest clinics continue to be conducted in the offices of the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health association, Ltd., room 602 First National Bank building, Santa Ana—phone 4797. Further information will be gladly given on request."

World's Championship Cowboy Contest Heart-Stopping Event

Tex Austin's World's Championship Cowboy Contest, in Gilmore Stadium, Los Angeles, August 30 to 31 inclusive, will see the greatest display of top riders, ropers and steeplechasers ever assembled. They will fight it out in hot competition for the $25,000 prize fund and the biggest cash purses to be won anywhere this year by cowboys under the toughest rules ever drawn for a Western sport's event. Tex Austin, originator of these "Cowboy Olympics," of which he has already held twelve on both sides of the Atlantic, guarantees that all who attend will "get western and stay that way." This is no "Wild West show" but a bonafide contest to keep alive the true spirit of the West. Therefore the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, the Officers' Club and the Hollywood Hussars are co-sponsoring with Austin to make the 1935 World's Championship Cowboy Contest the best ever held. So it's "little 'em, cowboy, let 'er buck!"

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Anaheim, California

"Life" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The Golden Text is from the Psalms: "How excellent is thy lovingkindness, O God: therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wings. . . and thou shalt make them drink of the river of thy pleasures. For with thee is the fountain of life."

The Lesson-Sermon cites three verses from Luke, concerning Christ Jesus: "And he said unto his disciples, Therefore I say unto you, men put their trust in the shadow of thy wings. . . and thou shalt make them drink of the river of thy pleasures. For with thee is the fountain of life."

Among the correlative passages from the Christian Science text—book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is the statement, "If we follow the command of our Master, Take no thought for your life," we shall never depend on bodily conditions, structure, or economy, but we shall be masters of the body, dislodge its terms, and form and control it with Truth."

IN THE DAYS OF LONG AGO

Extracts From Files of The Gazette Issued Half a Century and a Quarter of a Century Ago. These Files Contain the Only Authentic History In Print of the Daily Doings of the Citizens of Anaheim and Orange County in the Days of the Pioneers.

YEARS AGO THIS WEEK JULY 28, 1910

Philip A. Stanton, accompanied by J. A. Lathan was in town on Tuesday afternoon and met a number of old friends who gathered about him asking how things were looking for the city home.

The south can nominate me if chooses to do so," he replied, "has the votes to do it with. I well received in the north and looking for a good vote in many of the counties visited."

The speaker drove to a meat market and laid in a supply of butter, house steak and lamb chops for the City home. Seeing a particularly fine looking Bologna sausage lying upon the counter he said, "Give me a hunk of that."

After remaining in town two days, Stanton drove to his home in Bay City. He rode in his big car which has covered more than 3000 miles during the campaign. "I want Anaheim to stay in the hands of the people," Stanton looks like a winner, and many friends hope to roll up a majority of better than 1000 for him in Orange county. It is time northern California named the governor. We have the votes to do it and if the counties of the third stand together as they should, victory will be complete and overwhelming.

Assessor Scott has increased the assessment of Orange County $8,000 over last year's figures. Last year's increase was $2,000, the increase in 1909 was $1,000. Thus in three years his increased assessment equals $11,000.

C. O. Rust returned some days ago from Yosemite valley after a month's absence, brown as a berry from his camping experience. He reports an enjoyable outing, visited Truckee and several mountain points and on his return spent some time in San Francisco. His family will remain at Yosemite until September.

W. B. Williams, Orange County's official County Clerk, accompanied by Mrs. Williams motored through town on Sunday afternoon. The car was loaded with friends here and there, and they all told him his fences were never so high nor so strong.

A. Nagel is earning the gratitude of the public in exhibiting a new fly trap upon the sidewalk in front of his hardware store. Mr. Nagel merely exhibits the trap, and the insects are attracted to the bait. A gallon of dead flies is in the sewer. If flies are getting scarce about town Nagel is the man to call.

Misses Isabelle and Helen Richardson on complicity to their best Miss Ida Thompson of Beach and Miss Margaret Ward of Los Angeles together with Miss Lela Steadman and Lilly Sue, drove down to Bay City for merry time on Friday last.

