Date Set For Presentation Of War Trophies to Army

Appropriate ceremonies in which United States Army officials will accept the two cannon of the First World War which this city is surrendering to the nation's salvage needs, have been announced for Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at St. Catherine's academy grounds.

To Captain William Murphy, commandant of the school, has been assigned the preparations for a suitable program, and he has revealed that in addition to the short talks of acceptance on the part of the Army officers to be present, will be appropriate remarks by Mayor Charles A. Pearson. Music on the program will be provided by St. Catherine's band.

Several weeks have elapsed since City Clerk Charles A. Griffith notified Col. Rudolph E. Smyser, director of the supply division at Fort Douglas, Utah, of the release by Anaheim Post No. 72, American Legion, of the two field pieces.

The larger of these, a Watervliet arsenal barrel, model 1900, weight 3710 pounds, has been on the parade grounds at St. Catherine's school. The other, a 138 MM mortar, No. 3722, weight 850 pounds, has been at the city park.

Army officials who will accept the pieces, will also present certificates whereby both the school and the Legion post will receive other similar trophies after the present war is concluded.

Automotive Council Establishes Joint Information Office

Automotive Council of Orange County has announced through E. A. Maher, its executive secretary, the establishment of a joint information office authorized by the Office of Defense Transportation, at 302 West Maple street, Orange.

This office is established to assist truck owners to obtain additional tonnage to make up full loads, in compliance with ODT orders. It will be under management of J. D. Spennetta, well known in county trucking circles.

Each of three communities have direct telephone connection with the office, and Anaheim truckers wishing assistance or suggestions, may call Anaheim 2361. The Orange number is 83 and Santa Ana is 593.

Authorized charges for services are 25 cents for each clearance slip when no tonnage is obtained, or five percent of the gross revenue, minimum one dollar, for tonnage obtained through the information office.

The office is the first one approved in the state of California, and the 28th in the United States.

Youths Jailed On 1st Degree Murder Charge

Held to answer in the Superior Court for the alleged stabbing of Arthur Espinoza on the night of December 19, Adolpho Rangel, 19, and Porfirio Peralta, 20, will appear for trial on Friday, January 29, according to Judge Frank Tausch of Anaheim city court.

At their preliminary hearing Friday before Judge Tausch, the two youths were charged with first degree murder and have been held in Orange county jail without bail. Their hearing on the 29th will be at 10 a.m. in Department 1.

American Legion Presents Arm Bands To Faithful Watchers of The Skies

Impressive beyond words were ceremonies held Monday night in American Legion headquarters, where Commander Kenneth H. Rigby and his fellow Legionnaires paid tribute to members of the city's Air Raid Warning service who have served a hundred hours or more.

Legionnaire Glen Peck, chief observer in the warning service, had charge of the meeting after various introductions were made. These included Mayor Charles A. Pearson and Councilmen Leo Sheridan, Ray VanWagoner, H. E. W. Barnes and Robert H. Boney.

Others introduced were Charles H. Mann, director of Civilian Defense, Leon H. Stanislawski, commander of Anaheim post VFW,

State Has Plenty Of Cash Stored In Good Old Sock

No siree, California isn't going to have to join the bread line this year! In fact State Controller Harry B. Riley says she is starting 1943 with a general fund cash excess of $56,253,177, the largest in state history. In fact she quit December with $83,825,147 more than on the corresponding date a year ago.

This, according to Controller Riley, was due to increased returns in a majority of major revenues with the exception of inheritance tax and motor vehicle license fees. At that, expenditures in the final six months of 1942 were nearly four million dollars higher than in the first six months, largely because of a $3,743,869 increase in expenditures for the State Guard.

WAACS - WAVES Augmented by Many Local Girls

More and more young women of Anaheim and its nearby communities are enlisting for active service with some of the new women's military organizations.

On Saturday, Edith (Mrs. Don) Parks, 813 North Sabina street, left for Des Moines, Iowa, where she will enter training with the WAACS. She enlisted in the early winter and has been awaiting call. Her husband, Don G. Parks, is now an apprentice seaman in the U. S. Navy.

Also awaiting her call is Billie (Mrs. Jesse W.) Dohm, who was sworn into the WAACS on December 21 in Los Angeles. She is on a 24-hour call, so has resigned her post as lieutenant in the Women's Ambulance Corps of this city. She has tendered her resignation to A. L. Raymond of Northern Orange County Credit Bureau, but is remaining at her secretarial post until her call to service arrives.

Her husband is a Naval enlistee and is Machineist's Mate second class, now at sea with the U. S. Navy.

Water District Election Set For February 3

Tuesday, February 3 is the date set for the next biennial election of directors for Orange County Water district. Dian R. Gardiner of Orange, who has headed the district during the four-year term he has served, has stated that he will not be a candidate for re-election.

Directors are chosen by a vote of property owners in their respective divisions. Twelve polling places have been designated for election. Anaheim area residents in Precinct 1, which is in the third division, will vote at Lincoln school on East Center street. Other precincts of this division are 2, whose residents will vote at the Murray building in Placentia, and 3 where voting will be in E. R. Walker's office, Yorba Linda.

Stolen Bicycle Found Undamaged

Young Lawrence Weaver of 206 North Claudina street, discovered that whoever made away with his cherished blue "bike" on Tuesday night, was considerate enough to leave it in a safe place and undamaged. When Mrs. Nellie Weaver reported the theft yesterday at the police station, she learned that the bicycle had been left carefully on the pavement just outside the station.

Orange Newspaper Effects Changes In Organization

Announcement has been made by the Orange Daily News of a reorganization in management whereby Justus F. Craemer, formerly co-publisher with the late William O. Hart, assumes the duties of publisher with Ronald Fairbairn of Alhambra as co-publisher.

Fairbairn is a son-in-law of the late W. O. Hart, whose death occurred tragically on December 15 in an airplane crash in Utah. Ray Arguello, city editor under Hart, will take over the managing editorship. Craemer is a member of the state railroad commission.

Anaheim Transfer City's Annual And Storage Co. Music Festival In Fine New Home Set For May 7

Anyone interested in a "stay-at-home" sight-seeing trip, would find both pleasure and profit in visiting Anaheim's newest business building, the handsome new home just completed for Anaheim Truck and Transfer company at 505 South Los Angeles street.

The fire-proof structure presents a modern and dignified face to the world. For the entrance on Los Angeles street to its business offices is constructed of glass brick with wide windows giving the maximum of light to the offices and to the big moth-proofed storage room for rugs, upholstered furniture and similar articles sent for safe keeping.

The structure, 54 by 200 feet, affords ample room not only for the spacious offices, but for the handling and storing of freight, for a machine shop, a recreation room, and for the big fleet of trucks operated by the company. It stands on the site long owned by the company with the old buildings torn down to make way for the new.

Anaheim Truck and Transfer is one of the city's oldest business projects, and shares with the Anaheim Gazette, the year of 1870 as its founding. At that distant date, the Mother Colony was still a village. But both the Transfer company and the Gazette have endured and grown with the passing years.

First operating with horse-drawn wagons, the Transfer company now operates more than half a hundred motor trucks, and gives employment to scores of men.

The company is composed of two of the city's most prominent men, J. B. Collings, president and general manager, and Mayor Charles A. Pearson, vice president and secretary-treasurer.

Occupying positions of responsibility are Mrs. Bernice Bouas, in charge of the business office; Fred Wiseman, truck superintendent; Maynard Thompson, shop superintendent, and Paul Gilger, assistant.

Farm Bureau Will Hold Regional Meeting Saturday

From S. W. Stanley, director in Region 1, California Farm Bureau, has come announcement of a regional meeting to be held all day Saturday in El Centro. Convening at 9:30 a.m. in Wilson school, 1200 Main street, El Centro, those in attendance will take part in such group meetings as are justified by the attendance, with the exception of the poultry group.

Mrs. T. M. Sims, state chairman of the Home department, will be present to confer with women of the group. Program features of the afternoon will include various talks. B. M. Graham, chairman of the Imperial county board of supervisors, who is in charge of the camp or workers imported from Mexico, will discuss his community's experiences in the handling of such labor.

