We Rise to Remark

If you happen to be trying to raise a pup watch out during his first year for those "running fits" that have caused a lot of good dogs to be killed for fear they may have hydrophobia. If your dog has fits, or even if he doesn't, you should have the wire-work removed from under his tongue, and he won't have fits any more. Any small animal veterinarian can remove the worm in about one minute. It is a slight operation and should be performed on all dogs as a matter of relieving the dog's suffering and the owner's anxiety.

Following World War No. 1, it is said, only 10 per cent of the men returning from the army actually returned to their former home towns. On that basis, with more than twice as many men in the services, there will be a great shifting of population when this war is over. A majority of the soldiers who are not married will become married soon after their return; which in each case will mean two people to be settled in a new community. In most cases some of the relatives of the newly married couples will follow them to whatever place they locate. Since a majority of the men in the various services have spent some time in California, the chances are that at least a big percentage of them will settle here after the war. Many of them have already declared that to be their intention. California is slated to become an industrial section and many of the imported civilian war workers will remain here permanently. All of which means California will have a housing problem after the war that will dwarf the present one, which is very acute. It will take ten years to catch up with the demand for practically everything, especially housing and other construction needs. So, in any case, California appears to be headed for a period of booming prosperity far beyond any condition brought about by the war. If you haven't made any plans for this period, and I haven't either, now is the time to start thinking about how you're going to fit into the picture.

When somebody starts in to tell me how ultra honest he is, then is when I begin to suddenly remember that I have business down the street and must hurry to keep an appointment.

Now a Los Angeles woman has been jailed in Denver, as well as the 14-year-old boy who eloped with and married in Yuma, Arizona. Her other husband, whom she claims she was never legally married to, and their (her) two babies are still in Los Angeles. The husband says he will take her back if she cares to come home and behave herself. That gives a new angle to the eternal triangle. If the case were reversed, and a man should have eloped with a 14-year-old girl, he would be in a tough spot, but the woman will probably only be scolded a little and sent home to live down the whole affair, which nowadays will take about ten days. A man in the same circumstances would be prosecuted for violation of the Mann Act and forty other different charges, but you can't prosecute a woman on a Mann Act charge when a man was her victim. The Mann Act law was passed as a protection to "green" girls back in the days when girls were green, and there was some white slavery traffic, mostly directed by women who were always in the market for "new" girls. In the meantime the sex law was passed to protect have made a racket out of the law and many a man has been gipped by being enticed into taking a perfectly willing woman across a state line. Now it looks like another law will have to be passed to protect boys and men from being led astray by designing women. It's getting so a man isn't safe any more.

The Los Angeles Examiner has come out with a strong editorial appeal, entitled "Don't Give Our Ships Away" in support of Cong. S. O. Bland's bill in congress to prevent any set of politicians from scrapping our Merchant Marine ships as was done after World War No. 1, a national scandal that received very little publicity. A great fleet of emergency ships built during the war was figuratively "scuttled" by somebody in Washington while the public engaged in a slumber party. I have seen miles and miles of those good ships tied up in the harbors of Puget Sound, at Golden Gate, and even far up the Sacramento river and other places, years after the war, literally being eaten up by barnacles. Finally, as the chains which held them together were rusting apart somebody slipped in and disposed of those ships that should have been put to use, for a song, some I believe, with their fine furnishings bringing only a few hundred dollars. The Examiner asks, "Have we learned the lesson that we failed to learn after the other war?" I doubt it, but if the Bland bill will prevent our new Merchant Marine from being stolen, then somebody, or everybody, should get behind that bill and see that it is enacted and enforced.

In the course of a lifetime in the newspaper business you encounter, contact and interview about all the different kinds of people extant. As a rule the "bigger" people are the easier they are to get along with. When you run onto a real "snoozy" he or she you can generally figure they don't amount to much.

The electrical companies claim that electricity is the smallest item and the biggest bargain in the family budget. They have spent a lot of money to advertise this claim, which is very commendable and for which we thank them. It is probably an unusual procedure to differ with the opinion of an advertiser who pays you good money, but I still claim that The Anaheim Gazette, at only $2.00 a year is the smallest item and the biggest bargain in any family's budget. You can't afford to be without any of the advantages electricity brings to the home, and neither can you afford to be without The Anaheim Gazette in your home when it costs you less than four cents a week. You can get on our mailing list by dialing 2206, another convenience made possible by electricity.

If you lived in California before the Roosevelt administration you will remember that here in Orange county, and other citrus areas, we hauled trainloads of Oranges out and dumped them in the "washes" where they were sprayed with oil and burned. If you had been in the corn producing district of Iowa, Ohio, Nebraska and other states, you would have witnessed carloads of fine corn being burned as fuel. If you had been in the cotton areas of the south, Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana, etc, you would have seen hundreds of acres of fine cotton plowed under after it was matured, so the ground could be gotten in shape for the next crop of cotton. All this was blamed to supply and demand, over-production, under-consumption, no market, lack of storage, and a hundred and one other things. In

HARVEST OF GOLD GETS UNDER WAY

Anaheim Citizens Asked To State Desire For Or Against Colorado River Water

With many requests already on file in favor of switching from the hard well water now being used here to the soft Colorado river water which is available, the city council is requesting water users to let their wishes in the matter be known. Mayor Chas. A. Pearson stated today that since Anaheim is a member of the Metropolitan Water District and can have the benefit of Colorado river water at any time the city council would like an expression from a majority of the people before taking action.

While it is believed that everyone would prefer the soft water from the Colorado, the matter of a slight increase in cost to the patrons is the feature the councilmen want the people to decide upon.

It is estimated that Colorado river water would probably cost each domestic water user about 50c per month more than the present hard well water is costing. It is believed, however, that almost this entire increase in cost will be saved to the householder in soap expense alone, not to mention the saving wear and tear on clothing, the saving of fuel and damage to plumbing fixtures caused by the hardening lime content of the well water.

Housewives generally favor the change to the soft water since it will lighten their work in washing clothes, dishes, and in scrubbing bath tubs when the hard water is used.

Plumbing experts report that the hard water forms a coating of scale in water heaters and in other plumbing fixtures which requires more fuel to heat water and reduces the pressure flow in the pipes. As much as 16 percent more fuel is required to heat water when the tank has an inner coat of scale, it is said.

For drinking purposes the claim is made that the soft water is much more beneficial to the human system than the hard water with a lime content.

It is also said that the soft water is much more desirable for cooking and home canning, giving a much better flavor to cooked vegetables, as well as tea and coffee.

Anaheim is a member of M. W. D. and has paid its share to make the water available whenever wanted. All that is necessary now to turn the unlimited supply of the pure soft water from Boulder dam into the city mains is for the people to let the city council know whether they want it or not.

Santa Ana and Laguna Beach have already availed themselves of the benefits of M. W. D. water and many Anaheim residents are highly in favor of the change as soon as possible.

Growers Official In Washington On Government Deal

Milton L. Chapman, sales manager of the California Fruit Growers Exchange products department, has been named manager of the department. He takes the place of C. P. Wilson who last week was appointed director of the products research for the citrus cooperative.

