City Council Sets July 10 For Public Hearing

Peter and Aida Lehr of Anaheim presented a notice of appeal to the city council Tuesday night in which they asked that the planning commission's rejection of a petition for zoning variance be set aside. They are asking that restrictions imposed by zoning ordinance No. 609 be lifted so that a public scales, weighmaster office and service station can be installed on the southwest corner of Kroeger and Center streets.

The council has ordered that a public hearing be held on July 10 in the city council chambers at which time the matter will be given further consideration and protestants will be heard. The hearing will convene at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Several weeks ago the matter was considered by the city planning commission and a variance change was denied following numerous protests made by residents in that district who claimed that an installation of that type would tie up traffic on a main thoroughfare and create noise and hazardous conditions in a residential area.

A resolution was passed approving a memorandum agreement for the quarter-cent gas tax to be allocated for maintenance purposes of state highways that include Manchester blvd., Lincoln ave. and Center street.

The council passed ordinance No. 688 granting a zoning variance to Bertha M. Riggs at 224 North Clementine street for the purposes of teaching the design and construction of women's clothes.

City expenditures for the period from June 1 to 15 amounted to $22,354.88.

Councilman H. E. W. Barnes acted as mayor pro-tem in the absence of Mayor Charles Pearson who is attending the state board of the California League of Cities now in session at Sacramento.

Hank Wallsworth Installed Head Of Rotary Club

H. T. "Hank" Wallsworth was installed president of the Rotary club Monday noon in a brief ceremony conducted by Thomas L. McFadden, installing officer, who presented him with the gavel.

George Hedstrom was presented with a diamond studded past president's pin and words of appreciation for his fine leadership.

Special guest for the day was Col. Raymond E. Smith, U. S. Army, who has recently returned from duty in Africa, Italy and Germany.

Lotus H. Loudon was guest speaker and gave an account of his impressions of the San Francisco conference.

The birthdays of Lee Deming, P. J. Weisel and Harold Smith were fittingly observed.

Rev. C. H. Archibald Reappointed to Wesley Methodist

Rev. C. H. Archibald of the Wesley Methodist church and president of the Anaheim Ministerial Union has been re-appointed to serve another term as pastor of this church, he revealed today following appointment by the Bishop last Monday.

Rev. and Mrs. Archibald came to Anaheim in September, 1942, and make their home at 303 East Alberta street.

New St. Michael's Rector Arrives Here This Week

Rev. John K. Saville, newly-appointed rector at St. Michael's Episcopal church, will take up his new duties on Sunday, June 1 when he will conduct his first services here.

Rev. and Mrs. Saville and their small daughter arrived this week to take up residency in the parsonage on East Adele street. It has recently been remodeled and redecorated and a garage has been added to the premises.

Sunday services for the summer months will remain the same as previously: Holy Communion service at 8 a. m. and public worship hour at 10:30 o'clock. The Sunday school has been disbanded for the summer months but a Sunday school picnic will be held at the city park in July or August.

St. Michael's has been without a regular rector since last December when Rev. D. Howard Dow accepted a rectorship in Monterey. During this period Rev. W. J. Hatter of Santa Ana has acted as temporary pastor.

Rev. Saville was ordained to the priesthood in 1943 and for the past two years has been assistant rector at St. James Episcopal church on Wilshire boulevard in Los Angeles. He is a graduate of Occidental college and the Episcopal Church Divinity school at Berkeley, Calif.

3000 TO ATTEND OPENING TONIGHT OF CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR MEET

Tonight, Thursday, the 58th annual California Christian Endeavor convention will get underway with approximately 3000 young delegates attending the four-day session that will be held in the Anaheim Union High school auditorium. The opening session will convene at 7:30 o'clock, while the final session on Sunday evening will take place at 6 o'clock.

An outstanding convention program has been planned by the convention committee of 25 church leaders from various cities in Orange county.

Orion Bebermeyer of Santa Ana is convention chairman. Cecil Jeffrey of Los Angeles, president of the State Christian Endeavor Union, will preside.

Theme of the convention is "Christ For Today".

Principal convention speaker is Dr. Raymond I. Lindquist, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Orange, New Jersey. He will talk at the Friday and Sunday night sessions.

Rev. Byron Chapman, pastor of the Evangelical church at Porterville, Calif., will give the principal address Saturday night. Rev. Porter Barrington, pastor of the First Baptist church, Hollywood, will be the guest speaker tonight. These men will all speak on some aspect of the main convention theme.

Between 500 and 1,000 delegates will be housed for one or more nights in the homes of church families of Anaheim and other Orange county cities. Mrs. Nan Moore of Anaheim is housing chairman.

Anyone wishing information or needing assistance concerning the convention is asked to call the high school, 2231, or the First Presbyterian church, 3933. The latter is the host church for the convention.

Two previous state Christian Endeavor conventions have been held in Orange county; Santa Ana in 1928 and Fullerton in 1935.

The convention is open to the public and both adults and young people will be welcomed. There is no admission charge. Conferences will be held at the high school each day during the sessions.

To the People of this Community

Even if the war ended this very moment you still would be doing the best thing for yourself and your family by investing the biggest amount in War Bonds today you have ever saved for future spending.

From a strictly self-interest viewpoint you cannot afford to fritter away war wages in a market of scarce goods. New autos, new homes, new appliances, new radios, will not be coming off production lines instantly the last shot is fired by one of your tired relatives or friends. War Bonds will make wonderful peace-time ammunition when they mature $4 for every $3 you store away now.

P. S. Just to bring you out of that postwar dream, take another look at the headlines. There's still a war on. You and your money are needed to beat the Japs. The bonds you buy today are WAR bonds. There'll be time 10 years hence for you to think of them as PEACE BONDS.

New Hours for Ration Boards

In a move to expedite service to the public, all ration boards in this district will go on a new schedule, being open to applicants only between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m., O. K. Collins, district board executive, announced today.

Effective July 1, the change in hours for the public will enable board staffs to handle more applications—providing that applicants will, whenever possible, mail their applications to the board, Collins said. Less time is necessary in handling a mail application than one in which the applicant appears in person, he explained.

Albert Koontz Injured When Car And Train Collide

Albert Koontz of 302 South East street was taken to the Anaheim Lutheran sanitarium with possible leg and internal injuries Wednesday night following an accident at the Southern Pacific crossing on West Broadway just west of Manchester avenue. Koontz was traveling eastward in his Plymouth sedan that was drawing a trailer loaded with wood when his vehicle collided with a train.

According to a report filed at the police department witnesses claim that there was no crossing signal and no train whistle.

Ration Requests To Be Handled By Mail, Says Board

Local ration board officials are today appealing for local residents to handle all ration problems by mail as personal contacts are seriously hampering speedy service normally given each application. Mail should be addressed to Ration Board No. 82.62, 222 East Center street.

It takes from 4 to 6 days longer to handle an application presented in person than it does one received through the mails, Chief Clerk Tucker declares.

Personal handling means stopping of all productive work on all applications and special searching and handling of only one while mail handling means that many applications can be processed at the same time.

Effective July 1 it will require one week to 10 days to process applications presented in person while only 3 to 5 days will be required to handle an application received by mail.

To trace an application or ration necessitates searching through anywhere from 100 to 500 applications in process. Do not ask it unless your application has been in the board at least two weeks, says Tucker.

Local Plant to Get Into Production

Ellis F. Blackburn of 110 North Resh street, this city, expects to get into production with a garment creaser and hanger in the very near future, this plant being among the record-breaking list of plants given "spot authorization" to make civilian goods. The items range from egg-beaters and disc harrows to hobbyhorses, electric irons, auto jacks, sail boats and fishing skiffs.

Manufacturers are expecting to get needed materials from surplus, although some were given low-ranking priorities where an essential product is to be made. The simpler items will reach the market first, especially those requiring few critical materials.

Local Marine Returning From Pacific Duty

Pfc. George J. Platfoot, Jr., fourth marine air wing, is among servicemen returning from the Pacific for furlough and reassignment. His address is route 1, box 12, Anaheim, although his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Platfoot, now reside in Bellflower.

The 18-year-old leatherneck was based in the Marianas and later saw action in Iwo Jima. He enlisted in the marines in November, 1943, and is a graduate of the Anaheim Union High school.

Tax Collection Payments Better By 99 Per Cent

County Tax Collector Don S. Mozley announces that well over 99 per cent payments on tax collections have been made and that this equals or betters the record made during the past several years. Tax payments cease at noon on Saturday, June 30.

Total charge against taxpayers is $6,345,213.67 including all payments for districts and all special levies.

More Registrants Needed for Blood Bank Friday

IT IS A MUST!

Blood bank day is tomorrow, Friday at the Anaheim Ebell clubhouse.

The quota is 400 pints and Anaheim is way behind in its number of registrants. There is still time to make a reservation. Each pint of blood plasma or whole blood will save a life. Give—give—GIVE!

That is the plea of the American Red Cross and of Edward J. Powers, local chairman who states, "Our wounded in the Pacific are greater than ever before. The need for blood plasma and whole blood is greater than ever before because of the tremendous casualties at Okinawa. This is a MUST!"

A wounded serviceman has a 37 to 1 chance to live because of blood plasma. As one Red Cross field representative put it after having seen much bloodshed in Europe, "I see blood plasma and transfusions perform miracles. Anyone who gives blood can feel proud of themselves. When actual blood is needed the hospital men lie down and give without any question. Anything to help the wounded. The spirit is grand—if the ones at home could only see it."

