20-30 Club Members Launch Plans To Send Requested Presents To Anaheim Youths In U. S. Army

A unique and well-deserving plan, called "Aid to Anaheim's expeditionary forces," has been worked out by members of the Anaheim 20-30 club, who, in an effort to supply local fighting men with the little things they need most, have sent a total of 230 letters to former Anaheimers at distant points.

The main idea of the plan is first to find out what the particular service man wants and then to get it for him. Two requests from Anaheim men have already been received by the club for musical instruments and donations were just received to fill the requests.

Kenneth Brandt, chairman of A.A.E.F. plan, stated today that many names of men in service from this community have not been obtained. He asks that all parents and friends cooperate in this work by sending in names and addresses of these men to the A.A.E.F., P. O. Box 333, Anaheim, as soon as possible.

"We intend to care for all of our Anaheim boys whether they are Oriental, Mexican, Negro or white. It is our battle they are fighting and we young men, still at home, want to help all our buddies," Chairman Brandt pointed out.

Members of the committee besides Brandt are Mrs. Mary Macres, Kenneth Douglas, Odra "Chuck" Chandler, and Paul Elmsler.

Supervisors Name Date for Public Budget Hearing

Orange county supervisors meeting Tuesday in the county courthouse, Santa Ana, set the date of August 20 at 1:30 p.m. for a public hearing on the department budget for the county, on which preliminary hearings took place last week.

Indications are that the tax rate for the current year will stand at 83 cents per $100 property valuation, a rate five cents lower than last year, according to County Auditor Leslie H. Eckel. Tentative budget plans had determined upon a four cent decrease, but the supervisors sliced a sum in excess of $10,000 from the budget, thus permitting an additional decrease.

Of the sum of $3,838,254 budgeted by the board for county purposes, $1,380,452 must be raised by taxation, to which the new 83 cent rate will apply.

Since August 31 is the final date permitted for adoption of the proposed budget, the tax rate will be set by the first day of September.

Lots of Water Used In Month of July

Anaheimers certainly were thirsty during July. Or maybe all these Victory gardens accounted for the fact that 73,342,500 gallons of water were used during the month. The deep well turbine pumps lacked a mere five minutes of running 1,037 hours, and pumped 83,622,000 gallons! Which probably explains why the water level is a trifle lower, standing, on August 1, at 125 feet. At any rate not much was used for quenching fires, only four very minor ones, having been reported in the entire month.

Civilian Defense Board Announces Some of New Dimout Requirements

Importance of Anaheim's compliance with the new dimout regulations to go into effect just a week from today, were emphasized today by Charles H. Mann, executive chairman of Anaheim Civilian Defense.

"While our office is cooperating in every way with the regulations, we must remember that the matter lies in the hands of the military forces," today declared Chairman Mann. "Our citizens recognize the fact that we are engaging in war on a vast scale, and that there must be no question of lack of cooperation."

The proclamation issued from the O.C.D. Ninth Civilian Defense Region, gives much information on the new dimout regulations, including illuminated signs, commercial and private flood lighting, and amusement places, which will be of special interest to Anaheim residents. For one thing, home owners must forego their outdoor Christmas tree illuminations this year. They fall within the restrictions as do Neon or gaseous tube advertising, lighted bulletin and poster boards, any display or

Citrus Fruits, Inc. Completes Details Of Its Organization

Aggressive action in research to develop new uses of citrus fruits is the primary objective of Citrus Fruits, Inc., a non-profit producer association, according to J. A. Porter, president. Organization of the association was completed Monday with the election of officers. Its headquarters are in Anaheim.

Officers of the new association are J. A. Porter of Olive, president; R. A. Wheatley, La Habra, vice president; C. C. Perkins, secretary-treasurer.

According to its leader, Citrus Fruits, Inc., will expend all funds received by it for the betterment of the citrus industry of California and to assist all citrus growers in finding new outlets and new uses for their products. The association, in its operations, does not contemplate the distribution of gains, profits or dividends to the members thereof but rather to render a service to the industry.

When the incorporation of the new association was brought to the attention of the board of directors of Southern California Citrus Foods Inc., its aims were found laudable, declared J. A. Baker of Anaheim, vice president of Southern California Citrus Foods.

"We appreciate the efforts being made by Citrus Foods, Inc., to render a service to our industry. Those who are deeply interested in the citrus industry realize that every effort must be made to spread the use of our crops and we shall be happy to cooperate with the new association along these lines," he stated.

State League of Cities To Hold Annual Conclave

When California League of Cities holds its 44th annual meeting next month in Los Angeles, Anaheim will be officially represented by Charles H. Mann, chairman of Anaheim Civilian Defense, and a former mayor of this city. His appointment was made Tuesday night at the regular session of the city council, various of whose members also will be in attendance at the sessions.

Los Angeles Billmore will be convention headquarters during the interval, which will be from September 21 to 24. The conclave is designated as a "War Conference" and will be presided over by Patrick J. Maher, mayor of Santa Barbara, who is this year's president.

J. Millard Parks, formerly of the city engineer's department, now at the Santa Ana Air Base, is chairman of the planning section of the state organization, Dolph Kelsey of Santa Ana city council, is also an Orange county member on the directorate.

Rank of Major Is Bestowed On Michael Mattis

Promoted to rank of Major in the United States Army is Michael Mattis, son of Mr. and Mrs. George

MICHAEL MATTIS

M. Mattis of 861 North Palm street, who is now stationed at Camp Stoneman in Pittsburg, California.

Commenting upon his recent promotion, Major Mattis this week wrote his parents as follows:

"Dear Mom and Pop: "Knew that you would enjoy the promotion as well as myself, seeing that you made it possible. It will take more time and keen judgment, but that is not going to worry me in my efforts to be worthy of the new office. It has been a hard and difficult road to hoe and the beginning is just here. You can pass it on to the family."