Representatives of the Southern Pacific Railroad company were here and with Mr. Hadsell looked over the route for the switch track to come to the factory site. The route selected will be sent the sugar company.

Dale Quorton has accepted a position at the S. Q. R. Store and superintendent of the sweeping department. Dale is a bright lad and intends to show his employers up to run a real live up-to-date pavement store.

Brea Physician In Association

At the last meeting of the Board of Directors of the Crippled Children's Relief Association of Orange County, Inc. held on July 12, Dr. C. Glenn Curtis, of the Brea General Hospital, was welcomed as a new member, chosen to fill a vacancy. Dr. Curtis has had splendid preparation for his profession, is of exceptional qualifications, and will be a very great asset to the Association. He was most heartily welcomed, and expressed his great desire to aid the work of caring for the crippled and handicapped children in the County.

Items of interest brought before the Board were as follows: One little boy of El Modena, recently supplied with an artificial leg by the Association, is learning to walk with its use; a young girl in Santa Ana, for whom the Association bought a brace, was having it fitted the day of the meeting; two patients are being certified for State aid. The Association also provided part of the funds necessary to buy a new brace for a young man in Fullerton.

The meetings of the Board of Directors are held the second Friday of each month, and any one interested in the work of the Association will be welcome at these meetings.

Health Conditions In Anaheim Better

While Anaheim believes itself to be a healthy community, the fact that 955 pounds, or nearly half a ton of food was condemned by the county health department in Anaheim alone last year seems rather startling.

In making their annual report, the department says however that "most of the restaurants, lunch stands, grocery stores, bakeries, etc., were radically improved." The department found it necessary to abate nuisances 15 times during the year.

With 40 people quarantined in Anaheim during the year, only two of these were still in quarantine when the year closed. There were 70 cases of communicable diseases in the city last year.

Other cases numbering 2537 received attention from the health department; 452 persons received medical treatment and 838 laboratory tests were taken. In the control of sanitary conditions 833 inspections and investigations were made.

A LONG DISTANCE "LOBBY"

The great fight on the "death penalty" clause of the utilities bill over and President's election claim is the first serious setback which the administration has received at the hands of Congress. With the administration forces losing by forty votes in the first tilt, this was raised to a hundred in the second test. Significance is gathered by the political wiser-seconds from the fact that while only 137 Democrats supported the administration in the final vote on the "death penalty," 160 Democrats voted against it. It is rumored that there are breakers ahead on some other administration bills, although the way may be smoothed in some cases by compromises.

Immediately following this terrific and bitter struggle in the House, the representatives ordered an investigation of lobbying. Strangely enough, if we look to precedents, there were as many charges of alleged political forces favoring the "death penalty" clause as there were of power lobbyists opposing it.

For example, Congressman Brewster of Maine stated that he had been warned by alleged administration-inspired proponents of the Senate bill that work might halt on the $36,000,000 Passamaquoddy Dam project in his district, if he voted against the "death sentence."

The investigation if held, will develop its own evidence. In the meantime let us remember that many people, other than utility plutocrats, or reformers, have an interest in this matter.

As Congressman Ludlow of Indiana well said in the House just before the vote: "I have been contacted by only one lobby in connection with this converted holding-company bill and that is a lobby which I confess has a good deal of standing in my heart. It is an epistolary lobby which does its work at long range. It is composed of hundreds upon hundreds—I think I may even say thousands upon thousands—of persons residing in Indianapolis and Indiana, innocent investors of stock in holding companies who are figuratively trembling in fear that they will lose their investments if the death sentence is imposed on all holding companies. Many of them have no other sources of income and they are faced by an awful alternative—either we members of Congress must modify the holding company bill as it passed the Senate or it is the porchouse for them. I am told that throughout America there are 5,000,000 good, ordinary citizens who in perfect faith have put their earnings in stocks that will be rendered absolutely valueless unless the Senate bill is amended."

These 5,000,000 people of America are a part of the public and of course have as much right to be considered as the magnates and the reformers.