Catastrophe Looms Over City's Police Department

This is a blood curdling mystery tale. Excitement prevailed in the city police station.

From Fremont school came the call that a body with a knife in its back was seen at the west end of Chestnut street.

Officers were dispatched to the scene of the crime. The body was that of a cat. The cat was removed to the city pound for disposal.

The end of a sad tale. A cat tail.

FLASHES FROM THE WAR FRONTS

RUSSIA—Hitler's vaunted army which recently stormed the city of Stalingrad now seems on the verge of collapse before irresistible Russian counter-offensives. Reports of this complete and crushing victory are called the "brightest news of the war."

EUROPE—British bombers over Berlin brought home to the Germans the fearful results of modern war to civilian populations. Factory districts of the city are reported to have suffered heavily.

AFRICA—American and British troops continue to push Rommel's army into a corner. It looks as if the Axis' stand will be made at Tunisia, strongly fortified area to which Hitler has been rushing reinforcements. The battle here might well be epic.

NEW GUINEA—MacArthur's troops have the situation under control, although Jap relief expeditions still lurk on the horizon. Tanks are proving effective weapons to blast the enemy out of fox-holes.

SOLOMONS—Our forces holding Henderson field are steadily widening their area of control.

Today We Salute One of City's Truest Patriots

Of the scores and scores of patriotic Anaheim citizens who give tedious hours to their country by serving as observers in the city's Air Raid Warning service, one man stands head and shoulders above the rest.

He has been active since the very beginning of Pearl Harbor. In all the intervening months he has never once missed standing his watch. No airplane flying near, misses his attention for his ears are so accurately tuned to the beat of a plane's engine, that he is able to identify it and spot its direction at once. And yet he could never see a plane, no matter how low its flight. For he is blind.

So here is the Gazette's heart-felt salute to Elmer Hanson, 418 South Indiana street—the truest patriot of them all.

Draft Registrants 38 to 45, Will Receive New Cards

New orders regarding classification of draft registrants who are 38 years old or more have been received by Anaheim Selective Service Board 173, and new classification cards will soon be ready, according to Clerk Glen Peck.

All Orange county draft registrants beyond the age of 38 will be affected by the new orders issued by National Selective Service. Men between the ages of 38 and 45 will receive classification cards placing them in 4-H. Men in the third registration who have passed their 45th birthday without having been inducted will be classified as 4-A.

Men in the 38-year brackets who have been inducted into service have been re-classified 1-C. Inducted men who have since received honorable discharge will remain in the 1-C class it was stated.

All 4-H and 1-C men must observe the rule of notifying their local boards of any change of address, change of occupation or dependents, the local board stated. This is the same rule that maintained before they received such classification.

More Men Needed In Navy's Shore Patrol Division

Immediate need for men 38-50 with experience as peace officers to volunteer as specialists in the Navy's Shore Patrol division was announced today by Lieut. Commander L. D. Blanchard, officer in charge of the Los Angeles Recruiting district.

Ratings of first, second, and third class petty officers are available to qualified men. To qualify for specialist first, applicant must have had previous military experience with a minimum of 10 years' police duty. Second class qualifications require no military service but a minimum of 6 years of police experience is necessary. Specialist 3rd class calls for 2 years of police experience.

Men selected will be sent to San Diego for indoctrination training and later assigned to the 12th Naval District, with headquarters in San Francisco for duty in that area.

Associated C of C Will Meet Next Tuesday Night

In accordance with a decision to "hold meetings until they can be held no longer," Orange County Associated Chambers of Commerce will hold the first session on Tuesday night, January 28.

Clyde Simmons of Tustin, president of the Associated Chambers, will conduct the meeting scheduled to begin at 7 o'clock in Daniger's Cafe, Santa Ana. Guest speaker will be J. D. Allen, Southern California field secretary for the United States C. of C. His general subject will be "War-Time Jobs for Your Chamber of Commerce."

Prominent among business matters to be taken up by members will be the appointment of a nominating committee of five to select officers to be voted upon in March. Revised by-laws of the organization require that such nominations be made 60 days in advance of the annual meeting, which will be held in Santa Ana in March.

Victory Book Collection Will Go To Many Military Bases

"The best educated Army in American history" wants books to read. The nation's Victory Book campaign of 1943 is now under way, and Anaheim citizens are being reminded to select worth-while volumes from their book shelves, to go to men and women in the country's military camps.

The local drive got under way Monday, and already books are pouring in at the public library, named as the central receiving station. Various civic groups are being contacted by a committee headed by City Librarian J. Elizabeth Calnon.

Each member of this committee has accepted the responsibility of contacting some specific group, with Mayor Charles A. Pearson having the men's service clubs as his province. Mrs. Lotus Loudon, Red Cross chapter chairman, is contacting the women's clubs of the city; Miss Calnon has the churches, and Miss Elva Haskett, children's librarian, has the Parent-Teacher associations and city schools.

Posters acquainting the public with the drive, have been fashioned by young people of the high school as their contribution to the cause.

In the initial book drive last year, Miss Calnon's record showed that Anaheim provided a total of 890 choice volumes, which were distributed among three streets, San Diego USO, Camp Haan, and Santa Ana Replacement Center. All work in collecting the books was volunteer she pointed out, and voiced special appreciation for the cooperation of Anaheim Truck and Transfer company.

For this organization of which J. B. Collings is president, donated its services in transporting the books to the three widely varying points, thus saving the local book committee all expenses in connection with the drive.

New Steel Pennies Will Replace Familiar "Coppers"

Steel pennies will soon be in circulation replacing the familiar coppers. The San Francisco mint will begin turning out the steel varieties at the rate of 600,000 a day, early in February it has been stated.

The pennies, washed in zinc, will bear the familiar "Lincoln head" inscription, and soon the copper coins will be collector's pieces — if any are left after the government collects them for vital war needs. The San Francisco mint expects to turn out $500,000 worth of the new "war coins" in February alone.

City Property Will Be Rid of Gophers

Approximately 20 acres of city-owned property at Vermont and Placentia avenue, are to be cleared of gophers, according to a contract signed Tuesday night at the city council meeting.

The contract was with the county agricultural department which agreed to provide materials and labor, with the city to pay the necessary expenses.

Councilmen also completed the contract arranged with Sunset Oil company for the city's gasoline requirements for 1943. This involves some 25,000 gallons of Sunset Ethyl and Sunset DeLuxe, the cost of which includes the state motor vehicle tax of three cents on the gallon, but not the federal excise tax of one and a half cents.

Anaheim Resident Receives Letter From Missionary Sister In China

Filled with information about life in mission station in China, is a letter which Mrs. Cora P. Coyner, 312 Kroeger street, has received from her sister, Harriet (Mrs. E. P.) Ashcroft, who is in Changchow, Honan province.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashcroft have been engaged in foreign mission work in China for the past 30 years, under the Free Methodist church.

Mrs. Ashcroft tells of the joy of occasional letters that reach to them after many delays, and of the world news they receive via a little newspaper. She writes:

"Within the past two months we have been receiving an 'American Digest', typewritten and mimeographed in Chungking and sent to United States subjects in unoccupied China. You will not wonder when I tell you how glad we are to get this 14-page newspaper which comes weekly.

"What thrills us have over articles telling of 'Remember Pearl Harbor', 'Coral Sea', 'Australia', 'The Russian Front', 'Solomon Islands', and sidelights on U.S. affairs that we had no way of knowing about before. I do not need to say U.S. affairs only, for we are world conscious these days. This is a global war, not merely a Chinese incident as it was for a long."

"Mrs. Ashcroft answers many of those frequently asked questions in regard to their life, comfort, food, etc.

American Legion Presents Arm Bands To Faithful Watchers of The Skies

of the Fourth Fighter Command for what they called "the wonderful team work between community, American Legion and city council."

As Chief Observer Peck called off the names of the watchers to be honored, they were presented by the guest lieutenants with the handsome blue armbands embellished with golden wings. Then came the turn of the assistant observers, who received pins for their faithful work. They were Clair Liebhart, David Proud, Roy Helsing, K. B. Rigby, Gordon Handsfield, Henry Baxter, Milton Kohne and Carleton Starr.