"With love,
"Your son, Michael."

"Mike," as he is known in Anaheim, is one of those local boys who made good. He was educated at St. Joseph's academy, Anaheim, junior high school and Occidental college. He was always "military minded" and began his training during summers in the civilian military corps. He joined the California National Guard and gained the rank of Captain. Last summer he took a three months' officers training course at Fort Benning, Ga., which led to his new promotion.

"Mike" was known here for his gentility. He is married, his wife being the former Catherine Montenyohl of Anaheim. They have four children, who with their mother are visiting Major Mattis at Camp Stoneman. Mrs. Mattis' home is in Glendale for the duration. "Mike's" brother, Jack is a flier, employed by Pan American Airways. The sons console their parents by saying that "more than one family has given up as many as seven sons to U. S. Service."

Anaheim T. and T. Buys Brea Business

Not only will Anaheim Truck and Transfer company be in a position to occupy handsome new quarters in the building to be erected immediately on its present section barn lot, South Los Angeles and Santa Ana streets, but the business itself is enlarging.

Joseph B. Collings and Charles Pearson, owners of the company, have just completed the purchase of the Orange County Transfer business in Brea. It is the present plan to place a branch manager in Brea to operate the business, which was founded in 1916 by E. H. Peterkin.

"Smitty" Asks About His Anaheim Friends

Now stationed for the time being at Camp Callan, San Diego, Private Myron P. Smith ("Smitty") of the United States Army, former editor of the Gazette, has written a newsy letter regarding his activities to his friends on the Gazette staff. In it, he sent greetings to his many Anaheim friends.

He has been assigned to anti-aircraft machine gunnery, standing 30 and 50 caliber weapons. Explaining that it has been rumored that basic training may be cut six or eight weeks, he believed that he might be sent out almost any time.

One of Smith's former school friends, Lieut. Robert Baines, now stationed at Luke Field, Ariz., was a caller this week at the Gazette office.

Much Enthusiasm Accorded Gubernatorial Candidate

"Perhaps our greatest civic duty to our boys who have gone abroad to fight their country's wars, is to make it possible for them to return to a greater and better California: A California free from petty partisan politics and class hatreds engendered by the present administration."

These were the ringing words with which Attorney General Earl Warren, non-partisan candidate for the high post of California's governor, today set forth one of the leading planks of his political platform. The occasion was a breakfast in Anaheim Elks' club which came as an informal interlude in Warren's two-days' visit in Orange county.

S. C. Hartranft, prominent Anaheim rancher and former assemblyman from this district, introduced the speaker with a few happily phrased remarks. The large crowd assembled for the occasion, was an enthusiastic one, and gave close attention to the various statements set forth in the address given by the guest of honor.

DEFENSE CRISIS

In developing his general theme of the patriotic duty which the state owes its thousands of patriotic young soldiers, he stressed also the importance of California in the National War production plan. The fact that this state stands head and shoulders above the remaining 47 states, in its production for war efforts, makes it especially vulnerable to enemy attack, according to points brought out by Warren's talk.

"Never forget that the Axis is fully aware of this record," he declared. "Nothing would suit their plans better than to take definite steps toward crippling this effort."

Because of this record and the Axis recognition, the state, according to the speaker, is one in which every civilian defense precaution should have been given immediate consideration, after the disastrous Pearl Harbor attack.

"Instead what did we find?" he questioned, and then set forth the delays and procrastinations of the present state administration, in calling the Civilian Defense deal into being. Partisan politics and affairs were given preference over the vital matter of defense, and more than five months after Pearl Harbor, found the state still in an unorganized position with regard to its plans. Not a single fire marshal or fire chief was called into the vital consultations regarding necessary steps to be taken, declared the speaker, who strongly assailed the present administration for its lack of forcefulness and its delay in pressing defense matters.

POST WAR PLAN

In summing up his patriotic purposes in event of his election to the governorship, Warren has announced (Continued on page 4)

Family Has Three Sons Serving With U. S. Forces

Tire or sugar rationing, it's all one to Vincent Mercurio, proprietor of Valencia Market, 327 East Center street, and to Mrs. Mercurio, for they have three of the best reasons in the world for not objecting to the strictest of rationing. The three reasons are their three sons, all in the service of their country.

Private Mario Mercurio, eldest of the brothers, is in the Air Corps and is stationed at Camp Kern, near Salt Lake City, Utah. Lieut. Blas Mercurio, also in the Air Corps, is now stationed at Atlanta, Ga. He was home on a few days' leave over the Fourth of July.

Amadeo, youngest of the three, and latest to enter his country's service, is with the Tank Corps at Fort McArthur. All three brothers went through Santa Ana schools, where Blas was a star athlete at junior college. He completed his college work and received his degree at "Redlands University, in preparation for becoming an athletic coach. He coached and taught at March Field before being transferred to the Atlanta base.

In addition to their patriotic sons, Mr. and Mrs. Mercurio boast of a son-in-law, Staff Sgt. E. F. Thues, who is "Somewhere in Australia" with one of Uncle Sam's Photo and Mapping squadrons. Mrs. Thues (Mary Jo Mercurio) is making her home with her parents "for the duration."

Citrus Economist Addresses Local Orange Growers

Citrus growers and shippers from various sections of Orange county took advantage of the opportunity to hear Dr. H. R. Wellman of Giannini Foundation of Agricultural Economics, Berkeley, when he appeared Tuesday morning as guest speaker at a marketing conference held in Fremont Grammar school.

