Possibly the biggest commercial business that can be attributed directly to the dishonesty of people is the lock and key business.

The proposed treaty with Mexico which would guarantee to that country 1,500,000 acres of Colorado river water annually, to be delivered free from American-built Boulder dam and American-built canals, has met with unanimous opposition from the California legislature. An appropriation of $50,000 has been made by the state to fight ratification of the treaty in Washington. That alone is quite a little incentive for somebody to promote such a treaty but, if you want to know what is really back of the deal see if you can find out who the Americans are that own some 300,000 acres of land below the border that is traversed by the American-built canal that dips down into Mexico and then back to Imperial Valley. The chances are the Mexicans never thought of such a treaty until somebody over here dreamed it. Still water runs deep, and so does politics.

How women ever lost their hold on politics, after many centuries of domineering that field, I am not student enough to say, but the fact remains that as the last century closed they were making a determined fight for a comeback. Through some quirk of false pride and chivalry on the part of the men the women had become disfranchised and under the guise of being "protected" they had lost about everything except their social standing and their natural ability to have babies. Even as late as the heyday of Richard (Himself) Carl, and George M. Cohan, it was their custom to denounce "this thing called woman suffrage" when they made their curtain talks between the acts. Since that time the "comeback" women have made in the fields of politics and business has been rapid. Their re-entry into these fields has not necessarily raised the standards of either, as the claim was, because history records that while women may be more cunning and crafty than men, they are at the same time equally as cruel and crooked when dealing with an adversary, or when pursuing power or money. In an article entitled "Do Women Belong In Politics," in the current issue of "She" Magazine, Elsa Maxwell closes with this line: "Simply ask yourself another question—Do men?"

A 20-year-old Santa Ana girl was doing right well out of the war, until the FBI stopped her. She was getting a government allowance from a soldier husband and one from a sailor husband and had two babies, but says she was never married to anybody. At least she was doing her part to help re-populate the world.

Germany now claims to have 10,000 super-robot planes concentrated for launching against New York City. The planes will carry 10-ton bombs, traveling at 750 miles an hour at an altitude of 65,000 feet. The bombs are said to contain explosives 25 times more powerful than those now being used against London and will destroy all life and buildings within a radius of three miles of where they explode, the Germans claim. If Germany has such a contraption it can be taken for granted they will use it. They will also use the worst poison gas they have been able to concoct before the day of final surrender. Their treachery is only surpassed by that of the Japs, the difference being that the Germans will quit when they get too hard pressed, while the Japs will fight until the

Harry Easton Is Honored Tuesday Eve By Associates

A group of fifty close associates honored Harry Easton, one of the best known figures in the North Orange county citrus industry, last Tuesday evening at a dinner at the Elks club. The dinner for Mr. Easton commemorates his retirement as manager of the Placentia Orange County Exchange, being active manager since 1936 and whose resignation became effective on July 1.

He has been in the citrus industry for the past 36 years, coming to Placentia in 1916 as foreman of the Placentia Mutual packing house, later becoming manager of that plant.

He plans to devote his time to his own citrus groves. Toastmaster for this occasion was Jack Prizer of Fullerton and a delegation from the California Fruit Growers Exchange in Los Angeles, headed by Paul Armstrong, its president, were in attendance.

dozens of varieties that is actually pestiferous. It is only the female of the species that attacks humans and its bite is only dangerous when it has previously fed upon a human infected with malaria. The mosquito is merely the carrier of the malaria germ and unless it contacts an infected human it is no more dangerous than other types of mosquitoes. Mosquitoes are found in every country and in every climate. The "gall-nipper" variety that can bite through your leather shoes, flourish equally as well in the Arctic Circle as they do in the subtropics. Southern California has fewer mosquitoes and fewer of the malaria-carrying variety than most places on the North American continent.

County Air and Naval Bases Regarded Permanent Fixtures In Coast Defense

Apparently Orange county has been selected by the War Department as one of the strong west coast defense areas, judging by the nature of permanent bases located here for the air and naval services.

Santa Ana Army Air Base, located between Santa Ana and the coastline, is one of the nation's principal air training stations and is generally referred to as one of the army's permanent plants. Among the older stations of its kind, some construction work is still being done there, apparently of a permanent nature.

In the Anaheim Landing-Seal Beach area the Navy is now building a huge harbor and supply depot installation which, according to official announcements, is to be a permanent set-up. Cost of the project as presently outlined, will be in the neighborhood of $25,000,000, and the land included in the project practically adjoins the huge naval air station at Los Alamitos.