RED INK

Uncle Sam has a different "year" than the one on the calendar. His fiscal year closes on June 30 and then there is a balancing of books. Of course there has been no balancing of budgets in this country for some little time.

The new fiscal year began as usual July 1. There was no ringing of bells and no rejoicing, so far as can be learned. It was hot and sultry in Washington, which is no conducive to celebrating. And at any rate it is a little hard to work up any enthusiasm over a deficit of three and a half billion dollars. That is the amount it costs to keep Uncle Sam during the year more than he took in.

According to figures which were made public by the Associated Press, the government collected fifty-two cents for every dollar which it spent. In other words, every time Uncle Sam put out a dollar he lacked 48 cents of taking in that much money. And he put out a lot of money. The fact that his deficit was $3,600,000,000 indicates it. No further evidence is necessary.

According to the preliminary figures given out by the Associated Press with two days' transactions still to be reported in detail, the expenditures of the national government exceeded the revenues by $3,472,000,000. Of course that lacks $28,000,000 of being three and a half billion dollars, but Uncle Sam has been spending money so rapidly during the past two years that a mere $28,000,000 seems by comparison just like what the boys around the country store used to call "chicken feed."

The only bright spot in the picture, if you can call it really bright, is that our deficit isn't quite so large for 1934 as it was for 1933 when it was $3,881,000,000. Of course when you run three and a half billions behind in a year it doesn't seem to make much difference about a few extra millions anyhow, but what we are wondering is: how about the size of the deficit when the college boys get to putting out that $4,800,000,000, recently provided by Congress?

Of course when we say "provided by Congress" it must be admitted that Congress didn't really provide it. What the appropriation meant was that Uncle Sam was authorized to borrow and spend something like $5,000,000,000—he is out of cash and heavily in debt already. When the payoff comes and the money really has to be raised the people of the United States will do the providing.

Now, according to the figures, the public debt has risen to $28,665,000,000. It will go considerably higher. But what's the difference? Once you get above the clouds it doesn't hurt you any more to fall ten miles than it does eight. The effect is all the same.

The fact that a tax plan which amounts to a "redistribution of wealth plan" has been offered to Congress, may indicate that the White House thought Huey Long was right after all.

There is some indication that a "divide up the wealth plan" may be adopted but we won't be satisfied unless they give us Doc Townsend's old age pension plan for a chaser.

Railway labor executives are reported to have come out for a plan for federal railroads. Not being satisfied to have business men run the railways maybe they think politicians could do it better.

If the emperor of Ethiopia really expects the League of Nations to protect him from Mussolini, then he doesn't possess the sense of humor of most of his race.

SCHOOL DAYS

WASHINGTON WEEKLY REVIEW

Special to ANAHEIM GAZETTE

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 16. Its really too hot the country over to think about public issues. Particularly in Washington. Perhaps that's why tempers are short, everybody is investigating somebody, and passing the life becomes a public procedure. Instead, then, of trying to think the power utility controversy out perhaps it is better to turn to someone else's mental efforts. About the most intelligent perspective has been gained by the Washington correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor, when he states:

"The power company issue is coming to be, in American politics, what the railroad issue was to the capitalists and the bankers and political control, corruption, and a thousand and one abuses, ultimately brought them into the position they occupy today—the most chaotic regulation of any big industry in the United States."

This gives an understanding of what is going on in Washington today on the holding company bill better than reading many of the current newspaper articles. President Roosevelt has made it a national issue to trim the sails and closely regulate the holding companies, not only has fought vigorously for the power holding company elimination and regulatory bill this session, but in his tax message asked a future progressive tax on all other unnecessary holding companies.

Some of the Democratic Congressmen who voted in the House to compromise bill against the President's wishes are justifying the full consequences of their vote, for they were committing themselves on what may prove to be one of the outstanding issues of the 1936 campaign. These Democrats who voted against the holding company bill find that the President may move himself and his entire party out from under them, and they will have to figure out some other way, it may be, to stand out. The Republicans, on the other hand, are more or less adamant on the other side of the picture.

