COLONY QUIPS

Newspaper week has come and gone for better or for worse. A contemporary has the following to say and we have a feeling he is on the right track:

Some bright-eyed boy thought up the idea of having a "Newspaper Week." So a lot of newspapers recently had one. If there is one institution which needs no horn to toot its glory, it's the newspaper.

Every day in every way it is on naked exhibition. If it's good, it speaks for itself. If it's bad, no defense will save it.

The press itself has been victimized the worst by demands for space from high pressure publicity agents for every silly cause from "Eat More Cabbage Week" to "Send Her Hoosis' Candy or You Don't Love Your Mother Week."

What the press needs is not a week but a year. A year in which to examine itself in the privacy of wherever thinking is done, in the hope of achieving humility salted with intelligence.

As obnoxious as the fanatic who desecrates the sanctity of the home by ringing your door bell and pumping religion into you from a portable phonograph, is the newspaper shrieking its virtues to a public which can see for itself. It is as though an artist painted a picture and wrote across the face of it, "This is a wonderful work of art."

Cone Brothers Chevrolet is wearing an air of expectancy these days. We surmise that a new car is right around that corner. Everett "Abe" Cone was called to the city on Tuesday by the Chevrolet Company and it was not to talk about our Hallowe'en Festival. William E. Holler, retiring sales manager of Chevrolet, has some interesting things to say that exemplify the spirit of America. His slant is that the spirit that won the war for us is the same as the one that made our country great. The guiding force behind that spirit is competition and advertising. People may be hungry enough for the products of industry to stand in line for them—but advertising is the force that tells them in whose line to stand. In other words, advertise and get them to stand in your line. Mr. Holler leaves this inspiring message with the Chevrolet organization: "America advances with Advertising and the Spirit of Competition." We in the newspaper business think Mr. Holler is dead right.

Joe Collings and his son are going up to Idyllwild for a few days of rest and relaxation. Pretty soft for those boys. Joe didn't even have to ask Charlie Pearson for permission to go. Selling out seems to be a good deal. For the seller anyway. Now Charlie has to stay home and figure out ways and means to buy some more new trucks. The Anaheim Truck and Transfer still has to haul.

A new face has shown up along our automobile row. W. C. (Bill) Glodfelty is the new Willys-Overland dealer located at 113 So. Palm. Bill says there might be Jeeps in the air to vie with Goblins on Hallowe'en. He was formerly in the automobile business back in Alton, Kansas. For the past few years he has lived in California and wants to stay.

If any of our local hunters are looking for .30 caliber machine gun ammunition, the quickest and cheapest place to find it is a mile and a half out in Lake Superior from Duluth, Minn. These are shiny new surplus shells which are loaded on a shipbuilding company scow towed out one and a half miles and unceremoniously dumped overboard. A Duluth newspaper has come to our hands with this startling bit of information. The article says that approximately 3,000 tons have been dumped in a week. If any of our shell-shy hunters want more explicit directions we will be glad to oblige.

Have just looked at a beautiful set of pictures taken by Bill Morris in London right after the shooting was over. The series starts with a shot of Big Ben lighted up for the first time since the blackout. Then comes a series showing the King entering the city and on his way to Westminster Abbey for the thanksgiving service. By ancient custom the king has to ask and receive permission to enter the city of London. The token of this permission is a large golden mace handed over by the mace-bearer to the king at the boundry marker of the city. Bill's pictures show the whole deal from start to finish and at a ringside seat too. Paul Morris, his dad, might show them to you. Paul is with the Anaheim Cooperative Orange Association.

Jerry Belmont Is Home, Wearing 17 Campaign Stars

After being aboard the first United States naval vessel to enter the Tokyo harbor, and proudly wearing 17 stars on his service ribbons to denote participating in most, if not all, of the major campaigns in the Pacific during World War II, Jerry Belmont arrived home in Anaheim Monday, shortly after his discharge from the navy at San Pedro. After a rest at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Belmont, he will become associated with his father in operation of the Granada packing house.

Jerry served four years and four months as a storekeeper aboard the famed USS Santiago, the "boat with the horseshoe," so designated because she went through the thickest of the entire war without once receiving a hit. Consequently, young Belmont escaped injury, despite the fact that he was where the action was hot-

Fire Fighters Enjoy A Welcome 'Breather'

Chief R. Nyboe and his "smoke eaters" of the Anaheim fire department have their fingers crossed—and for good reason.

After having experienced an unusually busy two days the first of October during which they responsed to five alarms in 48 hours, the fire laddies are experiencing a lull. The fire siren hasn't been sounded but once since.

That isn't particularly outstanding, according to Chief Nyboe. Anaheim citizens are careful of fire. But anything can happen, even in Anaheim, so the members of the fire department keep their fingers crossed and hope that all of their fellow citizens are doing the same, and more.

Victory Chest Faces Failure, Leader Warns

With less than two weeks remaining before close of the drive, Oct. 31, Anaheim faces failure in attaining its' $31,597 goal in the Victory War Chest campaign, Chairman Edward J. Power, warns.

Anaheim was second among the cities of Orange county in percentage of Victory Chest quota raised, according to a report issued Monday by the county war chest committee. Orange county was second among the 12 southern California counties.

Anaheim had raised 61 per cent of its goal when the report was issued, and was but one percentage point behind Costa Mesa and San Juan Capistrano, tied for the lead. Third was Santa Ana-Tustin with 55.

Santa Ana Naval Air Station was the first naval base to report over the top, with $893.69 subscribed.

"We have reached but approximately the two-thirds point," Power pointed out, "and that means that the 'easy' subscriptions are in. If we are to obtain the all-important remaining $10,000, every Anaheim citizen must do his utmost.

"It is not enough that we make our own contribution. Each of us must make it a personal responsibility to see that each of our friends does likewise. If all of us become voluntary workers, even for a little while, the drive can be the success it deserves to be."

Power pointed out that the relaxation that came to all Americans with cessation of hostilities and the letdown from war tensions has caused many to contribute less to this year's combined chest than they gave last year and in other war years to a single agency. He urged that every contributor examine his conscience for the truthful answer to the question, "Did I give all I could afford?"

Leading the list of donors are the Granada Packing company and the Mutual Citrus Products company, each contributing $1000. An anonymous contributor sent in $550, and the employees of the Granada Packing company contributed $270.50 in addition to the firm's donation.

Other recent contributions of larger amounts include:

Bank of America and Cal Tone, $250 each; Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Hoskins, $185; Ernest Ganahl Lumber company, $165; Victor G. Loly, Essex Wire corporation, and Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Hilgenfeld, $150 each; Elks lodge and P. J. Weisel, $125 each; S. Q. R. employees, $111.50; Harmony Park ballroom, Don Franks, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Dwyer, Savings Loan and Building association, H. T. Leo, Troutman and Scholz, Carl Reeske, Fox theater, Aksel Oas, Smith Reafsnyder Furniture company and Mrs. Marie Cassou, $100 each, and employees of the Southern California Telephone company, $98.50.

GET LICENSE TO WED

Walter Leonard Long and Marjorie Marie Blodgett, both of Anaheim, obtained a marriage license at the county courthouse in Santa Ana last weekend.

Why is a bystander like a rotten potato? A bystander is a beholder, a beholder is a spectator, and a spect tater is a rotten tater.

MOVIE STAR SHARES LIMELIGHT WITH GOBLINS HERE HALLOWE'EN

A rousing revival of Anaheim's famed Hallowe'en Festival, virtually dormant during war years, is assured for this year's twenty-second annual observance Wednesday, October 31.

At least one motion picture artist, street decorations, costume revellers, parades with all the fixin's, including bands and a gen-yew-wine circus-style compressed-air-powered steam calliope, prizes, real horses and innocent horse play—all these and more will blend to provide a Hot Time in the Old Town That Day.

Plans for the affair whipped rapidly into shape at a breakfast at the Parker House Tuesday morning, presided over by J. Ben Kaulbars, general chairman, and E. W. Moeller, Chamber of Commerce secretary-manager.

Moeller announced that street decorations combining the Hallowen'en and Victory motifs will go into place the length of Center street October 25. Orange and black bunting will cover street light standards and be festooned overhead.

Movie Star Here!

Kaulbars read a letter which gave assurance that movie star "Wild Bill" Elliott positively will be on hand to lead the grand parade Wednesday night, October 31.

He will be attended by two local aides, one of whom will be William T. Wallop. The name of he other will be announced later.

Festivities will get under way when Anaheim residents are awakened in the wee sma' hours by the throaty blasts of a "steam" calliope provided by M. Eltiste & Co., through August Eltiste, a past president of the chamber of commerce. The calliope will provide its brand of music throughout the day and will be one of the features of the parade.

The customary costume breakfast in city park will begin at 7 a.m., with a ticket at a dollar a head and a Hallowe'en costume being requirement for participation. A program, including outstanding vaudeville entertainment, will continue there until 10 a.m.

Second of three major events of the day will be the usual Kiddies' parade at 2 p.m. Youthful Orange countains will vie for honor, applause and prizes of savings stamps and ribbons.

Route of Parade!

The major event, the Grand Victory parade, will start moving from Atchison west on Center street promptly at 7 p.m. It will proceed west to Ohio, south to Broadway, then east to Atchison, where it will disband.

CITY COUNCIL PAYS FITTING TRIBUTE TO H. E. W. BARNES

"He is not dead—he is just away."

This was the sentiment expressed by members of Anaheim city council Tuesday evening when they joined to pay tribute to their fellow councilman, H. E. W. Barnes, who passed away last Thursday afternoon at his home, 623 North Zeyn street.

Because the feeling of his associates on the city council is so typical of the regard in which

"DOC" BARNES

"Doc" Barnes was held by all who knew him, the Gazette is pleased to print the full statement here:

IN MEMORIAM

The character and worth of a man are most accurately judged by those who knew him best.

It has been the pleasure and privilege of the members of the city council to have known H. E. W. Barnes intimately for many years. It is a comfort and a consolation to be able to say this world is better because he lived.

In every community there are a few individuals who, by common consent, assume a role of leadership. Mr. Barnes was such a person.

As a merchant he was diligent in his business. Through his sincerity and straightforwardness, as well as by his integrity and cordial manner, he deserved and possessed a splendid reputation. He inspired confidence and respect.

As a citizen Mr. Barnes devoted energy, time and money to the progress of his city. His counsel was unvariably sought on matters pertaining to the public welfare.

As a councilman Mr. Barnes was frank, outspoken and fearless. He assumed and performed the duties and responsibilities of

Merchants Warned On Stolen Checks

Be sure of the identity of the person for whom you cash a check—and take a mighty good look at the check!

That is the advice given Anaheim merchants by Chief of Police T. L. Wilder.

The chief's sage warning was occasioned especially by receipt of advice from San Diego that two books of printed firm checks on the Logan Heights branch of the Bank of America, together with a mechanical check protector, recently were stolen at San Diego.

One book contains blank checks imprinted with the name of the Crestview ranch, and the other bears the name of the Lester Parke Truck company.

"The fact that the thieves took a machine with which to perforate the amount of the check indicates they are professionals," Chief Wilder opined.

"They no doubt will be able to prepare the checks in a manner that will fool all but the most careful of their intended victims.

"All who are asked to cash checks for strangers should be on the lookout for checks bearing either of the names mentioned above and, should such check be offered here, should notify the police at once.

"It is entirely possible, of course," continued the chief, "that such checks may be entirely valid, but in light of the report from San Diego, to be sure is the safest policy."

Boy! She Was a Wild, Wild Woman!

The local constabulary was called to the rear of J. C. Penney store at 5:40 last Friday to see what could be done with a wild woman.

And was she wild!

She threatened the police, the citizens; no doubt the army and navy would have been attacked had they been present.

Eventually the boys in blue prevailed, escorted her to the county clink.

There it was found, among other things, that her middle name is "Jewel".

WINS DISCHARGE

Sgt. Clyde A. Martin of this city, recently received his honorable discharge from the air corps at the Santa Ana Army Air Base after three years of duty, the entire time being spent in the United States. His wife, Mrs. Margaret Martin, lives in this city.

It Looks Like a Horse But Thinks as a Man!

Do you want to earn a thousand dollars?

It's easy. All you have to do is train a horse that can excel Serrano, the World's Best Educated Horse," according to Jack Dutton of Fullerton. Jack is booking Serrano for public or private appearances anywhere in California.

