One Commission Advocated For Outfall Sewer

Giving an excellent description of the manner in which Los Angeles county solved its sanitation problems through a long-range master plan, A. M. Rawn, engineer of the Los Angeles county sanitary district, told members of the Associated Chambers of Commerce Tuesday night that if the county had not had sufficient foresight years ago industry could not have met the increased demands of the war years.

The meeting was held at the Normandy cafe in Westminster with E. L. Whitson, president of the Westminster chamber of commerce giving the welcoming address. Master of ceremonies was W. L. Farrow of Garden Grove, chairman of the Associated Chambers of Commerce sanitation committee.

In telling of the Los Angeles county sewer problems that closely parallel those besetting Orange county the speaker advocated that one joint-outfall sewer commission be established in the county and pointed out how successful this plan has proved in Los Angeles county.

Dr. Edward Lee Russell, county health officer, described the unsanitary and unhealthful conditions arising from the western Orange county area and said that the present outfall sewer service is inadequate and that the entire setup needs revising. He pointed out that the western section of the county is the natural area for industrial expansion, but that it will not be possible unless sewer problems are solved, because the two basic fundamentals for such development are water and sanitation. He strongly urged the establishment of a single sanitary commission and recommended that the county sewer system be handled like the Los Angeles county system.

Ewald Lemcke, engineer of the Orange county outfall sewer, described to the interested audience the present setup in the county and illustrated his talk with a county map on which the outfall sewer is depicted.

The Anaheim delegation attending was headed by Ernest Gahahl, member of the board.

Next Tuesday night the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Associated Chambers will be held at the Rossmore hotel at Santa Ana and will be attended by President Everett Cone and Secretary E. W. Moeller of local chamber of commerce.

PARENTS OF SON

On Aug. 23 a son was born to Pvtfl and Mrs. H. L. King of 301 East Adele street at the Fullerton Cottage hospital. The infant weighs nine pounds nine ounces at birth.

VACATION AT ARROWHEAD

Rev. and Mrs. Guy Humphreys and their two children returned to Anaheim last Saturday following a vacation at Twin Peaks, Lake Arrowhead. Mr. Humphreys is pastor of the Church of Christ in this city.

Please Help!

This year in October marks the seventy-fifth anniversary of the Anaheim Gazette, seventy-five years of faithful service to the citizens of this city, sharing the joys and sorrows of each and every individual, seeing the population grow through the years, marriages of our young people who live in our midst today and a great many others who are scattered to the four corners of the world at this time. Now we are asking a favor of each of you. We are planning a birthday edition of YOUR paper and ask that you please lend us any old pictures of early day places and scenes of this city and historical data that you might have put away. We pledge ourselves to take good care of anything you might like to lend us and we will get everything back to you as soon as we are finished with it. A big surprise awaits everyone in our "Diamond Jubilee Edition."

New Sugar Stamp Becomes Good Sept. 1

Next sugar stamp, like its predecessors good for five pounds, will become valid Sept. 1, the OPA announced today. At least time the stamp currently in use, No. 36, will be voided.

The new stamp will be No. 38—not No. 37. Normally, No. 37 would be used but many housewives mistakenly turned that stamp in—instead of the correct one, spare stamp No. 37—when they applied for home canning sugar last year. Because of this, the OPA is by-passing sugar stamp No. 37 and using, instead, No. 38.

The new stamp will be good for four months. Sugar continues to be scarce with prospects for little if any improvement until greater production of sugar cane and beets is achieved.

Deadline Friday For Personal Property Tax

Deadline for payment of unsecured personal property tax is tomorrow, Friday, County Assessor Maurice F. Enderle reminded the public this week in announcing that to date $338,388.54 has been collected. After Friday there will be an automatic eight per cent penalty on the delinquent taxes.

Persons whose personal property is secured by real estate holdings will pay the tax along with their real estate payments Nov. 1. The collections already made were on 9,150 receipts compared with collections in 1944 of $274,085.96 on 8,500 receipts.

Week's Building Permits Reach Total of $13,500

During the past week, building permits with a total valuation of $13,150 have been issued by Building Inspector R. Nyboe.

Contractor M. J. Blair has taken out permits for the erection of two more $5,000 dwellings and garages, one of which will be built at 522 South Citron street and the other at 845 North Helena street. He has recently been issued permits for the erection of six other houses and garages.

Mrs. M. Hasty of 1440 Lincoln avenue was issued a $150 permit for a service station foundation.

A $2,000 permit was issued Ben C. Gonzales for a three-room dwelling at 312 East Brodaway, and Rachel Valenzuella was issued a $1,000 permit to build a living room at her home on Swan street.

Rent Ceilings Will Be Continued Here

Federal rent control is expected to remain in effect in this district until such time as the percentage of vacancies increases to an extent precluding all possibility of inflated rent charges.

This statement tended to clear up any misunderstanding resulting from eastern telegraphic reports to the effect that lifting of the rent regulations was imminent. While rent restrictions may be removed in some of the areas throughout the country the low vacancy rate in this and other Pacific coast cities precluded the possibility of such action being taken here for some time.

The local OPA official declared that surveys will be conducted here frequently to determine the vacancy rate and that rent regulations will be removed when conditions warrant. The southland's industrial program is expected to maintain a high demand for rental properties.

Fullerton Board Calls Three From Anaheim

During the month of August three Anaheim men were inducted into the army through the Fullerton selective service board. They are Sabino Flores, Ruben Ortiz and Pedro Crejel.

Fullerton men inducted were Ralph Sheridan Smith, Jr., Clifford Donaghey and Conner Don Pyles and Robert Shipmen, Brea; Lionel Luna and Bernabe Hernandez, La Habra.

Lyric Writer Jerry Nesmith Tells Of Recent Submarine Experiences

Song writer, Jap-busting Jerry Nesmith, 26, ship's cook attached to the submarine service, is one of Anaheim's servicemen who can fight with a song on his lips and who, with his talent for lyric writing, now has a song going the rounds of the submarine crews and the dance hall bands in San Diego and wherever "submariners" meet. A grid star from Anaheim Union High school and Santa Ana Junor college, he has been a sub sailor since March, 1942.

On his fifth war patrol he wrote "Dungaree Navy" and the battle - toughened submariners have received it with acclaim as they have his other songs. The lyric goes like this:

We are the dungaree Navy, United States Sub-marines,
If there is ever trouble, you'll find us there,
Get there "on the double", what's the difference what we wear.
We have lots of respect for the others,
Victors on so many surface scenes,
But we'll take these old dungarees,
Off Formosa and the Phillippines,
And Uncle Sammy's sub-marines.

With six years of study in journalism, he writes constantly while on patrol and at the end of his first year's sea experiences he told his story in a thrilling book titled "And They All Came Back". Now he is at work on another book based on his personal experiences, "Some Shall Perish". He has been under attack scores of times and on 13 occasions his boat has had Jap torpedoes hurtle past her in visible misses. One torpedo missed his ship by an estimated two feet!

He made his first three patrol runs on a now obsolete "S-boat" in waters off Attu and Kiska and his ship was the first U. S. vessel to go into Attu and one of the first undersea raiders to smash at Jap shipping off Paramushiro. On that run Nesmith was aboard her when she was forced far below her normal depth by Jap attacks.

Among his other talents Nesmith is a proficient Japanese linguist, having studied it at a U. S. training school. During his last war patrol he taught eight of his shipmates to speak Japanese and has often conversed with Jap prisoners, taken during patrol-runs.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry J. Nesmith of 405 South Ohio street, and his wife, Doris, is living with her parents in Hollywood during his absence. An older brother, Roland, is with the Coast Guard and is stationed at a Philippine base.

In a letter to his parents, written on the day Japan surrendered, Jerry said:

"It all happened the way I wanted it to happen, in the twinkling of an eye. . . . We have been celebrating all day long and the boys are still yelling, laughing, joking and crying for sheer joy. Never before have I witnessed such mass gratefulness. Truly, this is the day of all my days, and I am humble in the arms of the Divine Referee, who gave us the final verdict in this bout. . . . I'm so thankful that we've all been spared. I feel so sorry for the more unfortunate families, but I repeat, I am lucky to be alive today."

Among other recent achievements, Jerry just won a sizeable monetary prize in a song writing contest.

Charles Griffith Resigns Post With Community Chest

City Clerk Charles E. Griffith last Saturday handed in his resignation as secretary-treasurer of the newly organized Victory Chest after having served as secretary-treasurer for the annual War Chest drive since 1941 when it was first organized.

In announcing his resignation, he said, "There are only 24 hours in a day, therefore in order that I may fulfill the duties of city clerk to which the people elected me, and to carry out the job the cities have selected me for, it is imperative that I sever my connections with the Anaheim Community Victory Chest.

"Since commencement of hostilities I have served faithfully the boys who are out in front and have aided in my humble way in alleviating distress among our allies, and the people of Anaheim have cooperated splendidly so that we have an enviable record of achievement in our war chest activities."

Griffith serves as secretary-treasurer of the USO board and last week was elected secretary-treasurer of the Orange County League of Cities that comprises 13 county cities.

Water Carnival At City Park Friday Night

With the water carnival at the city plunge scheduled for last Friday night a change was made at the last moment and the carnival will now be held tomorrow night (Friday) at 8 o'clock, Paul Jungkeit, recreational director announces.

An exhibition will be given by those who learned to swim this year and advanced swimmers will have novelty swimming races and exhibition diving. A life-saving demonstration will be given by the life guards.

Swimming classes ended last week.

News about people is what makes a newspaper interesting.

Schools Open Soon For Fall Term

School days are nearly here again for many of Anaheim's youngsters and on Wednesday, Sept. 12, it will be "reading, writing and arithmetic" for the students at Marywood Central Catholic High school.

Registration for all new day students will be held on Sept. 7 from 9 a.m. until 12 noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. Resident students will return Sept. 11. Because of the increased enrollment in the high school the grade school has been discontinued.

The faculty for the year includes: Sister Marine James, principal; Sister Mary Celine, Sister David, Sister Marie Virginia; Sister Dorothy Evelyn, Sister Florentia, Sister Margaret Alma for the high school classes; Sister Mary Alma and Sister Mary Therese, music; Miss Pauline Neucks, speech, and Mrs. John Bestall, physical education.

Latin American history is a new course to be offered to upper classmen. Chemistry is the laboratory science open to third and fourth year students.

Classes at St. Catherine's Military school will start this coming Tuesday, Sept. 3, and all places are filled and have been since last spring when registration for the 1945-46 fall terms was opened.

St. Boniface Parochial school will be in session Sept. 10 with the full capacity of 270 already enrolled.

Elementary schools in the Anaheim district will open Sept 17 with the high school starting Sept. 14.

City Dads to Hold Picnic For Employees

The City Dads aren't talking much but they are pretty busy making plans for the picnic they will host next Thursday evening, Sept. 6, when they entertain the 125 city employees at a picnic in the city park.

The picnic is strictly for city employees and the chefs will include none other than Mayor Charles Pearson and Councilmen R. S. Van Wagoner, H. E. W. Barnes, Robert H. Boney and Leo Sheridan.

After the picnic there will be sports and fun.

So. California Youth Groups Convene Here

With a registration of 500 members, the second annual conference of Southern California Teen Centers and Councils association convened at the Anaheim Union High school last Saturday and ironed out various youth problems and laid plans for the ensuing year. During the afternoon session officers for the coming year were elected and Tony Rios of the Santa Barbara "Rec" club was named to head the group.

Others elected were Kenneth Burgi of the Compton "Hub" club, vice president; Ruth Gregg of Anaheim Teen-Age club, secretary; George Mendenhall of the Long Beach "Hi-Teen" club, corresponding secretary; Jack De Bolske of the View Park Country club, treasurer. David Wheeler of the Huntington Beach Tri-City club will edit the association's publication, "Teen News," and Carolyn Wright of the Watts "Teen Agers" club will be the associate editor.

Last year's president was Manuel Santana of Watts, now a member of the armed forces. In his absence Mike Trujillo of Santa Barbara "Rec" club presided over the general sessions, while Shirley Walsworth of Anaheim acted as conference chairman.

During the morning, separate youth and adult sessions were held with the various findings being reported at the general afternoon session. The brief reports showed that the teen centers were important in keeping down delinquency, that it is vital for the young people to be active as well as responsible in their centers, that cooperation is necessary between the youth and the advisory adults and that it is best to allow the younger teen agers have activities separate from the older groups.

Reports from the adult workshops stressed the need for programs and sports as a supplement to dances and parties; of the sponsoring adult group taking an active part and assuming its full legal responsibilities and that the centers should not attempt to meet all proposed programs but should concentrate on their own individual needs.

The youth workshops discussed "When and How to Organize a Youth Center," "50-50 Youth-Adult Cooperation," "Formation and Activity of the Youth Council," "The Youth Center Program" and "Youth Center Membership."

The adult workshops discussed "Coordination of Teen Centers with Community Activities," "The Program of a Youth Center," "Responsibilities of Teen Center Sponsors," "Administration - Finance-Supervision," and "Youth-Adult Leadership."

Following early morning registration, the program was opened by James Friis of Anaheim playing a pipe organ rhythm. Shirley Walsworth presided as conference chairman and Ercel Morris led the community singing. Invocation was given by Rev. Father Gallagher and Ann Gilfingham reported on the accomplishments of the association officers.

