In and About "The Orange Capitol of the World"

Some of the states are rising up against the silly idea of daylight saving time and turning their clocks back to the old standard time that operates with the sun. For quite a few million years all animals that inhabit the earth, including humans, have operated by the sun, even before clocks were invented. Without a clock to go by all animal life knows when to go to sleep and when to get up and when to stop to rest, merely by observing the sun. But after all these years some bureaucrat in Washington, who couldn't regulate the sun, tried to change the habits of nature inherent in the people. Now, they are getting fed up on the idea and are taking the matter in their own hands and turning their clocks back. Statistics prove that most traffic accidents occur in the evening twilight hour, so with many more millions of people going to and from work on the highways the daylight saving idea created an equally hazardous hour in the morning. Much more electricity is used than formerly as people arise an hour early by the sun, and as far as anybody that I know of has been able to figure out, the whole scheme of daylight saving has been a failure. I hope that all of the states will ignore the official order and turn their clocks back to common sense time so we can work and sleep and eat normally again.

For many years Arthur Brisbane pleaded with the railroads to improve their service by double tracking, running lighter and faster trains much more often, and doing a lot of those things that it appeared to him the railroads would have to do, but which they did not see fit to do. Whether their failure to heed Brisbane's advice caused it or not, busses, airplanes and private cars had taken a big share of their passenger business by the beginning of the war. Now, due to the war, transportation facilities are being taxed and post-war plans are being made to improve travel service, by the railroads, bus companies, most of which the railroads own, and air lines, which the railroads probably own or will own in due course of time. Rail transportation has been largely responsible for the development of this country and it is not to be expected that they will be found asleep at the switch during the next decade which will bring many marvels to the realm of transportation

"Governmen officials have admitted that farmers need more money and have provided subsidy payments as a sop, which farmers oppose in principle. They want fair prices for their products, not doles from the public treasury. . . ."—Fred H. Sexauer, President, Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, Inc.

About 35 years ago, according to statistics given out at that time, 75 per cent of the people were living on farms and only 25 per cent in the cities and towns. Now they say, the figures are exactly reversed and only 25 per cent of the population of this country live on the farms. This is due to a lot of reasons and developments, including the present war, but still we are producing more than we ever produced before. Now, they also say, that one-half of our present food production is being sent to feed foreign countries, and that one-fourth of the people engaged in agriculture could produce more than this country needs. This of course means by using improved methods and machinery that will be available when the war is over. A majority of the people will apparently have to turn to making mechanical gadgets, mostly of a labor-saving nature which will in turn soon create another "pool" of potential time, or productive man-hours. All the stress is now being centered on creating jobs after the war and it looks like every job created will eliminate the need for manpower. When you try to figure it out you come back to the question, is the dog chasing his tail, or is the tail chasing the dog? I don't know anybody except the Technocrats who have any idea what it's all about. The trouble is when a theory or plan is advanced that makes horse sense, nobody wants to understand it.

There is much criticism of the practice of "tipping," since in a lot of cases the tips received by employees amount to the greater part of their salary. Some hotels and other catering places pay living wages and forbid their employees to accept tips. I once knew a state senator who introduced an anti-tipping bill in the legislature. What became of his bill I do not know, but I happened to live at the same hotel where he stayed at the state capitol and I noticed he always ate at the same place at the same table. The waitress at that table was easy on the eyes and the senator who wanted to out-law tipping always left a quarter by his plate when he finished his meal. You can get an idea of the amount of money involved in the tipping business from an instance that happen in Tulsa. A chain cigar store operator offered a Tulsa hotel $1,000 a month for a small space in the lobby where he proposed to operate a free hat checking stand. The plan was to hire pretty girls for about $10 a week to tend the stand, and they were to put their tips in the "kitty" for the house. That was during the oil boom, but the hotel management turned the offer down. They already had a hat checking stand, which probably wasn't doing so bad.

Will Rogers always said that our ancestors met the Mayflower. I don't know whether any Cherokees ranged that far north at that time or not. My immediate Cherokee ancestors came from Tennessee, Georgia and Kentucky, and my opinion is that some Britisher by the name of Proctor who may have come over on the Mayflower, probably got kicked out of camp and wandered south where he became involved with a Cherokee female and started a new family that carried the name. Today there are more full-blood Cherokees by the name of Proctor in Delaware county, Oklahoma, than any other name.

Special Federal Census To Be Taken In Orange County

Representatives of the United States Bureau of the Census have arrived in Los Angeles to conduct a special wartime census of the Los Angeles area, including Los Angeles and Orange counties.

The census, which will be organized and conducted during the next two months, is being taken at the request of President Roosevelt's Committee for Congested Production Areas.

Elijah B. Lewis, Field Representative of the U. S. Census Bureau, will be in charge of the census. Maxwell L. Johnston and Benjamin J. Tepping, from the Washington headquarters of the Census Bureau, will assist Mr. Lewis. They will work in cooperation with Herbert C. Legg, Los Angeles area representative of the Committee for Congested Production Areas, whose office is located in the Western Pacific Building.

The information collected in the special census will be used by the Committee for Congested Production Areas and by many Federal agencies, including the War Production Board, the War Manpower Commission, the Federal Works Agency, the National Housing Administration, the office of Civilian Requirements, and others, in planning for and determining the needs of the Los Angeles area for increased allotments of food supplies, clothing, and other necessities, which are based upon latest population statistics.

As one of the most seriously congested areas in the country, Los Angeles and Orange counties are confronted with many problems requiring the joint attention of Federal, State and local governmental authorities. Because of the unusual conditions under which the population of this area has reached swollen proportions, normal methods of estimating the number of residents in the two counties have not provided a satisfactory result. For this reason, the Committee for Congested Production Areas enlisted the services of the Bureau of the Census in collecting the facts needed as a basis for allocations and future planning.

Three Anaheimers Enjoy Reunion In Far-Off Virginia

Different roads taken by three Anaheim members of the nation's military forces, converged recently in Norfolk, Va., when Robert H. Easton of the U. S. Naval Reserve, now stationed at Camp Peary, Va., took opportunity to call upon WAVE Barbara Heying and Capt. Dale Quarton. Easton's present mailing address is R. H. Easton, M. M. 2, USNR, Plat. 5, Co. D, Area 8A, Camp Peary. Mrs. Easton is living at 208 East Surf avenue, Balboa.

Miss Heying, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar W. Heying, 514 North Clementine street, is stationed at Norfolk where her WAVE classification is pharmacist mate 2/c.

Capt. Quarton holds the important post of manager of new Naval construction at the Norfolk Navy yard, and has been in active service for the past 21 years. He is the son of Mrs. W. P. Quarton of North Lemon street. His wife and small daughter and son, Sally and Billy, are with him in Norfolk.

Chamber Officials Attend Luncheon With Harbor Group

President Oscar W. Heying and Secretary Ross Lee Laird of Anaheim Chamber of Commerce were among officials of similar organizations of the county who on Monday accepted invitation of President W. M. Longmoor of Newport Harbor chamber, to lunch with his organization at Newport Harbor Yacht club.

Program features were confined mainly to Longmoor's report on harbor development of the past decade. Original plans were to take the visiting officials on a boat trip over the harbor that they might see for themselves what had been accomplished since the federal government project was instituted in 1933.

But the high winds that whipped the Southland coast early in the week caused the postponement of this plan until better weather.

Anaheim Stores Not 'Backing Attack'--They're Making It!

When Anaheim's Third Army, the retail merchants' division of the Fourth War Bond Drive, makes its final report Mr. Tojo, the "Terror of Tokyo," will have to amend his recent speech to the Japanese people to read something like this: "So velly sorree. 'Melican people pull dirty sneak and put over top bond war. Me make bad guess. White trash velly rich, Emeny got full belly, Japanese he starve." Or words to that effect.

Or, in other words, the all-out War Bond Drive is now in full swing and with 400-odd of Anaheim's retail store owners and their clerks, making up the famous and undefeatable Third Army, now on the march this city cannot and will not fail to make its quota and more before the deadline is reached.

Truman Stuard, head of the retail merchants division of the chamber of commerce, is directing the store clerks' bond campaign and headquarters have been opened in the USO rooms on West Center street. Miss Patty Dillon will be on duty daily to answer questions, handle the publicity and keep a record of the reports made by the block captains.

All store employees are devoting more of their time to selling bonds than to the sale of merchandise and each employee is given a rating according to his or her bond sale record. All clerks start as Buck Privates and are advanced as their sales climb to private firstclass, corporal, sergeant, and on through the list of army rank designations.

Block captains have been appointed who will supervise certain areas and assist the clerks in their districts and instruct them in sales technique.

Captain Lee Fabin and Capt. Mabel Masterson are in command of the 100 block on West Center street.

Captain Preston D. Lake and Capt. J. Hansel are the commanders over the 200 block on West Center street.

The 300 block on West Center is under the command of Capt. Robt. H. Boney and Capt. W. W. Martinet.

Capt. J. Eager is the commanding officer for the 100 block on East Center street.

Capt. E. H. W. Barnes will direct the work in the 200 block on East Center, east from the Bank of America.

Capt. Ray Reafsnyder is in command of the 100 and 200 blocks on North Los Angeles street.

Capt. Warren Ashleigh has command of the North Los Angeles street extension and the northeast section of the business district.

Bond buyers may help their favorite clerks to gain promotions by making their purchases from them. Each clerk is equipped with the proper books and receipts and all bonds will be issued and returned promptly to the buyers.

The following list of stores' personnel was prepared for the press by Secretary Patty Dillon:

Heying's Pharmacy—J. E. Johnson, Mamie Harrison, Virginia Gatewood.

Citrus Fruit Association Now Ready For Coming Season

Having completed the first year of its second half-century of continuous operation, Anaheim Citrus Fruit association is now prepared to launch upon its 52nd year of activity under the staff of officers headed by D. L. Harpster, elected to the presidency at the annual meeting.

