COLONY QUIPS

Anyone who has had to be out the last few days driving an automobile has had very little trouble seeing the fog and has also had a lot of trouble seeing the white line in the middle of the road. Or maybe we should talk about the spot where the white line should be. All during the war, we realize, paint and painters have been hard to get and perhaps they still are. Of course, there is plenty of paint to doll up the new parking meters and the stalls that they collect tribute for but what about those lines in the middle of the streets. Those that might save an accident? Then there are the county roads that have very little of that white line left. We may have some more fog.

The nickle extractors are busily engaged plying their trade along the streets of Anaheim. These parking meters seem to know just what they are supposed to do. Before the deadline of December 4th people with automobiles had contributed almost $200.00 to the machines. The problem of what to do with this money probably can be easily solved by the city Dads. We suggest that it might be well to buy paint for that middle line so a person could more easily see where he was in the fog. Perhaps we should say in A fog.

After these meters have been in operation a few weeks it will be interesting to hear the reaction of the people most affected. In Santa Ana there is no question that they have worked well but we have heard varying stories from other towns. Down in Newport the people just moved on down the road where there were no meters and patronized the smaller stores located in that area. One thing we know it will put a stop to here and that is people parking down town of a Saturday evening just to watch the crowds go by.

How many Americans know that not so long ago Communism was actively practiced in the heart of our country? And that it collapsed when the carefully guarded younger generation saw American individual enterprise in action?

Outgrowth of an 8th century German pietistic group, the Amana Society was established in Iowa in 1855 as a clear-cut Communist enterprise, it is related by Nelson A. Crawford in the American magazine.

Each family was assigned to modest living quarters; meals were served in common halls. Surplus farm products were sold, profit went to the society's treasury. Nobody received profits or wages.

There was no schooling beyond the 8th grade, except for a few youngsters the community considered outstanding. These, sent away for professional training, understood they would return home to practice.

But in the 1920's seeds of revolt began to sprout. A youth, studying medicine, wrote back, "I have had enough of Communism. I want a pay check, not a dole. I am going to live as an individual American."

Fourteen years ago the Amana Society went broke; shifted to a capitalistic system.

—o—

Wonder where your tax dollars go?

Well, for one thing (and a great big thing it is, too!), the government in Washington is issuing pay checks to almost 20,000,000 people.

In other words, although we are well into the second year of peace, one of every seven Americans is on the Federal government's direct payroll.

And all this costs the tax payers something like $1,701,000,000 a month.

Direct payments, either from Washington or through state channels, go to 19,484,803 persons, at a yearly cost of $20,400,000,000 —or about half the annual Federal budget.

The amount doubles the entire government expenditures of the largest New Deal peacetime spending year, and tops the peak World War I outlay of 1919.

Of the total number of people on the government payroll, the military establishment accounts for a mere 2,454,056 officers and men and women of the Army, Navy Marines and Coast Guard.

In addition to the $1,701,000,000 a month paid out by the government directly to individuals, other Federal funds are expended in such indirect routes as government contracts, subsidies, school lunches, farm loans, business and power loans, maternity-care programs, and Indian benefits.

ARRIVES ON THANKSGIVING

Mr. and Mrs. James Kipp of 759 North West street welcomed a baby daughter who arrived at the Fullerton General hospital on Thanksgiving Day, last Thursday, tipping the scales at seven pounds.

COOPERATION OF PUBLIC ASKED IN PREPARING CHRISTMAS MAIL

Cooperation of the public in preparing Chirstmas mail was urged today by L. H. Hoskins, postmaster of the Anaheim Post Office, who issued a set of instructions as contained in a bulletin from the office of the postmaster general. When followed carefully, the directions greatly facilitate the handling of Christmas mail by postal employees.

Below is the list as given to the Gazette by Postmaster Hoskins for publication:

Prepay postage fully on all mail matter.

Address all matter plainly and completely in ink, giving street address or box or rural route number whenever possible. The delivery zone number should be shown when applicable. Tags should not be used unless necessary, in which case a copy of the address and return card should be placed inside the parcel for identification if tag is lost.

Pack articles carefully in strong durable containers. Wrap parcels securely, but do not seal them except when bearing a printed endorsement, reading: "Contents, merchandise — Postmaster: This parcel may be opened for postal inspection if necessary", together with name and address of sender, as sealed packages not so labeled or endorsed are subject to postage at the letter rate. The name and address of the sender may be handwritten or typewritten on the labels.

Parcels containing perishable articles should be prominently endorsed with the word "perishable" by postmasters or other postal employees. Articles likely to spoil within the time reasonably required for transportation should not be accepted for mailing.

Parcels may not exceed 100 inches in length and girth combined.

The limit of weight of fourth-class or parcel post matter is 70 pounds for all zones. The same limit applies to first-class matter sent air mail.

Parcels may be marked "Do not open until Christmas", this being permitted in order to encourage early mailing.

Written greetings such as "Merry Christmas", "Happy New Year", "With Best Wishes", and names, numbers and symbols, for the purpose of description, may be enclosed with third or fourth-class (parcel post) mail. Books may bear simple dedicatory inscriptons not of a personal nature. Other written additions subject parcels to letter postage.

Do not enclose letters in parcels, as so doing would subject entire parcel to letter postage. Communications prepaid at the first-class rate may be sent with parcels prepaid at the third or fourth-class rate by securely attaching the envelope containing the letters or other written matter to the outside of parcels.

Christmas seals or stickers should not be placed on the address side of mail.

Mailers may save time by buying postage stamps in advance.

Parcels of fourth-class matter, endorsed "special handling" will be given the most expeditious handling and transportation practicable (but not special delivery) upon payment in addition to the regular postage of the following charge: up to two pounds, ten cents; over two pounds, up to ten pounds, fifteen cents; over ten pounds, twenty cents.

County Hospital Admissions To Receive X-Rays

All admissions to Orange county hospital are to receive chest X-rays beginning January 1, the procedure having been initiated by Dr. J. J. Montanus, acting head of the hospital, and by Dr. E. L. Russell, Orange county health officer.

Lending enthusiastic support to the project are Dr. Walter Saul, radiologist, and Dr. E. E. Lundegaard, director of the county tuberculosis sanatorium, as well as Dr. E. E. Brauner, tuberculosis specialist in the Orange county health department. The hospital will become the first in the county to follow this plan.

Operating the machinery and keeping the records will be Mrs. Gladys Comeau, X-ray technician at the hospital. The service will be free, with the supplies furnished by the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health association. It is expected that this service will fully demonstrate the value of similar procedures in all hospitals in this area.

Local Sportsman, Hunter or Hunted?

Faced with a menacing bob cat curled up in the middle of his camp cot was Ralph "Bob Cat" Heeter, during a Colorado duck hunting trip. Since he had previously stored his gun under the cot with his suitcase, he yelped to his three comrades, George "Doc" Paige and "Jack" Coontail" Burkhert and al "Long Legs" Verry to toss him another fire arm. Then he went for the axe, but was handed a light instead. When he viewed the cat again he noticed that it looked a bit "hay-seedy".

Now it seems that Paige, Burkhert and Verry arrived at their destination, after leaving here November 25, a little ahead of Heeter. Before the arrival of the unfortunate fourth, they shot a bob cat, skinned it and stufed the hide with hay.

Finale of the episode found Heeter chasing the conspirators out of camp with "everything but his gun and the axe".

The quartet returned to this city last Friday night, with eight ducks, to find that the story "beat them home!"

'Hit-Run Parker' Produces First Meter Casualty

The first parking meter casualty was brought in last Sunday morning at 1:00 a. m. by local police shortly after it had apparently been struck by a "hit-run parker."

Designated as Meter Number 353, officers found it "badly beaten up, but intact," directly in front of the Anaheim Bowling Academy building on South Los Angeles street.

A statement from police spokesmen yesterday revealed that Number 353 "is doing very nicely, thank you, and it will be up and around again shortly."

AUHS Varsity Eleven Guests Of Kiwanis Club

Coaches and members of the AUHS varsity football team were honored guests at a noon luncheon meeting of the local Kiwanis club last Tuesday.

Presented by Head Coach Richard Glover, players on the 1946 varsity eleven came forward to meet the Kiwanis, receiving congratulations for their fine playing and outstanding sportsmanship of the past season.