During the day several recreational periods were held with sports, dancing, motion pictures and swimming claiming the young people's attention. In the evening a banquet was held in the school cafeteria followed by a dance at the Anaheim Teen Age Canteen.

Sponsoring the conference were youth centers from Anaheim, Orange, Santa Ana, Tustin, Seal Beach and Huntington Beach. Mrs. R. W. Marvin, council member, and Shirley Walsworth were in charge of local arrangements.

Delegates attended from the Orange county cities and from San Diego, Los Angeles, Vista, Gardena, Hynes, Inglewood, San Bernardino, Santa Barbara and Bakersfield.

AT SILVERADO CANYON

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Arndt of this city spent last weekend at their Silverado Canyon cottage and had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Tuma of Anaheim. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Goodsen, also of this city, were weekending at their cottage and joined the others in the merry festivities.

Religious Week Sept. 30 to Oct. 7

Observance of Religious Education Week, September 30 to October 7, in rural and urban areas of America has been endorsed by President Harry S. Truman, urging that religious education of the nation's children be "fostered and extended", in a letter sent from the White House to Dr. Roy G. Ross, general secretary of the International Council of Religious Education, sponsor of the program.

Ninety per cent of American Protestantism will take part in community observances of Religious Education Week through forty denomination and 183 state, city, and provincial councils of churches and religious education, which are member agencies of the International Council, Dr. Ross has announced.

Congressman John Phillips at Public Forum Tonight

Tonight, Thursday, Congressman John Phillips will report on the Washington scene at 8 o'clock at a meeting to be held at the Santa Ana Ebell club auditorium and the meeting will be open to the public.

Returning to his home district briefly during the current short congressional recess, he will discuss reconversion problems, postwar plans, the atomic bomb and a host of local projects involving governmental action. At the conclusion of his address he will conduct his usual question and answer session.

During the day he has met with numerous farm and civic groups. He leaves tomorrow, Friday, for Washington, D. C., to be on hand for the important pending legislation.

USO Seeks New Location; Praises F. A. Yungbluth

Announcement was made this week that the USO center will move on Oct. 1 from its present location on West Center street, at which time its lease will expire. At the same time, Chairman Charles A. Pearson and Secretary-Treasurer Charles Griffith issued a joint statement of appreciation to F. A. Youngbluth whose generosity made it possible for the use of the spacious quarters. The statement reads:

"All USO officials join us in expressing our appreciation to Mr. F. A. Youngbluth, through whose generosity we have had the use of this centrally located and well appointed building for so long. The fine location has given a tremendous stimulation to activities centered here, and our use of the building has been at a great sacrifice to the owner."

At the same time it was announced that the USO was seeking a new location for the center and that if it can be found the USO will be continued for some time to come and as long as the demand continues.

The USO center was established in its present location in the fall of 1943 and has been a popular haven for the many servicemen in this area. It has been staffed by local volunteer hostesses seven days a week, day and night. During the first year of its existence, an average of 1,500 servicemen and women used the center, according to the annual report made last January.

BACK FROM RESORT

Mrs. Arval Morris and two children of East Santa Ana street returned to Anaheim last week from a two weeks' vacation spent at Big Bear.

ON VACATION

Miss Lillian Stevens of East Ellsworth street is enjoying a two weeks' vacation. She is spending part of the time at the beach.

AT NATIONAL PARKS

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McIntyre of Lincoln avenue and their four children left early this week for a vacation at Sequoia and Yosemite National parks. They expect to be gone about a week.

CITY'S ASSESSED VALUATION SET AT 10 MILLION DOLLLARS

A tax rate of 75 cents per $100 assessed valuation was established for the 1945-46 fiscal year for the city of Anaheim Tuesday night when the city council passed ordinance 691. Though this is a 5-cent increase over the 1944-45 fiscal year, Anaheim will still have the lowest tax rate in the state in relation to its assessed valuation and population. The increase was necessary to meet the post-war reconversion program that includes construction and extension of electrical power in the city. Total taxes to be raised are $82,121.53.

The city assesses on a 50 per cent of population and a householder having property assessed at $8000 will pay only an added $2 under the new tax rate.

Anaheim's total assessed valuation has been established at $10,060,150 for 1945-46 which is an increase over 1944-45 of $319,550. The valuation does not include soldier's exemptions, church exemptions and other legal exemptions that amount to $1,164,480.

The council was notified by the state board of equalization that the tax rate for bonds and interest redemption has been set at slightly more than .38; the library tax rate at 17½ cents and general operations at slightly more than .19. The local assessor fixed the non-operative valuation for the city at $9,887,790, while the utilities valuation is $1,172,360, making the total of $10,060,150.

The resignation of Councilman Robert H. Boney from the city planning commission was accepted and Mayor Charles Pearson appointed Victor G. Loly to the board to serve a four-year term expiring in 1949.

A formal invitation was extended to the St. Louis Browns, American league baseball team, to hold its 1946 spring training at La Palma park. If the team comes it will be the first time that it has trained on the west coast.

Ordinance 690, granting a variance, was passed for the construction of a recreation hall on North Lemon street, the application having been sought by Rev. Henry Gross of St. Boniface Catholic church. The hall will be known as the "Don Bosco" club.

Bids on Douglas fir poles for the purposes of electrical construction in the north end of the city was awarded to J. H. Baxter company of Los Angeles for $7,201.50. This was the only bid submitted.

Bid for 200 Douglas fir cross arms at $3.50 each was awarded Maydell and Hartzell company of Los Angeles. The bid for 13,000 pounds of bare copper wire was postponed and referred to V. W. Hannum, superintendent of the lights and water department, due to failure to bid according to specification.

Gala Labor Day Program Sept. 3 At City Park

The city of Anaheim will celebrate Labor Day, September 3, by offering a vaudeville program in the Greek amphitheater, city park, at 8 o'clock in the evening, and plans for the sparkling event are now complete, Park Commissioner H. E. W. Barnes announced today and asserted that the acts are comparable to the best performances in recent years.

Among the star performers are Roy Benson, talented musician who was recently signed by Twentieth Century Fox for several leading picture parts and is, currently, master of ceremonies at the Biltmore Bowl in Los Angeles.

The program has been arranged through the Bert Levy circuit agency and is being sponsored by the Anaheim City Council and the Chamber of Commerce. It is the final program that will be offered in this year's series of park festivities. As in the past, the program is entirely free and the general public is invited.

The program will include the Beverly Morell trio, a fast and furious comedy on roller skates; Harry Powers, who plays difficult musical arrangements on improvised instruments; Ted Walman, harmonica wizard who is just back from a lengthy USO tour; Frances and Wally, comedy singing, dancing and talking; the Three Rangerettes, a western singing and musical group; Bill Hughes, who will present "Blackie", the famous singing crow, and Larry and Lynne, a comedy unicycle act.

All stores, offices, banks and the city hall will be closed for the Monday holiday, that is the first national holiday since peace came to the nation.

Native Sons to Hold Admission Day Dinner

Gerard Callens, president of the Native Sons of the Golden West, this week announced plans for the Admission Day dinner and ladies' night that will be held at the Anaheim Elks clubhouse on Tuesday evening, Sept. 11. Grace parlor of the Native Daughters will also be guests for the occasion that is one of the two most important events of the club calendar year.

An outstanding and appropriate program is being arranged and will include an excellent speaker who will tell of early days in California.

Reservations will close on Friday, Sept. 6, and can be made with Leonard Schwacofer at 126 East Center street.

Nebraska State Picnic Sept. 8 At Sycamore Grove

The Nebraska state picnic will be held at Sycamore Grove Saturday, Sept. 8, and former Nebraskans will find their old hometown newspapers on all of the 93 county registration tables, it was announced this week.

W. M. Jeffers, president of the Union Pacific railroad and a native of North Platte, will be present, Charles H. Randall, president of the Cornhuskers association, announced. If his duties permit Congressman W. L. Miller of Kimball, Nebr., will also be present.

PARENTS OF A BOY

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley W. Weaver of 908 North Clementine street became the parents of a son on Aug. 20 at the Santa Ana Community hospital.

Prominent Speaker To Address Kiwanis Club

An outstanding speaker, Stewart Meacham, regional director of the national labor relations board, will address members of the Kiwanis club next Tuesday at the Elks club, William Claussen, program chairman, told members this week. This will also be a joint meeting with the Fullerton Kiwanis club.

Members were reminded by Roscoe Young, secretary, that this weekend will be the occasion for the Labor Day houseparty at the Idyllwild Kiwanis lodge and at the same time he announced the final plans for the three day affair.

Program speakers were introduced by Marion Pickel and included Ted Payne and Rev. Earl Berg, members of the local club. The former told of a recent business trip to lumber mills in northern California and southern Oregon and the latter gave an account of his recent visit to the Kiwanis International headquarters in Chicago. Robert Jaynes gave a brief autobiographical sketch.

SERIOUSLY ILL

Mrs. C. L. Spencer of South Citron street is reported still seriously ill at the Long Beach Seaside hospital, where she was taken five weeks ago for several operations.

LABOR DAY

This first post-war Labor Day should be the proudest in the history of the labor movement, and in its celebration all Americans should proudly join. For Labor Day falls in a time of victorious peace because all Americans—rich and poor, boss and employee, gentile, Jew and Negro—poured the sweat and blood of free men into outfighting and outproducing the mechanized armies and regimented labor of our enemies.

In fighting and working side by side, Americans learned to cooperate understandingly, for their burdens and problems proved amazingly similar. Abnormal war taxes that harried the company treasurer also harried the employe, as withholding taxes shrunk his pay-check and his living costs rose. Governmental regulations, confusing and conflicting, hampered farmers in their enormous production role. They hampered transportation, as when the Department of Justice accused the railroads of anti-trust law violation for procedures in full accordance with Interstate Commerce Commission policies—and congressmen, alarmed at the prospect of a transportation snarl, began the fight for the Bulwinkle bill, a measure to slash the red tape of dual control of the carriers. Bureaucratic controls hampered businesses and unions in their relations, to such degree that some regrettable strikes resulted more from governmental interference than from friction between management and workers.

It seems reasonable to hope that comradeship in the trials and achievements of the perilous war years has drawn all groups in America closer in mutual respect and tolerance—has given them all a more mature outlook as the great and common tasks of the peace are begun. If this be true, then our Labor Day of 1945 marks a most significant milestone in the nation's progress.

END OF LEND-LEASE

Uncle Sam is back in the role he played after World War I—that of Uncle Shylock. It seems that no matter how much the "rich" Uncle does for his relatives they simply aren't satisfied.

Last week when President Truman brought Lend-Lease to an end after we had spent some $40 billion to aid other nations in the fight against totalitarianism (we got back about $5 billion in reverse Lend-Lease), one might have thought that there would be a chorus of "Thank you" from the countries he had helped. But what happened?

Well, the British who had received the lion's share of the aid, said they simply couldn't believe that we would stop sending them free supplies at this time. Yet they knew that Lend-Lease was a wartime measure and could hardly expect us to continue it indefinitely.

We can well appreciate the financial worries Britain has at this time. The war has cost her plenty. Her future outlook is not bright. It is true that she performed the world a great service by holding out against the Germans in 1940 and 1941. But we think we have pretty well paid our share of that debt not only in billions of dollars, but in the million or more casualties suffered among America's fighting men.

What is more: the rise of Hitler to a place where he threatened the world was largely due to the indifference of Britain, just as the rise of militaristic Japan was permitted by the indifference of the United States.

It should be remembered that Lend-Lease money doesn't come out of a limitless reserve fund, but that this nation is going ever deeper into debt to provide such aid—and the American taxpayer must foot the bill.

A continuation of the thankless "We-want-more!" chorus will do more to revive isolationism in America than anything else ever could.

FOR WHOM THE BELL RINGS

For many a young man fresh out of uniform, for boys and girls who were toiling long hours in shipyards and war plants a few weeks ago, and for the customary crop of school-age youngsters, ten thousand California school bells will soon ring out.

A good sound it will be!—a most welcome one for millions of parents and educators who have been disturbed at the impairment of our public and private school programs that was one of the inevitable evils of the war period.

When the nation's manpower needs were so desperate that the patriotic work of young folk was urgently needed, there was no alternative to temporary disruption of education throughout America. That time, happily, is past.

Never has a generation of America's youth faced a more responsible adulthood than is faced by students who return to school this fall. Never have our educators had greater responsibility in training boys and girls for the duties of citizenship and leadership. Ahead lies an unpredictable and dangerous world.

It is not only for the future of the students as individuals, but for the future of this nation as the world's greatest citadel of human freedom, that the school bells ring.

JAPAN REAPS THE WHIRLWIND

Of all the whirlwinds of disaster which the treachery and blind egotism of Japanese warlords have brought upon their land, perhaps the most stupid was their use of a rigidly controlled press to lie to the world—and to their own people as well.

A terrible whirlwind was reaped from Japanese use of their newspapers and radio to lie to the world about their "peaceful intentions" while they prepared the murderous Pearl Harbor strike. That whirlwind came in the might of an outraged America—culminating in the awful punishment of the atomic bomb.

Now another whirlwind has been reaped in the fury of the Japanese people on learning that their government used the controlled press to lie to them, too. They had been told that Midway was a glorious Jap victory, when actually it broke the airpower of the Jap fleet. They were assured that the "invincible" Jap army held California, Oregon and Washington at the very time the army was being blasted slowly but surely from the territories it had overrun.

It is little wonder, with such a record of lying exposed, that the Japanese rioted, turned against the army, and refused to believe the government when first it had to announce the truth—that Japan was licked and through, "face" and everything else gone.