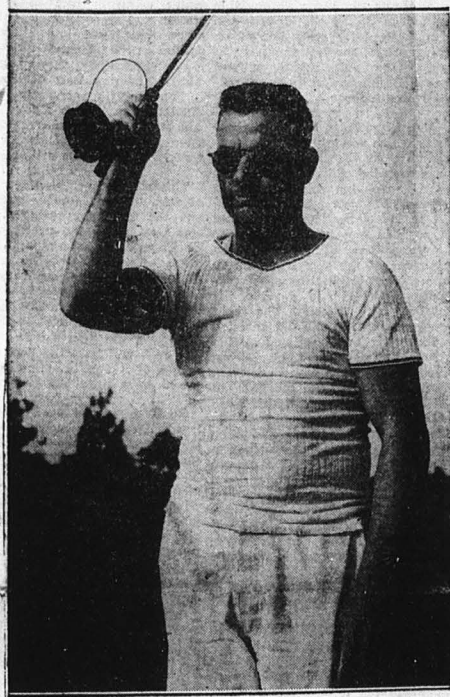

Chapman became sales manager of the department in 1930, after several years' experience in advertising and sales management. He is now in Washington, D. C., arranging for new governmental contracts in regard to purchases of lemon oil and other citrus products.

CRIPPLED CHILDREN'S RELIEF ASSOCIATION MEETS FRIDAY NOON

Regular meeting of the board of directors will be held Friday, May 12, at 12 noon at Henry's Drive Inn, 101 Highway, south of Anaheim, E. Kate Rea, president, announced today.

more recent years we have followed the same practices through a different route, by limiting acreage, plowing under immature crops, and paying farmers for not producing an over-production of farm commodities. The latter is definitely blamed onto the New Deal. Now, really, what is the difference? Both instances are absolutely silly and the new angle used since the advent of the New Deal doesn't make any more sense than the voluntary method of destruction employed in former years. Maybe you don't have to be crazy to live in this country, but it helps.

World's Champion to Direct Tournament

DICK MILLER of Huntington Beach, president National Association of Angling and Casting Clubs, world's champion fly and bait caster and holder of six world's record, who will officiate at the First Annual California State Casting Tournament to be held in Anaheim's La Palma park May 21, 1944, under the auspices of Anaheim chapter of the Izaak Walton League of America.

Big 'Fish' of Sportsdom Coming To Anaheim For Fly Casting Tournament

Anaheim will again be in the national spotlight on Sunday, May 21, when California's first official state casting tournament will be held here at La Palma park, under the auspices of Anaheim Chapter of the Izaak Walton League. The casting tournament will be a main feature of a field day and barbecue for which plans have been in the making for several months.

Ray Mayne, chairman of the field day event, stated today that this will become an annual affair, bringing many of the nation's outstanding sportsmen here to take part in the contests. This will be the first fly and bait casting tournament in California to be held under the direction of the National Association of Angling and Casting clubs, he said.

The event will be regularly cast each year to conform with the Western Association of Angling and Casting club tournaments and the National Association.

Many famous fly and bait casters will be at this state meet to participate in both accuracy and distance casting in the Class A division. There will also be Class B and Class C entries for the less skilled, with first, second and third awards. Some fifty championships will be established in this tournament which will be open to all participants, and all records will be recognized as official by both the National and Western Association of Angling and Casting clubs.

Besides the six casting events, the League will feature displays of home-made fishing and campal equipment for which awards will be made for best display as well as most novel.

Interspersing the casting event will be features such as the Izaak Walton Archery club of Fullerton, which will be out in full uniform to demonstrate the marvelous skill women can attain with the bow and arrow; the Bellflower Sportsman's Club band, popular wherever anglers assemble, and vocal quartet numbers by a famous male quartet.

Dick Miller, who will officiate, is the only man ever to hold more than one world record in a single year in this field of sport, and he holds six. He won the famous Helm's Olympic Championship medal of 1943, as well as the coveted Los Angeles Times trophy for the outstanding athlete in fly and bait casting. His distance record for the 1/4 plug is 412 feet, with a 404-2/3 foot average in the three casts. His dry fly record is 183 feet, and 176 2/3 for the average. His distance with the salmon fly is 209 feet, and 207 1/2 foot average.

Valencia Crop Expected To Bring Ceiling Prices Through Season; Quality Good

Justus Craemer, U. S. Senate Candidate Here

Justus Craemer of Orange, candidate for the United States senate, was in Anaheim Wednesday calling on political leaders and friends in a pre-election tour of his home county.

A member of the state railroad commission with offices in San Francisco, he has spent most of the campaign period in the northern portion of the state. Coming home to wind up the campaign he is making contacts throughout the county, lining up blocks of support for next Tuesday's primaries.

At noon Wednesday he spoke before the Fullerton Rotary club and had a full itinerary for the entire day and evening. On Tuesday he covered the coastline area, speaking at Newport at noon.

In spite of the strenuous campaign and the duties of his office with the railroad commission, he was in fine fettle and filled with his usual enthusiasm and energy.

Although unable to see many of the voters personally he expressed his gratitude for the vote he hopes to poll from his friends, and neighbors in Orange county.

Craemer is publisher of the Orange Daily News and an orange grower.

Price ceiling is now $4.30 per packed box f. o. b. packing house which is some advantage over last year when the winter ceiling was $3.85 and the summer ceiling $3.99, enough difference to net the growers perhaps even more than they received for the slightly larger crop last year.

The lemon pick is also making a good yield with the summer ceiling price at $5.57 per packed box as against the winter ceiling of $5.08 per box.

Due to overcast skies maturity of the fruit is somewhat backward, particularly on certain types of soil, but with a few days of sunshine maturity standards will soon be reached in all groves of the county which will mean capacity operation for all packing houses.

Naturally the seasonal business boom will accompany the harvesting of the Valencia crop when all available hands will be at work in the orchards and packing houses, with wages perhaps at the highest peak in the history of the industry. Business will be good in all lines of endeavor throughout the summer as the flow of payroll money and returns to growers finds its way into commercial channels.

Along with the marketing of the orange and lemon crops, avocado groves are contributing their share to the general fruit season prosperity. The supply of this fruit is gradually being consumed with the price at around 12 cents a pound at the packing house for best quality fruit.

While there is no "off-season" as far as prosperity is concerned in Orange county, the fruit picking season brings additional activity to all lines of business, as well as bringing general rejoicing that the crop is safely through the winter, another reason for the welcome that always greets the harvest.

According to reports the Valencia crop in Central California is about double last year's production and the crop in that area is already moving to market.

Home From Costa Rica After Being In Gov't Service

Julian Martinez, well known Anaheim man, returned to his home here last Friday from Costa Rica, Central America, where he had been for the past several months, working in the governmental service, serving as an interpreter and a field clerk on the Continental Highway that is being built from the United States through Mexico and Central America to the South American borders. He plans to return to that country at a later date.

Julian attended Anaheim Union highschool where he was one of the outstanding football players, being a forward on the team.

Orange county's annual "golden harvest" is under way this week and plans are being made to have picking crews organized and in full swing within the next 15 days, according to reports from growers and packers.

The big crop actually began to move as early as Thursday of last week when some fruit was picked in the Yorba Linda district and possibly some other areas where the sugar content met proper tests. During this week shipments are scheduled to start and within a matter of days all packing houses will become beehives of industry.

With the navel orange crop practically out of the way all efforts are now to be directed toward moving the big crop of Valencia which present prospects indicate will come near to equaling last year's production. Some estimates have it that this year's crop may total 15 per cent less than the 1943 pick, however the quality is good and ceiling prices are expected to prevail throughout the season.

Price ceiling is now $4.30 per packed box f. o. b. packing house which is some advantage over last year when the winter ceiling was $3.85 and the summer ceiling $3.99, enough difference to net the growers perhaps even more than they received for the slightly larger crop last year.

IN THE DAYS OF LONG AGO

Extracts from files of The Gazette Issued a Half Century and a Quarter Century ago. These files contain the only Authentic History in Print of the Daily Doings of the Citizens of Anaheim and Orange County in the Days of the Pioneers.