There was appreciation for the audience as well as by those in charge, of the faithfulness of all the proud new owners of arm bands, but special applause greeted the one woman watcher, Rose Gowdy, with 171 hours to her credit; A. G. Tuma and Elmer Hanson, who never permitted physical disabilities to interfere with the faithful performance of what they accepted as a patriotic duty.

Others so honored were H. D. Ackerman, Claire Albin, Edward Backs, Vernon Bruders, Ray Cheatum, Fred Clough, Stephen Gallagher, George Graham, Robert B. Gregg, Lawrence Haas, H. G. Hamilton, O. E. Hanson, Fred Hays, Glenn Hipes, Harry Horn, Milford Johnson, E. C. Kendrick, Anton Kern, Harry Kindig, Milton Kohne, Gilbert Kuenzli.

Claude Lane, Sam Lund, C. J. Mauerhan, Frank E. Mauerhan, H. A. Gird, James Hord, George Miller, Glenn Merrill, Peter Metzger, Frank Miller, Milton Pannier, A. C. Peck, Ray Perry, E. H. Phillips, Godfrey Poetz, Al Poudevigne, Mirl H. Rea, William Rodenberger, Frank Sackett, R. B. Schmitt.

E. E. Smith, Joe Sowder, G. A. Starr, Ralph Summers, Jess Thatcher, W. J. Troutman, S. K. Watters, George Weatherly, E. C. Westenkuehler, O. B. Woods, A. M. Wright, Richard Gay, Claude Barnett, H. E. W. Barnes, W. V. Brown, Charles Bush, J. H. Clasen, William G. Claussen, D. William Davis, Kurt Epstein.

Ernest Ganahl, Robert Gregory, Raymond Herr, Oscar Heyning, John Kemper, H. J. Mahoney, Herbert Sipple, Charles Smith, F. J. Stewart, John Stichtman, Robert Truxaw, Dewey Van Atta, George Walters, J. D. Wilcox, Paul Williams, W. H. Young.

Following the awards, Cols. Pillsbury and Tomlinson supervised the screening of motion pictures showing the work of watchers in England, and also along the eastern seaboard in this country. The authentic Navy pictures of the battle of Midway followed.

Before the close of the program Legionnaires and their guests stood in 30-second silence in tribute to the memory of the late Eugene Phillips and Harry Gird. As finale to the evening, the post served refreshments "army style."

Suggestions Are Offered On Point Rationing

Anaheim housewives, like their sisters all over the nation, are going to have to learn to be expert jugglers as soon as the OPA is ready for distribution of the new ration books—those which will be used to buy much of the family food. For women will have to learn to budget both their money and their coupons, which will call for careful planning.

War Ration Book 2 will have four pages of blue stamps and four of the red stamps. The blue will be used for the first group of goods to be rationed by points, and the red will be used for the second group.

The number on each stamp will indicate its value, and the letter will tell the period during which it will be good. These periods will be announced in advance by the OPA.

In Point Rationing, one set of coupons covers a group of commodities. For instance, a week's meat ration coupons will offer a choice among beef, veal, pork, lamb or mutton. Coupons to be spent in one week are of different denominations, for example, a one-point coupon, a two-point, a five-point and an eight-point.

Various rationed articles in one group will have different point values. Tenderloin steak, for instance, with a higher point value would require a larger number of coupons than hamburger with a lower point value. The government will set the point value of each item in the group of rationed products and issue an official list. These point values will be based on available supplies and will vary as supplies of various items increase or decrease.

"Less" Recipes Are Offered for Anaheim Housewives

In these butterless, eggless, meatless and sugarless days, Anaheim housewives will find interest in a few "less" recipes which are guaranteed to please the family palate. You might try—

CHEESE BEAN ROAST

1 lb. can kidney beans
1/2 lb. cheese (Tillamook or similar variety)
1 TBSP butter substitute or bacon fat
1 C. breadcrumbs
1/4 C. thick white sauce
Salt, pepper, paprika.

Drain liquid from beans and put them and cheese through food chopper. Melt fat and blend well with crumbs. Combine all ingredients and press into loaf pan, sprinkling some of the crumbs over top. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) until brown. Serve with tomato sauce.

"CHICKEN" PIE

1 can tuna
2 potatoes, diced
2 carrots, diced
2 TBSP butter substitute
2 TBSP flour
1 cup milk
Salt and pepper to taste.

Boil vegetables until tender. Put tuna in sieve and dip several times in hot water to remove oil. Make butter substitute, flour and milk into white sauce, season and add vegetables and tuna. Put into baking dish and top with pastry or biscuits and bake until top is done.

Easterner States Victory Tax Is Income Tax Basis

In an address delivered before the National Retail Dry Goods association in New York, Stanley P. Surrey, tax legislative counsel for the U.S. Treasury department, declared that the foundation of a pay-as-you-go income tax system has been laid in the new Victory tax.

"The withholding provision of the law which requires employers to withhold the tax at the source, is the simplest, most effective means of placing individual tax payments on a current basis," he declared.

"If such a system were applied to income taxes the vast majority of taxpayers would be placed on a current basis. In addition they would have their income taxes automatically budgeted for them. . . . The case of collection at the source can be rested upon this inescapable fact."

No More Packages May Be Sent To Men Overseas

That no more third class mail will be received in the local post office for men in overseas service, has been learned here following the early January order of the postmaster general.

The order (No. 19687) states in part: "The War Department has informed the Post Office Department that in view of heavy demands being made on cargo space for military shipments and because of the limited facilities available to commanders of theater operations for delivery of mail, the volume of mail dispatched to overseas destinations must be kept to a minimum. . . . No circular matter of the third class shall be presented for mailing at A.P.O.'s overseas as the War Department advises that it will not be despatched from ports of embarkation."

Packages which hitherto have been accepted at the local post office, can no longer be sent. There are a few exceptions. If certain articles have been requested by the soldier overseas, and his request is approved by his commanding officer, then such gifts may be sent.

The new ruling also applies to letters which must be sent V-mail, and must therefore be written in black ink, suitable for photographing.

Lois Rebekah Lodge Installs Officers

At the next regular meeting of Lois Rebekah lodge in Odd Fellow hall, official affairs of the organization will be directed by the new noble grand, Mrs. Violet Howard, who was installed at formal ceremonies Friday night.

She takes over the office held by Mrs. Edna Kruse. Mrs. Mary Edwards, district deputy president, installed the new staff, with Mrs. Alice Shell as marshal.

Serving with Noble Grand Howard will be Mrs. Mabel Ives, vice grand; Berthyle Reisinger, recording secretary; Elsie Borth, financial secretary; Hannah Horwitz, treasurer; Helen Pannier, warden; Elsie Armbrust, conductress; Grace Schaefer, chaplain; Maude Adams, musician; Ora Horn, RSN; Mildred Fitz, LSN; Eileen Peterson, RSVG; Clarabelle Burns, LSVG; Ellen Robinson, inside guard; Vernice Summers, outside guard; Agnes Aspelin, right altar supporter; Emma Heckman, left altar supporter.

BAKE A HEART

If you haven't served baked heart before, it will be a pleasant treat now. A small beef heart makes a most nutritious main dish and is a reasonable buy because it is over 90% lean meat. Make enough well-seasoned bread dressing to stuff the heart and tie it securely with cord to hold its shape. Roll in melted fat, then in flour, and salt it generously. Place in deep baking dish with close fitting cover and bake in oven preheated to 350 degrees F.—until tender. A three-pound heart will take about three and one-half hours.

At the same time bake potatoes, squash or a dish of onions, covered. There will be room for two loaves of brown bread, too. But if all foods chosen for the oven meal are covered, a steamed carrot pudding may be baked. The main point is to utilize the oven completely—then the baking is not a fuel luxury. Gas is essential in the multiple operations of our war production, so it must be used at home with careful thought and planning—none should be wasted.

PICK UPS AND THROWS - - -

WETTING THE WHISTLES

In some circles they are clamoring for prohibition. Some people declare that liquor is sabotage. It is said that up in Canada, an individual can buy liquor from the government to be used in his home, but there are no public places where booze is sold.