This equine prodigy is credited with such mental feats as solving mathematical problems, spelling, guessing ages, locating hidden objects and even reminding a man of the middle name of his wife, just in case the absent-minded husband has forgotten. So sure is Clint Brush, Serrano's owner and trainer, of the ability of his pupil that he has made a standing offer of $1,000 to anyone producing a horse that can out-think Serrano.

How's it done? Not with mirrors, Dutton declares.

It's just a matter of plain horse sense.

Belmont Awards Bonuses, Reveals Plans at "Feed"

It was almost as if a new industry had come to Anaheim when Frank Belment announced at the banquet he gave last Thursday night for employees of his Granada packing house that he intends soon to embark on a long cherished dream of packing oranges in Anaheim throughout the year.

"When I built the packing house here, it was my plan to operate through both seasons under one roof," he said "It was my intention to import navels to supplement the valencia season, thereby assuring my workers steady employment."

The outbreak of the war interfered with that original intention, Mr. Belmont explained, but he hopes to carry out his original idea of year 'round work with the coming of the new season.

"The boss is upsetting a tradition of a half-century in the packing industry," remarked a Granada employee. "It's been the habit to follow the crops, and now he's hit on the idea that the crops can be brought to him just as well."

'Well Done!' in Cash

A swell feed and cash bonuses totaling $3594, all "on the boss," were enjoyed by Belmont employees at their fourth annual banquet held at the Ebell clubhouse. The affair was conceived by the local packing executive as a gesture of appreciation of work well done.

John Knapp, Granada superintendent, likened the human relations angle of the "big family" gathering to the situation which exists in a successful football team.

"We all have our part to play," Knapp explained. "If one of us fumbles or fails to hit the line, things don't move smoothly; but if each plays the position assigned to him the entire team 'clicks.'"

Flowers From Home

The 60-odd special guests unmistakably enjoyed the festivities fully as much as did the upwards of 300 Granada employees in whose honor the event was given. Dahlias and zinnias from the Belmont garden graced the table, bathing in the soft glow of myriad candles.

Toni Garrero's quartet entertained preceeding the serving of a turkey dinner with all the trimmin's. Ross L. Laird, Belmont's secretary, served as master of ceremonies and M. A. Gauer led singing of the national anthem. The Rev. H. G. Schmelzer voiced the invocation.

Bonuses were awarded for length of service, attendance and packing record. In the length of service group, 55 checks of $35 each were given to those who had worked the entire season; seven checks of $28 each were given for work since June; eight of $21 each to those who had worked since July; 12 for work since August and five checks of $5 each went to workers since September. In the attendance group, based upon the number of days worked, 20 awards were given, the first three going to Louise Milbrat and A.

ANAHEIM AND THE COUNTY COMPLETE NAVY DAY PLANS

Observance of Navy Day in Anaheim during the week beginning October 22 will be ushered in next Monday night with a meeting at the American Legion hall, to which the public is invited.

Final plans for the meeting were mapped at the regular meeting last Monday night of the Anaheim post of the Legion. Invitations were issued to the Navy Mothers, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Women's Auxiliary and to the Women's Auxiliary of the Legion to participate.

Mark Stephenson, assistant chief of police who was recently discharged from the navy and who is chairman of the Navy Day observance here, has requested the Navy to provide a speaker, motion pictures and other entertainment in keeping with the nature of the affair.

The Anaheim Kiwanis club will observe Navy Day at its regular meeting next Tuesday.

Lt. J. C. Kennedy of Portsmouth, Eng., who has served 14 years in the British navy, will be the principal speaker. Lieutenant Kennedy is visiting his son-in-law and daughter, Maj. and Mrs. C. A. Schmidt. Following his retirement next December 12, he plans to make his future home in Anaheim.

While there will be no single county-wide observance of Navy Day October 27 in Orange county, local affairs similar to the Anaheim celebration will be held during next week in virtually all of the county's major communities, Sen. Thomas Kuchel, Orange County Navy Day chairman, has announced.

Navy Day, inaugurated in 1922 by the Navy League of the United States, which has continued to sponsor the annual observance in tribute to the United States Navy, was conceived with the purpose of assuring a strong Navy as a prime requisite of our national security.

Masons Mark 75th Anniversary With Birthday Banquet

Approximately 140 members and guests of Anaheim lodge No. 207. Free and Accepted Masons, gathered in the lodge rooms here Wednesday night for the 75th birthday reception and banquet of the local organization.

A delectable dinner, prepared and served by members of the One-Five-One Social club, O. E. S., and replete with everything from the appetizer, through a tender roast of beef to dessert in the form of a temptingly-beautiful three-tiered birthday cake, was enjoyed.

Margaret Vincent, chairman, had the following to assist her: Maude Adams, Vera Baum, Clara Wilson, Daisy Casey, Maude Saenger, Ethel Bruce, Esther Kemper, Mabel Wright, Lil Leigh, Lillian Davis, Blanche Daniels, Sue Moher and Mary Jane Anderson.

The reception was the highlight of a week of activity, with which Anaheim Masons are celebrating the Diamond Anniversary of Anaheim lodge. Attendance doubtless was cut down by inability of Lawrence E. Kelley of Los Angeles, recently elected grand master of California, to attend, because of illness of Mrs. Kelley. Grand Master Kelley was to have been the guest of honor and principal speaker at the affair.

His visit to the Anaheim lodge was not cancelled, but postponed, he advised its officers, and he will come here at an early later date.

Dean W. Hassen, worshipful master of the Anaheim lodge, presided at the meeting Wednesday night, and those seated at the head table included: William Rodger, junior past grand sword bearer, Gus Allen and Henry McMaster, inspectors, respectively, of the 100th and 101st Masonic districts; George Frampton, junior past grand Bible bearer, Artesia; C. A. Lee, junior past grand junior steward, Azusa, and P. H. Krick and C. E. Holcomb, Anaheim's two oldest living past masters.

After Rodger had cut the cake and the last of it had disappeared, the members gathered in the lodge hall for a session of reminiscence, and to discuss affairs of the lodge, past, present and future.

Hasson interested his listeners with an incident out of the past, related to him by Mrs. Emma Grimshaw:

In the early days of Anaheim, the lodge built a frame building on South Los Angeles street on the site later occupied by Judge J. S. Howard's photographic stu-

Nutrition Classes Planned By Local Red Cross Officials

Plans are being formulated by Red Cross representatives to organize nutritional classes here during the fall and winter months and a civic nutritional program is being prepared for publication, according to Mrs. L. N. Wisser, head of the nutritional division locally.

At present Red Cross nutritional field representative, Mrs. Eleanor Bowdoin, is consulting with Mrs. Wisser here.

The first private command performance was given by direction of Queen Victoria at Windsor Castle on Dec. 28, 1848. The play was "The Merchant of Venice" and starred Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kean.

NO 1945 ORANGE SHORTAGE; MANY STILL TO BE SHIPPED

With a backlog of four and a half million boxes of fully matured Valencia oranges awaiting shipment after October 1, as a result of this season's record crop, combined with easing of war restrictions that earlier in the season frequently disrupted shipping schedules because of lack of labor and shortages of ice and suitable freight cars, the nation is assured there will be no repetition of last fall's shortage of California oranges.

Oranges awaiting shipment at the beginning of this month were more than double the 2,000,000 boxes shipped after October 1, 1944.

This reserve supply of fruit assures that there will be no lapse between the close of the Valencia season and the opening of the harvest of Navels of which there also is prospect of a good crop. Orange shipments are expected to continue heavy throughout the remainder of October.

While relaxing of war demands have eased the labor situation somewhat, there still is no surplus of manpower, and a considerably larger volume of Valencias remains to be harvested than in other recent years.

Lemons will be somewhat scarce until November, according to reports. September lemon shipments were above normal and old stocks of that fruit have been depleted.

The 1945 grapefruit harvest is virtually completed. Its volume was about equal that of last year, but forecasts are that the 1945-1946 crop will be heavier.

A light yield of dry beans is predicted for southern California, on basis of early harvest, already under way. Bean shipments will start this week or next.

California's walnut crop promises to be a record-breaker, and quality is above last season's.

YOUTH SYMPHONY IN BIG TIME; RECEIVES WORLDWIDE PUBLICITY

All of Orange county—and Anaheim, especially—has just reason to be proud of the Orange County Youth Symphony orchestra, which makes its home in Anaheim under sponsorship of the Kiwanis club here.

This youthful musical organization of unquestioned merit and ability really has arrived. It has received widespread acclaim—world-wide, in fact.

Written up in the October issue of the magazine, Kiwanis International, which printed not only a lengthy and highly complimentary article, but a paragraph of the orchestra as well, and having been chosen to appear with musical talent of international fame in 1945-46 South Bay concert series at Redondo Beach, the Youth Symphony has inspired other cities to copy its plan of organization and operation.

All of which, of course, reflects credit on Anaheim, for here is the home of the organization.

Major share of credit for the success of the Youth Symphony goes jointly to Miss Norma Perkins, under whose guidance the plan came to life in 1940, and to Eli T. Bradley, chairmain of the orchestra committee of the Anaheim Kiwanis club, who spends

MEMBERSHIPS ARE OPEN IN YOUTH ORCHESTRAS

Memberships in the Orange County Youth Symphony Orchestra and in its juvenile counterparts, the Children's Orchestra and the Junior Symphony, are available to all youthful musicians except trombone and trumpet players, at the present time. These two sections are filled and a lengthy waiting list is on hand.

Children with musical talent should be brought to the attention of Miss Perkins, Mr. Bradley or the Anaheim Kiwanis Club.

Membership in the organization is not restricted to residents of Orange county but depends entirely on talent, ability and regular attendance at weekly rehearsals.

TRUMAN'S FIRST SIX MONTHS

Maybe it seems like six weeks to some persons and like six years to others, but according to the calendar Harry S. Truman, 33rd President of the United States, has completed his first six months in office.

It was last mid-April that he was called out of the "obscurity" of the vice-presidency and handed the most responsible post in the world. Since the "inside facts" on domestic and foreign affairs had not been shared with him by his predecessor he had to begin from scratch, so to speak, and do a good deal of "scratching" to catch up on his new job.

Thus far he has had comparatively smooth driving in spite of complex national and international problems. The nation has solidly backed him. Until recently, at least, he and Congress have enjoyed a political honeymoon. His personal popularity has been enhanced by his simplicity, his average-man appearance and his small town background.

As he moves down the political road toward 1948 when he is expected to be a candidate to succeed himself, he is being increasingly plagued, on the one hand, by the labor element within the party which says he is not New Dealish enough, and on the other, by southerners and other conservatives who feel he favors too many of the radical proposals.

The degree of success that he has in holding these extreme factions together will bear heavily on his political prospects in 1948.

Regardless of what his future political fortunes may be, however, it should be said that Harry Truman has done a good job of handling the world's hardest job during his first six months at it.

WE CAN'T LET DOWN NOW!

The tense dramatic days of the war are behind us. The long weeks stretching into months, then years, of watchful suspense studying war news, playing prophet in an attempt to "figure" our progress in the war, are over.

During those years, we in America took seriously — very seriously — our patriotic duties. We did not question for a moment the necessity of buying War Bonds, saving tins and fats, or contributing to our War Chest. We considered it a privilege to enhance the heroic deeds of our fighting men with our comparatively small contributions toward winning the war.

But what has happened to our serious, though thoughtful, and cooperative approach to our designated tasks? Why have we so soon relaxed in a manner resembling a deflated balloon?

It is understandable that the great joy of the war's end, after so many years of worry and hard work, would tend to make us carefree again. We had worked and fought for an America as we knew it before. We had hoped and prayed for the day when we could return to a world at peace.

But we must not forget the lesson World War II has taught us. We learned, in those four terrible years, the imperativeness of cooperation if we are to have a lasting peace. We know that to be useful citizens in a useful world—to prove to our conscience and to the world that "they have not died in vain"—we must remember our obligations. If this means buying Victory Bonds—and it does—then let's buy more! If it means contributing to our War Chest—and it surely does—then by all means let's cooperate with all the vigor we displayed during the war.

IN THE DAYS OF LONG AGO

50 Years Ago

OCTOBER 24, 1895

The board of city trustees met in regular session Tuesday evening, all members present and Mayor Rust in the chair.

Trustee Helmsen of the finance committee reported that the reports of the various city officers had not been examined, the day preceding their submission having been a holiday (Labor Day) and the reports having been incomplete, the committee was granted further time. Another carload of oil had been ordered at a cost of $107, or about 80 cents a barrel, the consumption of the electric light and water works being a car a month.

