COLONY QUIPS

This week the two major political parties meet in convention to pick their leaders and draft a statewide platform. Much "inside" log rolling has been going on in order to get this or that man the top spot and to get this or that plank in the platform. The funny thing is that it all means so little because under our direct primary law the voter does just as he pleases. The so-called heads of the party are not able to tell a person how to vote just because he happens to be registered in a certain political party. That is probably why an attempt is now being made to put an initiative measure on the November ballot to outlaw cross-filing. The heads of both political parties see eye to eye on this one. We believe they simply want more control. The recent primary elections showed that Mr. Voter went out and voted for the man he liked best regardless of party. The voters have seldom been wrong in picking a man for public office. In our republican form of government we must have men who work and try and do not sit around waiting to take orders from party leaders. And that, we believe, is the strength of California's primary law. Better not change it.

Back in 1904 a young boy came to work in the Gazette office. He worked for some years as a printers "devil" and held down many other jobs in this place. His name was Elton Goble. He made a call here this week to see his mother and to renew old acquaintances. His son has returned from the service and now is associated with Elton in the Victor Valley with Elton in the Victor Valley Insurance Agency at Victorville. He reports that things are going fine up in the valley and that the people are prosperous. This is the first vacation Elton and his wife have had for some years but now that their son is home getting away will be easier.

Elton remembers when the printers used to drink too much on a Saturday night and have a little trouble getting out of jail on Monday morning. But they do not do that any more.'

So much has been said about the paper shortage and as most everybody is in some way interested in paper we reprint below a statement by a large paper concern relative to the paper outlook;

Much criticism, whether or not justified, is being leveled at the manufacturers of many commodities accusing them of withholding goods from the market, pending price increases. So far as we know, no such charges have been made against the paper industry. If they have been made, those making them have spoken without a knowledge of facts.

The facts are that this country's peak production of paper and paper board was a year of relatively high profits. Paper prices generally were frozen at the levels existing in the fall of '41. Since that time only minor relief has been given by OPA but during this period costs have risen on every raw material and service that enters into paper manufacture. Nevertheless, the year 1946 is seeing paper production and shipment at a new high level exceeding even the peak year 1941, despite the fact that profits are in nowise comparable to that year.

While some degree of optimism is in order because of the high rate of production for the first six months of 1946, there is little indication that it will be maintained during the second six months. Foreign pulp is not reaching us in substantial quantities. Domestic pulp production is just about holding its own. Paper production is nearly at its maximum with the machines now operating. Government demands are again increasing.

The immediate future outlook is one of greater demand than supply.

Launch Plans For Vet Picnic Here August 15

A request to families and other groups not to make plans for picnicking in the city park August 15, was voiced her Wednesday as committee chairmen launched plans for the giant veterans reunion to be staged here next month.

The plea to families other than those of veterans was made following a meeting in the Anaheim chamber of commerce Tuesday night in which preparations were made for the gigantic picnic.

During the meeting, chairmen of the various committees were appointed and all members of the city council were notified they will act as ex-officio members.

William Wallop, chairman of the food committee, announced food is being purchased for 3,000 persons and Everett Cone, entertainment chairman, reported five acts of the best vaudeville on the west coast will be staged for the benefit of the former servicemen.

The vaudeville acts will be staged in the evening in the Greek theatre, he said, and an orchestra that has been engaged for the affair will play dance music for those desiring to dance on the tennis courts which are to be reserved for that purpose.

All sports facilities of the park will be kept open during the day-long reunion.

It was emphasized that only veterans and their immediate families and friends would be eligible for participation in the picnic and warning was voiced to all private families and groups, making picnic plans for that day in the city park, to cancel such plans and make other arrangements.

Appointments at the meeting included: F. Ben Kaulbars, general chairman; Mayor Charles Pearson, honorary chairman; Leo Sheridan, advisor; Mark Stephenson, chairman of the police committee; Lotus H. Loudon, chairman of the publicity committee; Vic Ruedy, chairman of the sports committee; Rudy Boysen, chairman of the park's arrangement committee; Al Raymond, chairman of the finance committee.

Mrs. Olive Shoemaker, president of the Business and Professional Women's club and Mrs. H. W. Saulsbery, president of the Ebell club, were appointed co-chairmen of the reception committee.

Local Mystery Linked With L. A. Slaying

County investigators, baffled at every turn in the brutal slaying of Carrie D. Bendel, 19-year old Long Beach waitress, this week turned to Los Angeles police, seeking a possible link following discovery of a young woman's body in a remote trash dump in the Palos Verde hills.

More than three dozen men, many of whom claimed intimacies with the Bendel woman, found dead two weeks ago in a gum grove one mile west of Stanton, have been questioned, but released after establishing alibis.

The turn to the police of Los Angeles county came following the discovery of the young woman's body last week end which investigators feel may be the work of the same slayer.

Local officers were reported conferring with Los Angeles police to learn if there are any similarities in the manner in which the two women met death and possibly match suspects.

Possibility that the same killer who strangled the Bendel woman and threw her body, partly nude in the remote gum grove near Stanton killed woman found near Lomita last Sunday was considered very strongly by officers both in Orange and Los Angeles counties.

A large variety of minerals are found in the state of Arkansas. They include both bituminous and semi-anthracite coal, lignite, lead and zinc ores, copper and manganese; also marble, slate, granite, kaolin and a valuable hone-stone. Bauxite ore is also mined in large quantities.

Not until 1898 was "The" dropped as the first word in the official title of Pomona College.

Lemon Crop May Reach 1945 Crop, Exchange Says

Supplies of lemons which have been ample throughout the winter and spring months should continue so through August, the California Fruit Growers Exchange reported this week in their monthly publication, Sunkist Merchandiser.

Early in 1946 it became apparent that the lemon crop would be anything but normal. Due to growing conditions the fruit matured earlier than usual and the average size at maturity was consequently smaller.

Cold weather for an extended period killed considerable bloom. Fruit which had just started to form from the bloom also was killed. These circumstances indicated abundant supplies early in the year and little chance for late summer and fall lemons.

Fortunately lemon growing conditions have improved. Total lemon sales to May 19 this year were 11,118 cars compared with 11,600 cars for the same period in 1945. Remaining lemon supplies can mean as heavy sales for jobbers and retailers this year as in 1945. Lemons sales for the 1945 season reached the impressive figure of 23,555 cars.

Member for these statewide committees are being selected from all parts of California, to give complete statewide representation in the study of all plans and problems.

The United States Department of Agriculture was organized as a bureau in the department of the Interior in 1862. In 1889 it was made an executive department of the government, and its Secretary became a member of the President's cabinet.

LA HABRAN FELLS TREES WHEN ASLEEP HERE

Dean P. Holsgrafe, 419 North Lois street, La Habra, became a lumberjack momentarily when he fell asleep at the wheel of his automobile last Sunday morning at 2:30 o'clock. He nearly clipped off three palm trees in the parkway as he careened over the curb at Valencia and Los Angeles streets. He was uninjured but surprised. His car suffered a slightly scarred bumper.

Parking Meter Ordinance Gets Council Okeh

Passage of Ordinance 702 concerning installation and use of parking meters in Anaheim was passed on its third and final reading before the city council last Tuesday night.

Passage of the ordinance came with little protest from store owners or others and was expected to remove considerable traffic congestion, now a major problem in the city's business area.

Streets upon which meters will be installed include, Los Angeles, Lemon, Clementine, Claudina, Oak, Chestnut, Emily, Helena, Philadelphia and Center streets.

Cost of the meters to the city is $59.50 each and with installation charges their individual cost is boosted to $63.50 each.

No definite date for receiving the meters here has yet been set and city officials predict it may probably be within the next 30 to 60 days. Until the meters are paid off, Charles E. Griffith, city clerk said, the city will receive 25 per cent and the parking meter manufacturing company 75 per cent of the meter's income for a period of one year, then receipts will be divided on a 50-50 basis until the meters are paid off.

Local Store Celebrates 20 Years of Business

Marking 20 years of service to buyers of household furnishings in the Anaheim area, Mahaffey and Fitz, 123-131 West Center street, will celebrate two decades of business here with an anniversary celebration ending August 1.

The store which has occupied three different locations in the city since its inception, has been located at its new address since 1943.

The business originally started by G. C. Mahaffey, who had operated a similar type store in Fort Collins, Colorado, several years prior to his establishment here, opened here in 1926 with L. C. Vincent as a partner.

One year later August Fitz joined the firm as a furniture employe and upon Vincent's retirement from active participation in the firm's affairs in 1941, assumed the role of a partner in the enterprise.

Gene G. Mahaffey, son of the firm's founder, joined the firm several years ago, entering into active partnership with his father and Fitz and today is one of the active leaders in the concern's activities.

Started as a small shop the firm has grown and expanded until today it boasts of an 80 foot front and extends a distance of 150 feet from the street entrance to the rear of the store.

Fitz is Past Noble Grand and Past Chief Patriarch of the I.O.O.F., Anaheim encampment. Mahaffey is a member of the Kiwanis and is an officer on the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

Seek Missing Anaheim Rancher In Santa Barbara

Local police, assisted by the Orange county sheriff's office, early this week, were attempting to learn if a Santa Barbara county amnesia victim may be a missing citrus rancher from here.

Anaheim police were informed John W. Yates, 38, rancher of route 2, box 404, Anaheim, left home in a pickup truck. Police quoted the missing man's father, Sidney Yates, Santa Monica, as saying, his son suffered from a neck injury and had suffered previous amnesia attacks.

Yates was described as 6 feet 1 inch tall and weighing 146 pounds. Reports from Santa Barbara police said the man there was 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighed 168 pounds.