A disabled soldier recently stood before a blood bank in Los Angeles and looking at the giant Red Cross in front of the building said, "I owe that outfit a debt I'll never be able to pay—they saved my life." His right leg had been torn off by a German 88 anti-tank shell at Argantan, France, last August.

Blood donated through the Red Cross Blood Donor Centers of the West Coast reached Okinawa within a week. The whole blood was rushed by plane direct to the war zone. Nineteen cases totaling 304 pints were received by one particular unit that needed it badly.

The "bottled life" came packed in iced, plywood boxes which were insulated with glass wool and arrived in perfect condition.

Cpl. Lee A. Williams of Tennessee owes his life to the fact that, when he was badly wounded, it took a total of 67 pints of plasma and 18 pints of whole blood to save him. He well knows that his life was saved by fellow Americans who gave generously of their blood even as the men on the battlefronts have given of theirs.

Four Building Permits Issued

Four building permits totaling $8,650 valuation have been issued by Building Inspector R. Nybpe since June 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Norman will erect a $5,000 five room dwelling and garage at 912 North Claudina street and A. F. Wither proposed to replaster his store front at 306 North Los Angeles street for a cost of approximately $250.

F. H. Krostel took out an $800 permit to make alterations at his dwelling, 705 South Los Angeles street. Charles A. Mertoch, 114 East South street, was issued a permit to add a $200 porch to his dwelling.

Victor Schmelzer Home on Furlough From Hospital

S/Sgt. Victor Schmelzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Schmelzer of 318 South Lemon street is home on 30 day leave from the U. S. Army hospital at Van Nuys where he has been recuperating for the past year from wounds received in the South Pacific. He will report back to the hospital on July 20 for further treatment.

Sgt. Schmelzer has developed an interesting avocation while at the hospital and is doing radio broadcasting work which is playing such an important part in the rehabilitation program of the wounded veterans. Servicemen are finding this program work intensely interesting and doctors are viewing it with much interest.

Through this program wounded servicemen who have lost much of their self-confidence or are in an over nervous condition find release for their emotions in enacting a radio part and appearing before others who are understanding of their problems.

Sgt. Schmelzer laid a foundation for radio work while attending Occidental college and was just getting started in a radio career at the time of Pearl Harbor. He enlisted in the Army in 1942 and in April, 1943, went to New Guinea. The following January he was seriously injured when his plane crashed. He was brought back to the states in April, 1944, and has been in the hospital ever since. He wears the Air Medal with four oak leaf clusters and the Purple Heart.

Three Anaheim Friends Meet in Far Off Pacific

Three Anaheim friends met on a small island in the Pacific sometime recently and enjoyed talks of home, mutual friends and familiar places.

They were Cpl. Lewis Wentz, Sgt. Jack Lee and Pfc. Lambert Jones, better known to his friends as "Jonsey." Cpl. Wentz and Pvt. Jones are stationed on the same island while Sgt. Lee has been on duty at Saipan. The latter hitchhiked a plane ride and went to visit his friends.

Cpl. Wentz entered the service in April, 1942, and has been overseas since last March. He is a graduate of the Anaheim Union High school in the class of '34 and prior to enlisting was employed in Anaheim by the Southern California Telephone company. His wife, Leonora, and 5-year-old daughter reside at 208 Carlton street.

Pvt. Jones has lived in Anaheim for many years but a short time before entering the service he and his parents moved to Santa Ana where they are still living. Cpl. Lee's mother resided in Anaheim on Zeyn street until a few months ago.

TWO BIG ENTERTAINMENTS TO BE STAGED IN CITY PARKS JULY 4TH

Anaheim is to have a bang-up Fourth of July celebration in its city parks next Wednesday, according to H. E. W. Barnes, councilman and city park commissioner, who is rapidly completing plans for the wartime celebration. This will be the second successive year that the city of Anaheim and Chamber of Commerce have sponsored a "stay-at-home" celebration that at the same time will provide safe-and-sane fun for thousands of holiday celebrants.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon a circus comprising many entertaining acts will be presented at La Palma park and at 8 o'clock in the evening a bang-up vaudeville show will be staged in the Greek amphi-theater at the city park. The entertainments are entirely free and are open to the general public. It is anticipated that many residents from nearby communities will attend.

Huge crowds of picnickers are expected to enjoy facilities in the city park. Contrary to the usual policy no reservations will be made for picnic tables—it will be a case of first come, first served.

Commissioner Barnes promises that the circus and vaudeville acts will provide a great deal of wholesome amusement, but he is unable to state at this time the exact nature of the acts as he has not yet received final word from the Los Angeles booking agent.

Chief of Police T. L. Wilder has announced that a seasonal enforcement program will be in effect on the Fourth of July. This is in cooperation with a nation-wide effort being made by the National Safety council to reduce the huge death toll that usually occurs on such holidays.

"The police department is asking every citizen to take special care to save lives and property," he said in emphasizing that wartime traffic driving restrictions will be thoroughly enforced.

Associated C. of C. Learns Value of Tourist Trade

More than 175 members attended the Orange County Associated Chambers of Commerce dinner meeting held at the Elks clubhouse Tuesday evening. Don Thomas, managing director of the All-Year club of Southern California, was the guest speaker.

Talking on "What's the Answer to Southern California's Post-war Problem," he stressed the need of bringing more tourist trade to the southland, saying that in the past 23 years tourists have spent more than four billion dollars in the state while the southland has spent $8,000,000 in getting them here.

Florida is southern California's only serious competition for the valuable tourist trade, he declared, brut that state is spending $1,000,000 a year in developing it while southern California is only spending $350,000 yearly. Recently conducted surveys show that there are 6,000,000 people anxious to travel and a large percentage of those people must be induced to come to California, the speaker declared.

In order to balance the state's economy, a tourist trade of a half billion people must come yearly, California will soon have 320,000 unemployed, Thomas estimated and these must be absorbed in service and distributary trades.

He pointed out that manufacturing and heavy industry cannot provide employment for all—it can only be done by more and more people entering the service and distributary trades. In 1940 56 per cent were engaged in service trades, 23 per cent in manufacturing and industry and 21 per cent in agriculture. In 1870 53 per cent were engaged in agriculture, 24 per cent in service trades and 23 per cent in industry.

The speaker was introduced by Howard Irvin of Fullerton while William Gallienne of Huntington Beach introduced the honored guests, State Senator Thomas Kuchel and Assemblymen Clyde Watson and Sam Collins. Each spoke briefly on the recent legislative session in Sacramento.

CITRUS MARKET LEVELS STEADY OVER NATION; CAR SHORTAGE DUE

The average market over the entire nation remains at about the same level as last week with the demand continuing strong on all sizes and grades with the selling prices at ceiling. Truck and rolling supplies are showing some increase but still are not to the point where any market is oversupplied.

The shipments from California for the past week were considerably over that of the week before but the present indications are that a serious shortage of shipping cars will likely further hamper the movement of harvested crops now on hand in the citrus belts. At the present time, shippers are experiencing difficulty in securing sufficient cars to move the citrus fruits to the markets in sufficient quantities to ease the storing problem of the growers, packers and exchanges.

The United States department of agriculture crop report as of June 1, states that the total fruit production for the current season is indicated to be almost as large as the record out-turn of last year. The outlook in the west is bright for practically all fruits, including citrus, an unusually heavy bloom noted during the blooming season. The outlook for Florida citrus is stated to be less favorable than last year. The Arkansas apple crop and most fruits in Michigan is expected to be less this year. Most fruits in other fruit producing states are expected to be less due to the unseasonably heavy frosts during the late part of spring. However, grapes and prunes will be above average and larger than last year.

Lemon demand is showing further improvements on the weekly market with virtually all markets selling at ceiling prices.

FOURTH OF JULY—1945

On the Fourth of July, our birthday as a free people, we have been accustomed to patriotic oratory, to the blare of bands and the tramp of marching feet as the veterans of past wars paraded by. We have felt a glow of pride and a sense of our great inheritance as the moving words of our Declaration of Independence were read to us. And we have gone to our homes when the celebration was over, with a new-born understanding of the great gift that our forefathers and the brave men who followed them, gave us —when they gave us America and American liberty.

That was in normal times, in peace times, with our loved ones gathered around us for the family and national holiday—with the sun shining brightly, with everything well with our world, and with fireworks scheduled in the park during the evening. We were patriotic, yes, in our easy-going fashion. We were even grateful, some of us, to those who had died to make it possible—and maybe even humble as we counted how much we owed them. But to many of us, the Fourth of July was just a holiday from work—a time to go fishing or hunting, a time to make merry.

This year it is different—as different as blood from wine. We will still do many of the same things. We will still stand with bared heads as the Flag goes by, but we will see the red in The Red, White and Blue this year, and we will not think of our independence as something which some ancient forebears granted us, but as a precious, vital, living thing which our own sons and brothers are risking their lives to preserve for us.

On July 4, 1945, we know the price of liberty. We know that the Declaration of Independence is an immortal document only because mortal men—the men of this community and of all the cities and towns of America—are willing to die to preserve it.

Thousands of years ago, the Egyptians knew the art of manipulating yarns with needles.

To provide facilities for the busy 578 miles of New York's waterfront, 722 piers are required.

Tiny tubes developed for war purposes will make possible a 20 to 40 percent reduction in the size of postwar radio receivers.

THE GENERAL AND THE G. I.

In military rank, there's a great gulf between the general and the G.I., although normally each has a healthy respect for the other.