Clerk Nebelung reported that he had insured the city hall in the Firemans Fund at fifty cents on the $100 for three years or $15 for the building at a valuation of $3000. Engineer Des Granges reported having put in new lights at Dickel's, Merritt's, and Derge's and renewed lights for Brown and Higgins, and had also put in an arc light at the corner of Los Angeles and Chartres. Application of N. Hart to put in an asphaltum crossing from the corner of Slough's blacksmith shop across Center. Granted.

Trustee Conrad reported that a gang of six or eight tramps were in the habit of making night hideous in his neighborhood and asked that steps be taken to abate the nuisance. It was suggested that they be offered work on the streets at $1 per day, according to the city ordinance in such cases made and provided, and failing to do so, given three hours to leave town.

Col. Keith is having the Dreyfus building on Center street repainted and renovated and will occupy the same with a real estate and loan agency.

Our old friend Gabe Plato who used to run one of the most flourishing general merchandise stores in Anaheim, but who for a number of years past has been a resident of Modesto, write us an interesting letter in renewing his subscription to the Gazette. Plato's picture was recently published in the San Francisco Examiner as one of the leading citizens of the Modesto country.

Mrs. Luanna Sparks, wife of G. W. Sparks, died at her home in West Anaheim Thursday in her sixty-sixth year. She was a native of Alabama and had lived here about three years. She leaves a husband and five sons and two daughters. Interment was in Anaheim cemetery on Friday.

Jim Rimpau returned a day or two ago from Yuma where he has been stationed for some weeks past as station agent for the Southern Pacific. Jim has been acting as substitute in several different places when the regular agents have gone on vacation, and will probably one of these days have a station of his own, and may in time be general manager of the works. Quien sabe?

Prof. Frantz has put in an organ at his barber shop, and enlivens things of evenings with selections of music. Prof. Williams being the organist and Duke Paschall accompanist on the guitar.

Wm. H. Bailey, Major Klokke, Fred Hartung and Dr. Woerms of Los Angeles and A. E. Nutt of San Diego were in town Saturday in attendance upon the water stockholders meeting.

Miss Irene Fleming spent a week with Miss Cora Champlin at the home of the latter in Philadelphia some weeks ago.

Rudolph Fassek has renounced his allegiance to the emperor of Austria and become a citizen of the United States.

Company G will hold a court-martial on the evening of the 31st when Major Halpin will be present to inquire into the delinquencies of two members of the company.

Father Caballeria went on Monday to Santa Barbara to be present at the obsequies of Father Villa who for thirty-eight years has been pastor of the Parochial church at that point and who died on Sunday last.

The weather during some days past has threatened rain but yesterday it was clear.

Miss Anna Shaw will lecture on "The New Man" at Santa Ana next Monday.

The National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers reports total shipments of all types of hosiery during April, 1945, amounting to 11,269,463 dozen pairs as compared with 11,736,968 dozen pairs shipped during April, 1944. This is a decrease of 4.0 per cent.

A big celebration is promised on Nov. 11th. This is our first Armistice day celebration, and it is going to be the biggest thing of its kind ever seen in Anaheim. Every house in Anaheim, it is expected, will be decorated with the national colors. Merchants and owners of buildings in the business district have been requested to lay in a supply of bunting and flags for the day and an appeal is made to the patriotic people to show their colors by decorating their homes. If the plans and the request of the American Legion post are heeded not a house in town will remain undecorated on that memorable day. A monster parade is planned and merchants generally have agreed to furnish floats. As this is the only city in the northern end of the county holding a celebration, the Legion boys of Fullerton and Brea will join the local post. Speakers will be present, they will be soldier boys, of course, who participated in the great war that ended on that day two years ago. The carnival will be in full swing. The Venice Amusement company will bring over some of the greatest attractions on the road. The Anaheim Elks band has been engaged to furnish the principal part of the music. The carnival is given under the auspices of the Legion boys.

Wednesday morning at St. Boniface church, Miss Angeline Kraemer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kraemer, became the bride of Edward P. Backs of this city, Rev. Father Brown officiating. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Geraldine Kraemer, and Edwin Miller was the groom's best man. The bride wore a beautiful costume of brown Panne velvet with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley, Cecil Brunner roses and orchids. Her sister wore copenhagen blue velvet, with hat to match the suit, and carried a bouquet of maiden hair fern and coral rosebuds. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Kraemer home, after which Mr. and Mrs. Backs left by auto for San Francisco, intending to spend some time at Santa Barbara, Del Monte and other points along the way. They will live at Placentia.

Mrs. Minnie C. Renner, one of the best known and most highly esteemed residents of Anaheim, died at her home on South Los Angeles street Sunday after an illness of only a few hours. She leaves a husband, O. Renner, and three sons, Oscar Renner of the S. Q. R. store, William E. Renner of the Lakeman-Renner store and Albert Renner. She was 75 years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Bradley of Riverside were visiting John Brunworth and family the first of the week. Henry Kroeger, Mrs. Bradley's father, accompanied them home.

Judge J. S. Howard, president of the Republican club, has called a meeting of the club at the chamber of commerce room tonight, the purpose of the meeting is to arrange for election day, to appoint workers and secure autos in which to bring out the tardy voters. There should be a large attendance.

The joint conference on harbor development will again meet in this city on Friday, Nov. 5. The meeting will be held at the Methodist White Temple, the visitors being entertained by the Ladies' and the chamber of commerce. Two hundred and fifty out of town guests are expected.

A vote for Harding and Coolidge, for Shortridge and Swing is a vote for America first, for the preservation of our constitution, for a sane, safe and economical government and for a tariff law affording protection to the work of your hands and brain.

John and Arch Hawkins of Fullerton and Ted Kuchel played with U. S. C. freshmen against San Diego at Bovard field Saturday afternoon. The San Diego boys were taken into camp by a score of 48 to 0. The boys leave today for Stanford to grapple with the freshmen eleven at that point on Saturday.

Mrs. Gerald E. Ward, Mrs. Edward Ward and Charles B. Ward drove over from Fontana on Sunday for a brief visit with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heying were in the city Monday on business.

Mrs. Helmsen spent the past week in Riverside the guest of Miss Minnie Doty.

Saturday night is Hallowe'en. One of the entertainments arranged for the evening is a dance at Pressel's hall.

Love Still Is Blind, Court Record Show

A man and his ladye fayre were arrested here Sunday.

Strange as it may seem, the man, when examined by the local doc, was cold sober, even though his car was seen roaming all over the road.

"Guess love still is blind," muttered the Law as he drove back to headquarters.

A 15 year old boy was arrested Sunday night on top of a local drug store.

He just wanted to see if he could get up there for Hallowe'en night, the lad explained.

No doubt the great William Jennings Bryan, one of America's most ardent liquor foes, turned over in his grave Sunday night.

Why? A man named William Jennings Bryan Huson was booked by Anaheim police for intoxication.

Chris Carlson of Orange picked up his army discharge and his naturalization papers from local police Sunday. They had been stolen from him three months ago.

"Ay tank you," beamed Chris as he allowed as how he wouldn't have them stolen again.

A woman reported the loss of her pocketbook. It was found under some bushes in the park.

She couldn't recall having been there—or any where else, for that matter—due to too much vino.

Stranger Grilled When Quick Death Takes Canine Pet

Memories of tales she had heard of voodooism and mystic spells came to the mind of an excited woman resident of South Resh street on a recent afternoon when an exciting chain of events began with a knock at her door.

Answering the knock, she was confronted by a not-too-well-dressed stranger who produced some religious pamphlets from a well-worn brief case and launched into a rather insistent sales talk.

Her repeated refusal to buy finally caused the man to turn, unwillingly, to leave.

Then, before the startled eyes of the perturbed housewife, her dog went into a violent fit, and died within a few moments.

The woman called the police, and Assistant Chief of Police M. A. Stephenson and Patrolman F. N. DeCook found that the dog was dead, as reported, but were uncertain that the stranger had poisoned it, as the excited owner believed.

Acting on a description received from the woman, the officers picked up a man who gave his name as L. K. Nike and an address in Highland Park. After questioning, during which he agreed to leave Anaheim immediately, not to return, he was released.

Note to Admiral Halsey:

WE'LL DO OUR BEST TO SPEED THE THIRD FLEET'S LONG DISTANCE CALLS

About two weeks ago we received a request from Admiral Halsey to do everything we could to make it easy for his men to place Long Distance calls and to complete them as swiftly as possible.

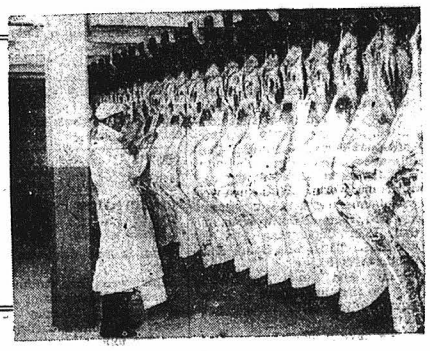

Today, special pier side telephone centers have been set up and many new telephones have been installed near places Third Fleet units are docking. Trained operators are on the job, and we know that the general public will continue to cooperate, as they always have, in helping to keep the lines clear for service men.

So, to Admiral Halsey and the men of the Third Fleet, we say, "Welcome home! Long Distance calls are still at an all-time high, and there are bound to be some delays. But you can be certain we'll do our level best to be of all possible service."

FINE MEATS BECOME MORE TENDER IN SAFEWAY'S HUGE AGING ROOMS

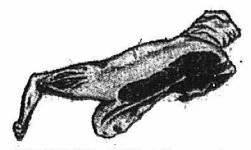

IT IS NOT ENOUGH that Safeway buys only the top government grades of meat. The Safeway plan of perfecting meat for market calls for each cut to remain the correct number of days in huge aging rooms at our Central Meat Plant. Here, temperature and humidity are carefully controlled to retain full juiciness in the meats while they achieve peak tenderness and flavor. This is the same process of natural meat aging that is used by fine hotels and restaurants.

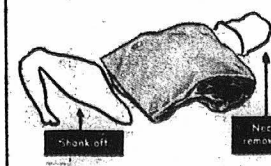

When they reach perfection, the meats are rushed to Safeway markets in refrigerated trucks. After excess bone and fat have been removed by our famous waste-free cutting method, the GUARANTEED MEATS are offered for sale ... every cut guaranteed to please, or money back!

LOVELY WEDDING RITES MARK NUPTIALS OF CHARLOTTS HODGES-BYRON PEEBLES

Culminating a high school romance the marriage vows of Miss Charlotte Louisa Hodges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren C. Hodges of 922 West Center street, Anaheim, to T/Sgt Byron Eugene Peebles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Smith of West Broadway, this city, will be solemnized this evening (Thursday) at 8 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church with the Rev. Robert Cleland, pastor of Wasco, Calif., officiating at the double-ring ceremony. Rev. Cleland is a nephew of the bride's mother.

Palms and four large baskets of white dahlias intermingled with lighted tapers in tall candelabra will form an arched background for the candlelight ceremony.

The bride to be, given in marriage by her father, will be lovely in a white slipper satin gown fashioned with a hoop skirt diagonally draped and caught with clusters of seed pearls with the left frontside of skirt brought up in drape effect and fastened with a large cluster of seed pearls, the underneath skirt being of ruffled blue silk Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice is completed at the neckline with a drop shoulder accented with a daintly draped collar caught at the front with a heart-shaped porcelain pin, her only adornment, (hand-painted with pink rosebuds, the pin belonging to her grandmother and painted for her by a school girl chum many years ago. Long fitted sleeves ending in a point at the middle finger completed the gown. Her bridal veil is silk tulle, finger-tip length and caught to her hair by a halo of white satin. She will carry a shower bouquet of bouvardia centered with pink rosebuds, the flower of her sorority, Delta Zeta, and edged with white flowers with long white satin ribbon streamers.

Mrs. C. P. Smith, sister of Mr. Hodges, at the console of the organ, will play the processional and recessional marches and accompany Miss Ruth Ann Starr, Delta Zeta sister of the bride, who will sing two solos, "Dearly Beloved" and "Always," preceding the ceremony.

Miss Shirley Tozier, the maid of honor, will be gowned in a formal rose pink marquisette gown with which she will carry a shower bouquet of blue delphinium and will wear a dainty wreath of the same flowers in her hair.

Little Miss Mamie Hodges, 7-year-old sister of the bride, is flower girl. She will wear a formal blue silk net gown with a fitted bodice and a large ruffle around the shoulders. The full skirt has a deep ruffle at the bottom finished with an inch heading at the top and she will carry a bouquet of baby pink roses with a wreath of the same flowers in her long blonde curls.