25 Years Ago

May 15, 1919

At 9:15 o'clock Saturday night the whistle at the power house began to blow, and for a quarter of an hour blew its loudest announcing to all within sound of its voice that Anaheim had again demonstrated the patriotism of its citizens and their loyalty to the boys in khaki and blue, by fulfilling the demands of the government in subscribing to the Victory Loan all that was asked of it and then some.

Anaheim has made an enviable record in all of the drives—and can particularly pride herself on the result of the last campaign as our quota was raised without personal solicitation by the working committee.

The advantages of the $125,000 jetty which recently has been constructed at Newport Bay was demonstrated Saturday when a seventy-five ton ship (submarine chaser 307) 100 feet long, came in at low tide. This feat would have been impossible but for the improvements. It is hoped the presence of the ship will help in the campaign of floating a bond issue of $500,000 to develop the harbor still further. The boat came in through the old channel, which has been improved by the jetty, and anchored at Balboa pavilion. The trip was made from San Pedro for the purpose of picking up a torpedo which some fisherman found and towed into the harbor. The torpedo was taken aboard the chaser and returned to San Pedro last night. The officers and men were guests at luncheon of A. B. Roussele, President of the Balboa Chamber of Commerce. J. A. Porter, president of the Newport Beach Chamber of Commerce and Leah Wallace, president of the First National Bank.

Capt. A. C. McHenry was in charge of the submarine chaser, the other officers being Ensigns J. H. Cordes and Blair. There are 20 men in the crew.

A. S. Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Holcomb and Dr. and Mrs. Deming returned on Tuesday from an automobile trip to El Centro and other points in Imperial county where they spent several days on a business mission.

Vic LaMont reports good progress being made on his apartment house now under construction at Lemon and Chartres streets. The building will be modern in every particular and when finished will be one of the finest in the county.

A. Pierotto was in town yesterday from his ranch in the Placentia neighborhood. He states that the report made public some time ago that he had leased his ranch for oil is incorrect. Many of his neighbors have leased receiving a bonus of $500 per acre.

Dean Hanson has taken a position as driver for the laundry. Dean has recovered from a severe accident wherein he had a bad fracture of his arm while engaged in labor for an oil company.

Dr. W. W. Adams and J. L. Shepard left Wednesday for Hermosilla and Guaymas on a six weeks trip. They go by way of Yuma, Tucson and Nogales and expect to be on the road five or six days.

William Starbuck, F. C. Kraused and J. N. Anderson have been appointed appraisers of the estate of Domingo Bastenbury, deceased.

Articles of incorporation have been filed by the Orange County Produce Association, a co-operative non-profit association with Fullerton as its principal place of business. The directors are C. L. McComber of Buena Park, Ernest Borchert, Anaheim, W. H. Kennedy Jr., and O. W. Broody, Stanton, and Ray D. Trapp, Fullerton.

Frank Tausch, who recently purchased the residence of Leopold Nemetz on North Olive street, moved his family into the new home Monday.

Some of the beet patches west of town are coming splendidly. Tim Carroll's patch near the southern Pacific depot being one of the loveliest spots in all the neighborhood. Some of the patches southwest of town are not looking so well, the lack of rainfall and the west winds having retarded their growth, and in places made a second seeding necessary.

The Board of Directors of the water company met in special session on Saturday afternoon, when they went into executive session on the matter of the bonds to be issued by the company. When they rose they determined to cement the continuation of the East street ditch along Santa Ana street to the western limits of town and beyond. Bids for the work will shortly be called.

Thirteen-hundredths of an inch of rain fell on Monday evening, and but for the prevalence of a raw west wind, the precipitation would probably have amounted to more. Rain fell heavily in the early part of the evening, but the showers were light. The total for the season is 7.08 inches. Last year we had 16.41 inches to date, and the year before 7.78. The rain will help the beet crop, though if it had been an inch it would have been better.

Ed Kraemer last week sold four hundred sacks of barley to Gary Bros., and the same number of sacks to Stone & Goodman for $1.10. Some weeks ago he was offered 65 cents, but waited for an advance in the price. He sold 100 tons of hay to Jake Stern for $10 per ton, and the same day Jake turned the entire lot over to Los Angeles parties for $12 per ton, clearing $200 by the transaction.

Last Saturday evening Oscar Zeyn was so unfortunate as to step and fall heavily on the cement sidewalk near Fitz's while on his way home, removing the cuticle from his nose to the extent of about an inch and his left optic received a bruise from the effect of which it remained closed all of the next day. "Rocks" thinks that the City Fathers ought to provide better street lights, so that belated pedestrians could at least have half a fighting chance with uneven sidewalks.

Some of our citizens are agitating the construction of a public park and race track. It is something our enterprising people should look after and see that the project is perfected. A number of our residents have blooded race stock and a race course would enable them to speed their animals and otherwise make the place a source of pleasure to the people generally.

Albert V. Smith and Miss May Clark were married last Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Holman on Eighth and Hill streets, Los Angeles, Rev. W. A. Barr tying the nuptial knot. Miss Clark is the daughter of Jos. Clark of this city and Mr. Smith is one of our popular young men. The young couple will make their home in this city.

The Griffith Lumber company have a large quantity of lumber in their yards at the end of Center street than for a long time past, but Mr. Brown informs us the lumber business is dull.

Fred Crist has just received a new stack of spring and summer goods which he is ready to make up into fashionable suits. Keep your money at home and patronize Crist and get a good fit in clothes made up in the latest style.

Secretary Blennerhassett of the Water company informs us that the water sales up to yesterday amounted to $1,167.79 for May. In April they amounted to $2,400, and if the sales for the rest of this month shall make the total for May $2,000, the aggregate sales at this time for the season will have been more than the total sales all of last year.

Arthur Porter left last week for San Francisco, whence he goes on a trip into Oregon and Washington in search of a place to locate.

Republican Women Asked To Volunteer Their Help In Pre-Election Campaign

An appeal was made today by Mrs. J. J. Dwyer, newly elected president of the Women's Republican club of Anaheim, to all Republican women to volunteer their services and assist in some way with the pre-election campaign work now in progress.

"There are many tasks the women can do, such as checking the lists of voters, handling the campaign literature and encouraging the voters to cast their ballot on election day," Mrs. Dwyer said. "This is one of the most important elections this country has ever faced and the Republican women have a duty to perform in helping to maintain a government of personal freedom and freedom of enterprise that has made this country great," Mrs. Dwyer said.

In order to organize for the detail jobs that must be done between now and election day, May 16, all women who have been identified with the organized Republican party, and all others who will affiliate and help are requested to volunteer for duty.

With the prospects, at best, for a light vote next Tuesday, Mrs. Dwyer wishes to impress upon the members of the Republican club the importance of maintaining their interest in the political

Orange County In Lead In Navy Recruiting Contest

The Orange County Navy recruiting station is leading the "unlimited quota" contest for the month of May. Jerry Hover, recruiter in charge, received this report from Lt. Comdr. L. D. Blanchard today.

Orange county is entering in the "B" (Battleship) league in competition with Bakersfield, Glendale, Compton and Burbank. Contest standings are based on the three recruiting programs open at this time, namely: voluntary enlistment of 17-year-olds and men 38 to 50½, women for the WAVES, and the Radio Technician Training (Eddy Test) for men 17 to 50½ inclusive.

Tremendous interest in the future of electronics has resulted in fifteen men qualifying in the Eddy Test. This quick start for May has sent Orange county soaring to the top in the contest. The successful candidates for the ten months of Radio Tech Training are:

Bill J. Burgess of Anaheim; Walter J. Cadman and Roger C. Hope of Fullerton; Arthur B. McBride and Kenneth L. Mongrain of La Habra; Gilbert St. John Alden of Solana Beach; Grover M. Bryant, Eugene H. Cloyes, David E. Hunt, Dean C. Kibler, Samuel T. McNeal, and Keith Tantlinger of Santa Ana; Arthur Vetch, George R. Halley, and Bonnier M. Maxey of Laguna Beach.