Yet, like the colonels' lady and Judy O'Grady, who were sisters under the skin, there doesn't seem to be too much difference in the reactions of home-coming soldiers, whether they have stars on their shoulders or chevrons on their sleeves.

The happy grin with which General Eisenhower greeted his wife and family—the grin which enthusiastic reporters said took Washington and New York by storm—was grand to see, but not very different from the joyous grin of any home-coming soldier as he catches his first glimpse of loved faces and familiar places.

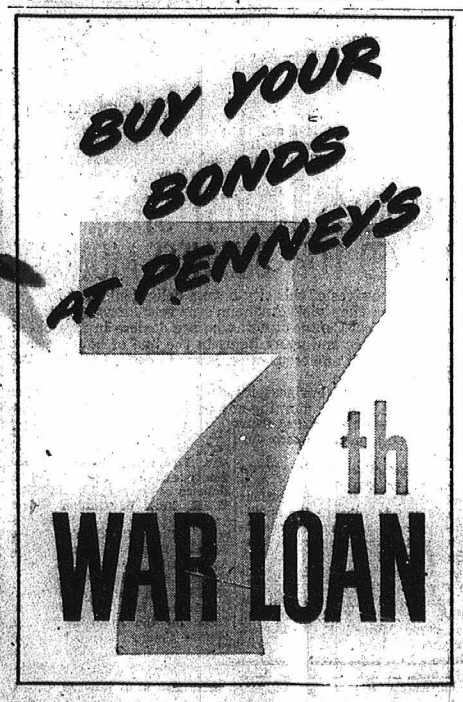

General "Ike", despite the five stars on his shoulders, even forgot his sword, like the lowliest rookie, causing a 13-minute delay in his takeoff from Washington for New York. And the same day's grist of news which told of the general's unmilitary conduct in misplacing his sword also reported some of the spirited escapades of veteran G.I.'s of the fighting Eighty-sixth Division, as trains carried them to their homes in the four corners of the nation.

When a general comes home, perhaps he gets a public reception with a lot of speechmaking and fanfare, some of which he might be glad to give a year of his life to escape. But who do you think has the most fun on his homebound trip? We'd bet on the G.I.

Veterans Being Placed By USES

Fifty-two returned veterans of World War II were placed in employment during the month of April by the office of the United States Employment Service, according to Ray Mathewson, manager of the office in Santa Ana. The placements for the month of March accounted for a total of sixty-nine.

Increasing numbers of returning veterans are settling in southern California and other numbers are signifying their intentions of making their homes here, as can be ascertained in conversations with returnees. The fullest cooperation is being given to the USES offices by industry who are doing their utmost in absorbing capable craftsmen, profesisonal and clerical workers.

Youth Symphony Wins Acclaim At Second Concert

A large audience almost filled the Greek amphi-theater Friday night to hear the beautiful symphonic music played by the Orange County Symphony orchestra in its second appearance in Anaheim this season. Directed by Miss Norma Perkins the 70-piece orchestra is sponsored by the Anaheim Kiwanis club and this concert was under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce.

Edwin Elliott of Santa Ana, trumpet soloist, and little Wendell Taylor of Anaheim, narrator, won acclaim for their ability and were widely applauded in their special numbers.

Introduced by E. W. Moeller, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, the orchestra played as its opening number, "Die Fledermaus" by Johann Straus and the string section delightfully carried the lilting waltz melody.

Excerpts from the powerful "Sixth Symphony" by Tschaikowsky was excellently interpreted with the brass and string sections skillfully blending in a combination of tone quailty that was most pleasing to the audience.

Schubert's "Rosamunde Overture" and the ever familiar "Londonderry Air" by Grainger were enjoyed as was a second Strauss number, "Pizzciato Polka" and the finale, "Marche Slav" by Tschaikowsky.

Lecuona's lovely "Malaguena," Wagner's "Procession of the Meistersingers" and the stirring "Salute to the United Nations" by Isaac were equally enjoyed.

Wendell Taylor, as narrator for "The Three Bears" delighted the audience with his clever humorous recitation that was presented by popular request.

Talented Edwin Elliott exhibited much talent when he played the trumpet solo, "Hora Staccato" by Dinicu-Heifetz and the manner in which he rendered the true, clear tones demonstrated that he has a promising career before him.

The orchestra is made up of students from all parts of the county and are fast gaining renown as an exceptionally talented youth orchestra. Acting as their booking agent, E. T. Bradley of the Kiwanis club, has booked them for future appearances in Pasadena and Manhattan Beach. The latter appearance will be under the auspices of the Standard Oil company that is planning a series of musical entertainments next season.

Anaheim students in the orchestra are Roberta Norland, Virginia Casey, Priscilla Orman, Jean Young, Doris Essary, Shirley Essary, Eleanor McKeen, Carol Hochuli, Jeannette Hemmerling, Genevieve Bradley, Mabel Bedall, Philip Taylor, Lynn Johnson, violinists; John Salveson, clarinet; Charles Salveson, trumpet and Wendell Taylor, narrator.

Policeman Injured In Dance Hall Fracas Saturday

Police Officer Thomas V. Taylor sustained two cuts on his forehead late Saturday night when he was attacked with a beer bottle by Walter H. Hickman, 28, of 1250 West 3rd street, Santa Ana. The fracas occurred at Harmony Park Dance hall after Hickman allegedly poured out words of abuse and resisted arrest.

Charged with assault with a deadly weapon, he is now out on $2,000 bail and will appear in city court on June 28 for his hearing.

A waitress at the dance hall asked Taylor to intervene between Hickman and two soldiers who were having an argument. When Taylor approached, the soldiers left but Hickman used abusive words and refused to leave the dance hall. According to the report Taylor filed at the police station Hickman hit him several times over the head with the beer bottle and when it broke jabbed him with it. The policeman claims that he was unable to defend himself as he was grabbed from the rear and held by two unidentified marines.

It was necessary for Taylor to have three stitches taken in each cut. He was on vacation last week but was asked to help out Saturday night by patrolling the dance hall.

The money put into a $25 bond every week for 10 years adds up to $10,828.74, counting savings and interest.

It may be interesting to know that the Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of a letter from a fruit canning company in the east, asking for information as to the prospects for starting a canning and pickling establishment at this point. Every inducement will be offered them, and we are assured by one competent to judge, that very likely we shall have a canning and pickling establisment in operation here in time for next season's crop.

At the residence of the bride's parents on Monday, William Berdrow was joined in the holy bonds of matrimony to Miss Louisa Bennerscheidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Bennerscheidt. COUNTY LEMON PRODUCTION COST STUDY IS COMPLETED

What does it cost to produce lemons in Orange county? What is the average yield per acre? What are the various operation costs in the orchard? These and many other questions are answered in the lemon cost analysis just completed by Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg of the Agricultural Extension service, in cooperation with the Citrus league.

The study covers in detail the production costs of the 1944 crop year and also gives a summary of the annual costs collected over a period of nineteen years. The average yield last year of the orchards reporting was 142 packed boxes per acre. The range of yields was 451 down to 69 packed boxes per acre. The year of highest yields in recent years was 1941, when the average yield was 293 packed boxes per acre.

Average cultural costs included pruning $19.29 per acre, fertilization $31.64, spraying $17.27, disease control $13.26, frost protection $7.25, cultivation $14.20, irrigation labor $9.55, water $8.16, miscellaneous $10.79, taxes $10.29, interest on investment $56.58.

Total "on tree" costs averaged $168.61 per acre. The cost of harvesting averaged $80.28 per acre. The total cost of these two items brings the average total cost of production to $248.89 per acre. The average return per packed box in 1944 was reported at $2.98, out of which the grower paid his cultural, harvesting and over head costs.

The cost analysis study has been conducted by the Agricultural Extension service at the request of the citrus industry as a source of authoritative data and also as a "yardstick" by which the grower might measure the efficiency of his orchard and management operations.

Local Fat Salvage Above Quota Again

Anaheim housewives have again shown their loyalty in the apparent smaller tasks of this war by turning in 2,065 pounds of fat for salvage as against a quota of 1,688 pounds, exceeding the quota by 377 pounds. These figures are based on actual collections by local butchers as reported to WPB by renderers who process fats for war use.

In other sections of the state, many communities have dropped below their quotas which may partly be due to the scarcity of meat.

Fruit Shipping Embargo Lifted

Orange county's citrus packing industry breathed easier today as the embargo on the movement of all citrus fruit in the southland was lifted at 11:59 a.m. Wednesday. The embargo order was issued at noon Saturday by the Interstate Commerce Commission and became effective at midnight. Coming as a complete surprise to the packing industry, it was feared that the order might be extended past this Wednesday.

Some plants were caught with hundreds of boxes of fruit ready for shipment and no place to store the fruit. It was feared that some would be lost due to lack of proper facilities for pre-cooling and storing the fruit.

A similar embargo against the shipping of fruit was made for a three day period last year and was also issued without warning.

In issuing the order the ICC allowed packers with cars already on sidings and in process of being loaded to continue the operation and to ice the cars. The cars, however, could not leave the siding until the embargo was lifted.

Richards-Martin Dance Pageant Wins Praise From Capacity Crowd

As exquisitely costumed as any professional revue and as fast-moving as the best of them, the Dance Pageant of Victory presented Thursday evening by the Richards-Martin Dance studio will long be remembered as the outstanding locally produced show in Anaheim this year. Two hundred and thirty young people, ranging from tiny tots to adults, clogged, tapped and high-stepped with precision, rhythm and beauty for over two hours, while vocal students of Mrs. Leah Pemberton and the Anaheim Elks club band, directed by William Cook, lent much to the show's success. It was witnessed by a capacity audience at the Anaheim Union High school auditorium and was sponsored by the P. T. A. City Council with all proceeds going to the Teen-age canteen and child welfare fund.