Best man serving the groom will be Robert McDonald of Long Beach, who is at present attending Cal-Tech. Ushers are LaMar Smith, in the navy; Paul Ulbricht, navy; Raymond Yelkin, attending Cal-Tech, and John Monroe, also in the navy.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for the bridal party and wedding guests will be held in the dining room of the church, using palms and white dahlias as the decorations. The bridal table will be centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a large white wedding bell suspended from an arch. Flanking either side of the cake is a graduated seven-candle candelabra with silver service used on each end of the table. Carrying out the tradition for the bridal cake, the young couple will cut and share the first piece after which Miss Carol Amundsen, Miss Eleanor Axe, Miss Rose Koumjian and Miss Alice Morris, all sorority sisters of the bride, will take over the serving duties. Also assisting in the reception duties are Mrs. J. Lee Rogers and Mrs. Nan Moore. In charge of the guest book is Miss Barbara Cross while Mrs. Marjorie Birch will have charge of gifts. Assisting in the reception and other duties are Mrs. Juanita Ross and Miss Marilyn Rogers.

Mrs. Hodges, mother of the bride, will be formally gowned in an aqua-blue figured gown with which she will wear gold accessories and a pink rosebud corsage. Mrs. Smith, mother of the groom, will wear a white formal and gold accessories. She also will wear a pink rosebud corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Anaheim union high school with the class of 1943 and attended U. C. L. A. for two years after which she attended Wolfe's School of Designing in Los Angeles, graduating from there on Oct. 8, this year. During her high school days, she was president, during her senior year, of the girl reserves, was a member of the Colonial Co-eds, a member of the G. A. A. and was active in other activities of the school.

Sgt. Peebles also graduated from the local school with the class of 1943 and enlisted in the service in July of that year, going overseas last January and was returned to this country on Sept. 21 after serving in the Pacific theater of war. At present he is stationed at Santa Ana Army Air Base awaiting further orders. In his high school days he was associated with the choral groups and was active in various other school functions. During his service career, he completed 40 missions, being a radio gunner on a B-24, and for his participation, has received two oak leaf clusters and other medals.

Later in the evening the young couple will leave for a two weeks' honeymoon at Big Bear lake after which they will return to Anaheim and will make their home near Manchester and Orangethorpe streets. Sgt. Peebles is planning to reenter school at the conclusion of his service career while his bride will follow her profession as a designer.

For her going-away costume, Mrs. Peebles will wear a three-piece black wool botany suit with which she will wear black suede shoes and gloves and a blouse of plaid silk taffeta and will carry a shirred puff style muff of the plaid taffeta. Completing her costume, she will wear a small black hat.

Mary Agnes Shaver, Floyd Cody United In Yuma Wedding

Coming as a surprise to most of her friends, Miss Mary Agnes Shaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Shaver, 918 East Vermont street, Anaheim, exchanged marriage vows in Yuma Sunday with Floyd Cody, son of Mrs. Mary Cody, of Los Angeles.

The rites were solemnized Sunday afternoon in the sanctuary of Yuma's First Methodist church, with Rev. Paul I. Hershey, the church's pastor, officiating.

The bride's wedding costume was a smartly tailored suit of imported black and gold wool, worn with a hand-blocked rust and green print blouse. Her accessories were a lizard bag, with corresponding shoes. She wore a brown orchid.

The couple honeymooned at resorts en route home, stopping at Palm Springs.

Mrs. Cody has been an Anaheim resident since she was in the second grade, and is a graduate of Anaheim High school and Fullerton Junior college, where she was active in student affairs. After her gradustion she served at a YWCA leader. She has also been active in work at the White Temple Methodist church. She will continue working at present at the Santa Ana Army Air Base.

Her husband is a native of Pasadena and a graduate of Los Angeles schools. Recently discharged from the Air Corps, he plans to resume his former position on a Los Angeles newspaper. The couple will live in Los Angeles as soon as a residence is available.

HERE FROM ARIZONA

Mrs. Lillian C. Kennedy (Lillian Clabaugh) of Florence, Ariz., is spending several weeks here with her sister, Mrs. Eva Merritt of 121 South Philadelphia street, while her husband is stationed at San Pedro where he is waiting for overseas shipment. Mr. Kennedy is with the Merchant Marine service and is a veteran of World War I.

Ebell Group Urged 'Know Your Bible' By Section Speaker

Anaheim's Ebell's Bible section opened their sessions for this year last Monday, with "Know Your Bible" selected as the year's theme. Mrs. D Jerry Youngs, group leader, welcomed a large crowd to meeting, and introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Dr. Robert Burns McAulay, pastor of the Orange Presbyterian church and brother of the assistant leader of the group, Mrs. Earl Spencer.

Dr. McAulay, who grew up in Anaheim and graduated from the local high school, spoke on the method of study of the Bible. He said it is important to read and study the Bbile with understanding, repeating Mark Twain's famous statement, "There are many statements in the Bible I can't understand, but I can't live my life according to those I do understand, so I just don't worry."

Dr. McAulay further stated, "There are many methods, the chain method, for example where the reader takes some word such as sin and through references reads all that appears in the Bible on the word. Character study is another way.

"Great text or texts that impress you deeply are another way. Livingston used this method and the text that stuck with him through his life was: 'Lo, I am with you until the end.'"

He also cited several other methods but remarked that it is not the method but the plan of reading which brings a successful understanding of the Bible.

Mrs. Albert Raymond, a section member, spoke briefly, stressing the need to know the Bible and benefit thereby. She stated that, "We Americans are not only citizens of our country but of the world. With this we must understand all people if a peaceful living in a peaceful world becomes a certainty. Our problems can be solved if we comply with God's plan of prayer."

Mrs. H. J. Fackiner, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Donald Rees, sang "Lead, Kindly Light" and "He Shall Feed His Flock" from the Messiah.

The afternoon social hour's hostesses were Mrs. Leo Friis, Mrs. E. Maher, Mrs. George Chambers, and Mrs. Viola Fallin.

Douglas Milton Andrew of Santa Ana and Mildred Neoma Bush of Anaheim, were issued a marriage license last weekend at the county courthouse.

Job's Daughters Council Elects New Officers

The monthly meeting of Job's Daughters, Bethel number 5, council met last week at the home of Mrs. Fay Hall, guardian. Mrs. Lily Clark, deputy grand guardian, presided over the meeting with Mrs. Hall.

Election of officers for the ensuing term was held, with Mrs. Hall again elected guardian. Associate guardian will be Mr. O. Taylor, as Mr. Bird Cross resigned the office after serving for several terms. Mrs. O. Taylor will serve as secretary; Mrs. Norman Tessner, guardian treasurer; Mrs. D. Temple, promoter of hospitality, and Mrs. Alberta Brown, director of music.

Miss Edith Brown, honored queen, spoke to the council in regard to the Job's Daughters Hallowe'en dance to be held Oct. 29 at 8:00 in the Masonic hall.

The group's November meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bird Cross, 202 South Illinois street.

Harvest Card Party Of VFW Auxiliary Draws Large Crowd

Approximately 100 persons attended the VFW auxiliary's annual benefit Harvest card party held last Thursday night in the I. O. O. F. hall.

The large hall was decorated in a Hallowe'en motif, with colorful arrangements of zinnias and marigolds on the tables during the social refreshment hour.

In a seasonal mood, individual pumpkin pies and coffee were served. Head of the general committee was Mrs. Godfrey Poetz.

Prize winners in the card games were Mrs. P. V. Kelley and R. Reagan, in bridge; A. G. Tuma and Mrs. Charles Schaffer, pinochle, and Mrs. Durland and George Ferguson, 500.

The funds from this annual party are extended to swell the lodge's funds for hospital and veteran rehabilitation work.

Ladies' Class Has Luncheon Meeting At Pastor's Home

The ladies' class of the Church of Christ met last Thursday at the home of the church pastor, Guy E. Humphrey, for an all-day session.

Following a delicious covered-dish luncheon, a short business meeting was held. Plans were made for the group's dinner for the Anaheim Council of Church-women to be held Nov. 2 in the Church of Christ dining room. The group also discussed arrangements for its bazaar and chicken dinner on Nov. 15.

The meeting of the Missionary society of the church will be a covered-dish affair next Friday at the church hall.

Mrs. Margaret Daugherty, the class president, gave a reading, "Indignant Nell," after which the class enjoyed a social afternoon over their piece work.

City Pays Tribute To H. E. W. Barnes

public office in the manner of a statesman. He welcomed full discussion of all subjects presented to the council.

While stout in his own views, Mr. Barnes always attempted to find a common ground with his fellow members. He considered honest disagreement as a healthy manifestation of democratic government.

Mr. Barnes always respected the rights and views of the minority. He had the happy faculty of being able to see the humorous side of the question.

He was a lover of nature. As chairman of the committee on public property the city parks were Mr. Barnes' particular hobby. He encouraged the planting of flowers and trees. He labored unceasingly to improve the playgrounds of the city. He gave much attention to furnishing our citizens with clean, wholesome entertainment.

Mr. Barnes possessed a host of friends from every walk of life. He was understanding and sympathetic. He gave an attentive ear to the problems of all who approached him. He was not a man to bear malice or carry a grudge. His philosophy of human conduct embraced an unreserved acceptance and practice of the "Golden Rule."

While liberal and openminded in his views, he was, nevertheless, the implacable enemy of forces inimical to the public welfare. He always joined wholeheartedly with his fellow councilmen in opposing anything detrimental to our social economy.

The passing of Mr. Barnes is a distinct loss to Anaheim. To the members of the city council his absence will be keenly felt.

"I cannot say, and I will not say
That he is dead—he is just away.

"With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand,
He has wondered into an unknown land.

"Think of him still as the same, I say.
He is not dead—he is just away!"

H. E. W. Barnes, the son of a physician and therefore nicknamed "Doc," was born in Creston, Iowa, 55 years ago.

He came to Anaheim with his parents when he was 15 years old.

In 1912 he and Ben Stroup formed a partnership — Stroup-Barnes furniture store—which has continued to this day.

Held Elks' No. 1 Card!

In addition to being a member of the city council since 1942, Doc Barnes was a charter member of Anaheim lodge of Elks, past president of the local chamber of commerce and Rotary club.

Barnes is survived by his wife, Amelia; two sons, Lt. Col. Edgar and Ensign Robert; a sister, Mrs. S. H. Bradley of Santa Ana.

Son Edgar was here for the services but Robert, with the navy in Japan, was unable to come.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at Anaheim Elks club, under the direction of Past Exalted Ruler Leslie Swope and Backs, Campbell and Kaulbars mortuary.

Masons Celebrate 75th Anniversary

dio and justice of the peace court, and now by Wingfield's service station. The upper story was used as a lodge hall and the lower, for school purposes.

Orange county then was a part of Los Angeles county. When the first elementary public school was built in Anaheim, on the ground where the George Washington school now stands, it was the first building in the county outside of Los Angeles to boast a cornerstone.

Three hundred Masons came to Anaheim from Los Angeles to lay the stone. It was remembered that a dinner was prepared and served to them under the direction of Miss Emma Kraemer (now Mrs. Grimshaw) and the late Misses Nellie Kuchel and Gussie Hartung.

Others who spoke at the Wednesday night meeting included: Dr. George C. Clark, George Frampton, William P. Webb, Jr., Rodger, McMaster and others.

Even after the meeting officially adjourned, members gathered in little groups in the building and even outside on the streets to continue what had proved to be one of the most interesting of recent gatherings.

The Navy's Bureau of Supplies and Accounts has the largest refrigerator in the world at its Norfolk, Va., base. It holds 39,000,000 pounds of meat—enough to feed 1,000,000 men a month—and 15,000,000 dozen eggs.

Terris; $100 each for 99.88 per cent attendance, and Eddie Yungbluth, $90 for 99.85 per cent attendance. The packing prizes were given to individuals who packed the highest number of boxes between May 11 and Sept. 29 of this year.

She's 'Tops' Again

Miss Margaret Gallegos, last year's queen of packers, was again pronounced the champion and received a $50 check for packing 14,428 boxes, 4,155,264 oranges or nearly 32 carloads. In second place was Rosie Sanchez who was given $45 for packing 13,016 boxes while the check for Anita Sanchez, in third place, was $40 for packing 12,020 boxes. The seven other awards in this group were graduated accordingly. A surprise award of $50 was presented to Nadine Williamson for her outstanding work in "bag packing" oranges which was a new feature with Granada this year.

Miss Milbrat and A. Terris responded on behalf of the employees.