Harold Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor, who had arranged the session, introduced the speaker, who gave a scholarly and interesting talk on the proposed California-Arizona marketing agreement. He declared that, one of the chief questions which growers face, is whether the industry might be better served by the flow of oranges under an orderly marketing agreement between the two states.

He devoted the greater part of his talk to the economic aspects of the question rather than the equity, pointing out that while growers may control the supply of fruit, they have no control over the demand. It is his opinion that regulated shipments would relieve the industry's present situation. Wellman spoke again Tuesday afternoon in Santa Ana.

Women Are Needed To Contact Homes In Salvage Drive

Are Anaheim women going to permit women of nearby cities, to surpass them in their faithfulness to patriotic duties? That was the question which Civilian Defense Salvage Chairman A. L. Raymond was revolving in his mind today, as he considered the few names of women volunteering to work in the drive.

The government's need for scrap metals, old rags and rubber is desperate. While the recent rubber drive may have collected the bulk of such scraps from Anaheim households, there is no question but what every home in the city could produce quantities of scrap metals and old rags, declared Chairman Raymond.

"We need at least 250 women," he explained. "All that we ask is that they visit homes in their block and ask residents to pledge themselves to save scrap materials for the salvage trucks which will call later. Surely there isn't a woman in the city who would not be willing to give a single afternoon to the needs of her country in this emergency."

Raymond's committee has arranged with junk yard owners for the temporary storing of salvaged material, and with men to make collections. All that is needed is for public-spirited women of the city, to set the wheels in motion so that Anaheim may compare favorably with her sister city of Fullerton. There, woman volunteers have already completed their task and the drive is well under way. Volunteers may telephone Chairman Raymond at Anaheim 2248.

Well, Well, Doctor! Better Get a Horse

Many a tale of drama is recorded on the police blotter of any city. But there is special poignancy to be found in a recent entry on the Anaheim police blotter. It is a very modest and unostentatious entry, to the effect that "Dr. Erwin H. Kersten reports that his burro is lost. It is brownish-black, and wore a halter."

In ordinary times the loss of a burro would not be of such great moment. But in this Year of Our Lord 1942 R. S. (Rubber Shortage), it is little short of a calamity for a busy medico to lose such a valuable means of locomotion. So if you have a little burro in your home, report it to Police Chief J. S. Bouldin without delay, so the genial doctor may meet his calls.

Day's Proceeds At Oyster Loaf Help Uncle Sam

"We've been too busy to total the day's proceeds yet, but we're certain of one thing. There is sufficient to buy enough war bonds to put a few Nazis out of the picture!" That was the confident statement made today by William Gathas, general proprietor of the Oyster Loaf cafe, when he and Mrs. Gathas donated all proceeds from last Saturday's business, to purchase of war bonds.

Saturday was a red letter day at the Oyster Loaf in more ways than one. It not only observed the 33rd anniversary of the founding of the local business house but it was a house-warming as well. For the cafe is newly remodeled after having undergone a fire earlier in the season.

Hundreds of Anaheimers took opportunity to inspect the handsomely re-decorated interior, enjoy the fine fare set forth, and offer their congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Gathas. At first entry, diners were not certain whether they were in a cafe or a florist's establishment, so many and so beautiful were the baskets of flowers sent by scores of interested friends.

"We had just one fault to find with the opening," today declared Mrs. Gathas. "We were unable to get enough help to handle the crowds, and it was necessary for both of us to help out, so we couldn't be hosts and offer greeting to all our friends."

Every penny that was rung up in the cash register during the day and evening, was invested in war bonds, so that every time the register jingled, it started an echo that will resound on battle fronts of the world.

Two C of C Board Members Elected To Fill Vacancies

Two names were added to the directorate of Anaheim Chamber of Commerce at yesterday's meeting of the board under presidency of A. C. Riutcel. Dr. H. A. Johnston was appointed to fill out the unexpired term of Judge Frank Tausch, who resigned on account of his health. Ray Reafsnider was named to fill the vacancy created when A. F. DeWitt resigned because of board membership conflicting with his duties as excused ruler of Anaheim lodge BPOE.

Reafsnider was immediately named chairman of the newly formed merchants' committee, which will investigate all needs of city merchants and their merchandising campaigns. Serving with him will be Victor G. Loly, Oscar Renner, T. W. Stuard, Milton Mason and Mrs. Mabel Masterson.

Chamber executives have granted the use of their rooms in the city hall, to the U. S. Navy as a Navy recruiting office on Monday and Tuesday, August 17 and 18. Chief Signal Officer Edward Merhab of the USN, will be present both days to receive young men of the community who wish to enlist in the Navy.

City Buildings Now Have War Insurance

In the event of an invasion of the Southland with possible bombs showering down on the city, any damage done to city-owned property such as city hall, jail, park buildings, etc. will be covered by insurance, following action taken this week by the city council.

A coverage of war damage insurance to the approximate sum of $376,000 was decided upon by council members. This will protect street and public service buildings, as well, including pumps and their equipment, and any automotive equipment in excess of five cars.

Interest Grows in Details of New Wire Industry Brought to City Through C. of C. Initiative

Interest continues to mount in the new impetus given local business conditions, by the decision of the Essex Wire Corporation of California (a branch of the big Detroit corporation) to establish its Pacific coast plant in Anaheim, on recently purchased property on North Patt street.

The property, former site of the old Anaheim Sugar company, consists of ten acres, and the several brick and steel buildings which will form the plant, represent a floor area of approximately 35,000 square feet. The total investment in land, buildings and equipment will be in the neighborhood of $500,000. The plant will be served by the Santa Fe railroad.

The Essex company is well known to the nation's electrical industries as manufacturers and fabricators of copper products, especially copper wire of all sizes and various types of insulation.