Five Local Boys Win Honors At CHSC Camp

Cadet Eugene Hutain of Anaheim received his honor bars for the best cadet with five other California youths during a formal review at the California High School Cadet Corps 12-day encampment at Fort Ord last Thursday. Letters of commendation for outstanding administrative assistance went to Cadet Staff Sergeants Richard Talbot and Maurice Webster, Cadet T/5 Richard Hoxie and Cadet James Heffron, all of this city, during the ceremony also.

These boys were among 42 Anaheim cadets to attend the CHSC encampment with approximately 700 boys from thoroughout the state. The group returned to their homes last Friday, marking the close of the largest annual encampment in the 35-year history of the corps.

Highlight of the final days of the encampment was the award of 14 American Legion medals to outstanding cadet officers and marksmen and the decoration of 29 cadets with honor cadet bars at the impressive formal review. It was presented before Brigadier General Curtis D. O'Sullivan, the state adjutant general; Brigadier General James R. N. Weaver, post commander of Fort Ord; Brigadier General David A. D. Ogden, commander of the Second Engineer Special Brigade stationed at Ord, and Colonel W. R. Woodward, who represented General Joseph Stilwell, Sixth Army commander.

Awards of American Legion medals were made by Colonel William Rutherford, Sacramento, chairman of the Legion committee on CHSC affairs.

Honor cadet bars for best non-commissioned cadet officers were awarded by General O'Sullivan.

The encampment which opened July 1 was under the direction of Col. Chester E. Mitchell, director of CHSC, and Lt. Col. George W. Walker, of Napa, camp commandant. A staff of 37 CHSC commandants assisted in the extensive training program.

The 12-day encampment included instruction in citizenship, first aid, swimming and life saving, target shooting and leadership problems as well as demonstrations by army personnel.

Rossberg Heads Chamber of Commerce

Robert J. Rossberg, manager of the Southern California Telephone company branch office here was elected president of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce last week succeeding Everett M. Cone, local auto dealer.

First official action of the new president was to appoint a finance committee with Victor G. Loly as chairman. Other members of the commiteee include Wilson W. Phelps, Everett M. Cone, O. E. Hanson, Frank Belmont and Robert Boney.

Phelps, president of the Southern County bank was elected vice-president.

The meeting which saw Rossberg unanimously elected to the presidency of the group, was held at the Parker house.

The Rev. H. G. Schmelzer in a report to the chamber disclosed the group now boasts of the largest membership in its history with 360 members to date and 38 new memberships soon to be received.

"You didn't miss much!"—the President's 93-year old mother.

Business license fees, previously announced as due July 10, will become delinquent next Monday. A ten per cent penalty will be added to the regular license fee after that date, it was announced by Mark A. Stephenson, chief of police. The fees are payable to Robert Long, deputy license collector at the collector window of the light and water office, city hall, 204 East Center street.

Bond Sales In County Total $779,540

U. S. Savings Bond purchases by the people of Orange county in June helped to boost southern California's total for the month to $24,113,732, which was $1,008,126 more than the May sales figure. The county's bond sales total for June was $779,540.

These figures have just been announced by Fred H. Johnson, director of the Treasury's Savings Bonds Division for the 11 southern counties, who also pointed out that it was significant that in southern California the June sales of Series E Bonds alone reached $15,931,242, a gain of $1,077,546 over E Bond sales in May. The other two series going to make up the grand total are F's and G's.

Although sales of savings bonds of all categories in June showed a decline of $23,117,000 as compared with May nationally, Johnson said it is a source of gratification to the treasury to note a marked falling off in bond cashins. The national total of redemptions in June, 491,102,000, was the smallest for any one month since July, 1945, and was 20 per cent less than in March, 1946, the peak redemption month, he said.

"It is apparent that for the most part Savings Bond owners convert them into cash only in case of emergency or to complete necessary financial transactions," Johnson said. "The volume of new investment indicates full appreciation of their safety and good rate of interest return. This is a healthy situation when the importance to national prosperity of widespread ownership of government securities is thoroughly understood, for they are a backlog against both ruinous inflation and depression."

No County Rent Control Planned Board Head Says

Voicing no objection to state control of rents Willis H. Warner, chairman of the Orange county board of supervisors, last week announced the board does not plan to adopt any local rent control measure.

Warner pointed out that no rent problems have developed in the unincorporated areas of the county which require measures to protect the interests of the public.

While some cases of rent increases have been reported since the death of OPA last month, Warner said most of the increases appeared justified by conditions.

In cases where increases have been unusually high, he said, they appeared for the purpose of ousting undesirable tenants rather than to receive increased revenue from tenancy.

Court Approves Sale of Citrus Grove for $99,000

Sale of a 40-acre citrus grove in Anaheim, part of the estate of the late John W. Harpster, for a reported $99,000, was approved by the Superior court in Santa Ana last week.

Purchasers of the 40-acre tract were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stearn of Buena Park, who it was reported, paid $59,000 in cash and signed a promissory note for the remainder.

D. L. Harpster, executor of the estate and son of the dead man, made the sale and requested the approval of the court.

John Harpster died in Anaheim on February 16, 1934, leaving the bulk of his estate valued at more than $250,000 to his son.

Three years ago a 30-acre tract from the estate was sold for a reported $60,000 to Ernest E. Combs.

County Retail Sales Up 17 Per Cent

Retail sales in Orange county totaled $108,552,000 in 1945, according to a survey by the research department of the California State Chamber of Commerce. This is a 17.6 per cent increase in county retail sales over 1944 and a gain of 116.6 per cent over 1939 retail sale dollar volume.

Sales of retail stores in California in 1945 totaled $6,709,271,000, according to the state chamber. This is an increase of 14.7 per cent over the 1944 dollar volume of sales, and 110.5 per cent over the 1939 retail sales. Per capita retail sales in California in 1945 were $760, or 61.7 per cent over the state's 1939 per capita sales. Last year's per capita retail sales in the United States were $556, an increase from the national per capita sales figure of $321 in 1939.

Sales by California retail stores rose from 7.6 per cent of the national total in 1939 to approximately 9 per cent in 1945. Primary cause of this increasing share of the national total was increasing population, which rose from 5.3 per cent of the national total in 1939 to 6.7 per cent in 1945.

'Swell Guy' Movie Scene Shot Today At the Stables

"Golden Spur" was the new sign decorating the Stables, 121 South Los Angeles street, accented by a huge guilded replica of a spur this morning revealed the shooting of the forthcoming Mark Hellenger production "Swell Guy."

Pedestrians crowded the area and traffic was congested in the vicinity as activity began at 9 o'clock. Completing the setting were neon signs inscribed "cocktails" and "Golden Spur," each centered in the large French windows of the local bar.

The Universal Pictures Company, Inc., of Hollywood production, expected to be ready for exhibition in about 30 days, will depict the return of a small town youth who rose to fame and fortune as a war correspondent only to become involved in trouble upon his arrival home.

Tragic climax shows him vindicated to the town as he gives his life while attempting to save a small child.

Anaheim was chosen as the effective background for the story as being a typical small American town.

Sunny Tufts and Lynn Blythe are starred in the leading roles, with Ruth Warwick and Bill Gargan.

Robert Siodmak is director of the production. Tony Guadio is the director of photography, ASC.

Water Shortage Threat Voiced By Citrus Man

Dire warning that "combined natural water supplies of the individual watersheds of Southern California are . . . seriously overdrawn" was voiced here recently when Ross A. Shafer, Orange county citrus grower submitted a report on water supplies to a joint agriculture and industrial committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

In the eight-page survey of the southland's rapidly growing water supply problem, Shafer states, "no actual shortage of water exists in the basins on the river, except in the coastal basin of Orange county, where an annual overdraft approximating 12,000 acre feet has been estimated by the Division of Water Resources."

Shafer further stated, "This deficiency will no doubt increase with continued urban and industrial drafts upon the common water supply in the three counties traversed by the river."

His reference "by the river" in the above mentioned statement referred to the traversal of five major basins by the Santa Ana river, which on its course from the mountains to the sea, encounters the five basins, San Bernardind, Colton, Jurupa, Prado and Coastal; in addition to an overflow feed from two tributary stream basins flanking the main river.

These are the large Chino basin on the north and the Temescal or Corona basin on the south.

"That this increased deficit will be chiefly influenced by developments up-stream is indicated by data compiled by the U. S. Geological Survey.

"Using July stream flow as an index, these data show that the progressive ten-year mean July discharge for the period 1934-44, for the Santa Ana river at Mentone, above the points of use, equalled 110 per cent of the mean discharge for July; that of Lytle Creek, a tributary entering the stream above most points of diversion equalled 153 per cent while the lower river entering Orange county, gauged at Prado, equalled only 90 per cent of the mean monthly discharge for July."

The Shafer report further stated, "The natural water supplies . . . are . . . either the sole source or the major source of supply upon which all but a few of the cities and rural communities of this region depend."

The first white men to visit that part of the United States now designated as the state of Illinois was Marquette and Joliet. They visited it by crossing the Illinois river in 1673.

COUNTY MOVES TO ERADICATE T.B. X-RAY TESTS TO BE HELD IN AUGUST; 1,000 HERE VICTIMS OF DISEASE

A county-wide search for unknown cases of tuberculosis will be inaugurated early next month under a mass X-ray program being sponsored jointly by the Orange County Tuberculosis association and the Orange County Health department, according to an announcement recently made by William R. Hynds, president of the association.

"This is one of the most important steps taken by the sponsoring organizations for the control of tuberculosis," said Mr. Hynds. "It is estimated that approximately 1,000 persons in Orange county have tuberculosis, a communicable disease which is spread from person to person.

"Of this number, only 750 are known to the health authorities. Thus, there are something like 250 people here who probably do not even know they are ill, since tuberculosis often has no outward symptoms in its early stage, yet who are losing their health and may be giving the disease to others. The only way to find these unknown cases is to X-ray apparently healthy people."