Laird introduced department heads, who reported on the year's work. B. A. Arnold, office manager and director of personnel, thanking the employees for their cooperation and for their part in the Victory Chest drive. The company's employees raised $270.50 to add to the $1000 donated by their employer. Arnold presented Rev. Schmelzer, chairman of the drive with a check for Granada employees' donation. E. L. Miller, manager of the field department, was next introduced and given a worthy tribute by Chairman Laid for his part in production.

Overcome Difficulties

Charles Linfesty, traffic superintendent, reported that more boxes by several hundred thousand had been picked this year and many more difficulties overcome. John Knapp, packinghouse superintendent, mentioned wartime difficulties and shortages which had made the season a turbulent one, but concluded by saying that if they could pack 15 cars in eight hours under such circumstances no telling what could be done under peace time conditions.

N. E. Faessel, sales manager, reported a sales total of $4,047,227.47, which he believed to be one of the largest individual totals on record. He reviewed some of the problems of obtaining pickers and shipping facilities and opined that ceilings will not be removed for some time. He predicted good times during the reconversion period, with growers realizing a substantial return from their investments.

E. W. Moehler, secretary of the chamber of commerce, paid tribute to Granada progress and to Belmont for his interest in the chamber of commerce and other civic affairs.

'Ideal American'

In presenting Frank Belmont, Ross Laird described him as "the manifestation of the American ideal"—proving that the door of opportunity is still open in America if one has the desire and the stamina to see it through—proving that one may come to this country, engage in whatever livelihood he may choose and with initiative and ability rise to success.

With a great deal of pride and satisfaction in his organization, Belmont titled the meeting a perfect ending to the 1945 valencia season, their fourth annual meeting but the first one in peace time, therefore a victory celebration. Thanking workers, in his usual sincere manner, for their ingenuity and ability to see a task completed, he said he was glad to announce they had finished the season ahead of schedule despite the many difficulties.

Patriotic Privilege

"While we have experienced difficult times during the war years, we feel that we have been privileged to perform an important patriotic duty," Belmont said. "We have done our share to provide a vital food to both our fighting forces and to the war workers at home."

When oranges were available, there were no cars; when they had plenty of cars, no oranges were to be had, and when both were on hand, there was no ice, he reminded, in reviewing the succession of obstacles of the season just past.

Paying tribute to the men and women serving their country in the armed forces, Belmont asked that all stand in silent honor to those who paid the supreme sacrifice. Similar honor also was accorded the memory of H. E. W. Barnes whose death occurred that afternoon.

Climaxing the interesting and outstanding affair, Belmont presented a check for the $1000 contribution to the Community Chest. It was received by Robert H. Boney, acting for Mayor Charles Pearson, who was out of town.

Masonic Delegation Enjoy Church-Picnic In Colton Sunday

A delegation of 25 members and their families of the Masonic lodge of this city drove to Colton last Sunday and attended the 11 o'clock service at the Baptist church and to visit with the pastor, the Rev. Virgil Ledbetter, a former member of the local lodge.

After the service, Rev. Ledbetter joined the visitors at the city park there and enjoyed a delicious basket dinner. The visitors noted that, even though he has recently recovered from a sick spell, Rev. Ledbetter ate like a husky harvest hand and, according to latest communiques issued from the "battlefront"—"all is well," having survived the delicacies of the good women who really had "overstuffed" baskets of everything good to eat.

Youth Symphony Is in Big Time

a lot of valuable time fighting the symphony's battles, and who shares the glory of the orchestra's success with members of his committee.

Miss Perkins, who resigned last spring as instructor in music of the schools of Orange, fought a lone uphill battle to bring the orchestra to a membership of 60 until she interested the local Kiwanians in the project last January.

Bradley was one of the club's members who investigated the matter and enthusiastically recommended that the Kiwanis club get behind it. So—it was made "Brad's baby," and he has worked long and hard to help bring the success that now is crowning his efforts.

The organization since has grown to 200 members, of whom 100 are in the Youth Symphony orchestra and the remainder divided between the Children's and Junior Symphony orchestras. All three engage in weekly rehearsals under direction of Miss Perkins, at the Teen Age Canteen in Anaheim, the Youth Symphony on Monday nights and the others each Saturday morning.

Ages of the members of the Children's orchestra range from 4 to 8 years, and those of the Junior Symphony from 9 to 14. Members of each of the latter orchestras advance to membership in the Youth Symphony as soon as their ability warrants and without regard to age.

In company with Vivian Della Chiesa, declared to be the highest-paid lyric soprano in the world; Argentinita and her Spanish ensemble, and General Platoff's Don Cossack Russian chorus, the Youth Symphony orchestra will appear Jan. 19 at the Redondo union high school auditorium as the third of the four attractions of this year's concert series. The series is presented by the Manhattan Community church, with cooperation of L. E. Behymer. All tickets for the entire season's program already have been subscribed for.

Most recent of letters asking for details of plans for organizing and operating the symphony was received by Bradley this week from the Pasadena Kiwanis club, members of which had seen the article about the Orange county orchestra in the Kiwanis magazine. The Pasadena club plans an orchestra patterned after the local organization, and invited Bradley to appear there as guest speaker in the near future to provide the necessary pointers and advice.

The orchestra appeared in four concerts last spring and summer, two in Anaheim and one each at Pasadena and Fullerton. Large audiences greeted them at each performance, ranging as high as 2200 persons in some instances.

Anaheim's hat is off to the members of this juvenile organization of which it is so justly proud, to its director, Norma Perkins, and to its "guardians," E. T. Bradley, the members of his committee and other members of the Kiwanis club.

Regular Meeting Of Toastmasters Held Tuesday Eve.

A fine attendance was present at the regular meeting of the Toastmasters club last Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock when they met at Parker House cafe.

As is usual at each of the meetings, a toastmaster, which was Earl Woodward for this meeting, had charge of the evening session, with Royal Marten the critic.

William Davis had charge of the table topic on "The Community Chest", a topic that is of utmost importance to the citizens at this time and which brought forth a lot of lively discussion by the members.

Speakers during the evening were Don Schneider, Al Holve, John Dwyer and Ed Wright, who was adjudged the best speaker of the meeting and was awarded the Patterson trophy.

Star, Goblins Here Hallowe'en

Tuesday morning into the proper frame of mind when he declared, "All this matter needs to make it a success is less talk and more action."

Then he sounded a heartening note by declaring, "Prospects are a whale of a lot better than they were a few days ago. We now have 19 floats signed up, in addition to a goodly number of decorated cars and several stunts."

Plenty of Horseflesh!

Wallop announced, "There'll be no shortage of horses—we'll have 400 to 500, without question." Judging of the equine entries will be on the Alpha Beta lot on East Center.

Several bands already have signed up to participate in and to provide music for the parade, Bill Cook announced. They include the Anaheim, Fullerton and Orange bands, the Police, Elks and Kiwanis musical organizations, the latter of which will be on a float. There is little doubt that the Santa Ana and Huntington Beach bands also will be in the parade line, Cook added.

"That's not a bad showing," he added. "In most successful past years, I don't recall more than 11 bands in one parade."

40 Men and a Flag!

In addition to their band, the Elks also will be represented in the parade by a huge American flag, which will be carried by 40 members of the lodge.

Herb Eldred, Lee Fabian and Jim Kilduff advocated necessity for more "whooping it up" to call attention to the festival. Although a "Whiskerino Contest" is one of the events carded, Kilduff and Fabian were the only two who showed up at breakfast with any indication of hirsute facial adornment.

"Let those whiskers grow!" they chided their fellow-townsmen, as they stroked—or was it, scratched?—their new beavers.

Orange Colored Shirts!

Eldred announced that arrangements have been made to provide orange shirts for all male citizens, to attract attention to the festival.

All that is necessary for said citizen is to carry one of his white shirts into the chamber of commerce office and deposit it and a two-bit piece with anyone there.

The shirt will be dyed a screaming orange and returned to the owner. There, combined with a black tie, is a perfect Hallowe'en ensemble; one guaranteed to make the uninitiated ask, "What the heck is THAT for?"

Kangaroo court, long a festival favorite, is being revived under the painstaking direction of Roy Mendoza, Homer Wallace, Bill Payne, Leo Friis and Bill Webb, assisted by a group of co-plotters, the roster of which guarantees that this year's operation of that ornery seat of legal injustice will set a new record for skullduggery.

Trophies to be awarded in twelve classes of entries in the festival already have been received by the chamber of commerce. They bear a small reproduction of the statue of Victory, in keeping with the theme of this year's celebration. In addition to the trophies, 100 awards of ribbons will be made.

Prizes Galore!

In addition to a trophy to be awarded to the sweepstakes winner, trophies and blue and red ribbons will be awarded, in order, to the first, second and third place winners in each of the following classes:

Float using Victory theme, Hallowe'en float, float combining both themes, and the best decorated car. Ribbons will be awarded for the two most unusual entries and the two most comical stunts.

Special ribbon awards will be given in the horse contests, and two awards will be made for the most beautiful and most comical costumes worn in the parade by women, girls, men and boys.

Tickets for the Costume Breakfast are on sale at the following places:

Chamber of commerce, Eldred market, Elliott's, Fabian's, Ford garage, Fox theater, Hockaday & Phillips, Kilduff market, Savings Building & Loan, Schulz Furniture, S.Q.R. store.

Here's a chance to make money by going to the dogs, the Disabled American Veterans points out. An award of $500 will be given by the Gaines Dog Research Center in New York for the winning design for a memorial in honor of dogs who have fought and died in World War II.

Despite the fact that his ship was included in many of the task forces that made page one news throughout the nation many times, he declares there were times when even a typhoon was welcome, because it broke up the monotony of inactivity between battles.

There was one period during the height of activity by Jap suicide pilots, however, when the crew was at general quarters 45 consecutive days and nights.

Jerry, who is 21 years old, is the older of two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Belmont, both of whom served in the navy. He was rushed to San Pedro for discharge, because of his lengthy service, after his ship first docked at San Francisco. It will come to southern California waters for Navy day, Oct. 27.

Frank Belmont, Jr., 20, the other sailor-son of Mr. and Mrs. Belmont, is an electrician in the navy. He now is attached to the Marines and serving in Japan, having recently been transferred there after serving with the navy in the Atlantic. He has been in service three years.

Paul T. Harrison Is Aboard Mail Ship

ABOARD THE LST 567.—Paul Tyler Harrison, 19, seaman, second class, USNR, 418 South Ohio, Anaheim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Harrison, served aboard this official U. S. Mail ship which acted as post office for Navy men in the Tokyo area.

Commissioned in May, 1944, the LST 567 engaged in invasions at Leyte, Lingayen, and Okinawa, before being converted to her present use. She is manned almost entirely by members of her original crew.

The ship was distributing mail just two days after occupation forces entered Tokyo Bay.

Police Find 'Stolen' Coat in Five Minutes

Columbus day was a great day for Monsieur Kilpatrick of rural Tustin.

It seems he came to Anaheim to do some shopping, enjoy the beauty and bustle of a metropolitan city.

Lo and behold! when he returned he found a strange coat on the back seat of his car.

He so phoned Anaheim police at 4:40 p.m.

At exactly 4:45 p.m. Officer Sherman was told by a father and son that a coat had been stolen from their parked car.

Yes, you guessed it: the coat that was "stolen" was the coat that was found. The owner had tossed it into the wrong car.

"Whew! I'm glad that is was a boy's coat instead of a woman's coat, said Kilpatrick as he wiped the persp from his furrowed brow.

J. R. McGavren Dies, Resident Here for 32 Years

Death claimed Joseph Robert McGavren early Monday morning of this week when he passed away at his home on East North street after a short illness.

Born in Old Town, Iowa, 86 years ago, he had been a resident of California 34 years and of Anaheim for the past 32 years. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Anaheim and also the Masonic and Odd Fellows lodges of Missouri Valley, Iowa.

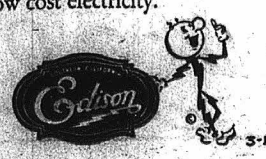

Left to mourn his passing are his widow, Sarah L. McGavren, one daughter, Mrs. Myrtle E Tredway of Modesto; one son, Leo B. McGavren of Balboa; five grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Funeral services were conducted from the Hilgenfeld chapel on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with the Rev. Stanley Frederick George of San Bernardino, former pastor of the Anaheim Presbyterian church, officiating with burial in Loma Vista Memorial park.

'VICTORY, NOW LASTING PEACE' TO BE THEME FOR B-P.W. FALL CONFERENCE

With "Victory—Now a Lasting Peace," as theme phrase for the session, the program for the southern district California Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs' fall conference, to be held here Oct. 20 and 21, has been entirely formulated.