Dictatorsships must lie to nations to rise to power—must throttle free expression. Yet dictators, however absolute their power, cannot fool "all of the people all of the time". The final whirlwind of disillusion and lost confidence is inevitable.

An honestly free press is the best policy—even for a dictator!

MACARTHUR "INVADES" JAPAN

In every major war there are events so remarkable they are classed as miracles. One such event was the French stand on the Marne river in 1914 that saved Paris. In 1940 the British escape from Dunkirk was another. China's survival against Japan and Russia's defense of Stalingrad—these, too, were miracles.

To the people of the United States, however, nothing could be more miraculous than the fact that we have won the war against Japan without invading her homeland. Until August 6, 1945, when the atomic bomb fell and shook the ages, there was little reason to believe that costly landings by our infantrymen would not have to be made on Japan proper.

But now General MacArthur has "invaded" Nippon under conditions far different from those we long thought would prevail when our troops arrived there. Instead of having to go ashore under heavy fire and fight for every inch of the ground, as on Iwo Jima and Okinawa, the boys just walked in and took over.

Some Americans have criticized the use of the atomic bomb in subduing the enemy. But because of that bomb thousands of young Americans will return home instead of remaining out there under white crosses.

The task of occupying the Land of the Rising Sun does not promise to be easy or of short duration, however. Japan must be rebuilt—not only physically, but morally. We must stay there until that nation is no longer a threat to world peace. That time will not come when the Japs are relieved of their weapons, but only when the influence of the militarists has been completely removed and the people taught their responsibilities in international relations.

For the sake of humanity we must do the job thoroughly.

The public schools open on Monday. Despite the fact that the day is Admission day, Prof. Keren informs us that the school will organize at that time. The corps of teachers will be: Central school, Prof. Keren, principal; Miss Roberts, vice principal; Mrs. Horr, intermediate; Miss Johnson and Miss Kerlin, primary department. West school, Prof. Evans, principal; Miss Burton, intermediate and Miss Foster, primary. The Katella school will be taught by Miss Glasscock.

The new Fruit Growers bank at Fullerton opened for business on Monday. The principal feature of the day being a string of depositors who kept Mr. Balcom busy securing their deposits. We hear the deposits the first day were $12,000. The bank has a good field, and ought to do a good business from the start.

Mr. Staley has gathered nine tons of prunes from less than three-quarters of an acre of ground in his Placentia ranch. The crop is early this season as compared with last. The first pick last year being on September 2, while this year the crop is already dried. Mr. Staley has noticed quite a number of his walnuts dropping. This also indicating an early season and he finds the nuts to be large and of uniform excellence. He also tells us that he rarely gets his Gazette on time. What's the matter with the post office out there, anyway?

Misses Pauline Nemetz and Edith Bates, two of the bright girls who graduated at the school here last trem, have gone to Los Angeles to enter the normal. Alice Bates, who has attended the normal for a year, returns with them to resume her studies.

Mrs. Ledger is down from Los Angeles on a visit to relatives here and was one of a party in which were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bailey and Miss Zelma Bailey that took in the circus yesterday at Santa Ana.

Sam Federman and family have been in town during the week, the old man running the store while Charlie is in San Francisco blowing himself to a new fall stock of goods. Sarah used to be our girl, but since living in Los Angeles a few months has grown so much that she has given us the shake.

Miss Adele Mosseman, who has been at home from the normal for some time past, has returned to Los Angeles to resume her studies for the fall term. Miss Addie Wallop, her classmate, returns to Los Angeles as soon as she recovers from a slight indisposition.

W. R. Harker thinks the following is good enough to appear in this column: "There is a paper published at Hot Springs, Ark., named the "Arkansaw Thomas Cat." Its motto is "God help the rich, the poor can beg." It declares that it is a paper of the people, to be paid for by the people. It advocates, "One country, one flag and one wife at a time, and declares it is in favor of the elevation of horse thieves and public morals.

Judge Brousseau was down from Los Angeles on Tuesday in attendance upon the session of the irrigation board. The judge will be in the superior court today to make an effort to finally disorganize the district.

Misses Nellie, Jessie and Hortense Wilde of Los Angeles have been visiting in town the past week and are the guests of Miss Cora Lewis.

Mrs. Hack entertained the ladies of the Santa Ana W. R. C. at tea on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Hartung and son, Edgar, returned the latter part of the week from their sojourn at the Landing.

Mrs. Cahen and family have returned from their several weeks' outing at the Landing.

ENTERTAIN VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kratz of the Angelina Hotel, this city, have recently entertained Major "Bud" Kresin of Dearborn, Mich., and her brother, Fred Kresin and wife, Hannah, of Detroit. Major Kresin is stationed at Birmingham, Ala., with the replacement bureau of the services, and had been employed with the government several years before entering the armed forces. He went from here to Detroit where he attended the wedding of his brother, Lt. W. W. Kresin, and Miss Avis Lennon. Lt. Kresin is a graduate of Henry Ford Greenfield Village school and has recently returned from Guam where he saw active duty. The latter's bride is prominently identified with one of the major radio stations in Detroit.

On Tuesday, Oct. 5, the voters of Anaheim will determine by their ballots whether or not this city is to have a park. Not only will they decide that, but they will settle the much disputed question of where that park is to be located. At previous elections held on this question the determination of a site in advance has always been the rock ahead on which the hopes of the parkites were wrecked. While a majority of those participating in the elections have always favored the library site the opposition was strong enough to defeat the bonds under the two-to-one vote law. This time the voter will have an opportunity to cast a ballot for his preference in the matter of location, and if a majority of the people agree with him he can have his own way. Now there appears to be a disposition on part of all sides to let the people settle the question by their votes and abide by the decision. One of the leaders of the Chamber of Commerce said, that while he personally favored the library grounds as the logical place for a park he would much rather surrender his idea and help build a park where the other man wants it than to have no park at all.

Mrs. C. J. Mauerhan and Mrs. Frank Mauerhan engineered a surprise party for Mrs. J. C. Mauerhan Friday evening. The occasion being Mrs. Mauerhan's birthday. A very pleasant evening was spent with music and games, refreshments being served late in the evening.

Ed Bustamente was in Anaheim the past week engaged in painting a house for Alec Morales. Ed has purchased a house on East 36th street in the Angelic city and is doing well in the decorating business.

Will Kohlenberger came home from San Francisco the latter part of the week and will take a vacation before tackling the sea again. Kohlenberger accompanied the congressional junketing party across the Pacific, that is, he was a member of the crew of the Great Northern, and experienced some dirty weather on the voyage.

County Treasurer J. C. Joplin received word a day or two ago that a lion was rampaging through his part of the county, consequently the guardian of the county's money turned the office over to his assistant's shoulders, grabbed a gun and went after the animal. Joplin is an old and mighty hunter, and if the lion had advance information of his coming it would prbably hike for safer pastures, or follow the example of Davy Crockett's cow.

Harry D. Riley and Malcolm Fraser, president and secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, attended the meeting of the Southern California Commercial Secretaries held at Santa Ana Saturday.

The city has secured $1900 in part payment for its orange crop on the west side 20-acre property from the Anaheim Fruit association with more to follow, which will total about $4000.

Senator Tom Sterling of South Dakota is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hartranft of Fullerton. The senator is a cousin of Mrs. Hartranft's. He has just returned from a trip to the Orient and the Philippines where he went on a tour of investigation in company with several other statesmen to learn of conditions there.

Mrs. F. A. Yungbluth and her two children and Mrs. Strodthoff have returned from a month's outing at Balboa.

Judge J. S. Howard and family have had as visitors during the week F. S. Elliott and wife of Yuma.

Dr. F. H. Houck and family are at home again after enjoying a three months' auto trip throughout the north.

W. J. Elliott has returned from a business visit to his old home in South Dakota.

Housewives Save 11,119 Pounds of Fats in July

Anaheim's war record has been enviable in almost everyway and today City Clerk Charles Griffith disclosed that during the month of July the city's housewives turned in 17,119 pounds of salvage fats so that the city has reached 102 per cent of its quota.

An average of 11 tons of paper has been salvaged each month within the city, he further stated.

Naval Air Station Swimmers to Be At Water Carnival

The city recreational department will stage its last big event of the summer season tomorrow night, Friday, at 8 o'clock when a water carnival will be held at the city plunge.

Paul Jungkeit, director, disclosed plans for the event today and announced that bleachers are being erected to accommodate the anticipated crowd.

The last half hour of the program will be presented by the athletic office of the Naval Air Station at Los Alamitos and the grand finale will be a demonstration of naval aviation techniques, rafts, other equipment and an exhibition swim through burning oil.

W. S. Patterson, S1c, and R. Hough, BM1c, of the air base will be presented in exhibition dives. Last week they took part in the Southern California Amateur Athletic meet held at the Olympic stadium pool.

Others who will appear on the program from the air station are A. Fish, S1c; A. R. Straub, S1c; E. J. Battistessa, Sp(A)1c; J. R. Dorsey, Sp.(A)2c, and E. J. Miller, S1c.

The first half of the program will include an exhibition of the youngsters who have learned to swim this year in the city's recreational swimming classes. Advanced swimmers will hold novelty swimming races and exhibition diving and life-guards will give a life-saving demonstration.

National Freedom Endangered By Various Isms, Said

With the defeat of the nation's foreign enemies, the country is now facing a second deadly menace, Randolph Van Nostrand of the Merchants and Manufacturers association pointed out to members of the Rotary club Monday noon. He asserted that hundreds of immigrants are pouring into the country and bringing with them ideas of collectivism, planned economy and the total state which is a decided risk to the nation's present freedom.

President Henry Walsworth presided over the luncheon meeting held at the Elks club. Members honored the birthday of Oscar Renner and the wedding anniversary of E. C. Kendrick.

Guinea Pig in the Kitchen

Every so often, while snooping around the Sunkist Building to pick up material for these columns, your reporter gets stopped in the 5th floor corridor by a lady in an apron.

"Come in and be a guinea pig," she says.

Taking your reporter by the arm, she leads him into the Sunkist kitchen, a bright, shining, spotless place decorated in ivory and green—quite a shock after the sober tones and businesslike atmosphere of the rest of the building.

"Sit down," says the lady in the apron, and brings a serving of lemon pie, orange cake, orange salad or lemon sherbet. "Try this," she commands.

Often it's not just one cake or sherbet, but three or four that you are ordered to sample: You take a mouthful of this, then a mouthful of that, and compare them, while members of the Sunkist Home Economics staff await your verdict.

If something doesn't taste so good, they make you say so! That's the whole point. The job of the Sunkist kitchen is to create new practical recipes using California citrus fruits, and to work out fresh, interesting variations on the old ones. That takes a lot of experimenting.

Only after a recipe has been tried out successfully again and again is it finally approved. But to a citrus grower, the important part is what happens next:—

News of the new recipe, with complete description — illustrated, often, with drawings or appetizing photographs — goes out to 2700 food writers all over the United States. This list includes every noted home economics editor in the country. It includes 300 radio home economists. These 2700 women have a following that runs into many, many millions.

A large number of these home economists know Miss Essie L. Elliott, head of the Home Economics Division, personally. Through many years of friendly contact, Miss Elliott has established the prestige of Sunkist so thoroughly that the entire home economics field looks to Sunkist for guidance and information on anything that has to do with citrus fruit. So, when Sunkist brings out a new lemon pie or orange salad, it is enthusiastically promoted throughout the nation.

When the sugar shortage came along, the Home Economics Division immediately sent out recipes requiring little or no sugar, and, in no time at all, had the food writers of America going to bat for Sunkist growers—showing America's housewives how they could keep on serving citrus dishes, and make the natural sugar in oranges offset the lack of other sweets. This summer Miss Elliott and her staff have had the editors going to bat again—on small oranges.

And, because Sunkist material is so well liked, all this immense amount of promotion is obtained free of charge.

★ ★ ★

The Home Economics Division of the Exchange has other important jobs. It gets out the famous Sunkist Recipe Books, 4,000,000 of which have been sent to housewives at their written request! Its big work in the field of education will be taken up in a later column. But it seems to this reporter that no citrus grower should overlook this kitchen business! By keeping citrus dishes constantly before the minds of America's housewives, stimulating interest with new, delectable combinations, the Home Economics Division plays a very steady and worth-while part in maintaining and increasing citrus consumption.

It's another of those things that couldn't be done by a small group of growers, but can be done through the Exchange, in which 14,500 growers work together.

Next report: In this paper two weeks from today.

Post-Nuptial Shower Honors Raymond Booths

Seaman First Class Raymond Booth and his bride, the former Donna Robey, who were married Aug. 13 in Arizona, were honored at a post-nuptial shower last Saturday evening when the young people of the Foursquare Gospel church entertained at the home of Rev. and Mrs. James Harrison on West Broadway, the hostess group comprising the Mesdames Lois Harrison, Claude Keele, Gil Valentine and William Schafer.

The spacious rooms were decorated with white garden bouquets while the bridal table was centered with a wishing well of white [illegible] and it was from this that the couple found clues that led finally to a large cedar chest that was filled with attractively wrapped gifts from their friends. The chest was a gift from the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robey and included a beautiful tablecloth and eight napkins.

Among other gifts was a lovely hand-made quilt that was made by the bridegroom's great-great grandmother, Mrs. Scott of Kansas and his grandmother, Mrs. A. H. Booth of Anaheim. Another treasured gift was given by three of the seaman's buddies, who, with hib, were on duty aboard the Johnson. This was a salad crystal set in the candlewick pattern.