As this is written, despite the apparent defeat given the President by the majority in the House prospects are that the Congress of House and Senate may vote a measure more to the President's liking. The House measure, which eliminated the so-called "death sentence" for holding companies received considerable of support when Joseph P. Kennedy, head of the Securities Commission which would administer the bill, if enacted, came out in support of the measure. It was approved by the House and termed it an impossible proposition. Hence it is to be expected that the House Democrats may be glad to swing back to the President when it comes to a final vote on whatever is turned out by the Congress.

Congressional leaders are in a dilemma on the railroad retirement act. Last week at the time the Senate Committee, under militant Senator Wheeler, began hearings on this legislation the House

Interstate Commerce Committee decided to postpone action for this session. Instead they approved a resolution which would carry the authorization for fifty thousand dollars with which a special committee would make an exhaustive inquiry into what legislation would be possible for creating a retirement system for railway workers, and would make their recommendations to the next session of Congress in January.

Congress has under consideration a rather peculiar proposal. It has two bills. One would direct the payment of railway pensions out of the public treasury in cash to the railway workers, and the other would be to carry out the measure recently invalidated by the Supreme Court. The other bill would levy a tax of 4% on railway payrolls and 2% on salaries and wages of railway workers. In both Houses, by virtue of the different classification of these two bills, each measure is in the hands of a different committee. Neither bill carries any reference to the other. If passed they would simply be a tied agreement that the revenues produced by the one would be to carry out the provisions of the other.

This is the only concrete proposal that has been offered to Congress to get around the constitutionality of any such legislation, and Congress is approaching it in a very hesitating way, even though its Members are fully aware of the need and dangerous pressure from railroad bondholders for some such legislation.

While the President's recent plan to help 600,000 youths through a National Youth Administration, and the allocation of fifty million dollars from the public works fund will, of necessity, be inadequate, it is a most important step by the Government toward the alleviation and partial solution of a most serious national social problem.

The new program has for its purpose the finding of employment for young people, to train or retrain them, to create works projects adapted to them, and to provide a certain number in colleges and universities. The latter follows up the past performance of the FEHA in granting monthly sums to students who needed work to continue in school.

The program realizes the project publicized by Colonel Arthur Woods, head of Hoover's re-employment committee, when he urged a movement to keep young people out of the labor market by having them continue their education. His publicity and the report of Miss Grace Abbott, while Chief of the Children's Bureau, that this Country was developing a horde of "wandering boys" similar to that of Russia first focused the national attention on this problem. One of the projects under the new Administration is that of a survey or census of all the young people between 16 and 25. This survey will tell the Nation the circumstances in which its youth is living, their plight and their needs.

Now considered on the border line of the President's so-called "must" legislative calendar, the Senate's truck and bus regulatory act has been approved by the House Interstate Commerce Committee and placed on the House Calendar. The Committee moved to accept the bill as passed by the Senate, and threw out that bill which was drawn up by a House subcommittee, and which was considered an ineffective and inadequate piece of legislation.

The Administration is, outwardly at least, leaving the final decision on the tax program to Congress. This was manifested by Secretary Morgenthau's appearance before the House Ways and Means Committee at the outset of the hearing, at which time he submitted an elastic schedule which would yield revenue ranging from $13,000,000 to $301,500,000—and all Congress has to do is to decide where to begin and when to end.

OBSERVATIONS

THE PORK BARREL

A piece in the paper carried the startling statement that administration propagandists went down on the firing line and told "the boys" that if they did not vote for this bill and that one, they wouldn't get any of the 5 billion to spend in their districts. Whoops!

OTHERWISE EVERYTHING IS O. K.

There are quite a number of new members in the upper house of Congress. One man has introduced a bill to stabilize the soft coal industry in his district. Another member wants a new commission appointed to find out what's the matter with the textile industry in order to boost Textile Cotton. While another new man wants to establish another National Memorial Park. Another one says he isn't going to make speech for a year, but is going to chew gum and listen to Huey.

BUSH LEAGUES

Law makers may come and law makers may go, but you seldom see any streets named after them in their old home towns.

EARNIN' TO GO

The new members in the Congress are classed as Freshmen, and all of them are ready to make introduce bills and everything.