Saturday's session will open at 2 p. m. with registration for visitors and at 3:30 a board meeting in the lodge room of the Elks clubhouse, with reports from officers, county president and committee chairmen. Following this, the Colton club will conduct a memorial for Past President Edna Battin. Kathryn Chesworth will be reader, assisted by Mrs. Olive Schoemaker of the local club.

A gala dinner will be held Saturday evening at 6:45 in the Elks dining room, opened by the salute to the flag led by Miss Beulah Hineman of the Anaheim club. Margaret Elliot will lead the crowd in singing "America," accompanied by Miss Mildred Falk. Mrs. Emma O. Luebbers, junior past president, will lead the devotional. Welcoming address will be presented by Mrs. Eva Boyd, president of the Anaheim club, with the response by Mrs. Mary Howell, district membership chairman.

Following dinner, the evening's program will be opened in the lodge room, with selections by the Miella trio, composed of violin, cello, and piano. Miss Ina Gerritt, district program coordinator, will introduce the speaker of the evening, Mr. Harrison Wood, who will speak on "This Changing World."

Sunday's breakfast will be presided over by Mrs. Laura Bettis, president of the Orange county council. Miss Dorothea Wilson, president of the Newport Harbor club, will give the morning prayer, followed by Miss Elizabeth Fitzgerald, state international chairman, who will speak on "Our International Federation After Victory." During this portion of the meeting Miss Alma Louise Smith will sing a solo accompanied by Margaret Kadelbach.

Later in the morning, the parliamentary work shop will operate under the guidance of Mrs. Carolyn Webb, past state president and parliamentary chairman.

At 10:45 Dr. Florence Mae Morse, chairman of the southern district, will explain and bring many fine points to the guests in her talk on "Objective of Women's Action Committee for Victory and Lasting Peace."

Principal speaker of the morning's final session will be Mrs. Ila Dixon Buntz, whose address will deal with "The Republics, Argentina and Brazil."

October Meeting of D. A. R. Is Held In Los Angeles

The Southern Council of the Daughters of the American Revolution held their regular October meeting at Patriotic Hall at 1816 South Figueroa street, in Los Angeles on Oct. 16, the session opening at 11 a.m. with the state vice-regent, Mrs. Charles A. Christin, presiding, and who introduced the state regent, Mrs. Charles Franklin Lambert.

The morning session heard various reports by division chairmen and at 10 o'clock a parliamentary law course was conducted, with a luncheon enjoyed at the noon hour.

Resuming at 2 p.m., the guest speaker of the afternoon was Mr. Salem Bader who spoke on "America Against the World".

Announcement was made of the official visit of the president general, Mrs. Julius Young Talmadge on November 3rd. A luncheon will be held in her honor at that time, with an informal reception following.

WSCS Circle Meets, Plans Birthday Dinner for Nov. 12

Members of Mrs. C. C. Reinert's WSCS circle of the White Temple Methodist church met last Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. H. Johnston, 601 North Los Angeles street. Assisting Mrs. Johnston in hostess duties was Mrs. George Paige.

Mrs. M. A. Gauer opened the meeting by presenting the nine steps of prayer as shown in the book "Abundant Living" by E. Stanley Jones. Mrs. L. P. Nichols gave the study lesson from the newly selected book, "The Cross of Africa" by Newell Booth.

A birthday dinner, to be held November 12 at 6:30, was planned during the business meeting.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. E. F. Simms, 735 North Zeyn street.

Ivan Lebedeff to Appear Here in a Lecture Program

Appearing under the sponsorship of the Orange County Council of Republican Women, Major Ivan Lebedeff is scheduled to appear in Anaheim, Orange, Buena Park and Huntington Beach, the first of these lectures being on October 25 at the Orange Women's clubhouse at 121 South Center street, Orange, and will begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. On the same day, he will speak at the American Legion Hall in Huntington Beach at 8 p.m.

Anaheim will be host to Major Lebedeff on Friday, October 26, at 2 p.m. when he will speak at the Elks clubhouse, 423 North Los Angeles street. At eight o'clock that evening he will speak before an audience at Buena Park at the American Legion Hall. At all these meetings he will discuss "Russia and the Allies".

Major Lebedeff has held a number of important administrative and military diplomatic positions, including that of Chief of the Special Commission regulating supply relations between the Allies and the Russian Army during World War I. After the collapse of the White Army in 1920, he became the district military commandant for the evacuation of troops and refugees, and for this phase of his work, was exiled from Russia. His life in "exile" started with stock exchange operations in Constantinople, and later on in other capitals in Europe.

He is the author of a number of novels and non-fiction books and in 1940 Liveright Company published his first novel in English, "The Legion of Dishonor", which repeatedly appeared on the best seller list. In one of his articles which he wrote, "Japan Will Swallow China", published in 1931 in a west coast paper, and in the light of events as they have developed, this article might have been written yesterday, so potent are his thoughts and his knowledge in the Orient and in Europe.

Mrs. B. A. Arnold of this city is president of this group of women and those in charge of the Anaheim meeting are Mrs. J. J. Dwyer, Miss Lena V. Rowe, Mrs. C. C. Davis, Mrs. Eva Boyd and Mrs. M. E. Beebe.

Mary A. Burden Is Enrolled at Pomona College for Work

Mary A. Burden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burden, 125 N. Ohio Street, Anaheim, is enrolled for the fall term of studies at Pomona College, in Claremont.

Miss Burden is a graduate of Anaheim Union High school with the class of 1944, and attended Fullerton Junior college during the academic year 1944-1945.

Choir Sings Melrose Abbey Sunday

The public is cordially invited to the first program of the 1945-46 "Musical Memory Hour" series at Melrose Abbey Mausoleum Chapel, 101 Highway between Santa Ana and Anaheim, on Sunday, October 21, at 3 o'clock.

Featuring their favorite selections, Rev. Wesley A. Havermale, Rector of the Episcopal Church of the Messiah of Santa Ana, will present the church choir under the direction of choirmaster Robert J. Stratton. They will sing such well known numbers as "The Lost Chord" by Sullivan, "Come Unto Me", Beethoven, and "Unfold Ye Portals" by Gounod.

Organ solos by Robert J. Stratton will include "Clair de Lune" by DeBussey and "Air" by Bach.

Kiwanians Hear Newspaper Talk

Anaheim Kiwanis club celebrated newspaper week a bit late. Frank "Pete" Cooey of Santa Ana was speaker and outlined the creation of our free press from colonial times to the present day. He started his remarks by telling of the FCC control on the radio industry showing that, by their licensing power, they held the power to practically dictate whether a radio station could sell and to whom it could sell.

Before the Revolution a colonial printer and editor, Peter Zenger, spent about ten years of his life in and out of jail for printing what he believed the people should know. This courageous fight led, in no small measure, to the inclusion in the Bill of Rights of Freedom of the Press as we know it. Newspaper people have long been jealously guarding this right as the least encroachment on it would be like the camel's nose in the tent.

Marywood Mothers Hostesses at Tea

Marywood mother's auxiliary of Marywood Central Catholic high school for girls, held a delightful tea and program this afternoon in the school lounge with mothers of the students and friends as special guests.

Hostess chairman for the event was Mrs. Arnold Kraemer, who welcomed all guests.

This year's auxiliary officers are Mrs. W. B. DeCoursey, president; Mrs. J. E. Schumacher, vice-president; Mrs. E. E. Bruce, treasurer; and Mrs. John Girsch, secretary.

A Jeep in 'Civies' Coming October 27

Anaheim will get its first look at a postwar Jeep October 27 when W. C. Glodfelty, a newcomer to local business circles, opens his Willys-Overland agency in the building formerly occupied by Vultee Aircraft at 113 South Palm street. Now a resident of Inglewood, Glodfelty is seeking a home and will move his family to Anaheim as soon as possible to obtain suitable quarters.

The building to be occupied by his automobile agency has been completely remodelled by Glodfelty and new shop equipment will be installed.

The Jeep, which revolutionized military motor transportation and earned an enviable reputation under the stress of battle action and supply, remains essentially the same in civilian use, with modifications designed to better adapt it to civilian use. It functions as a passenger car, a light truck, a tractor and a mobile power unit for performing many farm tasks.

In addition to the Jeep, the Willys agency here will sell regular passenger and truck models, as well as parts and farm machine attachments for use with the Jeep.

Glodfelty expects regular delivery about December 15 on station wagons, and on other regular models by January 1.

Postmaster Riley Tells Rotarians of Postal Service

Guest speaker at Monday's regular Rotary club meeting was Postmaster William Riley, head of Los Angeles' postal department.

Riley discussed the nation's postal system in general and stated that the Los Angeles department is the fifth largest in the United States. According to him, that office handles approximately one million letters daily and frequently a million and a half.

He stated that employees undergo a thorough training period, which is necessary because they are often required to memorize 30,000 street and address numbers within a thirty square mile radius.

In memory of H. E. W. Barnes who died last Friday, one minute of silence was observed by the organization. Barnes was president of the organization in 1925, served for many years as song leader, and was a loyal and faithful member.

Special guest at the meeting was Louis Hoskins, Anaheim postmaster. Elden Deering, assistant postmaster and Rotarian, acted as program chairman. President Hank Walsworth presided over the session.

Court of Honor Gives Awards to Troop Members

Northern Orange County Council of Boy Scouts held their regular court of honor last Thursday night at Fremont school at which time two hundred and eighteen scouts received awards and honors for their work during the past year.

Tex Middleton presented first and second class awards to 18 boys, with 67 merit badges being awarded by W. H. Lang of Fullerton, and 12 life and star awards were made by E. A. Steffensent.

Eisenhower medals were presented scouts who participated in the recent national paper drive by Cpl. David Hammond and Sgt. Sherwood Trotter, both of Fullerton.

Receiving the only Eagle scout award earned during the year was Don Stedman of La Habra troop 98. Court Chairman Frank Kellogg made the award.

Guest speaker was Lt. John Coyne, now stationed at the SAAAB, recently returned from service in the European theater.

Banner awards were made to Anaheim's troop 71 for best attendance during the past year and to Placentia troop 110 for the greatest advancement.

Old Members Are Honored Guests at Dinner Meeting

Approximately fifty members of the local Elks lodge who have held continuous membership for the past twenty-five years were honored last week at an old timers' and charter members' night held in the Elks clubhouse.

Dinner was served in the private dining room with chef Maynard Glenn in charge.

The lodge was founded on July 12, 1917, with 99 members. There are still 64 members of the charter group active in the organization, according to George Askey, who was chairman of the event.

First officers of the lodge were Judge Homer Ames, exalted ruler; Herman Nolls, esteemed leading knight; Tom McFadden, esteemed loyal knight; M. C. Gaff, secretary; Walter Davis, esteemed lecturing knight; Fred A. Backs, treasurer; A. V. Vail, tiler; F. A. Fay, esquire; Fred Cline, inner guard; and Don L. Parker, chaplain.

To provide facilities for the busy 578 miles of New York's water front, 722 piers are required.

Glue is used in the manufacture of the parts of cargo ships, torpedo boats, battleships and carriers, in rifles, ammunition containers and gun cases.

Citrus Men Seek Aid of Congress

Secretary George Graham of Associated Farmers and Citrus Growers, Inc., flew to Washington last weekend with five other citrus men to bring to the attention of congress the grave labor shortage in the Pacific coastal states.

According to Graham, both tomato and walnut crops are suffering this fall, although citrus fruit harvests have run smoothly through the assistance of Mexican nationals, Jamaicans and prisoners of war. According to present contracts these groups will cease work this year.

While thousands of applicants are standing in line for unemployment insurance, farmers are requesting at least 1000 workers. Local ranchers are desirous of congress maintaining foreign labor for some time, because no local labor is obtainable.

California farmers pay all the law allows to farm workers, Graham commented, adding that the wages here were twice that of an average farm wage.

America's greatest cash crop is cotton: it is grown on 25 per cent of the total number of American farms, and returns an income that has averaged over $1,200,000,000 during each of the past three years.

As the Mississippi flows toward the Gulf, she supports another mighty river flowing in the opposite direction — 350 million gallons of gasoline and crude oil every week, equivalent to a tank-car train over 200 miles long. This fuel is kept flowing "uphill" day and night, month after month, by diesel-powered towboats, which also handle as many as 12 large barges, each with a gasoline capacity of some 672,000 gallons.