Laurels were also in order for the various coaches of the teams, including John Wallin, line coach; Ralph Kingsbury, junior varsity coach; and Chet Shirk, "B" team coach.

A review of the season's games was given by Glover, who stated that the league as a whole, was the most balanced one he'd ever seen.

Virtual Halting Of Chest Drive Spurs Committee

The home stretch run toward a goal of $28,665 for Anaheim's 1946 Community Chest drive was virtually halted this week, as less than $700 in contributions was forwarded to Chest committeemen.

Nearly all of the contributions originated from individuals and private sources, the larger retail houses and places of business having been covered one or more times during the past two months.

As of Wednesday evening, the contributions total $20,968, or $7,697 less than is needed to make the drive a success. If necessary, the drive will be extended until the goal is reached.

Latest contributors include Mrs. George A. Nelson, Mrs. G. S. Hansard, Mary Grace Spielman, Richard E. Porter, F. H. Leonard, O. W. Heying, R. E. Porter, Mrs. Opal Farley, Doris M. Desch, R. H. Jordan, Francis Salgado, Clyde Jackson, E. B. Harper, Jr., Mrs. R. L. Stagner, Mrs. L. Olson, J. Heddens, Charles W. Githens, Faith Wittener, L. M. Crom, Harold Ferguson, Gus Aspelin, J. A. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Sahr, M. Koehler, J. F. Addy, Paul Dominguez, Mrs. A. Baylis, C. R. Goyn, Everett Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Lear, Louise Gruenemay, Mrs. C. H. Myer, Mrs. E. L. Assoc. C of C and Coast Association Plan Xmas Party

The Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county and the Orange County Coast association are planning to hold a combined "Christmas Party and Banquet" next Tuesday evening, December 10, in the Memorial Hall, Civic Center, Huntington Beach at 6:30 p. m.

Mrs. Hazel Allen, the famous Huntington Beach caterer, will serve the dinner.

Each person is requested to bring a small gift, value about 25 cents, for Santa Claus. Yuletide presents will be given to each person later in the evening by Santa, who will appear in full costume.

Christmas carols will be rendered by the Huntington Beach Girls Chorus and entertainment features will be supplied by William Gallienne, secretary of the Associated Chambers. Highlight of the evening will be the throwing of "The Big Switch," turning on a blaze of Christmas trees and lights to start the annual attraction of "Forty Miles of Christmas Smiles."

President of the Associated Chambers W. M. Longmoor stated today that the affair will be "An extravaganza de-luxe." All reservations must be made in advance, a two dollar charge per person asked. Deadline for reservations will be next Monday, December 9 at 12:00 noon.

Since 1908, Christmas Seal Sales have been conducted on a nationwide scale to support local, state and national programs to further tuberculosis control.

Inoculation Experiments Give Clues To Nature of Citrus Quick Decline

Citrus Quick Decline, dread scourge of the citrus growers, has finally been reproduced in experimentally inoculated plants, giving definite clues as to the nature of the disease.

Members of the Division of Plant Pathology, University of California Citrus Experiment Station, prepared a description of the disease and a progress report of the investigations, releasing the details last April. However, up until that time, the disease has not been reproduced in plants by artificial means and for that reason there was no real evidence as to the nature of quick decline.

Observations led the experts to belive that the conductive tissues of the phloem in the bark at or near the bud union of affected trees gave a passable explanation of why the food supply to the roots was decreased or shut off. Degeneration of the phloem sievetubes was therefore believed to be responsible for the observed depletion of stored starch in the roots and the subsequent rotting of roots and top deterioration of the trees.

The possible virus nature of the disease was investigated through intensive study by means of budding and grafting from diseased to healthy trees. Evidence from these studies is now being gathered, pointing to the probability that quick decline is transmissible by graft-inoculation of healthy trees and can therefore be considered an infectious disease. Thorough investigation have revealed no bacterial or fungal organisms as casual, so, following the graft-inoculation experiments, the conclusion has been reached that quick decline is a virus disease.

For a study of transmission of the disease, numerous one-year old Valencia trees on sour orange rootstock were taken from inoculation nurseries outside of the

Location of New Parking Meters Set By Resolution

Official location of the city's new parking meters was set by resolution of the City Council which met last Tuesday evening in the council chambers of the City hall.

The official count on the number of parking meters now in operation was stated by City Clerk Charles Griffith to be 412. Actual effective date of meter operation was December 4 at 9:00 a. m., although it is believed by the city clerk that at least one hundred dollars rolled into the meter cash boxes before the ordinance became effective.

Forest Wolverton, long-time employee of the Public Service department, was transferred to the police department and deputized as collector and maintenance man in charge of the meters.

Anaheim Legion Post Initiates New Members

Anaheim's Legionnaires convened last Monday evening, initiating 20 men as new members of the local post in a ceremony conducted by Charles Schmitt.

Aside from the initiation ceremonies, highlight of the evening was a program starring Miss Edith Browne, popular young vocalist of the city, who sang and danced several Hawaiian numbers, topping off her program with a selection of popular requests.

During the evening, Miss Browne received a gold compact with her name engraved on it as a token of recognition by the Post for her fine entertainment services in the community.

The business end of the meeting was concerned in most part, with the building fund drive now being carried on by the local post.

Because of the expanding list of new members, veterans of the recent war, the present meeting place in the City Hall clubroom is becoming too small to accommodate a full turnout of members. It was decided that a new home is needed for a meeting place so a fund drive for a new home was started several weeks ago. In order to encourage donations to their cause, the McCoy Motor company has provided a 1946 Ford which will be given away free at the conclusion of the drive.

A report from the entertainment committee was also heard at the meeting. For the week of December 16, a "colossal program" is to be arranged, but committee mebers did not reveal the details.

Club to Sponsor Rural Recreation Training Program

A program for training in rural recreation will be sponsored by 4-H club senior members in the near future, following a meeting of a committee for drafting the current program at the home of H. W. Longfellow, advisor of the group.

The first meeting was held Monday evening, December 2, 7:30 p.m. at the new community center building, 1104 West 8th street, Santa Ana. Ken Southerd of Pasadena arrived to direct the group of 4-H leaders and seniors in folk dancing and other recreation. These leaders will later extend their training to the individual 4-H clubs throughout the county. It may be remembered that Southerd first popularized square dancing at the 4-H camp last summer.

The committee that met recently to formulate the year's program includes Don Rosedale, 4-H senior president; William Rosedale, Yorba Linda; Dorothy Beavers, Stanton; Paul Lieb, Anaheim; Barbara Elliott, West Orange; Rosemary Boose, Tustin; and H. W. Longfellow of the Agricultural Extension service.

THE BROWNS SPEND HOLIDAY IN SUNLAND

Enjoying a festive Thanksgiving party away from this city were Mrs. Alberta Brown of 1011 East Broadway and her family, Edith, John, Vic, Ted, Tommy and Ronnie. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vic D. Bubb and son, Rickie, of Sunland, California.

Everybody reads the Gazette.

Youth Symphony To Present First Concert of Season

The first in the series of concerts for the 1946-47 season will be presented by the Orange County Youth Symphony orchestra on Sunday afternoon, December 15, in the auditorium of Anaheim Union High school. The program will begin at 4 o'clock and promises to be one of the very enjoyable musical events for the Christmas season. In past performances, this group of young people have presented programs that were a credit to professional contingents of this nature, showing the finesse of artists of many years of study, a group of young people that is unsurpassed in the southern part of this state and possibly in several states.

An added feature for the new season is a choir of sixty voices, mostly young people from Anaheim, who will combine their portion of the program with the orchestra to bring a vesper service indicative of the Christmas season. This choir is planned to become a permanent part of the Youth Symphony and is showing great promise of becoming a leading attraction in musical circles.

As in the past two years, the Orange County Youth Symphony is being sponsored by the Anaheim Kiwanis club.

Workman Shot In Ankle While Shingling Roof

It could possibly have been the last shot fired in World War II or maybe it was fired from a nearby orange grove . . . at any rate, Harold H. Keesecker, 39, of 533 South Bradshaw avenue, Los Angeles, received a .22 caliber bullet in the ankle while shingling a garage roof at a housing project, 1017 West Sycamore street, Anaheim, last Tuesday morning.