The curtain rose promptly at 8:15 and there was a voluntary gasp of admiration as a chorus of "American Beauties" danced their way through a clever and beautiful repertoire. Numerous solos, duo-dances and choruses brought spontaneous outbursts of applause as the audience enthusiastically responded to the talent displayed by the young dancers and singers.

Showing outstanding ability 12-year-old Diane Schroeder of Fullerton appeared in various dance acts and for the second successive year was offered a contract by talent scouts in the audience. Diane's parents, however, have again ruled that there must be more school days before she can become a professional dancer.

Three students of the school who have turned professional in the last few years appeared on the program and showed a finished skill. Berenice and Marilyn Hargrove, blonde daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Hargrove of Anaheim, are just back from a tour of the Orpheum circuit and presented several numbers including a "Shawl Tango," Oriental and Spanish dances. They were beautifully costumed by Jacks.

Ann Dempsey of Wilmington, former student, turned professional, gave several beautiful dances which left the audience gasping at her ability to turn cartwheels, somersault and high kick. She leaves next week for Hawaii where she will appear in a number of new shows.

Perhaps the most outstanding of the dance acts was the Spanish act that included the Pemberton Singers. Beautifully conceived and executed, it was presented with great dramatic beauty.

Humor was introduced into the program by the minstral act presented by a group of young boys in top hats and tails; Wanda Waterman singing, "I Used to Have a Laundry Maid," by Naoma F. Sell, and by Marcia Liebhart singing, "Hard Boiled Rose."

Little Josephine Courreges was charming and displayed much poise as she sang several songs in a clear, sweet voice.

The sweetly, lovely "Dreamland" dance act brought roaring applause as petite Sharon Barnard, wearing a bridal gown and floor-length veil, was claimed by Master Donald Mieger in a marriage ceremony performed by the "Man in the Moon and Minister of Dreams," who was youthful Bobbie Burns. Tiny cupids dancing from the starry vault in heaven, were accorded a special "a-a-ah" of admiration from the spectators.

All the mystery of the east was present in the Oriental dance act that also included the Pemberton Singers with William Bunge as soloist. The savagery and barbarism of native tribes in Africa was skillfully performed in the African dance act with Cheryl Kreutel executing a weirdly lovely baton dance. The Hawaiian act was enlivened by a chorus of clever dancers.

With Diane Schroeder as "the duck," the Dutch act was humorously presented. The grand finale was a stair case dance act performed in a patriotic manner by a chorus of girls in red, white and blue with Cheryl Kreutel as "Miss America."

The show was arranged and directed by Lenoir Richards Martin and Anna L. Richards while Lois Sargent and Mae-Mennes were piano accompanists. Original song compositions were by Naoma F. Sell, Ruby Goodwin and May Weyer McKague. Mrs. Olive Kemplin accompanied several numbers at the pipe organ while the costumes were largely made by the mothers of the young performers.

Club Directors Have Breakfast

Newly installed board members of the Ebell club were delightfully entertained last Thursday morning at a breakfast held at the Ebell clubhouse by members of the old board. Covers were laid for 19 guests at two long tables that were prettily appointed in a blue and yellow flower motif.

Mrs. August E. Schumacher was graciously welcomed as the new president.

As a parting gesture from a group of close school friends, the bride-elect was honoree at a shower last Friday given at Bannister Hall. The informal party was highlighted by the 10 guests presenting the honoree with a beautiful luncheon set of dishes in the Franciscan Dessert Rose pattern. Missionary Group Has Fellowship Luncheon Recently

At the Fellowship luncheon of the Presbyterian Missionary society last Thursday afternoon members learned much of interest in a new type of missionary work that is being carried on throughout the world with phonograph recordings.

Guest speaker was Miss Joy Ridderhof of Los Angeles, a former missionary in Central America, who is now making gospel recordings in foreign languages and then taking them to the countries to help spread the Christian religion. Most of her work is done with the Spanish and Indian peoples of Mexico and South America. This method of missionary work has a great appeal for the native peoples, she said.

Special guests for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard S. Mirkado and their son and daughter, Dick and Gertrude, who are visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hawley of Sycamore street. Mr. Mirkado is a missionary in the southwestern states.

Miss Gertrude Mirkado sang two delightful solos during the afternoon and Mrs. Mary Vincent led the devotional hour. Mrs. Emma Karlen was program chairman.

Covers were laid for 74 members and guests at the luncheon hour that was under the supervision of Mrs. Evelyn Robinson. The long tables were pretily decorated with bouquets of spring blossoms.

PAN-HELLENIC SCHOLARSHIP BENEFIT PROVES GREAT SUCCESS, 200 ATTEND

Potted geraniums and gayly painted wheelbarrows filled with rich green ivy enhanced the patio theme at the northern Orange Pan-Hellenic benefit bridge party last Friday afternoon that was held in the women'es lounge at the Fullerton junior college.

Fifty-one tables of contract and auction bridge were in play following the dessert course that was served at 1 o'clock. Guests were greeted by Mrs. Charles Gruber of La Habra, general chairman of the smart early summer affair, while Mrs. Joe Critchfield of Anaheim, president, explained the purpose of the party. Proceeds will be added to the organization's scholarship fund so that more outstanding young women will be able to attend institutions of higher learning.

The tables, charmingly covered with dainty tea cloths, were centered with small bright pots of colorful geraniums and these were later used as consolation prizes at each table. The hostess group served delicious creampuffs topped with chocolate sauce, assorted nuts and coffee.

The miniature wheelbarrows filled with ivy were set in each of the large windows and over the mantel at the northern end of the room.

Door prizes of hanging baskets of begonias and fuchsias were awarded Mrs. B. C. Harris, Mrs. William Rogers, Mrs. Paul Davidson and Miss Joyce Munger.

The 'Doc' Treats A Patient

Navy Pharmacist's Mate Second Class Loren Douglas of Princeton, Ind., is shown treating his favorite patient, injured slightly during the pre-invasion bombardment of Okinawa. The young lad in the foreground is being treated by the Japanese equivalent of a Girl Scout. Navy corpsmen are performing medical services usually rendered only by registered physicians in the U. S. because of the large number of Okinawans injured or suffering from illness, aggravated by long periods of cave dwelling. (U. S. Marine Corps Photo)

Send Your Tin Cans to Fight the Japs

This Marine Corps photo is "seeing's believing" proof of the tin can's vital war role and the "why" of tin can salvage. After three days of victorious fighting in the Awacha pocket on Okinawa, these Marines are fast asleep behind the array of tin cans that protected their food, machine gun bullets, the oil to lubricate their guns, the heat to warm their rations and the explosives that helped to clear out nests of Japs. Five good reasons for salvaging every tin can used on the home front!

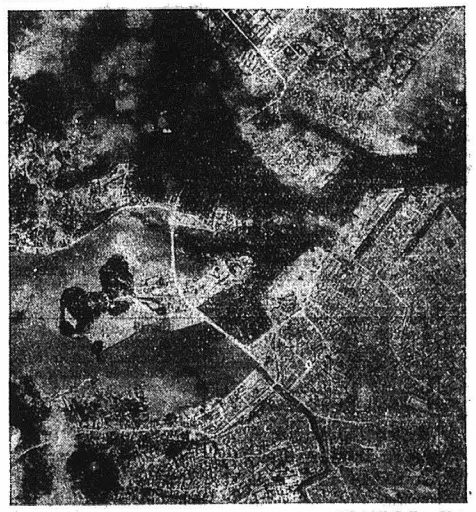

A Terrific Weapon

U. S. Infantry School Photo

A flame thrower is here shown burning the enemy out of an emplacement. This weapon, together with many others, will be demonstrated in the Army Ground Forces show "Here's Your Infantry" which will be given in more than 600 U. S. cities during the Seventh War Loan Drive. It takes many War Bonds to equip our troops with necessary equipment and your purchase of Bonds in the Mighty Seventh is needed as never before.

Softening Okinawa

Pin-point bombing by Navy bombardiers sends a tremendous column of smoke skyward from Naha City dock area in Okinawa. Your purchase of more and more War Bonds can also speak with telling effect in the Mighty Seventh War Loan.

'One Moment of Greatness . . .'

(1) In the invasion of Saipan, a certain Marine platoon was given the job of cleaning out a Jap pocket which was impeding the advance up the western coast. Shy, quiet Norman Arsenault, an 18-year-old private from Lawrence, Mass., was a member of this platoon. (2) The Japs were imbedded in a deep crevice in the face of a seven-foot cliff. Lying in a prone position, they opened up on the platoon with a murderous machine-gun and rifle fire. (3) Arsenault and his companions were pinned down behind the limestone boulders that separated the cliff from the sea. Realizing their hopeless position, Arsenault quietly left the outfit and, gripping his carbine, started to move back to the water. The lad thus began the act that will forever keep him in the memory of his buddies.