THANKS A MILLION

It takes a dry wind from the east and a moist current from the south to cause a rain. The day before Christmas, these things happened, and a fine rain fell, sending the community a most acceptable gift. Mr. Weatherman, keep up the good work.

LOVEABLE TRAIT

When women of the Old South started decorating the graves of their Confederate soldiers who died in action during the Civil War one of them suggested that they also remember the boys of the north. They did this, making Memorial Day a nation-wide custom to live forever.

THREE STRIKES AND OUT

We have the blackout, the dim-out, and the fellow who stays out, but fails to obey the first two out, thereby causing trouble and accidents—and who should be put someplace where he couldn't get out, at least for 30 days.

SUNKIST SOUTHLAND

A man who lived here 50 years ago, and who has since been in various eastern states and traveled in Europe, was in town a few days ago, and declared that he is going to stay here. Experience is a good teacher, and it is hoped that he has learned how to be happy and prosperous. Incidentally he was interested to hear of the gonafora rubber vine.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

The rubber vine commonly known as gonafora, which grows wild in Mexico, is attracting attention here and several well-known citizens are intensely interested. The vine matures in six months ready to be used. Southern California's frostless areas would be well adapted to raising the vine, which no doubt would aid in the solution of the acute rubber problem.

Men with financial backing would be well paid to get busy right now in producing the vine. Possibilities of the venture are great and the sooner the people here get started, the better things would be for the whole nation. Once again we say—Get Busy!

OF THE PEOPLE. FOR THE PEOPLE. BY THE PEOPLE.

It is reported that in the 12 mid-western states, the Republicans won about half of the House Representatives at the recent election. It is also said that the Republicans polled a larger vote in congressional races in the nation, for the first time in 14 years.

It appears that the people are lining up with the G.O.P. hoping that everything will work out all right for everybody.

DECEITFUL DEMONS

Initial successes of the Japanese in the Far East were due in a large way to trickery and deceit. They used fishing boats upon which were naval officers in disguise, to take pictures of harbors

Death Summons Cal D. Lester In Orange Home

The death Tuesday night in Orange of Cal D. Lester, removed a well known figure in Orange county political circles. His passing followed a several week's illness, and he had been removed from St. Joseph hospital to his home at 1111 West Chapman avenue, only a short time before the end.

Lester had served in various official capacities in county political circles as well as in Santa Ana and his home city of Orange since beginning his political career in 1943. He was a resident of Fullerton at the time of his appointment to the office of county clerk to succeed the late W. D. Beckett who was elected in 1902 and died in the same year.

In 1907, Lester was elected county auditor, remaining in that post until 1915 when he was succeeded by William C. Jerome. He successfully held such offices as Orange city clerk, city councilman and justice of the peace of Orange township.

He is survived by one son, Sgt. Oliver D. Lester, now stationed in the South Pacific war area, who was recently commended by the commander of his ship, for exceptional bravery during a naval engagement.

County Insectary Head Retires

Retirement of A. B. Perkins, former head of the Orange county insectary in this city, completed 15 years of faithful service, according to Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs. In announcing the retirement of Perkins, Tubbs stated that it meant the loss to the commission of one of the most experienced inspectors in California, and that his place would be difficult if not impossible to fill.

Perkins has served at various times as inspector in Anaheim, Capistrano and Fullerton districts and was serving in the latter city at the time of his retirement. He lives at 520 East Commonwealth avenue, Fullerton.

ON RATIONING

We're still the envy of Europeans, so far as coffee rationing is concerned. At least we get a cup a day, but the Belgians (if they're lucky) get 10 cups of chicory a month; Danes get about seven cups each 30 days; French, by means of the "black market" might possibly get a cup of real coffee every 10 days.

and also to plant mines.

The scrap iron they bought here is being used to make bullets which they shoot back at us. They must pay for this a thousand-fold. They will be crushed completely when our Marines get through with them, aided by the Army and Navy.

HOPE FOR PEACE

While millions of men are being slaughtered all over the world in this inhuman war, stop and think of the other millions who are innocent, and think of their anguish and sorrow for their loved ones who have been lost. It must not continue. Let us all hope that it soon will be ended now and forever.

IN THE DAYS OF LONG AGO

Extracts from files of The Gazette Issued Half a Century and a Quarter ago. These files contain the only Authentic History in Print of the Daily Doings of the Citizens of Anaheim and Orange County in the Days of the Pioneers.

25 Years Ago

January 24, 1918

The moving back of the city frontages on West Center street, between Los Angeles and Lemon, in order that wider sidewalks may be attained is commendable and now that the block is almost finished, that part of the downtown district takes on quite a metropolitan appearance, naturally more business is attracted to that quarter. While the property owners are to be congratulated for their enterprise still the tenants really foot the bills, as in every case higher rents are being asked for storerooms in that block. Rents have been raised there from $15 to $25 per month.

Patriotism was the paramount subject at the annual banquet of the Anaheim Board of Trade which was held in the banquet room of Masonic Temple Monday night. All the speeches hinged upon the war and the necessity of subordinating everything during the coming year to the needs of the government in the conflict. Felling's orchestra arranged its program to include some of the latest war songs among them being "We're Going to Win, By Heck," "Somewhere in France," "Where Do We Go From Here, Boys," "We're Going Over," "Goodbye Broadway."

C. E. Holcomb made an admirable toastmaster, sandwiching in appropriate remarks between the music and the speeches. The banquet was provided by the ladies of the Eastern Star. As a fitting close to the evening's entertainment the orchestra struck up "America," the entire audience joined in the singing.

Speeches were made during the evening by F. C. Krause, A. B. McCord, president of the Board of Trade, Thomas Crawford, Secretary Whitaker and others.

One of our oldest and most esteemed citizens, Mrs. Catherine Backs, wife of Joseph Backs, died at her residence on North Lemon street Friday. Mrs. Backs was the daughter of Dr. A. F. Heygman, she was born in Guaymas, Mexico, April 1, 1854, and came to Anaheim with her family in 1862. The doctor and his family made the trip overland and it was an exciting and dangerous one as hostile Indians infested the country. They finally reached Anaheim which then was only an oasis in a trackless desert.

The family removed to San Francisco where in 1875 she was married to Joseph Backs, who was one of Anaheim's young business men. This city has been their home for the past 43 years. Mrs. Backs is survived by her husband, seven children and a brother and sister.

Funeral was held at Backs and Terry's chapel Tuesday morning with a later service at St. Boniface church. Father Dubble being celebrant assisted by Father Gallagher of Fullerton and Father Morris of Pasadena. Interment was in Anaheim Cemetery.

Mrs. J. J. Schneider entertained the "500" club at her home on Friday afternoon. The first prize, an embroidered towel, was won by Mrs. Closson, the second a cut glass sugar and creamer, by Mrs. Grim, and the consolation, a box of handkerchiefs by Mrs. Rust. Refreshments were served at the close of the game.

Mrs. J. H. Brunworth entertained the Elite club at her East Center street home Thursday, serving refreshments to her guests at the close of an enjoyable afternoon spent in playing "500." The first prize was won by Mrs. Al Nowotny. The second by Mrs. A. D. Palmer, the third by Mrs. L. F. Pomeroy, and the fourth by Mrs. Louis Kroeger.

E. H. Adams has tendered his resignation as city electrician to the trustees and will go into the sugar factory. Mr. Adams has been employed in the city power house for the past ten years. Three years ago on the resignation of A. L. Lewis he was made chief which position he has held ever since.

Hon. P. A. Stanton, president of the BaySide Land company, has been ill for the past week at his Los Angeles home. He is now improving nicely and will probably soon be out again.

C. Connell, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Kathleen Connell and the Misses McKenzie of Los Angeles, were the guests of Richard Melrose and family on Sunday.

Arthur Staley and Max Nebelung who have been engaged for several days auditing the books of the Anaheim Union Water company, finished their labors yesterday.

50 Years Ago

January 26, 1893

The street sprinkler has again made its appearance, to the infinite delight of pedestrians and shopkeepers. Since the recent fatal accident to Henry Boege the streets have not been sprinkled, but are now being wet down by Tim Boege, who has consented to continue the contract entered into between the city and his deceased brother.