Essex Corporation officials have expressed the opinion that establishment of the Southern California plant will make their products more readily available for both war and peace time needs of electrical equipment manufacturers, contractors and dealers.

In the beginning, production will be confined to electrical conductors for aircraft, shipbuilding and armament industries, all arising out of war needs.

A. C. Riutcel, Chamber of Commerce president, Mayor Charles Pearson, O. E. Hanson and Joseph B. Collings formed the committee working with CC Secretary John M. Johnston, in carrying out negotiations.

School Opening Is Discussed By Toastmasters

"Shall the Schools Delay Opening until October 12 as Requested by the Associated Farmers?" was the table topic at the regular meeting of the Toastmaster's club Tuesday night in the Marigold cafe.

Toastmaster for the evening was George Hedstrom and in charge of the table topic was Paul Demaree, principal of Anaheim high school. An interesting discussion was held among the teachers, farmers and teacher-farmers present. All agreed that a survey should be made to find out how many students are working now.

Talks of the evening were given by Dr. C. O. Patterson, whose subject was, "The Enemy Within Our Gates"; Royal Marten, "What is News?"; and LeRoy Ater, "What's Behind an Egg?"

Critic was Earl Smith. Leonard Schwocofar presided during the business session.

Citrus Belt Buses Run Two Sections

In order to meet the increased demand for additional bus service to the Douglas Aircraft plant, the Citrus Belt bus line operated by Loren W. Smith, today announced the addition of a second bus to both morning and afternoon schedules.

These buses, starting at Ontario, serve the Anaheim and Fullerton areas as well. The two double runs leave Anaheim bus station at 6:38 a.m. and again at 3:08 p.m. according to Smith.

Letter From Former Anaheimer Comes To Gazette From Outpost of Pacific

From distant Midway Island came a message this week, addressed to the Gazette, and filled with that courage that we have learned to expect from our boys who are doing such valorous work in those far island outposts of the Pacific.

Its writer is John C. Nevin, Radio Mechanic First Class, of the United States Submarine base on Midway, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Nevin, 815 South Philadelphia street. Here is the letter which arrived by Clipper:

"I guess you must be rather surprised to receive this letter from away out here. So I'll get on with what I am writing about—and for.

"Firstly, I am an Anaheim lad myself, and out here we have a little newspaper called the 'Gooney Goonette,' named after some of the characteristics of the island. This paper is made up and printed by the members of our Base.

"I am enclosing a clipping from our paper, because due to restrictions, I am not allowed to enclose a complete copy. But I hope that it can find a spot in your newspaper. If you can use it, it would be greatly appreciated if you would send me a copy that I might show to our editors, and also get the latest news from Anaheim and surrounding towns.

"Yours sincerely,
"John C. Nevin."

The letter itself was interesting, as coming from a local boy so far from home. But even more interesting was the clipping he enclosed, for it carried a message of courage that is needed by families at home as well as boys at the front.

It reads:
"A CHALLENGE
"We take issue with all those who claim that America today is facing a crisis. We don't like the sound of the word. It sounds (Please turn to page 8)

The Board of Trustees met in regular session in the new City Hall on Tuesday evening. Trustees Witte, Pellegrin, Littlefield, Rust and Schindler were present.

In regard to B. F. Porter's bid to do work on Hermine street. As Mr. Porter's bid was not properly drawn, and was not accompanied by a certified check or bond as prescribed by law it was decided that said bid should be rejected, and that the clerk be directed to readvertise for bids for the performance of the work. The matter of the city clock bobbed up again, but as Mr. Luedke had paid no attention to the Board's request in regard to the matter action was deferred indefinitely.

(This ended the matter of the city clock and the clock tower was inhabited by owls until the city hall was demolished some twenty-five years later.—Editor.)

Emergency Rules Being Issued by Air Raid Wardens

Probably there have been no busier men in Anaheim during the current week, than the air raid wardens. For upon them has fallen the task of seeing that every family in the city receives a card of instructions on what to do in case of a gas attack.

When the city council adopted its new gas attack alarm ordinance over a week ago, it found the Anaheim Defense Council ready to cooperate. Under the executive vice-chairmanship of Charles H. Mann, the Defense Council had prepared cards of instructions.

These set forth precautions to be taken by the civilian population in the event of gas attack together with an outline of first aid methods to be used. It is the plan of the committee, according to Chairman Mann, to have one of these cards in the hands of every household in the city.

To this end, all sector air raid wardens and their assistant wardens have been following instructions to contact every resident in their respective areas.

"It is vitally important that every home in the city be provided with these instructions," declared Mann. He emphasized this importance by the advice that any household or family not yet contacted by the warden of that district, notify the sector warden. To simplify this, he gave the following list of wardens and their addresses:

Sector No. 1, Carl Pressel, 201 South Clementine; 2, Milton Kohne, 608 South Helena; 3, C. S. Barthelme, 555 South Helena; 4, Walter H. Belter, 825 South Lemont; 5, H. W. Beneke, 709 South Citron; 6, Paul Bakenhus, 522 South Indiana; 7, Mostyn Koshler, 407 South Indiana; 8, R. A. Patrick, 212 South Ohio; 9, Ivan J. Frantz, 122 South Walnut; 10, Lloyd M. Lichtenwaller, 715 South Pythias; 11, Charles Fisher, 150 North Lemon; 12, Robert Koontz, 605 North Clementine; 13, C. R. Brandon, 742 North Clementine; 14, Artlip Hull, 331 North Zeyn; 15, A. Pioneer Families Joined at Wedding of Clara Jane Lemke and Francis Nixon At Capilla de San Antonio Sunday

Two pioneer families of this vicinity were joined when Miss Clara Jane Lemke of Placentia and Francis Donald Nixon of Whittier were married at Capilla de San Antonio near Anaheim Sunday evening. Officiating clergymen were Rev. Harold Walker of the East Whittier Friends church and Rev. David A. Braun of the Placentia Presbyterian church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Lemke of Placentia. Mr. Nixon's parents are Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Nixon of Whittier.