The X-ray project will begin with the examination of the office personnel and workers in the larger industrial plants. A modern transportable X-ray unit, owned by the California Tuberculosis association will be used. It will be operated by expert technicians and the films will be read by local roentgenologists. Schedules are being made and other preliminary work is being done by the association. Nurses aids, who have also assisted in other similar programs, will keep records and assist when the X-rays are taken.

After industrial workers have been X-rayed, other groups will be invited to join in the search for all unknown cases of tuberculosis by having chest-Xrays, according to Mr. Hynds.

"We hope that every adult in the community will want to participate in this program to control tuberculosis," he said. "We are beginning with industries for two reasons, one is that workers in industrial plants represent large groups which can be easily reached. The other is that, generally speaking, workers are particularly vulnerable to tuberculosis.

"It cannot be over-emphasized, however, that tuberculosis knows no boundary lines. Anyone may get the disease and any case of tuberculosis in the community is a threat to the rest of the community.

"Because of the long symptomless onset of the disease, the only way one can be sure his lungs are healthy is to have chest X-rays. The presence of the disease is revealed by X-ray before its symptoms appear and while the disease is still in a stage when it responds most readily to treatment."

UNEASY PHILIPPINES

Reports from Manila reveal that the new Philippine ship of state is already running into heavy seas in its domestic navigation. The storm broke when government efforts to pacify the rebellion peasants on Central Luzon failed. Fighting between the peasants and government forces is said to have reached sizable proportions. Backbone of the uprising are the Hukbalahap guerillas—themselves peasants—who demand land reforms for the poverty-stricken farmers. There have been some predictions that a full-fledged war between the "Huks" and the government would develop. Let us hope, however, that the Filipinos can settle their internal differences without subjecting their country to further violence.

A-BOMB RESULTS

Further studies of the results of the atomic bomb explosion at Bikini reveal that the blast "heard 'round the world" was anything but a "bust" as some persons seemed to think. Even though it was not as spectacular as its predecessors and did not create a complete catastrophe at Bikini, it left behind considerable evidence that it packed more than a "sissy" punch. The fact that it crushed coral 100 feet below the surface of the lagoon indicates the wallop it carried. Then too, it seared everything within half a mile of the point where it exploded. Yes, the atomic bomb is not "just another weapon."

STILL POURING IN

Predictions made before the end of the war that California's population would go down at least temporarily after V-J Day seems rather silly now. It all goes to prove that even the most careful forecasts can miss by a mile.

Present indications are that California will continue merrily on her way to the top spot in population among the 48 states. Whether it will take 5, 10, or 20 years to reach that goal is anybody's guess. But the Golden State has developed the habit of achieving objectives in shorter time than is generally believed possible.

The swiftly rising volume of retail sales, the tremendous increase in public schools attendance, the growing demand for housing facilities—all these are barometers of population growth. The influx of new citizens is also shown in the statistics of the state's largest bank which serves nearly 300 communities in California. A year ago it had 3,000,000 customers. Today it has approximately 3,400,000. That's an average gain of more than 1,000 new customers every day.

Not all of these, of course, are from out of state, but the advertising done by this bank in the east as to the advantages of living in California undoubtedly accounts for many new arrivals as well as many new customers.

As remarkable as the growth of our state has been in recent years there are many observers who believe that we "ain't seen nothin' yet." Could be.

Report to people who are waiting for telephone service

From V-J Day through May 31, the number of telephones in service in Southern California has been increased by 106,000, of which 72,000 were added in the first five months of this year—an unequaled increase in any similar time period in the history of our company. Thousands of additional telephones are being installed each month.

Still, there is a tremendous job to do because Southern California's present growth is more sensational than ever before. As one proof of it, telephone calls have increased by more than a million and a half a day. And the number of applicants for telephone service continues to grow about as fast as we are able to care for them by top-speed work.

You may be certain that we are rushing to supply the necessary facilities to care for this unprecedented demand. In order to keep pace, we are hurrying construction on over 50 buildings, installing additional switchboards in practically every local exchange, stringing thousands of miles of wire, and securing vast quantities of new equipment.

Your telephone is on the way; we'll get it to you as quickly as we can. Your sympathetic understanding is appreciated, and thank you for your patience.

Outgoing Grand Jury Urges New TB Sanitarium

With recommendations that a new tuberculosis sanitarium be constructed at the county hospital, the 1945-46 Orange county grand jury ended its session last week, one that began last November and which was marked by bitter criticisms of county governmental agencies.

The jurors were discharged by Presiding Judge Kenneth E. Morrison after submitting committee reports adopted by the total group as their final report. The jury had been empaneled last fall by Superior Judge Raymond H. Thompson.

Recommendation for the construction of a new sanitarium stemmed from the report of a special committee of doctors and tuberculosis association officials which was instituted upon the insistence of the grand jury.

The report added however, that recognition was given to the fact that the work might not be possible in the near future because of construction conditions.

Termed one "of the most active grand juries in the history of the county" by the district attorney's office, the discharged group were attributed with the re-organization and improvement of the Orange County Hospital where the administration had been condemned in a vitriolic report.

In their final report on conditions at the hospital, the jurors noted that considerable improvement had taken place under the new administration.

The jurors however, said the men's ward in the hospital was still in poor condition and badly overcrowded.

In their final report, the jurors suggested abolition of the post of county council, increases in the agricultural department staff, a county wide dog pond system, placing of responsibility on parents for juvenile delinquency, construction of a new juvenile home, improvements in local jails and an increase in traffic patrols.

The next grand jury will be convened next fall unless need for a jury develops in the meantime. Superior Judge Franklin G. West will induct the next grand jury from a list of 30 county property owners who have already been notified of their selection. Out of that number, 19 will be designated to serve on the panel.

Plans for the San Pedro breakwater were completed and sent to Washington some time since. The commencement of the work is delayed until the return of the plans, with approval or alterations. It is anticipated that three or four thousand feet will be completed before January 1872, if no delay occurs at Washington.

A fine large bell mounted and of the best metal material, manufactured by Garrett & Co. of San Francisco, has lately been procured for the use of the Anaheim fire department at a cost of $185, and is at present at the jewelry store of Mr. R. Luedke. The bell tower, to be thirty feet in height, will be built as soon as proper material can be obtained, by Mr. Champlin to whom the contract was awarded, his bid being the lowest of the proposals.

It is a matter of surprise to many persons that our California still wines are held at such high rates by dealers. In original hands it is a superior variety that will command eighty cents or one dollar per gallon, while a large variety of new wines can be purchased by wholesale at thirty-five or forty cents. Our wine merchants demand for these same varieties two, three and four dollars per gallon, which makes the price equal, and in some instances above that of the imported brands for which, as a general thing, there is a partiality. It is admitted by good judges that the flavor of California ports, Riesling, Chamberlin and many kinds of white wines, is superior to the corresponding brands of the foreign article. But the public at large can never be made to believe this, with their cost ruling so high as to act as a bar to their popularity.

About 75 men are employed upon the San Joaquin ranch, near Santa Ana, in herding sheep, building fence, etc. They are aggregately paid about $1,000 per month. Irvine, Flint & Co. are now expending about $15,000 in improvements.

We have been shown another splendid specimen of Barbary oats, the production of Col. J. L. Strong at his ranch in La Bolsa Chica. The heads alone measure as high as twenty-three inches in length, and hang full of grain. This is a good showing for a country that is suffering from the combined plagues of drought and grasshoppers, and which is generally understood by outside barbarians to produce little else than cactus and horned toads.

East Center street has been lying dormant for the past two years, but it is awakening now and lively times are anticipated on that thoroughfare during the next year. Of course the most important of the new structures slated for East Center is the new city hall. After years of bickering, arguing and disputing the people finally voted $75,000 for a home for the city government, and work will begin on it as soon as the bonds are disposed of. It will stand at the corner of South Claudina and Center, where the old city hall and the Hart building now stand. Seventy-five thousand dollars will build a beautiful structure, especially as the brick in the two old buildings will be used in it.

HERRMAN WAS ONLY KIDDING

Back in 1942 Herrmann Goering—then the number 2 man of the super-race—passed off America's industrial might as inadequate to stop Hitler's onward rush toward complete world conquest.

But Herrmann—now the number 1 man of the ex-super-race—was only kidding, so it appears. Even while he spoke disdainfully of our productive capacity he was secretly planning to send millions of his own "hard-earned" money to the United States.

Well, anyway, Herrman knew a good investment when he saw it.

TEASDALE-McKINLEY RITES MARKED BY BEAUTIFUL CHURCH SETTING

Lovely in her gown of white satin, Miss Lorraine K. Teasdale, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Teasdale of South Placentia avenue, became the bride of Ensign Robert Tracey McKinley, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McKinley, 5831 Harold Way, Hollywood in semi-formal rites solemnized at the White Temple Methodist church last Friday evening at 8 o'clock, the Rev. Albert Heard, pastor of the First Baptist church of Santa Rosa, close friend of the young couple, reading the double-ring ceremony assisted by Rev. Hayden Swift Sears, pastor of the White Temple church.

The young couple repeated their marriage vows before an all-white altar flanked with three tall white baskets of gladioli and larkspur and potted palms, with cathedral candelabra casting a soft glow over the setting, witnessed by more than 125 immediate family relatives and close friends.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, carried a single white orchid on a white prayer book belonging to her mother. White tapers blended with satin bows marked the isleway.

Enhancing the bride's brownette loveliness was her fingertip veil of fragile net caught to two clusters of orange blossoms gracing her hair. It cascaded over her gown which she borrowed from a close sorority sister. Traditional sentiment was further found in a dainty hankerchief belonging to her mother, and exquisite pearls from her groom. Her gown was fashioned with a square lace yoke, long sleeves, fitted bodice and full skirt which ended in a long train.