SROPDQ

There's a town on the coast where they let you play tangent. Parking space for yourself and the car is taxed to the limit. If you are lucky you win ten or twelve bucks at a sittin'. If you lose you stand off the landlord and the installment collector.

AIN'T NO SUCH ANIMAL

This idea of soaking the rich is a lotta bubble. All big concerns which represent wealth, are made up of hundreds of thousands of small stockholders who have invested their money in them.

ALL IS NOT MILK AND HONEY. The way Congress has been criss-crossing some of the administration measures it begins to look as though they have come to the fork in the road.

THE FLIP-FLOPS

It's all right for a man to build up his political fences; but he shouldn't reverse himself so demoralized often.

YES AND NO

Some Campaign pledges are like spreading butter on a piece of paper to catch flies.

SHADOW BOX SHOW-UP

The utility bill in Congress which sought to limit all holding companies within five years was decisively defeated. But an amendment to the measure carried by a large vote. This substitute, as near as can be figured, provides that "unnecessary" holding companies must pay off in seven years now it will be interesting to know which outfits come within the net. It is claimed that stockholders in those concerns who have millions of dollars invested in them, have not been receiving their just dividends because the company, it is said, has been diverted into other channels.

BARNUM WAS RIGHT

Horse racing is an exciting thing and many people think they know how to pick a winner, but don't. Who gets all the velvet?

GIMME

The government pays farmers not to raise certain kinds of crops. Now a man has a plan to boost the demand for oranges. He says it has been figured out that if you give away 10 per cent of the fruit you will get an increase of 30 per cent in returns for the sale of the rest of the fruit. He says the gift would make tourists think Santa Anita. Then perhaps all the gasoline dealers will give you 10 gallons of gas so that you will be in a receptive mood to buy 30 gallons to keep the ole bus moving. And the barber will give you a shave in order for you to buy a hair cut.

AND GIVE THE COUNTRY BACK TO THE INDIANS

If this idea of giving away a part of what you have spread around, in order to make money by selling what you have left, why not go further and have everybody give away everything he has to everybody else and then you wouldn't need any money at all. All you would have to do then would be to go fishing.

Lot 5 Black A was granted. The Board was adjourned to July 16, 1935 at 10 A.M.

J. M. BACKS, Clerk of the Board of Supervisors.

THE FARMER'S CORNER

By RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

EDITOR'S NOTE.—This is the fourth in a series of articles by Ralph H. Taylor, farm leader and recognized authority on problems of state government, reviewing the economic of the 1935 State Legislature as it affects both the farmer and the general public.

"Shakespeare's Shylock," if he suddenly dropped into California, seeking his traditional pound of flesh would undoubtedly catch the first boat back to his native Venice—after a brief reading of California's new mortgage and trust deed moratorium act!

For the 1935 State Legislature played Possum to California debtors in the grand manner, enacting one of the most liberal programs of debt-relief legislation in the entire country.

The program is so liberal, in fact, that both courts and citizens should take unusual precautions to guard against improvidence and unscrupulous debtors abusing their position and undermining the state's whole credit structure.

Debt-burdened farmers, fighting for a new foothold and new security, probably will benefit by the debt-relief legislation as much as any group in the State. But the farmer, too, would be among those hardest hit if abuses were permitted which destroyed confidence in the credit system.

Thousands of farmers would be utterly unable to operate their properties if they were barred from securing loans during the lean and harvesting seasons and California agriculture should lead the way in preventing any further breakdown of credit.

In the final analysis, the responsibility for destroying or strengthening confidence in California credit will rest with the individual—the borrower! The Legislature went the limit in an effort to ease the burden and provide relief. And California farmers, together with other debtors, must also go the limit in meeting their obligations as rapidly as possible and restoring confidence in their responsibility and integrity.

The new mortgage and trust deed moratorium law, which will remain in effect until February, 1937, continues all of the basic principles of the temporary (moratorium) act passed at the January session of the Legislature and, in addition, broadens several features of the old law.