Anaheim Eleven To Meet Tustin Champs Friday

Flushed with last week's 41-6 victory over the Valencia Tigers, Coach Hopkins' Anaheim Colonists await invasion of LaPalma Park Friday night by the Orange County league champion Tillers of Tustin High.

Coach Hal is anything but confident of the chances for victory this week, despite the auspicious opening of the 1945 gridiron season.

"We displayed a lot of weakness in our opener," he declares. "In spite of the lopsided score, we were guilty of numerous fumbles and other offenses.

"The Tillers will take advantage of any such bobbles, and we've got to play a lot better game if we escape a good shellacking."

However, the Anaheim High contingent is working hard to iron out the rough spots, and their followers are confident they will prove able to tame those Terrible Tillers, or at least to make them realize that they've been in a football game.

Government Frees 40 Million Shells For Civilian Use

Local nimrods are wearing the same smile that spreads over the countenances of the other hunters of the United States.

With the approach of the duck and quail hunting seasons, the government has released forty million surplus shotgun shells for sale to civilians. They already are on their way to dealers and their early appearance on retailers' shelves is expected.

All are of 12-Guage standard commercial type, some being loaded with bird shot and others with buckshot. They are being sold through surplus property offices in various regions throughout the country, closest of which to Anaheim are San Francisco and Denver.

Retail ceilings are $1.07 a box for bird loads and $1.38 for buckshot.

Anaheim Hunters Are Utah Bound

If you have business with an Anaheim deer hunter — or one from anywhere in Orange county, for that matter — you'd better catch him quick! Else it will be necessary to reach him by mail addressed "Somewhere in Utah."

That 10-day Utah deer season opening Saturday certainly is going to attract a liberal supply of Californians' 20-dollar bills into the hunting license coffers of our neighbor state.

Most of the local sportsmen are heading for sections around three points in southern Utah, according to L. N. (Pete) Wisser, local sporting goods dealer, who keeps his finger pretty well on the pulse of the hunting and fishing gentry. They are St. George, Beaver and Cedar City.

Those of us who can't take the time out, who can't rake up the price of a license, or just plain can't hit a deer, anyhow, are anticipating relief from the red point shortage when our lucky friends return with bucks across their radiators.

The school child most likely to get hurt is a seventh grader in a street or sidewalk accident not involving a motor vehicle during the month of May, reports the National Safety Council. These facts are based on the Council's annual survey of student accidents.

Two Ex-Veterans Realize a Dream; Buy Music Store

Fruition of plans conceived on shipboard in the far reaches of the vast Pacific one starlit night many months ago came to two former Coast Guardsmen in Anaheim late last week when they purchased from Les Phillips the right to sign their names as joint owners of the Blu-Note Music company, 157 West Center street.

They are C. C. Winter, formerly of Montebello, and R. W. Cruzen of Orange. They entered service about the same time in May, 1942, and served together on the Icebreaker West Wind and the Gunboat Owasco. Their parallel courses continued through their periods of service, both being discharged at Long Beach late last month.

Both Cruzen and Winter had ratings as soundmen third class. It was the monotony of listening to underwater sounds for the telltale hum of submarines that caused them to decide to enter a business that would provide more melodious music when they were discharged.

They started saving for the day when the war was won and they could doff their uniforms. When their discharge papers arrived, they had the necessary funds and started looking for a location.

"Anaheim looked good to us," Winter said, "so here we are, and we intend to stay."

To prove the truth of his statement, Winter, who was married six months ago, hurriedly added, "Say, do you know where a fellow can rent a house in Anaheim?"

Both partners are musicians and they plan, in addition to the stock of recordings, sheet music, instrument parts and musical miscellany now on their shelves, to add musical instruments "as soon as they are available."

Winter was a member of the football squad at Montebello High school prior to graduation in 1937, and Cruzen was on the track team at Orange High. Each has had a number of brushes with enemy submarines, several of which did not return to port to tell the tale.

They are happy to "shoot the breeze" with any and all, in uniform or even with plain civilians, between such duties as wrapping sheet music or running over a new record for a customer.

Local Firms Move To New Locations

Two Anaheim businesses are movin gto new locations soon. Superior Radio Service, Paul Davidson owner, now located at 308 West Center, will move November 1 to 249 East Center in the Masonic building into an improved store. After moving, they will feature an expanded radio department and musical instruments. The building on East Center street is being completely remodeled and will be a most attractive business establishment.

The Ritz Cleaners, under the management of Joe Koska, move this weekend to 307 East Center street from West Center street, where they have been located for some time.

Late last week R. Joe Quast and Sons, Plumbers, moved their business from 246 E. Center street to 306 N. Los Angeles, where they have expanded their lines of plumbing fixtures and heating equipment.

Lt. M. P. Thompson, Jr., Now on Duty in Azores Islands

First Lt. Marvin P. Thompson, Jr., of the Army Air Corps is now based in the Azores Islands, where he was sent about two months ago, assigned there as a flight commander of Eagle Flight. While there he expects to visit London or Paris or possibly both if he can arrange the trips and as soon as time permits.

This information was recently given to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Thompson of 827 North Lemon street, who have been receiving mail steadily from their son, now that the war is over.

Marvin has been in the air corps for the past three years and nine months, serving six months of that time overseas. Based in Newfoundland for a while, he flew to Iceland and Greenland on a regular route and had the pleasure of flying over the Arctic circle on one mission.

His present address is: Lt. Marvin P. Thompson, Jr., C-781455, 53rd Rcn. Squadron, Long Range Weather (Flt. "C"), APO No. 100, care of Postmaster, New York City. This is the only planned post-war weather squadron, so far as Lt. Thompson is able to learn.

Local Man Aboard Ship Entering Korea

ON THE USS MINNEAPOLIS. —James F. Hein, 20, fire controlman, third class, USNR, Anaheim, served on this cruiser when, as part of a task force of more than 50 ships, she steamed into Jinsen, Korea, Sept. 8 to help occupy and liberate the country from the Japanese.

About 15,000 American sailors and soldiers streamed ashore to occupy the capital city of Keijo, 23 miles away, to the cheers of the natives. A crowd estimated at 100,000 gathered in the vicinity of the capitol to watch the lowering of the Jap flag and the raising of the Stars and Stripes.

Thousands of American prisoners of war, many listed as missing, were assembled, identified and headed for home.

Former Resident Gets Discharge

Randall Leroy Aikin, AMM2/c, V-6, USNR., formerly a resident of this city where he was employed with the S. H. Kress Company, received his honorable discharge from the Naval Air Corps on Wednesday, October 10, at the separation center at Shoemaker, Calif.

Enlisting in the service on June 18, 1942, he received his training on the west coast and for the past sixteen months has been stationed at Pearl Harbor with the assembly and repair department of the Naval Air Station. He wears the good Conduct Medal and the Asiatic Pacific ribbon.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Aikin of Franklin, Nebr., and his wife resides at Artesia. He plans to enter Civil Service work.

BACK TO ARMY DUTY

Cpl. Tom Bevins left last Monday night to return to duty with the Army Air Corps at Amarillo, Texas, after spending a 15-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bevins, 322 North Pine street. Tom enlisted in August, 1944, and now is assigned to the Air Corps supply department. He attended Fullerton Junior college one term before entering service, and plans to return to his studies there on that welcome day when he is handed his discharge papers.

WINS DISCHARGE

Sgt. Clyde A. Martin of this city, recently received his honorable discharge from the Air Corps at the Santa Ana Army Air Base after three years of duty, the entire time being spent in the United States. His wife, Mrs. Margaret Martin lives in this city.

Peace Officers' Ball October 26

Members of the Anaheim police department are secretly polishing up on the waltz and the fox trot, as they remember its execution, in preparation for the annual benefit ball of the Orange County Peace Officers association, to be held at the Rendezvous ball room, Balboa, October 26.

Tickets calling for admittance of one couple have been sent to each member of the association.

Chief of Police T. L. Wilder predicts that Anaheim will be well represented at the affair by such members of the department as are lucky enough to be off duty on the night of the big shindig.

County Health Assn. Plans to Enter Three Floats in Parade Here

The Gazette has been informed that the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health Association are seriously considering entering three floats in the Hallowe'en parade to be staged in this city on Wednesday, Oct. 31.

According to present plans, floats from the workshop division of the county hospital, one from the health department housing the tubercular patients and a float depicting the current Christmas Seal stamp will be entered. Arrangements will be made to secure a local boy who can represent the lad on the current stamp.

Much enthusiasm is being evidenced among the patients in the hospital concerning the coming event.

The average American consumes more than 3,000 calories a day; Parisians get along on 1,900; and the Greeks survive on 700.

Co. Tuberculosis Association Sets Christmas Seal Sale

The board of directors of the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health Association recently set a goal of $35,000 for the sale of the TB Christmas Seals, according to an announcement by Robert Burns McAulay, chairman of the county-wide Christmas seal campaign.

At the meeting held at the YWCA in Santa Ana, the following projects for which the money is used was formally approved: The program of the tuberculosis association in cooperation with other official and private lay and medical groups, is to teach the cause of tuberculosis and methods of prevention, discover unsuspected cases through mass surveys, examine those in contact with open tuberculosis, diagnosis the suspicious case, start rehabilitation during treatment in a sanatorium, adequately staffed with medical and nursing personnel with facilities for surgery, vocational training and placement in selected jobs, and continuous social and medical supervision. The association voted two years ago to support a program to develop heart disease control programs in Orange county as it has tuberculosis programs during the last thirty-seven years.

In order to carry out this all-important work, the forthcoming drive must be a success, as it undoubtedly will be, since past records show that each year the goal has been reached. The drive this year will be conducted from Nov. 19 until Christmas and is the minimum amount necessary to carry out the activities planned for 1946, according to Mr. McAulay.

People in the United States eat twice as many canned vegetables today per capita as they did in 1909, but only one fourth more fresh vegetables.

ORDINANCE NO. 483

AN ORDINANCE OF THE COUNTY OF ORANGE AMENDING ORDINANCE NO. 475 OF THE COUNTY OF ORANGE.

The Board of Supervisors of the County of Orange, State of California, also acting as the Board of Supervisors of the Orange County Flood Control District and other Districts for which the Board of Supervisors is the governing body, do ordain as follows.

SECTION 1. Sections 6, 9 and 34 of Ordinance No. 475 of the County of Orange, being an Ordinance entitled "AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE NUMBER AND COMPENSATION OF OFFICERS, ASSISTANTS, DEPUTIES, CLERKS AND ATTACHES EMPLOYED IN THE VARIOUS AND SEVERAL OFFICES OF THE COUNTY OF ORANGE AND DISTRICTS FOR WHICH THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS ARE THE GOVERNING BODY, AND OTHER PERSONS, AND PROVIDING RULES AND REGULATIONS RELATIVE TO CERTAIN DEPARTMENTS", is hereby amended to read as follows:

"SECTION 6. Hours and Overtime.

No person, except in the Highway and Flood Control Departments, holding a position in the service of the County of Orange shall receive compensation for services rendered over eight hours in any one calendar day, nor for services upon Sundays or holidays, nor compensation when absent from duty except as otherwise in this Ordinance provided; provided that whenever any person holding a position, the compensation of which is herein fixed at a rate per day, shall be ordered to and shall work on holidays or Sundays, or work over eight hours on any day because in the opinion of the head of the department in which such person is employed such work is necessary, and if non-performance will cause loss or damage to the County, such person shall receive for such hours of overtime work additional compensation proportionate to the amount allowed for eight hours service for which compensation is herein fixed; provided, that any such additional compensation shall be separately itemized on the payroll. Provided, further, that in the Highway and Flood Control Departments when it shall be deemed necessary for any employee in said Departments to work overtime as herein provided or on Sundays or holidays, said persons in said Departments may be paid for said overtime at the same rate at which said persons are so employed.

Provided also, that whenever any person holding a position in the service of the County, the compensation for which is fixed on a monthly basis, shall be compelled to render service on Sundays or holidays, or over eight hours in one day, the head of the department in which said person is employed may allow said person a leave of absence with pay for a period of time according to the time which said person has been compelled to render overtime service. The maximum leave of absence for overtime permitted in any one calendar year shall be 12 working days, unless otherwise ordered by the Board of Supervisors; and provided, further that said leave of absence for overtime work shall in no event be taken so as to extend or prolong the vacation period as hereinafter in this Ordinance provided, but said leave of absence shall and must be taken as follows: Within a period of one year from and after the earning of said overtime leave of absence."

"SECTION 9. Compensation

(a) Whenever in this Ordinance compensation is fixed for any position, such compensation is the monthly compensation to be paid to the person holding such position unless otherwise stated. Such monthly compensation shall be paid on or about the 1st day of each following calendar month.