V. C. Meyer, retiring president who now assumes a place on the board of directors, presided over the session, an all-day event held in social rooms of White Temple Methodist church. Officers named to serve with President Harpster were D. Jerry Youngs, vice-president; Glenn A. Hipes, secretary-manager; Burt Frederick Zaiser, assistant secretary; with J. J. Dwyer, Francis W. Elliott, Newel Christensen, V. C. Meyer, S. C. Hartranft and F. C. Edwards completing the directorate.

Anaheim Bank of America will continue to act in the capacity of treasurer.

Election, annual reports, short talks and all the varied matters of business had pleasant interruption by the turkey dinner served at mid-day by women of the host church. The afternoon business session conducted by Retiring President Meyer, opened with a report on the year's operations, presented by Secretary-Manager Hipes.

The year just ending, as shown by this report, was outstanding in the fact that it gave the growers the largest net per acre return in the history of the association. One other year was noted in which the return per box was higher, but since the yield in acreage was not so great, it did not exceed the past year in volume of business.

Various short talks added interest to the afternoon session. F. R. Wilcox of Los Angeles, assistant manager of California Fruit Growers' Exchange discussed price ceilings and related topics. Wilcox is frequently called to Washington for governmental conferences, and usually presides over conferences held there with representatives of Florida and Texas shippers.

A. H. Kirchman, manager of North Orange County Fruit exchange, discussed matters related to operations of the past year, prices, shortage of materials, etc. The principal subject for George Graham, manager of Citrus Growers. Inc., was the working out of plans to bring Mexican Nationals in for harvesting the orange crop. The plan, first put into effect last year, will be repeated this year it was pointed out, with perhaps an even greater number of Nationals to be imported.

Anaheim Citrus was among the houses subscribing to the arrangement and is planning to follow the same procedure this year. This association is the oldest of its kind in Anaheim, and the second oldest in Orange county. Founded more than 51 years ago, it still has a number of its original members.

Anaheim Union To Hold Stockholders' Meeting Saturday

For the first time in 22 years the stockholders of the Anaheim Union Water company, pioneer Orange county irrigation project, will hold an annual meeting and election of officers at the company's offices at Center and Philadelphia streets. During all of these years the elected officers have held over and when vacancies occurred successors were appointed by the board of directors.

At the meeting this Saturday, January 29, the stockholders, numbering about 600, will in person or by proxy, elect, or re-elect, a full set of officers, besides being called upon to name a new superintendent. Supt. Wm. T. Wallop, who has held that position for 25 years, after serving as secretary for seven years, has resigned his post, effective January 31.

Leo J. Sheridan, the present efficient secretary, has served in that capacity for a quarter century.

John C. Tuffree is president, and J. H. Beatty, vice president. Board members are A. H. Beazley, Roy L. Hale, J. H. Beatty, Edward P. Backs, J. C. Tuffree, and F. B. Callan.

OFFICERS NAMED FOR CITRUS HOUSE

Yorba Linda Citrus association will be headed during 1944 by Selmar M. Rosedale, elected at the recent reorganization meeting of the board of directors. Two changes made on the board were George Hoyt Corbit and Bert Shaw, named to replace S. L. Marshburn and Jean Nougue, senior members.

Officers to serve with Rosedale were named as H. J. May and Herbert Warren, first and second vice-presidents; Avalon A. Adams, secretary-manager; Don Frisbee, assistant secretary, and Ralph Phillips, representative on the board of Northern Orange County Citrus exchange.

War Bond Committee Plans Conference For 7:30 Tonight

Various methods of pushing the Fourth War Bond campaign in this city will be considered tonight when members of the Anaheim War Bond committee respond to a call of Chairman Paul H. Demaree for a conference to be held at 7:30 in Chamber of Commerce board room.

On this committee with Demaree are Truman Stuard, representing the retail merchants' division of the chamber of commerce; Mrs. LeRoy E. ("Tex") Middleton, representing women's organizations; Ross Lee Laird; Oscar W. Heying, Lotus H. Loudon, Al DeWitt, William Wallop, Lee Deming, Robert H. Boney, O. E. Hanson, Wilson W. Phelps, F. A. Yungbluth, Harry C. Arthur, Charles H. Mann, Elden R. Deering, Fred Robins, Francis Elliott, Richard Clowes and Henry Baxter.

Anaheim's quota in War Bond sales has been set at $1,500,000, the same that was assigned the city in the Third War Bond drive. Chairman Demaree is convinced that the obligation will be met, although he will have no definite figures as to bond purchases before next Monday.

On Monday of each week throughout the campaign, Demaree will receive reports from banks, building and loan associations, and all issuing agencies, on sales of the preceding week.

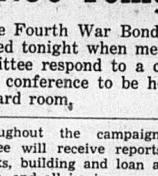

Splendid aid is being given by individual workers, including sales staffs of the city's retail stores, banded together as the Third Army, and working for promotion from the rank of private, to non-commissioned and commissioned officers. Mrs. Middleton's women's division is also doing yeoman service, and will set up booths in various down-town locations, for the sale of stamps and bonds.

Nearly four million citrus trees had to be destroyed in Florida and other gulf states to eradicate the disease, citrus canker, introduced in 1911 on orange trees from Japan.

To the People of this Community

KILL OR BE KILLED

United States Marines paid the stiffest price in human life per square yard for the capture of Tarawa, vital Pacific outpost.

It was kill or be killed. Your boys did not flinch when they ran into the deadliest firepower along the beaches of this important Gilbert Island stronghold.

This assault, bloody and costly, is one of the many which must be made before Tokyo and Berlin are pounded into dust and ashes.

What are you doing to back up the boys? Remember these are boys from this very community, perhaps from your very home. Any home in your neighborhood which today does not display the Treasury's red, white and blue 4th War Loan Shield proclaiming "We bought Extra Bonds" is not backing the attack. Every Extra War Bond you buy becomes a direct fighter against Japan and Germany. If you could but see one man die on the battlefield, you would not count the cost of your slight sacrifices to buy Extra War Bonds to make each succeeding assault less costly in the lives of our boys.

You can't afford NOT to buy Extra Bonds in the 4th War Loan if you would help these boys.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God." This verse from I John will be the Golden Text in Sunday's lesson-sermon on "Love" in all brances of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

A Bible citation from Acts tells of Paul's experience when shipwrecked on Malta. The account relates that "when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heat, and fastened on his hand." The barbarians thought him a murderer "whom, though he hath escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffereth not to live." When Paul "shook off the beast into the fire, and felt no harm" they "changed their minds, and said that he was a god." Afterward Paul healed "the father of Publius," who "lay sick of a fever and . . . others also, . . . came, and were healed."

Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "The divine Love, which made harmless the poisonous viper, which delivered men from the boiling oil, from the fiery furnace, from the jaws of the lion, can heal the sick in every age and triumph over sin and death.

Orange Properties Change Ownership

Recorded as the first change in ownership in two well-known orange properties of the Yorba Linda area since original subdivision of the tract, was revealed this week, when two orange grove sales were made in that area.

In escrow is the deal whereby Avalon A. Adams, secretary-manager of Yorba Linda Citrus association, will acquire the George Harriman lemon and orange property at Lemon drive and Lakeview avenue. Harriman is the famous cartoonist, creator of the "Krazy Kat" comic strip.

In the other transaction, W. B. and Helen Cameron of Los Angeles, sold a 10-acre orange grove at Orange drive and Valley View avenue to L. R. Julian of Maywood.

Greyhound buses serve Camp Elliott, San Diego, and other Marine training centers, as well as Marine bases from coast to coast. Other special services are also performed by Greyhound, often on a moment's notice. For example, buses are often requisitioned from regular schedules to transfer wounded between hospitals. Annual Meeting of Fourth District P.-T.A. Gives Prominence to Anaheim Women

With this city providing the programmed speaker, one of the new officers, two surprised recipients of life membership, and three winners in the Membership poster contest, last Thursday's annual business meeting and Founders' Day observance of Fourth District, congress of Parents and Teachers might well have been termed "Anaheim Day."

The meeting was held according to custom, in Santa Ana YMCA with Mrs. W. A. Griffits of Laguna Beach presiding. In the business session, Mrs. Griffits was returned to the presidency, while the post of recording secretary came to Mrs. Irwin G. North of this city.

Of the seven vice-presidents headed by Mrs. Arthur Sipherd of Orange, four were from Santa Ana, Mesdames Dale Pickering, F. B. Power, Edward Milligan and C. M. Gilbert. The others were Mrs. Tom Murphine, Jr., Laguna Beach, and Mrs. Claude Crosby, Garden Grove.

Mrs. Herman Benningsdorf, Huntington Beach, was named treasurer; Mrs. Robert Korff, Tustin, auditor, and Mrs. Marshall Burke, Tustin, historian. Parliamentarian and corresponding secretary will be appointed.

Mrs. R. W. Marvin, one of Anaheim's most active workers in the association, a past district president and present radio chairman for the state association, was principal speaker on the morning program.

Tracing the development of the association since its organization in Washington, D. C., she discussed ideals of the founders, and the manner in which they have been applied in the steady onward progress through the years.

It was also Mrs. Marvin's privilege to present one of the life memberships as a happy surprise to Miss Elenora A. Parker, one of the Anaheim "Founders" and a former member of the teaching profession here.

In acknowledging the signal honor paid her, Miss Parker spoke briefly on some of the early founders of the local work, including Miss E. Kate Rea and the late Mrs. Lemon.

The second life membership came as an equally happy surprise to Mrs. Pamelia H. Mills and presentation was made by Mrs. B. E. Baumbach, president of Anaheim high school P.-T. A.

When announcements were made of winners in the poster contest, Fremont school rated two winners, Virginia Sowder and Wanda Culpepper, taking first and second place in the junior high school division, while Richard Arnold of Horace Mann school, was first in the elementary school division.

This city's several associations were well represented, for those present in addition to Mrs. Marvin, Mrs. North, Mrs. Baumbach, Miss Parker and Mrs. Mills were Mesdames Milton Sell, Leo J. Friis, C. O. Watters, Herbert Messersmith, Dean Aiken, Lee Rogers, John P. Mary, H. H. Wallace and E. S. Simon.