Construction of the harbor and supply depot is going ahead at full speed and the base will be ready for use when the center of war activity moves to the west coast for the final finishing off of the Japs. Jetties are being constructed, highways and railroads in the area moved and lowlands in the area are being filled with the dredging from the channels that will accommodate the fleets of supply vessels that will load munitions and supplies at this point.

Farther inland, at El Toro, the big Marine air base, already the proportions of a good sized city, is undergoing an $18,500,000 enlargement.

Improvements to be installed with this new fund include accommodations for heavy aircraft, in addition to the lighter-than-air ships now stationed there. Two runways, 1,000 feet wide and 5,000 feet long, and taxiing and parking areas will be built to accommodate the largest air ships. The strips will be constructed to accommodate flying cargo ships with a wheel load of 42,000 pounds.

According to officers of the various armed forces Orange county has proved to be a desirable location for the type of operational bases installed here and is a favorite spot with the enlisted men of the services. With such permanent installations Orange county will have a large resident personnel of civilian and enlisted service men and their families after the war has ended.

California and Iowa Lead All States In Cash Farm Income For Year 1943

SAN FRANCISCO.—Cash returns to California farmers from the sale of farm products during 1943 reached the new high level of $1,520,119,000, an increase of 31 per cent over 1942, and more than double the amount received in 1939, according to a report just issued by the Research Department of the California State Chamber of Commerce based upon estimates provided by the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

California and Iowa, the report states, lead the nation in cash farm income, alternating from first to second rank from year to year by a narrow margin. During 1942 Iowa led with a total of $1,625,394,000, but California ranked first by a wide margin among the states in cash income from crops, with 13 per cent of the national total in 1943 compared to approximately 11 per cent in 1942.

Yuma AAF Boxing Team To Meet AAF WFFC and SAAAB at Santa Ana Aug. 4

Orange County fight fans are promised a full evening when the Yuma Army Air Field boxing team meets with soldier boxers of Headquarters, AAF Western Flying Training Command, and Santa Ana Army Air Base at the Santa Ana Municipal Bowl on the night of August 4th, according to officials of the American Legion, which is sponsoring the bouts.

Legion spokesmen stated that the entire proceeds will go to a worthy Army charity.

The Yuma fighters are reputed the best in the entire area of the AAF Western Flying Training Command, and the locally-based soldiers who have been training extensively at SAAAB are said to be showing some hot form.

Eight men from Yuma, ranging from heavy-weight to light-weight, will make the team, according to information from the Arizona base; and the local card will be selected from the best of eighteen contestants who shape up most favorably in the opinion of the coaches.

War Bonds will be prize money for the matches, Legion officials stated, and the complete list and history of participating fighters will be announced later this week. Tickets will be popularly-priced, it is understood, with an advanced sale slated well before the events.

Added attractions for the bouts will be the presence of such old-time ring favorites as Barney Ross, Jim Jefferies, and Willie Ritchie; with a half-hour of no-holds-barred wrestling starting the evening's offerings.

Orange Shipments Up 100 Cars This Week; Market Good

Indications at the first of the week were that shipments will be 100 cars more this week than the week before, the prorata being 2,300 cars against 2,200 cars for the week ending July 15.

Recovering from the two-day shut-down of many of the retail outlets over the Fourth of July, wholesale storage stocks moved out during the past week with the larger sizes in most demand and some improvement noted in the smaller sizes. The smaller sizes, 34 1/2 and smaller, are not moving as fast as 25 1/2 and larger, according to the outlets.

Apparently the Florida crop is about exhausted as the number of cars rolling to the market centers has dropped to less than 200 weekly, causing a greater demand for California valencias with ceiling prices still prevailing on all larger sizes.

Continued hot weather in the east and middle west is a big factor in keeping the demand for California oranges and lemons ahead of the available cars for shipping. The crop is being moved as fast as cars are available and present indications are that the season will end with storage stocks at a low ebb.

On the whole the citrus industry is in a favorable position as labor for the harvest appears to be adequate. While cool weather slowed the ripening of the fruit in some localities, this condition has worked in favor of the growers and there appears to be no danger of losing any of the crop as so far the pickers have been able to keep up with the maturing of the fruit.

Orange county is enjoying one of its most successful seasons for the citrus industry and the prosperity created by the harvest is reflected in all lines of business.

The sad results of obeying strike orders by station agents and other railroad officials in isolated places was never better illustrated than in the case of the Santa Fe station agent at Orange, who went out on obedience to orders from his union a week or two ago. The company had no difficulty in finding another man to take his place. The agent's salary, what with handling the express and the railroad business, amounted to not less than $100 per month, and after going out he went to pitting apricots at sixty cents a day. After the strike had been officially declared off, he sought his place again, but was politely informed that his services were not required.