The road between here and Santa Ana will be graveled up and improved. It is high time. The road, which is the principal thoroughfare in the county, has long been a standing disgrace to the people, and should have been put in good repair months and months ago.

Dr. Head was in town from the Grove one day last week. He had just returned from Sacramento where in company with Victor Montgomery of Santa Ana, he engaged in the very praiseworthy act of attempting to swing Assemblyman Bennett, the Populist, to the support of Senator White. He was unsuccessful, however, and as Bennett pledged himself before election to vote for the Senator in exchange for being endorsed by the Democracy, there are a number of fiery-eyed Democrats at Santa Ana very anxious to interview him and make it interesting for him when he comes home. Bennett was kept in the Populist ranks by telegrams from Jim Weaver, who adjured him to stand fast and true to his other pledges, and the visit of the local statesmen to the wicked city of Sacramento was for naught.

We have pleasure in announcing the wedding of William L. Dunlap and Miss Lillie M. Kellogg, which happy event occurred at the residence of the bride's mother in West Anaheim last evening. Rev. Hiram Hill officiating. The ceremony was witnessed by members of the family and near friends of the high contracting parties. After the ceremony refreshments were served and the happy couple bidden goodspeed on their journey through life. The bride is one of the fair daughters of this city, and is known far and wide for her many amiable qualities.

Mr. Dunlap is one of the rising young businessmen of the city. The happy couple will take up their residence in the cottage on Philadelphia street recently purchased by the groom. We join their many friends in wishing them all manner of good fortune in their journey through life.

Work on the artesian well at the site of the proposed co-operative beet sugar refinery has been suspended temporarily, at a depth of some 235 feet, but operations will be resumed in time to have flowing water for the erection of the refinery this year.

Albertson & Middleham have just completed painting Mr. Fay's residence on West Broadway. The work is done in their usual artistic manner and reflects great credit upon that painstaking firm.

Veit Bentz returned on Monday from Jacksonville, Or., where he was called some weeks ago on account of his father's death. He made a quick trip north and reached home in time to attend the funeral. He brings with him his mother and sister, who will make their permanent home in this city.

J. E. Rankin, a brother-in-law of Sam Wilson of Santa Ana, recently arrived from the east, was in Anaheim one day last week with a view of making real estate investments. He will probably locate with us as he thinks this valley is the best part of what he has seen of Southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. I. V. Albertson entertained a number of their friends at a party at their residence last Saturday evening. The time was passed very pleasantly in social converse and music, including mandolin and guitar solos. A bountiful supply of refreshments were served and at a late hour the party dispersed.

Clark Minor, well known and popular business man of this city died Sunday after a long illness of consumption. Mr. Minor came to Anaheim from San Diego two years ago and engaged in the nursery business. He was also part owner in the big walnut tract south of town. He leaves a wife and family of small children to mourn his loss.

Charles Schindler was the happiest man in two counties on Monday, all caused by the advent of a new girl baby at his home on Center street. Mother and child doing well and the old man is getting over it.

Secluded Garden Chapel Is Setting For Beautiful Rites In Which Young People Exchange Nuptial Vows

Honeymooning at Palm Springs with prospects of a home awaiting them in Balboa, are Corporal and Mrs. Dan F. Cunha, whose wedding was an event of Sunday afternoon in the secluded garden chapel of Capillo de San Antonio.

Mrs. Cunha was Miss Eleanor Houts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Houts, 407 West North street. She made a very lovely bride in a long train, and with it she wore a finger-tip veil arranged in halo effect with clusters of orange blossoms. Her traditional touch of blue was a filmy handkerchief, and the new, was the strand of pearls, gift of her bridegroom. Orchids centered her formal bouquet of gardenias showered with bouvardia.

Corporal Cunha and his best man, Clair Anderson joined the Rev. C. H. Archibald, pastor of the Wesley Methodist church, at the flower-banked altar to await the approach of the bride party down the grassy, candle-lighted aisle.

Miss Mary Ellen Grady, gowning in pale blue marquisette, was honor maid, and carried yellow rosebuds. She wore a diamond-set gold cross, gift of the bride. Gold bracelets were gifts to the bridesmaids, who were the Misses Esther Cunha, Barbara Vorce of Santa Ana and Jane Grady. All wore tearful pink frocks of marquisette and carried matching carnations and sweet peas.

Little Mary Lee Ardaiz as flower girl, also wore pink, and received a gold locket. Completing the wedding party were the ushers Sgts. E. Green, Paul Lanning and Cliff Blokus.

Mrs. Clara Faust was at the organ for the traditional Wedding Marches and as accompanist for Mrs. Ardith Adams' solos, "Because," and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life."

Cpl. Cunha's parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cunha, and Miss Esther Cunha of Sunnyvale, were here for the wedding and were entertained in the Houts home. Parents of the young couple joined the bride party for the reception following the wedding. Mrs. Houts wore royal blue crepe and the senior Mrs. Cunha was in black net. Both wore orchids. The Misses Virginia Cooke and Maxine Tyreman presided at the refreshment table with its tiered wedding cake, cut by the new wedded pair.

Corporal Cunha, a graduate of Santa Clara schools, is stationed at the Santa Ana Army Air Base, as are his best man and ushers. His bride, a graduate of Fullerton High school and junior college, is employed at the base, where she plans to continue her duties for the present.

War Production Board has decreed that there will be no more rubber erasers on lead pencils. Office secretaries can't afford to make many mistakes now.

To relieve war workers of the nerve-racking noise of certain factories and shipyards, industry has devised individually molded ear-stoppers of smooth translucent plastic.

Children's Clinic Announced By Health Department

The Orange County Health department announces the quarterly Crippled Children's Diagnostic clinic to be held in Santa Ana on Tuesday, February 2, from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. in the Health Department office. Dr. Donald W. Blanche, orthopedic specialist from Los Angeles, will conduct the clinic, assisted by members of the Orange County Health department and the staff of the State Crippled Children's services.

Children may be seen at the clinic who have orthopedic defects such as crippled arms, legs, muscles or bones, and those children who have defects requiring plastic surgery such as burn scars and cleft lip or palate.

Arrangements to attend should be made in advance by requesting the family physician to make an appointment or the parent may call the Orange County Health department.

Five such diagnostic clinics have been held in Orange county. Over 200 visits by physically handicapped children have been made to these clinics, at which complete information regarding diagnosis, condition of the child, and recommendations for future treatment was obtained.

Many of these children have been provided with the recommended care, either at Orange County hospital or the Children's hospital in Los Angeles. Costs of providing this care have been borne by Orange county and the State Crippled Children's services.

During the past several months, a number of children, recent cases of infantile paralysis, were given the new Kenny treatment for infantile paralysis, at both Orange County hospital and the Children's Hospital in Los Angeles.

Guild Members Have Buffet Breakfast

In observance of the day of their patron saint, members of St. Agnes' Guild of St. Michael's Episcopal church, shared Corporate Communion early Sunday morning, at services conducted at the church by the Rev. D. Howard Dow, rector.

Later the group assembled in the Earle T. Jackson home, 540 South Clementine street, where Mrs. Jackson had planned a tempting breakfast menu served buffet style from a prettily appointed table. After guests had made their selection, they took their trays to the living room and grouped in friendly community around a crackling fire to enjoy the breakfast hour.

With the Guild members in attendance were three guests, Mrs. Edward Ailing, Miss Jane Vander Veer and Mrs. Jeannette Gibbs, a guest from San Gabriel.

Chairman Is Named "Jitney Dinner" and Program Prove Gratifying Success

To Mrs. Edward H. Power of Ball road, has been delegated the responsibility of working out plans for the participation of Anaheim's young women in USO activities, following a meeting of the city's representative club-women late last week in YMCA headquarters.

Those in attendance, representing various club and civic organizations of feminine interest, were addressed by Mrs. Marguerite Van Derwerker, director of women's work at Santa Ana USO. She outlined some of the future plans of her organization pointing out the need for girls and young women past 18 years of age, to assist in the recreational program now under way.