Maid of honor was Miss Glenna Jean Deardorff, of Riverside, a Beta Lambda Mu sorority sister of the bride from Redlands University, wearing a gown of white mousselin de soie fashioned with sweetheart neckline, lace bodice and three-quarter length sleeves. She also wore a white Juliet cap with short veil and carried a large bouquet of pink gladioli.

Bridesmaids were Miss Myrtle Geissler of Anaheim and Miss Phyllis McKinley, sister of the groom. hey wore white gowns of identical design with that of the maid of honor.

Serving as best man was Ensign Walter King of Alhambra (Maritime service). Ushers included Cadet Leon Allec of Anaheim and Kenneth Nichols of Beverly Hills.

Candle lighters were Margaret and Donald Garrett, brother and sister, gowned in choir robes.

Preleding the ceremony Wilbur Schwalter, master teacher of the bride at Redlands university sang "All Through the Years," "Because" and the "Lord's Prayer." He was accompanied by Mrs. Helen Fackiner of Torrence, who also played the traditional wedding marches at the console of the organ.

Guests greeted the newlyweds in the church hall following the ceremony with the bride's mother choosing for the occasion a formal blue toned gown. oMther of the groom wore a white gown. Both mothers wore corsages of pink carnations.

In an atmosphere of candlelight and white spring flowers, the reception was presented in Wesley hall with more than 125 immediate family relatives and close friends gathered for the memorial affair. Delightfully appointed reception table was centered with the bridal cake and flanked with white daliahs and shast daisies. Arrangements of yellow and lavendar daliahs, sorority colors, in the rear of the hall completed the decorative effect.

Presiding at the bride's table were Mrs. Glenn Butcher and Mrs. Frank Garrett, both of this city. Miss Margaret Garrett presided at the guest book. Others assisting with arrangements included Mrs. Otto Geissler, Mrs. William Klausing, both of Anaheim and Mrs. Allan Fowler, Miss Ida Marie McCourtney, Miss Ruby Lee McCourtney, all of Redlands, sorority sisters of the bride and Mrs. Margaret J. Buttree of this city, bride's assistant. They all appeared in beautiful formal gowns.

After cutting and sharing the first piece of their four tiered wedding cake topped with a tiny wedding bell and orange blossoms, the young couple left for a short honeyhoon at Briargate in Banning. She has returned to Anaheim and will make her temporary home here. Her bridegroom will report to Norfolk USN base for further orders. When he receives his orders she plans to join him.

For traveling the new Mrs. McKinley choose a smart gray wool suit with gray accessories accented by white gloves and the traditional bridal orchid.

The young couple, who became engaged a year ago, met at the University of Redlands.

The bride is a graduate of Anaheim Union high schoo land an alumni of Redlands where she received her Bachelor of Music degree and teaching credentials. She has been a staff member at Barstow Union high school for the last two years and is well known in this county for her active participation in piano and organ musicales.

Her bridegroom received his commission in the USN at Rice Institute, Houston, Texas. He has been in the service since 1940 and returned from overseas duty in 1944 when he enrolled at Redlands University.

Now becoming acquainted here are Rev. and Mrs. Leslie Sim, who have been residing in the pastorate of the Wesley Methodist church, 303 East Alberta street for the last two weeks.

Rev. Sim was assigned to the local church post during the Southern California-Arizona conference of protestant churches held at the Zion Lutheran church here.

During the convention, Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Archibald, then of the Wesley Methodist church for nearly four years, were assigned to missionary work. They will leave for the Lee Memorial Mission, near Calcutta, India, as soon as they can book passage. Their son, Dr. Herbert Archibald, will join them in India as a medical missionary. The Archibalds are now staying with friends at 555 South Illinois street.

Rev. Sim comes here from the Blythe Methodist church where he had been pastor for two years. The Sims were previously from the Drew Seminary at Madison, New Jersey.

Mrs. Sim is a native of California. She is the former Dora May Browning of Redlands where her family now resides.

Rev. Sim is a native of Mass. His family lives in Colton.

Construction of Mobile Telephone System Scheduled for July 30; Service Set for L. A. and San Diego

Approval for the establishment of an experimental urban mobile radio telephone system by the Southern California Telephone Company has been granted by the Federal Communications Commission, it was announced here this week.

Filing of an application with the F.C.C. for permission to construct an experimental highway mobile radio telephone system, was also announced by company officials.

The F.C.C. approval gives the Southern California Telephone Company permission to construct a land radio station and antennae system consisting of one main land transmitter and six receivers strategically located throughout the Los Angeles area and to carry on experimental work with the equipment. Plans call for the location of the transmitter in the Mutual telephone building, 433 South Olive street, Los Angeles. The highway mobile radio telephone system is planned to provide service between Los Angeles and San Diego.

Installation of the urban radio telephone equipment is scheduled to start the last of July and to be completed some time in August. Upon completion of the installation of the equipment, the telephone company expects to test the system for an indefinite period, using 60 vehicles of all types.

Construction of the experimental highway mobile radio telephone system, for which application has been filed with the F.C.C., calls for the placing of transmitters and receivers on Mount Wilson, near Los Angeles, and on Mount Woodson, near San Diego. From these two commanding locations it is expected that it will be possible to cover the entire 125 miles between the two communities.

Telephones in automobiles, trucks, and other mobile units will be connected with the general telephone system so that a subscriber to the two-way service can call and talk from an equipped vehicle to any one of the millions of telephones served directly by or connected with the Bell companies. Likewise, the occupants of an equipped vehicle can be called from any one of the millions of telephones.

This is the way the mobile radio telephone service is expected to work in cities:

Calls to and from motor vehicles will be handled by special operators. The conversation will travel part of the way by telephone wire and part of the way by radio. If the caller at his desk wants to talk to the occupant of a certain automobile, he first dials or asks for the vehicular operator. He gives her the call number or designation of the vehicle and she sends out a signal on the proper radio channel by dialing the code number assigned to that particular vehicle. An audible or visual signal indicates to the car occupant that he is wanted. He picks up his dashboard telephone and the conversation starts. Under his fingers, as he holds the telephone hand-set, is a "push-to-talk" button which permits him to switch from receiving to sending.

The operator of a mobile unit can originate calls merely by picking up his telephone and pushing the "talk" button. This signals the vehicle operator and she "comes in on the line." He gives her the telephone number he wants and the call goes through.

In Los Angeles a number of fixed receiving stations will be employed, located throughout the area so that the relatively low-powered mobile radio sets will be within range at all times.

The receiver nearest to the mobile unit will pick up the voice signals and send them on their way by telephone wire. For the experimental work, only one transmitter will be used, but later it may be necessary to add others in order to give full coverage.

The highway mobile radio telephone service will eventually provide two-way telephone communication between vehicles outside the metropolitan areas and any telephone connected with the Bell system lines. A man in Los Angeles, for example, who wants to call a mobile unit en route between Los Angeles and San Diego will dial long distance and ask for the mobile service operator, to whom he will give telephone number of the vehicle and its approximate location. She will route the call over telephone wires to the operator at the transmitting station nearest the car or truck. If the vehicle is beyond range of that particular transmitter, the originating operator will relay the call to operators at other stations along the highway until the car is located and the occupant, receiving the signal, answers.

In a similar manner, a call may be placed from a vehicle on the highway to any telephone. The car occupant or driver will send out a radio signal which will be picked up by the nearest receiving station. He will give the operator who answers the number of the telephone he wants to call and she will complete the connection. It will also be possible to place calls between properly equipped vehicles.

The equipment on each vehicle is similar for both urban and highway mobile radio telephone service. It includes a radio receiver, transmitter, signaling unit, telephone and antennae. The urban service will operate on frequencies between 152 and 157 megacycles, but the highway system will operate on frequencies between 35 and 44 megacycles.

Equipment will be housed in water-proofed cabinets and can be installed on or under any part of a truck or in the luggage compartment of a car. The telephone will slide into a holder under the dashboard within convenient reach and a 6-foot antennae will be mounted at an appropriate location on the vehicle.

Garden Club Give City Park Rare Chestnut Trees

Three rare and beautiful Pink Horse Chestnut trees, (Aesculus, Carnea pink) were presented to the city park by the Anaheim Garden club recently. Arrangements for the difficultly procured trees were made by Mrs. George Greder, outgoing president, marking the last activity in her regime.

Dedication of the trees, which have huge dark green leaves, sturdy growth, is drought resistant, and have eight-inch parnicles (five pointed) blooms, will be on Arbor Day, Mrs. Greder revealed.

Mrs. Ethel Schultz is the incoming president of the active garden group. Installed into office during the club's out-door field day presented in May, at Padua Hills, she will begin her presidential duties in September.

Other outstanding additions at the city park include many rare specimens of epiphyllums phyllocactus including a new specimen which Rudolph Boysen propogated from a seed given to him by Harry Johnson of Heinz eight years ago, and which bloomed last year for the first time, revealing a huge exatic purple bloom. This new hibred creation was named in honor of Mrs. Catherine Edens, park hostess. The varied assortment of rare and valuable epiphyllums phyllocactus in the great park green house which are now all catalogued, were traded to the park by a well known California grower.

Younger "Y" Boys At Camp Oceola Next Monday

Thirty-four local youths will attend the first younger boys encampment at Camp Osceola as a full cabin group with their Anaheim leaders and special councillors for a week beginning next Monday. Final arrangements for the affair will be made tonight at the Jerry Patton residence on the southwest corner of Broadway and Euclid avenue when leaders will gather for a planning session and dinner.