Forty new freight cars have been constructed by the Southern Pacific for use in shipping beets from here to Chino. Platforms are now being made here and at Buena Park to facilitate the dumping of beets into the cars, and the first shipments will go out probably next week.

We want you to be forewarned

As you may have read in the newspapers, the Office of Defense Transportation has given the railroads authority to take train space from civilian passengers at any time, to make room for wounded service men.

We sincerely hope that people planning trips not essential to the war effort will cancel their plans so that more room will be left on trains, and so make it unnecessary to take these drastic steps. We are going to take care of these wounded men first. They come first with us, and we believe they come first with you. But we and other railroads would dislike very much to cancel reservations at the last minute, or to make people already on trains give up their space.

The invasion of Europe has started, and how great the toll of wounded will be nobody knows. We have our wounded from the Pacific coming in too. And more and more cars must be taken from them from the restricted amount of equipment left after the regular military requirements are met.

We cannot guarantee that if you start a trip you will be able to get space returning. You must face that fact. If you're away from home on a pleasure trip and emergency space cancellations must be made, you may have great difficulty getting back.

For some time we have been urging people not to travel except on essential business. We haven't enjoyed doing this. For many years we have been trying to promote travel, and it "goes against the grain" to suggest that people stay off the trains. The very fact that we have issued these appeals should indicate the seriousness of the travel situation. And the new ODT order emphasizes this still more.

Why don't we provide more cars, more trains? Virtually no new cars can be built during war time. Materials are scarce, and car builders have been making guns and tanks and other war equipment. With the biggest army and navy in our history, about 63% of all Pullman sleeping cars have to be used exclusively for military service. Travel by men in uniform on furlough, or traveling on orders, plus the greatly increased volume of business travel due to the war production effort, taxes the capacity of the remaining equipment used in regular passenger train service. There are no more passenger cars available. We must get along with what we have.

We have now reached the point where there just isn't room on our trains for people who don't have to travel.

People planning a vacation or other non-essential trip may think "There's always room for one more."

Well, there isn't.

If you are planning a train trip not essential to the war effort, we strongly advise you to change your plans, now.

PRETTY RITES FOR MARRIAGE OF J. F. BACKUS AND EVELYN RUTH OLSON AT WHITE TEMPLE METHODIST CHURCH

Mrs. Edna Olson of 312 Halesworth street, Santa Ana, announces the marriage of her daughter, Evelyn Ruth, to Jacob Francis Backus of Anaheim, last Sunday afternoon at three o'clock at the White Temple Methodist church with the Rev. Thomas L. Burden, pastor of the church reading the double ring ceremony before two hundred relatives and guests.

The impressive rites were repeated under an archway of lighted candles with large baskets of white gladioli, larkspur and mums at either side to form the altar.

The bride, who was lovely in a white satin gown fashioned with a long train and fingertip veil caught to her hair in a lovely coronet, was given in marriage by P. T. Bervin of Wilmington, Calif., a very close friend of the family. To complete the bride's costume she carried a white Bible on which rested two white orchids. A lovely strand of pearls that had belonged to the bridegroom's mother and a blue sapphire ring belonging to Miss Gill Caldwell, were her only adornments.

Mrs. Marjorie Fackner, matron of honor, was the only attendant to the bride. She was dressed in green net over taffeta and carried a nosegay of talisman roses.

a resident of Steamboat Springs, Colo.

The young couple left on Monday for Big Bear Lake where they will spend their honeymoon after which they will establish their home in Santa Ana at 312 Halesworth street.

Parent-Teachers Congress Have Successful Meet

The three-day convocation of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers which was held at the Hotel Clark in Los Angeles Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week, was very favorably reported by the members who attended. Several very important matters relative to the work of this group was discussed and plans were perfected for putting this work into operation.

The following recommendation by the Legislation Committee were presented by Mrs. P. D. Bevil, chairman, and were endorsed by the board:

To support the constitutional amendment to increase the salaries of state officials, who would include the State Superintendents of Public Instruction while in office.

To support the 60-80 constitutional amendment.

To oppose California Employment and Retirement Mutual Insurance Plan (Old Age) because of the rider which would repeal the sales tax. The Congress takes the position that the sales tax is the largest source of revenue for the support of public schools.

To seek legislation to bring the opium-pot growth under control, which would be in conformity with the Federal regulations. Send a letter to Senator Collier definitely approving "Driver Training for Senior High School Students."

To continue the study of the 24-hour school care for children; and to continue the study of the effect of tax exemptions on the state financial structure.

During the committee reports, more than 100 new units, with 587 charter members, were reported by Mrs. B. D. Ralston, director of extension.