Those interested in taking the Eddy Test or information on the subject should immediately contact the recruiting station, Post Office Building, Santa Ana.

Southland Farm Output Hits All-Time High In Cash Value of Agriculture

For the fifth consecutive year, Southern California agriculture in 1943 topped its preceding year's record, as values of crops and livestock products soared to a new all-time high of $685,841,373.

The agricultural department of the Los Angeles county Chamber of Commerce released the story of this outstanding wartime achievement today, stating the total valuation is $170,000,000 or 33 per cent higher than the record set in 1942.

With acreage approximately that of 1943, farmers scored their colossal accomplishment, the report pointed out, as a result of a patriotic urge to produce food to win the war.

Particularly, the report praised the effort put forth by agriculturists when confronted by problems which in other than a time of national crisis might have been viewed as insurmountable. These problems, it was said, mainly were an acute labor shortage, inexperienced help and lack of scarcity of equipment and materials.

Although gross returns represent highly increased revenue, the farmer's net incomes were offset by elevated production costs caused by higher wages for labor and upped prices for machinery, seed, fertilizer and almost all other overhead.

In a few scattered instances, low yields, poor sales prices and the inability to obtain workers at harvest time, caused farmers to sustain actual monetary losses.

Truck crops made the largest valuation gain, returning $128,319,694, an increase of 51 per cent over 1942. More than 4000 additional acres were planted, with production increasing 164,300,000.

"California ranks first in value of agricultural crops, yet is tenth among the states in proportionate agricultural research. In relation to crop values, Florida invests more than three times as much."

"Just prior to the war, industrial research totaled 250 million dollars per year in the United States. By comparison there was invested in agricultural research only four million dollars. During the three year period starting with 1937, expenditures for industrial research exceeded those of agriculture for the entire 43 years since 1900."

"These were among the revealing statements by Robert W. Hodgson, assistant dean of the College of Agriculture, speaking at the weekly meeting of the California Fruit Growers Exchange directors and assembled growers in the Sunkist building, Los Angeles.

"We are in a vulnerable spot. We can make little use of research in other states because of our wide variety of crops and conditions under which they are grown," declared Dean Hodgson. "California produces more kinds of crops than any other state and because of high production costs our farmers are largely specialists. In postwar planning for our agricultural industries, we must prepare to meet changing conditions and competition from other states."

Water rot of the navel orange, granulation of valencias and internal decline of lemons are among the industry problems that California citrus growers must face. Dean Hodgson emphasized the necessity and importance of carefully planned research in effectively combatting these problems.

Largest gains were in cabbage, dry onions and spinach, all of which advanced more than 100 per cent in revenue. Increases were reported in all other crops except green beans, peas and chili peppers.

Fruit yield advanced likewise, returning $255,839,969 for an increase of 50 per cent over the previous year, with production upped 65,700 tons despite the loss of 7000 acres mostly planted to truck crops.

All except strawberries advanced in value, with best gains recorded in apples, dates, grapes, olives, pecans, plums, prunes and miscellaneous fruits and nuts, all of which doubled in valuations. Five other fruit crops increased more than 50 per cent.

Southern California livestock valuation totaled $189,750,376, a gain of 17 per cent. The increase was reflected in all livestock products, with honey advancing 242 per cent in value. Poultry and allied products went up substantially.

Field crops earned $111,932,334, a 16 per cent increase. Flax and barley led the field, with grain, hay, oats, popcorn, vegetable seed, grain sorghums and alfalfa closely trailing. Only ones failing to advance in value were cotton, wheat, sugar beets and silage.

Forty-four separate agricultural enterprises yielded valuations of $1,000,000 or more. Los Angeles county alone had 26 agricultural enterprises, each of which hit the million dollar mark, with the dairy industry exceeding $39,300,000.

HERE'S ONE BIG REASON WHY TELEPHONES ARE SCARCE

It's the new 45,000-ton U. S. S. Missouri, most powerful fighting ship afloat. It will carry about 1200 telephones, 350 miles of telephone wire, and a ship-wide battle announcing system.

Remember that Uncle Sam launched 568 warships last year—that land forces lengthen their communications every mile they advance—and you will realize why the telephone gets deeper into the war day by day.

The Army and Navy need everything the Bell System can make—not just telephone equipment, but many kinds of secret electrical weapons as well.

Normally, we have reserve facilities. But since the National Defense program started in 1940, the number of Bell System telephones in service has increased by more than 4½ million. The reserves are about used up.

There's a waiting list now—and we're doing everything possible to keep that list from getting longer.

For example, we're crowding switchboards beyond normal capacity. Renovating equipment that can't be replaced. Putting every facility into service.

If you haven't been able to get a telephone, we're sorry. We'll fill your order as soon as we can.

'SPRING HATS' IS DECORATIVE THEME OF ST. AGNES GUILD BRIDGE-TEA HELD LAST SATURDAY AFTERNOON, JOYFUL AFFAIR

One of the most delightful affairs of the spring season was that of the St. Agnes Guild of St. Michael's Episcopal Church when they held their annual bridge-tea at the Ebelle clubhouse last Saturday afternoon, using a most unusual and unique decorative theme in the many styles and fashions of the ladies' spring hat.

Gay hats, perky hats, berets, flower bedecked chapeaux fashioned like those from the leading stylists were made in miniature and encased in decorative miniature hat boxes, as gay and intriguing as ever came from a John Frederick shop. Each table had as the center piece one of these very attractive creations combined with gay colorful napkins to add to the festive scheme, the tiny hatboxes with the latest creation being given to the low score holder at each table at the conclusion of the playing.

A colorful row of these boxes were arranged across the front of the spacious stage in the clubroom with larger boxes forming the background for them, these holding the bridge score and door awards. Arranged on the table in the lounge was a large hatbox laying on the side and out of which was arranged an informal spray of gayly colored spring flowers. The mantle of the lounge was also further decorated in the same theme with sweet peas, snap dragons and syringas attractively arranged.

Tally cards for the guests, which numbered almost two hundred, were in keeping with the general theme and were made by the ladies of the Guild were most unusual in their designs.

To further add to the delight of the guests were the dozens of attractive sketches made by Mrs. Forrest Warwick who had as her assistant, Mrs. Ethel Rundstrom, these being in the various colors adapted to the depicted design. Again the latest in spring fashions by the leading stylists were shown and which were arranged on the walls of the main hall. The models were the dark lady, the blonde, brunet, red-head and the South American type of lady, who were very cleverly used in the sketches. Miss Adah Louise Wilcox, directress of the Guild, welcomed the guests and wished them an enjoyable afternoon of diversion.

The door prizes were won by Mrs. Rose Mouch, who received the gift by courtesy of Victor G. Loly, jeweler; Mrs. H. G. Wilson of Santa Ana receiving the gift through the courtesy of the Granada Packing Company; Mrs. Oscar Heying, the gift of the Jackson Drug Company; Mrs. Herman Schafer, a gift also by the Jackson Drug Company; Mrs. Laura Hargus receiving a gift through the courtesy of Gordon's Nursery; others receiving door prizes were: Mrs. Vera Newton, Mrs. Gerald Boege, Mrs. Holly Markel, Mrs. Selma Degitz, Mrs. Emma Jackson, Mrs. K. Manion, Mrs. C. H. Laurence, Mrs. Gene Frantz, Mrs. Eldon Stark, Miss Mildred Maurerhan, Mrs. Sam Kraemer, Mrs. Harry Wilhelm of Downey, Mrs. Robert Harvey, Mrs. Ella Mae Morris, Mrs. Coty Jones and Mrs. H. D. Newkirk.