Police arrived after being called by a neighboring workman and removed Keesecker for treatment of the wound at a local doctor's office. It was found that the bullet had passed through the shoe leather, the tongue of the shoe and on into Keesecker's ankle, inflicting a painful injury. The man was ordered to stay off his foot until given further instructions by the physician.

Up until press tme, no additional information has been released by authorities as to who fired the shot or why it was fired.

A thorough investigation is being made by local police.

Grade of Navel Orange Shipments Reported To Be 'Highest in Years'

With color and grade of central California navel shipments the highest in years, the market on early navels remains excellent. Florida returns, it was reported, have shown a sharp decline with prices off 40 cents a box for the week ending November 30, although sales were almost exactly in the same volume as the week before. A settling effect on California returns due to the lower price on Florida fruit was noticed, but California prices at auction last week averaged more than double the prices of the Peninsular state.

Industry shipments from central California totalled more than 1500 cars for the week ending November 30 with no prorate in effect. The effect of the coal strike on car supply is being watched with some anxiety by shippers since a shutdown of eastern roads means fewer reefers returned to California, and the supply of cars is already seriously short.

Shipments made during the weeks ending December 7 and 14 will largely represent the holiday supply of fruit and all shippers are anxious to move as much as possible in that period. Although a heavy volume of fruit is expected to be moved before Christmas, many shippers believe that the price on navels will continue at a satisfactory level through the holiday season. The sustained buying power of the public and Florida supplies on the market will, in most part, govern the prices after the holiday period.

San Joaquin Valley navel orange began to move November 12, but due to frost, rain and generally unfavorable weather, the fruit is slow in reaching sugar content and harvest has been somewhat retarded. Once the weather clears, however, volume movement should get underway.

Most groves are producing fruit of good sizes and normal development from now on should result in a peak at 196, compared to 204 last season. Color of fruit is fair, thrip damage light and skin texture good. Latest estimates on the Valley navel crop indicates production of close to 6,699,000 boxes.

With weather conditions favorable in southern California, where fruit is coloring nicely and sizes will be materially larger than those of last year, the state's total navel crop for the 1946-47 season is estimated at 19,700,000 boxes. A few valencias are still moving from the southern area but shipping is practically over.

Lemon prices remain firm and high under heavy demand and light supplies. Current industry storage figures are exceedingly light and no substantial increase in harvest is expected after the first of the year. Lemons are moving from both southern California and the San Joaquin valley. Preliminary forecasts indicate a crop of 13,900,000 boxes this season as compared to 14,500,000 boxes last year.

Grapefruit returns showed a slight increase, particularly in the California markets, under light

HAIL B. AND P. W. EXHIBIT UNIQUE AS BIG SUCCESS

Ranging from the crinoline days to the atom bomb was the Exhibit Unique, benefit extravaganza, staged by the Anaheim Business and Professional Woman's club at the Ebell clubhouse here last Sunday afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock, featuring a panorama of rare treasures, the largest collection ever displayed in this city. In the spotlight on the varied program were Miss Zenia Zytomirska, attache from the Polish embassy, and Clarence Gustlin, well known concert pianist.

Maletta 'Puts Best Shoe Forward'

Honors came to Dick Maletta, owner of the Nu Way Shoe Shop, 109 South Los Angeles street, and to Anaheim, when the National Shoe Repair association, headquarters, St. Louis, Missouri, awarded him the "Shoe Service Shop of America" emblem.

Anaheim boasts of the only shoe shop in the county to have this distinction. The round insignia may be viewed in Maletta's display windows. Two agents inspected the shop recently, he revealed. The emblem arrived in the mail last week.

This marks the third shop owned and operated by Maletta to receive national endorsement. He previously was at U.S.C. and in Montebello.

Shoe shops recommended by the National Shoe repair association will be advertised in Life Magazine, Ladies' Home Journal and over the radio on national hookups.

Checks Bounce; Police Catch Man On Rebound

Robert Hilton Golladay of Long Beach, sought by the police since last October on charges of passing fictitious checks, was returned to Anaheim by local patrolmen this week after being apprehended by San Mateo police at Redwood City recently.

He appeared for arraignment last Tuesday afternoon and waived preliminary trial. His bail was set at $5,000 and he is being held to answer in Superior Court in the near future.

LITTLE MISS COWLES

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Cowles welcomed a new daughter on Tuesday, Dec. 3, at St. Joseph hospital, weighing 5 lbs. 13 oz. The family home is at route 4, box 268, Anaheim.

WELCOME DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Wallace of 615 No. Clementine street greeted a new daughter who arrived at St. Joseph's hospital, at Orange, Wednesday of last week, tipping the scales at eight pounds, three ounces.

"Our hope must lie in one great world of brotherhood and understanding," stated Miss Zenia Zytomirska, charming attache with the Polish embassy, Washington, D. C., now on the west coast on diplomatic commitments. A veteran of the Polish underground for five and one-half years, she related the privations now being suffered in her country from first hand knowledge. "There are 1,060,000 war orphans without any living relatives in Poland now," she said. "Sixty million children have the beginning of tuberculosis." "They need friendship and care, for the future of Poland is our children." Many Polish orphans have been adopted via mail in the United States, she revealed.

A school teacher previous to World War II, Miss Zytomirska was in Warsaw during the siege of Warsaw in 1939 and in Europe during the following war. She has been in the diplomatic service for one and one-half years. She was introduced to the group by Mrs. Shoemaker.

Polish character dolls in colorful costumes created by seamstresses of the Polish War relief center in Los Angeles were on sale for civilian aid to war-torn Europe in a booth presided over by Miss Zytomirska. Photographs flanking the booth showed the contrast bewteen pre-war and post-war Poland. Also included were old coins and rare medals made in 1746, a beautiful handwoven scarf and a bright embroidered scarf, beautifully designed.

Those persons still wishing to purchase a doll for Polish war relief may do so by writing Miss Xena Zytomirska, 1845 Berryman street, Berkeley 3, California.

THEREMIN

With only 16 existing in this country, the theremin, electronically principaled musical instrument was demonstrated by Mannett Le Mon of Riverside accompanied by Mrs. Esther Renault, also of Riverside. The bassoon, violin and high soprano qualities of the theremin were evidenced in "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring," by Bach, the corale from the "Fugue in E-Minor" by Mendelissohn and "The Swan" by Saint Saens. Invented in 1927 by a German professor, Leon Theremin, at Frankfurt and shown at the musical arts exhibit there, it was introduced to this country on December 6, 1929, by Leopold Stokowski at Carnegie Hall. It is now sponsored by the Victor company and used almost exclusively for impressionistic mood backgrounds for such psychological motion pictures as "Lost Weekend" and "Spellbound." Sixty-cycle current passing between three oscillating circuits in harmonious relationship is the basis of its musical principal. A change in capacity between the three circuits or the pitch, natural and volume rods, creates the sound. Therefore the player's breathing must be regulated with rests and phrasing in the musical score.

"Happy Day" Line Fails to Impress Local Housewives

If a young man rings your door bell or enters your place of business with the yarn that he's selling magazine subscriptions in order to make extra points for his discharge from the service . . . don't you believe it!

Seems impossible that a sane person would attempt a sales talk using such a "corny" line, but it's true! According to an entry in the police bulletin, a young man recently toured the city using a high-pressure verbal system for selling his magazines. "Madam", he'd say, "I am working for points toward my discharge from the service. Would you buy a subscription to hasten the happy day?"

Police would like to know from what branch of the service the young man is seeking his discharge. Maybe he's in the Swiss navy!

THE POSTMAN IS HUMAN, TOO!

Most readers may respond to the title of this editorial with, "I know it, so what?"

But every year along about this time most readers and most everybody else seem to forget it. They see the signs and placards posted everywhere urging them to shop early and mail early. Do they? They don't.

The result is that during the last week or the last few days before Christmas a mountain of mail and packages deluges the post office.

The Christmas season would be hard enough on the post office force even if everybody cooperated by mailing early, but the last minute rush makes it all the worst. Why not help this year by actually mailing early?

Remember, the postman is only human, too.

PEARL HARBOR

Five years have passed since that Sunday morning in December, 1941, when Pearl Harbor was suddenly changed from a scene of sabbath stillness to one of flame and fury and chaos.