A group of Latin-American doctors studying at the University asked that available material for use in South American countries be sent to aid in the educational problems there. The board voted to send all available material in the state office.

During the reports as given by the various chairmen, the fact was brought out that organized community efforts have proven a better solution to juvenile problems than any single effort of the individual groups. The successful solution of youth problems will require the combined efforts of all agencies interested in youth welfare.

A report was also given by representatives of youth agencies who attended the "Conference on Youth in Wartime" held last month in San Jose and at the University of California at Los Angeles.

The Congress' annual convention for next year will be held in May at San Jose.

CENTENARIAN HERE VISITING FRIEND

Mrs. Katherine Rowe of El Centro, who spends a vacation here each summer with Mrs. J. O. Johnson of North Topeka street, celebrated her 100th birthday anniversary on Sunday, July 16. At present she is in North Hollywood visiting with Mrs. Johnson's daughter.

B. & P. W. CLUBS CONCLUDE SUCCESSFUL SUMMER CONFERENCE AT HOTEL DEL MAR

Miss Dorothy Donahue of Bakersfield, program coordinator of California Federation, Business and Professional Women's club, very clearly outlined the 1944-45 program at the summer conference held last Sunday at Hotel Del Mar, Del Mar, by the Southern District. The meeting was conducted by Emma Luebberts of Ontario, president of the district. She also outlined plans for the year's programs, explaining to the club program chairmen how to get the most from the program submitted. Laura Bettis of Santa Ana, district program coordinator, assisted Miss Donahue.

Dr. Elmer Nelson, member of the Office of Price Administration of Los Angeles, chose for his talk as principal speaker of the day, "Economic Status of Women in the Post War World." He explained that in the days to come there will be many changes for women who work and of the important cycles which will influence the world affairs, mentioning particularly the signing of the armistice, the postwar era which will be a period of adjustment and the recovery period.

The migration of women who are following their soldier husbands about the country will greatly affect California's future, Dr. Nelson said. A large percentage of the women who have come from other parts of the country plan to return here permanently after the war.

Members of the San Diego BFW were hostesses for the conference. Special musical features were provided during the luncheon by Pfc. William Howard Baylor, USMC, and Miss Peggy Snyder. Pfc. Baylor sang "Ave Maria" and "My Friend" by Malotte. The singing of "Star Spangled Banner" was led by Louella Pirtle. The convocation voted to hold another conference in San Bernardino in October.

The Anaheim club was represented by the president, Miss Beulah Hineman, Miss Jean Smith, Mrs. Sibyl Burden, Dr. Hazel Nelms and Mrs. Ella Woodall, district health chairman.

Muriel Fallert and Earl W. Stengel Wed

The wedding rites of Muriel Joy Fallert and Earl William Stengel was solemnized at the Fallert residence, 2510 West Commonwealth, Fullerton, last Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Thomas L. Burden, pastor of the White Temple Methodist church in Anaheim, reading the single ring ceremony before about twenty relatives and friends.

The bride was dressed in a blue sheer costume with which she wore a gardenia corsage. Both bride and groom were unattended.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Stengel received the guests for an informal reception after which they left for the beach on a short honeymoon.

Mrs. Stengel is well known in Anaheim, having been employed at the S. Q. R. store for some time and upon their return she plans to continue her work there. She has made her home in Fullerton for many years, and has a lot of friends in that city.

Mr. Stengel is employed in defense work in Long Beach.

Local Girl Weds Army Air Cadet

Miss Dorothy Manchester of Anaheim, and Doyle Roberts, aviation student stationed at Santa Ana Army Air Base, were united in marriage in a simple ceremony performed by Chaplain Samuel J. McBurney at the base's East chapel recently.

The bride was dressed in a powder blue suit with matching accessories. Preceding and during the ceremony music was provided by Pvt. Caroline Prugh, chapel organist.

Witnesses for the young couple were Mrs. Verna Holt of Santa Ana, and Pvt. William E. Hunt, S.A.A.B.

The bridegroom is from Pond Creek, Oklahoma.

Garden Show of Last Friday Is Successful Affair

Paul D. Lieb was awarded the grand prize of the second annual garden and kitchen show as sponsored by the city of Anaheim and the Ebbl club, when the exhibits were shown at the Ebbl clubhouse last Friday afternoon and evening. His award was a cultivator plow.

The other grand prize, a cast aluminum pressure cooker, went to Mrs. S. E. Loard of 223 East Alberta street, in the women's section. Both these prizes were awarded to the most ribbon holders in the two divisions of the show.