Theater Party Plan Is Enjoyed By Birthday Guests

Sharing the joys of her ninth birthday anniversary with a bevy of her friends, little Miss Barbara Ann Horn, daughter of the Harry I. Horns, 558 South Ohio street, planned a matinee party for Saturday afternoon, the day before her anniversary.

Barbara Ann's invitation list included Mary Cone, Barbara Simonton, Donna Lynn Stuard, Shirley Pannier, Ann Clowes, and Dorothy Jean Kuchel, but the prevalent "flu" kept one or two of the little maids from enjoying the birthday merriment.

However, all voted a theater party quite a success, and were no less enthusiastic about the fun of ordering what they wished in the line of refreshments at the drug store counter, as finale to the picture show.

Yeoman Edwardson returned only recently from several months' active service with the Coast Guard in the South Pacific. He is an alumnus of Valencia high school and Fullerton junior college. His fiancee is majoring in English at Glendale junior college.

No date has yet been announced for the wedding of the young couple.

Best-Seller Author Appears Before Ebell Book Section

To Ebell Book section members came an experience seldom afforded to any but large club groups, when on Monday afternoon they were privileged to hear an author discuss his own book—one that nears the head of book lists all over the country.

The author was Louis Danz, former Anaheim resident who now lives in Santa Ana, and the book was his widely discussed novel of youth, "It is Still the Morning."

Preceding introduction of the speaker was a friendly social hour during which Mrs. R. W. Dickenson, Mrs. Harold G. Harling and Mrs. H. W. Saulsbery served delicious little home-made cup cakes with tea.

After a gracious introduction by Mrs. C. W. Austin, section leader, Mr. Danz explained his reasons for writing his first novel as an effort to provide a refreshing contrast to the all-prevalent war theme. To do this, he explained, he refrained even from mentioning names of cities that might recall the war.

Paris, the one-time Mecca of every ambitious artist, and where "Georgie," the leading character in his book eventually studies, is presented as "the city where almost everybody likes paintings." London is the "big city" and New York the "business city" for the purposes of identification.

According to the author's admission, every word in the book was studied in an attempt to maintain simplicity amounting almost to the much discussed "basic English"; each character introduced was handled as a recurrent theme in a musical composition, and furthermore every effort was made to maintain the refreshing naivete of youth. For as the unforgettable grandfather in the book states, "When you are no longer a child, you are already dead."

Answering any possible or implied criticism of the book's frankness, the author pointed out that every experience that came to "Georgie" was within the compass of any youth, and that in portraying "Sonia," the eventual fine and lasting influence in Georgies life, he purposely made her seem a little cold and remote, but "infinitely tolerant."

Those in the audience familiar with the book were given new appreciation of its qualities, while those not yet fortunate enough to have read it, were inspired with a wish to do so immediately.

Writing Club Finds Interest in Play By Anaheim Member

Mrs. Maynard R. Thompson, 526 South Illinois street, who is identified with Quill Pen club, a writing group with members in this city, Orange and Santa Ana, aroused much interest at the meeting Tuesday night by her one-act play, "Der Fuehrer's Son."

The timely theme of Spartan motherhood combatting the Nazi influence was developed in a dramatic manner that was warmly praised by club members. Mrs. Blanche Smail Brown, well known among Business and Professional Women's club and insurance circles of this city, was hostess to the group in her Santa Ana home.

Repatriate Speaker Will Address General Ebell Club

Monday, February 7 will be the date of the next general meeting of Ebell club, and a fine program has been arranged under direction of Mrs. C. M. Wethered, program chairman, who will introduce as speaker, the internationally famous tennis champion, Philip Harmon.

But local interest in Harmon's appearance is not based on his skill as a tennis player, but on the remarkable adventures in the orient, to which that skill led him. For because of his fame, the Chinese Relief committee asked him to stage exhibition matches as a benefit for the committee's work, and in 1941 he left for China to participate in such matches.

In Hongkong, he enlisted with the British Volunteers, so has the distinction of being the first American to enter the war against the Japanese. He was eventually arrested by the Japs upon charges of being a spy; was beaten into unconsciousness and finally sent to an internment camp where he was required to teach tennis to Japanese officers.

He was offered a fabulous sum to go to Tokyo to broadcast opinions favorable to the Japanese, and his refusal to listen to such advances makes it seem all the more remarkable that he was finally permitted to become one of the exchange prisoners returning to the United States on one of the Gripsholm's voyages.

Such experiences, in both China and Japan, will be the chief theme of his address before Ebell members. Lending interest to his appearance is the fact that his book, "Hellions of Hirohito," will soon be off the press.

Ebell members will meet for their monthly luncheon at 12:30 o'clock, after which the president, Mrs. Paul H. Demaree, will conduct a short business meeting in advance of the program features.

Guild Members Give Evening Over To Altruistic Work

St. Agnes Guild members of St. Michael's Episcopal church shared the hospitality of the Theodore B. Kuchel home at their January meeting Monday night, when Mrs. Kuchel was joined in hostess duties by Mesdames Dana Newkirk and Ethel Caverley.

The three had planned a tempting dessert course which was served as prelude to the program of business and altruistic work.

Miss Adah Wilcox, directress, presided over the business session during which Mrs. Foster Warwick was welcomed to membership. One guest, Mrs. Earl Dahlman, was introduced.

Plans for a program were abandoned in favor of working on quilt squares to be made up for Army and Navy hospitals. The work was done under direction of Mrs. G. P. Goodrich, the guild's social service chairman.

Because of the illness of St. Michael's rector, the Rev. D. Howard Dow, the guild's corporate communion originally set for this coming Sunday as nearest date to that of St. Agnes, the patron saint, was postponed until a date to be announced later.

Mrs. Robert J. Rossberg, 330 South Indiana street, will receive the guild at its next meeting on February 28.

Lieutenant in Air Forces Wins His Wings And Charming Bride Within Same Week

Winning his wings at Douglas Field, Ariz., on January 7 and four days later winning a charming bride in the person of Miss Vera Louise Tinkar of Whittier, were some of the exciting events that the month held for Lieut. James B. Edmiston Jr., son of the Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Brown home on Loara road at Manchester blvd.

Lieut. Edmiston, who was granted a furlough immediately upon completion of his training at Douglas Field, arrived for a visit here in his boyhood home. The wedding which followed so shortly, was an afternoon event of Tuesday, Jan. 11 in the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lindley, on Ball road.

Amidst a flower setting arranged by Mrs. Lindley, the young people took their wedding vows in a double ring ceremony conducted by the Rev. E. A. Griffith of Whittier.

Miss Tinkar, given in marriage by her father, Orval Tinkar of Whittier, wore a spray of orchids with her modish tailleur in light brown pin-stripe, with other dress accessories in a slightly deeper shade of brown.

There were no attendant's for the young people, and guests were confined to members of the two families and a few intimate friends.

After an interval of congratulations and good wishes, the newlyweds made a pretty ceremony of cutting the first slice from the big wedding cake, which Mrs. Lindley had baked and decorated for her brother and his bride. It was placed on a flower-decorated table beneath swaying wedding bells, and was served with ices and coffee.

Lieut. Edmiston and his bride spent a few days' honeymoon up in the mountains before the former's departure for Albuquerque. The new Mrs. Edmiston plans to leave next Monday to join him there. She is a graduate of Whittier high school and her bridegroom graduated from Anaheim Union high school.

He spent two years in San Diego with Consolidated Aircraft company prior to his enlistment with the AAF. His subsequent training has been at Santa Ana Army Air Base, Chico, King City and Douglas fields, and he will now have his bombardier training at Albuquerque.

Guests at the wedding included with the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tinkar of Whittier and Mr. and Mrs. Brown, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Lindley, the bridegroom's brother, Paul Edmiston, and Lieut. and Mrs. Al Criss of this city; the Rev. E. A. Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Estabrook, Mrs. Connie Cannon and Mrs. Julie Anderson of Whittier.

No. County YMCA Names Officers At Annual Meeting

Election of George Plumb of Yorba Linda to the presidency of North Orange county YMCA was one of the features of the 24th annual meeting of that organization last Thursday night in Brea Women's clubhouse.

In taking over his duties, Plumb succeeded Dr. William H. Wickett of Fullerton, who has served as president of the board for the past 14 years. Dr. Wickett accepted a vice-presidency as did Irvin Chapman. Other officers named were Ross Hodson of La Habra, secretary, and A. A. McCormick, Fullerton, treasurer.

E. C. Basten, Placentia, was chairman of the nominating committee. Board members-at-large were named as Irvin Chapman, the Rev. Ray Ragsdale, Harlan Gowen, and Dr. Wickett. Unanimous action taken by the 180 persons in attendance, resulted in the election of C. C. Chapman as president emeritus of the northern county organization.

Chapman, a pioneer YMCA worker in both county and state, was the third man in California to receive the Pacific Southwest arear's honorary medal as "pioneer pre-eminent."

Guest speaker of the evening was Major Theodore R. Leen, Army chaplain who is executive officer of the chaplain's division at Santa Ana headquarters of the AAFWFTC. In developing his subject, "The Church's Ministry to the Armed Forces," he declared that it was the chaplain's responsibility to mould the attitude, conscience and conduct of the men who come out of the war.

After an interval when the work of various Hi-Y club organizations was reported by representatives of such groups, the YMCA camp work was illustrated by color motion pictures taken last summer at Camp Osceola.

Lieut.-Com. Mattis Returns Soon To Ferry Command

With the termination of his present leave, Lieut.-Com. Jack Mattis of the U. S. Naval Reserve will leave on Feb. 4 for LeGuardia Field, New York City, for his next assignment as master pilot with the U. S. Ferrying Command.

Lieut.-Com. and Mrs. Mattis arrived a fortnight ago for a visit with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Mattis, 861 South Palm street. Mrs. Jack Mattis plans to remain for a more extended visit here since her husband will no doubt leave immediately upon his arrival in the east, for one of the long trips of his command.

These trips follow more or less established routes from the United States to Lisbon and Ireland, to Africa and Brazil. As lieutenant-commander in the USNR, the Anaheim pilot was assigned several years ago to work with the Pan-American.