The wreckage of the great battle-wagons was still smouldering when the shout arose, "Remember Pearl Harbor!" That became the rallying cry around which our war effort centered. We remembered Pearl Harbor. We remembered the thousands who were killed and wounded in that attack. We remembered the vicious trickery of the enemy. We remembered how close we had come to complete disaster.

These things we kept before us until nearly four years later when what the Japs had started at Pearl Harbor we finished in Tokyo bay.

Now the war seems long past, and Pearl Harbor a tragic event of ages ago. But we have not forgotten it. And we must not forget it—not just the attack, itself but all the things that made the attack possible. We must not forget, for instance, that it was our foolish policy of supplying the Japs with great quantities of oil and scrap iron that enabled them to launch the war against us; that it was our feeling of smug security which prevented us from being alert and ready for any sudden thrust from a possible enemy.

Keeping these things in mind we shall never again build up the military power of an aggressor nation, nor shall we grow careless about our own defense. But we must not stop there. Rather, we must go on from there to help achieve that understanding and cooperation among nations which alone can bring us—and the world—sure protection and lasting peace.

The attack from the skies on that December morning half a decade ago was one of the most stunning blows our nation ever sustained. But out of it came big lessons—lessons which will always help us so long as we remember Pearl Harbor.

THE "PURGE"

The appointment of a special commission by President Truman to purge the government of communists and their "fellow travelers" will undoubtedly have popular support as long as its investigation is properly handled.

The need for a cleanup in the ranks of federal employees of those who consistently hold to the Russia-can't-be-wrong attitude, even though they don't call themselves Communists, has long been needed.

But the commission will have to use great care to see to it that its activities are kept well in hand. We want to see those who put Russia ahead of their own country ousted from government jobs, but we don't want to have everybody who ever said a good word for the Soviet Union branded as a Communist.

We want neither a whitewash nor a witch hunt.

VALLEY OF DECISION

The great question before America today is—as it has been ever since V-J Day—shall the people of this nation work together and achieve a greater degree of progress than they have ever known, or shall they wrangle and quarrel while their vast industrial machine disintegrates and their standard of living sinks ever lower?

That question should have been answered nearly a year and a half ago. And it should have been answered by an unbroken hum of factory wheels, an unceasing march of assembly lines, an unending flow of materials and products. But it was not.

Men chose to disagree, foolishly believing that they could gain some advantage for themselves at somebody else's expense. Whatever was gained has since been lost many times over. The whole country has suffered. Industry hasn't the profits it could have had, labor hasn't the wages it could have earned, and the public hasn't the products it so urgently needs. And, worst of all, the rapidly rising prices resulting from the failure to produce now makes the task of regaining our economic balance all the more difficult.

It is later than we think. But it is still not too late—if workers and employers will decide to act like normal adults instead of like spoiled, brattish children. No one group can have its way all the way. No one group can put its interests above those of the nation without dangerously injuring the nation and eventually destroying itself.

It is a time for decision—sane, sound, clear-headed decision.. Let there be no further delay in making that decision—the right decision.

Booher Service Held Monday

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon for Robert H. Booher, 70, from the Hilgenfeld chapel. He died Wednesday night of last week at the Hemet Community hospital after an illness of only 18 hours.

After residing at the family home on Holder road west of Anaheim for more than 18 years, he moved to a ranch in Hemet valley six months ago. Last Tuesday afternoon the deceased drove from Anaheim to Hemet and, to all appearances, was in the best of health. He was stricken soon after midnight.

He is survived by his widow, Emma Booher; five sons, Harold R. of Los Angeles; Robert W. and Willie R., both of Cypress; Samuel I. of Berkeley and Hack E. Booher of Hemet; two daughters, Mrs. Wonnie Zedaker of Cypress and Mrs. Bobbie K. Lowe of Norwalk; four brothers, Jimmie Ed. Booher of Fullerton, Charles of Downey, Samuel and Joe Booher, both of Kentucky; seven sisters, Mrs. Kelly Owens of Cypress, Mrs. Winborn Capps of Buena Park and five sisters in the east; 14 grandchildren and two great grandchildren. He was a member of the Nazarene church.

AND UNCLE SAMMY SHIPPED THEM TOO!

A strange looking and "smelly" package arrived at Monte Webb's barber shop on East Center street recently, postmarked Troy, Tenn. Seems that Jimmy "Playboy" Mitchell promised the Anaheim fly-tying class some squirrel tails. They got three large ones.

Common Council proceedings.—The Council met on Dec. 11th at 3 p.m. Present Messrs. Champlin, Boege, Davis, Bittner and President Zeyn. On motion of Mr. Champlin the petition was received and laid up for next meeting. The following bills were received and referred to the finance committee: R. Melrose $100; Heiman and George, $60.42; T. T. Hill $25; Crook & Sullivan $3; H. Bennerscheidt $1.62; J. W. Clark $3.50; A. Kohler $3. On motion of Mr. Davis the common council then adjourned to meet on Tuesday, Dec. 26, 1871, at 3 o'clock p.m.—Theodore Rimpau, Clerk.

On the Bolsa Chica, near the Westminster Colony, stands a corn crib 128 feet long, 8 feet wide and 14 feet high, full of corn. This crop was raised by Col. John L. Strong, he informs us, without the use of either team or tools—after the ground was plowed and harrowed—then long handled shovels and hoes. The crib contains almost 4000 sacks of shelled corn and is said to be the largest in the county. Col. Strong informs us that he had about a thousand centals destroyed by stock and saved the remainder by herding day and night. Only about half the land was irrigated.

The Peoples Advocate, a newspaper started by Max Strobel and Capt. Geo. C. Knox was consolidated with the Gazette. (The Peoples Advocate was published in a house at the northwest corner of Lemon and Broadway. The Gazette was printed in a building which stood where the Mullinix drug store now stands. This consolidation occurred 75 years ago.—Editor.)

Mr. Michael Reese, proprietor of the Alamitos ranch and one of the wealthiest men in the state, was in Anaheim yesterday. He had a conference with F. Schneider, Esq., president of the Anaheim Lighting company, the object of his visit being mainly to arrange the business relations existing between himself and that corporation.

We visited the rink at Los Angeles the other evening and enjoyed the spectacle very much. The proprietors, Messrs. Bent and Ralph, offer to sell the right for Anaheim and we think some of our citizens would do well to buy it and open a rink here.

Mr. Richard Melrose has sold his lot on the northeast corner of Los Angeles and Second North streets to the Messrs. Backs Bros., who propose to erect thereon a two-story building for the manufacture and sale of furniture.

We acknowledge receipt, through the courtesy of Hon. T. D. Mott, our representative at Sacramento, of a pamphlet entitled "The Railroad Systems of California".

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Mr. Canrad in another column. The brewery has been well fitted up and is a pleasant resort for a cooling drink of lager or a quiet smoke.

Somebody stole some chickens from Mr. Rimpau's residence last night. The rascal was pursued and shot at, but unfortunately escaped.

From the Pasadena Star: A horrible rumor comes from Anaheim, if we may credit the Gazette (and we trust that Henry Kuchel wouldn't lie about a little thing like that) that a citizen has been set upon by footpads who cudgeled him with great diligence and tried to rob him—but got nothing. It was not so in the good old days when we lived there. Then, if a robber had the enterprise to waylay a citizen on the highway, he was sure of something—if nothing more than a broken head. Henry, these be degenrate days and we weep with you. (The above was written by Chas. A. Gardner, then editor of the Pasadena Star and seventy-five years ago editor of the Gazette.)

THANKSGIVING DAY SETTING MARKS WILLIAMSON-MYERS NUPTIALS

Just returned from a short honeymoon trip are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Myers. She is the former Alice Williamson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Williamson ,Orangewood road, Anaheim. The couple plighted their troth on Thanksgiving Day, last Thursday afternoon at the White Temple Methodist church at 4 o'clock, with Dr. R. Kells Swenerton, long-time friend of the family and now pastor of the First Methodist church, Santa Barbara, and Rev. Hayden Swift Sears of the White Temple church reading the double-ring ceremony.

Enhancing the bride's loveliness was her white brocaded satin gown fashioned with a net yoke, tightly fitted bodice and full skirt ending in a train. Traditional sentiment was found in a handkerchief carried by her mother and her sister at their weddings.