All displays were outstanding in quality and attractiveness with the 4-H club girls' and boys' displays particularly fine. A large number of other prizes were awarded for exhibits. A dehydrator was given for the largest and most interesting exhibit in the dehydrated vegetables and fruits section, and was won by Mrs. L. N. Wisser, who has given so much of her time during the past several years to the home economics service of the city. She plans to extend its use to other housewives who might like to use it.

Mrs. George L. Greder, general chairman of the show, has given much of her time toward this project.

Mrs. L. N. Wisser, who was chairman of the food conservation program of the show, was assisted by Mrs. E. H. Kersten, Mrs. L. E. Davenport, Mrs. Richard Roehm and Mrs. Ralph Foelt. Representing the city was Rudolph Byers, park superintendent and Miss Frances Liles, county home demonstrator with W. M. Cory from the Farm Bureau assisting in the general show. A number of other persons gave freely of their time to make this event such a success.

Bow Your Heads

THIS is Invasion! Now in the hearts, brains and muscles of our American Youth lies the future of our country.

Bow your heads. Pray with millions of mothers the country over, as their hearts reach out over the seas, each one seeking out her boy, to protect him with the shield of her love.

Believe that in this world there is definite strength in decency and honor. Believe that in our devotion there is moral force. Believe that our will to victory will aid that victory.

Seek and ye shall find!

Let us seek added strength and fortitude for our men in our own sacrifice and devotion.

Let us focus every thought, every action, and every prayer on the boys fighting for us.

And, while each one bends to his task with ever-growing fervor and energy, let us adopt a common symbol as our faith in Victory.

Let that Symbol be War Bonds. Let us pour our money in a gigantic flood of goodwill toward our sons and brothers, as a spiritual shield for them.

This is the Invasion. The lives of our boys are at stake. Let them see that the Soul of America is with them.

Let it not be too late . . . not next month, next week, or tomorrow, but today . . . now.

The FARMERS CORNER

Executive Secretary
Agricultural Council
of California

If the American people want the best food and the finest materials for the lowest possible price, and the high standard of living which that type of economy fosters; if we want successful farmers, capable of buying the finished goods of the cities—then we can't afford to indulge in romancing about bringing back the good old days of the small farm!

The good old days weren't so good, actually; they were days of back-breaking labor, from dawn till sundown, which netted the average farmer little more than a bare living, and which resulted in country boys migrating to the cities as rapidly as they could save train fare to get there.

No prideful American farmer regrets the sweat and toil and long hours that went into wresting a living from the soil, and finally winning him a foothold on the land, but few intelligent farmers would want to turn back the clock to the days when a man's ability to survive on the farm often depended on how many sons he was given to do the work now done by machines.

That kind of farming was largely subsistence farming; it was a necessary part in the development of a new nation, and the taming of the wilderness—but America then did not have huge cities to be fed, nor high farm costs requiring cash income. That was an era of trading potatoes for eggs, and corn for sugar, but the farm of that day couldn't earn the farm taxes of today, let alone the water and power bills—and the cost of sending strapping sons through the university.

That was a good era; it helped to make America strong. But the era of today, and the era ahead, are better; they will make America great, unless we permit ourselves to be detoured onto dead end streets.

Recently the editor of the Santa Rosa Republican pointed out that four hours of man-labor are required to harvest an acre of grain with a binder, but less than one hour is required with a combine.
It takes one man six and one-quarter hours to husk an acre of good corn by hand, but only one and one-eighth hours with a one-row picker. It takes 42 man-hours to transplant an acre of sweet potatoes by hand, while a modern machine requires only ten hours.
And to block, thin, top and load an acre of sugar beets by hand requires 72 hours, while machines can do the same work in 12 man-hours.

Should we then, to please Mr.

Locke, or some other person who preaches the glory of "the small farm" from the luxurious confines of a country estate, or an air-conditioned office, do away with the combine and go back to the binder? Should we return to husking corn by hand, so that farmers can be made smaller and farmers can survive on less? Or should we permit American farmers to have sufficient acreage to facilitate the efficient use of machines—and encourage efficient, low-cost production which, in turn, means more of good things for our whole population at less cost?

The answer is obvious. When talking moving pictures came out, they were boycotted by musicians, because it was argued they would throw thousands out of work. But today every screen talks—and we would not have it otherwise.

Little farms, in this writer's judgment, will grow larger; it is inevitable. But huge farms—the vast domains of thousands of acres—will gradually become smaller, not by man-made laws, but by laws of competition. For example, many of the advantages which the giant farming operation once had over the middle-sized farm have been cancelled out today by the fact that farm co-ops permit the smaller farmers to have just as excellent buying and selling organizations as the big operator. And the farmer-owned and farmer-operated farm has many advantages, in production efficiency, over the corporation-owned farm. But in today's farm economy, the very small farm, largely operated by hand labor, and too small to support efficient machinery—is doomed, just as the horse buggy was doomed by the invention of the automobile.