The evening was devoted to numerous games that had a matrimonial theme and at the conclusion of play prizes were awarded to the bride, Mary Louise Perkins and Carl Redlich.

At the refreshment hour dainty ice cream cakes and pink punch were served. Little wedding bell favors topped each cake and created an unusual effect.

Seaman and Mrs. Booth were married just 20 hours before Japan surrendered to the allies. The young sailor's entire 15 months in the navy has been significant in that many important things happened to him on important dates. He entered the navy on June 6, 1944 which was his father's birthday; was torpedoed on the fifth day out from the states; was assigned to his second ship on Feb. 22, his mother's birthday, and was on his way to Okinawa on March 22, his own birthday and that of his bride.

This week the young couple left for Seattle, Wash., where he will report for further duty with the navy and where they will temporarily establish their new home.

Enjoying the evening besides the bride and bridegroom were the hostesses and Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Booth and daughter, Jerry, Mrs. Robert Robey and daughter, Shirley, A. Moon, grandfather of the bride, Seaman First Class Ed Jewett, Jim Lipky, radioman third class, Apprentice Seaman Bob Schafer, Mr. and Mrs. William Schafer, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Keele and daughter, Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Nelson and daughter, Janice, Mr. and Mrs. William Davidson and family, Billie and Harriet, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Peterson and daughter, Bonnie, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Perkins, Rev. and Mrs. Harrison and sons, David Earl and James Richard.

Mrs. Jean Tingley, Mrs. Carl Redlich, Calvin and Faith Whitmer, Mrs. J. W. Perkins, Jr., Lila and Ruby Maley, Rhoda Wicker, Mary Louise Perkins, Mildred Brattof and Wanda Stevens.

Fidelis Class Adopts Three Chinese Orphans

Last winter, members of the Fidelis class of the White Temple Methodist church contributed money to the China Children's Fund, Inc., toward adopting three orphan Chinese children and last Thursday afternoon at the regular monthly meeting, members received the gratifying word that their contribution had been received with the result that three more children are now receiving needed assistance. The letter, read by Mrs. M. I. Bush, said that only one Chinese orphan out of ten is cared for.

The noon luncheon was held at the White Temple bungalow with Mrs. G. C. Cheatum, Mrs. Florence Craner and Mrs. Naomi Smith performing the hostess duties. Covers were laid at the long stables for 28 members, and lovely bouquets of zinnias were used as the decorative motif.

Mrs. Belle Tedrick led the devotionals and Mrs. Emma Price presided over the business session. The group approved the contribution of ten dollars toward the Francis Smith memorial fund. The late Mrs. Smith passed away several month sago, after having served for many years as missionary to India. She was a former member and teacher of the class.

Tentative plans were made for a bazaar that will be held in December, the definite time and place to be announced at a later date.

Mary Lawrence Wins Grand Sweepstake Prize at Annual City Park Doll Show

Big dolls, little dolls, pretty dolls and funny dolls formed a fascinating collection at the city park last Friday when the annual doll show, sponsored by the city recreational department, was held beneath a vine covered path near the Greek amphitheater. Little girls with pigtails and curls, and even bashful boys who stayed in the background, viewed with admiration the more than 100 dolls that were entered in the contest by their proud and loving owners.

The grand sweepstakes prizes went to 11-year-old Mary Lawrence of 214 North Palm street, who exhibited a small, 100-year-old china doll that was given her by her grandmother, who, in turn, had received it from a very old lady. The five-inch doll was dressed in pastel colors trimmed in lace and in spite of its age is not broken in any way.

Clowns and nigger baby dolls vied for attention with baby dolls, little girl dolls and debutant dolls. Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy dolls were at their nonchalant best while vivid Mexican dolls looked askance at fur-hooded Eskimo dolls.

Sally Ann Rees of 207 North Helena street, displayed her four-foot rag doll that was the largest on exhibition and with it won first prize in its division while Maryanne Hammett, 8 years old, won the pfrize for the smallest dolls with her one-inch Red Cross twins. Marlene Hansard took first prize for the best collection of dolls with a display of 13 that included dolls of all sizes and types.

Award for the best dressed doll went to Mary Czapla of 112 Pearl street and Norma Lee of 401 North Los Angeles street, won the prize for the prettiest doll.

Ribbons were awarded for first, second and third places and in some instances honorable mention was given. The following winners, in order award, were:

Best doll collection, Marlene Hansard, Gloria Rios, Helen Miller, Mira Jane Moody; best animal collection, Gloria Rios; rag dolls, Diane Knutzen, Judith La More, Chuck Allen, Erin O'Keefe; funniest, Ana Mae Witherow, Mary Lawrence, Barbara Mary; best-dressed, Mary Czapla, Mrs. Elsie Knight, Donna Reafsynder and Patricia Harden; biggest doll, Sally Ann Rees, Barbara Harpster; best small dolls, Mrs. Edith Tucker, Maryanne Hammett, Tommy Hamon and Carol Ferguson.

Best foreign dolls, Penny Hineman, Donna Reafsnyder, Janet Ferguson and Charlene Allen; homemade dolls, Mary Jean Bushman, Anamae Witherow, Maryanne and Bill Hammett, Penny Hineman; prettiest doll, Norma Lee, Mrs. Edith Tucker, Carol Walker; oldest dolls, Mary Lawrence, Barbara Jean Loard and Carol Walker.

Friends Extend Farewell Honors To P. H. Pendletons

More than one hundred friends gathered at the Orangethorpe school last Wednesday evening to extend farewell courtesies to Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Pendleton, former principal of the school, who leaves shortly to take over his new duties as principal of the Coachella elementary schools.

Mr. Pendleton has been principal of the Orangethorpe school for the past seven years and during that time has made many friends in this community and has spent many, many hours in his school work.

A very interesting and humorous program, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Vangelia Rainey, included numbers by Dale Covey who presented several exceptionally fine songs, displaying unusual vocal ability; and a most interesting and informative talk by C. B. Hamilton who had several months overseas duty in Saipan and other south Pacific Islands. Unusually fine dance numbers were presented by Paul and Phillip Goodwin and were accompanied at the piano by their mother, Mrs. Ruby Goodwin. Concluding the musical part of the program, Robert Parker played several accordion selections.

A short talk in appreciation of the work done by Mr. Pendleton was given by Wilson Phelps, representative of the school board. Mrs. Rainey concluded the evening's program by presenting an original reading in rhyme, very cleverly depicting the seven years of successful and happy work done by Mr. Pendleton and his wife. Members of the school board, Parent-Teachers association, president and teachers, including Dr. M. M. Henderson, Mrs. L. Parker, Mrs. Alpha Salveson, Miss Doris Lindsay, Mrs. A. Kadlebach and Max Royer, gave short talks.

At the conclusion of the evening, a gift was presented to the honored guest as a token of appreciation from the P.-T.A.

The picnic dinner was sponsored by the P.-T.A. under the direction of the president, Mrs. C. M. Peckham, assisted by Mrs. Olson, Mrs. Hans Jager and Mrs. Harold Lovering.

Patio Breakfast Given Sunday at Liebhart Home

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Liebhart of 542 South Palm street were hosts last Sunday morning at a patio breakfast at their home, the occasion honoring the birthday of Mrs. Liebhart's mother, Mrs. Abbie Winand and also the third wedding anniversary of Mrs. Liebhart's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Winand.

The 11 o'clock breakfast was served on a long table with gayly colored pottery dishes lending an added air of festivity.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Liebhart and their two children, Don and Marcia, Mr. and Mrs. George Winand and daughter, Jerry, Patty Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Fishhouser of San Bernardino and Mrs. Abbie Winand.

Mrs. John Casson Honored With Birthday Parties

Last week, friends gathered on two separate evenings to honor the 81st birthday anniversary of Mrs. John Cassou of the Rose Marie apartments whose birthday was on Aug. 20. On both occasions the honoree was presented with beautifully decorated birthday cakes and attractive gifts that further expressed the love and friendship that her many friends feel for her.

The first occasion was held on Monday evening of last week when Mrs. Jean Plou of Anaheim gathered a small group of close friends for a surprise party. The evening was spent conversationally and in playing cards and afterward the birthday cake, baked and decorated by one of the guests, was served with ice-cream and coffee.

Sharing this occasion with the honored guest were her two daughters, Mrs. Rose Hessel and Mrs. Edward Bimat and her husband and their houseguest, Miss Adele Peyre of Bakersfield, Mr. and Mrs. Jean Plou, Mr. and Mrs. Portier, Sgt. Celestine Laborde of Fort MacArthur and Miss Frances Plou.

On Wednesday evening, Mrs. Hessel and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bimat entertained at a charming dinner party, the occasion also favoring a close friend of the family whose birthday occurs on the same date, Mrs. Madeleine Sarrail of Walnut.

The guests were seated at two tables that were centered with lovely summer blossoms in dainty Chinese figurines. Afterward the guests played bridge with prizes awarded to the winners.

Covers were laid for the two birthday honorees the host group and Miss Aimee Toussau of Fullerton, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. McClintock, Miss Louise McClintock, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. McClintock of Walnut; Mr. and Mrs. Robert McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Sarrail and son, Richard, of Pomona; Mrs. Catherine Sentous and Mrs. Thomas Banks of Puente; Miss Adele Peyre of Bakersfield and Sgt. Celestine Laborde of Fort MacArthur.

Mrs. Opal Campbell of Portales, New Mexico, is visiting here with her sister, Miss Eunice Ellis of 310½ North Philadelphia street. She is also visiting with her mother and other relatives.

Cooney-Wheeler Rites Solemnized At Home Wedding

CONEY-WHEELER—12 soc .....

The quiet simplicity of a home wedding marked the nuptial rites Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock of Miss Eveleyn Cooney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theron B. Cooney of route 4, box 363-B, Anaheim, and Paul E. Wheeler, USNR, son of Mrs. Ruth Wheeler of 1524 Dressler street, Santa Ana.

The double ring ceremony was performed beneath an archway of greenery by Rev. Frank Howell, pastor of the Church of the Brethren of Santa Ana, and was witnessed by 22 relatives and close friends of the family.

Asters in the soft pastel shades of summertime completed the archway decorations. Sister of the bride, Miss Bonnie Cooney, sang "I Love You Truly" preceding the ceremony and was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Frank Howell who also played Lohengrin's wedding march.

The bride was smartly gowned in a navy blue afternoon dress with which she wore a gardenia corsage and carried a 40-year-old handkerchief that an aunt had carried at her wedding. The bride also wore a strand of pearls and the "something borrowed" was pearl earrings, belonging to a close friend.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Betty Smith of Anaheim who chose a smart, black early fall frock with which she wore a corsage of red rosebuds.

Gunner's Mate 3/c Douglas Everett of Bellflower, attended the bridegroom as best man.

Guests were greeted by the mothers of the bride and bridegroom, Mrs. Cooney and Mrs. Wheeler. The former wore an afternoon frock of aqua-blue and the latter a navy blue ensemble. Both wore shoulder corsages of yellow rosebuds.

Following the ceremony a three-course bridal dinner was served at a long table centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. The bride and bridegroom cut and shared the first piece and afterward its serving was completed by a sister of the bride, Miss Roberta Cooney. Mrs. Ray Cooney of Santa Ana assisted with the hostess duties.

Among those at the wedding and dinner were Mrs. Kate Teeter of Santa Ana, grandmother of the bride.

Later in the evening the bride and bridegroom left for a honeymoon at Big Bear.

The bride graduated last June from the Anaheim union high school and the bridegroom is a graduate of the Santa Ana high school. A motor machinist mate third class, he entered the navy two years ago and has just returned from 17 months' sea duty. At the conclusion of his 30-day leave he will report to Seattle, Wash., for further assignment.

Baptist Church Members Honor Pastor and Wife

Rev. and Mrs. Earl Berg of the Calvary Baptist church were complimented last Sunday on the occasion of their fifth anniversary in this city. The occasion was climaxed with a congregational picnic in the city park following the morning church service, the affair being sponsored by the social committee of the church with Vesta Lowe acting as chairman.

During the morning church service messages of congratulation were extended the pastor by C. M. Hazzard, Sunday school superintendent, Mrs. Ruby Clasby, president of the Women's Union, Mrs. M. D. Kinningbeck, president of the Young People's association; Frank O. Stanway, chairman of the board of deacons, and C. J. Stillson, representing the congregation.

Mrs. August Jungkeit, deaconess, then presented Mr. Berg with a beautiful Golden Dawn blanket on behalf of the congregation.

For his sermon subject, he delivered the same sermon that he gave five years ago at his first service, "On the Threshhold of a Great Adventure".

Olney-Head Rites Quietly Observed

A quiet home wedding marked the rites last Sunday when Mrs. Emily Olney of this city became the bride of George W. Head of Culver City, the double ring ceremony being read by Rev. Hayden S. Sears, pastor of White Temple Methodist church, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Nipper, also of this city, before immediate relatives and tight friends.

Large bouqeuts of purple and white asters with mixed bouquets of garden flowers were used throughout the rooms of the home, the ceremony being performed under the archway with aster bouquets at either side.

The bride was dressed in an aqua street dress with dainty white lace trim. Pinned to the shoulder of her frock was a purple-throated orchid. Her daughter, Nancylee, attended her mother and she wore a delicate pink gown with gardenia shoulder corsage.