Senior and junior hostesses are to be provided for the various occasions when the girls will be called upon for aid, according to Mrs. VanDerwerker.

Mrs. Power plans to assemble her committee and workers in the near future, so that Anaheim may be prepared to assume her part in USO plans. Mrs. Power, active in Red Cross and similar civic groups, has been especially interested in young people's work.

Midnight Will Be Gas Tab Deadline

Today is final date upon which holders of gasoline rationing A books will be able to cash in on their first page of coupons, the number 3 tickets. Drivers who still have the No. 3 tickets must obtain gas on them before midnight tonight. The No. 4 coupons become negotiable after the midnight hour and must last drivers until March 21, when No. 5 coupons will go into circulation.

Hospitality and good fellowship reigned at this week's "jitney dinner" of Horace Mann P.T.A. held in the school dining room, where more than 200 diners praised the menu served by Mrs. Richard Roehm and her committee. Executive board members and teachers were hostesses.

Mrs. John P. Mary presided over a short business meeting and named a nominating committee to report in March. Those named were Principal B. F. Mattox and Mesdames Harold Harling, Claude Booth, Victor Ruedy and Lawrence Mills.

After dinner program features opened by numbers by the school glee club with Miss Betty Hardman at the piano. Illustrative of program theme of "Preserve the Nation," was the playlet, "Little Americans Do Their Part," written and directed by Miss Lucia Upp, with the cooperation of the fourth grade. Patty Mattox introduced the clever sketch and Peggy Borden was song leader.

Mrs. E. T. Bradley, program chairman, introduced Gerald Patton who led the symposium on "Conservation of Men and Materials." Contributing pithy talks were the Rev. Earl R. Berg on "Human Resources;" Mr. Patton on "Youth, Time and Energy;" Joseph H. Wilmore on "Natural Resources;" O. E. Hanson on "Thrifty" and Richard Roehm on "Food and Vitamins."

While the interesting program was in progress, children were entertained in another part of the school by motion pictures provided through the courtesy of the Home Oil company.

Miss Marian Knott Wedded at Rites In Corpus Christi

Announcements have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Knott of Knott's Berry Place, of the marriage on January 8 of their daughter, Miss Marian Knott, to Ensign Dwight Anderson Jr. of Corpus Christi, Tex., son of Dwight Andersons of Boone, Iowa.

The bride went to Corpus Christi where the wedding ceremony found setting in the chapel of the big Naval Air base. For the rites, she chose a smartly tailored blue costume that was especially appropriate with the officer's uniform of her bridegroom.

A graduate of Anaheim union high school, the new Mrs. Anderson had been one of the friendly hostesses at the famous Knott's Berry place. She attended USC where Ensign Anderson was a fellow student. The young people will remain in Corpus Christi for the present, awaiting Ensign Anderson's appointment to some other theater of operations.

Kiwanians Go Over The Top In Bond Sales

Kiwanis club members closed their club bond-selling campaign in a true burst of enthusiasm Tuesday at the luncheon session in Elks cafe. For they subscribed well over a thousand dollars for war bonds.

Members were urged by their president, Dr. Charles Schutz, to continue their patriotic efforts even though the club campaign has reached its conclusion.

For additional entertainment Tuesday, William G. Claussen as program chairman, introduced a hilarious quiz in which members took impromptu part.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD AMENDS NATURAL GAS ORDER

What this amended Limitation Order now means to gas heating users...

THIS ORDER, known as L-31, was issued last February by the War Production Board. It was designed to make the most effective possible use of our country's natural gas facilities for the duration of the war. For this reason it limited the use of gas for heating homes by placing certain restrictions on the installation and use of certain kinds of gas heating appliances.

Here is a brief interpretation of the amended provisions which affect heating, but do not affect cooking, water heating, or refrigeration:

1. Any house heating equipment which was eligible for use and was being used in a residence prior to November 30, 1942 (effective date of the change in the Order) may be continued in use.
2. Additional gas heating equipment may no longer be installed. (Formerly, under the Order, "minor" or "auxiliary" gas heaters could be added.)
3. Worn-out gas heating equipment may be replaced by new equipment of the same type and of no greater capacity than the old equipment. However, for example, "central" gas heating equipment, such as a furnace, cannot be installed to replace individual room heaters, as it would be of a different type. (Sale of new heating appliances is limited by other Governmental Orders, and your heating dealer should be consulted, if you plan to purchase.)
4. Use of gas heating in new houses is further restricted. Under the former Order, gas heating equipment could be used in "restricted new houses" (those started after March 1, 1942) if such use was incidental to the use of other fuel for heating, or if the occupant owned and used the gas heating equipment at a former location. Under the amended Order, however, NO gas HEATING appliances can be installed or used in restricted new houses, unless they were installed and eligible prior to November 30, 1942.
5. Installation of ineligible gas heating equipment, as well as its use, is prohibited by the amended Order.

HOARDERS CAN'T FOOL GROCERS ALL THE TIME

Some of Them Try Though by Telling Sob Sisters About Starving Children

By Alma Whitaker

When those little pigs went to market a great many other little pigs wailed, "Where's my share?"

There's been an awful slump in the civilian honor market. Quotations were as low as a pound of coffee, a quarter of a pound of butter, an extra tire, a few gallons of gas.

Many otherwise patriotic citizens sprung the weirdest alibis on their own consciences, while hoarding to the limit of their turpitude and wherewithal.

If there's any notable reform and try to put this over. But the grocers are getting cagier and cagier, especially those who have boys of their own in the service. Once in a while such a grocer will get good and mad at this type of little pig that goes to market.

I visited several markets and found the harassed grocers pretty cynical.

"We have about 1200 regular customers," one told me. "We try to keep them supplied with their usual purchases. Hundreds of new faces have appeared during this panic buying."

HAD NO BUTTER
"For a whole week we had no butter. One new customer came in begging for a pound. 'Sorry, no butter, lady,' I told her. But just then 15 pounds was delivered to us, and she saw it come in. That meant I could give 60 of our regulars a quarter of a pound and I wanted to save it for them. But this woman pleaded, saying her big family had had none for so long and, oh, her husband was awful sick. Well, I agreed to give her a quarter of a pound and started to put it in the top of her shopping bag. Right on top was a whole pound of butter!"

"Right then her husband came in, looking pretty healthy and saying, 'You'd better stop buying there's no more room in the back of the car. You've already got enough to feed a regiment.' She sure gave him a dirty look, and I gave her one. I just took the butter back and handed her her money, saying sarcastic like, 'Thank you, lady.'"

Another grocer told me about a dame who wanted a case of milk.

"I couldn't spare you a case," he said, "but you can have two cans."

FOR CHILDREN
"Oh, but I have so many children," she almost cried.

"How many?" I asked her. She hesitated and gave me a queer look. "Oh, add a few of the neighbors' kids," I tell her.

"O.K., you win," she laughed, and walked out.

One overworked alibi is to say they are shopping for neighbors as well as themselves, when they want to hog everything on the shelves. Any number of them claim to have lots of children. They'll go from market to market

"I RISE TO REMARK" By CONGRESSMAN JOHN PHILLIPS

President's Message—

The President has sent two messages to Congress, one of which he delivered in person; the other sent to us by his secretary and read by the clerk. When I was a boy, there used to be a game in which we got someone to stand on a doorstep while we rang the bell and then ran. Perhaps there is a suggestion of this in the thought that the President himself read the message in which he spoke of our increases in production, and our assistance to our allies in the war, while he left a secretary and the House clerk standing on the doorstep with the message which called for expenditures of more than 100 BILLIONS in the 1943 budget, and the announcement that this has risen from 2 BILLIONS a month for war purposes, just before Pearl Harbor, to 6 BILLIONS at the present time, and will reach 8 BILLIONS by the end of the year. This is for war purposes alone, and is the MONTHLY cost. I will recall the furor when the first budget was proposed for the United States which reached ONE BILLION a year.