He has been with the Naval Reserve for the past 15 years, training at Pensacola, Fla., after completing studies at University of Southern California. He is a graduate of Anaheim Union high school and Fullerton junior college. The junior Mrs. Mattis is an attractive Virginia girl who has made many warm friends on former visits here in her husband's boyhood home.

Lieut.-Com. Mattis is one of two hero sons of the home. His brother "Mike" as he is known to countless friends here, is Lieut.-Col. Michael Mattis of the U. S. Army and is now stationed down in the Pacific area. He exchanged the gold leaves of a major for the silver of his new rank, several months ago.

Lieut-Col. "Mike" Mattis also went through Anaheim schools and is an alumnus of Occidental college. He held a captaincy in National Guard prior to enlistment with the U. S. Army. His officer training was taken at Fort Benning, Ga. His wife was the former Catherine Monteyohl of this city.

Ross Lee Laird Is Impromptu Speaker At Lions Club

When the program chairman for the day failed to show up with his program at last Friday's Lions club meeting, Ross Lee Laid, secretary of the chamber of commerce who was attending the meeting as a guest, was called upon and entertained the Lions with some interesting accounts of his experiences while working as a special investigator with the district attorney's office at Chicago.

It developed that Tom Dewey, the New York prosecutor who became a presidential candidate four years ago, began his career after leaving law school as an understudy in Mr. Laird's office in Chicago.

Another impromptu entertainer was Carlyle Vickers, who covers the 11 western states as representative of the Holstein Association of America, and who was a guest of Joe Gilmer. He gave some interesting sidelights on the dairy situation, as it finds itself under war conditions.

Bill Jewett, president of the Fullerton club, was a guest of Warren Ashleigh.

Frank Tausch, in charge of programs for January, announced that Jim Davies, district attorney, would be the speaker this Friday.

Several members of the club, including President Fran Elliott and Secretary Wayne Griggs, attended the annual meeting of Lions clubs at Fresno last week. Dr. John Boege acted as chairman in the absence of the president.

Despite increased costs in all phases of the citrus industry during the past season, the combined cost of marketing and advertising by the California Fruit Growers Exchange was only 2.56 per cent of total sales.

Brothers In Navy Will Meet In New York City

A letter received Tuesday by Mrs. Anna Minder, 211 East Alberta street, from her son, Lieut. (jg) Gordon Minder, gave her an account of his graduation last week from the Naval School of Mining Warfare, at Norfolk, Va., and that he expects early assignment to captain one of the Navy's mine sweepers.

Lieut. Minder and his wife, a former San Francisco girl, were to leave Norfolk at once for Boston where he will await his assignment. He entered the Navy with the background of graduation from the University at Berkeley and from Berkeley School of Law. He was stationed in the Aleutians for a year, returning only last September to enter upon his studies at Norfolk.

En route to Boston, Lieut. and Mrs. Minder were to stop in New York City for a visit with the former's brother, Lieut. (jg) Howard Minder and his wife, the former Bebe Quarton, daughter of the Robert O. Quartons, 215 Melrose street.

Lieut. Howard Minder has been in New York for over a year now and is expected to be transferred at an early date to the San Diego Naval base. He is an alumnus of University of Chicago where he majored in business administration and accounting.

Both brothers enlisted first in the Naval Reserve where both were commissioned as ensigns.

Golden Wedding Happy Observance In Minister's Home

Several happy surprises today awaited Mr. and Mrs. Otto Puchert of 307 North Pauline street, when they accepted an invitation to the home of their pastor, the Rev. H. G. Dymmel, and Mrs. Dymmel at 310 South Lemon street.

For they found assembled there, many friends of long association in Bethel Baptist church, all gathered together at the invitation of the Rev. and Mrs. Dymmel, to enjoy an "Old Folks' party," and aid Mr. and Mrs. Puchert in a happy celebration of their golden wedding day.

An informal program was worked out, with the Rev. Mr. Dymmel expressing congratulations of his church; John Krenzler speaking on behalf of the board of deacons, and Mrs. Dymmel speaking for the Women's Missionary society groups.

Culminating the interesting talks was the presentation of appropriate gifts to the golden wedding pair, followed by the serving of refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Puchert came to this community from Iowa, and for many years Mr. Puchert has been connected with the city's park system. While in Iowa, he had the interesting experience of membership in the Amana society, a religious organization developed on the communal plan.

135 Men Required On Feb. 5 List of Selectees

This has been a busy week at Selective Service Board headquarters in the city hall. For Clerk Glen Peck and his aides have had to get out letters to exactly 135 young men, notifying them that they are to respond to draft call on Saturday, Feb. 5.

This is the second call of 1944 under the new ruling which requires the men to report at Los Angeles headquarters for physical examinations. There were 115 in the first call. Many pre-Pearl Harbor fathers are included on the list.

Total State revenue in 1942-43 was $367,557,197—an increase of $22,113,595 or 6.402%, over that of the preceding fiscal year. Thus, Controller Riley pointed out, revenue in the year ended last June 30 exceeded expenditures by $116,257,425.

MEETING ANNOUNCED FOR NAVY MOTHERS

The Navy Mothers' club meeting to be held Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in Legion clubrooms, will be the usual busy session at which members hope to advance work on their slipper and robe project for the hospital patients at Norco.

These articles are so urgently needed at the hospital that Navy Mothers are asking non-members to aid in making them, especially the slippers. Women who could make a few pairs in leisure hours at home are asked to contact Mrs. Mahalie Bush, 119 East Alberta street, or 'phone her at 4256.

The large number of varieties in the Spanish orange industry is considered to be one of its main handicaps in peacetime world competition with other citrus producing nations.

Buy U.S. WAR BONDS

HOW many times have you heard those words? How many times have you seen them in print? They're the kind of words that gain strength with every repetition—because you know the meaning behind them! You know that it takes money to fight a war: billions of dollars. And you know that that money has to come from each and every one of us—whether we sit behind a desk, stand on an assembly line, or stay at home. So when you see that urge over and over again—"Buy U.S. War Bonds"—you stop to think whether you're really buying all you can. Ten percent of your pay is swell: but maybe there are some non-essentials which you just haven't gotten around to doing without: silly little expenditures that are nothing more than self-indulgences. You know—our boys fighting on land, on sea and in the air—they're not getting any pampering: they're fighting this war with bombs and guns and bayonets—and plenty of them won't come home—their lives are at stake. You're not asked to match that—but every fighting man, and Uncle Sam, asks you to buy more War Bonds!

TAKE YOUR CHANGE in War Savings Stamps—or at least part of it. You'll never miss the small amounts, and you'll be surprised at how quickly you accumulate enough War Savings Stamps to buy another Bond!

Pin-up picture for the man who "can't afford" to buy an extra war bond...

YOU'VE HEARD PEOPLE say: "I can't afford to buy an extra War Bond." Perhaps you've said it yourself ... without realizing what a ridiculous thing it is to say to men who are dying.

The very least that you can do is to buy an extra $100 War Bond ... above and beyond the Bonds you are now buying or had planned to buy. In fact, if you take stock of your resources, you will probably find that you can buy an extra $200 ... or $300 ... or even $500 worth of War Bonds.

Sounds like more than you "can afford"? Well, young soldiers can't afford to die, either ... yet they do it when called upon. So is it too much to ask of us that we invest more of our money in War Bonds ... the best investment in the world today? Is that too much to ask?

CHECK PASSER MUST PAY $100

When Guadalupe Trujillo of San Bernardino passed a fictitious check for $28.45 in an Anaheim cafe last Nov. 22, he probably little thought that the act would cost him $100. But that was the fine set by Judge Kenneth E. Morrison last week in County Superior court.

Judge Morrison placed Trujillo on five years' probation with the proviso that he is to pay $5 a month for the next 20 months to make restitution for the check and cover probationary and court costs.

History of Citrus Industry Related By Rotary Speaker

"History of the Citrus Industry in Orange County" provided Dixson W. Tubbs, county agricultural commissioner, with material for an excellent talk which he addressed to Anaheim Rotarians Monday in Elks club.

Introduced by George N. Magill, program chairman, Tubbs spoke of Father Serra's first travels through the county's sagebrush, and how present prosperity has been entirely dependent upon an adequate water supply. He told too of the first commercial crop of grapes and the destruction of vineyards by the so-called "Anaheim disease," now known as Pierce's disease.

Grapes, apricots and walnuts gradually were replaced by citrus fruits, the first plantings of which were in 1875 in Orange and Tustin districts and the 40-acre Gilman grove in Placentia.

Control of red and purple scale by use of insecticides and development of fumigation in 1889, all had their part in creating the industry he stated. This development has been steady since the first car lot shipment of citrus fruits in 1883 to the present 40-million dollar business. Approximately 76,000 acres are planted to citrus today in comparison with 5,000 acres in 1900, he stated.

The famous freeze of 1913 was the industry's severest blow, but it was instrumental in developing the water separation method of eliminating frozen fruit in packing houses, thereby effecting a tremendous saving.

"While the industry's future seems favorable," Tubbs said in conclusion, "it depends upon both production and buying power and may be influenced by the advent of some new insect pest or disease."

Council Considers Various Details Of City's Business

Anaheim city council at its meeting Tuesday night, awarded fire, theft and comprehensive insurance on the city's automotive fleet and other equipment to the Charles B. Frank company, agents of General Insurance company.

Other business considered included a report of the city's expenditures for the period of Jan. 1 to 15, which totaled $11,185.64.

A request from Anaheim Realty board that it might be represented on the planning commission, was referred to that commission of which Dr. J. G. Hilleary is head and City Engineer E. P. Hapgood is secretary.

Planning commission membership is limited by city ordinance to six, with each member elected to a four-year term. There are also three ex-officio members. At present there are no vacancies on the board.

Council members heard the first reading of Ordinance No. 668, which regulates rendering and similar plants within the city limits. Rendering plants extract glycerine from fats and wastes from local meat markets and from the Army.

No decision was reached regarding the revocation of the license of the Williams Rendering and Packing plant, the matter being held over until next Tuesday night's council session.