Attending the groom was R. F. Nipper, a close friend of the couple.

A wedding dinner was served at the Pickwick Grill following the ceremony, twelve guests being present. Centering the table was a large cake which was flanked on either side by yellow tapers.

Guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Head and her daughter, Nancylee Olney, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. D. Olney and two dauhgters, Janet and Geanne, of Huntington Park; D. M. Head of Trona, Mrs. Nan Pinneo and son, William, of Huntington Beach, Miss Jean Tackett and Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Nipper of Anaheim.

Mr. and Mrs. Head and Nancylee will make their home in Culver City where Mr. Head is associated with the city administration. Mrs. Head has been employed with the Long Beach Douglas Aircraft for several years.

Family Luncheon Given Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Backs were hosts last Sunday at a charming family luncheon given at their home, 317 North Philadelphia street.

Covers were laid for Lt. Col. and Mrs. Duncan Powers and daughter, Margaret, of Fullerton; Sen. and Mrs. Thomas Kuchel, Mrs. Henry Kuchel and Miss Winifred Melrose of Anaheim and Mrs. Sue Julian of Long Beach.

Federated Club Board Meeting At Seal Beach

With fall club activities just around the corner and lazy summed days almost a thing of the past, announcements were issued this week concerning the Orange county meeting of the California Federation of Women's clubs that will be held at the Seal Beach Community church on Friday, Sept. 14.

The morning session will convene at 10 a. m. and a "model club meeting" will be conducted by Mrs. A. H. Halleck, county parliamentarian district advisor.

Edith Cloyes of Santa Ana, county literature chairman and district chairman of drama, will present "Corners of Life" prior to the 12:30 o'clock luncheon hour. Mrs. C. H. O'Neal, state chairman of women's recruitment, will be the luncheon speaker.

The afternoon session will convene at 2 o'clock and talented Carol Hockuli, violinist from Anaheim, will present several solos. She will be accompanied by her sister, Dorylene.

"Fall Gardens" will be presented by Mrs. P. E. Hicks, district chairman of gardens and afterward the Seal Beach Juniors will present a skit.

All club women are invited and luncheon reservations must be made by Sept. 10 with Mrs. H. L. Tyler, bin No. 1 or phone 863-53.

Arthur Roquets Return From Beach Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Roquet of North Zeyn street, and daughters, Eloise and Mrs. John Richmond, returned this week from a vacation at Huntington Beach.

Just prior to leaving for their vacation, Mrs. Richmond entertained a group of friends on V-J night in celebration of the victory. The hostess and four of the guests have husbands in the service, so were particularly happy over the end of hostilities.

The dessert bridge party also honored Mrs. George Tokar who, at the conclusion of play, was presented with a baby piggy bank filled with coins.

Besides the hostess and honored guest, those present were Miss Libby Carrol, Mrs. Ken Wines, Mrs. Woody Little and Mrs. James Morris of Anaheim, Miss Dorothy Lypps of Placentia and Miss Bobby Stein of Fullerton.

Last week Mrs. Richmond received a letter from her husband, Lt. (j.g.) John Richmond, that he is serving aboard the USS Alabama that is a part of Halsey's Third Fleet and that he soon expects to be in Japan with the occupation forces.

SOCIETY NEWS

Membership Drive Soon for Legion Auxiliary

The American Legion auxiliary will start a membership drive in the very near future, Louise Helsing, membership chairman, disclosed last week when the auxiliary met in the Legion clubrooms for the first time since new officers were installed. Margaret Boysen was in the presiding chair and announced a partial list of committees for the new term.

Theresa Hasler will be hospital chairman, Louise Helsing, membership chairman; Elvena Cooper, child welfare; Jean Gaddis, legislation, and Harriet Boyd, publicity. Remaining committee appointments will be announced in the near future.

It was announced that an urgent call for clean cotton rags has been received from Norco Naval hospital and anyone having any to donate can do so by leaving them at the Pacific Coffee store with Audrey Starr.

Harriet Boyd reported on the 21st district pre-convention that was held in Riverside on July 22, and Nora Dodge reported on the installation rites held at Huntington Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Daigle and daughter, Marilyn, have recently returned from a vacation at the Carlsbad hotel, Carlsbad, Calif.

Sheffners Leave To Establish Home in Nebraska

Mr. and Mrs. Burton C. Sheffner of this city, and their three children, left a week ago to establish their new home near Chadron, Nebraska, where he will be affiliated with the government bureau of reclamation.

The Sheffners were active in the Mariner's club of the First Presbyterian church of which they were members and Mrs. Sheffner was a member of the Theta Sigma Phi sorority. They made their home at 549 South Illinois street.

Toperettes Meet for Red Cross Sewing

Sixteen members of the Toperettes gathered at the Red Cross rooms Tuesday night for sewing and afterward adjourned to the home of Jean Chamberlain on South Indiana street. She was assisted in hostess duties by Alice Lewis and Thelma Woods.

During the social hour birthday gifts were presented to Vangie Schumacher and Thelma Woods. The hostesses served a delicious salad course with coffee.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mary Alice Hutton on North Lemon street and new members will be hostesses.

Gazette Reporter Finds Interesting Facts Behind Scenes at City Park Plunge

Want to go swimming in the city park pool?

Then let's! All we have to do is buy a ticket, pick up a clean white towel, enter an immaculate dressing room or place our clothing in steel lockers, stand under a shower, walk through a footbath that kills any possible foot germs and then dive in the clear blue water.

Some 400 youngsters and adults enjoy the plunge each day and their lailing brown arms and legs keep the water churned to a foamy white as they merrily call, "Watch me dive" or "Show me how." It's a perfect summer day pasttime but there is a lot that necessarily goes on behind the scenes that the public knows listle about.

Curiosity took us to the park plunge manager, John Wallin, and in a few interesting moments we saw the "behind the scenes."

In a large, airy room beside the office is the laundry with its big cylinder washing machine that washes 200 bath towels at a time and the machine is filled twice a day. The towels and rental bathing suits are then placed in a centrifugal dryer and afterward they are hung on the sun-deck where they finish drying in the sunlight.

Next we went down a flight of stairs that took us to the basement and there we were shown many interesting things. The pool water is in a continual process of change each of the 24 hours and when the plunge is full there are 476,000 gallons of water in it. Each day between 12,000 and 16,000 gallons of water are added as well as 15 pounds of chlorine to disinfect the water. When the water level is raised one inch it means adding 4000 gallons of water and usually it is necessary to raise the level to four inches daily.

The old water is drawn off the bottom of the pool and the new water enters near its surface. As the old water is drawn off it goes through a pipe to a lint catcher, then a circulating pump and then into the top of two five by eleven-foot filter tanks. In the top of these tanks are sand and gravel filter beds and as the water seeps through them the dirt is caught in the beds. From there the water goes back through the pipe into the pool and as it enters the chlorine is added.

But most amazing of all, we learned that two to three times a week the bottom of the plunge is vacuum-cleaned in the same manner as carpets in a home. The vacuum-cleaner is larger than the home variety and is operated by water pressure instead of air pressure. Long pipe handles make it possible to reach every corner of the plunge and it takes three to four hours to do a good job. The vacuuming removes any lint from the floor but it isn't too good at picking up bobby-pins.

Want to go swimming? Then let's. Our city has made it possible and all that is asked of us in turn is "don't swipe the towels or gathing suits. They are hard to buy."

ON TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Booth of this city and their son, Seaman First Class Raymond Booth and his bride, left Anaheim Monday, the latter to report to Seattle, Wash., for further duty. His bride is accompanying him and his parents are taking them as far as Hanford where they will stop to visit Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wilson. Mrs. Wilson is a sister of L. H. Booth.

Osceola Campers Hold Union Service Sunday Night

It has become a tradition each Labor day Sunday that the boys and girls of the YMCA and YWCA who attended Camp Oeceola during the summer months to present the union church service on that evening under the sponsorship of the Ministerial union. This year the service will be held at the White Temple Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock and the public is cordially invited to attend. Dick Zimmerman, an old camper, will give the principal inspirational address of the evening.

The young people will have complete charge of the program and afterward a social hour will be held in the church parlors where refreshments will be served.

The program will be as follows:

Pipe organ prelude, Susan Hilbers.

Trumpet assembly call, Ted Bourne.

Call to worship, Norma Jean Tews presenting an original poem by one of the girls in camp.

"I Heard a Forest Praying," Girls' chapel chorus directed by Miss Edith Browne.

"I Would be True" and "Pines of Osceola," sung by camp troop.

Responsive reading used in camp service, Dickie Graham.

Prayers by Freddie Edwards, Gloria Knutzen, Teddy Lou Payne and Harry Moore.

Offertory, piano solo by Glenn Greder.

Trumpet solo, Ted Bourne.

"Ave Maria," solo, Edith Browne.

Reflections from Osceola campers, Gary Oelrich, Frances Shirrer, Jimmy Wright, Violet Marcel, Ruth Eidelson, Dan Demaree and Irene Smith.

Inspirational talk, Dick Zimmerman.

Congregational singing, "Day is Dying in the West."

Benediction by Jerry Patton.

The ushers will be Helen Hilleary, Pat Hayden, Jack Colbush and Don Moore.

War Bonds Admit To Hollywood Park

A prompt post time of two o'clock for week-day racing for the 1945 fall meeting of the Hollywood Turf club, which opens September 5th, was announced by general manager J. F. Mackenzie today. On Saturdays, the post time will be moved up to one o'clock. All gates will be open to the public at 11:00 a.m. on weekdays and 10:00 a.m. on Saturday. There will be no racing on Mondays.

Hollywood Park will continue to aid the Treasury department bond drive by giving free admission to Victory Bond buyers, Mackenzie said. Purchasers of a $25 maturity value Victory Bond will be granted free admission to the grandstand during any day of the thirty-four day meeting. Buyers of a bond over $25 will be entitled to free clubhouse admission.

Remember way back when communities had unoccupied houses?

George Weimar To Head County League of Cities

Much valuable information was imparted last Thursday at the annual conference of the League of Cities held at the Anaheim Elks club for Orange county, and the league staff consultants deemed it one of the most successful conferences of the tour that they have been making to take the place of a state convention. Panel discussions and work sessions filled the daytime hours while election of county officers took place during the evening. State Senator Thomas Kuchel was guest speaker and gave an excellent address on recent state legislation that is beneficial to municipalities and Orange county.

Mayor Charles Pearson of Anaheim was reelected director on the state league board and as such will represent Orange county.

Officers for the Orange county League of Cities elected were Mayor George Weimer of Orange, president; Mayor William Montague of Fullerton, vice president; City Clerk Charles Griffith of Anaheim, secretary treasurer.

State league staff consultants present were Richard Graves, executive secretary; Prof. Malcom Davisson, tax consultant; Ross Miller, public works and planning consultant; W. R. Updegraff, editor of Western City magazine, and Mr. Ele, representing the state department of finance.

They carried on the panel discussions that included such subjects as public works and planning, application for state and federal aid, sewer rentals, municipal revenue and taxation and legislation affecting municipalities.

Special guests for the occasion were Lt. Col. Lloyd Riutcel of Anaheim, recently returned from Germany, and Ernie Elias, USNR, who is home after many months in the Pacific theater of operations.

Approximately 80 delegates and representatives attended the sessions and banquet. During the dinner hour music was provided by the Placentia Spanish orchestra.

Mayor LeRoy Strang of San Clemente, presided over the conference. Attending from Anaheim were members of the city council and planning commission, city department heads and the secretary of the chamber of commerce, E. W. Moeller.

Speaking of reconversion, Senator Kuchel said, "Now is the time to put into operation the long overdue state and local public works program. Thus unemployment will be provided and, to that extent, the hazards of mass unemployment will be lessened."

Two bills were passed in the recent legislature and signed by Gov. Earl Warren that have particular significance to Orange county, the speaker pointed out. One of the bills was introduced by Senator Kuchel and as a result approximately $400,000 will be appropriated to purchase beach frontage between Huntington Beach and Newport Beach for a public park. The bill is unusual in that the county will not have to match funds.

The second bill was introduced by Assemblyman Clyde Watson and approximately $200,000, with matching funds, will establish a state park at Corona Del Mar. Thus $600,000 will be spent in Orange county in the next two years by the state.

Mother of Local Man Dies of Accident Injuries

Mrs. Ethel S. Flockton, 60, of Santa Ana, mother of Harry C. Flockton of Anaheim, succumbed last Friday night at St. Joseph's hospital of injuries sustained early last week in an automobile accident on 101 Highway and Vermont avenue near Anaheim.

The accident involved a car driven by her husband, Walter Flockton, and one operated by Jack Bastin, 29, of the Santa Ana Army Air base. The former received a severe arm injury and Bastin is reported to have received minor cuts and bruises.

The deceased was a native of Leeds, England, and had lived in Santa Ana for the past 21 years. Besides her widower and son, she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. May Rice of Santa Ana, and a sister, Rhoda Lawton of England, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the H. R. Brown chapel in Santa Ana with Dr. John Ashley in charge. Entombment followed in Fairhaven mausoleum.

Oranges, lemons and grapefruit sold through the Sunkist sales office in Dallas, Texas, last year exceeded 800,000 boxes.

County Birth Rate Increases During War Years

Births in Orange county have increased almost 2 to 1 during the war years, while deaths in the county have shown a decrease, it was disclosed in a report filed this week with the city council by Dr. Edward Lee Russell, county health officer, who reported on the county health department's activity since 1941.