Patterned after the Minnesota mortgage law, which has been tested in the United States Supreme Court, the law provides

WHAT OTHERS THINK

NEBRASKA SLIPS

The state treasurer reports that Nebraska, in the biennium just ended, has paid its way, that it has no debt and has doubled its general fund balance to amount to more than $1,500,000. Nebraska must have preceded under the mistaken impression that 60% of the state's income was from successful business. — Kansas City Star.

MORE HARMFUL

Establishment of a "national youth administration" by President Roosevelt is acknowledged that the nation is following the wrong course.

The young men and women of the new government agency founded to help them. They do not provide opportunity. First it was the Civilian Conservation Corps; then the corps was doubled; now it is a national youth administration. Next year, unless policies are changed another agency will be needed.

PREPAREDNESS A DUTY

For better or for worse we are that hard-pressed property owners faced with foreclosure appeal to the superior courts and their county and secure adjustment of interest and payment commensurate with their ability to pay.

Once accorded such relief, owners who comply with the orders and keep up their insurance payments are protected from foreclosure for the duration of the moratorium. The law provides that debtors may lie under its provisions as many days after foreclosure proceedings have been initiated.

Also of importance to others in the trying of depression-conscience new law giving taxpayers the right to pay delinquent taxes in installments without penalties. This tax-relief act in effect until April 20, 1936, will enable property owners to reduce their property tax by payment of ten annual installments.

By eliminating penalties on interest on delinquent taxes, the law will materially cut the cost of redeeming property. It also makes a new start and greatly reducing the delinquent tax on the state.

Easing the burden still further, the Legislature also passed a series of bills which will result in substantial savings in crop storage costs, due to elimination of reductions in filling and cording fees on crop and loans.

Meeting Planned Organize Growers

A mass meeting of citrus growers of Northern Orange County has been called for Thursday, July 19, 1935, at 7:30 p.m. at the Hotel California. The purpose of the meeting is to organize a growers' association to be called the United Growers Protective Service. The meeting will be held in the Golden West at Fullerton. Frank S. Sperry, of the California Citrus Growers' Association, is the sponsor of the organization.

Spire outlines his plan as benefit the ordinary grower obtaining control of the citrus industry as growers, and Arizona.

To govern the organization, Spire would have elected a board of directors. The board is not now on the board of directors of any association. This 50 under a plan would choose an executive committee. The meeting will take place at 7:30.

BACK OF INFLATION?

The President pulled out a picture of what uncontrolled inflation means. He should with equal honesty that uncontrolled spending, an unbalanced budget, and deficits, are responsible for persistent demand for price inflation. He has conceded and he has not. He has conceded that the cause back of that effect long as we have extravagant uncontrolled government spending so long will the nation be faced by the mounting of uncontrolled inflation.—Minneapolis Free Press.

Placentia Girl Hurt Thursday

Rose Mary Kramer, 16, daughter of Samuel P. Kramer, prominent Placentia citrus grower was injured early last Thursday night when the car she was driving collided with a machine at the intersection of Gum Grove street and Kramer avenue, one and a half mile south of Placentia.

She was taken to the Anaheim Sanitarium, where it was reported she suffered severe head injuries and an injured wrist. She was returned to her home Friday.

Sheriff's cars and state police were called on the accident at 7:30 o'clock, removing her to the hospital.

The car she was driving collided with a machine driven by Martin Apelategui jr., 25, of Route No. 3, Anaheim. He was cut and bruised. Miss Kramer was driving a heavy sedan which turned over as a result of the crash.

Tells Friends of Secret Wedding
Following rehearsal of the Wesley Methodist church choir Thursday evening, Mrs. Leah Pemberton made the surprise announcement of a wedding January 6 at Yuma, Arizona, which united Miss Mary Lou Voelker, daughter of Mrs. Tenna Voelker, 741 1/2 North Lemon street, and Gordon Whitley.

The two are well known in Anaheim for their vocal talents. They are making their home with Mrs. Pemberton at 738 North Claudia street temporarily and will reside here permanently.

The social hour following choir rehearsal, held at Mrs. Pemberton's home, also honored J. H. Haines, an active member of the choir, who was celebrating his seventy-fourth birthday.