At the conclusion of the afternoon and as the contract scores were tallied Mrs. Louise Dahlman was high score winner; Mrs. Leo Sheridan, second high; Mrs. H. G. Wilson of Santa Ana, held third high score; other score prize winners were Mrs. Coty Jones, Mrs. M. B. Sellers, Mrs. Virgil Harmon, Mrs. Harold Hiches of Los Angeles, Mrs. Edith Kratz, Mrs. Kenneth Eldred, Mrs. Charles Haberson and Mrs. Charles Mann.

Auction bridge winners were: Mrs. James E. Boyd, Mrs. Eva Boyd and Mrs. J. J. Dwyer. Teatime concluded the afternoon, the tea hostess chairman being Mrs. G. P. Goodrich, who had delicious refreshments of tea, cake and sandwiches.

The general chairmen were Mrs. Richard Clowes and Mrs. Willard Olding. Other committee chairmen were: decorations, Mrs. Forest Warwick; prizes, Mrs. Harry I. Horn; serving, Mrs. Marjorie Frey and Mrs. Robert Rossberg, ticket chairman. All the committees worked very hard to make this event a perfect success.

Red Cross Workers Aid Veterans With Pension Claims

The most independent Joe in all the world is the American serviceman. American Red Cross workers in hospitals are rediscovering this fact every day. Not that they are surprised, since the words independence and America are practically synonymous. But many and many a soldier, about to be medically discharged from the Army has to be persuaded to file his Veterans Administration claim. At first he does not understand that his pension right has been honorably earned by himself, but looks upon it as a form of charity and this is more than his sturdy independence can take. The Red Cross worker, one of those who are serving in military hospitals throughout the country, explains to him in effect that his pension comes from the American people and their way of saying "Money cannot make up for the illness or injury you have suffered fighting for us, but it is the best way we have of repaying you in some measure for all you sacrificed for us."

The Red Cross workers help the Veterans Administration by pointing out to the man that filing his veteran's claim now is much easier and less complicated than it may be in five or ten years. The medical and service records are fresh now, and coordinated. The testimony of comrades which would be available now might take much time and money to trace in later years.

Many of the men announce their intentions to get into war work.

Choral Concert At Grace Lutheran Church Sunday Eve

A choral concert will feature the respect given to Mothers on her day on Sunday evening at 7:30 at the Grace Lutheran church. The choir of Grace Lutheran church, Anaheim, the St. Peter's Lutheran choir of Santa Ana, and the First Lutheran choir of Fullerton have combined to make up this choral group composed of forty voices. Special vocal and instrumental numbers will augment the numbers of the choral group. "O Morn of Beauty" from Finlandia, "Now Let Heaven and Earth Adore Thee" by Bach, and "My God and I," a Latvian spiritual.

Congregational participation will be enlisted in the singing of the theme song of the Lutheran church: "A Mighty Fortress is Our God" by Luther, and the singing of "God of Our Fathers" by Warren, accompanied by trumpet.

Both pastors, H. K. Rasbach of First Lutheran, Fullerton, and G. J. Busdiecker of Santa Ana, will participate in the service.

Special prayers will be offered for mothers, and their sons and daughters in the service, to whom this choral concert is dedicated. The public is cordially invited to hear this concert.

Dinner In Monroe Home Honors Men Here on Furlough

Mrs. Smith is the former Miss Betty Cooney and is a graduate of the local schools. The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake with an attractive arrangement of white sweet peas used in the home. Lighted candles completed the table arrangement.

The bridegroom, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Smith of this city, attended school here before entering the service. He is a Machinists Mate second-class in the U. S. Navy and has recently returned from overseas duty. At the end of his leave, Mr. Smith will leave for camp for assignment to another station and Mrs. Smith will remain here with her parents for the present.

Citrus Marketing Program Subject At Rotary Club

Frank Belmont, local orange packing house operator, was program chairman at the Monday noon meeting of the Rotary club, bringing a fruit processing and marketing program to the Rotarians.

Henry Green, manager of the processing department of the Food Machinery Corp., was the speaker, also showing a motion picture entitled "Marketing of Citrus Fruit," which was of special interest to the Anaheim group.

The Food Machinery Corp., formerly devoting their efforts to the manufacture of food processing equipment, are now manufacturers of the "Water Buffalo," the first amphibious tank which lead the invading forces at Guadalcanal and Tarawa, and which are now being used in the various invasion campaigns.

While the company's factories are devoted to war work it still carries on extensive research in the preservation of fresh fruits. He exhibited a case of lemons as part of his demonstration along this line.

Lt. Bob Fluor was an honored guest of the club. Lt. Fluor has spent twenty months in the South Pacific as a dive bomber pilot. He has received several decorations for gallantry in action. He was introduced by Melbourne Gauer.

Betty Lou Lee and Helen Hilleary were representatives of the Girl Scouts at the meeting. Miss Hilleary gave a short talk explaining the work of the club scouts and asked that the club support their campaign for funds to carry on the girl scout program.

Kiwanians Learn About Hawaiians From Native Son

A native son of the Hawaiian Islands, Richard Clowes, principal of Lohia school, was the interesting speaker at Tuesday's noon luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club held at the Elks clubhouse. He was presented by John Mary, chairman of the day.

Born and educated in the Islands, the speaker brought many interesting facts about the enchanted Pacific Island group, which, since Pearl Harbor has come to be considered more intimately by residents of the mainland. After finishing his second year of college work in Hawaii, Mr. Clowes came to the states and completed his education at the University of California. He also showed motion pictures in colors, which he has previously shown to other civic groups, to give a vivid picture of life on the Islands.

This program, in particular, caused President Fred Robins to compliment Program Chairman Paul Bakenhus for the splendid variety of programs brought to the club in recent months. Lloyd Ross, in charge of the printing department of the Anaheim high school, was inducted as Baby Kiwanian, the ceremonies being conducted by Dr. Homer A. Nelson, assisted by Clyde Nickle, who introduced the new member. In keeping with the current Girl Scout financial drive "Teddy Lou Payne and Virginia Sullivan were presented by Mrs. Charles V. Local Man Buys Registered Jersey

NEW YORK, N.Y.—A registered Jersey cow has been purchased by James D. Fisher of Anaheim from Donald Crawford. The name of the animal is Poly Sears Princess 1398569.

The whereabouts of all registered Jerseys is known and carefully watched over by The American Jersey Cattle club, with offices in New York City. This important job is made possible through registrations and transfers made by Jersey breeders everywhere. Tattoo identification, somewhat similar to fingerprinting, keeps individuals of this dairy breed always known.

Jerseys make up 42% of all dairy cows in the United States. Because they produce the world's richest milk, and because there are more Jerseys than any other breed in America, their role in national defense is an important one. Increased production of Jersey milk guarantees the protective food needs of here and abroad.

When the Japs struck at Pearl Harbor, there were only 22 refineries making 100-octane gasoline. When the current program is completed, there will be six times that amount.

In the two-day bombing of the Japs at Wake Island, October 4-6, 1943, our planes alone used enough gasoline to give 150 average American motorists their normal peacetime supply of gasoline for one year.

Police Round Up 18 'Zoot Suiters' On Terror Expedition

Eighteen young Los Angeles county "zoot-suiters," ranging in age from 14 to 21 years and all said to be of Mexican descent, were rounded up and placed under arrest in Anaheim and Fullerton Monday night, bringing to a sudden end a short-lived "terror" raid in Orange county.