Bomber Pilot Tells Of Conflict Over New Britain Island

Transported by the magic of words, Kiwanis club members went in fancy Monday to the Pacific battle area, where led by their speaker, Capt. Eugene Wallace, they went on bombing raids over New Britain and limped home to Port Moresby after an attack by Japanese Zeros.

Capt. Wallace, now in the Air WAC recruiting service, took time from his spirited account of air battles over New Britain, to ask the club members for their moral support of the recruiting of young women in the several branches of Army and Navy service, as a means of releasing men for combat duty.

Combat duty is something with which he is eminently familiar and he gave a graphic account of the attack on an enemy airdrome on New Britain, when the bomber of which he was co-pilot, was forced down about a mile offshore. The six surviving men were helped ashore by friendly natives and fled from village to village in efforts to elude the enemy. One man died from crash injuries and the pilot and bombardier were captured by the Japs, but Capt. Wallace and two comrades eventually were rescued by Australian flyers.

"The cost of this war in American lives is up to those at home," the speaker concluded. "The sooner that ever increasing equipment and planes are provided, the sooner will our American prisoners be rescued and the war brought to an end."

Glenn Merrill was program chairman introducing Capt. Wallace. The latter was accompanied by Capt. R. H. Fuller, veteran of the Bismarck Sea battle who made 23 night bombing flights in a flying fortress over Rabaul.

Over half of the 1942-43 sales of citrus pectin from the California Fruit Growers Exchange plants at Corona and Ontario went to the government for export through Lend-Lease.

Women Are Told Of Careers Open In Therapy Fields

Opportunities now open to young women in the fields of physical and occupational therapy, have been pointed out by Miss E. Kate Rea, who is aware of the steadily growing demand for trained workers, through her interest in Orange county Crippled Children's Relief committee, which she heads.

Such training, Miss Rea points out, is not only exceptionally valuable now in the war effort but offers opportunity for post-war careers. Both occupational and physical therapy have as their object, the restoration of impaired muscular functions and the physical and mental rehabilitation of the physically handicapped.

Both are recognized by the medical profession, and four California universities and hospitals offer courses in physical therapy, and three offer courses in occupational therapy, all of whom are approved by American Medical Association.

Courses in physical therapy are offered by University, Children's Hospital, Los Angeles, and College of Medical Evangelists, Los Angeles. Young women accepted for the course must have graduated from an accredited school of nursing or of physical education, or must have had two years of approved college training.

Courses in occupational therapy are offered by University of Southern California, San Jose College and Mills College. Requirements are graduation from high school with one year of college work or in some occupation providing knowledge in the occupational therapy field.

Aid on War Relief Work Needed Wednesday, Friday

Pointing out the stadily growing need for warm clothing both for our armed forces at home and abroad, and the sufferers in war-bombed European cities, the Anaheim Christian Science War Relief committee has place for all who are interested in aiding the sewing and knitting program at its headquarters, 112 South Claudina street.

Workers gather there each Wednesday and Friday afternoon from 1:30 to 4 o'clock to sew and knit for the great philanthropic cause. During the past nine months, the local committee has sent a total of 496 knitted garments together with all kinds of other warm clothing, to be distributed from the headquarters in Boston.

Such garments are distributed through the various channels under direction of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, and have been sent not only to our own men of the armed forces, but to Czech refugees in Canada, to Russia, England, French relief and Greek relief.

Since the establishment of Christian Science War Relief committees all over the United States, they have provided well over a million and a half garments, distributed through the Boston headquarters. In the three months from Oct. 1 to Dec. 31, the total distribution of civilian clothing through the committee was 123,825 garments.

This is Your "Battle Flag" HERE AT HOME

Every patriotic American will want to display this emblem at home—on his front door or in his window. It is the red, white and blue sticker that says you have done your part in the 4th War Loan.

Display your colors now!

DURING this 4th War Loan Drive you are again asked to do something extra to help smash the Axis. Your part is to invest in at least one extra hundred dollar Bond. But don't stop there if you can do more. For remember—no matter how many Bonds you buy—no matter what denominations they are—you get back on maturity $4 for every $3 you invest. And that's on the word of Uncle Sam, creator of the safest investment the world has ever known.

So before you look into your wallet—LOOK INTO YOUR HEART. Your company, the place where you work, has been given a quota to meet in this 4th War Loan Drive. Do your part to help meet this quota. And remember, millions of America's fighters are waiting for your answer, your pledge that you are backing them to the limit.

Come On, America! It's 1944!

THIS is what we've been working for all along. This is the year to hit and hurt the enemy. This is the time when everything you do counts double. If we all get together and do all we can, we'll be over this hurdle and well on our way to complete and crushing victory.

No question about the men in uniform—they'll go "all out." But can we count on you to back them all the way? Your quota is where you work—you've got to buy your War Bonds and then buy more, until every last loose cent you have is fighting. Tough? Of course, it's tough—unless it is a sacrifice you're simply not doing your share!

Make the sacrifice now—buy more than the extra $100 Bond your country counts on you for—winning the war is worth any sacrifice you make. Besides, you aren't giving, you're lending to America! You'll get back every dollar you invest in War Bonds, with interest.

An extra $100 War Bond now is the minimum for everybody—can't we count on you for more?

BOND BUYERS MAY HEAR RUDY VALLEE

Lieut. Rudy Vallee will direct the U. S. Coast Guard 11th Naval District band in a "Salute to Our Heroes rally" tonight at 8 o'clock in Santa Ana high school auditorium, as a highlight of the Fourth War Loan drive in that city. Admission will be by purchase of a War Bond.

The annual report of the California Fruit Growers Exchange shows that the Southern California navel crop in the past season was unusually light, California supplying only 30 per cent of the total in the nation's markets during the navel orange season against 48 per cent the year before, while Florida supplied 66 per cent compared with 49 per cent the previous season.

"Give Seven to Ten to the Service Men"

They're busy during the day. A few hours each night are about the only time they have to telephone. Wouldn't seem right if a casual call of yours held up a soldier's call back home.

Farmers Plan Big Part In 4th War Bond Campaign

Farmers and residents of rural areas of Orange county have a special stake in the 4th National War Bond drive and the Orange County Farm Bureau is anxious that they shall fully understand how the bonds purchased during the period shall be credited and how individuals can help the campaign along. Such is the burden of a statement from C. J. Marks, executive secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau.

Marks emphasized the fact that committees are not to be established to do jobs already being done. The only committees being created are groups of individuals who are willing to solicit their neighbors and friends to urge them to buy more bonds and sign them up on application forms that are available at the county farm bureau offices, 353 South Main street, Orange.

Banks, post offices, the production Credit Association and other issuing agencies of the county are being urged to be sure that the individuals have an opportuniy to designate a Farm Bureau center, a home department group or the county Farm Bureau as the organization to be credited for their purchases. The ordinary forms used at these issuing agencies can be used.

In addition to the forms in use by the banks and others, the Farm Bureau has one of which the original accompanies the money or check for the bonds and the duplicate is mailed to the county Farm Bureau offices. The issuing agencies have been asked to keep a close record of the applications they receive on this special form in order that the proper groups may be credited.

The crying need now, stated Marks, is for individual solicitors who will do their part toward winning the war by devoting some time to house-to-house solicitation. Such individuals should contact the local Farm Center chairman or the county offices of Farm Bureau. Telephones are Orange 50 and Santa Ana 4506.

Advertisers Have Cooperated In War Recruiting Effort

A little over 11 months ago the first American woman donned the attractive uniform of the Marine Corps Women's Reserve. Today, thousands of girls in Marine forest-green with scarlet markings are working in control towers and link trainers, driving transport vehicles, rigging parachutes, and performing other highly specialized duties formerly handled by male Marines. Every Woman Marine has released a man for the fighting front, and thus has participated in glorious American victories such as those on Bougainville, Tarawa and New Britain.

In pointing out these inspiring accomplishments during the first historic year that women have worn the uniform of this distinguished branch of America's fighting forces, Colonel D. M. Randall, the officer in charge of the Western Procurement Division, U. S. Marine Corps, stated that an important contribution to the success of the Woman Marines' recruiting program has been the splendid co-operation of newspapers and advertisers. An example of this cooperation is seen in this issue of The Anaheim Gazette. The advertisement of Pacific Greyhound Lines is devoted almost wholly to Marine Corps Women's Reserve recruiting. This message to women is running in more than 500 newspapers throughout California, Oregon, Nevada, Utah, Arizona, New Mexico and parts of Texas.

"We greatly appreciate this cooperation," Colonel Randall said. "This contribution to our cause is particularly appropriate coming from Greyhound, as members of the Marine Corps Women's Reserve depend greatly on this nationwide travel system for transportation to and from training camps and the points throughout the country where they are stationed. Places in the west where Greyhound serves our organization include, among many others, Camp Pendleton at Oceanside, Camp Elliott near San Diego, and air bases at El Centro, and other locations. At Camp Elliott Greyhound service is particularly valuable, as a large number of Women Marines are on duty there and Greyhound provides special bus service to this camp.

IT'S IN THE AIR. You can feel it, every time the Axis is struck. This is the climax year, the year of decision.

In history, 1944 will be the big year of the war—every stroke for victory counts more now. That's why it's vitally important for every American to be at his post, doing his part right now.

You, personally, have an important job in winning the war—buying War Bonds. It's not glamorous—no, not even a sacrifice, really, because you are only lending your money, to be returned with interest. But it is essential to complete victory.

Your part in this year of decision is at least one extra $100 Bond, above your regular Bond buying. That is your minimum individual quota. But don't stop there. Remember wars are won only by all-out effort. So buy $200, $300, $500 worth—buy more than you can afford. And buy your Bonds where you work—at the plant or at the office.

Your country is counting on you—let's make the year of decision OUR year!

State Income Tax Experts Coming Last of February

With income tax very much to the fore at present in all minds, Anaheim residents will be interested in learning that a tax expert will be in the city hall on Feb. 28 and 29, to confer with them regarding their California personal income tax.