Also to be with the group are Vic Hayman, pastor of the Garden Grove Baptist church; Bernie Bernard, secretary of the coast district YMCA; Miss Dorothy Hayman, Rev. Hayman's daughter who graduated recently as a cadet nurse; Mrs. Laura Payne, dining room hostess, and Mrs. Blanche Patton who will specialize in relating Indian stories.

Leaders to attend include Robert Gregg, Jack Wilson, John Knutzen, Ted Payne, Danny Herrera, Dave Collins and Clark Wingert.

Anaheim boys who will enjoy the camp trip include Eugene Bakenhus, Gilbert Estrada, Arthus Guerrero, James Holve, Donald Hillary, Larry Kirchman, Forrest March, John Provencio, Gary Ratzlaff, James Showalter, David Teeter, Dean Youngkeit, Donald Coulter, Robert Gregg, Jr., Edward Glenn, J. EX-SERVICEMEN SOUGHT FOR MARITIME SERVICE

Honorably discharged veterans of the armed forces who desire to school for a sea going career in the U. S. Merchant Marine will be given special preference, it was announced this week by Commander D. B. McMichael, USMS, enrolling officer.

Shortages Still Delay State Building

A slight upturn in manufacturing employment; predictions of increased farm income; a sharp rise in department store sales; outlook for moderate gains in some farm and orchard crops probably offset by reductions in others; continued shortages delaying California's massive program—these are highlights of the current economic report of the California State Chamber of Commerce's research department.

Business activity rose in May despite further cutbacks in shipyards and plane factories, and normal seasonal declines in food and apparel manufacture. Total manufacturing employment rose slightly above April figures, agricultural employment jumped 25,000 in June, and unemployment compensation claims dropped from 305,000 in mid-May to 258,000 in mid-June.

"Following a post-Easter decline, May department store sales rose to 27 per cent over May 1945. Heaviest gains were in the Central Valley," the report states. "More recent figures for larger cities indicate even heavier gains in June. Bank debits, $6,186,000,000 in May, were 15 per cent over the preceding year.

"A recent U. S. Department of Agriculture publication raises estimate of 1945 California cash farm income to $1,824,912,000 and predict this income for the first quarter of 1946 will exceed the same period last year. Much of the 1946 increase is in heavy livestock and poultry sales, due to the still serious feed shortage. Through this reduction in holdings, livestock has been maintained in normal condition despite deterioration of ranges and unirrigated pasturage. Rainfall has been below normal in most sections, so crop prospects—especially grain—in unirrigated sections are slightly under last year.

"Recent favorable weather in irrigated sections make crop prospects generally equal to or better than last year. Moderate to heavy gains seem likely for apricots, almonds, walnuts, plums, lemons, sugar beets and hay. Reduction must be expected in production of barley, pears, apples, olives and oranges, although orange prospects seem improved over May. The spring railroad car shortage caused some losses to truck crop growers.

"Shortages still delay construction plans as well as completion of projects under way. Lumber supplies increase, but production is below normal. Nails and metal products are the most critical shortages.

"California was assigned a goal of 99,750 dwelling units to be completed this year, 10.5 per cent of the national total, under priorities established in March. Expected materials for other essential building were largely offset by shortages delaying home building, and causing the Civilian Production Administration to restrict permits for commercial construction. From March 26 to June 13, approval was given for construction of 3469 California commercial and industrial buildings with a value of $173,000,000. In the same period disapprovals were made of 2284 applications totaling $80,900,000. During the first half of June, value of approved projects has been only about 25 per cent of total applications."

Demos To Back McCallen In Senate Race

Switching candidates for the special senatorial election in November to be held to fill the vacant Orange county seat in the upper house of the state legislature, Democratic leaders here this week announced they would support Marcus M. McCallen, former Huntington Beach mayor and president of the McCallen Refining Company.

McCallen will oppose two Republican candidates, Assemblyman Clyde Watson of Orange and Jim Farquhar, Huntington Beach newspaper publisher.

Atty. James E. Walker will not file nomination papers, it was learned, withdrawing from the senatorial race in favor of McCallen.

The special election is to be held to fill the vacant seat, left empty when Thomas Kuchel resigned to become state controller.

Hay Ride, Beach Party Slated For 'Y' Young People

A combined hay ride and beach party scheduled for August 5, highlights the "Y" Young People's calendar. Leaving the YMCA headquarters at 6:30 in the evening, the group will enjoy an outdoor picnic featuring roasted wieners, beans, watermelon and pop at the second beach at Corona del Mar.

Anyone past high school age interested in attending the gala affair may call the "Y" 4202 to make reservations. Jim Siewert will be the truck driver.

Committee in charge of the party includes Betty Launer, Ercell Morris, Julia Tague, Kathryn Gauer, Verne Kopitzke, Lyle Wagner, Donny Marschall and George Thatcher.

Also planning to attend is Jerry "I wouldn't miss it" Patton, YMCA executive-secretary.

Committee members for this coming activity were chosen during a short business meeting which followed a highly enjoyable party presented at the Patton's spacious home, corner of Euclid avenue and Broadway, last Friday night from 8 to 12 o'clock.

More than 25 young people participated in progressive games of badminton, ping pong, darts and cards, carrying out the "get acquainted" theme.

Refreshments of delectable sandwiches, ice cream cake and punch were served with Mr. and Mrs. Patton acting as host and hostess for the occasion.

Committee members in charge of the activities included Betty Launer, Betty Delaney, Jim Siewert and Dick Foster.

Communicable Disease In County Drops

Dropping to a new low compared with the five-year median average, only 99 communicable diseases were reported in Orange county during the first two weeks of July, Dr. Edward Lee Russell, county health officer, said yesterday.

The five-year median for two week periods was 124. Deaths due to communicable diseases in the county soared to 39 for the first six months of the year with a total of 5,802 cases reported as compared to last year's 4,916 cases in a comparable period.

Measles was still leading the list of contagious diseases, he said, reporting 30 cases of red measles and three of German measles.

Venereal cases totaled 14 for the two week period during this month and one case of poliomyelitis and three cases of animal borne rabies were on record.

Incidence of other disease was chickenpox, 17; mumps, 13; scarlet fever, 9; tuberculosis, 4; whooping cough, 7; and paratyphoid, 1.

Celebrating her twelfth birthday on Wednesday, Miss Jeannine Pannier entertained three of her close friends with a dinner party at Mother Colony House Restaurant and a line party at the theater afterward. Mrs. Chas. Pannier, mother of the young hostess, chaperoned the group.

Centering the dinner table was a lovely birthday cake with flowers to complete the decorations.

Guests to share the occasion with Jeannine were Barbara Ryan, Dorothy Jean Kuchel and Marlene Stutheit.

VISITING IN ANAHEIM

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Goble of Victorville have been visiting friends here for the past week, when they were the house guests of Mr. Goble's mother, Mrs. Mary Goble. Goble was a member of the Anaheim Gazette staff for a number of years early in the century. He is now associated in a real estate and insurance business in Victorville. The Gobles plan to spend a few days at the beach before returning to their Victorville home.

Urge Salvage Housing Materials

Appalled at the seriously reduced volume of wastepaper salvage reaching local paper mills, E. C. Moller, state president of the Building Contractors Association of California, this week called on all contractors and their employees to launch drives to collect old newspapers, wrapping paper, and cartons within their businesses as a means of augmenting the city-wide salvage effort.

"Contractors can well take the lead in paper salvage and set an example for the public to follow," Moller said.

"Unless every citizen, including members of the building industry, gets behind the current drive, production of such indispensable construction materials as building felts and wallboard, already at the critical stage, will be further reduced," he continued.

Moller reminded contractors and others in the building industry that one ton of old newspapers and magazines are required in the manufacture of sufficient building materials for just one veteran's house.

"Kilroy Was Here" To Leave Air Saturday Night

"Kilroy Was Here" radio series will terminate this Saturday evening with Kilroy concluding his KVOE activities upon the event of receiving his "ruptured duck" from Uncle Sam, it was announced by Donald D. Britton, co-owner of the Radio Electronic Engineering Company, 117 East Center street, sponsor of the show. Fifth in the series of "Peck's Bad Boy" is scheduled to replace the 8 o'clock program this fall.

The Kilroy programs, 1490 Kc, have featured a resume of a typical service man's travels in a presentation combining the playing of popular selections and racy dialogues, united by the inclusion of numbers' titles in the script.

Britton was the originator of the radio version of Kilroy and has revised the "Peck's Bad Boy" chapters for the air. Henry Neyenhius, co-owner of the local company, has been in charge of advertising for the Santa Ana broadcasts.

Man-Caused Fires In State Forests To Be Probed

State Forester DeWitt Nelson this week announced that every man-caused fire occurring on forest and watershed lands protected by the Division of Forestry will be investigated for criminal or civil infraction of law.

This action is a part of the recently adopted law enforcement policy of the State Board of Forestry whose members, Nelson stated, are conscientiously and constructively attacking the increasing fire occurrence problem in California.

Land owners and tenants of our forest, grass, and watershed lands must realize, he said, that it is their responsibility, independent of state effort, to control fires burning on their lands, and in cases where our educational prevention work fails with the people, a well executed law enforcement program is necessary.

Each year, the State Forester continued, thousands of dollars of public funds are expended to suppress fires wilfully or negligently caused by men. As the representative of the California people in fire problems on lands of statewide interest, the Division of Forestry will, as provided by law, attempt to collect from the responsible individual the public funds expended fighting fires when the investigations show conclusively the fires were started either wilfully, negligently, or in violation of law.

The Board of Forestry feels, he added, that there will be fewer fires in California when people realize they not only can be convicted for violating the law, and made liable to other land owners for damage caused, but that they can be charged with the expense of fighting the fires.