There is no thought on my part to object to war expenditures. I have discussed this point in previous columns. If we must have luxuries, we must pay for them, and while wars may not be desirable nor desired luxuries, nevertheless they are in the luxury class. Wars are expensive; they take the best of everything we have; they last, in fact or in "hang-overs," for generations — they are wasteful, and criminal. But we are in a war, and this is a war where we have no choice. We are not defending any theory, and the sooner we think of it this way, the better. There is nothing academic about this war. This is the first act in a war of survival, between the white and the oriental races, and we are fighting with one nation, Japan, who threw the rule book before she hit us at Pearl Harbor.

But, in the face of this budget, it is well to set up a comparison. ONE HUNDRED BILLIONS used to be a lot of money. Today it is casually banded from lip to lip like the "bird" in a game of Badminton. I rise to remark that it may not be considered so casually. I'll tell you why. I do not have the figures here, as I write this, but my memory is that the total assessed valuation of all real property in the United States is in the neighborhood of 338 BILLIONS. Some reader can check me on this. If that is correct, and if the average assessment percentage is about 57 per cent,

Tomato Growers Discuss Switch To Other Crops

Possibility that farm labor shortages and conditions will cause Orange county tomato growers to substitute other equally essential crops requiring fewer man hours, was indicated Tuesday night when tomato growers convened in Garden Grove high school at the call of the county farm bureau.

Cecil J. Marks, executive secretary, expressed the hope that approach of the planting season would see a renewed interest among tomato growers. He was in Los Angeles last night, at a meeting of Los Angeles county farm bureau, at which other counties sent representatives to discuss the tomato situation as to prices and production possibilities.

The point behind point rationing . . .

He's in a field hospital. He's wounded. But he's already begging to be sent back to the front lines. Soldiers are like that.

He will get there, too. Because he's getting the best of medical care, and the finest food in the world. He's one of our boys!

No American minds giving part of what he has, to strengthen the men who are fighting and dying to preserve this country for all of us. In ever increasing numbers our soldiers are marching to more and more battlefronts as war spreads across the world.

The war will have to be won on those battlefronts. It will have to be won where the boys are fighting—on the sea, in the air, and on the land. It can't be won anywhere else.

But whatever the courage, whatever the heroism of these boys—we must work tirelessly here at home. Our part of the job is to keep them supplied with the materials of war: Guns, ammunition—food! Soldiers must have food. Good, nourishing food, to give them fighting strength and vigor. And to build morale.

That's our job! It's up to us to get along on less so that they can have more. So they can have the food they need on long, gruelling marches—marches through the heat and dust of the desert and across the cold, bleak wastes of the North country. Food to sustain them through hours of darkness and cold on a life raft or tough days in the wards of the field hospitals.

That's why we're setting up a system called "point rationing" on certain foods here at home. This is a system by which we will make sure that an ample food supply is sent to our armed forces, then if any foods are scarce for civilians we will divide the supply equally, by "points." Each rationed food will be worth a certain number of points.

Each person will be allowed to "spend" a given number of points during each ration period. Scarce foods will require more points. More plentiful ones fewer points. You may spend them as you please.

Point rationing safeguards your fair share of foods made scarce by military needs. It is American and democratic. It deserves your support!

Little of Everything

JAMES B. WILKIE, 82, a former resident of Anaheim who has been making his home in recent years in Whittier, died recently in that city where funeral services were followed by burial in Whittier cemetery.

and United Service organizations. They have discovered that the boys want two types of books, light fiction or humor for relieving war tension, and "brain food" to help train them for advancement.

Cooperation of Anaheim churches was expressed Sunday when announcement was made from every pulpit and in all church bulletins. Local donors might be interested in knowing that the first book given in the national drive, was from Elmer Davis, director of the Office of War Information, who selected Tolstol's "War and Peace", because it was the only novel that he read in 1942 which held his interest!

Indicating the needs to be filled the U. S. Navy has asked for 50,000 books for its training stations and for gun crews on the Merchant Marine. The Army has requested 150,000 volumes to be placed in new Army Air Force bases and training camps and in new regular training camps. Uncle Sam's WAACS and WAVES and other women's military groups will also receive their share.

Anaheim Resident Receives Letter From Missionary

have marveled at the variety of foods we have had since returning to China this last time. All our needs have been supplied—sometimes from a fellow missionary's garden. Some of our California friends sent us an unexpected gift and now I no longer need to buy anything because it is too expensive. But many things are very high. For instance English walnuts are four for a dollar; eggs, one dollar each; unground wheat, seven dollars a pound. These prices are in Chinese currency.

"We keep warm by wearing Chinese padded garments. They are loose and comfortable even if they do make us look straight up and down. We have stoves in our home but there is a shortage of fuel and impossible prices for coal—five pounds for a dollar. So we ration our fires and don't use too much money to get a bit of warm air in a room when an extra padded coat will make one cozy and warm.

"We are in the midst of a very real famine here in Hnan province where we are very close to the war line. We hear heavy guns at night or any time of the day. Since four years ago when the Yellow river broke out ten miles from us, we have had great groups of people who were flooded out and who must have a place to live and something to eat. Then this summer we had a terrible drought. War, flood and famine have come to a head here at Chenchow and people are desperate.

"The American Advisory committee at Chungking has sent large sums of money and the Chinese government is helping. My husband is treasurer of the local relief committee which meets, in our home. One refugee school of 500 children and a refugee camp for some of the most distressing cases are under his care. He has placed competent men in charge, living in the compounds about two blocks from our home.

"Since January 1, about two million dollars in relief funds have gone through my husband's hands and this means carefully audited reports of every dollar received and spent. The committee now has over a million dollars in the local bank to save people from starving and to provide seed wheat for the spring crops. Mr. Ashcroft feels the heavy responsibility of relieving suffering and saving lives. You have read of distressing conditions during a famine in China. That is what we are experiencing now.

"Our furlough comes next year but we are told that airplane tickets are $6000 each, U.S. currency. When there is a good ordinary steamer route open to the U.S. we think, if we are still living, we may be seeing you."

SCULPTOR'S TOOLS

Four tons of tools used by the celebrated sculptor, the late Gutzon Borglum in carving out the "Shrine of Democracy" on Mount Rushmore near Rapid City, So. Dak., were turned over to Rapid City's salvage drive by Lincoln Borglum, son of the artist. The worn steel drills, jack-hammers, old bits and other tools, were used to carve out the faces of Washington, Lincoln, Jefferson and Theodore Roosevelt, who gaze forever from Mount Rushmore.

SLIGHT RAINFALL GIVES HOPE THAT DROUTH IS ENDED

Today's light rainfall, unmeasured at the time the Gazette goes to press, was a truly welcome addition to the "blue plate special" which the weatherman has provided for the Southland thus far in the month. January has offered the heaviest fogs for years, and the coldest weather of the season.

Even government restrictions on weather forecasts were lifted earlier in the week in order that growers might be prepared against the snapping cold nights that threatened their groves. Tuesday's heavy black smoke from orchard heaters provided a dimout that was almost a blackout. Early forenoon drivers had to use their automobile lights just as in the case of the heavy fogs earlier in the month.

Today's rain started quietly in the late forenoon and the very quietness of its beginning leads ranchers to believe that it presages heavier rains to come and end the long dry season. It is no military secret to admit that storm signals are displayed along the coast.

City Engineer V. W. Hannum today gave the season's rainfall total as 1.74 inches, as compared with 7.11 inches a year ago. On August 10 we had .13 inches; on August 12, came .01 inches more, and then sunshine until October 28 when .46 inches of rain offered slight encouragement.

On November 14 there came .04 inches; on November 19 there was a rainfall of .17 and on December 23 it registered .40 with .51 on December 25 and .02 on January 17.

WAACS - WAVES Augmented By Many Local Girls

at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where she is making photography her chief course.

A more recent recruit to the WAVES is Miss Louise Georgia Soule, daughter of the George Soules of La Habra, and a cousin of Robert O. Weisel, 900 South Walnut street.

Miss Soule, who enlisted in the Navy auxiliary in the early winter, received her call to report on January 16 at Smith college, Northampton, Mass., where a WAVE training school is operated.

Miss Eleanor Walker, who returned recently from Honolulu to the home of her parents, the A. S. Walkers of Twin Olives Ranch, Yorba Linda, is also working for her ensign's rating at Northampton, having enlisted in the WAVES shortly after her arrival home.