F. R. McReynolds, area income tax supervisor, has written Secretary Ross Lee Laird of the Chamber of Commerce, asking the chamber's cooperation in arranging a place for their representative and in acquainting the public with the terms of the tax ruling.

The state's personal income tax requires that all single persons with a net income of $2,000, and married persons whose net income is $3,500 or more, must file a return whether a tax is required or not. The rate is one per cent on the first $10,000 of taxable income.

The interval from March 1 to 15 has been set aside for federal income tax experts, two of whom will be on duty, also in the city hall as they were last year.

County Men in Los Angeles Discuss Problems of Federal Non-Tax Property

With more than 42 per cent of the area of California now under Federal ownership, and with more than 11.37 percent of Orange county now Federally owned and therefore exempt from local taxation the question of disposing of surplus Federal property after the war is to be thoroughly considered by the Southern Council of the California State Chamber of Commerce, meeting today Thursday, at the Ambassador Hotel, Los Angeles.

According to studies made by the State Chamber, Federal property ownership in Southern California ranges from 12 percent of the land area, in the case of Orange county, to as high as 86 per cent in the case of Inyo county. In Orange county there are 56,923 acres Federally owned, with an estimated valuation of $1,537,225.

The regional tax committee, after reviewing the recommendations of the State Chamber for returning surplus Federally owned properties to the tax rolls, will develop methods through which this objective can be accomplished. Don Woods, secretary of the General Petroleum Corporation, will lead the discussion.

Horace S. Wilson, of Los Angeles, will preside at the committee tax session. Orange county leaders who will participate in the Council discussions include: Fullerton, W. E. Harmuth; Huntington Beach, William Gallienne; Orange, J. A. Scherman, Donald S. Smiley; Santa Ana, Paul Bailey, A. A. Beard, A. J. McFadden, George A. Raymer; Tustin, C. R. Browning, Ross A. Shafer; Yorba Linda, George Kellogg.

U. OF C. ISSUES NEW CITRUS VOLUME

The first volume of the three-volume work, "The Citrus Industry," issued by University of California, has just been published by the University Press, representing the work in editing of Dr. H. J. Weber and Dr. L. D. Batchelor of the University's Citrus Experiment station at Riverside.

The first volume deals with the history, botany, and breeding of citrus fruits in California. Its 10 chapters were written by prominent men of the university faculty and of the U. S. department of agriculture. The second volume to follow will be on production of the crop, and the third will be devoted to harvesting, marketing and utilization of the crops.

One More Week To Get Car Licenses And Avoid Penalty

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26—Last call for 1944 vehicle license renewal.

Vehicle owners of California were reminded today by Gordon H. Garland Director of the Department of Motor Vehicles, that only a little more than a week is left to apply for the blue and gold windshield stickers and avoid penalties.

The deadline is midnight, Friday, February 4th. Applications received after that time will be subject to a 100 percent penalty on the registration fee and 50 percent penalty on the vehicle license fee. Applications may be made either by mail or the counter at any one of the numerous branch offices maintained by the Department throughout the state.

Any vehicle that has been operated on the public highways since December 31st must be registered to avoid penalties.

The 1943 Registration Card, showing the present address of the applicant, must accompany the fee. If the application is made by mail, postal or bank money orders or cashiers' checks should be used. The Department does not accept personal checks and it is not advisable to send currency.

Mail applications should be sent to the office nearest the applicant. They are acceptable at branch offices at the following address: Your local D.M.V. or C.H.P. office, or 700 E. Broadway, Long Beach.

Following action taken last week by Fullerton city council, the post of Fullerton city attorney is now filled by Clifford R. Allen, who served in the same capacity during World War 1. Atty. Allen, who has practised law in the neighboring city for the past 33 years, fills the post vacated by Raymond Thompson when he assumed his new duties as judge in Orange County Superior court.

In Three Centuries...

Through Three Crises...

America's System of Free Enterprise Returned the Nation to Greater Prosperity than ever

What America has done once, America can do again. For over 300 years, before and after we became an independent nation, through three major and countless smaller crises, the American system of free enterprise has won its way. Each time it has afterward brought the American people to still greater heights of prosperity.

THIS is the system of free business and free labor that has made America today the war production center for the world—and after victory America will be the peacetime industrial center of the world, leading the people of all nations to a happier and fuller life—the American way of life!

THIS is the system we MUST preserve. It can—and will—meet the problems of the post-war period. And once again the system of American free enterprise will carry this country to still higher pinnacles of greatness.

Look Americans! Since the beginning of time, the only road to prosperity has been P-R-O-D-U-C-T-I-O-N and exchange of goods and services at a profit—the American system of labor and business.

From it you have earned personal benefits—your home towns have enjoyed increasing advantages—and your nation has become the richest on earth.

THE AMERICAN SYSTEM HAS CREATED THESE TANGIBLE THINGS FOR YOU:

—the highest standard of living in the world;
—the accumulation of personal savings and worldly possessions—your schools, your highways, your buildings—your life insurance, your home, your automobile.
—money to pay the cost of government, local, state and national, including the payment of governmental debt;

And with it, you have the right to think, to speak and to worship as you choose—rights forbidden to millions not living under the free American system.

THE MAN AT THE KEYHOLE

(By Operative WB)

Justus Craemer, the popular publisher and railroad commissioner, has passed the word to the inner circle that he will be a candidate for U. S. Senator at the fall elections—and that this time, he won't step aside, regardless of the other contenders. In '42, Mr. Craemer had strong backing as a prospective G.O.P. candidate for Governor, but skipped his own chance to help Earl Warren. This year Mr. Craemer figures it's his time at bat. And he's modestly confident that he can knock out a homer.

Don't be surprised if that special legislative session, set for January 27, runs far longer than the two or three days scheduled. There may be plenty of fireworks on the prison issue!

California legislators in the armed forces (and there are a number of them) are wondering whether President Roosevelt's dictum, prohibiting congressmen from being both lawmakers and soldiers, applies to State solons as well. If it does, it will play hob with several political futures. But as yet, no word has come through from Washington.

DOLLAR SIGNS OF PROGRESS

How big has California grown?

Efforts to accurately answer this question have become somewhat of an indoor sport ever since our State began "going to town" several years ago. Estimates are made on various bases, including the number of ration books issued, and the number of telephones and other public utilities in use.

One of the latest population estimates is 8,014,000—an increase of 219,000 in 1943. How accurate this estimate is, we do not know, but real growth is not measured by population alone. There are other factors. Among these is the total assessed property valuation which rose more than $206 million last year to reach $7,886,224,624—and this in spite of the loss from tax roles of property taken over by the Federal Government.

The $912 million increase in deposits of the largest bank in the State is another good index, especially since this in stitution has almost 500 branches in 300 communities stretching the length and breadth of California. Californians now have on deposit almost $3½ billion in this one bank alone. And the tempo of business activity is also reflected in the $810 million this bank is lending industry, agriculture and to individuals.

The number of people employed in the State in 1943 was almost three times that of 1939, and they earned a new high in total wages and salaries of $8 billion.

Thus, among the surest signs of California's growth is the constantly enlarging dollar signs in property values, wages and bank deposits.—Calif. Progress Review.

GERMANY, 1918-1944

The headlong retreat from Russia, which now borders on a rout, with disastrous losses in both men and military equipment as well as territory, raises the question of the position of Germany today as compared to her position when she asked for an armistice in 1918.

Is Germany stronger in 1944 than she was in 1918? Or weaker? The comparative facts are interesting—and may afford an index to the confidence of our military leaders that the European war will end in 1944.

When the armistice was signed in 1918, Germany's army, coupled with the troops of her allies, totaled 25,000,000 men. She had lost about 6,000,000 men, killed or disabled. Today, Germany has an army of about 10,000,000 men—and has lost about 5,000,000 killed and wounded. In 1918, Germany had a front line of about 2,000 miles. Now she has more than 15000 miles to defend. In 1918, Germany had been successful in seeing that the war was waged on the soil of her enemies—and German cities and villages were unscarred. But in 1944, many of Germany's greatest cities are in ruins; millions of her people are homeless—and Allied bombing planes have turned Berlin into shambles.

Hitler, perhaps, is more fanatical in his determination to fight to the bitter end than was the Kaiser, and the iron hand of Nazi control, over both the army and the civilian population, will make revolt harder. But Germany's position, from a military standpoint appears far more desperate than it was when the collapse came in 1918.—Calif. Feature Service.

TOKEN-PACKING MAMMAS

(By Clem Whitaker)

If the lady of the house looks a bit grim toward the end of next month; if she counts absent-mindedly on her fingers, and if her purse bulges with a new kind of wampun as she sallies forth to market—then you'll know you've got a token-packing mamma! There's nothing to get too alarmed about, though, because the lady next door and the lady across the street will be in the same category. And it's a good thing the women folks still have a lot of gumption, and over-size purses, or else a lot of men might have to blaze their own trails in learning about how to bring home the bacon with tokens.

Tokens—the small change of the ration business—will begin flowing into circulation throughout the country February 27. Slightly smaller than a dime, they will be worth one point each. They will be given as change by retailers for ration stamps—red tokens being used in meat purchases, and blue for processed foods. The reason for the tokens, it appears, is to simplify the ration system, but that's a tender point we won't go into except to report that OPA estimates with the use of tokens Ration Book Four will last about two years. And at least three books would be required during this period without tokens, according to the OPA communiques.

Also, from February 27 on, ration stamps—each with a 10-point value regardless of the number appearing on the coupon—will be validated on an across-the-book basis instead of on an up-and-down basis as at present. Three meat stamps, worth a total of 30 points, will become valid every two weeks, with the first two series of six stamps remaining valid until May 20. Tokens, given as change, will have no expiration dates.

If this isn't all clear, wait until the new kind of wampum has been in circulation a few days—and then ask your token-packing mamma. The women, God bless them, know all the answers!

The committee engaged in securing options on the Liberty Park site reported to the Board of Trade Monday night that slow progress was being made because certain property owners were demanding unreasonable prices for their ground. There are other sections of the city besides the library block suitable for a park site. A just valuation should be placed on the property by the committee and if the owners refuse it a site should be purchased elsewhere.