Fisheries Council Announce Coast Appointments

The committee on Off Shores Fisheries of the Council of State Governments meeting in Portland, Oregon to study the fisheries problems of the Pacific coast announces the appointment of Emil J. N. Ott, Jr., executive secretary, Division of Fish and Game of California, Arnie Suomela, Master Fish Warden of the Oregon Fish commission and Milo Moore, director of fisheries of the state of Washington to represent the Pacific coast on an exploratory intercoastal committee of nine men representing the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific coasts.

This committee was the outgrowth of a meeting recently held in Washington, D. C. to study the commercial fisheries off the coasts of the United States to conserve and preserve for our nationals the great fisheries resources that the government plans on protecting as was announced in President Truman's recent proclamation to establish conservation zones off the shores of the United States.

HOLD TWO FOR SELECTIVE SERVICE VIOLATION

Charged with violation of the selective service act, two men, one of whom claimed Anaheim as his birthplace, were in county jail this week, pending investigation by federal authorities.

They were listed as Ralph Leon Mata, 19, and Robert Dorado Tovar, 23, who gave his address as Torreon, Mexico and his birthplace as Anaheim.

Lelia Eastman Names Delegates To GOP Committee

Mrs. Lelia Eastman of Orange, chairman of the Republican committee in Orange county, this week named the delegates who will attend the state central committee session at Sacramento July 21 and 22.

Delegate in place of Thomas Kuchel, former county state senator but now state controller, will be Atty. Gordon X. Richmond, former county chairman.

Others named to the session were: Assemblyman Sam L. Collins of Fullerton and Clyde W. Watson of Orange and Assemblyman-elect Earl W. Stanley of Newport Beach. Designation of the above named individuals completes the officials posts on the state delegation.

Other delegates will be: Mrs. Eastman, Mrs. Florence Stevens, Tustin; Mrs. Dorothy Thompson Lodge of Fullerton; Mrs. Charlotte Colburn, Santa Ana; Walter Schmid, Garden Grove; Mrs. Betty Rospaw, Placentia; Mrs. Margaret Shaw, Yorba Linda; Ronald Fairbairn, Orange and Mrs. John Wilkie Owens of Laguna Beach.

Mrs. Eastman became the first woman to head a party central committee in Orange county last week after both major political groups staged their biennial organization meetings at the Orange courthouse.

She was elected chairman of the Republican Central committee succeeding Gordon X. Richmond, Orange attorney, who asked to be relieved of the post because of the burden of private business.

D. W. "Boxy" Huston of Huntington Beach and Mrs. Mary Coons of Anaheim, both active for many years in Democratic political circles, and both now ill, were elected as honorary life-time members of that committee.

The GOP county committee convened in the jury room of department 1 while the Democrats were meeting in the Hall of Records.

Crop Conditions Termed 'Ideal'; Heat Rise Seen

Reporting field surveys have shown that oranges are coloring rapidly and continuing growth at an exceptional rate, D. W. Tubbs, county agricultural commissioner, this week, said conditions are ideal for growing crops.

Tubbs said that field surveys revealed oranges growing at an exceptional rate and attributed it to the ideal weather conditions and water availability which is normal.

He simultaneously predicted an increase in present temperatures but doubted that the mercury would soar over the 100-degree mark.

The weather during June showed a high average of 82.3 degrees, highest over a 10-year period. The mean average was 67.9 degrees.

BEAVERS LIKE HUMANS GET AIRSICK TOO!

Beavers like humans are subject to air sickness, so reports Al Reese, Warden-Pilot for the Division of Fish and Game, in Sacramento this week.

Reese reports that on a recent plant of beavers into the inaccessible back country that three of the five beavers he was moving to a new location appeared to be quite affected by their new mode of travel but soon returned to normal after arrival at their home.

A. Curtis Case In Partnership With H. Stabbert

A. Curtis Case announces that he has taken in Herbert H. Stabbert as a partner in his general insurance business with offices in the Bank of America Building, rooms 202 and 203. As in the past when Mr. Case conducted the business himself, the new partners will feature general insurance, life insurance, annuities and bonds.

Mr. Case is well known in this city having resided here for twenty-three years and has been engaged during this time in the insurance business. The new partners feel they can render an even greater service to their patrons and to the citizens of Anaheim and Orange county in the future.

Mr. Stabbert has been a resident of Anaheim since 1932 and has been in the insurance business for almost 20 years, both in the capacity as sales representative and as a responsible member of the home office staff of a large insurance company in Los Angeles. He is thoroughly familiar with all types of insurance and will be pleased to have his friends call him, or Mr. Case, whenever they are in need of any type of insurance.

Growers Exchange Report Fewer Valencias

There will be fewer cars of California Valencia oranges this summer than last year. The estimated 56,000 car tree crop of Valencias from California was the prophecy of the Sunkist Merchandiser, monthly publication of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, this week.

Only a few years ago this volume would have represented a bumper crop. Nevertheless, the reduction from last year's crop will be in excess of 25,000 carloads. Predominating sizes will be 288s and 344s.

With approximately only 75 per cent of last year's Valencias, sizes 288s and smaller, which have always been desirable juice sizes, should move easily through jobbing houses and retail stores. Oranges in juice form or served in other ways have become a part of the year 'round daily diet of most American and Canadian families. With an overall lowered supply of oranges, consumers will readily accept these sizes.

One peculiar situation in this season's Valencia crop will be shipments carrying many large sizes with only a reasonable proportion of smaller sizes. Valencias from the central California producing areas were large while those from southern California run heavily to 288s and smaller.

Valencias from central California, however, represent only 10 per cent of the total crop and are the earliest to be shipped from California. Mid-June saw nearly all of the central California Valencias in the hands of jobbers and retailers.

Custom blended paints now eliminate guesswork in paint mixing. A thousand tints, tones and shades are offered by an Eastern manufacturer. A minute to match the sample, and then the color is custom-mixed to formula.

Melrose Abbey Building Fund Now $200,000

The $100,000 set up for the improvement project of Melrose Abbey on Highway 101 was doubled by an additional $100,000 approved by the board of directors of the mausoleum during the semi-annual meeting July 8.

The $200,000 sum, which is being drawn from the building fund of the corporation, will finance an improvement project for the existing structure and the addition of three new units to the debt-free abbey to be in the same architectural style.

Construction has been in progress on the original project and will be continued on the extensions with a perpetual upkeep of the buildings and grounds planned in a special fund.

Board members include Bob Fernandez, president; W. A. Mills, vice-president and secretary; E. R. Mills, treasurer, and E. Fenton Dean, assistant secretary and manager.

37 ORANGE COUNTIANS ENLIST IN ARMY IN JUNE

Thirty-seven Orange county men were enlisted in the regular army during the June recruiting campaign, army recruiting officers at Santa Ana reported this week.

Many ex-soldiers were reported re-enlisting in the grade they held at the time of their discharge. Recruiting officials also pointed out that the new wage increase for servicemen, recently acted upon by Congress became effective as of July 1, this year.

Farm Machinery Output Expected To Increase

July production of farm machinery is expected to exceed the production peak set in January, the Civilian Production Administration reports. A recently established self-certification program providing priorities on steel for farm machinery became effective this month.

Hay farm machinery output increased to almost $58.5 million, a 20 per cent gain over April, due largely to the settlement of the International Harvester strike. Production is still handicapped by continuation of labor-management disputes at the J. I. Case Company (in effect more than six months) and the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company (closed down since early May).

Production of wheel tractors gained sharply in May, reaching 20,934 units in May compared with 11,825 in April and 16,972 in May 1945. May output also showed a 49 per cent increase in harvesting machinery, a 38 per cent pain in machinery for preparing crops, and a 14 per cent gain in cultivators and weeders.

Meanwhile details of a program designed to relieve the acute shortage of household fats and oils in southern and western states during the next three months is now being worked out by the U. S. D. A.

Under the program, current supplies to the extent of approximately 30,000,000 pounds will be moved to California along with other western and southern fat-short areas.

While this emergency distribution will not necessarily eliminate scarcity conditions in any section, it is pointed out, the degree of scarcity will be more nearly equalized under this program and acute distress in some areas prevented.

END WORK ON ASSESSMENT ROLLS

Hitting an all-time assessment high of $227,553,100 to which will be added $17,098,009 in public utility valuations assessed by the state, the board of supervisors wound up its equalization work last Monday.

Two protests were heard but neither was approved, it was reported.

Grand total of the assessed roll of the county with the state assessments is $245,022,070.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
"I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord. . . . God is the Lord, which hath shewed us light." These statements from the Psalms will be the Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Life" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.
The Lesson-Sermon includes this selection also from Psalms: "In God I will praise his word, in God I have put my trust: I will not fear what flesh can do unto me. . . . For thou hast delivered my soul from death: will not thou deliver my feet from falling, that I may walk before God in the light of the living?" A passage from Isaiah reads, "Is not this the fast that I have chosen? to loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye break every yoke? . . . Then shall thy light break forth as the morning, and thine health shall spring forth speedily."
Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "We are sometimes led to believe that darkness is as real as light; but Science affirms darkness to be only a mortal sense of the absence of light, at the coming of which darkness loses the appearance of reality. So sin and sorrow, disease and death, are the suppositional absence of Life, God, and flee as phantoms of error before truth and love."

Living Pictures To Head Laguna Festival of Arts

SCHWANKOVSKY, Director of the Pageant of the Masters

Pageant of the Masters, leading feature of the annual Laguna Beach Festival of Arts, to be directed by Frederick Schwankovsky Laguna Beach portrait painter and art chairman at Manual Arts high school, Los Angeles, for the past 29 years, will include living reproductions of not only renowned masters of the ages but the works of modern painters and sculptors in the largest pageant to be sponsored by the festival staff, it was revealed by C. Leland Freeman, president of the Festival association. The affair is scheduled for August 7 to 18 in the Irvine Bowl.