Friends Enjoy Hi-Jinks

A small but appreciative number of friends of the Legion post here enjoyed the hospitality of the post last Monday night at which time the post held its annual hi-jinks. A short business session preceded the fun session at which time the routine business of the post was disposed of.

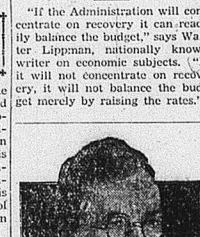

able is in the expenditures and in the fact that business is only partially recovered. A recovery which makes possible a reduction of expenses will also, without raising the tax rates, increase the revenue. On the other hand, no matter how high the tax rate, revenues cannot be greatly increased without greater business activity.

"If the Administration will concentrate on recovery it can readily balance the budget," says Walter Lippman, nationally known writer on economic subjects. "If it will not concentrate on recovery, it will not balance the budget merely by raising the rates."

ed to such a campaign. Despite these warnings, which would make it difficult for some Democrats to get back to the bandwagon, Mr. Roosevelt has given no hint he has backed up on his indications that he does not intend to let Constitutional difficulties stand in the way of his determination to centralize control of local affairs more closely in Washington.

This apparent decision to push ahead despite admonitions away from the reform legislation is best shown by the timing of the taxation message to the Capitol unexpectedly. Probably never were the spokesman of a President in Congress more surprised than when they were ordered to drive through a tax bill before adjournment.

As one observer pointed out, attempts to balance the budget can only be made in the light of expanded income. If he does not stand defeated on the whole at the hands of Congress, as did President Wilson when he began his "sawing around the circle."

Remodeling Store For Library Room

The really office of Ed L. Hensley, located on First street, boulevard, in Midway City, is being remodelled. Recently when the possibilities of a county branch library for Midway City was subject of discussion, Mr. Hensley offered a part of his office building for this purpose and the remodeling is connected with Mr. Hensley's part in making the library a possibility.

The large room to the rear of the office proper is that designed as the space for the library if the offer should be accepted, so a hallway is being put through. This and several other changes, making for convenience, are being accomplished.

Yes, folks we're still moving.

That is we haven't located this and that as yet.

Well I was talking about the machinery . . . but we can't find some other things quite so readily either.

Now you take Jack Bordeaux . . . he's the maestro of the Michie . . . well last night he said he thought he knew where the lineotype was and Mack McKee, he has the hand that "keeps the world informed" well he seems to think he knows what become of the job press . . . so all in all we'll gradually get there.

Oh, yes folks I know this is awful but I have to get something up to keep the readers informed of the fact that . . . well you don't have to be crazy to do this . . . but maybe it helps like heck . . .

Now comes the Made Your Generalissimo Bill Webb of the Armistice Day Committee of the American Legion and he tells me the party's on . . . only he has a plan to make the people put on the affair. "What the heck," says Bill "haven't we put it on a number of times now? Well I say let the people enjoy it once." Well there may be something to that too . . . S'funny . . . just as soon as a city fellow gets on a ranch he begins to think for himself and are some of his thoughts funny? . . .

Well I'll be darned . . . these lawyers must have it on one another . . . just as I finish writing the above who should walk in on an inspection tour none other than His Knobs Leo Fris . . .

LeRoy Lyon Is Yorba Linda C. of C. Meeting

LeRoy Lyon, county supervisor of the third district, and R. R. Busick, in charge of the Orange county recreational program under SEERA, Wednesday night were principal speakers when members of Yorba Linda Chamber of Commerce met at the regular dinner meeting in the Masonic Temple.

C. E. Simmons, president of the Chamber, attempted to get some information as to how Yorba Linda could get $500 to develop the old school site across from the Methodist church as a playground to be used under the recreational program Yorba Linda has underway.

At present a straw ballot is being taken as to whether the community would spend $500 for the program. Of the ballots turned in 106 indicate the desire for the development continuation and 60 are against such a program. Lyon said the supervisors are not authorized to provide money for such a purpose.

On suggestion of Mrs. A. C. Pickering, a resolution was passed asking the Anaheim Union Water company to cover or fence the main ditch that runs through the townsite. The ditch last week was caused of the death of a 15-month-old child who fell into it.