Rain began falling yesterday at noon, and during the afternoon the weather was cold and showery. The indications as we go to press are good for more rain.

Anaheim Lodge 207 F. & A. M. installed the following officers last Thursday evening: H. W. Chynowith, W. M.; Sidney Holman, S. W.; H. A. Stough, J. W.; Wm. M. Higgins, treasurer; Joseph Helmsen, secretary; W. J. Brown, S. D.; P. C. Saalwachter, J. D.; F. A. Korn, steward; A. F. Abbey, steward; Wm. M. McFadden, marshal.

The supervisors on Monday deferred further hearing in the matter of a new road from Placentia to Yorba for two weeks and resolved to visit the site of the proposed road, which runs through Mr. Wagner's walnut orchard and is being vigorously opposed by that gentleman. The petitioners claim that the ground was reserved for road purposes originally. The hearing will be resumed a week from next Monday.

A mischievous wag bent on directing the attention of the City Fathers to the wretched mud puddle in front of the Citizens Bank Sunday morning, placarded the same with inscriptions to the effect that there was "no fishing allowed," etc. The puddle should be caulked and scraped and put in passable condition. This was done Monday morning.

M. H. DeYoung entertained the foreign commissioners to the Midwinter Fair at a banquet at the Palace hotel in San Francisco Tuesday evening. There were 150 guests. A center piece in the middle of the horseshoe shaped banquet board was a miniature Grand Court of the exposition with the administration building at one end and the Liberal Arts building at the other all outlined with electric lights. All decorations in the dining hall were most elaborate.

Mr. W. J. Smith celebrated his sixty-fourth birthday at the old homestead on Orangethorpe avenue last Saturday and all but one of his sons and daughters were present to make the occasion one long to be remembered. Among members of the family who were present, beside those living here were Mrs. Moores of Ontario, Mrs. Lyman of Los Angeles and Prof. and Mrs. Clark of Capistrano and their families.

Madame's oranges were badly frozen during the recent cold snap and she will probably give up the attempt to raise citrus fruits so near the snow line.

Our old friend Jack Seegar, who for two years and a half has been in Iowa, has returned to California to stay.

Mr. Fay attended the recent prize poultry exhibition at Los Angeles and purchased the cages of Boston birds that got away with the blue ribbon over all for quality.

Placentia will probably ship its first carload of oranges next week, orders having been received by the association for a carload to go. East Orange has shipped three association cars of fruit. The first carload of boxes arrived at Tustin on Tuesday and a carload is expected here shortly. The Fruit exchange have put in a long distance telephone at Orange.

SECURE TAX PAPERS WITH COMMON PINS

When Anaheimers send their income tax returns and payments in to the Internal Revenue office, they are asked to heed a plea which Collector of Internal Revenue Harry C. Westover has addressed to all Southland taxpayers, to pin their returns and payments together with common pins.

The United States government isn't too poor to buy pins, Westover admitted, but just like the private consumer, it faces a shortage of such supplies. All pins will be saved by the Internal Revenue office to be used to keep the records together, Westover stated.

War Committeeman Asks Conversion of Buildings To House War Workers

Asserting the housing problem is holding back the war effort in this community, Philip Norton chairman of the war housing committee, today put it squarely up to property owners as a patriotic duty to afford relief, and at the same time add to their incomes.

Norton made a three point appeal:

1. List all vacancies at the nearest War Housing Center.

2. Consider private conversions of their habitable buildings into living quarters for families.

3. Open private homes to admission of workers in war plants and essential civilian industries.

"Only in this way," he said, "can workers stay on the job and finish the job," as advocated by the Citizens' Manpower Committee."

Norton's committee at its last meeting passed a resolution to urge city authorities to waive enforcement of single unit zone restrictions, provided no construction is entailed, for the duration of the war.

The housing chairman also appealed to landlords to rent apartments and other dwelling units to families with children.

"Hundreds of families," he asserted, "virtually are without roofs over their heads because of restrictions against youngsters.

"During the war an over-all generalized view, based on generosity and the patriotic desire for victory, should be adopted by property owners. Only a broad gauge attitude will contribute toward solving the housing difficulty."

Future Expansion Indicated For Grove Sanitarium

Possibility of future expansion of Garden Grove sanitarium was seen this week in the purchase by that institution of which Dr. Richard Carter is director, of an additional 12 acres of land adjoining the present site.

The land was purchased from Dr. Burns Chaffee at a price reported to be $12,095. Present sanitarium units will continue to be devoted entirely to the care and treatment of mental cases, according to the director, and will remain apart from contemplated new units which will admit patients in need of rest or treatment for non-contagious physical disorders.

COUNTY JUDGE FACES FULL CALENDAR

Two Anaheim attorneys, Robbie Anderson and Thomas L. McFadden, were among Orange county lawyers who last Friday presented exactly 51 cases for the court's review when Judge Raymond H. Thompson of Fullerton, presided at his first day in Department 3 of Orange county superior court.

Judge Thompson was advanced to the bench on Thursday at colorful ceremonies in which the majority of county attorneys took part. His Department 3 is housed in the Hall of Records building of the county court house group in Santa Ana.

Late Reports Reveal Most Successful Cash Income For California Farmers

While final figures are not yet available, enough data has been compiled to indicate that Southern California farmers have just completed a most successful and enviable year from the standpoint of production and value of crops, livestock, and their products. A year in which many of the high production and value records of 1942 were broken, often by a substantial amount, according to the Annual Review Supplement of "Southern California Crops," monthly report published by the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors and just released by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

The splendid record they have chalked up was made under tremendous handicaps of shortages of material, farm machinery, transportation facilities, inadequate labor and high costs.

Estimates based upon marketings of farm products for the first three-fourths of 1943 indicate that total income from sales of California agricultural products will exceed one and one-half billion dollars, by far the highest cash income figure recorded for the state, and about 36 per cent higher than the corresponding figure for 1942 of $1,133,000,000—the state's previous record. This cash farm income for California, produced on less than 3 per cent of the nation's farms, will probably be 8 per cent of the nation's total cash farm income. Preliminary estimates reveal that total value of agricultural products in Southern California is likely to exceed $700,000,000 for a correspondingly large increase of about 36 per cent over the $515,469,731 value in 1942 — the previous record for Southern California.

It must be emphasized that while cash farm income for 1943 is much higher than ever before, the net income to farmers did not increase proportionately since production and marketing costs have been much greater than ever before. Milk producers in particular have had extreme difficulty in obtaining returns which would pay for their increased labor and feed costs.

Weather conditions throughout the year were generally favorable to the successful planting, maturing, and harvesting of crops. Although prolonged late rains during the spring months materially delayed the planting operations of many crops, an extremely favorable fall, with continued warm, clear weather, allowed farmers to successfully complete the harvest of most crops without great loss or delay.

Income Tax Payers To Have Aid In Making Returns

Anaheimers, in common with all Orange county residents, will be afforded opportunity to file their 1943 Federal income tax returns locally, it has been announced definitely by Archie N. Vance, Southern California's chief field deputy of the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

The local office will be open in Anaheim city hall on March 1 to 15. Deputy collectors will be present to advise taxpayers concerning their tax forms, but will not execute these forms. They will accept payments made by personal check or money order, but the only office in the county that will accept cash will be the permanent office in Santa Ana.

Fullerton will have a temporary office in the chamber of commerce during the same March 1 to 15 period. Oother county offices will be maintained for lesser terms in San Clemente, Laguna Beach, Seal Beach, Orange, Balboa and Huntington Beach. All offices will be open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily during the assigned period.

March 15 is the last day for filing returns. Such returns are required from all single persons whose gross income in 1943 was $500 or more; all married persons whose gross income was $1200 or more. All persons who paid or owed a tax on 1942 income are required to file returns this year.

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR
Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

When the war ends, how can we get governmental expenditures out of the stratosphere—and down to earth?

That's a vital question to every American who values his pay-check and his economic freedom, for expenditures today are far out-running the people's ability to pay.

One of the answers to that question which has been proposed in Congress—and which, at least, deserves our earnest consideration—is the very realistic proposal that the government be forbidden to spend any more in any given year (after peace comes) than is raised, in the same year, by taxes.

To abridge that rule, under the proposed law, would require a three-fifths vote—something very difficult to obtain. So the safeguard would be very real, if once enacted.

Even that law, of course, wouldn't provide for paying off our huge war debt, in addition to keeping up the normal functions of government. That's a problem we will probably be wrestling with as long as any of us live.

What will our war debt total?

Federal Budget Director Harold D. Smith forecasts that our public debt will rise to about 194 billion dollars by next June.

It is still entirely probable, despite some reductions in actual war expenditures, as compared to estimated expenditures, that the national debt will reach the huge figure of 300 billion dollars by June 30, 1945, as previously forecast.

Part of that, of course, isn't chargeable to war, but rather to the spend-ourselves-rich era which preceded the war, when we were trying to buy back prosperity with government funds, but the fact remains that we, the American people, owe the stupendous sum of 194 billion dollars!

Budget Director Smith revealed that the Nation's expenditures on the war for the present fiscal year, ending in June of 1944, will total about 92 billion dollars, or eight billion less then estimated last August.

"Because the re-examination of the war program is still in progress," said Budget Director Smith, "it is difficult to give a definite revised figure of war expenditures at the present time.

"It appears likely, however, that total 1944 war expenditures will approximate 92 billion dollars, or about nine per cent below the last estimate of 100 billion dollars."

Smith also noted that the Treasury's revised estimates pointed to an excess of all government expenditures over receipts of 56 billion, 800 million dollars, for the 1944 fiscal year.

It is wholly impossible, of course, for the average man to think in terms of millions, let alone billions, so the staggering total of the Nation's war debt doesn't have the impact on the country that it should have.

But Americans can understand percentages. And the facts are there, regardless of who figures the totals, that we will spend twice as much during 1944 as we take in—governmentally speaking!

In other words, our taxes are a little less than 50 per cent of our expenditures in this year of war.