The nightly presentation of the living pictures are given in tableaux form by townspeople on portable stages ranging from seven by eight feet to nine by 18 feet in size. Gold frames and artist-painted backgrounds complete the pictures which are accurate to the most minute detail.

The now famous Pageant of the Masters was created in 1935 by Roy M. Ropp, realtor-artist, who directed them for seven years.

More than 100 artists from Orange county will display their paintings on panels and easels to be placed between approximately 125 booths which will feature the creations of prominent painters, sculptors, lace makers, book binders, leather toolers, and metal workers.

Afternoon highlight will be a professional puppet show to be staged by Ivy and George Wilson, popular puppeteers, known throughout the county for their original marionette productions.

Demonstrating the highly skilled art of manufacturing pottery, the Ceramic Society of Laguna Beach will operatet a complete ceramic shop on the grounds constructed so that visitors may view the entire process. Russell Leidy, president of the society is director of the shop which will create souvenirs of the festival.

After being shunted from place to place in the village through the years from 1932 to 1940, the permanent home of the festival was established in 1941 in the Laguna Beach recreation park and the adjacent Irvine park. The Pageant of the Masters will make its first encore on the huge stage in the natural amphitheater.

During 1941, the last year of its presentation before the recent war, largest crowds in festival history packed the bowl each night for the pageant, with hundreds turned away. This year permanent seats are being installed in the bowl and the association is erecting two tiers of box seats. Future plans are being formulated for the eventful enlargement of the bowl so that 3500 to 4000 persons may be comfortably accommodated at each of the 12 performances. Present seating capacity is now approximately 2500.

A versatile figure in the world of art, Schwankovsky is a noted painter, lecturer, artist and teacher. He was an illustrator for several New York studios where he specialized in portraiture. Twenty-four of his paintings, all of motion picture stars, which comprise what is estimated to be the largest permanent one-man show in the country, hang in the Mission Beach ball room, San Diego.

A former officer of the California Arts club, he aided in the organization of the Pacific Arts association in the early thirties, is a member of the California Art Teachers association, was first vice-president of the Laguna Beach Art association and is a member of the Los Angeles Art League. He has been a resident of Laguna since 1924.

The two most important impeachment cases heard by the United States Senate sitting as an impeachment court were those of Associate Justice Chase in 1804, and of President Andrew Johnson in 1868.

For the fiscal year 1943, which is the last year for which accurate figures are available, the national income of agriculture was over 13 billion dollars.

Employment Up Three Per Cent In State

James G. Bryant, chairman of the California Employment Stabilization Commission, announced this week that employment covered by the California Unemployment Insurance Act reached 1,822,000 in March 1946, according to preliminary figures. This represented a gain of 3 per cent over the low point reached in November 1945, three months after the end of the war.

Pointing out that covered employment includes the great majority of all wage and salary workers engaged in private employment in California, Bryant said much of the wartime growth in employment represents a permanent gain to the state. With this permanent gain, however, there continues an appreciable volume of temporary unemployment while workers are being matched to fit jobs requiring new skills at new places of employment. Covered employment in March of this year was nearly 40 per cent greater than in the corresponding month of 1940. Gains over 1940 were recorded in all industries except mining. Significant employment increases included a 55 per cent gain in manufacturing, 79 per cent in construction, 45 per cent in transportation and utilities, 28 per cent in trade, and 55 per cent in service industries.

At the end of the war there were over 2,000,000 workers in covered employment in California. Subsequent decline have been primarily in manufacturing where employment dropped from 865,000 workers in August 1945 to 583,000 in March 1946. The largest cuts were recorded in aircraft manufacturing and shipbuilding, where March employment totaled 110,000 compared with 320,000 at the end of the war and 667,000 at the peak of war production in 1943.

The manufacture of metal products and machinery has also declined substantially since the end of the war, although by March, employment in those groups appeared to have passed the low point for the post-war period.

Complicating the absorption of displaced war workers is the discharge of war veterans, totaling 945,000 by June, and includes over 300,000 veterans who lived in other states prior to the war.

Industries absorbing additional workers since the end of the war include mining, with a gain in covered employment of 17 per cent between August 1945 and March 1946; construction, with a 10 per cent gain; trade 8 per cent; finance 9 per cent; service 9 per cent; transportation and utilities 2 per cent.

Needy Aid Here Above Nation's Average

The 3,213 people receiving aid as needy aged in Orange county got an average of $46.82 during May, California Taxpayers association reported this week. Aid paid to the needy aged in the county during the one month totaled $150,448, with $62,677 coming from the federal government, $73,215 from the state, and $14,556 from the county.

Average aid for the 161,523 people receiving old age assistance in California during May, 1946, was $47.56. Total aid paid during the single month in California was $7,682,732, financed $3,160,398 from the federal government, $3,771,457 from the state, and $750,877 from the counties.

Commenting on currently-discussed federal legislation which could result in an increase in maximum aid to the needy aged in California to $60 per month, the association said:

"California's average monthly payment to needy aged persons of $47 plus is well above the March national average of $31.32. It is considerably higher than the $24.36 average to primary beneficiaries under the federal old age and survivors insurance system.

"Any increase in federal support of old age assistance could well be used to reduce the costs to the state and the counties, rather than to increase the amount of aid paid."

A special meeting is scheduled for Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the council chamber of the city hall, 204 East Center street, Lee Fabian, Anaheim disaster relief chairman, announced.

Anyone interested is welcome to attend the session, it was announced by Mrs. P. M. Wheeler, executive secretary of the Anaheim chapter of the American Red Cross. Chairman of all sub-committees have been notified of the meeting with their committee members asked to attend if possible.

Worms Menace Produce Planting

All worms that are injurious to garden produce will become more serious as the season progresses if control measures are neglected, was the warning given this week, by Assistant Farm Advisor H. W. Longfellow.

The critical period for control of tomato pests in commercial plantings is at hand. Tomato russet mites, hornworms, corn ear worms, army worms, and potato tuber moths will soon be getting in their damage.

Tomato Mites: Sulphur dust should be applied at once. Early control of the mites will mean freedom from later difficulty with these insects. Twenty-five per cent of commercial calcium arsenate dust added to the sulphur will check the possibility of fire in the dusting machine and will control hornworms.

Hornworms: Control is now timely. Use calcium arsenate, applied separately or with the sulphur, or cryolite dust.

Corn Ear Worms: Calcium arsenate dust and cryolite are effective in corn ear worm control. In highly diversified areas it may be better to use cryolite because of the threat to livestock and honey bees from arsenical drifts.

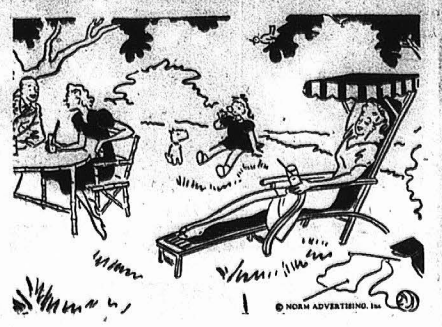

Army Worms: Use the same treatment as for corn ear worms.

Potato Tuber Moths: Cleanup at the end of the season is the best practice for control of potato tuber moths in tomato plantings. Avoid planting the tomatoes where volunteer potatoes are growing. Tomatoes should not follow potato crops.

After every war there has been inflation in the United States. After the American Revolutionary war the value of the dollar fell to 33 cents; after the Civil war its low was 44 cents. After World War I the dollar fell to a value of 40 cents. The story as to World War II has not yet developed.

The Smithsonian Institute was established by an act of Congress in 1846 which carried into effect the will of James Smithson, an Englishman, who bequeathed the United States over $515,000 for the purpose of establishing it.

Fishing Good Off Newport Harbor

Finding fishing good at this time of year, O. E. King, advertising man for the Gazette and his son, Gary, of North Hollywood, who returned to his home on Monday after a visit with his father, spent last Saturday deep sea fishing off Newport Harbor.

Catching a boat at Port Lido Sport Fishing Center at 7 o'clock that morning, they fished off the coast near Laguna Beach, returning to port at 4:30 in the afternoon. Fritz Kemper, manager of the fleet of fishing boats reported large catches of barracuda, yellow tail and calico bass, along with smaller takes of other fish were tabulated among the day's labor. Albacore are now beginning to run, he reported.

HALF-PER CENT SALES TAX ORDINANCE PLANNED BY CITIES

Adoption of a uniform retail sales tax ordinance appeared certain here this week when representatives of 10 municipalities reached agreement on the proposal at a meeting in Anaheim last week, sponsored by the Orange county League of Cities.

Ten and probably all 13 cities of the county will adopt the proposed uniform retail sales tax ordinance this summer with one-half of one per cent assessment becoming effective against all sales on October 1, league spokesmen said.

The tax ordinance will be modeled on the state sales tax and will include items on which the state sales of 2½ per cent is levied.

Three cities, LaHabra, Seal Beach and Tustin, did not have delegates at the meeting, but county representatives were of the opinion officials of those cities would adopt the proposals.

Howard Gardner, assistant secretary of the state league, told the city delegates that similar action is being taken all over the state to meet rising costs of municipal operation.

Final action of all cities is to be submitted to an executive committee meeting by August 8.

Canada Spanned By New Highway

That coast to coast vacation trip across Canada that you may have been thinking about has at last become a reality.

For recently, one of Canada's most distinguished soldiers, and directors of mechanization for the Canadian army during World War II, traveled across the newly opened Trans-Canada highway, a trip of 4,743 miles.

The motorist, Brigadier R. A. Macfarlane, not only won first honors for completion of such a trip, the first in Canadian auto travel history, but also won the A. E. Todd medal, donated by the ex-mayor in 1912 for the first motorist to drive across Canada without resorting to use of railroad right of way.