Bride-to-be Has Shower in Home Of Orange Friends

White gladioli and fern were used as the background for decorations at the garden wedding. The bride and groom made their vows under a large wedding bell covered with gladioli.

JOHN RAITT SINGS

Soloist at the ceremony was John Raitt of Burbank, who sang "I Promise You" and "Because." Accompanying him at the organ was Miss Jean Charlton of Placentia.

Miss Lemke wore a heavy slipper-satin wedding gown, made bouffant style with insets of illusion silk net. She wore pearls, gift of the bridegroom, and carried a bouquet of white orchids and gladioli with bouvardia.

Maid of honor was Miss Anna Mae Hawkins of Fullerton, cousin of the bride, dressed in blue tulle and carrying a bouquet of yellow gladioli and yellow roses.

Other bridal attendants were Mrs. Donald Halber, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Louis Hephorn and Mrs. K. James Talcott, all of Placentia. They were gowned in pink tulle. Patricia Parsons of Whittier, three-year old cousin of the groom, was flower girl in a yellow print tulle gown. Her flowers were blue delphinium.

GROOM'S ATTENDANTS

Harman Brannon of East Whittier was best man; Tom Seukle, Lyle Brumfield and Ralph Sharpless, all of Whittier, ushered.

Three hundred guests were present at the reception in the chapel garden. Following the reception, the bride and groom left on a honeymoon to Seattle, Wash., Victoria and Vancouver, British Columbia. After two weeks, they will be at home at 1400 East Whittier boulevard, Whittier.

The former Miss Lemke is a graduate of Fullerton high school and Sawyer's School of Business, West Los Angeles. She has been employed for several years as secretary at the Valencia high school in Placentia.

Mr. Nixon received his education in Whittier and Greenboro, North Carolina, and in the business administrative department of the University of Southern California.

Should Bridal Showers Be Abolished Now?

Although pre-nuptial showers make life easier for women's page editors throughout the nation, they should be abolished. These showers may help to fill columns of newspapers and closets of brides-to-be, but they empty pocketbooks of their women friends.

In small towns and in all but the largest cities, it is customary for a prospective bride's friends to give showers for her. It isn't at all unusual for a girl to have as many as six or eight showers given for her by friends who are anxious to see her closet well-stocked with linens, dishes, lamps and bric-a-brac.

The hardship isn't on the friend who gives the shower, or on the bride who has to exchange duplicate presents and find space in her closets for a pile of things she'll never use.

The hardship is on the friends of the bride who are invited to every shower given for her, and who, even if they can't show up for the party, are expected to buy a gift, wrap it in paper covered with pink umbrellas and send it to the party.

Some sensible mothers of brides-to-be are limiting their daughters to two pre-nuptial parties, telling friends to pool their entertaining and not to have six or seven separate parties that call for gifts each time. It is tough enough on a bride's friends at any time—but now when most people are economizing, so many showers often bring a real hardship.

So why don't the women of America put an end to this accepted form of gold digging? Brides would still have their wedding gifts, even if there weren't a single shower for them.

How many single girls, prospective brides and mothers agree?

Civilian Defense Board Announces Dimout Rules

Garden flood lights, tennis and badminton court lights will be restricted to one foot candle, which means the light intensity at a distance of one foot from a lighted candle. The glow of embers in the ordinary barbecue pit offers little danger, but leaping flames must be shielded from above.

Use of flashlights is forbidden in any location visible from the sea, but elsewhere in the restricted area, such lights may be carried if the glow is directed downward and the intensity reduced by a paper behind the lens.

CAR HEADLIGHTS

Automobile lights in any area visible from the sea must not exceed the maximum of 250 beam candlepower. The average automobile uses from 20,000 to 30,000 beam candlepower for two headlights. Dimout areas are to be posted so that drivers will know when to reduce their headlights.

According to Chairman Mann, Army, Navy and Air forces will make a survey of the area after August 20, to see if communities are complying with regulations. After their report, the city will know what action to take on the matter of dimming its street lighting system so that no glow will be thrown skyward.

Sugarless Sweet Will Refresh Wilted Appetite

Are you hot and bothered? Here's the way to make "Raspberry Mousse," a sugarless sweet to top off a hot weather meal to perfection.

Take two cups of fresh raspberries, wash and mash them, add 1/3 cup of honey and let stand for an hour. Then rub through a fine sieve to eliminate most of the seeds. Soften a teaspoon of gelatin in 1/4 cup of cold water and dissolve it over boiling water. Add the berry mixture to the gelatin, stirring as you add. Set your mixing bowl in a bed of ice and continue to stir until it begins to thicken. Now fold in two cups of whipped cream and pour into the freezer tray of your refrigerator.

Local rationing boards have now been authorized to issue new books in cases where full proof is offered that books were lost, stolen or destroyed.

The new amendment also permits the boards to issue replacement certificates to consumers whose sugar stamps have been lost or destroyed.

Pasadena Woman Is First Naval Officer From This District

California's first woman officer from the 11th Naval District to be appointed in the newly created Women's Reserve, U. S. Naval Reserve, is Miss Frances Elizabeth Shoup of South Pasadena. This announcement was made today by the public relations office of the Eleventh Naval District.

Miss Shoup, a graduate of Stanford University and of Prince School of Store Service, Boston, Mass., enters upon her naval reserve duties from a position in civil life, as employment manager of a Los Angeles department store. Her first official duty will be to sit on the 11th Naval District Selection board, to interview women officer candidates. Those selected will be sent to the new Women's Reserve School at Smith College, Mass.