The couple repeated their marriage vows before an all-white altar flanked with tall white baskets of fall flowers and potted palms, with cathedral candelabra casting a soft glow over the setting.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride carried a colonial bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid blending with white satin.

Matron of honor was Mrs. John Bestall of Anaheim, sister of the bride. She wore a princess style gown of moss green and carried a colonial bouquet of talisman roses.

Miss Barbara Myers of this city, sister of the groom, was her only other attendant. She was attired in a gown of identical design to that of the maid of honor. She also carried a bouquet of talisman roses.

Serving as best man was Rowland Myers of Long Beach, brother of the groom. John Bestall and Ed Bonkowsky, both of Anaheim, were ushers. Nephews of the groom and sons of the best man, Ronnie and Gary Myers of Long Beach, were the candle lighters. Ring bearer was Allan Bestall, nephew of the bride and son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bestall.

Preceding the ceremony D. Lyman Harpster of Anaheim, tenor, sang "At Dawning", "All Through the Years" and Malott's "The Lord's Prayer". He was accompanied by Miss Marian Pickell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Pickell of Anaheim, who is now attending Redlands university. Miss Pickell also played the traditional wedding marches for the ceremony.

Guests greeted the newlyweds in the church hall following the ceremony, the bride's mother, Mrs. Williamson, choosing for the occasion a black and gold ensemble. Mother of the groom, Mrs. Myers, wore a rose dress.

Immediately following the ceremony a host of immediate family relatives and close friends attended the reception at the church. Presiding at the tea and coffee urns were Mrs. Rowland Myers of Long Beach and Miss Juanita Grace of Madera. Serving the cake was Mrs. Merritt Avers of Compton, assisted by Mrs. Walter Frey of Anaheim and Miss Josephine La Rue of Fullerton. Mrs. Alfred Bonney of Santa Ana presided over the guest book.

After cutting and sharing the first piece of their three-tiered wedding cake, the couple left for a short honeymoon. They are now residing in Fullerton.

Well known in this vicinity, the bride has been an instructor at Lincoln junior high school of this city. Previously, she taught several years at Benjamin Franklin elementary school. She is the president of the local chapter of Beta Sigma Phi and past president of the Business and Professional women. An alumnus of Anaheim Union high school, she is a graduate of the University of Redlands.

Her groom, an instructor in the language department at Fullerton Union high school and junior college, served with the Counter Intelligence corps for four years, employing his linguistic fluency in North Africa, France, Sicily and Germany. He is also an alumnus of Anaheim high school and a graduate of the University of California where he got his Master of Arts degree.

Pre-nuptial courtesies included showers given by Miss Barbara Myers and her mother here, a shower given by Mrs. Melvin Hilgenfeld, and a gift from the Business and Professional Women to the bride and a shower for the groom presented by the night school language class at Fullerton junior college.

Vet-Australian Bride Return From Honeymoon

Marking the next chapter in a trans-Pacific romance, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Portillo returned to this city after a week's honeymoon at Laguna Beach. She is the former Gloria Mancell Duthie of Australia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Duthie of Cheltenham, Melbourne, Australia. The couple repeated their marriage vows at St. Boniface Catholic church November 24. They reside at 228 East Sycamore street.

Portillo, who saw four and one-half years of service in the Infantry, met his future wife while serving with the famed 41st Division on duty in Australia and New Guinea for 34 months. During this time he was extended the hospitality of her uncle.

The new Mrs. Portillo arrived in the United States via Australian air liner approximately six weeks ago. She was welcomed in San Francisco by her groom-elect.

In a beautiful setting of potted palms, tall baskets of white flowers, and lighted cathedral candelabra, the young couple plighted their troth, with Father James Gallagher of St. Boniface church, reciting the nuptial mass.

The bride was radiant in her gown of white jersey, fashioned with fitted bodice, high soft neckline, short sleeves and very full skirt, worn with a short veil of fragile silk net which cascaded from a coronet of orange blossoms.

Traditional Australian bridal custom was carried out in a tiny satin horseshoe which she wore. It was a present from her cousin, Laurie Simpson of Melbourne, Australia.

Given in marriage by her future brother-in-law, George A. Winter of Anaheim, she carried a single orchid resting on a white prayer book which had been given to her for her wedding by her mother before she left Australia.

Her only attendant was Miss Maurine Bashara, a close friend of the young couple. She wore a blue chiffon gown of princess style and carried a nosegay bouquet of split pink carnations centered with a baby orchid and blended with lavender streamers. A coronet of rosebuds and blue net graced her hair.

Serving as best man was Charles Portillo, brother of the groom. Ernest Bashara and Charles Gastelum were ushers.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Marilyn Heins sang "On This Day O Beautiful Mother" accompanied by Mrs. A. F. Faust, church organist, who also played the traditional wedding music.

Guests greeted the newlyweds in the church hall following the ceremony with Mrs. Winters, sister of the groom, choosing for the occasion a street length dress of black with sequin trim. She wore a pink carnation corsage and pink-toned gloves, matching the pink plume in her small black hat.

More than 125 immediate family relatives and close friends gathered in the parish hall for the reception immediately after the nuptials.

Mrs. Charles Portillo, sister-in-law of the groom, served the cake. Pouring were Mrs. David Stewart of Oxnard, cousin of the bridegroom, and Mrs. George Salisbury, a very close family friend. Miss Betty Frey presided over the guest book.

After cutting and sharing the first piece of their four-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature wedding bell, doves and a fountain scene, the young couple left for their honeymoon trip.

For traveling the bride chose a teal blue suit worn with black accessories. The orchid from her bridal bouquet was pinned to her lapel.

The bride is a graduate of schools in Cheltenham, Melbourne, Australia.

Her groom, who has made his home with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Winters, is a graduate of Anaheim Union High school and an alumnus of Fullerton Junior college. He is associated with the Todd Dairy, Santa Ana.

ROBERT-BERCKELAER NUPTIALS READ AT ST. BONIFACE SATURDEY

Lovely in her gown of white taffeta, Miss Bette Robert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Robert of 545 South Ohio street became the ride of Guy Van Berckelaer, Jr., in semi-formal rites solemnized at St. Boniface Catholic church last Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, the Rev. Father Henry Gross, reciting the nuptial mass for the double-ring ceremony.

The young couple plighted their troth before an all-white altar flanked with large chrysanthemums and lighted cathedral candelabra, witnessed by more than 200 family relatives and close friends.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride carried a bridal spray of white roses centered with an orchid blended with white satin bows.

Enhancing the bride's loveliness was her three-quarter length veil, caught to a coronet of orange blossoms, cascading in soft folds over her gown which was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, fitted sleeves, low tapered waistline and very full skirt ending in a train.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Dorothy Page of Anaheim, a close friend, wearing a gold-toned crepe gown fashioned with full length sleeves, full skirt and low yoke accented with a ruffle as was the low tapering waistline.

Miss Betty Black and Miss Irene Stehly were the bridesmaids. They were blue crepe gowns of identical design to that of the matron of honor.

All three attendants carried bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums, maiden-hair fern blended with bronze and gold satin ribbons. Coronets of tiny bronze chrysanthemums graced their hair.

Serving as best man was Gene Peebles of Anaheim. Bob Graham and Paul Ulbricht stood up with the couple. Ring bearer was Dickie Van Berckelaer of Inglewood. Johnny Monroe, Vern Kopitske and La Mar Smith were the ushers.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Rose Marie Mary of Santa Ana sang favorite selections of the young couple accompanied by Mrs. A. F. Faust of Anaheim, church organist, who also played the traditional wedding marches.

Guests greeted the newlyweds in the church hall immedaitely following the ceremony, the bride's mother choosing a blue-gray crepe jersey dress with a black hat accented with rose and black accessories. She wore a corsage of American Beauty rose buds. Mother of the groom was attired in a gold crepe dress contrasting with black sequins and black accessories. She wore a yellow rosebud corsage.

More than 175 immediate family relatives and close friends gathered for the reception. Presiding at the reception table were Miss Jo Ann DeWitt of Anaheim and Mrs. Lola Barnes of Pasadena, aunt of the bride.