(4) Twenty feet out in the tidewater, Arsenault stood erect and began pumping bullets into the crevice. Fifty enemy guns returned his fire and hundreds of enemy bullets went zinging toward him, rippling in the surf about him. (5) While Arsenault carried out this daring one-man maneuver, his buddies scrambled from behind the boulder. One by one, they began to creep to safety atop the cliff, while the Japs concentrated their fire on Arsenault. (6) Out of ammunition, Arsenault sloshed through the water to the Marines still behind the boulders. He borrowed as many ammunition clips as he could and went back to take up where he left off. (7) With all the men safely evacuated, Arsenault continued to fire. Ordered to come back, he emptied one more clip. As he made for the beach, Jap bullets killed him. Next day, after the pocket had been cleaned out, Marines found some 20 victims of this young hero's carbine sprawled in the crevice. The lad none of them had gotten to know proved himself a fighting Marine beyond any doubt.

Vacation Church School Closing Program Friday

The 800 boys and girls enrolled in the seventh annual Vacation Church School will complete the two week daily session this Friday and on Friday night will present a closing night program for the benefit of parents and friends. Held at the White Temple Methodist church, it will begin prompt at 6:45 o'clock and will close at 7:45 o'clock so that the older boys and girls can attend the Christian Endeavor program at the Anaheim Union High school.

Shirley Dinsdale and Judy Splinters

Rev. Earl Berg, superintendent, and Miss Evelyn Reeves, principal, report that an interesting program has been planned and that certificates and special honors will be awarded the deserving students. Projects accomplished during the past two weeks will be on exhibition.

Several special features have been held at the church school during the past week. Last Friday was "watermelon" day and at that time the young people consumed 700 pounds of watermelon.

Monday morning was visiting day and Shirley Dinsdale and Judy Splinters, popular ventriloquist team from Hollywood, appeared on the program.

Today the throng of young people went to the city park for a playday at which time they enjoyed a penny scramble, games, free swim in the pool and picnic lunch. The program was concluded with a baseball game.

The church school has been sponsored by the Ministerial Union and church leaders and parents are expressing their gratefulnes to the corps of teachers from the Lockman Foundation who have made this year's school such an outstanding success.

Pioneer Settler Dies in Long Beach Hospital

Death claimed 83-year-old Albert Muckenthaler on June 17 at the Long Beach Community hospital and his wide circle of friends in Anaheim are mourning the passing of an old pioneer who grew up on the plains of Kansas when Indians still roamed the countryside and who came to Anaheim in 1909. For the last few years he has been making his home in Long Beach and is survived by his wife, Augusta, and six children.

Settling here 34 years ago he purchased 10 acres of land from the Dominician Sisters. It was located northwest of St. Catherine's Military school and it was here that he erected the home and raised his family.

He was born in Fergus Falls, Minn., in 1862 and lived there until he was 8 years old when his family moved to eastern Kansas where they settled on the Kansas river just south of St. Mary's. He and his family experienced many hardships as they helped to build up the great Kansas plains, and they had many a harrowing experience with the Indians who roamed the territory.

The deceased made four trips to California before finally settling down in Anaheim. During his first trip in the '80's he helped build the one-time famous Hotel Del Campo that was located near the old opera house. Returning to Kansas he married Augusta Ebert of Flush, Kan., and in 1898 they came to Anaheim where he sought to regain his health.

Besides his widow he is survived by three sons, Walter M. of Fullerton, Lawrence A. of Anaheim and Martin A. of Balboa; three daughters, Mrs. Frank Reding of Kansas, Mrs. Fred Hays of Anaheim and Mrs. Owen Adair of Long Beach; 25 grandchildren and three great grand-children.

Additionally needed hospital space for American wounded in the southwest Pacific is being made available through prefabricated housing units.

Accidents will decrease when more drivers look out for the road ahead and fewer for the cop behind.

Modernization of Stores Discussed At Retail Meeting

Modernization of store fronts and interiors with an eye to customer appeal and service was the theme of Robert Fields' talk Tuesday morning when members of the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday for the second of its monthly breakfasts at the Parker House cafe. Herb Eldred, chairman, presided.

A prominent Los Angeles architect, Fields discussed the necessity and value of attracting customers by the proper use of display and urged that merchants pay more attention to the outside appearance of their stores. Merchants should be forward looking and should figure their investment on potential sales, he said, as he stressed the necessity of proper automobile parking facilities for patrons.

He spoke of the new materials available for store design such as glass, wood veneers, acoustic materials, flourescent lighting and color combinations.

The speaker was introduced by E. W. Moeller, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Eldred appointed a nominating committee to select a slate of officers for the retail division in the coming year. Appointed were H. E. W. Barnes, August Schumacher and Mrs. Mabel Masterson.

The "General Pershing", medium-heavy army tank, is armed with a 90mm gun, two .30 machine guns and one caliber .50 machine gun.

Food purchases for the army this year will be 20 per cent above that of 1944.

Anaheim Fails To Meet Seventh War Bond Quota

With the Seventh War Bond drive officially closing this Saturday night all prospects are that Anaheim, for the first time in its wartime history, will not meet its quota, Paul H. Demaree, chairman, stated today as he announced that up to last Saturday night only $1,699,697 worth of bonds had been sold in the Anaheim district that roughly comprises the same territory as the Anaheim Union High school district.

This figure includes all bonds sold through Anaheim issuing agencies such as banks, building and loans and the postoffice and includes payroll deductions of local residents working outside the district in plants such as Douglas and Vultee Aircraft and the shipyards.

Anaheim has only reached 90 percent of its "E" bond quota of $467,000. Individual purchases of bonds other than "E" series amount to only $331,000 while the quota is $497,000.

In all other war bond drives Anaheim has not only met its quota but has gone well over the top.

There are still a few days left in which to buy bonds that will count toward Anaheim's quota, Mr. Demaree said in urging residents to "dig down deep" for the men and women who are giving their lives on the Pacific battlefronts.

What's the good news about the farm telephone?

Q I've been hearing a good deal about farm telephone service lately. Can you tell me something about it?

A Yes, it's a live subject with telephone people. They're doing a lot of work on it right now, though the needs of war come first, of course.

Q What do you have in mind?

A Two main points. One, improve the present service; two, extend service to families not now reached by existing lines.

Q What are some of the new ideas?

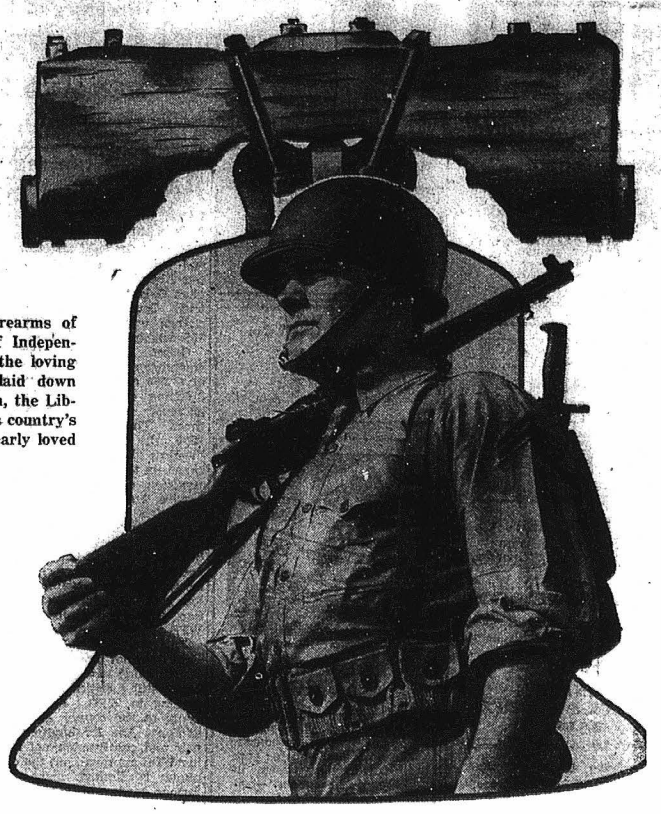

A Among them are new types of wire for rural areas; a way to send telephone conversations over electric power lines; and possibly a radio-telephone system using very short wave lengths, to reach people in remote spots.

Q Has there been much farm telephone growth?

A Since 1935, more than half a million additional farm families have had telephones put in—nearly 400,000 since 1940. But there is still much room for improvement, so every means will be explored to make farm service still better and easier to get.

Moulded from the firearms of the American War of Independence and struck by the loving hands of men who laid down their lives for freedom, the Liberty Bell is one of this country's most hard-won and dearly loved trophies.

Victory is Worth Any Sacrifice --- Since Valley Forge . . .to Tokio!

If the Liberty Bell could only talk—in syllables every one of us could understand. The battles it would describe, and the loss of life-blood, and the tears of mothers, wives and sweethearts! Yet to those who foresaw the history they were writing in fighting for freedom, every hardship unto Death itself was so worth making!

It's no different today. Our men go into battle—and not all return: but each sacrifice brings those who carry on closer to Victory: brings the enemy closer to total defeat. That's the way our fighting men feel about it, and we've got to be as philosophical as they when it comes to any sacrifice we may still be called on to make. We've got to admit to ourselves that this war is still going to cost heavily in cash for ammunition, outfitting and equipping all our fighting forces.

BUY A BOND TO Celebrate THE 4TH

And we at home must foot the bill—and fast—if we're to see an end to the war soon: and the return to our waiting arms of those we love. Remember: the bigger the Bonds you buy . . . the less bloodshed.

AAA AND THE FARMER

FARM CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM EASED

WPB Order L-41 affecting farm and other construction recently was liberalized, according to Stephen Griset, chairman of the Orange County committee. No change was made in Order L-335, which controls lumber.