In 1941 there were 3,890 births in the county and in 1944 there were 5,422 births, or an increase of 1,532. The two intervening years showed the following increases: 4,439 in 1942 and 5,265 in 1943. During these four years the county population increased from 130,000 to 170,000.

Deaths were listed as follows: 1941—1,572; 1942—1,564; 1943—1,796; and in 1944, 1,836. Listed as the leading cause of death was heart disease with accidental and violent deaths taking second place, cancer third and apoplexy in fourth place.

Mrs. Aage Hansen (formerly Anna Marie McDuell) and infant son, Thomas John, returned to their home on West La Palma street last week from the Fullerton General hospital where he was born on Aug. 12. Mr. and Mrs. Hansen are making their home with her mother, Mrs. Anna McDuell.

Supervisors Set Up County Service Center

The county board of supervisors has established a county veteran's service center and appointed Ben Liebermann of Santa Ana as director. The center will serve as a clearing house for all problems of returning servicemen and will be a flexible agency to coordinate activities of all public and private agencies in the county which are prepared to help with veterans' problems. This will include the county service officer who helps veterans with claims and pensions; the welfare department, city veteran's offices, Red Cross housing agencies and other groups.

Liebermann is a leader in American Legion affairs and coordinator of the county Office of Civilian Defense. He has also been active in organizing the county's emergency disaster program as set up by the state legislature.

As director, he will not displace the county service officer who until recently was D. B. "Lucky" Baldwin, now resigned. His successor is slated to be named next month.

New quarters for the service center will be set up.

IN THE HOUR OF TRIUMPH

Behind us lie 3½ years of deadly struggle in which, with God's help, we have prevailed.

So, today, we celebrate a victory.

After the celebration, what lies ahead?

For most of us, the outlook is a bright one. If we will simply use the brains, the will, the energy, the enterprise . . . the materials and resources . . . with which we won our war, we can't fail to win the peace and to make this the richest, happiest land the world has known.

For most of us, the years ahead are bright with promise. But for others of us—and, ironically enough, their part in bringing victory was a major one—the years to come must bear a different look.

In America today are hundreds of thousands of injured men. Men with neatly pinned-up sleeves and trousers. Blinded men. Men with clever iron hooks instead of hands. Worst of all, men with hurt and darkened minds.

These men need our help. Helping them will cost a great deal of money. We can help them best by buying Victory Bonds.

Far away from America today are millions of Americans. As we would be, they're on fire to get back—to their wives, to the children some of them have never seen, to their jobs.

These men need our help. Helping them will cost a great deal of money. And we can help them best by buying Victory Bonds.

This is our day of triumph. But it's theirs too—the injured men, the men who are still far away.

Let's not forget them, in our just rejoicing. And the one way we can help most to care for our wounded . . . to bring our veterans home . . . to give them a fresh start in the country they fought for . . . to care for the families of those who died before the victory was won . . . is simply this:

Buy all the Bonds you can. Keep all the Bonds you buy.

On September 3rd We Honor LABOR DAY

A SALUTE TO THE KEY COG ....IN THE.... VICTORY MACHINERY

SAY, YOU KNOW JOE—everybody does—he's a machinist or assembly line worker, he's the man who runs a blast furnace, a lathe operator, a tool and die maker . . . sure, you know him and he probably lives near you. Joe's in the army now . . . has been for more than a year! No, he hasn't shouldered a gun and gone on maneuvers, and his uniform is the same old pair of disreputable pants he's always worn. But he's a soldier, nevertheless.

Know what Joe does? It's this: he's the one who puts the guns in the hands of the soldiers off in camp, the guns, planes, tanks, uniforms, tents and equipment, the food and medical supplies . . . that's what Joe does. An army wouldn't be much good without Joe, you can't fight without guns, nor be an army without uniforms, so doesn't that just about make Joe a soldier, too?

For more than a year now while Joe has been a soldier, he's accomplished great things. With the support of the farmers, housewives, capitalists and managers, Joe has gotten the defense machine of democracy into high gear. He has put the American defense effort into the mass production stage and out of the "tooling up" and preparatory phases. So Joe is not only a soldier, but a darn good one to boot. He gets things done . . . he has poured out military power at a rate that outstripped any country in the world. He is defending democracy just as surely as if he did the shooting.

This Labor Day is an historic one, a significant one. The thousands and thousands of Joes in this country can point with pride to real accomplishments. Defense machinery is working at high speed, with Labor supplying the power. And with this achievement, this honor, comes responsibility, too, a type of responsibility that Labor accepts proudly. America can be proud of this, too, and thankful.

AAA AND THE FARMER

USDA ORGANIZED

"There will be no immediate change in county AAA activities despite recent reorganization of the Department of Agriculture," Stephen Griset, chairman of the Orange county AAA committee stated today. Reorganization was effective in Washington August 20, to combine AAA, Commodity Credit Corporation, the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and various other agencies into an overall Production and Marketing Administration. John B. Hutson, Under Secretary, USDA, is appointed to head the new agency. N. E. Dodd, former AAA chief, will head the new administration Field Service Research.

The AAA committee system is retained in the new agency and state and county committees will have broader authority as they will be concerned with food marketing as well as food production programs. This is in addition to the regular agricultural conservation and crop insurance programs, which AAA has been handling. It is expected that most of the special farm priority and rationing services AAA has operated during the war will be discontinued soon. Dairy, beef, and lamb production payments will still be paid through AAA.

"Reorganization of state and county agencies affected by the change will be gradual," Griset stated. "All field programs directly pertaining to farmers will be handled through state and county committees."

October First Deadline Named

The deadline date of October first has been established for California as the end of the period in which prior approval applications for performing fall practices may be made in connection with the 1945 Agricultural Conservation program, according to an announcement today by Stephen Griset, chairman of the Orange county committee.

Griset explained that this unusual requirement occurs because the fiscal year of the agricultural conservation association is being changed from September first to January first, and therefore certain fall practices will require approval, which after this year will be handled at the beginning of the farming season as in the past. The fiscal year of 1945 runs for sixteen months and, therefore, involves the repetition of some practices that require prior approval by the county committee, Griset stated.

All farmers who have signed a farm plan for the 1945 program have been notified of the necessity for filing prior approval applications and intentions, but the October deadline was established only on August 23, and therefore is not generally known, Griset explained; and added that the prior approval applications and intentions are to be filed at the county office in Santa Ana.

The reason for the deadline date is to permit the making of an estimate of probable practice payments for fall practices in California, as required by the budget bureau, Griset said; and explained that the estimated payments for Orange county must be calculated as of October first, and that after this estimate is forwarded to the state office no more applications can be accepted by the county office.

Victory Chest Meeting in Santa Ana Tonight

Tonight, Thursday, an important Victory Chest (renamed War Chest) meeting will be held at the Santa Ana YMCA building and will be attended by representatives from all over the county, including Anaheim. Edward J. Power, chairman of the local Community Chest and Victory Drive, and representatives from each of the participating organizations in the local chest will be present. The meeting will convene at 8:30 p.m.

Plans and organization for the October drive will be outlined.

Mayor Charles Pearson, chairman of the Anaheim Community Chest, is calling a meeting of the local chest this week at which time organization plans will be completed. A report will be heard from the budget committee that is still at work formulating the overall chest budget.

A new secretary-treasurer will be elected to take the place of City Clerk Charles Griffith, who resigned last week.

Anaheim Man Held On Murder Charge

A Mexican national, Julian "V" Nagrete of 1140 Parry street, died at 1:40 a.m. Aug. 24 at the Orange County hospital after receiving several head wounds and an abdominal cutting the night before in a fight with another Mexican, Epifanio A. Martinez of 124 E. West Santa Ana street, who is charged with homicide. Already arraigned, Martinez is being held pending his preliminary hearing in city court that has been set for 10 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 1.

Last Thursday evening the police received a telephone call from Freddie's service station at the corner of Lemon and Los Angeles streets, saying that a Mexican was there who had been in a fight and wanted to see the police. When the police arrived, they found Martinez who allegedly told them that he had been in a fight with Nagrete on Romneya drive near Parry street.

He was taken by the police to the scene of the fight where they found a large crowd gathered around the wounded man. Nagrete was bleeding profusely about the head and had been stabbed in the right side of the abdomen. Taken to the Orange county hospital, he died early the next morning.

Martinez, a truck driver, was booked and locked up.

Industrial Show In Los Angeles

More than 150 southern California industries will show their plans and products for peacetime production when "Industry on Parade", the Second Annual Industrial Exposition, opens at Pan-Pacific Auditorium, Los Angeles, this Saturday, September 1.

Running for nine days including Sunday and Labor Day, the parade of industrial products will be of interest to everyone and will include hundreds of items such as electronic devices, revolutionary household appliances, prefabricated dwellings, trailers, plastic boats and machine tools.

Revenue Office to Go on 40-Hour Week

Harry C. Westover, collector of internal revenue for southern California, today announced that all revenue offices in the ten southern counties have been placed on a 40-hour week, and beginning immediately will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday of each week. Henceforward, all revenue offices will be closed on Saturdays.

Collector Westover also stated that for the first time since the beginning of the war emergency, revenue offices will observe national holidays.

To get sufficient depth of water for large tankers at a port in the Mediterranean war theater (something the Italians seem to have overlooked when they built some of their oil terminals before the war) American oil men strung a floating pipe line off the end of two docks in one seaport.

Eggs coated with a film of highly refined, colorless, paraffin base oil, may be preserved for months at 31 degrees Fahrenheit.

Arraignment in superior court of four men who are charged with having been involved in two recent armed robberies, one of them against Leslie Simpson, proprietor of the South Seas cafe, and the other against the Henry Drive-Inn cafe on Highway 101, was continued over last week until tomorrow, Friday, because two of the defendants still had not retained counsel to defend them.

Lew Cooper, 49, and Ernest L. Mathis, 44, told Superior Court Judge Kenneth E. Morrison that they had been unable to arrange counsel because they were not permitted to use the telephone book in the county jail. They admitted that they had contacted one man who had refused to represent them, but said they wanted to pick one from the telephone book. They are being held on default of $50,000 bail each in the two hold-ups.

Robert L. Davis, 22, former Long Beach police officer, has been represented from the start by Atty. Russell Behrens, of Santa Ana. The fourth defendant, Daniel McCormick, Long Beach real estate man, had Atty. Preston Turner as counsel last week in court when the four men were called up on a charge of the armed robbery of George A. Henry at the Henry Drive-Inn cafe last July 21. He is free on $5,000 bail.

Davis, Cooper and Mathis were arrested Aug. 1 after a gun duel with local police following the hold-up of Leslie Simpson, proprietor of the South Seas cafe, at his home, 1008 E. South street, Anaheim.

McCormick was charged with being involved in the July 26 hold-up.

Tries to Hike Home from Texas

Three-year-old Danny TerBeest, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ben TerBeest of South West and Ball roads, figures that Amarillo, Tex., is all right but hotel rooms don't begin to compare with grandpa and grandma's ranch and that's the reason he is glad to be back here even if it did mean leaving his soldier daddy behind.

Danny came home by train last week but he wanted to come before that and he tried in the only way a 3-year-old can. At least he walked in the right direction.

One evening while his mother was taking a bath he slipped out of the hotel room and started for Anaheim. He headed west and his walk took him over two different railroad tracks before he was tired and hungry. It was the smell of ham and eggs in a little corner cafe and the sight of a little 2-year-old boy inside that finally made him pause. To the kindly cafe manager he said, "I wanta go to grandma's." They took him to the police station instead where his mother was frantically beseeching the aid of the officers.

Mrs. Elwood TerBeest and Danny went to Texas six weeks ago to visit their husband and father who is stationed at the Amarillo Army air field. Now that they are back they will make their home in Midway City with her parents, but first they visited "grandpa and grandma's ranch."

Pickwick Hotel Cafe Burglarized

Some time during the early morning of August 23, the Pickwick hotel cafe was burglarized, the owner, Catherine Diminuco, reported to the police and slightly more than $200 was missing from the till.

Police investigation showed that the burglar had gained an easy entrance by pushing inward a window screen. A score of footprints were found leading from the window to a rear fence.

It is thought the burglary occurred some time between 1 a.m. when the owner closed up and 5:30 a.m. when the chef came to work.

Local Breeder Buys Registered Bull

Another step was taken to raise the standard of his fine herd of Holstein-Friesian cattle recently when Keith Auman of Anaheim purchased a registered bull from the herd of George DeVries of Norwalk.

Change of ownership for this animal, Sutton Oaks Bomber 887314, has been officialy recorded by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America, with headquarters in Brattleboro, Vt.

An announcement has come from the association stating that during 1944, 4,820 registry and transfer certificates were issued to California breeders.

WASHINGTON

As Seen By
CONGRESSMAN JOHN PHILLIPS

Another vacation column.

The time to sell or trade what you have is when somebody else wants it. The lawyers have an expression that the time to get a fee is when the tears are hot. This column still contends that the time to make arrangements about what we are going to get in return for lend-lease; about the Island bases; about airports built in foreign countries at the cost of millions of dollars, and numerous items of this kind, was as each necessity arose. It was the feeling of the then Chief Executive of the United States, and so expressed by him, that we should not make any deals with our friends while the war was going on. One of the results of this policy, which certainly is not a characteristic American policy, is shown by the fact that the U. S. has built 370 airfields all over the world. I do not know the total cost, but I do know that three dozen of these fields costs over $400,000,000. That still leaves 334 to be accounted for. The U. S. retains no rights for the use of these fields after the war and the question now under discussion is who owns the fields and who may use them.