In the gracious atmosphere of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scrafani's Colonial House, 512 East Center street, the wedding dinner-breakfast was held for the bridal party. Vases of pink and orchid carnations graced the "U" formation of the white-spread tables. Centerpiece was an artistic arrangement of pastel yellow chrysanthemums in a large flat white bowl.

The bride, a native of Anaheim, is a graduate of Marywood high school and attended Johnson's business college.

Her groom received his discharge from the Army last December after serving in the South Pacific theater for two years. An alumnus of Anaheim Union high school, he is now attending Fullerton junior college.

Out-of-state guests attending the wedding included Mr. Robert's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Robert of Lansing, Michigan, and his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Dumont of South Bend, Indiana.

Mrs. Elbert Duncan of 1016 East Broadway, was hostess to a family Thanksgiving dinner. Those enjoying the reunion banquet and an afternoon of conversation included her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Martens and their two children, Johnnie and Faith, and her sister, Mrs. Anna Crosby, and William Flynn, all of this city. Also present was Mrs. Duncan's mother, Mrs. Anna Martens.

sales. Strong competition from Texas and Florida fruit continues in the northwest and mountain states with the southern producing areas willing to sell grapefruit at bargain prices. Harvesting of desert grapefruit started in October, about two weeks earlier than usual, but peak shipments are not expected until January.

Picking of the new crop of Fuerte avocados is underway and in most areas fruit sizes are better than last season.

The walnut and almond harvest is completed. Due to heat damage during the growing season, the walnut crop was reduced to 59,000 tons, compared to 64,000 tons last year, and a 10-year average of 55,420 tons. However, an almond crop of 35,100 tons was considerably larger than usual.

Tomatoes are still moving from a few protected areas in southern California.

Freedom of worship for all denominations and faiths will be consecrated on Saturday and Sunday.

How Anaheim was Named Told in New Lexicon

Anaheim gained its name in 1858 when it was founded as a German colony by the Los Angeles Vineyard company. The name is coined from the Spanish "Ana," for the Santa Ana river, and the German word "heim" meaning home. The name has been accepted literally as meaning "home by the Santa Ana river."

The above declaration appears in "The Dictionary of California Land Names," as published by the Automobile Club of Southern California in an effort to make names appearing on the state's road maps more interesting and understandable to motorists.

Twenty-five years of intermittent research by Phil Townsend Hanna, editor of the club's official publication "Westways," produced the dictionary. It contains information on the origin and meaning of nearly three-fourths of the important names appearing on commonly consulted maps of California. In addition, it includes data on approximately one thousand places that once appeared on state maps but that now have disappeared.

The complete entry for Anaheim follows:

"Anaheim was founded by a group of San Francisco Germans, the result of the back-to-the-soil movement of many a similar aggregation of disillusioned gold-seekers. The group purchased 1165 acres of land about Anaheim from Pacifico Ontiveras, to be laid out in small farms under the corporate title, the Los Angeles Vineyard company. The shareholders met on January 13, 1858, at Leutgen's Hotel in San Francisco, to choose a name for the colony. Anaberg was first proposed, to describe the setting beside the Santa Ana river and the distant mountains, but Anaheim, suggested by one Schmidt, prevailed. It is bi-lingual, being Sp.—Ana, for St. Anne, specifically the Santa Ana river, and Ger.—heim, or home; ergo "Home by the Santa Ana river."

New Patrolman Added to City's Police Force

A new patrolman was added to the Anaheim police rolls yesterday, temporarily taking the place of Robert Spencer, city poundmaster.

Herbert Denver Henderson, resident of Anaheim for nearly ten years, is the new man. He will take up regular duties as a patrolman on the force when Spencer returns.

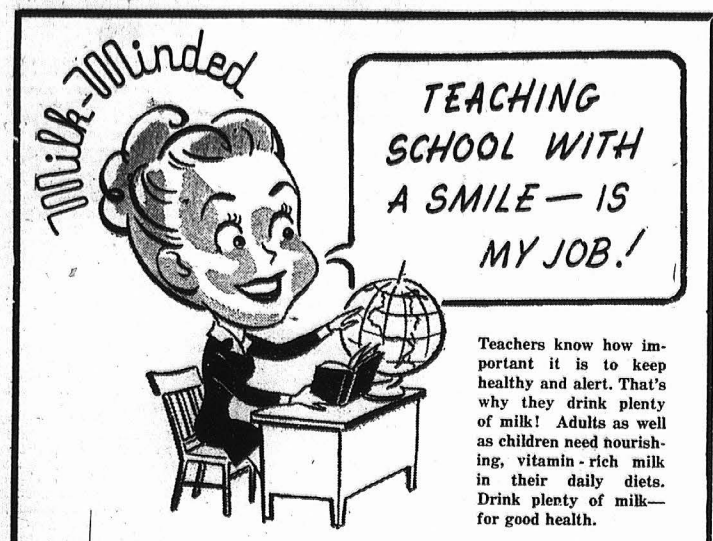

Born at Colnth, Kentucky, Henderson came to Anaheim in 1937. He became associated with the Pacific Lighting company and later joined the navy for a four year term. Following his honorable discharge, he entered the Maritime Service for two years. Last April he journeyed to Kentucky for a visit with his parents and then returned to Anaheim for a position on the police department.

Final Plans Set For Rose Parade

Nearly sixty floats, twenty marching bands and approximately two hundred equestrians will form the 58th Annual Tournament of Roses parade on New Year's Day, 1947, according to an announcement made this week by President William P. Welsh.

Harry W. Hurry, parade chairman, stated that the annual participants' dinner was held last Monday evening at the Pasadena Athletic club, at which time all participants entering floats in the parade gathered to discuss plans for their part in the parade.

Of the entries received so far, 28 represent cities, states or counties; nine represent commercial or business organizations, and 18 either patriotic or civic organizations.

B. and P. W. Stages Exhibit Unique

geles, retired concert pianist who has traveled throughout the states on lecture and concert tours, presented a 15-minute recital of miniature classics. He interpreted "Minuet in B-Minor" by Franz Schubert, "The Cuckoo" by Daquin, the graceful gavotte from Bach's "Second Sonata" arranged by Saint Saens, and finally, his own composition, "Springtime Waltz." The original muscript of his waltz was on display with the verse composed by Damon Runyan. He was the owner of the exquisite amberine glassware exhibit, a blend of ruby glass and gold.

Accordianist James Wright, Anaheim Union High school student, interpreted the "modern trend" in music in contrast, playing "Shine on Harvest Moon" and "Alexander's Rag Time Band."

HADLEY LACES

Lovely laces to delight "my-lady" were on display from the famous Sarah Hadley collection, Metropolitan Museum, New York. Miss Lenoir Dula of Laguna Beach assisted by Mrs. Marie Pinckert, also of Laguna, arranged for the exhibit. Rose point lace wedding veil, a shawl of hand-run Spanish lace, Venetian lace, English laces and a hand-run mantilla crocheted handkerchief were a few among the many beautiful pieces. From her travels as an art collector for many years, Miss Dula also displayed rare old imports from England, Holland, Belgium, North Africa and Sicily. For the occasion she wore a chiffon appliqued gown with high ruffled neck with purple satin skirts fashioned with 45 yards of hand-made clunny lace and beaded jet medallions and brussels point, created for Mrs. Mark Hannah in 1898. Among the treasures was a jeweled pendant 300 years old with rose diamonds, a 150 year-old Spanish embroidered shawl and inlaid chest 150 years old.

LOVELY SILVER

Lasting craftsmanship of flawless silver service from Tyningham castle near Exeter, England, was on display by its owner, Mrs. Jane Gardner of Buena Park. Her husband bought the 181-piece set which includes complete service for 12, when serving with the armed force overseas in 1944. The 150-year old inlaid silver box is nearly as valuable as the hand-made, ivory and mother-of-pearl handled silverware. Its all hand-fitted woods include ebony, satin, jacoby and oak.

ROCKET COLLECTION

In quick transition from the ancient to the modern was a segregated rocket collection arranged for by Orin R. Shoemaker, Jr., son of Mrs. Olive Shoemaker, of the United States Naval Ordnance station, Pasadena. Featuring extensive data the varied type and sizes of rockets, some shown cross-sectionally were compiled by the Naval Ordnance station, the California Institute of Technology and the General Tire and Rubber company. Also featured were photographs of rockets "in action" showing the Bikini Lagoon atom bombings and launching of different types of rockets.