Griset explained that the amendments provide a limitation of $1,000 a farm a year for farm dwelling construction, alteration or repair, or any combination of these. The former amount was $200. In addition to the farm dwelling allowance, a farmer may spend up to $1,000 a year on construction or alteration of farm service buildings. There is no limitation on the amount that may be spent on needed repair and maintenance of farm service buildings, such as barns, sheds, or poultry houses. Any new farm construction for dwelling or service building which exceeds the two $1,000 allowances requires WPB approval.

This easing of building restrictions does not infer that the lumber situation has improved. Lumber is still a critical material, according to WPB. Farmers may apply at the county AAA office at Santa Ana for lumber for repair and construction not requiring WPB approval, but the county quota is limited and not all farmer needs can be met.

Lumber stocks are lower because of the additional military packaging requirements in shipping supplies from Europe to the South Pacific area. Less critical lumber substitutes that may be used in many cases of new construction include adobe, cement, asbestos products, concrete, corrugated iron, gypsum and fiber board, hollow blocks, tile and brick.

ORANGE COUNTY CONSERVATION PROGRAM PLANNED

Orange county farmers filed their recommendations for the 1946 agricultural conservation program during the last few weeks of May. Recommendations were considered by the Orange County AAA committee and the county report has been forwarded to the California AAA office.

Local recommendations were made after a meeting with the county committee and chairmen of the various communities. Weed control was declared the prime project for 1946.

All California reports will be considered by the California AAA committee and its technical advisory committee, and they will compile a tentative California practice handbook to be sent to Washington, D. C. Members of the state AAA committee will go to Washington to assist in formulation of the final program. Early adoption of a conservation program gives farmers time to plan their next year's conservation before the program year begins January 1, 1946.

MORE FERTILIZER MEANS MORE FOOD

California farmers have almost doubled their use of fertilizer during the war years to balance production with AAA war food goals. In 1938 they used 210,795 tons of commercial fertilizer and each year since has indicated a steady increase in fertilizer use culminating in a total of 417,893 tons in 1944. Farmers know from experience that they cannot expect to achieve full production and maintain soil fertility if they do not apply fertilizers. Actually supplies for the last few years have not been able to fill the demand, particularly for nitrogen and superphosphate.

A report from the California State Department of Agriculture shows that for the past eight years, mixed fertilizers were used more than any other kind. Next in line was ammonium sulphate and following that selium nitrate. Use of superphosphate has doubled since 1937. In addition to soil benefits, farmers may receive cash payments from AAA for application of phosphate under certain conditions.

LOANS TO SUPPORT 1945 LATE POTATOES

War Food Administration has announced that loans will be the principal means of price support for the late potato crop at about the same schedules as 1944. This year's potato support program is part of the effort to prevent diversion of edible potatoes to livestock feed or to industrial uses. Plans are being made to dehydrate or can as many usable potatoes as possible during surplus deliveries, so food will be available for military use and for liberated areas.

One of the differences in the new program is that farmers offering potatoes to WFA will be required to offer all marketable grades of potatoes in a given field run lot.

WFA will not purchase lower grades alone. Farmers are assured they will receive not less than announced support prices for their total crop and consumers are assured they can obtain a liberal supply at reasonable cost. Prices of late-crop potatoes which do not store well, or are grown in areas where loans are impracticable, will be supported by other means, supplemented by direct purchases to the extent of available outlets. Late-crop storage potatoes will not be purchased in areas where loans are regarded as feasible.

POSSIBLE FARM MACHINERY INCREASE

WPB has given farm machinery manufacturers the right of way for increased production by removing production quota limitations for both large and small manufacturers, effective July 1. More farm implements using rubber tires may be manufactured than the few that were approved previously.

Manufacturers whose total net sales of all products were $500,000 or more in 1941 are still required to obtain an approved schedule from WPB for each item of farm machinery and equipment they plan to make after July 1, and they are still required to make monthly reports. All manufacturers are to continue to receive allotments of controlled materials and other priority assistance. The new order eliminates the stipulation that non-farm users must have a rating to buy farm machinery and equipment. All orders for farm machinery, equipment and repair parts are to be treated as unrated, unless they are from a military agency.

Mexican Desertions Present Problem

Nearly 6,200 Mexican Nationals, brought to California to help farmers produce and harvest wartime crops, are reported missing, Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg reported to the Farm Labor committee yesterday. Some of the Nationals have been unaccounted for since the fall of 1942 when the first contingent of agricultural workers crossed the border.

Desertions during the past nine months have averaged more than 200 per month, according to reports from the Office of Labor, War Food administration.

Many of the Mexican Nationals, homesick for their native land, have wandered back across the border, but hundreds more are working without proper credentials for farmers, private contractors, and other employers.

The Farm Labor office is appealing to these employers to report Mexicans who are not under contract and who do not have the proper credentials.

Agriculture may be deriving some benefits from these missing workers, but farmers who are employing them without regard to contracts are jeopardizing the farm labor program for imported workers, according to Wahlberg. It is becoming increasingly difficult to provide Mexican workers on farms where they are urgently needed and to farmers who have first call on their services.

State Militia Need For Men Growing

All units of the California State Guard have been ordered to be brought up to full authorized strength by Brig. Gen. Victor R. Hansen, the adjutant general.

The capabilities of Jap balloon-bombs, as recently announced by military authorities, obviously increase the war-time possibilities of local disaster and emergencies.

The State Guard has been assigned special local security responsibilities by the Army in addition to their regular function of assisting authorities in any emergency beyond local control.

In the urgent order to all unit commanders, General Hansen pointed to depletion of many units through loss of personnel to the armed forces or changed working hours in war plants adversely affecting the guardsmen's two-hour drill one night a week.

Uniformed and equipped by the federal government, guardsmen are trained in all phases of military tactics. They cannot, however, without their consent, be called to active duty beyond the borders of their own county. A large number of former air raid wardens and civilian defense volunteers have joined the State Guard as well as returning veterans.

Captain Pays Tribute to Flyers

Capt. Cecil W. Hoff, flight surgeon with the Eighth Air Force and stationed "somewhere in England," recently sent the following poem to his wife, Mrs. Hoff, the former Lucile Vogle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Vogle of Nutwood road. Mrs. Hoff is making her home here with her parents part of the time and at the home in San Bernardino where Capt. Hoff was a physician before entering the service three years ago. He has been in foriegn service for the past 15 months and is attached to a hospital unit in England.

The poem follows:

A Mission Ends

Those mighty birds at dawn awake,
They roar away with lives at stake,
They gently fold their ponderous feet,
Outward, awkward an impossible feat.
Ugly, close, majestic in flight
They soar aloft and bank to the right,
Twenty-eight strong they leave the field,
All is at stake, nothing to yield.
All of them brave, admittedly fools
That sit in that bird, the "Little Man's" tools,
We oldsters that watch their bravest of brave
Grieve, though we know there is England to save.
Some will return, some will be dead,
Some will be wounded, the victims of lead,
All will be older in mind and soul
Though they've returned, they've raised the death toll,
How could a mortal have started this thing
All for his ultimate plan to be king?

Darkness of dawn turns into day
All those great birds winging away,
They twist and turn and mill around
Searching the lead until it is found,
Southward they soar o'er friendly terrain
Like ducks in the fall, an endless chain.
Spellbound we stand and heavenward gaze
Watching that chain fade in the haze,
Now they point East on destruction bent
Demons to Hell—to some Heaven sent.
The blossoms of black suddenly loom
With pollen of iron—that whistling doom,
Tumbled and tossed the great birds arrive
Over the point for which they strive,
Bellies roll open and out of the blue
Plummet the eggs of horror anew,
Each carries death for hundreds of His Misguided children; barbaric it is
Yet, high in the air, out of the sun
Look quickly—you'll see all is not won,
Tiny they seem and tiny they are
Streaking in fast they strike from afar.
Some are destroyed, many turn back,
A few come through—meteors black;
Great birds are wounded, mortally so,
Fluttering, flaming, earthward they go,
Hundreds they've killed, now they too die,
Innocent all, but there they now lie.
The giant birds circle and fly West again
Leaving behind such heartache and pain,
Never so long as we all shall live
Will God in His goodness, this horror forgive.

The day is waning, "They should be here soon,"
Those mighty birds are due back at noon;
A few hours only have shd away,
The giant eagles had left that day.
To we on the ground a year had past,
The mission's soon over, may it be the last;
Eyes strain upward searching the sky,
"Wind is bad, they should come in high,"
Specks in the distance—"Could they be there?"
The tougher we act, the softer our prayer.
Onward they come, then all of us shout,
Men facing East whirl around and about,
"There they are! Where are the rest?"
Six will never return to their nest.
Twenty-eight strong they left the field,
Twenty-two only whose fate is left unsealed;
Six great birds and sixty brave hearts,
All of them dead, they've played their parts.
The great birds circle and slowly descend,
Another mission has come to an end.
Bob Johnson sleeps beneath this lid.
He always claimed he couldn't skid.
The fact remains he could—and did!

A warm welcome is extended to this new business firm and to the affable manager and his wife, with the sincere wish they may grow to like our city even more and prosper as the years go by.

County Farmers Urged to Buy Bonds

A special appeal to rural residents to buy E bonds and to get others to do the same during the last few days of the 7th War Loan drive has come from the Farm Bureau. Ray B. Wiser, state president of the organization is chairman of the agricultural committee for the drive and has particularly urged the officers of the Farm Bureau to make personal contacts to get Orange county up to its quota of E bonds. Corporations and other investors have met their quota, he pointed out.