According to city police, highway patrolmen and members of the sheriff's force reported the youthful renegades had stolen a car and had taken accessories from other cars. Some of them have petty crime records in Los Angeles.

Fast driving, throwing beer bottles at cars and other boisterous conduct led to their downfall. Some of them were arrested in Fullerton, the balance being captured in Anaheim after being chased by the officers. They are being held in jail for juvenile authorities.

Anaheim Youth Completes Fiftieth Combat Mission Over Enemy Territory

(By Cpl. Henry L. Neuberger)

15th Army Air Force—Staff Sergeant Joseph R. Leos, 20, of 215 West Chestnut street, Anaheim, California, has successfully flown his fiftieth combat mission over enemy territory. Ball turret operator on an AAF Flying Fortress in the Mediterranean theater of operations, he flew his "golden" mission on April 3, when the Forts of Maj. Gen. Nathan F. Twining's 15th Air Force attacked an axis aircraft factory in Budapest, Hungary.

A welder at the California Shipbuilding corporation before joining the Army on February 13, 1943, he went directly to an AAF aerial gunnery school and won his gunner's wings in June of the same year. He left the United States early in the fall and flew his first mission from an African-based airfield when his group, which is the oldest in the Mediterranean theater of operations and has recently flown its 250th combat mission, bombed Remini, Italy on November 27.

When asked which he thought was his most important and exciting mission, he said, "I guess the one we thought was the most important was the February 24 attack against the Daimler-Puch factory at Steyr, Austria. The main reason was that if we could knock out the production at that factory it would mean that many less fighters we would have to face in the future."

"The Jerrys threw plenty of flak up at us and it was so thick we could have almost walked across it. That and the heavy fighter protection the factory had, kept us all on the beam all of the time. Our ship returned with hundreds of bullet and flak holes in it, but not one man of the crew was hurt."

For "meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flight," Sgt. Leos, has been awarded the Air Medal with nine Oak Leaf clusters.

He joined the Navy in 1941 and was awarded his wings at Corpus Christi, Texas.

ANAHEIM FLYER WINS WINGS AND BOOTS

He has completed four weeks of jump training during which he made five jumps from a plane in flight, the last a tactical jump at night involving a combat problem on landing.

Jumping at the parachute school has been steadily developed to a recognized war science. There is less than one percent chance of injury while jumping at the school.

In addition to producing jumpers, parachute specialist training is given to qualified men in communication, demolition, riggers and sewing machine maintenance, vital skills for airborne troops.

Girl Scout Drive Gets Of To Good Start, On Thru May

The Girl Scout drive for financial support that opened on May 2, was off to a good start but a great deal of work remains to be done before the goal of $2,500 is reached. The commissioner, Mrs. Arthur Roquet, and the finance chairman, Mrs. Earle Jackson, are confident that their goal will be reached. A full time executive secretary is greatly needed here so that is being included in the present budget for which this drive is being conducted.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, under the direction of J. Edgar Hoover, has requested the American people to do everything possible for our youth, especially the girls; to alleviate delinquency, during the entire month of May Experience has shown that Scout-ing makes a girl a better woman, a better wife, and a better mother. By giving as many girls as possible, an opportunity to spend their time profitably and pleasantly, the problem of delinquency will be aided most materially.

By adding a secretary here, the local groups can offer every girl in the grammar school of the Anaheim Union High school district the opportunity of being either a Brownie Scout, which includes girls from seven to ten years of age, or a Girl Scout, the ten to fourteen year age group. Besides the eight active troops, four new Brownie troops and one Girl Scout troop have been added this year.

A large number of letters were mailed last week, calling the current drive to the attention of the citizenry of this city and to date the response has been very gratifying but the goal has not been reached. The drive will continue

C. of C. Makes Recommendations To Change System of Price Control.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce early this week recommendations were drafted calling for changes in the price control system which would stabilize prices, prevent inflation and eliminate the friction and confusion that now prevails.

The letter was dispatched to Senator Hiram Johnson, Senator Sheridan Downey, Congressman John Phillips, Congressman Joseph W. Martin of Mass., and James C. Ingebreten, director of governmental affairs, U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Following is the text of the letter:

The board of directors of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce, realizing that a system of Government Price Control, as a war measure is necessary for the purpose of stabilizing prices and preventing the development of disastrous inflation, appointed a special committee from its retail division to study the problem and suggest needed changes in the present act. That committee has made the following suggestions which have been adopted by the board of directors. It is our hope that these suggestions will be given consideration so that the national economy may be preserved and the war effort enhanced.

RECOMMEND:

1. The enactment of a new price control act (not an amendment of the present law) that will clearly state the true intent of congress so that friction and confusion may be avoided and more complete compliance be secured and which will:

2. Provide for appeal to the Federal courts by all parties from rulings, decisions, opinions and directives of any person, persons, bodies, committees or commissions in any way connected with the act.

3. Make clear that the primary and paramount purpose of the price control act is to control prices and not regulate profits.

4. Provide safeguards to prevent the administrators of the act from using its provisions to bring about changes in established business practice either directly or indirectly.

Garden and Flower Seeds to American Prisoners of War

American prisoners of war behind the German lines soon will be enjoying fresh vegetables—and flowers, too—like those at home, it was reported today by Farm Advisor H. E. Wahlberg.

To make this possible, the War Food Administration recently purchased about 15,000 pounds of vegetable and flower seeds for distribution by the American Red Cross.

The seeds are going abroad in some 4,000 collections designed to provide food this summer for American boys in German prison camps. Each collection contains a total of 3 to 4 pounds of seed—18 to 20 kinds—in small packets ranging from a fraction of an ounce to a pound. Directions for cultivating are printed on the packets in both English and German.

Army Air Base In Las Vegas Scene Of Recent Wedding

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Cpl. G. A. Wollenman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wollenman of East Anaheim and Miss Ruth Evelyn Caillaud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Caillaud of Fullerton with Rev. Father Steffis, Catholic chaplain at the Army Air Base chapel at the Las Vegas field, reading the double ring ceremony before a small group of immediate relatives and friends. The marriage was performed at 6:30 Saturday evening at a special mass, made available by the church for servicemen.

Immediately following the ceremony, the Blessing of the Wings was read for the members of the graduating class who received their wings on Saturday afternoon. The entire class was invited into the sanctuary where they knelt in a body for this ceremony with Cpl. Wollenman.

The bride was gowned in a shade of soft yellow, harmonizing with the sun-tan of the bridegroom. The bridesmaid, Miss Marian Easton of Fullerton, wore white with black accessories. Both the bride and her maid wore gardenia corsages.

Joe Wollenman, brother of the groom, was best man.

Mrs. Wollenman is a graduate of the Fullerton high school and the Choinard Art Institute of Los Angeles. Their romance started on the campus of the Fullerton school.

Cpl. Wollenman is a graduate of Anaheim Union high school, Fullerton Junior college and was attending the University of California, where he was a pre-medic student at the time he enlisted in the Army Air Corps.

Mrs. R. Wollenman, mother of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Caillaud, the bride's mother, were in attendance.

Anaheim Druggists Help Raise Quota For 'Mercy Train'

Druggists of Southern California are being congratulated by the Treasury War Finance committee for having exceeded their million-dollar quota in a special War Bond drive during the month of April.

The campaign, which had as its objective the financing of a modern Army "mercy train" for transporting wounded war veterans to hospitals, was termed an "outstanding success."

Frank E. Mortenson, executive secretary of the Southern California Retail Druggists' Association, who directed the drive, said that sales reports still are coming in and that the total probably will reach $1,500,000.