(b) Whenever in this Ordinance compensation is fixed for any position at a rate per year, said compensation shall be paid, to the person holding such position, in monthly installments as nearly equal as may be possible on or about the 1st day of each calendar month.

(c) Compensation for each officer, board, commission, assistant, deputy, clerk, attache, and other employees in the service of the County for whom compensation is in the Ordinance provided, shall be paid out of the Salary Fund of the County, except when otherwise provided in this Ordinance or by law, upon certification by the department head to the auditor that such employee has performed the number of days of work as set forth in said certificate. Provided, however, whenever an employee shall have been discharged by the head of his said department, or otherwise terminated his service, certification of such discharge or termination by the head of such department shall immediately be filed with the County Auditor of the County of Orange, whereupon said Auditor shall draft his warrant for the period of time and/or pay due said employee up to the time of discharge.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Doctrine of Atonement" will be the subject of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The Golden Text is from Mark: "The Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many."

In the Acts it is related that the next day after Peter and John had healed the lame man at the gate of the temple, the rulers and scribes set Peter in their midst, and asked, "By what power, or by what name, have ye done this? Then Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, . . . If we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole; Be it known unto you all, . . . that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole."

Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "Jesus established his church and maintained his mission on a spiritual foundation of Christ-healing. He taught his followers that his religion had a divine Principle, which would cast out error and heal the both the sick and the sinning. He claimed no intelligence, action, nor life separate from God."

St. Michael Church To Hold Special Youth Service Sun.

On Sunday, October 21, at 11 o'clock a.m., St. Michael's Episcopal church will have a special service commemorating National Episcopal Youth Sunday, when the rector, Rev. John K. Saville, will bring an inspiring message on "The Challenge to Youth". All young people of the parish will participate in this service and all young people of Anaheim who are not affiliated with another church are cordially invited to attend.

Opening the service, a special anthem will be sung by the choir with solo parts being sung by Miss Natalie Morris. Terry Kilduff will read the lesson. Donald Garrett will assist in ushering and the taking up of the offering. Pamela Van Buren will make a special announcement of St. Michael youth plans while James Horne and Terry Kilduff will be servers. A special youth offering for St. Luke's Children's hospital in Manila will be made.

Announcement has been made that one of the new youth organization of the church is Young People's Service League, directed by Mrs. Mildred Olding and meets each Sunday at 11 a.m. in the church.

The House of Young Churchmen of Orange County will be entertained here on Sunday evening, Oct. 28, with the young people of the St. Michael's church as hosts to the guests. The service will begin with an evening prayer at 7:15 at the church. Following this Donna Culbertson will lead a discussion on "Juvenile Delinquency" to which young speakers from Santa Ana and Orange will contribute.

Sunday evening, Oct. 21, Mrs. Frank Garrett, the new choir mother, is having a choir party at her home, 606 South Clementine street, beginning at 7:30 p.m. with the first part of the evening given to election of officers. New members interested in singing in the choir are invited to attend.

Presbyterian Youth Will Attend Meeting

Local Presbyterian youth will attend the three day annual convention of Westminster Fellowship at the Pasadena Presbyterian church on Friday evening, October 26, and lasting through the 28th.

Young people between the ages of 12 and 24 throughout southern California will join in the conclave, which leaders state will be the largest ever to be conducted by the denomination in this area.

Prominent speakers will be present to bring the highlights of the meeting and entertainment for all ages is being planned.

White Temple Church Events of Interest

Last Monday evening, the first of the evening circle meetings for the ladies was held at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. Grace Ahlstrom at 110 South Walnut street, these meetings being held for those who are unable to attend the afternoon circles. Rev. Roy Rogers was guest speaker, using as his topic "Africa", and during his talk he showed many interesting articles brought from this strange land. Additional feature was the two songs, "Roll Jordan, Roll" and "Deep River" as sung by Lyman Harpster and Fred Edwards.

Tomorrow evening, Friday, open house will be held at the parsonage from 7:30 until 10:30 to which all members and friends of the church are especially invited. Co-hostesses for the evening will be the young women of the Prospectors Class.

On Oct. 26, the young people of the church will enjoy a Hallowe'en party and plans are going forward for the All-Church Potluck to be held on Nov. 1. This event has been postponed several times for various causes.

Former Pastor of Free Methodist to Preach Here Sun.

Of special interest is the announcement of the service Sunday night at the Free Methodist Church, Broadway & Clementine. In May 1943 Rev. Bergen Birdsall, after serving two years as pastor of the local church, entered the chaplaincy of the United States Army. Chaplain Birdsall has recently returned from Saipan and at the invitation of the local pastor, J. B. Abbott, Chaplain Birdsall will occupy the pulpit Sunday night. Accompanying him will be Mrs. Birdsall and their son, Byron.

A special feature of the service will be the appearance of the Junior Choir under the direction of Miss Edith Gay. Mr. Paul Beatty will direct the song service which will begin promtly at 7:30 p.m.

Jacob Deshazer Brings Inspiring Talk to Young People

Jacob Deshazer, bombardier on one of the B-25's of Doolittle's squadron that staged the first raid over Tokyo, brought an inspirational message to the young people of the First Church of the Nazarene, when he appeared at their meeting last Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

He was in one of the two planes that were grounded and their crew later captured by the Japs, the history of which is now written into the archives of the last big war, World War II. Held in the Jap prison camps for three years and four months, he told of witnessing many horrible and gruesome scenes, of mistreatment and starvation and of the many other horrors they experienced at the hands of the Japs. Later he was sentenced to be executed but the Emperor gave him a life sentence instead. On August 20, the happiest day of his life, he and the men with him were freed by American paratroopers, that courageous group of fighting men that dared risk the jaws of death to carry out their mission of warfare.

Laying the foundation for his future, Jacob Deshazer plans some day to return to the land of the "Rising Sun" as a missionary.

Along the Union Pacific Strategic Middle Route, uniting the East with the Pacific Coast, stretches a vast network of telephone and telegraph wires. Over these wires go orders controlling movement of all trains.

To insure efficient and safe operation, extreme care must be taken in transmitting. For example, the Union Pacific "book of rules" gives the following instructions for the transmittal of train orders by telephone . . . "time will be spelled and then pronounced, thus: t-w-o t-e-n, 2:10 pm."

Union Pacific's efficient operation has been developed throughout seventy-six years of service to the nation in peace and in war. A tremendous amount of "know how" has been accumulated during those many years.

F. L. Pierpoint Sees Jap Surprise as Yanks Enter Harbor

ABOARD THE USS PENSACOLA AT OMINATO.—Franklyn L. Pierpoint, baker, Seaman, first class, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floy Pierpoint, of 226 Ellworth, Anaheim, witnessed the astonishment of the Jap harbor pilots when they saw this cruiser at the surrender ceremonies off Ominato, Japan.

The Japs at various times in the last three years had reported sinking the "Grey Ghost" five times. The first time was at the battle of Santa Cruz, in October, 1942. Then off Guadalcanal, at Taroa, at Saipan, and at Okinawa the Grey Ghost was either hit, or near hit, prompting Jap sinking reports.

As Jap surrender emmissaries ventured toward the flagship of Vice Admiral Jack Fletcher in the harbor, their whale boat passed close beneath the Pensacola. It was here that crew members of the "Grey Ghost" saw the amazement of the Japs that the Pensacola was still afloat.

Well, Anyway, the Answer Was Um Um

CICERO'S CAT — This Is What Is Known as a Sock in the Puss — By BUD FISHER

STEM: KILLING THE COP SURE PUT THE FINGER ON US!

NONSENSE, TWO LIPS, I TOLD YOU I HAD A PLAN TO BEAT THE RAP!

SPILL IT, BIG SHOT!

WHILE THEY'RE LOOKING FOR THE COP KILLER, I'LL PULL A FAST ONE AND TAKE THEIR MINDS OFF THE KILLING!

FIRST I'LL KIDNAP THE COURIER CARRYING THE LARGEST SHIPMENT OF DIAMONDS EVER SMUGGLED INTO THIS COUNTRY!

HOW?

IN A NICE BULLET-PROOF MOVING VAN!

FIRST, YOU KILL SQUID...THEN A COP... NOW YOU PLAN TO STEAL DIAMONDS TO GET THEM OFF THEIR TRAIL! WHAT A MAN!

IF WE SUCCEED... YOU'LL GET THE FLAMING RUBY!

LET US VISIT DEVIL'S QUICKSAND MARSH-DON'S IDEA TO LIFT THE CEMENT BLOCK OUT OF THE SINKING TRUCK WITH A CRANE WAS GOOD. HOWEVER, IT SLIPPED FROM THE METAL FINGERS AND CRASHED TO THE GROUND.

WE'RE IN LUCK THAT IT DIDN'T FALL INTO THE QUICKSAND!

YOU SAID IT, SKIPPER! WHAT DO YOU MAKE OF THIS SHOE?

NOTHING, EXCEPT SOMEONE'S FOOT'S INSIDE...HOLY MACKEREL--LET ME SEE...

GREAT CAESAR! WHERE'VE I SEEN THIS STRANGE RUBBER HEEL DESIGN?

MEANWHILE

OUR RENDEZVOUS WITH DUSTY'S AT TEN... WE'VE GOT FIFTEEN MINUTES!

HE'S DEAD!

TAKE IT EASY, HONEY!... VON TIGRON MUDDIED UP THE LIVES OF EVERYBODY HE HAD CONTACT WITH! HIS VICIOUS LITTLE GIRLFRIEND MARINA ADORNS A MEXICAN JAIL NOW BECAUSE OF HIM! AND HE TRICKED YOU INTO MARRIAGE...

THAT IS WHERE I COME IN!

WHEN SHE COMES IN I GO UP AND GIVE 'ER THE WORKS! SHE'LL HOLLER AND--

CONTINUED

As Cairo emerges from the Mexican cave...

SEÑORITA! QUE HA PASADO? SABER VON TIGRON ... WHERE EES HE?

YOU'LL FIND HIM INSIDE, GENTLEMEN!

...HE WAS AN EVIL MAN! HIS FINANCIAL SKILL HELPED MAKE HITLERISM POSSIBLE -- AND BROUGHT DEATH AND MISERY TO MILLIONS OF INNOCENT PEOPLE! BUT IT WAS HORRIBLE TO SEE HIM... SWINGING...

SURE -- SURE! I GOT IT STRAIGHT, BOSS!

NO SLIP-UPS, SAMMY! THIS GIRL'S A BEAUTIFUL BLONDE WITH A BRAID, AND SHE'LL BE WEARING A POLKA DOT DRESS!

But at that moment, plans are being laid that may make Cairo's vacation more exciting than she expects!

In a Florida hotel...

By Bob Oksner and Jerry Albert

HED HIDDEN MILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN GOLD AND JEWELS IN THAT CAVE -- HIS SHANGRI-LA -- FOR THE MOMENT WHEN HE EXPECTED TO MAKE A COME-BACK! ...ONLY SOMEBODY-LA TURNED OUT TO BE A WATERLOO!

A short time later...

STEVE... NOTHING COULD SOUND SWEETER THAN THAT!

YOU'RE DUE FOR A GOOD REST, CAIRO -- AND I'M THE GUY WHO'S GOING TO ANCHOR YOU ON THE MIAMI SAND AND TAKE A WHIP TO YOU IF YOU LIFT A FINGER!

Back in town, at the hotel...

CAIRO! WHAT HAPPENED?

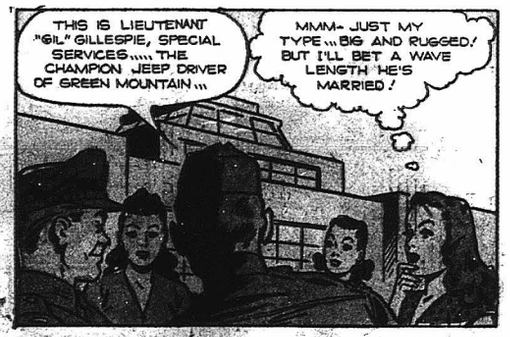

I CORNERED SABER IN HIS CAVE, STEVE! RATHER THAN FACE TRIAL AS A WAR CRIMINAL HE--HE HANGED HIMSELF!

...SO THAT HE COULD USE YOUR AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP TO HELP HIM ESCAPE AFTER GERMANY FELL! IT'S A BIT OF CLASSIC GREEK JUSTICE THAT YOU TURNED OUT TO BE HIS NEMESIS!