The same argument is growing on the retention of various Island bases, particularly in the Pacific, just as there is, and will continue to be, an argument over reimbursement for lend-lease and other supplies furnished by the U. S. In the early days of the war all questions could have been settled quickly and easily. You have probably seen recently, in the newspapers, that the U. S. has had to pay $4,000 on each Liberty ship that has gone through the Suez canal, plus a toll of 20c for each soldier. Yet, as part of the lend-lease program, we have permitted Great Britain, France, Holland and other countries interested in the Suez canal, to use the Panama canal without paying the usual tolls, but to charge this up against the lend-lease program.

Helicopters of the postwar period will apparently be able to land and take off on a ten-foot square spot. Right now my flying friends tell me that you have to learn to fly a regular plane before learning to fly a helicopter, but just as soon as they put out a model that has nothing on the dash board but a gasoline gauge, an altitude meter, and a few knobs reading up, down, sideways and stay where you are, then you may expect to see your Congressman hovering over any part of the district and filling engagements in Santa Ana for luncheon and El Centro for dinner.

Voters should be warned. Think what the helicopters will mean to the politician of the future. Instead of a carefully planned campaign schedule, the candidate will fly around the district and any time he sees 10 square feet of landing space and a few people gathered together, he will drop down to talk to them. You and your wife may be having a few friends in for what you think is a quiet little garden party, and before you know it some candidate for Supervisor or for Congress will be hovering just over your heads like a humming bird, handing out his cards, while another candidate with a loud speaker attached to his helicopter, will be slowly flying up and down Main street, or Fourth street, or Hobsonway, just above the traffic, reciting his superior qualities. These modern inventions have their disadvantages, as well as their good points.

County's Cost to Retirement System Upped

Orange county's cost of operating the county employee retirement system has taken a big jump, County Auditor Les Eckel discloses, following the first payment under the acturial study that has more than doubled the county's contributions toward retirement.

County and district contributions in the first six months under the pension system were 3.25 per cent of the salaries paid members of the system. Now employer contributions have gone up to 6.97 per cent of pay to members. The county employees are paying approximately 25 per cent more for the system than they did at first.

During June, Eckel said salaries of $96,597.41 were paid and the county contributed $3,139.42 to the system. In July, under the actual figures the county paid $96,737.56 in salaries to members and contributed $6,742.60 to the retirement fund. Employee contribution figures in June amounted to $4,577.03 and in July to $6,007.72, a net increase of about one-third.

The budget this year calls for the various contributing agencies to turn over $80,850 for the retirement system. Of this, $75,000 would come from the county, $3,600 from flood control district, $425 from the harbor district, $1,400 from county library funds, $225 from Orange County Waterworks District No. 2 and $200 from Waterworks District No. 3.

The land under irrigation throughout the world is estimated at about 200,000,000 acres.

Navy Aviators Are Needed for Service

Stating that recruitment of future Navy aviators continues, recruiters for the southern California area today listed qualifications for young men interested in the V-5 program.

This program, Navy officials said, is one of the few that is being kept at the same level as before the termination of the war.

Qualifications:

Age—17 and 18-year-oldsters, provided no induction notice has been received;

Education—high school graduate or will graduate before Oct. 1, this year;

Mental—must pass appropriate tests;

Physical — qualify for flight training, which means 20/20 vision without glasses, 115 pounds weight minimum, 200 pounds maximum, between 5-feet 4-inches and 6-feet 4-inches in height, no dental or organic defects.

Citizenship—a male citizen for at least ten years.

Navy officials said that applicants should secure a certified copy of their birth certificate, a complete transcript of scholastic credits, parents' consent, two letters of recommendation and three photographs, then report to their nearest Navy recruiting station, the recruiting station for this district being located in Santa Ana.

Loyd Wright Named Head Horse Racing Board at Meeting

Commissioner Loyd Wright was elected chairman of the California Horse Racing Board meeting held recently. The board had expected to defer election of a chairman until the vacancy recently created had been filled, but the necessity of having a chairman so that the business of the board could be more efficiently handled, made it imperative that one be elected at this time.

In a study of the racing profession, it was found that the state had received over $8,215,000 as revenue, of which over $6,000,000 was transferred to the use of the Fair and Exposition funds, the balance being placed in the general fund. That is was reasonable to expect with the war over, revenue in the future would be enhanced and that the County Fairs will be able to function for the benefit of all the citizens of the state more efficiently from the funds derived from racing.

The board also pointed out that the breeding of thoroughbred horses is increasing in the state of California and is growing by leaps and bounds and presently constitutes a very substantial industry. Funds from this sport are also used toward the state universities and schools.

The board intends to strictly enforce all rules governing racing and betting and to therefore eliminate the "leeches" and few unethical persons who make it a business to conduct an unfair betting machine.

A NEW NATIONAL HOLIDAY

It may be a surprise to a lot of people, but this holiday-loving nation doesn't have a single national holiday! Christmas, New Year, Armistice Day, Fourth of July, Washington's and Lincoln's birthdays and all the rest are really legal holidays only in states which have made them so by legislative enactment. Congress declares holidays only for the District of Columbia.

All the more reason, it would seem, for establishing a real national holiday, by whatever legal means are required, for celebrating the end of World War II with victory over Japan. It might be August 14, when Japan announced she was quitting, or the actual day of the peace signing—our official V-J Day. Whatever the day decided upon, Californians would be its most enthusiastic celebrants forevermore—for this state was in the forefront of the Pacific struggle from its catastrophic start to its victorious finish.

USS Missouri to be Scene of Historic Jap Surrender

The United States Navy's mighty 45,000-ton battleship, the USS MISSOURI, will end her World War II career in a blaze of glory, Aug. 31, 1945, in Tokyo Bay, when she serves as the scene of the historic unconditional surrender of Japan to the United Nations. Proudly bearing the name of the home state of President Harry S. Truman, the fighting USS MISSOURI has been named by General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, Supreme Allied Commander, as the locale of the formal ending of the war in the Pacific. Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Commander-in-Chief of the United States Pacific Fleet and Pacific Ocean areas, will sign for the United States, General of the Army MacArthur, for the Allied forces which fought in the Pacific. The USS MISSOURI was launched Jan. 29, 1944. Construction was ordered June 12, 1940. Her keel was laid on Jan. 6, 1941, at the New York Navy Yard.

Local Boy Was There When USS Iowa Blasted Tokio Environs

The majestic U. S. S. Iowa, 45-000-ton battleship of the United States navy's third fleet, crowned her wartime record shortly before the end of the Pacific fighting by taking part in a daring midnight bombardment of industrial targets, just 70 miles from Tokyo.

Last Rites Held Today for Yorba Linda Woman

Funeral services were held this afternoon (Thursday) at Hilgenfeld chapel for Effie Alice Moore, 61, who passed away unexpectedly early this week at the family ranch home, Route 1, Box 153, Yorba Linda. Interment followed at Fairhaven cemetery.

The deceased was a native of Oklahoma Indian territory but a resident of California for 37 years. She had made her home in Yorba Linda for the past 14 years.

She is survived by her husband, Alexander S. Moore; four sons, Frederick G. of Sierra Madre, Earl A. of Pasadena, Herschel N. with the armed forces and Elwood F. Moore of the family home, and four daughters, Mrs. Eugene Warnick of Azusa, Mrs. Wilbern D. Shipley and Mrs. Leslie E. Chism of Los Angeles and Mrs. Wesley C. Liesch of Buena Park; one brother, Frank Lamb of Escondido, and nine grandchildren.

Veterans Entering Business Asked to Get Applications

Many veterans going into business, some men who have never been an employer of labor, are reminded that any new employer should file an application with the Social Security Board for an identification number for his business. This is necessary even though only one person is on the payroll, and perhaps works only part time.

Each employer is asked to keep a record of the worker's social security account number for use when it comes time to make out the tax return on social security to the collector of internal revenue.

New employers may secure identification numbers by calling at the Long Beach office, located at 423 Jergins Trust building, or by writing and asking for application forms SS-4.

VFW Proposes Plan Of Compensation For War Veterans

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States will call upon Congress to approve their proposal that returning servicemen receive adjusted compensation of $3 a day for home service and $4 a day for overseas service.

Details of a two-fold plan, sponsored by the VFW, which Congress will be called upon for an early decision, provide:

1. The VFW program to open the industrial job market to veterans by placing them on an equal footing with war workers, through granting of job seniority for the period of service in the armed forces that would be applicable in helping to obtain employment.

2. The VFW plan to provide a post-discharge stake for the veteran, commensurate with the wartime financial advantage accrued by the war worker, consisting of adjusted service pay based on length and type of service.

Adjusted compensation would tide the veteran over any immediate emergency. Under the VFW plan, the returning serviceman would receive credit of $3 a day for home service and $4 a day for overseas service, with a maximum of $3,500 for home service and $4,500 for overseas service, exclusive of $500 extra credit for those wounded.

Poultrymen to Hear Talk By Economist

George Alcorn, specialist in Agricultural Economics, University of California, will speak on the poultry outlook at a meeting called for 7:45 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 4, at the Farm Bureau hall, 353 S. Main street, Orange.

With the cessation of hostilities and the tremendous build-up in the poultry industry due to heavy demands for poultry meat and eggs, new problems now confront the industry. It will take the best thinking of the industry and united effort of the poultrymen to avert economic disaster.

All poultrymen and their friends are cordially invited to hear Mr. Alcorn, says William Heiss, chairman of the poultry department of the Farm Bureau.

Local Sergeant In Fierce Negros Island Campaign

In five days of fierce fighting on Negros Island in the Philippines, T/Sgt. Ben Rubio, Route 1, Box 326, Anaheim, knocked out numerous Japanese pillboxes and gun positions as a platoon leader in the 185th Infantry regiment. In addition he helped to either blast or bypass about 40 Japanese pillboxes, silence a half-dozen enemy 20 millimeter and .50 caliber machine guns and capture a commanding ridge around Mt. Mandalagan.

The Japanese stopped cold the first drive of Sgt. Rubio's company with machine guns, rifles and mortars and later frustrated a withdrawal with an encircling movement. Rubio's company commander called for artillery and mortar support including a smoke screen and the Jap attack was broken up by nightfall. Supported by artillery, Sgt. Rubio and the infantrymen in close fighting advanced 500 yards the first three days and 900 yards the succeding two days to reach the top of the ridge. He and his company then held the ridge in sniping warfare although in the ensuing 57 days of the Negros campaign the Japs fought tenaciously.

WITH SEABEES

Lt. Charles V. Schutz, dentist, USNR, has recently been attached to the 130th naval construction battalion and is now stationed at a forward base in the Pacific. Leaving the states last spring he has been stationed at a base hospital in the Pacific area. His wife, Dorthea, resides at 602 Zeyn street.

Filling Federal Government Jobs

The United States civil service commission has put into operation a comprehensive program designed to provide returning war veterans and displaced federal workers with the maximum possible opportunity for employment in the federal service. The program is adapted to the prospect of a contracting government service in which the number of job opportunities is sure to be sharply reduced now that hostilities have ceased. Returning war veterans and federal employees whose war jobs are ending are clearly entitled to priority in consideration for filling such positions as will still need to be filled.

Applications for entry on the commission's lists will now be accepted from disabled veterans of World War I and World War II and their wives and widows who may be entitled to 10-point preference and from veterans of World War II, whether disabled or not, who file within one year of discharge or completion of hospitilization. Applications will also be accepted from federal employees being discharged because of reduction of force who are not hired by other government agencies still needing workers, provided the applications are filed within 60 days after being laid off. Except from these two groups of persons, no further applications will be accepted unless the needs of the service later make it absolutely necessary to open examinations for some critical positions to general competition.

Lt. Col. Lloyd Riutcel Home After 34 Months in Africa, Sicily and France

Unexpectedly acting as traffic director for the surrender of thousands of Nazi soldiers of the ont-time elite Afrika Korps and being made mayor of a Sicilian village of 5,000 population were among the varied experiences that Lt. Col. Lloyd Riutcel underwent during his four and a half years in the infantry. Back in Anaheim after 34 months overseas, the colonel is now enjoying a terminal leave prior to discharge from the Army. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Riutcel of 507 North Clementine street and together with his wife and seven-year-old son, Jimmy, is visiting in the family home while awaiting establishment of their own home in Fullerton.

Landing at Casablanca in November of 1942, he was with the famous Third Infantry division and fought through the entire Tunisian campaign as well as in Sicily, Italy, and France.

From his own personal viewpoint, the fighting was toughest in Sicily because of the difficult terrain, the mine fields and the Cassino line. Lt. Col. Riutcel and his driver, Cpl. Gordon Gibson of Los Angeles, drove into the village of Angelo one day and found that they were the only Americans there. A policeman, closely followed by the town's mayor, promptly surrendered the village to him and for the next four days he was mayor of the town while awaiting the arrival of American forces.

While in Africa, he was bringing up ten loads of ammunition from a rear area when he suddenly saw a large German truck coming toward him. Diving into a nearby ditch he trained his guns on the German soldier who stopped and in perfect English asked for gasoline so that he could continue to the nearest war prison camp and surrender. Immediately afterward a solid line of German mobile equipment came down the road bent on surrendering to the American forces and from 9 a. m. until 6 p. m. the colonel directed traffic at the important intersection just outside of Ferryville. He was finally relieved by the arrival of military police. In the next three days 57,000 Afrika Korps troops surrendered.