Cooperation of local war Finance Committees with the druggists was an important factor in the drive's success, Mortenson pointed out. He also praised the Bond buying patrons of the drug stores for their wholehearted support of the campaign.

Santa Barbara was credited with the best sales record, having tripled its quota. Riverside was second and Bakersfield, third. Pasadena ranked first in sales in Los Angeles county.

First place for E Bond sales by an individual store went to Webster Drug Co., of Altadena, which turned in 115 separate sales for a total of $30,000.

Owl Drug Co. led among chain stores with $106,000 in Bond sales. Thrifty was second with a total of $72,000.

Veterans of World War II To Have Employment Help

To save the time, temper and shoe leather of recently discharged World War II veterans, a one-stop service has been set up in the Veterans Department of the United States Employment Service at 501 West Fifth Street, Santa Ana, according to Ray Mathewson, local office manager. The local veterans department is headed by Dale Winterbourne, Veteran of World War I, and includes an interviewer trained in the job placement of handicapped or physically impaired persons. This service, authorized by an act of Congress, is furnished free to all veterans of all United States wars and is designed to eliminate confusion and tiresome tramping of the streets in search of a job or a proper agency to handle the veteran's particular problem.

"One-Stop Service," said Mathewson, means that either the United Employment Service helps the veteran regain his old employment or find a suitable new job, or, if further assistance is necessary, he is referred to skilled counselors who are veterans themselves. They assist him in preliminary aid in job placement, rehabilitation, training, emergency financial aid and information about other organizations and services which can help him.

Information about these special services offered to veterans may be had during the regular office hours, from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., Monday through Saturday, at the United States Employment Service office, 501 West Fifth street, Santa Ana.

Garden Section Hears Authority On China Industry

Speaking as an authority on the china industry, the Garden section of Anaheim Ebell club was privileged to hear E. G. Alcott of Santa Ana on Monday at their regular meeting at the club house when he told, informally, the story of the china industry, being associated with this industry as a young man in England.

He gave an interesting history of the industry from the origin of the manufacture through the years to the present time, giving a better picture of the china ware that we use each day. Interesting bits about some of the leading manufacturers and their patterns were given to the interested members, adding to the information they received during his fine talk.

Mrs. Gene Frantz was named leader for another term and Mrs. C. C. Reinert, assistant leader. Mrs. Emma Karlen and Mrs. Katherine Wheeler were the tea hostesses for the afternoon.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light." This quotation from Ephesians will be the Golden Text in the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Adam and Fallen Man" in all branches of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

A Lesson-Sermon passage from the first chapter of Genesis reads: "And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness; . . . And God saw every thing that he had made, and behold, it was very good . . . and he rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had made." The record taken from the second chapter of Genesis says, "But there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground. And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul."

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy writes, "The second chapter of Genesis contains a statement of this material view of God and the universe, a statement which is the exact opposite of scientific truth as before recorded." "With a single command, Mind had made man, both male and female. How then could a material organization become the basis of man?"

Next Sunday's theme: "Faith for the Family." Last Sunday Sermon excerpt:

We speak of our need of mechanized power on our battle fields, but have we given any thought to the desperate need of power in our Christian lives? Just as gun-powder needs to be ignited in order to have its power released, so also we as Christians need the Spirit of Christ in His Holy Word to fire our soul, that we might be used as powerful testimonies, eagerly fulfilling our mission of bringing those who would see Jesus, to Him, and bringing Christ to those who don't want to see Him, but need Christ. This is the excerpt of the sermon with its theme: "Calling All Christians." Text: "We would see Jesus."

BETHEL BAPTIST

Episcopal Church To Celebrate 71st Birthday Sunday

Services commemorating the seventy-first anniversary of the founding of St. Michael's Episcopal church will be held on Sunday when the Rev. Henry W. Roth, rector of St. Mary's church, Laguna Beach, will deliver the principal address. Rev. Roth was dean of All Saint's Cathedral in New York City until a year ago when he asked to be assigned to the west coast in order that he may find a better climate for his health. He was sent to the Laguna Beach church and is well liked among the members there. He is an excellent speaker and his message will be one to be long remembered.

The church here was founded on May 15, 1873, with the first services being held in the old Enterprise hall at the corner of Los Angeles and Chartres streets. A Sunday school was started by Miss Susan M. La Faucherie and out of this group came the congregation.

Bishop Kip of the diocese of California was requested to send a rector here. As a result of this request the first rector assigned to the church was Rev. C. F. Loop who organized the parish. Two years later the present church edifice was erected. With a plain exterior, the interior is very lovely, being built on the plan of an English village church. Redwood used in the building was cut near San Francisco and shipped to Anaheim Landing. From there it was brought to Anaheim by ox teams.

As an Episcopal church, it is a part of the Anglican communion, the mother church of which is the Church of England. It is Catholic for every truth of God and Protestant against every error of man. The services are from the Book of Common Prayer.

The present priest and rector, the Rev. D. Howard Dow, has been in charge of the parish for more than fourteen years and needs no introduction to the people of Anaheim.

St. Michael's church is one of the oldest churches in Anaheim and its history is a beautiful monument to its service in the community.

No Anaheim resident can afford to be without The Gazette at the small cost of only $2.00 a year.

350 Donors Are Needed for Blood Bank Here May 19

An appeal is being made to the citizens of Anaheim for 350 donors for the Blood Bank that will be at the Ebell club on May 19,
to go to the Red Cross rooms on East Center street to register for this most worthy cause. The blood plasma has been the most important means in this war of saving precious lives of our American boys who are fighting our fight and are giving up everything that is precious to them in order that we might live in a free, Democratic America.

The wounded heroes who are returning from the battle fronts are bringing back the proof of the wonderful miracles that the blood plasma is performing in living proof of these young men who have, in many, many cases, received this life giving blood so generously donated by the patriotic citizens of this country. The life of one soldier that can be saved by blood plasma is worth
many times the momentary discomfort we may feel, so the Red Cross is again asking that the citizens of Anaheim respond in their usual generous manner and help to meet the local quota of the blood bank.

Any person regardless of color
or race, must be at least 18 years old, otherwise he or she must have a release from the parents or the guardian, but married females between these ages need no consent to the blood release card obtainable at the Red Cross. Donors must weight at least 110
pounds and the prescribed interval between donations is 10 weeks. Not more than 5 donations within a period of one year are permitted.

The local Red Cross is confident that the citizens of Anaheim will respond whole-heartedly to this essential and very vital need.
Don't forget the date, May 19, at the Ebell club at 244 North Helena street.

Mexicans Join In Celebration of Cinco de Mayo

Native Mexicans of Orange county were joined last Friday by about 1,000 Mexican Nationals recently arrived here to work in the orange harvest, when they celebrated Cinco de Mayo, the fifth of May, a national holiday in Mexico. The local celebration was directed by Frank Moreno of Fullerton.

This was the 82nd observance of Cinco de Mayo, since a French army of 6,000 men were defeated by 2,000 Mexican soldiers at the battle of Guadalupe.

The evening celebration program was held at Anaheim City park.

The FARMERS CORNER

Executive Secretary
Agricultural Council
of California

In these days of gross governmental expenditures running into billions of dollars, when we are financing the most costly war in all history, and going heavily into debt to do it, perhaps it would be well to remember the old Scotch saying: "Many a mickle makes a muckle!"

The individual taxpayer may feel there's little he can do to plug the dyke, when billions are involved, but it is still true that the little leakages, taken collectively throughout the state and nation, mount into huge figures.
This, again, is a case where if we watch out for the little things,
the big things will take care of themselves.

With that in mind, many legislative interim committees are studying the state's fiscal problems, among them the Joint Legislative committee on Study of Tax Structure and Adult Education, headed by Senator H. E. Dil-linger of Placentia.