It is all right, now and then, to shed a tear in the cup of memory for the dear, dead days beyond recall, but let's not try to bring them back. That would be anti-climax.
If America is to go ahead, agriculture must go ahead; it would be disastrous to turn back. And it is to be hoped Congress ponders that, before it listens too seriously to demagogues who, lacking the courage to cope with the future, would turn back to the past.

Lumber Control Assures Supplies For Farm Uses

Allocation of lumber for Orange county farm use totals 820,000 board feet for the three months, July, August and September, to be distributed by the County AAA Committee through preference rating certificates bearing priorities of AA-2 and AA-3, it was announced today by Stephen Griset, chairman of the Orange county committee.

Rapidly falling lumber stocks, due in part to unrated deliveries permitted under earlier orders, have reduced lumber supplies for essential uses to the critical point, Griset said, adding, "We've used up our 'fat' and now must balance essential use with lumber production."

"Dealers in rural areas are likely to have very little lumber except that available for essential farm use. They will have to have farmers' lumber certificates in order to maintain stock. Farmers will need to use the certificates in order to assure themselves of continuing supplies in local yards," Griset explained. "AA-2 rating certificates for lumber for emergencies, repair, and maintenance can be issued, while less urgent jobs and small farm construction (not dwellings) will be rated AA-3 for the remainder of the quarterly allocation."

Although previous lumber orders have been rescinded and replaced by the new M-335 with very much tighter civilian controls to become effective August 1, the WPB Order (L-41) controlling construction is still in effect and lumber used in construction approved under this order will not diminish the quotas for farm use.
Griset pointed out. The total lumber quota for the three-month period for the State is 43½ million board feet.

Applications for lumber certificates will be filed at the County Agricultural Conservation Office at 622 North Main street, Santa Ana, and when approved the valid certificates will be accepted by lumber dealers who in turn extend the ratings to their suppliers delivered in accordance with the order, Griset concluded.

Mexican Citrus Is Discussed at Fruit Exchange Meeting

Further indication of increased citrus production in other areas was given in a discussion of the Mexican citrus industry by Dr.
Walter Ebeling of the Citrus Experiment Station at the weekly meeting of the California Fruit Growers Exchange in Los Angeles. The Riverside scientist spent a month in Mexico making a rapid survey of citrus pests and pest control methods.

Mexico has 100,000 acres of citrus fruits—about two thirds in oranges—and the acreage is rapidly increasing, is the opinion of Dr.
Ebeling. Lemons and grapefruit are practically unknown; the lime is the only citrus fruit exported annually. This large acreage of potentially profitable production must be added to the already reported 70,000 acres of new plantings in Florida and Texas.

Florida red scale is the worst citrus pest, in Mexico and California red scale ranks second.
Mexican fruit fly, a serious pest in many sections, appears to be moving northward along the west coast and may eventually reach California.

"Citrus trees are found in every state of Mexico but more than half of the commercial acreage is less than five years old," said Dr.
Ebeling.

Mrs. David Grauer Called By Death

Antonia Grauer, 66 years old, a native German who came to Porterville, California, forty-two years ago and who has resided south of Anaheim for thirty-three years, passed away Tuesday afternoon at a Fullerton hospital after an illness of but a few days.
On Sunday morning she attended her church services and was taken seriously ill Sunday night. On Monday she was removed to the hospital but all that medical skill could do was of no avail.

Surviving are her husband, David Grauer; two daughters, Mrs. Ella Sitenhof and Mrs. Lydia Bohnet, both of Anaheim; one son, Elvin Grauer of Porterville; one brother, William Michaelis of Porterville and four grandchildren.

She was an active member of the Bethel Baptist church.
Funeral services will be conducted from the Bethel Baptist church Friday at 2 o'clock and entombment will be made in Fair-haven mausoleum near Orange.
Hilgenfeld mortuary is in charge of arrangement.

Farm Labor Situation In Orange County Surveyed By Farm Extension Service

While the farm labor demand and supply is fairly well balanced in Orange county for the moment, according to George Wells, manager of the Farm Labor office of the Agricultural Extension Service, preparations are being made now for the peak harvest demands of August, September and October, when several of the major crops of the county will be ready for harvest simultaneously.

Wells states that due to continued cool summer weather and maturing of crops has been slow and as a result the demand for help has been amply provided, thus enabling many growers to get their fields in good condition prior to actual harvest.

The greatest demand for help up to this time has been in the citrus industry where approximately 3,000 are now picking oranges and lemons while about 2,700 are engaged in the packing of the fruit.