Farmers and others who are willing to make personal calls were urged by A. J. Schutte, county president of the Farm Bureau, today to contact the local war bond officials and secure their material to take applications from their friends, neighbors and others.

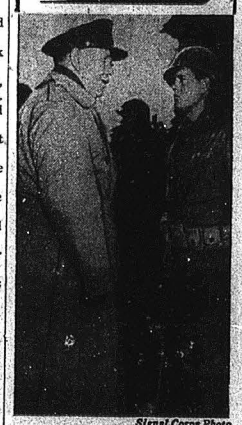

Many farmers are buying bonds for specific purchases; enough for a new truck, enough for a new tractor, or implements, or for additions or alterations to farm buildings.

Plane Travel to Europe Available

Clipper travel to Europe is now available to travelers without priority, Pan American World Airways announced yesterday. Passage is available aboard Boeing Clippers, both across the North Atlantic to the British Isles, and the South Atlantic to Lisbon, with connections to France, Sweden, Switzerland, Spain, and African points.

Businessmen and persons traveling for personal reasons such as tracing their families in Europe, are now able to obtain plane seats formerly completely reserved for "war effort" passengers and military personnel.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Lift up the hands which hang down, and the feeble knees; and make straight paths for your feet, lest that which is lame be turned out of the way; but let it rather be healed." This admonition of Paul to the Hebrews is the Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Christian Science" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

A Lesson-Sermon citation from I Samuel records that when Goliath sent his challenge to the armies of Israel, "David said to Saul, Let no man's heart fail because of him; thy servant will go and fight with this Philistine. . . . And he took his staff in his hand, and chose him five smooth stones out of the brook . . . and his sling was in his hand . . . Then said David to the Philistine, Thou comest to me with a sword, and with a spear, and with a shield: but I come to thee in the name of the Lord of hosts, . . . whom thou hast defied. . . . And David . . . smote the Philistine in his forehead, . . . and he fell upon his face to the earth."

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy writes, "Matter and Mind are opposities. . . . If one is real, the other must be unreal Only by understanding that there is but one power,—not two powers, matter and Mind,—are scientific and logical conclusions reached."

White Temple Pastor Accepts Los Angeles Call

Announcement was made this week at the conclusion of the Methodist church conference in Pasadena that Rev. Thomas L. Burden of the White Temple Methodist church has been appointed pastor of the West Adams Methodist church in Los Angeles and will assume his new post immediately.

He will be succeeded by Rev. Hayden Sears who has been pastor of the Methodist church in El Centro for the past four years.

Rev. Burden has served in the Anaheim church for the past five years and has taken an active part in civic enterprises and the Anaheim Ministerial Union. He numbers many friends both in and out of church circles and they are viewing his departure with much regret.

He will preach his first sermon in the West Adams church this Sunday but will not move from the parsonage until Monday. His sister-in-law, Mrs. Ruby Griffith will accompany him.

Mr. Sears will conduct the service at the local church this Sunday. He and his wife and three small daughters, aged 2, 4 and 6, will move into the parsonage on East Center street early next week.

Another appointment of interest to local residents was the announcement that Rev. G. Edwin Osher, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Osher of 1124 West Center street, will assume the pastorate at the Garden Grove Methodist church. He comes to the Orange county church from Mt. Olive Methodist church in Hollywood. He is a graduate of the Anaheim Union High school, Fullerton Junior college, Redlands University and the Boston School of Theology in Boston, Mass.

Rev. H. H. Strandberg of the Orange Methodist church is to take a sabbatical year. He will be succeeded by Rev. George Root of the Mission Hills Methodist church in San Diego.

Veterans' Affairs Office Now Open In Santa Ana

James E. Mellon, Jr., field contact representative for the newly opened office of the Veterans' administration, announced today that office hours will be maintained six days a week from 8 a. m. until 4:45 p. m. The office is located in the First National bank building, Santa Ana.

Mellon also stressed that this office will do the same type work as that regularly done in the veterans' affairs office in Los Angeles and that it will concern itself with the problems of veterans of all wars.

The primary topics the field contact offices will consider are problems of the out-patient treatment, including hospitalization and domiciliary care; disability pension claims, both service-connected and non-service connected; educational benefits under the G. I. bill, and under public law 16; preliminary discussions relative to the loan provisions of the G. I. bill; death pensions to widows or dependents of deceased personnel of World War II or previous wars and burial benefits arising through the death of veterans of any war.

Rev. S. F. George Accepts Call to San Bernardino

After seven years in Anaheim as pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Rev. Stanley Frederick George has resigned his post to accept a call to the First Presbyterian church at San Bernardino on Sept. 1.

Rev. Stanley Frederick George

Following the Sunday morning service Mr. George asked the congregation to accept his resignation. Dr. Glenn W. Moore, executive secretary of the Los Angeles Presbytery moderated the meeting and spoke in praise of the fine work accomplished by Mr. George.

During his pastorate the church has grown from 350 members to 850 and during the past two years a building fund approximating $50,000 has been raised. Mr. George was instrumental in starting the Vacation Church School seven years ago. He also helped to establish the elementary school program of Religious Instruction on Released Time which is considered one of the finest systems of this kind in California. Each school week 1,500 children participate in the program. Mr. George was formerly a vice-president of the Los Angeles County Christian Endeavor Union before studying for the ministry.

He will conclude his work in Anaheim the last Sunday in July after which he and his family will enjoy a month's vacation at Idyllwild before assuming the new pastorate in San Bernardino.

A pastoral committee has been appointed to find a new pastor for the church here.

County Roads to Benefit From New State Act

For the first time in history state funds have been allowed for county roads, the allocation having been made as a result of a bill passed by the state legislature and signed last week by Gov. Earl Warren.

Known as the Werdel-Hatfield highway act, it provides for state and federal funds totaling $449,265 for post-war local road work in Orange county. A total of $12,000,000 in state money has been appropriated by the state for the program which will be matched with $13,000,000 of federal money.

With passage of the bill County Highway Engineer A. A. Beard made it known that plans have been prepared for an improvement of approximately 200 miles of county roads and state highways in the county. County roads included are main traffic arteries. The work is to be undertaken within three years of the end of the war.

Of the funds for Orange county $207,000 will come from the state and $233,265 will be federal

Application for Change of Electric Cycles Is Filed

An application has been filed with the California Railroad commisison by the Southern California Edison Company Ltd., for a change from 50 to 60 cycles on that part of its system which presently is serving electric energy at 50 cycles. The part of the territory includes the city of Anaheim.

Under the proposed program the actual physical change would probably not start until at least during the middle of 1947. It is estimated that the first eighteen months would be required for surveys and other preparation for the physical change. Once this has been started it is estimated that about three and a half years will be required to complete the work, or that the entire system will not be changed over until sometime in 1950.

The Edison Company has contemplated this change for the past several years, according to W. C. Mullendore, president of the company. Due to the demands of wartime this program was postponed but now they are going ahead with their postwar plans. The standard frequency of the United States is 60 cycles although 50 cycles is the standard in most of the rest of the world. The estimated over-all expenditure during the five-year reconverison period will be approximately $20,000,000, a helpful contribution to southern California's reemployment problem in the postwar period.

The company has announced that it does not contemplate beginning the change on consumer's premises before at least another year, or until after the war.

Mr. and Mrs. William Larson of 115 North West street, became parents of a daughter at the Fullerton General hospital on June 16.

Free Membership Granted Veterans By Farm Bureau

As a welcoming gesture to returning veterans who become bona fide farmers the Orange County Farm Bureau is granting a year's free membership in the organization. This is in line with the state bureau's policy of granting a similar free membership for one year. A bona fide farmer is one who received 60 percent of his income from farming.

The board of directors have also submitted several suggestions to the state farm bureau for taking care of a number of problems that confront today's farmer. The board suggests that research be made into Pierce's disease that has proved so damaging to the grape industry in the past; to improving methods of taking care of Baker's mealybug, a pest of citrus in Orange county and elsewhere, and research on noxious weeds and artichoke thistle. All noxious weeds that are gaining control in California should be controlled and not allowed to spread, the resolution states.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Pember of San Diego, formerly of Anaheim, have been visting in Anaheim. Before her marriage Mrs. Pember was Norma Armbrust.

Sugar Coupons Must be Endorsed

Southland housewives today were advised by the Office of Price Administration that home canning sugar coupons issued by local boards must be endorsed with the name of the individual to whom sugar is issued plus the number of ration book No. 4.

Retailers have been advised not to accept these home canning coupons unless they are properly endorsed, OPA said.

84 percent of all the money invested in E Bonds is still invested in them.

Pfc. Bob Eley Entertaining G.I.'s In Germany

Pfc. Robert Eley is stationed near Halle in Germany, his sister, Mrs. E. C. Kenricks of North Lemon street has learned. With a special service division, he is helping to put on shows and entertainments for thousands of our soldiers. Attached to the headquarters company of the Seventh Armored division of the Ninth Army, he has been in Europe since last March and in that time has done considerable traveling throughout Belgium and Germany and around the Baltic sea.

At one opera house on the shores of the Baltic sea his outfit put on shows three times a day and each show was attended by 3,000 GI's.

Pvt. Eley is remembered as one of the outstanding drama students at the Anaheim Union High school and since his graduation he has continued his interest in the theatrical world. His wife and small son are making their home in Stockton during his absence.