That certainly points the way to the deseprate need of a readjustment as soon as war ends, if we are to escape national bankruptcy. We can't go on, for many years, spending twice as much as we take in, without ending up a bankrupt! That we can all understand.

And for that reason of limiting expenditures, after the war, to the amount of tax collections has much to recommend it. Surely we will have to do something drastic to put a period to the era of stratosphere spending. It won't end by itself, even when the war ends. It will only end when America demands it!

Cattle Grubs Cause Big Loss of Meat, Says W. M. Cory

In ordinary times the losses caused by cattle grubs are too high according to W. M. Cory, Assistant Farm Advisor. In wartime when we need every pound of meat, every quart of milk, every square inch of leather, we simply cannot afford to support these pests.

The first visible indication of the insect is the heel fly. Cattle instinctively try to get away from it, into a shady place in the bushes or into water. Although there is no evidence that the operations of the fly at egg laying time hurt the cattle, instinct seems to warn them that this particular bug portends an uncomfortable future.

The fly lays her eggs on the lower leg. There the larvae enter the flesh and travel through the tissues to the gullet, thence to the back, where the grubs complete their development and emerge leaving a hole in the hide. The grubs pupate on the ground and the fly emerges to repeat the cycle.

Grubs are now emerging. This is the proper stage for control. "It is neither costly nor difficult," says, Mr. Cory. "While all the damage to this year's animals cannot be prevented, there is still time to prevent further losses of meat, leather, and milk."

County To Be Paid For Park Pavilion

Orange county has been almost fully reimbursed for the loss by fire last October of the pavilion at Irvine park. Insurance underwriters have informed the county supervisors that the county will receive the sum of $21,404.62 in payment.

The pavilion, built in 1927 at a cost of $17,500, was later improved to an extent to bring its cost to $22,000. Supervisors expressed the opinion that the sum offered by the underwriters was fair, and voted acceptance of their terms. Chairman Willis Warner and County Building Inspector Edward Mahl conferred with the adjusters in arriving at a settlement.

Because of wartime conditions, the building will not be replaced until materials are again easily available, it was stated.

Check over your stock of printing supplies and let us have your order for needed items, now please. Anaheim Gazette.

BATTLE OF BATHTUBS

(Ewing Galloway photo)

The above photographs vividly show why some members of congress strongly condemned a professor for saying in a recent article in the War Relocation Authority's monthly magazine, that Japs have better bathing habits than the American farmer. Bathing equipment in Japan is of wood, and tubs range from small barrel-like structures just large enough for one person, to wooden pools large enough for the entire family and a few neighbors—with a little crowding. Few homes have a room set aside as a bathroom. It is customary after the tub is once filled with water for it to be used by everyone in the house before being emptied. Nearly 80 years ago (and we are quoting the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau) Americans eagerly discarded the unhealthy wooden tubs then in use for enameled cast iron bathtubs. And for further proof just look at the photo right, of the typical American farm bathroom, taken near Union Grove, Wisconsin, and compare this tub with the crude bath used by Jap girl at left.

Orange Co. Farm Advisor Gives Plan For Extension of Farm Labor Offices

The emergency Farm Labor office established by the Agricultural Extension Service in Santa Ana last year, will remain open during the war emergency on a 12 months' basis. This was announced today by Harold E. Wahlberg, Farm Advisor of Orange county, serving as extension farm labor director for the county.

"Orange county's continuous year 'round agriculture makes it imperative that farmers and growers have available at all times a means for obtaining an adequate supply of farm labor," he stated.

B. H. Crocheron, director of Agricultural Extension Farm Labor project in California, in announcing the farm labor office year 'round activity says: "Compared to other states, California has a complex agricultural situation with more than 200 different crops. There is not a month in the year during which, somewhere in the state, farmers and growers are not harvesting, planting, and cultivating crops. Even during the slack months of December, January, February and March, California's farm labor requirements exceed a million-man-days per month, an amount greater than the requirements of many states during their peak harvesting period."

Orange county with its favorable winter climate is typical of year 'round agriculture, Wahlberg explained, pointing out that Orange county farmers are not only producing acreage of winter vegetables, but during the winter season are able to prepare for early spring planting of numerous crops.

Wahlberg points out that right now is a favorable time for farmers to secure fulltime employees. The Farm Labor office in Santa Ana, under the management of George Wells, has a better opportunity to find men who want a year-around employment at this season of the year. Farmers who need fulltime help should contact the Farm Labor office now. It is located at 1622 N. Main St., Santa Ana. Its telephone is Santa Ana 6473.

County Relief Problem Improvement Noted In Latest Tabulation of Cases

Continued improvement in the relief problem in Orange county is shown by decreasing numbers of people receiving all types of relief except aid to the needy aged, California Taxpayers' association stated today, making public its study of relief trends in California counties for the last six months of 1943.

In December, 106 people in the county were receiving aid as needy blind, compared with 108 for the July preceeding, the association found.

In December, 185 children were receiving aid as dependent children, ccompared with 186 in July.

In December, 55 were receiving aid as county indigents, compared with 71 in July.

On the other hand, in December, the old age aid rolls numbered 3,292 while in July 3,179 were receiving aid to the needy aged. Increase in amount of aid and decrease in legal requirements for care of old people by their relatives were both in effect throughout the period, the association stated.

Over the state as a whole, persons receiving aid as needy blind totaled 6,360 in December and 6,649 in July. Dependent children numbered 20,275 in December and 22,404 in July. County indigents numbered 20,068 in December and 22,151 in July. Needy aged persons numbered 157,746 in December and 152,220 in July.

Pointing out that relief is administered by the county governments, the association said:

"So long as employment continues at a fairly high level, relief rolls should continue to fall off.

"Budgets of county governments for 1944-45, soon to be under way, should reflect the lessening need for relief in California. Any carry-over in funds set up for relief for the current fiscal year should be carefully kept for tax reduction purposes for 1944-45."

WOMEN VOLUNTEERS SAVE STATE CROPS

Women farm volunteers accounted for more than 10 per cent of California's 1943 harvesting jobs, it was stated by Irene Fagin, assistant state supervisor of the Agricultural Extension Farm Labor project.

Women registered for nearly 38,000 of the 342,000 harvest jobs filled through Farm Labor offices from late June until Dec. 31, the report showed. Thousands of seasonal harvest volunteers during peak periods from one to 10 weeks, aided in saving perishable crops, while approximately 700 women were recruited for year-round farm work.

Farm Labor records did not include approximately 15,000 women applying to farmers in their home vicinity for work in fruit and berry harvests.

I. C. Stearns Buys Valencia Groves

A property deal of the past week involving 39 acres of Valencias at a price reported to be $100,000 was that whereby Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Stearns, 522 West Orangethorpe, Buena Park, purchased two groves from Ralph and Wayne Huffman, Santa Ana.

One grove of 21 acres on Walnut and Crone street southwest of the city, was purchased from Ralph Huffman for $55,000. This grove was then resold to Arthur C. Korn of Route 1, for the same price.

Mr. and Mrs. Stearns retained the 18-acre grove on Anaheim road between this city and Placentia, which they purchased from Wayne Huffman at a consideration of $45,000. They plan to live in the home which they own on an adjoining piece of land.

LAGUNANS ANTICIPATE METROPOLITAN WATER

Arrangements are being made in Laguna Beach for special ceremonies to greet the first water flowing in that area through Metropolitan Water District pipes from the Colorado river.

Judge C. C. Cravath, MWD representative for the Laguna area has indicated that the water will arrive not later than Feb. 10, since the 12-mile line from Santa Ana to Corona del Mar is expected to be finished by the end of this month.

Food Machinery Co. Turns To Making Amphibian Tanks

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26—Engineers of the Peerless Pump division, Food Machinery Corp., have literally beaten their pumps into "Water Buffalo" amphibian tanks and have done it so successfully that these water-land vehicles are now playing a major part in the war.

This was revealed today by Vernon Elder, vice president of Food Machinery Corp., in charge of the Peerless Pump division, Los Angeles, where the tanks were designed and became a reality.

"When the government approached Food Machinery Corporation to help develop a tank that would be effective on land or water, we put our best engineers to work," said Mr. Elder. "These men had previously been working on the Peerless agricultural and industrial pumps generally in use throughout the world."

The engineers, used to dealing with mechanical problems, not only created the vehicle wanted by the government, but created a machine that could be quickly built and quickly repaired. Parts were cast, milled and machined in the corporation's various plants located in California, Texas, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan and Florida. The parts were rushed to divisions of the corporation at Riverside and San Jose, Calif., and to Lakeland, Fla., where they are assembled. The assembling plants also made parts to supplement the flow from other divisions.

The tanks were an immediate success, taking part in campaigns from Guadalcanal up to the present. They won commendation from the Navy Bureau of Ships and from individual marines that drove them.

In a recent telegram to the "men and women of Food Machinery," Rear Admiral E. L. Cochrane, chief of the Bureau of Ships, Washington, D. C., stated that the tanks had carried out their assigned tasks with great success at Tarawa.

One of the first war uses of the Peerless pumps was at Pearl Harbor where they were used to dewater and make possible the floating and subsequent repair of our stricken warships.

Pioneer of County Is Laid to Rest

The death last Thursday morning in County General hospital of John B. Joplin, removed a member of one of Orange county's best-known pioneer families. Funeral services were held for him on Friday morning in the Smith and Tuthill chapel, Santa Ana, with burial in Fairhaven cemetery.

Mr. Joplin, who was 73 years of age, had been in failing health for several months, and entered hospital for treatment for an attack of influenza. He was a son of the late J. C. Joplin, who served as county treasurer from 1907 to 1928.

One of his projects which will be greatly missed by a host of readers, was the little newspaper, the "Tomato Springs Gazette" which he published at infrequent intervals, and which always contained pithy accounts of political happenings in the county, as well as stories of county historical interest.

During the period when practically all of the 1943 Central-Northern California valencia crop was shipped, wartime demand was so great that all grades and sizes sold at the ceiling price even though the national orange supply was 20 per cent heavier than the three-year average.