In the tomato crop this year's planting of about 2,500 acres is a little below that of 1943, but here again is a case where cool weather has retarded the ripening of the tomatoes such that only about 5%, lying along the warmer slope of the hills back of the coast, is now ripe and being picked for market. Picking of to-matos for canneries will start about the middle of August and extend on through November.

The Farm Labor Office is now recruiting many girls for pitting apricots at Hemet, where the harvest season started July 18th and will continue for three or four weeks. These girls will be housed in one of the schools under a capable woman supervisor who will have charge of the dormitory as well as of the cutting shed.

The lima and black eye bean crop from 38,000 acres is well advanced, and through the Farm Labor Office recruitment and placement, large crews for hoeing weeds have been used. It is estimated that 75 per cent of the fields have been hoed at least once. Much of this work was done by girls and younger women.

Harvesting of Ford Hook lima beans for the quick freeze industry will start about the first of August, according to Wells. There are approximately 1,500 acres in Orange county and 600 acres in southern Los Angeles county.
Some of this harvest will be done by hand and the balance by use of "viners," a machine designed to thresh and separate the green beans from the pods. As soon as the beans are podded they are packed in ice and trucked to the main plant in Pasadena where they are prepared and canned for market. "Viner" units will be set up in the vicinity of Greenville and also at Westminster.

COUNTY MOVES TO DESTROY INFECTED GROVE

Agricultural Commissioner D.
W. Tubbs has filed suit in the superior court for an order to destroy two acres of infected citrus trees northwest of Anaheim, near Manchester and Gilbert street.
The grove belongs to R. J. Lloyd Tarazon who is charged by Tubbs with neglecting his trees until they are infected with scale and insects and are a menace to other nearby citrus groves.

Lt. J. W. Cummins Writes Parents of So. Pacific Battle

In a recent letter received by Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Cummins of Wagner Road, their son, Lt. J. W.
Cummins, wrote of the landing of the Allies on the Marianas Islands, stating he was with the second contingent landing there.

"It's terribly hot here," wrote J. W., "and at times I thought I would go completely under. Don't worry about me because I'm all O. K."

At present he is Regimental Grave Officer and he stated that it was a terribly hard job with a lot of work to do.

One experience he had that he likely will remember is the time that he wandered away from his troop at the front line and as soon as he discovered what he had done, he hurriedly rejoined the men. The danger of snipers, he says, is too great to stray away from your company very far because there is always some of the enemy lying in wait for an Allied soldier or Marine.

Lt. Cummins will be in overseas service one year next month (August). He says "Things are in a heck of a mess but we hope to do a real job of it this time and soon."

This is the first letter Mr. and Mrs. Cummins have received from him since the first part of June.
His address is: Lt. J. W. Cummins (DC), USN, H. & S. Co., 6th Marines, c/o Fleet Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

Their younger son, Chas. W.
"Woody" Cummins, who is in the Merchant Marine service, is somewhere in the South Pacific and is fine, so he writes his parents. He is terribly busy now and has very little time for letter writing but likes to receive letters.
His address is: Chas. W. Cummins, SS Grand Mesa, c/o Fleet Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif., c/o Union Oil Co.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
The Golden Text in the Sunday lesson—Sermon on "Love" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, is from Jeremiah: "Let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lord which exercise lovingkindness, judgment and righteousness, in the earth: for in these things I delight, saith the Lord."
A Lesson-Sermon selection from Matthew reads, "When Jesus was come into Peter's house, he saw his wife's mother laid, and sick of a fever. And he touched her hand, and the fever left her: and she arose, and ministered unto them. When the even was come, they brought him many that were possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sick."

Mary Baker Eddy writes in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures": "God is not the author of mortal discords. Therefore we accept the conclusion that discords have only a fabulous existence, are mortal beliefs which divine Truth and Love destroy."

Rationing Causes Big Drop In Tax Revenue From Gas

SACRAMENTO—James H. Quinn, Member of the State Board of Equalization, today announced completion of California gasoline tax assessments for May amounting to $4,154,032, in contrast to $4,203,676 for the same month a year ago, marking a drop of $49,644. This is the first time during 1944 in which the tax for a current month has been less than that for the corresponding period in 1943. Contrasting motor vehicle fuel tax collections he pointed out: "May taxes on distribution of 138,467,748 gallons of gasoline were 1,654,797 less than those of a year ago, marking a loss of 1.18 per cent. April distributions showed a gain of only 153,551, or 3.97 per cent, for March were 260,281, or 6.7 per cent higher. In February they were 503,255, or 15.4% higher, and in January the gain was 636,051, or 19.26 per cent. "When collections for May of this year are compared with those for 1942 the drop is even more pronounced. Two years ago May taxes were $4,844,276 and in 1941, the last year before rationing, the May taxes were $5,623,773. The current levy is almost $1,500,000 less, which would mean an average revenue decline approaching $50,000 a day.