Sgt. Bob Moeller Back in States

Secretary of Chamber of Commerce and Mrs. E. W. Moeller, received a telegram last week from their son, Sgt. Robert Moeller, notifying them that he is now back in the United States after 24 months overseas with the Eighth Air Force. He is stationed at Camp Shanks, N. Y., and is anticipating a furlough in the very near future.

Sgt. Moeller has been in the armed forces for almost three years. Prior to his enlistment he was taking an engineering course at the University of Minnesota.

Just before leaving England he flew over Western Germany and viewed the devastation of the cities from an altitude of only 100 feet. Like others, he wrote that the damage was terrific and that the cities are now only a mass of rubble.

Stationed in England, he was a member of the ground crew and tested the bombsights before crews took off for raids over England.

Edith Parks, Wac, Writes of Paris

Gay Paree was very gay following Germany's surrender, writes Sgt. Edith Parks, WAC, who ought to know for she is there. Writing on May 15 she said in part:

"Warm weather is here at last. In fact the days are hot. Since its arrival this fair city is really beautiful. Seems to have brought out all the green trees and flowers. There are flower vendors on every street and corner which adds to the color of things. All the street cafes have blossomed forth with freshly painted chairs and gay umbrellas. Sure is a lovely sight to see about 3 p.m. when everyone is out and about. Don't know how these people get along but from the crowds on the streets there are only a few left to work."

Doing telephone work, she said, "The war may be over on paper but the telephone service has been loads worse than usual. Since VE-day the call have trebled if not more."

Albert H. Bailey Now at Rhode Island Base

Albert H. Bailey, 21, quartermaster third class, USNR, has been transferred to the Atlantic fleet's naval training station at Newport, R. I. For the past two years he has served aboard a small aircraft carrier.

He will be assigned to a ship soon to be commissioned. In the Navy since November, 1942, he is a graduate of Lymann high school, Nebr., and his brother, Morris, also in the Navy, is stationed at San Diego.

Grim Happenings Become Funny Writes Local Man

From somewhere in Germany T/4 Harley Schachner of Anaheim writes an interesting letter to his friends here. Written on the day the Germans surrendered he wrote in part as follows:

"Now that the war is over in Europe the army is getting chicken again, close order drill, calisthenics, etc. Just like garrison days . . . It looks as though we will be the army of occupation for a little while, at least we are all sweating it out. I haven't seen half as much war as most of the boys but what I have seen is plenty for me although there are some lighter sides to it. Of course when the shells are popping it's not so funny, but after it is all over you get quite a kick out of it.

"For example three of the boys in our recon platoon went to a town they thought was occupied by our troops and started looking for pistols. They asked a German boy where the pistols were. The boy pointed out a house so the three dopes entered the building and came out with seven pistols. The pistols happened to be on a Jerry general and his staff so they started back with their three captives. As they left the town in their peep they were fired on by the Krauts, but the firing soon stopped as the peep fairly flew out of the S.S.'ers sight. It's things like that that make it livable over here.

"As we were liberating American prisoners of war I was hoping to run across Hayden (Hayden Collier has since been liberated after 15 months in a German prison camp and is now recuperating from his experience) but no luck. Believe me, those boys really deserve a good long rest. I met quite a few pilots from California and gave them a bottle of rum I'd 'liberated'. When our tanks rolled into the prison grounds half of the prisoners started crying, they were so happy to see us. There is no way of describing the looks on their faces. Their faces were lit up more than an eight-year-old's on Christmas morning when he catches sight of all his presents."

Prior to entering the army Schrachner was employed at the Mutual Citrus Products company.

Pfc. Ed Espinosa Aided in Capture Of 100 Germans

Pfc. Edward H. Espinosa of Anaheim with the 84th infantry division, is a signal company wireman and was one of a construction platoon that helped take 100 German prisoners in the Elbe break-through in Germany.

A volunteer task force attacked a German-held house with a 50-caliber machine gun mounted on a truck and forced the enemy to surrender. In three weeks from the Rhine to the Elbe, the platoon laid 350 miles of wire, 200 drums of German cable and 40 miles of recaptured British wire.

Donnie Longsdon Returning From Overseas Duty

Sgt. Donnie P. Longsdon, Jr., son of Mrs. D. P. Longsdon of Chapman avenue, is on his way home after three years in the European and Mediterranean theaters where he has been serving as an airplane armorer with the 31st Fighter group of the 15th Army Air Force.

He arrived in England on June 10, 1942 and later landed with the invasion forces at Oran. He went through the North African and Tunisian campaigns and after Cape Bon and Pantelleria he was in on the invasions of Sicily and Italy. For a period he was on the Anzio beachhead and his fighter squadron, the 307th, was the only fighter unit stationed there.

LT. BEN YORBA HOME

Second Lt. Bernardo M. Yorba, AAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Yorba of Santa Ana canyon, arrived home last week following his liberation from a German prison camp. Following a 60-day leave he will report to an army distribution center for either reassignment or discharge from the service.

WINS COMBAT BADGE

Pfc. Steven Silvas of route 3, box 382-B, has been awarded the combat infantryman badge for performance against the enemy during the battle of the Belgian bulge last winter. With the 106th infantry division in Germany his outfit threw a ferocious counter-attack against the Germans at Manhay, Belgium. The division also took part in the smashing the Siegfried line and the pursuit of its defenders across the Rhine.

Lt. Katheryn Bercot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bercot of South street, has been visiting here on furlough from Temple, Tex. She is in the Army nursing corps. Her husband, Lt. Glenn Bercott, is serving in India at the present time.

Two Anaheim Men Killed in Action

Two Anaheim men are officially listed on this week's casualty list as having been killed in action. They are Pfc. Alby J. Kapsner and Pvt. Robert H. Pfalzgraff.

Pvt. Kapsner, son of Mrs. Catherine E. Kapsner of 927 North Zeyn street, was first listed as missing in action last April, but his mother has now been notified that he was killed on June 13 in Europe. He entered the service in 1943 and was in action with the 100th Infantry division. Prior to entering the service he was employed by the U. S. Industrial plant in this city.

Pvt. Kapsner was decorated with the Combat Infantry badge, the Silver Star and the Purple Heart. His two brothers, Seaman First Class Ivan Kapsner and Pharmacist's Mate Second Class Claude Kapsner are overseas.

Pvt. Pfalzgraff was killed in action on Luzon, May 18. His widow, Hazel, and son Jerry, reside at 107 North Lemon street. He also leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Pfalzgraff of this city.

He entered the service in September, 1944, and went overseas last March.

Sgt. Anson Henry Arrives in States

MIAMI, Fla., June 28.—Twenty-nine Californians were recently flown here from overseas stations and landed at the Air Transport Command's Miami Army Air Field. Included in the group is Sgt. Anson C. Henry, 33, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Henry of Anaheim. Sgt. Henry plans on returning to the shipyards if he is released from the army.

These veterans will be rushed from Miami on a plane-to-train operation to Camp Blanding, Fla., where they will be immediately routed to a separation center in California. There each will be given a furlough home and upon their return will be either reassigned or released from the service.

Merit Certificate Awarded Cpl. Harry A. Hood

For particularly meritorious and outstanding performance of military duty, Cpl. Harry R. Hood, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Hood, 605 East Broadway, has been awarded the "Certificate of Merit" in the European theater of operations. The award was made by his commanding officer, Col. Edward L. Wilson.

The citation on the award stated: "Cpl. Harry A. Hood, for meritorious and efficient discharge of all assigned duties; for outstanding performance in rendering medical care to our soldiers, prisoners of war and Belgian civilians; for his efforts in procuring supplies and evacuating sick and wounded; and for exemplary conduct and high moral standards."

John Hodges, USNR Serving Aboard U. S. S. Nevada

Aboard the USS Nevada in the Pacific—Seaman Second Class John W. Hodges, USNR is serving aboard this battleship that became famous at the time of the Jap sneak attack at Pearl Harbor when it was the only one able to get underway.

Nearing the Pearl Harbor entrance channel she evaded Jap planes in their attempts to sink her and block the entrance channel. She accomplished the feat by running aground in shallow water.

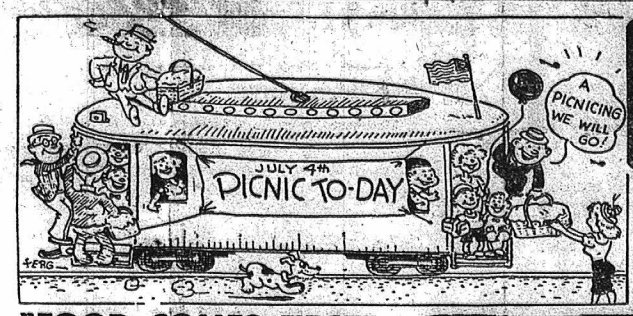

Seaman Hodges is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hodges of 406 South Vine street.

Anaheim Navy Man Sees U-Boat Surrender in Atlantic

Aboard the USS Pillsbury—Harvey C. Hollingsworth, 39, chief motor machinist's mate of Rt. 2, Anaheim, is serving aboard the USS Pillsbury, battling destroyer escort that climaxed a long and successful battle against German submarines in the Atlantic when she received the surrender of the first Nazi U-boat to give up after VE-day.

The German sub surfaced and was boarded by American sailors some 500 miles south of Newfoundland and arrived at Cape May, New Jersey, on May 14.

Pvt. Thelma Valencia, Rt. 3, Box 373, Anaheim, will complete her training course at the Enlisted Women's Technician school, Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., this month. One of 8,000 WAC's in training, she will be assigned to one month of training on the job upon her graduation. Following this she will become a medical and surgical technician.