OLD COINS, BOOKS

Of historical interest were the many old books magazines and documents on display, loaned through the courtesy of Anaheimers. Included was the Lallah Rookh, one of 500 issued in America in 1884, one of the ten allotted to California, the property of Mrs. Eva Boyd, a land grant signed by Andrew Jackson and Pilgrim's magazine.

Also of special interest to numismatic enthusiasts was the collection of rare old coins valued at more than $5,000 shown through the courtesy of the Orange County Coin Collectors club. Glass, porcelain, wood and paper were among the materials forming some of 1,000 pieces of money throughout the world. Obsolete United States currency displayed included the wooden nickle, the old trade dollar, large cents, half-dimes and paper nickles. The abacus from china, ancient counting machine which vies with modern adding machines in speed was shown as were minlatures and bracticis which will float in water. Robert Etker presided over the booth.

A 200-year-old chain gun from England was featured in a large display of firearms.

HEIRLOOMS

Decorative and useful heirlooms of days gone by were found in profusion too numerous to completely relate. A very few include massive silver jewelry from Mexico City shown by Vincenta Carleton; hand made point lace some 65 years old, real carruchmacrors applique and netting displayed by Mrs. G. W. Salisbury; pillow lace by Mrs. James Herd of Santa Ana; one hundred calendar plates dating from 1905 to 1918, representing 18 states and 46 cities, owned by Adlena Marschall and sleigh bells belonging to Mrs. L. C. Demming.

Other lovely exhibits included the pearl button collection of Mrs. Avis Knowlton, antique lamps; two black corsets, Bedouin dolls and other finery owned by Ruth Knowlton of Fullerton and Hadley's Quadrant of 1750 which enabled the accurate shooting of sun and stars, owned by Charles R. Rollins.

SOCIAL HOURS

Two white aristocrat candles in a froth of silver patterned cellophane flanked an artistic silver Madonna and red birds arrangement graced the mantle carrying out the Christmas motif. Better Times rose buds, American Beauty cat-tails and silver leaves filled a silver basket centered between the silver-sprinkled tapers on the long lace-spread buffet table. Decorations were by Mrs. Pruella Abbott of Anaheim Florist shop and Carmen Lizarraga of Carmen's Flower Shop.

Serving delectable refreshments of dainty cakes, tea and salted nuts were Mrs. Eleanor Ashleigh and Mrs. Verna Hopkins, co-chairman assisted by Bertha Kecker, Mrs. Emma Brown, Carmen Lizarraga and Mrs. Delois Chronister.

Wearing lovely corsages created by Carmen and Anaheim Florists were Mrs. Shoemaker and Mrs. Maud Ford. Special visitor was Eleanor McClasky of Riverside, junior past president of southern B. and P. W.

Inoculation Experiments

known quick decline area and were planted near Covina, California, in April, 1945. Two months later buds were cut from quick decline Valencia trees and placed into one hundred of the young healthy trees. "Spur buds" were used, each bud being cut where a short spur or shoot was present. The buds were slipped into T-shaped cuts and wrapped as in regular budding practice. Each tree received three buds in the upper portion of the trunk. Similar buds from healthy Valencia trees on sour orange root growing outside of the quick decline area were placed in fifty of the young Valencia trees in the Covina planting. Fifty similar trees were left without inoculation to serve as additional checks. These experimental trees had been planted between rows of a seven-acre block of fourteen-year old trees. Approximately 45 per cent of the old trees had symptoms of quick decline in May, 1945. The inoculated and check trees were scattered at random throughout the block.

As revealed in a survey in August, 1945, approximately as many buds from diseased trees as from healthy trees became successfully established in the young nursery trees. A total of 44 trees were found with no buds living or only one bud alive and aff of these were rebudded at that time, with buds from the same source as originally used. Some of the young trees began to show top symptoms suggestive of quick decline during September, 1946. Top symptoms on different suspected trees varied fairly widely. Certain trees showed only a lack of the normal autumn flush of growth. Others lacked fall growth but developed an off-season bloom and, in some cases, an abnormally early set of fruit. Still other trees had one or more of these symptoms and in addition, chlorotic or bronzed leaves and a defoliation characteristic of quick decline.

Careful tests were then made on suspected and normal trees to determine the starch content of leaves, roots and twigs. These tests gave results similar to those already obtained from normally infected older trees showing varying degrees of symptoms of quick decline. The amount of stored starch in roots varied from no starch in trees with the most advanced top systems, to slight, medium or normal starch content, as the top symptoms were proportionately less. Many trees having no starch in the roots, had more than normal amounts in the twigs. Tests for starch in leaves of three inoculated trees having advanced top symptoms on September 10, showed an abnormally high starch content as compared to that in healthy trees. Examination of the roots of healthy trees in comparison with roots of inoculated trees showed the degree of sloughing of the fiber roots to be proportionate to the stage of top symptoms.

The Anaheim Gazette since 1878

This year alone, we have added 129,000 telephones

They're going in as fast as we are able to install them . . . the telephones needed on the Pacific Coast. In 1946 alone, we have already added more than 129,000 and thousands more go into service every month. But there is still a big job ahead.

Complicated switchboards, cables, dial equipment and even new buildings have to be built before everyone who wants a telephone can get one. This will take time because our progress is handicapped by shortages of materials and by the disturbed conditions throughout the country affecting manufacturers' output and our construction projects. Meanwhile you may be certain that we will do everything we can.

For it is our purpose in our huge expansion program to provide service for everyone who wants it just as rapidly as possible . . . better service than ever before . . . a more valuable service to every user. We are spending this year for gross plant additions an aggregate of $54,000,000 which exceeds by $24,000,000, or 80 per cent, our previous highest yearly plant expenditures in 1941 of $30,000,000.

An ever-improving telephone service at the least cost consistent with good wages and working conditions for our employees and a reasonable return to the thousands of people who have invested in the business.

By-Law Changes Made by C of C At Special Meeting

A special meeting of the entire membership of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce was held at the Anaheim Elks Club cafe Wednesday, December 4, for the purpose of making changes in the Chamber's by-laws.

The changes were advocated in an effort to bring about a more efficient administration and were indicated as a result of experience, according to E. W. Moeller, secretary-manager of the Chamber.

Amendment 1, which inaugurates seven commercial classifications of membership instead of one, supplants the present by-law using a service fee system. Designations will be given the membership such as regular, commercial, supporting, contributing, sustaining, industrial and financing. Choice of designation will be left to the discretion of the individual member.

Amendments 2 and 3 set up dates for the annual election, membership meeting and board of directors meeting. The change will enable the Chamber to function more efficiently and to get programs underway earlier in the year.

Amendment 4 provides for a vice-president.

A half-hour talk was given by Moeller, who gave a report on the Chamber's activities of the past year, emphasizing the highlights of the Community Planning Project. He pointed out the excellent work of the various Chamber chairmen and mentioned the fine cooperation given to the organization by the City Council and the City Planning Commission in the effort to create a master plan, which will comprehend every important phase of community life.

Al Raymond was given great credit for his part in making the Halloween festival the most successful one of its kind ever to take place in Anaheim. Praised also, were the Christmas decorations.

Leo Sheridan came next on Moeller's "orchids" list for taking the initiative in presenting solutions to the important water problem of Orange county.

NO MEAT ON MONDAYS?

San Pedro Union Demands Orange County Meat Markets Close on Mondays

Frank Kresnesky, President of the San Pedro Butcher Union controlling Orange County butchers, is demanding that we stop selling you meat on Mondays.

In your interest, responsible retail meat market operators are refusing this dictatorial demand.

Market operators will not conspire with union leaders to deprive you of meat counter service on Mondays. We do not believe these unions have the right to dictate which days of the week you may buy meat or which days market operators may sell you meat.

The meat market operators who have received this union demand for Monday closing have offered their butcher employees the same increased wages and the shorter work week without Monday closing which have been accepted by six other Southern California butcher unions. Frank Kresnesky is a hold-out. He insists upon closing markets from 6:00 P. M. Saturday until 9:00 A.M. Tuesday.

Wages and hours are proper subject for union negotiations. The days a store remains open to serve customers is not a proper subject for union negotiation.