The Imperial Highway association will meet at 2:30 p.m., July 27 at the end of the Santa Ana Canyon road improvement project, which eventually will be part of the Imperial Highway, for a dedication at 2:30 p.m. and for a dinner session at 6:30 p.m. at Yorba Linda, according to announcement of George Kellogg, president.

Victim of Dog Bite Improving

Former Councilman H. L. Miller, who, it is said, is attacked by a dog Wednesday morning is reported as considerably improved.

County Health Department Inspector C. W. O'Flaherty who investigated the affair stated that Miller had been bitten by a half-grown police dog which he placed under quarantine to determine whether or not the animal has the rabies.

He said, however, that the dog has no indications of the disease.

COVER THOSE THIN AND BALD SPOTS WITH NEW HAIR

If your hair is getting thin, if you are already bald in spots, try the professional treatment known throughout the world as the Kyrre Method. This method, famous for results, is now available for home treatment.

Ask your druggist for a tube of Harper's Hair Ointment. It is inexpensive—and use as directed. If your hair never grows or entirely dead, you have an excellent chance of saving the hair you now have and growing new hair on the thin and bald spots. Two Appear Here On Petit Charge

Judge Charles Kuehl heard two cases on petit theft charges Tuesday.

Alfredo Fuentes was charged with stealing $60 from Meripildio Avila, according to Avila's complaint. He asked for a trial by court and it was granted him for July 20. Bail was set at $500. The defendant was committed to the county jail in default of bail payment.

Raymond D. Phillips appeared on a charge brought by Joe Ochua for petit theft of an automobile key. Apparently the case involved transfer of ownership of a car in payment of a debt.

The case was heard but judgment was not pronounced at the time it was to be given later.

COMING UP FOR AIR

One of the things that is the matter with the country is that many men are sent to high halls of legislation and it takes them two years to try and not out what it all about and then their time is up and some body else is sent in to take their place.

AND THE COW JUMPED OVER THE MOON

A man has hit upon the novel idea of giving away 10 per cent of the orange crop in order to boost the price of the remainder. And the little dog laughed to see such sport and then ran after them soon. And Mister, who is going to pay the freight? Or will the tourists, come and get 'em.

Newly Discovered Hormone Great Benefit To Women Past 45

The age of 45 marks a physiological turning point in a woman's life. At this critical age, the body's vitality and energy decline. Every woman who has passed this epochal age knows it. She feels a creeping sense of weariness, a loss of interest in life, a feeling of being "old." This is not a sign of old age, but a sign of a hormone deficiency. The newly discovered hormone, known as "Zovak," can restore the vitality and energy of a woman past 45. It is a natural hormone, and it is safe. It is the only hormone that can be taken in the form of a pill. It is the only hormone that can be taken by a woman who is not a doctor. It is the only hormone that can be taken by a woman who is not a nurse. It is the only hormone that can be taken by a woman who is not a pharmacist. It is the only hormone that can be taken by a woman who is not a physician. It is the only hormone that can be taken by a woman who is not a surgeon. It is the only hormone that can be taken by a woman who is not a dentist. It is the only hormone that can be taken by a woman who is not a veterinarian. It is the only hormone that can be taken by a woman who is not a farmer. It is the only hormone that can be taken by a woman who is not a laborer. It is the only hormone that can be taken by a woman who is not a professional. It is the only hormone that can be taken by a woman who is not a student. It is the only hormone that can be taken by a woman who is not a housewife. It is the only hormone that can be taken by a woman who is not a mother. It is the only hormone that can be taken by a woman who is not a daughter. It is the only hormone that can be taken by a woman who is not a sister. It is the only hormone that can be taken by a woman who is not a friend. It is the only hormone that can be taken by a woman who is not a neighbor. It is the only hormone that can be taken by a woman who is not a citizen. It is the only hormone that can be taken by a woman who is not a human being.

An interesting booklet, "For Women Who Want to Live," tells more about the hormone and explains many things every married woman should know about. The booklet was written by a distinguished American physician and will be sent to you in sealed envelope by Zovak Co., 48 West 6th St., New York.