A sub-committee of this group,
with Assemblyman Lee T. Bar-shore of Glendora, as its chairman, has submitted a partial report of its findings, dealing with assorted leaks in school expenditures which it believes can be eliminated with benefit to the taxpayers. No one knows better than farmers the vital importance of maintaining an efficient educational system—and the thumbnail review of this legislative subcommittee's findings should not be construed as an attack on the schools.

Critics of certain types of adult education classes have for years
insisted that tap dancing, golf, lampshade making, and many other types of adult education are not a proper charge against the state. Criticism has also been levelled at the methods sometimes used to secure and calculate attendance as a basis for collecting state funds for such classes.

The committee, in taking note of these criticisms, has found that state expenditures for this purpose have jumped from a total of $1,500,000, just after the transfer of the so-called county matching requirements to the state, to a total now in excess of $6,000,000.

The legislative committee notes,
in all fairness, that the large increase shown for the last three years is undoubtedly due to the war—the training of industrial workers, defense personnel, air raid wardens, etc.

Then the committee makes this report:

"It should also be pointed out that, in addition to the monies
received from the Federal Government for the purpose of conducting war production training, the schools took advantage of the situation and also claimed these same trainees for ADA from the state. This resulted in those schools conducting war production training courses, under the guise of adult education, receiving DOUBLE COMPENSATION from the state and Federal governments
for the same operation."

In addition to the foregoing costs to the state of adult education, the report notes, bonus apportionments are allowed adult education schools for the first 30 units of ADA each year. Then the committee reports: "We have determined that some school districts are taking advantage of this bonus apportionment law in that while the legislature evidently intended that only one bonus should go to a school district for special day and evening classes, it has been interpreted that bonus apportionments will be allocated to each adult school in the district,
with the result that in one school district we find seven adult schools claiming the bonus apportionment for the first 30 students in each of the seven
schools."

The legislative committee then recommends that sections of the law dealing with bonus apportionments be repealed, thereby saving the state approximately $1,099,260 per year. The legislative committee further recommends that the law should be amended to so define adult education that no class in adult education may be established or continued for less than 15 persons per session, over a one month period.

Many other recommendations
are made by the Barshore subcommittee which, for lack of space, can't be reported here, but

Future Farmer Boys To Compete For Santa Fe Award

Youthful agriculturists and stock raisers came into the limelight today when E. J. Engel, president of the Santa Fe railway, announced that the railroad would offer to Future Farmers of the state an educational award for outstanding accomplishment.

The award which the company
has presented each year to Future Farmer boys who win honors at their state convention makes it possible for them to attend the 17th National Future Farmers of America convention to be held this year in Kansas City on Oct.
9, 10 and 11.

"It is particularly appropriate that we again offer these educational awards to the boys interested in Future Farmers activities," said President Engel. "With wartime needs constantly mounting and the youth of our nation
holding the spotlight, any encouragement we may be able to give them is a patriotic duty."

The California Future Farmers
convention is scheduled for September.

GROW YOUR OWN CORKS

Cork oak seedlings are available for planting this season, according to W. M. Cory, Assistant Farm Advisor. They make an attractive shade tree and have the further value of the bark for cork purposes. These trees are primarily available for roadside beautification or for forestation.

Until the trees become established or for at least two seasons
they will need to be watered every month or six weeks throughout the summer months. Competitive weed growth around the tree trunks will likewise need to be removed.

Applications for trees will be taken at the Farm Advisor's office, 220 Ramona Building, Santa Ana.

Poultrymen Study Egg Problems; Fear Shortage Next Year

Orange county will give recognition to the most generally grown fruit of the nation, hen fruit.
Large surpluses of eggs at the present time are causing considerable loss to poultrymen of the nation and jeopardizing the supply for next year, it is indicated
from facts and figures supplied by the poultry industry.

While feed prices are in excess of last year at this time the price of eggs throughout the nation is considerably below the 1943 level for this period of the year. The low price of eggs is causing poultry owners to hesitate in brooding
more chicks or purchasing from hatcheries and this condition will cause a shortage of laying stock
for production of eggs next year,
it is pointed out.

Due to this double reason, affecting producers and consumers alike, business interests of the county as represented by the several Chambers of Commerce and their committees have combined with the poultrymen of the county Farm Bureau under the leadership of A. H. Heinemann, Orange, to sponsor Orange County Egg Week, starting next Monday, May 15, and continuing throughout the week.

Included in the plans will be featuring of eggs at meetings of clubs, increasing consumption of eggs through more uses by the housewives of the county, publicity and proclamations. Details of this program were discussed
at a meeting of Chamber of Commerce secretaries in Santa Ana today at which Heinemann and
C. J. Marks represented the poultrymen and Forrest Jones, Santa Ana businessman, and others represented the retail groups from whom much of the cooperation is expected.

These basic conclusions should be noted:

"Tax levies for the support of public schools should be on the basis of need. Our state laws should be strengthened to prevent school districts from using various programs as a vehicle for building up their local finances."
The conditions in school districts for which the committee recommends remedial action are,
this writer believes, symptomatic of a trend in many branches of government—a disposition to take advantage of circumstances to bolster budgets, sometimes without regard for the taxpayers who foot the bill. The fault, however, lies almost as much with the public, which has disregarded laws, as with the public officials. It's time to start plugging the holes
in the dyke!

tion Agent.

L. A. County C. of C. Gives Report On Crop Conditions

LOS ANGELES, May 10.—April weather that was too cool and cloudy will delay the harvesting of Southern California vegetable crops two to four weeks this year,
the agricultural department of the Los Angeles County Chamber of Commerce reported today.

Hard winds, which dried the soil, necessitated early irrigation and inspired fruit drop and scarring, disturbing normal blossoming of almonds, apricots, walnuts
and citrus.

Labor conditions, while fair at present, the report said, promise to worry farmers later in the year when heavy harvesting gets under way.

However, practically all navel oranges were harvested by the end of April, and normal shipments with ceiling prices on top grade were the rule. Prospects for the Valencia crop of large sizes and high sugar content are reported bright.

Moderate picking of lemons will continue in most areas, it was said, for another month, with quality and sizes none too good,
and the price averaging $1 below
the ceiling. Spring harvest of fuerte avocados is nearing completion, and summer-maturing varieties are expected on the market at an early date.

Deciduous fruit suffered from wind, hail, chill weather and lack of soil moisture. However, most Southern California counties look for larger harvests than last year,
if labor at the right time is available.

SON BORN

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs.
Loren Sanders of Garden Grove,
on May 3, at the St. Joseph hospital at Orange.

Reports from China indicate that through modern co-operative marketing, citrus growers near Chungking now receive 53 cents of the consumer's dollar for their oranges, compared to the 20 cents
they formerly received. Improved methods of storage have reduced waste through decay to less than a fourth of the 70 per cent loss which retarded citrus industry advancement in the area.

COLORADO RIVER WATER

For several weeks now this column has been saying "Give more in '44." You have done magnificently and this so called editor thanks you. Its about time we get off that tune or else you will be using the good old American prerogative of "kill the editor." I don't think I would relish that. So here is a different theme perhaps not so new but needed. Ye Ed is starting a club, yep another one. It is the "Let's get the ring out of the bathtub club." Colorado River Aqueduct water will do it. Housewives are crying for it. Fuller balls and plumbing connections are roaring for it. Washing machines and soap powders are yearning for it. Monday morning washes are fairly yelling for it. Why not you? My colleague, Proctor, on the front page who is continually wearing himself out "Rising to Remark" will love the soft filtered water to shave his Cherokee mug with. Join with us today and whoop it up for M. W. D. water.