Expressing the comparison in another way, Quinn said that the effect of rationing had been to cut the amount of revenue derived from gasoline taxes on highway use by some $50,000 a day. He stressed that continuation of this trend would bring even greater revenue losses.

K. B. Rigby To Head County Am. Legion

The Orange County Council of the American Legion for the next year will be under the guidance of Kenneth B. Rigby of Anaheim, prominent in the work of this organization. He will assume his duties at the next meeting to be held at Seal Beach on August 11. The election meeting was held Friday evening at the Tustin post.

He is well qualified for this position having been junior past commander of Anaheim post, a past commander of San Luis Obispo post, present vice-commander of the County Council and membership chairman of the Legion's 21st district.

Milton Kohne, retiring sergeant-at-arms of the Anaheim post, has been appointed as county council adjutant.

The council unanimously recommended George Kellogg of Placentia post, for the first vice-commander of the 21st district.

Several matters of importance were discussed with reports of several committees heard.

Attending from the local post were Kenneth B. Rigby, Milton Kohne, E. C. Westenkuehler, James Heffron and Carleton O. Starr.

Mary E. Addington Taken By Death

Mary Elizabeth Addington, 80, resident of Anaheim for three months, died Saturday afternoon, July 15, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Cleo R. Smith on Magnolia avenue, following a brief illness. She was a native of Little Rock, Ark., but had been a resident of California for seven years.

She is survived by seven daughters, Mrs. Marona Scott of Fresno, Mrs. Johnnie Horton of Oklahoma, Mrs. Maudie Lancaster of Visalia, Mrs. Cleo R. Smith of Anaheim, and Mrs. Beatrice Payne of Bakersfield; four sons, James F. Addington of Oklahoma, William M. of Tennessee, Benjamin F. of Texas, and Fred H. Addington of Bakersfield; thirty-five grandchildren and numerous great grandchildren. She was a member of the Baptist church.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Hilgenfeld chapel. Rev. Guy Humphreys, acting pastor of the Christian church, officiated and burial was made in Bakersfield.

County Will Pay $20,274 For Each Cent of Tax Levy

General tax rate costs the taxpayers of the county about $20,274, California Taxpayers association stated today, making public its analysis of revenues from property taxes in California counties.

Based on the $202,736,725 assessed value of property in the county for 1943-44, every cent of rate amounted to $20,274 in property tax levy. Any change in the assessed value of property in the county for 1944-45 will, the association pointed out, increase or decrease the amount the county will receive from each cent of rate levied.

After serving through two wars, Sgt. Eugene L. Mann, now 67 years old and president of three corporations and active in club work, is back in the service as a recruiter for the Women's Army Corps and the Army Air Forces. WAVES Have 2nd Birthday July 30th News comes from the Orange County Navy Recruiting station that the Women's Reserve of the Navy (WAVES to our readers) is having a birthday, two years old on Sunday, July 30th.

According to Jerry Hoover, recruiter in charge, the WAVES now number nearly 80,000 and interest in applying is increasing. However, the need continues, for the work these members can do is of utmost importance to the war effort. The benefits each WAVE receives is far in excess of that received in civilian life, even though the monetary outlay is only $50 per month. A great many things other than this is to be taken into consideration.

The call goes out day after day for additional recruits and they may apply at the Post Office Building, Santa Ana or telephone Santa Ana 1178.

Two New Members Join 20-30 Club

Grant Stiner and Harry Hoskins were initiated into the 20-30 club when they held their dinner meeting at the Elks clubhouse last Monday evening. The evening was a very pleasant one, Thomas Seeds, a veteran of World War I, being the principal speaker.

Mr. Seeds gave a graphic description of Buckingham Palace, the Cliffs of Dover, and other parts of the foreign war areas, having served his country in this area during the other war.

Correspondence from two of the members now overseas, George Weinard and Bruce Cook, was read.

Further plans for the war bond ticket sales was discussed with this drive now underway and the proceeds of which will go to the "Teen-Age" Canteen.

DOWN DOWN DOWN

SINCE the war began, nearly everything has gone up in price. The costs of food, clothing, housing and other commodities have soared skyward... some already have increased as much as 40%... and are going still higher!

Probably the only living cost that has not increased is electricity. The cost of electricity has actually gone down about 50% since World War I! Right now, electric rates are at the lowest figure in history. In spite of steadily rising prices and the great demand for electric power to meet war production needs, your dollar buys more Edison electricity today than ever before.