Anaheim Youth Gets Prison Term On Morals Charge

A 21-year old Anaheim youth captured in Missouri after jumping bail while awaiting trial on a morals charge involving a 14-year old Fullerton girl, this week was sentenced to San Quentin prison by Superior Judge Kenneth E. Morrison in Santa Ana.

The youth, James Nelson Stroup, was arrested by a detective for a Long Beach bonding company who had put up his bail.

He must serve not less than five years for the offense, according to the penal code.

Stroup was one of several young men who were accused of having relations with the girl. Three others have been sentenced or given probation and Stroup had been recommended for probation but had fled in the interim.

LITTLE PIGS THAT WON'T GO TO MARKET

Not so many little pigs are going to market!

W. M. Cory, Assistant Farm Advisor says the fall pig crop will be the smallest since three years before the war. Farmers have expressed their intention of less pigs to be farrowed this fall and that means fewer hogs to go to market next spring.

Nothing can change this picture much, the Assistant Farm Advisor says, because it is now too late to breed more sows for fall farrow if the farmers had the sows.

California will have ten per cent less pigs farrowed this year, according to an estimate of the California Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. Of course, further reduction could still result if feed supplies are less favorable than anticipated. Recent changes in California hog numbers have been consistently downward. This was largely because of unfavorable feed price relationships.

The fall pig crop for the nation will be 17 per cent below that for the fall of 1945, the smallest fall pig crop since 1938.

General Fund Revenues Show Increase Of More Than 74 Million Due to Increased Share of Retail Taxes

State Controller Thomas H. Kuchel tihs week arinounced that the general fund cash excess over current obligations on June 30; 1946, was $181,876,555, as compared with an excess of $196,707,757 at the end of the preceding month and an excess of $142,281,788 on June 30, 1945.

The present cash excess, said Kuchel, represents a decrease of $14,831,202 under the excess of May 31, 1946. Of this decrease, $15,144,080 represents the excess of June, 1946, governmental cost expenditures over revenues and $1,201,249 represents nongovernmental cost disbursements. The total of these amounts was reduced by $1,514,127 in miscellaneous nonrevenue receipts, to arrive at the net decrease in cash excess.

General fund revenues deposited in the state treasury during the 97th fiscal year ended June 30, 1946, totaled $360,977,523—an increase of $74,995,842, or 26.22 per cent, over collections for the 96th fiscal year.

The major portion of the revenue increase occurred in the general fund's share of retail sales and use taxes, which increased $58,412,752 over the previous fiscal year. Of this amount, however, only $28,364,478 was due to greater collections of sales tax during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1946. The remainder of the total increase, or $30,048,264, represents a technical increase resulting from the fact that during the previous fiscal year, 20 per cent of the sales and use taxes was earmarked for the Postwar Employment Reserve, whereas during the year ended June 30, 1946, no such earmarking was done, the statute requiring it having become inoperative after June 30, 1945.

Other major increases in revenue occurred as follows: Inheritance tax, $4,104,899; liquor taxes and licenses, $3,338,758; insurance companies taxes, $2,047,356; and bank and corporation franchise and corporation income taxes, $1,408,713. These, together with other smaller increases were partially offset by a decrease of $2,196,680 in personal income taxes, resulting in a net total increase of $74,995,843.

General fund government cost expenditures for the 97th fiscal year, as announced by Controller Kuchel, totaled $327,406,102. These expenditures were partially offset by county relief loan payments of $2,340,494, reducing expenditures to a net of $325,065,608—an increase of $25,563,890, or 8.54 per cent over expenditures for the 96th fiscal year.

Major increases in expenditures occurred in the following functions: Apportionments to counties for elementary schools, $14,637,967; University of California, $4,307,551; and miscellaneous fixed charges and appropriations, $24,252,095. These, together with other smaller increases, were partially offset by decreases in other functions, resulting in a total increase of $25,416,421.

The major decreases in expenditures occurred as a result of statutory transfers from the general fund to other funds and reserves, such transfers made during the 97th fiscal year being $18,908,510 less than the total of similar transfers made during the 96th fiscal year.

The increase in apportionments to counties for elementary schools was due primarily to 1945 legislation increasing the rates used in determining these apportionments.

Home Agent Gives Rules On Canning

The rule of four to one — at least four quarts of canned fruit for each pound of sugar used — should be followed again this year by thrifty home canners interested in putting up the most fruit on limited sugar supplies, says Mabel C. Stone, Assistant Home Demonstration Agent.

Figuring by the jar, the rule provides an average of ½ cup of sugar to each quart jar and makes a moderately thin sirup.

By using some light-colored corn sirup or mild-flavored honey, sugar may be stretched even farther. Proportions suggested are: 2 cups fruit juice or water to 1 cup sugar, or 2/3 cup sugar and 1/3 cup corn sirup, or ½ cup sugar and ½ cup honey. Boil the ingredients together 5 minutes and skim off any scum. Then the sirup is ready to combine with the fruit.

The Agricultural Extension Service has available a Home Canning Bulletin including methods, proportions and processing times. Anyone wishing this bulletin may obtain it free of charge at the office, 220 Ramona Bldg., Santa Ana or call Santa Ana 3000, extension 301.

Unsanitary Conditions Hike Livestock Losses

Lack of sanitation is the biggest factor causing livestock losses on farms. W. M. Cory, Assistant Farm Advisor, said this week, pointing out normal growth and reproduction cannot be expected in unsanitary buildings or from unclean feeding and watering equipment.

Workable plan of farm sanitation which will bring added dividends were the following suggested rules:

Don't permit newly purchased animals to mix with your home stock until you are certain of their good health.

Move well animals away from sick ones rather than sick ones away from the well ones.

Mud holes are ideal incubators of diseases. Fence them from livestock or fill them.

Manure piles are a menace. Fence them from stock.

Dispose of dead carcasses by rendering, burning, or deep burial.

Clean and disinfect buildings used to house animals at least three times yearly.

CITY COUNCIL OKEH'S PROPERTY PROJECT

Permission to erect an auto sales room agency in a neighborhood business zoning area, was granted by the city council Tuesday night to Mrs. Frieda Trapp, 324 North Lemon street, owner of the property upon which the salesroom will be built.

The 150 by 150 foot area on the northeast corner of Los Angeles and North streets, is located in what is known as a C-2 area in which neighborhood businesses are permitted.

Cyrus G. Baldwin became the first president of Pomona College in 1890.

Police Officer Injured In Auto Mishap

Painfully injured when their auto was struck and overturned by another car, Anaheim police officer, Earl Vipond, 46, of 604 S. Palm street and Buckley M. Nicholson, 63, of 205 S. Citron street, were in Lutheran hospital here this week.

The accident occurred in Santa Ana last week at Broadway and Santa Clara street. Driver of the other car was listed as Carl Murphy Zlaket, 23 of Santa Ana. He was not held.

Santa Ana police reported none of the crash victims were seriously injured. There were no arrests they said.

Joe Bill's Band Each Wednesday At Teen Canteen

Joe Bill's 16-piece orchestra has been named as the regular Wednesday night dance feature at the Teen Canteen, 133 West Center street, it was disclosed by Richard Glover, canteen director. Popular vocalists are the "Three Flames."

Other canteen activities include highly popular recreational swimming period each Monday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Regular canteen meeting is scheduled each Wednesday night from 7:30 to 11:30 o'clock. Jr. Hi-Jinks meeting is every Friday night from 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock.

Glover, director of the summer program at AUHS pool, reports a highly successful season to date, adding that there is still room for more aquatic enthusiasts. Anyone interested in attending the Tuesday and Thursday evening classes, held from 5 to 7 o'clock may register at the pool. Morning instruction classes, also still open, are held each week day with the beginning group swimming from 9 to 10 o'clock; girls of all ages, from 10 to 11 o'clock, and an advanced group of boys from 11 to 12 o'clock.

Former Court Bailiff Stages Birthday Party

J. M. Gunnett, one of Orange county's oldest citizens, and resident here for more than half a century, last week celebrated his 90th birthday at his home here, 317½ S. Clementine street.

Former court bailiff in superior court, Gunnett retired in 1928 after nearly two decades of service. A native of Pennsylvania, born in 1856, Gunnett formerly managed the Bimini baths in Los Angeles before being appointed bailiff under Judge R. Y. Williams.

Visitors at a party staged at his home included Superior Judge Kenneth E. Morrison, who was the clerk of superior court when Gunnett was bailiff.

Big Catch Makes "Ike" Waltons' Trip

Twenty Izaak Walton anglers returned last Tuesday night with a catch of 12 barracuda, eight halibut and 16 bass after a successful and lively trip via deluxe sportcraft fishing cruiser out of Newport harbor. Sweepsteak winner with a 28 pound albacore was Dick Martin. Carrying away the booby prize were Fred Hayes and Clifford Jones, July 2 jack pot winners.

Many local fishermen have been enjoying additional fishing trips. Most original trip was had by Mr. and Mrs. Al Elmers who returned after a four-week trip in the High Sierras with "lots of fish." Sitting on a rock Mrs. Elmers "hooked" the only trout of the trip. Her biggest catch was her husband whom she fished out of the lake after he slipped in.

Dr. Charles Schutz also returned after a fishing "jaunt" in the Sierras this week. Dick Bruce left this Tuesday for the same region.

Don Pannier and his family and Arch Henry left Monday for an angling expedition in the High Sierras.

Clayton Allen and Monte Webb and their families tested fishing at Santa Barbara last week end.

In this period of confusion man looks beseechingly for some practical application of the Sermon on the Mount to guide despairing humanity from the murk of despondency to the sunlit heights of world friendship.