Ensign Margaret Sears, who has the honor of being Fullerton's first WAVE, recently completed her training at Northampton, and was granted a short leave, which she is spending with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Sears whose home is at 616 North Harvard avenue in the neighboring city.

Ensign Sears, whose ranking is equivalent to that of a second lieutenant, is awaiting her assignment to active duty.

Another prospective Orange county WAVE is Gerrie Griffith Block of Santa Ana, who recently resigned from her post on Santa Ana junior college staff, to enlist for service. Her husband, the late Clarence Block, who received national recognition as a photographer, was tragically killed last July when an Army plane crashed at Victorville. At the time he was photographing high altitude night bombing operations. One of his color photographs formed the cover of the January issue of Sunset magazine.

Mr. Marcy was a member of the Masonic lodge of Oak Park, Ill., and Anaheim Masons will conduct graveside rites tomorrow afternoon in Anaheim cemetery, where he will be interred in the family plot beside his wife who died in 1941. At funeral services in the Backs, Campbell and Kaulbars chapel at 2.30 o'clock, the Rev. Thomas L. Burden of White Temple Methodist church will preside.

RAMONA MARY MORENO, one of Orange county's oldest residents, died Tuesday at the age of 92 at her home, 704 Grand avenue Buena Park. She was a native California, born in Los Nietos, and brought to Orange county in her infancy by her parents.

Mrs. Moreno left three sons and two daughters, Abel Moreno of Buena Park, Dolores Moreno of Garden Grove, John Moreno of Anaheim, Mrs. Victoria Gradedo of Santa Ana, and Mrs. Beatrice Fox of Long Beach, together with 30 grandchildren and two great-

Breakfast Clubber Observes Birthday

Birthday anniversaries may be a time for receiving gifts for the average person. But not for Harry C. Arthur, genial Fullerton, Fox theater manager, and member of the celebrated "Birthday club" of the Jackson Drug store.

Today, on occasion of his anniversary, Arthur dropped in for his morning "cuppa cawty" armed with birthday gifts for all the girls of the Jackson store staff and lunch counter. So the group, consisting of Marian Austin, Evelyn Manning, Dolores Stevens and Bee Miller, are adorned with corsage clusters of red, white and blue carnations tied with the tricolors, and tricky V-for-Victory earrings set with red, white and blue stones. They all sing "Happy birthday to YOU, Harry Arthur."

Dried Beans Made Victory Special

Please pass the baked beans. Dry edible beans have been nominated for honors as the Victory Food special for the current interval, according to announcement made by Merritt A. Clevenger of San Francisco, Food Distribution administrator for the Pacific area.

The year's total supply of such beans in this country was estimated at 24 million bags of 100 pounds each, sufficient to meet lend-lease shipments and military needs, with plenty of left over for the home folks. Clevenger pointed out that restrictions on tin have virtually eliminated the canning of beans, making it necessary to prepare the valuable protein food in home kitchens.

Dartmouth Alumnus Receives Diploma

Although Richard Oswald Eymann, 15 North Ohio street, completed his course at Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H. in December, he is just now in receipt of his diploma. Diplomas have been mailed to 336 members of the 1943 graduating class, all of whom completed work six months ahead of schedule because of the accelerated war program and summer attendance.

Eymann, a graduate of Anaheim union high school, majored in political science at Dartmouth where he was prominent in Germania, the German language club, among other school activities.

EMILIE M. JACOBSON, a former resident of Anaheim, died Tuesday at the age of 78 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mabel Burley of Lancaster. A native of Germany, Mrs. Jacobson had lived in California since 1898, and moved to Lancaster from Anaheim in 1917.

She is survived by three daughters and four sons—10 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Her daughters are Mrs. John Boege of this city, Mrs. Mary English of Santa Ana, and Mrs. Burley of Lancaster. The sons are Carl Jacobson, Lancaster; Emil Jacobson, El Monte; Dr. Rudy Jacobson, Los Angeles; and John Jacobson, Garden Grove. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. C. W. Raney, Santa Ana, and Mrs. Bertha Denhard, Iowa.

The Rev. H. G. Schmelzer, retired pastor of Zion Lutheran church, will conduct funeral services Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Backs, Campbell and Kaulbars chapel. Burial will be in Fairhaven cemetery.

EDWARD M. MARCY, 75, died Tuesday in Pasadena where he had lived for a number of years following his retirement from active service in the U. S. Treasury department. He was a native of Erie, Ill., but had lived in California for the past 18 years.

Surviving members of the family are two sons, Eugene E. Marcy and Kenneth L. Marcy of Los Angeles, a sister, Mrs. Hattie Greene of Pasadena, and three grandchildren.

Mr. Marcy was a member of the Masonic lodge of Oak Park, Ill., and Anaheim Masons will conduct graveside rites tomorrow afternoon in Anaheim cemetery, where he will be interred in the family plot beside his wife who died in 1941. Hexed Yardbirds Enliven USO Here

Hypnotism made a hilarious evening at the USO in Santa Ana this week. Pvt. Sam Reiss of HQ & HQ Sqdn., former professional hypnotist, demonstrated that art for GI's and their girl friends.

One private, hypnotized and told he was President Roosevelt, made a ringing political speech. He promised for all better for all squadrons, on tap in the barracks. He abolished KP for all post personnel.

Another private, under the spell, was able to remember the name of the first girl he ever kissed, although he could not recall before or after hypnosis. He reported that her name was "Jeanie." A GI was told he was Clark Gable, and one of the girls was led to believe she was Hedy Lamar.

At the close of the demonstration Pvt. Reiss gave a brief talk on hypnotism, discussing it as a serious science and an aid in the treatment of certain mental and physical disorders.

IN THE SCRAP
This country's 8,000 Chevrolet dealers, as a portion of their contribution to the war program, have collected to date more than 120 million pounds of scrap metals, sufficient to build 20 more submarines, six destroyers and a cruiser for Uncle Sam.

Scion of Pioneer Family Dies In Los Angeles

Miss Sophie Rimpau has returned to her home, 309 South Palm street, from Los Angeles where she was called by the sudden death on Saturday night of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ben Rimpau of Laguna Beach.

Mrs. Rimpau was in Los Angeles for a short visit with her daughter, Mrs. Vincent Reusch, and was stricken suddenly after a happy day of her usual activities. Funeral services were conducted Tuesday morning by Father O'Toole and burial was at Hollywood Mausoleum.

The Rimpau family has been prominent in the history of the Southland, and the late Ben Rimpau was the son of pioneer residents, Theodore Rimpau and Frances Avila de Rimpau, owners of a large Spanish land grant. The original Avila adobe home still stands on Olvera street in Los Angeles.

It was the sad duty of Mrs. Reusch to send a cablegram to her

Filling Stations Can't Give Credit

Developments of the new gas rationing program which many motorists will receive with a certain amount of dismay, relate to the credit extended by various dealers and service station proprietors.

First intimation of the new order was the notice given by different oil companies that credit cards had been discontinued upon order of the petroleum administrator. Yesterday service stations were notified to withdraw all credit to customers, so that drivers accustomed to having both their batteries and their gas bills charged, henceforth will have to pay cash on the dot.

RETURN TO ARMY
Ted Williams, in the employ of his brother, Howard M. ("Curly") Williams of Curly's Cafe on East Center street, left Wednesday to report at Monterey for U. S. Army service. He had previously been in the Army but was released about a year ago.

Rain Washes Out "Victory Day"

Today's rain dampened more than the garments of those who were caught without umbrellas. It put a wet blanket on Anaheim's plans for celebration of "Victory Day" with a gala program to further War Bond sales.

The program of short talks and music under direction of Paul Demaree, was to include a visit to this city of the Victory House Mobile unit and sales staff, provided by Standard Oil company. Mayor Charles Pearson and other prominent citizens planning the day, had hoped to top the sales made yesterday in Fullerton. For the Victory House visited Fullerton yesterday and citizens bought war bonds to extent of $76,389. However, according to Legion Commander K. B. Rigby, a member of the Anaheim committee, this city has no complaint on the fact that the program had to be canceled. The rain more than compensates for the change in plans.