One thousand officer positions will be available in the Women's Reserve. Technical officers will be selected from such fields as civil, aeronautical, radio, electrical and mechanical engineering, metallurgy, modern languages, physics, astronomy and business statistics. August 20 has been set as the deadline for acceptance of applications for officers' posts. These may be mailed to the Director of Naval Officer Procurement, 850 Lilac Terrace, Los Angeles. Applicants must state their age, education, experience, marital status and number and age of their children.

Traffic Delayed By Sunday Storm

That August rain which swept down so unexpectedly on Anaheim and the whole of the Southland Sunday afternoon, was far-reaching in its effects, according to word that has come from other Southland areas.

Heralded by thunder and lightning, the storm struck first far in the Mojave desert, where two successive cloudbursts tore up railroad tracks and tied up train service for eight hours. The first cloudburst struck south of Barstow, carrying out sections of both Santa Fe and Union Pacific tracks. Repair crews rushed restoration of the roadbed, but before trains could cross the repaired section, a second torrent of water swept down the wash and took away the roadbed.

Telephone services were broken off, hay, peach and tomato crops were damaged, and drainage systems overtaxed in the Yucaipa agricultural area. Down in the Imperial Valley, however, the storm was received as a blessing, for it sent the mercury below the 100 degree level for the first time in more than a month. However the Valley received only a light rainfall in comparison with desert, San Geronimo and San Bernardino mountain areas.

Elks, Families Have Annual Picnic

Delicious food, prizes and a musical program were highlights of the annual family picnic of Anaheim Elks Lodge No. 1345 last night in Sycamore Grove Park at Fullerton.

About 325 Elks and their families were present to enjoy a program in which Don Cram and Buddy Forster were soloists; Roy Mendoza, guitarist; and a Santa Ana Air Base cadet, concert pianist. The latter was presented by Jim Roberts of Fullerton, who also presented another entertainer who played a guitar.

About 50 prizes were awarded to children and adults during the evening. The planning committee of the event was headed by Steve Gallagher; Doc Barnes was master of ceremonies and Al DeWitt, Exalted Ruler, awarded the prizes.

Until 1832 a little-known but interesting spot in the sub-basement of the Capitol was intended as a tomb for the remains of George and Martha Washington.

Farmers Informed Of Soil Conditions

Of interest to local farmers is the statement that, although the fertilizer situation is still uncertain, no acute shortages of essential fertilizer materials, even of nitrogen fertilizer, have yet developed to hamper farming operations, according to W. R. Schoonover, soil specialist in the University of California Agricultural Extension service.

The soil specialist recently conferred with Farm Adviser Harold Wahlberg in Santa Ana. It was stated that nitrate of soda is still arriving from Chile in considerable quantity and should be able to make up for shortages of other nitrogen materials. Phosphates and potash are available to farmers in normal quantities, even though certain fertilizers such as treble superphosphate and ammonium phosphates are scarce. Ordinary superphosphate should be available in sufficient quantities to make up for shortages of other phosphate materials.

Wahlberg suggested that local farmers substitute sulfate of ammonia and nitrate of soda as nitrogen sources in place of fluid ammonia, which has been suddenly withdrawn from the fertilizer market.

Legion Auxiliary Has Annual Election

Unanimously elected president of Anaheim American Legion auxiliary at a meeting Tuesday evening was Mrs. Jean Gaddis, who will assume her new duties at the next regular meeting in September.

Elected to various office posts with her are Nora Dodge, first vice president; Esther Fearn, second vice; Vera Flannigan, secretary; Madge Holden, treasurer; Agnes Hund, chaplain; Gladys Hayman, sergeant-at-arms; Audrey Starr, marshal; Yvonne Akerman, musician; and Helen Kaulbars, historian.

Arrangements for attending the department convention next week were made during the business session, presided over by Mrs. Yvonne Akerman, past president of the organization, in the absence of Mrs. Minnie Squier, retiring president. The convention opening Monday will continue until until Wednesday. Among highlights of the state-wide affair to be held at the Biltmore in Los Angeles will be the past presidents' party Sunday night, to which only past presidents are invited. Delegates' night will be Tuesday night.

Anaheim Reports As "Glider"

Latest Anaheim recruit to the Army Air Force's "Glider" is Private J. Donald Taggart, 325 North West street, a former employee of the Anaheim high school machinist department. Private Taggart was one of six Californians who recently left the Randolph Field Reception Center in Texas to continue training at one of the government's training schools for glider pilots.

Mrs. Taggart, the former Mildred London, accompanied her husband to Texas training field. The six potential pilots will receive from three to seven more weeks of intensive training. At graduation, the men will receive their wings with a "G" in the center of the emblem.

Anaheim Elks Will Join in Host Duties

Various members of Anaheim Lodge No. 1345 B.P.O.E. are anticipating attending the joint rally which Southland Antlered Herds will hold next Wednesday night in cooperation with the Los Angeles order in their Elks Temple.

Exalted Ruler Frank Lorenzi of Los Angeles, will preside. The cities of Anaheim, Orange, Whittier, Pomona, Burbank and Compton will join with Los Angeles as hosts to 18 other California communities. Bands, glee clubs, drum corps and other musical groups from individual host lodges, will provide entertainment.

PICK A MAN WHO GETS THINGS DONE—NOW

Because we Americans are virile, vigorous and resourceful, we thrive on accomplishment. When we have foresight and ability, we don't need to be specially trained for a job. Henry J. Kaiser proved that. Inexperienced in shipbuilding before Hitler invaded Poland, he has since astounded the nation by turning out big cargo ships at amazing speed.