This advertisement is published so that the public may be advised of this unreasonable dictatorial union demand which is against the public interest.

In a sincere effort to negotiate a new, workable contract, market operators have offered $66 pay for a 5 day, 40 hour work week ($1.65 per hour) with time and a half ($2.47½ per hour) for all hours worked over 40.

This is an increase of 32% over wage rates in the expiring contract.

Scout Presents Warner With Seal Poster

Center of attention at the Santa Ana court house recently, was Scout Pat Bobzin of Troop 50 of the Baptist church, when he called on Chairman Willis Warner of the Board of Supervisors and presented him with a poster bearing the message, "Christmas Seals Fight Tuberculosis".

The poster will be displayed during the annual Christmas Seal sale which began on November 25 and will extend until Christmas. Designed on the same motif as the 1946 Christmas seal, the poster features a lamplighter holding a taper to his lamp against a star-studded sky. It is one of many being distributed by Boy Scouts throughout the county on behalf of the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health association.

Scout Bobzin was thanked by Chairman Warner who said that it would be prominently displayed in the court house. He also congratulated the youth for performing this service for the tuberculosis association.

"When you distribute posters and when I buy Christmas seals, we are both telling the tuberculosis association that we believe in all that it is doing to protect our health and the health of everybody else in this community", declared Warner.

Hugh Wilcox of Orange Empire Area Boy Scouts and Lloyd Paxton, Northern Orange County Boy Scout, are providing the services of the various troops in placing the posters, displays, bumper cards and other advertising matter in the seal sale campaign.

Death Takes Ruth Ackerman

Ruth J. Ackerman, 28, a native of South Dakota and a resident of Anaheim for the past five months, died early Tuesday morning at the Anaheim hospital after a brief illness.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Ackerman of Watertown, South Dakota; one sister, Mrs. Virgil Haase of Watertown, and one brother, Edwin Ackerman of Chicago. She was a member of the Assembly of God church.

The body, prepared by Hilgenfeld mortuary, was shipped to Watertown, South Dakota, where funeral services are being conducted and burial made in the family plot.

TWO SUGAR STAMPS EXTENDED 30 DAYS

An additional 30-day extension of the two home canning stamps for sugar (spares No. 9 and 10) was announced by the OPA. Both stamps, each good for five pounds, were due to expire on November 30, but they will now be valid through December 31, 1946.

Engineers Give Survey Reports On Sanitation

A commission type of supervision will be recommended for a county-wide sanitation district if it is formed, and the sanitary facilities which would be available would be on a "need" basis only, according to A. W. Rawn, chief engineer of the county's sewerage survey.

Rawn, along with Charles G. Hyde, another member of the board of three engineers operating the survey in this county, described their progress to an assembly of guests at the Anaheim Elks clubhouse last Saturday night, for dinner with the sanitation committee of the Associated Chambers of Commerce.

"All cities and communities could become members of the county-wide district the engineering report will recommend be formed to put into operation the survey's findings," Rawn declared. "A commission-type of control, with representatives elected from the several districts, would govern it. Only cities and communities needing sanitation services would join, none being forced to membership. Agricultural areas having no need for sanitation disposal would be excluded, but provision for inclusion in case of future development would be provided."

It was disclosed that supervisors will, with opening of the State Legislature next month, seek legislation by which the county-wide district can be formed."

County Health Gouncil Hears Guest Speakers

Major topics of discussion at the regular monthly meeting of the Health Council of Orange county at Santa Ana last week were the reports of Dr. Mildred Wehrly, Santa Ana physician, and Mrs. Laura R. Warren.

Dr. Wehrly, in reporting on the tumor control board of the county, stated that the board meets at the Orange County hospital on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month and is composed of surgeons, radiologists, pathologists and representatives from nearly all of the specialties. Only cases of definite or suspicious malignant tumors are referred to this board for diagnosis and recommendations regarding treatment. The inspection of apparently well persons for early signs of cancer is a project under consideration of the Assistance League of Orange county.

In the address given by Mrs. Warren, the Visiting Nurse service was explained. The service was inaugurated at the request of the military bases and was a free service to the three lowest brackets of rank, and later became available to civilians. Mrs. Warren presented a resolution adopted by the Southern Orange County chapter of the Red Cross, in board meeting, the afternoon of November 15, requesting that the Health Council sponsor the organization of a permanent visiting nurse organization on a county-wide basis.

The Health Council voted to carry out this request by first obtaining the services of Miss Dorothy Rusby, Pacific coast representative of the National Organization for Public Health Nursing. Miss Rusby is meeting with the executive board and other interested organizations and individuals of Orange county on Friday morning, 10 a.m., November 29 in the Red Cross office, 820 North Main street, Santa Ana.

First Installment Of Local Tax Bills Due Today

First installment of local tax bills which Orange county property owners must pay by today, December 5, includes a $1.275 rate for general county purposes, which is levide on the $244,857,665 assessed valuation of taxable property in the county.

Tax bills of last year included an 83 cent general county purposes rate, levied on $235,179,840 of assessed valuation throughout the county.

Discussions may be enlightening or merely a parliamentary-ruled exchange of ignorance.

1947 Plates To Be Delayed For Two-Six Months

California motorists will probably have to wait from two to six months before receiving their 1947 automobile license plates.

It was revealed today that temporary certificates, with 1947 numbers designated, will be issued to car owners in lieu of two license plates, by the California Motor Vehicle department during the coming renewal period of January 2 to February 4, inclusive.

Under this temporary measure, motorists will be required to keep their certificates in sight in the driver's compartment, and the 1946 plates will remain on all vehicles until replaced by new ones for the following year.

The prewar policy of issuing two plates per car is to be resumed in 1947, and they will be mailed to applicants as soon as they become available. Registration fees are to be paid as usual, at the time of application during the renewal period.

Because tuberculosis has no outward symptoms in its early stage, yet may be contagious in that state, it constitutes a major public

FINALE FOR THANKSGIVING

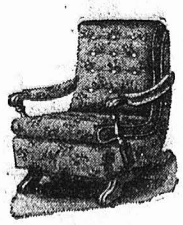

Delicious turkey soup, hash, salad, croquettes or a more than ordinarily bulky sandwich in the lunch box, may mark the end of the traditional Thanksgiving bird this week. According to enthusiastic reports, nearly every local family group gathered for a huge dinner celebration featuring a regal array of delicacies to tantalize the most finicky epicure's palate. Many a banqueter forgot to push back from the groaning holiday table in time not to feel like a "stuffed turkey". Broad grins and "Alka-Seltzer" bottles were much in evidence the following day.

Children's Choir Carolers For Xmas Program

Personifying the deep religious significance of the Christmas spirit, children's robed choirs are to be featured during the holiday week, December 16 to 30, inclusive, in several downtown stores, Mrs. Helen G. Nelson, music chairman, announced. Carol singers will be heard from trucks, furnished by the business division of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce, throughout the city.

The response from all churches contacted has been wonderful, Mrs. Nelson revealed. She requested that any church not called to date concerning the new innovation, telephone 4258 during the day or 4687 during the evening.

The carolers plan to route their tours so that all shut-ins may hear the traditional carols and hymns. The names and addresses of all these persons would be appreciated, she added.

Mrs. Nelson was named director of Christmas music during the retail merchants' division meeting November 23.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Lord, thou art God, which hast made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is." This declaration from The Acts will be the Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "God the Only Cause and Creator" in all branches of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

John's Gospel reports that there was a nobleman who besought Jesus, "that he would come down, and heal his son: for he was at the point of death . . . Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth . . . And as he was now going down, his servants met him, and told him, saying, Thy son liveth . . . Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him. So the father knew that it was at the same hour, in the which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, and his whole house."

Mary Baker Eddy writes in Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures: "Instead of God sending sickness and death, He destroys them, and brings to light immortality. Omnipotent and infinite Mind made all and includes all. This Mind does not make mistakes and subsequently correct them. God does not cause man to sin, to be sick, or to die."

IT CAN HAPPEN IN SUNNY CALIFORNIA

Engulfed in the heavy fog last Friday night, a truck driver leaned out of his cab window at a West Center street intersection, and yelled across the dim white-lined way to an Anaheim motorist who was cautiously creeping home, "Hey, what town is this?"