Lt. Col. Riutcel has just received notice that he has been awarded the Bronze Star medal. He already wears the combat infantry badge and the ETO ribbon with six campaign stars.

In the thick of the fight at all times, he considers himself very fortunate to have come home unscathed, for of the 165 officesr in his regiment that went overseas with him, only five came through without being killed or wounded. During the last year he was executive officer of the signal section of Delta base and was stationed at Marseille in France.

He is a graduate of the Anaheim union high school and the University of Idaho. A reserve officer, he was called to active duty in the summer of 1940. Prior to that time he was employed by the National Cash Register company in Spokane, Wash.

From Kessler Field, Miss., comes word that Pfc. William R. Hazen, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Hazen of Route 3, Box 292, Anaheim, and husband of Mrs. W. R. Hazen of San Fernando has been promoted to the grade of corporal. He is serving at the AAF Training Command station in permanent party status.

Jim and Don Hein, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hein of West Ball road, met for the first time in many months on the day the Japanese surrendered, and were able to celebrate the war's end together. They have been overseas 22 months and during that time had hoped that they would sometime meet.

Fort Riley, Kans.—T/4 Lake A. Dustin, whose home address is 808 Center street, Anaheim, California, left last week for Fort MacArthur, separation center, where he will be honorably discharged from the armed forces under the adjusted service rating system. He has been serving with the Headquarters Detachment School Troops, Cavalry school, Ft. Riley, Kans.

Storekeeper Second Class Clayton Allen of this city is enroute home and expects to receive his honorable discharge from the Navy Seabees next month. Overseas for many months, he was stationed for some time in the Hawaiian Islands and later saw action at Okinawa while serving with his construction battalion.

Yes, rural power lines may be used to provide farm telephone service. It's one of the possibilities being explored by Bell Telephone engineers in their search for ways to further extend and improve rural telephone facilities.

About 80 per cent of all rural families are close enough to existing telephone lines to obtain service as easily as families in built-up areas. Many of the families beyond the lines can best be reached by extending present telephone lines. Others may be served over rural power lines.

Bell Telephone engineers have been experimenting with power line telephone "carrier" for a number of years. They have progressed far enough to show it may be more economical, in some situations, to use power lines for telephone calls than to build new telephone lines.

As soon as conditions permit, the telephone companies will put many plans to work to bring the telephone to the greatest possible number of farm families.

Lt. John McDuell Awarded Citation For Navy Action

Lt. John McDuell, USNR, son of Mrs. Anna McDuell of West La Palma avenue, has been awarded a citation for meritorious service and outstanding duty in the battle of Leyte Gulf off the Philippine Islands last fall and along with the commendation was authorized the right to wear a ribbon denoting his outstanding performance as communications officer.

Lt. McDuell and his wife are now in Portsmouth, Va., following his recent return from the Pacific theator of operations where he served aboard the escort carrier Sangamon which has seen service from North Africa to Okinawa.

The ship is now being repaired at the Norfolk, Va., Navy yard after having been knocked out of action at Okinawa by a Japanese suicide plane, the Navy disclosed this week.

The converted tanker was one of the Navy's first "baby flat tops" and in its final action suffered casualties of 12 dead, 18 missing and 18 wounded. Lt. McDuell was thrown into the ocean following the terrific explosions and was in the water several hours before he was rescued. The action took place off Kerama Retto, near Okinawa, May 4. Twelve Japanese planes came in to attack the carrier and nine were shot down by marine Corsairs, a tenth fled from the Corsairs, the eleventh was shot down by the ship's guns, but the last one got through to crash the center of the flight deck. The enemy pilot dropped his bomb just before crashing the American craft.

The Sangamon burned for five hours and the crew fought fire without communications, sometimes without control of the ship and sometimes without water pressure.

County Man Helps Develop Atomic Bomb

For five months a Santa Ana man, John R. Ramirez, was one of thousands who worked on the development of the atomic bomb. Formerly assistant chief engineer of the Standard Oil Co., he is currently attached to the No. 4 process laboratory of the Army Service forces, Manhattan district, New York City.

He recently received a letter of commendation from Under-Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson that reads in part as follows:

"The atomic bomb which you have helped to develop with high devotion to patriotic duty is the most devastating military weapon that any country has ever been able to turn against its enemy".

Ramirez is a graduate of Santa Ana schools, the University of Southern California and two years of post-graduate work at Stanford university.

Airman Awarded Oak Leaf Cluster For Enemy Action

For bombing missions against enemy airdromes and installations and attacks on enemy naval vessels and shipping, Staff Sgt. Byron E. Peebles of Anaheim has been awarded a second Bronze Oak Leaf cluster to his Air Medal, it was disclosed today following a dispatch from the Far East air forces in the Philippines.

The award was made by General George C. Kenney, commanding the Far East air forces, and was for operational flight missions in the southwest Pacific area.

Sgt. Peebles is the son of Mrs. Cleo Smith of Anaheim.

Lee Dedic, USNR, Aboard USS Iowa

ABOARD THE USS IOWA OFF HONSHU (Delayed).—Lee Robert Dedic, 19, fireman first class, USNR, nephew of Miss Lorea Ryan of 310 North Philadelphia street, fought aboard this 45,000-ton battleship when she and other Third fleet battleships, cruisers and destroyers staged a daring midnight bombardment of industrial targets on this main Japanese island, just 70 miles from Tokyo.

Standing only a few miles offshore, the Iowa hurled more than 200 tons of flaming projectiles at war factories. Just a few days before the same big guns had wrecked the port and industrial city of Muroran on Hokkaido, northernmost of Japan's large islands. The big ship was launched just nine months after Pearl Harbor and has taken part in most of the actions of the island-to-island conquest of Japan-held Pacific territory.

WAR VEHICLES

Some 2,250,000 military vehicles from jeeps to 10-ton cargo trucks have been built in the United States since the start of the automobile industry war program.

Husband of Local Woman Completes 60 Air Missions

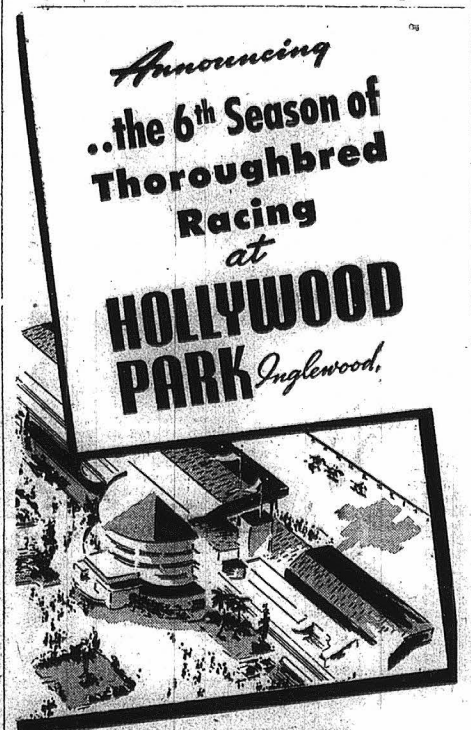

Based at Tinian, Lt. (j.g.) Conrad J. Meyer, husband of the former Eleanore Zenker of Anaheim, has completed 60 missions with a Navy medium bomber squadron in the Pacific and, with his squadron has aided, in the neutralization of Nauru, the Marshalls, Pegan and Rota in the Marianas, Woleai and Yap in the Carolines.

The fighting squadron also furnished an air screen for the Fleet in the attacks and landings on Palau, the Philippines, Iwo Jima and Okinawa as well as cover for the first carrier task force attack on the Jap homeland.

Lt. Meyer calls Minneapolis, Minn., his home and is a graduate of the Miller Vocational school, Minnesota.

NAVY PROMOTION

Dr. Neils Boege, dentist, USN, received word on V-J Day that he was promoted to the rank of commander. His ship recently docked in Long Beach and he was able to spend a few days with his wife, Dorothy, their two daughters, and his parents, Dr. and Mrs. John H. Boege.

BR--R, I'M AS COLD AND CLAMMY AS WHEN FLAMINGO AND I WERE GUARDING THE BODY IN GRAVES CREEK WAITING FOR DON TO RETURN!

DON BROUGHT BACK THE CORONER AND SHERIFF--THEY HELD AN INQUEST AND THE BLONDE'S IN THERE TELLING DON THE STORY--I HAD TO GET SOME AIR!

LET ME SEE--LIKE FRANKIE AND JOHNNY, THEY WERE SWEETHEARTS--BEN DIDN'T DO HER HARM, BUT EVERYONE ELSE!

WANTED TO BE A NAVY FLIER, BUT WAS REJECTED--TURNED DOWN BY ARMY--WENT INTO DEFENSE PLANT AS EXPERT ON FLAME THROWERS--GIRL'S FATHER TURNED HIM DOWN WHEN HE WANTED TO MARRY--HE BECAME A FIEND!

BEN'S BODY WAS REMOVED FROM GRAVES CREEK TO MORGUE--HIS GIRL'S IN THERE TELLING DON THAT HE BECAME A KILLER WHEN HER FATHER WOULDN'T LET THEM MARRY!

REJECTED AS NAVY FLIER AND SUITOR MAKES HIM GO OFF HIS NUT--HE KILLS JOHN MAPLE AND AH TONG!

THEN BUMPS HIMSELF OFF WHEN CORNERED--I'VE GOT TO GO BACK IN THERE OR DON'LL THINK I'M LOST!

WHERE HAVE YOU BEEN?

OUT FOR A STROLL AND SOME AIR--IS THAT BAD, SKIPPER?

I HEARD A RUMOR OF DRUGS!

BEN BECAME AN ADDICT---AND FORCED ME TO BE ONE--TEMPORARILY!

WHY WAS AH TONG KILLED?

AH TONG WAS AN HONEST, LOYAL SERVANT--HE DIED WHEN HE TRIED TO TELL YOU ABOUT US!

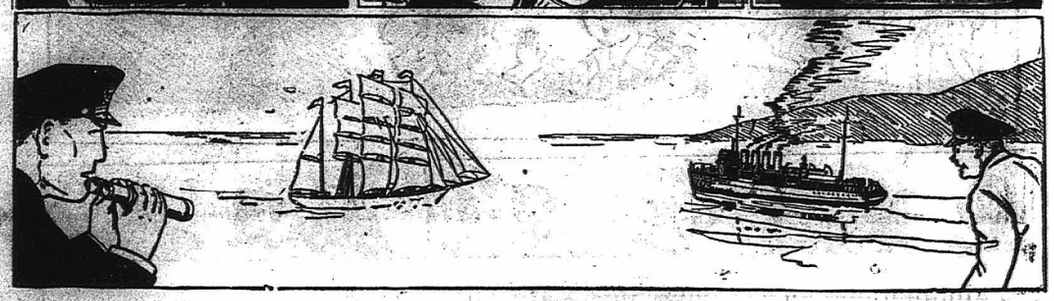

MEANWHILE BACK IN PLEASANTVIEW, BEN DICA SR. SPEAKS--

MOTHER, YOU MUST BE BRAVE--I'VE BAD NEWS!

BEN'S DEAD!

OH-H. MY BOY!

YOU'RE OFFERING ME $100,000 TO FIND YOUR HUSBAND? LADY, THAT'S A LOT OF DINERO!

YOU REALLY THINK VON TIGRON'S NOT GUILTY, DON'T YOU?

I KNOW MY HUSBAND WAS NO NAZI, MR. RACY--IN SPITE OF YOU NEWSPAPERMEN WHO KEEP BRAYING THAT HE HELPED FINANCE THE WHOLE HITLER MOVEMENT!

I'M AN AMERICAN, MR. RACY--BORN CAIRO JONES IN ST. LOUIS! WHEN I WAS NINETEEN I WENT TO PARIS, TO WRITE A NOVEL! THERE I MET SABER VON TIGRON, ALREADY KNOWN AS THE LEADING GERMAN BANKER!

I WAS YOUNG AND NAIVE--AND SABER KNEW EVERYONE OF IMPORTANCE! HE DAZZLED ME! BUT IF HE HADN'T CONVINCED ME THAT HE WAS A NAZI BY REPUTATION ONLY--THAT HE WAS SECRETLY WORKING AGAINST THEM--I'D NEVER HAVE MARRIED HIM!

I LEFT ONLY WHEN HE INSISTED ON IT--FOR MY OWN SAFETY--AFTER THE NORMANDY INVASION!... WON'T YOU BELIEVE I'M TELLING THE TRUTH ...STEVE?

MAYBE I'M A SIMPLE SIMON, BUT--I'LL PLAY ON YOUR TEAM, CAIRO!

Back in Steve's office...

BABYFACE--I HIT THE JACKPOT! SABER VON TIGRON'S WIFE, CAIRO JONES--AND A VERY LOVELY PORTION, SHE IS! SHE SWEARS VON T. WASN'T A NAZI! SO GET THOSE GLAMOROUS GAMS MOVING AND DIG UP A DOSSIER ON HIM!

I DON'T LIKE THIS.... STEVE SOUNDS TORCHY ABOUT THIS NEW BUNDLE!... LET'S SEE... VON KRUGER ...VON SCHROEDER... VON TIGRON, REICHSFINANZIER!

KNOCK-KNEED NYLONS! WAIT TILL STEVE HEARS THIS!