It's this ability to get things done that his friends admire in Harry Bell, candidate for sheriff of Orange County at August 25th Primary. He has the foresight and driving ability to attain an objective fast. Sound, forceful and aggressive, he does a job well—and now. As sheriff he would have cleared out that Japanese cache immediately after Pearl Harbor—not seven months later.

A resident of this county for 21 years and a student of its law-enforcement problems, he has the proved courage and forceful ability to solve them quickly. Capable and square as they come, he would make a good sheriff. And remember—

A GOOD COUNTY DESERVES A GOOD SHERIFF

COLORFUL AS A FIESTA and cool as an arctic breeze are these cotton frocks worn by radio actresses Kathryn Keyes and Rosemary DeCamp. Kathryn (left) finds her two-piece suit of waffle plique with brown bold print perfect for country or town. Rosemary's more informal pinafore styled frock is a green broadcloth and variegated printed plique.

Clark Gable Deserts Absentee Voters May Screen for Army Life Cast Vote by Mail

It is now Buck Private Clark Gable with a salary of $50 per month as a member of the United States Army and no longer the he-man of the movies with a salary of $3,500 a week.

Gable joined Uncle Sam's Army yesterday when he said that he wanted to make no speeches; nor entertain any soldiers. "What I want," he said, "is to be a machine gunner on an airplane. I want to be sent where the going is tough."

His principal interest, aside from serving his country, was to get away from Hollywood and the memories of the beautiful blonde wife who died tragically in an airplane crash last February.

Thus Clark Gable, the man with the ears and the wide grin, starts a new career, that of defending his country.

Absentee Voters May Cast Vote by Mail

From James Mussatti, general manager of California State Chamber of Commerce, has come announcement that the State Chamber is cooperating with 17 state-wide organizations in a drive to bring out the maximum vote at the primary election on August 25.

One of the major problems confronting the allied groups, according to Mussatti, is that of inducing service men stationed in California camps, to exercise their voting privilege by mail. War industries too have taken many qualified voters far from home.

All of these absentee voters will be privileged to cast their ballot by mail providing they make application to their county clerks prior to Thursday, August 20.

These ballots may be marked at any time previous to election day but each must be returned to the county clerk from whom it was secured before August 31. Before it is returned, it must be sworn to before a county clerk or his deputy or a notary public.

The ballots will be provided by county clerks when the applicant offers necessary information as to his registration and gives his present address as well as his registration address. Signatures must be the same as those used on affidavits of registration.

PROSECUTION MUST HAVE PUNCH

Two qualifications are essential to the office of District Attorney, if prosecution is to have punch.

One is experience in the District Attorney's office. The other is special ability as a prosecutor. James L. Davis has both.

He has had five years experience in the District Attorney's office during former administrations, also two terms as County Attorney (corresponding office) at Billings, Montana.

His ability as a prosecutor is recognized throughout Orange County; his record for honesty, justice, and successful law enforcement is well remembered.

Not all lawyers make good prosecutors. Many are not familiar with criminal law, or have no aptitude for that branch of the law.

That's why it is important to know whether the candidate for District Attorney has had experience at the job or is suited to it.

Also important to the office of District Attorney is business ability, because the District Attorney holds an executive position that determines whether the operation of his office shall be economical or extravagant. Judgment as well as legal knowledge is required.

James L. Davis is well known as a successful business man. For law enforcement with punch and without waste, elect—

SHARE YOUR CAR With Your Friends

When You Go To Your Work!

FORM A CAR CLUB FOR ECONOMY

Save your car all you can—make it last. It may be a long time before you can get another. When you go to work, go as many as possible in one car. Empty seats mean that someone else is wasting rubber—that someone else is wasting gas and oil. Form a Victory Car Club with your friends and neighbors—take turns driving and get extra YEARS out of your cars and your tires. Let's all get the habit of going to work with our car seats filled! If you can't form a car club, use the buses and street cars. Don't drive with empty seats!

Needless mileage and empty seats are two kinds of waste that must not be measured in dollars. They reduce America's reserve supply of transportation at a time when every unused mile in EVERY vehicle, and in every gas tank in America is of vital importance. Be a "soldier" and co-operate.

Going Somewhere?

WE'RE IN A WAR: a fact that is being brought home to us in many ways. No longer can we enjoy all the privileges to which we have become accustomed. Johnny can't use the car. Mother can't bake so many cakes. Place the blame squarely where it belongs—in Berlin. The shadow that has darkened so much of the world could lengthen still farther; could bar our freedom of speech, press and worship; yes, and our right to travel when and where we choose.

What are we doing about it? Ask any Union Pacific man. He and thousands of other American railroad workers are exerting every effort to stop that creeping shadow; transporting armament and munitions as fast as our factories can turn them out... transporting troops in ever-increasing numbers. It's a job that must be done so we Americans may always be free to go wherever we please, unquestioned and without fear.

Tennis Tournament Set For Tuesday Meets With North-County Interest

Particulars on the tennis tournament to be held next Tuesday, August 18, at the city park were released this morning by Jean Heying, recreation director.

Already over 20 tennis players from Anaheim, Buena Park and Fullerton have indicated their intention to play in the tournament, open to all boys and girls under 16 years of age. Prizes, donated by the Wisser sporting goods store and SQR store, will be awarded. Games will begin at 9 a.m. and playoffs will be in the evening.

Aiding Miss Heying with details of the tournament are Joyce Anne Hayes, ace junior college player, C. R. Brandon, local tennis enthusiast, and Gerald Boege, well-known "racketeer" of Fullerton. Players are asked to bring their own rackets while balls will be furnished.

Rural Fire Cos. Train in County

Reports from this community and other sections of the county indicate that the rural fire companies organized this past spring by the State Division of Forestry and the Agricultural Extension service, are going ahead in their training program, according to W. M. Cory, Assistant Farm adviser.

While new equipment has been scarce and difficult to obtain, several of the companies have secured old spray rigs and repaired them. Others have taken old cars and remodeled them into small serviceable fire trucks with pump and 150 to 200 gallon tank capacities.

Practice drills are held twice a month to acquaint everyone with his particular responsibility. The purpose of the fire companies is to reduce fire losses both in times of war and peace.

SHUFFLEBOARD. Ten Shuffleboard matches were played last night at the city park. In the men's league, Lions vs. State Guard II, 3 to 0; Fusileers vs. Elks, 3 to 0 (default); Rotary vs. Kiwanis I, 3 to 0 (default); Kiwanis I vs. Kiwanis II, 2 to 1; State Guard I vs. Knights of Columbus, 3 to 0 (default). In the women's league, the Isaac Waltonites defeated State Guard team 3 to 0 and Ebell won over the Elks 3 to 0 by default. Finals will be played next week when the men's top team will play the leaders of the women's league.

Local Women May Enroll in WAAC

Anaheim women interested in making application for enrollment in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps may do so by obtaining application blanks and information folders at the Army Recruiting office at the post office building in Long Beach.

Women between the ages of 21 and 44, inclusive, married or single, who are citizens of the United States are eligible to apply. Selection is made from those with excellent mental physical and moral qualifications. Those accepted will be sent to Fort Des Moines, Iowa, for basic and specialized training which will enable them to replace an equal number of men now engaged in noncombat duties.

It is anticipated that the Corps will ultimately number some 150,000, hence an unusual opportunity for personal advancement as well as service is presented to those enrolling at this time.

State Anticipates Labor Shortages

Peach and sugar beet harvests, which started this week, are likely to encounter severe labor shortages before the end of the month, according to the weekly farm labor report released by Ralph G. Wadsworth, state director of the U. S. Employment Service. Estimates of the labor available locally for these crops indicate there may be a shortage of about 8000 workers when the peak demand occurs.

The possible shortage in peach picking alone is estimated at about 4500 workers in the San Joaquin Valley and about 200 workers in the Butte-Sutter area of the Sacramento Valley. The peach shortage may be relieved in part or in full by the movement of workers from the apricot harvest just completed, and by the recruiting of additional volunteer workers in towns and metropolitan areas, Wadsworth stated. Substantial groups of workers in the cities are reported to be ready to undertake fruit picking jobs.

The sugar beet harvest has commenced in the Salinas Valley and in Yolo county with an estimated immediate shortage of some 1700 workers. The Employment Service is immediately undertaking to recruit qualified workers in Los Angeles county where there has been a pool of unused labor for some time and where a further influx of agricultural workers has recently been reported. The Employment Service is also contacting other states with a view to securing additional beet workers for employment here.

There continues to be a need for various kinds of skilled farm workers such as orange pickers, and packers, milkers, irrigators, and tractor drivers.

Prominent Surgeon Is At New Address

Dr. H. A. Johnston of the Johnston Clinic on North Claudina street, has moved from the family home on South Los Angeles street, and is now located at his new address, 205 South Claudina street. The Los Angeles street home, one of the handsomest in the city, will be occupied by Mr. R. Flynn of Los Angeles and his family.

too much of defeatism. America does not face a crisis, but faces a CHALLENGE and we can and will meet it.

The Editors:
We're not certain as to the island characteristics referred to by young Nevin, as dictating the choice of a name for the paper. If he means it in the slang sense, that editorial alone denies that the editors or staff could be called "gooney." Probably he refers instead to the various large sea birds of the Pacific islands, called "goonies" and including several species of the albatross.

Rules Formulated To Prevent Fires In Forest Areas

Although the August vacation month finds many Anahemmers remaining quietly at home, there is a steady flow of vacationers toward nearby mountain resorts. For them, advice received from the U. S. Forestry Service through Secretary of Agriculture Claude F. Wickard, will be especially timely.

Stating that the ordinary American citizen, and not the criminal or saboteur, was responsible for the majority of last year's devastating forest fires, Wickard launched a vigorous campaign this week, to prevent such needless destruction of our nation's timber and watersheds.

Four basic rules were set forth for every American. They are: 1. Break matches in two before throwing them away. 2. Crush out cigar, cigarette or pipe ashes. 3. Be absolutely sure your campfire is completely out. 4. Don't throw anything from a moving automobile.

With every visitor to mountain resorts constituting himself a "committee of one" to see that such rules are carried out, one of the Southland's greatest dangers—fires sweeping her watersheds—will be avoided, according to forest rangers.

C. of C. Secretary Home From Conclave

Returning early this week from San Bernardino, where he was in attendance at the Western Institute of Commercial and Trade Association Executives, John M. Johnston has again resumed his activities as secretary of Anaheim Chamber of Commerce.

Scores of Chamber of Commerce and trade association executives gathered at the conclave held in Arrowhead Springs hotel from August 2 to 7, inclusive. Eric Johnston of Washington, D. C., was among prominent men present. He is president of Chamber of Commerce of the U. S. A.

Program and social events were all subordinated to the present war situation, and one of the highlights of the conclave was the telegram received from Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the War Production Board, congratulating the Institute on converting its week of meetings into a war work training school for executives represented.

The meeting was sponsored by University of Southern California and Chamber of Commerce of the United States, in cooperation with Western Chamber of Commerce and California Trade Association executives.

Secretary Johnston was among those taking advantage of the fine training course offered for C. of C. executives, which at the conclusion of three successive conclaves, will award certificates to those completing the course.
